05/01/2018 22:22:42	Inbound	Hello Gypsy!!! So I'm sure by now you [hopefully] have gotten the pictures sent you of Hoops & Yoyo. hope you liked them. took one of the pictures and tried out my photo-shopping skills by stretching it out to fit on 4 separate 4x6 pictures so you can sort of make a poster by combining them together. It's not a perfect fit but tried lol. I noticed on the facebook group it says you got a new job, you take the inmate pictures now. How is that going? also see a new picture posted as well, looking good! So anything new going on? Hows school and stuff?... Not much going on with me. The weather is finally breaking so swimming pools are opening and I've been working more. How's the weather on your end? hope all is well on your end. Talk to you soon, XOXO	page 211
05/08/2018 12:58:30	Inbound	Gypsy, I'm sorry to message again so quickly but I just realized that you may not be able to send an email back to me. Here is my address if you are interested in writing. Again, apologies. Hello, my name i: had forgotten added you in here awhile back and you've probably been wondering who this weirdo was that randomly added you. saw your case on a documentary and wanted to write. I'm hoping you're interested in a pen pal. I'd love to talk if that's okay. A little about myself I'm 33 and live in Arkansas. I'm a photographer and artist. worked in law enforcement for 5 years and was disabled in the line of duty almost 11 years ago. I'm engaged to a wonder woman named She is also incarcerated. She's been in for 5 years and comes home in 2033. We celebrate our four year anniversary on Halloween so I've been with her almost her whole time. You can probably tell that I'm not judgmental in the slightest. I'm open to talk about anything. have no kids but am becoming a stepfather to Michelle's son. have a dog who I've had since she was 8 weeks old and just celebrated her 8th birthday. She's being trained as my service dog and is an amazing little companion. We always get funny looks because she is a tiny thing and I'm a giant. I'm a 6'5 man so guess it's funny that have such a tiny pup. I'll send a pic of her if you like. I'll stop rambling for now. hope you are doing well. Shoot me a message back if you're interested in a new friend.	page 042
05/09/2018 21:52:34	Inbound	Hi there, My name i . As you can imagine saw the documentary on HBO and wanted to talk with you... make no judgement about you based on that documentary or what happened. I'm not looking for you to tell me your side of the story or to know anything about it that you don't want to tell me. I'm not offering money for an interview or wanting to write your story... you simply intrigued me and would like to get to know you as a person. Not a celebrity or an inmate. Just a person. live in Kansas now, but was raised in Missouri, near Warrensburg. I'm a network engineer for a large internet service provider, and writing from work as there's not much to do at the moment. I'm married, but we have no children, just 3 dogs, 2 cats, and a macaw. I'm also not looking to date you or whisk you away after your time is over so we can be together forever... just to be a friend to talk with and take some monotony out of your day. have another friend in another facility whom write to on a daily basis and it seems to keep her spirits up some. did know her before she went in, and can see how odd it might be, me writing you out of nowhere. just don't want you to think have ill intentions or am looking to make money off your story. If you'd like to talk more, feel free to send me a message. I'd love to hear from you. If not, completely understand.	page 121
05/10/2018 18:53:05	Inbound	hope you've had a good day today, and that you rest well tonight.	page 121
05/14/2018 06:55:40	Inbound	Heyyy Gypsy, So missed your call the other day by mere seconds... was soooooo pissed. went upstairs to get a drink and as went downstairs to my room heard my phone ringing and by the time got to it, it had stopped. saw the number and was like SON OF A BITCH. lol But anyways figured I'd write you quick and say hi. hope your new job and school is going well for you. It's swimming pool season so work is getting busy now and have started saving some money towards my "visit Gypsy" fund. I'm going fill out the form and send it out this week, hopefully there's no problems. was thinking about coming sometime in August. How the weather there then, still decent? Hope to hear from you again soon. XOXO	page 211

05/18/2018 19:25:14	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, hope you're having a good week, and that this letter finds you doing well. hope can hear back from you sometime. :) used to have a girlfriend in Chillicothe, so I've been there a few times. hope you guys have some way to stay cool in there. Do you like to read? Any favorite books or authors? Movies? I love to read... I'm rereading the Ember in the Ashes series now, since the new one is coming out next month. can't wait!! They're some of my favorite books. also love The Cider House Rules, and so many others... same with movies.	page 121
05/27/2018 23:37:25	Inbound	hey girlfriend thank you for the lovely postcard got in the mail sorry that have been a little distant it's not your fault just get stressed out with all that crap get from people don't know why people can't just be normal anymore too many self centered people amongst us in this world suppose anyways that guy ended up breaking my heart should not have be so surprised though he just reminded me so much why I'm totally gay one day you will get out of prison and date all sorts of different kinds of guys probably over and over again experience the same thing do. they all suck. but more than anything hope you find the right guy that makes you so super happy forever and treat you like you want to be treated like in the movies and stuff. only thing that ever makes me happy anymore is my dog all Oliver. and my children of course but don't get to see them very often most certainly cherish every moment get with them though was not able to take care of them when was younger so now my mom has custody of them. I like to keep super busy keeps me alive so I'm always working all the time. I've made a lot of good accomplishments in life though so I'm truly a pretty happy individual for the most part. it would just be nice to share life with somebody else who is just like me. But anyways my business got the endorsement that needed for the insurance so just opened up a whole new region for a state that has not never got to experience high speed internet so I'm going to be pretty busy getting in the ball rolling in those areas setting up a brand new shop training new managers and stuff. give me a call anytime sometime and will try to visit you again soon hugs	page 254

05/30/2018 18:06:43	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, hope you're doing well. Do you like rain? Storms? It's storming here today. love it. The way the rain smells, the fact that it cools down the summer days. hope you'll decide to write me back sometime. Until then, I'll keep sending well wishes your way and hope these messages find you as good as can be. are doing ok in there!	page 121
06/08/2018 16:08:43	Inbound	hey kiddo! nice to hear from you! hope all is as well as it can be. things are strangely hot here in Colorado. pushing late August and still in the 90's Ugh... cant wait for fall to get here that's for sure. my favorite time of the year. went to my baby cousins 1st birthday party over the weekend. that was pretty fun. her name i , she was crushing cake like no other. and clapping her little hands after every bite, spreading cake everywhere! it was so cute! they live up in the mountains of Colorado, saw 7 deer while was just sitting on the deck, they just came cruising down the dirt road. know i have never met you, but you have a friend and supporter in me. keep you in my thoughts and prayers. have faith in kaan haad iin and kaan in taueh much Hey Gypsy, How are you? Just thought Id sit down and you. hope you are doing well You can feel free to write me any time you like How have you been? understandable life might not be the best right now one thing never told you, My Highschool girlfriend did 16 years. Its one of many reasons chose to reach out to you. Hers was different, embezzlement fraud, identity theft, and more. She was a Varsity Cheerleader but none of that mattered. Everybody makes mistakes. would like to get to know you. maybe you will right me back, maybe you wont. but im here if you would like to talk.	page 014
06/10/2018 21:07:20	Inbound	Heyyyyy Gypsy! How have you been? feel like it's been awhile since I've talked to you so figured would send you a letter. was filling out the form for visitation but one part of it puzzles me... Just under the part that ask "have you ever been found guilty, or plead guilty to a crime?" it asks for "Most recent date:" and I'm not sure what date it's looking for exactly. I may just call the jail and ask but have a feeling no one will friggen know I'm talking about! Also, believe that before I send in this form, you have to submit something in order to have me considered to be on your visitor list; have you done that? Anyways hope school, your job, and everything is going good for you. It's been getting warmer here so it's been busy at work with the whole swimming pool thing. It makes me money so really can't complain too much. (but will anyways) don't think I've told you this... but because don't have much to say in this letter... I'll tell you that I've been growing the top of my hair out for about 9 months now. got what guess you could call a "man-bun". I'm honestly not sure if wanna keep it going or cut it back down short like it was. ehheh, who knows. Funny thing right... you told me about those "voodoo" chips that actually found at my local dollar store so brought a bag to work and gave some to the kid work with and he loves them. Went to the store got a few bags and even his parents like them.... thought that was pretty funny... They are really good though, but damn I do miss those Whole Shabangs lol. So read on facebook that you now have to add the E at the end of Blanchard(e), what's up with that bullshit? Friggen jail and their stupid ass rules. Anyways, hope to hear from you soon. XOXO	page 212

07/02/2018 19:10:35	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, You're all thats on my mind lately. cant help but wonder how you feel sometimes. What you're thinking. What you're doing. And whats stressing you out. You're constantly in my thoughts. And not always in the happy sense of the meaning, sometimes Im placing myself in your shoes, envisioning the walls around you, with the countless set of rules in place. Imagining the people you share a room with and are forced to interact with, regardless of how much you may like them or not. cant even pretend to know how that must feel from time to time. Just know Im always praying for you and want to be here for you for any hard times you face. Im always just a phone call or a visit away. Like ive said before, were in this together. Youre my life partner, and even if its an uphill climb sometimes, if you ever get tired you can just hop on my back and Ill try my best to carry the both of us. Your feelings are my feelings. Your stress is my stress. We both face it everyday. But like to think were doing okay so far. Were one year in, and wouldnt tum back for anything. just love you too damn much. Youre letter you read to me over the phone really hit home with me, and want to do better for you. Just know im never intentionally vague, or keeping secrets from you. trust you whole-heartedly, and want you to feel the same way. Sometimes my life really is just that boring, where just dont have a whole lot to say week after week of what ive been doing. It really just comes down to work most of the time. Trying to get this move taken cared of. Sometimes wish could just stumble across a large sum of money somehow and just DO IT. Im just as sick as you are of talking about it. really just want to be there. No more than an hour away from you, and spend as much time together as possible as we get through this challenge were facing. Just know AM coming babe. promise. This weekend has been pretty un-eventful for me as well. think after all might just stay here at the house for a little while longer. Me and my roommates have worked out all of our differences and Im just gonna keep quiet downstairs for a little while. So feel free to write the same ol address :) Oh man, next time you call me, remind me to tell you the story of how I horribly insulted this family at the bar yesterday. Its been bothering me all day =(I just miss you so much. More so than ever. Now that ive had these visits, time away from you is torture. just want to hold your hands and stare into those gazing brown eyes of yours. Have i mentioned lately that im just absolutely crazy about you? No? Well, just know that having a picture of us (not this recent visit, not a fan) as my phone wallpaper just isnt enough anymore. need more Jersey in my life :) hope your weekend has been great. cant wait to tell you all about my 4th, and hear all about yours. How has your weekend been? Tell me all about the toxic drama in the room. Hopefully by now youve gotten a lock for	page 171

07/06/2018 13:02:45	Inbound	Heyyy Gypsy!!! How are you doing? Good as always hope... So sent out my visitors application form on the 26th of June. Let me know how that goes and if get approved or not... If let me know what the next step in the process is so can start booking things as soon as possible. also sent you some pictures of me with my longer hair this past Monday on the 2nd. I took these just for you in my back yard. threw in one glamor shot in there; know know it looks pretty ridiculous lol. don't know what the weather is like where you are but it has been hot as fuck here. That with working outside is like torture. How has school been going for you? Did you finish that class yet? Any word on the Skype stuff? hope to hear from you soon! thugs:	page 212

07/13/2018 19:15:15	Inbound	Hey lover, Summertime has finally hit Seattle, and its hotter than ever. look outside my window at all the lush greenery, and daydream of taking you for a hike through the trails in my neighborhood, showing you the broken down train carts (no idea how they got there), the river with endless rocks to hop over, the molded over bridges that shake when you walk on them (dont worry, i gotcha), and maybe even stop by the hammocks that strangers put up for awhile. God, miss you. By this point I've heard all about your 4th, and im happy you got to spend it with your best friends in there and eat some good food :) didnt get any good food (apart from the 'misplaced' cheeseburger i 'found') and even though you heard all about the stupid things i did at the festival there, managed to have a great time, although the fireworks just weren't quite as incredible without being able to hold you close to me while watching them. One day, one day. Well, its back to the grind for me. My days are filled with nothing but work again, and the drive to make as much money as possible to get to Missouri as soon as can. But what else is new, right? made a new friend at work, his name is and he's probably one of the nicest people I've ever met. Just a genuinely good person, ya know? Anyway, we're gonna be new workout buddies. He's very educated on what to eat pre/post workout, and what supplements and vitamins to take. Which know NOTHING about, so, this will be awesome. Oh, and hes fucking huge, so, im gonna listen. So there you have it, ill bet you think I live some incredibly exciting life, but no, its pretty routine. Just work, try and exercise when can, and spend as much time talking to my one and only as possible. Have mentioned yet that love you like crazy? Your new haircut sounds pretty hot. cant wait to see the new color soon, if they allow it. Long hair, short hair, bangs, or curls, whenever see you, you make my mouth water :) Nobody brightens me up quite like you. Went go blonde huh? dont know... with those brown eyes of yours.. it might just be a super cute look.. we'll see :) Hahah, oh yeah, the Mariner's... Yeah dont think ever seem to talk about baseball except when Im around you, you adorable fuck. But yeah we just swept the Royals in your hometown.. What happened to KC? You guys won the world frickin series a few years ago.. but anyway, ill save the sports talk for the visitation room :) love how you and I have the same habit, even a year later, of going back and re-reading old letters just to see how far we've come, and just to see what we were talking about back then. Me trying to play it cool, pretending didnt have this massive crush on you (how well did that work, huh?) and planning out our very first visit sigh And here we are. Planning so much more. Dont you just love how life can take you down such unexpected roads sometimes? Lets just roll down the windows, throw the top down, and turn the music up. As long as I have you with me, dont care where we end up.	page 171
07/18/2018 07:43:04	Inbound	Hey Gypsy!!! got the card you sent me, thank you so much for it. July babies are indeed the best, we know this :D So guess what? IT'S OFFICIAL!!! booked my flight... whaaaaat leave early Friday, August 24th and land in St. Louis at 9:40 AM. That should give me enough time to make the 2nd visitor block starting at 2:30PM (at least it better be, lol). also leave St. Louis and come back home on Sunday, August 26th. My flight takes off at 5:20 PM and get home just after midnight. excited to see you!!! So how is everything else going? Did you ever write the guy you wanted me to get you the address for? Don't know what made me think about that.... will send a few more pictures your way soon. got a motorcycle recently (haven't had one since 2011) so I'll have to send you a nice, sexy, picture of me on it. lol. Well don't know if these letters are time stamped but it's early and got to get ready for work, ugh. wanted to let you know the dates of my flight. I guess will literally see you soon!!! XOXO	page 211
07/27/2018 10:48:10	Inbound	Having problems sending you money for your birthday. Happy Golden Birthday. We love you. Hope your day is great. Wish you were home with us.	page 185
07/30/2018 19:56:44	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, My name and we have never met, but have thought about you over the years, and just wanted to know if you're doing okay, and if you needed anything? would love to be a pen pal if you are bored. I'm not with the media, or writing a book or anything like that. I'm a single mom, have two girls. One teenager and one almost teenager, so they keep me on my toes :) hope you're doing well. sincerely, hope you're doing well today. was just sitting in my car watching my daughter ruin off with her friends into school, and my mind wandered over to you. how have you been? know we don't know each other, but feel like we've got a few things in common. One would be knowing what it's like to have to smile even tho you might be devastated. and the other being that sometimes the word family has a different meaning to different families. At least it did to mine. Here's a little about me. I'm nearly 40, I've got 2 teenagers, and it's just us. So, my social life is past tense lol. If you ever need a pen pal, would love to write back and forth with you. I'm not a reporter. I'm not going to write a book, or share anything with anyone. am sure you get all kinda people who bother you for that. And I'm not interested in doing that at all. hope your day is blessed with peace. love, wow. think U should get paid. U r famous out here. There is all kinds of shows movies Facebook posts etc. u will prolly get paid when U get out. think u should be paid because of your circumstances. It wasn't your fault. feel u didn't know better because u were basically a prisoner. Anyhow everyone knows who u r. That makes u famous not trying to be rude by saying that either. It's good that I've humbling myself tho. My son is in prison and write him on here all the time and then just thought I'd look u up. How much longer do you have left? So have u seen the act? watched it. Was it much a movie tan?	page 138
08/03/2018 01:22:30	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, Got your letter! My week is going pretty good, thanks for asking. It's pretty much the norm on my end too. Although work has been slow but other than that, eh. It's funny you say that picture is your new 'sexy selfie' because before even read the letter looked at the picture and was like lets just say you definitely got the blood flowing; you are what the spanish call 'muy bonita' lol. The pose you did works because would come get you :) So enough perverted stuff lol... Did you actually read the horoscope? The first sentence is literally "Your love needs are in flux, so if your current flame isn't blazing anymore, it might be time to move on."... Don't wanna be that guy who stirs shit up but damn that's scary. Those tablets are going to be pretty cool. Your going to be able to do a lot of shit with them. It even says it don't cost the jail or the inmate anything, that tells me they are going to make so much money of the services they can afford to give away the tablets... Hopefully it will make email communication faster. Your lucky you still get some of the perfume samples in your mags, they started to take them out of mags when was in jail. My favorite cologne is Giorgio Armano, smells sooo good. So your going to rub some on (perfume) for our visit huh, it's gonna make it just that much harder to resist the urge... I'm sure you will be looking foxy no matter what khaki color mix you end up wearing. Your nervous?!? You have done tv interviews, and are like damn near a celeb so if anyone should be nervous as fuck it should (and is) me. But I'm glad to hear that you are excited! hope the picnic area is open too, can you bring vending machine food outside to eat? If so that would be pretty cool. So you doll about the visit... how'd he take it? Did he go all cave-man and start grunting? will send bike pics soon... Need to get it out and in some decent scenery so it looks nice and not just me in my garage lol... also might get my hair somewhat braided this weekend so if it turns out good I'll take a picture of that as well... seems only fair to give you some new shower pictures seeing as how you gave me one :) Let me know what happens with the special visit thing. haven't booked any activities or my hotel for Saturday because want to see what's going on first. Talk to you soon and see you the end of the month!!!	page 211

08/08/2018 15:59:50	Inbound	So just check Jpay and noticed your email... checked today (Aug 8th) earlier around 11AM and didn't get it. Made it back on at 330 PM and it was there. So that's pretty cool that it actually works and hopefully that will give you a slight time line. You say can send you pictures via Email? Are you sure? don't see any "picture" or "attachment" options but will check the site as it maybe in a different place. Afterall, Jpay is a Securus company so you know it's allllll kinds of fucked up. We are getting close! In about 3 weeks we will be snacking on jail house vending machine junk food together. Very exciting :D .Let me know how you make out with the special visit thing-a-ma-bober. Securus actually refunded me the money for the phone, friggen clowns, so will be dumping that into your canteen just so you know. What a day, hot as balls out here and I'm stuck putting up an above-ground pool tomorrow. Fun, fun. hope all is well on your end. Hope to hear back from you soon. Hugs,	page 211

08/08/2018 13:13:10	Inbound	Hey! Yeah, setting up times to call times would be good. Im not exactly sure which days and times would be best for me. Where i live the service is terrible on my phone so would have to go into town to get service, but since we have this now it will be a little easier to figure something out. So did you say you have 4 years or 6 years to go? was trying to figure it up last night. I ordered a regular nintendo controller that i can use on my computer to play the old school games. hope they work well, iam pretty excited about it. More so than should be. have the old system, but it is pretty unreliable. It will cut off midgame sometimes. Still haven't gotten that ps4 game yet. Literally everything make is going into this music stuff. It is getting to the point now where the interesting stuff happens. Final mixes, mastering, videos, so much other stuff. Times like these it sucks not being a millionaire hah. It would be finished so much quicker. Glad you had a good bday. I'm only 6 years older than you. feel like im about 65 though. hear it doesn't get any better the older we get ha. I think maybe after this music stuff settles down might return to college and get my masters degree. Not sure. The more i think about it, the more i remember all those papers and research thesis papers and it was awful. You would think Id have life figured out by now. Most other people my age have already been married with kids and divorced, married again and im just like - yep, write a song. Ha! just take it a day at a time. work some at my dads auto shop, mainly office stuff, i help mom take care of grandma. She has dementia. She is 88, so its a hard time sometimes. had a dentist appt for tomorrow, but canceled it today. can always tell when have issues with my anxiety and today isnt a good day. Its 12:11p and I came home early. Ill go for now. still feel like theres so much to say, but ill save some for the future. :)	page 279

08/09/2018 19:22:53	Inbound	Hi! I'm doing well. Battling this infection/injury still, Dr said it would be about 6 weeks but offered to refer me to a surgeon. I'm going to give it a few weeks, assuming it doesn't get worse. On the brighter side, met someone. I've been using match.com for a month or so now and on Sunday met a man out for ice cream, then met him out on Wed for appetizers and now am going to see him again on Saturday. So definitely some chemistry there. I'm usually pretty possessive of my free time. From the moment we met, we just had a natural comfortable friendly kind of rapport. Reese has been back to the vet for an intestinal illness. We talked about her upcoming surgery, risks, etc and vet said, "if you are going to euthanize her, give her to me, and I'll keep her and do the surgery", which is a really...odd (?) not sure of the word I'm looking for but it's like someone saying, "I'll save your kid's life, just give her to me". There's a chance that she may not survive the surgery because of her heart murmur. 1,300 isn't too much to pay to keep Reese happy and healthy, it is however, steep for a dog that dies on the operating table. :(Life is full of not easy decisions. I sent you some stamps. And I will drop you a letter in the mail soon because think friendly mail is a nice distraction to the day. My# haven't finished setting up that account yet, if that's still necessary.	page 276

It's crazy how life can be, and how you get tangled up in the little things that make you lose focus on what matters most. Just know still my #1, and everything do is for US. It's all working towards OUR future. never know what tomorrow will bring, but I'm happy to jump through these hoops knowing that with me in my heart through thick and thin, just like am for you. can never tell you this enough, but love you so much, and am forever grateful to have such an amazing girl like you with me always. hope youre having an amazing uw	page 169

08/11/2018 09:09:29	Inbound	It's again. didn't realize you very well may not be able to reply back through this service. If you can't and would like to write, my address i Or if you have any sort of email access my email is Hone to hear from vou. not really positive how to start this email but here goes. My name i I'm 28 years old and live in a small town in Ohio. You don't know me, and this may seem super random, but for whatever reason your story has stuck with me and made me go back to trying to imagine putting myself in your shoes. We are close in age, and think on all the things have done as milestones growing up and then think of the things that make me who am today, and can't help but want to even just say hello because you may not have anyone at certain times to talk to. first came across your story on a small, two minute Facebook video in passing and swear your mother resembles mine in appearance. was immediately in shock as to what was hearing you were put through. So, got on Youtube and found the HBO documentary done of your story and by the end was in tears. have always had a very rough, emotionally draining relationship with my mother. She at one point told more than one guy he was my father and then kept telling me different ones were my father almost for sport. She was not at either births of my two children for me, nor was she there when I had a miscarriage. And every piece of your story kept ringing back to what if my mother ever went to such extremes? How in the world would mentally feel or handle things. When you said you'd rather be in jail for 10 years than live that life for 10 years, teared up. hate that at no point in time anyone interferred with such questionable situations for you. just had so many questions as to if you had any family you were around regularly that should have said something or if you've ever even had a true friend in life. wasn't sure if should write you or use this so decided would give this a try. I'd love to write back and forth if you're at all interested just to know you. The current you, what things you've actually decided on your own you like. What you fill your days with. I'm always open to answer questions too. didn't want to seem overwhelming here, but your story really got to me and if anything, I'd just like to ask how you are now. Take care, hope to hear from you.	page 309

A day that i had never thought would happen honestly. Maybe the most difficult day in my life. don't want to really go into detail, but it's enough for me to ask if you are able to have visitations. If so maybe you can tell me how they work. Also - aim for maybe tuesday? 08/19/2018 19:56:33	Outbound	Hi girl. Sorry to vent on you earlier. Sometimes its good to vent. I'm a little better now. The technician found a cyst that they are not worried about. The problem is that the body makes an "exit" for drainage infection and mine is not healing. So we did the needle thing in hopes that will encourage that exit to heal. Ofit does not then they will want to do surgery. That will be decided in the next few weeks. don't think that they are going to do a biopsy for the cyst but honestly, can't remember what they said. Things have a way of being "lost" in the moment. Anyway, I'm alittle frazzled hit at the end of the I'm living a charmed life Take care nf yourselfHi Gypsy, hope this finds you well. I'm glad to hear that you finally got your tablet! That's and I'm happy for you :-). not doing real well. And it's really nice to be able to talk to you like this, talk to text. It gives me a chance to kind of say things out loud. I'm still having some health issues, 14 weeks and Counting now. I go back to the specialist today. I still have fluid pockets that haven't drained or re dispensed so I'm hoping that she drains it today, but that involves needles. On one hand I'm afraid that she won't do anything and that will just have to keep dealing with this. I'm so done with it :-(and on the other I'm afraid that she will do something about it. So need to get in the shower and get ready to go but I just keep kind of locking down. just can't seem to make myself go. So texted my boyfriend, use that word loosely, sent him a :-(and he called me immediately to see if was okay but don't really feel like he offered me a whole lot of support or Comfort either. Maybe it's a guy thing but it sure was disappointing. I'll send you another message after get back from the appointment. Maybe that one will have some good news and not just be a sad vent. Take care of hi Ms Christine are this eling any better?	page 279

As far as my sign goes, I'm a capricorn. was born on th ! And I think I told you was in my mid 30s. I'm 36 to be exact. I've always been told look younger than am. Waiting until 21 would be pointless because don't think you'll have any problems getting parole approved. do what we can now and hope for the best and expect the worst. 3 years can seem as though they fly buy when looking back but looking ahead it seems forever I'm sure. You are such a inspiration to me with how resilient you've become. promise you baby, your best days have yet to be written. The freedom you'll have will be worth what you've sacrificed. know we don't talk alot and were not as close as we should be. Thats going to be something we mend together in time together, at home. literally have pots on every burner and some waiting on the side. Managing everything technical. Mom is more the social manager and thank god for that. not a man of many words. know I'm supposed to provide and keep everyone safe and instill values and character to the family. Remember when said that life often changes on a dime? Well today got another one those life-altering texts. Again it was from my sister in Philly, she has been in a bad relationship for a while now and I've been trying to get her to come and live with me in Milford and she has decided that she wants to do that. So rented a van for tomorrow morning and am driving up to Philly to help get as much stuff as we can and then am turning around and driving back. A childhood friend of ours, Tammy, is supposed to go with me. sure hope she does because it's about an 18 hour round trip. My brain is going a million miles an hour trying to think of all the things that need to try to get done. First it was the schematics of the banking and the rental car, tried really hard to get a full size pickup truck but I couldn't. Now need to go down in the basement and move some stuff around to accommodate her. The basement mostly finished oh, it has walls and Electric and carpet but there's no vents down there. We still use it well actually Paul uses it his friends hang out there all the time. This might put an end to that. So I'm kind of excited and overwhelmed. I'm happy that she's going to be out of that situation . And I'll be happy to spend time with her again . But it's hard for the big cats to share a cage! It will be quite an adjustment to have somebody living with me. Anyway need to start winding down and	page 276

09/01/2018 13:46:56	Outbound	Hiya! Good to hear from you! Well, red is a hard color to pull off Are you going to try to dye it your natural color or just strip the old dye out? lam still fighting this infection, that time that it went untreated was detrimental for it. will probably end up on one more round of antibiotics. So tired of taking pills they keep messing with my body :(made the trip in and out of Philly in a 22 hour round trip. spent more time there than meant to. We got the boxes loaded in a quick enough time had a wild rabbit that she had rescued 2 yrs ago. She found it as a baby at the hospice care when our brother, was dying. Anyway, she wanted to take it back to her ex's farm to let it loose, but earlier in the day she tried to get it in the carrier and after that, he wouldn't get too close to it. She was trying to lure it with clovers and lettuces, wanted to just drop a towel on it and throw it's ass in there, but rabbits have sharp teeth and claws. She wanted me to go on without here and she would just follow later with the rabbit but was totally against that. was afraid that she would still be sitting there at 3am. So she finally decided to do it my way, we had to flip the armchair to keep him from hiding there and finally comered him in the bathtub and by that time, had the bathmat in my hands to grab him and we shoved him in there. Rabbits will snap their own backs in a panic and also they are susceptible to heart attack, but by that time, was willing to accept that. So, the rabbit is free on the farm now and is hopefully able to survive on it's own. it's never really been around other bunnies before, just my sister and her (?) room mate, BF, XBF or whatever he is now. She's doing better but she doesn't really eat or sleep on much of a regular basis. think that being here has been good for her, tho sometimes find it hard to share my space. I'm going to go to an concert tonight. My whole "met a man" thing didn't work out. He was less than honest and not very attentive. So going with a friend from down home. He likes to drive and he doesn't drink so won't have to worry about parking or concert beer. They say that he puts on an amazing show, figure he's pushing 70 and I'm pushing 50, so it's now or never. Let me know how your hair turns out. Also, if you need anything to read. Best Wishes to send alittle hello your way, so im going back to my natural hair color med brown because the red just didnt come out like i wanted	page 276

09/03/2018 19:48:31	Inbound	sent you a bunch of pictures on Saturday so will explain them in this letter. You got one with me in sunglasses. Like said work for a pool company so that was just after we had finished putting in a new liner for this above-ground pool. They had gotten a water truck load delivery so they didn't have to fill it up using their hose. That waster stream is coming from the water truck into the pool and I'm under it, You got two of me in a green shirt that shows when I had my hair braided. There are 4 of my motorcycle. All those stupid stickers are there from the guy who had it before me. think it was some group he was in. would of taken them off but the dip shit clear-coated the plastics, meaning he had it painted over with a clear gloss, so can never peel them off. There's 3 of me from the 'Terrificon' convention went to; in the same costume that went to the Rhode Island Comic Con in. found only one other guy rockin the same outfit (so to speak) so had to get a picture with him. The other 2 guys in the picture had really good costumes... one was a Halo character and the other Ghost Rider. The other picture with the really tall costume was a legit costume. give the guy credit for wearing that big ass thing all day. took a selfie in front of the jail sign after my visit. was bright as shit too so was like blinded taking this. You got one picture of me from Worlds of Fun. It's a good thing took take picture because I'm having problems logging on to their bullshit website to get all the pictures from that day. You got me rocking the same shirt that wore to my visit however it was taken at my house way before took the it seemed appropriate with the hair; Lastly you got a picture of me in the pink shirt almost wore the day we met. Came out darker than I'd hope. was under an umbrella in my backyard when I took it so guess that mayyyy have been an issue. Talk to you soon. ~Hugs~	page 212

Any card with your lip print on it is frame worthy. :) took a picture of the news-paper article about me but I'm not sure how it's going to come out in printing. Walmart usually forces me to crop my photos a little so don't know if i can cram it all in there so you can read it all. However, do have the text from two different newspapers that had my case in it that pulled off This article was in a news-paper called 'The Herald News' and is the one actually have a cut out of Swansea police charge man with possessing explosive devices, assault weapons SWANSEA — While investigating a domestic violence incident police said they found that their suspect was in possession of homemade explosive devices. 27,0 was arrested without incident after police got a tip that he may have explosives in the house, according to police. But he hasn't responded yet. I just wanted to give you a heads up. It's not in my support group page or o It's in a small discussion group. A few of supporters have responded as well. also sent it t just incase you talked to him before talked to you. It's been busy since dad is home. He is at the Dr with his dad right now. All is well. His mom messaged me saying how sorry she was and that it hadn't crossed her mind and was sorry. told her not to worry about it and thought you'd even laugh about it. 10/12/2018 00:09:12	Inbound	Hello Gypsy , and hope you are doing as well as possible ! Thank you for the happy birthday message. will turn 42 on the 17th ofOctober. took a few days off work so some old friends from Tulsa , Oklahoma and New Orleans , Louisiana can come and visit over the long weekend. How have you been? Do you like to read a lot? And , ifso , which writers do you like? My favorites are Truman Capote , Albert Camus , J.G. Ballard , among many others. Are you allowed to receive books and other items sent to your facility? Have you ever been to Texas? like Austin because it is a very liberal city in the middle ofan extremely conservative state - so like Austin ,but not so much the rest ofTexas.Many of my friends in this city are involved in Democratic Socialist groups and(non violent) political activism. support their causes for the most part but don't really get involved , myself. How is it where you are? Are you treated decently? ask because know people being held in facilities here in Texas who undergo awful treatment by staffand suffer horrifying detention center conditions - lack ofair conditioning during hot Texas summers , lack ofproper plumbing , insect infestations ,nearly inedible food , and no real legal representation. truly hope it is better in your state. Anyway , need to get ready for bed soon. Work comes early in the morning. Please do not hesitate to email me here any time you would like. Maybe can send you a book or two ifyou want. Take Care,	page 016

10/12/2018 16:43:58	Inbound	glad your made the honor roll boo. Don't screw it up now. Lol. think Its wonderful that you feel so deeply about each other and honored to have been considered with regard to a blessing. would be ignorant of such a blessing remain no more aquatinted than you and my dog Jazz lol. However Your happiness is quite noticeable and for a that, we are great-full in him. think we should make arrangements in the spring to spend some time with him. What exactly would benefit from a marriage sooner rather than later ? Have you had any serious disagreements with him yet, where yall able to get past them ? Can he meet all your needs as wife and mother, a best friend and an honorable father Why does he feel that you are the one. These are question would have for both of you. My gut tells me that its still early and time moves slower as your apart. You may have been dating say for a year but time together may be only equivalent to a few weeks sometimes people split up after their 1st serious disagreement and never really see it coming. The contractual agreement and commitment of marriage is a strain on marriage itself and know you would have not even had once chance to walk out in the world a free being to go and EXPLORE the opportunities out there. Will he allow you that space. Will you need more ? Its a real and scary choice and I'm sure you cant wait any longer to have what you deserve in life,, a fair chance to happiness , but fear a marriage certificate at this point would be more pressure than relief. Thats my opinion only and will keep an open mind about it and do my best to know and vhet him fairly. Honestly its hard to say anything about him in particular as would say the same if Brad Pitt wanted your hand. just dont know him boo. But we'll change that. Ok. Loveya	page 185

10/14/2018 01:08:41	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, You don't know me. have a son doing 15 years in DOC. Life can be confusing and full of regrets, guilt from choices made for whatever reasons, and being young and wanting to be a part of someone's life in a loving way. Life can just pain suck! hope you are doing well. would like to be a positive support for you if you need someone. can see a girl that will have a positive future when you are released. Write me back if you feel like it. You don't know me and am sure you get a lot of mail from people you don't know but had to reach out. recently just learned about what happened to you, and completely dove right into knowing more about what happen to you. learned about it, because of the series on Hulu that came out called The Act and as it keeps going, it gets more and more interesting. googled your case and watched your sentencing and wanted you to hear my thoughts. Although Murder is awful and always have believed there are others way to get around any situation you may be in, but watching what your mom put you through, believe she had it coming. If that upsets you i'm sorry, but watching what her own dad said about her daughter about her deserving what she got says a lot about who your mom was. don't know if this is a sore subject for you but so so sorry for what happen to you. feel like if had been your neighbor would have seen the signs and would have helped, would have also believed you. can't believe something so awful happen to you and for you today be okay. so happy you are now living a life that is yours and your a lone. would like to know more about you, like what your plans are when you get out? Who you want to be, what you like to do. Your story is amazing and heart breaking and wish someone noticed something sooner before the worst happened. Do you and your dad have a great relationship now? hope have been building a closer one. How is prison for you? Is it better than what you were going through out in the world with your mom. After something so awful and you not being able to stick up for yourself i am sure you have a great support system behind you. wish you wouldn't have been convicted because in my eyes you were the victim and you did not actually do the dirty work. hope I hear back from you, like I said would love to know more about you, and tell you more about myself Let me know if you need anything i can fill you in on a life as a texan lol. My address if you would like to write back Mv name thank you for reaching out with support. :-) lam doing good :-) have adapted well. prison is not so bad, for me its more freedom then ever knew before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED, passed every subject except math though I'm striving to achieve that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. :-) do have a wonderful support system, My father and continue to build a bond. He and my stepmothe are coming up to visit next month, they will also be meeting my fiancé. engaged to a wonderful man, his name we have been together for about 2 years and he has been nothing but my biggest blessing. :-) lam aware that there is a Hulu series, The Act, however am unable to watch it so have little to say about the show, only that the production team and creators of the show has used my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial profit from it. other then that, i have heard its like 95% accurate to the true events of my life. as for me, spend my time either on my tablet listening to music, I'm a big country fan, or in the library. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental well being. :-) I try and stay positive in my day to day life, just look forward to starting a wonderful new life when am free. would love to travel, seeing the northern lights is on my top 10 list. do want to have children someday, and have already thought of names, Aurora Rose for a girl and Railey for a boy. want to do a line of work that either works with animals or kids love both, or working as a hair stylist. :-) for now just can't wait for summer. think I'm going to try a sport this year...eshh wish me luck, I'm so clumsy lol anyways have a great day and thanks again for the encouragement. :-) P.S lam also asking all my friends and supporters to send letters to Missouri State Government officials in order to help with my early release. Hello Friends and Supporters, I appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence. Many of ya'll have signed The Free Gypsy Blanchard Petition created by my Now, must ask a favor, am respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for my freedom and write a letter expressing support for my early release to either the Missouri State Governor Michael Parson AND/OR The Division of the Missouri State Board of Probation and Parole. lam scheduled for a parole hearing in December of 2021, however any and all letters of support are helpful. please remember to add my first and last name and in the letter. Thank You :-) GypsyRose Blanchard	page 141

10/15/2018 17:57:08	Outbound	thank you for your thoughts Dad, I appreciate you keeping on open mind. I too think ya'll all need to meetone another, build bonds of ya'll own and you and mom get to know the man who holds my heart. most of your questions would be best answered by the both of us but, il briefly answer a few. No, we have never had a major argument or disagreement wants us to do and work on things together as a team, and if we do disagree on something we respect eachothers opinions. we have been through hardships in our first year as a couple things like 6 month suspension, fake blog stories, woman in here tring to fill my head with doubt, the same women stealing his # and calling him tring to fill his head with doubt and not to mention the basic fact im in prison. and we have survived it all and came back even stonger. i think the curveballs that come our way makes us hold even tighter to each other. as for him letting me explore life, he does encourage me to explore my thoughts, feelings wishes, goals and discover who i am as a person. and he is my ballancer so when i have an unheathy thought he keeps my crazy in check, he directs my unheathy thought to a heathy normal one. he is very much aware i have issues and at any time day or night will comfort me if needed. our relationship is growing and induring more each day and every day is counted as a blessing because we have each other. thank you so much Dad for giving him a chance to prove himself :)	page 186

10/19/2018 16:46:12	Inbound	Hi girl. Sorry to vent on you earlier. Sometimes its good to vent. I'm a little better now. The technician found a cyst that trey are not worried about. The problem is that the body makes an "exit" for drainage infection and mine is not healing. So we did the needle thing in hopes that will encourage that exit to heal. Ofit does not then they will want to doa surgery. That will be decided in the next few weeks. don't think that they are going to do a biopsy for the cyst but honestly, can't remember what they said. Things have a way of being "lost" in the moment. Anyway, I'm alittle frazzled hit at the and of the I'm living a charmed life Take care nfyourcelfHi Gypsy, hope this finds you well. I'm glad to hear that you finally got your tablet! That's and I'm happy for you :-). not doing real well. And it's really nice to be able to talk to you like this, talk to text. It gives me a chance to kind ofsay things out loud. I'm still having some health issues, 14 weeks and Counting now. I go back to the specialist today. I still have fluid pockets that haven't drained or re dispensed so I'm hoping that she drains it today, but that involves needles. 10/19/2018 11:35:38	Inbound	Hi girl. Sorry to vent on you earlier. Sometimes its good to vent. I'm a little better now. The technician found a cyst that trey are not worried about. The problem is that the body makes an "exit" for drainage infection and mine is not healing. So we did the needle thing in hopes that will encourage that exit to heal. Ofit does not then they will want to doa surgery. That will be decided in the next few weeks. don't think that they are going to do a biopsy for the cyst but honestly, can't remember what they said. Things have a way of being "lost" in the moment. Anyway, I'm alittle frazzled hit at the and of the I'm living a charmed life Take care nfyourcelfHi Gypsy, hope this finds you well. I do still want to get married in July, not because i feel scared of losing you but because i truly, deeply love you and i know thats not going to change now or later. know what i want, iv known all along, and all i want in this life is to have you as my husband by my side through the good and the bad, for better or worse, forever and ever. so if you can forgive my insucure outburst and the confusion i was feeling, would very much love for us to move forward together. love you beyond words, please be mine	page 168
10/23/2018 06:38:59	Inbound	Hey sweetheart, Last night was a very interesting conversation, and you've shed light on things honestly never took into account before, and made me realize pieces didn't know were missing. For that I'm sorry. sorry wasn't doing certain things that i should have been doing that made you feel more involved in my life. But want you to know that you're not a shadow behind me, or hidden away as a "secret prison boo" try to do things for you, and us, as much as possibly can to make sure you feel loved. talk to you every day. make sure you have things that you need in there. come to visit you when can, which isn't exactly easy, but make it work. Why? Because fucking love you. And care about you. And you mean ALOT to me. More so than anything else can think of. And I'm sorry got nervous about the today show. I guess didn't put enough thought into it about how that would make you feel, but do want people to know you do have someone in your life who loves and supports you, no matter what, every fucking day. And I'm happy that am that guy. I'm sorry how made you feel about that. Don't lose sight of the fact that you're my #1 I love you, always. Call me tomorrow.	page 168

All I'm missing is you ;) what would give to have your head on my chest, running my fingers throughout your amazing dark brown hair while we both slowly doze off. The best things in life are worth waiting for < 3 I just wanted to send you a quick email telling you how much I love you. And one final note after our phone call tonight, is try not to let that feeling of missing out grab a hold of you too tight. Because although the life lived had it's blockades, and you had to miss out on some things, still think you are a one of a kind, astounding person who gives me and lots of other people extraordinary happiness and love. No matter what, love the Gypsy Rose Blanchard have today. You continue to inspire me and I've been blessed with an astounding woman who surprises me each and every day. Im not sure if you know how rare that is. Telling you the story about my dad today was actually very hard for me, and I'm thankful you listened to me and understood without passing judgement. But Youve always done that for me, so thank you) And it's never too late to catch up on missed opportunities, that will all come to us a little later. Just hang on for now babe, take my hand, and eventually I'll lead the way for us :) Until tomorrow, Love you so much	page 160
11/01/2018 09:09:20	Inbound	Gypsy, Hello! hope you are doing well. bet you get a lot of mail, but just wanted to write and tell you that heard about your story and it really touched me and have been praying for you and that you are a really, really strong woman. My name and my husband of over 8 is in a Texas prison for murder. He and his then-fiancee murdered a F had a one night stand with, told him that if he didn't, she'd kill herself. He was only 18. know how it's possible to make a mistake and still be an amazing person. He is a minister behind bars now, he graduated in 2017 top of his class from the southwest baptist theological seminary that's run in a prison in Rosharon, Texas. know that you only have 10 years (I know, right? "Only". know that's a LONG time.) but wanted you to know that you can change the world right where you are. You can grow and change and become the woman you want to become, all right behind bars. I just wanted you to know that you are just a really strong, beautiful, amazing woman and that know that God has big plans for you. Don't give up, ok? no matter what. don't think you need penpals, haha, because you probably have a ton of people to write. But if you feel like writing me sometime, I'd like that. If not, just know that am praying for you. God bless you, sweetie. hello Mr: thank you for your kind words of up lifting support. I am doing very well, passed my GED test just about a month ago, and next July I'm getting married to a very sweet guy who has been my best friend and rock ever since we met. I'm a very blessed woman and thank God every day for my blessings. wish you and your husband the very best. :) Hugs Dan.	page 008

At that time, took an interest in your story. felt such compassion towards your confusion & internal turmoil with the situation at hand. Now I'm watching your story on ID, Revenge. had no idea about your mother's background. Her siblings definitely shed light on the subject & painted a picture of how she was manipulating & abusing you. My heart goes out to you. You were young. cannot imagine the pain & confusion you endured. Watching this unfold is heartbreaking. Truly. so sorry this happened to you. It was abusive behavior. When you said you were chained to the bed, was so shocked. still cannot believe she did this to you. I am a mother myself & would never hurt my children intentionally. wanted to write to you because your story not only touched my heart, but many others. My fiancé is incarcerated & he feels judged constantly. want you to know that as it wasn't right to murder her (& you're aware of this), you are also a victim. You seem like such a kind hearted, sweet soul. pray that you have found yourself & asked for forgiveness. You still have your whole life ahead of you. hope you're able to have a family, spend time with your father & his family & be free. signed a petition to release you sooner than 2024 & also donated funds towards your campaign. wish you all the best. look forward to following your progress once you're released. You've blossomed into a beautiful young lady. My thoughts & prayers are with you. God bless,	page 007

11/09/2018 18:11:16	Outbound	Gypsy, Hello! hope you are doing well. bet you get a lot of mail, but just wanted to write and tell you that heard about your story and it really touched me and have been praying for you and that you are a really, really strong woman. My name and my husband of over 8 is in a Texas prison for murder. He and his then-fiancee murdered a F had a one night stand with, told him that if he didn't, she'd kill herself. He was only 18. know how it's possible to make a mistake and still be an amazing person. He is a minister behind bars now, he graduated in 2017 top of his class from the southwest baptist theological seminary that's run in a prison in Rosharon, Texas. know that you only have 10 years (I know, right? "Only". know that's a LONG time.) but wanted you to know that you can change the world right where you are. You can grow and change and become the woman you want to become, all right behind bars. I just wanted you to know that you are just a really strong, beautiful, amazing woman and that know that God has big plans for you. Don't give up, ok? no matter what. don't think you need penpals, haha, because you probably have a ton of people to write. But if you feel like writing me sometime, I'd like that. If not, just know that am praying for you. God bless you, sweetie. hello Mr: thank you for your kind words of up lifing support. I am doing very well, passed my GED test just about a month ago, and next July I'm getting married to a very sweet guy who has been my best fiend and rock ever since we met. I'm a very blessed woman and thank God every day for my blessings. wish you and your husband the very best. :) Hugs Dan.	page 008

I plan on growing my hair out more for our wedding, there is not alot can do to dress up for such an occasion but can try and get by with a pretty hair clip. I am kinda in a state of awe, can't believe this is really going to happen. I'm gonna be a married woman... like it is such a incredibly heart melting feeling :-)	page 159
11/10/2018 14:34:04	Outbound	had always had that dream that most girls have about what would my perfect husband be like, and at one time in my life, was more in love with the idea of a wedding rather then the person was with at the time or the fact after the wedding was a committed marriage. for some girls they had that one boy in 1st grade that the girl is like "me and I am gonna get married and live in his playhouse in the back yard and we will eat candy and cookies and we will never fight EVER." lol for me that phase came much later in life like 23. My point being, now at 27 finally understand that yes, a wedding is a wonderful celebration of two people becoming one together but the bigger joy comes from the level of commitment that is after the party and the importance of trust, communication, fidelity, perseverance through hardships and a strong love. Now with knowing that, I am able to make that commitment to the right person. want to marry someone who can truly trust with even my darkest or most embarrassing secrets, someone who has my best interest in mind and heart, someone can curl up on the couch and watch All 8 HP movies (with make out breaks included), someone who can handle my overly emotional periods, me instigating a small fight just to have wild off the chain make up sex, someone can hug and kiss on as much as we want, who will hold me when im not ok after a bad nightmare, and when we are old and fragile will hold my hand and waist as we take little walks outside, that one and only to share everything with. In every thought, dream, wish, and fantasy want that someone to be YOU. have found my once in a lifetime love and my reason for wanting to marry you is because love YOU, all of you, past, present and future you. and want to share my life with the man who has my heart. I love you so much) XOXOXOXOXOXOX	page 159

11/13/2018 16:37:50	Inbound	Understood baby , Good call. All wanted was support for the petition but apparently no matter what we do, no media is interested in producing any mention of it. did a radio show interview last week and was able to plug the petition and an article for fox news where mentioned it. We broke 10,000 but thats still very low by pardon standards. Yesterday We were offered to go on a show in new york while they live stream the trial. didnt even reply. I'm glad to hear this from you Gypsy. This will help you transition into society and move on. Regarding us attending the trial for you. think thats something you can do without us there and If you requested to testify than good, you cared for and owe him that. get it, so buckle up and say what you have to say for him. You were both in a bad place. This too will help you move on and drop some baggage from it all. hope your not upset that we're not there. love you and soo happy you want to follow your dreams with a good man. You can have all those things no doubt. wait to see you in the spring © © ©. Love Dad	page 229

Not knowing the way of the world, what else could you do?! My deepest thoughts, sweet wishes and strength for this week!! 11/16/2018 17:14:27	Outbound	Happy Holidays and a Blessed New Year! Many Hugs and Love From hey Mo I just wanted to give you the official good news and made our decision, we are getting married in July. we both agree it is fine to tell our friends and family, (with the excepsion of dad, still wants to deal with that man to man) we know that our plans will get mixed opinions but, doing something that will make me happy. almost all girls, teens, and women dream of what their future husband will be like and, most have their first crush at like 4 and they say "someday I'm gonna marr and we will live in his playhouse and eat candy and cookies forever and we will have 7 baby dolls" well that phase didn't happen for me until like 23 with at was my that time in my life was more in love with the idea of the wedding then the commitment of a marriage. it is now at 27 that understand the importance of trust, Fidelity, perseverance through hardship, and strong love of a commitment of this level. and with knowing that am ready to make those vows to the right person. want to make those ties to someone who understands my wants and needs and will be able to meet them with ease, and does that for me. i really want to share my life with him, no one else comes close to meeting my expectations and trust me I'm not just speaking out of being in love, know the challenge we face, 4 1/2 more of em to go, but that is something we are taking on together. love you so much.	page 300

M and were wondering if we could come see you but since I'm working it's a little hard to get away. know it's time to get all this over and done. I'm glad you were honest on the witness stand and will be punished, at least think so. Today will be the closing arguments and I will be at work. Just continue to do the good work on yourself and finish your GED. That's all that counts right now. So glad to hear from you. nied to share the joyful news to all friends and family and are getting married in July. :-)	page 310

How are you? yeah the guy from Canada with the Po Box in the US and whose last letter to you was megalong where described my vacation t City and the ghost hunt tour :p How are you doing? haven't heard from you since then and I'm worried that maybe you didn't like that long letter (and the little one sent when got back home in Canada) or that you didn't like my humor. Did you receive those letters (huge and small ones) as well as the little money I've sent you (sent around mid-August). I'm also worried that maybe inadvertently made a mistake with the address or forgot to include it which is why I'm adding it at the end. know that you told me the first time that you were going to school so maybe you are busy with it :) How is this new school session so far? The Canadian postal workers are on strike right now which is why I've decided to sign up and buy a stamp to send you this short note :) hope that you're having a great day and that you're doing well and hope to receive your news soon :) your friend == all who sent me their prayers and well wishes during this time. having the love and support is what gives me strenath to keep a positive outlook on life. manv huas to all	page 329

11/17/2018 07:04:46	Outbound	love, know you will be worried about how I'm doing after the verdict was read, I'm dealing better then if had not did my testimony at all, at least take comfort in knowing did all could to help him. and am only that much more relieved that took my 10yr plea, and count my blessing that was blessed with a talented well practiced public defender who can feel at ease knowing he and took the best outcome for me and my future. as fo I'm sure he is probably cussing my name right now but, really do hope he can find happiness and a meaning with his life, even from prison. he may write me at some point but, won't respond, feel that me testifing on his behalf was my goodbye and good luck. now we both can really move on and find our own paths. this case is finally over. to be honest, stayed in under stress fearing what facts was to be shown, didn't know you were watching the whole thing live. the truth is I'm very embarrassed of my past, the choices made back then, and always feared it would shape how you viewed me in your eyes. the whole world could see me in a bad light and wouldn't give a shit but one strike in your eyes would be too hard to cope with but, even with over 30 hours of evidence in my case being shown, call you and its like none of it matters and the fact you can love me with the knowledge in detail of my flawed criminal and fucked up past it is only proof that you are my future. going forward am only a few short years away from total freedom and oh how amazing it will be. thank you for all the love, support and patients you have shown me, you are truly the most wonderfully perfect person for me. love you xoxoxo Wifey P.S for the record, you are the only one want in my box while I'm in it, so don't ever think that need space from you because need you.	page 159

11/21/2018 01:36:47	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, I am just checking in to see how your holding up. It sucks that you are having to go through this. was watching The Act series they are showing. The whole thing is a mess. feel when you get released, you will have so much support to help you move forward with a "normal life" (whatever that may be for all of us). would like to send a little money to help you out. It may not be much. Let me know if that would be okay. Stay Strong, welcome. Life has so much waiting for you when you get out. Believe in yourself and you can do so many good and amazing things. believe God has so much goodness for you. God Bless you find comfort through this holiday knowing you are a free spirit in life. A free spirit to begin a new life when you are released. We don't always know why we go through what we do. We do know that we don't have to go through it again. Some by choice, some by circumstance. You are going to be an amazing woman that will live life, love life, and make a difference for others that have been victims of things out of their control. Merry Christmas Gypsy.	page 141

How is it where you are? Do you get treated alright? Are there nice women around you? hope you have friends in there that have your back! I first saw your story on Dr. Phil. remember that felt so bad for you. You never had the chance at a real life...a life that you were free to experience all that the world can offer. know that the circumstances were truly awful and you have to spend time there but once you get out, you have the whole world to experience! was happy to see the support you were getting from your dad & step mom. It's wonderful that thru this circumstance, you have seen the love and support of your family! So, what kind of things do you like to do? Do you draw or write or anything like that? like to draw, not as good at it as was when was in highschool but still love it! think passed that love down to my daughter because she is becoming quite the artist! she enjoys watercolors these days....watercolors and drawing on her ipad....She is really good! Not a lot of people like brown as a get a lot of "brown? really??" from people when tell them that is my favorite...lol How much longer do you have until you get to leave there? do send a lot of prayers your way that your time goes quickly and that you are free to be with your family soon! Today is Thanksgiving. hope you get a nice, hot turkey dinner today! If not, just keep in mind that better days are coming! Wril, Gypsy, as always, send my best! Keep your chin up and follow the rules! Take good care of yourself and BE SAFE!! would love to hear back from you again! sending this with a pre paid response so hopefully you will write back to me! 11/24/2018 06:58:16	Outbound	hey Mom, How was Thanksgiving with everyone? my holiday consisted of a lot of food and a long nap and stayed up late talking on the phone until midnight lol. he told me you texted him about the wedding, know it might be a little sudden but he and have been talking about it for a few months and he did ask me officially in person last month. the reasons for this is purely because we are 100% sure that we want to be lifelong partners. we have faced hardships, have overcome them together and we are just so complete together and you're right Dad deserves time with me and he will have that but am realizing my childhood and teen years are gone, and what is important is the next stage in my life and that is something want ya'll to be a part of No, I'm not moving to Seattle when get out, most likely we will get a place in Austin TX just a couple of hours from ya'll and his family so we are smack dab in the middle of both our familys. which Im sure after he and have some much needed couple time, I'll come stay some time with you and Dad for a bit. :-)) Our July wedding is just a small ceremony on a Thursday with an extra 2 hour visit after the ceremony and then he and will have double visiting sessions all weekend long, with the Friday being a food visit. will have a ring that he chose and bought, and we also will be able to take pictures. have spoken with the Chaplin and have filled out the paperwork, has to pay the expenses which he is spending hella $,$$$ on my ring alone, I think he's crazy but he insists. all in all this isn't our big wedding but, it is something that we both feel in our hearts and we are happy. I'll talk to you soon probably before you get this email lol Love ya so much	page 301

Truth be told I don't care about how big or small our wedding is, the party is for everyone else, ME saying my vows and pledging myself to YOU is for US the important thing for me is becoming one with you and do so happily. :-)) love you my future Remind me to try and not sound like a story book princess when writing you letters, sound so lovestruck lol listening to you read my letters over the phone I'm like omg! how does he stand such a mushy girl? lol	page 161

12/01/2018 10:47:09	Outbound	Happy Holidays and a Blessed New Year! Many Hugs and Love From well our is on July 18th, this is not our big wedding obviously, when get out we will have a big one with all the family there. this is just to make it official but, it will be the best little prison wedding Chillicothe has ever had lol we do get to write our on vows and take pictures. will have a gold band and will have silver, unfortunately my ring can't have any stones due to the rules so he is looking into buying me a ring with some kind of design without stones. we will have a 2 hour visit on the wedding day and Friday, Saturday, Sunday, an 8hour visit on each day with the Friday being a food visit that he can bring food in for me and wedding cake :-) the state of Missouri does not have conjugal visits so...no wedding night any time soon but, we are just so content with just being together and have asked him I'm like, are you sure your OK with being abstinent until come home and, he always reassures me that he is content with just coming home and having a 4..5 hour conversation with me just talking about any and everything, and believe him. we both have a strong enough bond through communication, that the lack of physical connection is put aside for reasons of being faithful to each other and we are just too happy together to even dwell on that too much. having a relationship while I'm still in prison was not my intention but from the first letter ever got there was just something that was just this pure of heart, honest, good person vibe and in the beginning it wasn't a romantic thing we just became best friends. like could be my absolute self to him without judgement and, he has always taken my side. then through so many letters countless phone calls we just started falling for one another then he came to visit me, kissed me, got in trouble for kissing me, he got a 6 month suspension from visiting, after 6 months came back and here we are NOW 8 months from getting married lol. all laughs aside he has been a huge blessing and yes he is very stable nothing at all thank God.	page 137

12/02/2018 16:35:32	Outbound	Hey, Gypsy! I was so happy to get a response from you!! I am glad that you are finding peace and support from those of us who have reached out! You deserve peace. How is it where you are? Do you get treated alright? Are there nice women around you? hope you have friends in there that have your back! I first saw your story on Dr. Phil. remember that felt so bad for you. You never had the chance at a real life...a life that you were free to experience all that the world can offer. know that the circumstances were truly awful and you have to spend time there but once you get out, you have the whole world to experience! was happy to see the support you were getting from your dad & step mom. It's wonderful that thru this circumstance, you have seen the love and support of your family! So, what kind of things do you like to do? Do you draw or write or anything like that? like to draw. not as good at it as was when was in highschool but still love it! think passed that love down to my daughter because she is becoming quite the artist! she enjoys watercolors these days....watercolors and drawing on her ipad....She is really good! 12/02/2018 16:35:34	Outbound	Happy Holidays and a Blessed New Year! Many Hugs and Love From hey Mo I just wanted to give you the official good news and made our decision, we are getting married in July. we both agree it is fine to tell our friends and family, (with the exception of dad, still wants to deal with that man to man) we know that our plans will get mixed opinions but, doing something that will make me happy. almost all girls, teens, and women dream of what their future husband will be like and, most have their first crush at like 4 and they say "someday I'm gonna marry and we will live in his playhouse and eat candy and cookies forever and we will have 7 baby dolls" well that phase didn't happen for me until like 23 with at was my that time in my life was more in love with the idea of the wedding then the commitment of a marriage. it is now at 27 that understand the importance of trust, Fidelity, perseverance through hardship, and strong love of a commitment of this level. and with knowing that am ready to make those vows to the right person. want to make those ties to someone who understands my wants and needs and will be able to meet them with ease, and does that for me. i really want to share my life with him, no one else comes close to meeting my expectations and trust me I'm not just speaking out of being in love, know the challenge we face, 4 1/2 more of em to go, but that is something we are taking on together. love you so much.	page 300

I'm very picky so I'll be the judge lol huggies, lking to you last night, i was thinking we could be of a benefit to one another, your single and have -0 sex life with and was shut down last night, now he wants to dodge that topic because he knows I'm slightly uncomfortable with him, but instead of working on it, he totally shut me down like "I'm too tired" style or "some other time" so perhaps we could utilized this attraction between us if the moment arises.) You've been dealt a bad hand for a very long time. So many levels of abuse and you didn't deserve one bit of it. It will be hard to let your guard down no matter who it is. You have to learn to trust again in certain aspects of your life. We aren't all here to hurt you, we are here to help you. Because when you love someone that's what you do. That wall will come down brick by brick and it's at your own pace no one else's. You have to be comfortable in your skin before you can give pletely. It may not be much. Let me know if that would be okay. Stay Strong, welcome. Life has so much waiting for you when you get out. Believe in yourself and you can do so many good and amazing things. believe God has so much goodness for you. God Bless you find comfort through this holiday knowing you are a free spirit in life. 12/12/2018 06:05:00	Outbound	My Everything, enjoyed our phone call last last night, i feel at ease now that we discussed things we needed to address, feel if we are always open and honest with our thoughts and concerns we can work through anything together babe. the simple truth is we are just so perfect for each other, our bond is unbreakable so don't wanna hear anymore talk, even in a joking manner, about us breaking up because that's not something want, in fact get really choked up and my eyes tear up just saying it out loud it breaks my heart even thinking about it, can tell you it will NEVER come from me, would just as soon shave off all my hair which you know for damn sure I'll never do that. so as long as YOU are willing to stay and if things get rough, are willing to fight for us and the special soulmate relationship that we have, remain that happiest woman alive. <3 might be a pain and immature at times but, you have the rare opportunity to see me grow into true womanhood with each new year as the only one who knows me to my soul No one else in my circle of friends or family truly sees my growth from who was to who am becoming. as said on the phone you have had a taste of all of the lovely, crazy, needy, clingy, hot unsure, happy, dorky, bitchy, totally romantic, all 100% ME and all 100% YOURS there is a reason why gave you one song in that playlist. the song knew loved you, because the first time ever heard it, said to myself that wouldn't settle for anything less than THAT special connection, that true faithful love. men like you are diamonds, and you are MY perfect diamond, compared anyone else is lame ass cubic zirconia. :-) have my love who is my best friend and we have that off the charts connection. I'm never letting a day go by without telling you that you are my dream come true and the hero of my life. I'm yours forever i might not have the official title yet but, I'm claiming dibs on Wifey :-) can't wait for our life together, we are gonna be just the cutest couple we already show it, people who don't even know me knows we are lovey dovey lol. your kiss, come give me that pelvis baby) lol (slaps forehead) yep that will be memorable, gotta love me for the dork am. :-) love you so much xoxox	page 158

You loved talking to me the other night?, you should love talking to me every night ;) I can't say there're many fuck love and relationships songs! (besides Closer by NIN)... would have suggestions for good "get nasty n fuck" songs or "angry fuck this shitty relationship" type of songs but honestly DOUBT they would be in your music inventory list. ati	page 209
12/12/2018 14:56:22	Outbound	OK, I'm gonna call you tonight :-) your ears must be burning because last night straight up if wasnt with him that would be with you. he made the comment of " wonder if you wasn't with me who would you be with, be' "and I stayed silent then later said yeah it would he was like i cant believe you just said that, he said he would drop kick a midgit. lol what? don't make a comment you don't really wanna know the answer to. just say'n and told him that call you like twice a week. last night we were very close to breaking up, not cause of you, but because of other things the distance, the lack of communication, my prison time. its like when you see that the relationship is fading but holding on for dear life because it once was soooo exceptionally know in your heart the end is coming but you stay in denial longer just so you don't have to face the music and the pain but each moment kills you inside knowing the inevitable, It just hurts. anyways had a dream, you were in it briefly, it wasn't sexual it just was you kissing me.. don't know what brought that on...)	page 209

12/13/2018 16:20:14	Inbound	Yes, you made it clear, totally get that. know you had said you were done and thinking about not doing the series. thought you thought that because you didn't think her series would ever take off and get done because we have been waiting for a long time and now that things are in motion you decided not to want to move forward, which understand. It's all local people that are involved in this beside: people grew up with want to fund this production and have invested a lot of time. Maybe that's the reason I want to g forward with this because don't want to disappoint them and keep you from getting you some money for your story. I guess it just stings a little becaus went behind our backs and is doing this and would love to stick it to her, you damn right want to. So, my thought process was different from your thought process. It just gets me so upset that she give you a penny for anything! Your story she will profit off of. So to me was "Oh hell no" Gypsy's story will get told and it will be the truth and more details that go back further from you. I just love you and didn't want you to have to worry about money when you got home. You could get a nose job like you wanted. If you want to have a family and find out you can't then you'd have money for fertility shots, a nice home, a car etc.... that's what I'm wanting you to have is security for you want you to be in that beautiful wedding dress that Bella wore, if that's the one you want. So much want you to have and this is something that worry about is you not having a nest egg for your future or we won't be able to give you all the things you so deserve. will talk t as well. But if they still decide to go forward without your consent will make sure you get owed to you. Since we signed documents there is nothing we can do to stop it. try though. just love you that much. You know how good it would feel not to worry about an income for a while when you get out and you can't find a job right away? not what so ever saying this for you to be ok with the series. I'm just thinking of the bigger picture. But I will do as you ask and see how it goes. Well, I'm glad your worries are over about He's a great guy and won't have to worry about you so much because be in good hands. truly believe he's the perfect fit for you. adore him. already call him son in law when we text each other. think your dad will be happy for you both. Because life is way to short and how you explained it to me of how you didn't get to have those milestones in your life, think he will get it and understand. Dads internet has been so crappy barely hear from him. He's not due to come home until Jan 25th which isn't that far away. got him a Amazon Echo. It's like a Alexa but does a lot more. hope he likes it because he's so hard to buy for. Call me soon. love you so much Let me know if you want more pics. A lot of people want to send you Christmas cards so Christmas overload will be happening. Do you need me to send you some of those glitter cards that sent one time? know we don't send things in the mail like we used to since we are always on the phone or emailing each other Just let me know. 12/15/2018 16:20:14	Outbound	Hi Darling, I did talk to about the series. her and dad have been discussing it as well, dad said that if I'm not on board, neither is he. I stayed on the phone with her for 2 hours straight, she said her side, said mine and there was a real shit moment where she said, " if this gets done, AM gonna be co director or be some part on this production team" with the unspoken undertone of whether you like it or not AM doing this. then I said, "well i respectfully will not be a part of it nor, can I support it. all she kept talking about was the potential money, that could be set, could afford the wedding of my dreams, could get a nose job which was something wanted until met a certain handsome guy with a cute nose of his own to make me feel accepting of my features think its kinda cute we both have adorable honkers. lol <3 just wanna kiss it :) OK I'm back... had to be cutesy for a sec. she said if this gets made she would rather it be her to bring truth to it rather than not, and she is putting those words in my mouth to tell my father that because he is going against her too, I'm actually really shocked he is siding with me... she is doing this alone as well, might boost her future modeling career. also told her, "do me a favor and stop about the media crap he nor wanna hear about it" Am upset, yes and know you are too but, people keep telling me you can't control what others do. and really this is the last thing wanted to be telling you especially after things have been difficult between us, and by that I just mean emotions have been on edge with the distance, your job, my situation this lonely time of the year. the last thing wanted to have to vent to you is upsetting drama. just want you to make me feel better...like you always just wanna cry but I'm trying to be strong for us both. well there is one thing I can say, can't wait to no longer be Gypsy Blanchard, drop that last name like a bad habit and come home to my Hubby xoxox truth is that day can't come soon enough. seeing you again can't come soon enough.. my heart, mind, soul and body wait	page 157

12/16/2018 22:18:39	Outbound	My Darling, have a few important questions that would need you to answer, don't ask just go with it :) . since I will be soon I'm very curious as to your heritage, its just interesting to me . you mentioned your father is Turkish, is he full blood Turkish? what is your mother's heritage? so these are my questions the original spelling or was it shortened at some point? does the name have a family crest? if you don't know can you Google it? and if so can you send me a picture? both via email and hard copy. is there anything in your family name that is significant to you such as a saying?, a symbol anything? OK baby that's all would need. love you	page 157

12/16/2018 22:29:33	Outbound	I have thought of the best wedding present 'there is a woman who is an amazing artist and she has a book of ALL different kinds of crests, family insignia, lettering. so i am working with her to create a personal new family crest for him and I :) has one, can you email me a pic of it please? i was wondering if you could Google his family crest, and if the name she wants to incorporate it with the new crest we are designing. he is part Turkish and i have a French heritage so that will be a cool thing to add something symbolizing the two. tell me what you think?	page 300

12/17/2018 18:48:30	Outbound	baby I just got your email that you sent yesterday, God freaking miss you too!!! feel just anxiety from not being able to talk to you even for a really wonder if this is God telling me to chillax on the topic of our phone calls. truth is, have been really concerned about if me calling you everyday was kinda getting boring and "old" to you. its not that you gave me that impression because a few weeks ago asked you if call too much and you said no. and then I had that freak out moment on you, the told me that's how HER relationship started to go sour is because she called "too much" so all that just stressed me out all awhile I'm reading selfhelp books on how to keep a relationship healthy, happy and everlasting. :-) What I have learned from the past few weeks is, We are gonna have moments of ups and downs and, the frequency of our communication will go up, then go down, then up..its going to fluctuate due to our schedules as well as little random things like the problem with your phone, you might have missed my call, had something come up and couldn't call, whatever it may be, we will have things that interfere with us talking but, please know that no matter what love and adore you with all of my heart, miss you and could talk to you every second of everyday and still crave more. fuck co-dependency! I'm a full blow addict) and happy to be one :-) and also know that though you have things that require your attention, you love me too. December has been full of emotions both good and bad but soon comes the start of a new year, a new chapter to the greatest love story that and Gypsy. we have a lot to look forward to this upcoming year babe, will continue to encourage you to obtain your GED as you continue to cheer me on through the math so that I may finish up mine. look forward to our video visits as well as our physical ones that I just wanna go for it again!, oh no not that...I totally meant your pelvis.(winky) :-) and there was one really important thing happening in July..but can't remember what it was :-) .. mmmmmh oh just gonna have to be patient) van mu lava en <2	page 157

12/18/2018 14:46:47	Inbound	Hey boo. Mom said you brought up the series and cleared it but want to participate. I've thought long and hard about it since then. But did immediately address it with her that day. fully appreciate and sympathize with your desire to get past everything and move on with your life. know all the media, hype, support and constant reflection has been an emotional roller coaster. Its a constant reminder of something you can neither be proud of nor deny it has made you stronger and given people inspiration and brought some awareness to such unfortunate realities so many children face. However no matter how you sugar coat it at the end of the day, That has done absolutely zilch to benefit your happiness and future. You still have to do your time and walk out with the clothes on you back. And know said your fine with that and just want a normal life with hubb I accept that decision and support it 100%. Now that being said. discussed with mom to see where the series was along and reviewed the contract we signed and feel bad about not having the conversation sooner or more firmly. really didn't thin was making any progress and the last time asked about it there was no progress. even brought up before Dr Oz and Mom said. That was the end of media stuff and she knew about your wishes. So my fault for not and telling her at that time. I'm not positive on where it went from there but believe theres a chance at funding the project at the moment. Contractually, we , mom and i may be (not positive) obligated to participate. personally have said about all can, about the story, we all have. So like you don't want to participate much either. But we did sign the contract and without making a big fuss with lawyers should just see what happens at this point. Mom's told some of the people in the mix that you didnt want the series done. But looking at it fro perspective, she has put in some time writing a pilot and deserves (even though she may be a vulture capitalist) some cooperation from us. Lastly. If its going to get done, finally something MEDIA of intrinsic value to you after all the other stuff that was done, this is the one to agree upon. Thats sound krass and insensitive to you feelings and wishes but like you said. Its all been said already. Politically you can care less what people think of you. You know where you stand by now with society and not much will change that. Spiritually your ready to move on, get it. But Gypsy, this is your " play all your cards at once in rummy" play. The system has been gaining at your expense, your story, you emotions all your life baby. Let it pay you back in some way. You've did the hard parts, just hold ya cards now and see what plays out. If nothing gets moving with this last investor than we can say thats enough. don't imagine there needs to be much participation from you and regarding the series. The story is there, we just need to verify it, not tell it again. If it makes you a little money than great. Everything you've already done would have not just benefited corporate vultures. I kno means alot to you, have dreams. I'm not getting between that ever but I do feel a responsibility to you, your well being and future. wan't you to be happy and in control and independent !! I'm glad your standing up and saying enough !! Thats great and I'm proud of that. That doesn't mean your right or wrong. It means your strong and like that you have a voice now. Like I said. support you 100% either way. And you asked and deserve my honest opinion.	page 180
12/18/2018 18:45:09	Outbound	often see her in my dreams as well. she was a constant in my life for 23 years and my memory of her putting on her lipstick and eye liner in the bathroom with Matchbox 20 playing the song back 2 good in the background stays as fresh in my mind as if i could just open my eyes and see her. yes, she was very pretty at one time and through she would never admit it if her life depended on it, she still loved you. keep the good memories very close to my heart, wish to God things would have turned out different but, will make sure that she gets a proper memorial, not for th that the media knows, but for the Dee, My mother, that WE knew, the good that she once was, that is the woman we will lay to rest and remember. I love you too Daddy.	page 181

You could also give me her ID number so could look her up on the inmate database so I can confirm if it's actually her. Does she have any kids? suppose 'friends that really don't matter but it's good to know say she's cute, but I dunno... I'm very picky so I'll be the judge lol huggies, lking to you last night, i was thinking we could be of a benefit to one another, your single and have -0 sex life with and was shut down last night, now he wants to dodge that topic because he knows I'm slightly uncomfortable with him, but instead of working on it, he totally shut me down like "I'm too tired" style or "some other time" so perhaps we could utilized this attraction between us if the moment arises.) I'm perfectly comfortable with you so what's up?)	page 209

Still to this day, you (and your Louisiana family included) are the only ones I've become to know, truly care for, but have never met!! Kinda crazy cool!! & Wish would have known sooner about the Christmas dinner.... could have sent you my crawfish etouffée', crawfish bisque', and fried alligator with honey mustard sauce recipes!! "P Think the kitchen would have the ingredients.... hahahaa And one day when you want to, tell me about your man?? How'd y'all meet?? Is he cute??;) Is he good to you???? And mailed a Christmas 4 card It's taped because went back and read the rules, and it said no cards with ribbons, so pulled the ribbon off, but it's a cute card, so hope it still makes it to you:)) So nice to hear from you. 12/19/2018 07:40:49	Inbound	Thanks for dealing with my drained attitude tonight, but still reminding me that you love me < 3 I think this work schedule is affecting more than just my energy and sleep. It's starting to change my personality. I'm feeling less happy as the weeks drag on, and I'm definitely the kind of person who gets "seasonal depression" But all that aside love you babe. You hear me? I love love love you. Please let's just get through this rough patch together. can't wait to see you next month. can't wait see those eyes. That heart melting hair. Listen Toby our super sweet voice. And just feel the warmth of your body as hold your hands. my stress relief drug, and I'm in withdrawal :) gonna say it again real quick, LOVE you. And despite that dream, know you're mine. truly hope no part of you wants to reach out to him in any way. And that's not my jealousy talking. my true solid care for you're overall well-being. It would be nothing but toxic for to have any contact. That door is shut. He's in the past. And without reiterating all my feelings about him, let's just try to keep looking forward. No reason to look back, right? wish him all the best in his life. But that's just it, it's HIS life. Not yours or ours. We you distress ourselves anymore with his case or outcome or future sentence. Just keep holding my hand babe, we're miles ahead of that now < 3 Love you	page 166

12/19/2018 22:55:35	Outbound	Dear Hubby, sweetie no matter what mood you are in, will always be in love with you, you are my soulmate. :-) didn't want to comment on it but, Yes, I can tell your personality has been affected,.your not the same bubbl I met nor, are you the same as you were since last saw you. dont think you have "changed" per say but rather thea that know and love is underneath the overworked stressed out you.. but, I will love you through it baby. <3 honey is paying on this debt really that important to you? are you sure you don't wanna just let it fall off, it would have fallen off of your credit by the time come home so, it won't affect our future plans baby. only ask because would wanna persuade you to take a slower pace with regard to work. you are burning out, please drop one job? (puppy eyes, whimpers) As for Ex coo coo butt, hey! I like that! LOL No, there is no part of me that wants any contact with him. as said, he is my past, you are my present and future. the girl was then grew up into the woman you know and love today. actually respect the fact you would leave me if did want contact for with him for any reason. that shows me you have a level head and you would deserve better then that anyway, that would just be a slap in the face and a major roadblock for us and would never do that to you. so with that being said, will do right by you as we move forward TOGETHER. my hand is in yours lead me out of this darkness and take me home. Also tried calling a few times tonight for date night, will try a few more before the nights over. am really getting discouraged and depressed with the phone problem, that is our main source of communication, we can write and email but,...its not the same :(miss your voice! and have a new story for you. love you much baby! <3 Mv Inve	page 167
12/19/2018 14:39:38	Inbound	Lol. guess we were emailing each other at the same time about it. I'm with you. Leave me alone already. Lol. Thats good. Mom is amazing in a way she could talk to anyone about anything forever and could seem fake at times but she's genuinely good at heart and always loved and lived for likes on facebook and stuff like that. Which is not a terrible thing but can be a little like " enough already " but she never gets tired if it. don't get it but shes not running around the bars, doing drugs or gambling all the money away and shes always there for me and yall kids. So gotta take the good and bad. prefer real life stuff like a dog a beer and a friend talkn bout stuff or fixen stuff or taking a lil boat ride in the swamp. She got that neck issue so alot of her satisfaction has to be through social media. Anyways the boat is fine. Been a lil boring but not too terrible. Just time hope you can enjoy the Holidays with good spirits !! love you !!	page 181

12/19/2018 19:01:27	Inbound	i see. well it's always hard to have a long distance relationship. even more difficult with a busy person. haha - i hope it gets better for you though and you can get the attention you are wanting from him! if not, i'm always here. hah! it's been a rough week for us. my dad was in the hospital for a few days, my aunt is in the hospital in birmingham. i had some appointments earlier this week as did my brother. so it's been a hectic week and i'm tired. i've been working on a car to get ready to sell. i hope to have most of it done by the end of the month and get it sold next month. it should bring pretty good profit. i'm still waiting on the other acceptance thing from college. not sure how that will turn out. it's for clinical mental health counseling. i've been working on music and videos too. there's so much stuff going on here. i'll always have time for you though! the reason i reached out to you from the beginning was to encourage and support you that things and life can be better and good. i know you've been through a lot in your life and you haven't really had the chance to have a normal life or enjoy a lot of things people do. i didn't know if you'd have a lot of people to talk to there or not. so i thought i'd give it a chance. i don't talk to a lot of people. i have my family and one friend that lives an hour and a half away. we've been friends since 2nd grade. i guess people assume i have a lot of friends because of the band, but i don't. i don't even interact with bandmates until time to rehearse or record the songs. idk. i guess i just kinda want someone to enjoy life with. whatever it may be. even something as simple as watching movies together, conversations. but i will go now. i'm about to play ps4 for a bit i guess. if i don't get a message out to you before christmas, i hope yours goes well. i know these are running a few days behind. but you can always still try to call anytime. i know i'm hard to reach if samethinn isn't nlnanned_talk	page 283
12/19/2018 10:25:08	Outbound	well is 26, he works as a bar manager in seattle Washington. we have been together about 14 months, we started writing after he saw my HBO doc back in May 2017 and decided to write me, then about 4 months later sent him a visiting form never thinking he would actually come to visit from Seattle, and about 37 minutes into the visit he kissed me and not talking a peck... like deep passionate kiss. well,...rules state that though visitors are allowed a brief hug and kiss, it must be a closed mouth kiss. needless to say we got in trouble and got a write up for disobedience and he got banned for 6 months. well we stayed in touch consent letters, hours on the phone, then in March the ban was over and he has been back 3 times so far the next visit will be next month :-) well in October of this year, he proposed, we had been talking about it for months, we came to like the idea of having a small ceremony in here then have the big wedding when get out. anyway the last few weeks just has been rough because he is 1800 miles away, he hasn't had a day off in 18 days and lately he is just overworked, tired, emotionally drained. we would talk everyday but with the new promotion to bar manager, I'm lucky to get a 2 minute call because between work,sleep and his buddies, just don't feel like I'm a priority anymore, used to be the one he would want to spend time with in his free time, now if he does get a day off or after work its always he is hanging out with the guys. don't get me wrong I'm glad he does things that doesn't include work but, me being locked up I'm particularly more lonely then the average woman. Missouri does not have conjugal visits so we are rocking the next 4 yrs abstaining from sex outside of the relationship. he was going to move to Missouri to be closer to me but, this job is important to him so understand his choice to stay in Washington. our relationship is great it really is, we just need a little us time to make me happy. just hate the fact he is so far away	page 283
12/20/2018 17:57:07	Outbound	Started planning my bridal shower. :-) we will have the big cake, the one from the drawing. fried rice, and veggie salad. 12/20/2018 15:38:07	Outbound	yeah she's a good mom :-) she's always there for me. I asked her relationship advice because ya'll deal with times of being in a sence "long distant" when your at work. and are going through a small rough patch these last few weeks, dealing with the distance and finding enough us time. he just got a promotion at work and after Thanksgiving upped his availability to work, so he was working 19 days straight 10 12 hour shifts without a day off and because of our schedules, we didn't have much time to talk, which on the norm we talk hours like 4 hours a day and always call him right before bed to say love you and goodnight. well in the last few weeks if we had 2 minutes a day to talk, that was lucky. about 2 weeks ago totally flipped out on him because he didn't answer his phone when called to say goodnight when earlier that day he said, call me tonight, get of at 8pm so did...no answer,...again and again no answer anyway so I'm like ok I will try in the morning.. tried to call at like 11 am answer so now im freaking out, crying, in a panic, because he always answers the phone even at work, so call mom. asked mom to text him,...no reply. then at noon, he finally answers the phone, I'm like where have you been? he sounds groggy, still half asleep and he says worked later then thought have been asleep, how is your start yelling HOW is my fucking day?!!!! iv been calling your phone non stop worried sick, didn't know if something bad happened to you, didn't know if you took some bitch from the bar home, (which know he wouldn't but was being psycho) didn't know if you were ghosting me.. he is like, OMG no! i have been asleep, worked late and it was a busy night. well after calmed down, apologized for yelling and flying off the handle and being psycho. so asked mom how does she handle you being away for so long and can't always talk, both of our sweeties are hard workaholics :-/ Things are getting smoother again, to be honest get in my head too much when everything is fine but its like need that reassurance all it takes is that communication then I'm perfectly happy, its all cutesy lovey dovey after that lol honestly don't know how he butts up with me lol	page 184

12/20/2018 10:17:20	Outbound	have a suspicion, thin! IS the "phone problem" we kinda got into it tonight he was being Mr Territorial (note to self don't mention you in a convo again), this time was NOT trying to poke the beast however I did.. an hour long lecture of it! anyway my point to this email, each time called back after we maybe hung up in a angry fit..it answered! meaning it works when its convenient for him suspect	page 209
12/20/2018 07:34:09	Inbound	Hi gypsy, hope this finds you well. Sorry haven't kept in better touch but things have been a little crazy around here between my sister moving School, health issues, jobs dot-dot-dot life is busy work. keep forgetting that can just go on my phone and do a voice to text message and that's a lot quicker and convenient. We are gearing up for Christmas this weekend and quite honestly I'm not really into it. mean put up the trees, the lights and even did the front yard a little bit so everything looks okay oh, I'm just not feeling it. think part of it is having my sister here and knowing how hard this holiday is for her. So we've decided we're going to go crash her other daughter's house on Christmas Day. We did it on Thanksgiving and it worked out really well, feels like we're rebuilding a few Bridges. Have you found any new places that you would like to go visit when you're out? Keep in touch. Best wishes	page 278

Me laughing and letting out a snort during our visit sticks out in my mind lol thought for sure that would be a total turn off for you but you seemed amused by it, as was the CO lol :-) Then there was that heart felt day in June that you put aside your dislike for my mothe and prayed with me on the anniversary of her passing. that was really sensitive and supportive of you and it made me appreciate you that much more. Oh and can't forget our first fight, was never really upset with you, was more annoyed with your stubborness more then anything and at the same time fighting the urge to wanna kiss you IF could in that moment and, i wanted to have hard make up sex half way into the fight lol what can I say, I'm a sucker for a man that ruffles my feathers in all the best ways. (winky) love every moment of our relationship. the ups are sky high and the downs never hit the floor as we both will never let each other hit bottom, I'll always use that charm to levitate us just above the ground. (HP reference) Darling, look forward to the coming moments we have yet to make. Love You as big as the sky Vaur	page 162

I can't hide my emotions from you. I still want to see you in a few weeks but, please understand this was something was really happy and looking forward to, i feel embarrassed and feel like an idiot for being as excited as was so, please give me time to be disappointed. I truly do not want to go against your family's wishes so understand and will put aside my feelings and desires and call off the wedding/engagement plans. besides, you deserve better and that is the real reason why agree that we shouldn't do it after all. was caught up in the idea of being officially yours and like you, wanted some kind of security in knowing we were tied to each other, not that that was the only reason because the main reason being that love you more then could have ever dreamed of but, you wearing a ring while serving drinks to needy, lonely, desperate bitches probably would make me sleep a little better at night, just as me having your last name as my own would flake off all the guys who hit on me via email/mail, still get creepy weirdos by the way now I'm attracting 40 and 50 yr old 300 lbs bald dudes! (crenges) SAVE ME! lol only a few are around my age and are OK looking but NO one in comparison to my One and Only. anyway my point being, that we both have a small tenny tiny insecurity and want a solid reassurance that the both of us are 100% committed to each other and we both thought that getting married would be that reassurance we want and need so believe me understand. in the end just want to make you happy and feel loved and appreciated and if what you want is to wait, then I'll wait for you. you xoxox	page 162

HE called off the wedding for real this time, its NOT going to happen in July or anytime soon. he always does this, he tells me pretty words then when comes to making good on those words, he backs out last minute. he did this with the move and now the see a paddem its like anything to do with me...(sigh) I'm just so hurt right now like I can do is cry was so looking forward to this, had a party planned, all my friends think we are getting married and now have to be humiliated by telling everyone that he changed his mind. I'm really bad at hiding my emotions when I'm upset so can't play like I'm OK when I'm really just heartbroken. had such high hopes, feel so stupid right now. well guess won't be ruining the month of July for you after all. So far the new year has not been too terribly disappointing. know that I'm happy to be shut out'd 2018, it's been a rough year. had a terrible run of luck at the end of the year (over my birthday) parking ticket, flat tire, ex bf runins, just general bad choices. But, such is life. We crashed my nieces Christmas celebration. think it's good for them to have the distraction. Trying to have a new attitude in the new year. Take care of yourself and keep in touch. and a Blessed New Year! Many Hugs and Love From My Wife up and running, sorry for the 2 week delay in responses Huas Gvp	page 279

01/08/2019 18:10:33	Inbound	Hello Gypsy, was so thrilled to get a reply from you! was worried that you wouldn't want to acknowledge my letters simply bc I am a complete stranger. Maybe we can change that through our letters. The weather has been crazy here. don't know WHICH is worse.... the flooding from the heavy rainfall or the cold, snow, and ice. One day it's 60 degrees thing you know the temperature drops 30-40 degrees and the wind makes it feel in the teens. I'm a true believer in God and His signs of the end of time! It was written in the good book that we wouldn't be able to tell the seasons apart. And if that's not what is taking place then wouldn't want to be around when it does come. Anyways, have been binge watching Clint Eastwoods best movies. My all time personal favorite is Gran Torino. My love for romance movies outweighs the Eastwood flick. guess miss my own romance story so watch them to fill the void of my own love! am elated to hear that you have found such a wonderful man! hope you don't mind me saying this but, am just giving you a little advice... when or if you're life's trouble starts to get in the way of your relationship, never let ANYTHING become more important than the love! It's easy to forget how much you love someone when life is throwing some hard curve balls your way. Nothing is more important. you can always get a new job if you get fired. you can always find a way to make money. True love is unconditional, hard to find, harder to keep, and will never be the same if it's ever scarred. Trust and be faithful.. know you know that already but wanted to say it bc wish someone had told me that. M may have lived and been here today if had been told that prior. mean our love was remarkable but maybe would have seen his sickness sooner than later and could have made him see a Dr. in time to prevent it all. Who knows? hope you are having a good day. will write more later if that's ok? Sincerely, Address Telephone Email Jan. 8th 2019 Dear Gypsy: Hi. How are you? hope this email finds that you are well. Let me introduce myself, a . I was born and raised in southern KY. My hometown borders the KY/TN. . State line. I'm 37 years old and a mother to 3 gorgeous stressing hard headed know it all girls. My oldest daughter is 17. She thinks she's in charge and knows what's best in most situations. My 2nd is 14 and going thru the stage of trying to find who she is and her place in the world. Finally there's the least one who is 6. She thinks she's the boss to all of us. hope that each of those descriptions mean they are just the new normal for their generation! So, as you are probably aware, heard your story and watched your documentary about all you have had to endure during your entire life. wasn't aware of your story until watched you on Dr. Phil. It was during that show in specific, that I felt like should reach out to you but instead chose to do some more research on your life. Past and present. In the end was 100% sure of needing to reach out to you. bet the question of "why" is running through your mind, but my intentions are of nothing but supporting you. will never judge you for anything that you have done in your past. What occurred was tragic. I'm so sorry for the loss of your mother. don't care what may have unfolded on the day her life ended. know you love your mother then and still do today... that's why didn't say that you 'loved' her. The love NEVER ended. What unravelled was from desperation! You were pushed to the max and truly felt that there was no other options. Plus you were in love with a man that you knew your mother's illness would never approve of. She allow you to have any sort of life without her by your side. You were ... as you said before... your mother's mental illnesses prisoner! She had painted you out to the WORLD as a sick child. There was no way you could just begin a normal life, especially after she had portrayed you as a child with numerous debilitating diseases. really hope you know that understand you and your life's struggles, as much as anyone could understand. don't know how you feel completely bc am obviously not you nor have lived like you had. do however want you to know that am so sorry for what you have had to endure. Your mother was sick with a mental health issue. One that a lot of Drs knowingly allowed her to live with. A disease that put your life in danger and brought death to her. have tried to imagine what she must have felt as she continued to take you to dr. after Dr, having you diagnosed with different issues... think she thought it was the right thing to do but then again, who At the end of the day, it doesn't matter now. wish you could have had a different outlet. So I am going to finish this email up by asking you for your friendship? However you decide to handle this email please know that you have a friend in me and can talk to me about anything at anytime. Take care. Sincerely,	page 055

I'm just now getting your emails 4 of them back from dec18-till now. Sorry but the jpay app is not accepting my password so I'm on the actual jpay website now. Soin resonse to your emails Yes we can do a proper service or memorial for your mom and whatave you feel would be appropriate. I'm onboard with that for you. It was nice to hear good things about her from you too. I was the same way 1st couple years mom and i got together. would bitch and As far as honey lovey dovey wit get mad when she wouldn't answer and count how many times she went out when i was on the boat then say you went out 3 times without me now im going out with my friends to catch up. Lol and make her stay home. She probly told you that. But wasn't physco about it to much. I learned to chill and just trust her because drove myself nuts worring and it effected my job. So you'll just have to trust him and give him the space and understand that sometimes things can be so draining working 12-18 hours a day and when your done you just want to stare at the wall. go 3,4 5 aweek without talking to mom. We normally just text a few times a day. But some days not at all. I'm sure its hard though with him being available to drunk women daily. And hes good looking too so Its possible he could be unintentionally cuaght off guard by someone and make a mistake. But you have to look at it like there is no way to know so worryng won't prevent or stop it from happening. It's all up to him really. If he breaks your heart, only let it break once !!! It will be his loss and you will move on stronger but remember every heartbreak makes you a little more cautious and you give less and less to the next love until you end up just half loving and never openi g up again to anyone no matter how good it feels. You will ve loved, you will get your lil house and jobband lil fuckers running around destroying your house. Lol. hope its wit! and you guys can hang in there and make it through such distance and time. Odds may be against yall but that is the test yall need to pass. And theres nothing wrong with either of you if it don't work out. Its just a tough ass test !! Sorry for the grammer. NEVER COULD GET ENOUGH OF EACH OTHER... HE WAS MY SUN AND MY SHINING STAR! On JUNE 11TH 2013 my whole world came crashing in on me! awoke that morning to find him showing signs and symptoms of congestive heart failure. He was running a high fever and was drenched from head to toe, his clothes were soaking wet as his pores released the toxins from his urine. His kidneys had shut down thru the night but no one knew it at the time! After arriving at the hospital, he was worked on by several doctors and nurses in the ER but there was little improvement. He was took to the ICU unit but he succumbed to his sickness and at 12:21 a.m. his heart took it's last beat as beside him with my head on his chest! heard it stop although was begging him to fight! If LOVE HAD JUST BEEN ENOUGH... HE WOULD HAVE BEEN HERE WITH ME BURIED HIM ON THE 13TH! CAN TELL YOU THAT IT WAS THE HARDEST THING I HAVE EVER HAD TO DO! SO SORRY! DIDN'T MEAN TO GET SO CARRIED AWAY! 01/12/2019 16:29:05	Outbound	My Love, As write this I'm in bed looking out the window at the 10+ inches of snow falling from winter and, have only one thing on my mind, YOU. After you told me why you got in your head and turned into a gremlin, can't even be mad at you because its WHY you got that way NOT how you were acting but the WHY that makes me sweet on you. I'm like, Awwwww he got territorial, he loves me. :-)) love you xoxoxo Honey, i need you to remember that will never keep score of the wrongs. we both do and say things that we didn't completely think before it was said or done but most likely it was purely because we love each other too much and our moods can be affected at a moments notice in a positive or negative way. you and are so much alike, get protective and possessive of you as well. remember when you told me "you met Kylie Jenner"? was about to fuck up a Kardashian for real lol totally believed you lol there has been times turned into "Mrs Gremlin". In all seriousness, am so into you and wrapped up in my feelings for you that NO one male or female<(reference to my little misunderstanding LOL) is even a blip on my radar as am in love with only one person because, this one person have spent hours that could total up to months talking to, visits that have such fond memories of kisses that were so pleasurable made me moan, such powerful emotions that overwhelm me with happiness just having you in my life and the soul crushing sadness when we feel hurt, the hopes and dreams we share and the way you can read my mind is all signs that we are so perfectly matched. i wouldn't give that up for anything. and with that being said, will give you a Bible verse that I truly believe in and this comes from a Life Recovery Bible so for us both has more meaning you and both at one time or another have been addicts trying to numb our pain and love can often be the cause AND the cure. "We may have given up on love, perhaps we have waited for love only to be disappointed, maybe our loved ones hurt us so badly that we needed to numb ourselves from the pain, in the past our addiction helped us to keep us numb but now we are recovered and we must deal with the trials and joys of love with a sober mind and heart." 1 Corinthians 13 "Love is Patient. Love is kind. it does not want what belongs to others. it does not brag. it is not proud. it is not rude. it does not look out for its own interests. it does not easily become angry. it does not keep track of the wrongs of others. love is not happy with evil. but is full of joy when truth is spoken. it always protects. it always trusts. it always hopes. it never gives up. the three most important things to have is faith, hope and love but the greatest of them all is LOVE." The reason I give this to you is because want you to remember that though in the past we have been wronged by ex	page 165

01/12/2019 16:29:04	Outbound	Happy St Patricks Day Hugs Gvosv Hey yeah Jpay was even giving us a hard time with the holidays and weekends the emails were so backed up like 3-4 weeks backed up, but now they are posting. OK what's the story about the "cookie lady"? lol won't mention to mom. so 2019 started off on a shitty note, and were really considering getting married in July it almost was a for sure thing, he was going to make a point to go down to Louisiana to meet y'all and ask for your blessing but, the day before was going to turn in the paperwork, on New Years day, he says he wants to wait because of the lack of support for us to make it official right now on both of our families sides. his parents just want us to be sure this is what we want and we aren't just rushing into it, weighing out the pros and cons of a marriage right now as well as pointing out the overall setting of a prison wedding is kinda depressing. mom told him how she felt as well as taking it upon herself to speak for you as well telling him you would be upset with him and he took that to heart not wanting to upset either families. he broke the news to me, was upset not mad upset but just disappointed because we had spent months talking about it, thinking it over, i even planned a little bridal shower, discussed the idea of a ceremony that was not my big wedding but something small for now's sake briefly with you via email and mom via phone calls and the general reaction was that, there are reservations due to the timing but overall everyone just wants our happiness so it was something that would be accepted if decided upon. his mom and have talked before not about this but when he and first started dating and she was so sweet just completely accepted me into the family didn't give my past or where am a second thought. she is in the support group as well. :-) our loved ones opinions matter to a point with me probably a little more to him than me but, he told me we will fully discuss it when we have our visit in 2 weeks. ultimately have no really good reason for wanting to do it now VS later, like I told him my reasoning was because I'm just that sure that he and have enough love, trust and maturity to make that commitment. and I view a marriage as something that is both a pro and con because that ring holds a lot of responsibility which is a stress on myself him and the marriage itself however on the same coin is the fact that that level of commitment furthers the amount of endurance we must have to make it through this sentence and sharing life with another person. anyway I'll keep you updated of what happens besides that, all is good and and things are fine over here, I'm dreading this lifetime movie coming out in 2 weeks, all the women already know its about me and dealing with the questions and comments is a headache, :-p I'm keeping a positive attitude through it. I'll have mom send you a new pic of me, my hair is getting so long. :-) hope you are well and safe, love you. Hugs Gyp	page 181

01/13/2019 18:16:08	Inbound	Good morning Gypsy! Hope that you are well. I'm good I guess. have been watching Trump and the current issue that the shutdown is causing. have never voted. don't vote. don't agree with the shutdown bc of its negative effects on the children involved. Many are in need of medical treatment that they have to pay for but all checks and all health insurance coverage is ceased till further notice. idk but am going to go . know that this is a short letter! apologize. will write more later. Take care. Sincerely, This is Gypsy Blanchard, am writing to all who has sent me emails of encouragement and support to please know that DO very much appreciate the kindness of your time to write me. don't always have the time to respond as have a full schedule with work and school as well as other beneficial classes that require a lot of my full attention. However do want to convey the outreach of supportive mail has made my day. :-) Unfortunately, my Jpay account on my personal tablet is now having technical issues due to the overload of emails received on a daily as well as a massive amount of contacts in my contact list. I am respectfully asking all of the people who has sent me emails and have only received one or two response emails, to please delete me from your Jpay account or remove yourself as am just trying to solve the technical issues that I am having with my account, please do not take offense to this request. Again do thank you for being with me on this journey to freedom as well as all who wrote letters to the governor on my behalf, and all who has continued to show their support, can not put into words how much it means to me. sending hugs to ya'll	page 056

01/14/2019 08:06:14	Outbound	was thinking after we got off the phone last night and it did bother me a tweeky bit, not out of jealousy well maybe only 25% jealousy and 75% real talk time. but because honestly don't know if you told me about going out with this Emily chick to get back at me for the letter sent to dude that im never gonna write again or any dude for that matter or if you really are just that naive and don't understand how women work and manipulate .so here's the 411. women search for a savior, and this is called the "Cinderella syndrome" (real thing) used to do it when Robert and were fighting, ran to you and you made me feel better therefore feelings of fondness were strengthened. now when WE fight, restrain myself from the urge to run to another guy to be my savior when your being an assbutt. my point to this the Cinderella syndrome creates an emotional dependent response based on a woman's need for male attention and affection. so in summary, this girl, can't say "woman" if she's wanting to fucking kill herself because she's lame and has no friends at college, like life's tough, get a helmet, so juvenile. people have real problems in the world. anyway she's clearly gonna now lean on you, her attractive male co worker that she sees every day, yall have all the time in the world to talk and get to know one another. statistics show that people are most likely to cheat with a coworker more so than anyone else. (real fact) though you may have taken her out as a supportive thing so she wouldn't feel like cutting, you have opened up a door to her feeling like she can count on you to save her and doing so creates romantic feelings and it would be like you to be captain save a hoe. and THEN you tell your already insecure incarcerated fiancée about it after just a few days ago we had a whole thing about feelings of jealousy and being territorial. all can say is well, now know how made you feel a few days ago. (1) Gypsy (1) if YOU'RE wanting to keep score. my whole point is be cautious when dealing with women you seem pretty clueless as to their intentions with you. and i refuse to be cheated on again by another lover I'll leave you so fast I'm completely serious, because though love you with all have, don't deserve to be made a fool or be only halfloved. its all or nothing with me, real talk. love you	page 165
01/14/2019 06:45:39	Outbound	I'm so ready to just throw in the towel on this relationship, after fighting then making up a few days ago. tonight he took out, at 8pm at night, his female co- worke: out for ice cream trying to be captain save a hoe, because she cuts. I'm like who gives a shit she's doing it to herself. now he just opened up the door for her to lean on him for comfort. I'm show him I'm so over really I'll never do this	page 209

01/15/2019 15:31:39	Outbound	hey I'm sorry have been distracted by school I didn't mean to not answer your emails, and jpay is not instantly received messages it takes a few days. that's the one sucky part. anyways how are you? how was your holiday and how is the new year been for for so far?	page 119

01/15/2019 20:29:50	Outbound	heyyy girl, how are you doing?? im here that's about all. kinda down lately my godmother suddenly passed away and i have pretty much lost my mind. i hope u are well hun love ya well on New Years da tells me that he spoke with his mom, dad sister, and and everyone said the same thing "why now? what's the rush?" they all support our relationship 100% but want us to weigh out the pros and con of doing it now. and its kinda messed up but tells me, said she does not support the idea of us getting married in here then going home to him, as well as taking it upon herself to speak for my father, saying my father will be so upset with him for taking his daughter away after the fact of him not being able to be in my life before. the talks to me and says no she didn't say she doesn't support our decision that she and dad accepted it, its not ideal nor does she like the fact would go home wit but its my life and choice to make. so shes addressing it one way with me and another with him. emailed my father to ask for his thoughts on the matter because don't think it should be speaking for my side of the family. and I have a visit next weekend so I'll know for sure if we are or am't getting married in July. we need to have that one on one time and talk it over just us. things have been rocky on more then the topic of the wedding wit don't get me wrong, love her but, all the TV show media fame is putting a strain on our bond. myself my father, and friends have all spoken on behalf of me. trying to be a voice of reason to try and get her to respect my wishes in completely end this continued spotlight attention fest, asking that she and the Blanchard family move on from the painful past no more interviews no more shows or public articals. well needless to say, she continues to be the frontrunner for any camera that offers. its kinda sad she is such a good person but, think what started as being a support Gypsy thing, its now something entirely different. I truly don't want any more TV shows, interviews or pubic attention about me or my past. it makes my prison stay hard because women judge me and it makes it very hard to become something other then "Gypsy Blanchard the formerly abused girl who murdered her mother" aprox 2 documentaries, 6 TV specials, 3 scripted shows, and countless news articals...I'm done! have opened up about my life in the hopes could be an advocate for abused children with parents of MBP. but I'm still healing from my scars and want to just live and create a new beginning for myself have a amazing man in my life who gives me the hope and love I need to keep positive in my situation, my father and are getting closer and have solid friends who stand with me good or bad.	page 136

01/15/2019 18:55:02	Outbound	love you too Babe, :) I'm relieved that you understand my concerns and freak outs. maybe that could be a topic we address on the visit, setting boundaries and limits for what we expect from each other when it comes to socializing with other men/women. so that neither one of us gets jealous, territorial, or hurt. I never want you to feel as if I'm being disloyal to this relationship nor, do you want me to feel disrespected or insecure therefore, coming to a set understanding about this would help us to avoid misunderstandings in the future. both of us wants the other to have friends and have a good social life and we can have that with proper boundaries in place to ensure the well being of keeping a happy, loving, faithful, monogamous relationship between you and I. ant wearing this little sy ring just to be fashionable lol :) My One I really miss you really bad right now. i have alot on my mind because realize that my decision not to support or aid and Franchesca's series lands me in a position to be at opposing opinions and odds with them and it might affect more then a business standpoint, feel it will fall into a personal matter. truly have nothing personal or anyone else working on this project. this is purely something must stand my ground on. OK you CAN call her. if you want you can even say that if it comes to needing my signature or permission can not give them my approval, it simply goes against our wishes. with all that being said just really am taking a step back and looking at my life and future, taking in all the information and thinking about things in a big picture. and the thoughts that my heart and mind settle on is, that babe, I'm blessed to have you in my life as my partner and really feel that making OUR life together and strengthening our bond is above everything else. the world, friends, family and fears aside...I just want you. want to know that I'm coming home to someone that loves me for all that am and all could be. want to do all the simple things like walk hand in hand with you through the city, go to the movie theater and not watch the movie because I'm too busy making out with you. lol want US to have all those special moments that life could offer as we share our lives together. my home and my happiness is with you as you as you show me the love that deserve and desire. It does not escape my mind that we will have moments that we have disagreements its totally normal just as long as we have that desire to make up and can move forward as if not a beat was missed and each phone call ends with the sweet sound of kisses on both ends of the phone. :) xoxoxoxo Ever since the day you took a chance on a little brown eyed brunette and let this tall handsome perfectly adorable sweetie into my heart, have never for a moment regretted putting all of my time, tears both happy and sad, and all of my love into only one man and couldn't be more proud to call you mine. I am flawed and have a lot of scars on my heart from it being broken by those who have claimed to love me therefore, don't trust easy nor do let myself be exposed as vulnerable but, that all changed just for you and you have become the biggest positive influence in my life, giving me hope, love and strength and if I lost you would lose a part of myself that became yours before we even said two words to each other. want and need you in my life forever, want to give you the same happiness that you have given me. want to be the woman that when you are listening to country love songs, you think of me as do the same for you. The woman that puts a 12 pack in the fridge and lays out your Cowboys jersey so its ready for game night then distracts you when walk by in just panties and one of your shirts. the woman that rests on your chest laying beside you in bed. If you ask me 10, 100 or 1,000,000 times to be your woman the answer will always without a doubt be YES! :) you so much xoxox Forever Yes, your Soulie	page 164

I need to feel your touch. 8 more days :) right now I'm laying in bed its midnight, wish had called you much earlier so we could talk but, its OK I look forward to date night soon, a proper date night. :) and im not upset about you playing poker because it has been a hot minute since you have been to the casino so occasionally is fine honey. think really am starting to sound like a wife lol So, have a legal call tomorrow am really clueless as to why.. like my case is done and over and so i: side unless his attorney needs to tell me something but I did my part I'm done don't know who is calling me and why. i don't wanna get my hopes up thinking that it could be the answer to my clemency pardon request that mailed out 17 months ago which in the information about it said it takes 18-24 months to hear back. would love for it to be that. to hear "Ms Blanchard this is the governors office and we are approving your pardon application, pack your things your going home." call you, tell you to come pick me up as soon as they release me wouldn't even tell anyone, not every just go straight back to Seattle with you probably would have had sex 10 times before we got back home. (sigh) in a perfect world right. wonder if it has to do sending a cease and desist order to the producers of The Act but surely they would contact her not me... IDK get nervous when it comes to legal stuff well no matter what it is by the time you read this I'll have already talked to you about it lol I'm going to bed now, Goodnight My love xxxxxxxxxx ruv yew ! :-)	page 164

01/17/2019 06:03:47	Outbound	wow that's mind blowing. so can ask how is y'all marriage? remember was it last year or the year before that you was concidering a divorce? has there been improvements? when you told me that before was messed up about it, but now admit I'm OK with it if y'all did separate, mean dont get me wrong want to work through the problems but if y'all divorced wouldn't cry and break down like did before because this is gonna sound bitchy and cold of me but YOUR happiness is what is important to me YOU are my father and she is just as good as a mother to me but had a mom her name wa: and though love bonds, she can't replace the woman I grew inside for 9 months. so i hold the last real biological parent have left to a higher level of importance in my eyes and my main focus regarding the matter is building a bond with YOU, there was and always will be that desire to have you in my life and no matter who is standing by your side as your woman, will love and support you and your happiness. :-) and has captured your attention and y'all still feel that way and feel its more then a physical attraction or then support that. but don't you dare move to freaking Canada, felons can't enter into Canada's border, she can bake cookies closer to the USA lol told me he grew some balls and texted you lol I can say one thing I'm learning that relationships take a lot of patients sometimes want to strangle and hug him at the same time. lol and i have our little tiffs but we never go to bed angry and always end each phone call with kisses on both ends of the phone. :-) so know relationships can have the ups and downs but all that matters is at the end of each day asking yourself can you live without having this person by your side, to kiss, hold, come home to, to love through it all, good and bad, and if the answer is NO then you fight like hell to make it last. that is my advice from a hopeless romantic. :-) but what do know, I'm a newbie in love lol received a legal call and he told me was discussing trying to giv access to my count documents and discovery to use for the series which even though she is no longer employed with the Greene County Public Defenders Office she is still held to the attorney/client privilege that states must give permission 'om to release those records which do not consent because do not support anything regarding once again putting my name and story in the public eye for whatever greater reason and you know that. Lol - will probably start when stop having headaches. know some meds have side effects, so i want to be able to know what the side effects are if any. I ended up getting a new tv. Its pretty cool. Im gonna watch the football games on it this afternoon. Im currently watching a movie called the eye. Its a horror. Supposed to be anyways. Its kinda older. 2007 i think. Ive been having some family issues and im hesitant to talk about them. It just seems like its always something. It goes from one end of the spectrum to the other. From health issues to disagreement issues and so on. Im writing this over the coarse of the morning so there will be a little more to read as opposed to throwing something together quickly. Ive been thinking of going back to college maybe for a second bachelors or a masters. It still pisses me off about being declined for that one masters program. have some things happening between now and the end of the month. Ill probably know for sure on that in the first of February. I wish i could just snap my fingers and everything be the way i want it to be, but that isnt the case. One would think by the age of 34 they would have life plans figured out. havent. have done a lot with school and music, but other than that nothing. have never really conformed to the societal norm. Its like if you arent married with kids by 25 - you are an outcast and there must be something up. Idk. Im just rambling there. Im supposed to have a finished version of one of or videos tonight. So i am hopeful for that. Everything has just moved so slow for this album. Live and learn. The next one won't take so long im sure. Well i know you may or may not be limited to time on the net? So ill end this one there.	page 283

01/21/2019 01:34:44	Inbound	Don't make me out to be some kind of asshole. I'm completely in the right here. It's clear as day to see it. You purposely hid the fact that you reached out to your ex boyfriend. Not just "a friend" as you put it. Someone who even after knowing you were in a relationship, told you how he would wait for you if anything ever happened to us. And said how he wants to "make all kinds of love to you". Would feel uncomfortable? Of course would. And you know that. Which is why you CHOSE to not tell me. You can spin it however you want. But you know that what you were doing was shady. You would feel the exact same if had been contacting one of my exes. This whole situation would be different if you had just told me. don't want you to apologize. Because you don't mean it. You even said in your own words tonight you didn't feel bad about it. And I'm not trying to make you feel bad about it. If wanted any outcome of this situation, it's for you to understand that by you doing things behind my back, it's going to cause problems down the road when find out about them. It's a complete breach of trust. have no problem with you having guy friends. That's not at all the point here. It's that you were contacting him and calling him and hiding that from me. talk to you everyday and ask how your day was. So there's no way you could've just missed those details when you tell me about what you were up to that day. Again, that's shady. You tell me just a few days ago you want things to go smoother between us, then this comes up. So what do you really want Gypsy? How can we be talking marriage if we can't even trust one another? All we have is each others word. This is not me telling you not to talk to people. want you to have as many friends as you want. This isn't about Sabastian personally. It's the principle. It's just to not hide things that you know would get a reaction from me. Are we a team or not? maa	page 163

01/21/2019 08:07:36	Outbound	Darling, want you to know that am starting to read relationship selfhelp books to try and become a better more responsible partner for you. understand that have been bringing unnecessary drama into our once happy love story and am putting in all my time and effort into getting us back on that happy little journey. this relationship is my whole world, YOU are my whole world and just don't wanna lose that, its far too special and love you more than want to. This book has a lot of good advice, took this quiz in it to see how stable is our relationship is, from my answers, we are in the yellow zone with a score of 16. it reads 12to16 you are coming to a yellow light ,you need to be cautious although you may be happy now in your relationship your score reveals warning signs of patterns you don't want to get worse. youl want to take action to protect what you have. take this time to do something to strengthen your relationship like spending time together. it could be the best thing for your future together. you can take this quiz as well. its a point scale quiz 1= never or almost never. 2= once in awhile. 3= frequently questions 1) little arguments escalate into ugly fights with accusations, criticism, name calling or bringing up past hurts. 2) my partner criticizes or belittles my opinions, feelings or desires. 3)my partner seems to view my words and actions more negatively then mean them to be. 4) when we have a problem to solve, it is as if we are on opposite teams. 5) hold back from telling my partner what really think and feel. 6) feel lonely in this relationship. 7) when we argue, one of us withdraws and doesn't want to talk about it anymore. scores 7-11 green light 12-16 gt	page 163

Baby Im not perfect, make tons of wrong moves but, the one thing you can always count on is my love for you and my willingness to work through mistakes that either of us can and will make through time. its inevitable in relationships no matter happy and perfect and we are no exception, what matters is how we stay a team and take turns being the strong one, I'll lean on you and you lean on me and together we will make it out of anything without a scratch. you still make me remarkably happy and feel loved, appreciated and wanted and only wish to do the same for you. love you Hubby xoxoxoxoxox don't think for a moment that your getting rid of me, I'm like a boomerang, I'll come right back. miss you! oh my God I'm so nervous seeing you again get butterflies every single time all over again lol	page 163
01/23/2019 20:30:01	Inbound	Hello Gypsy, was so thrilled to get a reply from you! was worried that you wouldn't want to acknowledge my letters simply be am a complete stranger. Maybe we can change that through our letters. The weather has been crazy here. don't know WHICH is worse... the flooding from the heavy rainfall or the cold, snow, and ice. One day it's 60 degrees thing you know the temperature drops 30-40 degrees and the wind makes it feel in the teens. I'm a true believer in God and His signs of the end of time! It was written in the good book that we wouldnt be able to tell the seasons apart. And if that's not what is taking place then wouldn't want to be around when it does come. Anyways, have been binge watching Clint Eastwoods best movies . My all time personal favorite is Gran Torino. My love for romance movies outweighs the Eastwood fix. guess miss my own romance story so watch them to fill the void of my own love! am elated to hear that you have found such a wonderful man! hope you don't mind me saying this but, am just giving you a little advice... when or if you're life's trouble starts to get in the way of your relationship, never let ANYTHING become more important than the love! It's easy to forget how much you love someone when life is throwing some hard curve balls your way. Nothing is more important. you can always get a new job if you get fired. you can always find a way to make money. True love is unconditional, hard to find, harder to keep, and will never be the same if it's ever scarred. Trust and be faithful.. know you know that already but wanted to say it bc wish someone had told me that. M may have lived and been here today if had been told that prior. mean our love was remarkable but maybe would have seen his sickness sooner than later and could have made him see a Dr. in time to prevent it all. Who knows? hope you are having a good day. will write more later if that's ok? Sincerely, Address Telephone Email Jan. 8th 2019 Dear Gypsy: Hi. How are you? hope this email finds that you are well. Let me introduce myself a . Ll was born and raised in southern KY. My hometown borders the KY/TN. . State line. I'm 37 years old and a mother to 3 gorgeous stressing hard headed know it all girls. My oldest daughter is 17. She thinks she's in charge and knows what's best in most situations. My 2nd is 14 and going thru the stage of trying to find who she is and her place in the world. Finally there's the least one who is 6. She thinks she's the boss to all of us. hope that each of those descriptions mean they are just the new normal for their generation! So, as you are probably aware, heard your story and watched your documentary about all you have had to endure during your entire life. wasn't aware of your story until watched you on Dr. Phil. It was during that show in specific, that I felt like should reach out to you but instead chose to do some more research on your life. Past and present. In the end was 100% sure of needing to reach out to you. bet the question of "why" is running through your mind, but my intentions are of nothing but supporting you. will never judge you for anything that you have done in your past. What occurred was tragic. I'm so sorry for the loss of your mother. don't care what may have unfolded on the day her life ended. know you love your mother then and still do today... that's why didn't say that you 'loved' her. The love NEVER ended. What unravelled was from desperation! You were pushed to the max and truly felt that there was no other options. Plus you were in love with a man that you knew your mother's illness would never approve of. She allow you to have any sort of life without her by your side. You were ... as you said before... your mother's mental illnesses prisoner! She had painted you out to the WORLD as a sick child. There was no way you could just begin a normal life, especially after she had portrayed you as a child with numerous debilitating diseases. really hope you know that understand you and your life's struggles, as much as anyone could understand. don't know how you feel completely bc am obviously not you nor have lived like you had. do however want you to know that am so sorry for what you have had to endure. Your mother was sick with a mental health issue. One that a lot of Drs knowingly allowed her to live with. A disease that put your life in danger and brought death to her. have tried to imagine what she must have felt as she continued to take you to dr. after Dr, having you diagnosed with different issues... think she thought it was the right thing to do but then again, who At the end of the day, it doesn't matter now. wish you could have had a different outlet. So lam going to finish this email up by asking you for your friendship? However you decide to handle this email please know that you have a friend in me and can talk to me about anything at anytime. Take care. Sincerely,	page 055

You ARE my heart, and love you always. honestly think with you, I'll be in the "honeymoon phase" forever ;)	page 163
01/28/2019 14:13:59	Outbound	Lover, its been 24 hours since last saw you and am already missing you. today is always the hardest after a great weekend because things have to go back to the "norm" just as you feel that sadness on the Sunday come the Monday for me, it hits me. don't wanna sound too sappy but, keep these visits so close to my heart and really am very blessed to have you in my life. loved the conversation, the laughs, crys (you assbutt lol), going Amish hunting, and most importantly the intimacy between us. fully admit go insane after awhile of not having that one on one, in person connection and start to question the strength of this relationship only for the simple fact of getting in my head about the fears that cloud my mind, thankfully have you to pull me back and give me strength and hope just by being the wonderful you that you are. can't wait for April though am nervous, don't let go of my hand.	page 163
01/28/2019 14:40:27	Inbound	These are just responses to the emails that you sent last week, but I'm just now getting. know we already talked about all this on our visit, but just want to say this anyway: Babe, neither of us are perfect. We're both living our lives together yet separate. Truth is do get lonely a lot sometimes. But just because want to wake up and look over at your gorgeous, frizzy haired, tired-eye smile and just give you a huge kiss on your nose and tell you love you every morning. But cope with that, because know in my heart still have you, and when you call me just to say good morning, get the same rush of excitement and warm feeling all over my chest (it's true. That isn't an exaggeration) that I'd get even with you by my side. Because YOU are my comfort. YOU are my stress relief. YOU are the only human soul on this earth who knows all the ins and outs of who am as a person, and yet I don't feel fear, feel ecstatic. Gypsy, this past year and a half of our relationship, and almost 2 years since we met, has been nothing short of breathtaking. And just don't know how you do it, but you always leave me in a state of awe and want more and more and more of you. Even when we get into our fights, sit in my room and just think of how we can get past this. Because even though you turn into a gremlin sometimes and get on my nerves, there's something about you that when open my phone and see our picture just laugh and smile. Even after a 3 hour fight over the phone. If that's not god slapping me in the face and saying "bro, that's your girl. You love her, and she loves you, so get it together" ... then don't know what is.) We are a team. 100% The dynamic duo. The gruesome twosome. You're my ride or die. And feel invincible with you. So let's keep going ;) (Here's lol You always have me to lean on. No matter what happens to us. want to always be able to talk about things. Because our minds best think when we put them together, not so much when we get isolated and get into our heads alone. Just never forget love love LOVE you. And appreciate all that you are and have done for me. Even during the visit when you casually said "I don't know why you like me" I just wanted to grab and shake you and say "uhh.. because you're an unbelievable woman who has more strength and the most hilariously loving personality than any girl I've ever met. Whose sense of humor bonds with mine like no one I've ever met, who I can drive around for 2 hours and look for Amish people and just laugh and have a great time doing it. Who I can go grocery shopping with on the phone and make it a date somehow. Who has a smile that even when I'm trying my hardest to keep it together and be strong, makes me crumble and just want to kiss you more than the need to breathe. Who makes a trip to Chillicothe missouri in the dead of winter feel like a sunny vacation in the Bahamas. And could go on and on.. No question your my one and only. And I'm here forever. ain't throwing no boomerang. my sword and my shield, and we'll get through any battle together. love you with all my heart.	page 163

01/29/2019 07:52:41	Outbound	Honey, I am writing this email because feel the need to express my thoughts and feelings about the topic of my home plan. about this conversation between us, my father I am still 4 years away from being released, have before yall talked that I'm living with you regardless of if we are married or not and that's final. the truth is I'm getting rather tired of efforts to sway me or you otherwise. has anyone aside from you asked me what want,..no. want us to forge our own life together, living where we want. in my personal opinion feel Austin would be great. I'm sure would love Seattle but, our family does live in the south and it won't be too long before our parents become grandparents. want us to be close enough that we could visit but just far enough from my past and Texas would be a happy medium. this is OUR life together. our choices need to come from making decisions based on your own thoughts and mine uninfluenced by others or else we are letting others rule our relationship. I'm making my home and future with you (ABOUT TO VENT REAL TALK) honestly every time you talk t she tries to sway your decisions get in your head regarding us and its really fucking aggravating. in all honesty every time yall talk she makes you feel like you are imposing on my life and therefore, making you get in your head and change or have a different opinion of plans WE previously made together as a couple and all it does is piss me off because her wants are opposing mine. feel like from what you told me you are going to be my support and back me up on our choices that we make together and want you to know you are doing that right thing by being MY support rather then caving in to others wishes because am your partner and future wife, just as you are my greatest priority who's and wishes come FIRST even above my own. so with all that being said, feel like if we was to have this meeting in April its only for the benefit of us wanting make me a this year. if that is not something we decide on then feel like would rather push the meeting off until much later babe but, no matter what I'm coming home to you and baby Balto. :-) love you and thank you for being my strength. support and soulmate. xoxoxox you are amazing :-)	page 166

01/29/2019 22:50:14	Outbound	My Darling Your emails touched my very soul. <3 Ever since was a little girl, had always dreamed of how wonderful it would be to get that fairy tale ending that most little girls dream of, meet the handsome prince, become a princess and live happily ever after. It wasn't until grew up and learned that life isn't as perfect as fantasy but, still held that innocent hope that someday my prince would come and, just when was about to lose that hope, not a moment too soon, You found me. The day you came into my life is the day I felt that was being given true compassion and kindness. Your sincere and heart felt words touched my very soul knowing that someone cared enough to want to get to know the real me, the me that keep so very hidden, the vulnerable delicateness of my soul and most importantly the innocence of my heart. Almost instantly you became my best friend. With each new letter and hour long phone calls started to feel as if I had met the other half of my soul. Through time realized we are more than just best friends but furthermore we are two halves of a whole that have finally been pieced together. want to spend the rest of my life with only one man, YOU. feel completely connected with your heart and soul and wish nothing more than to be your life partner forever. :-) xoxoxo You somehow make every visit a paradise getaway. You create a desire that is off the charts, when our hands touch feel a deeper sensation than just a physical one can actually sense our love mingle together, makes me fantasize how much more of that desire would sense if more than our hands were to touch. (sigh) For now the warmth of your kiss and the gentle embrace will be enough to tame the lioness within. You and will always be in the honeymoon phase. I'm completely in love with my Hubb I'm all yours baby for better or worse. XOXOXOXOXOXOXO I wuv yew <3 my soulie Love your Wifey	page 167

I'm not sure how to start off my message or whether you will receive this message or not, but recently found out about your life and what happened. found out about your story via social media and as I've been writing to inmates for around a year now, was interested in writing to you, so found out about your jPay details on Facebook as some people were wanting to write to you. know you may probably get a lot of people messaging you and I'm not sure what may compare me to others or single me out as being different or interesting but aside from what has happened in your life, felt that what saw of you was that you needed a friend and people to talk to. This is why set out to write to inmates as do believe that they all deserve a friend to talk to as it can help a lot when you have a friend around especially when you are sometimes so struck off from the outside world. So as for myself, I'll tell you a little about me so that you can get an idea of me! My name: I'm 23 and from England. I'm currently a Hair Stylist and work in a small salon in the town where live. love to read, play games, listen to music and go out to different places. I'm not too good at explaining about myself if I'm honest haha! So I will ask you, how old are you? How are you doing? What are your favourite things to do? If you receive this message, just want to say that hope you are doing well and if you don't wish to message me back then I just want to wish you well in the future :) I do hope to hear back from you, so will add a prepaid reply for you, if you do wish to write me back! 02/08/2019 16:25:11	Inbound	Goood morning sweets! Im all set up for video visits soon! After getting off the phone with you today just hope that you are feeling a little bit better. Homesickness is something that will come and go during our time getting through this, but I'm never too far away if you just want to hear my say love you. Shit, can load your ears up with that all day long. :) The snow started to come down like crazy pretty much the exact moment that we hung up the phone. Its beautiful, wish we could throw on some jackets and just run around downtown playing in it, throwing snowballs at each other, building the ghetto-ist snowman on the sidewalk, made up of dirt, cigarette butts, and if we're lucky, a couple of orange needle caps from our fellow homeless friends. We could name it "Dumpy the Wasteman" Followed by a stop at a Starbucks, where we could cozy up under a blanket and drink $8 hot chocolates. This probably isn't helping at all with the homesick feelings, is it? Well, it isn't meant to make you think like your missing out, its more of a plan to look forward to :) This is just another memory WAITING to happen. Just know that someday SOON, VERY SOON, we're gonna have the world. Just be my copilot? You're the only one I can fly this plane with :) Love you babe, ill be back to visit before the last snowflake falls	page 166

02/09/2019 10:44:29	Inbound	Hello Gypsy! I am 39 years old, live in Virginia and am a big fan of Dr. Phil. That is where first My name I learned about you. listened to you as you explained how you felt & what you went through and tried to understand what had happened to you. As watched your interview wanted to make you feel better. have mailed you 2 letters but don't know if you have received them, so thought this email option might be a better way to write to you. I guess you are wondering why me, a total stranger, wants to write to you. Please don't worry, not some crazy obsessed wacko with nefarious intentions. I am a musician and former music teacher, but stopped teaching to be a stay at home mom. My husband is a mechanic and our daughter is 7 years old. think that is why connected with you, thought of my daughter getting treated the way you did and it broke my heart. have thought about you often and I can't imagine how you must feel, but would like to offer myself to you as a pen-pal friend. don't want anything from you but to talk and to listen. promise that if you give me a chance will NOT talk to anyone about what you say, especially any Press or reporters. believe that you deserve your privacy and will respect that. I can imagine that you must feel a bit hesitant & concerned to talk with a stranger. All ask is to please think about it and give me a chance. If you decide that you're not comfortable being my pen-pal, please tell me and will stop contacting you. have included a pre-paid reply for you so you don't need to use your $ to write me back. hope you are having a nice day and hope to hear from you soon. Thank you,	page 347

How is your photograph job going? Do you enjoy it? My daughter, just turned 8 on May 26! can't believe it, feels like she was born last month! But have loved every day with her. so very lucky that have been able to stay home with her and I love it. Hope to hear from you soon! on De a bit about me: I'm 27. your age, right? was a psychology student and am now volunteering at a Holocaust centre in Johannesburg, South Africa. my drama teacher told me about your story a couple of weeks ago and have become completely fascinated. have done all sorts of research on you and haven't been able to think about much else. was born with the disability Spina bifida and walk with crutches which is obviously beyond my control. the idea that your mother would deliberately make you out to be disabled is mind boggling to me. I'm so sorry for what you have been through. think was drawn to your story for that reason as well as the fact that we have clearly both overcome a lot in our lives. but our struggles have no doubt made us stronger people. I'm sorry that what happened has landed you in prison. it seems rather unfair. I'm sure it's not easy but hope you are keeping your spirits up. your dad and stepmom seem like really great people. I'm glad you have their support. anyway, take care Gypsy. you're in my thoughts! much love,	page 347

02/14/2019 07:55:49	Outbound	Honey, know that you have moments of wanting to marry me soon and would be lying if said did not feel the same. that is why am going to give our application to the Chaplin for July, for just in case you do decide that you want to after April 16th (the deadline) if that was the case our application would already be in and if you decide that you want to wait another year can just tell him disregard the application for this year, we want to wait until January or July of next year. what do you think babe? do you feel that this is a good idea? it gives us a little more flexibility to decide without much care of a deadline. however, a concern of mine is if our finances are good enough for the cost of getting married. the minister fee is $200 license $50 and however much it is travel experience say $2,000 its expensive. so that's just something to keep in mind babe. Love you Sweetie. P.S forward to our Valentine's Date-Night <3 :-) you will be feel'n the puppy love tonight... ooops spoiler alert lol winky	page 166
02/14/2019 17:59:46	Outbound	Hi Gypsy! I, much like many others can imagine, heard of your case and just wanted to let you know my heart goes out to you and hope you are adjusting and doing well, and just know that people care !! Take it easy sis just wanted to send some kind words your way <3 I did receive your letter, and appreciate the offer and opportunity to speak about my case, life and how am doing now however, must decline an interview because have come to the decision to take a back seat to the spotlight. declining any and all interviews or media projects in order to focus on my healing process and the healing of my family. I can tell you that doing much better and really progressing in my education, have passed all subjects in my GED except for math, am still striving to pass that subject as well. continue to bond closer with my father, he and my step mother are coming up to Missouri to visit in late April, they come up about once or twice a year. am also engaged to a wonderful man who have been dating for about a year and a half, and he really has been a huge blessing after a toxic relationship its so nice to just have a healthy positive relationship with someone who gives me the support, love and understanding deserve. I understand there are scripted TV series in production, one that is spearheaded by my stepmother, this is something have asked to be stopped however my wishes went ignored and production continues to my disapproval therefore, i am not a part of any tv projects however, can not control what my family decides to do with regards to media. as said my fiancée and have chosen to shy away from the public's interest in my case in order for us to forge our own path away from the public eye. thank you for your time. 02/21/2019 20:05:52	Outbound	Darling, I finally had the affidavit for a marriage license for myself notarized and gave it to the chaplain today. so all of our paperwork is turned in from my part, your part comes much later however, the chaplain does not file it until 90 days before. then once he does we wait on the approval which probably does not take very long. :-) (your part) I did remind him that you are traveling in from out of state and he and I think its best that you call the Livingston county court house (recorder of deeds) about a week in advance to speak to someone letting them know you are flying in from out of state and will be needing file for a marriage license in person, that you would need to know for sure that the office will be open for you to pick it up a few days before Thursday July 18. that's the most difficult part. other then that its all pretty simple :-) I love you, let me know if you get cold feet (winky)) Kissies	page 166

03/01/2019 23:57:14	Inbound	heyyy girl, how are you doing?? im here that's about all. kinda down lately my godmother suddenly passed away and i have pretty much lost my mind. i hope u are well hun love ya well on New Years da tells me that he spoke with his mom, dad sister, and and everyone said the same thing "why now? what's the rush?" they all support our relationship 100% but want us to weigh out the pros and con of doing it now. and its kinda messed up but tells me, said she does not support the idea of us getting married in here then going home to him, as well as taking it upon herself to speak for my father, saying my father will be so upset with him for taking his daughter away after the fact of him not being able to be in my life before. the talks to me and says no she didn't say she doesn't support our decision that she and dad accepted it, its not ideal nor does she like the fact would go home wit but its my life and choice to make. so shes addressing it one way with me and another with him. emailed my father to ask for his thoughts on the matter because don't think it should be speaking for my side of the family. and I have a visit next weekend so I'll know for sure if we are or am't getting married in July. we need to have that one on one time and talk it over just us. things have been rocky on more then the topic of the wedding wit don't get me wrong, love her but, all the TV show media fame is putting a strain on our bond. myself my father, and friends have all spoken on behalf of me. trying to be a voice of reason to try and get her to respect my wishes in completely end this continued spotlight attention fest, asking that she and the Blanchard family move on from the painful past no more interviews no more shows or public articals. well needless to say, she continues to be the frontrunner for any camera that offers. its kinda sad she is such a good person but, think what started as being a support Gypsy thing, its now something entirely different. I truly don't want any more TV shows, interviews or pubic attention about me or my past. it makes my prison stay hard because women judge me and it makes it very hard to become something other then "Gypsy Blanchard the formerly abused girl who murdered her mother" aprox 2 documentaries, 6 TV specials, 3 scripted shows, and countless news articals...I'm done! have opened up about my life in the hopes could be an advocate for abused children with parents of MBP. but I'm still healing from my scars and want to just live and create a new beginning for myself have a amazing man in my life who gives me the hope and love I need to keep positive in my situation, my father and are getting closer and have solid friends who stand with me good or bad.	page 136
03/01/2019 20:07:28	Outbound	Honey, just made the most adorable cake topper for my party on the 31st. its a picture cut out of Precious Moments figurine collection, a little bride and groom, both with dark hair, and glued them to a secure cardboard backing. It bares meaning having that particular figurine as my topper. My mother and father had a Precious Moments themed wedding in fact remember her telling me how difficult it was to find a dark haired girl figurine, its true lol so having a Precious Moments themed party its my way of in my heart telling her that i still love her even after everything, my something old now, need new, borrowed and blue :-) After have the party, I'll send you the little topper cut out, keep it in our box of memories. :-) just thought would share that with you. love you. yours.	page 165

03/06/2019 10:57:12	Outbound	Dear Soulie, lam sorry my letter and words fell on deffears to the people in the hate group, you were right, it is just that, a "hate group" just thought that if could just put my own words out there, could, in a way defend us, but now see that no matter what I do or say, that group is nothing but drama and negativity. Baby, I'm sorry that again you were exposed to hurtful accusations and speculation, just know that those people don't matter. I'm in this because love you, words that dont even describe just how much you really mean to me, but there are other words that do say alot, Honey, its you and me against the world. lam committed to this relationship and devoted to only the man that was created to be with, you. <3 forever love you	page 165
03/06/2019 19:38:35	Outbound	Happy St Patricks Day Hugs Gvosv Hey yeah Jpay was even giving us a hard time with the holidays and weekends the emails were so backed up like 3-4 weeks backed up, but now they are posting. OK what's the story about the "cookie lady"? lol won't mention to mom. so 2019 started off on a shitty note, and were really considering getting married in July it almost was a for sure thing, he was going to make a point to go down to Louisiana to meet y'all and ask for your blessing but, the day before was going to turn in the paperwork, on New Years day, he says he wants to wait because of the lack of support for us to make it official right now on both of our families sides. his parents just want us to be sure this is what we want and we aren't just rushing into it, weighing out the pros and cons of a marriage right now as well as pointing out the overall setting of a prison wedding is kinda depressing. mom told him how she felt as well as taking it upon herself to speak for you as well telling him you would be upset with him and he took that to heart not wanting to upset either families. he broke the news to me, was upset not mad upset but just disappointed because we had spent months talking about it, thinking it over, i even planned a little bridal shower, discussed the idea of a ceremony that was not my big wedding but something small for now's sake briefly with you via email and mom via phone calls and the general reaction was that, there are reservations due to the timing but overall everyone just wants our happiness so it was something that would be accepted if decided upon. his mom and have talked before not about this but when he and first started dating and she was so sweet just completely accepted me into the family didn't give my past or where am a second thought. she is in the support group as well. :-) our loved ones opinions matter to a point with me probably a little more to him then me but, he told me we will fully discuss it when we have our visit in 2 weeks. ultimately have no really good reason for wanting to do it now VS later, like I told him my reasoning was because Im just that sure that he and have enough love, trust and maturity to make that commitment. and I view a marriage as something that is both a pro and con because that ring holds a lot of responsibility which is a stress on myself him and the marriage itself however on the same coin is the fact that that level of commitment furthers the amount of endurance we must have to make it through this sentence and sharing life with another person. anyway I'll keep you updated of what happens besides that, all is good and things are fine over here, I'm dreading this lifetime movie coming out in 2 weeks, all the women already know its about me and dealing with the questions and comments is a headache, :-p I'm keeping a positive attitude through it. I'll have mom send you a new pic of me, my hair is getting so long. :-) hope you are well and safe, love you. Hugs Gyp	page 181

03/08/2019 12:09:07	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, I sent you another email, but don't think it went through. wanted to thank you for your thoughtful response to my last message. completely understand your need to focus on healing and building a new life outside of the spotlight. I'm sure, in many ways, this whole experience - the media circus, the world-wide fascination with your case, and the trauma itself - has been overwhelming and agonizing. While admit that am disappointed that you will not be interviewing for our show - you are so poised and articulate about your feelings - respect and admire your decision. You have to take care of you. That is what's most important. That being said, we are still moving forward with our production and would really like to have someone represent you in the show. Someone to speak about who you were with your mom and who you are now. I've spoken wit and she says she is willing to interview with us only if you give your approval. Are you ok with her talking to us? Also, Clate Baker from your defense team said that he would interview with us if you give him permission to talk about your case. Would that be ok with you? Originally, this documentary was going to be a stand-alone special, but will now be part of a series that focuses on couples who have committed or been involved in a murder. After all you've been through, Gypsy, it's nothing short of miraculous that you have such a positive attitude and a determination to grow as a person. Healing is hard work, which I'm sure you know. Congratulations on your engagement! wish you and your fiance all the best. Thanks again and look forward to hearing back from you!	page 349

03/13/2019 10:50:07	Outbound	Darling Soulie, I'm glad we had a wonderful talk about the wedding, and now feel like we can be a little more understanding about how each other feels about it, and we can eventually come to a decision together of when we feel is the right time for us to become official and GRU :) I think its charming you want to have a talk with my father before, and even though your spending a lot of money for a 2 weekend trip, I'm so happy ya'll will have that talk, remember just be yourself, and my father will see the wonderfully amazing man that you are. Oh one more thing Honey, need you to do something for us, will keep our application in for July, however need you to either do one of two things, start writing your personal vows now for the possibility of July, or wait until after the big talk then write them then send it in to the chaplain because he needs to have your copy sent in by May 18th. oo	page 155

03/19/2019 23:18:05	Inbound	Good evening Gypsy, Glad you're doing well and making summer plans already. Best wishes, know, another crazy "fan" right. have to say your story is quite inspiring to me. could never imagine having half the strength and courage that you've possessed over the years. I've been to state prison myself, however it was just to visit a loved one. Can be hectic at times, but I'm sure it feels like a safe zone. What do you do in prison to pass the time? know when went to prison visits played a lot of board games and always bought a ton of snacks from the vending machines, boy LOVE snacks! Do you guys make any crazy food in prison? always enjoyed hearing stories of the different concoctions inmates would make, are very innovative creatures. One thing I've always disliked is the stigma that all prisoners are bad people. I've met some wonderful people behind bars, those who want to fight for a better future and those who genuinely want to learn from their past mistakes. My favorite quote of all time is, "just because you did a bad thing, doesn't make you a bad person." Do you have a favorite quote you always find yourself saying to others? Stay golden, Gypsy. There are a ton of people out here rooting for you! You deserve to live a life full of happiness.	page 344

I'm reaching out to see if you'd like to provide any comment regarding the show and its portrayal of you. Let me know. Thanks so much for your time. Best, Thanks so much for your reply! Best, thank you for reaching out with support. :-) Iam doing good :-) have adapted well. prison is not so bad, for me its more freedom then ever knew before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED, passed every subject except math though I'm striving to achieve that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. :-) do have a wonderful support system, My father and continue to build a bond. He and my stepmothe are coming up to visit next month, they will also be meeting my fiancé. Iam engaged to a wonderful man, his name we have been together for about 2 years and he has been nothing but my biggest blessing. :-) Iam aware that there is a Hulu series, The Act, however am unable to watch it so have little to say about the show, only that the production team and creators of the show has used my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial profit from it. other then that, i have heard its semi accurate to the true events of my life. as for me, spend my time either on my tablet listening to music, I'm a big country fan, or in the library. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental well being. :-) I try and stay positive in my day to day life, just look forward to starting a wonderful new life when am free. would love to travel, seeing the northern lights is on my top 10 list. do want to have children someday and want to do a line of work that either works with animals or kids love both, or working as a hair stylist. :-) for now just can't wait for summer. think I'm going to try a sport this year,...eshh wish me luck, I'm so clumsy lol anyways have a great day and thanks again for the encouragement. :-) P.S Iam also asking all my friends and supporters to send letters to Missouri State Government officials in order to help with my early release. 03/20/2019 10:59:32	Outbound	My Soulmate and Dream Husband, I lay in my bed wishing that were embraced in your arms right now, holding me so close that could feel your heart beat match the rythem of my own. the last few days I have felt so alone, a feeling am reluctant to share when on the phone with you because in that moment of hearing your voice, content, but when the phone meets the hook and your voice has faded from my ears am lonely once more and wait and count the hours until feel the happiness that my soulie gives me and am once again comforted by the love that can feel from your heart to mine. wish that this distance didn't exist honey, we have been together for long enough to know that this is real love in real life, We are engaged, planning a life together, I'm completely committed to this relationship. Darling have kept my desire to have you live near me inside even masking as something was against, but the truth is want you as close to me as possible. My Love come to Kansas City where I'm only an hour away baby, we could have visits every weekend if we wanted!. so many dates at Café De Chilli Cothé , you could work bartending in the Power and Light District, know the pay is less however, once you graduate, you could work in any establishment in downtown KC. feel like an idiot saying all this to you,...ultimately this is all just wishful thinking, the reality is this relationship is long distance and it will be for a long time, but that doesn't kill the possibilities in my heart and mind that it could be different. feel selfish when I try to say this to you because know that i have asked alot from you lately, you are doing your best to be here for me and are giving this relationship everything you have, and it IS enough for me, AM happy and content with our visits every 3 months and our date nights, most of your days off work are spent on me and believe we are in a great place, but do have times of hopeless dreaming of what it could be like if you lived in Kansas city. It doesn't have to be right now, but maybe it would be nice to strongly consider for maybe next year after we are married if that is something you would want. the most irritating thing to me is how indecisive and unsure you are. when say come you wanna stay, and when want you to stay you wanna come. though by the time we actually figure it all out, I'll be coming home, so maybe long distance is how this is going to stay, either way love you no matter the time or distance between us.	page 155

It's called "Ahead by a Century" by Wheat Kings. I'd like to get you the pad if you don't have it already. Anyway.. I'm working on a documentary about my high school BFF who's serving life in Prison for a murder he didn't commit. They evidence of his innocence is overwhelming! Even the judge was shocked that they convicted him and he even made comments in court and to newspapers in regards to the problems with prosecutors and how the jury got it wrong. reached out to him after your step mom told me easy it was to find you on here. She gave me great advice on what to do and who to talk to. Vanity Fair did an article and an episode on investigation discovery that's was COMPLETELY fabricated and defaming. can message you the link to the article that was written if you'd like to read it and get a feel for what I'm up against here. The episode on ID is under the show VANITY FAIR CONFIDENTIAL and the episode name is "Murder at the drama club" But it gained a lot of media attention, and know you are no stranger to the media circus. know won't have ANY trouble selling it to Netflix. know it'll end up being on the level of your case and the Steven Avery/Brandon Dassey case. If you're up for it, I'd love for you to be a consultant on this project. Basically just giving me advice throughout the documentary and your opinion on everything I'm uncovering in his case... like the withholding evidence, police coercion, set ups, and just bouncing ideas off you. Also, your name would be officially on the documentary as a consultant or correspondent or even co-producer depending on how involved you'd like to get. know figuring out your next steps in life now, and once released. So think this could be a great start to have a film, no doubt an award winning film, under your belt. This is definitely a wrongful conviction case, and there's already more than enough to warrant a new trial at the very least. We even know exactly who the real killer(s) are! know this is wishful thinking but I'm working VERY hard on getting his case overturned and just think it would be AMAZING and full circle for you in particular to have you there beside me when He gets released from prison. be such a big part in freeing an Innocent man! Anywho... lol I've already taken up so much of your time with this long email. If you're interested that would be great! But if it's just not for you, that's cool too, no feelings hurt. I'm doing this ALL on my own and just thought it could be a great opportunity to present to you since you have a unique prospective no one else has. Also, was born with Spina Bifida, and it affects so much of my body and daily life, and I've had the opposite problem where my mother didn't do enough to help my condition, so essentially the side affects have worsened and I'm just now, at 31 years old, taking control of my health. The only bad thing is my speech has been one of the major things affected by my Sb. And I'm sometimes embarrassed by my often slurred, lazy-like, way will help me prepare for it all. of talking, so doing this documentary is a HUGE fear for me but I know your dad and I spend all day working on the case and by night just lay in bed doubting myself and saying there's no way I can do this. The documentary maybe, but all the media outlets and subsequent interviews I'll HAVE to do is so daunting. But quickly remember every morning wake up, that there's an innocent young man sitting behind bars that's depending on me. I'd love for you to be able write to him or meet him one day! You'd be the best of friends. I'm planning a trip to see him very soon. And on that note, what is visitation like at your facility? I'd LOVE to fly out and get to see you in person! Regardless of your involvement in the doc. Because know part of our big fat Cajun family here haha, and I'm sure be spending a lot of time together once released. I'll attach my phone number and address if like to add me to your call list and visitors list. I do have a calling account set up already with Securus tech. So it should be easy to call me. I can fly to meet you at ANY time. I'm also going to send a picture of myself just so you have a face to the name. Again, sorry sent such a loooooong email. just woke up thinking of you and then received your email so it just felt like God put it	page 344

03/20/2019 08:28:53	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! It' if you remember my pen name from the article wrote about you. I'm sorry it took so long to write you again, the last two years were pretty hard on me (though that feels weird to say to you, of course, given what you've been through!) wanted to thank you so much for your kind letter and the card you sent me after my passed away. It meant so much to me and really appreciated your thoughtfulness during such a dark time. happy to say things are finally better. It took a long time to heal but I'm back to work, writing again, and started a new life with a truly wonderful guy. feel like a real person again! I'm sure you know how hard it is to start all over but at the same time the relief of knowing that life can change completely. That there is goodness on the horizon, even if you have to go through hell to get there. Your stepmother has been an amazing support to me as well and I'm so thankful for her. I'm glad you have her and your dad to stand by your side. How have you been doing? I've seen some pictures and girl, you look GREAT! Your hair is fantastic and love seeing that big, genuine smile on your face. And hear you love to read to which, as an author, makes me so happy! What's your favorite book or series of books? love scary stuff (of course, since write it, haha) but love Harry Potter too. very excited because get to see next month! She's doing great too. One of the strangest things for me about being connected to your case and story is the friends I've made from it. Life truly does work in mysterious ways. Again, sorry for how long it took me to reach out but wanted to make sure was in a good place when did. I'm happy you seem to be doing well and hope things only keep getting better for you! know probably busy but if like to write back, I'm always here. Warmly,	page 350
03/20/2019 01:27:08	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! it's the cookie lady here. spoke to your dad recently and he mentioned he told you about us. am very sorry about that. Please don't believe that was using you to get to your dad. It never even crossed my mind in the beginning. was and still am genuinely concerned and hoping for the best for you. I've been trying to follow your story but only so much is available on your updates. Your dad told me your step mom read you my first letter and you couldn't retrieve my second letter because included stationary in the envelope. Sorry about that - I'm new to this. was also told your stepmom threw out my cookies understand it was due to the thought of them being poisoned. can kind of understand that but it still hurt. sent so many cookies for you to go to town on because watched an episode of a show about your suffering and it showed you not being allowed to enjoy sweets. So wanted to bake you my best cookies. So how are you doing? It must be nice to have access to emails. much more convenient than traditional mail. understand your dad will be visiting you soon and will be I think that's wonderful that you found a caring, loving man. From what I've heard he sounds incredibly sweet. I'm running out of character space so should wrap this email up. However I have to tell you that you are growing to be such a beautiful young woman. Your luscious hair and your bright smile is breath taking. Last picture saw of you with your parents you had long hair with bangs - I think the bangs look gorgeous. You should keep them, but you pull off the long wavy hair too. hope to hear from you....and please don't be upset with me being romantically involved with your dad. We don't talk that much anymore and we're just friends now. You come first in this situation. If you would like me to send cookies please feel free to say when so your parents can bring them.	page 354
03/20/2019 21:20:33	Outbound	Hey Gypsy! My name i I've been following your case for a while now. know it must be lonely in there where you're at, so felt it necessary to write you. You probably hear this a lot, but can't say blame you for your actions. only know the details that have become public knowledge, but that alone has gotten me in your corner. want you to know that you have my full support, and i genuinely hope you're doing well. thought maybe you'd be up to talk a bit. I'd love to get to know the real you instead of the public persona that's pushed on people. know there's someone under that surface, and think it'd be awesome to meet her. What's your favorite music? What about your favorite book? There's so much to discuss. @ If you'd be interested, write me back. I'll go ahead and leave a prepaid reply so you can get back to me. :) hope to hear from you soon. ey Thank you so much for reaching out in support, it really means a lot to me :) lam doing good, I'm looking forward to summer :) work, school and extra classes keep me pretty busy. try and stay positive about where am and though this is not the ideal place to learn, grow and mature, it is still more freedom then iv ever known before. lam blessed, have friends family and I'm also recently engaged to a wonderful guy who has been nothing but a complete blessing to me. look forward to one day experience life to the fullest :-)	page 356
03/20/2019 17:05:02	Inbound	Hi Gypsy Rose!! So I've been pondering for days about what exactly to write to you. know your whole story (the one the media tells me anyways) and while that is all intriguing what you dealt with and are still dealing with, I'm far more curious what you're going to do in the future. heard you in your interviews on 20/20, and the one with Dr. Phil, you're very well spoken. And don't mean well spoken in the sense that you're well spoken for what you've gone through. mean you sound well spoken like interviewing to enter a medical doctorate program at Harvard or something. I'll tell you about me. I'm 41 years old, originally from Boston. now live in Florida because I'm just ALL DONE with snow and cold winters! have no children, and I'm not married. live a comfortable life here working in Sarasota as an emergency dispatcher for boating emergencies. I've had the flu for the last week and that is when came upon your story. A friend had posted it online. would love to hear from you. I'm sure you're getting a lot of mail today due to the series about your story premiering on HULU. I'll send you some cash on this so you can reply. Also will attach a couple pics of me so you know who you're talking to!! think you're a very intelligent, and interesting woman. really hope to hear from	page 360

I'm not sure how to start off my message or whether you will recieve this message or not, but recently found out about your life and what happened. found out about your story via social media and as I've been writing to inmates for around a year now, was interested in writing to you, so found out about your jPay details on Facebook as some people were wanting to write to you. know you may probably get a lot of people messaging you and I'm not sure what may compare me to others or single me out as being different or interesting but aside from what has happened in your life, felt that what saw of you was that you needed a friend and people to talk to. This is why set out to write to inmates as do believe that they all deserve a friend to talk to as it can help a lot when you have a friend around especially when you are sometimes so struck off from the outside world. So as for myself, I'll tell you a little about me so that you can get an idea of me! My name: I'm 23 and from England. I'm currently a Hair Stylist and work in a small salon in the town where live. love to read, play games, listen to music and go out to different places. I'm not too good at explaining about myself if I'm honest haha! So I will ask you, how old are you? How are you doing? What are your favourite things to do? If you recieve this message, just want to say that hope you are doing well and if you don't wish to message me back then I just want to wish you well in the future :) I do hope to hear back from you, so will add a prepaid reply for you, if you do wish to write me back! Not in the same way you were but it was by family members so felt trapped and like had nowhere to turn. know what it is like to love your abuser and be so confused. hope you are doing well Gypsy, hope you have forgiven your mother and forgiven yourself. That is the only way to heal. read you are up for parole in 2024, only a few short years. will be praying that you are granted parole and you can come out and and reestablish a healthy and loving relationship with your father. Unfortunately people like us will need Years and years and years of therapy to heal and learn to trust but there is no shame in that. Please don't ever feel scared, or ashamed to ask for help from your support system. When you are released you have an opportunity to start over in life. Take full advantage of it sweetheart. You deserve it! Just know you have a lot of supporters out here rooting for you. Sincerely,	page 326
03/22/2019 09:58:04	Outbound	Hell Thank you for reaching out and the kind words :) I am aware of the new series on HULU however, do not have access to Hulu. am told by friends who have seen it that it is 95% accurate with minor changes to facts about my life. am not all that thrilled to be honest, the shows production team is using my actual name and story without having the life rights to do so. therefore do not get any royalties, plan to take legal action against the shows creators. anyways am doing alright, have adapted well. have come along way from the "little girl" was when began this journey. have obtained most of my GED having passed everything except math, am striving to pass that subject as well, then can graduate. work photography for the women, taking prison pictures. as for my plans for the future, would love to travel, buy my own house, get married someday, do want to have kids, will be 32 when released so better get crack'n LOL Also do want to be an advocate for children who have been abused especially by parents with Munchausen. that is why shared my story on 20/20, Dr Phil, and HBOs documentary Mommy Dead and Dearest to spread awareness. since have decided to fade away from the media attention... well at least have been declining all interviews after Dr Phil, in order to move on with my life and begin to heal emotionally and mentally. definitely do not like all the attention, am just a normal woman who has gone through some hardships in life and has a much better life on the horizon. :) see the parole board in December of 2021 :) if you have any more questions feel free to ask :) again thanks for taking the time to write, hope you have a lovely day :) - GvpsvRose	page 360

03/22/2019 14:46:13	Inbound	Dear Ms. Gypsy Blancharde, I am writing you all the way from Houston, Texas. have been interested in your story and have been watching Hulu's exclusive retelling on your experience. First and foremost, want to say how incredibly sorry am for all you have been through. am not here to judge you, as have been through an abusive past as well. Absolutely, not on the same level, but understand what it's like to feel trapped. will never understand what you have been through, but watching your story, it broke my heart. am not interested in reliving or retelling of your past, unless that is what you want to talk about. The reason am writing you Gypsy, is because would like to become a person you can write to. Someone you can look forward to sharing letters with and possibly phone calls with if you would ever feel comfortable to do so. It broke my heart watching your story and realizing you never had the chance to make friends. You never had the opportunity to share your dreams, your likes, your passions. I'm sure at this point you would like to know a little bit about me then, huh? My name is I'm 20 years old, have a beautiful wife, Julia, and a pit-bull named Lavender. We also have a cat named Punkin. left my home at 17 from an abusive father, and struggled to get my life together. But, had amazing support from my family and start college this fall. am studying to be a massage therapist. want to have my own salon someday. love the beach, indie music, poetry, writing, horses, making candies and sweets, cooking, and my pets. So much more too! Anything you want to know hope you ask away. What kinds of things to you like, Gypsy? What do you want to do in life? Anyways, hope heart back from you. included a pre-paid reply so you can reply if you like. will also include a poem for you to read with each reply. Hope Is The Thing With Feathers - Poem by Emily Dickinson 'Hope' is the thing with feathers— That perches in the soul— And sings the tune without the words— And never stops—at all— And sweetest—in the Gale—is heard— And sore must be the storm— That could abash the little Bird That kept so many warm— I've heard it in the chilliest land— And on the strangest Sea—	page 443

Onl has been so interesting supportive and basically has her shit together that really considered my happiness and how much more the world gas to offer. Its not easy keeping vows you make to someone you really did love with all your heart at one time. decided would not be selfish and stick it out though. have so much to be greatfull for already. Why throw that away so far along now. My priorities are you and now until yall are free and graduate. Moms got 2 negatives an injury and trmdancy of laziness which new about the laziness when we got married lol. Shes nosey and is the first to cry poor me or look at me !! But on the flip side she is an extremely good person with good intentions and doesnt give me much to worry about while I'm at work. Its hard to work out here if you have a woman you can't trust. You know that feeling I'm sure. Anyways thats the most recent evaluation and really know could have better. A working successful beautiful woman that can trust. But thats not what bought into. I've given up on too many people in my life and I'm not giving up on mom. The hardest part is staying positive enough for it to effect her and help her become a better and more active person. used to put her down alot and that never helps so its kinda my fault too i guess. Her weight at the moment is the biggest issue. Im just not attracted to her which sucks because i really miss that part Anyways gotta go. Thanks for listening. love you tell	page 186

03/23/2019 00:18:35	Inbound	Hello Ms Gypsy, My name i am 21 and from Louisiana. Since discovering your case in 2015 have become very intrigued and obsessed with this case. It's truly shocking. have watched a documentary and a recent show on Hulu. had to get information on contacting you. There are many Facebook groups with information about you. have also watched many YouTube videos on your trial. didn't want to make this email about your case but more about the start of a friendship. wanted to express how admire your bravery, honesty, and optimistic views for your future. To watch re-enactments of your story and what you went through shows how truly strong you are and how brave you are. You have become a beautiful woman and hope you have a positive opinion about faith and God because He died for our sins and He forgives. All sin is equal and The Father is understanding and gentle. hope you confide in Him during hardships and repent and ask for forgiveness daily. He truly heals broken hearts and have faith that He will be there for you with open arms and an open heart. I'm at home tonight writing this. My boyfriend is playing video games. hope you are having a bright time despite your living conditions. know you have a positive outlook on life today via interviews have watched. If you need a friend feel free to email back. will send the fee to your account.	page 443

03/24/2019 15:44:34	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, am just checking in to see how your holding up. It sucks that you are having to go through this. was watching The Act series they are showing. The whole thing is a mess. feel when you get released, you will have so much support to help you move forward with a "normal life" (whatever that may be for all of us). would like to send a little money to help you out. It may not be much. Let me know if that would be okay. Stay Strong, welcome. Life has so much waiting for you when you get out. Believe in yourself and you can do so many good and amazing things. believe God has so much goodness for you. God Bless you find comfort through this holiday knowing you are a free spirit in life. A free spirit to begin a new life when you are released. We don't always know why we go through what we do. We do know that we don't have to go through it again. Some by choice, some by circumstance. You are going to be an amazing woman that will live life, love life, and make a difference for others that have been victims of things out of their control. Merry Christmas Gypsy.	page 141

03/25/2019 19:05:07	Inbound	It's so great to hear from you Gypsy! This JPay thing definitely doesn't move as swiftly as regular email, I'm certain you're aware of that!! understand it's mostly because the COs have to make sure it's appropriate (Hi COs hope you're also having a great day! Yes you're certainly not that little girl anymore. can't remember which saw first if it was the Dr. Phil interview, or the 20/20 but it was long after had seen all your older videos and pictures. Needless to say my jaw hit the floor when you came walking in with make up and this beautiful long brown hair. a very attractive, and intelligent woman. I'm certain you will have no issues finding a proper suitor once released to marry and have children. I did write to MO governor Mike Parson just about an hour ago actually. strongly recommended that he take a hard look at your case and consider an early release. There's a page on Facebook where several others have done the same. As far as the HULU series didn't make it through the second episode. It made me really angry. don't plan on watching anymore of it any time soon. feel like the HBO and the Investigation Discovery tell your story more appropriately without the "Hollywood" involved. The Lifetime movie was all over the place as well missing facts. So I'm not certain how any of this works. Is writing your governor falling on deaf ears or do you think it helps your case? Keep smiling, and working hard Gypsy, you're going to be amazing in life going forward. hope you have an easier time getting your GED than did my High School diploma! was definitely not the best student when was growing up. Report card day was typically a bad day for me lol. hope to hear from you again. Also a couple other things forgot to ask in my previous letter. So tell me about this photography that you do. Tell me about the other inmates and your living situation. Like are you in your own cell, or do you have like a dorm type situation where several of you share a larger room. know nothing about what it's like in there. All can honestly picture is it being like Oranae is the New Black tv show. Have a aood dav Gvosv!!	page 359

03/25/2019 18:26:56	Inbound	Hi Gypsy Rose, 21 years old and live in England, United Kingdom. my name I only recently heard about your story a few months ago and have researched you ever since. wanted to reach out to you, don't know how to word exactly what want to say. To be completely honest with you I don't think there's enough words to explain to you how much your story has hit my heart. think you are an incredible woman who carries a lot of strength what you went through growing up is unimaginable but you've got through it. can't imagine how many emails you must receive off people just like me wanting to reach out to you, see how you are and really just let you know how many life's you've touched but figured hearing it from one more person wouldn't hurt. Your story is known across the whole of the world, understand that some peoples opinions differ to others on what has happened but please know you have so many people who feel so strongly about you, your courage and your strength. hope doing okay, hope healthy and well. understand you can't reply to everyone's emails but hope able to see this one. God bless sweetie, mm	page 447

03/26/2019 11:59:33	Inbound	Still no phone call. sorry you are (apparently? probably?) still on lockdown. lam sitting here, Hanzel is under my blanket at my feet (it's actually pretty chilly today, surprisingly enough), cleaning my toes. Haha. He's such a silly kitty. have one big box of stuff ready to go to be donated...not sure where, but am not going until later this week anyway. only want to make one trip. lam proud of myself for getting rid of so much stuff. threw so much away that my whole outside garbage can was full. It's a good thing it's trash day. have another full bag ready to go out, already... am just proud of myself for getting rid of stuff don't need/use. wish you were able to call. When can't hear from you worry. praying for you though... it is a good feeling to know that God hears my prayers. Going to church Sunday really changed things. don't know how it could happen all at once like that, but it did. It's pretty amazing. put bible tabs in my Catholic bible. know what you're thinking, why on earth buy a Catholic bible?!!! It's because wanted a RSV, revised standard (I know you already knew that), and the only copy I could find was Catholic edition. It isn't a study bible or anything (do Catholics have study so figured it would be OK, since it was just the text. When I was in college that's the version read the most, guess I kind of got used to it. But. there aren't tabs for the catholic books... not sure if should read them anyways? Let me know what you think about that. mean there's a reason they aren't included in the bible! I love you. don't think I've said that yet. Which is RIDICULOUS. Especially w/ the amount of love have for you. It's astounding!! wish was more exciting!! Just cleaning and cleaning and organizing and throwing stuff out... it's like a miniature episode of the hoarding show. don't have a hoard, haha, but don't want to end up with one either! have had the tendency to be a pack rat, holding on to stuff no longer need or use, just get attached to stuff because of sentimental reasons sometimes, like there's this old cigar box my dad gave me when was a teenager, used to call it my treasure box, would put pretty shiny things I'd find and when felt sorry for myself for not having any material things, I'd look through it and remind myself of all my treasures. mean, it's an old box, and don't know if have anything really to put in there.... just can't stand the thought of getting rid of it. But if can't find a real purpose for it, will. haven't forgotten, going to fix my car, the light/fixture/thingie. will let you know when do. Sometime this week for sure. I also have to get quarters... for the 4th week in lockdown!!! It's unbelievable. just.... well, lam	page 008

You make me so happy, Love you more than yesterday, but not as much as tomorrow sweets, Im finally home and laying in bed after 21 straight days of work. Im sorry Ive drug you through this, missing so much us time, but it was all about saving up for our upcoming trip. Quite honestly, couldn't focus today. All could think about was you, and what you're going through today. could tell you were extremely shaken up fromy letter, and Im so sorry this hit you out of nowhere today. have no idea what it said, and after thinking about it, don't want to. It would probably only infuriate me that he's trying to re-involve you in his life, and know that would be nothing but toxic for you, and take you 10 steps back from how far you've come. don't really want to get into all of it in this email so ill save it for conversation when we talk on the phone tomorrow. Just know promised you id be here with you no matter what hits us or comes our way. And mean that. love you with all of my heart, and nothing could change that. Honestly nothing. Not all the facebook haters in the world could take that away from me ;) Im just missing you, and know what you mean about just needing to be closer to you. 03/26/2019 02:14:24	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, I'm so excited to hear from you. Thank you so much for being ok with what your dad and had. We're just friends now, check on each other once in awhile. Just need to make one thing clear. Your dad first flirted with me and I quickly fell for it, so it's all his fault Lol. Really though, your dad is an amazing man. He seems to beat himself up often about being absent from your childhood and not knowing the truth. think last summer tried to calm him down about it. All he wants to do is make it up to you. Him and spoke today because it's his Birthday. When your dad visits you in the fall, he's going to bring my cookies for you. I'll be shipping them to his friends house. He mentioned you were enjoying your photography job. think that's great. And absolutely do want a picture of you. However, I'll give you my business address once it is up and running. I'm in the middle of opening a bakery/cafe in august. Once that's opens I'll give you the address. I'm calling it Tres Gourmet. didn't know about school. Good for you for passing your courses. And you will pass math, don't you worry about that. Math is an annoying subject. It's for people who are into science and engineering. took math 11 three times, and got a (Cs three times. It's not a subject for me. You and are into art and writing. You taught yourself how to read with Harry Potter books, you like photography and these talents of yours will grow. love writing papers and art myself. My art is in my baking and cake decorating. So you do what you can with math and move on from there. I'm actually hoping you become a writer and write fantasy novels. can see you being exceptionally skilled at that. has been pushing you to do more interviews when you still suffer from the pain. Does your I'm so sorry to hear that dad know? means well and wants the truth out there, but you're an adult who can make her own decisions. You have a lot of support out there and millions of people know your truth. If may say, did not like your Dr. Phil interview. It bothered me when he was listing why he condemned your actions. wanted to call him out by saying dont recall Gypsy asking for your opinion, she's just here to share her story'. Ah well, enough of that. I'm so excited for you I just messaged your dad and told him you emailed me and teased him about a secret you and are now keeping from him. He pretty much rolled his eyes at me and replied with '...and the plot Lol. I'll tell your dad to go easy o And I'm sure he will. Your dad is just being the typical papa bear and trying to protect his Cubs. You're his first baby so it will be hard for him I'm sure. So when you get engaged, when do you think you will get married? wish could make your wedding cake for you and easily ship it down there. have some hair pieces and jewelry from my wedding. If you need anything let me know. =	page 355

03/26/2019 04:47:26	Inbound	Hello Gypsy, It's wonderful to hear that you're engaged and enjoying your life even though it probably isn't what you would have dreamed of. I'm more than excited for summer and am actually going to the beach in May, maybe one day you will be able to go! live in one of the largest cities in Indiana so don't see much of the mountains or the beach unless go to Michigan (the water is still freezing). I've traveled a lot and only hope you get to do it one day with your fiancé! would highly recommend Switzerland. The mountains are beyond beautiful and the people who live there are so sweet. been contemplating asking you about the new movies/ shows that have come out in light of your tragic story. Have these producers talked to you about what happened and are they compensating you for telling your story? As someone who lived in and out of foster care & also suffered abuse, would love to one day tell my story. I just feel as though sometimes people get the story wrong and then that spins a story, you know? Well hope they feed you well there and you get to see your family often! Your dad seems like a very genuine person who cares a lot about you, which is great. see a lot of Facebook groups that release your information so people can send you emails which hope are all considerate. know some people just see the bad side of your case but as someone who works within the medical field, try to see the bigger picture. also hope you don't get bombarded with emails over the movie and show that has now been released about you! know it gives you company but also know some people don't have your feelings in mind which sucks. also heard that you are working towards a GED which is amazing! It's so wonderful that you have pushed yourself past your boundaries and have now become someone who know your dad is beyond proud of. hope to hear back from you soon! Tons of love, =	page 361

The Urk costume features shorter pants and a jacket of red, black and white stripes, representing the stripe". *The Flevoland province is the youngest of all the provinces in the Netherlands. Established in 1986, Flevoland is located in the center of the country at the site of the former Zuiderzee bay. - is pop-folk group established in 1994. They have toured internationally in Germany, France, Turkey, Turkmenistan, and the United States. I listened to some videos music and really like it. The members look like they're in their twenties. Hoping you're doing well, keeping busy, and learning a lot about the outside world. Can you take classes in there? I've heard of inmates taking law classes to practice after release. That's pretty good experience for anyone so they can defend themselves, argue against oppressors, and know their rights. Have you thought about journaling to take notes, keep records? You may want to write a book of your own experiences someday (instead of someone else doing it). :) Yours Truly in Christ, and seen the show about you and it was so heart breaking to see am so so sorry you had got treated that way by your own mother ever sense saw your show there are so many people out here showing so much support for you just wanted to let you know that!!! hope you are doing good	page 448

Truth is we've both been in a rut the last few days, but the one who needs the other to be strong is you. Im sorry wasn't the partner you needed on Monday. Instead was more gauging on how you were feeling than actually talking to you up front about it. But truly, only wanted to do whatever was best for you. Even if not you wanted it. Do you think actually wanted to give you space? Hell no, only thought so because wanted to put aside my selfishness and do what was best for you and your coming to peace with the situation. Believe me, don't want any days to go by without me hearing that laugh and getting to say love you <3 Anyway, Im getting up now to shower, hoping you'll call to say good morning in an hour or so :) I love you with every inch of my fucking heart Gypsy. I'm reaching out to see if you'd like to provide any comment regarding the show and its portrayal of you. Let me know. Thanks so much for your time. Best, Thanks so much for your reply! Best, thank you for reaching out with support. :-) I am doing good :-) have adapted well. prison is not so bad, for me its more freedom then ever knew before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED, passed every subject except math though I'm striving to achieve that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. :-) do have a wonderful support system. My father and continue to build a bond. He and my stepmother are coming up to visit next month, they will also be meeting my fiancé. I am engaged to a wonderful man, his name we have been together for about 2 years and he has been nothing but my biggest blessing. :-) I am aware that there is a Hulu series, The Act, however am unable to watch it so have little to say about the show, only that the production team and creators of the show has used my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial profit from it. other then that, i have heard its semi accurate to the true events of my life. as for me, spend my time either on my tablet listening to music, I'm a big country fan, or in the library. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental well being. :-) I try and stay positive in my day to day life, just look forward to starting a wonderful new life when am free. would love to travel, seeing the northern lights is on my top 10 list. do want to have children someday and want to do a line of work that either works with animals or kids love both, or working as a hair stylist. :-) for now just can't wait for summer. think I'm going to try a sport this year...eshh wish me luck, I'm so clumsy lol anyways have a great day and thanks again for the encouragement. :-) P.S I am also asking all my friends and supporters to send letters to Missouri State Government officials in order to help with my early release. Although, it is not right to take anothers life, don't think you should be behind bars. In a way it was self defense. have signed the petition to hopefully get you out earlier. Free Gypsy...absolutely .. How do you spend your days now? Hope you are doing well. Wishing you all the best. It would be great to hear back from you.	page 449

03/27/2019 20:23:28	Inbound	helloo Gypsy! this might be weird but i just want you to know you are always on my mind. if you ever need a friend i will always be here for you. sort of just like this, he watched the documentary Mommy Dead and Dearest in May of 2017, and decided to me send me a letter of support, wrote back and we became friends then he became my BEST friend we just built a natural connection and in September of 2017 he came to visit me from Seattle, and in the first 30 minutes he just got overwhelmed by his feelings and kissed me out of the blue, and that kiss got us both in trouble with the visitation staff as inmates are allowed a brief hug and kiss however our kiss was a long make out style lol so the visit was terminated due to not following the rules and he was suspended from visiting me for 6 months! needless to say we kept in consent contact and made it official we have been together ever since. and now he knows when he comes to visit me, just a peck not a full on porno lol and October of last year he proposed in the visiting room :-) and i said yes :-) we have made the recent decision that its best for our relationship if he moves to Kansas city to be closer to me, that will be a huge leap forward for us as well. He does treat me amazing, he is my rock and the biggest blessing giving me strength, understanding, support and love he really is my soulmate and I'm so happy we found each other even in my circumstance. Oh and he is very handsome he is 26, 6'1 180lbs dark hair and green eyes. all the women in here who see our picture together is like omg he is so cute! I'm like back off hes mine LOL :-P :-D My future plans someday are traveling, want to see the northern lights someday. want children at least and have thought of Aurora Rose for a girl middle name is Railey, so Railey for boy. want to be an advocate for children that have been abused particularly from parents with Munchausen. My family all live in Louisiana, but will probably stay in Kansas city for the time that I'm on parole then move to maybe Austin, Texas family lives. My interests are more geeky, love poetry, European culture, cosplay, SciFi movies, a big Star wars and Harry Potter fan I'm a total fan girl lol love animals I'm both a dog and cat person. mmmm dream job,...anything with animals or kids :-) what about what thinas do vai like?	page 453
03/27/2019 17:54:16	Inbound	HEY GYPSY @, My name i lam 21 years old from Omaha, Nebraska and have been following your case for a very long time now but have never tried reaching out. am in complete disgust with the justice system and their failure to give you the freedom you deserve. am 100% behind you and fully support you. am a victim of child abuse myself and lost my mom to Lung Cancer at an early age. feel like in some ways, we're a lot alike. hope you're doing well in prison at least, because you've technically been imprisoned your entire life. just want to personally let you know as long as am around will never let the negativity spew against your name. YOU are a good person and YOU deserve like the rest of us. My sincerest condolences go out to you for everything you have endured. You truly are my hero and inspiration to keep pushing. have attempted suicide twice in the past year as suffer from PTSD due to abuse and feel as life is too hard to handle at times. You make young women like myself see hope at the end of the tunnel. know you made a mistake, but we all do don't we? would love to be penpals or to send you letters in the mail, or reach out in any way because see a genuine person when see you Gypsy, and would love to be friends at the very least. really enjoy learning more about you everyday, but it would be so cool to get to know you. I'm here no matter what. Just even for support. I'd never judge you. admire you SO MUCH! I hope you will read this and understand your life is so valuable and hope you are finally living it to the fullest daily (with what is provided to you of course). Just hang in there, among many have started petitions for a justified early release for your sentence and will always keep your innocence in my thoughts. Everyone saying negative comments need to stop and understand you bleed red just like they do. Haven't met you and REALLY hope you respond but love you Gypsy! Love Always, (Rut ban hv a. mother did some terrible things to you. hope you get freed before your term is up. I r your story. honestly believe you don't deserve prison. I am worried that my sister may have munchausen. Over the years she has had many "diseases and illnesses." My whole family thinks there is something mentally wrong with her. Lately she has been taking her daughter to get all kinds of tests. She withdrew her from school stating she is too unwell. There is nothing wrong with my niece. My sister is not as bad as your mother was, but I'm worried. Maybe when you get out of prison you could become a motivational speaker and help others with munchausen. Sincerely,	page 454

03/28/2019 00:13:29	Inbound	hello Gypsy this is a very difficult and painful letter to write, but necessary. first of all hope you are doing well. second, congratulations on escaping your mother. you're very lucky. I've been controlled all my life by someone with munchausen by proxy. my situation is only slightly different than yours. many years ago escaped only to be led back by armed guard and I've been trapped where am ever since. the people and groups that have been recruited out of sympathy to assist her in containing me includes teachers, university professors, police depts. doctors (and anyone else with access to my medical records), the FBI, all her relatives, nearly a whole city of citizens, a local ' mental agency, the social security agency, and a famous football player. I'm sure I'm leaving some out, but you get the idea. one difference between you and me is that in her panic to retain me, she flipped from soliciting sympathy for having a daughter who was 'like to approaching everyone around me claiming hysterically that was psychotic and dangerous and ' if you don't attack her, SHE WILL ATTACK YOU!' that way many others were still recruited in to support her, and she could get even with me for escaping by destroying everything love. what these people don't realize is after they hurt me for her and encouraged by her then they become terrified of me and attack me for their own reasons. some in the list of people above know what they did was wrong (most still don't) and that makes them a formidable army owned by as call her bc now they have a vested interest in keeping me 'shut up'. does that sound familiar? last September my soulmate, the one and only person to love and protect me from her died as a direct cause of her spreading hatred for me. That's why I'm mustering the strength to finally speak up. she murdered him to destroy me and I'm next. realized long ago that she doesn't just want me to die, she first wants me broken enough so want to die, the internet has no information (let alone accurate information) about mbp at all except for the same bullshit paragraph from so-called 'experts' swiped and pasted from the last 'expert' so it's been difficult to make people understand what's been happening all these years. I'm writing for two reasons: one reason is to thank you for the news stories and the movies shining a light on these very public hostage situations. these make it easier to inform people so they have a chance to make an educated decision (and not from lies or hysteria) whether or not they want to get involved. the second reason is to tell you that this year I'm going to be 51 years old and to confirm for you that if you ever wondered if she would eventually let you go, the answer is 'no'. if you ever wondered if you had to kill her to save your own life or be killed, the answer is an emphatic ' Yes!'. if you ever wondered if you did the right thing, again the answer is a resounding ' I'm sorry you had to, but it was either her or you, and that was HER choice.	page 447

03/28/2019 00:07:13	Inbound	HEY GYPSY @, My name is I am 21 years old from Omaha, Nebraska and have been following your case for a very long time now but have never tried reaching out. am in complete disgust with the justice system and their failure to give you the freedom you deserve. am 100% behind you and fully support you. am a victim of child abuse myself and lost my mom to Lung Cancer at an early age. feel like in some ways, we're a lot alike. hope you're doing well in prison at least, because you've technically been imprisoned your entire life. just want to personally let you know as long as am around will never let the negativity spew against your name. YOU are a good person and YOU deserve like the rest of us. My sincerest condolences go out to you for everything you have endured. You truly are my hero and inspiration to keep pushing. have attempted suicide twice in the past year as suffer from PTSD due to abuse and feel as life is too hard to handle at times. You make young women like myself see hope at the end of the tunnel. know you made a mistake, but we all do don't we? would love to be penpals or to send you letters in the mail, or reach out in any way because see a genuine person when see you Gypsy, and would love to be friends at the very least. really enjoy learning more about you everyday, but it would be so cool to get to know you. I'm here no matter what. Just even for support. I'd never judge you. admire you SO MUCH! I hope you will read this and understand your life is so valuable and hope you are finally living it to the fullest daily (with what is provided to you of course). Just hang in there, among many have started petitions for a justified early release for your sentence and will always keep your innocence in my thoughts. Everyone saying negative comments need to stop and understand you bleed red just like they do. Haven't met you and REALLY hope you respond but love you Gypsy! Love Always, (Rut ban hv a. mother did some terrible things to you. hope you get freed before your term is up. I r your story. honestly believe you don't deserve prison. I am worried that my sister may have munchausen. Over the years she has had many "diseases and illnesses." My whole family thinks there is something mentally wrong with her. Lately she has been taking her daughter to get all kinds of tests. She withdrew her from school stating she is too unwell. There is nothing wrong with my niece. My sister is not as bad as your mother was, but I'm worried. Maybe when you get out of prison you could become a motivational speaker and help others with munchausen. Sincerely,	page 454

Just my advice..in my eyes there are three sides to a story. But in my opinion even if didn't watch the show you were BRUTALLY brainwashed. anyways you take care and like said before watch out for the Sharks me to introduce myself My name my very close friends call me ney You can make that choice on what to call me. shit where do start. hope you are ok. Shit thought my life was tough..you have been through some crap and rolled and slept in it and sat in it...Damn you probably have loads of emails so will make it brief..Please make sure and be careful ...this world has more greedy and sick folks looking to make a buck and you will probably be a bank to some. Your story touched me and hope that you will find a happy life for yourself when you are free. My brother was in prison and know how much a letter could cheer him up sometimes. used to write him all the time about many different things and know that it kept his spirits up during dark times. What do you like to do to pass the time while you are there? What do you dream about doing when you get to leave? Anyhow, just wanted to reach out and say hello. hope to hear from you but will understand if you are busy answering other letter - I'm sure that you may get many!	page 052

Its such a tease.. especially when your sexy voice is the first thing hear in the morning, you are seriously the only thing in the world that turns me on the way you do ;) god damn just miss you, wish had a Gypsy 2.0 :) well, at least its not too long before get a kiss from my gorgeous fiancé to hold me over <3 Anyway babe the game last night was SO MUCH FUN. mean, was kind of on one, kept heckling the Red Sox fans in our section, with a Boston accent and everything. One ofthe Stadium employees actually came down the stairs to tell me to keep it down. And I yelled back at her 'Lady this is a baseball stadium, ill yell all want'!! Which looking back was probably a little obnoxious, but hey, 5 home runs! 12 to 4! Against the defending World Series Champions!? On opening day!? Ill scream until my voice is gone! (Which kinda did, lol) The only thing that was missing was you. All that wouldve perfected the picture was having my incredible lady at my side, cheering on players names that neither one of us can pronounce, eating peanuts and yelling at the enemy team. can't wait to have that with you babe =>) Okay okay no more jokes about being into other people, seriously, just want you. Ive always just wanted you! promise you a much better life than any floor waxer could! Ever since you came into my life you have re-written the definition of a beautiful person for me and nobody could ever take your place. You're my only one love you so god damn much Alright wiify/poptart/GRU, miss you tons, but I'm off to work now looking forward to telling the one love goodnight Love always, I'm really fin pissed right now, like uber pissed. talked to mom and she read to me the Springfield Newsleader article and I'm heated at somethin: said, that "I am not capable ofmaking a comment because ofhow was sheltered so don't know how the world works" I'm so mad I'm literally in tears I'm so upset THAT made me look so fucking stupid and retarded. is my parents gonna sue the producers ofThe Act,...? possibly, damn sure hope so, my comment was thought out and didn't think it would be taken by the NewsLeader. whatever Im just so over this BS. wis and mom would get their head right and stop with trying to plug their wanna be show and sue the shit out ofthe one that's already out there using MY name illegally! then your asking me how come didn't tell you did an interview?. because didn't , thought was just just commenting on some random lady's website, didn't think it would explode like that. so in tum I look like a fn liar to you because said, no more interviews, and this shit happens. I'm mad all the way around and by the time you read this I'll have already explained this all to you on the phone but for now I'm venting!	page 155

It makes it so you have something to be excited about. Like me and my husband are thinking about trying for another baby so I'm very excited to think about it but also kind of scared. hope this isn't sharing too much but Well to be honest I just feel like can share with you ;) Anyway scary because I've had multiple miscarriages in the past. So my youngest son is some what of a miracle baby or as we call him our rainbow baby(rainbow after the storm). Not to get off track though lol. After all you've been through am happy you have found someone that you can share happiness and love with. I'm glad to hear you have your dad and family support. Family is so important and it's really great that your dad isn't there for you. bet they are excited to meet your fiancé. My dad lives in Minnesota (i live in Kansas city) so don't get to see him as much as like too but we talk all the time and he visits as much as he can. My parents were divorced when was in 3rd grade! So my dad lives in Minnesota and my mom lives all the way in Alaska! It's tough not having parents close by but my brother lives close and that helps. You said that you enjoy reading... what kind of books do you like? am myself a self proclaimed nerd hahahahaha. think if didn't have books to read would go alittle crazy! I like reading a little bit of everything but my favorite books are ones with a twist. Right now I'm doing a re read of Gone Girl. It's one of my favorites. But also like stuff like Harry Potter. Those are my favorite books. Maybe could send you a book to read sometime. What is the library like there? your favorite book? use this library app on my phone so can read books for free which is nice :) Photography is really cool!! Maybe you could be a photographer when you get out. think that would be a fun and rewarding job! You could do some many things with it! Im glad to hear your taking classes and getting your GED. That sure is something to be proud of My daughter is 14 almost 15 and always tell her nothing is more important then her education! Sometimes wish could go back to school.... maybe once the kids are grown up more :) Well have to go give the baby's a nap (my baby is 19 months old and watch my 2 year old nephew). Then tonight I'm taking my daughter to see a spooky movie. Thanks again for taking the time to read and write me back! hope we can continue talking but understand if you don't want too. It sounds like you stay pretty busy! Which is a good thing :) hope you have a great weekend Gypsy!! Talk to you later! fiend and i love your story and are wondering how you are sweetie ? When do you get out. maybe we can be friends ?	page 274

You must feel like you have spent your entire life in prison. am very sorry for everything you have experienced and hope you are able to make a better life for yourself soon. Do you know what you want to do for a living? Will you stay in the state you are in or move to get a fresh start once your parole ends? hope you can have a wonderful life full of joy. Did your father have anymore kids? Do you have any brothers or sisters? am sure now that the show has started you are getting money and support. You looked great in your pictures on line. Did they do your hair and makeup? have to live with a few disabilities and have a service dog that love very much. Living with disabilities can feel like your body is a prison. can't believe you were made to live like you had disabilities. To tell you the truth am horrified. What was worse for you? Living with your mother or living in prison? hope you have some nice friends. What kind of books do you like. love books that are for adults but not porn about fantastic fantasy worlds. How long have you been for? Did you know him prior or was he a pen pal turned into romance? Sorry for all the questions, know you liked dressing up and cosplay do you plan to get back into that once you're released cause you know it's so huge nowadays. do apologize for taking so long to respond I've been swamped with babies and home life and it's so draining at times. When read that you feel more free while in prison that broke my heart hope one day you can know what free is by living your life under your terms and hope you have children one day so you can show them what love is. What will be your plans once released do you get to go on your own or will you be in a transitional home for short period? I'm glad you get to stay busy while in there to pass time by and it seems you're doing so much better, am happy established a relationship with your father because after seeing the documentary years ago could see the pain and confusion in his face as to why all of this even occurred even your step mother loves you it truly shows. Are you in contact with your grandfather (on your mother's side)? hope you have a wonderful evening and once again sorry for the delayed response.	page 453

We are the same age and i just wanted to tell you that you are a very strong woman to endure what you went through and still remain a very positive person. My son had to have a feeding tube for 5 years. So last year he finally got it removed and I just couldn't imagine having to have one for no reason. He used to cry EVERYTIME they had to change it and would just pray to not need it anymore. You have come a very long way and I'm just a very short while you will be able to be free, start new and enjoy the life you deserve to enjoy. I'm sure there are a lot of people who write you daily especially since the new tv series came out about your story. So with that being said if don't get a response truly understand. I'm sure your awesome dad and stepmom are taking good care of you in the meantime but if you need anything or just someone to talk to please don't hesitate to reach out. YOU ARE A ROCKSTAR and hope to hear from you soon ©.	page 458

That sounds awesome! hope that works out for you. It's a lot of fun to write! enjoy typing a lot. really wanted to say thank you so much for writing back to me the first time. It meant a lot to me that you took time to hand write me a letter and send me a sweet picture! really admire your strength. struggle with my past a lot, and hearing your story and seeing how strong you act, look up to you. 03/30/2019 06:58:41	Outbound	Good afternoon lovie! God really do hate this cell phone reception in my house, why does it seem to cut out just as the conversation gets good, huh? Its such a tease.. especially when your sexy voice is the first thing hear in the morning, you are seriously the only thing in the world that turns me on the way you do ;) god damn just miss you, wish had a Gypsy 2.0 :) well, at least its not too long before get a kiss from my gorgeous fiancé to hold me over <3 Anyway babe the game last night was SO MUCH FUN. mean, was kind of on one, kept heckling the Red Sox fans in our section, with a Boston accent and everything. One of the Stadium employees actually came down the stairs to tell me to keep it down. And I yelled back at her 'Lady this is a baseball stadium, ill yell all want'!! Which looking back was probably a little obnoxious, but hey, 5 home runs! 12 to 4! Against the defending World Series Champions!?! On opening day!?! Ill scream until my voice is gone! (Which kinda did, lol) The only thing that was missing was you. All that wouldve perfected the picture was having my incredible lady at my side, cheering on players names that neither one of us can pronounce, eating peanuts and yelling at the enemy team. can't wait to have that with you babe =) Okay okay no more jokes about being into other people, seriously, just want you. Ive always just wanted you! promise you a much better life than any floor waxer could! Ever since you came into my life you have re-written the definition of a beautiful person for me and nobody could ever take your place. You're my only one love you so god damn much Alright wifey/poptart/GRU, miss you tons, but I'm off to work now looking forward to telling the one love goodnight Love always, I'm really fin pissed right now, like uber pissed. talked to mom and she read to me the Springfield Newsleader article and I'm heated at somethin: said, that "I am not capable of making a comment because of how was sheltered so don't know how the world works" I'm so mad I'm literally in tears I'm so upset THAT made me look so fucking stupid and retarded. is my parents gonna sue the producers of The Act,...? possibly, damn sure hope so, my comment was thought out and didn't think it would be taken by the NewsLeader. whatever Im just so over this BS. wis and mom would get their head right and stop with trying to plug their wanna be show and sue the shit out of the one that's already out there using MY name illegally! then your asking me how come didn't tell you did an interview?. because didn't , thought was just just commenting on some random lady's website, didn't think it would explode like that. so in tum I look like a fn liar to you because said, no more interviews, and this shit happens. I'm mad all the way around and by the time you read this I'll have already explained this all to you on the phone but for now I'm venting!	page 155

We live and we learn. So guess I'm saying support you 100%. Yes I've been watching all of the shows about you and yes, I'm aware that most of it is fake. But I've always been diving into a lot of research about you and the entire thing. know it must frustrate you because there's more to you than just your past. So just wanted you to know that there's someone out here that supports you and realizes that you're a human being that made a mistake and that mistake shouldn't define who you are. That's all. My name i and recently started following your story. have got to say you are one of the strongest women I know. want you to know that am thinking about you and wish you nothing but the best. I can relate a little to your story. My upbringing was VERY bad.. ended up in foster care at the age 11 because of it. Foster care was not in the least a good experience.. went to about 13 different homes till aged out at 19. never finally felt free till was 27 years old. When was little use to look put the window and pray my prince charming would rescue me.. and even though it took a long time finally found my prince! So want you to know that no matter how much there are times when you think it's not going to happen I'm here to tell you it will!!! Now a huge advocate for foster kids and am always doing something to raise awareness... So maybe that is something you can do one day for kids who grew up like you. well I'm going to end here and know you probably get a ton of mail and will totally understand if you can't get back to me. just wanted you to know how strong and amazing know you are and if you ever need ANYTHING please don't hesitate to ask! You poor thing, it's not right that you have to be where you are all because of a controlling individual. hope all is well and that you keep a positive mindset. don't believe that you deserve any of this and it's unfair, she was controlling you and you had no way out. Best wishes for you Gypsy and know you've got a lot of people who support you and think about you everyday. Hope to hear from you soon ☺) thank you for reaching out and for the support. I am doing good, have adapted well and am making progress moving forward. have obtained most of my GED passing all subjects except for math. my father and continue to build a bond, he and my stepmother are coming up to visit me in early May. :-)) have a parole hearing in December of 2021. I'm just a girl living in Los Angeles where DJ, throw fun parties & make fun music & art. live with my boyfriend, our cat & 2 bunnies! Do you like animals? Some of my favorite things are dressing up in costumes, makeup & wigs, fashion, sewing, dancing, laughing, glitter, riding bikes, photography, going to concerts, throwing parties & concerts, candy (esp gummy bears), swimming, going to the ocean, traveling, making zines, collages, writing poetry, song writing and being with friends! also adore the color pink! Do you have a favorite color? What are some of your favorite things? I've been following your story since the day it happened. It really resonated with me cause i had a really hard childhood full of abuse & i didn't know how to escape from it. My heart just went out to you. It's really hard when people hear what you went through & judge you or when an experience in your life defines you to people who don't know you outside of that. just want to tell you i believe in you & there's more to you than where been- it's about where you are going! so excited to see where your life goes next & I'm rooting for you!! I tried to add a photo but i guess that feature doesn't work... this is my first time using this email app so maybe i can figure it out for next time! will keep this short because I'm sure you get lots of mail & you are probably real busy. do hope to hear from you soon! going to figure out how to add stamps to your account so you can write back!!! You deserve to be in a mental facility to help with all the trauma that was caused to you, not prison. At least not for 10 years! have read that you seem to be doing well despite the fact that you are now in prison. You are able to walk freely, eat food, talk and see your dad and stepmom! I also read that you have a boyfriend or fiancé? right? know that it started out as pen pals per say. How/when did it become a relationship? Does he come to the prison often to visit? Are you going to live with your dad for a while once you are released? know you are doing photography in prison. What job/career do you think you may pursue once released? I'm sorry for all the questions! You just fascinate me and I just want to know how you are and what you think your future holds! Anyway, hope you are doing well. Know that there are so many people supporting and praying for you. even signed a petition that your dad put up to get you an early release! hope it helps and that you do get out soon! Thank you for reading this and do hope to hear back from you. know there are thousands upon thousands of people writing to you every day but I would really love to read what you have to say. Blessings, recently heard your story for the first time, and just wanted to say that you're so brave. you speak so eloquently in your interviews, and know when you get out you can really do some good with what happened in your situation. think you're amazing and may actually write you soon! would love to actually write more than a set amount Haha. I'm and am 25 and from southern West Virginia. don't worry, we aren't all hillbillies. XD a good portion of us are, but not me thank goodness. my fiancé and have been totally enveloped with your story and think if ever met you would just want to give you a hug. even though know it wouldn't make much of a difference in helping you. wish knew of something i could do to help you when you get out, maybe could donate you some clothes! I'm likely getting ahead of myself Imao. I'm just excited to write you and possibly get to know you. you're strong, and Know) you can do great things when you're finished with your time. sorry if sound weird, just excited lol lol have a blessed	page 467

All doing OK. have a loving support system :-) and look forward to a new beginning when am released. :-) thank you again for the encouragement. have a great day	page 335
03/31/2019 21:33:20	Inbound	hi Gypsy, wow didnt think would get an email back so quick. I'm so happy to hear that you are doing so well. congratulations on your engagement and hope you have found your soulmate. just to give you a little info on myself: married my soulmate in 1995 but we were young and had divorced only a year later. met another man a few years later and we married in 2000. our marriage wasnt great from the start but just thought couples have arguments, right. after had my first son in 2001 things just kept getting worse and he became verbally abusive and very controlling. kept me away from my family and friends. became pregnant we our 2nd son in 2004. my boys were the only thing that kept me going. things just kept getting worse but was to afraid to leave him. then one day my son found a secret phone of his and discovered he was cheating on me. which helped me to just pick up and leave. was miserably married to him for 14years. well never forgot about my 1st husband and searched for him online. found him. did some research and figured that he was single and decided to message him. didnt hear back from him. was very sad not to hear from him. Then one morning see that had a message from him, this was a month after initially messaged him. we started chatting and finally met up and it's been history ever since. we actually remarried on January 11, 2018. He had also remarried after us and has a son. so now we are s blended family with 3 boys. life is so good now. I can just imagine and understand how prison for you is better then before. if you can send some pics of yourself have to figure out if am able to send pics. new at this. I've never written with anyone in prison. hope you are well...have a good day or night ...not sure when you'll be receiving this.	page 449

You are so strong and amazing!!!!!! Please know that so many people are rooting for you! And hope you find happiness even when you are in the system because you've been through a lot of shit and it's not fair. Are you and your boyfriend still together?? Please message me back! will not post about you messaging me, nothing like that! just would love to hear from you!!! Sincerely, your Cincinnati	page 113

04/01/2019 02:45:15	Inbound	Il saw an article today about suing Hulu. They used your name and story for their movie without permission nor compensation?? Of course that illegal! I'm sure of it (tho I'm not a lawyer) hehe ;). understand completely that you feel freer now. get that. was reading about too. It reminded me of how my boyfriend of 20+ years was destroyed, first his career, then his health until he became so weak he could no longer protect himself from HIS mother. He died protecting me. He sacrificed his life so that could recuperate and educate myself and survive. don't know how you feel about! but it sounds like he sacrificed his life to save you, too, and that makes them both guardian angels. I can't quote names offhand, but children are kidnapped nearly everyday and held prisoner and society reflexively considers that evil. They don't understand that those kidnappers at least have enough conscience and awareness of morality to HIDE their crimes. How much more evil is it then when one is so adamant about their to hold an innocent captive so openly, so publicly that they can with a straight face recruit so many regular and powerful people and groups to aid and abet their crime. Just looked this up: Aid and Abet. Definition. To assist someone in committing or encourage someone to commit a crime. Generally, an aider and abettor is criminally liable to the same extent as the principal. Also called "aid or abet" and "counsel and procure.". It wasn't jus alone who violated and threatened you; all who sympathized with her was a threat. Saw on the FB 'free Gypsy' page someone said that MBP is rare! No! It's not rare; it's rarely recognized and diagnosed correctly! know of at least 4 other 'children' (now dead or incapacitated adults- not including me) and a fifth unsuspecting victim was duped into oding on drugs by a parent inspired by my situation. If not stopped as you are doing, it spreads. You are a blessing to many. Keep it up, girl! :D PS Write anytime. hove didn't bum you out. Let me know if do. and I'll chanae tonics. <3	page 446

04/01/2019 14:45:56	Inbound	Hello Gypsy, I am so sorry you had such a horrible upbringing. can not wrap my mind around what your mom did to you. You deserve to be in a mental facility to help with all the trauma that was caused to you, not prison. At least not for 10 years! have read that you seem to be doing well despite the fact that you are now in prison. You are able to walk freely, eat food, talk and see your dad and stepmom! I also read that you have a boyfriend or fiancé? right? know that it started out as pen pals per say. How/when did it become a relationship? Does he come to the prison often to visit? Are you going to live with your dad for a while once you are released? know you are doing photography in prison. What job/career do you think you may pursue once released? I'm sorry for all the questions! You just fascinate me and I just want to know how you are and what you think your future holds! Anyway, hope you are doing well. Know that there are so many people supporting and praying for you. even signed a petition that your dad put up to get you an early release! hope it helps and that you do get out soon! Thank you for reading this and do hope to hear back from you. know there are thousands upon thousands of people writing to you every day but I would really love to read what you have to say. Blessings, recently heard your story for the first time, and just wanted to say that you're so brave. you speak so eloquently in your interviews, and know when you get out you can really do some good with what happened in your situation. think you're amazing and may actually write you soon! would love to actually write more than a set amount Haha. I'm and am 25 and from southern West Virginia. dont worry, we arent all hillbillies. XD a good portion of us are, but not me thank goodness. my fiancé and have been totally enveloped with your story and think if ever met you would just want to give you a hug, even though know it wouldnt make much of a difference in helping you. wish knew of something i could do to help you when you get out, maybe could donate you some clothes! I'm likely getting ahead of myself!mao. I'm just excited to write you and possibly get to know you. you're strong, and Know) you can do great things when you're finished with your time. sorry if sound weird, just excited lol lol have a blessed	page 467

04/02/2019 00:11:39	Inbound	Oh my Goodness I'm so happy to be able to write you. My name is and a member in your Step mothers Facebook Support Group. just learned can email you I'm so excited to possibly get to chat with you. Well Cyber chat that is haha. How are you doing? It seems your doing well per the support group. have followed your story since day one. And have watched all and any can about your story. I am a 100% supporter for you and will be happy when you one day get to be free like a rainbow. Haha honestly that sounds like something you would say always so cute happy and positive. That's a great quality in a person just saying LOL. Anyhow I'm sure you don't want to talk about the obvious and everything else everybody probably wants to talk to you about mean you must be over that subject by now haha! So I say let's talk about something more fun lol. How about this know you love animals I'll bet have 2 animals that you have probably never seen before they are pretty unique. They are cats but they are unique cats. Most people have never heard or seen them before. And I just realized can't send you pictures of them dam To understand them you definitely have to see them they are amazing and so are called Bambino's which means "Baby" in Italian. When you see them you will know why they were given this name. They are Part Sphinx Cat and Part Munchkin Cat. Unique right? Lol They look like a Bald Weenie Dog and feel like a cross between a Baby's Butt and a Soft fuzzy peach haha. suppose all can do is describe them since can't send you a picture what a bummer. Hmmm if there is a way you can get pictures let me know. Maybe by mail? Or by your mom and dad if send the pictures to them maybe? Ok well I'm sure your Busy being all fabulous and such, so will let you go. If you can write me back we can work on a way to get you pictures of my two kitties. Oh by the way their names are Dobby and Wesley like from Harry Potter ha ha Ha.	page 458

04/02/2019 20:08:44	Inbound	I'm very happy to hear that you are doing well. Although know you dont deserve 10 years in jail but it's better than being with such an abusive person. what broke my heart the most was when read about how she took of your teeth. wish could of been there for you to report her and so much could of been avoided. Wow it's amazing how much you have grown. Math was never my favorite subject so you I'm sure you can pass that. How are you health wise? have hyperthyroid so it's a bummer . But I'm doing good otherwise. That's good your dad still keeps in touch. can see he loves you very much. Photography is such a great career. Being able to capture memories and put them in a scrapbook is very cool. I'm happy for you. am a big fan of you and glad took time to see how you are. Lots of love and health are you? You probably get written alot about the same thing so just would like to be friend you and skip all the negativity. know you went through alot and for that I'm sorry that you did . You seem very kind hearted to have been exposed to all the bad stuff. hope act to hear from you soon. Sincerelyv Favi :)	page 476
04/03/2019 08:38:24	Inbound	Hi! know you must get a lot of email, but wanted to write anyway because was so compelled by your story. I'm really sorry about what happened to you. I'm 54 and have a teenaged son and he went through some legitimate medical problems when he was younger, but he's thriving now! He had shaken baby syndrome at the hands of his biological mother (not me!) so he had a shunt to drain the fluid when he was a baby. He had a really healthy childhood until he was about 9, part of the tubing started to pop through his chest... didn't know what it was at first. thought it was a strange place for a bruise. They did an emergency surgery. The same neurosurgeon who saved his life removed the shunt, and remember walking into the post-op room and seeing the scar on his head, and even though I knew he was okay, there was something about seeing that scar on my child's head that made me almost pass out. My friend had to hold me up. Seriously. guess that's why connected with your story. Now he has the C-shaped scar on his head, but my husband says it looks pretty badass, and my son seems to think so, too. His hair is long now, but when he wears a buzzcut, it does look kind of badass, guess. :) guess what I'm trying to say is something you've already figured out but I'll say it anyway. A child is so precious. We adopted our son when he was 15 month's old, and it was so hard to see what his birth mom had done to him. can't imagine ever hurting a child on purpose for any reason! Also, there's something else. When was younger, was dyslexic. couldn't read well. This was before learning disabilities were readily diagnosed and a lot of people treated me like was mentally challenged. As it turned out, am not! even went to grad school. But know what it's like to have a brain full of thoughts and have someone trying to tell me am less than. I'm sure you get a lot of mail so obviously you don't have to write back! just wanted to show my support and let you know that there are people who understand. I'm sure you are getting a lot of supportive mail and for that glad. God bless you! XO me again. know you must get a ton of letters and you probably don't even have time to read them all. just wanted to say that hope they let you out soon, and my hope and prayer for you is that you have a beautiful life waiting for you on the outside because you certainly deserve it! Anyway, I've been learning more about your story and can see how you genuinely felt that there was no way out. After all, you tried to escape, and she made your life worse. And, even though you were very smart, your mom didn't let you learn about the way the world worked so you weren't able to access the proper avenues to get help. She really had you trapped! What happened to you was brutally unfair. That's why don't want to see you trapped/incarcerated anymore. You're obviously a smart, capable person. And, I'm sure you are learning a lot from the people around you. I'm know you've heard all of these things before. just wanted to be one more person to tell you. I'm writing some things because feel very strongly about them, but don't want to bring up anything unpleasant for you. Also, while I'm wanting to tell you why understand your position, the last thing want you to do is comment on what happened (the case) because I'm well aware that you have parole boards and stuff like that in your future so please don't say anything about it at all! But then don't want to sound like I'm telling you what to do either. OMG listen to me... have a tendency to second-guess myself, do you notice that? :) I've always been kind of that way. I'm very quiet and easygoing and sometimes people think they can push me around. But the reality is that I'm always watching people and I'm taking everything in. And, have very strong opinions about certain things. My husband knows this about me and he has always respected it. (My ex-husband did not respect it which is one of the reasons why he is my ex). I'm like easygoing about going to this movie or that movie or whatever, but if a teacher is going to make a decision about our son that don't like, then, well, won't be pushed around! I just thought of a good example of that. Back in 2013, my son had three different surgeries. When he was in the hospital, they always had trouble finding a vein to get the IV into his little arms, and he told me getting stuck was worse than the surgery in a lot of ways. The nurse would try and because he was dehydrated (he couldn't eat) it made it even harder, and the week he was there, they stuck him a total of 17 times, and was furious! And, the second time he was in the hospital, was determined not to let it happen again. The nurse stuck him once, and told her, "If you don't get him this next time, then go get someone else who can actually do it." Well, she had to go get someone else. And I'm usually not difficult, but just refused to allow them to use my son as a pincushion. They got the IV in and it slipped out in the middle of the night, and demanded that they bring in an ultrasound machine so that they could get the needle in. so timid that won't even get a cup of coffee in your house without asking first, but demanded the doctor with that machine, and she showed up at 3:00 a.m. and condescendingly told me had the machine but she couldn't use it. Well, turned it around on her. Seriously, it was like Johnny Cochran took over me! was there this little Kentucky housewife in my messed up hair and plaid shirt and looked over at my son, and he was so. scared. That's all could think about. said, "WHAT ARE YOU DOING BRINGING ME A MACHINE THAT YOU DON'T EVEN KNOW HOW TO USE?" And kept throwing it back at that doctor. They were NOT going to put a needle into my son until they found someone who could do it. We waited about three hours until they brought him into surgery that morning, and there was a lovely woman, who	page 004

Just take me away from the stress baby, be with me in the moment talk about what your looking forward to for summer, let's do some star wars quizzes or talk about us in the sense of our relationship i.e future plans we have. in short don't care ifyou tell me about the breakfast cereal you ate earlier or the weather, but just talk about anything else, but all the BS I'm dealing with, and honestly sadly I'm falling back into old ways to cope with it all. need you please just stay with me.	page 156

My name i , I'm a 29-year-old mom of 4. wait tables for a living at a small Italian restaurant. It's not the best job guess but it gets us by. What kind of job do you think you would like to get when you're released? I'm sure you have the opportunity now to study up on what interests you and have a good idea when that time comes. And with as much attention as your case is getting I'm sure, there will be job offers. Maybe something like a social services worker? What interests you? Everything that see about you online is all sympathetic and empathetic. People really understand why what happened happened. haven't seen any negative comments about you. Have you heard at all about the show they have about your story on Hulu? It's called The Act. The girl that plays you is really pretty. It's hard to stop watching. The new episode comes out tonight. It's really hard to believe that it's all based on a true story. I'm so sorry you had to go through that. Well, better jump off of here. I'll send a stamp if you decide to write back. 04/03/2019 00:50:51	Inbound	Hello lovely, Those are exciting wedding plans you have. Were you surprised when he asked you? How exactly did you guys meet and start a relationship? I'm kind of nervous to meet your dad. I think your dad won't be too hard on him because clearly your dad wants nothing but happiness and peace for you. As do is a very lucky man to have you in his life. Is he into art and novels like you? So sorry if I'm asking to many questions or if am coming off like am prying. I'm just so happy for you. There's this guy in a fb group that has been asking me how to get in contact with you. His name i he seems like a nice man and is very concerned about your well-being but found him to be a bit much. Hopefully he won't bombard you with too much of his own life story on abuse. Unless of course you enjoy that. One more question before Do you have an idea as to what you would like to do after you are out of prison? know	page 355

04/03/2019 23:47:17	Inbound	Thank you for your response :). That is awesome news that they are able to come visit soon. Also you're so close to your parole date. Take it day by day and it will be here sooner than you know. also had to get my ged because had my first child at 16 so had to drop out of high school unfortunately. It took me two times to pass the math part. Ugh. have made so many different career choices since then. went to two different colleges for medical certifications only to find out my passion is photography and currently I'm a bartender lol. It's so great you're doing all of those awesome things now so when you get out the possibilities are endless. You're going to do great things. My childhood wasn't the best to say the least but took those lessons and applied them and now have a wonderful life. With that being said anything is possible. We as strong women have to stick together. Please let me know if you need anything :). Hope to hear from you soon. -your friend	page 458

04/03/2019 01:11:46	Inbound	Hey how's it going, my name i 20 years old, and live in Kansas City kansas. Um you probably don't know me but these last few weeks I've been viewing everything that you went though, the sentencing and the the change of how different you look from previous time. just wanted to say that feel sorry for what you were all put through, you've probably heard that a lot already so I'll just change in subject, don't know if your going to receive this or no, it's honestly the first time do something like this but guess it's never bad to try something new. To introduce myself more (since I'm probably still a stranger right now) was born in Kansas City, place where my parents moved from Mexico to seek a better future for myself. After was about 7 years old my dad was deported to Mexico since both illegal immigrants, after my dad was deported my mom didn't wanted to be here in the US by herself so she took me with me over to Mexico. lived there till was about 15 years old then decided had to move back to the US to seek all the opportunities had as a citizen. My parents are currently still in Mexico, miss them but whenever have time go and visit them. I'm cirently in school, have literally changed my degree SO many times that in disappointed but just don't know what to do. Anyways have 3 dogs, can send you a picture if you ever want to see them, don't have a lot of money but I'm grateful with what have, and like to sing (not only in the shower lol) this might not be relevant to you at all but just wanted to say hi and see how you were doing, also wanted to know what do you do in jail? never been to one so thought I should ask, again you don't have to reply but you do have the opportunity to do so. Hope your having a goodnight right now and sweet dreams Ill patiently await for your reply.	page 471

04/03/2019 23:14:32	Inbound	Hello, my name is just want to share	page 481

04/04/2019 19:15:52	Inbound	Hi! know you must get a lot of email, but wanted to write anyway because was so compelled by your story. I'm really sorry about what happened to you. I'm 54 and have a teenaged son and he went through some legitimate medical problems when he was younger, but he's thriving now! He had shaken baby syndrome at the hands of his biological mother (not me!) so he had a shunt to drain the fluid when he was a baby. He had a really healthy childhood until he was about 9, part of the tubing started to pop through his chest... didn't know what it was at first. thought it was a strange place for a bruise. They did an emergency surgery. The same neurosurgeon who saved his life removed the shunt, and remember walking into the post-op room and seeing the scar on his head, and even though I knew he was okay, there was something about seeing that scar on my child's head that made me almost pass out. My friend had to hold me up. Seriously. guess that's why connected with your story. Now he has the C-shaped scar on his head, but my husband says it looks pretty badass, and my son seems to think so, too. His hair is long now, but when he wears a buzzcut, it does look kind of badass, guess. :) guess what I'm trying to say is something you've already figured out but I'll say it anyway. A child is so precious. We adopted our son when he was 15 month's old, and it was so hard to see what his birth mom had done to him. can't imagine ever hurting a child on purpose for any reason! Also, there's something else. When was younger, was dyslexic. couldn't read well. This was before learning disabilities were readily diagnosed and a lot of people treated me like was mentally challenged. As it turned out, am not! even went to grad school. But know what it's like to have a brain full of thoughts and have someone trying to tell me am less than. I'm sure you get a lot of mail so obviously you don't have to write back! just wanted to show my support and let you know that there are people who understand. I'm sure you are getting a lot of supportive mail and for that glad. God bless you! XO me again. know you must get a ton of letters and you probably don't even have time to read them all. just wanted to say that hope they let you out soon, and my hope and prayer for you is that you have a beautiful life waiting for you on the outside because you certainly deserve it! Anyway, I've been learning more about your story and can see how you genuinely felt that there was no way out. After all, you tried to escape, and she made your life worse. And, even though you were very smart, your mom didn't let you learn about the way the world worked so you weren't able to access the proper avenues to get help. She really had you trapped! What happened to you was brutally unfair. That's why don't want to see you trapped/incarcerated anymore. You're obviously a smart, capable person. And, I'm sure you are learning a lot from the people around you. I'm know you've heard all of these things before. just wanted to be one more person to tell you. I'm writing some things because feel very strongly about them, but don't want to bring up anything unpleasant for you. Also, while I'm wanting to tell you why understand your position, the last thing want you to do is comment on what happened (the case) because I'm well aware that you have parole boards and stuff like that in your future so please don't say anything about it at all! But then don't want to sound like I'm telling you what to do either. OMG listen to me... have a tendency to second-guess myself, do you notice that? :) I've always been kind of that way. I'm very quiet and easygoing and sometimes people think they can push me around. But the reality is that I'm always watching people and I'm taking everything in. And, have very strong opinions about certain things. My husband knows this about me and he has always respected it. (My ex-husband did not respect it which is one of the reasons why he is my ex). I'm like easygoing about going to this movie or that movie or whatever, but if a teacher is going to make a decision about our son that don't like, then, well, won't be pushed around! I just thought of a good example of that. Back in 2013, my son had three different surgeries. When he was in the hospital, they always had trouble finding a vein to get the IV into his little arms, and he told me getting stuck was worse than the surgery in a lot of ways. The nurse would try and because he was dehydrated (he couldn't eat) it made it even harder, and the week he was there, they stuck him a total of 17 times, and was furious! And, the second time he was in the hospital, was determined not to let it happen again. The nurse stuck him once, and told her, "If you don't get him this next time, then go get someone else who can actually do it." Well, she had to go get someone else. And I'm usually not difficult, but just refused to allow them to use my son as a pincushion. They got the IV in and it slipped out in the middle of the night, and demanded that they bring in an ultrasound machine so that they could get the needle in. so timid that won't even get a cup of coffee in your house without asking first, but demanded the doctor with that machine, and she showed up at 3:00 a.m. and condescendingly told me had the machine but she couldn't use it. Well, turned it around on her. Seriously, it was like Johnny Cochran took over me! was there this little Kentucky housewife in my messed up hair and plaid shirt and looked over at my son, and he was so. scared. That's all could think about. said, "WHAT ARE YOU DOING BRINGING ME A MACHINE THAT YOU DON'T EVEN KNOW HOW TO USE?" And kept throwing it back at that doctor. They were NOT going to put a needle into my son until they found someone who could do it. We waited about three hours until they brought him into surgery that morning, and there was a lovely woman, who	page 004

04/04/2019 23:07:27	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, You don't know me. have a son doing 15 years in DOC. Life can be confusing and full of regrets, guilt from choices made for whatever reasons, and being young and wanting to be a part of someone's life in a loving way. Life can just pain suck! hope you are doing well. would like to be a positive support for you if you need someone. can see a girl that will have a positive future when you are released. Write me back if you feel like it. You don't know me and am sure you get a lot of mail from people you don't know but had to reach out. recently just learned about what happened to you, and completely dove right into knowing more about what happen to you. learned about it, because of the series on Hulu that came out called The Act and as it keeps going, it gets more and more interesting. googled your case and watched your sentencing and wanted you to hear my thoughts. Although Murder is awful and always have believed there are others way to get around any situation you may be in, but watching what your mom put you through, believe she had it coming. If that upsets you i'm sorry, but watching what her own dad said about her daughter about her deserving what she got says a lot about who your mom was. don't know if this is a sore subject for you but so sorry for what happen to you. feel like if had been your neighbor would have seen the signs and would have helped, would have also believed you. can't believe something so awful happen to you and for you today be okay. so happy you are now living a life that is yours and your a lone. would like to know more about you, like what your plans are when you get out? Who you want to be, what you like to do. Your story is amazing and heart breaking and wish someone noticed something sooner before the worst happened. Do you and your dad have a great relationship now? hope have been building a closer one. How is prison for you? Is it better than what you were going through out in the world with your mom. After something so awful and you not being able to stick up for yourself i am sure you have a great support system behind you. wish you wouldn't have been convicted because in my eyes you were the victim and you did not actually do the dirty work. hope I hear back from you, like I said would love to know more about you, and tell you more about myself Let me know if you need anything i can fill you in on a life as a texan lol. My address if you would like to write back Mv name thank you for reaching out with support. :-) I am doing good :-) have adapted well. prison is not so bad, for me its more freedom then ever knew before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED, passed every subject except math though I'm striving to achieve that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. :-) do have a wonderful support system, My father and continue to build a bond. That just amazes me. don't think personally could do it. But then again, who knows. I've never been in your position. (I ramble a lot. Just tell me to shut up lol) Anyway, I'm not a creep. I'm just a single mom in Indiana that finds you as a person very inspirational and strong and I'd like to be your friend/pen pal. If that's ok with you. If not, that's ok too. I'm sure you're very guarded about who you talk to. I totally understand that. If you need anything, just know that I'm here. Hope to hear from you again. Take care,	page 208

04/04/2019 01:04:35	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, just read your email about your parole meeting in 2021. Does that mean you could be getting an earlier release date? can't stress enough how much support you have from all over the world trying our hardest to do whatever we can to get you out. don't know exactly what I'm allowed to say in these emails but please just know there is a massive amount of people trying so hard to do everything to express how we feel in regards to an early release. You don't deserve 10 years, honestly and have my fingers crossed that they re-consider your release date. I've been looking more and more into your case every day and can't believe how much of a strong and brave woman you are and always have been. Thank you so much for responding to me every time too! Honestly feel like I've made a friend in you! = mazing how positive you're staying whilst in there, you seem very humble and content. Sorry for the late reply lovely! work full time in a nursery! Your case has really pushed me towards wanting to be a safe guarding officer for children and young adults, So currently studying hard to get where need to be. For my course we have to write about a case where there has been a safeguarding issue and I've been writing all about you! told my tutor all about your story too and she was saying how great it is that I'm able to be in touch with you over email and how much your story has touched her heart! really do hope to stay in contact with you! You're such a positive, bright and brave woman! Look forward to hearing back from you	page 447

04/04/2019 11:33:54	Inbound	Hi Gypsy!! Thanks for responding so quickly. just wanted to make sure you were aware of the huge following you have. People are praying and sending good vibes your way. hope this email finds you doing well, sounds like you have adjusted and are just happy to have the little bit of freedom being offered to you. follow a FB page for you and everyone is so nice and understanding of your situation. I'm sorry the world failed you Gypsy, know you will make up for lost time once you are out and will do amazing things! God bless, sy! was just thinking about you and thought check in. follow a FB page that is all about you!! The one told you about before, the lady that ran it was a little weird so a lot of people left it. I think it's been taken down. Anyway, we have couple questions. One is your hair naturally curly? think some are imagining a full service salon in prison and two some times you have make up on in pictures, do they let you wear make up or is this for special occasions? We are nosy but most of us do care about you. As always you're in my prayers. Take care. © this email finds you well. My reason for writing is because feel A little responsible for to your case. He thanks me for this but had no idea he would find a way to a friendship with you. As you probably have figured is very special. He is an old sole with big dreams and a child's heart. He is so broken over his failed marriage and was so thrilled to develop a friendship with someone he admires so much. He still looks at you as the child who was hurt badly, so he may come across strongly in his attempts to make you feel better about your situation. Because if he has no filter and all of us have been in awkward conversations with him but know his heart is in the right place. do however want to give you a warning wish someone would have given to me; takes everything we say as word, etched in stone. Agreeing to come see him one day, as have done as well, only hurts him later on. try to say we will see or it depends on my situation. It's like telling a 5 years old we will go to Disney one day. That is a "yes" for them and you'll never hear the end of it. Speaking from experience with the 5 year old. She's 17 now and I'm so anxious to let her go one day. But know have to let her fly. To try to hold her down will only hurt her, but you understand that more than anyone. was hoping with covid they'd release you seeing how you are no threat to anyone. But atlas the justice system is not perfect. Please continue your friendship you may want to have a set day and time to call and make sure he knows if he doesn't hear from you it's because of things out of your control. He is very literal as have learned over the years. Protecting you Gypsy is my first priority. come to you as a ally and would never do anything to hurt you. have talked about creepy vibes girls get because we have all been to close to a creepy guy and it doesn't go away from our minds. 04/04/2019 12:38:09	Inbound	Hey.. my name oddly enough have been addicted to the show based on your case on Hulu and I've been reading up everywhere on it and came upon the information to write you from one of the Facebook groups. Besides all that though.. figured would go out on a limb and see if you wanted a friend to just talk or write to, to just pass some time. I'll give you some info about myself to break the ice haha. My name is I'm 21 years old, and I'm from the US. sadly enough am just a supervisor at a small town McDonalds hahaha :P even though I'm 21, I'm super short so get picked on a lot for it. I'm a really boring person, but can at least hold a conversation without being too boring to talk to. love music, I'm a closet country fan but I've never told any of my friends that. But mainly I'm into punk rock/pop. Like said before, I'm a boring and simple guy. Haha! Anyways, if you ever get bored or need somebody new to write to - I'm your guy! 7. for writing back! honestly had no idea if you would or not, so thank you. I've never had a pen pal or anything before (do you count as my first?) haha! That's awesome in the process of obtaining your GED, that's so rad. I'm proud of you. had a son when was a junior in high school and dropped out and then went back a few days after he was born and luckily graduated with my class. It's tough, have faith you'll succeed though. Math was never my strong point either haha :) Congrats on you and How did you guys meet? He sounds like a great and lucky guy! Woahhhhhh, how in the heck is the show allowed to do that without your consent? They used your life and real name for the story so how are they allowed to just.. get away with that? I'm so sorry, that must be so frustrating.. especially since you even gotten to see it. wish you luck on your summer sports this year!! Haha the only sport I'm good at is basketball :) which is funny because I'm a guy who is only 4'11 hahaha! :) have one child, a son named Kye and he's 3. My ex girlfriend and had him when was 18. Kids are so much fun and you'll love the experience :) do you getting all of these messages daily, ever annoy you or you feel like you are kinda forced to write everybody back? and how often are you allowed to be on your tablet and respond to messages? It's all so intriguing to me haha I'm sorry if I'm prying at all :) anyways.. hope you had an amazing day!	page 466

04/04/2019 11:45:38	Inbound	Hello Gypsy: I'm writing to you to express my empathy and support for you. saw the documentary on Investigation Discovery about your story a year ago, and have to say that it was a major trigger to what endured through my own childhood. had suppressed so much and persevered through life just to survive, without even knowing it. Having been in and out of psychotherapy my entire adult life, started to write, and write, and write as memories continued to surface as a result of this major trigger. That was a year ago, and I'm still writing. Your story inspired me to tell my story. I am also a #MeToo survivor, but nothing has had such a lasting, negative impact on my spirit as childhood PTSD. A lot of people talk about the #metoo movement and its impact on their lives, yet nobody talks about childhood PTSD and the impact it has had on them. know there are many of us out there who are survivors, and fight more than we want to just in order to stop the negative self talk that goes on inside our heads. At the time, didn't think was being abused either. It was under the guise of being over protective that my parents operated. It was both my parents who were very physically and emotionally abusive, and it wasn't until later in life that felt the gravity of it all. Mommy Dearest was always present, to the point of suffocation at times- she knew no boundaries. would flinch just at the sight of her, probably because she would threaten me with the worst physical things imaginable. She had no loving, caring or nurturing words for me. The only time she was ever nice was when was sick, but that didn't last long. When entered adolescence it got even worse. She felt threatened by me becoming a beautiful, young woman. She didn't shave my head, but she did hack my hair off one day when some friends said that my long hair was beautiful. She did other things as well that made me feel ashamed of becoming a woman. My father was no angel either. He would backhand me across the face at the dinner table or anywhere, sometimes for nothing at all. would routinely receive beatings with a belt when he returned from work. had to take the beatings for my sisters too, who cowered in the corner crying. He would also tell me a lot that was ugly and not very smart. loved my parents despite this abuse and the nicer was to them, the meaner they were to me. They still do not understand the concept of unconditional love. They relished in my misfortune, never offered a helping hand and would say that it was all my own fault, even if it wasn't. Some of the times they were to blame for the bad things that happened, yet never took ownership of it or make it right for that matter. One of the things that really burned me up was having to wait and wait for just the simplest of privileges, which would be handed to my younger sisters like Halloween candy. So between the both of them, I had nowhere to turn, and had low self confidence, which continues to this very day. was being bullied a home by the two people who were supposed to love and care for me. Home is where you're supposed to take the arrows out, not put them in! Spending time with my grandparents was my only sanctuary- and they are the ones who made me who am today. They knew what was going on, but didn't want to interfere.	page 485

04/04/2019 20:24:50	Inbound	Hi Gypsy. This is my first time ever writing to an inmate. hope doing alright. know you said you are living a better life now that in prison, but still can't imagine what it feels like. wish you weren't in prison. remember in 2016, when everything first happened. saw the post on the actual Facebook page due to it being shared so much. was confused until started reading more news articles. Ever since the movie, documentary and the recent tv show came out, 1 100% believe that you don't deserve to be in prison. You don't qualify for parole until you're 31yrs old. If you get released from Prison, you will have had 31 yrs of your life completely stolen. That is so upsetting to me. pray for you everyday and hope to god there will be miracle soon. You don't deserve this. I'm glad that you are finding ways to Cope and hope it's not too bad in there. saw news articles that you and your family plan on suing the act. just want you to know that, because of that tv show , more and more people are realizing the truth and ARE on YOUR side. hope they feed you well and treat you well and you have lots of protection and friends in there, you deserve it. I'm wishing you =	page 489

I am also taking several other classes to benefit my mental and emotional health. work part time as a photographer taking general population inmate pictures, it keeps me very busy lol have made a few good friends in here that have since been released however we still talk on the phone and keep in touch. I am continuing to build a closer bond with my father. he and my are coming up to visit next month, they visit about once a year :-) I am aware about the Hulu series The Act, however do not have access to Hulu, so have little to say about it, only that the production team has used my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not have any financial gain from it. other than that have heard its 98% accurate to the actual events. as for me, try and stay positive and just look forward to a wonderful new beginning when am released. again thank you for the encouragement. have a lovely day	page 003

04/05/2019 08:23:34	Inbound	Thank you for Riding back so quickly. Don't you worry gypsy. am having all of my friends sign the petition. We have got yo back. I'm so glad that you are happy and it was great news to hear that you are engaged. You sound truly blessed. It is great to have a friend and am blessed just by reading your letters. You take care yourself kiddo. Talk to you soon, Gypsy. you obviously don't know me Planet got your inmate number from the Facebook page that's been set up for you. When first saw the documentary on HBO and then the other show that was on network television, my heart and my soul really went out to you. know that these are painful memories for you but have watched recent interviews with you on television and you look absolutely happy and radiant now. it is a blessing to see you so happy even though you are in a situation where one would not be happy. speak from experience because was incarcerated in 2005 and was released, finished my parole and am now living my life again. made a very stupid mistake with bootleg software and eBay and was convicted of grand larceny and theft by deception. made this very sorry excuse that was trying to support my family but that's all it was, an excuse. just wanted to send this email and wish you a good day. know it's hard to think about having a good day when you're behind the wall but know from everything I've seen on television and everything that have read, that you are growing and blossoming exponentially. that is so freaking cool and really warms my heart. my name i: and am 54 years old an ex husband, a father and a grandfather. reach out to you in friendship because know what you are going through ignore and something in my heart made me write you so could let you know that would be here for you as a friend who has been in a similar situation. if you desire anything to read, any magazines or if you need money for commissary, please do not hesitate to ask for there is no shame in doing so. am not sure how misery works but in New York oh, the jobs behind the wall do not pay very much unless you are making desks or inmate clothing. also want to give you hope because even though know other people are writing you and giving you the same thing. want to let you know that when you are released, there is an entire life for you to live. was very fortunate. My wife and we're still together, and remain very civil and Friends by the way oh, and had the love and support of my children as well. just want you to know that you are not alone. If you feel like you would like to write back, totally cool. included a return stamp. Like said before, if you need something, please do not hesitate to ask. I live out in the world so would not mind putting some money on your account or getting you some stamps if you need it. you can also let me know what Missouri allows as far as packages are concerned. New York State allowed clothing and food packages as well as books and newspapers / magazine subscriptions. if you let me know, will help you you are. No worries. I'm sorry that this entire letter is a big run on sentence but I'm actually dictating it into my phone with the JPay app. hope you don't find it too annoying. Anyway, would like to say I had of time that it is nice to meet you and that hope you're having a dynamite day so far. you go Mad Respect! thank you for reaching out with support. :-) lam doing good :-) have adapted well. prison is not so bad, for me its more freedom then ever knew before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED, passed every subject except math though I'm striving to achieve that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. :-) do have a wonderful support system, My father and continue to build a bond. He and my stepmothe are coming up to visit next month, they will also be meeting my fiancé. lam engaged to a wonderful man, his name we have been together for about 2 years and he has been nothing but my biggest blessing. :-) lam aware that there is a Hulu series, The Act, however am unable to watch it so have little to say about the show, only that the production team and creators of the show has used my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial profit from it. other then that, i have heard its like 95% accurate to the true events of my life. as for me, spend my time either on my tablet listening to music, I'm a big country fan, or in the library. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental well being. :-) I try and stay positive in my day to day life, just look forward to starting a wonderful new life when am free. would love to travel, seeing the northern lights is on my top 10 list. and have already thought of names, Aurora Rose for a girl and Railey for a boy. do want to have children someday, want to do a line of work that either works with animals or kids love both, or working as a hair stylist. :-) for now just can't wait for summer. think I'm going to try a sport this year,..eshh wish me luck, I'm so clumsy lol anyways have a great day and thanks again for the encouragement. :-) P.S lam also asking all my friends and supporters to send letters to Missouri State Government officials in order to help with my early release. Hello Friends and Supporters, I appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence. Many of ya'll have signed The Free Gypsy Blanchard Petition created by my Now, must ask a favor, am respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for my freedom and write a letter expressing support for my early release to either the Missouri State Governor Michael L. Parson AND/OR The Division of the Missouri State Board of Probation and Parole. lam scheduled for a parole hearing in December of 2021, however any and all letters of support are helpful. please remember to add my first and last name and DOC# in the letter. 04/05/2019 15:52:54	Inbound	Hello Gypsy seen your story on the Dr. Phil show and the story of you finally seeing your dad and stepmom and was very touched by it. hope you get through this journey with a positive mindset. From seeing your dad and stepmom they are very supportive of you and they are also hurt by your moms decision by keeping you from your dad and making you sick when you was such a very healthy and happy child we are the same age. actively have a child that is sick, my son was bom prematurely with cerebral palsy and he's only two years old. I'm writing you just to tell you that the system have failed you all of your life as well as your mother. From the looks of things your mom kept you from your dad because she was still in love with your dad but your dad was happily married to another woman. Your mom thought by keeping you from him it would make him want to run back to her that's how it looks on tv. But anyway stay positive keep your head held high and pray everyday and everynight. Your grandparents wanted you to be with your dad as well as other family members but anyway you have 5 more years to go so you'll be able to build a wonderful relationship with your dad and stepmom because they seem to really care about you more than anything in the world as parents should. Make your family proud while your incarcerated obtain a high school diploma or ged try to get some type of college degree or degrees so you can use them when you get into the real world. Hope all is well take care of yourself	page 325

04/05/2019 06:03:00	Outbound	helloo Gypsy! this might be weird but i just want you to know you are always on my mind. if you ever need a friend i will always be here for you. sort of just like this, he watched the documentary Mommy Dead and Dearest in May of 2017, and decided to me send me a letter of support, wrote back and we became friends then he became my BEST friend we just built a natural connection and in September of 2017 he came to visit me from Seattle, and in the first 30 minutes he just got overwhelmed by his feelings and kissed me out of the blue, and that kiss got us both in trouble with the visitation staff as inmates are allowed a brief hug and kiss however our kiss was a long make out style lol so the visit was terminated due to not following the rules and he was suspended from visiting me for 6 months! needless to say we kept in consent contact and made it official we have been together ever since. and now he knows when he comes to visit me, just a peck not a full on porno lol and October of last year he proposed in the visiting room :-) and i said yes :-) we have made the recent decision that its best for our relationship if he moves to Kansas city to be closer to me, that will be a huge leap forward for us as well. He does treat me amazing, he is my rock and the biggest blessing giving me strength, understanding, support and love he really is my soulmate and i'm so happy we found each other even in my circumstance. Oh and he is very handsome he is 26, 6'1 180lbs dark hair and green eyes. all the women in here who see our picture together is like omg he is so cute! I'm like back off hes mine LOL :-P :-D My future plans someday are traveling, want to see the northern lights someday. want children at least and have thought of Aurora Rose for a girl middle name is Railey, so Railey for boy. want to be an advocate for children that have been abused particularly from parents with Munchausen. My family all live in Louisiana, but will probably stay in Kansas city for the time that i'm on parole then move to maybe Austin, Texas family lives. 04/05/2019 17:19:54	Inbound	GypsyRose, lam so happy to hear back from you. It really makes me happy to know that you're doing ok in there, school, job, friends. I just saw you on Dr. Phil and you looked beautiful. I'm excited to hear that a parole hearing is 2021! There are so many people across the globe that are rooting for your release. There are many Facebook groups popping up, all claiming to be in touch with you. Do you know of any group that is legit or not legit? As said in my previous email, have 2 daughters, 17 (18 next week) and 20, and we all agree you should be released. know the Hulu series is a rough topic because they used your name and story without consulting you, but they are showing you in an extremely sympathetic light; you are definitely the victim in their storyline, and it's bringing a lot of attention to your case. (Side note, hope Hulu steps up and does the right thing) hope this wave of attention rises enough voices in your defense to get you out in 2021. haven't seen one post from anyone saying that you got what you deserve; just the opposite, you've done enough time. have to run, it's getting to be diner time and still like to cook for my kids. Tonight is homemade Alfredo on angel hair pasta. We are and just love to cook! finally got my kids to stop eating microwave popcorn and start making it on the stove - omg if you've never had it, it's so good!! Ok gonna go cook dinner! Oh, I'm going to screenshot your email to me for the Facebook group to show them your words that you're doing good, hope that is ok with you if not please say so. 04/05/2019 19:42:52	Inbound	OMG! I can't believe you wrote back lol. :) So nice to hear you're doing great! Good to know you're dad and step-mom are there for you, i know there's also a petition that your dad has started about releasing you sooner and many people have signed for it, including me :D! hated math too, i still do cause i never understood haha. i'm currently finishing up my Bachelors Degree, i will be graduating this summer, i can't wait. Nice to know that you are engaged, i treats you well, you seem like a nice person and everyone deserves a second chance. Btw, how did you guys meet? :) Wow, i did not know about Hulu not asking for your consent and all..sorry to hear :(guess i kind of figured you wouldn't watch the show.. it is hard to go through all these emotions again, so i completely understand, but i did watch a few episodes, Joey King who's playing you did a good job portraying your character, i can't really judge and say if it's accurate, you are the only person who can answer that, but i think the show did bring awareness and a lot of supporters. Also, i saw interview and she said she would love to engage with you but i guess 'legally' she can't. Hey, also saw Your interview with Dr. Phill, how was that? Were you nervous? bet you're getting a lot of letters from many others that are giving you love and support, i hope to hear back from you! Ps. Missouri sounds beautiful, i would love to visit someday and get away from snow lol Regards, ello, :) thank you for reaching out with support. :) lam doing good :) have adapted well. prison is not so bad, for me its more freedom then ever knew before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED, passed every subject except math though I'm striving to achieve that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. :) do have a wonderful support system, My father and continue to build a bond. He and my are coming up to visit next month, they will also be meeting my fiancé. am engaged to a wonderful man, his name we have been together for about 2 years and he has been nothing but my biggest blessing. :) lam aware that there is a Hulu series, The Act, however am unable to watch it so have little to say about the show, only that the production team and creators of the show has used my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial profit from it. other then that, i have heard its like 95% accurate to the true events of my life. as for me, spend my time either on my tablet listening to music, I'm a big country fan, or in the library. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental well being. :) I try and stay positive in my day to day life, just look forward to starting a wonderful new life when am free. would love to travel, seeing the northern lights is on my top 10 list. do want to have children someday, and have already thought of names, Aurora Rose for a girl and Railey for a boy want to do a line of work that either works with animals or kids love both, or working as a hair stylist. :) for now just can't wait for summer. think I'm going to try a sport this year,..eshh wish me luck, I'm so clumsy lol anyways have a great day and thanks again for the encouragement. :) P.S lam also asking all my friends and supporters to send letters to Missouri State Government officials in order to help with my early release. Hello Friends and Supporters, I appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence. Many of ya'll have signed The Free Gypsy Blanchard Petition created by my Now, must ask a favor, am respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for my freedom and write a letter expressing support for my early release to either the Missouri State Governor Michael L. Parson AND/OR The Division of the Missouri State Board of Probation and Parole. lam scheduled for a parole hearing in December of 2021, however any and all letters of support are helpful. please remember to add my first and last name and in the letter. Thank You :) GypsyRose Blanchard	page 467

04/05/2019 06:03:04	Outbound	I am so sorry to hear about that. Losing love can be the hardest thing in the world. I've been in plenty of relationships that didn't work out and was devastated at the time but looking back am so glad am not with that person anymore. I've had too many bad relationships. When the right person comes along though, you will know that it's different. They will support and love you through everything and make you feel like no matter what you do you are still amazing and beautiful to them. It's easy to get caught up in relationships but don't settle for just anyone. You are amazing and beautiful and you need someone who can truly care and support you and the great things you can do. You will get through this. If you need to talk, am here. am well experienced with break ups haha! How are your studies going? Are you still doing photography? As I've said before, am a social worker. love helping other people. It's a great field to be in. think it's something you could be great at. Helping people through the hard parts of life. If anyone understands that part, it's you. If you need help with anything, let me know. lam doing well. was feeling depressed for a few days but I think it's going away. sometimes get depression for no reason. It can be very difficult at times. Are people nice to you there? Do you have any friends? I've never been great at making friends. I'm pretty awkward socially and it's hard. I'd love to have a best friend that could do everything with but haven't had that since high school. Being an adult can be lame! Hope to hear from you soon! Let me know if you would like me to send you letters in the mail, instead of on here. Or if this is better. Keep your hope alive. Keep studying and making yourself the best you can be and bet your parole hearing will be positive! Xoxo, It's been so long since I've heard from you. Almost a year! How are you doing? How are things now? hope the craziness from that show is wearing off for you, know you were overwhelmed by that. How is your fiancé? Please let me know if can help you with anything! live pretty close to you. Although wasn't held capitative the way you were, was held captive by a man for 11 years. From age 12 to 23. We are both survivors. falsified a court document to try to escape the man and ended up in jail. Jail was better but it still wasn't fair that was being punished trying to escape a life of torture. understand what you went through. hope your doing well Gypsy. hear reports that thriving and that making me happy. also heard your going to get your GED. I live in Arizona. The weather is real beautiful right now. really would like to be your friend. It's nice to have someone as your friend who knows what you been through that you can talk to. Please let me know. hope to hear back from you.	page 492

04/05/2019 01:25:30	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, Happy Easter, This is my 3rd email. You responded to my first one. I'm sure you get a lot of emails with people supporting you and it's hard to email everyone back. So thought would try and send you another one and see if get a response. What did you eat for Easter? don't know how it works in Prison but I'm sure you got some kind of Easter meal. would think anyway. The Easter bunny didn't stop by my house, must have been bad lol or maybe I'm just to old. But hey I'm still a kid at heart lol saw on the news someone shared you were engaged. was a little upset for you because that should have been up to you to tell the media if you wanted them to know or not. know you emailed it. But still it's your wonderful news to share with the world, not someone else's. Just someone hungry to get paid for a story. Oh well, pray for those people. I am so proud of you how much you have accomplished that you told me about in your email. And how much your working on. You have goals set what you want to do when you get out and that's great. And those are great jobs you want to work towards. went to cosmology school but it wasn't for me. But you will be great at it if that's what you choose. And you have your photography if you choose that. Your going to go far. Your so driven to do thing and want to do them. Your going to do great things. hope to hear from you soon, My name i I don't have any friends because have 2 kids and was working 4 jobs. see a post on Facebook about the act wanted to ask u some auestions about evervthina.	page 492

Stay strong please girl because sooner or later you'll be out of there and you'll be completely free. you're awesome and you inspire me everyday. really hope you have the chance to write back because I'd love to hear fram you!	page 493
04/05/2019 12:54:33	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, Really hope you are doing well. I am so sorry for what you went through. My Name i 34 years old, and I'm from Rhode Island. usually don't care too much about what's going on in the world, but sometimes a story catches my attention. Your story caught my attention, and it breaks my heart. I'm a very honest and blunt person, so sorry if come off strong, but I just want to give my opinion on a few things, in hope it will shed some light, and help you. honestly think you should not be in jail at all, and that you were a prisoner your whole life, so you paid for your "crime". If it were a stranger who did this to you, and it turned out the way it did, they would call it self defense, but because it was your "mother" and it was premeditated, it was a crime. You had to premeditate it, she was always one step ahead, and great at what she did. There was no other way. You were also on so many meds, you didn't know what was reality, or your age for that matter, which they should have plead insanity. At least you could have gotten the help you needed. The attorney should have fought harder, he also should have taken it to court. A jury would have sympathized with your story, and justified your actions. The whole world did. Also, don't take this the wrong way, but get an attorney to handle your story, and not your father and step mother. They seem like they are doing it for the money, and lime light. Your father could have fought for you, and he didn't. Parents fight about seeing their child everyday, if he took your mother to court, he could have got custody, or visitation rights. Regardless when you moved around, he always had the address to send a check. feel as though he believed your mothers lies, and just took an easy way out. He made a new family, and kind of out of sight out of minded you. Now they are the ones who are benefiting from your tragedy, when it should be you, and only you. You need to copy write your story, and keep it for yourself till you get out. Your step mother is upset with hulu for not paying, but logically she should have had a contract for the story, unless they are going off of the court transcript, which is public record. Now she is trying to sue for using her name. She is money hungry, please while you are in there, take the time to look into as much law research as you can, and look out for yourself. People will crawl out of the cracks of the wood work, to try to get a piece of money and fame. You are a sweetheart from what I see, and would hate to see you get screwed over again. Look into an attorney for the rights of your life story...it is YOUR life story, not anyone else to tell. You can't benefit from it right now, because you are in jail, but when you get out, it will be your life story that will help give you that fairy tale ending you always wanted. I'm not saying your father and step mother are bad people, but at the end of the day, you have to look out for yourself. I'm sorry if this letter upsets you, just don't want to see you get screwed over. You deserve nothing but the best, and a happy, an full filled life. If anything, just think about it please. Sometimes it's nice to get an outsiders point of view. So heard you are into photography? There is a page on facebook that called free Gypsy Rose, someone posted the email you sent them. take photos myself. Mostly of nature, and the moon. always had this weird obsession with the moon lol. don't think you can use google, but if you can, you can google my name, and see some of them. Bri Antonelli. Lol. know you are probably over your head with mail, and e-mails, that was the only reason why I wasn't going to write to you, but I just can't stand seeing your father and step mother acting like it's all about them. He is always smiling and smerking, even when he is speaking about something horrible in regards to your life. Just be careful, and don't trust so easily. Also, congrats on being engaged, that's awesome! am so happy for you! You deserve all the love you can get :) so besides photography, what else do you like to do? know you are probably limited on activities, but anything exciting? Reading, writing, like a journal? When you get out, you should look into selling your story as a book, and then take a vacation, out of the country somewhere, or a cruise. wish you could look into an appeal, but usually when plead guilty, you don't have many options after. Sooner than you know it the world will be yours and you can pursue any life you desire to. Stay strong and thank you for sharing your story with us all. Bless you. thank you for reaching out with support. :-} I am doing good :-} have adapted well. prison is not so bad, for me its more freedom then ever knew before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED, passed every subject except math though I'm striving to achieve that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. :-} do have a wonderful support system, My father and continue to build a bond. He and my are coming up to visit next month, they will also be meeting my fiancé. I am engaged to a wonderful man, his name we have been together for about 2 years and he has been nothing but my biggest blessing. :-} I am aware that there is a Hulu series, The Act, however am unable to watch it so have little to say about the show, only that the production team and creators of the show has used my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial profit from it. other then that, i have heard its semi accurate to the true events of my life. as for me, spend my time either on my tablet listening to music, I'm a big country fan, or in the library. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental well being. :-} I try and stay positive in my day to day life, just look forward to starting a wonderful new life when am free. would love to travel, seeing the northern lights is on my top 10 list. do want to have children someday and want to do a line of work that either works with animals or kids love both, or working as a hair stylist. :-} for now just can't wait for summer. think I'm going to try a sport this year,..eshh wish me luck, I'm so clumsy lol anyways have a great day and thanks again for the encouragement. :-} P.S I am also asking all my friends and supporters to send letters to Missouri State Government officials in order to help with my early release. 04/06/2019 18:45:06	Inbound	Hello, GypsyRose! It's wonderful to hear from you. I'm also very glad to hear that you are doing so well on the inside and enjoying your newfound "freedom." (That's some irony, isn't it?) Also, congrats on the GED work! That will help you a lot when you are released. You can go to college. Or you can write a book about your experiences that will help others. It's also nice to know that you have made some friends there. Having good friends makes all the difference! I'm really sorry to hear that you are not making a financial profit from the Hulu series! It is, after all, your story about your life! That being said, am relieved to hear that at least it is accurate and, it does portray you in a very sympathetic light. think the actress who plays you does a really amazing job of capturing that natural sparkle that you have! think you are a very strong person to have come through everything that you have endured. was hoping to attach some pictures, but it wouldn't let me. We have two small Shih Tzus, Rufus and Ray-Ray (short for Rayfield-Rayfield). They're brothers. Rufus (a/k/a Mr. Sweaters) hates thunderstorms, but they don't bother Ray-Ray in the least. Except for one time, Ray-Ray woke up in the middle of the night, and could not get him to stay calm. would hold him in my arms, and he would jump out, which was very unusual because he's the most cuddly dog you've ever seen! Well, the next day we found out that there was a tornado, and it had taken the roof off of a neighbor's barn about two miles up the road. started calling him Ray-Radar after that. Now if there's a storm, I'm not going to worry about it unless Ray-Ray gets upset again. have them both curled up on either side of me right now. Well, enjoy the rest of your weekend! Thanks so much again for writing to me! XO	page 003

04/06/2019 22:25:07	Inbound	Hey, hon. I live in Missouri too. live in Park Hills. I'm 39 and have a 7-year-old daughter. know I'm a complete stranger, but I've studied your history, and have an overwhelming sense of compassion for you, which drives this letter. know you love your mother, honey. believe she loved you too, but not in the right way. As a mother, we protect our children from any type of harm. She didn't see what she was doing to you as being abusive, but it was. She was sick, and her abuse drove you to temporary insanity. know what you've been a part of is inexcusable (mother's death), but can see psychologically how it happened. believe she had done all those terrible things to you for the money. It was easier for her to scam others by using you as the vessel for sympathy, rather than working to take care of you both. You didn't deserve to grow up like that at all. It's not right on both your side and mother's, but I wish it didn't result in death or incarceration. My mother was sick too. She was addicted to alcohol at the end of her life and in my teens. She used to beat me when she would drink. Both of us suffered from abuse, and guess that's why can understand your situation a little better than others. Unfortunately, my mother passed away in 1996 from a massive heart attack. Even though she abused me, still love her. knew and still know she was sick. Except, only experienced it off and on for 6-7 years and not my entire life, as you did. Prison must be very hard. have a brother in prison for using drugs, but he's in treatment and pray to God he realizes he's meant for greater things. hope you find yourself in there too. Are you religious? Do you have any nice friends there? Is your family helping you with commissary? know I'm asking a lot of questions. It's because truly care. I've read that you plan on having a family when you get out. That's great, but please give yourself some time for soul searching and discovering who you are. Life is about love, but it's also about loving yourself. If I was your mother, I'd watch you soar and be proud of you. wish knew you before that day it all happened. would've held your hand, brought you to the police department to explain it all, and been there for you. need to close this letter before write a novel, (longer letter than write my own brother) LOL. If you EVER need someone to talk to, I'm right here. I'd love to be a pen pal or even a friend. know the world can be cruel, but we all deserve a second chance. hope to hear back from you! Much love!!	page 013

Hopefully that's not too weird sending a letter out of the blue without prior contact. My name i and currently live and work in Temple in Texas. work for a title company and two delivery services. How are you? How is life in there? see you might get out in 2024 which is pretty awesome. Are you excited? Have any plans? Are you able to send and receive pictures through snail mail? If so send one. Can you talk on the phone or email? My hobbies include travelling, reading, antiquing, cooking, learning photography/ASL, kayaking, escape rooms, puzzles, collecting vintage cameras, movie cameras, film, projectors and two cars. Have any cool hobbies? Well I'm at work so better go. Hopefully seem like an ok person and you reply back but if not that's ok. :) Oh also i am sending a pre-paid thing so you don't have to pay for it to reply. have no idea what your financial situation is. If you can send me a long and detailed message that would be awesome and i do apologize if my letter is rather short. If you reply i can make them bigger in the future. have no idea if they give you a return address but here it is if they don't. 04/06/2019 05:16:49	Inbound	Hello:) First off, just wanted to say that I pray you are doing well!! can't believe I've never heard of your case before the premiere of the new Hulu series. live in Georgia and I'm not much into news unless it's local, but I'll have you know that your story has touched my heart and since I've been doing all the research that possibly could do to learn more! probably won't get a reply from you, but figured it wouldn't hurt for me to reach out and let you know that you have a substantial amount of people standing behind you! I found your inmate info on the Facebook support page that your stepmom has setup for you, so logged into my jpay account and noticed had stamps left over from when used to email my sister-in-law over 2 years ago! couldn't help but notice that we are the same age. was fortunate enough to have a pretty great childhood and to think that all that precious, innocent time was stolen from you just tears my heart to shreds! hope you look at your glass as half full though. When your release date approaches, hope you get the chance to live your life to the fullest and never settle for anything but the best! look forward to hopefully hearing back from you (fingers crossed). Remember to hold your head high and only look straight ahead towards your future! —Mandy	page 114

04/06/2019 19:50:39	Outbound	Dad, while Mom andj are busy plugging their "series" (rolls eyes) Iam rallying the army of supporters to hit the Governors Office with hundreds possibly thousands of letters supporting my early release. unlike others, my main concern is not producing another show, nor do I care about the accuracy of said show. My focus is my Freedom. this is what have sent to everyone in my contact list that continues to grow by the 100s every week. might as well make use of the momentum and use the publicity The Act has given and rally together to show that am not just another criminal in prison, have massive support and now is a great time to use it. I'm 21 years old. got the impulse to write to you because know prison can be lonely and if were there, I'd want someone to write me. guess just want to learn more about you, not about recent events. But more about you as a person! What is your favorite color? Favorite animal? What is your hogwarts house? What is your favorite quote? hope you are doing okay and just want you to know that you are not alone (: my name oddly enough have been addicted to the show based on your case on Hulu and I've been reading up everywhere on it and came upon the information to write you from one of the Facebook groups. Besides all that though.. figured would go out on a limb and see if you wanted a friend to just talk or write to, to just pass some time. I'll give you some info about myself to break the ice haha. My name i I'm 21 years old, and I'm from the US. sadly enough am just a supervisor at a small town McDonalds hahaha :P even though I'm 21, I'm super short so get picked on a lot for it. a really boring person, but can at least hold a conversation without being too boring to talk to. love music, I'm a closet country fan but I've never told any of my friends that. But mainly I'm into punk rock/pop. Like said before, I'm a boring and simple guy. Haha! 04/06/2019 17:14:10	Outbound	Hey Gypsy, First want to say you are so strong and such an inspiration to others that go through troubled waters in life. We never know why life deals us a bad hand but all we can do is make the best of it and grow and learn from it. I just heard about what happened to you last week. Was touched by your story and I just thought it would be nice to have a friend and pen pal to talk to. I've never done anything like this before but I felt God pushing me to reach out to you. It crazy cause don't live far from where you were, live in Kansas. I'm sure you get lots of letters so hope you enjoy my letter. hope that your doing well and I'm sure your much happier being able to make your own choices and not be a prisoner of pain anymore. Your soul is now free and you will be soon, which will be a wonderful day for you to begin a new life that you choose to live doing whatever you want. Are you wanting to go to school? I'm in college working on my bachelors degree in history at Wichita state university. want to be a college professor or work in a museum studying world war 2. I'm kind of a nerd haha @ © So what do you do everyday? Do you have a job they give you or anything? seen they made a show out to you. On Hulu about your story but seen where you said you want to tell your own story and agree you should get to. It's no one else's place to do so. think it's wrong they didn't talk to you first. © So if you get to watch tv, what is your favorite show? love Greys Anatomy, American Idol, and cooking shows. love music its my way of escaping when I'm sad or just want to express my feelings and I love to sing. & know you probably get tired of talking about everything that happened so won't talk about that unless you want to. What are some plans you want to do when you get out? want to travel the world so bad someday. would love to go to Europe it's my dream. All that you went through and your mother put you through is heartbreaking truly have cried alot of tears watching. wanted to say you have alot of prayers coming from me and support as don't believe you should be where you are as you were basically there your whole life. Its so evident in watching how much control she had over you. You look so healthy now and even your voice has matured from your first court appearance and then really hope your doing well and hope that you are able to accomplish everything you have ever dreamed of when you get out of there. hope you know you have alot of support out here and alot of people are rooting for you! hope that you are able to get therapy to work on yourself imagine you would benefit to talk about it all. understand if you cant respond but did leave a prepaid reply for you so, how are you doing? Were any of the ailments your mother claimed you had real? Are you able to enjoy foods now? Whats your favorite food? Any plans for when you get out? Are you still into disney? heard you taught yourself to read with Harry Potter books is that am a huge harry potter fan! Well dont want to keep you, good luck! Keep your head up girl!	page 502

04/06/2019 11:34:57	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! My name 20 years old and live in Florida. I've never written to an inmate before, or ever had any contact with one up until today, so apologize if my email comes off slightly strange. ! But your case, Gypsy, is very different than anything I'd ever seen. It breaks my heart to know that you are in there. Hopefully you have found some peace within yourself, and once you're out are able to work on your relationships with people. In the meantime, wanted to try and initiate a friendship with you. In no way can compare your life to mine, as we had MAJORLY different upbringings, but the sense of loneliness you must have felt through that time is something am better able to relate to. I'd love to talk with you. Not necessarily about the case, just you. I'd love to know how holding up and if you have any plans for when you are to be released. I'm still figuring out this system that I've emailed you on, and once find out how to send you money I will do that. Please reach out to me in the meantime if you feel like chatting. :) With love,	page 503
04/06/2019 13:41:03	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, Thank you for reading my letter. want you to know that fully support you. You are a good person and have a beautiful personality and heart. Even though you have no idea who am had to write to you. Not to bring up the horrible things but to talk about happy things you get to experience when you are out. I am a huge Disney fan just like you. My husband and actually got married there. It was magical. Cinderella was our wedding theme. Just like you believe in fairytales and they really truly can come true no matter what others say. I'm sure it had been a very long time since you have been to Disneyland or Disneyworld. had the privilege to grow up in Southern California it is a big part of our lives even today. hear Rapunzel is your favorite. love her story too. What was your favorite ride? I've actually never been to Disneyworld we are also giant Star Wars fans. May 31st the new land opens at Disneyland and world. It's almost impossible to be able to go until it has been open for awhile. Do you like the west coast? There are a lot of opportunities over here. My family and actually live in Arizona now. Not the most glamorous state but the weather is awesome most of the time, and we are only 4 hours to California so it works. Have you ever been to the Ocean? This letter is a bit random should back up a little. I am a mom and wife. have a lot of siblings but only really communicate with one. And I'm okay with that. have experienced many heart aches and loss. But I have a lot to be grateful for as well. a Christian. believe God has a plan for all of us. Including you. Gypsy would love to write to you again if you want to communicate with me as well will send you a stamp. Just learning about how to write to you was a lesson on its own. We can write about happy things. press anything from you. Regardless if hear from you or not. Please keep believing in yourself. You are worth it. You have so much to look forward to. hope to hear from you! Remember as Walt Disney would say "All our dreams can come true, if we have the courage to pursue them." Take care,	page 503

04/07/2019 14:26:40	Inbound	Hello Gypsy, My name is . you get this letter. have just watched some of the Videos of your Trial. had already watched some of the News Clip Videos, and a little bit of the Dr. Phil Interview. To say my heart breaks for you is an understatement. As a mother, can not imagine the way your mother Raised you. It is clear to me that had you been raised in a 'normal' way, you would not be where you are now...you have such a sweetness about you. can't even imagine how you are making it there with such harsh and hateful people around you am so sorry you did not get a chance at a regular life. But one thing for sure, you are a very STRONG and beautiful person!! believe you can make what is left of your future a life of GOOD, and of helping others! have not learned anything about your mother 'claiming' to be a 'Christian'. DEEPLY Regret that you met the man that satan USED to further damage you on a 'Christian' Dating Site (one of satan's favorite places to do his evil work). also have learned nothing of you being a Christian or not. I saw a little Footage of Interviews with your Father and Stepmother. was so glad to learn how supportive they were. hope that continues to this day. I am a very committed Christian. am 61 years old. am Full-time Care Provider for my Mother...she has Alzheimer's Disease. We are currently staying with some friends while looking for our own place. Once have a Return Address to give you will write you again in hopes of hearing back from you. From what I know of our Prison System you are not likely getting Counseling. want to encourage you to BELIEVE by Faith in your Creator God. BELIEVE by Faith that He sent Himself in the form of a Human as His Son. BELIEVE by Faith that His Son became The Savior of all who will BELIEVE when He Died and Resurrected Himself Ask Jesus to reveal Himself to you...He WILL <3 God's enemy was what caused all that you went through..starting with your mother. Do not blame God OR yourself the enemy of your Soul will not allow you to walk with The Lord without a But your Creator IS VICTORIOUS over him, and you will learn how to Live VICTORIOUSLY OVER your enemy! If you don't have one, ask the Prison for a believe they are required to provide one for you. First Read the Book of to learn about Jesus. Most all of the New Testament tells us how God wants us to be as Christian people. Don't expect to it all. In time He will teach you what YOU need to know as you grow as a Child of His. In 2nd Corinthians 10:3-5 it says "For though we walk in the flesh (we are human) we do not war against the flesh (humanity). For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal (fleshly) but mighty through God (those In Christ are given power of spirit realm) to the pulling down of strongholds (spiritual things that work against us). 04/07/2019 12:32:50	Outbound	Hey lover, Honestly its getting harder and harder to keep quiet while your 'loved ones' continue to do things behind your back and against your consent. see how it affects you and your mood and progress, and that's why its become personal to me. What hurts you, hurts me. want nothing more than to put them all on full blast and express that what they're doing is wrong and we have both asked them to stop yet they refuse. hear your point, that this wont affect us in a few years anymore anyway, but can't just sit idly by while they continue to put the most important person to me 2nd and the hunt for attention 1st. Im holding my tongue for now because I'm meeting the parents here in a few weeks, but cannot promise you can hold back once all of that is over. Ive and had conversations already, which have gotten nowhere. Perhaps a big statement In the group will get their attention. For now just know I love you Miss you Think about you all the time And cannot wait to come hold your hands here in a few weeks. I just had to get that out. My thoughts just can't seem to change on this subject, but love you too much to just let this go Anyway, looking forward to date night, Love always, A, One and Only, Sweetheart know that you have been stressed about involvement in the constant media circus as well as perpling this "series" into existence. that is why want to take the time to write this to you. Darling understand how deeply emotionally effected you become by hearing someone is doing something against my wishes, however let me ask you this,..how does this have any effect on my home life with you? fast forward, when am snuggled up on the couch in your arms, does what people (random strangers) opinion of me take away OUR happiness? does the Facebook comments from these groups whether it be a hate or support group stop us from traveling the world, having little baby Urker's, does their comments make you love me any less? if you can with all your heart answer Yes to any of the above, then with a broken heart I will let you go, and go our separate ways without any resentment towards you. BUT if you answered No to these questions, then maybe you understand. My love though in no way approve of the interviews, TV shows, my face on a Pepsi bottle, OK OK OK just kidding about that last one :-P I'm not pleased about all that as you are very aware, however when come home none of that will matter baby. December 2021, you are my +1 to attend my parole hearing and whatever date they give me to be released, you are picking me up, I'm gonna spend like 20 minutes making out with you right outside the prison parking lot, then we are gonna go to a hotel because I'm not waiting an hour and a half for us to drive back home to finally make love with my handsome sexy hubby. -) after that the world is ours and we have nothing but clear skies ahead as Mr and -) Whil and I are busy plugging their "series" I am rallying the army of supporters to hit the Governors Office with hundreds of letters supporting my early release. unlike others, my main concern is not producing another show, nor do care about the accuracy of said show. My focus is my Freedom. might as well make use of the momentum and use the publicity The Act has given and rally together to show that am not just another criminal in prison, have massive support and now is a great time to use it. Love You Soulie. xoxoxo P.S remember am always with you, its not just YOU going through the emotions, its not just ME going through the emotions, its US, we stand together as a team. :-) as my husband you have every right to speak out with how you feel and how the situation really is regarding but can we wait until after meeting my father in just 4 weeks babe? after that, you are more then welcome to tell everyone the truth, however be aware that most likely you will be removed from the group. don't mind though, you know that want you to get out of these "social media gossip pages" anyway. Again love you with all my heart and soul. Goodnight Honey xoxo	page 156

And it went from there. I'm just so curious about you and feel have so many questions but dont know to ask or where to start. I think in an ironic way your an inspiration. mean it seems like you went through hell and back once you learned you more able then your mom thought. went through so times growing up where my mom wasn't the best of moms and I wished she was different or wondered why she was like that. still loved her. so can only imagine what it was like for you. am glad you have high spirits and I do look up to you because even given your situation, in all your interviews I've watched you seem so hopeful. hope can get to know more about you, well through you. instead of you tube videos and news.	page 359

04/07/2019 17:04:19	Inbound	Hi Gypsy Rose! Of course I'll write to anyone that will listen, believe in you, and you deserve to be free. To me not a criminal at all. To me a survivor. Anyways my week has been good. My brother was in town, and we went out for a round of golf with him and my dad. didnt get to see much of him as had to work all week. Also speaking of work, got a promotion, and a bigger desk in my office!! So can't complain. Things are good. glad you get along with your roommates. That Awesome you have a TV! Tonight I'll be watching some TV myself It's Wrestlemania!! (Yes sometimes can be a huge nerd lol). Tell me about the photography you're into. Is it like objects in an artsy kind of way, or of people in there with? Don't scoff at that extra dollar when you graduate!! That will equal an extra taco every month from Taco Bell when you're out!! Who can be mad about that!? The sour cream however will be extra. Words can't quite explain why decided to write to you, or why your story got to me the way it did. I've never written to anyone who's in prison whether they belonged there or not. Like said, believe in you. As far as your financial situation very much doubt there will ever be a day in your life where you have to go hungry. You have so much support, Gypsy. Your Facebook group is almost at 9,000 people!! They all want to see you live a great life!! still haven't watched anymore of The Act. I've seen your step mom in a few stories stating that they shut you and your family out of the program. That isn't right at all. hope you have a good day. You have so much love out here waiting for you! It sounds like you're making very good use of your time in there. Also if you have any questions about math please ask anyone but me	page 359

04/07/2019 19:06:07	Inbound	I forgot to send a stamp with my original email so I'm sending one with this, ecstatic for you!! You seem to be getting your life in complete order so when you are released you'll be able to go about your life, and oh my gosh engaged! so wonderful too am married I've been with my husband for 9 years and we have 15 month old boy/girl twins also have a 14 year old daughter from a previous marriage and she's into Cosplay as well. How long have you been for? Did you know him prior or was he a pen pal turned into romance? Sorry for all the questions, know you liked dressing up and cosplay do you plan to get back into that once you're released cause you know it's so huge nowadays. do apologize for taking so long to respond I've been swamped with babies and home life and it's so draining at times. When read that you feel more free while in prison that broke my heart hope one day you can know what free is by living your life under your terms and hope you have children one day so you can show them what love is. What will be your plans once released do you get to go on your own or will you be in a transitional home for short period? I'm glad you get to stay busy while in there to pass time by and it seems you're doing so much better, am happy established a relationship with your father because after seeing the documentary years ago could see the pain and confusion in his face as to why all of this even occurred even your step mother loves you it truly shows. Are you in contact with your grandfather (on your mother's side)? hope you have a wonderful evening and once again sorry for the delayed response.	page 453

04/07/2019 09:58:27	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! It's so nice to get your reply :) I'm so happy for you, I'm glad that you're getting your GED and know you'll kick Maths butt :) That's good that you're getting to build that bond with your dad. I'm sure it's been a challenge with everything that's happened. And What a lucky guy, how did you two meet, what does he do? Of course only answer if you don't mind me asking. I've always been sort of a nosey person so don't mean to get too personal. would like to let you know that your story has really gotten my attention (as I'm sure many others have told you). There's so many terrible things that happen on a daily basis that we find out after the fact, but not one has ever caused me to reach out. But saw your interviews and read the reports and it breaks my heart. You have such a beautiful soul and can just tell from the way you speak during the trials. And for Hulu, know that must really stink. hope there's some sort of way to rectify that due to them really using everything about you. did enjoy the show immensely, as you stated, it seems to be accurate to what had happened. I'm sure you get a lot of questions about yourself and was just wondering how many emails do you get a day? appreciate you taking the time to reply back to me when I'm sure you have your hands full! Well, Gypsy, I'm in a plane right now on my way back home to Florida from DC. was super excited to see your reply and hope to hear from you again.) P.s. can you only have a certain amount in your account? would of loved to send you some money to help with whatever nandad	page 470

Spring weather is here in Kentucky. hope you are having nice weather where you are at and that you get to go outside and experience it! know that every institution is a bit different in terms of rules and what kinds of windows they have and how much sunlight gets in. take my two Shih Tzus out for walks... they are brothers, both 11 years old, Rufus and Ray-Ray (short for Rayfield-Rayfield). put down food for both of them and feed them both the same amount of treats and love them both equally but for some reason, Rufus is average weight and Ray-Ray is 18 pounds! still try to make him get exercise. definitely need more exercise! My son is 16 and he's a really good kid, but teenagers can be stressful. He argues a lot. Actually, think he would make a good lawyer. It's normal for kids to argue. There's been a few other issues, but it is to be expected know. He's getting more independent. If feel stressed, tend to go for Krispy Kreme donuts which is not good. need to do yoga instead.... anyway, have a You don't know me, but thought would write to let you know that am one of many who stand behind you. think it's a travesty that you are being punished for being tormented and abused throughout your adolescence. The strongest of people would have snapped under circumstances less horrific than what you endured. Please stay strong and know that people on the outside are trying to get you freed. When you do get out make your life amazing. Use your story to make others aware. Movies and documentaries are being made, but it's not the same as hearing it from you.	page 005

04/08/2019 00:55:01	Inbound	Hey lover, Honestly its getting harder and harder to keep quiet while your 'loved ones' continue to do things behind your back and against your consent. see how it affects you and your mood and progress, and that's why its become personal to me. What hurts you, hurts me. want nothing more than to put them all on full blast and express that what they're doing is wrong and we have both asked them to stop yet they refuse. hear your point, that this wont affect us in a few years anymore anyway, but can't just sit idly by while they continue to put the most important person to me 2nd and the hunt for attention 1st. Im holding my tongue for now because I'm meeting the parents here in a few weeks, but cannot promise you can hold back once all of that is over. Ive and had conversations already, which have gotten nowhere. Perhaps a big statement In the group will get their attention. For now just know I love you Miss you Think about you all the time And cannot wait to come hold your hands here in a few weeks. I just had to get that out. My thoughts just can't seem to change on this subject, but love you too much to just let this go Anyway, looking forward to date night, Love always, A, One and Only, Sweetheart know that you have been stressed about involvement in the constant media circus as well as perpling this "series" into existence. that is why want to take the time to write this to you. Darling understand how deeply emotionally effected you become by hearing someone is doing something against my wishes, however let me ask you this,..how does this have any effect on my home life with you? fast forward, when am snuggled up on the couch in your arms, does what people (random strangers) opinion of me take away OUR happiness? does the Facebook comments from these groups whether it be a hate or support group stop us from traveling the world, having little baby Urker's, does their comments make you love me any less? if you can with all your heart answer Yes to any of the above, then with a broken heart I will let you go, and go our separate ways without any resentment towards you. BUT if you answered No to these questions, then maybe you understand. My love though in no way approve of the interviews, TV shows, my face on a Pepsi bottle, OK OK OK just kidding about that last one :-P I'm not pleased about all that as you are very aware, however when come home none of that will matter baby. December 2021, you are my +1 to attend my parole hearing and whatever date they give me to be released, you are picking me up, I'm gonna spend like 20 minutes making out with you right outside the prison parking lot, then we are gonna go to a hotel because I'm not waiting an hour and a half for us to drive back home to finally make love with my handsome sexy hubby. -) after that the world is ours and we have nothing but clear skies ahead as Mr and -) Whil and I are busy plugging their "series" I am rallying the army of supporters to hit the Governors Office with hundreds of letters supporting my early release. unlike others, my main concern is not producing another show, nor do care about the accuracy of said show. My focus is my Freedom. might as well make use of the momentum and use the publicity The Act has given and rally together to show that am not just another criminal in prison, have massive support and now is a great time to use it. Love You Soulie. xoxoxo P.S remember am always with you, its not just YOU going through the emotions, its not just ME going through the emotions, its US, we stand together as a team. :-) as my husband you have every right to speak out with how you feel and how the situation really is regarding but can we wait until after meeting my father in just 4 weeks babe? after that, you are more then welcome to tell everyone the truth, however be aware that most likely you will be removed from the group. don't mind though, you know that want you to get out of these "social media gossip pages" anyway. Again love you with all my heart and soul. Goodnight Honey xoxo	page 156

04/08/2019 12:41:55	Outbound	Thank you for Riding back so quickly. Don't you worry gypsy. am having all of my friends sign the petition. We have got yo back. I'm so glad that you are happy and it was great news to hear that you are engaged. You sound truly blessed. It is great to have a friend and am blessed just by reading your letters. You take care yourself kiddo. Talk to you soon, Gypsy. you obviously don't know me Planet got your inmate number from the Facebook page that's been set up for you. When first saw the documentary on HBO and then the other show that was on network television, my heart and my soul really went out to you. know that these are painful memories for you but have watched recent interviews with you on television and you look absolutely happy and radiant now. it is a blessing to see you so happy even though you are in a situation where one would not be happy. speak from experience because was incarcerated in 2005 and was released, finished my parole and am now living my life again. made a very stupid mistake with bootleg software and eBay and was convicted of grand larceny and theft by deception. made this very sorry excuse that was trying to support my family but that's all it was, an excuse. just wanted to send this email and wish you a good day. know it's hard to think about having a good day when you're behind the wall but know from everything I've seen on television and everything that have read, that you are growing and blossoming exponentially. that is so freaking cool and really warms my heart. my name i: and am 54 years old an ex husband, a father and a grandfather. reach out to you in friendship because know what you are going through ignore and something in my heart made me write you so could let you know that would be here for you as a friend who has been in a similar situation. if you desire anything to read, any magazines or if you need money for commissary, please do not hesitate to ask for there is no shame in doing so. am not sure how misery works but in New York oh, the jobs behind the wall do not pay very much unless you are making desks or inmate clothing. also want to give you hope because even though know other people are writing you and giving you the same thing, want to let you know that when you are released, there is an entire life for you to live. was very fortunate. My wife and we're still together, and remain very civil and Friends by the way oh, and had the love and support of my children as well. just want you to know that you are not alone. If you feel like you would like to write back, totally cool. included a return stamp. Like said before, if you need something, please do not hesitate to ask. I live out in the world so would not mind putting some money on your account or getting you some stamps if you need it. you can also let me know what Missouri allows as far as packages are concerned. New York State allowed clothing and food packages as well as books and newspapers / magazine subscriptions. if you let me know, will help you you are. No worries. I'm sorry that this entire letter is a big run on sentence but I'm actually dictating it into my phone with the JPay app. hope you don't find it too annoying. Anyway, would like to say I had of time that it is nice to meet you and that hope you're having a dynamite day so far. you go Mad Respect! thank you for reaching out with support. :-) I am doing good :-) have adapted well. prison is not so bad, for me its more freedom then ever knew before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED, passed every subject except math though I'm striving to achieve that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. :-) do have a wonderful support system, My father and continue to build a bond. Anyway wanted to say that words cannot express the profound grief felt recently when a friend of mine mentioned to watch the documentary on your story. TV shows never put in all the truths of real stuff. had indeed sent a letter recently and may have come off a little brusque or forward in what had put in as far as my background. My heart goes out to you for sure along with many others as I'm sure you know. My hope is that the letter did make it and was well received, if it hasn't let me know please and I'll contact the facility to see what the issue may have been. like many other folks are gunning for ya on and where we can. He and my stepmothe are coming up to visit next month, they will also be meeting my fiancé. I am engaged to a wonderful man, his name we have been together for about 2 years and he has been nothing but my biggest blessing. :-) I am aware that there is a Hulu series, The Act, however am unable to watch it so have little to say about the show, only that the production team and creators of the show has used my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial profit from it. other then that, i have heard its semi accurate to the true events of my life. as for me, spend my time either on my tablet listening to music, I'm a big country fan, or in the library. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental well being. :-) I try and stay positive in my day to day life, just look forward to starting a wonderful new life when am free. would love to travel, seeing the northern lights is on my top 10 list. do want to have children someday and want to do a line of work that either works with animals or kids love both, or working as a hair stylist. :-) for now just can't wait for summer. think I'm going to try a sport this year,..eshh wish me luck, I'm so clumsy lol anyways have a great day and thanks again for the encouragement. :-) P.S I am also asking all my friends and supporters to send letters to Missouri State Government officials in order to help with my early release. 04/09/2019 09:18:46	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, My name and we have never met, but have thought about you over the years, and just wanted to know if you're doing okay, and if you needed anything? would love to be a pen pal if you are bored. I'm not with the media, or writing a book or anything like that. I'm a single mom, have two girls. One teenager and one almost teenager, so they keep me on my toes :) hope you're doing well. sincerely, hope you're doing well today. was just sitting in my car watching my daughter ruin off with her friends into school, and my mind wandered over to you. how have you been? know we don't know each other, but feel like we've got a few things in common. One would be knowing what it's like to have to smile even tho you might be devastated. and the other being that sometimes the word family has a different meaning to different families. At least it did to mine. Here's a little about me. I'm nearly 40, I've got 2 teenagers, and it's just us. So, my social life is past tense lol. If you ever need a pen pal, would love to write back and forth with you. I'm not a reporter. I'm not going to write a book, or share anything with anyone. am sure you get all kinda people who bother you for that. And I'm not interested in doing that at all. hope your day is blessed with peace. love, wow. think U should get paid. U r famous out here. There is all kinds of shows movies Facebook posts etc. u will prolly get paid when U get out. think u should be paid because of your circumstances. It wasn't your fault. feel u didn't know better because u were basically a prisoner. Anyhow everyone knows who u r. That makes u famous not trying to be rude by saying that either. It's good that I've humbling yourself tho. My son is in prison and write him on here all the time and then just thought I'd look u up. How much longer do you have left? So have u seen the act? watched it. Was it much a mave tan?	page 138

04/09/2019 17:25:34	Inbound	be open & honest about who you are and what looking for. 3) Don't use bad photos! In choosing your profile photo, keep in mind that people want to see you and get a sense of who you are. Great photos are invaluable to getting the responses you want from your profile. The clearer the photos, the more visible your features are and the more attractive you are to your viewers. 4) Don't write a novel! Although there's (currently!) no word limitation, your profile should only give people a glimpse of who you are! Give /leave people a reason to want to message & get to know you. Be creative but not wordy. 5) Add details! Although you only want to give people a glimpse of who you are, details are key in making your profile really come alive. For example: Instead of simply saying you like hiking or cooking (or whatever!), tell people your favorite hike or thing(s) to cook. Likewise, instead of saying you like movies, music, poetry. list your favorites, or better yet, give one of your favorite movie quotes or verses. Just be descriptive! 6) Be your wonderful, weird self This can't be stressed enough. The profiles that stand out the most are the ones where someone's personality and what really makes them different shines through. I'm so happy to hear you are doing so well! dont worry, math has always been my worst subject too. really dont approve of the situation going on with The Act. the fact that they're doing that without your consent or rights is just wrong. watched a bit of it and then read up on some interviews done by your stepmother and that made me so mad for you. it's just wrong. I've been trying to stay updated on everything. congratulations on your engagement! I'm so happy for you! all of that can be so exciting. keep pushing hard to accomplish what you want, and you can do it Gypsy! I am so excited for your future and all the possibilities it holds. I'll let you go for now! thank you for your reply	page 467

04/09/2019 01:55:18	Inbound	Hello Gypsy Rose, hope this letter finds you in good spirits. i have been reading about your story for a few months now and wanted to reach out to you, personally. Your story really touched my heart and just wanted to let you know that you have lots of prayers, positive thoughts, and support from the buckeye state (Ohio). also am going to try my very best to write a letter to whoever have to about a possible early relese. If you could send me the information that need will get that letter in progress. i really hope that you are able to keep your head up and make every day the best you can. love pen pals so if you would like to correspond that would be amazing. If you can't, completely understd. Until Next Time, proud and happy of all the achievements you've accomplished, it's nice to know that you're doing way better now, you probably have accomplished more than me haha I did not expect to hear from you but I'm glad you did. As for the show guess you just have to see it for yourself and judge. don't think it was fair for them to make something especially about you, making things more dramatic and not even gaining anything financially from it. Changing of subject, Do you know what you want to do when you get out? It's gonna be a huge change when you head out to the world again can imagine. Im happy you already have a family that's gonna support you once you get out, literally on social media and webpages there is petitions that people are making for you to get out, to make a change, a lot of people really support you if you didn't know (even me lol) Your gonna be out soon faster than you imagine, just be patient Gypsy. How's your week been by the way? Something you should know is don't live really far from where your staying, if you ever would like me to visit you could, could even take you a meal if it's permitted haha. just thought I'd put that out there, anyways I'm happy that you replied	page 471

My birthday i wanted to write to you because think you seem like a really kind and nice girl, and don't have a lot of friends who are genuinely kind and nice. hope you are doing well and finding something fun to make you smile everyday. I'll tell you about me, I live in Washington State. graduated high school in the country part of New York, but I didn't like it there because my dad and step mom treated me poorly and made me watch their children and do their household work for them. left New York after being sexually assaulted in my sleep by a man and that gave me really bad PTSD. have a service animal, a golden retriever named ralphie who love who helps me though! I work as a property manager (I manage apartments and lease them out to people who want to live in them), it's really stressful sometimes. applied for a new job at a video game called Stardew Valley liked, and hope get the job. have a boyfriend but we fight pretty often and it makes me sad. But anyways, used to work for a skincare company called la Mer, and do makeup and facials on girls. You skin looks so beautiful in your photos, wish mine looked like yours! So clear and pretty. also envy your hair! Mine is curly! So not as pretty as yours in the least bit. I'm looking forward to the summer because hate being cold, but really don't like mosquitoes. What is your favorite season? I'll answer anything you want to know about me if you want, so you can know me more. hope to hear back from you girl, and hope all is well in your world. 04/09/2019 16:08:24	Inbound	Hello Gypsy, I just got done watching both Dr. Phil episodes about you, the lifetime movie, the HBO documentary and halfway through The Act on Hulu. Your story is incredible. I'm so sorry that you have been through all you have. You are strong. When you are released you will have so much amazing life to live despite the fact so much of it was stolen from you. hope you seize it. Do every single thing you've always dreamed of doing. Live life to its fullest potential. Experience all there is to experience. Most importantly tell your story, live your truth and keep telling it. While you are still incarcerated my best advice to you would to soak up as much education as you possibly can but you can not get anywhere anymore without an education. Even after your GED, keep going. You can never learn too much. listened to you speaking on Dr. Phil and on the Documentary, your very intelligent. You can learn alot. hope you are receiving alot of support from people be what you went through was truly horrific. tried to add money to your books so you can write me back but it wouldn't let me. It kept saying there was an error. Do you know why? Hopefully you'll be able to write back. tried to add 8 dollars. Anyways really hope your doing well and hope to hear back.	page 525

To put up with all you did in your life and to come out of it as a sweet person is beyond anything that can imagine. am going to give you my address so you can write me back if you want. am sure you have a million people writing to you every day so you don't have to write me back if you don't want to but would love to talk to you about anything you want. you that have been keeping up with you since you went to jail. missed watching the lifetime movie but as I hear it was not good. have been watching the act on Hulu and if they even have a little bit of your life right sorry. can't imagine what it would be like to live that way. am sorry that this was your only way out of it. Here is my address write me any time. You don't know me, but wanted to reach out to encourage and support you. watched your story and felt compelled to write. Like you, also grew up with a very abusive and mentally ill mother. Throughout my life I've suffered with extreme depression. This was due to the mental and physical abuse received, from the person who gave me life. couldn't wrap my mind around how or why a mother would treat her own child so cruel. can truly understand your desperation to escape the abuse that you endured from your mom. No one ever comes to save us. We just have to endure it and try to survive until tragedy happens, or until of age to leave. I'm not sure about your mom, but my mom was and still IS very manipulative and cunning. She hid her abuse. So no one knew the hell was going through. America's system is broken when it comes to protecting children from an abusive mother. I'm grown now and have gone through many years of extensive therapy. I'm much healthier now and I've tried having a healthier relationship with my mom. However, she's lied on me, tried putting me in prison, she's tried to get my license revoked and she's tried to put me in a psychiatric facility. All her efforts to destroy me has failed. However, for my own safety, decided to cut off all contact with her. As I see she truly hates me and wants to destroy me. Gypsy, you have been through a lot in your young life. However, pray that God allows you to find true, pure, love, kindness and happiness. also hope you have a good support system. As you deserve that and more .. I'll deposit a few stamps onto your account. I'm praying for you.	page 102

He and my are coming up to visit next month, they will also be meeting my fiancé. I am engaged to a wonderful man, his name we have been together for about 2 years and he has been nothing but my biggest blessing. :-) I am aware that there is a Hulu series, The Act, however am unable to watch it so have little to say about the show, only that the production team and creators of the show has used my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial profit from it. other then that, i have heard its semi accurate to the true events of my life. as for me, spend my time either on my tablet listening to music, I'm a big country fan, or in the library. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental well being. :-) I try and stay positive in my day to day life, just look forward to starting a wonderful new life when am free. would love to travel, seeing the northern lights is on my top 10 list. do want to have children someday and want to do a line of work that either works with animals or kids love both, or working as a hair stylist. :-) for now just can't wait for summer. think I'm going to try a sport this year...eshh wish me luck, I'm so clumsy lol anyways have a great day and thanks again for the encouragement. :-) P.S I am also asking all my friends and supporters to send letters to Missouri State Government officials in order to help with my early release. 04/10/2019 15:39:45	Inbound	I'm sure your getting a lot of emails asking you How did you survive this? When your still trying to figure out how to survive this new reality. ofcourse heard your story and may not have went through all that you had endured but, I'm currently going to therapy and trying to process the things that happened to me as a child. My whole life just suppressed everything and thought had delt with it and never needed to talk to anyone about it. My main reason for going to therapy was so could figure out why react to "normal" situations so differently to others and why keep continuing In the same cycle of relationships with people over and over again. Best answer to my questions from My therapist was "my brain figured out how to survive the abuse, and my "behaviors" are what kept me feeling safe and that was in control. She also recommended a book that would HIGHLY RECOMMEND if you can get your hands on it called the body keeps score. I've only been to therapy 4x but can see that it's helping a lot. Your probably wondering why I'm sharing this with you I'm a complete stranger, but maybe a part of me hopes this might help you process what happened and how to move forward to truly recovering from it. also realized during therapy that couldn't be honest to the people that knew me because felt like could hide the truth about my abuse and I'm learning that's not really therapy at all if you hold it in or make light of what happened. hope that you seek out therapy as a tool to help you, don't be scared to go through that process because it will make you stronger and a happier healthier person now and in the days to come. You're a survivor and as Dolly Parton always says sometimes you got to go threw the storm to get the rainbow. You don't have to reply back I'm sure you get tons of emails. hope this cheers you up in some sort of way :). Sincerely How are you doing in there? know you don't know me . . 28. I am a huge Dr. Phil fan & record all his shows. am watching the 2 redone episodes of you, your story and your past. I'm sure you don't want anyone to feel sorry for you, but wish could have been your online friend back then. I live in Virginia but would have driven to your house & rescued you from all that...if you asked me. would have driven you to your friend or your dad or anywhere you wanted to go. Anywhere you would be safe. Right now wish could drive up there now and give you a big hug! have been abused in different ways but nothing compared to what you had to live through. No one should have to endure your past. I am so thankful you talk with me & all I want is to be your friend & be here for you! He and my stepmother are coming up to visit next month, they will also be meeting my fiancé. engaged to a wonderful man, his name we have been together for about 2 years and he has been nothing but my biggest blessing. :) I am aware that there is a Hulu series, The Act, however am unable to watch it so have little to say about the show, only that the production team and creators of the show has used my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial profit from it. other than that, I have heard its semi accurate to the true events of my life. as for me, spend my time either on my tablet listening to music, I'm a big country fan, or in the library. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental well being. :) I try and stay positive in my day to day life, just look forward to starting a wonderful new life when am free. would love to travel, seeing the northern lights is on my top 10 list. do want to have children someday and want to do a line of work that either works with animals or kids love both, or working as a hair stylist. :) for now just can't wait for summer. think I'm going to try a sport this year...eshh wish me luck, I'm so clumsy lol anyways have a great day and thanks again for the encouragement. :) P.S I am also asking all my friends and supporters to send letters to Missouri State Government officials in order to help with my early release. Hello Friends and Supporters, I appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence. Many of you'll have signed The Free Gypsy Blanchard Petition created by my Now, must ask a favor, am respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for my freedom and write a letter expressing support for my early release to either the Missouri State Governor Michael L. Parson AND/OR The Division of the Missouri State Board of Probation and Parole. I am scheduled for a parole hearing in December of 2021, however any and all letters of support are helpful. please remember to add my first and last name and DOC# in the letter. 04/10/2019 22:44:21	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, Hi !! I've never actually written to someone who isn't a family member, let alone in a correctional facility. Although I'm not really afraid, because don't feel you're mean, or scary like some people convicted. I'm not really interested in asking about your story, how it happened, why it happened etc. I'm more just interested in you as a person. Well should probably start off by telling about myself first, so don't so weird.. as weird as someone writing a random stranger can be. My name but prefer my middle name I am 23 years old. was born in Detroit, MI. was adopted by my grandparents, because my mom was a druggie and couldn't take care of any other kids. enjoy my grandparents, sweethearts... but always cried when was young since wanted young parents who could go places with me. regret wishing that now that my grandpa is in a nursing home and can't remember anyone anymore. don't get to spend time with him, or enjoy anything with him anymore. He's always been distant but miss him nonetheless. My grandma is a trooper, just turned 70? (Probably older but tell everyone she's 70. She appreciates that). moved to Arizona and now wish I never did... moved here for a boy, who I've been with for four years. miss home, want to go home but life is hard. don't drive, you probably don't either, do you? Although made a really nice friend at work here and she loves true crime, just like me and will probably write you too; her name So work an office job, live in Arizona now, and really like to play video games... have 5 cats, actually 9 but kittens don't count since we will give them away. Do you like cats? If not what's your favorite animal? You had a guinea pig once, right? I've never had one of those but I think their squeaks are cute! have Atlas, Nyke, Osiris, Artemis and Poseidon. They're named after gods. Have you read any mythology books? Or books in general if so which ones! can give recommendations too, love to read. see what else (I'm literally writing this at work) does anyone keep you up to date on the happenings outside? Like pride parade just happened, or new movies coming out. Are you behind on like technology? know some people who have been put away have a hard time adjusting outside since they've been away so long, do you think have that issue? can email you some things happening outside if you want! barely keep up with the news though, just funny stuff, and stuff about animals honestly. So, now that you'll be able to live your life the way like.. what things do you want to try? You should create a bucket list, if you already... if you have love to hear it! I am super sorry this email is so all over the place, I'm not good with structure when writing but wanted this email to sound as much as talking face to face as talk fast and ramble ALOT. You probably get tons of emails, and truly hope we can become friends, you seem like a genuinely kind person. Please let me know if there is anything you want to know about me, hate to end my email so short but really can't think of a lot right now.	page 520

04/10/2019 02:08:35	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! I'm 18 years old gonna be 19 I never knew much about your story until recently, but it hit my heart. I'm sure you don't always want to talk about that but if you'd want to I'm all ears. don't have a lot of friends, my old friends suck and really horrible to me. decided to write to you because we both could use more friends, and you are such a beautiful strong person, and you inspire me. Growing up my family was abusive and my mom has mental health issues, and my dad killed himself never thought I'd have a happy life or ever be free until grew up and moved away. know the thoughts you had and the fear of never being free, and couldn't imagine in your situation the depths of that. But anyhow, would love to get to know you and be friends with you! I'm sure you probably wanna know who am so I'm very short, about 4'10!! Most people think that's crazy lol, I'm kinda dark blonde and blue eyes and have braces! Not much else to it lolol. to dance and swim, have you ever learned how to swim? Or are you excited to in the future? If we get close we should totally go swimming when you're available to! live in California so we have nice weather and if you ever visit it would be so fun!!! I'm in a group on Facebook that's about supporting you, follow it daily and just really really appreciate your existence. There's so many people who go through things that they can't express, you've helped so many people even if you don't believe that yourself. But I'm proud of you. I've never emailed here before so I'm not sure how it works and I have a million things to say, I'm sorry if it's annoying. guess I'm just anxious and hope you want to talk to me you know? It sucks not having people to hang out with or talk to, and a lot of people know online are just cruel as well so spend most of my time alone with my pets. Speaking of which, my cat just had 5 kittens!!! won't make this too long because know you have so many emails to reply to, but if you have the time to reply talk!! If you have any questions or anything please ask! Or if there's anything you need feel free :)	page 527

04/10/2019 10:20:43	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! :) My name i I'm 22 years old and I'm from Northern Louisiana. recently saw a post on Facebook giving your information to email/write you. I've been actually trying to find your information for a while now. I've been so interested in your case and wanting to contact you. I've been following for over a year now. This YouTuber watch actually did an entire video on everything and it basically sucked me in to where did my own research! was so excited when they were making a Hulu series about it, but upset when found out everything. How they excluded you and are just being terrible. sorry that happened. I'm honestly rooting for you. While in jail, after you get out, whenever. believe you have so much potential to do great in this world and to make a difference now. hope to hear back from you, honestly. be awesome. have a brother that's currently incarcerated and email him on here as well. So figured it'd be pretty neat to have you as a pen pal, too lol. But basically the point of this email is to literally just ask: how are you? hope people ask you that often. Mental health is so important, and hope you know you have so much support out here. There's so many people rooting for you! Best wishes,	page 533
04/10/2019 20:38:50	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, want to start by saying that am proud of you for growing from your past. From personal experience, understand how hard it is hard to cope with a traumatic past. am glad that you are working on yourself and getting help to better yourself and break the pattern from your past. So if no one has told you yet today, I'm proud of you. My name i and have been following your story for years. Personally, believe that although what happened was very wrong, that you should be receiving mental health care instead of in jail. my opinion, but sometimes people don't get the justice they necessarily deserve. On another note, wanted to reach out and ask what you plan to do when you get released? Are you going to move away from MO and go to a state where you can start fresh with new memories? Are you worried about dating again? Are you worried about the attention you'll receive, both positive and negative, upon your release? know it's still a few years away, but would love to hear about your feelings. Also, will be attaching a pre-paid stamp so that you can write back. know with the hundreds of letters you get daily that it would be impossible to afford to respond to all of them. cannot wait to hear from you!!	page 533
04/10/2019 21:45:26	Inbound	hello how are you doing? my name i remember your case when it happened. it really sucks what your mom put you through. it's really cool seeing your updated pics though showing that your health and everything is much better though. do they let you listen to music there? hope all is well with you	page 534
04/10/2019 22:18:42	Inbound	Hey, My name i have been keeping up with your story and your life for a while now, know that's probably weird for someone to do. But, believe you and believe you may have made a bad decision, but everyone makes mistakes and you shouldn't be defined by this mistake. I don't like the tv show 'The Act', because I've watched interviews of you and the tv show is nothing like you. don't like how the show is making you out to be because it's nothing like you. believe your details of what happened to you in your life. The tv show is fake and just wants publicity. If you could email me back at some point I'd really appreciate it. hope you're well and doing okay, Gypsy.	page 535
04/10/2019 22:26:35	Inbound	Hi, hope all is well. If you don't write back it's ok!! I'm sure you received so many messages it must be overwhelming at times . But if there's anything you need or want just ask , pictures of something or a book or something personal like snacks well I'm not sure what you can and can't receive but don't mind helping out . live in Florida but was born in New York I only lived in new York until was 6 years old then moved to Puerto Rico it's a beautiful island then at the age of 17 Moved here to Florida , go up to Disney once a year was just up there last month it's about a 3 and half hour drive from my house . Hmm a little about me well just to keep you entertained a bit , love horror movies and even run a Facebook page called horror.com . live with my parents , youngest sister and my son in the area live it's too expensive for me to afford on my own, therefore live with my family it's not bad we all have our own bedroom and i help my parents with bills financially . So what do you over there ? Do they allow you to have a tv in your room? Do you have a job ? have a friend in prison me and him went to high school together and he's been in jail for over five years now they allow him to work out, have a job , have a tv and iPad also email him from time to time . 04/10/2019 17:45:40	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, My name i lam sure you're getting a ton of emails and letters right now. just wanted to say am really glad in a better situation now. had a abusive step mom growing up, she loved me until was probably around the age of 10 and then she just snapped didn't love me anymore and didn't want me in her life. Which led me down the wrong path. I've read articles about you and watched documentaries. just don't get why she would do that. I'm so sorry your mom put you in this situation. I'm ready to see you out and thriving. hope you enjoy your freedom you well deserve. have a few questions if you do reply. What are your plans when your out? Do you like animals, if so will you be getting any? Whats your favorite activities? What's your favorite color and food? And I'm not sure if you care but. 20 years old. moved out of my parents house when was 18 with my boyfriend of almost 3 years now. We have a Dog named Copper (from fox and the hound) love that movie. 3 rabbits, nova, princess ink, and peanut. We also have a fish named Hydra. Lol. This summer I'm moving from Nebraska to Georgia to join the military and become a vet. hoping you reply, but if not then hope you read this.	page 538

I've read your story, and it is so wild and crazy and just couldn't imagine what you have been through. I'm so sorry someone would treat you that way, but I'm so happy you have outcome all of it. wish you weren't were you were now. but you'll be out soon. hope to hear from you soon.	page 538
04/10/2019 20:16:44	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, Ill be honest with you, feel weird sending you this. don't really think of myself as the kind of person who reaches out and sends mail to inmates. don't see you that way, though, as an inmate. honestly think you got dealt a really poor hand, and the justice system did you dirty. Rather, see you as you are: a survivor. In another world, think could be where you are. It's hard to talk about, but my mom is awful. Like truly, actually awful. think she only gave birth to me because she hoped would get famous and make her rich. She spent my childhood trying to get me into tv shows and into movies. It didn't work (probably because was a chunky, kind of ugly little kid), and so had to develop a new skill set: namely, making cocktails and taking care of my brother and sister when she was too intoxicated to even function. She liked to get drunk and beat on me. ran away a few times. finally got away for good a few years ago when turned 21. I've been on my own ever since, and don't miss her control in my life at all. thought a lot about taking matters into my own hands, so to speak, but never did. I'm glad didn't - 'm a Buddhist, don't believe in murder. But think that's the natural inclination... self defense when trapped beyond anything you ever imagined. sorry to word vomit. just wanted to say that admire you, and really wish you nothing but happiness and health and healing. hope you live a really full life when you finally have the freedom you deserve, and that you get to be surrounded with family and friends. Have a great day, Gypsy. Warmly and respectfully, thanks for the support, am doing alright, try to keep a positive outlook on everything. staying pretty busy and make the best out of the time that have. have obtained most of my GED having passed everything except for math. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. also take additional classes to benefit my emotional and mental health, son that may use the helpful tools to cope with things in a healthy manner. lam aware about the Hulu series The Act. however am unable to watch it so can not say how accurate it is to actual true facts of my life. do not receive any financial benefit from the show and am actually very stressed over all the recent media attention, just want to live my life as a normal woman, and someday will. look forward to the day am released. have a wonderful support system as well as a wonderful man, his name i and he has had my heart for almost 2 years now. 04/10/2019 20:22:04	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, My name I've been learning about you for a few years now. I've watched most of the documentaries and I've seen some of your interviews, and just wanted to say that I really think you're a strong person. can't imagine having gone through what you have. The only thing that can really say is that I'm sorry you had a mother who seemed to be more interested in herself (mentally). And I'm sorry you got into a very toxic relationship. don't agree with wha did, understand you thought it was what was right at the time and I'm sure you do have many regrets. But stay strong. You'll be able to start fresh soon. Good luck with everything and if you just need someone to lean on I'm more than happy	page 539

However I'm sure know more about you then you do me. My name i I'm 41 years old have two children, a daughter who is 21 and a son who is 18 and my most favorite people two grand babies a grand daughter who is 2 and a grand son who is 9 months. My kids and are very close and my daughter is my best friend but it hasn't always been like that. messed up and went to prison and ended up doing 3 1/2 years and of course that put a strain on my relationship with my kids more so my daughter then my son but with patience and God we have overcome it and closer then ever. My daughter is the one that brought you and your situation to my attention asking me if heard about it and ofcourse didn't all do is work. So started researching you and oh my gosh the more researched the more pissed and hurt I got! just can't believe that repeatedly, year after year after year the system failed you over and over. watched so many interviews of doctors that admitted they either knew or suspected what was going on and never said anything. feel even now the system is failing you by keeping you incarcerated instead of getting counseling and letting you be with the family that will love you and not hurt you. just wanted to let you know that there's tons of people out here all over the world on your side, not understanding how the system that is supposed to protect us let you down constantly it's mind boggling to me. If you just want to talk or just to have a friend to write you I'll be that friend. Anyways if you want a friend you can write me back at	page 013

Off to work now, love you wifey (midnight) I'm still very upset, im tired of you taking your frustration out on me whether it be my fault or not and now feel like can't open myself up to you anymore, therefore feeling more alone then ever, if can't trust YOU then can't trust anyone. our future conversations WILL be vague until can feel comfortable letting you know how really feel about things that go on in my life again. Do you want honesty??? ok...you wasn't right about "you not being the partner need"...until tonight. do deserve better then what you showed me tonight. you think having a sweet apologetic tone will make up for it.. for calling me basically 2 faced then ganged up wit! to make me look like a liar you fucking asshole your wrong because still go to bed crying. what happened to th fell in love with??? am starting to see less and less of him. M would have understood that yes tell one thing because hate dealing with conflict, then lean on you to be my support and my partner and tell you my real thoughts and feelings. you don't do anything sweet for me that you used to, but pay me $150 every 2 weeks and think THAT is gonna make me happy??? do you think I'm some gold digging hoe who's affection needs to be bought?!!!! even if you didn't put a dime on my account would still love you, your not some "trick" so STOP acting like one. I'm not being a bitch know you love me and wanna provide for me so that's why you send $$$, however money is not gonna keep me... you used to put an effort in, now my love is expected and taken for granted at least that's how it seems. DO everything can for you and it all seems worthless to you. we don't even have good date nights anymore we either have time to talk only to fight, or your always too busy and we don't talk at all. part of me does really actually want a small week long break from each other..just to have some time to get away from the intensity of the emotions felt. my automatic emotion after you offend me is defensive and distant. feel like you WAS once my comfort, and now are the concrete fall on instead of a soft place to land, so want to take a week to myself and figure out my thoughts and emotions regarding you. in my heart of hearts get hurt really easy by you..and tonight you hurt me by being too reactive and not being the man needed you to be. love you with all my heart..that will never change. 4/18/19 6:30pm Dear love, hope you had a good first day of school, am calmer however still little upset, but miss you at the same time. toda told me that its in the contract tha is required to do press. so whether we want it or not, permission or not,..media will be a part of my life until the day am free. I think you need to process this fact and figure out what you want moving forward. this won't always be my life..but for now it is, and we cant control it and what you need to figure out is if you want to be with me through this or not.	page 146

04/11/2019 21:38:18	Inbound	OLD DRAFT :sorry I haven't written for so long. moved to new address. Found this on the internet weeks ago: Blanchard Name Meaning French and English: from the French medieval personal name Blancard, Blanchard, from a Germanic personal name composed of the elements blank 'white', 'shining' + hard 'strong', 'brave'. Source: Dictionary of American Family Names ©2013, Oxford University Press I read your fb support page is growing. Considering what to say that would best convince the governor that an injustice occurred. don't believe people really understand. It'd be interesting to see what strategy the prosecutor used to find out how the jury was duped. It would help so I could know where they were misinformed about the severity and complexity of MBP. There's a meme from fb wish I could send here, but basically it tells of how trauma and pain are passed on through generations until someone is finally born for the intended purpose of awakening the family members to the evil and make the evil stop, to keep it from being passed on to another generation. It appears like you're one of those people. Write anytime. God bless you and keep you. = PS You mentioned that prison is so much freer than your life before and totally get that, but are you relieved so much not or ta ha ralaacad le thie inet a that tha nannla wai ara	page 446
04/11/2019 06:34:02	Inbound	Hi hope this email finds you in good health and even better spirits. Your story has really resonated with me since first heard about you years ago, and I've been trying to work out how to best get in touch with you ever since. Thanks to the fine folks of Facebook, finally found a way! We have a lot in common, think! am 24 years old, and also a huge fan of cosplay, Disney, and all things dorky. I'd love to get to know you and chat about cons and whatnot. It worries me a lot how lonely you must be, know it's tough enough to fit in somewhere as it is, let alone with circumstances being what they currently are... But enough about sappy/sad stuff! How's life?! Reading anything good? Any neat new hobbies or stories you'd be interested in sharing? Gypsy, you really seem like such a cool person, and could really use a friend like you! hope my random email wasn't TOO strange. Hope to hear from you someday.	page 464
04/11/2019 16:20:51	Inbound	Hello Gypsy. Thank you so much for responding back. I'm glad to hear that your are doing good. I'm so sorry about the situation with Hulu, had no idea. don't blame you for being upset. I'm glad you found a great guy. hope he treats you well and hope you have a great life. :)	page 465

04/11/2019 22:38:03	Inbound	Hey.. my name oddly enough have been addicted to the show based on your case on Hulu and I've been reading up everywhere on it and came upon the information to write you from one of the Facebook groups. Besides all that though.. figured would go out on a limb and see if you wanted a friend to just talk or write to, to just pass some time. I'll give you some info about myself to break the ice haha. My name i I'm 21 years old, and I'm from the US. sadly enough am just a supervisor at a small town McDonalds hahaha :P even though I'm 21, I'm super short so get picked on a lot for it. I'm a really boring person, but can at least hold a conversation without being too boring to talk to. love music, I'm a closet country fan but I've never told any of my friends that. But mainly I'm into punk rock/pop. Like said before, I'm a boring and simple guy. Haha! Anyways, if you ever get bored or need somebody new to write to - I'm your guy! 7. for writing back! honestly had no idea if you would or not, so thank you. I've never had a pen pal or anything before (do you count as my first?) haha! That's awesome in the process of obtaining your GED, that's so rad. I'm proud of you. had a son when was a junior in high school and dropped out and then went back a few days after he was born and luckily graduated with my class. It's tough, have faith you'll succeed though. Math was never my strong point either haha :) Congrats on you and How did you guys meet? He sounds like a great and lucky guy! Woahhhhh, how in the heck is the show allowed to do that without your consent? They used your life and real name for the story so how are they allowed to just.. get away with that? I'm so sorry, that must be so frustrating.. especially since you even gotten to see it. wish you luck on your summer sports this year!! Haha the only sport I'm good at is basketball :) which is funny because I'm a guy who is only 4'11 hahaha! :) have one child, a son named Kye and he's 3. My ex girlfriend had him when was 18. Kids are so much fun and you'll love the experience:) do you getting all of these messages daily, ever annoy you or you feel like you are kinda forced to write everybody back? and how often are you allowed to be on your tablet and respond to messages? It's all so intriguing to me haha I'm sorry if I'm prying at all :) anyways.. hope you had an amazing day!	page 466

04/11/2019 04:40:36	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, You don't know me, but my I'm 38 years old and was born and raised in Oregon. recently learned of you and some of your story. I've never written to anyone like this before but for some reason felt should after saw some video of you talking about your life. don't presume that know the real you, but you really sparked my interest as a person when saw you and heard you speak from your heart. My hope suppose is that you might be interested in writing with me and it might bring you some small happiness in your day to do so (and for me as well). of course found your public story very heart breaking and felt for you. can't claim to imagine what your experience was like, but was renewed with hope seeing how happy you seemed to be after - despite obviously being stuck in prison. Ultimately though, that's not why I chose to write you. What compelled me is the unique experience you must be having now as you move past what happened. am writing because want to understand more about the person you discovered you are now and who you are wanting to become. think what will happen next for you is infinitely more important and I'm very interested to know more about that version of you. In many ways imagine it must feel like your life really has only started to begin (or at least hope it feels that way). see you as amazing and strong and want to know you as a person. Like you, find my life in a very different place now than imagined after some recent choices made that were intended to be for the better (and so far are). Nothing like the choices you had to make, but big in my own way and with some parallels. If you decide you want to talk I'll totally dish all my problems and successes - ha! would like to share in your adventures if you are interested in also sharing in mine. It's not always exciting but I'd love to share it with you. I'll keep this first letter short in case you find this weird and have no interest in pen palting with some dude you have never met halfway across the country. If you have no interest I'll not bother you further but wish you the best and leave you with regards. If you are interested though, feel free to ask me anything or tell me about your day or what's on your mind. If there is anything you want to know about, please ask. have no expectations. Either way hope my email/letter finds you well and in good spirits! All the best from this Oregon stranger, Independence Oregon	page 536

We even have a Facebook group pulling for you!!! Mind giving us a shout out and telling us if you need anything while in there? Hopefully you have all you need. MOA	page 541

04/11/2019 04:56:17	Inbound	Hi, Gypsy! and I really felt the urge to reach out to you. discovered you through your case as I'm sure most people have, but that's not who you are. You're not your crime. You're Gypsy and wanted to write to you about you, not your case. Everyone is given a different path in life. Some people are given better life circumstances than others. But at the end of the day, we all get to choose how we handle our time on earth. This email is to encourage you to keep spending your time wisely. Life has handed you a bad deck of cards, and you made some mistakes along the way. But the amazing thing about humankind is we have the ability to grow and flourish. know you have it in you to reach your full potential and be the best version of yourself that you can be. Sometimes all it takes is taking each day at a time and never taking it for granted. believe you will do amazing things with your life if you allow yourself to. send you healing energy and strength while you get through this phase of your life. hope that your mental health is alright and that you can receive proper therapy when available. We all need somebody to talk to, we're all human. Continue to grow everyday and never stop trying to be the best version of yourself. Stay strong, Gypsy. Best Wishes,	page 542

Just because know that its never all facts, and alot of fiction plays into it. If you'd like to talk I'd like to know your side. Its just me, I'm not writing books, doing a documentary or docu series nothing. Just me.. Even if you just want to talk I'm here, i know you get thousands of messages a day, just wanted to reach out. 04/11/2019 07:29:55	Inbound	Hi gypsy hope you are doing well still. When do you get released? send you drawings? How can i give you something. glad to hear you're doing well!! have already sent a letter to the parole board for you. so happy for you to have your dad & family back in your life full time. We are almost the same age & you haven't even gotten to experience any of the things that you should have. cannot wait to see how you progress with your life after your release. I'm sure with all the publicity from everything you're pretty overwhelmed. know that you have a lot weighing on you. also do photography, that's a great stress relief. If you ever want to chat about anything, know you probably have a list of people offering friendships but love to talk & make friends that understand hardships. My daughter loves your name by the way! She keeps saying she's going to name her daughter that & she's only 6 lol but you've inspired her to be strong & cant thank you enough for that. I'm happy to hear you've found love! You deserve that & so much more. You will do great sure you're getting overwhelmed with emails from everyone all over the world! have been following your story since it all came out. actually live just a couple hours from where you are now. just wanted to say that you are the bravest woman I have ever seen & everyone trying to profit off your story is sickening. You have been taken advantage of your whole life & people are still continuing to do it. I'm so sorry for everything you went through. Everyone keeps pointing fingers & making their own conclusions but no one has lived your life & until someone has been through everything you have, no one can say anything. admire your honesty & too have been through a lot with my mother but nothing compared to you. cant imagine coming out as great as you have with all of that. We are the same age & just cant believe you are so much stronger than ever could be. have a 6 year old & I've kind of told her your story with out all the gritty details. Just that even family members can hurt you so always be smart & know if something seems off to tell someone. She always says how beautiful you are. know you're getting swarmed with people but I just wanted to show my support & if you ever just want to chat, I'm always available. Good luck Gypsy. You have so much support out in this	page 543

My mother too was abusive (not to the extent of yours) she was very aggressive. She would slam my head off of walls and guilt me into living with her for a lot of my life. She used me for money and lied to me about a lot of things to get more money from me. She convinced my ex to get me pregnant so would have no choice but to live with her.. She trapped me. Recently though worked really hard for me and my daughter to have our own place. have a fiancé now and I live in our apartment together. I'm so proud of you and for both getting out. want to talk to you, be friends. feel like you need a real friend. If this is weird understand. Just know everyone needs someone and Id love to be your pen pal! will be putting money on your thing so you can email me back!! would love to know more about you, what you like, the kind of music you like, favorite color, all of that! wanna know you <3	page 545

I'm truly honored to be able to send you an e-mail and tell you how amazing you are. felt the need to reach out and let you know that SO many people are thinking about you and praying for you. You don't deserve anything that's happened to you. Be strong, we know you can survive anything. You're a hero to so many.	page 546
04/11/2019 20:13:19	Inbound	Dearest Gypsy, My name i I just want you to know that I truly think you're such a strong, beautiful girl. I'm deeply sorry for everything that you had to go through. You have many people on your side. can't imagine all that you had to endure. Continue to grow and heal. Many Blessings Thank you for reaching out with support. lam doing well, have adapted to my surroundings, besides for me, prison is more freedom then ever had before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED having passed everything except math, I'm striving to pass that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental health as well as to teach me coping skills to deal with my past trauma. most of my days consist of work and classes, and In my free time like to go to the gym, the library or just sit outside enjoying the beautiful weather. :) live on the honor wing which is for inmates who have earned extra privileges though good behavior. do have a strong support system my father and are building a bond 27 years not too late. :) also happily engaged to a wonderful man who has had my heart for almost 2 years and has been nothing but the biggest blessing giving me the love, understanding and support that deserve. lam aware about the Hulu series The Act, however I can not watch because do not have access to Hulu or the internet, so have little to say on it however will say it its unfair that the producers of the show are using my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial benefit from it. have been on and continue to be on a long journey to reach my freedom. my main focus is making good use of my time, taking every opportunity to better myself through programs, classes and therapy so that when am released am able to live and function with ease in society. I do not enjoy the "fame" my case nor my traumatic past has given me, however do hope to become an advocate for children who have experienced abuse by parents with Munchausen By Proxy in the hopes it will encourage others to be proactive in recognizing the warning signs as well as give victims a voice. In recent years I have chosen to shy away from the media in order to focus on my own emotional healing as well as the healing process of my family and friends. just want to live a normal life, move forward and focus on the here and now and put my efforts to creating a better future for myself. :) have made life long friends along my journey some have met just like this...lol have friends that have met in here, others have been just sweet people who didnt know me at the time , but took the time to know me and now we are very close true friends. I'm blessed to have loyal friends stand by me through all this. My future plans include, travel, a big wedding and a few children someday. my dreams may sound simple, but they are simply perfect for me. :) appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence, many has signed the Free Gypsy Blanchard petition created by my Now, must ask a favor. am respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for my freedom and write letters expressing support for my early release to either The Missouri State Governor Michael L. 04/11/2019 13:00:39	Inbound	Hey, Gypsy. My name I'm not sure if you remember me well. We've met before. Quite a few times, I'm sure. Your dad is my paran, his siste is my mom. remember spending a weekend with you at their house when we were very small. In fact, even remember laying in my paran's bed with you and we all watched cartoons together. That was years ago and am so sorry that that's the last time we have ever talked. I've been wanting to contact you even before things happened. was just always scared and nervous to because didn't think your mom would allow it. Since you've been in prison, I've also wanted to write you but have two small children and work so rarely get any free time. I've managed to spare an hour or so to email you right before work while my children are at the babysitter. is 3 is 1 so We're a few years apart in age. just turned 26 on Tuesday. have two boys, my world basically revolves around just them. work for a place called The Center; it's a place for mentally and physically disabled adults to go to work small jobs. I've been there since 2017. love it very much. I live on my own in Cut Off. hope that one day when you get home, you & will be able to spend time together and get to know each other better. see your recent pictures very often. It's a very bittersweet feeling looking at them. You are beautiful but it saddens me to think that you've had to wait so long to be your own person. Even under the circumstances, I'm extremely happy that you've finally gotten the chance to do that. If you ever get a chance to reply to me, I'd love to know what your interests and goals for the future are, and just in general what you're like. As we get older, our family has seemed to drift apart a little. used to spend my entire summers and most of my weekends at your dad's house babysitting and just spending time wit! was very close to both of them when they were young but now that we're all older, it's hard to take time out of our busy lives to spend time together now. see them basically on holidays now even though we live maybe 5 minutes away. As close as was to your brother and sister, I'm heartbroken that wasn't given the chance to also share that bond with you. You & are the first 2 grandchildren (and grand daughters at that) and we're really close in age and I'm sure we would have had an amazing bond. Even so, still hope we can get to that at some point. hope to hear from you. All my love, Hell 0 Gypsy, My name i have been following your story for a couple weeks. am so inspired by your strength that you had to deal with so much as a child. I'm sure you get many many emails and letters sent to you and I'm sure it's hard to keep up with them all. I'm from Akron, Ohio. Not sure if you know where that is. Im 21 years old, believe we are close in age. wanted to ask a couple questions which again I'm sorry you get these so much. How are you? Your well being? How is the incarcerated life? feel as if the justice system has failed you. signed a petition the other day to try and get you an early release. Which do hope everything does fall in your favor as you do deserve it. think you were cheated out in life a little bit. I did see you do have a boyfriend and am very excited for you. Do you have plans on what you are going to do once you are released? Have you made friends as well? hope you are doing well and hope to hear back from you. Best regards,	page 548

04/12/2019 14:40:41	Inbound	Hello, You are very welcome. just know where you are coming from and in the darkest days know what it feels not to have any support. Even being out here free still have my darkest days. can relate somewhat to how you felt my parent constantly mentally would put me down take everything had and it took me meeting a guy and marrying so quickly to get away from the toxic life she put on me and my child. You seem like a very smart girl so math should be a total cake walk, my worst subject was science. God do dislike that one. Ha.. That's wonderful you are building that bond with your father. wish could grow a bond with mine. seen them thru interviews they seem like wonderful human beings, both your father and stepmother. Thats even more wonderful they are meeting your fiance. Hopefully when your great day comes life would be so much better for you. Hopefully you stay connected with your father, his wife and stay happily married t Along with chasing your dreams that you dont ever give up on, you keep on until you achieve. Photography seems like a good job both inside and out. Especially if you want to travel after you are free. You can never have too many memories. So how did you meet? Does he visit often as do your stepmom and dad? You got any siblings from your dads side? My husband is in the army so there for relocation is what we know next place we go to is Georgia. am pushing him to stay in just so we can keep relocating so we can continue to see the world and to work on a career of course. want to be a criminal profiler /journalist. The only thing that sucks about relocation is that the friends make in person eventually will be just another facebook friend to keep in touch with instead of physically being around. watch a little bit of have seen some of the shows but that isnt where heard of you. My mother one day was watching dr phil and she brought me in there because she knows like real life stories and there you were. Thats crazy Hulu is doing that with out your consent sure hope your father and stepmother are taking legal action on that note. love country. From artist like Luk Jon Pardi, George Strait, Clay Walker, Cody Johnson (is a big must if you have control over your music and you dont know him you should definitely look into it). You should be very positive about life. had a detour in mine just like you have with yours. Life isnt over its a lesson learn and it makes you into the great wonderful young lady that you are today. Positively looking in you could have had a judge with no mercy that gave you life. Wonderful outlook you can have is that just know you are a beautiful person inside and out, you got great support and great friends, you got a wonderful fiancée thats standing by your side and you are eventually gonna be home one day to be a amazing mother a wife with a good outlook on things and the only way now is to make life better in the most positive way. You started off in a horrible situation, you now feel freer than you ever been, now its just the waiting game and the knowing you are going to be home one day to enjoy every bit of life so you should always keep that in your mind to move forward and keep strutting because in all honesty Gypsy couldnt have made it as far as you have come you really have come a long way. know in my last email said wanted to be friends but as time progresses would like the friendship to grow outside this prison life as in would like to know how far you came outwards and your accomplishments. If its one thing like hearing it is positivity and seeing others be blessed with positive things even if its not me its always good to hear something good and something positive. Especially that those who deserve it. What sport are you trying this summer? am praying for you feel so old to do it. haha. would love to send a support letter. Whats the soonest I can send it or is it open window at any time? I am checking my emails daily and see you have sent this on the 8th but its showing now that got it, today. just figure	page 027

04/12/2019 15:53:26	Inbound	Hey Girl, So happy that you reached out to me, thought it was a long shot hearing back from you, so thank you. Yes GED are weirdly hard and Math is my worst subject as well. When was in high school failed my math taks my Junior year and again my Senior year. They had to put me in tutoring my senior year so that way before we graduated could have one more chance to take it, in order to walk the stage. AND PASSED IT.. Finally!!! lol. So got my diploma. My husband has to get his GED in order to get off probation but he has a hard time paying attention lol. He will just have to take a leap and just go for it. I am sure once you work hard and put your mind to it you will do GREAT. Photographer huh?? Do you love it? LOVE taking pictures, am actually going this weekend to see a friend and take pictures of her son for Spring pictures. didn't know they offered that kinda job in prison, thats awesome. That is awesome to hear about you and your dad, am so happy he never gave up on you. My dad and I are best friends. So when you get out are you going to stay with him until you get back on your feet? Tell your dad although am a stranger that said hello. Fiance huh?? That is awesome to hear. How did you meet him? When did he propose? happy that you have found someone, just be careful. After everything you have been through. About the series The ACT, I can't believe they were allowed to film your story without your consent. Is that illegal? am sure you will hate to watch something so awful and relive those years like that. It is a great show but at the sametime it's very heart breaking. have a strong personality and very out spoken so if were in your shoes, don't think would have been as calm as you. Was your mother really sick of diabetes and you had to give her the shot everyday? Did you also guilt you in to signing her power of attorney over you? am just so happy that you got out. There would be no telling where you would be today you know. So the man that did the dirty work, what's his story? Did he get life? Who is your favorite country singer? Love country, that's all listen to you really. Northern lights i am sure are beautiful. haven't seen much, but love to travel as well. You have a whole world to see girl. What are other things on your list? have been to Galveston TX which i go every year with my girlfriends for a girl trip. have been to oklahoma, California, Florida, Houston TX, Corpus Christi TX, Louisiana, San Antonio and also Las Vegas but was a child so don't really remember it. Those are beautiful names for your future children. hope it happens for you, so you can be a good mother and raise your children they way you want to, and to never treat them anything like what your mother did to you. Those are nice jobs, my job wanted to do was be a social worker to help children and take them out of bad situations but never went to collage and don't want to. School was never my thing lol. So hope you will be able to do what you want and love once you get out. When you do get out, What state will you live in? Have you thought about what you are	page 142

04/12/2019 06:04:29	Outbound	Hey Dad, I just talked with mom for 3 hours, she told me that you was upset with her over the (In Touch article) so... she asked me to talk to you. don't want y'all fighting over me or anything about me because know have issues even that don't pertain to me, however wont sit here and tell you stuff to smooth things over either. I will tell you that she does tell me about the "interviews or articles" she and I has planed after they are already scheduled with whatever network or outlet that its for or afterwards. do not encourage it though I don't stop it either, I just say pretty mum on it when she tells me about it. have come to the understanding that she is strong willed and believe she feels that doing all this helps me in some way which makes it hard to be upset with her, but sometimes do get upset because feel like you and are on the same page with just being DONE with it all with exception to trying to reach our goal regarding the petition that is like almost 60k now. Mom is trying to promote her series (By Proxy) because she feels that telling every detail of all who was involved and each persons story will satisfy the public's continued interest in my life. where as me, you and my friends feel that the story HAS been told by ME via the Documentary, both of em, Dr Phil and 20/20, interviews that myself opened up painful memories to share with the world so its been said and done for awhile. don't know why what happen is so fascinating to people, maybe its the crazy twisted shit that happened, maybe its a true story that has all the right makings of a lifetime movie hahaha yep went there lol whatever the reason, its one that will be remembered. with that said, not thrilled about The Act, nor the amount of stress that is baring down on me being a "celeb", however am sending everyone who writes me the information to write letters to the governor so that we can use the hype to our advantage. As for mom,...it looks like we need to give her the truth, have tried has tried, and you have tried without much getting through, but maybe she will listen to all 3 at the same time. don't want our visit to be a bad one, but we all need to be on the same page here. the flat harsh truth, none of us want or care for another goddamn TV show to be made. Our focus should be on getting that petition on the governors desk. Fuc! Fuck a new series! I'm over it. hope there is a calm after the storm once the hype dies down. I'm sorry if my email is harsh, but its just a hard fact that am not on board with all the shit mom and does. its getting to be more a more appealing to souly have a relationship with just you. know my brother loves me and to a point so and want them both in my life, however continues gonna have to distance myself from her. love you dad, I'm sure we will work all this out soon. Hugs	page 186

Unless you want to send me donuts...lol. Well, a little about myself so you know who you're talking to. I'm a 44 year old single mom. My son is 10. take care of my elderly parents. was born and raised in Indiana. I'm an army vet. My son's dad and are divorced. We co-parent really well. We just didn't live together very well. We were way too different to stay married. I'm a stay at home mom. I'm disabled. have a lung disease so it's hard to breathe a lot of the time. That's about it. My life isn't too exciting. have quite a few friends. I'm the jokester so always keep people laughing. think a day without laughter is a day wasted. But don't get out a lot. Between taking care of my boy and my parents, don't have much time. So how's the GED going? You said math was your worst subject. It was actually my best subject (that and recess) so if you need any help with it, I'm here. Do the other women treat you well in there? Do a lot of total strangers send you messages out of the blue like I did? promise you I'm not crazy or a stalker or anything. I'm just fascinated with you and want to keep up with you and get to know you. have to go. My son will be getting home from school soon so should probably shower. don't want his friends making fun of him for having a stinky mom. Let me know if you need anything.	page 208

It was there that found out about your appearance on the Dr. Phil show. You look well and appear to be thriving despite your current environment. have been watching the Hulu series, The Act. Why are you not allowed to see it? Is it because it might be too disturbing for you? It seems to be accurate and the actors portray the characters very well. find it disturbing because it reminds me of the dark parts of my childhood and the desperate helplessness felt during that time. also think it is not fair that you don't receive any royalties from your own story. Congratulations on your engagement! How did you and how does the relationship work while you are in prison? Just curious. You are blessed and have so many good things to look forward to on the outside! You will also be a great mother one day. have a daughter who just turned 30 this week. A No matter how old she is, she will always be my little girl! I'm glad that you are developing a deeper bond with your father. know that he feels badly about what you had endured at the hands if your mother and wished that he took a more active role in your life. No doubt he has some guilt over that. I'm sure he would have whisked you out of there had he known what was going on! Thank you for the contact information- will write letters to both of them on your behalf. You deserve an early release, at the very least. Stay strong pretty girl! xoxo and linht	page 485

04/12/2019 16:52:41	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, Thank you for replying, I'm glad that you are having a better time than what you were having and hope that your current relationship is one that is loving and understanding. love animals too, is there any courses you can take in relation to animals? was thinking of retaking my A-levels (UK) to do veterinary nursing but as already have a degree we are no longer eligible for free education, maybe in the future will do that but for now have a hamster and a bearded dragon and I'm also about to get a cockatiel so I'm rather excited about that :D hope that when you get released you can visit the northern lights and many other places too, you should buy one of those scratch off world maps and see how many places you can visit. would love to go to Bora Bora but when looked online it was soo expensive so that's out of the question haha. Good luck with your sporting activities, is there anything in particular you would like to try? used to figure skate and play basketball but I'm too lazy now hope to hear soon,	page 499
04/12/2019 15:45:41	Inbound	Hey Gypsy. It warms my heart knowing you are doing good!! I'm glad to hear adapted well & all the good things you are doing there! Ugh math was the worst subject for me in school lol sucked at it. But you'll do good don't stress about it. That's awesome!! I've always thought about doing photography but figured just wasn't gonna be good lol. Thats good that trying it out bet all the pictures are beautiful! I'm in school right now for medical assistant. It's good just been a little stressful though. Some many tests and it's all fast passed. really glad you have an amazing support system. With your father & your fiancé! Congratulations girl!! <3 bet you're super excited!! Just know you have a support system from all of us. I was 15 when everything happened & I just would follow up on you. Check on you & see how you were doing. It broke my heart & I just felt so helpless wishing there was something could do for you. But it warms my heart now knowing how good doing and the great support system you have. You never deserved anything that happened. You deserve all the happiness and love in the world! The page I've been following said we were able to email you so that's when reached out to you. Yea i have heard about the show "The Act". watched the first episode when it came out & I just couldn't watch anymore after. It's not right & I say it's not right because that is your whole life & not only that they've never got your consent! Yea it's semi accurate but heard they dramatized some of the scenes. hope you reach out to them & ask for your share! Because it's not right they do your whole life story into a show without your consent. You know I've never been a fan of country until recently. started listening to Kane brown he's a new upcoming country artist. don't know just love his music so I've been checking out other country artists. Im happy for you gypsy that you're doing your GED, doing photography & taking classes to help better yourself. You are an amazing woman! Keep up being positive :) before you know it you'll be outta there for good!! can't wait for you to experience the outside world how you would want too. :) that sounds amazing. Whatever you choose to do when you get out I'm sure you'll be the best at it. Lol good luck! The only sport I did was volleyball & that was in middle school! sucked mostly cause was clumsy as well haha. Thanks for reaching back out to me. Makes me feel good that you're doing good. :)<3 have wrote to governor Michael in support for an early release for you. got his information from the free gypsy account I've been following . sent in my letter Monday. just hope he takes all of them into consideration because know a lot who have wrote to him already. will also write & send in a letter to the Missouri division board of probation and parole. Much love,	page 499
04/12/2019 12:18:03	Inbound	Hey Gypsy! was so happy to read that you are doing well. And I'm so proud of you for pursuing your GED! obtained my GED shortly after having my first daughter. I'm now the first person in my ultrasound program to have been accepted with a GED! It will open so many doors for you. hope you gave yourself a HUGE pat on the back for that! It's great that you are into photography. It's such a fun and creative outlet and I'm sure the ladies appreciate you for it as well. I'm excited your dad and step-mom will be coming to visit soon and will have the chance to meet your fiancé! Have you started any wedding planning yet? Its an amazing thing to know you've found the one. couldn't be happier for you! I'm also happy you are focusing on your mental health as well. There is always room for person growth and that's true for everyone! As for writing to petition for your early release as well as supporting your dad, I'm happy to help! There are many of us who want you free! found it interesting you mentioned the Hulu series and that they didn't ask for your consent. My heart ached a little when read that. To use someones story without their permission and not allow them to profit it from it is just a double disappointment. You seem to be overcoming so much though and I'm so proud of you! Stay in good spirits and know you have people on the outside here for you! Sending you warmth and happiness,	page 501

It also seems like you should not be in jail because of the horror that you went through. wanted you to know how brave think you are. am hoping we can be penpals. love animals, was a zookeeper for 21 years until my hip gave out on me, now am looking for a job and am a state licensed wildlife rehabilitator in Illinois. take an orphan and injured wildlife. hope that you are doing well there and you have plans for when you get out. would love to hear back from you but I'm sure you have so many fans writing to you now. But please write me back if you get time! Tried to send you pictures of my animals but it says that option is not available right now. All of my love to you Miss Gypsy Rose	page 535

04/12/2019 16:58:47	Outbound	Hi Gypsy, I'll be honest with you, feel weird sending you this. don't really think of myself as the kind of person who reaches out and sends mail to inmates. don't see you that way, though, as an inmate. honestly think you got dealt a really poor hand, and the justice system did you dirty. Rather, see you as you are: a survivor. In another world, think could be where you are. It's hard to talk about, but my mom is awful. Like truly, actually awful. think she only gave birth to me because she hoped would get famous and make her rich. She spent my childhood trying to get me into tv shows and into movies. It didn't work (probably because was a chunky, kind of ugly little kid), and so had to develop a new skill set: namely, making cocktails and taking care of my brother and sister when she was too intoxicated to even function. She liked to get drunk and beat on me. ran away a few times. finally got away for good a few years ago when turned 21. I've been on my own ever since, and don't miss her control in my life at all. thought a lot about taking matters into my own hands, so to speak, but never did. I'm glad didn't - 'm a Buddhist, don't believe in murder. But think that's the natural inclination... self defense when trapped beyond anything you ever imagined. sorry to word vomit. just want to say that admire you, and really wish you nothing but happiness and health and healing. hope you live a really full life when you finally have the freedom you deserve, and that you get to be surrounded with family and friends. Have a great day, Gypsy. 04/12/2019 17:14:56	Inbound	Hey gypsy! just wanted to tell you that I think you're a brave strong woman. And I'm a huge advocate for you. hope that you're doing well, and are learning things that you weren't able to beforehand. hope that you're able to get all the help you need, want and deserve. know you know that you shouldn't be there and know that you feel some guilt, but what u need isn't prison, and pray that you'll be out soon, so that you can live right life that God gave you!	page 547
04/12/2019 14:25:46	Inbound	and I've been following your journey Hi Gypsy, wanted to start off by introducing myself My name i since the case broke in 2015. It's captivated me in more ways than you can imagine, but I'm sure you hear that almost every day. From the start all I've seen in you in a strong, brave woman who has overcome so many obstacles in life and has shown the upmost amount of resilience in all that you have gone through—most of which none of us will know the true extent. You have been open, and honest in all that has transpired and you didn't deserve a moment of what has happened to you. Escaping an abuser, especially when that is your own mother was seemingly one of the hardest things to have ever had to do, but believe in your story. And believe in you. You're such a beautiful soul and the system has failed you in so many ways. I'm so sorry that the only way out of your situation was what happened. can't imagine the pain and regret you live with every day, and especially having so much love in your heart for your mother despite all. I've seen the Dr. Phil interview many times and it seems like prison has given you so much freedom and joy and that's such a wonderful thing to see in your life. know I'm just an outsider, but following this as closely as have feel as if know you. And do know that don't, but would love to be a friend to you if that would be something you'd want. You are beautiful, and growing into the person you were always meant to be. You have such an aura about you that is drawing, you seem like such an old soul. just hope that you know that there are so many people on the outside that see you for exactly who you are and who meant to be. There are so many people who are proud of you, and are fighting for you to live and love and freely as possible. If you want to, write me back. I'd love to hear more about how making out in there. hope this message brings you joy. Hope to talk to you soon, Gypsy. Keep fighting the good fight.	page 549

04/12/2019 14:49:21	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! My name i have read so much about you and just wanted the chance to speak with you personally. think you are so brave and learning more & more about your story has been so interesting to me. have a lot of questions for you, but wouldn't want to bother you so I'll just ask the main ones. What do you plan to do when you get out of prison? Are you engaged and if so how did you meet your fiancé and how do you keep in contact with them while in prison? It would mean the world to me if you wrote back, I'm so excited to talk to you! Your friend,	page 549
04/12/2019 19:19:51	Inbound	Hey Gypsy! 25 years old and am a law student in Chicago at Northwestern. Your story is full of so much courage and strength in an unimaginable situation. From a legal perspective, it's plaintiffs like you who deserve the best legal representation and are exceptions to a criminal justice system that isn't fair enough. Ever since learning more about your story, I've been rooting for you as have other members of my family. am just a random stranger but i want you to know that the good in you is so obvious, you are meant to live a long and happy life and be loved!!! From your interviews can see you wouldn't hurt a fly and have a good soul. Congratulations on your engagement!!! also wonder if one day, you will want all that happened to be something that doesn't define you or if you are at peace with how it defines a big era in your life. You are probably getting lots of mail but if you see this message, please write back! What kind of hair and makeup do you wanna do for your wedding? Ok I'll end this message it's starting to ramble. Take care. Sincerely,	page 550

04/12/2019 07:47:48	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, My name i and am from Australia. am 23 years old. follow the group "By Proxy" on Facebook and saw that you allowed emails so thought I'd send a message through. I am so invested in the everything that has happened with you and strongly believe you shouldn't be where you are now. I really think that with everything you have been through in your life, you should be receiving the proper help you need that you maybe get in jail. My partner and have been watching the new show on Hulu made about you and have heard that Hulu aren't paying you or even giving you anything for making that show which think is disgusting! was wanting to know how you're going and what kind of things able to do in the facility you are in to fill your days? How much longer do you have left to serve? Will they allow you to get out early? hope you are able to reply to me soon and answer a few of my questions. hope you have a few questions to ask me as well. Regards,	page 551
04/12/2019 20:51:21	Inbound	Hello gypsy, I am writing you just to say hello and tell you am truly sorry for everything you have been through. know you probably have so many people contacting you every day but I thought maybe you would like someone just to talk to. am so happy you seem to be doing so well. try to stay up to date on how you are doing. hope you are happy and in a better place now! have always thought about contacting you Incase you needed a friend but didn't know it would be possible! Wishing you the best! -2	page 551
04/12/2019 01:20:51	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! Me again. know it's weird to get a bunch of emails from me, but rarely write in my journal anymore so i feel like this is a distraction for me on stressful days. If nobody is reading, it's just like a journal entry. If you are reading, then it's like a vent session. So, work with the elderly. It's always a rough day at work. I'm getting ready to move so i picked up extra days at work and I'm totally regretting it. My feet and legs are just tired. One of our residents almost set the place on fire. She burned her pizza in the microwave. She just sat there eating burnt pizza while her other half was smoking up her room and giggling. There's never a dull moment at work. haven't seen any recent updates about you. hope you're doing good! The weather in Ohio sucks. It keeps going up and down. I'm over it. can't wait to do something fun outdoors without freezing my butt off! grew up playing in the mountains and chasing lizards. So being limited now is a little disappointing, but we always manage to find something fun to do. have been debating on writing you a hand written letter but don't know how many letters you have been receiving and don't want to add to a pile of paper you probably read anytime soon. So i chose to save the planet and keep it at emails only for now. Anyway, i hope you are well. It's always nice seeing updates on you. wait to see how doing. Stay strong! Much love, es We don't know each other but i was excited to have an opportunity to write you an email! My name i from Puerto Rico but i am currently living in Ohio. moved after hit the island in 2017 and left the entire island dark, powerless and without drinking water. Relocating to Ohio has been quite a challenge. miss the beach back home. Every time i felt sad i would drive to the beach or rainforest and sit there in silence just breathing fresh air. You never realize how much it improves your quality of life until you no longer have it. have been reading about your case and i came across recent pictures of you. You look so beautiful with your long hair! am so excited to see you wearing makeup and free to just be you. By the way, did you do your own makeup? It looks soooo good. know prison doesn't allow you to do much but I'm sure it's way better than being where you were. Just remember that soon enough, you will be free to walk outside and you can start over. have faith that you will live such a beautiful life after all of this. Don't lose hope. Many of us out here are sending good vibes or prayers (whichever they/you feel comfortable with). will try to attach pics from home. Maybe some day you'll be able to travel and see the world with your own eyes? If you do, Visit Puerto Rico! hope to hear from you soon. Stay well! Much love,	page 553
04/12/2019 21:15:11	Inbound	I'd just like to start off by saying (honestly don't really even know how to start this email or what to say but guess you could call me a fan or a follower of your story) but do find your story very interesting and inspiring. grew up with a controlling mother myself, nothing compared to you by any means though. Soooo a little about me is My and I'm 27 myself born and raised in Kansas, barrel race for fun and own 6 horses. I first knew about your story from the news then the Dr. Phil documentary, the HBO documentary, and now I've been watching The Hulu version. I'm sure they are not exact matches to your life but I'm not here to talk about your past. I'm sure you have tons of followers or maybe even pen pals but thought hey why not email her and see if you can even get a response lol. Currently my best and I are sitting on her couch stuffing our faces with Chinese talking about what should say to you lol. Did you ever earn your GED? What do you do in your freetime? Or any hobby's?	page 554
04/13/2019 04:23:53	Inbound	April 13, 2019 Dear Governor Parson, I am writing this letter on behalf of a resident of your state, Gypsy Rose Blanchard. She has been sentenced to ten years in the Missouri Department of Corrections. Many people, citizens of the great state of Missouri, and elsewhere, do not believe she received a fair and honest sentence. Gypsy's criminal case became involved in much media attention a few years ago when a documentary film was released. She is a bright young woman who has suffered unimaginable abuse at the hands of her own mother. We feel that Gypsy had no other choice than to retaliate. She did break the law and she has been punished by serving her time in a correctional facility however, Gypsy and others think the prison sentence is unfair. She does not ask for a pardon, just an early release. Please consider helping Gypsy, as she is not a threat to society and has paid more than her debt. Take Care,	page 017

04/13/2019 07:04:44	Inbound	Iwill definitely write a letter to help get you out. You was robbed of your childhood and more than 1/4 of your life you was in prison with your mother. know she is your mom and will try to be respectful of that but she was a horrible person to do what she did to you. can't even imagine to be hurt by the one person you loved most of all. She is gone now and will never hurt you again. hope you can forgive her for your own peace within. She did an ultimate sin of what she did to you. Just try to remember the good things in your life. I'm so glad you have your father and his wife. Also your fiance'. hope you can get mental help when you get out. You will have alot to deal with and you don't need to think it will go away if you don't think about it because it won't. Talk about it and learn ways to deal with it. was physically and mentally hurt my ex husband and we divorced ten years ago but still have bad dreams every so often now. have seen alot of doctors about my PTSD and depression. I'm still a work in progress. So this may take a while for you too but remember you will get better like me. never seen such injustice done to you. The courts and police make wrong decisions when it comes to people and the justice system. Definitely flawed in your case. My ex was a policeman so definitely know how it can be flawed. wish could do more for you. did send you some money when wrote you before. hope it helped. will definitely have other people to write to help with early release. Please keep your head up and look forward to that early release. Hope you have a Happy Easter. don't know if you believe in God but do. He helped me so much thru my hard times. if you believe, just remember the footsteps. He is always with you even though you don't think so at times. He carries you thru the hardest times. Just remember that people are rooting for you and are thinking the best for you. Never feel that you are alone because you are not. know when you are in prison that it feels like everyone is living their lives without you and you are stuck in there. But that is far from the truth. People think about you outside the prison. Your family and others care for you and wish you the best. Take care of yourself	page 046

I'm so sorry for the cruel life you were given. No one deserves that whatsoever. My mother and both work with adults with developmental disabilities as it brings us the most joy. couldn't have imagined the loneliness you felt being isolated from nearly everyone and my heart just breaks. You lost so much time you don't deserve to lose anymore! The past is the past and unfortunately there's nothing that can be done to change it. But the future is bright and there's hope. What would you love to do one day? Would you like kids of your own(INCREDIBLE! The love is like no other) Would you like to get married? What about an ideal career? You can do ANYTHING you put your Mind to. To bring up another subject, the Hulu series " The Act". 04/13/2019 06:03:17	Outbound	Dearest Husband, yesterday was a rough one for us both. I'm both emotionally and mentally tired as I'm sure you are as well. I am so sorry about the news release about our engagement, and though you tell me "its OK" and try not to let it effect you in a negative way, am your soulmate know from just the tone of your voice that though it doesn't discourage you from continuing our relationship, however It does bring you AND I stress, and know that a small bit of you is upset that myself am partly to blame for our personal business being discussed outside of us and our family and friends. can acknowledge that and apologize for it, so I am deeply sorry babe. have taken any mention of you out of my template email when replying to anyone. which doesn't erase what has already been posted or sent, but won't talk about us with just anyone. had only felt so happy that have someone good in my life, someone that I'm proud to be with maybe just wanted people to see that though have gone through hell that have found my happiness, MY love, and my new beginning. I'm not shy about us, I'll be the first one in a room to gush all about how much I love my guy -) however I can see where a line must be drawn. I did go off telling her to shove her series up her ass, want no part in any of it, THEN to tell her without calling her out of her name, that she better stop or I'm cutting her out of my life. She swears she's done, so I am giving her one more chance to be done with this. with that said, we will have our visits as planned without a word of the touchy topics. The visit with the family will be focused you and them getting acquainted with one another. Sweetie, want you to know that we both have good and bad days, but am the person that you need to let in and let me be there for you and I'll let you be here for me. We work better together then apart. group last year, was waiting for you to leave me. thought that you would When our relationship was posted i cave under the pressure of all the craziness, but you didn't, you stayed and since then we have only grown stronger feelings for one another. one year later and now our engagement is unwillingly announced in the media, and I'm hoping that we can make it through this as well. You are the reason am able to get up everyday with a smile. kiss the little picture of you set up on my TV stand, slide on my robe, make a hot cup of coffee then head to phone to call my soulie to wish you a good morning. :-) My life is a happier place with you in it baby. only want to bring you the happiness you have given me. we have so much to be happy about going forward. Our focus should be on being there for each other to lean on as well as you staying focused on your upcoming GED classes, that more then happy to help you study. :-) My point to this long email is that i love you with all that have, and I'm asking you to be strong with me through our bad days so that we can make it to the good days. My Love I wanna take your mind off the rough week we have had and have date night on Tuesday night babe:-) We can have a stress free, relaxing, hot date where I go on and on about how sexy you are, and how much wuvvvvv yewwwwww -) xoxoxoxox and how my pop tart is super sweet on ya -p :-) omg I just realized 13days!!!! ahhhhhhhh :-) god I'm gonna be so bad lol -) I love you soulie! xoxoxox mwwwwaaa! lol	page 156

04/13/2019 02:37:25	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, just read your email about your parole meeting in 2021. Does that mean you could be getting an earlier release date? can't stress enough how much support you have from all over the world trying our hardest to do whatever we can to get you out. don't know exactly what I'm allowed to say in these emails but please just know there is a massive amount of people trying so hard to do everything to express how we feel in regards to an early release. You don't deserve 10 years, honestly and have my fingers crossed that they re-consider your release date. I've been looking more and more into your case every day and can't believe how much of a strong and brave woman you are and always have been. Thank you so much for responding to me every time too! Honestly feel like I've made a friend in you! = mazing how positive you're staying whilst in there, you seem very humble and content. Sorry for the late reply lovely! work full time in a nursery! Your case has really pushed me towards wanting to be a safe guarding officer for children and young adults, So currently studying hard to get where need to be. For my course we have to write about a case where there has been a safeguarding issue and I've been writing all about you! told my tutor all about your story too and she was saying how great it is that I'm able to be in touch with you over email and how much your story has touched her heart! really do hope to stay in contact with you! You're such a positive, bright and brave woman! Look forward to hearing back from you	page 447

04/13/2019 14:50:40	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, hadn't heard back after my last email, I'm guessing you've been bombarded by tons of people contacting you. prepaid the last email, so you can reply to that one for free :) joined the Facebook group you told me about, but it's archived now, so there's been no updates on how you're doing. How are you doing? Everything still good Have you been able to have a visit from him recently? your time like there? Do they offer any guidance on how to live after prison? What kind of hobbies are you into? What you you hoping to do for a career when you get out? Last time emailed you, was telling you about my eviction. have 9 days left to find a home for myself and my daughters. I'm panicked to be honest with you. have a GoFundMe but I'm still $2K from goal. I'm freaking out a little. Sigh. It's been taking a toll on my Lupus. I'm trying to keep happy for my girls, but they are so scared and disappointed in me, they even talking to me. hope today is a happy day for you. Please write back. So glad to hear you are doing well!! Congratulations on your GED! Don't stress over the math, I've never been able to understand math. Just study hard and don't stress over it you will do great! had to take the GED test when was 18, and barely passed the math portion the first time took the test. got lucky! Congrats on the new fiancé as well!! :D that is super exciting! wish you both happiness:) Can ask how you both met? love a good love story it's so cute! saw advertisements for The Act when the first episode came out. One of the actresses caught my eye because remembered her from the movies holes (one of my favorite childhood movies) but when watched the first episode started noticing things that weren't true. Being familiar with your story already wanted to watch it at first to see how accurate they were. was disappointed after noticing they were dramatizing the story. So started researching things about the show, and came across an article with a statement stating exactly what you are talking about in your letter. think it's a shame that has happened and no longer watch the show because of it. think it's incredibly disrespectful for them to portray your that way with no permission to do so. But do know that regardless of the show, there are lots of people who support you:) I love the 90's country music! Like Garth Brooks, Shania Twain, and defiantly Tim McGraw. was born in Texas to a very southern family, so grew up listening to a lot of it. Country music defiantly holds a special place in my heart! to dance when was in High School, it's the only sport enjoyed. It's a very athletic sport! It can be hard but it's so much fun. use to enjoy contemporary dances:) but do wish you luck on whatever sport you decide to try! Thanks for writing me back, know quite a few people on a Facebook page called Free Gypsy Blanchard, that wanted to write to you as well so I'm sorry for not keeping the letter shorter. Lol So glad to hear you are doing well! And will defiantly be sending letters to the Governor and the Board of Parole. I'd love to help in can:)	page 459

I've heard so much about and your story, and got super excited to see that people can send emails! put money in, just in case if you decide to respond (no biggie if you don't, I'm sure you get SO many messages per day) and want to be BFFs hahaha. But I would love to hear about you! I'm 26, and live with my fiancé and two dogs. also am in administration working with people with Developmental Disabilities! Again, if you can't answer, no biggie! Or if you decide to, am hoping 30.00 is enough! I'm bad at judging these things, and Google didn't help me in this case lol. hope you have an awesome day, and hopefully we can talk soon!	page 552
04/13/2019 14:25:26	Inbound	Hi, Gypsy! know it's probably very strange for you to be contacted by so many strangers all the time, but you and your story really has touched the hearts and souls of so many of us. My name i: and I'm 22, from NC. I've kept up with your story for some time now, but just recently found out how could contact you. just wanted to say that think about you very frequently and hope you are doing well and getting everything you need where you are. can't imagine going through what you have and wish that you where you are right now because you do not deserve it. know you get emails and letters from probably thousands of people a day, but if by chance you actually read mine, hope you do reply. don't have many friends. I've been through struggles of my own, no where near comparable to yours, but it's caused me to become isolated and find it hard to connect with most people on a level that could produce an actual friendship. If you ever read this and feel compelled to chat with someone, please do reply. will be putting money on your account as soon as possible, so that you may reply. hope you're doing well. When I have more time, maybe will send another letter telling you more about me, since already know so much about you haha, and perhaps it will make you want to get to know me that much more! Well anyways, I'm sorry this is such a terrible letter, but don't want to embarrass myself too much, if you decide not to reply! Haha. Have a good one, Gypsy xx	page 552
04/13/2019 15:15:40	Inbound	Hey girl, I'm trying to send you a bit of cash but they aren't taking my credit cards YOU DO NOT DESERVE TO BE IN JAIL Your mom gave you more abuse than any jail does and understand why you're sad but relieved. want you to know there are HUNDREDS that support you. Lots of people know you don't belong there. The fact that you have been abused your whole life means you don't deserve to be tortured for another ten. There are support petitions out there for you, and myself— am just in awe of your strength and what you put up for so long. You are so strong and you'll be my inspiration for life because if Gypsy can do it? SO CAN I. mean be strong and move on. I'd like to be your friend.. pen pal.. if you ever get to the west coast, be happy to buy you coffee or dinner. really hope you get out soon. Iain California, and support your strength and tenacity. You need to write a book about your life and what was done to you... you are just such a case that literally gets me unhinged. You deserve better than to be tortured for life. Love your spirit and soul. I'll be watching this till you come home. SO many people have signed petitions and #freegypsy has been a trend. wish could hug you so hard you know it feels like to hug a real mom. have a typical son and one with Williams syndrome. I'd never force him any procedure he didn't need.. You are a beautiful girl, and even if you're forced the 10 years -- know there are people who want you out now and feel you never deserved this. This stupid site allowed me to bio letters but not send you money which I'm trying to figure out why. My special needs son who has watched all the docs with me and the act, is just heartbroken for you. When told him that was going to try to email you he told me to tell you HI. He's adorable.	page 552

04/13/2019 11:56:51	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! I read you are currently receiving over 100 emails a day. That's so I'll try to keep my emails short now, i know it'll be hard to go through all of them. sent you a picture collage of my favorite spots in Puerto Rico. The beach picture is a small hidden part of the beach where i used to sit and write. sometimes went with friends, sometimes alone. The waterfall is from the rainforest. It's a hidden waterfall named "Juan Diego". used to go up there with my mom and washed my hair and body with natural honey to improve my complexion. I'm not sure if works or not haha but it was a relaxing ritual we did before any special event. As i grew older i went up there just to sit and breathe fresh air, Sometimes with friends sometimes alone. The rock wall that looks like an indian is a carving representing the chief of a taino tribe back in the day before Puerto Rico was discovered Columbus. The Chief tried to protect his people from Spanish trying to take land. The legend goes that he leapt off the cliffs of Isabela to escape the capture of the Spanish. Puerto Rico has so many beautiful areas to visit. I lived there 21 years and regret not seeing everything. Some day i'll go back and do, i promise to take more pictures and send them to you! Can't wait to see more updates on you. Hope doing well. Warm hugs,	page 553

04/13/2019 23:03:12	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! sure you get tons of emails and letters considering how widely known you are but thought reach out too! My name and we're about the same age, I'm almost 25. Obviously know your story and it resonated with me in several ways, to an extent, too had a mom felt trapped with and unfairly treated in many ways. Reading your story wanted to reach out because suppose we seemed similar in some ways. figure you probably don't want to talk to about the past but more so about your future! saw an interview with you recently and you just seemed so much happier, that made me really happy for you. Anyway I'm writing because thought maybe we could be pen pals. I'm interested to get to know the real Gypsy. What do you enjoy? know you went to conventions as a kid, not sure if you actually enjoyed them though. actually go to conventions a lot and love to cosplay! I'll try not to ramble too much and bore you. hope you're doing well and hope to hear back!	page 555
04/13/2019 23:07:46	Inbound	Gypsy, Hey girl! Hope all is well. Just wanted to send you a letter letting you know you have another supporter. I've just recently heard about your story and I've been so obsessed with it the last few weeks. I've watched shows, documentaries, I've read stories, and everything can find. This whole case is interesting but sad nonetheless. You are such an amazing and strong girl dealing with all that you have for so long. hate the outcome of everything that has happened. know you have so many supporters out here! I've also recently read that you are engaged! Congrats! I'm so happy for you! If anyone deserves a normal and happy life it's you Gypsy. You seem like such a sweet girl! know you were lied to a few times about your age, so was wondering how old you actually are? really hope you get to read this email and have time to email me back. I'm sure you get bored in prison. Any chance of you getting out earlier than 10 years? Hope to hear from you soon! Love Hello, know you get plenty of messages. am very curious, to what you are willing to say, what your thoughts on everything is, especially The Act. have seen the shows but it's not the same. do believe what your mother did was wrong and I do understand why it was hard for you have committed anything yourself. also understand why you did everything. hope when you are released that everything works out for you and you do what you want to do. hope you go into the career you wish and your life blossoms. Best wishes,	page 555
04/13/2019 11:19:35	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, Hi! My name and I'm a mom of 4 kids. When heard about your story my heart broke in a million pieces. I can't believe you had to go through what you went through, and it is NOT ok that you are there for so long while child rapists and what not are walking around free after a year sentence. It's disgusting and I'm sorry you are dealing with it all. On a side note, do hope that you managed to find some peace and freedom there. have read that you have more freedom in jail than you did in life, and that breaks my heart but makes me happy for you at the same time. A little about me, have 4 kids, 3 girls and a boy. I'm 39 years old and also a full-time student. am so freakin busy daily but it keeps me young lol. know you like cosplay and what not, so do I! always wished was skinny so could dress up like Leeloo Dallas from the 5th Element, but I'm too fat. LOL! hope you are doing all you can while you're there to focus on you and get your life to where you want it on YOUR terms. I'm sorry again that you've gone through all you've gone through, and while can never even begin to imagine what it was like for you, will say this... have learned in my life when we struggle the hardest and go through the most, it is also a time of teaching us about ourselves. We have 2 choices in those hard moments...to give up and go bad, or buckle down and do the right thing and get strong. Seems like you are choosing to be strong and that is exactly what you should be doing. Very happy for you that you are choosing to better yourself! :) Please keep in touch, you seem like a good person that just had to go through some bad things. But...! know your life will work out in the end and wish you the best. Take care and write me anytime :) =	page 556

04/14/2019 01:00:02	Inbound	Good evening (it's 10pm here in Washington!) GypsyRose! saw the announcement of your engagement today on television. am very happy for you and can tell that all of the people who know your story are also collectively cheering you on! There are a lot of people praying for you and although am sure it is not the most conventional place to be when you are probably wanting to be with your new fiancé, you have a lot of support. So when things get hard just remember that it will all work out as it should. If you ever need anything or anyone to talk to, feel free to message me anytime! All the best, for reaching out and for the encouragement. :~)	page 327
04/14/2019 18:03:44	Inbound	Sweet Hi! My name i lam 21 years old i live in Houston Texas. Your story is so inspiring and yet so unreal. You are so beautiful!! watch the series on Hulu and also YouTube videos and anything on your case learn more about you everyday. wish you were out of prison you don't deserve to be in there you have suffered enough. When you get out you can start a life a live free and not have to worry about anything! hope you get out sooner. Your amazing gypsy!! I'm just glad you no longer have to suffer. You have suffered way too much and have had your child hood taken away from you that you obviously can't get back. But it's time to move forward. Your attitude is so positive and love it. want to be friends with you!!! You seem like the perfect best friend we relate in some ways!! Love you!! Lots of hugs.	page 330
04/14/2019 15:03:42	Inbound	Hey Gypsy lam a fan of the show " The Act " & I just want to say that you are one brave individual, me personally honestly don't think you should be sitting 10 years in a prison bc what you did was to help yourself out of a situation that could've held you back until your mother passed health wise *. feel like you should be in a place that can actual help you 108 would love it if you'd write me back	page 334
04/14/2019 03:50:47	Inbound	Hey, Gypsy! don't know if you'll ever get to see this, but wanted to say that you're a truly beautiful and amazing woman- stay strong in there!! I've never been to prison, but my children's father is in prison (we live in VA), and many of my loved ones have gone to jail. feel so much for you. really do. And it hurts me to my core that you've gotta spend more years of your life in REAL prison now! When you were already in a prison of your own, made by your mother who was meant to love and protect you know that you probably hurt over that situation too, regardless she was your mother and know through all the hell you'll always have love for her. I'm also a victim of domestic violence — my kids' father was VERY abusive. Very very brutal to me.. One day he tried to kill me. With our kids present. He's now in prison and will be getting deported this year. Sadly and oddly enough I'll always love him.. as much as want to fcking hate him.... that's difficult with cases of abuse cus we want to hate the person so badly yet it's hard. What also upsets me about your case is how you end up with what, 10-11 years taken from you. That shows other domestic violence victims they'll never be able to escape their hell :(I've been thinking of you and hoping that you're doing amazingly!! Lots	page 337

04/14/2019 22:27:47	Inbound	Gypsy, ok brand new email in response to your last two: DONT YOU EVER DARE APOLOGIZE FOR WHAT YOU HAD TO DO TO ESCAPE!!! You don't know what was ahead of you ifu kept pretending everything was going to get better on its own by itself. witnessed your future, lived your future if you hadn't escaped. it would've only gotten worse, not better. . . ever. She would have only gotten more powerful and if the attention started to wane all she had to do was kill you off for a whole new fresh wave of sympathy and money. Don't make the mistake of thinking she suffered in pain, she didn't understand what she was doing. She very much knew what she was doing and it was a god-like, over life and death power that drove her. change of topic: what do like to do? I've spent most of my life recovering from attacks. In between , under the radar I've studied multiple modalities for healing. I'm a trauma therapist now but can't practice openly so do mostly pro bono when I can 'get away with A number of times I've escaped temporarily to study abroad for this but have to 'sneak' out to do that. I'm still in the same city as this MBP here, but I hope to gather resources in the next year to move much farther away. Fingers crossed. =	page 448

04/14/2019 09:33:07	Inbound	Thank you so much for your tactfulness and for writing back! :) had wondered about what your rights were pertaining to the Hulu series. am so sorry. They have any right to take your name without your consent and use bits a pieces of your trauma to make money, ESPECIALLY if you are not receiving any type of financial compensation. hope you take action on that as well when you are out of Prison. personally feel you are entitled to equity. love animals and children. Babies especially! My son was THE CUTEST baby. My partne also volunteers at our local humane society here, and she always sends me videos of her with different animals that are in the shelter :) happy for you obtaining most of your GED! suck at math. had to take Geometry twice because got stuck on the order of operations or something weird like that. also am a terrible test taker. So much that had to stay an extra 3 months in college to retest, and show knew the information. only started appreciating the Library when I had a son. We go there frequently, and it's enjoyable for us. Congratulations on your That's wonderful that you have a supporting man in your life along with your family network. They love you so much, and have no doubt that with enough rallying and sending letters, we can bombard your State government officials and get your early released in 2021. What an amazing day that would be for you! Count me in on sending letters to Missouri officials! love any kind of music. Country is what my dad always listened to when we had weekend visits with him. Trisha Yearwood. "She used to tie her hair up in ribbons and bows, sign her letters with X's and O's." Such simple lyrics. :) If you were to be a hairstylist, that would be a super fun job would think! I'm not good at that stuff. They say though, that if you're interested in something and you put that something into a career, LOVE IT! Try your new sport!!! Don't be nervous about being clumsy. :) the only sport know how to play correctly is Volley Ball. All the others would be tripping over myself. What sport are you thinking of taking on? What books have you been reading in the Library? Have you read 'the girl on the train'? enjoy suspense but this book and the movie think take it to a whole other level. Talk soon? PS: I think you will find the Northern Lights to be exceptional :)	page 507

04/14/2019 15:21:08	Inbound	Hey Gypsy! Dunno if you remember me or not but was in Greene County with you in the very beginning. It was me and and we joked about whose tongue was the longest and we determined that you are indeed "well hung". Lmao. just wanted to drop in and write a few and let you know that am in your corner. I've been keeping up with you because felt a connection to you when you walked in that jail so little and afraid. But everyday that went by, got to see you start blooming into your own person. Slowly coming out of your shell. remember you sitting at our table and telling us girls, that was the most free you ever felt. In jail. With us. And that broke my heart. But when you get out, and the real freedom starts, want you to know that you do have friends out here that look at you and only see YOU. And not just a news story about your past. don't wanna a whole lot about what happened except to say that it doesn't matter in my eyes. don't judge you at all. If you ever want a friend to talk to, about anything dude. matter. I'm here for you girl. My number . Chin up. And keep that tongue to yourself lol.	page 555

I'm emailing from England. have watched the documentary about you, and you look to have a great family to be with when you are out. And you will be glad to hear that you come across as a really nice genuine and friendly person, very likable, and have touched a lot of people with your story. It's great that the documentary is making people more aware of munchausen by proxy and hopefully could help a lot of people in similar situations. heard about your engagement on the Free_Gypsy_rose blanchard facebook page, so congratulations, you deserve happiness. -It would be great to get a reply, but that is your choice if you do or not, maybe you have hundreds of emails and can't reply. hope you all the best, and one day you will be walking out of that place to enjoy your life.	page 557

04/15/2019 16:52:39	Outbound	Hey Dad, just wanted to fill you in, Did have a long talk with mom, but not before straight off telling her she could shove her "series" up her ass and she could fuck off this all after found out that reporters are hounding AND his family ALL confirmed to reporters that we are engaged and the whole media world went NUTS! it was even on the news and on E! news. needless to say was pissed. and told her a huge piece of my mind then I called mom and was more straight forward this time. told her either you stop all this shit or I'm souly having a relationship with my father. She swears she's done and gave her another chance, so an "intervention" isnt needed lol we will be focusing on the petition and moving forward. as fo she's trying to clean up the massive media frenzy that she's created by putting my relationship status out there because though some people are very supportive there are haters who comment the crulest things like "oh feel sorry for the guy because if he pisses Gypsy off she's gonna hurt or kill him too" and he is getting the comments " the guy is obviously looking for fame and money". Amongst the craziness is keeping a positive outlook, he is being strong for us both. he is willing to go through the drama of people judging him and our relationship, the journalists and reporters calling him at all hours for comment or interviews which he refuses to do, ALL just to say by my side and be my support without expecting anything back other then mutual love. seriously doubt you will ever have a better son in law then that, just say'n lol :) I miss you sending lots of hugs. love ya	page 184
04/15/2019 17:13:45	Inbound	Thats a well written letter to your supporters and think its helping with momentum as you say. sent an email today to a lady doing an interview about the petition. It took a while for ne to reply to her. sat on it for a month and decided its woth discussing your future and not your past so hopefull that will help get us over 100 k. saw where the governors office gas replied to someone saying your request for clemency was still under review. So have you officially put in that request. need to know so when write the govoner, know where you are in the process of things. want to write him with a 100k petition backing up the letter. Maybe I'll request a short meeting with him to discuss it. didnt like a whole lot of the media stuff but the attention may pay off after all. Sometimes you gotta take the good with the bad to reach a means. I'm excited that the numbers are finally climbing quickly. If only Dr phil or Oz could have helped. ow an apology however. think her play on getting it in writing really was the best help so far. Anyways we'll see you soon for some pedro nedro time Move you PS. Very proud that your reaching out to all your supporters. They are really alot of people with big hearts tgat want to help you	page 184

They're so cute! can't believe Hulu is getting away with using your name and not confirming the information with anyone. I'm sorry. I'm sorry all of that happened to you too. 04/15/2019 13:08:13	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, I am so so glad to hear you're doing well! Sounds like you're keeping yourself busy and really focusing on bettering yourself and that's awesome ! I'm happy for you. hope all goes well with your dad meeting your fiancé ! sure it will :) know you seen the show The Act but must say don't blame you for not liking the idea of it . will be honest , have seen the show but I've also seen a lot of your interviews and documentaries. If they didn't ask for your consent to use your name or even make a show out of something you personally went through, definitely think you should be getting some sort of profit off of this. That just isn't right to me . Anyways, hope you get released early , truly do. You deserve to. It sounds like your father is doing the best he can to do so and that makes me really happy. It's awesome to hear how supportive he is. Keep on keeping on !! You're doing great girl :) P.S. wrote a letter to both the state board and governor and will be mailing it out tomorrow after get out of work !! Sending nothing but good vibes your way! Take care,	page 500
04/15/2019 14:02:16	Inbound	Hi Gypsy hope you write back and didn't scare you away. really just wanted a friend to talk to. look forward to hearing from you thanks :)	page 545

04/15/2019 16:27:00	Inbound	Hi my new friend :) I'm sitting here bored so figured would write you. hope you're having a good evening. My cat had kittens a couple weeks ago so I'm outside watching them play. They are so cute! know you said before that you were working on getting your GED. That's good! was about 22 years old when finally got mine. had to retake it several times mainly because I'm not that great at math nor history. Looks like both of us are bad at math lol ended up taking practice tests and buying a book from books a million to help me finally pass it. You will get it girl! Just keep trying! Anyways, I'm going to get ready for bed now 5:30 comes up early lol Have a good evening and feel free to write anytime. Hugs :) know you probably get thousands of letters a week or even a day but wanted to write you. Maybe we can be friends or at least pen pals. My name i and I'm 31 from Alabama. I'm a single mom with a 5 year old daughter. Her name and she's special needs. She's autistic and non verbal. With working a full time job and caring for her, stay pretty busy. When have free time like hanging out with friends and watching movies. love horror movies and documentaries. watched "The Act" on Hulu. actually purchased Hulu just to watch that show when it came out. As watch this show, get upset over the way you were treated. Also, think how can someone do this to their child when they are healthy. As a mother with a special needs child, it hurts my heart because would give anything for my child to be like a normal 5 year old. But she is slowly progressing. She goes to therapy and school every week. In closing, hope that maybe you will find some time to write back. Tell me a few of your favorite things.. like snacks, candy, makeup, etc. Can you receive packages? would love to send you a care package. Thank you so much for reading my letter. Take care! Your friend,	page 554

04/15/2019 14:52:54	Inbound	Hey! dont know how to start letters but I'm sure you probably have a million of these emails. Asking you questions, people trying to talk about what i can imagine was a traumatic experience and i think it might be cool enough to just speak to somebody like a normal person. So I'm open to hearing and speaking about anything at all. Like literally anything. Hope to hear back soon.	page 558
04/15/2019 23:58:43	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! know you probably get a million emails a day, and more letters than you could have ever imagined! just wanted to send you an email and say hello. See that you're doing ok. always wanted to write you but I felt nervous. I'd love to talk and get to know YOU better. Not all of the things you see or read. If you're interested in a friend and a pen pal via email or any other means with me let me know! I'll tell you a few things about me so you won't think I'm some crazy. My name i 30 yrs old. have a 4 year old daughter. Her father was very abusive to both of us and there were plenty times felt very trapped. Not like your situation at all, but it was a physical, and romantic relationship and he used my kindness and took advantage of it. Finally he was arrested, and was able to escape his grip. Now just take care of my daughter and work in a coffee shop. My daughters name i I think you'd like her, lol she's into Disney, and her favorite is rapunzel! Anyways if you arent comfortable writing back, or talking that's fine. never used this app before. But I'm going to put money on so you can reply, and even if you don't want to talk just at least send a message saying "not interest" or something of the sort. don't meant to intrude or bother you. Just wanted to offer an ear to chat and talk! in my prayers, hope you are doing well and know when you are out of prison you will be amazingly happy. And literally finally free! You deserve to be free! Yours truly,	page 559
04/15/2019 21:29:57	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, My name and am a 20 year old from England, heard about JPay from a support page found for you and just had to write to you and spread some positivity. Firstly, would just like to say, that me and so many people around the world care about you so so incredibly much. We have been signing the petitions your father and stepmother have created for you and we have been reading the updates about your wellbeing and how things are going for you. We have seen recent pictures of you and have to say you are glowing, looking as beautiful as ever and it makes my heart so happy. You look so healthy and your smile is so uplifting! Every positive update have heard from your family/family friends have made my days so much better and have made me feel so happy because you truly deserve happiness Gypsy! also heard about your engagement a few days ago, which almost made me shed a few happy tears, congratulations! A happy, healthy, loving relationship is another thing that you truly deserve and wish you both endless happiness and a lovely bright future ahead of you. :) As said, I live in England, which is extremely far away from Missouri (obviously lol!) and wanted to send you letters in the past to do all can to hopefully make you smile one day, but recently found out could email you and came to send you one straight away! I live in a small town called St Neots, ina communal building called Paines Mill. This is a place for teenagers/young adults like myself who struggle to live independently because of certain mental illnesses that we live with, and to give us a head start on making a positive future for ourselves when our past and childhood didn't start off too well. This place helps us gain life skills, gives us therapy and counselling if we need it, and altogether brings us together as a group of vulnerable individuals so we dont feel alone in this big, sometimes scary, world. have been here for almost a year now and have made so many friends here! thought would mention this to you to let you know that know how it feels to feel alone and vulnerable. My mother struggled with alcohol addictions, and bipolar disorder when was growing up, my parents were divorced so did not spend a lot of time with my father. She could not take care of me appropriately as a child and progressively became worse with her mental health so had to move away to live with my father. Unfortunately, grew up into a very anxious, shy teenager with a lot of self doubt and insecurities and my father did not know how to get me the appropriate help, so had to move here. Even though did not have a great start to life, feel like growing up into a positive, cheerful, life-loving young adult, and only hope you are too, Gypsy. cannot wait for the day you finally step out into the world, free as a bird, with the people who love and support you surrounding you. Knowing you are living your life the way you want to, with that beautiful smile on your face, will make me the happiest girl. <3 Now, do tend to baffle on when get passionate about something, but don't want this email to be super long because know you have a lot of other emails to read! So just want to say, keep smiling, keep positive, and wish you every bit of happiness and love this world can offer. Lots of love and hugs,	page 560

04/16/2019 10:03:55	Inbound	Hi, Gypsy! Me, again! know a lady who has a YouTube channel called Without She is very concerned with any issues related to abused children, and she has covered stories on Munchausen By-Proxy. She is very sympathetic to your position and she also believes you should be free. Would it be okay if she read the letter you sent on her channel so that others could get the addresses to write to the Governor and to the Parole Board? Have a wonderful day! XO it's me again from Kentucky with the two dogs. I'm guessing you get a lot of mail, and think that's a really good thing! People showing their support for you and your case. really believe that you belong in the outside world, and that you shouldn't have to spend another day in prison! It is good to hear that you are making the most of your time there working on your GED and studying photography. know it can be very rewarding to take photos and get them just right. was thinking one good thing about the series is that people really get an understanding of what you went through when you were growing up, and how hard it must have been. It's one thing to hear about it, but when you see it acted out, it's just devastating. Seeing how mean your mother was to you made me cry. As an infant, my son was shaken by his biological mother before he was two months old. His foster mom took him to a doctor, and they got him to a neurosurgeon immediately and he put in a shunt to drain the fluid from his brain. That shunt saved his life! He had some motor delays, but he's doing great now. And he does really well in school. think mentioned this before, but when he was around 11, part of the tubing started to come out through his chest, and they had to do emergency surgery to remove the shunt. (He no longer needed it, they just didn't want to risk going in to take it out if they didn't have to.) This was followed by two more surgeries. And, it was awful seeing him in the hospital like that! For about a year between surgeries he was recovering and he couldn't run around and play like he wanted. I'm leaving out a lot of details here, but it was really hard for him not being able to play sports or to do the things that he loved. And, we both hate hospitals! will go visit if someone care about is sick or hurting, but otherwise, just hate being there. So, it just makes the idea that your mom wanted to go there so strange to me and the thought makes me sad. I think that's a big part of why your story resonated with me so strongly. All that being said, believe you have good things ahead to look forward to in your life! You can travel and eat wonderful food and ride bikes and swim and do every fun thing your mind can think of! wrote letters to the Governor and to the Parole Board and several of my friends are writing as well. There is a lady who does a YouTube broadcast called Without and she said that she would read your request to her viewers. She's also the mother of a sick child who needs a feeding tube for real. And she's done stories on Munchausen (sp?) mothers, and she is very sympathetic to your story. She also said that she would tell them anything that you wanted to say directly, but you don't have to say anything at all. But the good thing is that if she tells people to write the parole board and the Governor, as many as 6000 people or more will hear it, and they are people who are inclined to be very supportive and also to write. Gypsy, you are a very kind-spirited person and hope you are released very soon! P.S. Sorry this letter is kind of scattered... I'm ADHD but I don't take anything for it...LOL	page 004

04/16/2019 16:04:56	Inbound	Hi gypsy. My name i from Oklahoma. recently became very interested in you and your story. watched the videos where you testified and my heart broke. You looked so scared and alone and i've felt horrible for days about it. i'm 26 so close in age and can't even begin to imagine the pain you've been through, no one should ever have to. So want you to know, you're not alone, know plenty of people out here that feel the same way do about you. The world can be a mean scary place, but there are TONS of people on your side, waiting for the day you get to get out and live the life you've always dreamed about. If you ever need someone to listen, or someone to talk to feel free to message me. know you probably hear from hundreds of people, and can't get back to everyone and that's okay. i'm praying for you sweet girl and look forward to seeing what the future holds for you	page 131

04/16/2019 22:05:21	Inbound	Hello Gypsy! am very interested in your story and would love to know the truth about it. Is the Hulu story the real story or is it all fake? How are you doing? Do you still talk Hello :-) Thank you for reaching out with support. I am doing well, have adapted to my surroundings, besides for me, prison is more freedom then ever had before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED having passed everything except math, I'm striving to pass that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental health as well as to teach me coping skills to deal with my past trauma. most of my days consist of work and classes, and in my free time like to go to the gym, the library or just sit outside enjoying the beautiful weather. :-) live on the honor wing which is for inmates who have earned extra privileges though good behavior. I do have a strong support system my father and are building a bond 27 years not too late. :-) also happily engaged to a wonderful man who has had my heart for almost 2 years and has been nothing but the biggest blessing giving me the love, understanding and support that I deserve. No, and have both chosen to go our separate ways, as feel it is better for our mental and emotional well being to be completely apart. I am aware about the Hulu series The Act, however can not watch because do not have access to Hulu or the internet, so have little to say on it without watching to see just how much is accurate, however will say it its unfair that the producers of the show are using my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial benefit from it. have been on and continue to be on a long journey to reach my freedom. my main focus is making good use of my time, taking every opportunity to better myself through programs, classes and therapy so that when am released am able to live and function with ease in society. I do not enjoy the "fame" my case nor my traumatic past has given me, however do hope to become an advocate for children who have experienced abuse by parents with Munchausen By Proxy in the hopes it will encourage others to be proactive in recognizing the warning signs as well as give victims a voice. In recent years have chosen to shy away from the media in order to focus on my own emotional healing as well as the healing process of my family and friends. just want to live a normal life, move forward and focus on the here and now and put my efforts to creating a better future for myself :-) have made life long friends along my journey some have met just like this...lol have friends that have met in here, others have been just sweet people who didnt know me at the time , but took the time to know me and now we are very close true friends. I'm blessed to have loyal friends stand by me through all this. My future plans include, travel, a big wedding and a few children someday. my dreams may sound simple, but they are simply perfect for me. :-) I appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence, many has signed the Free Gypsy Blanchard petition created by my Now, must ask a favor. am respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for my freedom and write letters expressing support for my early release to either The Missouri State Governor Michael L. Parson AND/OR The Missouri State Board of Probation and Parole.	page 335
04/16/2019 01:25:03	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, My name i and I'm all the way from Seattle, Washington. watched the movie The Act on Hulu. am at a loss for words what your own mother had put you through. A mother is supposed to love their child and protect them. I am so very sorry for what you had been put through. will pray for you and that you find peace and healing during this time. The justice system did not do its justice with you. don't believe that putting you in prison after going through years of horrific torture was the right thing to do. You have so much healing to do and that is not the place to do it. I am so happy to see that your father and step mother are there for you and giving you the love and support you need. Congratulations on your engagement as well. hope he treats you like a Queen. You deserve nothing but the best. Praying for you Gypsy Rose! hope to hear from you soon so know you got this email. Oh and all my sisters are fans of you as well. ALL 7 of them lol Keep your head up and that bright smile smiling.	page 344
04/16/2019 15:49:27	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, wanted to apologize the last email sent you was about two maybe three hours before actually got your email back it takes a few days for me to get your emails just like it is for you to get my emails so after sent it looked on here and saw your email response that's awesome that you're engaged and hope you are and Gypsy sounds great together. hope to hear from you soon. don't know why haven't felt good at all... keep me in ur prayers and remember I'm always your friend until the end... ok Hun... if you want to physically write me as well keep writing and keep falling asleep while write. don't remember if told you but have Latant Tuberculosis has to do with lungs. Why do they have your last name spelled Blancharde on here with an E at the end thought it was Blanchard Hun.. Hope to hear from you soon.. Love,	page 451
04/16/2019 11:15:07	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! Thanks for writing back. I'm sure you are probably being flooded with letters since the Hulu show & it's so unfair that they are using your likeness to steal your story & make money off of you - absolutely terrible! It also must be hard that everyone has an opinion about it! Don't listen to the people who want to hold you down & tie you to an event or experience. There is more to people than an experience & it's been so empowering to see your journey & who you are becoming! Math has always been my worst subject but I'm so proud of you for getting schooling & trying your best & using your time & resources to improve your self! What's your favorite subject? Congratulations on your relationship! That's so wonderful you found a nice man who cares & supports you! wish you all the happiness & success - you deserve it!! How lovely that your dad & step mom come visit you! They seem like absolutely wonderful supportive people & im so glad you have them in your life! Every day i try to remember to be thankful for 3 things in my life & say them out loud. It helps me fight off depression when it sets in. Today I'm thankful that my friend is coming to visit me in LA next week from Portland & is taking me to a concert to see one of my favorite bands. I'm also thankful that i got my hair done & im feeling better about how i look because of it @ (I'll send a picture!) and last but not least I'm thankful for my friend Dania who is teaching me how to play guitar! It's one of my new favorite things to do & is helping me through some hard times now. What helps you get through hard times? hope you have a lovely day! = Happy Easter Gypsy! Bunnies & candy are my favorite! I'll send you a picture of me & my bunny! hope you had a nice day!	page 463
04/16/2019 22:57:14	Inbound	please tell me you actually get my emails and that you are not sending the same ones over and over again? i just recieved the same email you have sent me already. i feel you are not getting my emails. or you are forced to say certain things in your if that is the case please say so.	page 468
04/16/2019 19:06:40	Inbound	Omg! Thanks for the reply! I am super clumsy too so know how that goes! Lol good luck if u try a sport girl ! definitely will be supporting you and reaching out to have an early release. . You really do deserve it. So glad you found someone that makes u happy! It's nice to have something to look forward to when u get out! That's so great that you are doing well. was in and out of jail for stupid things, traffic violations and stuff. But it wasn't all bad in there. Just the food is horrible lol. Hopefully it isn't too awful where you are! That's cool you get a tablet though! found my bio dad on FB (he left my mom when was a week old, alcoholic) and he wants nothing to do with me still, 30 something years later. But it's ok. You live and you learn right! Only positive influences welcome in my life! It's so awful what happened to you while you grew up but I'm glad u are turning it into a positive thing. You are a strong woman!! Hang in there!! Im sure you have plenty of pen pals but if you want to write back im more than happy to chat!	page 491

04/16/2019 19:03:26	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, Sorry I didn't really respond to most of which you replied with, because was more in shock to even receive a reply. Not many people are good in math, so don't feel too bad. That's what calculators are for lol. actually was pretty good in math. Kind of slacked my senior year though. English was my favorite subject though, along with art and music. Lol Aurora Rose is a beautiful name. Did you pick it after Sleep beauty? I'm sure you will be fine trying sports. Softball and basketball was my favorite. For fun as a kid loved roller blading. used to think was a "soul skater" from the disney movie Brink lol when you play sports, just remember practice makes perfect. As long as you try, that's all that matters. I'm not into country music, at all. love all music, but for some reason, could never get into country. Then again, I'm not a huge rap fan either. Especially the rap now a days. Back in the day, rap would tell a story, and now not so much. Billie Eilish is a music genius, especially for her age. been listening to her a lot lately. usually listen to 80's or 90's music. don't really know new artists, unless stumble upon them on social media lol. actually have a concert of one of my favorite bands coming up soon. Marianas Trench. They are from Canada, so they don't come around where we live often. Last time they did they opened for Simple Plan. Went to Boston MA to watch them play for about 1/2 hr. Lol this is the first concert they have on their own here, so I'm pretty excited. love the arts. actually just went to see Charlie and the Chocolate Factory Broadway play for the first time, and Phantom of the Opera for the 3rd time. Lol when you get out, you should look into seeing a Broadway play. Definitely a different experience than a movie. Plus it would be a nice date for you and your future husband :) I don't travel much, but would love to go see the northern lights one day. My cousin went, and she said it was breath taking. don't really have much family, and am recently single, so I'm hoping when I finally find the one, will be able to travel with them. wouldn't mind even just driving cross country. Lol Rhode Island is pretty boring, but usually people who are from here, rarely leave here. I'm hoping someday that's not the case for me lol. Fingers crossed :) Anywho, sorry know you're probably busy. Talk to you soon Gypsy, Thank you for your reply @ That's so great to hear of all the things you get to do in there. Photography is so fun and such a great way to express yourself while also showing and bringing out beauty in things and people around you. The northern lights would be cool. I've never seen them either. You should come to Bend, it's so beautiful here and there are so many amazing hikes, waterfalls, swimming holes, and floating the river is so fun and relaxing. You are doing such great things, can only imagine what you'll accomplish when you get out. That's amazing that you've found love. Congratulations on your engagement. know you've probably heard before, but just be cautious. You don't deserve anymore hurt in your life or to be taken advantage of, you deserve nothing but the best, both while you're in there and when you're out here. I'm sorry to hear that Hulu did not get your permission to do the show. The good thing that will come from it is exposure for you, people who didn't know your story (like myself) will learn about it and will voice and show their support. will definitely try to write for an early release, however I'm not sure how much good it will do coming from someone that doesn't know you personally. will also share your message and the address with people for them to send letters for early release requests. Thanks again for replying, hope it's really you and not a copy and paste message, although I'd understand if it was- if you receive a bunch of letters it would make sense to do it that way. expected my message to go unanswered and that would've been completely fine as long as you got my message and knew that we support you and wish nothing but the best for you Alittle about us, just turned 30 last month (eek), my amazing (25) and our (6) and we live in Bend, Oregon. 04/16/2019 09:20:35	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, Sorry I didn't really respond to most of which you replied with, because was more in shock to even receive a reply. Not many people are good in math, so don't feel too bad. That's what calculators are for lol. actually was pretty good in math. Kind of slacked my senior year though. English was my favorite subject though, along with art and music. Lol Aurora Rose is a beautiful name. Did you pick it after Sleep beauty? I'm sure you will be fine trying sports. used to play sports. Softball and basketball was my favorite. For fun as a kid loved roller blading. used to think was a "soul skater" from the disney movie Brink lol when you play sports, just remember practice makes perfect. As long as you try, that's all that matters. I'm not into country music, at all. love all music, but for some reason, could never get into country. Then again, I'm not a huge rap fan either. Especially the rap now a days. Back in the day, rap would tell a story, and now not so much. Billie Eilish is a music genius, especially for her age. been listening to her a lot lately. usually listen to 80's or 90's music. don't really know new artists, unless stumble upon them on social media lol. actually have a concert of one of my favorite bands coming up soon. Marianas Trench. They are from Canada, so they don't come around where we live often. Last time they did they opened for Simple Plan. Went to Boston MA to watch them play for about 1/2 hr. Lol this is the first concert they have on their own here, so I'm pretty excited. love the arts. actually just went to see Charlie and the Chocolate Factory Broadway play for the first time, and Phantom of the Opera for the 3rd time. Lol when you get out, you should look into seeing a Broadway play. Definitely a different experience than a movie. Plus it would be a nice date for you and your future husband :) I don't travel much, but would love to go see the northern lights one day. My cousin went, and she said it was breath taking. don't really have much family, and am recently single, so I'm hoping when I finally find the one, will be able to travel with them. wouldn't mind even just driving cross country. Lol Rhode Island is pretty boring, but usually people who are from here, rarely leave here. I'm hoping someday that's not the case for me lol. Fingers crossed :) Anywho, sorry know you're probably busy. Talk to you soon Gypsy, Thank you for your reply @ That's so great to hear of all the things you get to do in there. Photography is so fun and such a great way to express yourself while also showing and bringing out beauty in things and people around you. The northern lights would be cool. I've never seen them either. You should come to Bend, it's so beautiful here and there are so many amazing hikes, waterfalls, swimming holes, and floating the river is so fun and relaxing. You are doing such great things, can only imagine what you'll accomplish when you get out. That's amazing that you've found love. Congratulations on your engagement. know you've probably heard before, but just be cautious. You don't deserve anymore hurt in your life or to be taken advantage of, you deserve nothing but the best, both while you're in there and when you're out here. I'm sorry to hear that Hulu did not get your permission to do the show. I'm so sorry for everything been through. was in and out of hospitals and doctors offices my entire life but can't imagine what you were put through. would love to chat with you if you have time and would like to. hope your doing well. My name from the middle of Minnesota. I've followed your story for awhile now and just wanted to drop you a line so that you know you have people in your corner and that are thinking of you. If like to write, I'd love to hear from you. I'm sure you get so much mail though that's overwhelming. my name i thought it would be nice if could talk to you about everything if that's okay with you.. have heard that you were aware that Hulu recently released a TV show about you and your mom. I'm sorry to hear that. get that you didn't want to have your life posted on a TV app. To be honest can see why you'd be upset but to be honest with you see not so much a drama/TV show see the actual life of Gypsy Rose which makes people like me understand what happened more clearly. Honestly can't believe I'd say this but understand why you did what you did and in a way feel that there wasn't any other way around what had happened but that's all in the past now. want to talk to you more about you now and your future. Are you going to stay a couple after you guys get out of prison? Where do you guys plan on going? Will you guys eventually get married? know am throwing so many random questions to you but I'd like to know the truth....what the real Gypsy Blanchard has to say and not what a TV show thinks will happen. Please write back have so many more questions to ask you and I'd love to actually be able to talk to you personally Yours Truly,	page 558

I am sorry that you were in a living hell through your childhood. cannot express how much my heart goes out to you. don't condone murder but, in your defense, you did try to run away on two different occasions so murder seemed to be the only option for you. cannot even pretend to know how that must have felt. know your story, backwards and forwards. know about and know about Dee Dee. know about your dad, and your stepmother who seem to have your back. know so many things about your story. have so many questions want to ask you. So many things am curious about because know your story but don't know you. wonder if anyone does. know your family does but people just read facts and they think they know someone and they don't. I think, based on everything read, that you are a remarkable person. Through what you endured, the lies, abuse, manipulation, etc....you just stayed strong. You have so many admirable qualities. don't know what your future holds any more than anyone else does but I hope you know that lies are lies....the truth is you have strength beyond your comprehension and you have the power to inspire so many people. kind of rambled but hope you are doing well (as well as can be expected, mean). 04/17/2019 17:10:44	Outbound	Hello :-) Thank you for reaching out with support. I am doing well, have adapted to my surroundings, besides for me, prison is more freedom then ever had before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED having passed everything except math, I'm striving to pass that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental health as well as to teach me coping skills to deal with my past trauma. most of my days consist of work and classes, and in my free time like to go to the gym, the library or just sit outside enjoying the beautiful weather. :-) live on the honor wing which is for inmates who have earned extra privileges though good behavior. do have a strong support system my father and are building a bond 27 years not too late. :-) also happily engaged to a wonderful man who has had my heart for almost 2 years and has been nothing but the biggest blessing giving me the love, understanding and support that deserve. I am aware about the Hulu series The Act, however I can not watch because do not have access to Hulu or the internet, so have little to say on it however will say it its unfair that the producers of the show are using my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial benefit from it. have been on and continue to be on a long journey to reach my freedom. my main focus is making good use of my time, taking every opportunity to better myself through programs, classes and therapy so that when am released am able to live and function with ease in society. I do not enjoy the "fame" my case nor my traumatic past has given me, however do hope to become an advocate for children who have experienced abuse by parents with Munchausen By Proxy in the hopes it will encourage others to be proactive in recognizing the warning signs as well as give victims a voice. In recent years have chosen to shy away from the media in order to focus on my own emotional healing as well as the healing process of my family and friends. just want to live a normal life, move forward and focus on the here and now and put my efforts to creating a better future for myself :-) have made life long friends along my journey some have met just like this...lol have friends that have met in here, others have been just sweet people who didnt know me at the time , but took the time to know me and now we are very close true friends. I'm blessed to have loyal friends stand by me through all this. My future plans include, travel, a big wedding and a few children someday. my dreams may sound simple, but they are simply perfect for me. :-) I appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence, many has signed the Free Gypsy Blanchard petition created by my Now, must ask a favor. am respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for my freedom and write letters expressing support for my early release to either The Missouri State Governor Michael L. Parson AND/OR The Missouri State Board of Probation and Parole. I am scheduled for a parole hearing in December of 2021 and any and all letters are helpful. please remember to add my first and last name as well as my DOC # 1302048, in the letter.	page 112

The outcome really sucks, but don't think they should've just put you in prison believe you should have went to counseling & rehabilitation to overcome all of the things you have been through!! do hope hear back from you!! don't agree with what happened in the end, however totally understand how you felt like you'd never be able to escape hell you didn't even know how old you were. such a sad story & your mother should've been in prison to suffer the life you did so long. keep your head up, know you feel so much better living in prison rather than your situation before.. BUT when you are free to the real world you're going to absolutely love your life. can't wait to see your journey & your success!!! Truly admire you beautiful. if you need to talk	page 137
