04/17/2019 17:10:37	Outbound	Hi Gypsy! I'm sorry if you're not currently looking for penpals, so I've been a little hesitant on writing you, but was so excited when found you on here that had to give it a chance. also bet you've been getting swamped with letters considering recent social media but I've been following your story for about two years now. It's always touched me more so than any other person I've ever decided to write to. My best friend's mother actually is afflicted by munchausen's syndrome by proxy, and it's something I've tried hard to support her through and raise awareness about. hope can support you too! Anyways, I'm so sorry haven't even introduced myself! My name is but my friends also call work in an adult store as a Certified Sexual Health educator. Sometimes feel like also a relationships therapist too! My customers sure use me as such. I'm also bipolar but despite the stigma, I've overcome so much and hope can help other people overcome mental health related disabilities as well. love to learn. love animals and used to work as an educator in an aquarium. also practice witchcraft and paganism, as I'm very into different cultures and finding out more about my own and my ancestry. But sometimes like to unwind with some mind numbing cartoons! What are your interests? What do you like to talk about? Soooo heard you got engaged! so awesome! Congratulations! Can be honest with you? I've actually cried over the thought of you finding happiness and peace. They were happy tears though! I'm so excited to hear inlove! It's such an amazing feeling, isn't it? probably sound really silly, huh? Well anyways, for now, I'll leave you with this message all the way from Florida. If you'd like to be friends with me, write me back soon! hope you have a great day! Lots of love, have signed the potation as well as talked to a few people over there. I'm glad you are getting you GED and doing better. really rooting for you and hoping that you do in fact get out early. I'm happy you found love and are looking towards the future, you can only go up from here. I'm also so happy that you do have a large support group and that you and your dad are creating a bond. hope you have a great day. Lots of love, Hello :-) Thank you for reaching out with support. I am doing well, have adapted to my surroundings, besides for me, prison is more freedom then ever had before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED having passed everything except math, I'm striving to pass that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental health as well as to teach me coping skills to deal with my past trauma. most of my days consist of work and classes, and In my free time like to go to the gym, the library or just sit outside enjoying the beautiful weather. :-) live on the honor wing which is for inmates who have earned extra privileges though good behavior. I do have a strong support system my father and are building a bond 27 years not too late. :-) also happily engaged to a wonderful man who has had my heart for almost 2 years and has been nothing but the biggest blessing giving me the love, understanding and support that deserve. I am aware about the Hulu series The Act, however I can not watch because do not have access to Hulu or the internet, so have little to say on it however I will say it its unfair that the producers of the show are using my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial benefit from it. have been on and continue to be on a long journey to reach my freedom. my main focus is making good use of my time, taking every opportunity to better myself through programs, classes and therapy so that when am released am able to live and function with ease in society. do not enjoy the "fame" my case nor my traumatic past has given me, however do hope to become an advocate for children who have experienced abuse by parents with Munchausen By Proxy in the hopes it will encourage others to be proactive in recognizing the warning signs as well as give victims a voice. In recent years have chosen to shy away from the media in order to focus on my own emotional healing as well as the healing process of my family and friends. just want to live a normal life, move forward and focus on the here and now and put my efforts to creating a better future for myself :-) have made life long friends along my journey some have met just like this...lol have friends that have met in here, others have been just sweet people who didnt know me at the time , but took the time to know me and now we are very close true friends. I'm blessed to have loyal friends stand by me through all this. My future plans include, travel, a big wedding and a few children someday. my dreams may sound simple, but they are simply perfect for me. :-) appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence, many has signed the Free Gypsy Blanchard petition created by my Now, must ask a favor. am respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for my freedom and write letters expressing support for my early release to either The Missouri State Governor Michael L. Parson AND/OR The Missouri State Board of Probation and Parole. I am scheduled for a parole hearing in December of 2021 and any and all letters are helpful. please remember to add my first and last name as well as my DOC # 1302048, in the letter.	page 337

04/17/2019 09:53:59	Outbound	Gypsy, Upon comparing the list of'received' emails from you, Gypsy, in my email inbox to what's listed in my JPay account, think there's a 8 or 9 day discrepancy between (i.e., your responses are viewable 9 days on JPay before actually receive a notification of it in my email). This has caused me some confusion as it appeared was still receiving responses to my messages when in actuality those were long-delayed notices. Since you haven't been responding, I'll stop sending, and hopefully, haven't said anything that bothered you. Good Luck. so cool thank you for looking that up, love name origins and meanings...I'm actually trying to learn about my fiance's last name is his last name. can you help me find anything about the name meaning or history or origin please and thank you :-)	page 447
04/17/2019 12:07:18	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, joined the group on Facebook you told me about. prefer to be in a group that fully supports you. very happy to hear that you are together and happy. He apparently started answering peoples general comments and questions, and held up like a champ. He seems cool, good for you, whatever happens, I'm glad you have someone true to you. also saw from your letters to others that you are asking for support for parole. will be sending my letter of support this week. I'd mentioned in my first letter to you that am the daughter of a sociopath and that know how it feels to be stifled and under their control. hope to express in my letter that you've been punished enough. I'm glad happy, for the most part. It must be nice to finally have your GED and to grow your hair out. I've seen your current photos, and you really look great. You look like your smile is finally natural. can't wait for you to be home with your dad really has your back on Facebook. People can be mean, saying she's out for money, but I don't buy that. She genuinely loves you. like her. tried to talk to her or anything, but see what she posts and I do like her, she's the real deal. mentioned have 2 daughters. My youngest is turning 18 tomorrow. She's getting a small tattoo! I'm making her a homemade cake dark chocolate with a cheesecake middle. This silly child ordered a 6' 7" Teddy Bear online for herself (She has a job and her own money)!!! couldn't believe it when it showed up!! My oldest will be 21 in August, she works too. I'm still looking for work, working with the unemployment office. have to work with a specific department because of my Lupus, but hopefully they can help me find a job faster than on my own. I'm very into Game of Thrones on HBO. Have you ever read the books? They are fantastic! When you get out you could watch them! Do you have any favorite shows that you watch now? looking forward to hearing back from you. It's ok if it takes a while, know you're getting slammed with mail from people that want to support you. As always, let me know if there is anything you need.	page 459

I'm sorry this show has you stressed out. have written you about 6-7 times now but to be honest, I'm feeling a little sad that don't think you are actually reading and responding to my letters. have tried to be personable in my letters but you often send me replies the say the same thing in every letter as if it's the first time we have talked. I'm sure you are just overwhelmed with letters right now and it's all confusing. hoped we could be pen pals and could talk to the real you but understand the attention and pressure you are under. You don't have to write to me anymore if you do not wish to. will send letters to the governor and to the parole board on your behalf, and hope you do get out early. Warmly,	page 471

Don't stress it to much, even though it'll be a big adjustment and a whole new way of life, it'll come to you once you find yourself after all these years having to be someone different. you'll finally be FREE. Although I'm sure you've already gotten so far! Your family says your doing really well. read somewhere that you would like to be an advocate for others facing similar situations and that's great. That's awesome that you have found some hobbies that interest you and keep you busy. couldn't imagine how stressful all of this is and from the sounds of it hundreds of emails a day from your followers. it seems more and more people are introduced to your story daily through documentaries, Facebook groups/posts/articles and so much more. also follow the proxy on Facebook and am excited for when it releases. they say you are a part of this one and it will have a more in depth outlook on the true events that happened through it all. Hopefully with all of the letters/comments on social media/petitions it will help get you that much closer to a release date. :) have signed the petition that your dad created.	page 540

I am doing well, have adapted to my surroundings, besides for me, prison is more freedom then ever had before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED having passed everything except math, I'm striving to pass that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental health as well as to teach me coping skills to deal with my past trauma. most of my days consist of work and classes, and In my free time like to go to the gym, the library or just sit outside enjoying the beautiful weather. :) live on the honor wing which is for inmates who have earned extra privileges though good behavior. I do have a strong support system my father and are building a bond 27 years not too late. :) also happily engaged to a wonderful man who has had my heart for almost 2 years and has been nothing but the biggest blessing giving me the love, understanding and support that deserve. I am aware about the Hulu series The Act, however can not watch because do not have access to Hulu or the internet, so have little to say on it however will say it is unfair that the producers of the show are using my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial benefit from it. have been on and continue to be on a long journey to reach my freedom. my main focus is making good use of my time, taking every opportunity to better myself through programs, classes and therapy so that when am released am able to live and function with ease in society. I do not enjoy the "fame" my case nor my traumatic past has given me, however do hope to become an advocate for children who have experienced abuse by parents with Munchausen By Proxy in the hopes it will encourage others to be proactive in recognizing the warning signs as well as give victims a voice. In recent years I have chosen to shy away from the media in order to focus on my own emotional healing as well as the healing process of my family and friends. just want to live a normal life, move forward and focus on the here and now and put my efforts to creating a better future for myself :) have made life long friends along my journey some have met just like this...lol have friends that have met in here, others have been just sweet people who didn't know me at the time , but took the time to know me and now we are very close true friends. I am doing well, have adapted to my surroundings, besides for me, prison is more freedom then ever had before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED having passed everything except math, I'm striving to pass that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental health as well as to teach me coping skills to deal with my past trauma. most of my days consist of work and classes, and In my free time like to go to the gym, the library or just sit outside enjoying the beautiful weather. :-) live on the honor wing which is for inmates who have earned extra privileges though good behavior. do have a strong support system my father and are building a bond 27 years not too late. :-) also happily engaged to a wonderful man who has had my heart for almost 2 years we met just like this, he sent me a letter of support and we became close friends then both fell pretty hard for each other and he has been nothing but the biggest blessing giving me the love, understanding and support that deserve. I am aware about the Hulu series The Act, however can not watch because do not have access to Hulu or the internet, so have little to say on it however I will say it its unfair that the producers of the show are using my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial benefit from it. have been on and continue to be on a long journey to reach my freedom. my main focus is making good use of my time, taking every opportunity to better myself through programs, classes and therapy so that when am released am able to live and function with ease in society. I do not enjoy the "fame" my case nor my traumatic past has given me, however do hope to become an advocate for children who have experienced abuse by parents with Munchausen By Proxy in the hopes it will encourage others to be proactive in recognizing the warning signs as well as give victims a voice. It has touched so many people and am certain it will help some get out of abusive situations by reaching out to others. You could not have known beforehand but others will see that in your story. 04/17/2019 21:05:30	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! hope you're well, as well as you can be at least. wanted you to know I've been hearing your step mother speak out about the Hulu show and what an unfair portrayal of you it is. From what understand your life was a lot more of a prison and you weren't able to ever stand up for yourself unlike how Hulu wanted to dramatise it. will be supporting the documentary your family is making and hope that Hulu can share some of the fortune it's been receiving from your story. You were truly 100% a victim and it's a tragedy of how many people all around failed you throughout your life. That's all ever want to say about that so if you'd like I can send you random stories from my life, the news, funny memes, whatever, if you feel like hearing from me again. I'm sure you have a lot of correspondence! Let me know :) Much love, PS do you like cats? have a funny cat can send photos/videos of too.	page 559
04/17/2019 21:47:03	Inbound	Hi Gypsy My name i don't even know where to begin. guess I'll tell you some about the random person emailing you. I'm 32. live in Georgia. work for Prevent Child Abuse America. like movies, books, music, and animals. Sometimes even enjoy doing art. My best friend and are slowly starting up (or trying to) a makeup business as well as making creepy dolls and dollhouses to sell. We have said that once we get up and running with the business, we will create an eyeshadow palette just for you. heard about you years ago. was young. didn't know how to help you. But never blamed you. then saw you on Dr. Phil. And now with the new show out...the case is being brought to people's eyes. It was wrong. What happened to you was wrong. From birth to now, you were never given a fair shot. I'd do anything if could somehow turn back your clock and keep mine the same and raise you myself, giving you the childhood you deserved. You did nothing wrong to earn your mother's evil ways, Gypsy. You were and are a victim in this. My best friend are working on a paper to send to your governor. graduated with a degree in psychology, so am making it a point to put it into writing the long term effects of what your mother did to you. Can ask you something? know you took a plea deal for second degree murder...but were you ever given a psychiatric evaluation beforehand? Were you assessed at all to see if you were fit to stand trial? It seems to me your lawyers could have fought...and won. You were a victim and had you not killed your mother, she would have ended up killing you. I'm not condoning what you did. I'm saying understand and wish, with everything inside of me, that could fix things for you. Thinking of you keeps me up at night. Are you safe? Are you well fed? Are you seeing doctors? Do you have a bed? Fresh air? Access to essential items you need? Are you being treated fairly? Are you receiving any kind of mental health help so that you can process what you've been through? Are you allowed music, reading materials, or movies to pass the time? Are you receiving any education? What questions do you have about the world? Gypsy, you've been through hell. But most people are essentially good - and hope that together, the good ones can gather around you and get you through. I've spoken with your stepmother and she told me how to get in touch with you. She also told me where to send my paper to about how wrong this whole thing has been handled. The same system that failed you and let your mother keep you prisoner is the same system that is failing you and keeping you prisoner now. see a kindness and an innocence to you, and wish that you'd gotten to live a real life. wish that you'd been given the chance to thrive and shine. wish a lot of things, guess. I'm sure you do, too. What are your hopes and dreams for the future?	page 560

All I'm blessed to have loyal friends stand by me through all this. I'm sure by now your wondering about how feel about Hulu's The Act, am unable to watch because don't have access to Hulu, however I'm disappointed because the producers have taken my story and used it without my consent, or the life rights to do so therefore do not receive any financial benefit from it. anyways. please feel free to message me any time, Jpay emails are kinda slow but its easier then writing by hand lol hope you have a lovely night. We used to do a lot as kids together, but my mom lost touch with you after Hurricane Katrina. used to think a lot about you and if you were doing well after that because my mom didn't have updates anymore. still have the ticket stub from the St. Jude concert with Lonestar packed away in my storage unit! really wanted to make sure you're doing well, and want you to know my inbox will always be open. hope we can catch up with each other and reconnect!	page 561

I've bought a few credits for emails and will send prepaid to you each time email you so you don't have to pay for our conversations. If you'd like me to mail you have the mailing address think and I'd be happy to send you some Disney post cards, or post cards from other places if have them. hope you're having a lovely week and hope to hear back from you!	page 562

After seeing a few of your interviews, feel like you are a friend have known my whole life. You probably get thousands of emails like this every day... You have so many people that you may not even know who support you...which is awesome! Would love to have you as a pen pal so can get to know more about YOU, straight from the source and not from the media. hope that you are able to see my info from my profile so dont have to go through the awkward description of myself..LOL. 04/17/2019 18:45:52	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, mm and I'm sure you get hundreds of emails saying the same thing. I'm not reaching out to you because of "The Act" or because you are a headlining news story these days. I'm reaching out because feel like you just need someone to talk to who isn't incarcerated with you and who isn't treating you different because of what you've been through. just want to be there for you because know your tired of answering the same questions all the time. And know you need a friend who doesn't just want to be your friend because of everything. So besides that, I'm 18 and I'm living with my boyfriend and his family. have a cat (what's your favorite animal, mine is a sloth. have a gigantic sloth stuff animal lol) and love to draw, it's fun. What are some things you enjoy? Maybe something wouldn't know already. I'm currently looking for a job, it's so stressful!!! have an interview tomorrow, so wish me luck. live in New Jersey, some people say New Jersey is the worst state to live in, but visiting is the best apparently. We take pride in our beaches and casinos. Wanna hear something interesting? New Jersey is the only state where people don't pump their own gas! If you could live in any state, which would it be and why? Well I'm going to let you go now, I'm going to try to keep my emails short so you have more time to answer other people. can't wait for your reply and ask me questions about anything, love answering questions haha. -your new friend	page 562

04/17/2019 22:05:19	Inbound	Hi there Miss Blancharde, My name i I live in Bolivar, MO. have been following your case since the news came out in 2015. would like to share with you that you are not alone. am in school for psychology to become a therapist and have suffered through abuse as well. My mother was emotionally and mentally abusive and have had a lot of sexual trauma. will be doing general counseling but specializing in sexual abuse and PTSD therapy. know am not licensed yet but believe you may of got PTSD from the abuse you had from your mother and as a result the anger side of the illness may of caused you to snap so to speak. am not insulting you by any means but basically saying that maybe if things were handled differently you may of had a chance of being institutionalized for a number of years besides being in a prison. do seriously hope they are helping you with therapy and getting better to wear you can live as normally as possible once you are released. hope your parole hearing goes well and also want to add if for any reason you would like to talk about anything at all am here for you and no judgements will be made. was living in Springfield during 2011 to November of 2018. know how the people here think. am from Ohio and come from an open minded background mostly. hope to hear your story more accurately than what is being said in The Act. know you and your family are working on By Proxy. Hope that goes well. Also congratulations on your engagement and doing so well altogether. You deserve happiness and glad to see you are moving forward. am 33 years old and have dealt with a toxic Dom/Sub relationship before. So can relate to may or may have put you through. BDSM is not a bad thing but when it comes to abusers and sexual predators they take it to an extreme. honestly feel like can relate to you in some ways. But anyways wanted to at least speak to you and maybe hear back. been reading about some cases with Munchausen moms and what they put their kids through and what have you. am so glad you made it out alive! And will be working in a field once school is finished to make sure that if my clients ever go through this type of danger or other danger will make damn sure the authorities are contacted. also hope that Greene county gets their act together and reform their social service system. They are taking kids away from good parents and leaving kids with bad ones. If they had seriously did their job right things may of been different for you. wont take much of your time but please write back if you can. really am proud of what you have and hava achiavad thaca nact A vaare	page 565
04/18/2019 12:25:29	Inbound	Hi, Gypsy! Me, again! know a lady who has a YouTube channel called Without She is very concerned with any issues related to abused children, and she has covered stories on Munchausen By-Proxy. She is very sympathetic to your position and she also believes you should be free. Would it be okay if she read the letter you sent on her channel so that others could get the addresses to write to the Governor and to the Parole Board? Have a wonderful day! XO it's me again from Kentucky with the two dogs. I'm guessing you get a lot of mail, and think that's a really good thing! People showing their support for you and your case. really believe that you belong in the outside world, and that you shouldn't have to spend another day in prison! It is good to hear that you are making the most of your time there working on your GED and studying photography. know it can be very rewarding to take photos and get them just right. was thinking one good thing about the series is that people really get an understanding of what you went through when you were growing up, and how hard it must have been. It's one thing to hear about it, but when you see it acted out, it's just devastating. Seeing how mean your mother was to you made me cry. As an infant, my son was shaken by his biological mother before he was two months old. His foster mom took him to a doctor, and they got him to a neurosurgeon immediately and he put in a shunt to drain the fluid from his brain. That shunt saved his life! He had some motor delays, but he's doing great now. And he does really well in school. think mentioned this before, but when he was around 11, part of the tubing started to come out through his chest, and they had to do emergency surgery to remove the shunt. (He no longer needed it, they just didn't want to risk going in to take it out if they didn't have to.) This was followed by two more surgeries. And, it was awful seeing him in the hospital like that! For about a year between surgeries he was recovering and he couldn't run around and play like he wanted. I'm leaving out a lot of details here, but it was really hard for him not being able to play sports or to do the things that he loved. And, we both hate hospitals! will go visit if someone care about is sick or hurting, but otherwise, just hate being there. So, it just makes the idea that your mom wanted to go there so strange to me and the thought makes me sad. I think that's a big part of why your story resonated with me so strongly. All that being said, believe you have good things ahead to look forward to in your life! You can travel and eat wonderful food and ride bikes and swim and do every fun thing your mind can think of! wrote letters to the Governor and to the Parole Board and several of my friends are writing as well. There is a lady who does a YouTube broadcast called Without and she said that she would read your request to her viewers. She's also the mother of a sick child who needs a feeding tube for real. And she's done stories on Munchausen (sp?) mothers, and she is very sympathetic to your story. She also said that she would tell them anything that you wanted to say directly, but you don't have to say anything at all. But the good thing is that if she tells people to write the parole board and the Governor, as many as 6000 people or more will hear it, and they are people who are inclined to be very supportive and also to write. Gypsy, you are a very kind-spirited person and hope you are released very soon! P.S. Sorry this letter is kind of scattered... I'm ADHD but I don't take anything for it...LOL	page 004

04/18/2019 20:12:22	Outbound	mooooooming sweets! Just got back from my Thursday personal training, and feel amazing! had such a good night of sleep after talking to you love. 2 weeks from right now ill be on a plane on my way to see my heart ;) Oh, also NEXT Thursday is the first day of school =/ but im honestly pretty excited about it all. Anyway, I hope you're rested, and even though these days are tough right now, know you're so fucking loved and cared about, and Id spend every night talking to you until get to hear you laugh at least once. Im always around babe, remember that. Off to work now, love you wifey (midnight) I'm still very upset, im tired of you taking your frustration out on me whether it be my fault or not and now feel like can't open myself up to you anymore, therefore feeling more alone then ever, if can't trust YOU then can't trust anyone. our future conversations WILL be vague until can feel comfortable letting you know how really feel about things that go on in my life again. Do you want honesty??? ok...you wasn't right about "you not being the partner need"...until tonight. do deserve better then what you showed me tonight. you think having a sweet apologetic tone will make up for it.. for calling me basically 2faced then ganged up wit! to make me look like a liar you fucking asshole your wrong because still go to bed crying. what happened to th fell in love with??? am starting to see less and less of him. M would have understood that yes tell one thing because hate dealing with conflict, then lean on you to be my support and my partner and tell you my real thoughts and feelings. you don't do anything sweet for me that you used to, but pay me $150 every 2 weeks and think THAT is gonna make me happy??? do you think I'm some gold digging hoe who's affection needs to be bought?!!!! even if you didn't put a dime on my account would still love you, your not some "trick" so STOP acting like one. I'm not being a bitch know you love me and wanna provide for me so that's why you send $$$, however money is not gonna keep me,.. you used to put an effort in, now my love is expected and taken for granted at least that's how it seems. DO everything can for you and it all seems worthless to you. we don't even have good date nights anymore we either have time to talk only to fight, or your always too busy and we don't talk at all. part of me does really actually want a small week long break from each other..just to have some time to get away from the intensity of the emotions felt. my automatic emotion after you offend me is defensive and distant. feel like you WAS once my comfort, and now are the concrete fall on instead of a soft place to land, so want to take a week to myself and figure out my thoughts and emotions regarding you. in my heart of hearts get hurt really easy by you..and tonight you hurt me by being too reactive and not being the man needed you to be. love you with all my heart..that will never change. 4/18/19 6:30pm Dear love, hope you had a good first day of school, am calmer however still little upset, but miss you at the same time. toda told me that its in the contract tha is required to do press. so whether we want it or not, permission or not,..media will be a part of my life until the day am free. I think you need to process this fact and figure out what you want moving forward. this won't always be my life..but for now it is, and we cant control it and what you need to figure out is if you want to be with me through this or not.	page 146
04/18/2019 09:54:05	Outbound	Hell thank you for reaching out and for considering us for Love After Lockup, myself am a huge fan of the show and have watched both seasons. I discussed this with my fiancé and he and agree that it is not the right time for us to do the show, but possibly later on down the line if we are ready and willing, it can be reconsidered in the future. I think having a series that focuses on couples who have relationships while incarcerated gives society a chance to be a little more open minded about this particular circumstances that these couples face and the hardships that both the convicted and the civilian go through all because they love each other...well for some its love anyway. it is rather a cute story how found my love while incarcerated. myself met my fiance after he wrote me after he watched my HBO Documentary Mommy Dead and Dearest that focused on my life and high profile case, in May of 2017. We wrote for about 2 months and had this amazing connection. then we started talking on the phone and became best friends, though the both of us was starting to develop a romantic attraction to one another. and in August of 2017 sent him a visitation form and as soon as he received it, he filled it out and booked a plane ticket to Missouri, 1800 miles away from where he currently lives. we had our very first visit in September 2017, and 35 minutes into the visit he just gives me the most romantic kiss out of no where :-)) kissed back obviously, however inmates are only allowed a brief hug and closed mouth kiss according to my facilities rules. it wasn't long until a CO viewed us kissing and because of that kiss the visit was terminated and he received a 6month suspension, and received a violation for disobedience of the rules. Though we couldn't see each other for 6 months we still kept in full contact with countless letters and phone calls. that gave us a chance to fully learn about one another, then after the suspension was over, he made another trip back to visit, this time receiving only a peck lol since then we have grown even closer talking everyday as well as up to 5 hour phone conversations on his days off from work. and in October of 2018 he proposed...and said yes:-) and both our family supports our relationship. :-)) so what started as just a letter offering encouragement, has led to a beautiful new betrothal. Our relationship has its up's and down's, as with every couple, but can honestly say have found my soulmate. :-)) thank you for taking the time to read this email and appreciate the offer to be considered for the show:-)) have a nice day	page 268

You take care yourself kiddo. Talk to you soon, Gypsy. you obviously don't know me Planet got your inmate number from the Facebook page that's been set up for you. When first saw the documentary on HBO and then the other show that was on network television, my heart and my soul really went out to you. know that these are painful memories for you but have watched recent interviews with you on television and you look absolutely happy and radiant now. it is a blessing to see you so happy even though you are in a situation where one would not be happy. speak from experience because was incarcerated in 2005 and was released, finished my parole and am now living my life again. made a very stupid mistake with bootleg software and eBay and was convicted of grand larceny and theft by deception. made this very sorry excuse that was trying to support my family but that's all it was, an excuse. just wanted to send this email and wish you a good day. know it's hard to think about having a good day when you're behind the wall but know from everything I've seen on television and everything that have read, that you are growing and blossoming exponentially. that is so freaking cool and really warms my heart. my name is: and am 54 years old an ex husband, a father and a grandfather. reach out to you in friendship because know what you are going through ignore and something in my heart made me write you so could let you know that would be here for you as a friend who has been in a similar situation. if you desire anything to read, any magazines or if you need money for commissary, please do not hesitate to ask for there is no shame in doing so. am not sure how misery works but in New York oh, the jobs behind the wall do not pay very much unless you are making desks or inmate clothing. also want to give you hope because even though know other people are writing you and giving you the same thing. want to let you know that when you are released, there is an entire life for you to live. was very fortunate. My wife and we're still together, and remain very civil and Friends by the way oh, and had the love and support of my children as well. just want you to know that you are not alone. If you feel like you would like to write back, totally cool. included a return stamp. Like said before, if you need something, please do not hesitate to ask. I live out in the world so would not mind putting some money on your account or getting you some stamps if you need it. you can also let me know what Missouri allows as far as packages are concerned. New York State allowed clothing and food packages as well as books and newspapers / magazine subscriptions. if you let me know, will help you you are. No worries. I'm sorry that this entire letter is a big run on sentence but I'm actually dictating it into my phone with the JPay app. hope you don't find it too annoying. Anyway, would like to say I had of time that it is nice to meet you and that hope you're having a dynamite day so far. you go Mad Respect! thank you for reaching out with support. :-) am doing good :-) have adapted well. prison is not so bad, for me its more freedom then ever knew before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED, passed every subject except math though I'm striving to achieve that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. :-) do have a wonderful support system, My father and continue to build a bond. He and my stepmothe are coming up to visit next month, they will also be meeting my fiancé. am engaged to a wonderful man, his name we have been together for about 2 years and he has been nothing but my biggest blessing. :-) am aware that there is a Hulu series, The Act, however am unable to watch it so have little to say about the show, only that the production team and creators of the show has used my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial profit from it. other then that, i have heard its like 95% accurate to the true events of my life. as for me, spend my time either on my tablet listening to music, I'm a big country fan, or in the library. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental well being. :-) I try and stay positive in my day to day life, just look forward to starting a wonderful new life when am free. would love to travel, seeing the northern lights is on my top 10 list. and have already thought of names, Aurora Rose for a girl and Railey for a boy. do want to have children someday, want to do a line of work that either works with animals or kids love both, or working as a hair stylist. :-) for now just can't wait for summer. think I'm going to try a sport this year...eshh wish me luck, I'm so clumsy lol anyways have a great day and thanks again for the encouragement. :-) P.S am also asking all my friends and supporters to send letters to Missouri State Government officials in order to help with my early release. Hello Friends and Supporters, I appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence. Many of ya'll have signed The Free Gypsy Blanchard Petition created by my Now, must ask a favor, am respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for my freedom and write a letter expressing support for my early release to either the Missouri State Governor Michael L. Parson AND/OR The Division of the Missouri State Board of Probation and Parole. am scheduled for a parole hearing in December of 2021, however any and all letters of support are helpful. please remember to add my first and last name and DOC# in the letter. 04/18/2019 11:39:03	Inbound	Good evening Gypsy, Glad you're doing well and making summer plans already. Best wishes, know, another crazy "fan" right. have to say your story is quite inspiring to me. could never imagine having half the strength and courage that you've possessed over the years. I've been to state prison myself, however it was just to visit a loved one. Can be hectic at times, but I'm sure it feels like a safe zone. What do you do in prison to pass the time? know when went to prison visits played a lot of board games and always bought a ton of snacks from the vending machines, boy LOVE snacks! Do you guys make any crazy food in prison? always enjoyed hearing stories of the different concoctions inmates would make, are very innovative creatures. One thing I've always disliked is the stigma that all prisoners are bad people. I've met some wonderful people behind bars, those who want to fight for a better future and those who genuinely want to learn from their past mistakes. My favorite quote of all time is, "just because you did a bad thing, doesn't make you a bad person." Do you have a favorite quote you always find yourself saying to others? Stay golden, Gypsy. There are a ton of people out here rooting for you! You deserve to live a life full of happiness.	page 344

04/18/2019 02:25:21	Inbound	Good evening Gypsy!, It's Angel again :). Sorry it has taken me awhile to message you back. I've been working and going to school for my criminal justice degree. I'm so glad to hear that you are working towards your GED because that's a huge thing needed in today's time. I've been watching the act here and there, although it is a pretty spot on show, it still makes me physically sick to know that you won't receive any sort of payment for the spotlight it has put on not only your life but also your story. I'm actually having one of my attorney professors help me in writing a letter to your governor to try and get you a early release. As someone who has had family incarcerated and actually is involved in cases, being able to talk to you is amazing. I've noticed that a lot of news sites have now stated that are engaged. I'm sure your stepmom and dad have told you about them and probably the free_gypsy_rose Facebook page that was made. It has received a lot of followers lately and hope you aren't being bombarded with emails due to the movies now coming out about you. Anywho, the weather here in Indiana is still cold :(It's crazy that it's almost May and forecasted to have snow this weekend! be making a trip to Florida next month, maybe can mail you some pictures of the beach if that's allowed? Just let me know! And speaking of photography, actually model in my free time with local photographers. It's cool to think that you get to do something you can enjoy in jail because normally you just see the bad things that are shown on tv. Well hope to hear back to you! Let me know if can send you those photos and will :) Tons of love.	page 362

04/18/2019 09:17:22	Inbound	Gypsy, Upon comparing the list of 'received' emails from you, Gypsy, in my email inbox to what's listed in my JPay account, think there's a 8 or 9 day discrepancy between (i.e., your responses are viewable 9 days on JPay before actually receive a notification of it in my email). This has caused me some confusion as it appeared was still receiving responses to my messages when in actuality those were long-delayed notices. Since you haven't been responding, I'll stop sending, and hopefully, haven't said anything that bothered you. Good Luck. so cool thank you for looking that up, love name origins and meanings...I'm actually trying to learn about my fiance's last name is his last name. can you help me find anything about the name meaning or history or origin please and thank you :-)	page 447
04/18/2019 08:57:35	Inbound	Hello :) Thank you for replying & i have also signed that petition! And will send a letter. hope your parole hearing goes well! I am so happy living life and have the support you need and deserve! Getting most of your GED is an amazing accomplishment! What issues are you having with math? am pretty good at math, maybe could help? Photography is amazing! I'd love to see some of the pictures you take. Congratulations on your fiancé & (the media said you're engaged. If you aren't am sorry for the assumption) Have you considered changing your name when released? To hopefully hide from the media? can't imagine how stressful that is. Tell me more about yourself. We can be pen pals @ Mental health issues suck. have them, also. But it sounds like you have healthy ways to cope! My ways to cope are crocheting, aquarium keeping, hanging out with my pets, fishing and walks. I am so happy your dad is supportive and there for you, same with your step mom & You can ask me anything, so you can get to know me. Like said in the last email, I'd love to keep contact with you, and get to know you better. You're such a strong person. Sincerely,	page 462

04/18/2019 03:40:39	Inbound	promise to send a letter! you deserve to live your life normally. but I'd still love to be pen pals if your interested.	page 524
04/18/2019 10:39:27	Inbound	Hey gypsy! My name i actually have been reading a lot on your story, I'd love to hear from you!	page 525
04/18/2019 09:03:20	Inbound	That is amazing gypsy! It sounds like you're doing great! Staying busy is key. The show isn't very good in my opinion, if i were you, don't get my wrong, i would watch it because I'm just a nosey person and i would wanna know what they did, but at the same time, i wouldn't let it get to me. Hollywood idiots have no interest in telling the truth, all they look for is what makes the money money and they act on that only. They don't care who they hurt in the long run. I've done my own research online about your story and can comfortably say that i know a lot of the facts. do want you to have an early release! A LOT of people wish that for you and i would be happy to write a letter, I'll write 2, one to each address you have given me. You definitely deserve to be free, out in the world living your life like any other person. Even though it'll still be hard since you're pretty much like a celebrity now lol so, it probably won't be like a "normal" life when you do get out of there. Maybe you can get a photography job! that would be awesome. I'm happy you've found a guy too! just want to give you a little advice on that though.. i don't want to come off as jealous or come from a place of hate but from a place of genuine worry and respect, "men" these days, are dogs. Most, definitely not all! BUT, would just advise you to keep your guard up when it comes to that. There are these kinds of people out there that, more or less, have fetishes for people that are incarcerated for doing certain things. They get to know them so they can take advantage of them. A lot of them are men and they do have ill intentions. I just want you to be aware of that. They do this whether it be for money or fame or to fulfill some weird fetish as i said above. would hate to hear someone would do that to you. My advice would be to just take things slow with this guy. sooner or later (if he's planning something with the wrong intentions) his true colors will show. but, i hope that isn't the case at all. hope you get your happily ever after because you, out of everyone, deserves it the most! really hope you get to read this letter and just give that last little part some thought. Everyone out here that knows your story, is pulling for you! again, will be writing 2 letters to the addresses you've sent me. hope to hear back from ya soon! :)	page 532
04/18/2019 04:00:54	Inbound	Hey, It's awesome to hear how well things are going for you inside the prison! I'm guessing at least part of your reply was based on a form. The more was thinking about it, imagine the media thing had caused a bunch of people to write to you so it makes sense to have some common answers to questions they would have. totally want to support efforts to get you out of there sooner. think it's ridiculous you were given the time you were considering what know of your circumstances. reread what sent you initially and I think could have written it way better. Basically, was wondering if you were interested in pen paling with me. If your support structure is full enough, get it, but if you are interested would be happy to keep writing. You seem like a cool person to get to know and know it's not exactly easy to make non prison friends in your situation. If you want to be pen pals and keep writing just let me know. I'm super interested in how you met your significant other and how all that came to be. I'd also like to hear what prison is like from someone actually experiencing it. What things are good, or bad, or just surprising. I'd like to know what you are looking forward to when you get out, what kind of career, where you might want to travel, etc. I'm also happy to share my life with you. have a 7 year old daughter who is a handful to say the least. I'm going through some complicated stuff with my relationship with my wife moved out a few weeks ago). work for the state of Oregon, specifically in healthcare IT. have a cat, momo, who is a character but keeps me company with Kitty snuggles. like to think I have a pretty good sense of humor but I can also be a bit of a homebody. promise to include at least one dumb joke with each letter if you want. Freebie: Want to hear a joke about construction? I'm still working on it! Anyways, that's some more about me and thought I'd give you some ideas for responding but really anything you want to talk about is cool with me. If you aren't looking for a pen pal buddy thought don't feel bad telling me. Either way it's cool. hope your week is going well and you are happy. Oh, also let me know if you prefer hand written letters to this email thingy. I'm happy to write either way you would prefer. All my best, from Oregon	page 536
04/18/2019 21:55:26	Inbound	Hey again. really believe that the petition for early release will work. You deserve to live the life that you want. pray every day that more people sign. heard you're engaged and that's amazing. You deserve a big wedding, a good husband, and beautiful children. 04/18/2019 00:20:19	Inbound	Hi, Gypsy!! My name I'm from Springfield and I'm 22 years old. My husband works with a guy named and his fiancée: He told my husband that she was your neighbor. To be honest, we didn't know anything about what had happened until he told us and we started seeing commercials for the new show The Act. We've been watching the show, and know a lot of it is fictional, but think it's bringing a lot of good attention to you and your story and I'm hoping more people are encouraged to sign the petition so you can be released early. I'm sure you get hundreds of emails every day, and you're probably so sick of talking about it, but just want you to know that we are on your side, and I've been sharing the petition almost every day on Facebook. have absolutely no idea what it was like to go through what you did, but was abused by my dad throughout my entire childhood, and even when turned 18 he would physically and emotionally abuse me and wouldn't let me leave the house. We moved hundreds of times and we never stayed in an area more than a year until we moved to Branson in 2014. That's when things started getting really bad for me and got extremely depressed. met my husband while working at The Track Family Fun Parks in 2015 and he helped me get out of the situation was in, although it was extremely difficult. suffer from horrible anxiety and PTSD because of what went through. also have social anxiety and it's extremely hard to talk to people in person or on the phone. always felt different than everyone else and that no one would care about what had to say. also care way too much about what people think of me, and that's something that I'm working on. There was a lot of emotional & mental abuse from my biological father & suffered through sexual abuse from the age of 3 to 6. But I'm living proof that it does get better. know it's not the same as what you went through, not even close. But we can all get through the it if we go through & not around with the right help & support. And you have a lot of people love & support you. I'm just 1 in that long list. I'm more than willing to put money on here so you can reply! And maybe some extra for your canteen, if that's what they call it. Or "books". If you're interested in writing me back, would love that and take care of the costs like said! A little about me, I'm 23 and live in Wausau Wisconsin (that's how originally heard of this.. 04/19/2019 15:35:52	Inbound	Hello beautiful girl! I'm sure you have been overwhelmed with the amount of love and support you've received in the recent weeks. I pray the negative people have been far fewer than those of us who wish nothing but the best for you! I've been watching "The Act" each week, but after coming across the "By Proxy" facebook page I've become much more interested in the FACTS of who you are over the ENTERTAINMENT value "The Act" portrays. It is so encouraging to see how well you're doing now. The love your family has for you just shines through each and every word they speak on your behalf. And as you push through your sentence pray you are learning each day how special you truly are! We've all made extreme decisions fueled by the circumstances of our past. You are forgiven. You are loved. And you have so, so much to offer the world through your past suffering. pray you continue to stay positive and uplifted. With love,	page 031

The sympathy is for the kids. What's the difference?? have many more years than you in a MBP situation and hoped to be of help for you especially since my situation has only exacerbated over decades bc the MBP here is still alive. For years told myself if can outlive her, someday I'll be able to make decisions over my own life or if just keep to myself and continue being a good, nice person, everybody will see who's hysterically, violently attacking whom and they will all see the TRUTH. None of that happened. People prefer the lies and joining in the attacks on behalf of the (manipulatively) pitiful MBP. There are now 3 generations of MBP family and the family of the psychologist she duped into supporting her continually spreading malicious slander about me and provoking violence to keep me under her control, defensive, and 'shut up' about their (what should be) illegal behavior. This is what you had to look forward to if you had attempted to escape without killing her. All those people and agencies and companies like Disney were never supporting you. They were always supporting your mother and would have continued to support her and her psychotic delusional 'right' to do to you as she wanted. That includes the people you call supportive family right now. If your mother didn't die, they would be your accusers and enemies now on your mother's behalf and punish you for depriving her of treating you the psychotically "loving" way she wants. I'm going to start posting more on fb about you instead. However, believe it's also possible that my emails aren't getting past inspection.	page 448

Basically, my heart just goes out to you. have a daughter who is only 4 years old, and think about our relationship... and what you had to endure. think about experimenting with makeup and skincare and hair when was growing up, and how you weren't able to do those things. was so impressed with your hair and makeup when saw some more recent interviews you've done... you look awesome! don't know if you're allowed to receive packages or how you're able to buy cosmetics - but from one girl to another if can help you with that, I'd be happy to do so. If you'd like to write back, I'd love to hear from you. Maybe you have lots of support and friends, and if so - that's wonderful. But want you to know you're not alone and I'm praying for you!	page 559

04/19/2019 13:17:04	Inbound	Hello again Gypsy, haven't heard from you yet but have so much on my mind and wanted to share it with you. My abuse by my parents was severe and caused me to have repressed memories. didn't know that was repressing things until was 25 and living in subsidized housing with my daughter and memories started coming back. was having flashbacks. There's a good book about repressed memories called, "Unchained Memories" by Lenore Terr. It is how came to understand what was going through. got treatment but was given Prozac for depression. They said it treated other things as well. It wasn't until was 40 that learned it also treats paranoid schizophrenia which I'm pretty sure was diagnosed with at 45 when had to go on meds because was hearing voices. don't hear voices any more but one side affect of the abuse was that my psyche was shattered and would react to things and my memories were fragmented as to where it was remembering bad things could only think of bad things and if remembered good things could only remember good things. Ever since realized this at 25 have been reprocessing my memories into one coherent whole but then there's normal forgetting that takes place eventually. Right now can honestly say don't remember the abuse and don't want to remember it. know could if tried but it would make me miserable and bring back an avalanche of bad memories. The thing about repressed memories is that they are very powerful and cause a subconscious obsession like would have panic attacks when smelled dust and discovered it was from when my dad molested me and told him I'd kill him if he ever did it again and he tried to suffocate me with a dusty pillow case. couldn't remember the incident until many years later but dust always triggered panic attacks until remembered what happened and reprocessed the memory. Now no more panic attacks. My daughter also has schizophrenia but hers is said to be a normal part of her autism. She's always had imaginary friends. She still has two imaginary friends even though she's on meds. She's become much more normal since she went to live with her dad and has stayed on her meds. She has two normal sisters as peers and she loves them very much so that's why I think she's functioning very well now. I could have gone to college but I declined due to already being aware at eighteen that my state of mind and frame of reference weren't stable. knew was messed up by the abuse. probably could go now if had the support system for it. went to online college for six years part time. Two classes a term when my daughter was in college. hit a speed bump when it came to math. missed the first three terms on campus because had tried to take math online and had 100% but the final was on material from the first classes so flunked the final. That threw me off schedule so didn't complete my bachelors degree yet. I'm six months short of a bachelors degree though. Well, enough about me. hope to hear from you. Don't feel as if you need to share any personal stuff like mental health issues that I've mentioned. know you're somewhat of a public figure and privacy for you is very important. just felt that you might have some of the same issues so put the info out there for you. God bless you.	page 570

I'm stronger than most. As you will be too. And don't let your past define who you are and who you will become. know got a large group of supporters as well as the opposite so bare in mind not alone! 04/20/2019 21:12:52	Inbound	just wanted to wish you a Happy Easter! Do you do anything special for the holidays there? Hope there is some light in your day tomorrow. thank you for reaching out with support. :-) I am doing good :-) have adapted well. prison is not so bad, for me its more freedom then ever knew before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED, passed every subject except math though I'm striving to achieve that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. :-) do have a wonderful support system, My father and continue to build a bond. He and my stepmother are coming up to visit next month, they will also be meeting my fiancé. I am engaged to a wonderful man, his name we have been together for about 2 years and he has been nothing but my biggest blessing. :-) I am aware that there is a Hulu series, The Act, however am unable to watch it so have little to say about the show, only that the production team and creators of the show has used my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial profit from it. other then that, i have heard its semi accurate to the true events of my life. as for me, spend my time either on my tablet listening to music, I'm a big country fan, or in the library. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental well being. :-) I try and stay positive in my day to day life, just look forward to starting a wonderful new life when am free. would love to travel, seeing the northern lights is on my top 10 list. do want to have children someday and want to do a line of work that either works with animals or kids love both, or working as a hair stylist. :-) for now just can't wait for summer. think I'm going to try a sport this year...eshh wish me luck, I'm so clumsy lol anyways have a great day and thanks again for the encouragement. :-) P.S I am also asking all my friends and supporters to send letters to Missouri State Government officials in order to help with my early release. Hello Friends and Supporters, I appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence. Many of ya'll have signed The Free Gypsy Blanchard Petition created by my father Now, must ask a favor, am respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for my freedom and write a letter expressing support for my early release to either the Missouri State Governor Michael L. Parson AND/OR The Division of the Missouri State Board of Probation and Parole. I am scheduled for a parole hearing in December of 2021, however any and all letters of support are helpful. please remember to add my first and last name and in the letter. Thank You :-) GypsyRose Blanchard	page 505
04/20/2019 01:39:46	Inbound	Hey Gypsy! My name and I've followed your story from the very beginning!! have actually spoke with your step mother I am from Ohio, have 4 kids and a Boston Terrier! was wondering what types of items you could revive in the mail! I've heard you've gotten into cosmetology, could send makeup and such or is that not allowed! I'd also love to send some personal care items and snacks if that's allowed! I'm signing your petition and writing letters, I'm also spreading the word to have other join in! Your case really touches me in many ways, was also abused a child, I'm starting nursing school next month so look at this from a medical standpoint as well! I'm here to talk about anything, and help you anyway can! Please let me know what can do for you! you, for replying to me. love that you've almost finished your GED. Math is the worst, struggle with it so much as well. I'm so happy that you get to do extra things like photography as well. know that the new Hulu series, has to be stressful. feel like more people are realizing more about your case. Or in better words having more interest. Finally seeing that you don't belong in prison for so long, that you were a victim too. I've signed the petition and know lots of other people have too. will also write a letter for you too. agree that you do not deserve as long as a sentence that you got. also follow a few Gypsy pages on Facebook. really appreciate that you responded to me, a -	page 538
04/20/2019 00:01:58	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! Me again. know it's weird to get a bunch of emails from me, but rarely write in my journal anymore so i feel like this is a distraction for me on stressful days. If nobody is reading, it's just like a journal entry. If you are reading, then it's like a vent session. So, work with the elderly. It's always a rough day at work. I'm getting ready to move so i picked up extra days at work and I'm totally regretting it. My feet and legs are just tired. One of our residents almost set the place on fire. She burned her pizza in the microwave. She just sat there eating burnt pizza while her other half was smoking up her room and giggling. There's never a dull moment at work. haven't seen any recent updates about you. hope you're doing good! The weather in Ohio sucks. It keeps going up and down. I'm over it. can't wait to do something fun outdoors without freezing my butt off! grew up playing in the mountains and chasing lizards. So being limited now is a little disappointing, but we always manage to find something fun to do. have been debating on writing you a hand written letter but don't know how many letters you have been receiving and don't want to add to a pile of paper you probably read anytime soon. So i chose to save the planet and keep it at emails only for now. Anyway, i hope you are well. It's always nice seeing updates on you. wait to see how doing. Stay strong! Much love, es We don't know each other but i was excited to have an opportunity to write you an email! My name i from Puerto Rico but i am currently living in Ohio. moved after hit the island in 2017 and left the entire island dark, powerless and without drinking water. Relocating to Ohio has been quite a challenge. miss the beach back home. Every time i felt sad i would drive to the beach or rainforest and sit there in silence just breathing fresh air. You never realize how much it improves your quality of life until you no longer have it. have been reading about your case and i came across recent pictures of you. You look so beautiful with your long hair! I am so excited to see you wearing makeup and free to just be you. By the way, did you do your own makeup? It looks soooo good. know prison doesn't allow you to do much but I'm sure it's way better than being where you were. Just remember that soon enough, you will be free to walk outside and you can start over. have faith that you will live such a beautiful life after all of this. Don't lose hope. Many of us out here are sending good vibes or prayers (whichever they/you feel comfortable with). will try to attach pics from home. Maybe some day you'll be able to travel and see the world with your own eyes? If you do, Visit Puerto Rico! hope to hear from you soon. Stay well! Much love,	page 553
04/20/2019 00:20:22	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, My name live in the center of Minnesota. I've been following your case for a while now. I'm so sorry for everything been through. was in and out of hospitals and doctors offices my entire life but can't imagine what you were put through. would love to chat with you if you have time and would like to. hope your doing well. My name from the middle of Minnesota. I've followed your story for awhile now and just wanted to drop you a line so that you know you have people in your corner and that are thinking of you. If like to write, I'd love to hear from you. I'm sure you get so much mail though that's overwhelming. my name i thought it would be nice if could talk to you about everything if that's okay with you. have heard that you were aware that Hulu recently released a TV show about you and your mom. I'm sorry to hear that. get that you didn't want to have you life posted on a TV app. To be honest can see why you'd be upset but to be honest with you see not so much a drama/TV show see the actual life of Gypsy Rose which makes people like me understand what happened more clearly. Honestly can't believe I'd say this but understand why you did what you did and in a way feel that there wasn't any other way around what had happened but that's all in the past now. want to talk to you more about you now and your future. Are you going to stay a couple after you guys get out of prison? Where do you guys plan on going? Will you guys eventually get married? know am throwing so many random questions to you but I'd like to know the truth....what the real Gypsy Blanchard has to say and not what a TV show thinks will happen. Please write back have so many more questions to ask you and I'd love to actually be able to talk you personally Yours Truly,	page 558

04/20/2019 17:33:36	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, hope that this letter finds you well. can only imagine that the attention to your case recently can at minimum be explained as overwhelming. am sure you are receiving many letters. Though, felt compelled to you write to you to just simply extend my support and friendship. Both of those things you were denied most of your life. Though don't know you, am sympathetic to your situation. Growing up a girl wanting to be friends with cool girls and wanting the attention of boys. To feel normal. so sad that not only did you deal with those things, but suffered from emotional abuse from your own mother holding you back in life. want you to know there are many others like me who support you. Who feel you should have an opportunity to live a free life without bars both figurative and literal. have joined to efforts fighting for your early release. Woman to woman, even though being in prison is not the life you dreamed of, hope you are able to make it as normal as possible. Keep in touch! Your new friend,	page 593
04/20/2019 14:23:05	Inbound	Hello Gypsy Rose. but go know weird. I'm 30 years old. have one child a boy and a fiance. live in My name i Georgia. The dirty south. or as non Georgians call it hotlanta. Ever since saw your case on TV have had you on my mind. Not in a creepy way. myself have been abused. By my brithmom and by the father of my child. So too know what it's like to feel trapped with no escape. When finally left both my birth mom and the father of my child felt free. i was super depressed and i use to cut myself all the time. it's still something i think about on a daily. I'm finally happy with myself to say that no longer do that anymore. A+ right? lol. was writing to you to get to know you. want to know how your life is going now? what are you planning on doing when you get free? would love to be your pen pal. dont have many friends since I'm still closed off and scared to meet new people. feel like we are kinda the same. i would love to have you as a friend. Cause us girls need to stay together. Even though we have been dealt a bad hand in life doesnt mean we cant be happy and find a new friend in each other. 04/20/2019 03:49:53	Inbound	Hi My name i wanted to reach out and let you know that you amt alone. You may have done some bad things, but that doesn't make you a bad person. wanted you to know that we all make mistakes. No one sin is no greater than the other. Anyways, a little about me. I'm a 33 year old mom of 2. I'm an animal lover and have 2 dogs and 6 cats (one of them had kittens so technically have 6 kittens but I'm giving them away when they are old enough) I'm a front desk clerk at night at a hotel. My job is pretty boring. that's where read up on your story. It touched me in many ways. I can't imagine being forced to be sick an wheelchair bound my whole life. You were lied to and it sickens me. Do you get to watch movies in there? love watching Netflix and Hulu. have so many series that watch. You would probably think I'm super lame. My Fiance is a CDL truck driver, so am alone alot. it's kind of all do. take care of my animals and kids and watch shows. Anyways, just wanted to write and show my support for you. What do you plan to do when you get out of there? Fuck that lol. I'm 21 years old and I live in Scranton, PA. Have you ever seen The Office? It's so good. Anyway, work at a movie theater and pretty much spend all my time with my brother he's special needs and I love him a lot. heard been engaged for a few years to a man named lam so happy for you BEYOND words. I hope he builds you up and makes sure you know how beautiful and how good of a heart you have as much as he can. Tell him said hi lol. your zodiac sign? can probably google it since your basically a celebrity lol. Everyone LOVES you. They really see you for who you are and think that's such a beautiful thing. Anyway, asked what your zodiac sign is because first, I'm obsessed with horoscopes and second, like to paint you something. Or maybe even just flowers if you like flowers. don't know. I'm not very good but who cares, right? I'm not really good at seeing without my glasses but do I wear them? No. WHATEVER I guess what I'm saying is, know I'm 21 and that makes me some punk kid but I'd really like to be your friend and maybe keep you company through this pen-pal thing if that's okay with you <3. really adore you a lot and I'm sending you so much positive energy and love.	page 593

04/21/2019 15:43:25	Inbound	Hello Gypsy, How are you today? Well and in good spirits, hope and pray. As for myself, am okay. I'm just enjoying a peaceful Easter Sunday. I am sure you're wondering who am and why am writing you... have heard your story on TV and have seen different articles about you. I'm sure you get a lot of mail because of that. Something keeps telling me to reach out to you and see if you're in need a genuine friend who ask questions regarding your case or past. My husband is currently incarcerated in Texas and he also had a high profile case. While there would be times he would have a ton a mail there would also be moments where he just needed a friend. So thought I'd extend my hand in friendship to you. I live in the country... just outside of Charlotte, North Carolina. I'm a city girl at heart. just wanted to send a quick hello. definitely understand if you don't want to write back. 04/21/2019 21:25:19	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! Thanks for writing back. I'm sure you are probably being flooded with letters since the Hulu show & it's so unfair that they are using your likeness to steal your story & make money off of you - absolutely terrible! It also must be hard that everyone has an opinion about it! Don't listen to the people who want to hold you down & tie you to an event or experience. There is more to people than an experience & it's been so empowering to see your journey & who you are becoming! Math has always been my worst subject but I'm so proud of you for getting schooling & trying your best & using your time & resources to improve your self! What's your favorite subject? Congratulations on your relationship! That's so wonderful you found a nice man who cares & supports you! wish you all the happiness & success - you deserve it!! How lovely that your dad & step mom come visit you! They seem like absolutely wonderful supportive people & im so glad you have them in your life! Every day i try to remember to be thankful for 3 things in my life & say them out loud. It helps me fight off depression when it sets in. Today I'm thankful that my friend is coming to visit me in LA next week from Portland & is taking me to a concert to see one of my favorite bands. I'm also thankful that i got my hair done & im feeling better about how i look because of it @ (I'll send a picture!) and last but not least I'm thankful for my friend Dania who is teaching me how to play guitar! It's one of my new favorite things to do & is helping me through some hard times now. What helps you get through hard times? hope you have a lovely day! = Happy Easter Gypsy! Bunnies & candy are my favorite! I'll send you a picture of me & my bunny! hope you had a nice day!	page 463

Just got home yesterday, its nice to be off from work and relaxing. hear what your saying about Mom and the series. know its alot of back and forth and stress that we don't need and don't trust either. We are all going to get on the same page but I don't want it to be a stressful visit and all either. don't want us to worry about all that and just enjoy our visit with you and get to know I'm gonna make us a gumbo and we can discuss some of that when were all together without upsetting anyone but still being honest with each other. have this interview at 11 with Jaimie Batosch about the petition. Im not planning on commenting on any past events so hopefully it helps. really struggled with doing this interview but I think now it a good time to, like you said ride the hype wave while its cresting. dont know whats going on with the series. havnt asked and not mentioning it to me much which is fine with me as long as i aint gotta do anything with it. The petition is at 125 k this morning so thats good. I'm going to work on a letter to the governor and parole board asking for a meeting with him or them and see what more can be done. 04/22/2019 17:23:50	Outbound	understand if you feel skeptical of our relationship however, can assure you sort is a very positive person in my life. we started out getting to know one another without any intention of becoming a couple then as time passed and the more we opened up to each other is when we both mutually started to develop an attraction towards each other. have been able to be my absolute self with him, having shown him every aspect of my personality as well as been able to be vulnerable without fear of being hurt. I think some people when they first learn about my relationship they think negatively wondering "what's in it for him?" or "why is he dating a chick in prison?" or the popular choice "he is in it for money or fame" but they are not aware that we met Platonically initially, then through getting to know one another we both saw each other in a romantic light. has NOT done interviews to exploit me through media of any kind, nor does he get any financial benefits from being my significant other, he actually supports ME both emotionally and financially while I'm incarcerated which he attributes his traditional southern upbringing for the values that a man should always provide for his wife/family. moreover, he is my rock giving me strength through the many hardships face. there is not a day that goes by that he doesn't tell me he loves me and all the heart meltingly sweet things a man should tell the woman he loves. and if you are still skeptical, please think to yourself, why else would this man spend $2k to travel over 1,800 miles ONE WAY, every 3 months for the past 2 yrs just to hold my hand for 4 hours in a visitation room with limited physical contact. Has chosen to abstain from sex outside of the relationship because we are strictly monogamous and have agreed to abstain for the sake of fidelity. Has to go through the headache of being hounded by journalists contacting him and his family requesting interviews, which he has declined, AND at the same time has to be the strong one when I cry feeling guilty and helpless about the intrusiveness of the situation regarding the media prying into our personal lives. and in addition to ALL that, people are leaving mean, unfair and sometimes cruel comments on facebook judging what they do not know ANYTHING about. So why else would this man go through all of this, if not for just the beautiful emotion called Love. I am not being rude, nor disrespectful just simply wanted to explain in deeper detail of is to me and why love him beyond all words could ever express. P.s you are more than welcome to post this response in any of the discussion groups as defend my relationship	page 468

The Easter bunny didn't stop by my house, must have been bad lol or maybe I'm just to old. I cant imagine how flooded you are with emails and letters, and i can only hope like you stated in your last email that your supporters can get together and sign that petition and send those letters (i definitely will). When i first learned about the show Hulu made and then i did research and learned youre not being compensated i was livid. dont know how anyone can think thats okay. Im so proud of you for doing so much hard work to better your current situation and pull yourself through everything. Once again, lots of love and support from south florida,	page 520
04/22/2019 18:36:53	Inbound	Hi gypsy, Thanks for your response. Very good to hear from you! i have not heard of the hulu series. must be hard to have your whole life under a microscope like that when already trying to cope with the trauma in your life. see some sort of benefit perhaps of it bringing national attention to you which could benefit you with getting support and letters to the governer? Hopefully the show portrays you as the victim in this case cause you definitely were one. It breaks my heart what you have been through. Enough about that though am sure you get hundreds of emails about that. Photography is fun! got a camera a while back from my friend to try my hand in that but have yet to learn photoshop and all of the techniques so am not sure am very good but I do love to take pictures and it is a lot of fun! think can attach photos to this email so I'll send you a photo took in fort bragg, CA. Another thing have been really into is makeup. love makeup and anything related to. made a facebook group called "I fxxing love makeup" LOL which is fun. share videos and pictures and even do tutorials sometimes. Thats great that you are getting your education :) What are your plans for the future? Or as they say, what would you like to be when you grow up? still have no idea myself but have thought about nursing in the addiction field. I am a recovering addict myself and definitely have a passion for helping others.	page 520

I'm sorry you're going through so much, but I'm glad you're keeping focused and taking care of yourself Hopefully your dad can take legal action against the network and those involved because that's not right. try not to take the show for face value only because know how evil the media can be. So, there's no judgment on my end. I'm just glad you're healing and taking care of yourself As for school, hang in there kiddo. Math is a pain at any age...trust me. struggle with it too but thank goodness for Google. :) <3 I'm glad you like photography. I do too. There's no limit to the creativeness behind it - from photography to creating gifts with the photos - like scrapbooking, birthday or wedding items. If you want can send you magazines or books - maybe even a scrapbook. :) Not sure what things can send but just let me know. :) :) I'm glad you're happy hope he takes care of your heart. Considering the circumstances, am very happy to hear you are able to still somewhat able to do things you enjoy such as photography. I'm very happy you have found someone who you love and makes you very happy. myself got divorced after being with my ex for 10 years in total but only 2.5 years married. We have a son together but finally have a guy who is the most amazing person I've ever met. Finding that special person is the best feeling in the world! will see what i can do to help your dad with your early release. Lastly, I'm sure the media attention is absolutely insane, especially because there will be supporters and haters when it comes to anything. Have you ever thought about writing a book about your life? can't even begin to imagine all that you endured while growing up and I'm just happy to see you are making the best of what you can while you're incarcerated. Please take care and Happy late Easter!	page 533

I'm hoping things are getting a little easier for you these days... but I'm so looking forward to hearing about what you do with your life once you're finally free!! I've sent so many things in hopes you would get an early release!! The sun is setting here in South Carolina in the usual beautiful cotton candy colors. I'm thinking of you and wondering what life is like for you these days. remember when was in jail and how just longed to just be free, smell the fresh air, and enjoy my life. I'm wondering what life is like for you behind bars right now? With so many people knowing something (but not everything) and having the freedom to say what they want with little feedback of the real truth. can't imagine how difficult that must be. As I'm sure you have so many people reaching out to you, pray you know how many people are truly on your side! absolutely am!! What are you looking forward to the most?! remember just wanting to feel the wind in my hair, and just be free!!! hope you have a great day and sincerely hope to hear from you sometime soon. BUT if for some slim chance You do read this, wanted to introduce myself and let you know am so terribly and am a mother of 4 living in sorry for your suffering as a child, and now your suffering as an adult. My name i: Alaska. have heard so much about your story and my heart hurts so badly for all of your suffering. I am so impressed as well with your positive attitude and constant uplifting attitude you hold. Continuing to better yourself while in prison, and work on healing yourself is admirable. You are a beautiful young woman with an amazing heart. also so sorry you had to lose your mother in such a traumatic way. As hard as she made life for you, she was still your mom and know that has to hurt. If you feel called to write back would love love love to hear from you. You definitely have a lot of people on your side. never really expected you to even write me back, I'm sure you have so many people writing you. also am terrible at Math, it's kind of hard to understand. failed geometry 2 times.. but ended up getting my diploma. I'm happy for you, staying strong and doing things for yourself. You say to include your first and last name and doc number in the letter? Is that your inmate number? 04/24/2019 09:55:47	Outbound	Hello Gypsy! am very interested in your story and would love to know the truth about it. Is the Hulu story the real story or is it all fake? How are you doing? Do you still talk Hello :-) Thank you for reaching out with support. I am doing well, have adapted to my surroundings, besides for me, prison is more freedom then ever had before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED having passed everything except math, I'm striving to pass that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental health as well as to teach me coping skills to deal with my past trauma. most of my days consist of work and classes, and in my free time like to go to the gym, the library or just sit outside enjoying the beautiful weather. :-) live on the honor wing which is for inmates who have earned extra privileges though good behavior. I do have a strong support system my father and are building a bond 27 years not too late. :-) also happily engaged to a wonderful man who has had my heart for almost 2 years and has been nothing but the biggest blessing giving me the love, understanding and support that I deserve. No, and have both chosen to go our separate ways, as feel it is better for our mental and emotional well being to be completely apart. I am aware about the Hulu series The Act, however can not watch because do not have access to Hulu or the internet, so have little to say on it without watching to see just how much is accurate, however will say it its unfair that the producers of the show are using my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial benefit from it. have been on and continue to be on a long journey to reach my freedom. my main focus is making good use of my time, taking every opportunity to better myself through programs, classes and therapy so that when am released am able to live and function with ease in society. I do not enjoy the "fame" my case nor my traumatic past has given me, however do hope to become an advocate for children who have experienced abuse by parents with Munchausen By Proxy in the hopes it will encourage others to be proactive in recognizing the warning signs as well as give victims a voice. In recent years have chosen to shy away from the media in order to focus on my own emotional healing as well as the healing process of my family and friends. just want to live a normal life, move forward and focus on the here and now and put my efforts to creating a better future for myself :-) have made life long friends along my journey some have met just like this...lol have friends that have met in here, others have been just sweet people who didnt know me at the time , but took the time to know me and now we are very close true friends. I'm blessed to have loyal friends stand by me through all this. My future plans include, travel, a big wedding and a few children someday. my dreams may sound simple, but they are simply perfect for me. :-) I appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence, many has signed the Free Gypsy Blanchard petition created by my Now, must ask a favor. am respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for my freedom and write letters expressing support for my early release to either The Missouri State Governor Michael L. Parson AND/OR The Missouri State Board of Probation and Parole.	page 335

So like, said I'm j I'm 32 years old, live in Payson, Az. work as a caregiver for mentally and physically handicapped individuals. work over nights. love my job and the clients work with, think of them all as my family :) have a dog that's a dachshund named Luna and an orange tabby named Cheeto. also have a guinea pig named Cupcake Unicorn Princess that call Cupcake for short. Cupcake is a he, thought he was a girl when I got him many many years ago but found out maybe a year ago Cupcake is a boy. He doesn't seemed too bothered by the name so just kept it haha. So my hobbies, love anime and manga. Lately I've been into Sword Art Online, Black Clover and a few others. My all time fav is Naruto and Dragon ball Z. love playing came video games and LOVE everything pokemon. The newest game just came out the other day, Pokemon Sword and Shield. got Sword and I've been playing it, it's so much fun! also play Fortnite and Overwatch. love to paint and draw. love Star Wars and everything about it, and Jurassic Park, and the Alien movies. like movies in general usually scary stuff like ghosts and demon stuff also like to collect rocks and crystals. Some people believe that rocks and crystals all have special meanings which think is cool but also really just like how pretty and neat they can look. I think that's enough about me and introducing who am, can't remember if missed anything. So one of the things do take pride in is advocate for a lot of wrongful conviction cases, write to a few other people who I'm proud to call good friends of mine :) did follow your case and of course watched the documentary. My heart went out to you then, and now. hope you are doing well :) Write back if you would like understand and won't take it personally if you don't, but ultimately just wanted to let you know that am thinking of you and sending you prayers, happy thoughts and if you want to be friends am here for you! 04/24/2019 21:44:41	Outbound	Hi Thanks for the encouragement. :-) I am doing well in my current circumstance besides for me, prison is more freedom then ever had before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED having passed everything except math, I'm striving to pass that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental health as well as to teach me coping skills to deal with my past trauma. most of my days consist of work and classes, and In my free time like to go to the gym, the library or just sit outside enjoying the beautiful weather. :-) on the honor wing which is for inmates who have earned extra privileges though good behavior. I am happily engaged to a wonderful man who has had my heart for almost 2 years and has been nothing but the biggest blessing giving me the love, understanding and support that deserve. My main focus is making good use of my time, taking every opportunity to better myself through programs, classes and therapy so that when am released am able to live and function with ease in society. do not enjoy the "fame" my case nor my traumatic past has given me, however do hope to become an advocate for children who have experienced abuse by parents with Munchausen By Proxy in the hopes it will encourage others to be proactive in recognizing the warning signs as well as give victims a voice. In recent years have chosen to shy away from the media in order to focus on my own emotional healing as well as the healing process of my family and friends. just want to live a normal life, move forward and focus on the here and now and put my efforts to creating a better future for myself :-) have made life long friends along my journey some have met just like this...lol have friends that have met in here, others have been just sweet people who didn't know me at the time , but took the time to know me and now we are very close true friends. I'm blessed to have loyal friends stand by me through all this. My future plans include, travel, a big wedding and a few children someday. my dreams may sound simple, but they are simply perfect for me. :-) I appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence, many has signed the Free Gypsy Blanchard petition created by my father Now, must ask a favor. am respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for my freedom and write letters expressing support for my early release to either The Missouri State Governor Michael L. Parson AND/OR The Missouri State Board of Probation and Parole. I am scheduled for a parole hearing in December of 2021, and any and all letters are helpful. please remember to add my first and last name as well as my DOC # 1302048, in the letter. Thank you again very much for the support. Big Hugs GypsyRose Blanchard Governor Michael L. Parson 216 State Capitol	page 563

Also we understand not ALL of what the show tells is what really happened. We aren't here to judge, just here to find out more info. We know you have been getting a lot of hate and support mail. And there are tons of support groups on Facebook (like the one we got your jpay info from.) But we have a couple of questions and hopefully you will answer them. 1. Are you allowed to have any communication and if so do you still speak with him? 2. Besides book/ and tv deals... what do you plan on doing when your released? 3. Do you get treated any different since your case was so heavily profiled? 4. Last but not least do you enjoy fan mail?	page 605

04/25/2019 09:58:13	Inbound	Hey girl. know you're getting hundreds and hundreds of emails every day but listen to this don't know if you ever heard of the movie or the book "The burning bed"... the movie was in 1984 but the book maybe in the library where you're at if not listen to this.... the woman that the story is based on, Francine Hughes, was abused by her husband for 13 years physically & mentally. she even divorced him thinking that that would make him leave her but obviously it did not. after so much abuse she finally set fire to her ex-husband while he was sleeping and he burned to death. now she went to trial, and she got completely off on the grounds of pleading temporary insanity from the abuse that she endured. really honestly truly feel that if you would have had a trial you would not be there right now. because anyone who would have endured what you did would have most definitely drove them insane and I'm sure it did for you as well. don't like bringing the case up to you but maybe do some research because think you should be able to get out of there quicker than what you're supposed to. just something to look into!! love you girl! #justice4gypsyrose	page 277

The probably won't come as a surprise but I found out about u from the movie that was made from u. Then looked more into your situation. u definitely shouldn't be in there. Its been some years now and at least u didn't get more time. U won't have long left after a while. Your somewhat famous now so i don't think u will even see this email any time soon but if u do. I'd love to talk to u.	page 325
04/25/2019 17:52:17	Inbound	Hello Gypsy, my name I have been following your story for a while now. I am so sorry your mother treated you that way. would have probably done the same thing. You're so strong! don't think could do it. anyhow, signed a petition for you, so you can get out early. You seem happy!! that's wonderful. you're beautiful! keep your head up and stay strong. bye beautiful, Thank you for reaching out with support. I am doing well, have adapted to my surroundings, besides for me, prison is more freedom than ever had before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED having passed everything except math, I'm striving to pass that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental health as well as to teach me coping skills to deal with my past trauma. most of my days consist of work and classes, and in my free time like to go to the gym, the library or just sit outside enjoying the beautiful weather. :-)) live on the honor wing which is for inmates who have earned extra privileges though good behavior. do have a strong support system my father and are building a bond 27 years not too late. :-)) also happily engaged to a wonderful man who has had my heart for almost 2 years we met just like this, he sent me a letter of support and we became close friends then both fell pretty hard for each other and he has been nothing but the biggest blessing giving me the love, understanding and support that deserve. I am aware about the Hulu series The Act, however can not watch because do not have access to Hulu or the internet, so have little to say on it however will say it is unfair that the producers of the show are using my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial benefit from it. have been on and continue to be on a long journey to reach my freedom. my main focus is making good use of my time, taking every opportunity to better myself through programs, classes and therapy so that when am released am able to live and function with ease in society. I do not enjoy the "fame" my case nor my traumatic past has given me, however do hope to become an advocate for children who have experienced abuse by parents with Munchausen By Proxy in the hopes it will encourage others to be proactive in recognizing the warning signs as well as give victims a voice. In recent years have chosen to shy away from the media in order to focus on my own emotional healing as well as the healing process of my family and friends. just want to live a normal life, move forward and focus on the here and now and put my efforts to creating a better future for myself. :-)) have made life long friends along my journey some have met just like this...lol have friends that have met in here, others have been just sweet people who didn't know me at the time, but took the time to know me and now we are very close true friends. I'm blessed to have loyal friends stand by me through all this. My future plans include, travel, a big wedding and a few children someday. my dreams may sound simple, but they are simply perfect for me. :-)) appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence, many has signed the Free Gypsy Blanchard petition created by my Now, must ask a favor. am respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for my freedom and write letters expressing support for my early release to either The Missouri State Governor Michael L. Parson AND/OR The Missouri State Board of Probation and Parole. I am scheduled for a parole hearing in December of 2021 and any and all letters are helpful. please remember to add my	page 330

My name i lam 34, and am from Ohio. sure you receive many messages, especially since Hulu started the show depicting your life. However, wanted to reach out to show you my support. As a social psychologist, know a great deal about Munchausen syndrome by proxy, and it truly breaks my heart to learn what both you and your mother went through in life as a result of this syndrome. honestly do not believe that you served the jail sentence that you received. In watching your entire trial, there were so many times where wish could have reached out to you to help you. know there is nothing that can do for you now, but just know, support you and if you ever want to send a message back, am happy to talk with you. am sure that offer is kind of odd to you, but honestly just want to be a support for you if ever you need one. do not want anything from you nor will ever ask you details about your life in an attempt to gain information. am just the type of person to lend support if needed, and that is what am doing here. Please feel free to message me back or call/video if you are ever in need of a friendly chat. wanted to include a picture of me only so that you know who is sending you this message, but notice that the option is not available. could always mail you one if wanted. (I would want to see who was talking to if were you, so that is why mention it.) hope you are doing well. hope to hear back from you; however, completely understand if do not as would never bother you with another message again if do not receive a response for this one. 04/25/2019 22:22:43	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, have been following your case. just wanted to see how you were doing? saw that you were engaged, think that's awesome! hope you email me back. I'm on your support page on Facebook. It's seems like the show the made based on your life is not very accurate, that's annoying. really hope you get an early release! don't really know what to talk about. your favorite color? Are you doing any schooling? Well please write back! ED Thanks for the encouragement. :) lam doing well in my current circumstance besides for me, prison is more freedom then I ever had before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED having passed everything except math, I'm striving to pass that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental health as well as to teach me coping skills to deal with my past trauma. most of my days consist of work and classes, and In my free time like to go to the gym, the library or just sit outside enjoying the beautiful weather. :-) on the honor wing which is for inmates who have earned extra privileges though good behavior. lam happily engaged to a wonderful man who has had my heart for almost 2 years and has been nothing but the biggest blessing giving me the love, understanding and support that deserve. My main focus is making good use of my time, taking every opportunity to better myself through programs, classes and therapy so that when I am released am able to live and function with ease in society. do not enjoy the "fame" my case nor my traumatic past has given me, however I do hope to become an advocate for children who have experienced abuse by parents with Munchausen By Proxy in the hopes it will encourage others to be proactive in recognizing the warning signs as well as give victims a voice. In recent years have chosen to shy away from the media in order to focus on my own emotional healing as well as the healing process of my family and friends. just want to live a normal life, move forward and focus on the here and now and put my efforts to creating a better future for myself. :) have made life long friends along my journey some have met just like this...lol have friends that have met in here, others have been just sweet people who didnt know me at the time , but took the time to know me and now we are very close true friends. I'm blessed to have loyal friends stand by me through all this. My future plans include, travel, a big wedding and a few children someday. my dreams may sound simple, but they are simply perfect for me. :) lam aware about the Hulu series, "The Act" does get the basic plotline of my story correct, however there are minor details that are wrong, while other details are 100% correct. without knowing which specific details the show has gotten wrong, nor am able to watch the show, am not able to say really if The Act portrayed an accurate scene of an true event of my life. if you want to know the actual FACTS of my life and case please watch HBO documentary, Mommy Dead and Dearest. as well as my interview with Dr Phil. don't want anyone to be mislead into believing a Hollywood hyped version of my story. I appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence, many has signed the Free Gypsy Blanchard petition created by my fathe Now, must ask a favor. respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for my freedom and write letters expressing support for my early release to either The Missouri State Governor Michael L. Parson AND/OR The Missouri State Board of Probation and Parole. lam scheduled for a parole hearing in December of 2021, and any and all letters are helpful. please remember to add my	page 607

You will still be young. I'm 38 years old and don't feel old yet. hope that you are having the best time you can have considering. 100% support an early release for you. don't understand why you have to serve time in prison at all. It was a complicated self defense with extenuating circumstances. If a person was kidnapped and had to hurt someone to get free, they would be deemed a hero. I'm sure you hear that a lot. am not trying to bore you. just wanted to bring you a small smile at the thought of the many upon many people who you have never even met that love, support, and pray for you. have 4 children of my own and one child took in. They are 24, 20, 18, 15, and 11 years old. We all support you. was so happy to see that you have been able to rebuild a relationship with your father and his family that you didn't have before. am so glad that you no longer feel isolated and alone, instead you are surrounded by a loving family, loads of friends and supporters, and now a new fiancé. Congratulations on your engagement. How wonderful it must be to find someone to cling to during this trying time. What a blessing. knew a beautiful lady like yourself end up alone for long. hope you keep fighting and keep your head up. You are not fighting alone anymore. Your past doesn't have to define your future. If you ever need anything or just someone to talk to, I'm always here. know it may seem weird to reach out to a stranger, but have no motivation other to surround you in support and prayer. also don't want to know anymore than do or talk about it, so no worries. what your confidantes and doctors are for, not us strangers. 04/25/2019 23:13:31	Inbound	Hey Gypsy! your age and I'm a third year law student. come from an abusive home myself. I'm very interested My name i in your case particularly because have studied and worked in the domestic violence clinic at my law school. In doing so, Ive learned about bartered woman syndrome. This refers to the situation of when one person in a relationship sustains abuse for such a long time that they finally can't take it anymore, and end up killing the other person. This isn't limited to just romantic relationships, it can be any sort of close relationship. think this ties in with your case and should be pursued. But before keep rambling about myself and my studies, was hoping you could tell me a bit about yourself. Obviously watched the show and the documentary — I'm sure you get tons of email about that. But that's not what want to talk about right now. Tell me about your plans once released. What's the first thing you want to do? What are your long term plans? Are you going to pursue any legal action against anyone you feel has wronged you? PS: do you still like stuffed animals? Admittedly, still love them. have so many and somehow manage to keep adding to the collection. Thanks for reading! Hope to hear back soon :)	page 616

04/26/2019 13:21:01	Inbound	Hello Gypsy Rose - How are you doing? was thinking of you and I've been watching The Act. see you are not very happy with some of the aspects of the show. They do put up disclaimers that some of it may be exaggerated or even did not occur but for dramatic license. really have liked Joey King playing you. even think she looks like you during that time. feel very sure that when you come out of jail that people will support you financially as well. Many times people set up Go Fund Me accounts and will raise quite a bit of money! So as far as not getting royalties for your story, people will support you through other ways. You certainly have a great amount of support. also saw on tv that fans have reached out to Kim Kardashian to help free you! that be great if she could help you? do believe the justice system could use some kind of revisions seeing what happened to you. feel very certain that your mom would've continued to give you medicine and have more operations. wish there would've been some sort of intervention by the doctors. can't even fathom all of the suffering you've been through emotionally and physically! Tell me about your fiancé! Although I'm very happy for you, please take lots of time before getting married. People are not always as they seem to be! With everything you've been through, would really hate to see something else or someone else give you pain. know through your pen pal exchange you obviously fell in love but just trying to warn you a little bit. have seen so much in my years!! would really love to hear from you! hope you continue to do well where you are. 04/26/2019 23:34:46	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, My name i and I'm from Utah. just wanted to start by saying that seeing your story and learning of everything you lived through hurt my heart so much, and wanted you to know that from one survivor to another, understand and know what it feels like to live like that, in the sense of living with abuse. was removed from my birth mother after years of sexual, physical, and emotionally traumatic abuse was discovered thanks to an officer checking a diaper. was 3 years old at the time, and took my brother to the bus stop in the middle of the night in October, with him in nothing but a diaper. told the bus driver that we needed to go to grandma's house because we were hungry and had no food at home. The first 2 times had done this, was simply returned home to my mother. While she herself never abused me, she was so high on drugs she didn't protect me from the abuse the men in her home had sustained in me. The third time took my brother to the bus stop, a female officer came to retrieve us and she happened to notice that my brother needed a new diaper. When she went to change him, she found a one inch by one inch diameter, 1/4 inch deep bum that was clearly in multiple stages of healing. We were forcibly removed from my mother's home that night and were placed into foster care. Foster care brought up more abuse. My mom got and lost custody of us multiple times before the state finally forced her to give up her rights. She did so, and the courts allowed her to have a say in where we went. She didn't want us separated, but at the time they couldn't find foster homes available for two kids. My grandma tried to get custody of us, but my birth mom accused her husband of sexual assault which disqualified her from adopting because they had to investigate. My grandma's sister offered to take both of us but the courts said she was not to have any contact with my grandma or my mother if she did so. She agreed to do it, despite not being able to talk to her sister during the foster period. My grandma was my best friend, and the reason even lived long enough to be neglected by my mother. My mother had done a lot of drugs while she was pregnant with me, mainly cocaine, and so was born very addicted and it caused a stroke that paralyzed the left side of my body. had to have physical therapy, and my mother didn't take me. So my grandma bribed her into letting her take me so that could get the medical help needed to have a normal childhood. She even bought my mother a car, which was totaled within days. My grandma absolutely saved my life and she took me every time my mother would let her. During the months that couldn't speak to her or see her, completely separated myself from reality and stopped talking. It was like watching my life in 3rd person, which had learned to do in short bursts when I had been assaulted by 3 men in a park, where my mom had left me alone by a street light so she could buy drugs. couldn't handle the reality, so separated. When I finally got to see my grandma again, my aunt said it was like watching a miracle happen because had come back to life and all of my sadness just came pouring out all at once and she just held me and cried with me through it. My aunt, who was still our foster mother, lived next door to the couple who eventually adopted both of us. was 4 when it was finalized. My new mother was (and still is) extremely bipolar, and very religious. They are Mormon, and that is how was raised. My mom didn't mean to be I don't think, but she was abusive with me. She made it clear at first that she did not want me, told me she hated me, told me would turn out just like my birth mother, that was going to hell, and many more things. had told her she wasn't my mom, and that wanted to go home. bonded quickly with my dad, though. think my mom was, and still is, jealous of that. wasn't kept in therapy for the abuse went through, but they did make sure had enough therapy to stop me from trying to seduce grown men, because that was how was raised to behave. was exiled by other kids my age because my well meaning mother told the church congregation everything she knew about that had happened to me and my brother. She did it thinking she was helping people understand us and she also	page 592

I live in Texas and we were born the same year. I'm not social too much, however, when it comes to events such as concerts that like, conventions, and movies, get so excited for them. deal with anxiety really bad but love communicating with people that have similar interests. play a lot of video games, enjoy arts & crafts, and have a passion for cooking as well. I am a very understanding and empathetic person. have an open mind and heart and hope that you give me a chance at a friendship of some sort. Take care girlie! :) Sincerely, heard from you about the magazines, should send them via regular mail. What kinds of magazines do you like? Any books you would like?	page 613

Some places see Blanchard and some see Blancharde. Your father seems so nice, have seen him on TV, he is so cute! hope you are doing well. Everyone wants you to come home and didn't deserve that much time, he seems kind of slow, maybe 20 years would have been enough. The prison system is messed up. live in South Carolina by the way. 04/26/2019 02:21:12	Inbound	Hi Gypsy just watched your documentary on HBO, learned about it when was listening to a podcast that mentioned it. I'm sure you get hundreds of thousands of letters so don't know what can say to make mine stand out to get a response. just am fascinated with true crime and most of the time agree with the punishment laid down on criminals who deserve it. I've never reached out to anyone incarcerated so don't even know if this email will reach you or is legit. mostly wanted to say I'm sorry for what you had to go through growing up, that was a crime into itself have two teenage girls and couldn't image trying to make them suffer for my benefit. I'm surprised your case wasn't researched more in- depth to almost have the defense claim self defense for you. You seem to have alot of support and couldn't imagine them denying your parole in 2021, although it should be sooner ©) and many have signed the petition. I've seen that you are engaged now too, congratulations! Just be careful he's not there for the fame or money you'll get for your stories. I'm sure you've been told this hundreds of times already. Well hope this letter finds you well and hope you are doing as well as can be! =	page 615

You have been through so much and yet you are still so humble. do not believe that you belong in prison. While do understand what you did was wrong. think how your mom treated you all those years should be a just cause for your actions. understand that you felt like it was your only escape. If you ever need a friend or just someone to talk to. I think we are even around the same age so don't mind at all. If you ever want to write me a hand written letter you can do that also address: Sometimes people just need someone to listen.	page 340

04/27/2019 17:38:46	Inbound	hi gypsy. i'm so nervous sending you this email because i just want to be friendly. not sure if you want to be bothered by anyone since you have already been through enough. my name i and i am the same age as you. i saw the show "the act" and found out about you. i also watched the interview with Dr. Phil. no one ever knows what happens behind closed doors and no one will ever understand one's life because they are not living your life. i really hope once you get out you get to enjoy what freedom feels like and make your own decisions. i offer you my friendship. have my own battles like we all do. iam housebound meaning i can't really leave my home because i have some called agoraphobia which is anxiety/panic disorder. i have depression and people never understand because they don't have what i have. i think i heard that you don't care for the show or never want to see it but it's good it's out there because it shows the truth. alot of people support you believe it or not. alot of people looks at the negative side but at the end of the day no one was living your life to understand what you been through. your doing your time and that's okay because life has consequences but once you get out i hope your able to start over and have a new life. this is just to show you that some people like me understand. it's easy for some to think with rational mind because they have never been through anything. i would be happy to hear from you from time to time if you like. sorry if i said anything wrong. i am honestly not good at socializing and nothing i said was meant the wrong way. wouldn't mind having a pen pal. i live in new york city. you should meet the city one day and see a whole different side of life. i haven't had the best life to be honest. my family basically disowned me and was in foster care. things you go through as a child scars you for life but all we can do is think positive thoughts. God Bless You and guess what? jesus christ already forgave	page 615

You deserve to be able to finally begin your life. Speaking of that, congratulations on your engagement. You deserve to be happy and although we both know that fairytales do not exist, you deserve as close as it gets. I'm glad that you are using your situation to bring awareness to a very specific type of abuse. hope that it will help people to stop all kinds of abuse. don't have many friends and feel like maybe you would be nice to talk to because you know what it is like to be hurt by the person who is supposed to love you and protect you most. We don't have to talk about that, but it's nice to know that someone understands you. hope things are going well and you are happier. will include some postage for you to write me back, but know you probably get hundreds of emails. I'll keep you in my thoughts and hope you are well! Oh, by the way, my name	page 618

I just wanted to extend my heartfelt compassion for you, and the situation that you have lived with so much of your life. I truly hope that your case will get reevaluated - sooner rather than later, and that the justice system will see what immense pressure you have been under, and see that you have been punished enough already. lam not a particularly religious person by traditional means, but will be sure to mention you in my private bargainings with the higher powers © g& lam genuinely impressed with the personal growth you appear to have had, even while incarcerated, - and the intelligent and beautiful woman you are growing into, despite your challenging upbringing. Stay strong lady, there are so many out here rooting for you! Sincerely,	page 619

04/29/2019 21:07:16	Inbound	Hello Gypsy. My name i and I've been reading about you for a while now. know creepy, how fast you become famous from certain things. But I'm not emailing you to get into your business and to know anything and everything about you, would like to get to know the true you someday though as your own person and not through the eyes of others. But you probably won't even get my email or read it. just think what you've been through is courageous. Humans aren't meant to be kept in a box. We are who we are. And even though you've gone through all of this, hopefully one day you can be free of it all. We all have a past, and we can't change it, all we can do is move forward. People cannot cope without rules, and laws, and regulations. They say we need them to survive, disagree. People make decisions based on what they think is best for them. Rules are nothing but something to keep us in tact with ourselves. If every human decided one day to not follow them then we would loose it. Sometimes people who are scared of what another person has been through puts them in a situation that they don't understand, so then they just act. We don't think. Look I'm sure you'll never email me back. But hope one day you will. And maybe we both could help each other. Sincerely	page 598
04/29/2019 15:26:58	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, My name and am 44. married and have one adult daughter. recently watched the HBO documentary about your story and have been watching "The Act" on Hulu. As grew up in a mentally, emotionally, and physically abusive home until the age of 14. After a serious suicide attempt, my grandparents finally believed me and took me away from my mother. My stepfather left when I was 12. didn't meet my natural father until was 14. He and have recently sent emails back and forth after not talking for about 22 years. As a 14 year old, my mother pushed me to accept him immediately. Then, when he would not date her, she said horrible things about him so would hate him like she did. While did not suffer anywhere near the abuse that you did, do come from a place of understanding. think that is what made me reach out to you. was especially touched by the relationship you and your dad now have (from what I saw in the documentary). wish my dad was supportive like that. rarely speak to my mom and my stepfather passed away a couple years ago. I am having a difficult time making friends lately and am looking for healthy friendships. No drama, lol! I truly hope you are getting all the help you need during your incarceration. It is awesome that you are working toward or have gotten your GED! don't want to take up too much time, I'm sure you get a ton of letters and emails. sent you a stamp and also am sending a pre-paid reply. am new to Jpay. have never written to anyone in prison before. Please feel free to email me back anytime. would really appreciate it. Also, congrats on the engagement!) Take care,	page 622

You went thru something that would break some people but not you!! When you are finally released you are going to be able to finally live your own life . The things you went thru were horrific but I think it is so amazing how you can speak about what happened. Your story will help others out there who may be going thru some of the same things . Yes killing is wrong but believe you would have ended up dead yourself So pray you get released sooner than later sweet girl. I am a mother of 3 adults now and love them with all my heart and couldn't imagine treating one of them the way you were. So bye for now you may never get this I'm sure you get plenty!! But you hang in there and keep growing and healing !!	page 622
04/29/2019 21:11:44	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! 20 and I live in kentucky. hope it's okay that I'm sending this to you - this past Sunday was My name i Mother's Day and it must have been rough for you. Anyways, Gypsy, the reason I'm writing to you is because I'm sure that there are people out there who are sharking about trying to take and take from you and ask questions, but if it's okay with you, like to talk about me. As i said, am 20, from kentucky, and my name i but it didn't always used to be. It used to be i am transgender. I'm not sure what personal beliefs you hold and if being transgender is something you don't believe in, then completely and 100% respect that. just believe that at the end of the day, we are all human just trying to give ourselves our best chance at happiness. Today was actually the day i came out to my family! And was expecting things to go so bad, but it actually went really well and was overwhelmed with so much love and support- things went so much smoother than ever could have imagined. Ofcourse there will always be a Negative Nancy among the crowd, but that's to be expected. I go to work everyday as a childcare associate, and don't quite enjoy it, because it's very stressful. Something about 80 something kids to 4 adults just doesn't do it for me- it shouldn't be allowed. But do love the kids. And don't even get me STARTED on men... it's like they're Hot n' Cold (katy perry edition) and then they objectify me the second they find out I'm trans. know I'm worthy of so much love and respect because have so much love and respect to offer... but it's like nobody is willing to look beyond the preconceived notions that society has placed for trans people. Anyways, Gypsy, just wanted to write to you and ramble about myself so you could hear about somebody else's problems for a change. There's no need to respond unless you want to or have any questions for me about being transgender, or if you want me to keep rambling on about other problems I've got going on. just want you to know that there's people out here like myself rooting for you, Gypsy. Stay strong. All of my love always, hey love , been trying to get ahold of you like way before that series came out. Like when you had the first documentary come out. know you get lots and lots of emails so i understand if you dont get back to me but you are an inspiration to alot of people and ik its rough and noone can completely understand what you went through or even what your going through but know you have tons of supporters and friends girl. wish things could have happened different for you. know we've all been threw stuff we wish we hadn't but we grow and move on and just become better people. well been In a cell with nothing but time on my hands so figured I'd reach out to keep your time occupied. congrats on finding aman beautiful hope he treat you right! anyways I'll get this out now I'm just rambling now. stay positive you'll be out in nn tima and athala life ahaad af	page 622

I'm 23 and model under my name read your story and feel for you. have borderline personality disorder from the childhood trauma experienced from my own mom. hope that if you ever need to talk to anybody (I will never ask you to talk about your case or what happened) while you're in jail (and hopefully out of jail soon) you can talk to me or find me on Instagram or Facebook when you're out. I'm really happy you were able to find love and that you are engaged and happier now. hope that one day will get to message you because really think you are amazing for going through what you did and you are still able to find happiness. -with much support from Springfield mo. I've been following the story. Congrats on working towards your GED it's hard work but very rewarding. I'm still trying to get mine. I've been up to date and watching the act on hulu. Sorry you've been thru all that. I've had similar experiences with my mom but not near as bad. Wish you well.	page 619

Hi and I'm sorry about all the things your mom did to you. You were a victim and you had no way around. I've watched everything on TV about you and the case and cps should've investigated too. hope prison isn't too harsh on you. At least the sentence is far less than what you would've gotten otherwise you've been punished enough in my opinion by your mom's hands. just hope you're doing ok I'm willing to be friends if you wanna be. 04/30/2019 15:48:17	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, know we don't know each other, but I have the feeling you're probably getting a lot of mail from people you don't know now-a-days. followed your case very closely when everything happened. In my personal opinion you were handed a very unfair sentence. You're only two years older than me and life has not dealt you a very good hand, although hear it's getting much better. I didn't write to you to bring up bad memories of the past. My main curiosity, if you would indulge me, is how is the sudden fame from The Act affecting you? A lot of people personally know, and people from the internet try to insert themselves too deeply into your story, jumping to conclusions and what-not, but truly only you know what has happened in your life. I've also seen that your father is trying much harder to be more active in your life and for that am so happy for you. Take it from me, someone whose father has been absent for roughly 18 years of mine, lean on him when you need to. Don't blame him for his absence even if it may be hard. believe I've attached a pre-paid response, hope have. This is the first time I've used this app. If you'd like to reply welcome it very much so. If you would rather not, completely understand that as well, as said before imagine that you've been getting an influx of mail as of recent and also imagine it's probably overwhelming. Although on a closing note, am very glad so much attention has been brought to your case. Although there are of course those who like to belittle and disapprove of everything, I've seen so much care and love poured out from every corner of the world to you. Just know many, many people are on your side and wish to see you happy. hope you do consider responding but if not, like I said, that is okay too. With love and respect,	page 625

However do want to convey the outreach of supportive mail has made my day. :-) Unfortunately, my Jpay account on my personal tablet is now having technical issues due to the overload of emails received on a daily as well as a massive amount of contacts in my contact list. respectfully asking all of the people who has sent me emails and have only received one or two response emails, to please delete me from your Jpay account or remove yourself as am just trying to solve the technical issues that lam having with my account, please do not take offense to this request. 05/01/2019 23:17:22	Inbound	Hey there, My name and know you don't know me, but also know life inside is boring and getting emails can sometimes make your day. am sure you get a bazillion letters and emails and If you are not interested in hearing from me please don't feel obligated to write back. will prepay a response just in case you feel like sending something back. About me, am 32, live in a small town in Indiana that you have never heard of but am hoping to move west soon. buy vintage and used items and resell them online; anything and everything that can make money on but do a lot of vintage women's fashion, art, pottery, etc. lam not getting rich but am surviving without working for someone else. really enjoy it, it is kinda like modern day treasure hunting. What else, have a stinker of a cat named Arya. She is a Savannah, which is a breed that is bred down from and African servile so she is a bit bigger and makes different noises than a normal cat. live with my brother at the moment and we own a building in the downtown area of the town live in. enjoy reading and watching TV when am not out finding treasures. If you do decide to respond, would love to hear about things you like to do. know that your options are limited in there. Do you read? If so, who do you like? I enjoy contemporary classics like Steinbeck and Hemingway as well as fantasy (Game of Thrones) and Horror. Do you follow any TV series? know that someone else probably controls your tv schedule and you are probably forced to watch tons of animal planet. What else do you do? Go to School? Work? Anything else you want to tell me would be more than appreciated. hope that this email entertains you and brightens up your day and am not just some random creepy guy sending an email to someone he doesn't know. Have an awesome day Gypsy, hope to hear from you.	page 072

05/01/2019 18:56:53	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! It took me a long time to write you again because in your last letter you sent me you expressed that you just want to live as much of a normal life as possible. That really hit me and didn't want to impose on the life you are trying to make for yourself and your future but wanted to send you support & not be overbearing - as I'm sure you get mass amounts of letters and emails daily. As stated in my first initial letter to you, am not looking to gain anything by conversating with you besides being a pen pal or friendship! however respect your choice on whether or not to write me, as understand it is very hard to know if someone genuinely cares about you or if you can trust them not to be just interested because of the media-swarm that seems to follow your every move. respect your privacy, & your personal life and hope to never insult you with any question have. think that a lot of people get very caught up in your past and all the shows, movies etc surrounding your case that they forget that you are a human being with feelings and emotions!! I did sign the petition you had linked to the letter you sent me, I really hope that you can be released soon and get to finally start the life that you deserve. In your letter you said that you enjoy photography, is that something you would like to try to have a career in? I really enjoy the arts as well and have taken some intro-classes to film photography really enjoyed it the process of developing and layering on film is really interesting! I live in Missouri, actually Columbia it's about 2 hours from St. Louis. know that you are originally from Louisiana and that is where your family resides. Do you have plan on returning to Louisiana with your family or would you rather move to a new state? There is so much to travel and see!! Sending support to you!! Hello Gypsy. I just finished your watching the act on Hulu about your life. so sorry that you had to go through any of that. I'm not writing you to judge you at. believe in you. believe everything that you said. want to support you. hope everything is going good with you. Keep faith and remain positive through your situation Gypsy keep your head up. Hope to hear from Much love!	page 332

05/01/2019 20:23:36	Inbound	Hey gypsy. Momma said to text you on my account so here am. passed school! And now I'm going to be in the 8th grade. had an online boyfriend for 4 months and we just broke up. I'm not really sad about it tho, never met him so it's alright. Alright I'll check in later. bveeee Hi -) I did get your first email the one on a different account, and went to reply but then it said that you wasn't a contact anymore so let your mom know its OK that you email me. :-) yes, know your mom, she and live on the same house. your mom is a very nice lady, and I can tell she loves you alot. :-) so what's this about a boyfriend? in my experience, in person relationships are better then online ones. however will say this, I'm going on 28 years old and am recently engaged but this is the first in person relationship have ever had only have had one other boyfriend and it was a bad toxic online relationship. he is in prison now doing life without parole and I'm sure if you have seen any TV shows about me you know that I'm talking about my e the one got arrested with. well I'm happy to say, have a wonderful new guy who I have been dating for 2 years and we are getting married in January :-) and he treats me like a princess. my point to all that is to give you the best advice I can which is, take your time before rushing into relationships, and if you find a boy who treats you like a princess then good just as long as you take your time and get to know each other really well before giving the title of boyfriend to someone, make sure you give it to a guy who deserves that title and does right by you. your still very young and have plenty of time to go through as many relationships as you need to to find your soulmate. :-) proud of you for passing school! that's awesome! :-) myself am in school I have passed everything except for math, but am studying hard to pass that as well. hope you have a nice week tytl hugs ... from moberly mo I'm about a hour and a half away from you.... been reading Hello gypsy... my name i blogs and posts about your story and just want you to know that everything is going to be okay from what I've seen and read your a very strong girl and you have put up with a lot in your life... also very happy to hear that you and your father have reconnected hone to hear hack ! Awwwww thanks can't wait to come home. I'm sure you get a ton of letters, especially from all your fans from The Act. read and watch all of your interviews, and agree with you about how they portrayed you in the show. You were in no way given any justice! I guess it would be best to introduce the random stranger emailing you! My name i I'm a 19 year old Psychology major at Houston Baptist University. I've lived in Texas all my life. heard about you and your story when it happened, was 15. never got the full story though. Being a psychology major, it intrigues me deeply. I'd love to get to know you, and maybe learn more from you, refuse to believe anything they put in the news just because know it isn't the full truth. know you may have no interest in me at all, or quite frankly, the situation at all.. But I'd really love to learn Please, if you find the time to write me back, would deeply appreciate it. Your grammar and punctuation is fabulous. I'm very glad to hear that you are doing well. I'm very glad to hear that you are getting an education there. I am also glad to hear that you found someone who loves you and that you love back! I think your dream in life is the same as everyone else, even famous people. To have a family, and be with the person that you love. understand the whole situation with Hulu... hope that they will somehow Give you some money for using your real name. thought that heard that your dad was trying to sue them for some money. It would be nice if you had some money to start out with when you get out. think if you have the time you should study law there so you will be able to get a job when you get out and fight for your cause. Nothing that happened to you is your fault. have definitely signed the petition and will write to the mayor for sure. know that Hulu making this series without giving you a part of what they make seems very unfair right now, but there are so many people watching us that you and your story is becoming very well known. You said you do not want fame but think in the long run this will get you the support that you need. I'm sure that being where you are and not knowing what is going on out here is very hard. really think this will help you and so many other people in the long run. Just a quick little bit about me, have a baby raccoon on my shoulder right now that is an orphan that am bottle raising. She is a girl and I'm going to name her after you! Please know how many people you have inspired with your story even though it was not your choice to share it in that way. 05/01/2019 03:50:51	Inbound	must admit that my heart filled with joy that you wrote me back. didn't think that you would. in all honesty, have studied your case because it fascinates me. is the most interesting person in the story, in my opinion. understand why you saw this as your only way out but he, as the third person looking in, had the opportunity to take the moral High ground and get authorities involved, etcetera. he did not. if may be quite Frank, people like that scare me. people like you, however, in my opinion, does not need to be there at all; however, as you state, that is in your past. Let's leave it there. Cc has one of my favorite quotes: "You cannot change the beginning of your story and you cannot change the past oh, but you can change how your story ends." I told you in my last email that have so many questions for you. still do but I'm only going to ask one. what do you plan on doing with your life now? you expressed that you got your GED and that is very exciting. you express that you work with photography (within the prison, assume). That's amazing. I did not even know that they offered things like that and it's exciting that you are thinking about your future. do you want to be a professional photographer? think that would be very cool. as far as The Act, had read that you were not happy about it. have seen it. There's one more episode yet to be released at the time write this. it bothers me so much. With everything that have studied, they got so much wrong. it's not my story and only wanted to address it because you brought it up. don't know what you feel about God. I'm not really asking at this point. Maybe never will. do know this, though.... believe with every fiber that am that God has big plans for your life. you have a strange childhood, a weirder young adulthood and yet you are strong. You might be one of those strongest people that I've ever had the pleasure of talking to (almost said "met" but i can't honestly say that lol). meant it when said that believe that you have something to offer the entire world. see something in your future that you have to offer, not your past. You can tell your story until you are blue in the face but it doesn't change anything.... it doesn't Define you because you are worth so much more than one story. I don't know you. know of you and studied in your case because it fascinated me but it does fill my heart with joy that you want to leave it in your past... the past is where it belongs. do want to ask you a question and hope that you answer this question and hope that you are honest about it. are you	page 561

Living in Missouri and being the same age as you has also made the story particularly intriguing. can't even begin to imagine what it was like growing up in your shoes. constantly find myself wondering how our justice system could let someone like you end up in prison but other very violent offenders walk free. Recently in an interview you said that you like being in prison more than living with you mom. sincerely hope that is true, hope you are not suffering in there and that you are doing ok. I'm sure you have tons of people writing you because of the recent publicity, but if you would like another person to write feel free to write me (I have prepaid for a stamp so you can reply). A little about myself am 27 and always lived in the Kansas City area. have a boyfriend, and puppy named Waffles. have a job in clinical research which entails traveling around the country. I'm sorry if you're not currently looking for penpals, so I've been a little hesitant on writing you, but was so excited when found you on here that had to give it a chance. also bet you've been getting swamped with letters considering recent social media but I've been following your story for about two years now. It's always touched me more so than any other person I've ever decided to write to. My best friend's mother actually is afflicted by munchausen's syndrome by proxy, and it's something I've tried hard to support her through and raise awareness about. hope can support you too! Anyways, I'm so sorry haven't even introduced myself! My name is but my friends also call work in an adult store as a Certified Sexual Health educator. Sometimes feel like also a relationships therapist too! My customers sure use me as such. I'm also bipolar but despite the stigma, I've overcome so much and hope can help other people overcome mental health related disabilities as well. love to learn. love animals and used to work as an educator in an aquarium. also practice witchcraft and paganism, as I'm very into different cultures and finding out more about my own and my ancestry. But sometimes like to unwind with some mind numbing cartoons! What are your interests? What do you like to talk about? Soooo heard you got engaged! so awesome! Congratulations! Can be honest with you? I've actually cried over the thought of you finding happiness and peace. They were happy tears though! I'm so excited to hear inlove! It's such an amazing feeling, isn't it? probably sound really silly, huh? Well anyways, for now, I'll leave you with this message all the way from Florida. If you'd like to be friends with me, write me back soon! hope you have a great day! Lots of love, have signed the potation as well as talked to a few people over there. I'm glad you are getting you GED and doing better. really rooting for you and hoping that you do in fact get out early. I'm happy you found love and are looking towards the future, you can only go up from here. Your petition is pretty much at its goal and many of us have written letters to your governor. really hope he considers giving you an early release so you can just move on with your life. really hope to hear back from you	page 532

05/02/2019 22:11:48	Inbound	Hi my new friend :) I'm sitting here bored so figured would write you. hope you're having a good evening. My cat had kittens a couple weeks ago so I'm outside watching them play. They are so cute! know you said before that you were working on getting your GED. That's good! was about 22 years old when finally got mine. had to retake it several times mainly because I'm not that great at math nor history. Looks like both of us are bad at math lol ended up taking practice tests and buying a book from books a million to help me finally pass it. You will get it girl! Just keep trying! Anyways, I'm going to get ready for bed now 5:30 comes up early lol Have a good evening and feel free to write anytime. Hugs :) know you probably get thousands of letters a week or even a day but wanted to write you. Maybe we can be friends or at least pen pals. My name is and I'm 31 from Alabama. I'm a single mom with a 5 year old daughter. Her name and she's special needs. She's autistic and non verbal. With working a full time job and caring for her, stay pretty busy. When have free time like hanging out with friends and watching movies. love horror movies and documentaries. watched "The Act" on Hulu. actually purchased Hulu just to watch that show when it came out. As watch this show, get upset over the way you were treated. Also, think how can someone do this to their child when they are healthy. As a mother with a special needs child, it hurts my heart because would give anything for my child to be like a normal 5 year old. But she is slowly progressing. She goes to therapy and school every week. In closing, hope that maybe you will find some time to write back. Tell me a few of your favorite things.. like snacks, candy, makeup, etc. Can you receive packages? would love to send you a care package. Thank you so much for reading my letter. Take care! Your friend,	page 554

05/02/2019 02:43:01	Inbound	Hello Gypsy, My name i lam a 19 year old soon to be mother from Oklahoma. I've known of your story for a while, but just recently gotten curious from watching The Act. I've done my research and even seen you and your mothers old Facebook page. know not a monster, but also don't want to call you a victim. You're a strong woman that has endured more than some ever could their whole life time. want you to know that you do have support, there's people just like me that only want to see you released so you can thrive at your second chance at life. heard about your recent engagement, congratulations on that by the way. wish nothing but happiness for you and believe saw his name very happy you have loved ones by your side to help you keep your head up. know how tough it can be being behind bars. My future father in law is currently serving life for a murder he didn't commit. He's been in for over 10 years, so bet you can imagine the stories I've heard. don't want to take up much of your time, even though you're in prison I'm sure you get hundreds of emails like this a day. just wanted you to know that you do have people that stand by you. was manipulated, molested, and raped by a close church/ family friend about 8 years ago. So, understand the pain that comes from trusting someone that has only been hurting you. don't want to bash anyone or say anything cruel about anything you've dealt with. just want to be a friend. I'm sure it's hard for you to talk to people and trust anyone, but you can. You can talk about anything you want with me, it doesn't have to involve anything about your case. just want to make sure not being broken down behind bars. have signed the petition to have you released early, but trust me, know America's court systems aren't the best and things can drag out for years. I'm holding on to the thought if you getting out early, but your feelings now can't be put on the back burner until your day comes. I'm here for you, your father and stepmom are here, and I've seen MANY Facebook pages and individuals that are here. Anyway Gypsy, we love you and hope you're doing well. would absolutely love to hear back from you and possibly talk regularly if it benefits you. As said I'm an expecting mother, so can't really put money on your books how I'd like. Babies are expensive little suckers lol but my husband said can email you and reach out. Keep your head up girl, and please feel absolutely free to email me at anytime. Anything said between us will stay that way. Best of luck on your journey to freedom! Sincerely, your supporter me i read on your story and just want to say how sorry am that you went through all that and felt that was your only way out. I think you should not be in prison , you just need therapy. You have 4 more years to go and when you get out , just make the best of your life and try to be happy. You have thousands of people on your side saying 10 years was too harsh. It's sad that you went through that trauma your whole life. Hone vou write hack	page 625
05/02/2019 02:48:34	Inbound	Hello Gypsy, My name i lam a 19 year old soon to be mother from Oklahoma. I've known of your story for a while, but just recently gotten curious from watching The Act. I've done my research and even seen you and your mothers old Facebook page. know not a monster, but also don't want to call you a victim. You're a strong woman that has endured more than some ever could their whole life time. want you to know that you do have support, there's people just like me that only want to see you released so you can thrive at your second chance at life. heard about your recent engagement, congratulations on that by the way. wish nothing but happiness for you and believe saw his name very happy you have loved ones by your side to help you keep your head up. know how tough it can be being behind bars. My future father in law is currently serving life for a murder he didn't commit. He's been in for over 10 years, so bet you can imagine the stories I've heard. don't want to take up much of your time, even though you're in prison I'm sure you get hundreds of emails like this a day. just wanted you to know that you do have people that stand by you. was manipulated, molested, and raped by a close church/ family friend about 8 years ago. So, understand the pain that comes from trusting someone that has only been hurting you. don't want to bash anyone or say anything cruel about anything you've dealt with. just want to be a friend. I'm sure it's hard for you to talk to people and trust anyone, but you can. You can talk about anything you want with me, it doesn't have to involve anything about your case. just want to make sure not being broken down behind bars. have signed the petition to have you released early, but trust me, know America's court systems aren't the best and things can drag out for years. I'm holding on to the thought if you getting out early, but your feelings now can't be put on the back burner until your day comes. I'm here for you, your father and stepmom are here, and I've seen MANY Facebook pages and individuals that are here. Anyway Gypsy, we love you and hope you're doing well. would absolutely love to hear back from you and possibly talk regularly if it benefits you. As said I'm an expecting mother, so can't really put money on your books how I'd like. Babies are expensive little suckers lol but my husband said can email you and reach out. Keep your head up girl, and please feel absolutely free to email me at anytime. Anything said between us will stay that way. Best of luck on your journey to freedom! Sincerely, your supporter me i read on your story and just want to say how sorry am that you went through all that and felt that was your only way out. I think you should not be in prison , you just need therapy. You have 4 more years to go and when you get out , just make the best of your life and try to be happy. You have thousands of people on your side saying 10 years was too harsh. It's sad that you went through that trauma your whole life. Hone vou write hack	page 625

05/02/2019 15:17:49	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, have been following your story, you have my support. You are an amazing strong woman. I'm 37, so a little older than you. think of all the things I've learned about life in the last 10 years and don't know if could go through what you did at your age. was married in 2005, still happily married, no children. think children sound like too much responsibility. Lol. a dog, 5 cats, and quite a few Chickens. I'm in South Dakota, not too far from Missouri- my sister actually lives in Missouri. I think part of the reason find your story so fascinating is that it's so different from mine. My parents let me run free, very little guidance or support from them which is not necessarily the best thing either but would not have wanted to trade situations with you. was a wild child. Had probably a little too much fun. really liked to party in my teens and 20s and could tell you some crazy stories. wish could still have good times like that but now they hit me a lot harder. Lol. thankful had that time to have fun and make all those memories before got married. know one of the things read about you is that you were eager to start your own family. hope you will give yourself a moment to breath and just have fun and be you when the time is right. Marriage is great too, but it's a lot of work, there are times it's not easy. A guy worth marrying is going to give you the space you need to find yourself and support you along the way. You are quite a catch so don't settle for anything. You really do deserve the best. Most people put themselves first weather they want to admit it or not, hope you will put yourself first. Be real careful with men, take your time getting to know them. A lot of them will say whatever it takes to get what they want. Also don't let society and Disney dictate to you what a woman's place should be weather that's making a home, being a wife, having children... whatever. You can be whoever you want to be, and do what you want to do. feel like have lost bits of my own identity to marriage, I'm not saying that's bad, but had a pretty strong sense of self before went into it with a lot of years to be my own person and do my own thing. was always focused on finding mr right and doing what felt was expected of me by society. wish didn't worry about that so much and wasn't so boy crazy. Lol. People think gave me that advice when was more your age or younger but sometimes guess things seem different until you are in the spot and seeing them first hand. always thought wanted children growing up but now I see the world differently and don't want to subject a child to some of the things have seen and been through. like the freedom have that would not be possible with a child. am selfish in a lot of ways guess. You are probably not as selfish as am. Lol. My husband is great though, had to kiss a lot of frogs to find my prince though. Lol. Then met him when was least expecting it. was fishing by myself one day just to relax and get away from everything. He pulled up in his kayak to ask if had any beer. Haha. The rest is history, caught my keeper that day. We got married about 5 years later, took things slow. You just never know when the right one will come along.	page 626

05/02/2019 16:57:40	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, My name i and I'm 21 from California. have been following your case and just want you to know that even if the media portrays you one way, you have at least a person who understands your side of things. No one has a right to judge, only God does. think you're a bright and beautiful woman. hope when you are out of prison you can finally have some peace and get the help you want and need. watched your interview with Dr. Phil on YouTube and admired that you were true to yourself! Also is it true you are now engaged? If so congratulations! wish nothing but love and happiness to you and your spouse. have been married to my husband for a year and with him for almost 4 years. Marriage is so beautiful, you will love it. May God be with you and bless you, remember He loves you no matter what and is with you. hope you can get back to me, if not totally understand! 05/02/2019 12:46:01	Inbound	Gypsy, hope this letter finds you well. From all accounts that I've read you seem to be doing MUCH better than you were on the outside. hope that continues. I'm sure you receive tons of mail now that your story has been so well publicized so try to be as concise as possible here, but I'll warn you conciseness is still a trait work on. I'm Italian and we can go on and on and on and on. So I'll give conciseness my best shot. Here we go. First and foremost my heart breaks for you. After seeing your interview in the documentary my mind has been nothing short but, fixated on you. After seeing the horrible, malnutrition pictures of you when you were young it was a true breath of fresh air seeing that beautiful hair hanging down and framing your gorgeous face. Your smile is infectious and memorable. can see it even when I'm not looking at it. These are things I'm sure you read every day in letters, but had to tell you anyway. You are beautiful Gypsy in every way imaginable and please never forget that. Now the real reason for my letter is that recently read that you are engaged. don't know the man of course, but I can tell you the best advice I've ever received was this - slow down. Please. You are a survivor and a dam smart woman when left to her own devices I'm sure. You have never been truly free. Ever. Freedom is choices. Choices are something you have never had and will not have until you are 32. You have not breathed a clean breath of free air yet in your entire life. The day you step out of that place you're in, you will. But then you've already made a choice under duress. A commitment before you really understand how many options exist. Here's an example for you. Say you've never been to a McDonalds and someone says hey I'm going to McDonalds do you want anything. And you say yes, what do they have? And the person says burgers. So you say ok get me a burger. That was a decision made under duress. You were given nearly no options to choose from and you had to decide right then and there. Those kinds of circumstances cause bad decisions to be made. Being in prison is duress regardless of how easy the time is. And every decision made while inside is a decision made under duress. It's lonely and I'm sure you are still dealing with the aftermath of your circumstances. There may be nothing wrong with this man. He may be a truly good soul, but never know if there was a better soul out there for YOU because you made a decision without looking at the whole menu first. Think about it. That's all ask. Maybe look at it from a different perspective. You have a huuuuge heart can hear it beating while you speak. But with a huge heart there comes a lot of space to fill in it and it's been empty for so long, maybe even forever, that it's entirely understandable to try to put as many people in it as possible. apologize if this all comes off as me being a know-it-all, but promise it's sage advice. I've made plenty of mistakes myself with relationships and was not sheltered. It's REALLY hard to determine the real from the fake, the priceless from the worthless. These words are very far apart in meaning, but when faced with them in the real world they can be almost microscopically the same. The differences can be impossible to spot until it's too late. Now as for who am. My name is and am 32 years old. work in finance in Philadelphia. love sports and comic books. The new Avengers movie, in case you're wondering, was quite possibly the best movie ever made. hope you get to see it soon. Also all of the new Star Wars movies have been amazing. hope you get to see them soon as well. always go to the comics convention here every year with my dad and 1 of my brothers. It's really fun and I've met some really cool people	page 628

I'm sorry if you're not currently looking for penpals, so I've been a little hesitant on writing you, but was so excited when found you on here that had to give it a chance. also bet you've been getting swamped with letters considering recent social media but I've been following your story for about two years now. It's always touched me more so than any other person I've ever decided to write to. My best friend's mother actually is afflicted by munchausen's syndrome by proxy, and it's something I've tried hard to support her through and raise awareness about. hope can support you too! Anyways, I'm so sorry haven't even introduced myself! My name is but my friends also call work in an adult store as a Certified Sexual Health educator. Sometimes feel like also a relationships therapist too! My customers sure use me as such. I'm also bipolar but despite the stigma, I've overcome so much and hope can help other people overcome mental health related disabilities as well. love to learn. love animals and used to work as an educator in an aquarium. also practice witchcraft and paganism, as I'm very into different cultures and finding out more about my own and my ancestry. But sometimes like to unwind with some mind numbing cartoons! What are your interests? What do you like to talk about? Soooo heard you got engaged! so awesome! Congratulations! Can be honest with you? I've actually cried over the thought of you finding happiness and peace. They were happy tears though! I'm so excited to hear inlove! It's such an amazing feeling, isn't it? probably sound really silly, huh? Well anyways, for now, I'll leave you with this message all the way from Florida. If you'd like to be friends with me, write me back soon! hope you have a great day! Lots of love, have signed the potation as well as talked to a few people over there. I'm glad you are getting you GED and doing better. really rooting for you and hoping that you do in fact get out early. I'm happy you found love and are looking towards the future, you can only go up from here. I'm also so happy that you do have a large support group and that you and your dad are creating a bond. hope you have a great day. Lots of love, Hello :-) Thank you for reaching out with support. I am doing well, have adapted to my surroundings, besides for me, prison is more freedom then ever had before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED having passed everything except math, I'm striving to pass that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental health as well as to teach me coping skills to deal with my past trauma. most of my days consist of work and classes, and in my free time like to go to the gym, the library or just sit outside enjoying the beautiful weather. :-) live on the honor wing which is for inmates who have earned extra privileges though good behavior. I do have a strong support system my father and are building a bond 27 years not too late. :-) also happily engaged to a wonderful man who has had my heart for almost 2 years and has been nothing but the biggest blessing giving me the love, understanding and support that deserve. I am aware about the Hulu series The Act, however I can not watch because do not have access to Hulu or the internet, so have little to say on it however I will say it its unfair that the producers of the show are using my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial benefit from it. have been on and continue to be on a long journey to reach my freedom. my main focus is making good use of my time, taking every opportunity to better myself through programs, classes and therapy so that when am released am able to live and function with ease in society. do not enjoy the "fame" my case nor my traumatic past has given me, however do hope to become an advocate for children who have experienced abuse by parents with Munchausen By Proxy in the hopes it will encourage others to be proactive in recognizing the warning signs as well as give victims a voice. In recent years have chosen to shy away from the media in order to focus on my own emotional healing as well as the healing process of my family and friends. just want to live a normal life, move forward and focus on the here and now and put my efforts to creating a better future for myself :-) have made life long friends along my journey some have met just like this...lol have friends that have met in here, others have been just sweet people who didnt know me at the time , but took the time to know me and now we are very close true friends. I'm blessed to have loyal friends stand by me through all this. My future plans include, travel, a big wedding and a few children someday. my dreams may sound simple, but they are simply perfect for me. :-) appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence, many has signed the Free Gypsy Blanchard petition created by my Now, must ask a favor. am respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for my freedom and write letters expressing support for my early release to either The Missouri State Governor Michael L. Parson AND/OR The Missouri State Board of Probation and Parole. I am scheduled for a parole hearing in December of 2021 and any and all letters are helpful. please remember to add my first and last name as well as my DOC # 1302048, in the letter.	page 337
05/03/2019 17:24:21	Inbound	Wow I'm so glad to hear that you're doing so well! It's awesome that you're making the most of your time and getting your GED. recently went to visit my brother in law in prison. There was a "photo guy" (that's what the sign that hung at his desk said lol) there. My brother in law explained to me the honor system and how that guy was part of it. (My BIL has been in prison for 7 years but he's ALWAYS in trouble) I also have a friend named in the women's prison in Vandalia Mo. She got beat on pretty bad by her husband, moved away to get far from him, missed court and it landed her in prison. She gets out in February 2020. She works in the kitchen where she's at. She says it's like a really crappy dorm / sorority experience lol I'm so happy to hear you've found such an amazing man! my self have a pretty amazing husband. always feel bad around my girl friends because they complain about their husbands but have no complaints about mine. He's pretty amazing. How ever wasn't always so lucky. I've mentioned having 5 kids. 3 are from a previous relationship (never married) started dating the guy at 14 and although he treated me crappy stuck it out since crappy relationships were what knew because my dad always treated my mom bad figured it was just the way things worked. We had our first child at 19, then 2nd we were 21, and 3rd 23. We were together 10 years when decided to walk away. started dating another man who treated me like crap. Eventually had the big wedding, honeymooned to Florida, then after 10 months of marriage we went to Branson where he ran into an ex gf and decided he wanted a divorce. So we dated 3 years, married a short 10 months and he left me for her. (No kids with him thank god!) About 4-5 months of going through the darkest time of my life met my now husband. He pulled me from the depths of hell and made me feel human again. We got married a year later in Hawaii (in 2015) no big wedding or ceremony since we had both had a big wedding before. But it was beautiful nonetheless. I'm still completely in love with him. It's crazy how all the bad eventually leads to the good in our lives. actually watched the act (I have Netflix) although won't lie I'm intrigued by it. But will definitely look up the documentary you mentioned. had actually never heard of munchen by proxy syndrome until hearing of your story. Just the other day (after wrote you) saw where Fox 2 wrote a short article showing the Facebook page you shared with your mother was still open. Not that it matters. Just mentioning it. Does your fiancé get to come visit you very often? My friend mentioned never gets visitors. It makes my heart hurt for	page 339

05/03/2019 23:27:41	Inbound	Seeing that you are doing as well as you can be given the circumstances brought tears to my eyes. don't know you personally but truly touched my heart. saw the Dr. Phil interview years ago (I watch Dr. Phil so much), as well as the HBO documentary in the last year. remember when you were first arrested because read the news story. don't want you to think I'm just contacting you because of a fad. knew about your case before The Act but I just didn't know how to get in touch with you or who to contact. could tell you one thing The Act got wrong, according to your HBO documentary. The TV show makes it look like you never had contact with your father and had never spoken to him before your arrest. That didn't sit well with me. have dedicated my life to advocating for children and currently work at Prevent Child Abuse America. am SO proud and glad that you're choosing to be an advocate, and to use what happened to you to bring awareness. am a psychology major with a bachelor degree, so if you'd like to talk about that or have any questions, let me know. wish could send you all my old textbooks used for school. I'm not sure what I'm allowed to send you though. have talked a little with your stepmom and she's the one who told me could email you. She also gave me the info to send my paper on the effects of munchausen by proxy on children as they turn into adults to the governor. tried to put some money on your books but it would not allow me. I've signed your dad's petition as well as sharing it with everyone know. Your dreams "simple." amazing. Each person has their own path to take in life. And think that you'll be a great mom, and you'll use what happened to you to know what kind of mom you wish to be. I'm so glad to hear you are in love. I'm also glad to hear that you're okay, and thriving. You are going to have a better adulthood than you did childhood. You're gonna have a happy life. currently don't have kids but have small nieces that mean the world to me. © enjoy gardening, reading, coloring, movies and music. I'm currently coloring in a very detailed Disney coloring book. It's supposed to relieve anxiety and it actually works. have two dogs and three cats.	page 560
05/03/2019 20:57:17	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, hope this finds you doing well today. My name i lam writing you from San Antonio, Texas. have been meaning to write to you for a while, but never really knew how to start one of these letters. have followed your story since the beginning and wanted to write to you to show you my support. first heard about you when was in the hospital in 2015. have a rare neurological disease called Transverse Myelitis that affects my spine. was going through a lot of painful treatments at the time and when heard about you; and my heart broke for all of the things you endured that you did not need. have been a supporter of yours and have signed your dad's petition when it was new and want to help in any way that I can. know that you are getting more attention now because of the tv show they made about you; but that's not why writing. don't wish to cause offense, but didn't watch the show, however did read an article where you asked for support and letters to be written to the Governor. In college studied forensics and law and wanted you to know that did write him a long letter with case studies and evidence as to why think you should be released early. hope that it helps and that he considers it. sent it both in email and in letter format. You deserve to get a new start on life sooner rather than later; especially since have heard that you are to be married. very happy for you and send you my sincerest congratulations! Anyway, know am rambling on but hope that you are well and just know that you have my support and are always in my prayers. Congrats on the engagement you deserve so much to be happy. Also awesome with the schooling! myself wasn't the best with math, it definitely was my least favorite lol. favored more towards history and science. Photography is a fun hobby to have :) My favorite thing is entertainment, have a huge DVD collection and love movies and certain shows. had a brother who was incarcerated for quite some time and he would tell me about the shows he's keeping up with, are there any you keep up with? It so nice to hear you are in the honor wing and enjoying all the classes and things going on. What books have you been reading? My favorite book is Pride and Prejudice. must have read it a thousand times. We recently went to Disneyland and while meeting Belle, thought of you. said a little prayer. have signed the petition for your release and recently sent a letter to the governor for you. I'd love to see you out and adjusting to even more freedom. That would be such a magnificent day. have seen some recent pictures and you are evolving into a beautiful lady, a lady who deserves a wonderful life. 05/03/2019 21:44:50	Inbound	Hey there! Thank you so much for responding! don't mind that it's late or whatever. No worries :D want to say am proud that you're using your resources to aid in your growth :) Keeping yourself occupied is a must, I'm sure. I, personally, have my own past traumas that affect me daily and have found ways to help myself cope and accept what happened. I'll create a new art project, do full glam makeup on myself or others, workout, or simply get lost in writing short stories (usually inspired from my dreams). No matter what, would not be who am today if it weren't for all incidents, good or bad, in my life. Definitely go for any and all opportunities you may be presented with. Your future self will thank you. Another happy thing.. Congratulations on your engagement!! Girl, you do deserve someone that's going to be that loving support. I've been with my boyfriend for 3 and a half years already. hope one day we do decide to get married but that's not the most important thing to me. do, however, want another child. already have one. A boy and he's 8. Ultimately, the best thing that has happened to me and the reason why keep fighting to be a stronger person. understand how someone like yourself would not enjoy the gossip and publicity received from your incident. With my own personal traumas, no, they were not as big as yours and have not been displayed through the media for everyone to see, but I've experienced many people from my town and surrounding towns that have heard about what had happened to me. Some reached out to me in support. Some have bashed me, despite getting to know me. honestly feel for you because couldn't imagine how this makes you feel. know you're doing your best to stay positive but these people don't make it easy sometimes. Anyway, so photography? That's so awesome! did photography in my first year at the university in 2010 (school provided camera) and just picked it up again in February of this year. Cameras are stupid expensive lol. wish could find a job that would allow me to do what I enjoy. I'm used to warehousing jobs. Lots of manual labor and sweat omg haha. Not my "passion" for sure but it pays the bills. try to stay optimistic. I've been thinking about trying youtube and start an art channel. People get paid really good through that. Maybe in the near future. I'm glad that you're finding the silver lining through all of this. You're a very strong woman and definitely support that. have 2 sisters and seeing them succeed and push through the struggles motivates me to keep going and not give up. have already signed the petition and will absolutely send my letter. see you with an open mind and open heart and truly believe in my statement that wrote to the Governor. Take care, Gypsy :) P.S. hope communication through jpay is ok. dont mind late responses. I've written letters to my dad and some friends in prison before and know it can sometimes be a waiting game. I'm patient though lol.	page 610

So happy you are able to move toward life goals that will help others and make you happy as well! Engaged! That's amazing news as well! How did you meet? Have you been able to spend time together in person during visits? He must be very supportive and patient which are great qualities! 05/04/2019 07:18:55	Inbound	Gypsy my name i from Cleveland Ohio and have been following your story since 2015 I'm also 27 and when got deeper into your story want you to know that what had happened was a kill or be killed situation and you are not a monster for surviving your mother because if she would have continued to hurt you like she was you would have died from a OD (overdose). You seem like a sweet young women cuz we are grown now and from one women to another (I work in the medical field my the way) you will need sever counseling hope you don't get me wrong it's not because of you it's because of your mom My husband is mentally messed up because his mother abused him when he was younger and he never got help until now because our marriage is about to end if he don't at the end of the day he didn't know what he was doing to me because he was shown by his mom how to act and what to do. sadly your mom raised you and you (without knowing) will show some of her not good ways like stealing, manipulation (that's not hard to do when you have a pretty face and a smile). Munchausen syndrome by proxy is a very dangerous mental illness and you was raised by a person that had it and YOU survived YOU lived do yourself and your future a favor and protect your mental health by seeking counseling please have nothing but high hopes for you Gypsy really do and I'm a Buddhist so positive vibes your way always love (one mind, one heart, one love)	page 135

I just had a birthday am 41 years old. live with some disabilities and have a wonderful service dog. think you would love my service dog. It looks like you are not allowed to get pictures on here. will try to mail one so you can see what my service dog looks like. Did you like the book sent you? Did you get the book? 05/04/2019 18:55:50	Inbound	so glad got to hear back from you. thought surely I'd get lost in the sea of emails you probably receive. It's unfortunate to have to adapt to the surroundings of a prison environment, but the important thing to remember is that it's just temporary and soon you will be adapting to the outside world. a huge part of what life is about anyway, adapting and overcoming. We know you can overcome anything. Working towards your GED is a great goal and when it's all done you'll be super proud of yourself. It's good to stay busy in there anyway. Makes the time go by faster, so bet the photography thing is a great time killer in there. It's great that you and your dad are getting to bond. That sort of relationship is important to make and keep. talked to my father in 14 years and wish that would change. So I'm glad you're making the most of that opportunity. Just keep in that positive mindset and don't look back. It can only get better from here right? what told myself when was still locked up. Things are a lot different for me now. I finally got off papers. YAY! had a son. And met a really amazing woman. Now I'm a stay at home parent to both her son and mine. Never thought I'd be living the family life but wouldn't change it for a thing. kept in touch with Bonnie for a while after got out, but then we both decided it was best for us to go our separate ways. I think she felt like she was holding me back and I guess, in a way, our relationship was hindering me. And look now, have my beautiful family if we hadn't decided to cut ties. [do hope she's doing well though. think about her sometimes. think about all those girls we were in there with and hope better for every single one. Oh! Before forget...do you need anything? We can put some money on your books or something. know how it can get in there. AND my mom wanted me to tell you how much she admires your strength and she prays for you and sends all of her love. She's constantly asking me about you and wondering if you're okay. Now that I've heard from you she can rest easier. Lol You've always got our support out here. Love and hugs Gypsy. Keep that chin up! Your friend, =. how are you? Awww thank you for the support:-) I am doing really well, have adapted to my surroundings. prison is not so bad, take this time as a learning experience and its time that need to better myself as a new woman. gone is the little scared girl who came into these walls and by the time leave will walk out as everything was meant to become. have proudly obtained most of my GED having passed everything except math, my worst subject lol work as a photographer and attend additional classes to benefit my emotional and mental health. do have a great support system. my father and are continuing to build a bond 27 years not too late. :-) I just want to live a normal life, move forward and focus on the here and now and put my efforts to creating a better future for myself :-) have made life long friends along my journey some have met just like this...lol have friends that have met in here, others have been just sweet people who didn't know me at the time, but took the time to know me and now we are very close true friends. I'm blessed friends stand by me through all this. do you keep in touch with Bonnie? she was in county for the longest... anyways. please feel free to message me any time hope you have a lovely night. Hugs Gypsy	page 554
05/04/2019 16:00:26	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, thanks for replying. Congratulations on obtaining your GED (had to google what that was, lol). Math is not my strong point either, I'm studying design and they still managed to add math into it, thank goodness for calculators. I'm glad that prison isn't too bad, and keeping busy with photography is good, that is something enjoy, as do art and design. From what have seen, your father seems like a really good person and am happy that you have a great support system. know that you want to focus on now and on your future, that makes sense, and the best things to talk about, and hope you have a great future. I am surprised that for the act on Hulu, that they didn't even get your consent, don't agree with that. But what think they probably did, is by changing enough of your story, they could get away with it without your consent, but don't know how that works in your country. I'm curious to what the Attach Ecard does, so I'm going to try it out, so apologize if send something odd or silly by accident. :) Anyway, hope you have a good day and look forward to hearing from you again, and getting to know you.	page 557
05/04/2019 13:39:40	Inbound	Gypsy, I am so happy to hear that you are thriving and that all of those resources and classes are made available to you. Keep working (even at Math, lol), and know that you will be more than ready to LIVE your life the way that you deserve to once you are finally released....which hope is sooner than we think! Photography is AWESOME! Unfortunately, it was something that loved to do, but was absolutely terrible at What type of camera do you work with? would love to see some of your work if there is a way to attach pictures to these emails? This is all new to me. And of course, CONGRATULATIONS on your engagement!!! You truly do deserve so much love, support and respect and it warms my heart to know that you have finally found your prince. You are such a beautiful soul and just wish you two lovebirds all the best of luck. hope we can continue to write to each other until you are released and even after, because would love to see photos of your big day. You are going to make such a beautiful bride, Gypsy. Have you thought about where you would like to get married? completely understand why you had chosen to shy away from the media. This is your life, you shouldn't have to live it in front of the entire world. love that you are taking the time that you do have and want to do something positive with it and raise awareness for other people in the world that may be affected my Munchausen by Proxy or a victim of someone suffering from it. Truthfully, have seen most all of your interviews, and even spent the time to watch your testimony in the court case. It wasn't just the story that captivated me, it was you. You and I are so close in age, just felt so close to you and knew that wanted to get to know you for who you truly are. You are more than just this story, Gypsy....don't ever forget that. have signed the petition for your early release and have also encouraged my friends and family to do the same. From what I have seen, your father is a good man and hope that you two have a wonderful relationship now. When you do get released, will you be moving back to Louisiana with him and your stepmom? If you ever want to come and see the sunshine and beaches in California, you are always welcome where am for a visit! will be sure to write letters and get those sent in to help you in any way that I can. Anything that you may need, don't be shy! will always be just an email away and am always willing to help my friends in need. Keep working hard in there Gypsy, and keep practicing those math equations! am not too shabby at math, so if you ever have any questions might be able to help you out :-) You had mentioned that you like to go to the library. What books are you reading right now? am a huge book nerd, and am always looking for new book suggestions. Keep smiling and pushing through, you've got a lot of people who love and support you, myself included! look forward to your next email, can't wait to hear all about your wedding ideas and plans, and all about your future hubby! Sending lots of love and pixie dust,	page 565

05/04/2019 09:01:02	Inbound	Hey Gypsy! You're very welcome, you have a lot of support and a lot of people rooting for you. You've been through enough hectic for a person and you need to start enjoying real life. want to be clear that am only writing you and not the other party that was involved as believe that you truly shouldn't be in prison. A lot of people tell me that some of your responses are more "copy and paste" reply which is understandable, can't imagine all the emails that you receive. However I'd really enjoy it if we kept corresponding, of course with your say. I've watched Mommy Dearest and just started to watch The Act. I've watched a lot of the court trial on YouTube along with the Dr. Phil interview. Do you have plans for after you're released? Any goals, wants, dreams or achievements that you would like to achieve? Thank you for the opportunity to speak with you via email.	page 610
05/04/2019 15:23:02	Inbound	I am so glad to hear you are making the best of the situation handed to you. It shows resilience. I've seen both the interview and the documentary on top of watching the trial and interrogations. can't help but feel for you and your situation. truly hope when you are released (and that it happens early) that life is kind to you. hope you find true happiness and freedom and can put the past behind you. will absolutely write in for you and will share on social media how others can help. don't think prison is the solution in your situation, think counseling and understanding are the best ways for you to move forward and to become a productive member of society. If there's any other ways can help, please do not hesitate. Looking forward to hearing	page 611

05/04/2019 05:19:36	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, Thank you so much for your reply. It's so great to hear from you, and am so pleased you are being treated well in the prison and have opportunities for therapy classes, know in my own experience therapy has been a huge help. hope you're finding this useful in your recovery. As mentioned in my previous email, have a website I'd like to share with you which can give you lots of hope and encouragement: JW.org. Please take a look if you can know it will change your life :) there are so many encouraging articles and also an online Bible based course which think you'd find really interesting. Thanks again for replying really appreciate it. I'd love to become your friend and get to know each other better. So here's a bit about me: I'm a 25 year old mother of a 2 year old girl. I'm married, live in the United Kingdom and work as a Support Worker. come from a big family, am the youngest of 5 kids and as said before was also abused by my mother, but in different ways. Mainly emotional, verbal abuse and sometimes physical. So too know in a little way how it feels to be so trapped in your own home and have no way out. Thankfully 6 years ago when married my husband was finally freed from my narcissistic mother's hands. He has been a great support to me and loves me very much, I'm so happy you have also found support in a future marriage mate. And I'm so happy to hear you are engaged and will get the happily ever after you so DESERVE! Because you really do deserve it. Anyway I think that's enough from me for now, but as regards to your favour, it is no favour at all my friend will get straight on it, the sooner you are released and can start to enjoy your life the better. Again it is so lovely to hear from you. will wait anxiously for your reply :)	page 614

Your story is absolutely mind blowing and cannot believe someone actually lived it! don't think you deserve the sentence you received. understand where you were coming from. went through childhood trauma myself, and unless you have, you just don't understand. hope you keep your head high and look forward. Your life has only just begun! Would love to hear back from you, but if not, understand. Sending love your Northern Ireland! Gypsy, I'm only now learning about your case and all of the troubles you went through and are going through now. I can't imagine the kind of strength you had to have to free yourself don't know how you are right now but I hope in some strange way that you're happier. You deserved better. Your case was complicated, and while can't personally excuse what you did, get why you did it. You were a prisoner in your own home, no voice of your own and no chance to get away. know the chances of a reply are slim, you get 100s of messages every day, and even though I've paid for a reply, please don't feel like you need to. Sorry for the short email, this is my first time emailing someone know very little about personally. Just know that I hope your life continues to get better.	page 629

My daughter is alot like your mother in many ways. Thankfully now have her children that have legally adopted and they will never have to endure any more abuse. hope and pray that you are able to be free soon and live a normal life and you will seek some sort of counseling to help you. know your story is going to help save alot of children and one day you will be able to raise awareness to help others and to educate people of this condition So that others will know the signs and what to look for with this type of abuse . Cause dont believe there is enough info out there . My nephew is also serving time in prison for a mistake that he made and from visits and his emails know that prison can be a lonely place and not a place that you belong . If you ever need to talk to someone am here for you. Please stay strong and keep yourself busy . 05/05/2019 18:30:35	Inbound	Hi Gypsy. My name i and watched your show on Hulu, "The Act". feel so sorry for you and what you've gone through. think the whole thing was ridiculous. sort of don't believe you should be in prison, because you had to escape somehow. But have a question if you don't mind... why didn't you just run away? know you trusted your mother and all, but sometimes there's a limit, y know? Also, heard that you're currently engaged! I'm so happy for you and your new fiancé and wish you nothing but happiness. It would make my day if you could email me back. Thank you :)	page 116

05/05/2019 05:39:57	Inbound	hey Gypsy! I'm glad to hear you're doing so well for your self and you've successfully been doing school and a job while in there. that's going to prep you big time for life outside of there. Math was really hard for me too, took algebra 4 times.. haha. that's awesome to hear you're on the honor wing, imagine that's probably a little bit safer for you too? Are the mental health courses taking more like therapy or learning about human emotions? oohh it's starting to get a little warm here in California, what about where you're at, what's the weather like now? Congratulations on your engagement! How did you guys meet? that's pretty great you have someone to support you while you're in there and be waiting when you get out. that's probably such a good feeling. how much longer do you have, if you don't mind me asking? sure with all the classes and preparing you've had, you'll do just fine on the outside. more freedom than you can imagine. understand that the can be difficult especially hearing unwanted opinions of what every one else thinks but try not to focus on those people. didn't realize Munchausen by Proxy was such a real things, again i'm so sorry you had to go through that. I'm glad that you are getting the support you need from people, and I'd be happy to converse with you. :) yes all simple plans maybe but simple is good sometimes it just feels right. and you deserve simple and normal after what you've been through. know these Jpay systems can get extremely backed up so i'm not worried and know got a lot going on your self in there. would love to help out with that, would just mail to your dad? what's the best option do you think? hope you are having a good weekend Gypsy!! Talk soon!	page 270

Lol from everything I've seen or read, you truly seem like a very nice person that was just dealt a crappy hand of cards! I'm glad you have more freedom now though. couldn't imagine going through what you did! Based off The Act, omg... just don't really have words! Although do have one question! Did you really have Guinea Pigs that you received for your birthday like they portrayed? have guineas... one died on 4/27 and taking it VERY hard.. on 4/12 she had eye removal surgery and it was a very long and hard 2 weeks! miss her so much and figured I'd ask you if you really had a pair of piggies! Lol Your jobs sounds really fun considering where you're at! Do you get paid for them? Or do trades for stuff? I'm not all familiar with how that stuff works in prisons! Do you get visitors? Now for schooling, don't have a diploma yet and I'm 23! My health took a tum and my mom died so kinda dropped out and just finished. should probably do that! You'll get there soon enough, math isn't fun!! Quite confusing it is, at times! Are we allowed to send you photos through this app? I'm not very familiar with how it works!! That's great that you're working as a photographer for other inmates! And about working with kids who come from abusive homes, think you would be great at that! Anyway. did sign the petition in support of your release your father did post up as well as composing a letter to the governor, asking him to reconsider his decision and to allow you to leave prison early! feel you deserve to live your life on the outside as you would be much better off! That's great too, that you have befriended many people in prison as it's important to have a circle of friends who are there for you as well as to support you. Anyway, did watch the documentary "Mommy Dead And Dearest 3 nights ago, showing interviews of you on Dr. Phil as well as your father being interviewed! Just so you know, you are blessed to have a father and step mother and siblings who love you very much and are there for you. Anyway, am going to close here for now until hear from you again! 05/05/2019 21:31:21	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, Thank you for your letter. I'm sure you are overwhelmed with messages on a daily basis. did what you asked me to do and will encourage others to do the same. signed the petition and donated money so that it can get more attention. sent a letter to the governor too. If there's anything else out here that can do to help just ask. I'm happy to hear that you are staying positive and enjoying having friendships, that must feel refreshing to be able to do. Math is tough for me too, it was the most difficult subject for me too but you will pass, just keep trying. I'm happy to hear you're engaged and wish you all the happiness in the world, you deserve that. hope your partner is supportive, kind and treats you like you deserve. I'm not into The Act, not into a Hollywood version of your story. did watch your interviews and the documentary which helped me understand you a bit better. But you are not defined by this case. The abuse was not your fault. Yes it happened but you'll go on to live your life and time will heal your wounds. I'm glad to hear you have a supportive family and friends. Sending you a big hug.	page 611

05/05/2019 06:39:42	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, I am sure you get a lot of mail, but just wanted to say that I am so sorry for what you had to go through. Your story is absolutely mind blowing and I cannot believe someone actually lived it! don't think you deserve the sentence you received. understand where you were coming from. went through childhood trauma myself, and unless you have, you just don't understand. hope you keep your head high and look forward. Your life has only just begun! Would love to hear back from you, but if not, understand. Sending love your Northern Ireland! Gypsy, I'm only now learning about your case and all of the troubles you went through and are going through now. I can't imagine the kind of strength you had to have to free yourself don't know how you are right now but I hope in some strange way that you're happier. You deserved better. Your case was complicated, and while I can't personally excuse what you did, get why you did it. You were a prisoner in your own home, no voice of your own and no chance to get away. know the chances of a reply are slim, you get 100s of messages every day, and even though I've paid for a reply, please don't feel like you need to. Sorry for the short email, this is my first time emailing someone I know very little about personally. Just know that I hope your life continues to get better.	page 629

Your story truly breaks my heart. Everything you endured makes my heart so very heavy and sad, I am a first time mother of a now 4 month old little boy and could never imagine hurting him the way your mother hurt you, but enough of that cause I'm sure you get emails/letters like this all the time and what happened to you should not be the only thing that defines you as a person. So, How are you doing? hope you are in a better place and feeling freedom after all this time. hope that you will be able to have a very fulfilling life once you are eligible for release. just want to say you were a very strong person for all you had to endure in your life, and there will always be a left side and a right side to your situation from everyone who couldn't fathom what you went through. Keep your head up and working on becoming a better YOU. Much Love,	page 629

Spring weather is here in Kentucky. hope you are having nice weather where you are at and that you get to go outside and experience it! know that every institution is a bit different in terms of rules and what kinds of windows they have and how much sunlight gets in. take my two Shih Tzus out for walks... they are brothers, both 11 years old, Rufus and Ray-Ray (short for Rayfield-Rayfield). put down food for both of them and feed them both the same amount of treats and love them both equally but for some reason, Rufus is average weight and Ray-Ray is 18 pounds! still try to make him get exercise. definitely need more exercise! My son is 16 and he's a really good kid, but teenagers can be stressful. He argues a lot. Actually, think he would make a good lawyer. It's normal for kids to argue. There's been a few other issues, but it is to be expected know. He's getting more independent. If I feel stressed, tend to go for Krispy Kreme donuts which is not good. need to do yoga instead.... anyway, have a You don't know me, but thought I would write to let you know that I am one of many who stand behind you. think it's a travesty that you are being punished for being tormented and abused throughout your adolescence. The strongest of people would have snapped under circumstances less horrific than what you endured. Please stay strong and know that people on the outside are trying to get you freed. When you do get out make your life amazing. Use your story to make others aware. Movies and documentaries are being made, but it's not the same as hearing it from you.	page 005

Hope you are doing as well as possible! Do you read much? who are your favorite writers? just finished a book by JG Ballard. It was called "High Rise". Can you call me sometime? Anyway, wish you the best! Take care and look forward to hearing from you again! Hope you're released as soon as possible! I did write the letter to the governor on your behalf and got an acknowledgment. Definitely keep people writing those letters, and keep up your indomitable spirit! Shia psy Hope you are well. Very sorry to read what has been going on lately. definitely don't want to get involved with doing anything that would hurt your relationship with your parents/family. lam concerned that the person you signed a contract with may not be looking out for your interests. think you need a lawyer of your own to review it and advise how to get out of it. sure you don't have money so if you want to send it to me my husband is a lawyer and will ask him to look it over for free. I'm so sorry because after everything you deserve to have someone in your life that isn't trying to make a buck off of you. To be clear, absolutely are trying to look out for your best interests and they are not trying to make money off you, but unfortunately you may have signed a contract with someone who has a past that suggests she in not necessarily somebody you can trust.	page 496

I'm sending you this message because am not sure if you if you are or are NOT the same that has taken to social media (Facebook) spreading lies and rumors about my fiance, if you are not then please ignore this email, BUT if you ARE then I'll ask you to please stop making such ridiculous lies about my fiance! I don't know why you feel it is OK or right to make up such untrue things and post these fabrications on Facebook when it is wrong and disrespectful. do not care what is your opinion of me, truthfully couldnt give a shit less about you or your meaningless opinion, however when someone says anything negative or spreads lies about my future husband, family, or loved ones that's when I will fiercely defend them and their reputations. My fiance is a 26 yrs old, straight, young gentleman, NO kids, NEVER been married, has NO criminal history, his only arrest was for a broken tail light to which he spent one night in jail then was released. He has visited me several times and has recently met my father and stepmother on a visit to see me all together, which went amazingly perfect, we have our families support and the support that he and give eachother, so your pathetic attempt to bring negativity to our lives has failed. I'm sure there are many more insignificant losers like you out there that feel they have to create hate and lies to make ya'll unimportant existence seem livable and I'm left to say only this pitty people like you, the people who do not know happiness, do not know love, because while your typing lies and slander from a computer screen, I'm happy planning my wedding to my smok'n hot fiance, while you are probably too unattractive to even get a back words glance from any man. have a nice day. 05/06/2019 09:44:45	Inbound	Gypsy, That is so good to hear! so happy that you are doing so well that makes me very happy. sent a couple of photos of me to show you some of my makeup skills. can literally teach you to be so good that you can do your own makeup for your wedding! Literally like flawless. have passed on your request to write the parole board a letter for your early release. believe got over 50 people to send letters in. have a large following on social media so have a voice on Facebook. My like page has over 50,000 followers and some people also asked if they could write you. A lot of people love you like a sister Gypsy and can honestly say that do too. Hopefully our letters can help you for early parole. Have you thought of a place to move to when you are free? Go somewhere sunny and bright not anywhere with a lot of rain and snow ugh that's yucky lol. I live in Michigan and we get so much snow in the winter! Sometimes When you walk outside the snow is up to your kneecaps. It's so cold and annoying. Tropical is the way to go trust me. watched The Act on Hulu and think that they should have at least asked you for permission to use your name at least. understand that it is a publicized story, but this is your life and reality. Even though the show is big and it got positive feedback, do think that they should have contacted you first. But honestly Gypsy this too made people love you even more. You are such a sweet girl and can't wait until you are able to experience the world. It's so beautiful. Can people send you packages in the mail? Like can send you makeup? We can start perfecting your makeup now! Maybe you can be a beauty influencer like me and make videos for YouTube and Instagram! That'll be sweet. Let me know if I can. We all love you Gypsy! Stay strong & With love,	page 552

A warrior. support you all the way. like i said i hope you get the life you deserve. Math is definitely hard for sure. i will check that out what you sent about your father. you deserve to be happy and i know you will be. your very mature and i like how you expressed yourself i tried to send you a picture of me but i guess it won't allow me to send one. i am not sure if you can receive letters but i can always send letters to you and about visitations not sure if i have to be on the list or how many people you can get visits from but i am happy to hear from you. you seem like such a sweet person and i have the same fantasy as you to have a prince charming lol. i do follow some groups on facebook that support you and let us know how to get you that early release and that is how i found you on here. i mean no harm. i just feel like your the kind of girl that i can be friends with and be myself i turn inward mentally alot always trying to escape reality. i need friends. i had some but some betrayed me and i get lonely at times. i just want a few friends that i can relate. i am not trying to be ungrateful and ask for alot. i have anxiety as i mentioned before so i feel anxious writing you because i am just not good at making friends. i never know how to approach someone or what to say but obviously through message it's a bit easier. all i can say is while your there take advantage of that education. come out and start over. only care about what those who truly care about you say. we always have people who just want to see us fail. i have lots of those but i stay to myself and avoid them at all costs. i hope to see that wedding of yours and see what your prince will look like and how happy your face will be. all your dreams coming true. i don't see you as fame. i see you as a human that i can relate to and would offer a genuine friendship :)	page 615

I'm glad you are taking classes and doing things that can help you. I am also glad you have a loving man to support you! Your dreams do not sound too simple, want to travel and have children as well, although I'm a bit shy so would prefer a smaller wedding. Don't feel bad if it takes you some time to reply, understand. It is almost my birthday soon but I feel strangely about it. have signed the petition and mailed both of the people you listed below. thanks so much for your time and reply,	page 618

05/06/2019 14:57:14	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, heard about your story when everything first happened and I've always had it in the back of my mind to write to you. Stupidly I've waited until now when all of these shows about you have come out and I'm sure this is one of hundreds of letters you have to get through. My name is als birthday is also in July and believe it or not my father's name I named my first daughter after me so her name i too and she was also born in 1991 like you. All these things made me feel somehow like should reach out to you. Just to say to say "I'm sorry for what you've been through" to say "I hope you get out earlier than expected and I've written letters to hopefully help with that" just to say someone is thinking of you. I'm not really sure what to say, just really wanted to reach out to you. My mother was a piece of work but you went through so much worse than can fathom and my heart just aches for what you've been through. You must have felt as though you had no escape. But don't mean to bring all that up. I'm happy for your future Gypsy, your dad made some updates saying how much better you're doing and there are over 154,000 signatures as of tonight on your Change.org petition. hope to hear from you some day and hope you'll be out and living life, really, truly living your true life very soon. 05/06/2019 15:44:47	Inbound	Hi Sweetheart. I'm not going to talk about anything from your past. We live in our past in our heads already and just want to give you a positive place to be who you've never had the opportunity to be. I'm a Mother of 4. Though only have 2 left at home as the others are grown enough to be e who they want to be. don't have a relationship with my oldest daughter because she was buried in the lies her Father told her. I'm a firm believer that a child should have a parent that loves them regardless of the past and things others have done to them. have a tight connection with my second daughter whom was not my my ex husband and we are like best friends. She's the reason I didn't give up on being a Mom at a young age. She's 17 and brilliant. I've never stopped her or my other children from being who they felt they are. I'm brokenhearted over the fact that while it was not a positive experience that you had entirely, that you lost the one that you considered your best friend because she couldn't love herself properly. don't blame nor hold something against those who honestly had no idea what they were doing. You're still young in your mind. Trapped in a place emotionally where you weren't sure how to grow up without hurting anyone around you even if you were neglected the right to grow up yourself in an environment that helped you FLOURISH. No matter the length of time you spend there, I'm glad you're able to have the time to learn about yourself and you are free from obstacles that kept you from learning your own heart and soul. I married young on false promises and to a very scary person who kept me prisoner for a long time as well. didn't know any better because was raised to be a person that everyone else wanted me to be. I'm 38. Though still feel 17 because was hurt at a young age and no one listened when I tried to tell them. Now I've been married for 5 years to my only true best friend though am not supported because I'm not what they wanted me to be. was caught up in fears and agony from my childhood that had no way how to get out of enjoy writing poetry which has helped me through my traumatic experience as a young girl. I don't trust people because of my past very easily though I've been close to many who have been hurt as children as well. don't talk to a whole lot of people because they don't understand what being abused is like on the same level. I've learned from my experience and raise my kids to Love everyone and prove that there's those of us out there who do	page 633

Lately I've seen more and more news reports of mothers doing the same things you had to endure to their children. feel pain for all you went through and for the children going through it still. Your story has opened up a lot of doctors eyes to Munchausen by proxy and has helped so many children who suffered and are still suffering from their loved one putting them through hell. My childhood wasn't anything but horrible on a different aspect but get into that lol. guess all really want to say is Stay strong, stay positive and when released live your life to the fullest! I'm sorry you had to go through your life the way you had. Everything that happens in our life is for a reason. We may not understand that at the time. know this because as said my life has been nothing spectacular but change it for anything because had I not gone through what have be the person am today. I'm stronger than most. As you will be too. And don't let your past define who you are and who you will become. know got a large group of supporters as well as the opposite so bare in mind not alone! I'll end my letter here. Have a wonderful day filled with love and peace!	page 020

Hell, I'm pretty sure you get dozens of messages similar to mine... and I'm sure it's hard to keep up with them all... I've been following your case since your arrest in 2015... I'm only a few years younger than you. just know you have so much judgement, and hatred thrown your way. No one knows your truth, and no one has walked in your shoes. I have signed the petition for your early release. would to see you get the help you need and deserve. So that you can make it in the real world upon your release. really hope to hear from you soon, hopefully something a little more than the copy and paste you send most. know you receive a high volume of emails and it gets overwhelming. 05/08/2019 00:35:20	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! My name i was very interested in you as a person aside from everything else. don't want to be that cliché pen pal lol. I live in Texas and we were born the same year. I'm not social too much, however, when it comes to events such as concerts that like, conventions, and movies, get so excited for them. deal with anxiety really bad but love communicating with people that have similar interests. play a lot of video games, enjoy arts & crafts, and have a passion for cooking as well. lam a very understanding and empathetic person. have an open mind and heart and hope that you give me a chance at a friendship of some sort. Take care girlie! :) Sincerely, heard from you about the magazines, should send them via regular mail. What kinds of magazines do you like ? Any books you would like ?	page 613
05/08/2019 11:28:31	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! Thank you so much for your reply! I'm so happy to see that you're doing well in there and all the positive remarks!!! understand completely as far as prison being easier in a sense. think had mentioned it in my last email but I'm not sure, but my mother was an addict growing up and when was about 16 years old, ran away from home. She called the police on me, told them hit her, and lied about so many other things. (My mother never really let me have any friends or go out and do anything like a normal teenager, because we were always on the road looking for another doctor she could potentially get medication from.) But when got locked up initially from all the lies she told them, found that being in juvenile detention was WAY more freedom than ever had. made some friends that still speak to to this day! We all keep in touch even though we're grown ups now, we were all young and were in there for a lot of different types of things but you are all human in the end and think that helps bring people together. also spent most of my adolescence in behavioral health centers due to depression & other common mental health disorders but my mom was convinced inpatient care was what needed. And honestly, can't even tell you that it changed me but guess it helped a little. And don't want to come off as if I'm over sharing or anything, what I'm telling you is something I'm an open book about in my everyday life now, and think it makes you a stronger person to talk about! But do hope my words can be words of encouragement as well to some people. So what are some special privileges you get? Like tv, music, and special activities? Whatever it is know it must be nice! We had a level system at my juvenile place and by the time left, was even allowed to shave my legs LOL Anyways, hope to hear back again soon! I'm not an impatient person luckily, but it made me so happy to see got a reply from you the first time! Va na	page 618

05/09/2019 12:28:17	Inbound	Hey, how is it going? know this is probably weird because you dont know me, maybe not though..? figured you probably get emails and letters from random strangers alot. You don't seem like a stranger to me, though. feel like i know you after everything seen on tv and media. I'm a pretty cool person, though. I'm 23 yrs old, 5'9", 180 lbs, inkd out, blond hair, blue eyes. live in a really nice house, drive a Suburban and Buick Century(but i go through 10-20 old beater cars, trucks, SUVs a year because have a problem), have a damn good job, and I'm getting really good at this parenting thing. Right now im bored as hell, at work, waiting for a truckload of sheet metal to get here so i can cut it up and build 14 outdoor fire pits. I'm a badass welder, also a good mechanic but I'm not crazy about it anymore. Also, idk if you know what a plasma cutter is, but its pretty much the coolest thing ever made, whoever designed it is a fkn genius. All i do is make designs on a computer and lay a piece of sheet metal down and it will cut the design out perfectly, like, it never messes up, either. i made someone a custom firepit last week that looked like a mini Jeep Wrangler.. After cutting the shapes out, welded it all together, then sanded it down, primed it, then painted it to look as professional as it can possibly look. sold it for quite a bit of money, as well. cant wait to get done with these basic firepits, though, because 2 people put in an order for one shaped as trucks. One guy wants one done like a 84 square body chevy, the other one wants one that looks like his 1st truck, which is a 97 GMC Sierra. cant wait to see them when theyre finished... Anyways, a big reason i decided to send you this is because, me and my boss were just talking about the last episode of The Act, don't mean to bring up bad memories or get you in your feelings, I'm terribly sorry if do. It almost seems like, if the location on the guys laptop would've been off, you might have been able to get it off for a long time, though, for real though, everyone knew you as a sick girl in a wheelchair, being able to walk and having hair would've made it much harder to recognize you. You pretty much had a whole new identity. On top of all that, where you went was enough to throw them all the way off. FEDs are no joke, though, they do their homework... My boss jokingly said he was going to write you a letter to give you a pen pal. got to telling him about this app and how simple it was to write inmates nowadays. My boss is old school. have a badass touch screen phone with a stylus pen and everything is up to date. He has an old flip phone that he has to wear head phones to talk on because its old and the speaker you talk into is fkd up, didnt think they even made flip phones anymore. He dont believe how easy it is to email you and he thinks I'm making sht up when i told him inmates get tablets nowadays. Lol. Honestly, you dont have to reply. don't expect you to, to be honest. had 2 stamps left on here. email my family that's in prison sometimes, but though to myself, "I'm about to say fck it and send Gypsy a message." I've thought about it a few other times, while emailing my cousin. didn't wanna come off as a creep or weird mfr, though... mean, if you decide to write back, it would be the coolest thing ever. I'm not creepy for real, its just really easy and cheap to get a message to you, sooo, why not? just finished up The Act last wednesday, also watched the documentary about you, and the Dr. Phill interview. If i got an email on JPAY from you, my life would be complete. Literally, having a conversation with you is definitely on my bucket list, even if it's through JPAY. usually dont watch documentaries or shows like that, this one though, had me hooked. One of the main reasons got soo hooked to it is because it happend in Missouri. remember reading about it on facebook too, like 4 yrs ago, so when saw the trailer for it, had to watch it. Soon as i got off work, every Wednesday night, for the passed, however many, weeks, wouldn't even shower until after watched the new episode on Hulu. I'm not even sure what to think about it for real. feel bad that you had to go through such bs in your life, also, I'm sorry that it ended the way it did, i think it's bs that u gotta do so long, though. couldn't imagine having to experience all of that. Ik prison has to suckkkk, but i saw that you said you feel more free in there, idk why, but felt those words. Lol. I've never personally been to prison, I'm currently on	page 592

We pray for you daily and are helping to do everything we can to get you home. In the mean time please find a NIV bible and read daily. Start in Matthew. know it sounds crazy. But when was incarcerated picked up a bible because there was nothing else to read. God started changing my life. read it daily. Go by what the date is also and read that chapter of psalms and proverbs. You'll see God work miracles in your life. Pray to him. Talk to him. And read and fully trust him. wasn't suppose to get out of lock up. But God had mercy on me. He can do the same for you. We all love you Gypsy and are asking God for a miracle for you. Never give up! 05/10/2019 13:14:11	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, How are you doing today? hope that you are doing the best as to be expected despite the circumstances. know you get a lot of e-mails every day so it makes it hard to keep up, sure, as you have so much support out there for you and your family. Some e-mails of course have been shared around so am going to try to write my first one based off from what have seen, that way it doesn't seem like the same questions repetitively. see you are super close to getting your GED! That is something to be VERY proud of! You will have it before you know it. Are you going to be doing any form of educational program after that, or do they offer one? have a friend who, despite the prison not offering one, was able to get into a college program. However, he had to pay out of pocket and the books came to his facility for him. Taking pictures am sure is a lot of fun, and is something you can do even upon release if you enjoy it like that. It is beautiful that you have found love despite your situation. Love can be found in situations people don't find common, met my fiancé, who has passed away, while he was away YEARS ago! In my opinion, it gives a whole different dynamic to the relationship because you can build a foundation off from correspondence rather than superficial things. I am also glad to hear that you are building with your family and working on improving your self by working on mental health from everything you endured. A healthy mind and body go hand in hand, which you are trying to obtain both. This will help you a lot upon release, as it is definitely an adjustment. You have a strong support system and are thriving in there, so am sure you will thrive on the outside too. My fiancé use to like when would send him positive uplifting words or scriptures. am not sure if that would interest you, but am a firm believer in the more positive things you feed your mind and soul with the better it is for you as what you surround yourself with helps you become who you are. Anyways, am rambling. Hope to hear from you. Have a blessed day. hope that this reaches you well, know that you are bombarded with messages and going through a lot right now with everything going on wit! as well as your upcoming marriage. know that you will probably ignore this and know that you don't need any more stress but want you to be lying to you about He didn't talk bad about you on the oxygen special, he never has, he actually wishes you nothing but love and happiness wit! He doesn't want to bother you or hinder you. He doesn't want to see anyone talk badly about you, honestly. He just wants to focus on his appeal and for you to be as happy as you can be in this life. believ tries to manipulate you to paint the picture she wants society to see you as, poor innocent Gypsy who cannot think for herself, has mental health problems, and needs the world to see her in a certain light and believe your letters t are proving that. She has shed a very bad light on you and your family whether she realizes it or not, which I think she does. Please, do not misconstrue what am saying, as am not saying that you have not been victimised in your life time nor am saying that you have not had a hard life. believe that you went through a lot of things and it is frustrating to hear and see that you are STILL going through them at the hands of However do not think it is right that she is being so horrible about and lying on him so much. If she wants to advocate for MPB by sharing your story, don't think she needs to belittle in the process or lie to you nor should she speak on your personal relationships or on your behalf without your consent. am not trying to stir any trouble, and you can feel however you want to but it's really sad that to bring light to your situation and raise awareness they have to degrade him and lie to you about him to further their agenda. wish for your nothing but the best in life and upcoming marriage. Thank you for your time, you for voicing that myself don't anymore he and parted on good terms and wish him no ill will. other ppl just cant let shit go. hope this drama ends soon.	page 005

05/10/2019 18:20:15	Inbound	Hey How are you? I'm a fan watched the act several times on tv. You seam like an incredible person! heard that you're going to get out in a few years. just wanted to say hi and tell you that you are cared for. Sorry for what you have been through! heard you got married I'm so happy for you! Hope you are good! Me and my fiancé found "The act" on Hulu. Well it was recommended by my grandma so we watched the first 20 minutes of it and then we just had to keep watching. At first the relationship between your mom and you was a relationship anyone would want but then getting into the show we believe how she did all that to you. Since we watched all the Hulu series we have been following your story. We watched " dead and dearest" on Hulu and " Gypsies revenge" Me since am a very curious person have some questions if you can answer them.. did your teeth really get pulled every single one or did Hulu make that part up? Did you have any contact at the time with your father for example like on ur fake account? Did you think your dad would take ur moms side ? why didn't you just run away one night When you found out you was 18 or old enough to be on your own? your neighbor friend talk to you still ? The one you wanted to be like. not being mean if am I'm sorry. Do you regret anything that happen or do you see good in it all now and that ur at peace ? when you have kids what do you want to name them? + do you still talk ? Are you guys friends ? kind of wedding do you want? really hope you can answer all my questions. All these have been running through my head and would love to have some of my crazy answers answered by the only Gypsy instead reading what the media says. know you get a lot of mail probably but hope get a reply back from you ! Thanks This is Gypsy Blanchard, am writing to all who has sent me emails of encouragement and support to please know that DO very much appreciate the kindness of your time to write me. don't always have the time to respond as have a full schedule with work and school as well as other beneficial classes that require a lot of my full attention. However do want to convey the outreach of supportive mail has made my day. :) Unfortunately, my Jpay account on my personal tablet is now having technical issues due to the overload of emails received on a daily as well as a massive amount of contacts in my contact list. am respectfully asking all of the people who has sent me emails and have only received one or two response emails, to please delete me from your Jpay account or remove yourself as am just trying to solve the technical issues that am having with my account, please do not take offense to this request. Again do thank you for being with me on this journey to freedom as well as all who wrote letters to the governor on my behalf, and all who has continued to show their support, can not put into words how much it means to me. sending hugs to ya'll	page 058

I'd love to stay in touch. You stay strong, keep working on finding your peace, and ignore the hateful bullshit. Much love & keep your head up!	page 126

05/10/2019 16:56:43	Inbound	Hey gypsy. know you don't know me. Nor you personally. I've read a lot and watched a lot about your case. I'm in a few Facebook groups as well and kinda watch from the sidelines what people say... lots of which personally don't agree with tbh - there's been a few instances where I've made that clear. I'm not 100% sure what exactly want to say in this email, so I'm kinda just going to wing it from here. My name i agirl. had some stamps left in this JPay app that I'm using now to email you because used to talk to one of my friends pretty frequently because he was incarcerated for 5 years... but he recently was released so don't need to use them for him anymore... he was incarcerated over something pretty stupid tbh. Oh I'm not sure if you know what all sorta online slang is so guess I'll define things as go along writing this... tbh means "to be honest"... my friend Stephen used to ask me sometimes what things meant when typed so got used to defining them. I'll do the just in case. Honestly sometimes have to look things up myself as new anagrams come up so there's that. Anyway uhmm more about myself I'm 40 years old, so a bit older than you. But I have a lot of younger friends. used to live in Scotland but moved to America and lived in Pittsburgh for awhile in 2005. Now I live in northern Virginia just outside Washington DC. It's like... a 20 minute drive from my house to the White House. Currently am disabled bc ended up with a pretty miserable autoimmune disease that has torn my body apart. Which sucks. But deal with it. have 2 college degrees. The first one have got in Scotland which was a HND (higher national diploma) which is kinda like a bachelors in professional photography and imaging - the second one got here and is in social work. have an associates with that. Before got sick worked with at risk youth in a group home environment. did that work for a while bc when I was young was in foster care because had an incredibly abusive mother. It's not the same type of abuse you suffered from but it was pretty bad. When was 13/14 years old ran away and kinda demanded to be put into foster care bc it was just that bad. So In a way feel like can understand your position with an abusive parent. I'll be honest even knowing what I have read or seen in that documentary about your case- can kinda relate to how you probably felt very trapped. I'm not saying think murder is a good thing but I can understand why in your case it may have felt that it was the only way you could escape that situation. personally think, in regard to you, that you are doing right now, and paying for your crime. do sorta think that maybe the extenuating circumstances you suffered should have perhaps left you with a lesser sentence, and also think you did the right thing working with the prosecution because I'm sure in comparison to what you might have had to do sentence wise had you not worked with the prosecution... facing a life sentence would have been really unfair to you. suppose at this point it is what it is, and you are paying your dues so to speak. Obviously I'm aware and aware that there's a ton of publicity about you, your life now, and your case. imagine it's difficult to only have limited access to information that's said about you, your family, and the people who you care for. And it must be frustrating to hear sometimes that negative things have been said. was recently commenting on a post, that was a response to an email you supposedly sent to a woman who runs a group and she posted your email and the reactions to it felt we're harsh. People were trying to make out like.. you were out of line for calling her out. wrote a pretty long response about it, and my stance was pretty much this- you're paying your debt to society. doing things to better yourself while you are in jail (like getting your ged and stuff like that) and that although you did take part in a crime, feel a lot has been... disregarded in regard to the crime that was committed toward you by your own mother. And that felt it was completely unfair and out of bounds for people to invade your fiancé's privacy and post background checks about him online, and to criticize him the way they were doing it. None of that information should have just been thrown out there. And he had made a post in an attempt to be transparent about your relationship - which he was in no way obliged to do in the first place but he did... And that at the end of the day- you	page 135

You're too good for them. In this group of people none are my friends in any way shape or form. You're missing the whole was brought into the public eye because he's engaged to you, a murderess. in the public eye because of the Act and because you're Step Mother is constantly attention seeking. My group has done NOTHING wrong. I'm not sure where getting your information but there are dozens of groups and they all do the same thing. You're never going to stop people from talking. Iam currently dealing with a lot of mental heath stuff that stemmed from childhood trauma, needed support and no one was there for me, had to get through it alone so If you need a good friend to get you through this time in your life, I'm here for you. have so many questions for you and now that I'm writing to you it's an overwhelming feeling lol Firstly, I'd like to know what you're doing to help with your mental state? Are you seeing a counselor to help you get through your traumas? I know surely you must have a lot of trust issues and I'm so sorry that you had to go through this experience alone. On a lighter note, is the prison food as bad as they say? What are some of the things you'd like to do once you are out of prison? Will you go to school? Will you work? Will you start trying to build a career as a motivational speaker or maybe be an advocate for kids that are in your situation? have so many other questions for you but there's so much going through my head and don't want to overwhelm you.. Anyway, I'm so excited to hear from you. sent stamp to you so we can speak. Thank you for staying your true authentic self. God bless you Gypsy. Sincerely,	page 628

I'm sure you have a lot going on right now and you are very busy. wonder if I'm allowed to send you pictures? I'd love to send you a picture of me and my daughter Gypsy. braided her hair last weekend and took some photos. have 3 other children too. My oldest's name i my other daughter's name i and my youngest's name It's Japanese for "Heaven and Earth" had my when was only 18 so was a young mom. Do you know how you got the name Gypsy? My mother saw the movie "Gypsy" about Gypsy Rose Lee when she was pregnant with me (the one with Natalie Wood) and the real Gypsy Rose Lee died a few months before was born so she made up her mind she was going to name me Gypsy. was born in 1970 and back then people were naming their kids things like "Rainbow" and "Sunshine" and "Moon Unit" and all kinds of hippie names but her family still tried to talk her out of naming me Gypsy. I'm glad she didn't let them talk her out of it. Were you named after the her or the movie too? Or maybe it was after the song "Say, has anybody seen my Sweet Gypsy Rose?" I'm just curious. I've always loved my name (which is why named my daughter after me) and was only teased about it for a short time in the 5th grade. Kids can be so mean. It didn't last long though. I've never met anyone with the name Gypsy in my life. heard there was airline attendant (stewardess?) named Gypsy and there was a girl that was in my sister's middle school yearbook named Gypsy, but never met her. Have you ever met anyone named Gypsy before? We have such a unique name! know you really like Disney movies. Do you like anime too? Have you ever seen any? If so, what are your favorites? I really like anime and started watching it in the early 90's It made me very interested in learning Japanese so I've studied Japanese and taught all my kids. They all took it in school to and my youngest will be in Middle School this Fall so he'll be learning more soon too. like to draw and paint too. I'm not very good but enjoy it. mostly draw and paint on clothes, t-shirts and jeans. If I'm allowed to send you pictures, let me know and the rules about it and I'll send you a couple pics. What kind of things do you like to do? I saw today that your dad's petition now has over 160,000 signatures! I'm really hoping for the best for you. There's rumors going around on social media that you're engaged to a guy named have no idea who he is or anything but hope that it works out for you two. was just very curious, what parts of The Act is actually true and what parts are false? I'm sure you seen the show but surely your family has. As soon as seen previews for it was hooked. It's very interesting. I'm sorry for how your mom done you. It wasn't fair and you never really got to live your life. Maybe when you get out people won't bother you and your fiancé so much and you both can have a family. also wanna say that I'm a big Disney fan also!! Lol Anyways, know you have a lot of people emailing and writing you but if you could email me back when you get the chance it would be great. hello cy: I am twenty one and a law student from Kentucky. have been following your case since day one. I'm a huge victims advocate and love to try and help others as much as possible. Something told me that needed to reach out to you and give you some kind words. I've read other people's messages to/from you on Facebook and thought maybe you would love to hear from someone new who isn't being harsh. have watched "The Act" on Hulu and I've also watched several, if not all, documentaries about you and your story as well. just don't feel like the act serves you enough justice, you know? feel like it leaves a lot of parts that are important out of it. know told someone else that you watched it but you've heard from family that it's accurate. know you've mentioned before that you don't enjoy the fame coming from all of this, and hate that they leave you alone. I'm worried about when you'll be coming out of prison that they'll continue to bother you even more. Have you discussed maybe living together after you get out? He seems sweet to you and kind as a person in general, hope he is truly. Maybe in the future if you need a pen pal even out of prison could continue to write you? :-) Best,	page 638

This is Gypsy Blanchard, am writing to all who has sent me emails of encouragement and support to please know that I DO very much appreciate the kindness of your time to write me. don't always have the time to respond as have a full schedule with work and school as well as other beneficial classes that require a lot of my full attention. Back to the grind for savings to move to KC for our big upcoming year! You make me so happy, Love you more than yesterday, but not as much as tomorrow sweets, Im finally home and laying in bed after 21 straight days of work. Im sorry lve drug you through this, missing so much us time, but it was all about saving up for our upcoming trip. Quite honestly, couldn't focus today. All could think about was you, and what you're going through today. could tell you were extremely shaken up from my letter, and Im so sorry this hit you out of nowhere today. have no idea what it said, and after thinking about it, don't want to. It would probably only infuriate me that he's trying to re-involve you in his life, and know that would be nothing but toxic for you, and take you 10 steps back from how far you've come. don't really want to get into all of it in this email so ill save it for conversation when we talk on the phone tomorrow. Just know promised you id be here with you no matter what hits us or comes our way. And mean that. love you with all of my heart, and nothing could change that. Honestly nothing. Not all the facebook haters in the world could take that away from me ;) Im just missing you, and know what you mean about just needing to be closer to you. These are the kind of days want to be able to just drop all that Im doing, and come sit with my fiancé and hold her hands and get her through moments like these. Just know that that IS our future. promise. Well babe I can hardly keep my eyes open, but Ill talk to you in the morning. 05/13/2019 11:55:49	Inbound	Gypsy, What you just said COMPLETELY contradicts everything that your Step Mother are doing. They posted your contact information for the world to see and pimped it out to every group online. Encouraging people to write to you. You've even asked people who have written to you to write to the Governor on your behalf The Act was an awesome and extremely popular show. There is also now Dr Phil's podcast about your and are in In Touch magazine EVERY WEEK even had her appearances listed on her Twitter as if they were acting credentials. Whether you like it or not, your case and your story are EVERY WHERE. looked last night and there are over 100 FB groups pertaining to your case/story. have NEVER had ill intentions toward you I'm the admin of a FB group. just post things that members send me that pertain to the story. Like it or not, name, he became part of the story and people are nosy. going to dissect every part of his life. Same wit was nothing but nice to in my group. was nice to his Mother and she even told me she liked me. Then Raina has her roommate plaster my mugshot all over FB to discredit me but it backfired. We received over 1000 new members over the weekend. Now people are more determined than ever, myself included, to uncover any every secret that is out there. Too many things don't add up. So if what you're saying is true about not wanting media attention, your best bet is to start sweeping out your own house. This media frenzy started long before made my group. truly feel bad for everything you had to endure but I'll tell you this just like I've said in my group. If you had killed your Mother yourself, I'd have no issue, but you didn't. You drug another person into it whose life was ruined because he met you. There are so many things that you should be more concerned with than FB. say and post what other people won't so I'm going to ask you some things and if you want the truth out there instead of people making assumptions, the best way to clear it up is to answer them. Otherwise, it looks like you're hiding something. Do you really think that it's a good idea to be involved and engaged to someone who wrote to you after seeing a documentary about your Mother's murder? Also, he told us he'd like to be more than your friend. How do you feel about him? Are you really engaged t Whose ring are you wearing? Why are there no pictures of you and but one of you and Who is the man that you wanted to meet to have sex after your Mom's Murder? Who is the man says in his interview has control over you? So you see, have no ill will towards you his Mom, that's another story. Since they decided to post my mugshot and other personal stuff about me all over the internet just because run a FB group and share info. Now it's personal to me. Information about my Niece's and my murdered 8 year old Nephew should have never been shared. Those children have been through enough. Share about me all they want, but my kids, that's a coward move.	page 509

05/13/2019 17:29:30	Inbound	Hi gypsy! was so happy to receive your email back about how great you're doing and your opinions on the things that are happening surrounding your case. I'm sorry that Hulu took what happened and ran with it without permission, and that they are profiting off of your story and not you. That's unfair and cruel, and I'm so sorry. can't imagine what a headache it must be to have to deal with all of that. thought would take the time to tell you a little bit more about myself! a 22 year old woman living in Texas. I'm originally from Connecticut but my husband is in the military. gearing up to move to Germany next year which we are really excited about! You had mentioned that you want to travel, and love traveling and going on new adventures all of the time. What are some of the places you dream of going? I'd love to see Italy and Poland someday. They sound so beautiful. I'm in a program and about to become a vet assistant because my love for animals extends so far. have two dogs of my own right now, both seven and spoiled rotten. take in dogs who need homes and foster them until adopted. When you get out, what kind of animals would you like to have? want a sugar glider but my husband says no, lol! Maybe a fish for now would be nice. struggle a lot in Texas by myself and don't have many friends out here. It's hard to make new friends, but I'm hoping we can have a friendship. :) I'm so happy to hear that you're engaged?! Oh my god!!! Congratulations! It's amazing when you find that person who just makes every day worth it, and hope that your fiancé is that person to you. What kind of books are you reading? And you said getting into photography! What are your favorite kind of pictures to take? Portraits, nature? can only imagine how nice it is to have found a few passions while you're in prison, it must be amazing. hope you're having a great month, and I hope to hear back from you soon!	page 549

It is quite bizarre to be able to contact someone such as yourself, but I'm glad have the opportunity to do so. am not too sure on what to say, because like said, this is quite insane to be emailing you right now... but— How is everything? Is acclimating to living in prison well? How do others treat you? know you probably get so many emails or mail about what happened and how you feel about it all, but don't think that's what should be focused on. want to know how you are NOW. and how you plan to move on in life after being incarcerated. believe you mentioned getting your GED, What do you plan to do with the degree? (Proud if you for that by the way). really do hope everything is well, and I'm not too sure if you can contact me back. But hope to hear from you soon. If you can't, just know someone's on your side :)	page 606

My mother was abusive to me too. It took me a long time to get over it and still struggle with some things. In your documentary you asked the interviewers how could the one person you love so much hurt you? ask the same question myself We must learn to forgive them. We can't blame ourselves even though at times it's easier said than done. want you to know you're very brave Gypsy. It took a lot of courage to do what you did. My heart goes out to you. hope in time you'll write me back and we can share our life stories with one another. We can be good friends and can be a big sister or just a good friend. know it's so hard to trust people but want to tell you this. Don't let anyone get to you. There's going to be people who put you down, those you love down and such. Don't mind them they're just angry. They wouldn't understand you or what you went through. support you Gypsy and do hope that you're happy and enjoying your peace of mind. Waiting on your response and hope you enjoy your day. also noticed your Birthday is in July. Mine is too. It's the 31st of July. I'll talk with you soon and eagerly wait for your reply. If myself or someone knew was held captive against their will and endured both physical and mental abuse, that captive could and should escape by any means necessary? As humans, we have a right to self defense and self preservation. In our personal opinion you, Gypsy Rose are NOT a killer. If we're going to put you in jail for what you did than we also need to jail the doctors that failed you as well as everyone else that failed you! We're terribly sorry for your circumstance and we want you to know that many of us are behind you and support you! Keep your chin up. Luckily you have youth on your side and will have many happy years ahead of you. pray you get the help you need and may God bless you!	page 641

They have toured internationally in Germany, France, Turkey, Turkmenistan, and the United States. I listened to some videos music and really like it. The members look like they're in their twenties. Hoping you're doing well, keeping busy, and learning a lot about the outside world. Can you take classes in there? I've heard of inmates taking law classes to practice after release. That's pretty good experience for anyone so they can defend themselves, argue against oppressors, and know their rights. Have you thought about journaling to take notes, keep records? You may want to write a book of your own experiences someday (instead of someone else doing it). :) Yours Truly in Christ, and seen the show about you and it was so heart breaking to see am so so sorry you had got treated that way by your own mother ever sense saw your show there are so many people out here showing so much support for you just wanted to let you know that!!! hope you are doina aood	page 448

My heart goes out to you for the pain you've had to endure. can't imagine all you went through as a child. 05/14/2019 23:50:25	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! 20 and I live in kentucky. hope it's okay that I'm sending this to you - this past Sunday was My name i Mother's Day and it must have been rough for you. Anyways, Gypsy, the reason I'm writing to you is because I'm sure that there are people out there who are sharking about trying to take and take from you and ask questions, but if it's okay with you, like to talk about me. As i said, am 20, from kentucky, and my name i but it didn't always used to be. It used to be i'm transgender. I'm not sure what personal beliefs you hold and if being transgender is something you don't believe in, then completely and 100% respect that. just believe that at the end of the day, we are all human just trying to give ourselves our best chance at happiness. Today was actually the day i came out to my family! And was expecting things to go so bad, but it actually went really well and was overwhelmed with so much love and support- things went so much smoother than ever could have imagined. Of course there will always be a Negative Nancy among the crowd, but that's to be expected. I go to work everyday as a childcare associate, and don't quite enjoy it, because it's very stressful. Something about 80 something kids to 4 adults just doesn't do it for me- it shouldn't be allowed. But do love the kids. And don't even get me STARTED on men... it's like they're Hot n' Cold (katy perry edition) and then they objectify me the second they find out I'm trans. know I'm worthy of so much love and respect because have so much love and respect to offer... but it's like nobody is willing to look beyond the preconceived notions that society has placed for trans people. Anyways, Gypsy, just wanted to write to you and ramble about myself so you could hear about somebody else's problems for a change. There's no need to respond unless you want to or have any questions for me about being transgender, or if you want me to keep rambling on about other problems I've got going on. just want you to know that there's people out here like myself rooting for you, Gypsy. Stay strong. All of my love always, hey love, been trying to get ahold of you like way before that series came out. Like when you had the first documentary come out. know you get lots and lots of emails so i understand if you dont get back to me but you are an inspiration to alot of people and ik its rough and noone can completely understand what you went through or even what your going through but know you have tons of supporters and friends girl. wish things could have happened different for you. know we've all been threw stuff we wish we hadn't but we grow and move on and just become better people. well been in a cell with nothing but time on my hands so figured I'd reach out to keep your time occupied. congrats on finding aman beautiful hope he treat you right! anyways I'll get this out now I'm just rambling now. stay positive you'll be out in nn tima and athala lifa ahaad af	page 622

The most recent was about your engagement and information dug up. just wanted to say, you were awesome. It's great seeing a feisty Gypsy. My opinion is not shared by them. It seems that these groups that say that they are supportive are so hypocritical. They are social media warriors, hiding behind a keyboard. Seems that they are so bored with their own lives that they have to focus on yours. Again, keep your chin up and know that we are all not like them. =z	page 635

05/16/2019 11:56:42	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! My name i Been following your story for as long as it was made public. And I've prayed for you. Prayed that you would find peace with all that's happened and move forward with a normal life. don't know how much support you are getting in hindsight of all of these happenings. I'm sure you get a thousand letters now that the movie "The Act" came out and they sound more like fan mail. I've been thru very similar things with my own mother, only difference was medically neglected instead of medically abused. It's rough, and confusing but in light of it all God has brought us here for a reason. If you need someone to actually talk to, you can email me. hope my short letter reaches you in good spirits, know it gets so lonely in there. I'll continue to pray for you. That the Lord gives you peace. God Bless, Hi! My know you must get countless emails (I hope more good than bad), but just wanted to drop by and see how you were doing, even though you don't know me. can't imagine what it must be like for hundreds of strangers to contact you, it must be so weird. But either way, hope all is well. guess while I'm here I can tell you about myself I'm 19, and I love singing and listening to music. want to be a singer someday but that's pretty far fetched. I just don't want a normal job like everyone else guess. What kind of music are you into? don't really make enough time for myself to put my own music out there, but maybe someday can. Anyways, don't want to bore you with my dreams haha. I'm not exactly expected you to respond, because you probably get a ton of these and there's no way you can respond to all of them. But that's quite alright (: hope life treats you the best it can, and I wish you nothing but happiness going forth. Have a lovely day!	page 639
05/16/2019 06:08:57	Inbound	Hey there. This is my first time ever doing anything like this. watched The Act, like probably 99% of your thousands of messages you've received recently. was thoroughly intrigued. read as much as could find. Tonight watched your testimony given trial. was honestly riveted. have to admit, think you're an amazing person. wouldn't say agree with what you've done, but understand it. My heart actually aches for what you've been through. know I'm fairly limited on what you you're really like, but I'd like to give you a few words of wisdom as well as ask you some questions. saw that you're involved with someone. That honestly kinda scares me. don't know that understand how someone could become involved with you under all the existing circumstances without seeking their own fame in some way. hope I'm wrong on that. You've just already been hurt so much that I'd hate to see someone take advantage of your situation. You truly do deserve the very best. Looking to the future, hope you're looking at moving to a fairly large city where you can just live in anonymity. live near Seattle and know you could live up here without getting much notice. For the most part, most large cities will give that to you. You need and deserve the opportunity to live as close to a "normal" life as possible. Next have some questions relating to the rest of your life. Do you still plan on having kids? If so, do you honestly think you can raise them properly? don't mean this in any negative way. Simply put, you weren't given a good example to follow. think the love and cheerfulness I've seen in your interviews and different videos deserves to be handed to future generations. really hope you do have children. just also hope that you're able to raise them without much impact from the negatives of your life, if that makes sense. You seem to be a beautiful and wonderful person from the inside out. wish you only the absolute best. I'd be honored to have the chance to remain in contact with you. I'll gladly pass along any nuggets of wisdom might have. Plus if you want to share anything to a non-judgemental anonymous soul, can just be that wall for you to share to. I'm going to also send you a little pocket change, even though you are likely still receiving a healthy amount currently. I'd be more concerned with how well off you are once the buzz from The Act has worn off	page 642

But I do apologize if came off as negative. totally didn't mean to offend you in any way if did. was just excited that had gotten a reply back. wish you the best in your life and i hope you have a true happily ever after. know what it's like to be abused and what not. My mom had this boyfriend a long time ago who used to hurt me and my siblings, she left him a few years ago. was also with this guy who used to hit me, verbally and mentally abuse me. It was awful. But got out of that and I'm doing much better. I'm going through therapy. If you ever need someone to talk to I'm here. always help out my friends and stuff with advice and all that. Just wanted you to know that if you ever feel like no one cares, that there's always someone that cares. know depression and anxiety. It sucks. I'm sorry for your losses, and wish you all the luck. 05/17/2019 18:46:28	Inbound	Gypsy, I'm sure you get a lot of these, and I'm sure they all start out with this same opening. I'm hoping this gets to you and I'm hoping you read it, and more importantly, I'm hoping you respond. I'm a 32 year old male from New Mexico and my name I've followed your story since your first Dr. Phil appearance and couldn't believe what was hearing. The story was intense, heart breaking, and absolutely gut wrenching. hurt for you and felt every bit of the heartache I'm sure your family felt learning of your freedom being stripped away, when all you wanted was freedom from your mother. recently watched The Act, and although I'm sure it was highly dramatized, it still left me with that painful feeling in my gut that you didn't deserve the ending you got. do not want this e-mail to be about your past, because I'm sure a lot of people want to know the inner details of your life, and do not. only want to talk to you about the future, your life now, and how you are doing today. Would you be interested in writing me back? I'd love to hear back from you, and I'd love to keep a dialogue with you ongoing. Again, in no way want to dig into your past. am only fascinated in the type of character you have and to know more about the girl behind the B.S. shown on television. Here's to hoping get a response! Hey Gypsy! hope you are doing well. tried to message you a few months back but never heard back from you. saw a post on Facebook saying that you able to get visitors so figured would write and try again. know you must be overwhelmed with all the messages that you receive. It's crazy to me how people are drawn to your story, including myself Please tell me how you are doing. What do you do in there everyday? an estimate of messages you get daily? Well, hope to hear from you soon. Have a great day!	page 642

05/17/2019 20:49:49	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, have followed your story alot over the last 6 months or so, and cant help but wonder who you really are as a person, and not just who you are as far as the crime you were involved in. My name is and I'm a 35 year old married mother of 5 sons! It's a pretty busy life I'll tell you what. Lol. have loved hearing recently of your new love or new to my ears anyways! I'm a stay at home mom, and thought how cool it would be to have almost a pen pal. Lol. hope one day you will write a book or movie based on your life, I'd love to know the real story and not the dramatized ones they are making. As odd as it seems to say, I'm very happy for you and the life you are getting to live now, but more so the life you will have in just a few more years, hopefully sooner if all of us Gypsy warriors can help it! I'd love to hear back and just chat about whatever! Hope all is well for you love, and hope today is a great day! Love,	page 642

I live in the state of South Carolina, but i'm originally from Florida. sent you a letter about 2 or 3 weeks ago. I'm not sure if you saw it as I'm sure you get a lot of letters and emails nowadays. just wanted to say for one can't believe may actually hear back from you and that I'm terribly sorry about your situation. know that's such a cliché thing to say, but can't believe I'm actually having the opportunity to send you a more personal note. I've seen the show on Hulu and I've watched almost everything could on youtube and read news articles to get as much info about you as could learn. I've signed as many petitions as possible to get you released. We're all on your side and in your corner.. really hope to hear back from you Gypsy. I'm hoping we could become pen pals or eventually maybe even friends. hope you're doing alright in there Gypsy... really hope to hear back from you. could surely use a friend at this point in my life and maybe you could use one too. hope all Hey G hat's a very beautiful name by the way. I'm not here to judge what you did and I'm sure you probably get a lot of letters of people judging and also people supporting you. see so many negative comments on social media about you and it makes me upset to see them because they don't know what you had to go through, if they were in your shoes they might have done the same thing or maybe not. You thought at the time that was the only way out. I'm sorry that the system failed you. But enough about that. want to hear more about you and what you like to do in your spare time. What do you do to keep busy? What do you plan on doing when you get out of prison? How did you meet your fiancé: hope these next few years fly by fast so you can be released and start enjoying the outside world. 05/18/2019 22:26:23 04/03/2019 19:54:56	Inbound Outbound	Hi gypsy. My name i lam so interested in your story. I've been following all the news and media about you for quite some time. I've watched the dr Phil podcast with you and I've watched the Hulu show "the act" based on you and your story even follow the Facebook groups "free gypsy rose" and a few others they have made about you. am 22 years old and live in Florida. want you to understand too lived thru abuse. But from my ex boyfriend of 2 years. He would beat the crap out of me for no reason at all. If didn't cook or have the house clean by the time he came home was in trouble. If worked late was in trouble. One time he beat me so bad he broke my nose and my face was swelled up like a balloon. You couldn't even tell it was me. But was trapped. Just like you. He let me leave him. If tried to leave him he beat me even more. was so scared he was going to kill me and leave me for dead. One time he put a gun to my head and told me kill me right now if didn't do what he said. Well in February of 2018 found out was pregnant with his child. Even then he still hit me and beat me had sex with 20 or more girls while I'd be at work thru the entire pregnancy. Knowing it could hurt his precious son. Well 9 months went by and the day had my son he beat me that morning and was so upset and having panic attacks and crying so much it put me into labor and gave birth to my sweet son with a black eye and broken eyebrow bone. left without him knowing anything he didn't even know went into labor with his son that same day and left all my stuff behind. My car. My house. Everything. Anything to get away from him to keep my sweet baby safe did it. He is now in prison too. I'm such a beautiful young woman who has also lived thru verbal abuse from my mother, but like yours my mom loves me with all her heart but she did drugs and when she took her pills she wasn't very nice. She's been clean and sober for almost a year now. We have a better relationship now. And she loves her grandson with all her heart. gave birth to my sweet son on 12/4/18. So I've only been free from abuse for a few months now. I'm still trying to cope with everything went thru and how someone can be so mean to a girl so sweet and innocent like myself But found a guy who is so sweet to me and my son. Oh by the way my sons name is will attach a picture of us if can. We all have suffered they something, some worse than others. All my life I've seen death and sickness and struggled with mental illnesses such as depression and anxiety something still struggle with but handle like a strong ass bitch! When I was 3 years old watched my dad put a gun to his mouth and kill him self for reasons he never told anyone before dying. grieve and grieve still to this day because how could he leave me my sister and mom behind. A whole family that loves him dearly. So like you, my dad left me but for real. can never have him back. and the only memory have of him is that awful night with him having a gun to his mouth. see from the media you have a relationship with your dad now and that is just wonderful. would love to hear back from you girl! all rooting for you on the outside. a strong woman. And the whole world will be yours once you get out! Hello :) Thank you for reaching out and for the support. lam doing good, have adapted well and am doing much better. have obtained most of my GED, passing everything except math however am striving to pass that subject as well. 05/18/2019 10:15:08	Inbound	Hello Gypsy, hope your doing well. I'm having a hard time finding the dr.phil episode that you recommended. But did find another one called "gypsy's revenge" wanted to know if you knew about that one and if its accurate. Anyways hope you're doing well. Have a great day @ Support & Care from Virginia Thanks for the encouragement. :) lam doing well in my current circumstance besides for me, prison is more freedom then ever had before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED having passed everything except math, I'm striving to pass that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental health as well as to teach me coping skills to deal with my past trauma. most of my days consist of work and classes, and In my free time like to go to the gym, the library or just sit outside enjoying the beautiful weather. :) on the honor wing which is for inmates who have earned extra privileges though good behavior. lam happily engaged to a wonderful man, his name and he my heart for almost 2 years and has been nothing but the biggest blessing giving me the love, understanding and support that deserve. he has been my strength throughout all of this. he is 26, brown hair and the most gorgeous green eyes you'll ever see. :) My main focus is making good use of my time, taking every opportunity to better myself through programs, classes and therapy so that when am released am able to live and function with ease in society. I do not enjoy the "fame" my case nor my traumatic past has given me, however do hope to become an advocate for children who have experienced abuse by parents with Munchausen By Proxy in the hopes it will encourage others to be proactive in recognizing the warning signs as well as give victims a voice. In recent years have chosen to shy away from the media in order to focus on my own emotional healing as well as the healing process of my family and friends. just want to live a normal life, move forward and focus on the here and now and put my efforts to creating a better future for myself. :) have made life long friends along my journey some have met just like this...lol have friends that have met in here, others have been just sweet people who didnt know me at the time , but took the time to know me and now we are very close true friends. I'm blessed to have loyal friends stand by me through all this. My future plans include, travel, a big wedding and a few children someday. my dreams may sound simple, but they are simply perfect for me. :) lam aware about the Hulu series, "The Act" does get the basic plotline of my story correct, however there are minor details that are wrong, while other details are 100% correct. without knowing which specific details the show has gotten wrong, nor am able to watch the show, am not able to say really if The Act portrayed an accurate scene of a true event of my life. if you want to know the actual FACTS of my life and case please watch HBO documentary, Mommy Dead and Dearest. as well as my interview with Dr Phil. don't want anyone to be misled into believing a Hollywood hyped version of my story. As for my ex boyfriend we have made peace with our past and have decided go go our separate ways. am saddened by how things turned out for him and I do hope he is able to find his own happiness and meaning for his life. I appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence, many has signed the Free Gypsy Blanchard petition created by my father Now, must ask a favor. respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for	page 626

05/20/2019 05:33:32	Inbound	Hi. My name i i live in Las Vegas. recently only just heard about your story when my sister showed me. ached for you and wanted to be able to erase those hard times and such but that's not possible. Enough on that though. I'm sure everyone always wants to talk about what happen and such. However I'm sure what you need more than anything is some friends. And just normal conversation. So.... What do you want to do most with your life? want to be an advocate for those who can not stand up for themselves. want to also be a foster parent. I'm 30 years old and so far unable to have my own children but my sister who is the same age as you are her birthdays in September though. She has 3 beautiful children. Twins a boy and a girl who are 3 and a baby girl who just turned 4 months. What made you like Tangled the story of Rapunzel so much? What is your favorite memories of growing up? Mine would have to be going to a youth camp with my sister and the time and bond we shared there grew much closer. Now that your able to enjoy eating. know previously your favorite believe was mashed potatoes. What's your favorite food now? Your dream meal? really hope to get to know you better and talk to you more. don't have hardly any friends because was raised very very shielded and sheltered and isolated so stuck to myself and my sister mostly. hope your set free do not feel you should spend another minute a captive. Never should of spent a moment in my eyes. You are a beautiful soul and a sweet girl. Much love	page 642

I'm so sorry that your young life has been filled with such difficulty. hope that you take the time to just heal and grow spiritually from this really shitty experience. would imagine you must feel like all of this is a dream. Wow you got Nancy Grace on your side... she hates your a pretty cool person! know there are a lot of haters out there. Ignore them, forgive them and realize their hatred is self based... just directed at you. Girl stay away he's very dark. You didn't cause nor encourage that darkness. It was there before you and will still be after. Just be careful of your life choices. You have been through enough hardship of a million people. Chose the rest of your life to be happier than a two billion other peoples... lol man what's her problem ? your in control of you life... hope you get all the happiness of a billion zillion people. Life is short, fleeting. Your a good person. I can tell. I wish you the best.	page 645

And always remember that you are loved. This is Gypsy Blanchard, am writing to all who has sent me emails of encouragement and support to please know that DO very much appreciate the kindness of your time to write me. don't always have the time to respond as have a full schedule with work and school as well as other beneficial classes that require a lot of my full attention. However do want to convey the outreach of supportive mail has made my day. :) Unfortunately, my Jpay account on my personal tablet is now having technical issues due to the overload of emails received on a daily as well as a massive amount of contacts in my contact list. I am respectfully asking all of the people who has sent me emails and have only received one or two response emails, to please delete me from your Jpay account or remove yourself as am just trying to solve the technical issues that I am having with my account, please do not take offense to this request. Again do thank you for being with me on this journey to freedom as well as all who wrote letters to the governor on my behalf, and all who has continued to show their support, can not put into words how much it means to me. sending hugs to ya'll	page 039

(still want to be Kurt Cobain... well minus Courtney, heroin and Anyway, agree with your family and hope they sue Hulu. If anyone bothers to watch the documentary and learn about the case a bit , they will see what the story really was. do believe Joey King and Patricia Arquette do care about you greatly and did their best in the Hulu series. I'm not a reporter, writer, religious overzealout or kook in any other way and will not share any private correspondence if you choose to contact me back. Gypsy, want you to know something, people are on your side and many, many people want to see you freed. You have done enough time even before you wound up in Chillicothe. It is a miracle you didn't die from being poisoned with meds as a child . Your family is asking us all to write the Governor of Mo. and that is what am going to do. Also they are raising funds for you so you can begin a new life and have all the things you need.(plan on donating to that too). My only motivation is empathy for a good person that was put in an absolutely insane situation. Everyone that should have protected you, failed you and that is the real tragedy. hope you become a public speaker and go around and share your story at colleges . Anyway, sorry bounce around a lot in conversation (it's worse in person people tell me) lol. heard you met someone and are engaged and that is great you have someone special! 05/22/2019 15:43:10	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, Hello! hope you are doing good and well. know we are not at all close and don't know each other, but do hope that can change! Here in Aztec New Mexico it has been crazy. The weather here is so bipolar, it snowed! It's snowed all day yesterday. know crazy right?! There's a saying though for New Mexico, it has bi polar weather lol. It can be sunny and hot one minute then the next it's snowing and freezing lol. It's still nice though, love it. It's been super cloudy also, New Mexico is part of a draught along with Colorado so all this snow and rain has been really helpful. I'm currently trying to get into college to be a nail tech. It's stressful but I'm determined to get back in. Adulting is hard and stressful lol, sometimes feel like cannot make it through this life but I'm pushing because I'm determined to see where end up. Life is a constant battle, always trying to do better, trying to succeed, trying to be someone/something. It's a complicated quest that has tons of options. Anyways girl, hope you've been doing good! Just wanted to check on you and give you some insight on New Mexico lol. Love always,	page 609

I'm so sorry that your young life has been filled with such difficulty. hope that you take the time to just heal and grow spiritually from this really shitty experience. would imagine you must feel like all of this is a dream. Wow you got Nancy Grace on your side... she hates your a pretty cool person! know there are a lot of haters out there. Ignore them, forgive them and realize their hatred is self based... just directed at you. Girl stay away he's very dark. You didn't cause nor encourage that darkness. It was there before you and will still be after. Just be careful of your life choices. You have been through enough hardship of a million people. Chose the rest of your life to be happier than a two billion other peoples... lol man what's her problem ? your in control of you life... hope you get all the happiness of a billion zillion people. Life is short, fleeting. Your a good person. I can tell. I wish you the best.	page 645

05/23/2019 12:54:37	Outbound	babe, just got your email that couldn't have come at a better time :-> you always know how to comfort me. soulies :-> July? miss you too ALOT, but... we have save up for October hun, besides that speeding fine will probably be a lot in itself, so please call the court house and just explain that your from out of state and was just visiting, and can they just fine you and that way you can get it taken care of without appearing in person being required. plus, don't want you to see my ugly hair, I'm going through a metamorphosis of sorts, or an identity crisis lol one of the two lol there really hasn't been much going on as I'm confined to my house except for work and school :-P have realized just how much DO spend on the phone now that can't be on it. IM GOING CRAZY I'll go chop some more of my hair off LOL just kidding. truth is I'm very attached to you, if you didn't already know -> love you	page 153
05/23/2019 06:05:45	Outbound	Dear Hubby, have completely filled out all the paperwork for January. will be turning the paperwork in on July 16th. :-> So recently a few creditable sources, as creditable as another offender can be, has heard on the news that a house bill regarding mandatory minimum percentages for offenders, is being considered for signing by the governor. this was talked about via staff and inmate alike, so please can you check into it? Google (HB-113 Missouri mandatory minimum) as well as look on Missouri.Gov and see if anything has been said about Missouri DOC offenders being released. things to look for is this, how does anything affect 85% violent offenders on a first commit. What we want babe is my percentage to drop from 85% to 66% because if something goes into effect that drops these percentages, babe could be seeing the board as early as next year and coming home as early as the middle of 2022 with the rest being on parole. I'm not trying to get our hopes up, however every possible bill that could pertain to percentages, am going to ask you to research for me. AND on top of that if my 85% drops, DO qualify for good time credit, i would need to be under 80% so THATS when all my classes would take time off my sentence, am currently unqualified due to being over 80%. in summary, as it stands right now I'm fucked and have to do 8 and a half yrs, BUT if my percentage drops, things would change drastically and your wifey would be coming home before you know it. :-> ya sure ya don't wanna make some babies uber soon? lol only after we get our fill of steamy hot passionate sex for the first straight. so ready for you, fuck i want you between my legs right now. After we rock the walls, I'll always be holding your hand everywhere, PDA will be off the charts -> your lips will never be dry and neither will my well that's a story for another time -> I miss you like you wouldn't believe, love you baby. xoxoxox goodnight soulie. LOL just kidding, my heart belongs to you and only you, even if you are wayyyyyy out of my league. -) I didn't need a few inmate drama queens telling me that I'm one hell of a	page 154

05/23/2019 14:58:30	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, Thank you for responding. have and will continue to write Governor Parsons. Congratulations on almost completing you GED. hope you are able to pass the math portion soon! What are your plans for after her get out of prison? know you are excited for a house and family, but do you know what kind of job you would like to have? Are you interested in going to college college? Additionally, where do you plan to live? I'm probably biased, however I think Kansas City is great. It's big enough that there is a lot of things to do, but small enough that traffic isn't too crazy and cost of living isn't too high. I can imagine it's very hard to have a relationship while in prison, also would like to wish you the best of luck wit! however hope it works out for you. What doe: do for work? My boyfriend is a high school teacher, he teaches anatomy. We are actually buying our first house together. It's a beautiful 2 story home less than a mile from the high school he teaches at. cannot wait, currently we live in an apartment. The apartment is fine, however with the house we will have a big yard for our dog, Waffles, to run and play. I'd love to continue you to write each other if you're interested, know you probably get a lot of letters so if not it is ok. I'll spare you the details of my boring life until hear back. hope you are doing well.	page 273

05/23/2019 21:33:24	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! I just thought it was worth a shot to email you. I'm unsure if you get back to people very often, but wanted to give you some encouragement. Your story has became such a large part of my life. have wanted nothing more than justice for you! want you to know, there are so many people out here that are supporting you and cheering you on! such a strong woman, and know you will forever be cherished. hope jail is treating you well, and hope you're doing good in there. My best friend is currently in jail for a small offense, and we write back and forth. He's told me many times that it's not ideal but he can see how being in jail feels like he's more free than when he was not in there. miss him like crazy, and it sucks... but he's also told me his daily routine and let me tell ya, you all are saints. hope and pray get a response from you, and look forward to it. Much love to you girl!	page 645

05/24/2019 07:54:24	Inbound	LOL! WHAT A JOKE! You've GOT to be kidding me sweets. All it sounds like to me is the same usual story with some of those women in there. They are trying to break you down YET AGAIN. Its ALL bullshit babe. Don't even entertain them for a second. Do me a favor, don't let these women sit next to you and try to fill your ears with bullshit, with their tiny attempts to get into your head and make you feel small. You have nothing to be insecure about, you're without a doubt the hottest one in that prison. Why do you think I can't keep my eyes off you the entire visit? Because im biased because love you? Well, remember back to our first visit, before our relationship began, when you first walked out of that door, that was the moment: The moment you got me. When all my armor collapsed at my feet. A spark lit inside me, which went on to grow into an unstoppable raging fire that nobody could extinguish. The same enlivening dark brown haircut you claim to have now, the eyes that crescent on top of your cheeks with that unforgettable smile that brightened up the room and completely took me away from the place was in. Yeah, that is why continue to say that was our best moment. Because after I left (or... got kicked out of) that visiting room, was never quite the same guy again. And two years later Im still completely smitten by you and every picture you send me still sends chills down my arm, butterflies up my chest, and forces a smirk on my face. If only you could see the thousands of comments of people all saying how god damn good you look, maybe thats why won't read them out loud, they all literally curse the lords name with compliments ;) When showed our family photo to one of my co-workers he said "damn boy, you better treat her right if you wanna keep that" So please, you are beyond beautiful, and Im the one who's lucky, obviously. Every time see our picture I'm reminded how I have to lace up my gloves, because its gonna be a fight to keep a girl like you at my side ;) WE look great together. There is no me without you standing next to me, your hand in mine <3 F those assholes. This isn't the first nor the last time they're gonna try and come between us, no, every chance they get, every haircut you have, every new photo you receive, they'll be there waiting to pounce. We're the fucking lions here, they aint gonna touch us. Stay strong with me gorgeous, and always remember one thing: We got this. I love you more than just that.. BELIEVE in you Gypsy. You've proven not only to me, but to the rest of the world how strong you have been. You truly are one amazing woman, and couldn't be more proud as a man to call you mine, and plan my future with my one true soulmate.	page 153
05/24/2019 13:09:18	Outbound	Good morning My absolutely perfect Soulie, :-) just woke up to your unbelievably sweet loving email. :-) <3 know what all you say is true, it seems no matter what do, people criticize me for it, then when they really want to get under my skin, they bring you into the mix and spin out of control with anger and insecurity. thank you for calming me down baby, you always know when to be my white knight and be the one to comfort me when I'm affected by something or someone. God, want to kiss you so bad right now. literally AM just waking up, don't work today nor did I have school. today is my last day on restriction. really gonna try and be good and try to be violation free because all of the sanctions given for violations have become more severe as the prison is trying to be tougher on the discipline of offenders. many of the same people always are in orange, or in the hole. so started May 'st, all the sanctions for even petty shit like contraband, have been more serious. can't afford to have any more. they have even put a new sanction, $5 a month canteen spend limit, which couldn't do!!!! my coffee cost $5! they can give offenders up to 5 of any sanctions per 1 violation based on the severeness of the violation. remember how used to get 8 hours extra duty for a petty one? now have to be a year violation free before could get extra duty for a violation. because this one was my 'st in 6 months, should have gotten 16 hours extra duty, but got 10 days act right. which now makes since that the sanctions are more severe. anyways darling can't wait to have date night as well I'm gonna smother you with kisses xoxoxoxoxo I'm staying strong with you honey. love and miss you my love. It's unimaginable. know she was mentally ill also but someone should have recognized the signs that she suffered from Munchhausen (sp?) I've worked with some of the worst cases of mental health throughout my career. Some manipulative, others violent. I'm so interested in what happened to you. How she groomed you to be a victim, how old were your first memories of the abuse? Do you feel that people suspected it and did nothing to help? I'm sorry, don't mean to bombard you with questions. It's just such a miracle you lived through it and ultimately escaped. hope to hear back from you.	page 271

I just chopped off 5" of my hair this week. am getting ready to go blonde next year, and Cosmo services doesn't use bleach when coloring hair, so have to grow out all new virgin hair to get colored blonde have gone black, dark red, brown, which is my natural,.. next I'm going dark blonde :-) whatchya think? :-)	page 338

From Everyone... even Dr.Phil. I think that thinking about someone as a way of escaping mentally where you are right now to get through the shit... then do it. Still focus on yourself; heal, grow learn about yourself. Be aware when your focusing too much on your fiancé and discover why. thought it was insensitive ofDr Phil questioned wh was drawn to a person that was in prison. think many people have been drawn to your case and want to help. He and my stepmothe are coming up to visit next month, they will also be meeting my fiancé. am engaged to a wonderful man, his name we have been together for about 2 years and he has been nothing but my biggest blessing. :-) lam aware that there is a Hulu series, The Act, however am unable to watch it so have little to say about the show, only that the production team and creators of the show has used my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial profit from it. other then that, i have heard its like 95% accurate to the true events of my life. as for me, spend my time either on my tablet listening to music, I'm a big country fan, or in the library. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental well being. :-) I try and stay positive in my day to day life, just look forward to starting a wonderful new life when am free. would love to travel, seeing the northern lights is on my top 10 list. do want to have children someday, and have already thought of names, Aurora Rose for a girl and Railey for a boy want to do a line ofwork that either works with animals or kids love both, or working as a hair stylist. :-) for now just can't wait for summer. think I'm going to try a sport this year...eshh wish me luck, I'm so clumsy lol anyways have a great day and thanks again for the encouragement. :-) P.S lam also asking all my friends and supporters to send letters to Missouri State Government officials in order to help with my early release. Hello Friends and Supporters, I appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence. Many ofya'll have signed The Free Gypsy Blanchard Petition created by my Now, must ask a favor, am respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for my freedom and write a letter expressing support for my early release to either the Missouri State Governor Michael L. Parson AND/OR The Division of the Missouri State Board of Probation and Parole. lam scheduled for a parole hearing in December of 2021, however any and all letters of support are helpful. please remember to add my first and last name and DOC# in the letter. Thank You :-) GypsyRose Blanchard	page 343
05/25/2019 16:43:28	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! My name almost 20 (born in 1999) and I'm from Finland. I think heard about your case the first time in 2017 when got my first apartment at 18 years old. have had a very similar situation at home and I'm receiving therapy now to treat my ptsd symptoms. Personally was put into a fosterhome at 16,5 years old by cps. hated to hear how no one saw what was happening to you at home. really try to write shortly cuz heard you're receiving so many messages. What I really wanted to say is that you're not alone with this. was not medically abused but was estranged from other people by my mom and verbally and physically abused. also find funny that in 2015 we had the same haircut and have (purple) glasses too. cut my hair short in 2013 for the first time and went bald in 2015. still have short hair to this day because my hair is very thick and it makes me uncomfortable lol. don't really have friends. It's hard for me to trust others. My dad was not in my life for he is from Israel. I'm not sure if the things my mom told about him are true but don't really like him after getting to know him, partly because our cultures are so different. He also didn't believe me or support me when I told him about my court case against my mom which came out to win. My mom got a 7 month sentence but didn't go to jail because it was her first time. I'm happy that your dad and your stepmom support you. All of my family friends abandoned me after the court but are still in contact with my mom. wanted to move to Sweden to start a new life because my ex and his family lives there and I can speak swedish but I needed to go to therapy here in Finland first. really like being in Sweden because it doesn't remind me of the shitty stuff. can be very mean and end relationships behaving like that. In the same time think attract very specific kind of people because of my trauma. A lot of people open up to me. don't like being in group of friends. wrote this two weeks ago but was unsure wether to send it or not. have watched everything about you that have been able to access to.	page 641

05/26/2019 19:07:08	Outbound	I'm so happy and content after hearing your voice darling :-) always am captivated by how perfect you are for me in every way possible. the hours that we spend just laughing and enjoying our conversation, become so lost in you and what you have to say and its like the prison melts away, the miles melt away and so does the walls that build up for everyone else except you. lam my happiest when talking with you or just sitting together, looking into each others eyes that seem to be the way to actually visually see what real true love looks like, because suddenly I'm looking into the eyes of the one person who will see every special moment that we share together that makes life worth living, every smile, every birthday, Christmas, anniversary, every birth, every year, every day is nothing but complete happiness shared together through each others eyes. My love can't put into words how happy and how much you being in my life as my partner and the man that saves me everyday has been and continues to be my biggest blessing. You are the biggest reason am as strong as am today because you believe in me and give me the one thing that no one and nothing can break so long as you are in my life... hope. <3 :-) I love you more then before but not as much as later, its a lot more romantic when you say it lol -) Kisses and even more cuddles Love Wifey P.s did invite mom and dad to our ceremony, if they want to come and if they can make it. feel if your mom wants to come then she is completely welcome. just don't want anyone to feel excluded from a happy day. and yes know its not our big 2nd ceremony however, THEY just as WE understand the bigger meaning of this day not where the location is. So I'm going ahead and telling my parents when the date is babe. <3 and if no one can make it then we will have pictures for them :-)	page 154

05/26/2019 02:45:31	Inbound	Hello Gypsy, my name i but you can refer me if you ever decide to message me back. know that am a stranger to you but I just wanted to inform you that hope after you get out of prison that you receive the life you deserve. recently watched a documentary about you and forgive me if I'm wrong but cannot imagine being confined away from the outside world, being trapped in that wheelchair, or neglected from somebody. also wanted to put out that when you come to terms with reality that people judge others and that's something that can be unavoidable in this world although sometimes people may need more understanding before judging upon others. But as you can see I'm not one to judge and as people we are not perfect regardless of what we do. do not know what is was like for you and know I'm not your therapist. was diagnosed with autism at the age of 2 so the things might say may not make sense to you but I'll try my best. know this is off topic but if you could ever travel the world where would you go? Personally, traveled Europe in 2015 and would like to live in Bavaria, Germany. What I'm also try to say is that you get the dreams that you desire. From Queen Creek, Arizona and yours	page 645

05/28/2019 06:36:19	Outbound	babe, this is something sent Hi first, would like to apologize for my outburst on the phone some weeks back. won't say that it was right of me, but had hit a breaking point. a lot was happening with the media, media hounding family who are not used to this type of attention, and my personal life being unveiled to ALL not just to the people in these groups, but to the world was overwhelming to put it mildly. this is really not what thought my life would be, but you are right, this IS my life right NOW. this is a fact i am coming to accept ay has already accepted it, neither of us enjoy it, but we accept it. did hear some of Dr Phil's podcast and feel that his "assessment" of my relationship and my reasons for going t trial couldn't be more off base. went back to Greene county jail trial because felt it was the right thing to do, and it brought me closure. the day received a letter fro was emotional HOWEVER, NEVER did even once deliberate on which guy was going to choose. have built a relationship based on mutual love, understanding trust and comfort. would never even for a second have considered offer to get back together. so Dr Phil was misinformed. and the part I truly do not believe Dr Phil's opinion is correct. do have a lot of emotional scars, but to say in a nut shell that only would bring toxicity to a relationship... that's far from the truth. have been able to grow as a woman in the last 4 yrs since being incarcerated, am not that broken scared little girl anymore. have taken many classes here at the facility and have excelled at these tools to aid me back into society. furthermore, really doesn't deserved to be judged as harshly as he is by everyone who looks at us and wonders why we are together. and my final point, Yes have baggage, so does he, however we accept that baggage and focus on the more important things. He has been the person feel safe with, the one tell everything to, the one who knows me to my core and can tell if I'm in a mood just by the tone of my voice. and has been nothing but the biggest reason why i am doing as well as i am currently. he is a help not a hinder to my mental and emotional healing. was talking on the phone and that episode of the podcast really made him question if he really IS a positive contributor to my life and just how much. I'm like, Yes you are. first thing is Dr Phil's opinion was based on incorrect facts so he couldn't make a reasonable assessment of us anyway. and we as a couple need to stay true to ourselves rather than listen to others opinions even if they come from Dr Phil himself as much assessing and analyzing as people do, they do not see us when we are together, they do not hear our phone conversations nor do they know the personal up's and down's we have gone through together. my point is don't listen to people who make assessments based on a "titled person opinion" such as myself, I'm titled as "too damaged to give love in a healthy manner", however I believe that give just as much to my relationship does and it is healthy and positive and it doesn't take away from my emotional healing, it adds. :) My biggest hindrance is and always will be...the media spotlight. that is why have developed a hatred for it. have had more bad experiences then good. and all the attention is bringing my life nothing but hardship, even the staff are tired of it. the prison gets calls all the time from people claiming to be "fans". that also puts me under a microscope here by staff, attention don't want, because don't wanna be singled out, i just wanna be another inmate just doing her time. its just stressful. I'm striving to be extra good because obviously am not one that can fly under the radar.	page 154

05/28/2019 12:20:54	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, hadn't heard back after my last email, I'm guessing you've been bombarded by tons of people contacting you. prepaid the last email, so you can reply to that one for free :-)) joined the Facebook group you told me about, but it's archived now, so there's been no updates on how you're doing. How are you doing? Everything still good Have you been able to have a visit from him recently? your time like there? Do they offer any guidance on how to live after prison? What kind of hobbies are you into? What you you hoping to do for a career when you get out? Last time emailed you, was telling you about my eviction. have 9 days left to find a home for myself and my daughters. I'm panicked to be honest with you. have a GoFundMe but I'm still $2K from goal. I'm freaking out a little. Sigh. It's been taking a toll on my Lupus. I'm trying to keep happy for my girls, but they are so scared and disappointed in me, they even talking to me. hope today is a happy day for you. Please write back, So glad to hear you are doing well!:) Congratulations on your GED! Don't stress over the math, I've never been able to understand math. Just study hard and don't stress over it you will do great! had to take the GED test when was 18, and barely passed the math portion the first time took the test. got lucky! Congrats on the new fiancé as well!!! :D that is super exciting! wish you both happiness:) Can ask how you both met? love a good love story it's so cute! saw advertisements for The Act when the first episode came out. One of the actresses caught my eye because remembered her from the movies holes (one of my favorite childhood movies) but when watched the first episode started noticing things that weren't true. Being familiar with your story already wanted to watch it at first to see how accurate they were. was disappointed after noticing they were dramatizing the story. So started researching things about the show, and came across an article with a statement stating exactly what you are talking about in your letter. think it's a shame that has happened and no longer watch the show because of it. think it's incredibly disrespectful for them to portray your that way with no permission to do so. But do know that regardless of the show, there are lots of people who support you:) I love the 90's country music! Like Garth Brooks, Shania Twain, and defiantly Tim McGraw. was born in Texas to a very southern family, so grew up listening to a lot it. Country music defiantly holds a special place in my heart! to dance when was in High School, it's the only sport enjoyed. It's a very athletic sport! It can be hard but it's so much fun. use to enjoy contemporary dances:) but do wish you luck on whatever sport you decide to try! Thanks for writing me back, know quite a few people on a Facebook page called Free Gypsy Blanchard, that wanted to write to you as well so I'm sorry for not keeping the letter shorter. Lol So glad to hear you are doing well! And will defiantly be sending letters to the Governor and the Board of Parole. I'd love to helo in can:)	page 459

No ones life is perfect. It's like there's so many things could tell you That would uplift yourself but don't want to scare you away hahah. don't want this email to be about the trial or stuff that has happened because it doesn't matter anymore. So I'll leave you off with some questions that would love to know about you, what's your favorite type of food? And your favorite type of way to relax? 05/29/2019 06:09:02	Outbound	Dearest Love of Mine, I just want to remind you that am truly the lucky one in this relationship. You have all the qualities of the perfect man and partner and could not have ever dreamt of a better person to call my soulmate. want you to know that though we both have our moments of jealous outbursts and we both in a since prepare for battle with anyone who dares to ruin the fortress that is our love and the relationship that we have built over the last 2 yrs. lin no way fault you for this as it can not be as easily controlled as just saying "it will never happen again" or "i'll react differently next time" because its a in the moment, spontaneous reaction based on emotions felt to the situation, therefore understand if it reacurs in the future. I'm not saying im wanting you to go out of your way to size up some other dude and go all alpha male, however if it happens, won't be upset with you. just as myself will have my own jealous territorial stand offs with other women who even come off as too friendly because just as you know how men are, know how women are, and don't think for a second that that ring is gonna stop em, if anything a married man entices them more as women are naturally sensual beings who get a thrill from making men weak and break under their own disadvantage of their gender aka (men never resist sex when its thrown at them because men are ruled by their dix) it just is real talk. why do you think ask you if you need a hall pass? even though the same feelings you have when thinking of another man touching me or was having sex with me, is the same feelings have when thinking of another woman vice versa with you. Just because permission is given that ache and anger in the pit of my/your stomach that makes me/you wanna fight doesn't just go away, /you just basically just give me/you permission to make me/you fee! that way. Just know that you waiting for me does mean the world to me. i promise its worth it. -) and want you to be a little more outspoken when your needing or wanting "robe nights" just know that our intimacy is limited, and want to try and do everything can to satisfy you in the ways that I can. <3 I'm not sure why even brought that topic up I started this email in reference to the situation, guess it all ties in together this email in general is about US and the boundaries regarding other single men or women. This is where stand on it all. Ever since we became engaged, things became more serious as do a lot of relationships when brought to that level of commitment, and when that happened realized that was promised to someone (you) and there was no one else in the world who could give me better male attention or comfort to satisfy that craving therefore the only man who meets my need for this particular kind of attention is YOU, so anyone else is not even a candidate to full fill that desire nor could they achieve that goal. Now that we are roughly .6ish months away from being officially married by law and in the eyes of God, my willingness to be completely devoted to you and this marriage to be, is stronger then ever. furthermore, making efforts to be the woman and wife you deserve. understand that you trust me as trust you, however feel with regards 'om or any single guys, will not go out of my way to have verbal or physical interactions with them. if anyone wishes to be friends with me, they HAVE to be friends with US as a couple, its a package deal. -) respect you and admire the fact you don't mislead or entertain the women who hit on you, (well minus all the romantic sensual smiling you do at work :-P) enrrgggh I'm OK lol you respect me as your fiancé and going forward, I will show you that same respect. so in a nut shell, No I will not be and as for other men who are not a present problem, as said, im soon to be officially Mrs communicating wit you are my alpha male and only want MY man -) beware your back and chest will be marked by MY claws. -) love you remember I'm always on your team. goodnight lover. <3 -wifey	page 154

05/29/2019 18:55:32	Inbound	Hi my friend! hope you have a fabulous birthday today! & P @ @ Hello, hello! haven't heard from you in a bit, so wanted to say HI! How are you doing? How is your photograph job going? Do you enjoy it? My daughter, just turned 8 on May 26! can't believe it, feels like she was born last month! But have loved every day with her. so very lucky that have been able to stay home with her and I love it. Hope to hear from you soon! on De a bit about me: I'm 27. your age, right? was a psychology student and am now volunteering at a Holocaust centre in Johannesburg, South Africa. my drama teacher told me about your story a couple of weeks ago and have become completely fascinated. have done all sorts of research on you and haven't been able to think about much else. was born with the disability Spina bifida and walk with crutches which is obviously beyond my control. the idea that your mother would deliberately make you out to be disabled is mind boggling to me. I'm so sorry for what you have been through. think was drawn to your story for that reason as well as the fact that we have clearly both overcome a lot in our lives. but our struggles have no doubt made us stronger people. I'm sorry that what happened has landed you in prison. it seems rather unfair. I'm sure it's not easy but hope you are keeping your spirits up. your dad and stepmom seem like really great people. I'm glad you have their support. anyway, take care Gypsy. you're in my thoughts! much love,	page 347

05/29/2019 23:30:11	Inbound	Hi Gypsy!! Thanks for responding so quickly. just wanted to make sure you were aware of the huge following you have. People are praying and sending good vibes your way. hope this email finds you doing well, sounds like you have adjusted and are just happy to have the little bit of freedom being offered to you. follow a FB page for you and everyone is so nice and understanding of your situation. I'm sorry the world failed you Gypsy, know you will make up for lost time once you are out and will do amazing things! God bless, sy! was just thinking about you and thought check in. follow a FB page that is all about you!! The one told you about before, the lady that ran it was a little weird so a lot of people left it. I think it's been taken down. Anyway, we have couple questions. One is your hair naturally curly? think some are imagining a full service salon in prison and two some times you have make up on in pictures, do they let you wear make up or is this for special occasions? We are nosy but most of us do care about you. As always you're in my prayers. Take care. © this email finds you well. My reason for writing is because feel A little responsible for to your case. He thanks me for this but had no idea he would find a way to a friendship with you. As you probably have figured is very special. He is an old soul with big dreams and a child's heart. He is so broken over his failed marriage and was so thrilled to develop a friendship with someone he admires so much. He still looks at you as the child who was hurt badly, so he may come across strongly in his attempts to make you feel better about your situation. Because if he has no filter and all of us have been in awkward conversations with him but know his heart is in the right place. do however want to give you a warning wish someone would have given to me; takes everything we say as word, etched in stone. Agreeing to come see him one day, as have done as well, only hurts him later on. try to say we will see or it depends on my situation. It's like telling a 5 years old we will go to Disney one day. That is a "yes" for them and you'll never hear the end of it. Speaking from experience with the 5 year old. She's 17 now and I'm so anxious to let her go one day. But know have to let her fly. To try to hold her down will only hurt her, but you understand that more than anyone. was hoping with covid they'd release you seeing how you are no threat to anyone. But atlas the justice system is not perfect. Please continue your friendship you may want to have a set day and time to call and make sure he knows if he doesn't hear from you it's because of things out of your control. He is very literal as have learned over the years. Protecting you Gypsy is my first priority. come to you as a ally and would never don anything to hurt you. have talked about creepy vibes girls get because we have all been to close to a creepy guy and it doesn't go away from our minds. Also be honest with him, he can take it. have to put him in his place often. Lol. Take care Gypsy Rose! Stay safe!	page 451

05/29/2019 21:24:07	Inbound	Hello Gypsy, have so much to say I don't even know where to begin. First, thank you so much for your apology. That shows the maturity level that you have achieved. It's not easy for people to apologize and truly mean it. have the utmost respect for you. think you have grown and you are destined to do amazing things. Second, concerning your wedding. expressed my thoughts not because feel like have a say but because know how it is to do something at the moment and regret it later. ran off the Vegas and got married 23 years ago on June 1st. was pregnant with my first daughter, my mother in law was an awful person and my mom and she was fighting constantly. was irritated and stressed out and just wanted to do it. So we got married in Vegas with the intent of someday having a second wedding. That never happened and now my mom is no longer with us. didn't realize at the time what was stealing from myself my mom, my family, and friends. But there is not a day in all of the 23 years that have not wished would have done it differently. had always dreamed of getting married in my grandparent's backyard overlooking the wooded area below and sadly my wedding was a far cry from that. Now they are gone and that house is sold. So won't even be able to experience that with my own daughter's who have upcoming weddings. What I'm trying to say is right now know you think we really want this but what is it you are getting? A piece of paper. That's it. Your mom stole every life moment from you Gypsy and hate for this one last day that is solely about you to be ripped from you as well. You won't know what you are missing until it's much too late. You won't have the moment of laughing with your sister over ugly bridesmaid dresses or holding up a sign saying yes to the dress with your mom, or that moment with your dad just before he walks you down the aisle, or a father-daughter dance, or to even share special moments with your husband at the reception when nobody is looking. It doesn't seem like a big deal now I'm sure but someday it will be. Nothing will change if you get married in prison. But so much will if you waited to do it on the outside. But it's not my decision can just speak from a place of wisdom and regret myself. However, 100% support you and your right to chose want so much for you Gypsy. want you to come out of prison and get the best care, the best help and see you live an amazing life. One filled with precious memories and laughter and joy. In regards to the media, understand how you feel. Everyone has done damage to you and it's not right, The only thing have done is try my absolute best to make those stories the best can. To spin it in the most positive light. think you and should do one interview and agree it should just be the two of you speaking but to ensure that it is not twisted like it has been in the past by so many hope that you would allow me to help you set it up and be there to make sure you guys are protected. That is my main concern for you. know you don't completely understand what do in the media but assure you everything have done or had do has been for the betterment of you and your story. have never pushed you into the light I've tried to take that	page 597

How are you? How are you doing? can't even imagine how you think or feel... I'm sure lots of people email and write to you too. But anyways... would be nice to get a response. If you don't feel like responding or don't want to then that's fine too! just hope you're well and staying as happy as you can through out everything. Not really sure what to say but hey.. never emailed a stranger before haha From what I've read and seen through social media/news/TV... want you to know I can understand the side they are trying to say is yours. would like to know you though, and that doesn't mean speaking about anything bad in your life. TV likes to make things look black and white when the world is full of colour. would like to know your colour. As a human being So don't feel like you have to tell me about why you have ended up in your situation. You can tell me about how happy you are with your meal today... would still make me feel like didn't waste my time lol. But either way there is no pressure on you to reply to me either! Don't do anything you don't want to :) I just hope you're okay as a person. There is always light at the end of the tunnel and hope this email comes to you in good spirits Anyways... Do you have a favorite musician? One of my favorite bands right now is Unknown Mortal Orchestra. am not exactly sure what genre they are, but love how their music is energetic, funky, and relaxed all at once. It's definitely worth a listen! I'm sure you get thousands of letters that start like that. It's insane how your story has been played out. It's insane in every since of the word but between you and a girl named Cynotia these are two cases that have been really deep in my heart. don't know how to start a letter to a complete stranger but something pulled me to write. I'd love more than anything a return letter not so much about your case but to understand you. hate having the one sided versions played out and hated the show they made out of this case. was hoping i would cast more light into why you were forced into the lifestyle you were and less about glamorizing how you had to stop it. Your an amazing person gypsy and to come outta this you will be a change this world needed. Too many people are weak and your strength gives so much hope to so many people! won't make this long and drawn out since we are both complete strangers but if you don't happen to feel overwhelmed with mail and want someone to talk to id love it. usually don't do this but have two friends currently incarcerated and had a few stamps left over and figured could put them to good use still. So from Virginia to you I'm standing behind you girl and wish the best for you! Love	page 476

I'm fascinated with your personal story and strength. have even went on to learn more about Munchausen by Proxy. Again, hope this email finds you well and look forward to a response. You're a waman Hey Gypsy! My name i and am writing you from Portland, Oregon. have heard quite a bit about you lately, and wanted to see how you are doing! Are there any hobbies you are interested in right now? have started taking up coloring as a way to relax and unwind at the end of the day. also enjoy sculpting, reading about psychology, and listening to music (all kinds!) Do you have a favorite musician? One of my favorite bands right now is Unknown Mortal Orchestra. am not exactly sure what genre they are, but love how their music is energetic, funky, and relaxed all at once. It's definitely worth a listen! (I am not sure what kind of access to music you have- can always send you a CD of this or any other band you can think of that like to listen to, just let me know) Additionally, wanted to reach out to you to ask if there is anything you need! Let me know if you would like any books, sanitary supplies, etc. From what understand, the library is quite limited for folks on the inside. Lots of us out here are thinking of you, you must get lots of messages every day! You have many bright days ahead, and lots of people who can't wait to see all of the amazing things you will achieve! @ Sending you my thoughts, and hope to talk with you soon! Rest	page 644

You have an amazing personality you're beautiful and you have a whole new life ahead... Well it's been a pleasure writing to you ! I'm so so happy finally got to get in contact with you, I've always wished could tell you how strong you are and I'm so happy got too, really hope you respond it would honestly mean so much to me. Even if you don't I'm still happy got to write to you:)) Kind <3	page 644

05/30/2019 00:26:45	Inbound	Your pissed... don't blame you. Yeah didn't understand when he said you deliberated didn't get that impression about you and didn't know why he said that. You know, it's normal to feel sad when someone you were in love with confesses his love for you... (if that's what the letter was about. Idk and it's none of my business... that's between you no would imagine you would have a sense of guilt that he was having a one else). Even if you have no feelings for hard time. Dr Phil knows that people's emotions are complex... lol he's a specialist in emotions. idk why he would turn that around on you... When fall in love with someone, REALLY fall in love. still miss some of my exes... doesn't mean want to be with them. It just means did love them at one time and miss some of the special moments we had together... Dr Phil knows that. Who knows why he said that... maybe to cause problems, maybe for the show... who knows such tho. Gypsy, your relationship is between you No one can tell what's right/ wrong. They are not you and they are not him. Only the two of you share moments with each other, no one else. think Dr Phil (in a extremely crude way) was expressing his fear that you might find yourself in a situation that isn't good for you. Us survivors tend to be attracted to people that aren't necessarily good for us. Believe me, did it a bunch... always went for the super good looking guy... only to find them either abusive or controlling. was with my last boyfriend for 5 years. Towards the end, we fought a lot (he was very jealous and wasn't someone that would tolerate that BS.. lol.) One day I just realized that seemed to be creating the same BS relationship my parents had and ended the relationship. Other than his jealousy he was never abusive to me. realized for some reason was subconsciously with some guy that made me feel like shit. He isn't a bad guy, just bad for me. It sounds like Both you support each other and your happy. So then just enjoy being happy and don't worry about it. Just enjoy it and stay present. Like said to you before, take advice from other people (including mine) with a grain of salt. See if their advice fits, if it does grow from it, if it doesn't disregard it and don't worry about it. The problem with Dr Phil is, what he says is public. If you get a chance and have access to them, read reviews of his Podcast. (can send them to you if you want) A lot of people don't really like his Podcast.... he comes off as being biased and judgmental. People don't like that. don't but thought it was shitty of Dr Phil to basically call him a loser because he took a Greyhound bus to see suppo you. thought it was a mean thing to say... don't like that kind of stuff. Anyway, better go. hope you stay well. Let me know if you need anything.	page 645

We did decide on a January date that neither of us wants to change. did invite you and mom, just in case y'all wanna come BUT its really a short simple ceremony no different then it being done at a court house. so really if y'all can't make it, its OK. its not gonna hurt my feelings because I'll still send a few pics AND when I come home EVERYONE is invited lol and its gonna be big, memorable, and beautiful :-) that's really the one I'm gonna remember. I'm really happy you got the chance to meet him, go bowling and stuff :-) and I'm glad that everyone is so supportive :-) love you be safe out there. hugs Gypsy	page 184

05/31/2019 17:43:48	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, hope this email finds you wanted to know if you'd be interested in corresponding with me? I've followed you since your case began, and find it tragic that you must be in prison for so long. certainly hope you can get out sometime soon, and begin the life that you should have had from the beginning. wish you the best, and hope to hear back from you. Warmest Wishes, I'm writing you in hopes of letting you know the support you have on the outside. So many people are rooting for you. Of course there has been a lot of media attention, and hope you know there is an overwhelming amount of love and well wishes for you. While very much disagree with your sentencing, you have made your way through this far and you will be out to join us in society in no time! want you to know how brave think you are. wholeheartedly believe you had one way out and you are now free to be yourself and live a long, full, healthy life. do hope you live without guilt, as you are an incredibly strong woman and have your entire life ahead of you. You can do anything you like! sincerely wish this message been unpleasant for you, truly want for you to thrive and be happy. hope this doesn't come off as self-centered or self-serving. Just a little about me if you wish to know - am a 28 year old woman from Dallas, Texas. have (died) very long silver/platinum hair and love to sing karaoke on the weekends, when I'm not working at my full-time job as a warehouse supervisor. love dogs, music, singing, and cooking. hope this message finds you well. Let me first say love having a pen pal its exciting, and a great special kind of a friendship think letter writing is a form of communication that is not used as much as it should be. some things about myself am 33 a single. mother of a 10 year old named and a 3 year old named For truck driver got to show those boys we are just as tough as they are right. © dont have friends really not a lot of time. have seen a few shows about you but dont believe everything see or hear. hope you want to write back let me know if I can help in anyway. hope to just talk and get to know you. a little better hope to hear from you soon	page 604
05/31/2019 19:36:04	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, just wanted to reach out to you. Your story is stuck in my head. My heart goes out to you. had a friend and thought she had the same condition your mom did. do understand what you went through. It was never proven that my friend was abusing and it's hard to prove if the parent is good at hiding it. am reaching out to you cause just want to be a true friend. want to be there for you as a friend. With all this hype on your case is crazy and people just want to get to know you for the story not a true friend. don't even care about the past. Look forward the future and the popularity can eat you alive so don't fall into all that paparazzi stuff. Be true to yourself and your family. Don't rush into anything...take it one day @ a time because relationships are hard and not happiness and rainbows everyday. Well hope to hear from you. If not understand. on a last note here are rules a woman should all live by and A few important rules to teach your daughter wy @ 1. It's okay to cry when you're hurt. But, wash your face, and get up off the floor when you're done. You don't belong down there. 2. . You are a woman, you do NOT need a man, but you can absolutely enjoy your life with a good one. . Happiness is not a permanent state. Wholeness is. Don't confuse these. . Never walk through an alley alone. . 'Can't' - is a cop-out. . Hold your heroes to a high standard. Be your own hero. . If you can't smile with your eyes, don't smile. Insincerity is nothing to aspire to. . Stay true to yourself always. . Your body, your rules. 10. If you have an opinion, you'd better know why. 11. Practice your passions. 12. Ask for what you want. The worst thing they can say is no. 13. Wish on stars, and then get to work to make them happen.	page 638

06/01/2019 08:36:53	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, have recently watched the TV series show 'the act' and read and saw footage on your case. can't comprehend what you have been through in your life and feel that know one can judge anyone's actions. truly believe that good people can do bad things in certain situations, and i feel that you were in one of these situations. Know one can judge what you did as only you went through your situation. You seem to be a very beautiful person, inside and out. curious at what your aims are now in life and what you dream to be? I myself, my name i 39 years old, and am Australian, although have been living in Amsterdam in The Netherlands, for the past 4 years. work for an international company and was transferred to Europe for work. have a lot of my own challenges, especially with stress and anxiety as i work in a very challenging and tough role, but am constantly learning to deal with it. Also living in a foreign country am away from my relatives and friends so miss them a lot too. am curious, what have you learnt about yourself through going to Jail? My own challenges are very trivial in comparison to others in this world so have to remind myself of that a lot. If you would like to email and correspond that would be great, but understand that you are probably very busy so respect if you don't reply. What are your hobbies? like to run & gym, travel throughout Europe. To beautiful cities like Paris, Rome, Prague, Napoli. also like to read, watch rugby (I used to play when was younger), beach, cinema, spend time with friends at bars/restaurants. hope you are having a nice day and hope to hear from you soon. can tell you more about myself if you are interested. 06/04/2019 10:50:29	Outbound	Hey How are you? I'm a fan watched the act several times on tv. You seam like an incredible person! heard that you're going to get out in a few years. just wanted to say hi and tell you that you are cared for. Sorry for what you have been through! heard you got married I'm so happy for you! Hope you are good! Me and my fiancé found "The act" on Hulu. Well it was recommended by my grandma so we watched the first 20 minutes of it and then we just had to keep watching. At first the relationship between your mom and you was a relationship anyone would want but then getting into the show we believe how she did all that to you. Since we watched all the Hulu series we have been following your story. We watched " dead and dearest" on Hulu and " Gypsies revenge" Me since am a very curious person have some questions if you can answer them.. did your teeth really get pulled every single one or did Hulu make that part up? Did you have any contact at the time with your father for example like on ur fake account? Did you think your dad would take ur moms side ? why didn't you just run away one night When you found out you was 18 or old enough to be on your own? your neighbor friend talk to you still ? The one you wanted to be like. not being mean if am I'm sorry. Do you regret anything that happen or do you see good in it all now and that ur at peace ? when you have kids what do you want to name them? + do you still talk ? Are you guys friends ? kind of wedding do you want? really hope you can answer all my questions. All these have been running through my head and would love to have some of my crazy answers answered by the only Gypsy instead reading what the media says. know you get a lot of mail probably but hope get a reply back from you ! Thanks This is Gypsy Blanchard, am writing to all who has sent me emails of encouragement and support to please know that DO very much appreciate the kindness of your time to write me. don't always have the time to respond as have a full schedule with work and school as well as other beneficial classes that require a lot of my full attention. As for the show guess you just have to see it for yourself and judge. don't think it was fair for them to make something especially about you, making things more dramatic and not even gaining anything financially from it. Changing of subject, Do you know what you want to do when you get out? It's gonna be a huge change when you head out to the world again can imagine. Im happy you already have a family that's gonna support you once you get out, literally on social media and webpages there is petitions that people are making for you to get out, to make a change, a lot of people really support you if you didn't know (even me lol) Your gonna be out soon faster than you imagine, just be patient Gypsy. 06/06/2019 15:42:23	Inbound	hope you continue to grow strong and learn about the outside world and what the best, most successful, happiest Gypsy, free in mind and body, will look like soon. The following is a part of a lecture send to everybody who needs it badly: city council, police dept., fire dept., etc. Now you. Peace. Joel S Goldsmith 705A: The Inner Meaning Good Evening! (Response) have been asked if there is a way in which we can train ourselves to practice the presence of God, some simple way that everyone on the face of the globe could practice. And there is such a way. It is a way that has very, very deep possibilities. And yet it is so simple that it can be taught to a six-year old child. And that way is this: Let us assume for a moment that this is a telephone and the bell rings. And pick up the receiver, and ordinarily it's this way, "Hello!" Now let us change that mode and within three days watch a miracle in your life. Pick up your receiver, wait a second, and then say "Hello!" And very quickly you'll begin to see the miracles come in your life. In this brief—and then "Hello" you have waited for the Christ to enter, and It enters. If we do this, you are out there on the phone and I'm here, "Hello!" and you say, "Hello!" there are two human beings. They can be friendly and they can be unfriendly. They can start friendly and end up with a fight. But the moment that learn to pick this up, admit the Christ, and then talk, there are three of us. There is you and me and the Christ between us. And the presence of that Christ between us levels the whole of human experience and makes it a spiritual one. Out of two human beings it makes two spiritual beings. Out of misunderstanding it makes for understanding. Out of incompatibility it makes for understanding, harmony and peace. Now, when that practice is followed in every detail of our lives, for instance sitting down to breakfast in the morning and never touching anything on the plate there until the blink of the eye. That momentary pause, which admits the Christ, acknowledges the Christ. Never leaving home, never crossing the door without touching the knob of the door, and waiting that second for Christ to go before. Never going into a door, through a doorway, into a building, without a momentary pause, which admits the Christ before you. Never going marketing, never going shopping, never going up to a counter to buy anything, never sitting down in a restaurant, without that momentary pause. And you see it changes all relationships, because instead of two human beings facing each other as human beings, that invisible, intangible presence, this transcendental being called Christ or the Spirit of God or the Comforter, that enters our relationship. And that transforms our relationship. That transforms the relationships between buyers and sales people, between employers and employees, between teachers and students. It changes the entire aspect of one's life. And you see, it not only operates as a leveler between us, mean in all of our relationships, but pausing for the admission of the Christ, we no longer depend on our human wisdom. That pause lets in the spiritual guidance. We make no decision; we wait for that spiritual guidance. We do not open our mouths to talk without waiting for that spiritual presence. Every activity of the day none can be neglected, although at the first I'm trying to say that three-quarters of them are neglected the first day or second or third. And then you remember, "Oh, forgot the last time." And then you begin all over again. But that's all right, there's no harm done. The thing is that we begin, and that every time we forget to admit the Christ that we redouble our efforts to remember it	page 445

06/07/2019 08:51:39	Outbound	Babe, want you to know that love you with all my heart. I'm sorry its been a rough work week, know that its all for a bigger goal. miss you, but can't help feeling like have been annoying you lately with how much I call you, maybe its the fact DO call you when you are working and maybe that is annoying, if so apologize and will stop calling you every morning and night. if you need space let me know. Today you did put me in a mood because, clearly told you had a vivid nightmare that you were cheating on me with another girl in here, who happens to be a real girl in here and was still feeling weird about it, like hadn't shook off the dream yet, THEN you proceed to tell me about some chick, granted she was old, BUT still some chick hitting on you... like don't wanna hear about it! KNOW you get chicks throwing themselves at you but don't need to be reminded, its not funny so please stop. and today was just BAAAAAD timing. You were a sand kicker today, because felt you all but said "Fuck your feelings and your bad dream, let me tell you how many chicks wanna fuck me" Sometimes you say things that it surprises me that you don't catch things that stur me up, think you do completely overlook somethings and think it doesn't bother me, just don't tell me about that shit, save it for your dude buddies who are probably 35 and still single live'n the bang em and leave em life. NOT your incarcerated fiancé who has not a clue what you do when I'm not on the phone with you. get that all you surround yourself with beside are other bartenders who are point in case single for the very reason of the sexual attention that comes with being in that line of work, as you admitted yourself you have to flirt in order to get high tips, so in a since you ask for it to happen, ever since you told me that I'm like your not innocent so don't act surprised like it happened out of the blue. what DO appreciate is that you don't act on the opportunity. but ask yourself this it the roles were reversed, and bragged to you (valley girl talk) "like omg so this old guy came into my work and was "like damn girl, you fine, if i was younger I'd hit that." see my point? its the same if YOU was locked up and I was working at Hooters (I would never degrade myself enough to work there) but say for example if I did, would have to wear short shorts with a tight crop top showing off my tits, flipping my hair and giving guys winks while bending over their table as they stare down my shirt. I'm sure would make loads of money and have dudes hitting on me all day but wouldn't give them what they wanted. then told you about all the guys who wanted to take me home when you call me just needing a moment to be reminded how much you, but instead make you feel insecure and jealous because your in prison and can't so much as even kiss me for a long time but some random ass has the privilege to see down my shirt and offers to take me to pound town. so hope my little examples puts things into perspective for you, can't control that your a "Hooters hooker" but will ask to be left in ignorance as it is bliss. anyway, sound like I'm bitching im not bitching! I'm just being 100% real with you and telling you what is on my mind. I'm not mad by the way, I just don't wanna be omitting how I really feel. I'm probably over blowing it and could have gotten my point across without the examples, but its 2am and didn't get to say all this on the phone tonight nor did get my kisses.. :-\ love you, your a wonderful partner, do just get so possessive of you, remember my halo is held up by horns O:-) miss you love your little gremlin.	page 143

First you probably mostly know him on paper, on the phone or through a glass partition. I'd send a copy of the pic, but Jpay isn't letting me attach photos, only Ecards out of their own stash. Here's the text of the message NC is claiming came from you (despite the fact it looks photoshopped). Hello :-)) This is Gypsy Blanchard, am writing to all who has sent me emails of encouragement and support to please know that DO very much appreciate the kindness of your time to write me. don't always have the time to respond as have a full schedule with work and school as well as other beneficial classes that require a lot of my full attention. However do want to convey the outreach of support mail has made my day. :-)) Unfortunately, my Jpay account on my personal tablet is now having technical issues due to the overload of emails received on a daily as well as a massive amount of contacts in my contact list. respectfully asking all of the people who has sent me emails and have only received one or two response emails, to please delete me from your Jpay account or remove yourself as am just trying to solve the technical issues that I am having with my account, please do not take offense to this request. I'm not with the media, or writing a book or anything like that. I'm a single mom, have two girls. One teenager and one almost teenager, so they keep me on my toes :) hope you're doing well. sincerely, hope you're doing well today. was just sitting in my car watching my daughter ruin off with her friends into school, and my mind wandered over to you. how have you been? know we don't know each other, but feel like we've got a few things in common. One would be knowing what it's like to have to smile even tho you might be devastated. and the other being that sometimes the word family has a different meaning to different families. At least it did to mine. Here's a little about me. I'm nearly 40, I've got 2 teenagers, and it's just us. So, my social life is past tense lol. If you ever need a pen pal, would love to write back and forth with you. I'm not a reporter. I'm not going to write a book, or share anything with anyone. am sure you get all kinda people who bother you for that. And I'm not interested in doing that at all. hope your day is blessed with peace. love, wow. think U should get paid. U r famous out here. There is all kinds of shows movies Facebook posts etc. u will prolly get paid when U get out. think u should be paid because of your circumstances. It wasn't your fault. feel u didn't know better because u were basically a prisoner. Anyhow everyone knows who u r. That makes u famous not trying to be rude by saying that either. It's good that I've humbling yourself tho. My son is in prison and write him on here all the time and then just thought I'd look u up. How much longer do you have left? For instance, i the other day i tried to swipe in Appreciate and it came up Adopted Hate. Which is uncanny as my tolerance level is way diem these days. Anywho, i just went to swipe in gypsy and it came up gutsy. Which is also uncanny because you are gutsy!! © I'm going to send some stamps your way and I'm going to get better at correspondence. am going to mostly stick to paper letters for 2 reasons. The first is that i think there's something special about letters in the mail and the 2nd is i love pretty paper! And the act of writing (when i tried to swipe in the word Writing, it came up as Worrying, twice note, i tell you, my phone knows me!! Anyway, i do hope that you choose to write back as friendly letters are like sunshine in the mailbox no matter where you are. Take care and keep in touch. Best Wishes!	page 277

06/10/2019 10:12:51	Inbound	Gypsy, I'm writing you to see if you are aware of some things going on and By Proxy. How on Earth did she become owner of your life rights? Are you aware that she has ZERO credentials as a writer, producer or actress? She was lead actress in a play in 3rd grade where she played Lulu Bear and then was a background extra in a couple episodes of a 90's sitcom. Oh and the back of her head was in a Taylor Swift video. That's it. She has several other “projects” that have never been given any notice. She cannot write, misspells words and comes off as a pompous ass who swears she knows EVERYTHING about you and your Mother. She's changed By Proxy's synopsis 3 times in the last 2 months. It went from being the TRUE story of what happened to you to now bein: life story with you as character. She is a sham!! Her real name i She's filed bankruptcy twice in the last 10 years and been arrested 3 times. Did you know andl read a portion of your medical records live from the By Proxy page and laughed and snorted the entire time? They said it was from the stress of reading but people are furious about their lack of professionalism. She's also on her personal page selling cannabis oil and promoting your name to do it. It helps her stay focused and calm while writing about Gypsy Rose Blanchard. She's USING you and your name to try and launch a career. She's never produced anything! She's acted in local theater in the last 20 years, that's it!! She's written shows that have never been picked up by a network. She's a complete fraud and knows and laughs about it. They are promoting the Act on By Proxy just so people will read the STILL constantly doing interviews about you. No articles she wrote about each episode. You could have picked a stranger off the street with more professionalism and reputation than that whack job. I'm also wondering how you feel about having a Sister that could almost have been your twin if not for having different Moms. Only 4 months difference in birth dates. Nicolette was born 12/11/1991 had nothing to do with her either, see, but she turned into a beautiful, successful woman. Also, Dr Phil wrote to you and said you had to choose between him Buy swears he only wrote one letter before you ever me also says he still loves you but he's happy for you. So someone is lying. Again. Anyhow, just wanted to fill you in on how sadly unprofessional, criminal and broke your spokesperson is as well as the owner of your life rights. That's one sad little hobgoblin. Hopefully, you will respond this time. The	page 510

06/10/2019 06:54:27	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, hope this finds you well & doing well! Although, know that you are. Thank you for taking the time to write me back, really do appreciate it. can't imagine how strange it is to have strangers write to you. Most strangers are probably very strange. Lol. know your real story from your stepmom in a group on Facebook. refuse to watch any of the other stuff. I've never seen the Hulu series or the lifetime movie & don't ever plan to. get upset when others use what you went through for their own gain & sensationalism. I'll watch By Proxy because you have a say & so does your family. If you didn't, wouldn't watch that either. I'm so happy that you are engaged. And just for the record, dreaming & wanting to travel, have a big wedding, have children, that's an awesome dream to have. only the other hand had my daughte when was almost 18 & never got married was 27 this past March. All ever wanted was to be a mom, that was my dream. No dream is simple, every dream is spectacular because it is yours. Although you do not know me personally, did want to say that was abused as a child from 3-7. Not the same as you, in a different way, but do know the pain & scars & sometimes shame that comes from being abused & being a survivor. Even though logically you we know we didn't do anything wrong, sometimes those feelings creep in. I'm so glad that you've decided to help others in a similar situation. Honestly, think the doctors & hospitals have to be trained better on how to spot both Munchausens & Munchausens By Proxy. If the family can't notice the signs, the next level of defense for those in that situation is the hospitals, the doctors, the nurses, the physicians assistants. They all need to be taught what to look for. get angry for you that so many missed the signs! wish you never had to go through that. But something realized in therapy about 15 yrs ago, which fyi still took me a long time to reach this spot, was as strange as it sounds, & it is strange, don't regret the abuse or traumas went through when was young. used to be very angry & couldn't deal with it at all. As a teenager used drugs & alcohol to not think about the stuff went through. Then 21 yrs ago got completely sober. now do not drink anything but coca cola & smoke cigarettes, by last 2 vices. lol. But in therapy realized that like myself today, hell love who am today. I'm a single parent, live & care for my mom who's not well, don't date & even have some health issues myself but still love the person am. don't think would have been who am today if I didn't survive everything went through when I was younger. I'm strong, confident, have a good heart & I'm a great mom, daughter & friend. Everyone knows that no matter the time, if you call me, I'll always answer for you, if you need me & I can physically be there i will. don't know if would have turned out like this had not survived my traumas. just thought I'd share what my feelings were. know everyone comes with things differently & has their own process. But thought it might be helpful to hear how someone else survived being abused. Anyway I've rambled enough. Lol. I'm sure you have thousands more emails to get through. Just know, if you ever need to talk I'm always here for you. You can email me or call me anytime if you want to & are able to. I'm so happy for you & so proud of how incredibly strong you are. In even more happy that you know have a relationship with your dad & the rest of your family. And finding love is the icing on your cake. will write the parole board & the Governor. No worries there. was pissed you got jail time to begin with & wrote them then too. Lol. just felt like you spent your life in jail already, you didn't deserve more time. thought it should have been time served, my opinion. knew you knew that you did the wrong thing, for me that was good enough. So like said the	page 564

06/16/2019 07:18:27	Inbound	Hello Gypsy. My name i and I'm 27 years old.. I've been following your story for awhile now. took it upon myself to reach out to you personally and offer my support and friendship. can't imagine how scary things must have been for you since your life has changed forever and feel like you need a true friend that understand and supports you because you went so long without one.. Many of your supporters are fighting for you to get released early and I truly hope that happens. You deserve to be free and to be helped out in every way possible. I'm so glad you've reconnected with your father. hope to hear back from you soon, I'm wishing you all the best and for you to finally get your happily ever after. Take care, am going to answer your questions on the phone and you can answer them as well:-) Love and support, awesome! :-) am studying like crazy am going to be taking my exam in the next few days now. 06/16/2019 00:27:12	Inbound	Hey you dont know me but i hope your doing well i know your probably getting so many messages it aint funny lol but stay strong its just a few more years if u ever fell like you cant handle it or are having a hard time my number is always id love to hear back from you thank you Heya Gypsy! My name I'm 34, I live in Calgary, Alberta, Canada. know these emails/letters are probably coming in to you at an overwhelming level, but I just wanted to reach out and say that admire your braveness in telling your story and hope that you continue to be successful in drawing awareness to those of us who have lived similar types of situations. iam 100% writing a letter in support of your early release. just wanted to also reach out on a personal level, to wish you well and let you know that there are people who support you and appreciate you. know that lost a lot of autonomy around your life and it being exposed to the world, but I've just got to say that hearing your story was one truly the first times in my life where felt seen. There were words from your mouth in documentary that actually caused me to cry and think, how did someone else actually know things that I've thought. After many years of therapy (ugh know right?) know that our traumas are not to be compared, but simply acknowledged and witnessed. hope that you have all the unconditional support and love in your that you so richly deserve. In my life, one thing I've always struggled with is just....trusting others, trusting myself, and knowing that I'm my own complete person who deserves good things. It's own personal daily struggle. hope you find that too. read somewhere that you're engaged — congrats! hope the wedding planning is going well. You've got such a bright future girl. just know it in my gut and truly send those wishes on to you. hope the day to day isn't wearing you down too badly. don't know how many pen pals you have, but if you ever feel like adding another one, I'd love to be your friend. I've personally always struggled with making new friends, but do like being penpals! A little about me: love to read (Harry Potter is my favourite- 100% a Ravenclaw here), watch tv, travel and cook and bake. I've got a beautiful cat baby named Daphne. work as a family lawyer (ha! Shocking! We do what we know right?). My goal in the next five years is to become children's counsel, so that can represent children in court proceedings and advocate for them. got married to my wonderful husband last year in the fall here in the mountains. Our anniversary is actually next week and we're heading to the arctic to see the northern lights for a short trip! Hope having a good day & no need to feel obligated to write back. truly hope you get hundreds of these type of letters to show that there are so many people out here that support you. All the best!	page 658

My heart goes to you for everything you've had to live through including the loss of your mother. only know what has been released to the public, but I'm sure there is more to the story than what's out there. Although don't condone the actions that were taken that resulted in the death of your mother, I do feel like you felt that you had no other way out or were simply blinded by love and fear. I'm not really sure what to say. don't expect a response although it would be awesome. guess could tell you a little bit about myself, am 33 and married to my wonderful husband, DJ. The only kid we have a 120-pound black lab, Yoshi. have 3 sisters and 3 brothers. All my brothers but my youngest frequent the MDC. I just wish they would get it together. I'm sure you get a lot of letters requesting your side of stories or how accurate the show on Hulu was. To be honest, of course, want to know but I have no plans on asking you those questions. The purpose of my letter is really just to let you know that there's someone out here in this world who wants the best for you and is on your side. If you wish to write me back, would love it! You can tell me anything you wish to tell me. Sincerely,	page 134

06/21/2019 13:45:06	Outbound	Hi :) I did get your first email the one on a different account, and went to reply but then it said that you wasn't a contact anymore so let your mom know its OK that you email me. :) yes, know your mom, she and live on the same house. your mom is a very nice lady, and I can tell she loves you alot. :) so what's this about a boyfriend? in my experience, in person relationships are better then online ones. however will say this, I'm going on 28 years old and am recently engaged but this is the first in person relationship have ever had only have had one other boyfriend and it was a bad toxic online relationship. he is in prison now doing life without parole and I'm sure if you have seen any TV shows about me you know that I'm talking about my e the one got arrested with. well I'm happy to say, have a wonderful new guy who I have been dating for 2 years and we are getting married in January :) and he treats me like a princess. my point to all that is to give you the best advice I can which is, take your time before rushing into relationships, and if you find a boy who treats you like a princess then good just as long as you take your time and get to know each other really well before giving the title of boyfriend to someone, make sure you give it to a guy who deserves that title and does right by you. your still very young and have plenty of time to go through as many relationships as you need to to find your soulmate. :) proud of you for passing school! that's awesome! :) myself am in school I have passed everything except for math, but I am studying hard to pass that as well. hope you have a nice week ttyl hugs	page 341

We spoke a few years back, actually. was working as a My name i bu producer at The Dr. Phil Show and sent you a physical letter - you called me a few weeks later and we spoke for a minute, which you probably don't remember because by the time that you actually appeared on the show with Dr. Phil had moved on to working on a different show. have followed your story since Texas Monthly wrote up an article on it. just wanted to personally say how sorry am that you suffered abuse at the hands of your mother and the system - and that you felt like there was no way out. That should never be the case for someone - and am so happy to see that you appear to be thriving today even in prison. cannot wait to hear of your release, and believe that you will go on to do great things. truly hope that one day you will write a novel from your point of view. know there has been a lot of media about the case, a lot of documentaries and a lot of tv shows - but I still feel as if your point of view on the situation has not really been heard in the way that it should. Anyway, Gypsy, hope you're doing well. don't know you, but I'm only hoping for the best for you. currently work for the Investigation Discovery Channel on a show called Reasonable Doubt. We take a second look at the convictions of people who say they were wrongfully convicted - it's a show that truly does good for people. Is acclimating to living in prison well? How do others treat you? know you probably get so many emails or mail about what happened and how you feel about it all, but don't think that's what should be focused on. want to know how you are NOW. and how you plan to move on in life after being incarcerated. believe you mentioned getting your GED, What do you plan to do with the degree? Good hope! remember you saying you were working on schooling, how are you liking that so far? So are you able to watch any tv shows? If so I can definitely recommend some if you have a certain genre you like! I'm into a mixture of horror and comedy! Other than working spend a lot of my time finding new things to watch like on YouTube or Netflix. Anywho, just wanted to say hi and remind you you still have people backing you all over the country! 06/23/2019 19:38:20	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, just wanted to tell you how strong and brave think you are for going through all of that. have no idea how you went through that for so long. read online that you didn't agree with them making the show "The Act" which may or may not be true. think that show has got you enough attention to maybe get you realised earlier than 2024. had no idea about any of this until "The Act". didn't even know it was a true story until the show said it was based off a true story. watched your documentary on YouTube and a lot of your interviews. A lot of people are on your side and see why. I'm not saying what you did was right but I'm also not saying what you did was wrong either. would consider this self defense. know how hard this must be on you and even everything your mom did to you, you still loved her. But you have to live your own life and she wasn't letting you. wrote the govern a letter telling him why you should be free. also signed the petition your dad made. Your dad seems like he really loves you. He's trying so hard to get you out and it makes me so happy to see a father love his daughter so much. really hope you get out really soon. You deserve some freedom for once. don't think you should be locked up at all considering your mom drugged you every day. There is just no way you were at your right state in mind. Anyways just want you to know that you are not alone and that there are a lot of people rooting for you. #freegypsy Sincerely,	page 670

06/27/2019 14:52:50	Inbound	GypsyRose, Engaged?! Wow!! very exciting for you :) It's always nice to have something to look forward too. don't just mean in prison but also in life. It makes it so you have something to be excited about. Like me and my husband are thinking about trying for another baby so I'm very excited to think about it but also kind of scared. hope this isn't sharing too much but Well to be honest I just feel like can share with you :) Anyway scary because I've had multiple miscarriages in the past. So my youngest son is some what of a miracle baby or as we call him our rainbow baby(rainbow after the storm). Not to get off track though lol. After all you've been through am happy you have found someone that you can share happiness and love with. I'm glad to hear you have your dad and family support. Family is so important and it's really great that your dad isn't there for you. bet they are excited to meet your fiancé. My dad lives in Minnesota (i live in Kansas city) so don't get to see him as much as like too but we talk all the time and he visits as much as he can. My parents were divorced when was in 3rd grade! So my dad lives in Minnesota and my mom lives all the way in Alaska! It's tough not having parents close by but my brother lives close and that helps. You said that you enjoy reading... what kind of books do you like? am myself a self proclaimed nerd hahahahaha. think if didn't have books to read would go alittle crazy! I like reading a little bit of everything but my favorite books are ones with a twist. Right now I'm doing a re read of Gone Girl. It's one of my favorites. But also like stuff like Harry Potter. Those are my favorite books. Maybe could send you a book to read sometime. What is the library like there? your favorite book? use this library app on my phone so can read books for free which is nice :) Photography is really cool!! Maybe you could be a photographer when you get out. think that would be a fun and rewarding job! You could do some many things with it! Im glad to hear your taking classes and getting your GED. That sure is something to be proud of. My daughter is 14 almost 15 and always tell her nothing is more important then her education! Sometimes wish could go back to school.... maybe once the kids are grown up more :) Well have to go give the baby's a nap (my baby is 19 months old and watch my 2 year old nephew). Then tonight I'm taking my daughter to see a spooky movie. Thanks again for taking the time to read and write me back! hope we can continue talking but understand if you don't want too. It sounds like you stay pretty busy! Which is a good thing :) hope you have a great weekend Gypsy!! Talk to you later! friend and i love your story and are wondering how you are sweetie ? When do you get out. maybe we can be friends ?	page 274

I'm so sorry for everything been through. was in and out of hospitals and doctors offices my entire life but can't imagine what you were put through. would love to chat with you if you have time and would like to. hope your doing well. My name from the middle of Minnesota. I've followed your story for awhile now and just wanted to drop you a line so that you know you have people in your corner and that are thinking of you. If like to write, I'd love to hear from you. I'm sure you get so much mail though that's overwhelming. my name i thought it would be nice if could talk to you about everything if that's okay with you.. have heard that you were aware that Hulu recently released a TV show about you and your mom. I'm sorry to hear that. get that you didn't want to have you life posted on a TV app. To be honest can see why you'd be upset but to be honest with you see not so much a drama/TV show see the actual life of Gypsy Rose which makes people like me understand what happened more clearly. Honestly can't believe I'd say this but understand why you did what you did and in a way feel that there wasn't any other way around what had happened but that's all in the past now. want to talk to you more about you now and your future. Are you going to stay a couple after you guys get out of prison? Where do you guys plan on going? Will you guys eventually get married? know am throwing so many random questions to you but I'd like to know the truth....what the real Gypsy Blanchard has to say and not what a TV show thinks will happen. Please write back have so many more questions to ask you and I'd love to actually be able to talk to you personally Yours Truly,	page 558

So, that's our secret. will be sending you something to sign for the trust fund, don't know exactly when but look out for it. I did talk to a lady named yesterday. She asked to talk to you because of the release forms that she had gotten. So gave her the short version of the story. She thinks it's important that you know what was done to you when it wasn't necessary which is good for us. She did trust me on my word, which was a relief But did send her your handwriting on an envelope for her to match it. Normally they dispose of medical records after 10 years but for some reason one hospital that she has found some records from 2004. She is willing to help us, under the rug you can say. Yesterday started ordering things for dorm. Got her a few things. will send you pictures of her dorm when we move her in, in August. Dad comes home on the 10th i want to gets her wisdom teeth taken out on the 12th, said he's coming to take care of her. That boy is so in love with your sister. He's such a great guy. Has a good head on his shoulders. Your brother started a new job with Exxon, more money which is good. He works on land so he's happy he doesn't have to go offshore. Besides that all is good. Things are looking up for the series. When found out things that are definite will let you know. will send you some pics of my orchids. They are so beautiful. miss hearing your voice. But know it will pass by quickly. love you. Have a Happy 4th. will be staying home. One of my cousins passed away Monday and it's been really hard on me. I can't seem to catch a break. His funeral is Friday and this has really taken a toll on the family. But in due time will be ok. Seems like when I'm finally healing from the others it happens again. But God is getting me through it. you so much. MAM	page 302

First and foremost want to tell you how amazing you look! You look like you are getting to thrive and become the woman you wanted to be. I'm sure you get tired of talking about your past (I know do!), so if you choose to continue to contact me, we can talk about whatever you like! Much love and so much support from Tennessee! we always here to support you! we are around the same age. if you ever want to talk I'll be here! :-) you for the support :-) huas Gvp	page 516
07/03/2019 06:02:52	Outbound	Hell How are you doing? am sorry it has taken me a little while to respond. At first didn't know how to take you, but can see you reached out with pure intentions. First, would like to say I'm sorry for the emotional or mental abuse b' know all too well what that's like. Everything from getting called bitch, slut or stupid when you forget to capitalize the N in his name claiming you disrespected him. To his threats of rape and murder that he blames on a "darker part of himself". have experienced it all. When news got back to me from friends and strangers alike telling me about you, the speculation was that you was his new woman. didn't care, I'm very much over: and his games. So news however true or false, didn't phase me. my only concern was for YOUR well being as know him, know how he can make you feel like you both have a connection, whether it be as friends or as more, to make you feel like you need him then when the real him shows and the abuse starts, you think you can "save" him, but you see that was MY mistake, there is no saving someone that mentally twisted and depraved, he is beyond all help. In the 4 years since my life changed forever, have come to accept and cope with the trauma of the past. I am in a good place now, am engaged to the man owe all the credit in the world to for standing by my side through the many hardships that come with being with me both personal and public. My Fiance's name i he is 26, has a stable job working as the manager of a bar/restaurant establishment in downtown Seattle. He and have been together almost 2 years and are getting married in January. :-) The decision to get married at this time in my life was not in my plan 4 years ago, thought would do my 10 yr bid single and have only my father and stepmother as my support. Then in September of 2017 my world changed again this time for the better, when this sweet handsome, full of life and excitement guy came to visit me after 4 months of writing and hours talking over the phone. 30 minutes into the visit, he kissed me and it felt REAL, and from that moment on, he had my heart and everyday after that he has been showing me more and more that he is the man want to spend the rest of my life with. He never has called me outside of my name, never has put me down or degraded me. He always tells me he loves me, always encourages me to find my own self and is there to support me in all my decisions. He accepts my past, and the baggage it brings, but only sees my best qualities. He protects, but doesn't dominate, and to him, am not below nor above him but rather his equal. have been broken, but I have been rebuilt stronger then ever. and so are YOU. Never nor anyone break you. You found good people to confide has a big heart she'll be there for you if you need anything. As i do not talk with her much as I'm not supportive of her "By Proxy" series, to me, every reporter, every talk show host, every movie writer, is just another one to cash in on more fame at the price of my emotional healing. That is why I have chosen to step out of the media spot light having declined interviews for almost 2 yrs, last one did was in Nov of 2017. then I hit a point that needed to move on from the past is probably the only one who shares my wishes to move forward and heal from everything choosing at put an end to the consent media circus. At least when these TV shows and movies air, I'll have a good man who will be my support. it is your choice if you wish to help Fancy's project, however made my choice and choose, a normal life as some	page 521

07/08/2019 11:05:06	Outbound	Love, have a lot need to talk about with you. need my partner in a important decision that need to make, its regarding "By Proxy". Mom sent me an email and she said tha' is going to be sending me paperwork to sign for something called a trust fund, do not know what that is, however I'm wondering if that is where my portion of the earnings will be, and if so who has control of this fund? which leads me to what want to ask you. Should take any royalties? should sign? I'm asking you because you are my husband and this is not my money, this is OUR money if we choose it to be. the amount is unknown, whether this series is even going to be made is unknown, but what is known is this, if WE have to go through all the hell that we had to go through when The Act came out all over again, we better get something out of it. If we get alot that could pay for our wedding, and/or a honeymoon to Sweden those glass igloos are like nearly 1k a night babe, and if there's some left over we can start trying to expand our family to more then just you, me, and the dogs.. babies aren't cheep either honey :-) I guess just can see how some financial cushion can be of use to us, and on the flip side don't want to be paid for a series didn't want to be made in the first place. I'm torn and that's where need my soulie to make this decision with me. I think have missed you more this time then ever have on restriction before. these 10 days have been so hard, and the crazy part is that really nothing major is affected by these restrictions because really nothing applies to me, don't go to the yard, don't go to rec enough to miss going, the ONLY thing that these restrictions fuck me on is phone access.. too cling onto you and don't want to let go. get so scared you'll get bored of me that you no longer want "us" time and I'm left as the only one who wants more closeness while you crave time apart, think that scares me the most, more then you cheating, more then anything is just one craving closeness an the other distance. can speak for myself and say will always crave more closeness. want these forced times apart to be of use to show you what you want without me being an influence telling you how want you to feel or how you should feel but rather it come from your own heart if you are content with the time apart, however forced or willing, or does it torture you as it does me, and let that serve as a guide to how much "us" time is good for you. know work can sometimes be a stress on our relationship. that's why treasure our vaca weekend visits, have you all to myself, there's NO work to have your attention, NO daily errands that need to be done, NO buddies to distract you. its just nice to be to have YOU and be able to call you any time and can have a 4 hour convo right then and there and i dont have to "share" you with all the "background noise" of everything else. Most of the time don't have anything too exciting to tell you, just like having the ability to in a sense BE with you doing just that, having the ability to hear your breath, be in the moment when a thought comes to mind and becomes words, being there when you need to go somewhere but you've lost your keys, hearing your frustration when looking for them, (its kinda cute) it still makes me crave more even 2 yrs later. honestly its kinda like 3 yrs but not.. We have shared 3 of almost everything starting in June of 2017, so 3 July 4ths, 3 of My birthdays, met you when was 26 I'm going on 28 so number digit wise its like 3 of everything but not technically "3 years" lol if you understood that concept then you truly ARE my soulie LOL anyway my point before squirreled out, is that I truly only feel happy when I'm with you and the time shared together is everything to me, its the only time feel free. when I'm holding with you on the phone or holding your hand in person, feel REAL, feel like IM your best friend and your woman and nothing can take that from me in that moment. So when bitch and complain when don't have enough time, NOW you know what "us time" means to me and why its important.	page 152

I am so sorry for the relatable pain your mother caused you. its hard when you want to be loved by the one person who naturally should love us, but they fall short of our expectations. that is why am so thankful t for accepting me as her own. We have a natural way of talking and knowing each other enough to build a mother daughter bond so she's been a huge blessing. and i have a mutual love for Huskys and Balto will be a husky pup, I'm has it planned to have Balto already bought and collard and wait'n for me at the gate the day get released. lol Yes, we will have another wedding when I'm out, this is just making it official, but like you don't need all the glitz and glamor to make it special, the meaning is everything, though he definitively did not skimp on the ring, girl when he told me where he got it, he said "fuck going to Jarad, I'm going straight to Tiffany's". which is kinda crazy to me because iv never had like that. He is a romantic though, he feels he is only doing this once or rather with only one woman, better go all out. So may ask a personal question, what was it that made you finally walk away	page 523

Hope you are doing well. have read that you are engaged. am so excited for you a lot goes into planning a wedding and before you know it will be here. My daughter and her boyfriend are talking about getting married too in about 2 years. Gives us enough time to plan and prepare. There are so many fun things to do. Shop for the perfect dress, find the perfect venue (place to have the wedding), plan the reception, have parties and oh dont forget the bridal shower and the honey do shower (for the bride and groom), the rehearsal dinner and the best part of all your dad finally walking you down the isle in the most beautiful dress he has ever seen. There are so many things to plan a wedding that you probably dont even know about. All I am saying is this... planning this wedding would be the perfect opportunity to have your entire family and friends show you how much they really love and care for you. Your bayou family misses you and loves you and we all want what is best for you. You are a very lucky girl to be alive and healthy and seriously thank God for that everyday. also pray for your Mom too bc despite the things she has done in her past she did have a good and fun side. I'm married with a dog, two cats, and a pet goose. own a small business called Mutiny Shop that makes patches and other stuff for the military. grew up in an abusive family (but not nearly as abusive as your situation was.) Since work from home all day spend most of my time doing manual labor while listening to audiobooks. I'm Republican and love history. don't know if you are allowed to have electronics to listen to audiobooks, but if you can wouldn't mind sending you my collection of books. I'm really spiritual and into the occult. believe in something called the Goetia and I'm an avid practitioner. also love doing art. I'm mostly a graphic designer at work. I'm really into current events and the news. The conflict between a group called Antifa and the Proud Boys is really big deal right now (potentially a civil war), but most people aren't aware of it, or if they are they don't know what's really going on. could tell you about it, it's all pretty ridiculous! went to jail once for "expired car registration" (it's a VERY long story) and was in for five days. They kept me in isolation and basically tortured me. For example, at one point my cell flooded. was left naked in standing water for 12 hours. It was freezing cold and almost died of hypothermia. So really hate the system and can't stand that people like you are trapped in such horrible places. If you want to continue the conversation can open up with some questions: What's your support system like? Who do you have on the outside that is visiting you and what not? What do you dream of doing when you get out? Career, school, hobbies, or adventures? Do you want any pets? Have you built any good relationships on the inside? Are you comfortable? Do you feel safe? Do they treat you well? What do you do for fun? What are your days like? Are you passionate about anything? When is your birthday? 07/10/2019 17:43:42	Inbound	Aloha Gypsy, my name I'm sure you get plenty of mail telling you that your story compelled them to write to you wish my intentions were more interesting. do apologize for that. However, as redundant as some mail can be, Im sure its still helps pass the time. The only person I ever wrote to in prison, was my father. have always wanted to befriend someone in prison, someone to whom felt could use the company. As much mail as Im sure you have, bet you could probably think of a few people who dont have quite as busy of an inbox. If that is the case, with their permission, will gladly add a few more folk to my jpay app and write to them as well. Iam not the kind who is able to help financially but do make a great "pen pal" Of course, am so curious about things but would never just unload a bunch of questions so disrespectfully without getting to know you. Your reasons for being in prison are publicized but that doesnt just open the door to discuss those things. Your story reached me but sadly, at the end of 2015 I lost my husband to a freak motorcycle accident. So, of course, lost all contact with what was happening in the outside world. By the time was able to function again passed my own nose, was saddened to hear you were sent to saw your documentary on HBO and it broke my heart to hear you say, prison is better than being back in that life. To know some of the hardships of prison, it really makes what you went through that much harder to comprehend. Im so sorry that you were dealt such a shitty hand by the universe. No one deserves to be suffocated and controlled that way. Its why I have such a hard time understanding your conviction. hope we can write to each other often and see what the universe has in store. For every action is a reaction so Im excited to see what making the decision to reach out to you has in store. previously have sent you snail mail but would imagine using this app is much easier. havenr recieved actual hand written letters since the early 90s!!! Yea, I'm old. just something about hand written letters is still engrained in the pre internet generation. Of you ever feel like taking pen to paper, I'd be very appreciative So how exactly are you doing? The tvs interpretation of prison is it accurate or blown to extremes? Hopefully you are getting through this and passing the time with all the letters you get daily. man they do give you plenty room to write a novel eh? maybe as time passes will max out the 20000 characters hehe well, Stay strong and hope to hear from you soon. from Makakilo, Hi	page 640

07/12/2019 18:15:31	Outbound	Honey, I'm spending the max (87.50) next week on all hygienes, so have all my needs to last me when you make the transition here, until you can start working again after the move. then the following week, I'm gonna buy writing supplies so can start writing you every week again. :-) its gonna be so nice getting called for mail and it actually be a letter that want to read, always squeek when get a letter from you :-) <3 As for phone time, won't need nearly as much now, would keep $50 on phone time all the time so we had time to talk. would spend probably $15 per day some days on the phone with you for our date days and nights but after the 21st I'll be spending like $4.50 tops a day, so will definitely be writing you more babe because an hour and a half of "phone us time" is just ok for me, but want to keep that feeling that we DO communicate the best we can with the tools we have available to us. just know that when you are living here a lot of our "distance" issues will be resolved. and our weekend dates at café dé chilli coth will be great. :-) I'll be the woman in reddddd....bra lol covered in khakis lol One of these days wanna squeeze your ass when hug you _) I'm thinking about all the pics we will take. some days we won't take em, we just will have a day to be comfortable and enjoy being together. some days won't wear make up or do my hair, some days you won't shave, but still wanna kiss my prickly hubby) It will be more normal then what we have now, it will be a whole new experience for us. now of course you know that you still have rules to obey by, I'm still in a prison, no matter how close you live to where am, but think it will be more controllable and easier to see each other on a normal basis. I'm not say'n no more Hershey pie, im just say'n just keep your cool after you get a bite) I love you daring xoxoxoxoxox OH 188 days :-)	page 152

I'm not sure how to start off my message or whether you will recieve this message or not, but recently found out about your life and what happened. found out about your story via social media and as I've been writing to inmates for around a year now, was interested in writing to you, so found out about your jPay details on Facebook as some people were wanting to write to you. know you may probably get a lot of people messaging you and I'm not sure what may compare me to others or single me out as being different or interesting but aside from what has happened in your life, felt that what saw of you was that you needed a friend and people to talk to. This is why set out to write to inmates as do believe that they all deserve a friend to talk to as it can help a lot when you have a friend around especially when you are sometimes so struck off from the outside world. So as for myself, I'll tell you a little about me so that you can get an idea of me! My name: I'm 23 and from England. I'm currently a Hair Stylist and work in a small salon in the town where live. love to read, play games, listen to music and go out to different places. I'm not too good at explaining about myself if I'm honest haha! So I will ask you, how old are you? How are you doing? What are your favourite things to do? If you recieve this message, just want to say that hope you are doing well and if you don't wish to message me back then I just want to wish you well in the future :) I do hope to hear back from you, so will add a prepaid reply for you, if you do wish to write me back! 07/14/2019 10:58:20	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, good morning (idk when you'll get this but it's morning here right now So haven't messaged you in a couple months knowing that you have in fact been getting a ton of messages from strangers. It must be weird to have so many people know you so well, yet you have no idea who we all are. Regardless, know your birthday is coming up, and I'd like to get something for you, or maybe send some cash for commissary, or from what think understand is has a nest egg account she has set up for you. You tell me what I can do. All ask for in return is to hear a few of your jokes. Rumor has it you have quite the sense of humor. I've had it with all the bullshit from the haters you have in that group run by "NC". refuse to even acknowledge her name. So anyways, let me know what I can do for you. I'd like to do something. And if you don't get to this before your birthday I'll a -) Wow goodie: wasn't expecting you or anyone to be supportive of my choice to break away from By Proxy and I can probably see that you understand why I did. its been 4 years and my story has been told by every media source available to the public. 2 doc films, multiple specials, 1 cheesy lifetime movie and countless articles. lam tired. the sad part is this is not the first time have voiced my wishes..i have been I'm done for over a year, and though I love her and do know she has only the best in mind for me, unfortunately think tha isa unhelpful guidance are nearly in all interviews together, and they do them against my wishes or they don't tell me at all. have been preaching for us to fade away for a long time, its not normal that even in here people want my autograph.. and personally hate it, because I'm not a celebrity, nor do want to be. its very lonely and isolating being well known, because everyone either hates you or wants to be you. and you never know who is your real friend or who just is there for the recognition. The first Yr after the murder, was set on going to live with my father nothing seemed wrong with that, it seemed like a place that could finally be free. then as the years passed was always doing some new interview, was always in the FB drama, and my father began to feel differently about his marriage with her, and in 2017 he expressed his concerns to me that he was considering a divorce. he told me it was for many reasons why he was thinking about it. My world just felt rocked. thinking about these are 2 people have opened my heart to and will be going home with and that could be ruined. started turning to other options to cope, i was headed down a dark place. wrote me and his friendship brought me out of that dark place. dad decided to stay with her, but that level of openness with my dad brought him and i closer together. now he has had problems with messaging women behind back, he told me about this one lady, who actually jpay email, lol..shes known as the cookie lady lol she's sweet for real. she started as a supporter, well dad and her really hit it off good and he was even planning to move to Canada to be with her!! yeah OMFG right?...well they decided to call off the long distance affair. now dad only skypes naked in the shower with other chicks lol (slaps forehead) yeah TML. anyway now I'm not so wrecked if dad andl don't stay together because now I'm gonna be home planning wit and that leads me to my point, I'll be living my own life with someone who doesn't use me for fame, money or attention, and that is all want. don't mind working a mundane job.. heck get paid .2¢ a day here in prison, minimum wage looks like a million lol often get grouped in with the By Proxy team because back in the day, supported it, now that see what fame and attention has done to our family... its heartbreaking, and I'm ready to set things right. even if that makes me an outcast. are trying to force me to write an email backtracking on everything said when being honest about how feel,.. won't. I will not be nor will to me, they are just the same so let them be at war..I'm out!, duces mother f* I will not anymore, she is leader of her drama club, is leader of her own drama squad, sadly my stepmother is one of her members. :(is trying to get my court records, so be it, never participated in the physical murder, hid in the bathroom, no where will it say, "Gypsy stabbed Dee Dee." so she's SOL for trying to prove "innocence" if that's why she's trying to obtain court documents. and also never was pregnant and had an abortion, uhh little unknown never could get it up, sooo he never climaxed,..neither did (sad trumpet sound) so embarrassing. :-P so me getting prego is far fetched.	page 356

07/15/2019 02:02:21	Inbound	Hi Gypsy It's been a long time. haven't been able to write you nor spend much time on facebook to educate people about MBP. MBP is such a twisted mind F*, who can blame them for not 'getting' it. It's not your typical everyday abuse. Anyway, a couple days after wrote you and outed the local pd for aiding and abetting the MBP here to keep me prisoner in this city through constant physical debilitating attacks, forced poverty, social alienation, etc. my apt 'suddenly' became afflicted with intense, life-threatening, off-the-chart electrical radiation. An acquaintance met at church (did mention churches are so duped by MBP here that they are 2nd worst -after the pd- about spreading MBPs lies and hatred for me so they keep throwing me out? I have to attend online churches!) Anyway, that acquaintance thinks my apt is under attack by military grade electrical weapons used by the pd to punish me for narking them out and to shut me up permanently with a convenient stroke. don't know about all that, but what do know is that the radiation is not natural, is measurable (over 1500 - 3 and less is 'normal'), electrical 'experts' are playing dumb and avoiding the situation, the local pd has been punishing me for 30 years for escaping MBP back then and trying to force me to go back to her. . . (and get trapped behind closed doors with her after all she's capable of doing comfortably to me publicly. . . are they F*ing nuts???) Oh yeah, also know the 30 yr campaign of hate and hysterical fear the pd whipped up against me as a favor to MBP destroyed my university professor soulmate who saved my life - destroyed his career, his health, kept me here so we never in 20+ yrs got to live near each other, and eventually culminated in a violent physical attack that caused him to stroke after which he later died. . . and they're still not done playing cat and mouse with me. I'm not telling you this for sympathy. do want you to understand that there was no other way for you to survive than what you did. Your lawyer screwed you. You needed an advocate to help you understand and speak for you. Why? Because children normally take on way too much responsibility for the crap that happens around them and to them and they will continue to feel guilt and blame and that the situation was normal and acceptable in the eyes of society, unless another adult sits them down, looks them in the eye and enlightens them that 'yes, what was done to you was WRONG and needed to People in their 50s, 60s often go to therapists bc they still haven't come to the realization that they were innocent, not responsible and to work through the guilt, shame, and blame. Your lawyer didn't save you, the doctors did nothing, the police did nothing. . . Here's a harsh question I've been meditating on here: With all these supporters of MBP even though I'm over 50 years old, highly selfeducated/motivated, never committed a crime, ordained minister, etc., why does everybody still support MBP crushing me and everything love down?? Wait for it: I seriously wonder how many people, especially MBPs sicko family and the shrink (official police psychologist) she hired to dog me to this day, how many have life insurance policies on me. They can't be so stupid as to do all this for FREE for so long, can they?? (In the other MBP situations I've witnessed firsthand, there were significant financial benefits awarded). That's all for today. The radiation from the electrical lines (radiation source) causes electronic devices to turn into amplifiers of the damaging rays so can't stay on long. Keep praying, kiddo, and I'll do the same and it'll be just like we're 2 or 3 gathered in His name. Peace.	page 444
07/15/2019 06:31:21	Outbound	Just checking on ya after the episode of Killer Couples aired, his interview makes me sick to my stomach. its crazy how back then thought I was so in love with him, but if you ask me what I loved, couldn't tell you one thing about him that loved. His words and feelings truly believe were all fake because he said them to other girls before me, to me, and after me. he has no real genuine feelings for anyone. watching that just made me want to puke and wash my body knowing let him touch me. He raped me after the murder, didn't want to have sex but he forced himself on me and to this day, that pain goes unjustified because he claims it was consensual. at first didn't fight him but when I said stop your hurting me, and he didn't, that was rape. He never took accountability for that. he is a discussing psychopath.	page 523
07/15/2019 16:43:13	Inbound	Hey Gypsy... i am sending a few more papers for you to sign. i hope that i didnt upset u with my last email. Let me know if there is anything i can do for you. Hugs! Ms. Gypsy... want you to know something. am on your side and i want you to know that would never do anything to put you and your family in harms way. want you to feel like you can reach out to me and I will listen and protect you and your family. First thing want to ask is ... Is it true you are planning on getting married while you are in prison? If this is true can you please explain why you would choose to do this now, before you get out of prison bc if you only realize what you are missing out on. Planning a wedding is stressful but so much fun. You will miss out on wearing the beautiful wedding dress and taking the one thing your dad has left... walking you down the isle with your entire family, friends, and his family and friends present. The one fairy tale that is really a reality, the first time you say Do to each other. You were never shown what a real wedding is like. This is my opinion and no one else. put myself is your dad and shoes. They too still are healing for all this trauma involving your mom. Its just my opinion that they are afraid of losing you again. want you to know that is not a good person. have chosen to not participate in her drama bc she has said some really mean and hurtful things about you as well as defamed me as a professional and a person on social media. She is not good for you. As for a you cant see the outside world as we do. My opinion is that she does defend you in many many aspects of social media that you dont even know. She does have a rough demeanor at times but strongly believe she has your family's best interest. If she were doing this project for fortune and fame she would do like Dean, and turn her back and do another series like The Act. The Act was such a poor dramatization of the true story. The By Proxy series is not that way at all, we are researching your medical history, mom's medical history, munchusen-by-proxy, milingering, as well as (autism, bdsm, dissociative identity disorder). We are trying to find where things went wrong with your mom. Your mom was struggling and spiraling out of control. You might ask how do know that, well... had first hand knowledge of how your mom manipulated people, bc before you and your dad came into her life was the one she was trying to destroy bc i wouldnt allow her to manipulate me and Ms. Suzette anymore. Please dont take this the wrong way bc i had a lot of good and fun times with your mom as we were friends for a very long time, but the way she treated me in the end was very cruel. My hope is one day to can sit with you and share my story with you. know this email is long but it is from my heart Gypsy. will do everything in my power to keep the project in a way that will depict the truth. My name and research will never be a part of anything that is not the truth. hope that you see that i genuinely have you, your family, and everyone involved best interest in my heart. Please let me know what you think and hope you know you can trust me. Gypsy... First of all, ou share that email with you have no clue how this woman has been degrading you and your entire family. This woman has a long history of scamming people but you cant see that bc you are in prison. Recently she is trying to obtain your entire files from the trial and stuff to post on the internet. She wants to get the crime scene photos as well. Do you want pictures of your mom's body all over the internet bc thats what she wants to do. Gypsy, Please trust me that this woman is not a good influence and this is from direct experience have had with her. have attempted on several occasions to go into her chats and lives and all she does is say horrible things about the entire by proxy team but most of all she has been all in while wanting to destroy you and your family. PLEASE UNDERSTAND HAVE YOUR BEST INTEREST AND BEFRIENDING THIS WOMAN IS ABSOLUTELY you understand where am coming from and respect me as a person and reconsider being involved with her. You dont have to like and its ok to be upset and angry with her but to do this is just hurting alot of people who love and care about you. love and care about you today and everyday forever!! Hugs.	page 571

07/15/2019 12:45:31	Inbound	Hello Gypsy, :) My name i lam a musician, fine art reproductionist and business owner here in Austin, TX. saw and read about your story recently and felt compelled to write to you and show you some sort of support. have already signed the petition to (hopefully) help convince the Missouri judicial system to you give you an early release (my fingers are crossed for you). ... Truly, to think that you are having to suffer anymore than you already have, is saddening to me. I do believe going to jail/prison for what happened was inevitable (as you needed to truly know and understand that what happened was wrong, which believe you DO understand now), but ten years, in your situation, is a much in my opinion (the same thing could have been accomplished in five to seven years, think). understand you feel more free now than you did living with your mother, but wholeheartedly believe you deserve to begin your actual free life sooner than later, so do hope they decide to let you out a little early. If they don't, just know that there are people, like myself, who are willing to help when you are finally free. So don't stress. It will be sooner than later, no matter what. And we're not going anywhere! :) Also, wanted to let you know that there are truly good people in this world. People who are more than willing to help you live the beautiful, healthy and positive life you were meant to live to begin with. ...Morally sound and loving people who support you living a TRULY free and positive life. personally don't have a TON of money (it's hard being an independent musician. Haha!). But what can do, without a doubt, is can be a true and honest friend to you (if you like, and/or are interested). And maybe, once you're out and about, we can become even closer friends, since you'll be completely free to do so. No pressure!) But yeah, want to offer up a listening and supportive ear. will be prepaying for your replies if you feel like responding and/or talking; though, you do not have to if you don't feel like it. wont take any offense if you don't want to talk; though, really hope to hear from you, and hope we can get to know each other on a close, friendly basis.) ... You deserve some honest and good friends! Lastly, truly hope you're doing better with each passing day! You deserve to be healthy and happy! hope to hear back from you, Gypsy!) Have a beautiful day, and maybe I'll catch up with you very soon!) ps. if you do end up wanting to respond and start a conversation, please feel free to ask me anything about myself. I'm an open book. :)	page 677

I'm doing alright, its been relaxing not having the NC drama in my life, well if its there just don't hear about it, and like it that way. so cut my hair last month, its like 6" shorter, next year I'm planning to go dark blonde. :) I'm having a fun time changing my looks while in here. :) I did watch my Killer Couples episode on OxyGen network. every time something new comes out, have to relive it all over again and hate it. even worse everyone has cable in here so, 2,000 women watched it and has their own way of spinning it, needless to say, feel like an outsider and judged even by other murders, often feel alone and excluded. my only comfort is talking with friends and family on the phone. but starting on the 21st the prison is placing a phone time limit, 1 phone call for 15 minuts every 1 hour. keep in mind, right now, we never had a amount of time we could spend on the phone, we could chat all day if we wanted, but soon that will change. :(lam doing my best to stay positive in this environment but some days its hard. anyways Im glad you wrote me again:-) have a lovely day	page 356

07/16/2019 22:21:13	Inbound	Gypsy Rose Blanchard Plans to Wed Her Fiancé in January — but Her Family Has Concerns Though Gypsy Rose Blanchard was initially hesitant to go public with her relationship with her new fiancé she's ready to take the next step in their relationship. According to family friend and By Proxy write she's actually started planning her wedding. Unfortunately, it won't be much of a ceremony, because Gypsy, 27, and J 26, are planning to tie the knot behind bars — and the family has some serious concerns. Though has been publicly supportive of the couple in the past, she admits now that she's worried that they aren't making the right decision, explaining that Gypsy's dad and step-mom have voiced similar objections. planning to get married in January in told In Touch. all voiced our concerns to both Gypsy including and It's not that they don't support them getting married or their relationship or any of those things. What they don't support is this shotgun of a wedding, and they don't understand why. There is nothing that changes [their situation] by them getting married in prison." Explaining that Gypsy be allowed conjugal visits with her soon-to-be husband J spelled out that, even if they are legally married, there are no benefits offered to them within the prison system. "It's not like she gets extra phone calls or more visits or longer visits or private visits, nothing. Literally no things change by them doing this other than it solidifies that she now comes out when she is a wife." Walking down the aisle behind bars — assuming there is some kind of an aisle — also robs Gypsy of her opportunity to have a real wedding, says the writer. The family worries that the 27-year-old realize what she's missing out on until it's too late. "Her mother ripped from her every single life moment that a girl would said. Gypsy never had the opportunity to go on a date or dress up for a school dance or feel the anticipation that comes before a first kiss (that is, outside of her encounter with in a bathroom at the movies). "She's never had [those moments]," said. "She won't [get it] until maybe [Blanchard] is getting married." The family worries that once she sees her little sister going dress shopping with or dancing with it'll click — but the opportunity will have already passed her by. Though the couple might plan to have a second wedding later has shared her concerns with them that life often gets in the way — and things don't always go according to plan. " answer to me was, 'I've discussed this with [Gypsy] and it's our decision that we've made together, the By Proxy creator said. "His answer is always, talked about it. This is our decision.' And Gypsy ... She hears what [everyone is] saying, but think she's really got this kind of thought process in her head right now that going to tell me what to do,' because somebody told her what to do for so long you know, they addressed it with her. They told her how they felt. They how they felt. And then it came down to, doing it anyway.	page 635

I'm really disappointed with this resent In Touch article. that was ucalled for, that was extra drama that you have created. is upset, I'm upset, my parents are upset with you and this article. may ask what was the point of doing that article? what was the importance? that to ME seemed like a personal attack on my relationship and feel very disrespected and hurt. have cussed you out before for speaking on things you shouldn't, and this is not a step closer to gaining my trust, but you have just sealed my opinion about you. I don't trust you and never will. Keep me and my husband's name out of your mouth. you forget, IM the one the media wants the interviews with, its MY name who's coat tails your riding on, Im a lose canon and don't think you wanna start a media war with me. your no friend to me, agree with everything tha said about YOU. don't agree with her abou as you are just a bug in her ear, and she's a kind good hearted woman who wants the best for me and YOU take advantage of her kindness by misguiding her. you are a nobody trying to make a career off MY tragic life. 07/17/2019 15:19:50	Inbound	Hey girl, was gonna ask you the same thing and if you got to watch it. He is an absolute jerk. So he is working wit now. They have a smear campaign against me. I hate her she has called cps on me has had the cops come to my house. She is so evil has her posting shit about you saying you told u were prego and lost the baby that your Mickey Button was pressing on your ovary and you had to get it removed and that it was a girl. Idk if that is true or not but they are posting it all over fb. He also shared that i lost a baby to last year. S is claiming that i was pregnant while dating him which is a lie. lost my baby before spoke with He makes my skin crawl. was thinking about you the whole time watching his stupid interview and he was like a dad to me and turned and is working fat cunt ass. hate her with a passion. S told me i had to be ok with him Raping me if he got out and hurting me too and if ik what's good for me i would fight back bc for his enjoyment. He isn't this poor little autistic boy that these people are making him out to be He is cruel and calculated ya know. was more pissed at myself for falling for his bullshit watching that then anything. Like feel dumb and ashamed. to like you just want a man to love me for me. Don't want to be changed or conformed. lam a pretty smart sexy and good fucking person i love to hard ya know I'll love my other half with every fiber of my being and still get robbed of that back. want to get married and have a dog to mine would be a blood hound named Wilbur. want a bestie girl friend where we can go out for drinks or talk about our husbands lol a work out buddy and just someone can tell my secrets to and not be judged or taken advantage of. Girls can be so mean and caddy but still search for an ultimate bff. Anyway ik I'll find the right guy. always wanted to live in Louisiana it's my favorite state. I've been there once and fell in love with it. so want to go to Cutoffi just accent. Maybe by the time you get out we will become close and have a bff kinda bond lol. mean we have been through so much of the same shit and no one will ever know how that was for us mean we both had shitty mom's that abused us and we both date a psychopath and we feel the same way bou and we have the same wants and desires in life. Just honestly want to help women that fall trap to these kind of men lik want to make sure he doesn't get out b.c he told me he would find me and make my life a living hell and kill me more the likely bc Nickoli has yelled at me and told me he wants to kill again. mean he made that clear in Oxygen. Well lovie thank you for checking in on me and i wanted to do the same. do care about you and it kinda weird how we where brought together but do think there is a reason. So keep your head up lovie and stay strong. Just know am routing for you. your big sis honestly hope your doing ok and just are not in the mood to write me because i know some times for me i just didn't feel like talking or writing anyone. Its like people do not fucking get how damn stressful it is to be in prison. People honestly think you sit around and do nothing. Well usal on the weekends you get to sit around and do nothing unless your a cook and for fucks sake that's what you do 7 days a week. So idk if that is the reason but yeah i have gotten like that sometimes then people are like wtf why cant you write me back its not like you do anything lmao. When i was incarcerated i was going to college there and working also and taking every fucking class they offered bc Parole really takes that into consideration in N.J and also i really wanted that to be the only time i ever went to prison. knew it was not that bad so in my brain it was do able soi first and for most i wanted to change my thinking behaviors. honestly don't know what they offer where you are at but if i where you i would take every thing they could possibly offer you. It does help with Parole but i think you are a 85% so in all actuality your up for parole they cant take your date from you. So have been doing good. want you to know Gypsy that i know we don't know each other know each other but honestly i have a big heart and just care for people i am such an empath. kinda think of you as my little sis. So how is everything going in there? What are your date nights been? I honestly think that is the cutest fucking idea ever like i said i had something like them too. How is it going in your behind the walls life. know sometimes being locked up with women can be so very fucking annoying bc they complain about the stupidest shit lol. Like really girls i used to say would you really be fighting about this dumb crap on the street and 99% of them say absolutely not lol so why do it now i would tell them its like your own little community when your behind bars when you really think about it its the like a mini town. So i saw that you sent shit t know what i am about to tell you is not gonna reach you be you dont know me and i doubt you really value my opinion but bc VALUE YOURS am gonna really out my thoughts and care for you Well first and foremost i think its very very important that you know who she is and what she is about. So from now on is this loud mouth hateful scamming lazy person who is trying to make we will call he! money off any type of murder case in the U,S So recently i found out that she is trying to get all the things about the case which include discovery autopsy videos texts computer searches and conversations medical records. She is doing this because she hates your family so much that she wants mostly the autopsy photos to post them in a group who PAYS her to get in and she said she will DISPLAY the autopsy photos so everyone can see them and she is still doing it as we speak. Gypsy i truly believe you love your mother and still do and miss her very much but is that what you really want for your mother? To be remember in that way she will be naked and and shown every inch of her body if that is not a fucking sick thing to do to someone Gypsy i don't know what else is. Then to charge money for it is mind blowing. She has a grand total of $807.93 that these sick twisted fucks sent her to help get them. She is scamming them saying its .50 cents a page when its only .10 which is crazy that people are falling for it. Ik why you choose her and it was bc it arch enemy i got it and it might have sounded like a great idea in the beginning but what its doing to the team to you to is really mean and hurtful. know you have problems with and that is not my business and i know you want to just fade away and out of the spot light Gypsy but she really did not say anything mean abo! in the In touch weekly. didn't think so anyway. want you to understand that things are taken out of context and her statement in the first place that was brought on by all this was just that it was taken out of context. honestly hope people are telling you the truth about what is out in the media your in it honestly every single day. N not b hand by all the others social media outlets when your this high profile sweetie there is no running away from this or just slippin into the back ya know Hey Ik you don't know me but probably heard about me. used to b best friend. just wanted to apologize to you	page 522

07/17/2019 00:52:07	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, know you must be getting tons of emails and letters daily so I'll try to keep it short. not here to talk to you about your past because be real, that's all you've been doing for years now. just wanted to reach out and say yes lam a supporter but also understand you. When heard your story, it just resonated with me. too was horrifically abused by my parents and ended up in foster care when was 11, but I still got abused. Now I'm 23 and finally moved out last year after my 22nd birthday. know you might think of me as some young girl who just wants to talk to someone who is all over the news, but I'm not. can imagine that it's very hard to make new friends who interested in just listening to your story. just want to be a friend, or a pen pal or whatever you want to call it. just really look up to you Gypsy and you inspire me a lot. I think it's so amazing that you are getting an education and trying to better yourself for when you are released. A few years after you're released, I'm sure things will settle down and you won't be bombarded as much. But I'll still support you and wish the best for you. Okay I'm sorry lol tried really hard to keep it short but guess I need a friend too. Who understands the ugly part of life but also who just could use an extra friend? Lol if I'm being totally creepy you don't have to even respond. have no idea where this is going but wanted to reach out and at least offer a friendship, even if you don't want it haha. But after all that, how are you doing? What are your classes that you're taking? heard you are in some sort of an "honor" wing think it's called? For having good behavior but I could be wrong lol rumors are just rumors after all. But what's your day to day life like? You seem so busy with all your classes and therapy and stuff. Honestly applaud you for taking classes. leff college a few years ago because it just wasn't working for me haha. I'm so happy you are free from the pain you were put through. Again I'm sorry this is so long lol. I've been just thinking about what to say and how to say it because I'm sure you're sick of just answering the same questions about your story and your mom and all those things. I guess kind of just word vomited all over this email lol. If you get the chance, look forward to hearing back from you. If not, just know that despite your hardships, still look up to you and think a pretty incredible human being. Plus heard from someone in a support group on Facebook for you that you are just the sweetest and funny and kind. hope my messy email makes you realize how important you are to some people even if some days you feel unnoticed. Anyways, thanks for listening to me ramble and really hope that we can continue to chat but that's entirely up to you. will send stamps or money or however this works so that you can reply. That is just me, do not believe the world needs to know all your business. want you to feel safe in building a friendship with me as a Spiritual Advisor. What send you money wise, is because want to. My Prayer group and church prays for you. But what we share, is for us. hope you are doing well and got my other emails and deposit. Plus the pics send. Your a Precious Child in God's eyes. am not an expert on prayer. Just a woman who prays for those God places in my heart. Here is a little poem that made me think of you. There were times when wondered if I would make it to day, but I did. And because I did, am going to celebrate. will remember that even in the most of hardships, they have made me stronger. will go through this day with my head held high and a happy heart. will marvel at God's seemingly simple gifts. Today none of these gifts will escape my notice. Today is the day quit worrying about what I don't have and start being grateful for all the wonderful gifts God is blessing me with. will remember that to worry is just a waste of time because my faith in God and His Divine Plan ensures everything will be just fine. As this day ends and lay my head down to sleep. will Thank The Almighty for the best day of my life. will sleep the sleep of a contented child, excited with expectation, because know tomorrow is going to be the best day of my life, ever! Gypsy, you are young, strong and smart. Let the yesterdays go and look at life as if THE BEST IS YET TO COME ! Anyways, hope you will write back. So that is actual money you can use? I'm sending $100 to you as soon as you confirm that for your birthday. would appreciate it if that stays between you and only though. I'm sorry you're having a tough time in there these days. wish there was more I could do to help. Don't let the other women in there get you down. Honestly believe just jealous because you're going to have an amazing life once you're out of there. know it's easy for me to say, but please try to stay positive. Every single minute of every singe day is one step closer to walking out of that place. don't believe you should have ever been there in the first place. As far as a phone call from you I'd absolutely love that. I'll send a second email after this one with my schedule because don't want to be stuck at work when you try to call me. I'll look forward to you jokes and stories. I've never been much of a scripted comic myself, I'm just naturally hilarious on a whim ©. Plus there is a question have for you about By Proxy I'd like to ask you that would translate better talking rather than in text. Your new phone rules suck by the way. Why are they doing that? Just to be assholes? Why do they insist on pissing everyone off?! wasn't aware you had cable in there. Besides watching the shows based on yourself which honestly must be really weird, what else do you watch? I don't have cable myself just use Hulu, Netflix, and an antenna to get anything need to watch. Stay positive Gypsy Rose. send that second email with my schedule, and number here in a minute, and your birthday gif as soon as you confirm for me that money won't be forced to be used as stamps, or just in the app. The app doesn't explain much on this end.	page 360

She's gonna get a wake up call real soon, she does NOT speak for me. nor is my life gonna be controlled by some wanna be script writer who is clearly only a hinder to my life and my family. I'm sorry if seem rude its nothing to do with anyone on this project other she and are never going to mesh well, and that's just the honest truth.	page 571

More than you think you are. I sent a deposit of $50 through here for you. Hope it helps you some. today on FB messenger and told her I had sent it. Not sure how long it takes for you to receive it. I have sent a couple of pics of my cats and I. Did you get them? Last week was a busy week for me. help with Vacation Bible School at my church. had 10 little 6 year olds all week. It was awesome! love helping with the Children's Ministry. never got to go as a child. didn't have a good childhood and was abused up till I was 16, when finally went to live with my Grandma. Long Story, something will tell you about some day. It is part of the reason I do what I do at church. also volunteer as a Spiritual Advisor to teens and young adults that were abused in so many different ways when they were children. I can make a difference in one life, then everything went through as a child is worth it. Anyways, Not wanting to talk about the past. The future is so bright for you. Nothing is out of reach. Just keep your Faith! do want you to know that I am truly here for you. And will help you anyway I can. Just remember, you are a beautiful young lady with a bright future. Don't let anyone tell you any different. would be honored to be here for you now and when you come home. You are loved and there are good people in this world. would love to send you my number and help with your phone time costs if you want to call me? Going to try and do a Videogram for you soon. wish could do a Video Visitation with you. would pay for it, if you would like to do that? Not sure how all that works in Missouri. But we can make it happen if you want? Anyways Gypsy, believe in you more than you know. pray for you daily. Hold your head high. You have nothing to be ashamed of, nothing that is out of reach if God's Grace. So do not be afraid to ask me for anything. If I can, I will help you. know you probably get loads of emails and letters. Just be careful with whom you place your trust in. My wishes could reach out and give you a hug. Always in my prayers ! I will go for now and hope you will email me back and think that I am in your prayers. My danre ara anan ta vou Vaur Hey Gypsy, just so you know. do not get on Facebook or any way and post things we share each other. That is just me, do not believe the world needs to know all your business. want you to feel safe in building a friendship with me as a Spiritual Advisor. What send you money wise, is because want to. My Prayer group and church prays for you. But what we share, is for us. hope you are doing well and got my other emails and deposit. Plus the pics send. Your a Precious Child in God's eyes. am not an expert on prayer. Just a woman who prays for those God places in my heart. Here is a little poem that made me think of you. There were times when I wondered if I would make it to day, but I did. And because I did, am going to celebrate. will remember that even in the most of hardships, they have made me stronger. will go through this day with my head held high and a happy heart. will marvel at God's seemingly simple gifts. Today none of these gifts will escape my notice. Today is the day quit worrying about what I don't have and start being grateful for all the wonderful gifts God is blessing me with. will remember that to worry is just a waste of time because my faith in God and His Divine Plan ensures everything will be just fine. As this day ends and lay my head down to sleep. will Thank The Almighty for the best day of my life. will sleep the sleep of a contented child, excited with expectation, because I know tomorrow is going to be the best day of my life, ever! Gypsy, you are young, strong and smart. Let the yesterdays go and look at life as if THE BEST IS YET TO COME ! Anyways, hope you will write back. If I don't understand. will still think of you as my friend and support you in any way I can. I've been communicating with you on Facebook and he suggested for me to give you a little bit of time to sort through all of your emails and to try again... So this is me, trying again... hope all is well with you and wanted to congratulate you on your engagement as well as your upcoming wedding in January... After all that you have been through, you deserve to be happy... have been following your case since you were first arrested in 2015 and it pains my heart to hear your story and the things that you had to endure because of your mother... myself am a mother of three and no way in the world could ever imagine submitting my children through so many unneeded medical procedures for financial gain or any of the kind of abuse you went through at the hands of your mother... me personally, never had any parents mother or father... was raised by my grandmother and her pedophile boyfriend until he died in 1999... both of my parents were drug addicts and had no intention on having children and then around the age of 6 they both disappeared only to find out years later that my mother passed away in 2000 due to a car crash and then still to this day my biological father has nothing to do with me or any of the other children he created for that matter... anyways hope to hear back from you and look forward to the day that you are finally able to be released to live the life that you wish... hope you have a wonderful day... sincerely,	page 028

I'm pretty direct when I speak & can pick up on bull shitters pretty quickly. was the person that she sent that message speaking negativity about your fiancé to. She thought she was some big shot celebrity that was going to bow down to. She tried to tell me who I could & could not allow in my group. I actually created the group because most groups out here related to your case are one sided or full of themselves thinking they are famous or will become famous off of you. have my personal reasons related to my own mom that had me reach out to you. We all have our own struggles & our own limits. I get it more than you'll know. With that said, will be respectful of you wanting to move forward & live life! If you ever want to share something or get your word across in the groups, feel free to send me that message & I'll share it on your behalf. you're a smart cookie, just beware of people trying to cash in on you. I'm so sorry that you had to go through such harsh treatment with your mother. I'm a part of a couple of groups about the case, but I'm really active in Coopers group. want to tell you that I am proud of you for taking up for yourself. It takes a strong, resilient woman to handle it the way that you did after your husband being bashed by someone you thought that you could trust. You were already trapped for so long - having to pretend that you were something that you were not, and do not personally agree with what they are doing to you and your family. You deserve someone who can make others aware of what you went through, while having your best interest at heart. You are very bright from the messages that have seen thus far. I'm sure that you are getting many messages, but just want you to know that what you did for 2s amazing. have so much more respect for you. Also, congrats on your engagement. Have a blessed one!	page 104

Well was wrong, you're opinion of By Proxy can and was loud and clear. what was going to ask you about if and when you called me] thought that was good at answering questions about your case, and would be good to help with the show. read what I read and was totally shocked to say the least. immediately told her that was out. had the NDA in my hand for the last five days and she asked me a couple times why had not gotten it back to her yet. Well, that is exactly why. If you don't support it then there's ZERO chance I will. get why you went through NC with that email. You wanted to be as loud and clear as you possibly could, holy shit were you ever. hate that you're dealing with so much stress from this, but let me tell you. You are an absolute fucking rockstar for not letting her walk on you. You have completely changed my opinion of her. never waivered from my opinion of what you're doing. You're pushing 30 years old. a fully capable person from everything can see, and have read. If you love that guy then DO IT! guess don't need to tell you that. Again, hate that you're so stressed out, hate that you had to go through NC to get your point across. But you were LOUD and anyone and everyone who either supports you, or doesn't support you heard you. I'm impressed honestly. If anything from what I'm reading in comments you've swung some of those haters in your favor. You showed some real guts in that letter. I'm not team not team NC, I'm team Gypsy. I did write the letter to the governor on your behalf and got an acknowledgment. Definitely keep people writing those letters, and keep up your indomitable spirit! Shia psy Hope you are well. Very sorry to read what has been going on lately. definitely don't want to get involved with doing anything that would hurt your relationship with your parents/family. I am concerned that the person you signed a contract with may not be looking out for your interests. think you need a lawyer of your own to review it and advise how to get out of it. sure you don't have money so if you want to send it to me my husband is a lawyer and will ask him to look it over for free. I'm so sorry because after everything you deserve to have someone in your life that isn't trying to make a buck off of you. To be clear, absolutely are trying to look out for your best interests and they are not trying to make money off you, but unfortunately you may have signed a contract with someone who has a past that suggests she in not necessarily somebody you can trust.	page 496

A lot smarter than people give you credit for. seen through her from the beginning. She's a nobody who has done nothing. She's now saying that you need help and your reaction shows it. She's doing nothing but using you to try to spark a career that's never going to happen. She's not an actress. She's not a producer. She's nobody. cannot for the life of me fathom why you and your family chose her to represent or tell a story. MJ Pack is 1000 times the writer she is and the epitome of professional. Fancy's picture is beside unprofessional in the dictionary. She wrote that in touch article because one of her volunteers sent me SS talking shared them in my group and she did that article to save face. have always posted the truth in my group regardless of who it is about. do not lie. will admit, have respect for you for speaking your truth and agree with everything you said about! She is a backseat bully. She lets and gets others do her dirty work. I'm completely opposite. say exactly what I think publicly and that's why so many including you don't like me. said tonight on my live that you are an adult and should be able to make your own decisions regardless of what ANYONE else thinks. No one should try to influence you or tell you what to do. If it's a mistake, you'll learn. It's your life. also said something directly t As a Mother, I'm infuriated by her taking By Proxy's side. Idc if she has a contract. Her FIRST priority should be to protect you. Not a project that's more than likely never going to see the light of day because the people involved are a bunch of unqualified and unprofessional buffoons. is out for herself which has been made even more evident by her reply to you and the things she's spewing trying to do damage control. She was quick to say, whether you like it or not, you're under contract. Contracts can be broken and you should pursue every avenue available to sever any ties to her immediately. She has done nothing but article after article about you to bring attention to herself my may be a good hearted person but she comes off as a money hungry, attention seeker. Her responses tonight about supporting by proxy instead of you, has infuriated so many people. Myself included. You need an advocate you can trust. is that person, that's great. have nothing bad to say about him. He was polite in my group. His Mother is another story. She didn't speak too fondly of you in the messages she sent to me. So beware of that. Honestly, have no issue either other than how she portrays herself online and in the media. She makes herself look bad and is dragging her down in a sinking ship as well as you. Now using} who is a NUT JOB to story. So doesn't care if pissed. She's got what she needed from you. She's spinning the "exclusive about everywhere. It's sickening. She uses anyone to further her agenda. Did you know that the husband of the "psychological expert" on Fancy's team threatened to rape my children and kill me? It's sickening what these people are doing. They make me out to be some monster that am not. have screen shots of all kinds of has said, as well tonight. am happy to send them to you o You both need to know being said. For the record, I've never said was trying to get your case reopened. absurd. I'm not an attorney twists everything say to fit her agenda. I have no issue owning up to anything I've said. You should already know that. say exactly what I think. I'm opinionated and I'm loud and I'm pretty sure that's another reason you sent that message to me. You knew it would be heard. could have ignored it but as I said, I'm about the truth. It's going to be interesting to see how she continues to back pedal and spin her web of lies to get out of this mess. She's the bully and her treatment of you only affirms it. Yes, iti Coopers group. do want you to know right off the top of this conversation that am neutral in my feelings about this case other than don't think you got the sentence you deserve. You deserved to have a therapy setting so that you could start healing while you ,had to be away. That being said, wish to clarify with you some of the drama that i see in connection to By Proxy and her team. andl I never tried to get your case reopened or get you more time. Many people have asked if it was possible. The answer to that is that you can not get more time for a crime you have already been convicted/plead guilty to. but that is wha is pushing. 2. Anyone and i do mean ANYONE who disagrees or her team is blocked and unable to see content from them. commented asking them if they would respect your wishes when it came to them leaving you alone as i felt they were and are using you. They deleted my post. it stayed for roughly 15 min. someone posted screen shots of you email and fancy on the by proxy page and they were taken down within min. They say they are fair and want to hear t all sides but they are not. now i know this is not your concern but you need to know the 3. They are using a woman named Dawn to belittl truth because they are feeding you did not say in his interview on that show that you aborted a baby girl. That didnt happen. You could tell that he was very passionate about helping you escape your hell. he even said hed do it differently but that hed do it again. He did say that his first thought was to take you and run. wish hed of done that, so that you would be free now. 4. loves you and her heart is in the right place is taking advantage of her. do wish you (if able to) would consider speaking to a lawyer (or your dad o could) and see if it is possible to break that contract with She doesnt have your best intrests at heart despite what she claims. am certain it would be doable. You deserve to have a spokesperson who has you and your situation/needs at heart. Not someone who is looking for fame and recognition. Did you know was blacklisted by SAG(Screen Actors Guild) and it was ordered that she not be worked with? dont have the same experience as you but i am a domestic violence survivor. 07/20/2019 08:05:22	Inbound	Hello again! Good for you for standing up for yourself You are important to yourself You don't need the BS that these people keep throwing at you. You are a grown women and know what you want. It's sad that these people want to control you. You have been controlled your whole life. You are not a child but they are doing the same thing your mom did. am so sorry. I'd like to receive a message back from you. read can send money for you to email back but don't know how this all works since have never used this app before. Hoping hit the right option. want to send my best wishes to you. Keep looking forward and never look back. Good luck. have been debating a while if should send you an email. hadn't because didn't know what to say and sure you get tons of them in one day. Seems like a lot of people are obsessed with you and the case. read about your case a while ago, long before it blew up from the show "The Act". Which btw found absolutely horrible. In my opinion it wasn't like the story read. Just another "money making scheme". Anyways, started to follow some groups about the case. Well thought it would be about the case but it looks like it's just straight up drama. Kind of irritating if you ask me. You already know people are going back and forth right now about how fake the other person is. It's rather sad and pathetic. I've learned years ago that 97% of all people are fake. They don't care about anyone's well being other than themselves. like to keep my distant from them because have been used and emotionally abused repeatedly. feel for you because these people are using you and your story. They all are. don't care what anyone says. It's like a damn circus, and it isn't even funny. You don't know me and don't know you. We are complete strangers. But I felt the need to send you this email. Just know this world is cruel. The people who surround us are cruel. They are conniving individuals who will do anything to watch us fall down. am sorry you are stuck in the middle of this train-wreck when all you are trying to do is serve the rest of your time and move on. Hope my email doesn't upset you because that's not my intentions. Good luck to you Gypsy. Remember to focus on you and your health. It's very important.	page 676

07/21/2019 18:26:02	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, reaching out because after reading your story, my curiosity is peaked. was an abuse victim myself, my mother suffered from narcissistic personality disorder. She was an awful person and along with general abuse both emotional and physical, also used any ailment had to garner attention to herself read that you're doing well in prison, happy for you. Once escaped my mom was homeless for a long time and felt better than ever did under my mother's roof had no plans other than to get and stay away from her. Your escape is plenty different from mine but relate on certain levels. How are you coping with suffering from years of abuse? What kind of therapy programs if any are you a part of? have so many questions. I'm sorry if I'm asking things you're not comfortable with, please if am just tell me and we can keep the conversation more casual. What are your plans for when you get out of the correctional facility? How do you plan to integrate into a normal life? Do they have programs for that? Sometimes feel hopeless that I'll never be normal, but we need to remember healing isn't linear and everyday is a step in the right direction. Anyway, thank you for your time and hope to hear back from you soon.	page 676

07/22/2019 17:58:11	Inbound	Hello Sweet girl! have considered writing you several times just to be of some encouragement. stayed home sick today, so figured I'd reach out. A little about me...my name i lam a mother of 3, I'm 43 and married and live in Orange, Tx. work in a law firm as a legal secretary. am very involved in Church and love making new friendships, fellowship and encouraging others. My hobbies include reading, singing and love to paint. wanted to reach out to encourage you to keep your focus on your future. It will be the greatest gif in your life. You can do and be anything you shoot for. Something about me that want to share with you is that, myself was incarcerated as well as my husband. You are not alone and there are more people than you can imagine that have been to prison and have still been successful in life to overcome that set back. made some of my very best friends while was in prison. You will look back one day and have found memories with women there I'm sure. did struggle to establish a career for myself at first, but because believed in myself, others believed in me too. always gave the best of myself and it didn't go unnoticed. Now work in a criminal law firm! Total favor! My husband and both overcome our past daily, some days are harder than others, people can be but that's what will set you apart from any normal person....you are a fighter and you get back up because you are stronger and you have it in you to overcome any hurdle! Do they offer college classes there for you to attend? Texas prisons did, but don't offer much in crafting like knitting or painting or anything like that. had a friend that was in a prison up north that had Yoga! lol. took cognitive therapy classes too that REALLY helped me overcome some of my fault thinking. Do you go to Church? What do you enjoy doing while you are there? Where do they have you working? Do you like your job? I'll keep this short and hope you reach back out and we can start a friendship. Keep that pretty lil chin up and always guard your heart. Stay positive and be the best Gypsy that you dream to be. God bless you! ea	page 023
07/22/2019 22:31:07	Inbound	Follow up Hey Gypsy, Hope everything is good with you. my long time friends daughter passed away last Tuesday so the wake was this past Saturday. I figured I'd just say what want here, with all had going on was trying to make it a little easier, since feel messages & or texts aren't fully conveying my words or thoughts as I'd like them to. I'm reluctant to say anything, why? because really don't want the drama that can come with it. Here's what wanted to mention & you may or may not know this. Although do NOT care she is only out to have see if your life story places a notch under her belt. isn't any different. she comes off victim to by proxy & that she's 100 percent real. I don't want to insult your intellect by saying the following. because again, you may already know, but feel it would be unfair in the event you didn't. is anti Gypsy & all she speaks often and she currently has raised money to head out to Missouri to meet with someone she claims you spoke with in the past. & to collect the court papers. She collected a thousand bucks if not more for her mission. she believes you only had 3 surgeries that were needed, she is determined to prove you are not a victim. & forgive me for using that word (victim). Someone has to tell you Gypsy. feel everyone is only out to gain off you in some firm or another. don't want anything. you don't even have to write back. honestly just feel like yes you're very smart & I'm sure you're informed of the crap out here. & if were you, would care less about any of it. anyhow, just wanted you to want to become famous by proving the opposite of what By proxy was trying to prove. & is a bullshitter herself. I'm sorry you have all this extra crap after everything else.	page 067
07/22/2019 18:26:48	Outbound	Good morning The Love of My Life, virtual kisses xoxoxo so your about to read this huge email OK?...OK here we go, first, love you. second, want to give you some insight into my thoughts about the drama revolving around me, you, Franchesa and as well as the rest of the bullshit misfits. baby I'm growing overly tired of the weekly drama. I'm not happy in my life, frequently miss my old life and that should speak volumes. have very little patience for people who want to use me or my past to gain fame and attention for themselves and do have the mindset of "ant nobody gonna tell me what to do." however this constant arguing with and the other goons of drama queens, is not only putting me in a bad mood, but feel myself heading into a depression. Saturday is my birthday and have not an ounce of excitement or happiness. The past few weeks have been so stressful found myself cryin more. would love to tell you have a grip on myself but would be lying. Everything is spiraling out of control. everywhere turn is someone saying something untrue about me or is out to use me for a pretty penny. Every day wake up and wonder when will this end? I am making a decision and hoping you and i will be in sync together on this and choose to ignor ALL of it. do not need to communicate wit! nor anyone involved. lov however she relays alot of information don't wanna hear about, like telling me that the Dr Oz show wants to do another segment and would fly them out to New York again, this time taking Dawn Bowker, so she "explain how craz is." something that needs NOO explanation. things like that get under my skin. like bitch,... who are you but someone latching yourself to this story because you plaything of the month...take a number I'm sure your not the ONLY one and only trust me. anyway is family and do call her on a regular, but thats gonna change soon. won't out of my life, but I won't be calling every week either, I'll call every once in awhile to check up on the family. As fo doing interviews and articles,..well she's gonna do what's she's gonna do, however I'll make that bargain with her that if she leaves our relationship out of the public eye, WE will leave her series alone. This story is legendary, and will be talked about for years to come, that is something we need to accept, however you and CAN live a normal life together outside of the hype. how?...by choosing to ignore. I am not doing any more interviews. I am coming home to you in just a few years. honestly from my heart want to live in Austin. New Orleans is nice, however the city itself is below sea level, and in 10-20 years will be under water from climate change, Its not the best to raise a family. Thinking about my future and the future for us as a couple, feel that making the right and true to my heart decisions. having you here by my side physically is the only thing that fills my heart with joy. can not express how lonely it is on a daily. go through the motions here, wake up, go to school, go to work, eat, sleep, and do everything over again the next day. The only happiness have is with you, and even THAT has been under threat. am so protective of you, will take on anyone and fight blindly as fight with my heart. sorry if disappointed you when sent those emails, however Its because love you and no one is gonna talk shit about my bae. can keep a deal, then that won't happen again. So ask you please do not entertain the drama and neither will I. hate that our conversations are mostly about this, that."	page 152

07/22/2019 16:16:15	Inbound	Oh trust me as you've probably seen the reaction message sent you in response to the email you asked NC to post. I'm not too happy wit either. put it right to her "IfGypsy asked you to stop By Proxy, what would you say?" In so many words she told me there was too much time invested at this point to stop. stopped communicating with her all together. Ifthere is any advice can give is to please not have an open line ofcommunication with NC. That woman is trying to become a poor mans Nancy Grace or something. So left the discussion group about By Proxy and equals that to me not giving a shit about you or your family anymore which is far from the truth. put it right to her, told her my only interest is to see Gypsy live her best life possible going forward. And ifcan have any type ofpositive impact on that in any way shape or form then that's what want to do. By Proxy isn't that. Especially ifnot going to support it. Keep your head up Gypsy. Everything will work our in the end!	page 360

Some e-mails ofcourse have been shared around so am going to try to write my first one based off from what have seen, that way it doesn't seem like the same questions repetitively. see you are super close to getting your GED! That is something to be VERY proud of! You will have it before you know it. Are you going to be doing any form ofeducational program after that, or do they offer one? have a friend who, despite the prison not offering one, was able to get into a college program. However, he had to pay out ofpocket and the books came to his facility for him. Taking pictures am sure is a lot of fun, and is something you can do even upon release ifyou enjoy it like that. It is beautiful that you have found love despite your situation. Love can be found in situations people don't find common, met my fiancé, who has passed away, while he was away YEARS ago! In my opinion, it gives a whole different dynamic to the relationship because you can build a foundation off from correspondence rather than superficial things. Iam also glad to hear that you are building with your family and working on improving your selfby working on mental health from everything you endured. A healthy mind and body go hand in hand, which you are trying to obtain both. This will help you a lot upon release, as it is definitely an adjustment. You have a strong support system and are thriving in there, so am sure you will thrive on the outside too. Monday through Friday. and you can reach me anytime on the weekends. In fact this Friday will be my off day, so I will be free all day. (July 26th) wish you could see my response t it was a private one, between her & I. She really thinks she is some big time soon to be celebrity. I told her the complete opposite, more like brought her back to reality.	page 061
07/23/2019 15:12:04	Outbound	I just received the other email, wow...thank you for telling me. no won't be talking anymore. made my points clear and now hope she can respect that. couldn't allow a Hippocratic too big for her britches "TV scrip writer" speak for my parents or for me. myself talked with my dad on the realest shit, he has confided in me many things that should NEVER go public, therefore we have total trust, and asked him how he feels about he said "boo, I really do like him. feel y'all love each other and y'all have trust. Im happy he makes you happy." then he proceeded to make some dumb joke about his future grand babies not being Dallas cowboys fans lol loves the cowboys but all Cajuns from LA are Saints fans lol so my poin just wants her roll in th family's lives to be so big and wonderful, but she has been nothing but a hinder. so when the screenshots were known to me and so on...she was busted. so thank you for exposing a snake in the grass. it gave me the strength to stand up for myself and my family. I will keep your offer in mind. :-) though it will be drama free :-)	page 061

I'm glad you have that relationship with your dad. is just reaching to far. unfortunately she was definitely not the best spokeswoman for anyone! But the good news is you & your family now know better. I'm sure you excited to get out & move on with living life! I'll share with you something with you. mention she doesn't understand why you would want to marry in prison. get it. My fiance is locked up. & will be getting out, believe the same year as you. However we are getting married next year. Why? because we want to! We're going to be together. Why wait?!. My fiance wants us to be settled in so to speak (in our marriage) & agree. We will be picking out new furniture together as his time to come home approaches. I'm excited! Time will fly for both of you. You made it through the hard part already. Welb. I'll leave the rest of our convo for when you call. :-)	page 065

07/23/2019 13:30:32	Inbound	Yes you did open a big old can of worms. You need to make a statement in an email that you're sorry for what you've done because is taking this to everyone who wants to read this. This will cause us to do MAJOR DAMAGE CONTROL. So that means will have to do interviews for several media outlets.	page 301
07/23/2019 15:12:05	Outbound	Thank you M: its so nice to know that have good friends who will stick by my side, even if it goes against the grain of what others want. didn't mean to be so rude with my feelings, but my mother has been passed on for 4 yrs, let that woman be at peace for Christ sake. she has been made the villain enough, and another TV show is another thing my moms sisters and brothers have to endure. understand what did was wrong, understand what she did was wrong but its time to heal from the past and unfortunately there are some who think of the story is just that...a story, this really happened this really was my life and don't want it "going Hollywood" nor do I want pushing me into the spotlight to make money off of. so did go f on her. thank you for listening :-) many hugs to one of my real friends :-)	page 496

07/23/2019 14:21:37	Inbound	Gypsy, have no idea of you will respond to my messages or not but hope you read them at least has continued to state that your mental capacity is what's causing you to lash out and she said you will apologize to her again because this is what you do because of your mentality. She's also stated that any money you might have received will now be guarded more closely b and By Proxy to make sur doesn't have access or you don't use it frivolously. She tried to give you marriage and relationship advice when on live the other night her husband was screaming at her to shut up because he was sick of this life they have had for 2 years. She then made a public post and accused me of making fun of mental conditions and said her husband was bi polar and abusive. She spins everything anyone says to fit her own narrative. She said that you just lash out like a child whose family doesn't agree with your boyfriend choice because that's all you know how to do. Then she says she's only concerned and you don't know how to respond to people actually caring about also made several statements about you and being mad that you chose to send the emails to me. One thing want to make very clear. ever tried to sway anything one way or another. I've NEVER tried to get your case reopened. What an asinine statement. run a FB group. I'm not an attorney. just love True Crime and want the truth. Whatever that may be and whoever that may paint in a bad just did another article yesterday about you loving Joey who played you in the Act. Every day it seems shes done another article. Anything to keep making herself relevant. will continue to post YOUR truth because that's what do. Speak the truth. Whether people like it or not. I've never posted lies. Only info that my group members have found that's found to be factual. Anything that have mentioned here thats been said b have screen shots to prove. have my own opinions about the case but this has nothing to do with that. support you 100% in the fact that you are an adult and should be left alone to make your own choices. hope you see that. Even though assume your reasoning behind sending the messages to me were to get it out more, appreciate you choosing me. am an advocate in this and will share any there loudly and to aggravat information that you choose to send. do not lik have seen right through her from the start. But this got personal when one of her team members threatened to rape my children. I'm FIERCELY protective of my girls. They have nothing to do with me running a FB group about this case. hope to hear back from you and anything that you send that you don't want shared, give you my word to respect your privacy. honor my word. Anyone in my group can vouch for that. Honestly,	page 510

But felt like should write to you and see how you are, see if you need a friend who understands, if you ever just want your mind to wonder to England just send me a message. my husband is currently in prison over here and our relationship is struggling due to lack of contact but we don't have anything like Jpay over here! hope one day they do because I'm sick of waiting for post. live in a bungalow in the north east of England and we are currently in the middle of a heatwave so I'm very warm and uncomfortable. know you love animals, have 4 dogs, 15 cats and a rabbit. we have puppies and kittens due soon! so I'm very excited. know there is a petition for you to be released. bring British my voice won't be worth anything. But support you from afar and hope that someone will try and understand the way your brain works in this situation. I'd be fighting for you if were in America. you deserve to have your first chance at normality in your life and the longer your in their they are stunting your mental recovery. saw you got engaged recently! congratulations! anyway it's 7:42pm here. 07/23/2019 22:55:04	Outbound	Hello Beautiful Girl!! (Women) I am writing this message just to tell you that you are one lucky girl which I'm sure you already know your future husband has your back so much and he has gained an entire new fan base in all of us to follow these crazy Facebook groups not only has he told everyone to basically leave you alone and less they want to support you but he let the world know just how you are being manipulated and used for financial gain by this group of ugly ugly souls at by a proxy!!! Is MY HERO!!! As someone who is only followed the story obviously in the media always felt there was more to it and I've always wanted to just give you a big giant hug and tell you that everything was going to be OK !! But know now myself and a lot of us can all rest assured knowing that you not only will be taking care of you will always be protected by your future husband, this same group of crazy women if can even call them that have now started an entire campaign to make you look like you were incompetent and that is the reason and just want to let you know that none of us believe that for one second!!!! do worry that they are going to try and do something else to you and hopefully all of this banter back-and-forth on the Internet being as how it's so easily accessible will put an end to their constant pull on you and your life! It is after all your life and can't wait to read the story from you that you have been released and you and are living happily ever after away from all of these crazy people!!! They have even stated a campaign against now with a drug addict as their source in my opinion just to take the spotlight away from what everyone knows they are doing to you, and that is not right either have always said you guys are both going through enough without all of the added commentary from people who do not know the whole story and will never know the whole story because it's none of our business and but it's none of our business wish you nothing but love and happiness in your future sweet girl and you hold onto that kid he is a keeper but like said you already know that © Love and Lift sending many hugs :-) Gvo	page 678

I'm a big fan of The Walking Dead. went to my very first convention in March this year where met actors and actresses from the TV series was an amazing experience. know you wasn't apart of the scam your mum did. What she put you through was horrible. know you also love your mum and thought having her killed was your only way out. just wish you had made a very different decision that didn't involve her being killed but then again she could of ended up killing you. I think you look so beautiful with your long hair and you look so much healthier too. It's just a shame prison did this for you. really do hope when you get out that you have a really good life. You made a stupid mistake that your paying for at the moment. know your getting lots of attention at the moment and it must be driving you crazy. will go now and leave you alone. will keep praying you get early release. just wanted you to know that believe your a good person.	page 682

That is something to be VERY proud of! You will have it before you know it. Are you going to be doing any form of educational program after that, or do they offer one? have a friend who, despite the prison not offering one, was able to get into a college program. However, he had to pay out of pocket and the books came to his facility for him. Taking pictures am sure is a lot of fun, and is something you can do even upon release if you enjoy it like that. It is beautiful that you have found love despite your situation. Love can be found in situations people don't find common, met my fiancé, who has passed away, while he was away YEARS ago! In my opinion, it gives a whole different dynamic to the relationship because you can build a foundation off from correspondence rather than superficial things. I am also glad to hear that you are building with your family and working on improving your self by working on mental health from everything you endured. A healthy mind and body go hand in hand, which you are trying to obtain both. This will help you a lot upon release, as it is definitely an adjustment. You have a strong support system and are thriving in there, so am sure you will thrive on the outside too. My fiancé use to like when would send him positive uplifting words or scriptures. am not sure if that would interest you, but am a firm believer in the more positive things you feed your mind and soul with the better it is for you as what you surround yourself with helps you become who you are. Anyways, am rambling. Hope to hear from you. Have a blessed day. hope that this reaches you well, know that you are bombarded with messages and going through a lot right now with everything going on wit! as well as your upcoming marriage. know that you will probably ignore this and know that you don't need any more stress but want you to is lying to you about He didn't talk bad about you on the oxygen special, he never has, he actually wishes you nothing but love and happiness wit! He doesn't want to bother you or hinder you. He doesn't want to see anyone talk badly about you, honestly. He just wants to focus on his appeal and for you to be as happy as you can be in this life. believ tries to manipulate you to paint the picture she wants society to see you as, poor innocent Gypsy who cannot think for herself has mental health problems, and needs the world to see her in a certain light and believe your letters t are proving that. She has shed a very bad light on you and your family whether she realizes it or not, which I think she does. Please, do not misconstrue what am saying, as am not saying that you have not been victimised in your life time nor am saying that you have not had a hard life. believe that you went through a lot of things and it is frustrating to hear and see that you are STILL going through them at the hands of However do not think it is right that she is being so horrible about and lying on him so much. If she wants to advocate for MPB by sharing your story, don't think she needs to belittle in the process or lie to you nor should she speak on your personal relationships or on your behalf without your consent. am not trying to stir any trouble, and you can feel however you want to but it's really sad that to bring light to your situation and raise awareness they have to degrade him and lie to you about him to further their agenda. wish for your nothing but the best in life and upcoming marriage. Thank you for your time, you for voicing that myself don't anymore he and parted on good terms and wish him no ill will. other ppl just cant let shit go. hope this drama ends soon.	page 005
07/24/2019 18:01:52	Inbound	Hi Gypsy- hope that the drama ends soon as well, to be honest it is so frustrating. voiced my concern about this in a group as well as it is so easy for people to feed into it and not take into consideration that we have two lives directly involved in this and then the lives of their loved ones that are all affected by the drama and the things said and seen and to be honest, feel like that derails from the positive things that come from this in respect to raising awareness to help people who have been in your shoes, your Mom's, etc. in respect to abuse, MBP, autism, and so on and so forth. My major is psychology, have been through a world of bad things and use my voice to try to help others while trying to find a PhD program so can actually do so on a much larger scale afterwards. find in learning different things in the field, and in helps others, in a strange way it helps me too. actually have boughten a few work books recently they are designed to help bring an inner peace through various questions. So, there will be like a quote then a question. am really eager to dive into them and am not sure if that would interest you or not, but would be willing to be one from a vendor if you think it would and you are allowed to have them. know you and am very thankful for that, but this could be something that may be beneficial as well. I am so glad that you don't allow other peoples opinions to affect your relationship! Regardless of ANYTHING you have been through in your life you deserve love, REAL love, someone who will love you unconditionally, and help you help yourself to heal and grow as a person- your life partner, who not only knows your hopes and dreams, but also helps you obtain them. From the way you spoke so dearly in your e-mail t I can tell that you two share something very special and to be honest- he seems to have respected your wishes- it is others who have not. commend him for that as can only imagine how hard it is when he sees the things he does on-line and deals with people as well, as he is in an essence your voice on the outside despite her having the life rights that she has. I am not sure the nature of your contract wit and don't know what your plans with her are, but truly hope that if this is not what you want you are able to find a way to get away from it all legally so that you have no stress, no drama, etc. You should be able to fulfill your dreams, Gypsy. If you want to share your story with people, if you want to advocate, that should be up to you on YOUR terms, YOUR conditions, In YOUR time, when YOU are ready. Not with someone who is doing things her way without any regard for how you feel or your wishes. Please know that not everyone who reaches out to you does so with ill intentions or for drama, while there is a lot of for their own good, there are people who do genuinely care people who will use you and your situation, such as: about you and your well-being. know that you don't know me, but if you ever need an ear or just want someone to send you positive and inspirational e-mails, am always here. I will be praying for you and that this drama ends soon, so you can find yourself some peace amidst everything going on. Thank you for taking the time to respond, have a blessed day.	page 005

07/24/2019 10:41:36	Outbound	babe, I'm writing this email about what you asked me last night, You wouldn't have asked me if you didn't wanna see your ex GF so that in itself tells me you need some kinda of validation that your choosing to marry me, so please go ahead visit with her because the last thing want is to be in love with someone who's in love with someone else. in the past, you have said she, in particular, was the one you would get back with that you could probably win her back, and was your hardest breakup. please don't string me along, if you think don't know what its like, trust me, do, that closure letter to was was me letting go of that relationship, that time, and who used to be with him in that time. let me know what your heart wants when you get back from Florida. 07/24/2019 02:35:40	Inbound	Hello Gypsy, my name i I'm fromy Washington, was captivated by your story when it hit the news and it really hit home, my younger sister was in the same kind of situation as what you were in feeling trapped by your mother, unfortunately my sister didn't have as many choices or people to confide in, living with our mother while was living up here in Washington being raised by our mother's parents since was 2 weeks old. It took a toll on my sister so bad that she ended up committing suicide, and it really destroyed our family. understand what you've gone through, myself have felt trapped, feeling like there was no way out. really dont like how the media really played out your story and can understand your frustrations. You have a lot of support in many different states that have the idea that you were treated unfair both by your mother and how they handled your trial. it's really unfair on how some people can pass judgment on people, especially just by hear say, and what they can't understand. I'm very sorry what you had to endure, but I can tell by some of your interviews and your trial footage, your a very strong individual with a caring heart, and that you felt very bad for what happened. understand that you are now engaged, offer you my congratulations, and best wishes, and would like to know if possible if you would like to stay in contact if that is ok with you. know you must get a lot of mail and messages, too many to respond to in one day, but maybe one day you may have a glimpse of free time to write back. will go ahead and let you go, keep your head held high and stay positive, you have a lot of support all around. Please take care and GOD BIESS Sincerely:	page 341
07/24/2019 10:16:55	Outbound	Hey Gypsy, good moming (idk when you'll get this but it's morning here right now So haven't messaged you in a couple months knowing that you have in fact been getting a ton of messages from strangers. It must be weird to have so many people know you so well, yet you have no idea who we all are. Regardless, know your birthday is coming up, and I'd like to get something for you, or maybe send some cash for commissary, or from what think understand is has a nest egg account she has set up for you. You tell me what I can do. All ask for in return is to hear a few of your jokes. Rumor has it you have quite the sense of humor. I've had it with all the bullshit from the haters you have in that group run by "NC". refuse to even acknowledge her name. So anyways, let me know what I can do for you. I'd like to do something. And if you don't get to this before your birthday I'll a -) Wow goodne: wasn't expecting you or anyone to be supportive of my choice to break away from By Proxy and I can probably see that you understand why I did. its been 4 years and my story has been told by every media source available to the public. 2 doc films, multiple specials, 1 cheesy lifetime movie and countless articles. I am tired. the sad part is this is not the first time have voiced my wishes.. have been I'm done for over a year, and though I love her and do know she has only the best in mind for me, unfortunately think tha isa unhelpful guidance are nearly in all interviews together, and they do them against my wishes or they don't tell me at all. have been preaching for us to fade away for a long time, its not normal that even in here people want my autograph.. and personally hate it, because I'm not a celebrity, nor do want to be. its very lonely and isolating being well known, because everyone either hates you or wants to be you. and you never know who is your real friend or who just is there for the recognition. The first Yr after the murder, was set on going to live with my father nothing seemed wrong with that, it seemed like a place that could finally be free. then as the years passed was always doing some new interview, was always in the FB drama, and my father began to feel differently about his marriage with her, and in 2017 he expressed his concerns to me that he was considering a divorce. he told me it was for many reasons why he was thinking about it. My world just felt rocked. thinking about these are 2 people have opened my heart to and will be going home with and that could be ruined. started turning to other options to cope, i was headed down a dark place. wrote me and his friendship brought me out of that dark place. dad decided to stay with her, but that level of openness with my dad brought him and i closer together. now he has had problems with messaging women behind back, he told me about this one lady, who actually jpay email, lol..shes known as the cookie lady lol she's sweet for real. she started as a supporter, well dad and her really hit it off good and he was even planning to move to Canada to be with her!! yeah OMFG right?...well they decided to call off the long distance affair. now dad only skype's naked in the shower with other chicks lol (slaps forehead) yeah TMI. anyway now I'm not so wrecked if dad and don't stay together because now I'm gonna be home planning wit and that leads me to my point, I'll be living my own life with someone who doesn't use me for fame, money or attention, and that is all want. don't mind working a mundane job.. heck get paid .2¢ a day here in prison, minimum wage looks like a million lol often get grouped in with the By Proxy team because back in the day, supported it, now that see what fame and attention has done to our family... its heartbreaking, and I'm ready to set things right. even if that makes me an outcast. are trying to force me to write an email backtracking on everything said when being honest about how feel.. won't. I will not be nor will to me, they are just the same so let them be at war. I'm out!, duces mother f I will not anymore, she is leader of her drama club, is leader of her own drama squad, sadly my stepmother is one of her members. :(_ is trying to get my court records, so be it, never participated in the physical murder, hid in the bathroom, no where will it say, "Gypsy stabbed Dee Dee." so she's SOL for trying to prove "innocence" if that's why she's trying to obtain court documents. and also never was pregnant and had an abortion, uhh little unknown never could get it up, sooo he never climaxed,..neither did (sad trumpet sound) so embarrassing. :-P so me getting prego is far fetched.	page 356

07/25/2019 09:46:07	Inbound	Hey lam so eager to hear from you. Like really cant stop thinking of you lol. know my first letter probably came off as a little weird. don't really have much friends. When turned 18 moved to Mexico and I've been here ever since. now have two children and a husband who love very much. My husband and are going on 10 years together. met him when was 18. We've been through a lot and when say a lot mean a lot but hopefully we can get more into that later as we learn more about each other. So know you've been probably sent a million messages and contacted a million times but am one and only LOL. just figured since I'm pretty lonely here in Mexico then could reach out to you since you're pretty lonely in there. mean maybe you're not lonely I'm not sure but know you're pretty famous considering the facts. I'm pretty sure you don't want to talk about your past and what happened and don't really want to talk about that either if you don't want to. know you've probably talked about it so many times and don't want to cause you pain or hurt. want to make you happy want you to know that you have people on your side. Well know you know that you have people on your side of course, but want you to know you have a true friend in me and you can always count on me for anything. That's what friends are for. Anyways so was really wondering like what are your dreams what do you dream of doing. And what's your favorite color. know watching all of the documentaries and series and things like that didn't really feel like they taught us about you but do know that you were a Disney fan. still am a Disney fan love Disney. I'm like a big kid at heart love watching cartoons and my favorite princess is Snow White. She's my all-time favorite. just want to learn about you and become friends maybe stay in touch maybe have someone to talk to. Sometimes the days are so long for me and my husband works all the time and my kids go to school and only have two dogs two small Chihuahua dogs. They are my best friends. speak Spanish fluently of course cuz live in Mexico but don't really get along with my husband's family because they are so judgemental and don't get along with a lot of the girls here because they live a different lifestyle than do and they are a lot riskier than am and just feel like don't fit in most of the time but figured you could use someone to talk to. Trust me I'm not about the fame. You can have your dad or your stepmother check me out on Facebook to confirm I'm just a normal person who has a really big heart and to be honest you are so beautiful and so sweet and kind and your voice is so sweet. I'm just a normal person who wanted to meet you and get to know you and be there for you because know what it's like when your world is falling apart. mean to be quite honest know your world isn't falling apart because it seems like it's growing its piecing itself together finally after so many years but know being in there probably makes you feel lonely at times and want you to know you don't have to feel that way. know you've probably heard it a million times before but I'm very happy that you have your father and your stepmother support. I'm also very happy that you found someone for you. don't know much about your fiance like said I'm not a stalker haven't really been up to date on your case or what's going on because know what you did and why you did it. don't need to know anything else. But do know you look super healthy and so beautiful and so happy and hope your fiance soon-to- be husband gives you the moon and the stars. Because really you deserve so much more than that. I'm so happy for you and hope things work out for you and for him. Like I said don't know much about him seen maybe a picture of the 4 of you together and it made me very happy that you are growing and becoming a woman and learning how to live your life and be somebody. Anyways I'll let you go for now but really really hope to hear from you. know some people say and saw this in a group I'm not sure if it's true but they say that most of your messages are copied and pasted and hope with me that's not the case hope you take the time to read my letters and reply. I'm not even really sure how many letters you	page 108

07/25/2019 10:47:29	Outbound	Mom, want you to know that am sorry sent thoses emails t lam not joining her quest for stewing up drama, and neither am siding wit both are at war with one another and both are trying to sway me in their favor. have messages from people on both ends and have told them, I'm out. I'm not taking sides. have said my thoughts, yes, may have been upset, however meant every word. have been telling you this for over a year now, just disregarded me like didn't matter. Even dad knows how feel, so he threw his hands up and said, "I'm out too." I love and respect him for that, know from my heart that he loves me and just wants my happiness and closure. though do not want you to be liable for my opinions or choices, feel this has all gotten wayyyyyyy out of hand. try and, in not those words call me "little tink tink" a name for a mentally slow person, or downgrade my very honest opinion as a cover up for the truth coming out, but getting so much positive feedback from people who are true supporters and people who can telly is overdue for a wake up call. people see that you love me and you have a wonderfully big heart, but they se leads you astray in some areas. i can imagen its hard being pulled in so wants this but Gypsy don't want this and your signed to a contract and so on, so you many directions, lik legally have to obey the contract. it can be crazy then the FB drama on top of it :-P like where does it end??? that's why don't want anymore drama so I'm hoping she and can have a truce and put aside the conflict for a bigger meaning. you. take care Gyp BTW got the pics omg dad looks weird with no hair lol	page 302

And you still have your little job. don't go outside much because of the heat. 91 today. God has placed you in my heart. So am here for you. lam surprised they don't have much for you to do in the daytime. hate to say the word prison. But they are all different. Just try to stay positive as much as you can. Let me know if you can get my phone number approved. So can get someone time to talk with you. Honestly, think to hear your voice, will cry. But a happy cry. Like getting your email made me tear up a little. Because want the best for you. Do you always have your tablet? Or do you only have limited access to it? 07/25/2019 16:55:01	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, I strongly recommend you find an attorney and get help breaking that contract You can't imagine that half of what is going on in all her drama. believe she is not helping you or your image at all. would advise to have a good chat and strongly advise her, although under contract, you keep her distance when possible and stop telling everyone how she stands with her no matter what. No matter what?????? Even after you stated how much you despise her. If you want any sort of normal life once you're released, seriously break free of her and all that's happening online. I wish you all the happiness with your new man and hope everything works out with everything going on. Please write back should you need any further information or clarification on the topic am talking about.	page 678

07/26/2019 10:42:53	Inbound	Yes! This is the message I've been waiting for! Wow you filled me in with quite a bit here. can finally see some of that sense of humor from you! So much to address back to you. Where do begin? Okay so By Proxy. Yeah I have anything to do with that group, or the show. Honestly hope that it never gets made. With everything that's come out on her, the show, your lack of a approval, along with the fact that like you said your story has already been told a thousand different ways from a hundred different places. All it's going to end up being is The Act all over again with a different cast. It's pointless. can't agree more, enough is enough. As far as you giving me that hug someday will certainly plan on accepting that some day. Some time in the future will offer an invitation that would love to meet you and take you guys out for dinner with my wife (whoever that may end up being :-D) but that's a ways down the road. As far as being your friend I will tell you NOTHING you share with me leaves this inbox. Nothing gets repeated unless there's something you might personally ask me to relay to someone. It all stays between you and I. understand you don't want the fame or publicity, and certainly don't blame you for that. don't expect you to fully trust me right away, but in time you'll see that nothing telling me gets repeated. Especially all the stuff going on with your Dad Lol the Cookie Lady @. well aware you didn't pick up the knife. That's such an absurd assumption. It's just one of NCs that makes my eyes roll. haven't so much as commented on a thing in that group since you dropped that letter to her to post. And even then all did was say "NC don't like you, you don't like me, but thank you for giving her a voice today" I invested myself in all this ONLY because of you, and who think you are. Not because of what you went through, but because you survived it. know you aren't interested in being a public figure. But again, you're compelling. first heard your story in March of this year. The week I did was home sick with the flu. So spent that week with nothing but time on my hands. Long story shortened, at the end of seeing everything there was to see knew just had to contact you in some way shape or form. Very very few people know talk to you. And going back to being a public figure. Again have never come across anyone like you. think your will to live is unmatched. Your life experiences are unmatched. think even if you grew up in a "normal" environment you would still be intriguing to people. hope you have a good day, and hope to hear back from you soon.	page 358
07/26/2019 17:54:42	Inbound	yes that is true. she threatened who in turn told me that we are all tied together in this contract and if don't write a retraction will lose everything but her underwear. Gyp really threaten you with a lawsuit if you didn't write a retraction of your email about by proxy? wrote that in Honey, Can she make you do that? 07/27/2019 13:27:47	Inbound	Hi my friend! hope you have a fabulous birthday today! & P @ @ Hello, hello! haven't heard from you in a bit, so wanted to say HI! How are you doing? How is your photograph job going? Do you enjoy it? My daughter, just turned 8 on May 26! can't believe it, feels like she was born last month! But have loved every day with her. so very lucky that have been able to stay home with her and I love it. Hope to hear from you soon! on De a bit about me: I'm 27. your age, right? was a psychology student and am now volunteering at a Holocaust centre in Johannesburg, South Africa. my drama teacher told me about your story a couple of weeks ago and have become completely fascinated. have done all sorts of research on you and haven't been able to think about much else. was born with the disability Spina bifida and walk with crutches which is obviously beyond my control. the idea that your mother would deliberately make you out to be disabled is mind boggling to me. I'm so sorry for what you have been through. think was drawn to your story for that reason as well as the fact that we have clearly both overcome a lot in our lives. but our struggles have no doubt made us stronger people. I'm sorry that what happened has landed you in prison. it seems rather unfair. I'm sure it's not easy but hope you are keeping your spirits up. your dad and stepmom seem like really great people. I'm glad you have their support. anyway, take care Gypsy. you're in my thoughts! much love,	page 347
07/27/2019 12:37:06	Inbound	Please don't cry over it. If you then I'll cry and a grown man crying is just uncomfortable for everyone in the room lol. Yes this is kind of a continuation of a message sent you yesterday, and it's slow at work right now. just feel like left things out. You know how you describe the sad trumpet sound. I'm sure you meant more of a womp womp but for some reason can't get the Price is Right music they play when a contestant loses their game The warring Facebook groups is actually kind of hilarious at this point. It's almost stopped being about you and has more become about what NC, and their minions can dig up about each other. It's a whole story within itself I'm surprised InTouch or some other media outlet hasn't seen this and reported on the "war" ongoing. You're definitely smart in doing the right thing. Focus on your relationship with your fiancé, focus on that GED. And damn you only make 2 cents a day?? That is a bit ridiculous. What do other women do in there that don't have the same kind of support you do? So other than the clothes what else can you get. Keep in mind you're talking to someone who knows virtually nothing about what life is like in a prison other than what see on TV. Like what else can you get with your canteen money? Do you have a curfew for bed? Can you share the cookie lady's name with me? I'm just really curious who she might be. She must be in one of these FB groups. What kind of Rec time things do you do? You mentioned a few months ago you tried playing sports but were too clumsy to be keeping up. Well that's why practice makes perfect! played baseball for several years when was younger. used to have a real passion for that and watching the Red Sox when still lived in Boston. So you stated that you're going to go blonde or you already have gone blonde? You'll have to let me know so I can start in on you with some blonde jokes "A blonde, a brunette, and a red head are stuck on a deserted island. They find a magic lantern. So they rub it and sure enough a genie pops out. He states that he has the ability to grant three wishes, so each woman gets one wish each. The brunette says "I wish could go home, miss my friends and family" poof she vanishes and it is assumed she was transported home. The red head says "yes want the same wish I could go home too!" Poof she also vanishes. The genie then looks to the blonde who is now suddenly in tears looks up and says "I wish my friends were still here" Have a good birthday Gypsy. Talk to you soon.	page 357

I'm currently in school working toward a Ph.D. in Biology. use to write to my biological father who was serving some time for his own reasons, but he would tell me all the time how he would appreciate letters and people writing to him. So although this may seem like another random asking for you to answer their personal deep questions, it's not. just want to be a pen pal to you and just talk about fun things. Like for example, hope your day is going good! hope that one day you can go to Disneyland and experience the magic that happens there. 07/30/2019 16:38:24	Inbound	Hi Gypsy!!! It's great to finally hear back from you! was wondering if ever would... lol... Dang, 6,000 people Huh? Lol Ms. Popular over here! lol j.k. I'm doing good, on my last break at work... Soooooo ready to go home. It's been a long day. I'm happy tha got around to telling you about me, him and have been talking online on and off for about 2 months now, give or take... reached out to him when seen the picture of the two of you posted in a Facebook group, to let him know that it was posted and to inform him what was being said about him... I'm not the drama type, but I felt that he needed to know so that way, if he felt the need to defend himself, he could... I'm sorry to hear that so many people are causing drama for the both of you... know it's kinda to be expected with how much of a high profile case yours is, but at the same time, it's like damn, can't y'all just leave the girl (and her loved ones) alone and get a life instead of living on Facebook 24/7 being keyboard bullies? also wrote you an actual letter through snail mail a few months back, but I don't know if you actually got it or not.. also think that sent you a couple of pictures through this jpay thing... one of myself so you could see who you're talking to and a picture of the sunrise at Daytona beach... If you didn't get them and would like me to resend them just let me know... I'm sorry to hear about what happened with you by your grandfather, you've been through so much, it breaks my heart. On the upside though, am happy to hear that you're doing all that you can to stay positive... Must be hard enough where you are and with all of these people hassling you... So how much time is left on your sentence? Is the state going to allow you an early release with good behavior and all? That would be awesome if they do... When you get out and if you ever visit Florida, I'd love to meet up with you and show you around... Or maybe when you get out and if I ever go upstate towards you at all, it would be awesome to meet you... It's awesome that the prison offers those classes for you. was wondering if they did anything like that... Well it was very nice hearing from you. My break is over and have to get back to work... Looking forward to hearing from you again, till then, stay strong and keep smiling! sincerely, nc REI ATEN	page 028

I've been well, just been keeping myself busy with horse riding and work :) I'm off to London in 14 days for a long weekend break and to go to a music concert, then in July I'm going to Amsterdam for a holiday which I'm really looking forward to. My last holiday which was to America wasn't great unfortunately as my dad and step mum didn't involve me in any activity they were doing as a family, so had to find things myself to do, really loved it in the states though and hoping to visit again soon. Would really love to meet you once you're released and have a girly day something, which would be fun :) Hope to talk soon, take care. Sending 'out a to say Hi and thank you for the continued prayers and well wishes :) I am doing good, just trying to stay positive and making summer plans :) sending Hugs Rlanchard	page 275

07/30/2019 18:40:36	Inbound	Hello again! Good for you for standing up for yourself. You are important to yourself. You don't need the BS that these people keep throwing at you. You are a grown woman and know what you want. It's sad that these people want to control you. You have been controlled your whole life. You are not a child but they are doing the same thing your mom did. am so sorry. I'd like to receive a message back from you. read can send money for you to email back but don't know how this all works since have never used this app before. Hoping hit the right option. want to send my best wishes to you. Keep looking forward and never look back. Good luck. have been debating a while if should send you an email. hadn't because didn't know what to say and sure you get tons of them in one day. Seems like a lot of people are obsessed with you and the case. read about your case a while ago, long before it blew up from the show "The Act". Which btw found absolutely horrible. In my opinion it wasn't like the story read. Just another "money making scheme". Anyways, started to follow some groups about the case. Well thought it would be about the case but it looks like it's just straight up drama. Kind of irritating if you ask me. You already know people are going back and forth right now about how fake the other person is. It's rather sad and pathetic. I've learned years ago that 97% of all people are fake. They don't care about anyone's well being other than themselves. like to keep my distant from them because have been used and emotionally abused repeatedly. feel for you because these people are using you and your story. They all are. don't care what anyone says. It's like a damn circus, and it isn't even funny. You don't know me and don't know you. We are complete strangers. But I felt the need to send you this email. Just know this world is cruel. The people who surround us are cruel. They are conniving individuals who will do anything to watch us fall down. am sorry you are stuck in the middle of this train-wreck when all you are trying to do is serve the rest of your time and move on. Hope my email doesn't upset you because that's not my intentions. Good luck to you Gypsy. Remember to focus on you and your health. It's very important.	page 676
07/30/2019 18:02:07	Inbound	Hello Beautiful Girl!! (Women) I am writing this message just to tell you that you are one lucky girl which I'm sure you already know your future husband has your back so much and he has gained an entire new fan base in all of us to follow these crazy Facebook groups not only has he told everyone to basically leave you alone and less they want to support you but he let the world know just how you are being manipulated and used for financial gain by this group of ugly ugly souls at by a proxy!!! Is MY HERO!!! As someone who is only followed the story obviously in the media always felt there was more to it and I've always wanted to just give you a big giant hug and tell you that everything was going to be OK !! But know now myself and a lot of us can all rest assured knowing that you not only will be taking care of you will always be protected by your future husband, this same group of crazy women if can even call them that have now started an entire campaign to make you look like you were incompetent and that is the reason and just want to let you know that none of us believe that for one second!!! do worry that they are going to try and do something else to you and hopefully all of this banter back-and-forth on the Internet being as how it's so easily accessible will put an end to their constant pull on you and your life! It is after all your life and can't wait to read the story from you that you have been released and you and are living happily ever after away from all of these crazy people!!! They have even stated a campaign against now with a drug addict as their source in my opinion just to take the spotlight away from what everyone knows they are doing to you, and that is not right either have always said you guys are both going through enough without all of the added commentary from people who do not know the whole story and will never know the whole story because it's none of our business and b it's none of our business wish you nothing but love and happiness in your future sweet girl and you hold onto that kid he is a keeper but like said you already know that © Love and Lift sending many hugs :-) Gvo	page 678

07/31/2019 06:05:42	Outbound	Mom, is this true? did you break away from I did send a select few that email, however clearly someone wasn't that trust worthy because never sent it t and somehow she got her hands on it and posted it. wtf. errr this bitch annoys me well, though its only been a week since last talked to you, really felt hurt by how everything was heading. love you and to have to distance myself to the point you are completely out of the loop of how I'm doing, what's new with me for only one reason and that's so it won't be made a spectacle or a circus act. it wasn't it wasn't about this or that. its the fact that we are just people who are flawed, we make good and bad choices, and we move on, but my biggest wrong choice was being thrown up in my face every day since. and was so unprofessional it was laughable to call her a known writer/producer. have been thinking over the last week, along time ago we said a book deal was a good idea, think while am still incarcerated, we should look for a publishing co that would be interested in a autobiography, my autobiography. and maybe a skilled writer with well known books, can assist. without doing a new E! news segment on Gypsy Blanchard took a healthy poop today! my point, have always wanted to share my experience, but in my own way, in my own time, the right way that would not offend my mother's brothers or sisters but rather they see the humanity in her as a person as well as sharing my own thoughts and perspective. and a portion of the proceeds go to MBP awareness. This and public speaking is gonna be MY way of being an advocate. realize that when the time is right to publish, will do book signings and I'm sure this will be something every is supportive of, because its ME sharing MY life how want and feel good about. By Proxy was a good idea before Dean put out The Act, its not only be done, but its not the way I want to share something so intimate as my life my mom's life. A book is what feels right, and that can get behind 100%. wouldn't mind getting royalties from it. would have mostly wrote the book, its my hard earned moola. know that as a mother you feel dissatisfied, with how I grew up. how can a mother who is supposed to protect their child ever harm their own flesh and blood?, and give you nothing but praise for taking me under your wing, feel like I'm no different then my sister or brother. I think the overall circumstances has just taken over the Blanchard's lives. I'm sure it was nice going to New York a few times, being seen as a celebrity, and meeting the most famous talk show hosts up to date. it was kinda cool, at first..but then time comes at a steep price. no privacy, crazy stalkers, being called every bad name known to man, having your family drama posted and commented on by 40k people, your relationship/marriage being put under stress, because of the intrusiveness of strangers, and so on. we need to get back to being just people, and it may take a little while, but watch how fast it fades. was majorly manipulating us into thinking we need a "PR" person, and that she had our best interest at heart BS, she saw an opportunity, 3 of em. one with a big heart who is a good mom, one who works all the time and is the provider, and one who is incarcerated and happens to have a story that can make major bucks. yep..I'd say she hit the jackpot with us, and will say anything to stay on our good side. we were doing just fine agreeing or refusing to our own press, way back when just fine, and will do so again when my book is published.	page 301
07/31/2019 16:18:08	Inbound	Oh hell yeah coffee is an absolute MUST every morning for me!! Especially the mornings have to be awake at 5am hate nothing more in this world than 5am!! can say I've never been privileged to try a bacon and cream cheese bagel. Bacon is good on absolutely everything. I'm glad you have access to decent food because I've seen some pictures of what serve a person in prison, and it looks pretty miserable. do like pizza, definitely way too often. I'm a pizza junkie for sure. I'm glad you got back to me. I saw yet another email you sent out to people (I don't know why they would post that when clearly that was the opposite you were looking for "eyeroll*") stating you will not longer have contact and will only be speaking to certain friends and family going forward. So I'll tell you I'm glad you trust me enough to keep messaging me. 100% understand why you would stop talking However I can tell you reached out to her as soon as saw your email. In so many words told her "you have to fix this, and fast". Not that I'm anyone who should be telling her what she should do in any way, actually expect a bit of backlash from her. But she didn't. In fact she agreed quickly. She told me she was all done with By Proxy. told her to begin to prove that she would need to leave the FB discussion group. And she did immediately. Then she asked me to let NC (yeah, know vomit) know anonymously and to have her post it. So without hesitation. I'll give NC this she didn't name me, but took my word and posted it. So it was loud and clear wasn't perfect, she should have lez long before she did, but the fact is that she did do it. isn't gonna get shit. She is scrambling to save her name at this point and looks like an absolute fool doing it lol. Ohhh the drama, know. 08/03/2019 21:25:18	Outbound	My I don't think have ever experienced this kind of pain before. guess this is what a broken heart feels like. regret the day wrote you back, wish had slapped you when you kissed me, wish never fell for you. gave you every bit of my heart and it all led up to this, 5 months before become your wife and take you as my husband, we break up. break up on the day met your mom. all because of how everyone else feels about our relationship choices, and because know it in my heart you are ready to be done with me. "I still love you and want be with you WHEN you get out." that sentence told me everything needed to know. so I'm not changing my mind, just did what you wanted but couldn't. you have been distant, understand processing things but if one of us did us in, its more you because you have let the 15 min restriction break us. Yesterday didn't go quite how expected. thought that would get your mothers blessing, and didn't. no big surprise, i guess im just not the "girl you take home to mamma" told you, you should be dating a prissy blonde bimbo. everyone will love and accept that. the visit wasn't bad, in fact we had a lot of fun talking. even the stories of you as a child are so adorable think even back then as kids we probably would have been sweethearts. but the conversation turned sour, when the topic of our long term relationship was talked about. can now see why you didn't want this visit to happen. she said she feels we are foolish and immature for our choice to get married now, she said that love is the last reason why we should be marrying, and asked if a public retraction can be made to take back that we are getting married. she wants me to get out and date other men, which to me is not something normal a approving mom says to her son's fiance, so guess that was her way of saying she doesn't want me with you. what I learned yesterday is that, don't belong anywhere. thought our relationship and everything surrounding it was meant to be, now I'm seeing that might not be true. please do say anything to your mother, am just going to fade out of the picture. just because we are not a couple does not mean that Im not in love you with you, am with all my heart. The almost 2 years of being yours was amazing. have never felt more happiness then you have brought to my life. felt a connection with you beyond anything have ever experienced. you have shown me what real love is. felt loved, protected and happy. the level of acceptance and understanding you gave to me was incredibly kind. want you to know that the love I felt and continue to feel for you has always been true and always will remain in my heart. was so ready to become your wife. had everything of mine labeled with your last name. had 2 Teddy bears made ready to give you on our wedding day, bride and groom bears. 2 years of knowing you, was enough for me to know that you are the one. know about your past mistakes, your present growth and wish could be the one to experience your future. You really was the world to me. everything was centered around our relationship, our future, our plans. what we will do together, our dogs and kids names, it was always US, and every time would talk about when I'm free it was always "when WE get out" call me co dependent, call me foolish, call me crazy. at the end of the day, I'm just a woman in love.	page 150

08/04/2019 15:26:45	Outbound	hate break ups! after 2 years and almost getting hitched and broke up. the same day i met his mother. the over all visit was great, but she said a few things that was weird, she said "when you get out want you to date around, there might be someone better for you. you don't wanna be tied down when you are free" that's not normal of a mother to say that to her son's fiancé. unless she doesn't want me with him. so after the visit basically broke up with him because everyone doesn't want me to settle down, so to appease everyone else broke my own heart. now I'm laying in bed, watching lifetime, crying.	page 338

08/04/2019 06:47:37	Outbound	Hi a lot has been going on, well to start and wasn't talking for like a week and a half, basically gave her the choice me or By Proxy and apparently the contract has been void for sometime now so she was legally not under any and she cut ties wit was making herself and By Proxy appear more professional then it actually was. therefore legally agreement mom can leave. so she and mended things. NOW and are going through a rough patch. met his mom over the weekend and it was a good visit over all, however she told me things like "I don't want you marrying my son right now, go out there and date around there might be someone better for you" and that love is the last reason why we should be marrying. so after the visit called him and was telling him the good parts of the visit but held back the bad. and I just broke up with him. said that its best if we take a 4 yr break and see where things can go when I'm out. and he didn't fight me on it. then last night called him crying and finally told him what his mother told me and expressed that this isn't MY choice don't want this, its what everyone else wants so made myself miserable to appease everyone else told my dad and broke up and dad is kinda relieved that we aren't getting married. so just am at a loss and so i we are not together and not broke up completely. I'm physically sick over this another stress on our relationship is this 15 min every one hour phone restriction. when he lives in Seattle and I'm in Missouri, he can't just pop in for a visit every weekend. we didn't used to have a phone time restriction, and now we do because they changed how phone calls are made. He is taking the distance very hard right now. have been crying non stop. 2 years of a good relationship all leading up to heartbreak.	page 357

08/05/2019 06:04:35	Outbound	Lover, I first want to begin this email by saying love you that never changed. but a lot of confusion has happened over the last few days and just need to know what's the same and what has changed. need to know where we stand on things because being unsure is not something am comfortable with. are we together or not? are you still moving here or not?, because if not, that answers the 1st question. are we even still engaged? want you to know that you in NO way hold me back or hinder me from anything. feel people forget my age and they do not realize that am ready to settle down, especially when I'm home. the wild party days is something I'm not into experiencing. want to start focusing on building a family, and thought that was what you wanted also. all this talk about you backing off and being Mr. selfless, is stupid. you have been selfless this whole time. thought WE made plans together, thought we wanted the same things. maybe am alone, maybe am at a level your not at yet. just a week ago thought you were gonna move to Liberty in October and we would start to rebuild our communication again. we were thinking about picking out a dog, other then our baby Balto, to keep you company until come home to you. and then was going to take that leap of trust together and get married legally. because #1, love you and am ready to be all yours officially and #2 we have to be married for me to homeplan to you. so no matter what a ceremony in here WILL have to happen BEFORE see the parole board. then we just live our lives together as best we can supporting one another throughout the rest of my time. and then finally I'll be home with you. :-) THAT IS WHAT WOULD MAKE ME HAPPY!!!!. understand that you are not like me in the since that don't give a rats ass about having or not having the approval of others. both our families have stated they prefer us to wait BUT would accept our decision because we are 2 adults. neither will "disown" us for choosing to marry. what is this the 1400s? Your friend talked about co dependency, Yes am co dependent in nature. and will always be so. if its not you that grasp onto it will be someone else, not limited to a romantic relationship, it could be a friend as well. its a blessing that have someone that treats me right, because there are a lot of others that wouldn't. my co dependent ways will lead me to a hole in the ground if lose you. don't say this to frighten you, am only being honest. if we break up, will somehow find look like a hugable cuddle muffin, and hook up with a dude who beats me on a daily. the worst guy that make: because that's what seem to gravitate towards because its familiar. how got a good guy currently is beyond me. have been taken advantage of by everyone in my life. I'm not trying to be miss pitty party over here just am making a point, I'm a target for bastards and I'm blinded by it in the moment because want to be loved. All the therapy in the world won't fix that. Your the first man to be good to me, and is a healthy positive influence. something pulled us together, call it fate but it happened and now am ..(if still have you) am the happiest woman have ever been. for the first time EVER have someone to be emotionally attached to that is good for me, and who actually loves me. relationships are co dependent in themselves.. marriages are 50-50% children are made 50-50% its a partnership of dependency, and is perfectly healthy IF the relationship is healthy, am wrong? and really everyone in life is dependent, why? because we are human and in nature we gather in groups because we	page 150

08/06/2019 06:04:16	Outbound	Dear Love, Today realized something, as frustrated and angry as can be with you, at the same time want nothing more then to hold you close. lost you for 3 days, and it was 3 days too many. yes stood my ground but was shaking every time you answered the phone. never want to experience what felt. know that caused it, there are things said that didn't mean, and worse hurt you and I'm sorry. am extremely sensitive to the things you say, and always take you at your word. can understand why you felt you could do the same. but my emotions change and alter my view of something in any given moment. meaning if you say something to me or do something, feel an emotion, then react while in that emotion. don't give myself time to process things, just react. but promise that is something will work on, processing things without a making an unclear reaction. I just miss you, and feel so distant from the man used to spend hours laughing and playing with. its not your fault, we both know why we are distant from each other and its neither of our own doing. I think for now anyways might email you less as a email/messenger and more as a diary of sorts. its a way of expressing myself to you and my tablet is always accessible. its a way you can know how feel, and think so you can be more attentive to my needs. :-) your not a mind reader, nor am I. and if you truly want to be here for me, then stop caring what others want and feel and pay attention to the woman who NEEDS you. what is so wrong with it being just us? why can't we be our own family? sometimes often think about getting out and leaving everyone behind, everyone except you. think about starting over without my past to follow me. think about having this little apartment in Minnesota, why Minnesota? well its up north far from Louisiana, or Missouri. the pine trees are beautiful and the landscape is peaceful. have never been, only driving through on my ride back from Wisconsin. was right when he said loved it in Wisconsin, it too was peaceful, and moreover don't think its the land, more that its no one knew me. it was a fresh start. it was short lived but it was nice. want to feel that same peace when leave prison, want to come home and be able to have that moment that my mind has that deep inner contentment. and just am not sure I'll have that peace in Louisiana, a place crowd with memories of my mother, where she grew up, where spent my childhood, in and out of hospitals. why would want to go back to the beginning? would visit, take a trip down memory lane, but don't want to live in the past. and at the same time love my father and he deserves time with me. even if its while he is home from work for a month. The same example can be made with us getting married in here and out there. want to clear my mind of everyones opinions, good or bad and live in the moment and let myself feel happy and feel loved. have a wonderful man who is my match in every way and this is about our commitment and our unity. want that moment to be intimate want to read my extremely mushy vows without being shy around anyone or nervous. and want us to have that shared happiness without being judged by the place we are standing. to me, it wouldn't matter if we were standing inside a porta potty exchanging vows, its the fact that it is from that moment on that know that you are my person for the rest of my life. its me saying I'll never let you walk through this life alone and knowing you are going to be the one who is my other rocking chair on the front porch. :-) and just as that's my wants, BUT my father has been robbed of every could have been prom, school dance, and other father daughter social occasions with me. he should be included in future occasions. in my opinion, the second ceremony think would be the best to include him in. however already sent the invites to bot! and dad, as well as your mother. honestly don't see your mom coming to visit again, has stated she wants to attend, dad complained it was during hunting season but will want to come. although his work schedule doesn't always pan out in	page 149

That's great that you're working as a photographer for other inmates! And about working with kids who come from abusive homes, think you would be great at that! Anyway. did sign the petition in support of your release your father did post up as well as composing a letter to the governor, asking him to reconsider his decision and to allow you to leave prison early! feel you deserve to live your life on the outside as you would be much better off! That's great too, that you have befriended many people in prison as it's important to have a circle of friends who are there for you as well as to support you. Anyway, did watch the documentary "Mommy Dead And Dearest 3 nights ago, showing interviews of you on Dr. Phil as well as your father being interviewed! 08/07/2019 22:49:05	Inbound	hey how are you? sorry it took me so long to respond. I've been so busy at work and I have some issues going on with my family. so I'll give you a little background on my situation. my father was married when he got my mother pregnant so was a secret. my mother died about 10 years ago and my father died about 20 years ago. so nobody knew on my father's side of the family that was even born. found out that had a sister and found her through Facebook. so reached out to her and she responded that I'm not her family she doesn't want nothing to do with me and that the family on my mother's side is my family. she was very cold. don't even have a picture of my father don't even remember what he looks like. all wanted was a picture. so tried reaching out two people are found through ancestry DNA and located some on Facebook and they were cold too. oh well it's their loss I'm a good person and they are going to be the ones who have to leave this earth knowing that they never reach out to me. so I'm happy to hear you and your father are working on your relationship and moving forward. at least you have him on your side it's really good to have someone on your side. especially when you're where you are. I'm not sure if I told you my last email but I've been to jail plenty of times in my past due to my addiction. have been sober now for 3 years and put the past behind me which is what we all have to do to move on. I'm also not sure if I told you that I lost my children due to my addiction miss them every minute of every day. just pray that they are healthy and happy. do have a best friend her name and we do everything together. we work together we live together we go everywhere together. we've been going to like six flags great adventure and we went camping last weekend it was a lot of fun except for the bugs. these are all things that you can look forward to when you get home and rebuilding your life. it's so much fun to really live. do you know where you're going when you leave? or what state you'll be in? was thinking about moving out of New Jersey maybe to like Florida or California LOL. do have contact with my oldest daughter she is 20 years old had her when was 16. we are very close my youngest children are the ones lost. I'm very grateful life. messed up a lot in my past and didn't think she would want to talk to me because of me being inconsistent and in and out of her life. however I'm making it up to her and she knows. she's actually very good to me and love that kid so much. anyway definitely would like to be friends and I'm always here if you need to talk sometimes it's just good to have someone to vent to or just have a conversation. also if you need anything please let me know I'm not rich but if I can send you $30 here and there will. would send more but I don't make a lot of money and have a lot of bills but can do what I can. write me back when you get this. tomorrow is my birthday and have to work on that IAI that's all life and nighl	page 142

We began drafting a letter to release you, but you did not give us a chance to get it completed and sent to you before you decide to go public with your letters. Due to the drama that ensued from those actions, it has taken longer to draft the letter. would be more than happy to release you from your contract, but need you to understand that there are a few things that take place with that. First, you will be relinquishing any financial compensations that you would have been entitled to from the production. Second, we will remain in possession of, with the right to use at our discretion, any and all materials, documents, and letters that we have received and/or requested to receive at this time. 08/09/2019 17:23:56	Outbound	Honey, i know babe. too have taken the last few weeks hard as made evident by emotional break down/up. just wish you could talk to me like you used to. you used to tell me how you felt, what you thought but in recent weeks, its different. think its because 1, you are always too busy working to sit down and write me, then when you aren't working your a horrible procrastinator and put it off. and 2, you lost interest in getting to know me as an individual, partly because you already know so much, the initial chemistry has faded and you no longer feel the drive to make me you anymore because you are comfortable knowing do, and there is a difference in comfort and boredom. always found you interesting, no matter what you did or said. love learning about you and what are your thoughts about things, personally never got bored. have always tried to be honest with you. and to tell you the truth it feels like lost you even before this week we have had. recently find myself scrolling through my contacts looking for what had with you, not a relationship but a best friend, but in someone else because you are just unavailable. its like don't even have you anymore. whats particularly concerning is that the #1 thing that my father gave me in advice is just how important communication is. and feel when the phone restriction happened, lost you. That is the true reason why gave up and ended our relationship earlier this week. not because wanted to, but because had felt that couldn't be enough anymore and assumed you were unhappy, your mother made me feel that was forcing you into a marriage with me, and you didn't give me any reason to think different. may have left the relationship for 3 days but you left me emotionally on July 21st, and haven't been back since. you should have leaned on me! you should have messaged ME! not turned to others to lean on, we should have been strong for each other but instead you turned inward and hid away from me. you could have BEEN emailing me every day have my tablet in hand all the time, sleep with it in my hands. the sad part is get more emails from strangers then do my fiancé. had an opportunity to cheat on you recently and still was loyal even when you were distant WHY because LOVE YOU! would never do that to you. I started opening myself up to new people thinking could begin to make new friends. one man seemed nice and sincere, a former police officer, so sent a general "thank you for the nice words" then traded 2 more emails completely innocent talking about my activities in here, told him I'm finishing up school, blah blah ya know not even a long email..then he tells me he done booked a flight to come visit me from NC, and am like wtf! dudes not even on my visiting list, never asked me if it was OK, never even offered to visit. and when I'm like woooooohhh there like don't really know you dude just was making polite conversation. told him i don't feel comfortable with a visit from him because I'm engaged and do not want to disrespect my relationship or my fiancé. he's like wasn't aware you have a fiancé. your a pretty girl, so thought... I'm like well you thought wrong. apparently he wrote me with the intent to try and take it there. I told him thanks for the words of support but that was very forward and declined the visit and never emailed him again. now I'm a little skittish to email strangers again :-\ crazy people out there. my point is know you get hit on and so do I. I'm lucky to have found someone can trust and love and don't want that to go away, don't want anyone else, I'm in love with you!. Our October visit will always be my favorite, why? it felt natural, us..how we talked, how we opened up to each other. Amish hunting, our corner, and your heart felt proposal. as crazy as	page 149

08/10/2019 15:56:30	Inbound	I'm sorry you may not like me for what I'm about to say. again made a small group because this case was brand new & when joined groups they were bizarre. all over the place. with that said ended up back to work after being sick & couldn't keep up with my group & there isn't really much going on with the case. neutral in all this. I'm very out spoken so hope you dont take this wrong. i think all but maybe 1 group outside of mine is decent the rest including support group is backwards (full of crap) Why? regardless of having your stepmom in there , do not for the life of me understand why or how can one be supportive of you , yet basically talk shit about you or be supportive of those that do. again we can all have various opinions. I'm one of those people. I'm not pro or anti anyone. I'm only pro my own dam self. My point, I just joined the so called support group for ur family. ye directs everyone over anti Gypsy group & yes it is a bashing of you group don't care what she may convey to you. So how is she supportive of your family yet does lives directing everyone over to find out crap on Gypsy? They (are raising yet more money to revisit Missouri. I gave it the benefit of doubt 1st round . But it's all a scam. You might ask why do care? I think irs more that I don't trust people & now I'm reminded why. Their all 2 faced . This message isn't all to create troubled waters in your family. just feel like who the hell really has your back other then your dad 2! I just had to vent. sorry. I think I'm about to exit from all the groups with exception of the 1 larger group & my own. I am to private of a person & only like real authentic humans . know that's why this all ruffles my feathers so to speak. Maybe it's all part of what works to keep the story afloat. pray for the best for you. Good thing your getting married & god blessed you with an amazing partner.	page 067

08/10/2019 10:53:44	Outbound	Love of my Life, after talking for a little bit last night, can tell that we still have that love and that spark that makes us stay together. something like what we have isn't just gonna go away. and do understand that you are trying to sort things out. its not that you haven't been the partner need, because you ARE the perfect partner for me, its just we both will have moments that we just flat out don't know how to handle shit. and know that you have to make a decision guess its easier for me to see the appealing side, im just too in love to see anything from any other perspective. that will always be something you can count on. and want us to move forward after these hard weeks that we have had and i want us to come back together strong, so lets work on some communication skills and want you to let me know what it is that can do to ensure that you have enough us time, if that means calling you once in the morning, afternoon and at night I'll do that. if its sending you more letters, pictures and storys, I'll do that, have and will continue to send emails everyday. definitively want you to visit your family in November that is very important to me as wish had told my grandma that loved her before she passed. was only 6 when she died and was at Bible camp for kids when she had an unexpected heart attack. you just never know when things like that will happen, so really want you to go visit her soon babe. but please don't bring me up when your there, just spend time telling her about your job, and so on. sometimes its best to avoid touchy subjects and you are going there to have a good memory, don't let it be a bad one, not stupid, know she doesn't approve of your relationship with me, and its OK. I'm not offended. not everyone will approve but you get so defensive when it comes to me and us. please just do me this one thing, don't talk about me or our engagement/relationship with your family at the get together. it makes me feel uncomfortable. other then that, I'm excited for you. Last year when my parents had the big family get together mom, passed the phone around to like 20 people lol was talking to great grandmas, cousins of don't know who lol but it was great :) they had a crawfish boil at the camp and had about 60+ there. th side is huge. we procreate lol I'm not sure 2-3 kids is gonna be the limit with us babe lol how bout 4? lol jk 3. anyways As for a visit, let's set something up for maybe December or mid January (coughs.. January 16th) I'm just tease'n ya and if your not lock'n me down in January, can ask that we have a date day and spend Valentine's Day together? its ona Friday. you can still by me chocolate out of the mashine sweetie. wanna give you a good kiss, and maybe a little love bite -) just a nibble, nothing like your bites. lol that was deep penetration with your teeth lol very hot though, could probably come on that bite alone. wink mmmmm just thinking about it... ok I'm back from fantasizing :) don't want you to rewire your mind, really love th who followed his heart. in life really that's all that matters is happiness and love. will following your head get you there? no, its your heart. keep that in mind when your mindlessly working or sitting alone at the apartment. Do have to break out into song? (listen to your heart) il be here waiting my love,	page 173

What hair color do like ina woman?... are you asking bc you want a color change? 08/10/2019 08:45:46	Inbound	Jeeze Gypsy did you throw away my number in your rage lol. Yeah break ups are hard and confusing. When lived back home in Massachusetts before moved to FL had a long distance thing with a girl here, and when we broke up she sent all my stuff back to me which immediately threw away. regret that. There was a really nice hoodie in that box I wish I kept!! did save a baseball that gave to her from a Red Sox game we went to. That's too rare I'm not giving that up lol. Where in Florida doe dad live? Is it anywhere near actually reached out to me the other day. was a bit surprised because it was like a day or two after you told me you had broken up. He just wanted to thank me for my support of you, and said you had mentioned me sending you good vibes. My number i My schedule recently changed. So basically any day after 69m (5pm your time) is a good time to reach me. On Tuesday though you can try me any time of the day I'm off. Okay here's my random joke of the week. "A skeleton walks into a bar. He orders a beer and a mop." Have a good day Gypsy Rose.	page 357

08/11/2019 13:36:52	Outbound	Darling, just wanted to tell you that am glad that got to meet your mother last week, was so lost in the negative and forgot to appreciate the fact i am blessed that she even came to visit me. its rare that someone would even go out of their way to meet their son's fiance in prison i is a sweet woman and I can tell she knows that love you, maybe she is unaware just how deeply committed am to you, but she knows we love each other. you have met my father, stepmother, best gal pal, and my Goddaughter. meeting your mother was my tum to establish a familiarity with your side. admit was so nervous, had subtle make up on, tried to look classy and presentable. (I only look like a vixen/succubus for my man lol) I did try and be myself maybe she wasnt used to the environment, maybe it was the khakis or the CO's or maybe it was me. but even though she said what she said, truly from my heart believe she meant no harm nor anything bad by it. We talked about you, and your ex girlfriend she said that she was your only other relationship before to me, but she was using you for your money. she said you would give your whole paycheck to a girl you like. which I take relief in knowing never used you. yes you take care of me, but never called you and asked your for more then what you send me. (and you picked the amount) and do buy you gifts with it for occasions, so in a since its you are giving me the money to be able to take happiness in the ability to send my lover gifts. always appreciated the deposits, but never would take advantage of your generosity. you already know want the sweet little gestures more then anything. Besides women don't ever marry their "tricks" so hope your mother knows its not like that. We didn't talk about you and I having children, nor much about what we have planned. At one point Ms Lightfoot joined in the conversation, telling her about the day we met in person said you had been a very introverted child, even in high school. she said you didnt really date, she thought you might have been gay because you just didn't socialize with girls much. and me and Ms Lightfoot looked at each other and was like, oh he is definitely not gay lol so we just laughed the fact that you were so open and forward of your feelings the very first visit you had with me. Lightfoot said when you kissed me she pulled me back and you went with me :) awwwww so cute! Your mom did say she thought you would end up with a blonde, which next year will be. mainly because you are attracted to blondes the most. (I got lucky, your completely my #1 attraction, dark hair and green eyes, nailed it! :)) and another reason is have been every other color, black, brown, red now its time to try blonde but not light blonde, dark blonde. give you a whole new version of Gypsy 2.0 blonde edition lol got to hear this one story about you when you were little, following this girl in a shoe store lol its cute that even though you look like you would be this big time ladys man. your kinda shy even as a kid, its just cute. :) I think even in our younger days, we were similar in ways. We talked about my accomplishments in here. This visit wasnt about meeting the girl who she saw in the documentary, it was about meeting the woman who her son is engaged to, and in that aspect, I failed to impress. can't tell you how sorry am for being your dirty little not so secret. had hoped that I could merge into a family without judgment for my present circumstances, I'm not saying your mother judged me, I'm saying in general. remember when me and was still talking, his dad hoped he and would get together, but we just never clicked like that. had often talked about you and just the whole situation with our families approval and he never much he said, "if that were me place, would not be asking for	page 173

08/12/2019 06:10:11	Outbound	Mom, really need to vent and let go. its about me and don't know what to do anymore. we haven't been the same since the phone restriction went into effect. Our communication has gone so far down hill, not for a lack of trying on my part. do everything can to keep us together. started sending him long emails to express how feel and what's on my mind. Tonight called while he is still in Florida visiting his father. He said the trip has been fun, but when told him that he will be getting a few long emails from me, then he has the fucking nerve to make the comment "Oh more drama." like fuck you dude. He wanted to start shit because he went out of his way to tell me he "ran into his ex girlfriend"... bullshit he went to see her on purpose, they are FB friends, she probably has her place of employment listed and he went to find her. He asked me if it was OK if they had lunch before he left for the trip. Which before he left we kinda had a few words over it, felt uncomfortable because, why do you wanna see your ex?, just to see if she wants you back?..to see if she's still hot?.idk. then when started asking why.. he acted like they never had a thing that they were just friends. so why tell me some bullshit lie that he "ran into her" of all the places In Miami he just happens to run into the ex he said he wanted to see. who knows he probably fucked her too while in Florida. God he must think I'm an idiot! its just recently he is negative and distant. when call him keep thinking, he will answer the phone and be my happy lovey mushy sweetie that I love, but instead hear his empty personality that is emotionless. He used to call me sweet names like baby, my love or other terms of endearment. now he just calls me Gypsy. He says he wants to stay together but everything about him screams different. he even rejected me when i tried to take the conversation in a sexual direction, He won't entertain that topic, at least not with me anymore. and the fact my mind even thinks something is going on behind my back is concerning, does this mean don't trust him? this is how would expect him to act if he caved in and slept with another woman or is just straight up cheating on me. and his desire to see his ex is all the more questionable. was strong when broke up with him for 3 days, and then I couldn't take the pain anymore and we got back together. Now, however we are together, but emotionally couldn't be more broken up. dont even know why we got back together. Yes i do, I love him, and want a future with him ..and im weak. as it stands now, we couldn't be more unprepared for marriage at the current moment the majority of the time, do want to marry him. loving him is so easy, but why is getting the effort from him so hard? it breaks me apart inside to ask but is our relationship is coming to an end? I can feel it in my heart and soul, that the love will always be there but the lifespan of us being a couple is fading. but wont be the one to say it again. if he wants out, then HE has to come to Missouri, and on a visit face me, and end it. won't let him be a pussy and do it via email, letter or phone. have spent 2 years of my life on him, they are the best 2 years of my life. Mom when I say that man gave me wings.... (crying tears of a broken heart) there wasn't a day that went by that he left my mind. Every phone conversation was like sitting around a campfire snuggled up in a blanket together, even when in reality, was cozy with my fleece robe around me in a chair with a cup of hot chocolate staring at a steel prison phonebooth for hours. but in my mind, was somewhere else. somewhere perfect. He always make me laugh at the most dorkiest jokes, but our humor matched perfectly. and when would be feeling homesick, he would comfort me by never letting that one spark of hope fade away. He always would call me beautiful, which I never much believed, but did believe to HIM was beautiful, and that's all that mattered. He always loved my hair did cut my hair 2-3 months ago but its starting to be back to a long length again, enough to be my normal poofy curly mess lol He really was a prince charming to me. 08/13/2019 13:12:04	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! It took me a long time to write you again because in your last letter you sent me you expressed that you just want to live as much of a normal life as possible. That really hit me and didn't want to impose on the life you are trying to make for yourself and your future but wanted to send you support & not be overbearing - as I'm sure you get mass amounts of letters and emails daily. As stated in my first initial letter to you, am not looking to gain anything by conversating with you besides being a pen pal or friendship! however respect your choice on whether or not to write me, as understand it is very hard to know if someone genuinely cares about you or if you can trust them not to be just interested because of the media-swarm that seems to follow your every move. respect your privacy, & your personal life and hope to never insult you with any question have. think that a lot of people get very caught up in your past and all the shows, movies etc surrounding your case that they forget that you are a human being with feelings and emotions!! I did sign the petition you had linked to the letter you sent me, I really hope that you can be released soon and get to finally start the life that you deserve. In your letter you said that you enjoy photography, is that something you would like to try to have a career in? I really enjoy the arts as well and have taken some intro-classes to film photography really enjoyed it the process of developing and layering on film is really interesting! I live in Missouri, actually Columbia it's about 2 hours from St. Louis. know that you are originally from Louisiana and that is where your family resides. Do you have plan on returning to Louisiana with your family or would you rather move to a new state? There is so much to travel and see!! Sending support to you!! Hello Gypsy. I just finished your watching the act on Hulu about your life. so sorry that you had to go through any of that. I'm not writing you to judge you at. believe in you. believe everything that you said. want to support you. hope everything is going good with you. Keep faith and remain positive through your situation Gypsy keep your head up. Hope to hear from Much love!	page 332

It looks like posted all photos under the sunshine law or something along those lines. In that photo album on someone the google drive she shared with her group, that am no longer a part of there were some photos with yours as well as your mothers social security numbers clear as day. I'm fully aware there is not much you can do being in there about it but I did want to make you aware because identity theft occurs every single day, even for people who have passed on. don't want to see you the victim of identity theft as a result of this woman posting those pictures for the world to see. hope your doing as well as you can be, under the circumstances of all of this. 08/14/2019 06:59:06	Outbound	I'm laying down in my bed, having time to myself thinking about you and everything.. miss you. have to tell you something. have been doing some hard thinking and I feel that we shouldn't get married in January. this has been talked about many times, between you and I, between me and others, you and others. however even if said wanted to wait, there was always a slight disappointment in those words. Now that we are currently going through alot, I'm truly lost in where to go from here. the reality of what could be and what is, is setting in. Iam just as emotionally drained as you are and because we are on such unstable ground right now, its not the right time for us to be doing something so significant. and can say this with ease and have peace with saying it. My Love we should wait. understand if you say if its not in January then its not in here at all Eventhough i will ask you to reconsider for a later time. I love you and really want to take that next step with you, but there are multiple reasons why now want to wait. and I'll explain #1 due to the lack of communication, our relationship is unstable. #2 we both agreed that the move was going to come before the ceremony, we don't really know when you'll be able to make the move due to low finances, so that cancels out the ceremony in January. #3 know you want our family to agree not just support in terms of saying OK with us marrying, which everyone saying "Yes! please do it!".. ant never gonna happen and you know this. Other then those reasons, was excited and ready and probably could be again a little later, but have no idea where your head or your heart is these days, we haven't had a "date night" conversation in a hot minute. if our communication doesn't improve soon, im giving you the song, Say Something by A Great Big World. maka that nhana can build hack un cama of ta hava	page 174
08/14/2019 16:51:26	Outbound	yeah guess am making a lot of hessty choices lately. cut my hair again, its long in the front and short in the back, its called a stack. guess I'm trying to find myself and its not only showing through my choices in life but also my appearance. grow it long again but for now, its shorter then it has been in a while. as for me and we are going through a rough patch and sent him an email this morning telling him in want to wait to get married. we are too unstable for marriage at this point. but we are still a couple. :-)	page 183
08/14/2019 07:16:54	Outbound	Dad, wanted to let you know that, and probably won't be getting married in here after all. We have lost that communication with each other and things are going down hill pretty fast. the 15 minute timer once every one hour thing has destroyed our relationship. like we barely ever talk anymore he always works and im busy with my stuff got going on in here. We are still together, just don't know for how much longer. He is isn't moving to Missouri any time soon, his grandma, who lives in Georgia, is dying and told him instead of moving, spend that money to take a trip home for Thanksgiving and see the family. which has its pros and cons. Pro its necessary because of his grandma, and con it brings no relief to the distance and lack of communication in our relationship. but no matter what I feel he needs to see his grandma before she passes that's just something would never stop him from doing. with that being said, our relationship is unstable and its unknown what the near future holds, will be devastated if he and can't work things out. but even if we do, we both are not comfortable with marriage at this time due to the circumstances. I love you dad. hugs, Gyp	page 188

08/14/2019 18:48:59	Outbound	have not sent you any correspondence in about a month or so. can not express just how much better my life is without your participation with the Blanchard family, nor with th Family. Now that we are no longer held by your contract. want to let you know, woman to woman..I know your dirty little secret. also have been told about your postings on social media. how fucking dare you post a picture of my dead mothers body on social media? that is a low blow, that is just despicable, you have no class or decency about your character. You have done nothing but talk shit about us since we chose to leave your By Proxy project. You claimed to have cared so much about my family and I. You are the picture of a pathetic low life, money hungry, fame seeking nobody, to have taken advantage of me and my family for your own personal gain. you have done interviews claiming you are an established writer, but you have no credits to back that up. nor do you conduct yourself in a professional manner. maybe a murder who some like, some hate, some are neutral, but bitch EVERYONE hates you internet wide, and you did that to yourself. You took advantage of my situation, you and my father a dream by promising them a set financial future for me. but instead of working on a project that helps bring awareness to Munchausen By Proxy, and secure my stability, or do anything to benefit me or my family, you paraded me as your show pony, making random unrelated interviews on my personal private life. you didn't see us as people, you saw celebrities, in your mind you saw your name on the big screen, and now that we no longer have any involvement with you, THAT is why you are behaving in such a unprofessional way. By Proxy series was made up of volunteers with you, a self proclaimed writer as their head, who are not established in the entertainment industry nor did they have professional training or experience in the roles they signed to. You had everyone sign bullshit contracts, that legally, was void 2 years ago. then threatened me and with a lawsuit for my emails voicing my dislike of you and your involvement with me and my family. claiming breached contract and tried a scare tactic to force me to write a retraction to said emails, which would rather eat shit then take back my very honest opinions. then tried to make the public believe that was unstable and incompetent due to my past abuse. can assure you, am very well off for what my past suggests should be. I should be curled up in the fetal position eating my own hair rocking back and forth, but I'm not. coping with my past, have deep rooted issues that no one can see, but have come along way in the last 4 years, as made evident by my nearly completed high school education and many mental and emotional classes taken while in D.O.C. In addition to the many arguments between us, you almost destroyed my relationship gave her the option to either lose a relationship with me, or continue on your project because wanted nothing to do with the unjust way you were using us, and she chose her family, I told you, family comes FIRST. now you have nothing to make your series a reality. My Mothers side family) nor my fathers side (The Blanchard family) will be aiding you in your project. and believe me when say, after we are done with your name, no production company will even look at you. with truth and honesty, Gypsy Blanchard	page 509

No, I'll see you as the man who abandoned me when needed him the most. sure I'll still love you, I'll always love you, but I will think less of you especially because there was ways of making it work. Ask yourself this, even if we had hours like before, you are so busy working getting a few minutes is all got with you. so really, other the date nights, has me calling changed? no, still call you in the morning if can get you to answer, I'll call you before you go to work, then again to say goodnight. baby can we try having a small date night or date day, with 1h15m every other hour on your day off? 08/15/2019 17:23:18	Inbound	Gypsy, know you more than likely won't respond but felt the need to message you about some things that are going on. First of all, only ever been interested in the truth. Im not pro one side or another. only release and comment on factual proof. Anything else that I've ever posted or commented has been my personal opinion. Im not out to get anyone. have NEVER tried nor implied that wanted to get your sentence extended. That is an asinine statement b I'm just a FB Admin whose fascinated with the twists and turns of this case. saw right from the beginning and that's why tried to warn you. That woman is toxic. have zero ulterior motive other than I'm just curious and nosy. I've been 100% transparent about that. did by releasing the info about your wedding tommy was ridiculous and only to cover her own ass because of the screen shot that released. Her behavior and response afterward has been ludicrous. She has these followers others convinced that you take advice and counsel from me and that's why you turned on her. The woman cannot admit her mistakes. She always has to blame someone else. This latest stunt of hers was downright disgusting. She was so determined to post the "V" mark first before could that she posted a picture of your Mothers naked corpse for the world to see and gawk at. Then allowed people to make horrible comments about her body is a despicable human being and only after called her out in a live video for posting that and being disrespectful to the dead and the family, did she blur out parts. She is unhinged! Then she gets in another tizzy about what documents might have and released the entire file of info without going through it first and blasted yours and your Mothers social security numbers all over the internet. She took it down after someone called her out but the damage was done. say this with the utmost sincerity, am very sorry for what that woman has put you and your family through. All I've ever wanted was the truth but she is so focused on fame and fortune that she's lost sight of reality. appreciate you sending those messages to me to post. know you did it because they would get maximum exposure but appreciate being trusted with them. I'm not the person that so many have made me out to be. hope at some point, you realize that.	page 511

08/17/2019 18:29:19	Inbound	for what? I'm the kinda person that don't like drama, don't like 2face bullshitters & that's all am seeing in the groups admins etc. But am going to most likely archive the group have on your case, but before do, I'm turning it into a positive, looking only from forward view. Another words no more discussions on your case. It's time for people that really care about another humanbeing to stop talking about the past & indulging in negativity. can't control others but can control what allow or indulge in. Groups have thousands of members but only 60 to 100 are active. Meaning people are tired of the nonsense. the ones that are active, are actively indulging in drama. So apologize for venting about things you have no control over out here nor should you be over whelmed with. I'm really am a very caring real ass person. & see your stepmom is also very kindhearted & we kindhearted people always get hurt or the bad end of the stick. So choose to stay focused on myself and the things I have going on in my life the other stuff is really unproductive and more damaging to you & everyone else, rather then helpful. decided to use a more recent happy picture of you along with a Louisiana picture of the Bayou & I'll google from and display only the state he's from not him. cuz want others to see your future & not your past. NO more past crap it's not healthy for anyone. By the way I love the Holidays,(which are coming up soon) Miss my family including my mom who lost 6 years ago. probably shouldn't miss her like do, but I do. So am trying to enjoy life again myself, after my own difficult journey. was also blessed with a good man, but not till after the last one, who was a long time friend turn nightmare. but that's cuz he caught me at a very vulnerable time in my life. I'm a much stronger person then that & quickly moved on Just wanted to check in on you.	page 063

08/19/2019 15:30:00	Inbound	Dear Gypsy Rose, My name I am 24 and live in sunny San Diego, CA. We are close in age, and have some similarities in our life stories. I'm sure you get hundreds of letters and don't always get the chance to read them all, but wanted to reach out to you. First let me say- am so proud of how much you have flourished the last couple years! recall walking past gossip magazines when your story came out in 2015, and seeing your picture. I've always loved reading, mostly books but especially those senseless magazines. Things that transport you to another world and let you hear about someone else's drama. At the time, was too wrapped up in my own nightmare to read about what had happened. I am the only child of a single mother who has Borderline Personality Disorder. Up until recently going no contact with my mother, my life has been a living hell. My favorite fairy tale and Disney princess has always been Rapunzel, because related to her so much. It was not until one of my mother's on again, off again friends jokingly referenced "Mommy Dead and Dearest," in regards to our relationship that decided to watch the documentary and learn more about you. Watching the documentary was triggering. While did not have unnecessary medical procedures nor as much pain as you suffered inflicted on me, saw so many parallels in our lives. Even down to eerie details, like a painting that was shown hanging in your Springfield home that my mother had on her wall. Other parallels, like age, unhealthy male relationships, not being allowed to really have friends, sneaking around, being obsessed with Disney and Disney princesses. It was very troubling and also somehow validating to see someone with a similar story. Most of my suffering was at home. To the outside world, my mom and were best friends. We did everything and went everywhere, even into my early 20s. will spare you details but my mother is a rude, conniving, horrible woman who hurt me for almost a quarter of a century and claims that am the problem to the few people who still talk to her. This year turned 24. I slowly stopped talking to my mom last year and finally we have little to no contact. It was the best decision could have made. My only regret is that didn't make it sooner. And yet, part of my heart still aches after caring my mom all those years, that chose myself and hurt her. After a few failed relationships (I never had a positive one as an example), finally found an amazing man, who loves me for who really am. We got engaged at Disneyland last year. We got married June 2019. go to therapy twice a month to help me through my past and to have a good future. have and wonderful job as an administrative assistant for a city in California. have healthy relationships with friends and family now. My goal in writing this letter is not to bore you with my own story. But wanted to share a little about my life, because learning about yours has been so impactful to me. want you to know, as believe you are learning, that there is life after having a toxic parent. You are a gorgeous young woman. Your hair is growing out so pretty!! signed a Change.org petition and am writing the governor of Missouri as well. pray for your early release because know you have suffered being a prisoner long enough, and that Chillicothe is likely not the best place for you to get the help you need. If you wish to write back or be pen pals, will include my contact information. However, also understand if you don't want to do so either.	page 683

08/20/2019 17:15:03	Outbound	Hey Dad, WOW one hell of a pep talk lol and are going through a rough patch its been like a month that we have been having issues with yea communication. did get to meet his mom recently and it went great! but she did voice that she would like us to wait to marry and after that had an emotional day and broke up with him becuase i thought thats what he wanted due to his depression, then 3 days later got back together, now HE says he wants space and a short break because he "wants to do what's best for me" and because confused the hell out of him by breaking up then getting back together. he needs time to sort things out. He started working this new job at the Hyatt Hotel and they gave him a free nights stay. well, he told me he was going get a drink then using his free night stay. now keep in mind I'm already insecure, but being in prison adds to that. so called him back 30mins after we had that conversation... no answer I called like 20 times, was crying worried he was gonna take a drunk slut back to the hotel. well the next day I got him to answer.. He got drunk with his buddy and was ignoring my calls for the rest of the night because he was having a night with the dudes. Dad when say cussed him out and screamed so loud my normal squeaky voice changed and was deep and full of emotional stress.. was pissed. he apologized and we leff it in the past. he didn't sleep with another woman either. but told him he has a responsibility to me as my fiance to answer the phone when call because I'm in prison that's my only way to get ahold of him fast, so he needs to grow up. and realize that he's not a 26 yr old bachelor but a soon to be 27 yr old engaged man. have no problems with him having fun with his friends but he best let me know and answer the phone when I need a little reassurance that things are good between us. men!!! swear! (rolls eyes) I told him a wedding is not gonna solve our issues we need to be more prepared for what could be thrown our way and can we make it through it. either way we are trying our best to work through this rough patch. I'm sure we will be fine. and no matter what I'll be fine because if have survived worse.	page 188
