10/19/2020 22:28:34	Inbound	Hi Gypsy hope your doing well. Don't know if you read my last quick email but wanted to reach out to you again. was previously a partner wit! working on your story. Our partnership ended over several things, mainly because didn't agree with how she treats people. She's a shit person. I'm sorry for how she's acted towards you and appalled with how she's now portrayed you, without being honest of how she instigated things. I've started my own podcast about true crime. wasn't going to talk about your story because of my issues but Ive decided that I will be covering it and working on the things she ignored. She firmly believes you were an accomplice in lying about all medical issues. That you knew and lied for financial gain. firmly believe that everything that's happened false back o don't blame you for loving your mother, but needing to escape her as well. get it, have a rocky relationship with my own mother, that have to keep at a far distance for my own well being. ran away from home at 15 because my birth mother and step mother were both beyond abusive. So understand how you felt to a small degree. And she didn't focus on was a victim of his family either. know you don't trust many people and don't blame you there either. So many people have exploited you and it's sad. was very hard for befriendng after everything said about you and made fun of you. was appalled by that and I have since talked and made amends for that. struggled with it and wasn't very nice. As a mother felt like so many had failed you that you deserved better now. hope to hear back from you. If you would like to answer question or make a statement for our podcast please let me know. would love your input... honey how are you doing? Hope things are going good. haven't done my podcast on your story yet but will soon. So wanted to reach out to you and give you some info just found out She's writing a book about you and being interviewed on some crime show being called the Gypsy rose expert. figured you should know. If you have any legal counsel you may want to look into it. Anyways hope your progress is still going forward. I'm back in South East Texas not far from your dad We've all had none stop hurricanes this year ... so much fun (NOT) lol Let me know if there is anything can do to help	page 688

A former friend the woman who was claiming to be a script writer last year, told me I'm now planning to write a book about me. do not approve, I'm very upset that she to this day is trying to profit off my story and am at a loss of what to do. I'm not sure if she plans to write it as she is telling my story or what...but think something needs to be done to speed up our book. if you can email me back or tell me when a good time to call is can call when its agreeable for you. I'd even be willing to go on record and announce that I'm planning to write a book if I knew it would throw a wrench in her plans. Thank you. Gypsy	page 074

10/20/2020 20:03:31	Inbound	Hello Gypsy. My name i and am friends Velazquez. We became friends over a year ago and he actually came to visit us in PA for a week before we took him back to NY when we went to see Phantom of the Opera. (I met his wife then.) Since then, we talk nearly every day on the phone, or we message if one of us is busy. thought explaining a little might be beneficial, because he is autistic, and he isn't high functioning as he claims. He wants to be like everyone else and make friends and work, but that is extremely difficult for him because he isn't able to accomplish many basic tasks, such as making change for money, or cooking a normal meal. He gets social security disability and has a difficult time getting by on such a fixed income. has been abused nearly all his life. He is bullied. His wife never really treated him like a husband. She married him, then put him in a bedroom and told him to stay there. She didn't even sleep with him, has never had sex with him, and harasses him about kids she wants to have that they can't afford every day. She refuses to look for a job because she believes husbands must provide everything. showed him how to block someone he went to school with the other day who was actually taunting him and calling him little autistic retard'. That really bothered me. He he was worthless and not fit to clean a stage, let alone sing. Knowing the dream that going is Broadway, that really broke my heart. looked at the abuse you suffered, and while he knows his abuse isn't killing him as yours was slowly sucking the life from you, he deeply related to your situation. He has been highly passionate about defending you if any negativity is posted on your support group. Many people post if they get an email from you there, and heard about posted. also understand why you would get upset, didn't know he was doing something wrong. He felt he was sharing happy news like others. He didn't realize he was different because you have emailed more than once and actually spoke on the phone. He didn't realize that something like that could even reach the paparazzi. There is some basic common sense things simply doesn't know, and he does need to be told. He does understand now, and is deeply concerned he has hurt your trust and lost a chance to become friends with someone whom he had hoped to talk with often. Friends are precious to him because he doesn't have many. He is stuck home in a bedroom 24-7 trying to avoid making his wife angry, and reaching out, or having friends reach out to him, is what keeps him going. He can't drive. He can't walk far alone, because he gets lost, so he only leaves the house to buy milk or go to appointments, etc. He schedules Accessor rides to get to doctor appointments. believes you to be a good person in a bad situation, like him, and really does just want to offer you friendship and get to know you as a person better. He will never post anything again. understand if he comes off a little too clingy, or if he messages 10 times because he remembers something else he forgot to say, but not everyone does, and suspect you might not either, but he isn't like us through no fault of his own. hope you will give him another chance. You'll never be considered a murderer in his eyes, Gypsy. He will always see self defense, and a girl who was young and innocent and didn't even realize the permanence of the situation. And knowing wants to be friends with you and show you support he you tried to prevent it, in the end, shows your true heart, believes you were never shown. hope you can find it in your heart to give him another chance... He was so happy when you called him that he had the best day. He was ecstatic to make a new friend, just dancing on air that someone new wanted to talk to him, and didn't judge him because he is autistic. best mention panics because he has very bad anxiety, so if he comes across as pestering, or obsessed, he's	page 809

Your heart is strong and has helped keep your light shining no matter what. can't begin to understand your pain, but do know that I will be glad to share a friendship with you if you would like. actually went to school and studied criminal justice and psychology because love seeing good people getting the justice they deserve. also believe in second chances, as myself experienced my own traumatic moment, though it pales in comparison to what you went through but know what it's like to feel like a bird in a cage that simply wants to feel the wind and be free. We all deserve to be free and have kindness shown to us, and you are no exception. wish could give you a great big hug and tell you how proud you make me to know how amazing and resilient women are. have your back sister, and one day if you would like, can tell you the story of my personal experience feeling like all hope was lost. am here today with so many second chances lost count. You are so deserving of all the amazing things this life has to offer and can't wait to see you get the opportunity to chase your dreams. am not sure if it's true but heard you got married recently so if that's the case then CONGRATULATIONS! hope you two have the best lives together. currently live in IL, actually just bought my first home here. If you ever find yourself out this way, I'd be more than happy to show you around! IL has some great areas and depending on what your interests are there is so much to do and eat! don't want to make this letter too long or boring as know this is the very first letter sending to you and although feel as though I've known you for some time now because your story hit me years ago, still want to get to genuinely know and learn more about you if you would like that. What your likes are, favorite books and movies are and if you could pick your perfect day, what would it look like? hope you have been having a good time as good as can be, and hope you will accept my invitation to be friends. I'd love to get to know one another and if you think we can be gal pals then please don't hesitate to write back. will send you a pic of myself if you are curious to see what look like! im sorry you were physically and mentally abused forced to use a wheelchair forced to face illnesses forced to take many medicines iam permanently disabled with a rare autoimmune illness it is a blood disorder i get medical infusions every 3 days at the Hospital because there is no cure for my illness i hope you get out early 10 years in jail is way to severe for the abuse you had i will nrv for your family Scotty	page 816

I'm not doing it for attention (no one knows even have the JPay app). would totally love to just talk and be friends and maybe when you get released we can go for a cup of coffee, on me :) really hope you message me back, even if it is a rejection...hopefully not. basically what I'm asking is if we can be pen pals and when you get released we can possibly be friends?? know it's a long shot so i apologise in advance and promise to respect your decisions even if it isn't what hoped you'd say. have a wonderful day! stay safe please and stay positive :) Yours Truly,	page 705

He told me the procedure was gonna be big and was gonna be asleep for a few hours. That would arrive in the morning and leave in the afternoon. But was only under anesthesia for like 5 mins. He didn't even tell me what he did. But cant go to the bathroom. So I'm sitting in the ER now. And my wife has made it so much worse for me. She's making me ill. Here got friends who wanna meet with me. My good friend from PA has offered me to go stay with her for five days, Just have some friends time. My wife threatened if go, she's gonna go with some people i dont approve of. got a friend from Norway who wants to come visit when Quarantine is over, my wife is threatening to do something to me if see her because she thinks i wanna have sex with these women. Every woman that comes into my life, she thinks i wanna have sex with them. Her abuse to me has gotten much worse. She's still going on that killed her damn grandparents when had nothing to do with their passing. Nothing They were in their 90s. She's really got me destroyed inside. feel so alone. swear, Gypsy. She is one evil person. keep wishing had someone to stand up to her for me. Well, as I sit here, thought to myself"i haven't heard from Gypsy for a while. Maybe I'll send her a message." wish I could hear your voice. For how depressed I'm feeling.	page 603

I did see her post the pictures and people were being rude, spreading rumors, making fun of this or that. Now that you mentioned her desire for attention, see why she showed off the fact that she talked to you, had your medical records, and talked to your friends/family/other people related to the situation "Little murderess", are you serious? ugh, she definitely crossed the line, and 100% deserved to get blocked. I'm sorry you had to experience such toxicity. the important thing is that you have a place to stay. that's ok, I'm sure lots of people, including myself, are still trying to figure out who they are haha. wow! a new boyfriend huh? that's good! and judging by you saying "amazing boyfriend" I'm guessing he's fantastic! how'd you guys meet? if that's ok to ask, if not that's ok too. Gypsy oh my gosh that's amazing! love that idea, I'm sure you can help so many children and comfort them. as someone who experienced mental/physical abuse as a kid, and in a way still am, would've appreciated someone to talk to who's been in a similar situation. It would be great to talk to you, but understand if you get too many emails these days. Hope to hear back from you. thank you for reaching out and for the support :) I am doing good, have adapted well having obtained most of my GED in here and am now working photography, taking pictures for the women in here :) stay busy with work and classes, however in my free time like to spend a few hours outside or in the library :) sometimes go to the gym for a little exercise. I do have a great family support system, continue to build a bond with my father, he is coming up to visit soon. I am also engaged to a wonderful guy, his name i and he has been nothing but supportive and loving through my journey. My dad and stepmother will be meeting him in early May. so even though I'm in prison right now still feel more freedom then ever did before and I'm happy even from behind prison walls. thank you again for the kind words. Moved back in with my husband and got a new job that I'm really loving. Still daycare but a much bigger better center with room for growth. Now just the typical stressing about money lol. Playing catch up on so many Bill's and Christmas, and 3 of my 4 kids birthdays between now and January. Hopefully after January things get a little less stressful. How is the weather there? Its getting cold fast here in Iowa. It snowed last week. Today was surprisingly warm though. Naturally, since packed all the summer clothes away. :) This is my last stamp for now but will reply again as Ian.	page 632

Also in one of the packages from Venus, picked out a dress and something special for only me had seen this beautiful black lace lingerie gown that is a black lace bra with sheer long panels coming down. Its sexy and elegant. feel that if he is going to be completely committed to me, abstaining for the next few years to be faithful to only me which is something that he volunteered to do, then to impress. vat a Mom, was wondering if you can please take pictures with your phone of my pictures that I've sent home of me in here 'om He barely has any pics of me so I know y'all have tons. 11/03/2020 18:53:55	Inbound	Hi Gypsy how are you today? is there anything can do from my little corner over here for you? if there is anything can do that is within my means and control will do it for you! just let me know :) how is the pandemic effecting things in there for all of you? honestly get the virus kills but myself don't think its all everyone is making it out to be think the flu kills more people they've shown facts on it but I still abide by the distancing and such and respect that others may not feel the same and try to make them feel comfortable going out in public as well. juts because may not agree with others doesn't mean have to be a jerk about it, that's how see it anyhow, won't kill me to make someone else feel better. don't always take that view point on everything im working on being a better person though its alot easier to say or type something than it is actually doing but im certainly trying. so voting is today who do you want to be president? everyone goes crazy over that kind of stuff don't whoever is elected is nothing can do to change it and certainly won't stop talking to someone because of who they vote for lol but ive met crazy people who will disown their own family for it to me that is crazy. have you learned any new hairstyles or makeup tricks lately? im horrible with hair and makeup lol always come out looking like a clown so rarely bother hehehehehehehe. well will talk to you later stay safe my beautiful friend. :)	page 802

11/04/2020 17:34:28	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! :) You probably won't reply to this message but just hope that you read this all through. just wanted to let you know that I've sent letters to both the Missouri State Governor and the Division of the Missouri State Board of Probation and Parole about your early release, managed to get a little over 5 people to do so too and I'm doing everything possibly can to get you out of the correction center as soon as possible!! You still have 3-4 years left but hopefully me and you're friends/family/supporters can reduce that to 1 or 2 year(s). Wishing you luck and hope you know that won't stop fighting until you're free because you deserve every right to live your life as free as a bird! Lots of love, psy! thank you for writing me back :) such an honor haha. did have an amazing day so thank you or wishing me one. Hope you have an amazing day as well. Before go was wondering whether you have a plan after you get released, just a question, you dont have to answer of course. Like I said, wanted to get to know you better and not for self attention but just because (as crazy as this sounds) feel like me and you have a type of connection, even though we have never spoken to each other. already covered most of the questions asked but now want to know who Gypsy is as a person. 11/06/2020 13:21:41	Outbound	Hi Yes, know about group creating lies about me. Its something try to just ignore, she never has been one to be understanding of why try to lay low these days. Well am doing alright in 2020. Its been a roller coaster of emotions this year. My facility has suspended all visits for the last 8 months and no sign of it restarting. havent seen my family in over a year and a half due to the pandemic. All my classes are on hold, due to the pandemic. have my close inner circle of friends and family to support and encourage me. am healed from my broken engagement and have moved on to build a close connection with someone new. continue to make effort on my GED, but math seems to be something that just can't grasp right now.	page 069
11/06/2020 16:43:35	Inbound	I'm glad to here you're in a better place & have moved forward with your personal connection with someone new. I stay away from drama in fact have no clue if she has any active groups. was referring to another large group where people do assumptions rather than facts. Anywho. am not sure if ever mentioned why am the friend am to you. I'll keep it simple. can relate, your struggle may have different than mine. But when it comes to wanting to escape. was once you. Emotionally, mentally understand. I'll leave it at that. always tell people in my group or in others. Never judge anyone else based off your own struggle, because we respond differently. No one is wrong, it's simply their own coping mechanism that kicks in.. will continue to keep you in my prayers. Soon you will be home & ready to begin your new journey! have a question. have always been true to our friendship, I'm a loyal person. wanted to ask you what part of the message you sent can share with my group? i usually black out or edit anything share. Do you want me to leave out your new connection with someone? don't want to share it & cause you any drama. What's you're comfortable with. have a member that wants to send you money & she mentioned in another group, someone, not a member of my group, told her not to, they didn't speak nicely of you. Everyone now knows I will always jump in & defend you. simply set them straight. Anyhow the lady jumped in my private messenger & asked me to be honest with her. I'm very outspoken. With that said told her you aren't the person some portray you to be & that would mention her name to you. something or another. lol forgot the last name. Do need her to send you money? kind of a dumb question but she wanted me to ask.	page 069

I understand and apologize for everyone being so toxic to you, you don't deserve that. know we just met and all but can promise you will NEVER in a million years betray you or hurt you in any way, shape, or form. genuinely would like to get to know you and hopefully become friends and grab a cup of coffee together, like previously stated "no one knows have JPay" and think it's wrong for someone to use you for self-media attention. guess you'll have to trust me on this one, and if not that's ok :) Have a wonderful day best wishes,	page 705

11/07/2020 21:18:30	Inbound	Hey, Gypsy, Haven't heard much from you. So thought I'd send you an email. Miss hearing from you. Miss your voice. Just got done doing a readthrough of the musical Into the Woods. It's been boring for me lately. Listening to my wife going nuts on me every single day, non-stop. I'm now a victim of cyber bullying. Some guy on fb has been bullying me and he's posting very inappropriate posts about me in public pages. Saying stuff like I'm a pedophile, that sexually harass women, sexually harass minors, that scam people for money, that threatened to rape someone, even that have no sympathy for rape victims. He's been making threats to me that he can get my information and mail me dangerous things in the mail, that he could demolish me, that he could ruin my life. He said he's a terrible person and he can do very bad things to me. He said if anyone effs with him or gets in his way, he will hurt them as well. He even dared me to mail a bomb to his home. The dude is psycho. He said he's trying to detain himself but he can't promise one day he won't snap and do something very very very bad to harm me. The police refuse to do anything about it as they say it's libel. He's from Tallahassee Florida. So called up their police and they won't do anything about it neither. So what I'm doing right now, is I've applied for an injunction in Tallahassee (If you don't know what that is, it's like a restraining order. It's a specific order by a Judge, saying he has to do the order. If he breaks that order, they can arrest him.). So I've applied. The Judge set up a hearing for me and him to face a Judge over the phone in a hearing. I've got lots and lots and lots of screenshots of him threatening me and the terrible things he's been saying about me. I've also got friends who have been writing letters to the Judge (One even sent an audio of him threatening me, saying "yeah, he should be scared!") as kinda like witnesses. I'm really scared right now. I'm so scared if don't win this in court and don't get this injunction, this guy is gonna come down even harder on me. He also threatened my good (Yes, that sent you money and messaged you). He threatened her he was gonna start posting about her next. Sinc: works for MetLife., if they see her name being slandered on fb, she could get fired. She's scared too. She's been crying for days. I'm terrified this Judge won't take pity on me and he'll let this guy off the hook. The guy says he's doing this to teach me a lesson. He says can't continue to use my autism as an excuse for everything He doesn't understand people who have autism, they have a hard time talking at times. He even said "It's my Job to teach you a lesson." It's not his Job, and it's none of his business. So my hearing is on Thursday. I'm really scared as I've not heard of many good Judges out there that understand or take pity.	page 603

I never seen it that way. I'm low key in my own life. have trust issues which is a result of my relationship at home as a kid. I did see her post the pictures and people were being rude, spreading rumors, making fun of this or that. Now that you mentioned her desire for attention, see why she showed off the fact that she talked to you, had your medical records, and talked to your friends/family/other people related to the situation "Little murderess", are you serious? ugh, she definitely crossed the line, and 100% deserved to get blocked. I'm sorry you had to experience such toxicity. the important thing is that you have a place to stay. that's ok, I'm sure lots of people, including myself, are still trying to figure out who they are haha. wow! a new boyfriend huh? that's good! and judging by you saying "amazing boyfriend" I'm guessing he's fantastic! how'd you guys meet? if that's ok to ask, if not that's ok too. God: You were still awake, so when you heard her running, you started calling out to her before she even got to you... remember? Do you remember what you called out to her? Me: said, "You're okay! You're okay! You're okay! I'm here." God: Why did you call out to her? Why didn't you just wait for her to get to your room? Me: Because wanted her to know that was awake, and heard her, and she didn't have to be afraid until she reached the end of the dark hallway. God: Exactly. hear you, my child. hear your thoughts racing like feet down the dark hallway. There's another side to all of this. I'm there already. I've seen the end of it. This man makes my hair as gray as his. it makes it so hard to hate him when he does defend me. I'm confused as to why. He still hasn't reached out to me and I'm trying to forget him even though try calling all the time with no answer. its like don't know if he loves me or not, and he would rather keep silent to me then ever give me the peace and closure hn ta an Yesterday was exhausting. did the interview for my book and it was emotionally taxing. cried twice and revealed things that I've never spoken about to the media. There are things that i am revealing, hidden secrets and unknown things that was not talked about. think when people do eventually read the things that I've shared, they will understand more of why things happened the way they did. My book isn't about making anyone look bad, its about the truth and having everything laid out to people and it is up to them if they want to form a positive or negative opinion on the things shared about my mother...anyone in my life. It will feel liberating to finally be able to give all of myself to the public and be able to walk away from this project knowing I can put the past in the past and move forward without every few years another TV show or movie or interview putting me through the trauma again. Through time and will work more and more with one another to create what will eventually be a tell all for after my release. It will be a triple platform, book, a multi hour documentary, and a podcast. And it will be mine, my story told from me. And yes, when am no longer in DOC I'll get paid for it. Happy Birthda love you and miss having you to play with. I can't wait until I'm out so we can go party. You're awesome sweetie! 11/22/2020 20:30:26	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, Gosh, that's very selfish and rude of her to do that to you!! I did see her post a few things on the group joined not too long ago, however, didn't pay much attention to them since obviously wanted to hear everything from you and only you. But like previously stated I'm much more interested in the present Gypsy and the future Gypsy than the one in the past if that makes sense. "Little murderer", are you serious? ugh, she definitely crossed the line, and 100% deserved to get blocked. I'm sorry you had to experience such toxicity and know it's hard to trust me but promise I'll never bring harm/hate to you or anyone else. the important thing is that you have a place to stay which was the first thing was concerned about. that's ok, I'm sure lots of people, including myself, are still trying to figure out who they are as a person haha! you have loads of options and a lot of time, so it's definitely not a rush. wow! a new boyfriend huh? that's great news! and judging by you saying "amazing boyfriend" I'm guessing he's fantastic! how'd you guys meet? if that's ok to ask, if not that's ok too. Gypsy oh my gosh that's amazing! love that idea, I'm sure you can help so many children and comfort them, gosh you're an angel :) hmm, do you plan on taking any other types of schooling after your release or any start-up jobs before you apply for your dream job? what's your favorite song/artist? and one last question, do you plan on staying in Missouri for the rest of your life, or do you want to move somewhere that isn't Missouri? if so, where? I'm really glad you're moving on from your past, I'm proud of you Gypsy <3 \Wichac	page 705
11/22/2020 22:25:54	Inbound	Gypsy, I am a fool. Feel stupid I actually thought that you really wanted to be with me at some point. Then, you leave me like was nothing to you after you claimed that was the ONE. Wow. actually bought into that at one point. How foolish am I? You know what else is dumb. can't believe that actually wanted to marry you. wanted to give you a great life, take care of you, and have kids with you. wanted to give you my last name. What the fuck was thinking? can't believe that have stayed around this long for you. You don't deserve me in your life at all. But put up with all of the heartbreak and shame for you. still wanted to be in your life. But you have done everything possible to show me how ridiculous that is now. You keep me around to play with and buy you things. mean nothing to you now. I am so confused, hurt, abused and used by you now. And still love you even after all of this shit. WTF is wrong with me? No wonder you don't respect me... can't respect myself if continue to be mistreated like this. really do love you Gypsy and hate myself for it. I truly do. fall for your bullshit every time. You were fucking playing games with me last week. And then to actually believe that you and I have been together a year is the ultimate slap in my face. never existed if that were true, but the funny thing is, You probably don't give a fuck either. Now we have even more in common, because too no longer give a fuck.	page 815
11/22/2020 16:48:23	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, I've been so interested in your story lately and I'm just wondering how you are going? We care for one another, and WE DO CARE for one another... have got to know this amazing, wonderful, funny, extremely caring, sensitive, attractive woman with the most beautiful voice that I find to be the most Gorgeous and interesting person that have ever known and we can't talk or see each other ever because of what might happen between us. How can possibly cope with that? I miss you so much Gypsy. Maybe you miss me also. Hopefully anyways... know that am not perfect, and can say hurtful things at times. need to work on that and I will. Like said, love it when you call me an hour after our 15 mins are up. always have something to look forward to. got another friend of mine to agree to She's gonna be so happy. :) But again, thank you. so cant wait to hear from you again. If you wanna call me tomorrow (Sunday the 29th), be my guest. I'll be alone again. I'll have no one to talk to (other than my friend for a little while), but every time you call, have the phone right by my side waiting. Also, my says thank you so much for trying to help me with my marriage. so hope to hear from you once or twice tomorrow. God bless you. Thank you. Sleep well. 11/28/2020 14:05:21	Inbound	Hey girl! I've been following your story since shortly after it was all over the news. I started a Facebook group about a year ago after "The Act" came out on Hulu called "Free Gypsy Rose Blanchard" and it has over 5k members from all over the world! actually thought about writing you, but realized since my fiancé is in prison in Washington state (he shot & killed a cop when he was 18, he's 38 now) and use JPay every day it would be super simple to just send you a quick letter. not super interested in a copy & paste reply LOL know you probably get hundreds of letters all the time and DOC is pretty strict about social media screenshots (my man can't get screenshots from Facebook) or would send you a screenshot of the Facebook group. Just wanted to say Hi! Oh, and my name i: not Jeanette... that's my middle name. Take care & hope you had a good Thanksgiving!	page 798

11/29/2020 15:59:50	Outbound	Mom, I need to talk girl talk, serious talk. probably am stressing myself over something that isn't a pressing issue presently, but will be in the near future. So this is what's going on. Last Tuesday and were having our normal date night phone call and the topic of my living arrangement was brought up by me as a concern for our relationship. told him didn't want to bring it up too early because its not a time to submit my living arrangement plans until later. He and both agreed that we are serious enough to at least bounce ideas and talk about it freely. He asked what my plans were and told him I'd be living with yall for a bit. but brought up he and living together as well and that is something he would want as well. Obviously am a unique situation on the count of the full picture. and there are pros and cons to each place I'd possibly be living. #1 parents are older and in poor health, they live in Florida and he is the only one to watch over them, so him moving to Louisiana while they need him isn't a likely possibility so that option is out. #2 My parole stipulations could include that can not leave the state I'm paroled to unless with the permission of my parole officer, or that have to home plan to immediate family or spouse (He and are not getting married in prison nor care of a lot better with him just so can live with him) if that is the case then couldn't home plan with him anyway due to him not being immediate family or us being married. #3 if live with y'all full time then (If this doesn't hinder our relationship so much that we break up over it) he and I will still have a long distance relationship after he and waited 4 years to have a real relationship in person. that that's not fair to us as a couple and its not fair to ME who has already lost one man loved due to my circumstances to lose another would just be rebreak my heart all over again. felt tom like this before about this issue when was and he wanted me to live with him and had this discussion with you back then. Only thing different is feel like would be taken care of a lot better with him rather would have because: is responsible enough and has that stability to take care of me would not have had. is level headed and does nothing without looking at every angle of a situation. that part of his personally helps temper my impulsiveness. lol And feel this relationship is a lot more mature then the relationship maybe because i have matured some and I'm with someone who is able to handle what it means to be my partner. My plans are limited because have no idea what my limits are on where I can live and with whom also have not forgotten that y'all need time with me and that is my main concern brought up to him when we had this discussion. But also don't need to live full time with y'all to get that quality time. Yes need family support, yes need y'all. Yes want to make wonderful memories with my family and I will, But can you please help me think of a way can do that and make a	page 304

He proposed at dinner to his girlfriend, she said yes! :-) Ok where to start,..well its almost the end of the year and see the board in 10 months, December of NEXT year. and am nervous about it, but it will be nice to know the exact date I'll be released. started dating again, he is someone I've known for a year and a half. Mom is familiar with him so she and dad are accepting and he is amazing! Afe broke my heart I didn't think I'd ever fall in love again and then unexpectedly did. :-) His name i and he has been a huge support. My classes are still suspended until further notice. That's why havent messaged much, there is literally nothing much happening these days lol Its getting colder now that its almost December. It snowed twice already! which is beautiful but hate having to walk in the cold. Anyway, also big news I'm gonna be finally writing my book! Dr Oz's true crime is helping us go through the right process, it won't be published until get out but its wonderful to begin it. :-) So what's been happing there? Bia Huas	page 575

11/29/2020 20:09:28	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, let me know you would be asking for some advice. Here are my thoughts based on what he told me. Your relationship is relatively new, so planning 3 years down the road is something wouldn't worry about yet. However, here are my thoughts... You weren't able to grow up with your father and step mother and you probably would like to get to know them outside of prison. feel it is something would want if try to put myself in your shoes. If he loves you, ask him if he can let you have some time to live with them and enjoy being a daughter for a period of time. If he loves you, waiting 3 to 6 months, or however long you need, shouldn't be a problem. If you explain to him that you need this, and your parents would feel happiness as well, would hope he understands. It will give you time to acclimate to life also so you don't become dependent on some guy. Truthfully, for now, ask him if you can focus on the here and now. Ask if he can understand that you may need a little time to give to your family first, and hope he can respect that, but depending on how things develop, you may change your mind. You just cannot say yet. Best wishes,	page 808

11/30/2020 15:09:39	Inbound	Good afternoon, Gypsy. I'm sorry didn't check my JPay email until now. Thank you for the Thanksgiving greeting and had a quiet Thanksgiving alone together. spent much of the weekend reading. We are now back at work (no, we are not working in our office — we have been working from home for nearly nine months). Fortunately, there seems to be encouraging news about a vaccine. So, we hope 2021 will be a much better year than 2020 has been. What is your targeted release date? Are you still planning on going to a Texas to live with your dad for a while after you are released? I think you mentioned an interest in cosmetology — is that still your plan? It's too bad can't send you a photo thru JPay — wanted to send you a photo of our dog, Oskar. He's sleeping in his little bed on the table where am working. He likes to keep me company and never likes to be out of our sight! Are you still taking classes? Well, I'm going to get back to work. Just wanted to check in on you, Gypsy. Hugs,	page 218

Unfortunately family do end up turning their backs on you and it hurts so much. haven't committed any crimes but even then my mom, dad, and sister (the 3 most important people in my life) have all backstabbed me and turned their backs on me too, which is why I no longer trust them really hope someone approves your appeal, you deserve a second chance I like that name a lot :) hey, it's ok to be nervous promise don't bite. yeah I'm a little awkward as well but I'm trying to work on that but so far I've failed to become a social butterfly wow again I'm sorry, hope can help you though, I'd love to be friends although can be a little awkward so apologize in advance. ooo! I'm glad Gypsy and your other roommate help you, must feel nice to have their love and support. knew Gypsy was an angel hm, well since you told me a little bit about yourself, which absolutely appreciate, I'll tell you a little bit about myself. However, some things may be a little...disturbing. hope you're sitting down haha ok well to make things short, I've gotten physically abused by my dad and my dad would keep my sister and locked up inside all day, we could only leave when it was time for school, other than that we were never allowed to go outside or have friends. Later on, in 2016 my mom took my sister and me to an apartment where we lived for the next 2 1/2 years (we now live in a house). Ever since 2016, I've been trying to make friends but end up oversharing because getting tired of keeping things under the rug. To this day though my mom has been dating a guy for 5 years who is...not the best. Long story short he beat her up and cheated on her but she still ran back to him :/ I've struggled with self harm a lot and recently got back into it. when I was 13/14 years old my uncle would sexually harass me and told my family/friends that wanted to have sex with him, however, that wasn't the case. was harassed by him and his friend for 4 months. No one knows the full story because was getting tired of trying to explain it to people who would later say was asking for it. Due to the lack of knowledge, I'm seeing my uncle in January. That's about it...other than that I've lost all my friends so I stay alone all day with my thoughts which has its pros and cons. Oh, like listening to music a LOT, do you listen to any music? I'm glad we got to know each other and look forward to your next email :) have a wonderful morning/day/afternoon/night) Best Wishes,	page 706

12/03/2020 01:46:23	Outbound	Girl been thinking about you—you know it!! Kept trying to remember to send email, and Halloween card, and Thanksgivings card—extremely inattentive to time as you can see— but thought of you all 4 days it took me to cook for the fam— yes, 4 days lol! when you talk to your Dad, have to tell him that made ‘crawfish pies and filet gumbo’ for our Thanksgivings— all Cajuns know that tune:)) How are you???? I'm gonna grab some time and send photos soon!! keep forgetting about that attachment in the app— Since started working nights, I'm a nightshifter like vampires and werewolves ha! got that from the HBO series True Blood, that was filmed in Louisiana— my daughter lives up in North Louisiana by Shreveport and she's even been by the house they used as the vampires lair!!— kinda cool!! Working nightshifter keeps me busy and enjoy the quiet and still of the night:)) ‘cept get a break at 4 o’ clock in the morning when everyone else is asleep of course!! stayed out a couple more hours after my shift and so would be awake for the sunrise and log onto my JPay so could read my incoming mail from you!!!! enjoy hearing from you— It's calming down out here after the election— just hanging on tight for what this new America is gonna be— it's wild year for sure!! I'm gonna keep in touch more often— if ever a moment tho that you need or want to talk to someone, call/email/write, I'm always around!! Happy to hear from you —today's gonna be a good day!! Take care my sweet and pretty love, and thank you for the greeting! Always, I'm doing ok same ol same ol here. but do have some great news, my is now engaged. He popped the question at the Thanksgiving dinner this year. :-) recently got back together with a man I've been kinda with for a year. We took a 4 month break back in June and reconnected in late September. He is amazing and what love is he gives me room to grow as a person. I'm not a political person but hope Biden brings our country back to normal. fingers crossed! hope all is well. sending hugs =	page 230

12/03/2020 01:46:21	Outbound	Hi hope you had a nice Holiday. :-) I do thank you for your support as well as those in the group. This is not a copy paste reply, actually rarely send emails anymore. started becoming super private late last year. needed time for myself and the hype of The Act really put me in a deep depression. In my year without much attention I've been able to work more on my education and more personal relationships. I think something people misunderstand most about me is that I liked the hype and attention, when in fact it was and still is something do not enjoy. have become shy to new people because never know their true intentions, have been burned by those who claim to be my friends and then exploit me for popularity. Despite all that, actually am doing well. This pandemic has been impactful on the prisons but I try and keep myself positive and healthy. :-) I've learned have a talent for making prison cakes! 1/2 bag of vanilla wafers, crushed up in a bowl, pour a light soda in the bowl with the crushed cookies. .mix and pop in the microwave for 3 minutes and bam! a prison cake. :-) You would be surprised with all can cook with a microwave. :-) anyways, Thanks again for the encouragement! have a happy New Year! -GypsyRose	page 798
12/03/2020 20:50:32	Inbound	Aww thank you for your reply! That's too funny about the cakes, my fiancé (Charles) makes cheesecakes, like when one of the guys in his unit has a birthday... he made one using a box of chocolate milk last week, forgot to ask him how it turned out! know about the microwave too haha! and his celly take turns microwave-cooking (he doesn't like most of the stuff they serve for dinner) and a couple weeks ago burned a hole in the bottom of the bowl they use to cook in! I had to order him a new one on his December inmate packages LOL completely understand about the not liking publicity, it's gotta be crazy having random strangers hit you up all the time! There's a TON of support for you in the group that made, although been very active in there lately. haven't mentioned or told anyone in there that was going to write you, and don't think I will because can just see being bombarded with people wanting me to ask you questions or send messages to you LOL OH, I'm guessing you have a has the JP5 (he wants the JP6, but it's not available in Washington yet) and his tablet keeps crashing/freezing on him! It's super annoying since we email back & forth literally ALL DAY! We talked on the phone a total of 4 hours (12 x 20 minute phone calls) just yesterday (we average probably 2/3 hours a day!) I wish these calls were cheaper! Ugh! Anywho! gotta go cook dinner for my kiddos! Thanks again for writing me back! Feel free to keep in touch, I'm pretty laid back & cool! 8-)	page 798
12/03/2020 00:43:39	Inbound	hello Gypsy how are you?? hope you had a good day today. mine was quiet until the kids got home. really wanted to write and say hello cant wait and look forward to hearing from you. sorry im not writing much this time had written earlier then had to go do some laundry now by the time sat down to write you have a burning migraine and feels like a cold liquid going down my brain which is weird and has me worried. anyhow ill ttyl) stay safe beautiful soul :) my son woke up and told me to tell you that :) he saw a picture of you and said she's pretty mama lol he is 8 he is super sweet.	page 799
12/03/2020 16:24:32	Inbound	hi Gypsy, no worries as far as my hair last night just couldn't sleep and kept thinking of this idea so at 4:30 am got up and filled the tub with hot water peroxide baking soda and vinegar and laid in it for a while then rubbed more baking soda on my hair and emptied the tub then refilled it with vinegar and baking soda and soaked my hair again for a while not only did it lift off my skin it started lifting off my hair :) it kinda made it not feel so dry anymore also. that is neat you are going for your GED wish I could have a diploma but it isn't really real mean it is and it isn't when was in school the teachers would literally hand me the answers or have me copy the answers off a paper they already graded no matter where we moved to guess being a military brat they all thought they needed to help me out idk but my parents got so fed up with me not learning they pulled me out to be homeschooled by the time they did had the attitude of if the schools don't care why should I? so gave my mom and dad a really hard time about doing my school work until they would get so frustrated they would tell me to go play tried going back to school for 9th grade but was being bullied so went back to homeschool by that time we all gave up and no one bothered me about doing school work anymore was 15 when dropped out we moved again to muldrow oklahoma and remember going by the high school when out doing errands with my mom and thinking I wish could go to school again was 16 by then but I forgot at 16 could didn't dawn on me really didn't think could thought I was to old so I didn't so to get a good job my mom got a diploma for me my dad signed as principal. So far it has worked for me no one has questioned me but my kids are getting older in school and cant help them now Sophia is in 1st grade can do some things but when she comes home she teaches me more. Also as a result didn't have friends and still have trouble making friends wanna keep my kids home with me and homeschool them but me and my husband talked about it not only can they not learn anything because don't know the first thing about school work they need the social interaction. besides dogs what other kind of animals do you like?? well have to go have to clean now and don't want to lol. \	page 799
12/03/2020 01:46:22	Outbound	Hello Gypsy How are you doing?? got my first letter that's what she asked I call her :) so far she seems nice look forward to pen paling with her as well. did something kinda outrageous and in high in sight stupid lol bleached my hair blonde it was as dark as yours it took three bottles of bleach and most of it didn't completely go blonde some went blonde some went orange some alittle darker boy oh boy did it burn horribly now have sores on my head then after the third treatment put purple in my hair, it looks pretty unfortunately my hair is rather dry and now every time wash it which have twice now it looks like took a paintball gun in my bathroom and shot it everywhere then rolled in it my forehead and ears are stained and cant get it off. see did this last time but it was blue same brand which is splat but with the blue it was only suppose to last a couple months like other dyes but it stayed on strong a year did everything too strip my hair short of shaving it now im afraid the same result for this one but wasn't thinking about it when did it last night ugh yet lol. im so stupid my hair just got back to healthy and burnt it again last time wen and had it professionally permed my whole head was so burnt it felt like poured cement over my head and walked around like that and couldn't touch my scalp. ouch. I know you have learned about hair and beautician if im remember right didn't you tell me that you were learning about hair and makeup?? if so any advice?? im so very dumb know. Guess got alittle anxious to do my hair since got fired from my job oh well ive been on medical leave for 8 months anyhow!! other than all that did they do anything for for thanksgiving?? hope you got to see your family, didn't get to see mine but shur was missing got alittle mad at me for missing them, guess he thinks shouldn't and maybe its not 100% supportive of me to him if miss them idk. oh hear thri there is a dog program where you get them ready for adoption, are you gonna do this or already doing this?? anyhow ill ttyl look foward to hearing from you it always makes my day:) ttyl, Din Lant annauing and ta Omg! I have no good advice for your hair, actually am not yet in cosmetic school yet its something wanna do but have to get my GED first before can move on to another class of education. that's a tughff. :-) Yes is great! she's only been my roommate for like 3 weeks but I just love her! we are similar in a lot of ways like personality wise. :-) we are a hoot together. :-) The dog program is something have not yet done, but do think if had more time in here I'd wanna do it because love	page 803

12/04/2020 06:36:06	Inbound	Oh baby, I am so happy to hear that you have a new boyfriend. know you have to be sad not getting to and in visits. Hopefully that will change soon. saw the pictures of your brother's engagement. posted them on facebook. can't believe you have seen snow twice already. Down here, we are lucky if we see snow once during winter. You know what it's like in the south. We mostly get sleet or freezing rain. Thanksgiving went well. It was different because of covid. We usually have a BIG thanksgiving and then a smaller group for Christmas. My mom wouldn't come over cause of covid fears. Since I am a RN, I have to deal with covid patients and momma is just too old to risk her and have talked about the book deal. am excited for you. You have a lot to teach others about MBP. health. pray that ONE DAY you are going to be someone to give speeches at medical colleges and talk about MBP, the signs and how we in the medical field can spot them. Gyp, do realize that writing a book about all of your history is going to be difficult. It may bring up memories that you have pushed way down inside yourself. With that said, writing your story can also help you. It will be a good way to get YOUR story out into the world and it be the truth... YOUR TRUTH. It will hopefully be a healing process for you and your heart. am so excited to know that soon you will be coming home. are excited too. see big things in your future. know you are an adult but remember to let your dad and help you when you do get out. There are people out here that will pretend to be your friend just to take advantage of you. The ones that love you only want you to succeed. have faith that you will. God loves you. Put God first in this next step, trust your family and you can't go wrong. Merry Christmas, Gypsy. Sending you love, prayers and hugs. Call anytime Hey sweet girl, will be looking forward to your next email with all of your news. It is so good to hear from you. Thank you for the Thanksgiving greeting. You try and have a good one too. can't wait for the day that you are home and your dad. Love you and praying for you too have tons to tell you which I'll write a longer email over the weekend. but for now, hope you have a lovely Thanksgiving! Hugs -Gypsy	page 575

12/09/2020 09:06:33	Inbound	Dear Sweet Gypsy, I am so sorry about not being in contact with you! There has been a lot of turmoil going on in my life over the past few months. And want to explain it all to you. I got the Corona Virus in late July and it was horrible, to say the least. And while in the hospital, with Pneumonia caused from the virus. They found had a tumor on my ankle, that turned out to be cancer. They started aggressive Radiation, which until finished with all my treatments, was told last week, was now in remission. I the mean time, the last message got from that could not come visit you. Because was high risk, because of my heart issues. was so upset, along with the finding of cancer. let myself slip into a deep depression. Because was so eagerly trying to help you. feel have let you down. Then, could not understand why had not heard from you and was having so much trouble with jpay. felt helpless and downhearted that knew something was not quite right. And just found out recently from my daughter. That she was the one that blocked jpay from my phone and tablet. She finally told me she had done this. That she thought was choosing you over her. And told me had to choose, you or her. That she would not let me see my grandchildren if did not cut off all contact with you or else. Yesterday she came by and told me, it was not you, that she still agreed that should continue my efforts in helping you and told me she was sorry. Told me to apologize to you for her acting so selfish. She also told me about a FB message she got that made her feel that she and were in danger. We talked for hours about this and she finally got my Jpay account straight, so could email you. still have time on my phone, that you can still call me if you want in case you lost my number. So much going on in this world right now and with my health issues that are finally getting better. Praise God. Another thing has happened, that has hindered my efforts in helping you. The B.A.C.A Club is no longer willing to help me with your release. They gave me a few reasons that will list for you to am so hurt that they have stopped supporting your release. do not know what to do. But am praying for clarity in effort to know what steps I can do to help you. Below are the reasons was given as to why B.A.C.A in no longer pursuing your case. These are not my opinions, you know support you no matter what! 1. In the amount of time you of been in prison, it seemed your priority was not on your bettering yourself, by not having got your G.E.D. yet. 2. They felt you have prioritized greeting a boyfriend and getting married and starting a family. They voted this has the 3rd ranking of self betterment.	page 674
12/09/2020 13:59:41	Outbound	Hi M I'm so glad you are doing better, was really concerned. understand how everything kept coming up. what am disappointed is with the BACA decision to no longer support my release. all 5 reasons are unfair to me and can be countered. But it is ok. Can you please send me my certificates back to me? that is hugely important to me. Thank you. will write some more soon. am so happy to hear from you. God Bless hugs	page 674
12/09/2020 13:08:53	Outbound	#1 have not graduated my GED but have passed in every subject but math. so that feel my efforts are not being recognized. #2 personally did not upplay my former engagement, or place that above my self betterment. my relationship was being exploited by outside sources out of my controll. My hopes and dreams for my future should not be counted against me and be a reason to deny me support. #3 That is completely untrue. absolutely DID accept Dr. Phil's help. Watch the interview and you'll see. cried out of being thankful to accept his help. So don't know what they are talking about they are misinformed. My facility is actually the one who will not allow me to have the materials his team wants to send me while I'm in here. #4 My former demeanor in my court records are yes, remorseless. However 5 and half years later have taken more accountability in my actions now, then ever before. People are so quick to pass judgement when they are the spectator. #5 My case and life has always been high profile. That was out of my control from the start. The fame was never what wanted. have told my story on many platforms because have one worth being heard and haven't received a dime to tell it. My main concern was being a public voice to those who can't speak for themselves. and have been exploited by many because of the high attention in my life.	page 674

12/11/2020 00:42:40	Outbound	My long term goals are to be able to be an advocate for children who have suffered from abuse as it pertains to Munchausen Syndrome By Proxy. Having the knowledge and experience of being a child/person in raised by a parent with that disorder, can spot certain red flags that others overlook. It has become a passion of mine and hope to one day find a way to create a legal safe guard for these children. Such as taking this issue to Capitol Hill in order to create this new safe guard that can one day be used to detect MBP abuse. As for my own personal goals, well am starting to find out that life isn't as predictable as we would like it to be. We don't know each other, and probably we never will meet ... but I'm here, writing to you... to give you strength .. courage .. and hope. I know you still cry ... still suffer. You suffer in silence for all this hell... but don't get lost... because love will make you survive all bad events... and believe me you have much love to offer. am writing to tell you that you must have strength... because here, there are those who support you, who respects you, who loves you, and who awaits you .. Don't not feel weak ... there are dark days for everyone .. but this is life, and this is how it goes, never give up .. you are a warrior... a lion... and you have to fight, for you, and for those who love you. You are not alone, look inside, and live for those who love you. From a distance can tell you this... Hold on to the little things, at least until the day of your freedom... because, even if now it seems far away, it will arrive. Until that day... break those bars, with the power of thought... and fly as high as you can !! Crush bad thoughts ... and love yourself... because you are a SPECIAL WOMAN!!! If one day you want to talk, will listen to you with great pleasure and i Garlick's Facebook group "Gypsy Supporters". P.s signed your father's petition (for your freedom) and shared it on Facebook A big hug. Happy Holidays Hugs and Love GvosvRose Gypsy !!!! missed you ... don't worry sensed that emails don't process them right away. received it today (December 29). I'm sorry that your relationship is over and that you feel bad ... know very well how you feel. The important thing is not to allow these experiences to stop us from following our goals. If you really want to do one thing ... do it! ... Even at the cost of being alone. Traveling, seeing new places is the best thing that, in my opinion, can be done. have always preferred spending my money on a trip than buying expensive cars or whatever. I'd like to see the Northern Lights too!! Hope this covid 19 will go away soon. Fortunately, enjoy excellent health, pay close attention when am at work and when go out. Unfortunately, even here in Italy we have many cases of covid but the vaccine is coming (although would like to wait a little longer to do it) have many medical friends and am trying to keep myself as informed as possible. hope that when you will free this pandemic will be over and who knows ... Maybe we could even meet :-) have no children but I love them very much and would love to have them! will try to give you some more information about me in the next emails if you want ... really love the first trilogy. My favorite is "empire strikes back". also like The Prequel Trilogy ... The last one makes me suchs hehe. which do you prefer? as a little Christmas present ... honestly did a little portrait of you but it's a bit I sent you some money through ridiculous XD (I haven't drawn 10 years) By the way, excuse me if something write to you does not seem clear but have not written / spoken in English since 2015 (my last trip). will try to practice more with time. :* I'm glad you have a tablet again! wrote you an email on December 29 but don't think it arrived ... Eventually I'll send it back. This was the first New Year's eve that did anything ... was visiting my parents and went home. There was nobody in the streets... Throughout Italy, restaurants, bars and clubs have all been closed for about a month. Poor people. Fortunately, we opticians and optometrists stay open and survive. This last year has been disastrous... hope this 2021 will be wish you much luck ... But a lot... Wow, you have no idea how happy am to have a tablet again. It was so frustrating not being able to email anyone for like 2 weeks! and the delay in emails didn't help. 12/14/2020 16:55:59	Inbound	Omigosh Gypsy!! Talk about a happy surprise! I'm really glad to hear from you. had hoped that you would have been released with the covid risk. In fact before wrote that last letter back in May, looked up to see if there was any news about that before i wrote. Your attachment didn't open but assume it's Christmas greetings. I am mostly laying low with the covid. I'm a bit compromised so don't take unnecessary risks. miss some things but mostly like being home. taught myself how to knit and so everyone is getting a scarf with pockets in them. even ordered custom labels to put in them. It has a dove, the words: Love Peace, B 2020. find it really soothing and like the idea of homemade gifts. So, I've been pretty crafty for the last year. So how are you filling your time? Do you get any reading in? Are you still scrapbooking? Did you get into the cosmetology classes or the dog assistance thing that you were looking into? My oldest brother does a thing with support dogs taking them around to nursing homes. It's really nice. They offered him a promotion in the organization when he retired from his job. He said he was going to pass but after hanging out all day with his wife for a week he decided to take them up on the offer! Hahaha! I can't wait until you get out and get to start doing the things you want to do. Tho, with the covid, it may hold you back from traveling to some events but you'll still be able to go sightseeing. Plus you get to do things like get a dog, wear some pretty shoes and really reconnect with your family. Heal some more. Well girl, it was really great to hear from you and my original offer to help your time pass in any way that I can still stands, so if you need any books (I love Game of Thrones series) or magazines, I'm sure can do something. Best Wishes.	page 277

12/14/2020 07:38:36	Inbound	Hi Gypsy hope you are well x its 14th December and at work, its been quiet. was thinking about you and was thinking what sort of things do you wanna do when you get out? what things are you looking forward to? have you got any hobbies? my hobby is crochet, like to crochet lots of things ie blankets and cardigans plus love to read, atm am reading the battle of the brothers which is about Prince William and Prince Harry. have family in Pittsburgh and had some bad news as they all have covid and lost my uncle plus my cousin is in hospital on oxygen so we are all praying for them , we dont want to lose anyone else x really hope you are staying safe and healthy x	page 806
12/14/2020 10:25:00	Inbound	Bishhhhhhh. Call me sometime soon. got so much to tell you! just love you!	page 819
12/14/2020 17:32:40	Inbound	Happy Holidays Gypsy know we don't know each other but I feel very drawn towards you. had a horrible upbringing not near as bad as yours but definitely up there, had to grow up and move out on my own when was only 14 to escape the abuse. lived a life of wrong decisions for many years, even got sent to the woman's penitentiary for 3 years for selling drugs, both my parents died way to early but honestly believe that was their karma for being horrible parents. My point is no matter how bad things may seem or get just know that one day it will all get better. It took me many years to rebuild a better life for myself, first got my class 1 drivers license and was a fluid hauler then became a nail technician and owned a nail salon for 5 years and just recently have opened a children's clothing store called Wicked Littlez in the town of Drayton Valley, Alberta Canada ca So no matter what don't let anyone tell you that you can't achieve a beautiful future because of your past your past is exactly that your past, all you can do each day is keep creating that future you deserve and desire one day at a time. Hopefully I'll hear back from you and maybe build a friendship but don't expect it but would definitely welcome will also be sending you $20 as a little Christmas gift	page 859
12/15/2020 08:46:11	Inbound	know I told email you and I'm sorry for being late. Hope all is well with you!! Are you still doing Cosmetology?? How's school going?? know whatever you're doing you'll succeed. Weather here has been a little crazy. We had a cold spell and then went back into upper 60's and low 70's. I'll be going to Michigan on the 20th until the 27th to spend Christmas with my family. It's been 5 years since I've spent Christmas with them. hope Covid has calmed down there. Scary times for us all. Wishing you a blessed Christmas!! Hugs and prayers and love, Hi Gypsy, I your story on Dr.Phil and your Dad and are friends on Facebook and I'm also in your Family Support Group. just want you to know how proud am of your accomplishments!! I'm also very sorry your Mother had Munchhausen by Proxy and what you had to endure in your life. Here's a little info about me: I'm 59 years old have a daughter 32 and 2 granddaughter: 11 9, originally from Michigan but moved t 3 years ago. I'm happily married. never thought I'd meet the love of my life through his cousin who is also my best friend. know you're engaged tommy and I'm very happy for you both. won't make this long because know you have a lot going on in Prison. just want you to know I'm here to support you. You're a beautiful young lady and just keep being you. I'll keep you in my prayers sweetie. Also I'll be sending you money. Please use it however you need to. Hope to talk to you soon. au = Hello, :) thank you for reaching out with support. :) I am doing good :) have adapted well. prison is not so bad, for me its more freedom then ever knew before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED, passed every subject except math though I'm striving to achieve that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. :) do have a wonderful support system, My father and continue to build a bond. He and my stepmother are coming up to visit next month, they will also be meeting my fiancé. I am engaged to a wonderful man, his name we have been together for about 2 years and he has been nothing but my biggest blessing. :) I am aware that there is a Hulu series, The Act, however am unable to watch it so have little to say about the show, only that the production team and creators of the show has used my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial profit from it. other then that, i have heard its like 95% accurate to the true events of my life. as for me, spend my time either on my tablet listening to music, I'm a big country fan, or in the library. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental well being. :) I try and stay positive in my day to day life, just look forward to starting a wonderful new life when am free. would love to travel, seeing the northern lights is on my top 10 list. do want to have children someday, and have already thought of names, Aurora Rose for a girl and Railey for a boy want to do a line of work that either works with animals or kids love both, or working as a hair stylist. :) for now just can't wait for summer. think I'm going to try a sport this year...eshh wish me luck, I'm so clumsy lol anyways have a great day and thanks again for the encouragement. :) P.S I am also asking all my friends and supporters to send letters to Missouri State Government officials in order to help with my early release. Hello Friends and Supporters, I appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence. Many of ya'll have signed The Free Gypsy Blanchard Petition created by my Now, must ask a favor, am respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for my freedom and write a letter expressing support for my early release to either the Missouri State Governor Michael L. Parson AND/OR The Division of the Missouri State Board of Probation and Parole. I am scheduled for a parole hearing in December of 2021, however any and all letters of support are helpful. please remember to add my first and last name and in the letter. Thank You :) GypsyRose Blanchard	page 287

I'm sure you receive PLENTY of correspondence daily, and it would truly be my pleasure if you took some time to read mine out of the pile of emails in your inbox. My name is I'm from the midwest, and have in all honesty been fascinated with learning your case. You are resilient, beautiful, and just an all around incredibly interesting (and no, do not mean the things you have gone through are interesting, you yourself have a plethora of amazingly interesting qualities) woman. Your dynamic nature, along with other inspiring human beings, sparked a passion in me wasn't aware that had; telling your stories in an entirely new light, and painting your picture the way you eternally deserve. If time permits, would love to formally interview you, and publish a short article about topics that are very YOU focused. Maybe the questions nobody thought to ask you, since they were preoccupied with other aspects of your life. I'd love to know the little things you appreciate about your days, things you've learned, stories you've maybe deemed "unimportant", since your personality was on the back burner for a while. You should NOT feel obligated to reach out, but would be happy to answer any questions you may have, and include a list of references, articles (if you are able to visit the links), etc. to help you better understand exactly where come from. Even if you just need a friend, would absolutely be honored to just chat with you. Your kindred soul stands out above all. do hope to hear from you soon, no matter the context. Happy Holidays! If anything would ever be needed on JPay as well, would be happy to assist. 12/18/2020 09:24:37	Inbound	Hi Gypsy I live in Caserta, a city near Naples (Two and a half hours from Rome). Italy has a very ancient history and culture and I'm sure you would like it very much (and then the food is great!) ... Who knows ... Maybe one day you will come to visit me Yes, know your past, have seen the act, documentaries and videos on YouTube and have noticed your change very well ... Your eyes shine with a different light and your voice has become calmer and more confident ... for this reason, in the first email wrote, that you are a special WOMAN (not a child). You also got very pretty. I'm sure you will find your way in this world, you just have to be patient. As I wrote to you, made many trips: Greece twice, France, Spain twice, Thailand, America twice, Estonia, Latvia, Finland, Holland, Ireland. would love to see London (in 2012 was supposed to go with my ex girlfriend but then we broke up). In recent years have worked a lot and have not been able to travel (and now there is the coronavirus, sigh!) I am a great lover of cinema (I like all genres), love reading (books and comics, both adventure and author). also love sports very much but only those of combat (I did martial arts and boxing) which gave me a lot of discipline. want to clarify that I am a peaceful person and react only if I see a person in difficulty. a great lover of animals, have a dog (Jack Russell) named Misha (to be honest I think she has a cat soul, she always wants to sleep all day) eventually will send you some photos: D Can you train a little? (You can train even in small spaces) can assure you that it is good for the body and mind! Maybe give it a try if you like. Hope to hear from you soon. A hug, how are you? have "good" news! Many of my friends are signing and sharing your father's petition! Some are also donating money (I am providing} paypal). I'm not talking about big sums of money but it's a start. would like to give you some practical help in addition to the words of encouragement... Especially after knowing that your family has not received a cent from the proceeds of the show (the act) That's absurd! Let me give you a piece of advice: why don't you write your autobiography specifying that the series did not show the whole truth? Who knows that with a good advertising campaign it can be successful and make you money... By the way, recently read about people convicted of murder who got a reduced sentence for good behavior (the son of actor Marlon Brando was sentenced to 10 years for murder and left after 5 for good behavior). Is it possible for you? hope I'm not too intrusive with these questions. A big kiss.	page 823

He still can't remember some things and he will have another 3 weeks of waiting for the brain inflammation to go all the way down to see if they come back. He will be off for at least 6 weeks and has more appointments coming up. His cognitive abilities are limited, so he will be staying with my parents. It has been a lot to process. Anyhow, heard and she seems to be alright. She is rooming with some of her old roommates, but misses you We're wrapping gifts tonight, but having a tough time getting into the spirit this year. hope you get to spend some time with your boyfriend or your family, at least, even if it's just on the phone. And it is literally raining and pouring to boot. just need to be careful not to bum out the pumps. had to call the fire department. My basement filled with a little smoke when my new oil furnace bit the dust. My blower got soaked before we could get pumps from the fire department and my backup coal furnace suffered the same fate. hope 2021 is better because between this and work and my brother being very ill, I am at my wit's end. I'm sorry that your relationship is over and that you feel bad ... know very well how you feel. The important thing is not to allow these experiences to stop us from following our goals. If you really want to do one thing ... do it! ... Even at the cost of being alone. Traveling, seeing new places is the best thing that, in my opinion, can be done. have always preferred spending my money on a trip than buying expensive cars or whatever. I'd like to see the Northern Lights too!! Hope this covid 19 will go away soon. Fortunately, enjoy excellent health, pay close attention when am at work and when go out. Unfortunately, even here in Italy we have many cases of covid but the vaccine is coming (although would like to wait a little longer to do it) have many medical friends and am trying to keep myself as informed as possible. hope that when you will free this pandemic will be over and who knows ... Maybe we could even meet :) have no children but I love them very much and would love to have them! will try to give you some more information about me in the next emails if you want ... really love the first trilogy. 12/31/2020 15:52:36	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, Greetings from California! In January, another $20,000 will be deposited into the trust account, putting the total at the final $50,000 which will remain in the trust until you get released, so you can use it for housing, therapy, education and whatever other essentials you need. Also, the lawyer who helped create the trust, when I last spoke to him, advised me to encourage you to avoid telling people about the funds that will become available when you get out, so there's less anyone will try to take advantage of them or pressure you to give them money that's intended for your health, education etc. (It is, of course, yours to do with as you like. The discretion is just a suggestion.) hope doing all right. 01/06/2021 17:39:14	Inbound	Hi Ms. Gypsy my name is I just want to tell you how much of an inspiration you are to both my daughter and I, she is 16 and came to me crying wanting to write to you, explained why and cried while reading me the letter she wrote. We would both love to come see you, we live in Indiana and yes it's a long way but honestly you are worth every mile. We in our hearts have claimed you as part of our family, we sat and talked along time about how much you mean to us, and that would be proud to have you as my daughter and that she would be proud to say you were her big sis. We hope and pray we may have a chance to get to know the real you and what you want out of life and hopefully help you to put the past behind you, and pray you have all your hopes and dreams come true and hopefully be considered family. We know you have probably heard all of this before but please know that we speak from our hearts, in our hearts you are family to us, and know we are not just getting in contact with you for a short while but for a lifetime if you let us, and know we believe in you and want the very best for you. We are both so proud you are getting your education. Keep up all the positive things in your life hold your head high baby girl you deserve the very best life has to offer. There is nothing you can't achieve. Believe it, and go for it, We both promise you that we will always be there for you through the good and bad as long as you want us to, which we pray for the rest of our lives. Here is my and j is if you would like to call either of us, if you choose to only call one please make it it would mean the world to her, it would mean too but her happiness means more to me. So if and when you choose we will be happy to keep in touch at all times. If you would like for us to come visit then just let us know how we can be approved and we will make it happen. Also let us know how we can talk on phone to get to know each other. We are in this for you have any doubts about our intentions please pray put it in God's hands he will let you know we are for real and not just some people that just wants to be nosy and talk about everything that happened in the past. We want to be with you in the future and watch you grow into a beautiful young woman and look at you like a real person watch your goals and accomplishments come true. will close for now and pray we hear from you soon until then Baby girl hold your head high do your very best believe in yourself set goals and go for it. You can do this and all you put your mind and heart in. You are a beautiful young woman inside and out and know that we love you and believe in you. xoxo other	page 015

You know what happened last do we really still call her "the cookie lady"? mean don't know any messaged you. Real talk, only recently stopped communication with and have been romantically involved for over a year and there has been emailed me, would call him...but at some point stopped and looked at what really want in a partner, and was no longer that. It made it a lot easier to accept what will never be, and what is right in front of me that take for granted by choosing to still converse with! know what its like to love more than one person. Granted don't know how you still feel for all know is, i think i am more like you then realized and when it comes to matters of the heart, we want our cake and to eat it too. I still miss but the more time goes on in the relationship with realize that we have more of a real, strong foundation and he has the maturity and respect to handle what it means to be with me. and so long story short, You might think the grass is greener over there,...but is it?...nnnnmm Either way I'm glad she's doing ok. Keep your heart and weewee in check dad...who is parenting who? lol Love you Hugs	page 191

01/11/2021 09:06:23	Inbound	Hi Gypsy I live in Caserta, a city near Naples (Two and a half hours from Rome). Italy has a very ancient history and culture and I'm sure you would like it very much (and then the food is great!) ... Who knows ... Maybe one day you will come to visit me Yes, know your past, have seen the act, documentaries and videos on YouTube and have noticed your change very well ... Your eyes shine with a different light and your voice has become calmer and more confident ... for this reason, in the first email wrote, that you are a special WOMAN (not a child). You also got very pretty. I'm sure you will find your way in this world, you just have to be patient. As wrote to you, made many trips: Greece twice, France, Spain twice, Thailand, America twice, Estonia, Latvia, Finland, Holland, Ireland. would love to see London (in 2012 was supposed to go with my ex girlfriend but then we broke up). In recent years have worked a lot and have not been able to travel (and now there is the coronavirus, sigh!) I am a great lover of cinema (I like all genres), love reading (books and comics, both adventure and author). also love sports very much but only those of combat (I did martial arts and boxing) which gave me a lot of discipline. want to clarify that I am a peaceful person and react only if see a person in difficulty. a great lover of animals, have a dog (Jack russel) named Misha (to be honest I think she has a cat soul, she always wants to sleep all day) eventually will send you some photos: D Can you train a little? (You can train even in small spaces) can assure you that it is good for the body and mind! Maybe give it a try if you like. Hope to hear from you soon. A hug. how are you? have "good" news! Many of my friends are signing and sharing your father's petition! Some are also donating money (I am providing} paypal). I'm not talking about big sums of money but it's a start. would like to give you some practical help in addition to the words of encouragement... Especially after knowing that your family has not received a cent from the proceeds of the show (the act) That's absurd! Let me give you a advice: why don't you write your auto bio book specifying that the series did not show the whole truth? Who knows that with a good advertising campaign it can be successful and make you money... By the way, recently read about people convicted of murder who got a reduced sentence for good behavior (the son of actor marlon brando was sentenced to 10 years for murder and left after 5 for good behavior). Is it possible for you? hope I'm not too intrusive with these questions. A big kiss.	page 823

01/11/2021 16:42:49	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! My name is) heard about your story and wanted to write you. if you don't mind answering some of my questions, would be so happy. This isn't being published obviously, i am just in a psychology class in my school and learned about MSBP, so! was intrigued by your story, nor have i ever spoken to someone incarcerated, so and wanted to hear from you about your life. What is a your day to day life like in Prison? could imagine the food wouldn't be great :- I am so picky! can't imagine life in prison without McDonald's LOL. Are you allowed to watch Tv? what do you guys do for entertainment? Have you spoken to all? also was wondering what you plan to do once you get out of prison. Is there anywhere you want to go first? What do you want your first meal to be? know these seem like silly questions but i never really realized how much people take my daily freedom for granted until recently. Do you have a dream job once you are released? and i have one more question, how do you stay so positive while you are serving your sentence? feel like would be so unmotivated and just give up. It is inspiring to see how you turned such a horrible experience and childhood to learn a lot and make the best out of such a horrible situation. Anyways, sending you positive energy and the best of luck. Best,	page 866

This is Gypsy Blanchard, am writing to all who has sent me emails of encouragement and support to please know that I DO very much appreciate the kindness of your time to write me. don't always have the time to respond as have a full schedule with work and school as well as other beneficial classes that require a lot of my full attention. However do want to convey the outreach of supportive mail has made my day. :-) Unfortunately, my Jpay account on my personal tablet is now having technical issues due to the overload of emails received on a daily as well as a massive amount of contacts in my contact list. I am respectfully asking all of the people who has sent me emails and have only received one or two response emails, to please delete me from your Jpay account or remove yourself as am just trying to solve the technical issues that I am having with my account, please do not take offense to this request. 01/12/2021 13:37:54	Outbound	Q: How do you feel about many writing you? A: feel blessed to have so many supporting me, and have made wonderful friends this way, however with so many it leaves little individual time for friendship. There is no way can write back let alone become close friends with so many, but it is sweet to get encouragement. Q: How was your Christmas? A: the same as every year just ok. feel a little lonely and depressed during the holidays. Q: What would you like to do with your life after release? A: Live my best life. doing the things that others take for granted such as spending time with family and loved ones, going to the beach and of course shopping. :-) Q: How do you feel about the Act? A: was not a part of the production, it was all done behind my back and was never compensated for the show using my story. I am not happy about those things however am glad the show highlighted the growing problem of Munchausen By Proxy. Q: What is your dream job? A: working for Disney World. Q: Are you having to take any medications while in prison? A: Heck No! am perfectly healthy. Q: How are you overall? Physically am great. Mentally am in a good place. In prison they score you based on your overall mental health and am the best score someone could be as a 1 being the best. have issues such as PTSD, depression, trust issues and have days that are rough but honestly am doing alright. live my life in acceptance that this is my life right now but have so much to look forward to once released, and I'll leave this place taking all have learned with me. have grown up a lot in the almost 6 years I've been incarcerated. Emotionally feel like am ready to take on the next steps in my journey. have my friends, family and everyone who supports me to help me believe in myself Q: If you could go anywhere in the world once released, where would you go and why? A: Home. For far too long I've been kept away from those love and there is no place more beautiful than that. Now as a vacation, would like to see the northern lights. Q: What was your last dream about? A: dreamed that was standing in the middle of the make up aisle of Walmart. (I love make up)	page 321

01/13/2021 20:54:57	Outbound	Hi, Is this from Visioncon? if not. used to know Hello, :) thank you for reaching out with support. :) lam doing good :) have adapted well. prison is not so bad, for me its more freedom then ever knew before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED, passed every subject except math though I'm striving to achieve that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. :) do have a wonderful support system, My father and continue to build a bond. He and my stepmothe are coming up to visit next month, they will also be meeting my fiancé. am engaged to a wonderful man, his name we have been together for about 2 years and he has been nothing but my biggest blessing. :) lam aware that there is a Hulu series, The Act, however am unable to watch it so have little to say about the show, only that the production team and creators of the show has used my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial profit from it. other then that, i have heard its like 95% accurate to the true events of my life. as for me, spend my time either on my tablet listening to music, I'm a big country fan, or in the library. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental well being. :) I try and stay positive in my day to day life, just look forward to starting a wonderful new life when am free. would love to travel, seeing the northern lights is on my top 10 list. do want to have children someday, and have already thought of names, Aurora Rose for a girl and Railey for a boy want to do a line of work that either works with animals or kids love both, or working as a hair stylist. :) for now just can't wait for summer. think I'm going to try a sport this year,...eshh wish me luck, I'm so clumsy lol anyways have a great day and thanks again for the encouragement. :) P.S lam also asking all my friends and supporters to send letters to Missouri State Government officials in order to help with my early release. Hello Friends and Supporters, I appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence. Many of ya'll have signed The Free Gypsy Blanchard Petition created by my father Now, must ask a favor, am respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for my freedom and write a letter expressing support for my early release to either the Missouri State Governor Michael L. Parson AND/OR The Division of the Missouri State Board of Probation and Parole. lam scheduled for a parole hearing in December of 2021, however any and all letters of support are helpful. please remember to add my first and last name and in the letter. However, curiosity as well as interest out weighed my logic and reasoning. don't want to come off as a suck up but after years of articles and documentaries and research I've done your innocents screams at a volume that should most definitely be heard. I've been wrapped up in your story... your life for almost two years of mine now and have recurring questions that I just can't satisfy with interviews. Gypsy, are you okay? How are you doing now? Does actual prison even compare to what you lived through those 20+ years? I'm hoping to hear from you Gypsy. If not, pray for your wellbeing and happiness when you're released. = Hi	page 866
01/14/2021 20:01:49	Inbound	Lol yea. know. Im trying to hold it all and have come a long way together and neither of us are the same anymore. Sometimes its a real easy content blessed feeling and sometimes feel like I've cut myself short. Its a never ending thought experiment. Do feel proud or ashamed ? It really is just easier to stay in a stale relationship and ignore the elephant in the room. Especially when its with your long time best friend. But all said. dont let it take too much of my happiness away. do what want for the most part and still enjoy spending time wit! but when the movie is over gotta go outside and do something lol. And her being really layed up sucks soo bad. wanna do stuff with her but she is on a whole other intellectual and professional level and gives me a vent with some level of mischief and cant. romance but dont expect it to progress to much more in the near future. What have been told is that y'all want to push for me to be placed into a mental facility once released. And am here to tell you, that you and her are going to have an impossible time doing that. am a mental health score of 1, being the best there is and have taken every mental health class offered to me. So it won't matter what she trys to pull, she doesn't know the first thing about me or my progress made in the time I've done. Her nor you are family and can not be at my hearing. have never rejected mental help for my issues, in fact I've requested to be placed in monthly therapy but again, because lam so well off the prison focuses on the worst cases in here and am not one of them. has had beef with me ever since left By Proxy behind. called her out on her shit and took a stand for myself. if she hates me for that then fine. but please tell her, if she wants to go toe to toe I'll go to the media and will expose her for the fraud she is. All want is to be left alone, have done my time, let me go home. She is causing unnecessary problems. If she and you are concerned about my stability, am in fact going to see a therapist when home as well. so I'm none of y'all concern. That is all have to say on the matter and will be ready for what she trys to throw at me.	page 566

So for my hearing am submitting y'all address as my home plan. I can't is pulling this shit. 01/15/2021 22:18:25	Outbound	Mi I'm glad we had the chance to talk tonight and could explain and inform you of my current health and keep you up to date about what's going on with me. I'm sorry that you were led to believe that I'm not getting any kind of help or education about life or preparation for the real world while incarcerated. I'm really baffled that all this never told you about all my accomplishments and classes I've done. Like said, had still been the scared little girl was when came into prison, would absolutely agree with a transitional living situation, However after serving minimum 8.5 years with doing nothing but class after class, therapy both cognitive and behavioral...even teaching a class, more then ready to handle living around family. The parole board values having family support. know I've been through a lot, but have had nothing but a good bill of health to show am stable enough to be free. That is where stand. My friends and family will help me transition into the real world, being placed in yet another place where have to be away from my loved ones, yet another place am kept from living my life, yet again more of the same old is not what is going to help me transition. If you need proof of anything have done to better myself can send copys of my certificates of completed classes and or mental health records to show everything I'm saying is true. have gained in maturity this last year and thought it would be worth it to try and reason with the difference in opinions rather then come out feisty. What I wanted to mention is if yall want, y'all can submit a letter, however because you and I are not family to the victim, aka my mother, y'all can not physically attend my hearing. Anyone can write letters but not just anyone can be there. am allowed one person on my behalf to be there and up to 3 family members can attend that is all. have no concern for the former By Proxy show, my only intention is to inform you of my current well being and my plans to go home. lam sorry if yours and fancies mind hasn't changed with this information can only let my years of good healthy behavior speak for me come time for my hearing. that and my family and friends who know me on an every day level. they have seen, really seen my progress and they will speak as well on my behalf wish you good health and blessings.	page 566

My intentions are merely to understand and get to know you personally. You have a story and it isn't about your past. know you want to help people in similar situations and want to help you to help others by giving you a platform to reach out to victims with similar experiences. Again, it would be a short interview, maybe a dozen short questions that you can skip or refuse to answer. can send you the questions in advance for your approval. It would be a very informal, casual chat session. really just want to get to know you and to help you write the next chapter in your story. hope you consider this offer and look forward to hearing from you.	page 861

He looks out for my best interest and keeps me from doing stupid things. He is not afraid of speaking up for me and just is a good defender. One thing that is a personal decision is that he and choose not to have children. and No, have not talked about this with mom. love children and like the idea of having my own, but just don't feel I am responsible enough. planned on having kids when was wit but now just feel like having kids in my life even if they aren't my own, is enough for me. will be 45 by the time get released. With me wanting to time to explore life and enjoy freedom, it just I'll be 32 and makes it easier to not have children. have talked this over with him and we have decided he will have a vasectomy before get released. He feels that he is passed the age of raising kids, and accept my circumstances. So we agreed on having fur babies instead. it fits my needs and his. What love about my relationship is it is real. Im not living in a fantasy, im not playing house, I'm accepting who am and who he is. 01/21/2021 15:32:39	Inbound	Hello Gypsy! My name but you may know me from my online advocacy videos. I'm really set this up and that you wanted me to reach out! I'm not exactly sure where to begin. As you probably know already I'm also a survivor of Munchausen by Proxy, although my experience was a little different than yours. After started sharing my story online realized that Munchausen by Proxy affects soooo many people, and it really isn't talked about enough. I'm grateful that your story is being told to help raise awareness, but I'm a little disappointed that Hollywood is turning your story and the stories of so many other survivors into something that it isn't, especially since it has become "popular" and movies such as "Run" have only made things worse. I'm proud of you for owning your story and telling it the way you want to, and think that's super important. More survivors have begun to share their experiences as well, and it's amazing how everyone experiences it differently, but there are common threads throughout each story. want to be here to support you and I'm also willing to talk about whatever you'd like! With my Munchausen by Proxy experience, also was quite sheltered and had to teach myself a lot about the world and life in general - things that my parents should have taught me. am happy to answer any of those questions as well as wanna see you succeed! know you're also really into beauty, I'm a licensed hairstylist and makeup artist and would love to talk about that with you too if that's something you're interested in. I'm not exactly sure what you'd like to talk about but I'm so glad we are able to connect. Just know that I'm here for you and I'm rooting for you! Sending you all the love from Arizona! Warmest Regards, First would like to tell you that no matter what level of abuse you suffered, you are also a survivor. People are quick to judge someone's life and pass that judgement without living what you or me or anyone has experienced. They simply do not and will not fully understand what it takes to be able to push on with your every day life. However there are also people who will love and accept you under their wings until you grow your own and fly side by side and I am among those who will lift you up, not tear you down. If you need to talk, am here for you. Thank you for reaching out to me Big Hugs	page 866

01/22/2021 23:50:10	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, My name is me and a group of friends have been really fascinated by your story and we are very excited for the chance to talk to you. since we were only allowed a limited number of letters we decided to send one for all 4 of us, each of us will have a turn to say some things and ask some questions (if any of them you do not wish to answer it's completely fine and we all understand) Hi im there's a few questions that want to ask you, my first question is what was it like living with your mother? know the stories about what happened but it's always good to hear it from the person who lived it. My next question is when did you notice that things were off and that the medicine you were given and treatments you were given were not necessary? and what's the first food you want to eat when you get out hope everything goes well for you in the future, thanks! Hi Gypsy, wanted to ask you, if you were to dye your hair any color what would you choose? And what is your opinion on Megan thee stallion and doja cat? what is your favorite song? when you get out, what fashion trends are you excited to try? and my last question is did you ever wonder what highschool would have been like? love you girl! Hi Gypsy, this i wanted to ask if your mom had any mental disorders, did you think she had any? also want to ask if have any nicknames that other people call you, but the main thing wanted to ask is how are you doing? how do you feel? are you ok mentally? want you to know that we all love you and know it's not much but if there's anything we can do even if it's just emailing more, by gypsy i love you! Hi gypsy! don't really have any questions (mainly because feel bad for all the questions from my friends you have to answer) know you get hundreds of emails a day and it's hard to get to them all and if we hear back it won't be for a while, but it's worth it for the chance to talk to you. but at the end of it we all care about you and were excited to see what the future holds for you and can't wait for the day you get out Thank you so much for even just reading our email, were all excited to hear back and all hope you have a nice day, thank	page 863
01/22/2021 10:31:21	Outbound	The media shows my past. The me now, is very different. I've had to grow up very fast since being locked up. The person I am today is a lot more confident. have been incarcerated for the past almost 6 years and I have a parole hearing in December. I am quirky, kinda shy at first but I'm really honest, no filter. say what I think and give 0 fucks about it. don't go out of my way to hurt someone's feelings but I will stand up for myself when needed, and my no filter helps my sense of humor. :) enjoy music, have a vast variety of music interests, such as country, pop, rock, alternative, don't like rap though. I am still a star wars, SciFi fantasy geek, that will never change. :) I am a girly chick, love make up and doing my hair in many styles. draw and paint. I am a mix of everything really, having various interests makes it easier to get along with anyone in a setting like prison where there is so many personality clashes.	page 866
01/22/2021 12:19:37	Inbound	glad you finally got a chance to really grow. know learning and experience things for the first time being incarcerated probably wasn't easy but love how taken the opportunity and made the best of it! didn't know you had parole hearing so soon, are you nervous? If it goes the right way what does that mean really? like how confident you are, honestly could use some confidence lol I've always, guess thought less of myself than the people around me. do speak my mind a lot, but also refrain from doing so sometimes because don't like hurting people's feelings. Even if that means put myself my feelings on the back burner. As far as music goes love just about everything. play guitar and piano, and really like to be versatile so when I'm playing for people don't just play what I like and I can get the people around me into it too. You honestly seem like my everyday life friends. You also seem happy, and I'm glad you're happy. really hope get the opportunity to keep chatting with you and get to know you some more. feel like our interest click pretty well besides the fact enjoy rap a good bit :) lol Anyways I'm at work so I will end the letter here for now, until next time!	page 866

If you feel uncomfortable to answer any of them please don't answer the question: - Whats an average day in prison like? - Have you ever watched a show called glee? - Do you like Musical Theatre? - In the show, The Act, it shows you walking in a hospital with a wig on, on your way to see 'wolverine' that apparently you met at a convention. Did you ever meet this 'wolverine' guys and did you walk through a hospital? - On your prison iPad what apps are you allowed? - Where you scared that night in June 2015, 10th June, right? - Do you plan on watching the act when you get out? - Do you believe you should have got 10 years? Personally Dont. (This next bit will focus mainly on the Act) - Are you still friends with Lacey? - When you ran away and your mum caught you, where were you? - Did your mum actually control what you said in interviews by squeezing your arm? - Did your mum make you give her diabetes jabs? - Did you get up in the night to eat/ drink sugary things? Thankyou for your time, i can't imagine all the suffering, i hope your doing well,	page 866

01/24/2021 13:37:32	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, My name is I am writing you because was really touched by your story. I am a mother of a 4 year old boy named Ocean. am American but am currently in Portugal with my son's father who is Portuguese. We are currently in a Covid lockdown here and have been studying up on you. I think you are a beautiful young woman and wish you all the luck in the world. was unfairly thrown into jail for a short time over my medical marijuana. have a horrible liver and use marijuana as medication. Even with a prescription the police were assholes and threw me in jail over it. It was only for a short time but in that time they took my son from me. fought really hard and got him back immediately. can never imagine what would be like not be with my son everyday. The police deported my husband back to Portugal over this weed thing and that is why we're now living here. We actually rent a small house inside the castle walls of Obidos. Obidos is a medieval castle. It is crazy to be in a lockdown in a castle. think to myself, no matter how bad life is going....wow Avalon, you really are princess now. If you are into things like Castles and history, would be more than happy to send you photos! I am sorry to blabber on, but feel very connected to you. have been a professional author and film maker for many years. The reason why paused making feature films was because the stories never meant anything to me personally. became a film maker and author to share stories that mean something. just wanted to say if you ever wanted to produce something one day let me know. would like to be able to offer what can to your story. You really have been through a lot and the upbeat attitude you keep....well that is inspiring. Even being penpals would be fun! always up to make a new friend. found a facebook group that supports you and they shared your info. am sorry if crossed any boundaries writing to you out of the blue. But, just had to. am always here if you ever are free to write back! saw somewhere that said you really like cosmetology there and wanted to say run a Makeup Group on Facebook. And would like to say the day you get out, hopefully soon, would love to send you a makeup bundle of some of my favorite things from around the world! think its wonderful that you are working so hard to perfect a skill like that. If you are doing what you love then it isn't work. With your optimism can see you only following paths of great passion and importance. Thank you for reading my message. Hope you are staying healthy during this Covid epidemic. All the best, PS As was finishing this letter my little boy had a temper tantrum and just smashed my iPad to bits! Drawing has always been a passion of mine but unfortunately for lack of time have not continued. it was 10 years since took a pencil in my hand and it took me days to make it in black and white A dear friend helped me for the painting. told me that your favorite color is sapphire blue and so decided on the background. My favorite TV series are breaking bad, Hercules, stranger things, daredevil, afterlife. am currently viewing kobra kai. lam anon-practicing Catholic. believe in God but convinced that we can also honor in other ways besides praying. know many people who go to church every Sunday and then in everyday life they are big assholes! One thing that disgusts me. Are you religious? Lady charmer?	page 824

01/26/2021 15:38:14	Inbound	Gypsy! Thank you so much for your kind words. You are honestly such a kind soul and I'm so sorry that the system was not able to understand the extreme nuances of Munchausen by Proxy but I'm glad you are doing better now. Also know that I'm doing my best to break the stigma and help more people who are going through similar situations. It is so many more people than could have ever anticipated, Gypsy. am so glad that your story is out there to introduce people to this complicated disorder/form of abuse, but there is still so much more work to be done. I'm not sure how much you know about this, but Munchausen by Proxy has become somewhat "trendy" in Hollywood and misinformation is spreading like wildfire. doing my best to help break the stigma and educate people, and yours and words are helping as well. We have a long road ahead of us but truly believe that we can make a difference. But anyways, both you and are so much more than what we experienced. And would love to know more about you and become friends :) What are some positive changes that you've experienced since leaving that situation? Who is your favorite singer? What are your hopes and dreams for your future? What is your dream pet? What is one thing you wish people knew about you? What is your favorite movie or tv show? Ill go first. Since left my mom's house, have been able to understand how the world works a lot better. also can recognize my own thoughts and emotions more, and accept myself for the way am. My favorite singer is Ed Sheeran. In the future would love to be comfortable enough to raise a family in the suburbs and travel, and would love to do public speaking and continue to advocate for voices who have been silenced. Hmmm think already have my dream pet. have two dogs. A small white bichon frise/shih tzu named Bonnie and a quite large goldendoodle named Sanders. They keep me going. also have 3 geckos. pretty cool. Something love about my dogs is that they are really in tune with my emotions and they love to cuddle! One thing wish people knew about me is that am eager to please other people, and can sometimes take on too many tasks and get burnt out. My favorite TV show is How Met Your Mother. would also love to know how I can support you and what you would like to talk about! I'm an open book over here. will say that keeping our correspondence off of social media until we are both comfortable with it. The internet can be kind of unpredictable. hope you're having an amazing day. Warmest regards, =	page 864
01/26/2021 10:22:55	Outbound	Hello Gypsy! My name but you may know me from my online advocacy videos. I'm really set this up and that you wanted me to reach out! I'm not exactly sure where to begin. As you probably know already I'm also a survivor of Munchausen by Proxy, although my experience was a little different than yours. After started sharing my story online realized that Munchausen by Proxy affects soooo many people, and it really isn't talked about enough. I'm grateful that your story is being told to help raise awareness, but I'm a little disappointed that Hollywood is turning your story and the stories of so many other survivors into something that it isn't, especially since it has become "popular" and movies such as "Run" have only made things worse. I'm proud of you for owning your story and telling it the way you want to, and think that's super important. More survivors have begun to share their experiences as well, and it's amazing how everyone experiences it differently, but there are common threads throughout each story. want to be here to support you and I'm also willing to talk about whatever you'd like! With my Munchausen by Proxy experience, also was quite sheltered and had to teach myself a lot about the world and life in general - things that my parents should have taught me. am happy to answer any of those questions as well as wanna see you succeed! know you're also really into beauty, I'm a licensed hairstylist and makeup artist and would love to talk about that with you too if that's something you're interested in. I'm not exactly sure what you'd like to talk about but I'm so glad we are able to connect. Just know that I'm here for you and I'm rooting for you! Sending you all the love from Arizona! Warmest Regards, First would like to tell you that no matter what level of abuse you suffered, you are also a survivor. People are quick to judge someone's life and pass that judgement without living what you or me or anyone has experienced. They simply do not and will not fully understand what it takes to be able to push on with your every day life. However there are also people who will love and accept you under their wings until you grow your own and fly side by side and I am among those who will lift you up, not tear you down. If you need to talk, am here for you. Thank you for reaching out to me Big Hugs	page 866

Freddie Mercury's voice penetrates my heart. love many rock and pop bands: Red hot chili peppers, Oasys, Aerosmith, Rolling stones, Blink182, Linkin Park, Green day, AC / DC, Sting, Michael Jackson, Robbie williams, Lady gaga, Jennifer Lopez ... particularly hate that little idiot of Justin Jieber ... 01/29/2021 01:05:34	Outbound	Dad, I'm sure mom has told you dumped me. All over some stupid bullshit that had no control over. am in shock, can't believe after a year of talking every day and the amount of trust and closeness we had that this is the way it ends for some drama tha andl started..but get the shit end of the stick for it. The thing about me is do take a lot of patients and understanding and thought he could handle me, even as soon as a week ago thought things were great and boom! the other shoe fell. It takes a strong man to handle being with me and thought found one that would stick it out with me, again was wrong. Sad part is right I'm fucking hopeless...shakes head hate that love him.... Mom told me is going through it too with his girl. that sucks. but at least he is standing up for himself and knowing he can have better. Where is Cupid?, oh he died of covid! :-P This is why I rarely tell you about any dude talked to, because before ya know it, it ant worth talk'n about. gonna be solo for awhile. God knows I've given all can to 2 relationships that ended with me in tears and what have learned? Men suck, and stay guarded. also feel like there is a reason wh is 43 and no kids not married and that is because he can't handle conflict and doesn't have the ability to let go of wrongs...he keeps score and that is not what need ina partner.	page 190
01/29/2021 21:20:09	Outbound	Awww thanks! how have you been? So, am single again. It didn't work out, so if your offer is open and he is still available would take that cuties info lol obviously would want you to ask him about if he wanted to write/email or talk with me first.	page 229

01/29/2021 00:03:00	Outbound	Mom am so brokenhearted dumped me. He said that if its not one thing its another with me and he can't handle it, it is too much stress being with me because make bad decisions sometimes. He has made it clear that we just need to go our separate ways. He dumped me because I'm not perfect like he expected. I am blown away right thought he was one way and he is not who thought he was. We had something great and he just threw it away over some dumb shit. I trusted him, loved him so hard and it kills me to know he couldn't love all of me, even my flaws. I asked him to send some clothes and things to yall house. don't think he will keep em at his house, he will send it. am so mad at myself for thinking he was my person. ripped up everything from him. Pictures, letters...all of it. didn't even know he blocked and got into it with her and and that whole shit show. He said that scam people, that there is more then what tell him going on, which told him everything! wtf? I thought he and I could have a good life together... hell he didnt want kids and when we got back together accepted that about him and was willing to give that up for him. thought hey well maybe wouldn't be a good mom after all and so wouldnt be making a horrible decision not to have children. Why? why am I so unlovable? feel like have no one now...When ended our relationship was my rebound until realized really fell for him for real. The truth is He left his girlfriend after seeing me on TV, and told her he had to persue at the time. This was months before my break up, he stayed in the shadows me eventhough was engaged t waiting to have his time with me and happened to call and cry to him that day. it all came full circle. don't know if he	page 303

He accused me of shit never was doing... I am so hurt because thought he loved me for who am today, me as am now and he completely changed his heart and mind literally overnight. Monday we had a great phone call, and Tuesday night he learns about the drama going on within a certain group of included and decided to take out all his frustration on me and end our relationship. He even blocke: after they argued. No wonder he is 43 no kids.. not married... he can't have an argument and be able to make up and let it go afterwards... he holds on to it and brings it up later as a jab to use in another argument. know it was not meant to be but still invested my time, my heart, my trust and he all but told me I'm not worth shit. crying :(why am I so unlovable...	page 823

Then as all the arguing and drama was happening on Wednesday and unknown to me, also my now ex was also yelling blaming her for the videos which he knew about them the whole time it had been up for views and only now is pissed off because he saw it as exploiting me only after he saw the money apps on her account. Take care of yourself and you call me again soon. love hearing from you and I love you too. Love and hugs, To supporters and to those who are new to my story. Whether you hate or love me, am writing you to share who really am with you... The Gypsy from the headlines is my past, but the woman writing this is who am today and who grow to be moving forward, seen by only those who have watched me grow from a squeaky voice girl to a full grown woman over the last almost 6 years, lam a sister, daughter, friend, and most importantly AM human. And part of being human is making mistakes. In the last few months have allowed my former friend to share candid details about my life. Her videos filled with fun facts about our friendship and full of positivity gave my name a sense of humanity instead of others only having the perception of me based on 'The Act' or other tv movies. do not consider myself a "celebrity," or any more special than the next. am just a person counted among many. am not proud of my bad choices in life and do not approve of glorifying them. All can do is make better choices going forward and be judged on that. Without much knowledge to me, was selling "Gypsy merchandise" without my approval. The knowledge of the full extent of this merchandise was only known to me a few days ago and it was no who told me about it. lam embarrassed, ashamed and offended that my own "friend" would exploit her friendship with me for financial profit, even if the intent was harmless. The cash apps attached to her page have not been approved by me, nor has any form of donation collection. Sharing my story for the last 5 and a half years, do not ask for money, nor do want financial assistance or pity. My purpose in life is to educate others about Munchausen By Proxy. want to be a voice for those too afraid to speak and encourage those who have a suspension of abuse to speak up! speak out even just one word. There are far more people willing to listen than who will ignore. If your gut feeling tells you something is not right, please report it. You could save a life. You could save someone like me. I appreciate the kindness of others and do not abuse it. would like to openly apologize actions and as well as my own. If you want to be proactive the prevention of child abuse, Please search for child abuse advocations and associations for more information. He had been a long time supporter and NO oh God no its no ewwww No :-P ...His name wa without my knowledge leff his ex girlfriend in order to even attempt a connection with me, not even having talked to me once at that time. We got together and it was great. He and my step mo would talk on FB and all seemed wonderful. We only had a handful of arguments the whole time we were together but apparently he feels that it was all too much, Nothing like cheating or lying or anything that bad, but to him even small things calls for an argument. knew he was always worried would find out who his is and harass him over being involved with me, so we kept our relationship private. I never thought it would end like this. I don't think he a bad person, dont hate or think ill of him. just think he will have issues and have a difficult time finding a woman that will meet his need for perfection. No one is without flaws and I'm no different but am loyal and true to the end. I think every relationship brings a new awareness of what want in life and in a partner. As know if you had the chance to live a normal life, you would've made so many friends, and friends are so important in our adult lives to help us grow and learn along the way and share memories with. hope can earn your friendship one day and we can genuinely become more then pen pals. want you to know the immense support and love you have waiting for you. actually signed the petition that your dad got started, you deserve all the support and to enjoy a peaceful, happy life. know your time in there will be coming to an end soon and I, along with so many others are eager for you to get to live life surrounded by those that love you, and whatever you may decide to do in your life be it a career, become a mom, or both, am certain you will be	page 816

You are small but well made :-))) 4 feet 11 right? am about 5 foot 11 and 160 lb I try to take care of myself but prefer pleasure for my personality ... I'm a detail-oriented guy ... deduced that you had a lazy eye problem from the glasses you were wearing (I mean the bifocal ... That one with double gradation). Try to take breaks when you look too closely (like books or the tablet), so the eye muscles relax ... let me explain: if you stay an hour with the tablet (close distance) stop for 10 minutes and look more as far as you can ... This thing is called ocular gymnastics and can alleviate visual stress discomfort (obviously it doesn't solve the problem but it helps). Maybe one day I will visit you and give you some more information ... You may not believe it but wanted to ask you this you read my mind !! ' incredible !!!!! At the prison ophthalmologist you can ask if he can test you for phorias and possibly ask if he can prescribe glasses for close distances (perhaps with blue control treatments) I'm planning to get an American number ... Give me some time :-) also noticed your scar on neck ... I'd like to kiss it softly. also have many small scars on my body ... want to be honest with you: am currently in a complicated relationship with a girl. (She recently asked me to marry her but refused) Please don't think badly of me ... I'll explain everything as soon as can ... To talk to you about this have to start from the beginning ... will have to tell you who am and how became what am... Although had a very strict and classic upbringing, inside me am rebellious and wild but with refined tastes ... don't smoke(with the sport I did never wanted and I'm happy with it) I rarely drink ... Sometimes indulge in a glass of red wine during meals...	page 827

02/04/2021 19:48:27	Inbound	I'm a little embarrassed ... Maybe was impulsive ... (and maybe should have read the fifty shades of gray plot) meant you were disgusted with me and scared. When speaking through a keyboard it can misunderstand the tones (I'm not used to chatting and I'm still learning your language) Even if these words will be read by the guards or supervisors or don't know who (hello to you guards!) I'll tell you anyway... To be clear, as a good Italian, obviously I'm not a Puritan (I can't believe I'm writing it) In fact am rather "open-minded" ... believe that in a relationship between two people (almost) everything is allowed. 02/05/2021 18:37:49	Inbound	Whaaat, wtf I'm glad never talked to him now. Sorry to hear that baby. Your going to be soo soo happy one day. promise. can see how hard it is to keep someone. Sometimes a slow approach might work out. Someone you talk to once or twice a week then skip a week and so on. Just keeping in contact with someone can be easier than full 100% relationships like you've had. Try that with a couple guys... see who is better, more understanding, less controlling and more flexible. If they're still around close to your release then tighten things up a little bit and shore up some plans to at least meet. don't know if that's good advice but know having someone to confide in and talk to regularly can help you get through some long and tough times. When you make it out you'll say. Yea it took me 2 or 3 broken hearts to get through but at least they helped me get through. Yes we were gonna Bbq for the Super bowl and hopefully win some money. We made a football pool and I could win 50 dollars a quarter. don't blame you for rooting for your home team. like both teams. I think both Brady and Mahomes are amazing. don't hate Brady. really don't know who I'll root for lol. just wanna win 50 bucks lol... and eat bbq. Im sorry it took a lil while for me to reply. My app finally updated and started working. wonder what drama the girls caused you. read something on FB about Racheal saying this was not a site to hook Gypsy up with men. Lol. Eyeroll. He was trying to get me in trouble hahaha In the end turned the situation upside down ... As soon as told him that what he sees in the church is not the true representation of Jesus but that of balder (a son of Odin) he was shut up Jesus christ being a jew born in Palestine could not have light complexion, blue eyes and light brown hair... In fact if you read the bible there are no descriptions about his appearance except that he had a beard (written by St. Peter in the bible) Furthermore, for the Jews in ancient time, long hair on the neck was considered a symbol of dirt ... Even on the Holy Shroud there are doubts (I have live life). If one day you look at the old medieval frescoes you will notice that Jesus Christ was very different from how he is represented today ... With my upbringing, have certain flaws that make it hard to keep a relationship. have the maturity for certain things and others its like I'm a teenager because lack real world experience. For whatever it's worth don't think you're a monster. After doing my own research & watching your story, to me you were a victim. hope can get to know you and if there's anything you want to ask me you can. I can tell you a bit about me and the why behind wanted to write you. am a fan of true crime, always have been, had heard about your story before and seen ads for The Act but never watched it. knew the basics of what happened but didn't truly know what happened to you. After watching The Act just wanted to hug you in a way because can only imagine how scared you must have felt through all of it. think you're really brave for everything you went through and really do hope when you do get out of there you can have a wonderful life because you deserve that. hope you stay safe and take care of yourself	page 867
02/06/2021 19:03:09	Outbound	Hell How are you? You have been on my mind lately and I have a lot of guilt and regret about the last we spoke. It was hard for me to see things from a perspective other than my own, and have come to now understand why you felt you had to remove yourself from my life at that time. I am writing because owe you an apology. In the time that you were a direct participant in my every day life, you always encouraged me to do the right thing even if it was not easy. Your influence on me was positive and though at times your constructive criticism was hard to take, it made me a better person because of it. was not very appreciative to what you were trying to do in the final days of our relationship which know was only be a positive influence and steer me in the right direction with the situation that was facing and sorry for being immature. We left in bad place and that is my fault. completely forgive you for how you reacted to the unwise decisions that was making as well as my lack of accountability. It was unfortunate that our relationship had to take such a blow to get me to see that not all punishments are given with a write up or a trip to the hole. Some are personal losses. A loss of a friendship, and a loss of a relationship can be the the cost of bad choices. When think on what projected to you as my character and morals, cringe at some things. However do not believe everything that projected to you was a far cry from my actual personality, more often then not was myself when talking with you, and giving you a well rounded example of who am, especially my weird quirkiness. have since learned to stay true to myself even if I'm not well received by all. Our relationship was a perfect blend of romance and friendship and was met with many new discoveries both joint and personal. We came to have a connection that was really special. It was a worldwind of passion for each other with the comfort of a lifelong lasting love that still to this day warms my heart when thinking of you. Not a day passes that don't miss the relationship we had. understand if you do not wish to repond or reconnect. If you are in a relationship currently with someone new, mean no disrespect to your girlfriend when I say this but, will always love you, you will always be my Mr. Smitten in my heart. only mean to apologize for creating this rift between us and to let you know that have adopted refusing to do or say something that could have a negative repercussion on me or anyone else. It has worked when making complicated decisions. have had a clean record of good behavior, and am honor dorn worthy. have moved away from friendships that were formed in this environment, choosing to make new friends outside of the prison lifestyle who are going to be a positive influence for me when am home. I try and live my life with the phrase "What would think?" As said, understand if you removed yourself forever, but felt it in my heart to reach out. I wish you positive vibes and send my love.	page 130

02/07/2021 12:37:51	Outbound	had a friend look at your TikTok on Saturday night and was told everything that had emailed you previously was still up for people to view. was told there was cash apps that were still up, saying (Show Your Support) was told that there was so much more merchandise then what you said, thought you made 40 shirts and masks? I didn't know about phone covers, hoodies, tank tops, am just a way for you to make money? When told you that wanted it all gone, meant stop everything. You have exploited our friendship and I'm hurt. and now that went over your head to check if what you were telling me was true, found out way more then I knew and that is not cool, no wonder why I'm getting dogged out and got dumped over this bullshit. Now it all makes sense. By the way, my relationship wasn't "practice" just because I'm in here doesn't make the love feel, any less important or valid then if it was on the outside. What was "practice" was our friendship! Now know what NOT to look for in a "friend"! 02/07/2021 20:47:09	Inbound	Hi Gypsy!! Thanks for responding so quickly. just wanted to make sure you were aware of the huge following you have. People are praying and sending good vibes your way. hope this email finds you doing well, sounds like you have adjusted and are just happy to have the little bit of freedom being offered to you. follow a FB page for you and everyone is so nice and understanding of your situation. I'm sorry the world failed you Gypsy, know you will make up for lost time once you are out and will do amazing things! God bless, sy! was just thinking about you and thought check in. follow a FB page that is all about you!! The one told you about before, the lady that ran it was a little weird so a lot of people left it. I think it's been taken down. Anyway, we have couple questions. One is your hair naturally curly? think some are imagining a full service salon in prison and two some times you have make up on in pictures, do they let you wear make up or is this for special occasions? We are nosy but most of us do care about you. As always you're in my prayers. Take care. © this email finds you well. My reason for writing is because feel a little responsible for to your case. He thanks me for this but had no idea he would find a way to a friendship with you. As you probably have figured is very special. He is an old soul with big dreams and a child's heart. He is so broken over his failed marriage and was so thrilled to develop a friendship with someone he admires so much. He still looks at you as the child who was hurt badly, so he may come across strongly in his attempts to make you feel better about your situation. Because if he has no filter and all of us have been in awkward conversations with him but know his heart is in the right place. do however want to give you a warning wish someone would have given to me; takes everything we say as word, etched in stone. Agreeing to come see him one day, as have done as well, only hurts him later on. try to say we will see or it depends on my situation. It's like telling a 5 years old we will go to Disney one day. That is a "yes" for them and you'll never hear the end of it. Speaking from experience with the 5 year old. She's 17 now and I'm so anxious to let her go one day. But know have to let her fly. To try to hold her down will only hurt her, but you understand that more than anyone. was hoping with covid they'd release you seeing how you are no threat to anyone. But alas the justice system is not perfect. Please continue your friendship you may want to have a set day and time to call and make sure he knows if he doesn't hear from you it's because of things out of your control. He is very literal as have learned over the years. Protecting you Gypsy is my first priority. come to you as a ally and would never don anything to hurt you. have talked about creepy vibes girls get because we have all been to close to a creepy guy and it doesn't go away from our minds. Also be honest with him, he can take it. have to put him in his place often. Lol. Take care Gypsy Rose! Stay safe!	page 451

02/08/2021 17:06:59	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, sorry to hear about you and I found her TikTok fairly recently. watched some of her videos and interacted with her a little. But don't really know her. From an outside perspective, don't think she had malicious intent with originally creating the TikTok. People don't pay to watch videos or learn info. It's kinda like the old app Vine. (I never got into Vine, and don't know if you know what it is) However, people can tip creators and guess creators with a certain amount of followers make some money. Like, have a TikTok with very few followers, but only occasionally post silly videos of me or my cats. I think when she started it, she had good intentions. But good intentions sometimes have negative consequences. know that this has caused an increased interest in you/the case as well as a flood in mail, when the craziness had died down a bit. also know it hurt/ruined your relationship, which I'm really sad to hear. Sometimes friends make mistakes. Sometimes we outgrow friends, and sometimes we have to take breaks from friends. know you've a long time, so if you guys are able to work it out, hope you can. But as your friend, also support your decision if you need to step back from that friendship. I'm here for you if you need to talk. (k you for reaching out to try and help the situation. My issue is seeing one perspective and others not and the parole board sees a different perspective. She and had our fun with the QandA videos at first, then things took a turn where was threatening to get me in trouble for the videos. asked: take down everything that regarded me, and she didn't. had someone look today at her page and all those past videos about me are still up... the merchandise was a bad idea all together. It looks like I'm proud of my crime! her selling stuff reflects negative on me...how do you think my mother's side of the family feels about her murderers friend selling t-shirts and merchandise? people don't think about that and neither did I at first. And every day that passes that her page revolves around me...I get more and more upset. see the parole board in 10 months... my focus needs to be on my freedom. I'm sure it wasn't meant with ill intent, know it wasn't...but for the love of God want her to just wipe her page clean of me... because it has caused too many problems for me already. again I'm not accusing her of keeping money, I'm saying she isn't looking at it from the perspective of someone say like my aunt or uncle or my grandpa...my crime hurt people and I'm trying to make amends not create more pain for them, to	page 682

I'm in my living room, on the sofa listening to the Aerosmith song "crazy". look at my rose within the glass ... know you're in your "box" ... can feel it inside... Try not to care about the judgment of others, just listen to your heart. As told you the idiots exist and they talk too much. Only in the depths of your soul you can find your guide. Some people may inspire you but the solution is within you, not outside. ask yourself every day if what you are doing is truly the most you can get for yourself. If your mind sets limits for you anyway, dare to do your best to overcome them, but you have to believe it ... do not allow the idea you have made of yourself to become your "prison". True freedom is to free yourself from the limitations of your own mind. You can do much more than you think, you just have to free yourself of some insecurities that transmitted to you as a child and those that modern society transmits. Break the rules, dream and dare with all your strength. know your life seems empty now, but if you try to fill it with things that matter: friendship, love, selflessness and hope, it will never be empty. For the moment respect your loneliness and I will not write to you ... But I will not abandon you.	page 828

Since Christmas, my basement flooded, 2 cars are in the shop, mine because the door got smashed in, my brother had (apparently will always have) autoimmune encephalitis and lost so much of his memory while his brain was inflamed, and we're dealing with depression and financial problems and working extra hours. With 1 car working out of 3 right now, that's not so easy. My job was also sold to Farmers, so will be transitioning from working from one company to another and there is a lot of things like health insurance, retirement savings, legal representation, etc that has to change with it. I'm still figuring it all out. just wanted to check in and see how you're doing and let you know I'm here if you need to vent. We all need to sometimes. I'm also sorry to hear you're going through another break up, and urge you to stay single for a little while and not lose hope. You are kind, and feel you will find someone eventually, but that is difficult to do while you are still incarcerated. No matter how much you talk, there are habits people have in person that may change how you feel about them. hope you are well, girl, and sending you love and prayers.	page 809

With that being said, how would you like me to interact wit! from here on out? Would you like me to block her? I'm on your team and would just like for you to feel supported and have trust in those around you. know the feeling of betrayal all too well so am here if you need to vent. In regards to your last message, too have moments of weakness where slip into old habits. have heard it referred to as "fleas" in the children of narcissists community. Being raised by narcissists, we ultimately will inherit some of their toxic traits. And no matter how much growth we achieve after leaving the toxic household, we will continuously have to recognize our fleas as they happen and work to be better than our parents every day. But we will always be better than our parents no matter what. Because we are trying. hope this message brings you comfort. Please reach out if you need to talk. When your still trying to figure out how to survive this new reality. of course heard your story and may not have went through all that you had endured but, I'm currently going to therapy and trying to process the things that happened to me as a child. My whole life just suppressed everything and thought had delt with it and never needed to talk to anyone about it. My main reason for going to therapy was so could figure out why react to "normal" situations so differently to others and why keep continuing In the same cycle of relationships with people over and over again. Best answer to my questions from My therapist was "my brain figured out how to survive the abuse, and my "behaviors" are what kept me feeling safe and that was in control. She also recommended a book that would HIGHLY RECOMMEND if you can get your hands on it called the body keeps score. I've only been to therapy 4x but can see that it's helping a lot. Your probably wondering why I'm sharing this with you I'm a complete stranger, but maybe a part of me hopes this might help you process what happened and how to move forward to truly recovering from it. also realized during therapy that couldn't be honest to the people that knew me because felt like could hide the truth about my abuse and I'm learning that's not really therapy at all if you hold it in or make light of what happened. hope that you seek out therapy as a tool to help you, don't be scared to go through that process because it will make you stronger and a happier healthier person now and in the days to come. You're a survivor and as Dolly Parton always says sometimes you got to go threw the storm to get the rainbow. You don't have to reply back I'm sure you get tons of emails. hope this cheers you up in some sort of way :). Sincerely How are you doing in there? know you don't know me . . 28. 02/10/2021 13:11:57	Inbound	Gypsy, I am under the impression that you are not happy with the way things are going down on Tik Tok and other platforms of social media. To begin I would like to state that the information received was not from your close rather received it from someone else who you could say is pretty close with you. / While am not speaking for! I am here to give you a different perspective from all this nonsense. am not prying or trying to cause further harm to you or your relationships. am here to offer you reassurance and relief from the stressors your experiencing. Gypsy, you don't know me, but besides that point, have been supportive of you and ever since she began her journey of offering you a voice from the inside. From the moment she decided to create the Facebook group To then branching out to the Tik Tok, I've witnessed firsthand how much she truly cares for you. She would NEVER, after all you two have been through together, want to do anything to cause harm to your feelings. She has given her time out of her day to answer numerous questions that supporters ask day in and day out just to allow supporters to feel connected with you. She is giving her time to prove to supporters that you are your own person who has feelings, wants, needs, interests, hobbies, favorites, and so on..Your so much more than what people portray you to be. She has and continues and forever will fight for you to be seen and heard until you have the ability to do so yourself. As for the tee spring store and the merchandise, she's been giving you those profits, has she not? She's proven that as well to supporters be asked her where the proceeds go to. am just trying to understand your frustration. People have sent you 10, she'd give her own earnings to send to you so you have enough to have your needs met while in there if not more. agree times are tough right now. She's taken the store down due to your request. However you have gotten whatever information you received, the person that's relating info back to you has twisted their words to make things much worse than what they really are. Things can be very one sided here and it seems like they're doing more damage than good. Have they been there from the beginning? Have they sent anything to you in support? Are they really your friend or are they just feeding the fire? Please help us understand your frustration and anger. Please allow us to fix what was just a small mistake and or misunderstanding. Gypsy, we care about you. We are doing this for YOU and only YOU. Please give your friend a second chance. She doesn't deserve to lose you, as close as were. Gypsy two are soul sisters. She is your other half. Your her kids Godmother. That speaks volume for how close the two of you are. hope you take the time to read this in its entirety and gain a sense of relief. This is not the end. Take care. With kindest regards,	page 654

02/10/2021 18:11:08	Outbound	Hi Gypsy, sorry to hear about you and I found her TikTok fairly recently. watched some of her videos and interacted with her a little. But don't really know her. From an outside perspective, don't think she had malicious intent with originally creating the TikTok. People don't pay to watch videos or learn info. It's kinda like the old app Vine. (I never got into Vine, and don't know if you know what it is) However, people can tip creators and guess creators with a certain amount of followers make some money. Like, have a TikTok with very few followers, but only occasionally post silly videos of me or my cats. I think when she started it, she had good intentions. But good intentions sometimes have negative consequences. know that this has caused an increased interest in you/the case as well as a flood in mail, when the craziness had died down a bit. also know it hurt/ruined your relationship, which I'm really sad to hear. Sometimes friends make mistakes. Sometimes we outgrow friends, and sometimes we have to take breaks from friends. know you've a long time, so if you guys are able to work it out, hope you can. But as your friend, also support your decision if you need to step back from that friendship. I'm here for you if you need to talk. (k you for reaching out to try and help the situation. However don't want to know you because of this fact that's why I don't ask about your past wanna know you wanna know who you are now today in the present cant explain it just like said before your picture drew me to you, you have a natural beauty and light about you that illuminates even from a photo and not in any weird way, truly want to be your friend but also know you have literally thousands of people bombarding you so haven't written you as much lately to give you some sort of space. wish people would be better to you and im so sorry for the hate mail ive heard you have gotten know you don't know me and so far alot of people who have said they are in your corner have only been after what they can get out of you, want you to know am not like that and never have been am a simple girl your age I live in oklahoma with 3 kids and in the country on the outskirts of town all ive ever wanted is quiet and peace and maybe to make a friend am not so good at the making a friend part so when saw you and yes heard about you wanted to get to know you again not because of your story if all was interested in was your story would be completely focused on talking about that all the time and not telling you about my family and day. would tell you about my family and day because that's what friends do tell each other those kinds of things and thought it would be a breathe of fresh air for you to talk about those things not your case. After you get out im sure you will still be bothered by some people and also some will go away and stop trolling. Everything from your past is gone. You are turning yourself around and making the best person out of yourself that you can and that's what I'm very proud of the woman you've become. I am keeping an eye on the FB page is watching the TickTock page, I believe. Please, baby, do not stress. You honestly have NO CONTROL on what others post or say about you. I am also going to write a letter to the parole board when the time comes. and talked about that yesterday. do agree that it is best tha says nothing more about you. But like I also said YOU HAVE NO CONTROL OVER OTHERS. The parole board should understand that. There are many groups about your case, not just rachell's. You may or may not know about said supporters but be mindful that they will literally do anything to regain entrance back into your life. hope you are aware of the situation. Said individual is using a fellow friend of yours, an inmate to be exact to try and have you rekindle a broken relationship. They have tried to get me to even email you to speak of them in a good light and eventually explain that they're "not who you may think they are". That is not my place and energy to try and fix a fallen friendship. You have been warned of what's to come. Please watch out and be mindful of how obsessive some people are with you. It's not healthy at all. And please if you see this email keep it confidential. As would do the same. Best wishes.	page 654

There's still one email up, one you had sent one o daughters wishing them happy birthday earlier in the year. Maybe she missed it. But if you want that one taken down as well, you should let know. I'm glad she kept her word and took things down though. It seems like every time tha woman gets involved with something it gets out of hand. agree that the merchandise was probably a bad idea and could appear that it glorified the case. And right, your focus needs to be on your future. The Q&As and information she was giving was about the OLD Gypsy. It's your decision if in the future when you're released you want to join social media or talk about your story as the NEW Gypsy. I appreciate that you want to be an advocate for abused children and a voice for MBP victims. don't know if you recall why started writing you (and don't hold it against you lol, know you have a lot of people writing you) but I found out about you because my mother's on again off again boyfriend said that "Mommy Dead and Dearest" reminded him of my relationship with her. didn't know anything about the case. She did abuse me, and she has borderline personality disorder and malingering/Munchausen's (not by proxy). There is now a youtube group “Murder by design” that was originally centered around your case, and was titled “By Proxy” in the past. am certain you are aware of this group of ladies and the trouble they like to stir up..by the time you are able to read this response, all will be said and done with. Then the lady Tatiana, comes back and says “you have no idea, go watch our videos about Gypsy.” said “I'm good. Don't want to watch y'all constantly sit there and degrade her like that. Try again”. The only person who believed me was my mum, and there was nothing she could do. Eventually ran away and was moved away from her, my life was much better but had and still to this day have some issues because of this experience in my life. LOL don't think that at all actually. This world has destroyed the innocence had. The world is a shitty place with a lot of shitty people, and am aware that life is a shitstick. (pardon my language) The world in here is that way and the outside is no different, however am very adaptable, that is why didn't have much trouble adjusting to prison life. The worst of the worst is in here and am keeping my head above water just fine. know it will be a hard life for me, but that is no reason to quit living and trying to find any kind of happiness along the way. also heard that are doubtful can work or find a job?... I never said working at Walmart is an aspiration of mine, all i said to you was it is required of people on parole or probation to have steady employment. So Walmart might be an option. As for though she and have had our issues, actually agreed with a lot of what she had to say on the matter. That doesn't mean I'm ready to start on speaking terms with her but don't think she is too far off base this time. For the first time ever we see things from a common perspective when talking about people forgetting why I'm in here. what she says, branded a murderer. wouldn't say I'm a bad person, but did a bad thing and keeping the hype up is only hurting the Pitres. can't control what others say or do, but can voice what will or won't approve of when it pertains to me. That is why I had to stand up and use my ability to email and make it known that don't support what she was doing. wasn't covering my ass, was taking action, the right course of action. Also, will admit Yes do have a problem with getting upset, cussing someone out and then feeling remorseful after I've calmed down. (doesn't everyone?) know everyone gets upset and says things they don't mean, that is not abnormal BUT.. I am passive aggressive. It is in fact an anger problem which go to therapy for, as well as revert back to my anger management plan. So for this do not absolve myself of any wrong doing with this habit. may take my resistance to listen to her specific advice as me hating people showing concern. Someone showing concern is not what dislike or get upset about. What have issues with is someone taking the steering wheel out of my hands and driving my car..obviously that is a metaphor, but you can see my point. After spending all my life being told what to do, how to do it, and not giving me a choice, THAT is what get frustrated about. the kind of person who learns by trial and error. For example, My past relationship it didn't work out, he broke my heart. Ok well NOW I learned not to move so fast with someone don't know very well and never accept a marriage proposal when we've only dated for a year. :-P Chalk it up to that's life.	page 567

02/17/2021 01:45:24	Outbound	lam calming down after all that drama. Honestly I'm just over it all. I called the day after the live and she told me abou comment/threat. I called that day because was scared of what she might be up to. She and I talked for about 45 mins. She told me about some of the things she was/is concerned about and explained my side. told her that and squashed our drama, am still going to distance myself from her for the time being. know that everything say t will get reported back t so, also am keeping a safe distance fro can't cut her off completely because she has my medical records. But do not agree with her and Fancys efforts to get me placed in another facility. Those two are like vipers. If a vague email here and there will appease those two, then I'll do that to keep it peaceful for now. feel like I'm being attacked from every angle. Its like they all think they know the case so well, but I'm not a case, I'm a person. So to make assumptions about me or what I'm like as a person based on my past is not the way to know me now. Now admit, have done things am not proud of. I've said things I'm not proud of. Yes, did out, 2 years ago. coughs ...She deserved it... *coughs but own that. also explained tomy it is not that have a problem with someone showing concern for me, what have a problem with is someone taking the steering wheel out of my hands and driving my car that get frustrated with. I listen to advice quite well actually as long as it is with the approach of being a friend. but again neither one talk to me	page 578

02/18/2021 20:43:41	Inbound	Gyps, I started a new job on Monday the 8th. went from being a branch manager collecting money for the past 5 years to being a car saleswoman. never did this in my life but am having the time of my life. work mon-friday 8-6...sometimes later depending if working a deal, and Saturday from 9-4 sometimes later if I'm working a deal. 99.9% of the time when you call me am working, with with customer, or home in the tub, or probably asleep. wake super early to start my day and go to bed as early as can to be well rested for my next day. it was time for change. was being so mistreated, and was never allowed to take a day off. couldn't do it anymore. and now that left, can't believe waited so long. it helps to be in a great environment, an amazing boss, and just so free. as for -- whoever she is -- I'm not sure how any of that works. my mom said she told u I don't want to talk, it's not that. I'm just so busy. work more s can take it easy. he's been providing for me for 11 years. it's time for him to chill. he's still working, but push him to not work as much. I just bought him a new truck for valentines day. that was his present. so yah, I'm working hard. but being recognized for it. not being threatened by it. but, do hope everything goes as you wish, but it will happen as it should happen. do wish you luck and if can ever answer when u call will. just know it's not me ignoring you, it's me working. love always,	page 658

She keeps track of when she wrote you and check marks it when you received it. :-) I'm happy y'all will have a visit at some point, maybe could set up a visit with someone at the same date and time and could at least say hi to you while on the visit. :-) haven't had a visit in 2 years so know I have my parents that want to be the first to see me. :-) Stay Hugs	page 800

Jedi or Sith? would pick Jedi, but I do like to be a little bad sometimes. wink discovered Star Wars when was about 10 years old. grew up with the prequels and my favorite character was always Padme, as far as the prequels go. She was a hero in her own right and feel like in the newest Sequels the character Rey, reminds me a lot of Padme. The women kick ass just as much as the guys. had so many Star Wars books, novels, and graphic novels, "comic books", don't have them anymore but plan on rebuilding my collection. If you can, buy the book, *The Book Of The or if you like the Sith better or you like both equally, there is also The Book Of The Sith wasn't disappointed when watching the newest movies, feel like Lucasfilm partnering with Disney was a good decision. Disney has just the reputation that Lucasfilm needed and a big enough fan base to keep fans watching for years to come. -) You sent me a photo of you with a stormtrooper from your trip to Orlando. Have you been back to Orlando since Disney built the new Star Wars addition to the park? instead of just the ride there is a whole new area of the park that opened a few years ago. want to visit Orlando to see the new addition. If you can wait just under 3 years, Perhaps you and could go together? :-) So am laying in bed, thinking about you. You look like you can keep a woman...hot... I'm trying to keep fit by working out a little at home (gyms still closed) have never taken any supplements so maintaining muscle mass is not easy but prefer to have a natural body. They are very tall and big but full of junk (lots of supplements and even steroids) But many of these guys in the shower are a "littles" hahaha like to take care of myself (even beard and hair) but I'm not a look maniac ... For me other things come first. Thanks for understanding ... In time will try to confide in you and tell you more about my past. With my parents it was not easy ... And having a disabled brother (That love very much) was difficult. Fortunately today I can tell you that I am more serene. In my life have helped many people ... But in times of need have (almost) always been alone helped me calm my anger. She is the only person who really took care of me ... and that I'll never forget. If you visit this website, you can view the visiting form itself. Go to and enter specifically as wrote it, (make sure the V is capitalized) web.mo.gov/doc/pubVisit You can submit an electronic form from that site or can mail you a physical form. if she can call the prison on your behalf, to ask about international visitors, and if is even something we can do. Most inmates don't have anyone who would travel 5,246 miles to see them in person. You are kind of a rare case. :-) Also when filling out the form you will need to state my name and # (Gypsy Blanchard #1302048) As you have probably seen in photos from my visits wit (my goddaughter) these are contact visits which means we can take a photo together as well as hug, share a brief kiss at the beginning and end of each session, and if you should so wish we are allowed to hold hands throughout the duration of the visit. 02/20/2021 21:15:23	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, I'm not sure told you that would be emailing you. I'm and yes am part of By Proxy. hope that doesn't turn you off to reading this. got involved with BP about 6 weeks after lost my mom to cancer. was in a group on facebook where people were talking shit to and and when found out what she and j were working on quickly became part of the team. Other than that I'm from Brooklyn, NY, I'm 43 and have a 22 year old son. Anything else you want to know feel free to ask. have always meant to email you. wanted to introduce myself and also get to know you. Then so much bad shit started happening with the facebook groups and all the bullshit going back and forth. It got crazy at one point, people were being doxxed and some lady lost her job because of it. She said something to defend you and us (By Proxy) and people didn't like that so they looked up her info and started calling her job saying crazy shit about her. With everything happening, didn't know if it was the right time for me to reach out to you or if you would even be open to reading something sent. But now, hope, is the right time. There's a lot of things want to say to you. I'm going to start by saying that although a lot has changed from the beginning, every one of us have always wanted what's best for you. came into this knowing that anything did would be because wanted to. There's no paycheck involved. There's been so much drama and so many attacks made on each of us. But a small group of us have stuck together and rode it out. That's because we believe in what we are doing. We also believe in you. We believe that you were a victim of a fucked up situation and you did something fucked up to get out of that situation. Did you have to? No, probably not but it's done and the past can't be changed as much as we would like it to be. But, you deserve a chance to live your life and be happy. We all believe that. And you may not get it, but each of us do care about you. she shared a lot about you. It was so good to hear her say, Gyps called and she's In the time that I got to doing good. After a while, it felt like you all were family. We all wanted to share the good things that were happening in your life. We wanted to work with you so that together we could make a difference for other kids that are stuck in the situation you were in. All those doctors you saw and none of them took a fucking stand for you, it pisses me off To know there's kids right now going through the same thing you went through and possibly worse is even worse. That's one of the big things here, trying to make changes in the laws and the reporting system, get kids the help that they need, that someone should have given you. know you have not been on the best terms and get it. think other people played into that a whole lot. also know that she went through hell because of certain people that were doing things to her and it was almost like they thought they were doing it for you. know you also went through shit because of the drama. think at some point each of us has been hurt by the whole situation and it's fucked up. want you to know that when we said we wanted to tell the truth we meant it. When we said we wanted to help you we meant it. When we said we wanted to help others we meant it. None of that has changed. Even with the animosity that you have had, it's never changed that at the end of the day no matter what bullshit was going on, your best interests have always been the concern. hope that you decide to write back. If you would ever like to speak to me let me know and I will give you my number. This email shit is so funny to me. got married in 2001 in Dannemora Correctional Facility. 02/20/2021 17:33:27	Outbound	So I've been emailing and he wants to make a special trip to America to visit me. Which that would be great. His English is rusty but he is working on learning and using more English. Girl, playfully asked him to send me a shirtless pic for Valentine's day, to my surprise, he did. OMFG when tell you hot! woooo He has the abs the arms that V shaped pelvis. So hot. I'll send you a print out of pictures. He is an eye doctor and has his own business partnership with his father in Caserta Italy. The only thing I'm concerned about is how he will go about filling out the visiting form, it is geared more toward an American visitor. Its not like its every day someone would visit from out of the country. about sending my clothes home, have a feeling he is trying to sort out what he really wants to do. hold off on texting! give it about 6 months and he'll be back. know he is going to come around. at that point its up to me if want him back.	page 290

02/20/2021 14:35:18	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, I sent a letter to the parole board. Hope it's of some help. mentioned this too as well. Is your request something that you would want shared with other people who might also be interested in writing letters to the parole board? Hope you're safe and well. Best, app sounds cool. Unfortunately have no access to apps or the internet while in prison, these emails are only through a certain email service that is only email. like Disney still, they have some good movies but I've grown up a lot over the last few years and now I'm more interested in other things. I'll always love the idea of fairy tales, but have also been in the real world for a few years to know life is not always magical. I thought I found my prince and was so sure he was the one, and he abandoned me. am not so keen to give my heart as tis Mon	page 792
02/20/2021 02:30:00	Inbound	Hi Gypsy :) would love for you to schedule a visit the same day as na and my family id love to meet you that would be amazing. is a strong girl agree, and she always talks about how she cant wait until this covid stuff is done and y'all can hang out more. have you not had a visit in 2 years because of the covid situation?? we live about maybe 3 hours from Missouri im not sure how far from Chillicothe but it shouldn't be to bad and so my husband says we should be able to come visit fairly often. im glad to hear she gets as excited as do when get mail from her and from you lol that's kewl. hope she gets clemency also keep wondering if she does get it then where will she go? haven't been wanting to pry too much there maybe when we meet a few times and get to be even closer ill ask if she will have a place to go when she gets out. hope this isn't to weird of me because don't wanna make you uncomfortable was thinking and was going to ask what she thought when you get out us all getting together outside of Prison and gets her clemency then all 4 of us can that would be even better we have our own little yay y'all are free celebration. have a good feeling and thoughts that your going to get your early parole idk I just have a peace about it, to many people are in your corner and you've taken so many classes to better and broden yourself and are super sweet and know all that is taken into account. I just really hope and pray when you get out all the people with ill intentions stay away from you, does that make sense?? oh dang gotta get off here for now my kids are fighting lol they did that last night and it ended in a food fight and whip cream everywhere hehehehehehe it got tracked on my carpet and all im use to it though they do crazy things and yell hey what do you think your doing but about 98 percent of time they throw it at me and then its on lol and its hard not to bust out laughing they're crazy but so super fun we had a snow ball fight in the house the time before last when it snowed we had to stop was going to be home soon and we had to dry everything off wasn't sure if he would find it funny unfortunately he found evidence we missed he was mad he just said y'all are gonna short circuit the tv if you get the cords stop it lol. well ttyl I will email again later my friend stay safe. :)	page 800

Whether that person remains in our life forever is unknown but for the time that they helped us through something that is a blessing. My ex fiance was the one who helped me through a lot of my anger. It was very heartbreaking when he left me. felt like all the progression made was all lost. kept thinking, maybe he will miss me and come back to me. Its been a year and a half and he hasn't looked back so far. My point is, may be in your life for the rest of your life or she might not be, or she will but not in the way you expected. Either way she has helped you through a difficult time in your life and that is worth holding her in good favor. in good favor because of how he helped me but just because he has, doesn't mean we are meant to be together. 02/22/2021 14:06:15	Inbound	Hello Gypsy, Good afternoon. am reaching out to you at the request of your step-mother & have become friends over the past few years after she found my YouTube channel. have covered many cases of mothers who have Munchausen's By-Proxy & have covered your story for quite some time. understand that you are looking for help from supporters to write letters to the parole board. have shared your request with my audience & will continue to advocate to my audience on your behalf have watched & read so much about your case over the years & it absolutely breaks my heart what you have gone through. I am a mother of a child with serious medical conditions & can assure you, from my perspective, no loving mother would EVER wish their child sick. In fact, wish could cure my son & wish he never had to go through any of his surgeries. He is tube fed, like you were, but his is due to actual medical conditions. want you to know that you have a huge amount of support through my channel. also publicly sever her which know was a source of serious stress & suffering for your whole family. will continue to do relationship with whatever I can to help you in anyway. My whole community is heartbroken for the abuse you suffered & we are very inspired to see that you are motivated to use your experience to help other victims of child abuse. Munchausen By-Proxy is not well known. Over the years, have tried so hard to help people understand the warning signs while also not trying to alarm people that ALL moms of children with sick kids do this. It's a delicate balance. Your mom was a sick & Abusive woman & am truly sorry that you went through the abuse you experienced. They often say that the only way for many children to escape the abuse inflicted on them through MBP is through their own death, the arrest of their caregiver, or the death of their caregiver. The caregiver won't stop on their own. It's sick. I've never personally gone through what you have, but want you to know that understand you. hope that makes sense. also remain so hopeful that you will thrive outside of prison. know talks so fondly about you reuniting with them & for your dad to finally get the relationship he's always wanted to have with you. I am so glad you have their support is an amazing woman & I'm really glad she's fiercely advocating for you while you remain behind bars. would love to hear from you. don't really have questions right now. Just more wanted you to know that support you, my channel supports you, & will always do whatever can to help you & your family to get through this. hope to hear from you!	page 884

Which led me to ask you what are your most important reasons for wanting to do this. Im going to be bluntly honest with you, was not asking in the tone of mistrust, was asking because of well ...of the obvious. find you attractive and mysterious. You seem to find me attractive. but we have only started talking, there is much, much, much to learn about one another before we "jump the gun" as the saying goes. Your relationship wit is not over yet and you don't know me well enough to the extent that would want you to end your relationship with her because of me (which I'm not saying you would, I'm just running through scenarios) am a long term thinker and carefully make my moves thinking about the long term instead of only the present. know you feel guilty having these thoughts and emotions, feel guilty giving them to you. have never been what they call a "homewrecker" a term used to refer to a woman who gets involved with married or taken men. actually have very little respect for those type of women. He was a bartender and often would get jealous and territorial when When was in a relationship with my ex, women would flirt with him when he was working. (We had a no sex outside of the relationship rule) hold fidelity and trust very high on the priority list when in a committed relationship. To me even this flirting between you and I, would be considered cheating in my eyes. am not saying this to offend or judge you please don't feel or think am...I say this for the purpose to example how strict my boundaries are when ina relationship) feel like with all that has been said, this has to be addressed in the right manner, just didn't want to presume anything. I figured that you would want to know first hand how we interact in person before allowing yourself to move forward with any major decision about your relationship. just wanted to hear it from you. I teased you by saying your girl has new competition, but will only go so far. won't become a homewrecker. will allow us to talk, flirt with one another and get to know each other better but once my feelings are invested in a romantic way... won't share. 02/24/2021 16:59:05	Outbound	Dear Gypsy: This is a follow-up note to the one sent to you earlier this evening. was just looking back at my JPay correspondence with you and first connected with you in 2017, nearly four years ago. Why did I first reach out to you? Because saw your story and felt great compassion for you as a human being. You did something terrible and the mistreatment you suffered for years before that did not justify what you did. But understanding that mistreatment gave me important context for why you did what you did. You were also young, sheltered, and in love with a boy — which were also important factors influencing what you did. But, while you made a horrible mistake, you were also a human being who really deserved compassion and love. A sweet girl who was cruelly mistreated. No one ever deserves that, especially a child. I still feel that way now, now that you are a young woman. I told you am not a criminal attorney but after practicing law for over 25 years, have developed some skills which think may be helpful to you. First, I'm pretty good at finding information. And, unlike you, have open access to the Internet to do that research. Second, I'm pretty good at talking with people. may have to make some phone calls to get information and, again, have no restrictions on my calls. Third, much of my time as a lawyer is spent trying to persuade people to embrace an idea or viewpoint which want them to embrace. And that is precisely what you want the parole board to do for you. So, just wanted to give you some additional background about why am willing to help you. And, with that, I'll send this note off to you now. = nan HiM Ok so hearings are done approximately 2 years before the earliest possible release date. It is obvious that is not at all what they want. promise we are going to make sure you succeed. know it is going to be mostly up to you but there are enough of us that love you that will make sure you make good decisions and do your best. There is nothing, and mean nothing to see in this particular area am located in. If were you, would do some research online to figure out what is most affordable for you to do afterwards. You will have to fly into Kansas city, Missouri airport (KCI) and rent a car, Chillicothe is about an hour and a half drive from the airport. There are fairly affordable hotels in the area. would suggest staying at the Motel 8 (located about 15 minutes from the prison) for about 3 nights because these are the times of normal visitation hours. Friday: Morning session 9:30am- 1:30pm, Afternoon session 2:30pm - 6:30pm Saturday: Morning session 9:30am- 1:30pm, Afternoon session 2:30pm - 6:30pm Sunday: Morning session 9:30am- 1:30pm, Afternoon session 2:30pm - 6:30pm actually lives in Kansas city Missouri. Both of these scripted TV dramas are about what if there was a DNA version of match.com and you were able to know who is your DNA soulmate with just one test. In a hypothetical scenario, personally wouldn't take the test. feel like half the fun is the "getting to know someone process" and what if your soulmate is a by DNA right for you but they treat you like shit? ya know. just would rather stick with the old school way of falling in love. Process of elimination. lol In my life so far, would say that I've had 2 good healthy relationships one for 2 years and one for 1 year, that both ended because of the high stress due to my circumstances with being for a lack of better words infamous, and the aspect of being locked away. (getting into arguments would be easier if make up sex was an option) But don't regret either of those relationships because it made me more responsible with my emotions and the emotions of others. dont like to count my very toxic online relationship wit as being one of my relationships because of the weird nature of relationship. It was all and nothing but the bondage sadomasochistic talk with him. It was all he talked about day and night. which to be honest, I'm not that experienced in sex to begin with so the rough stuff is not something that appeals to me but at the time I just wanted someone to love me so was agreeable to anything at that time. He and only had sex 3 times and it was horrible. He didn't know what he was doing, he couldn't get it up, didn't do anything right..I'm pretty sure he didn't even know where to find my cl. just can't express enough how disappointing my first experiences were, and he certainly never made me reach euphoria...but sure liked it. :-P :-) Anyway moving on. My fatal flaw in relationships is the fact that plan and map out how picture a life with whomever am with. imagine how our lives would be together and then invest myself too much that when the relationship ends have to reconstruct how MY life and the direction am going in will be changed now that the plans that made with this other person is no longer an option. So I guess investing too much of myself and getting lost in a fantasy is my flaw My relationship was a good starter relationship. My relationship was more realistic and mature, but ultimately didn't work out. Now, am really unsure where my love life is going to go next. All know is I'm single and am talking to a very sexy charming Italian. :-)	page 830

The case of Gypsy Rose Blanchard has also arrived here. It impressed me and so researched a lot. could go on living my life as if nothing had happened but instead decided to give my personal contribution to this cause. Surely you know all the details about the case of miss blanchard (e) so will avoid being repetitive. I am absolutely convinced that she deserve parole. This young woman lived a life of abuse, despair, deprivation, mistreatment and most of all, imprisonment. Of course she made a mistake of which she is perfectly aware, but we keep in mind that it was an extreme gesture dictated by deep desperation. Any human being with the will to live in a moment of despair is ready to make an extreme gesture for his own survival. And this is exactly what we are talking about: SURVIVAL This 29-year-old woman was born a prisoner and still is. Please grant parole and allow her to be part of and contribute to society as a free citizen, loving daughter, and as a free person for the first time in her life. sincerely	page 833

Currently all over Italy restaurants are only open for lunch ... so it's impossible for me. Here we have very strict rules for the covid ... things are a bit different here. Luckily I'm good at cooking so can't complain. As you know Italian cuisine is fantastic ... also love Asian cuisine. Gypsy want to clarify that I'm not a man who is with more than one girl ... I am a supporter of the phrase: don't do to others what you don't want done to yourself. As wrote you RESPECT YOU. like to laugh and joke ... But when i have to be serious ... extremely serious. Obviously I'm not offended ... in fact understand your point of view perfectly :-) don't want you to suffer for me. But are you really sure you want a relationship? I think you need to think about enjoying life (I'm not talking about casual sex, mind you) before committing yourself romantically ... Obviously this is my point of view ... You don't have to agree :-) Having a REAL relationship comes with commitments (I'm sure you know) Yours is a difficult heart to conquer ... But assure you that mine is even more so. If not, then I can try to help you "make a case" to the parole board — and that is why asked you in my last letter about submitting a written statement to the parole board. I am a lawyer but I'm not a criminal lawyer and wouldn't be representing you as a lawyer. Instead, would be simply helping you make a persuasive argument to the parole board. And, no, would not charge you for my time. If you want to explore this idea more, then let's talk a bit about how might be able to best help you. For the time being, we can just communicate here or through regular letters. If you would like my help, then will ask only one thing from you in return for my help: would want you to promise me that you would actively and diligently work with me to make your best case to the parole board. I've been in that same position before. an 18 year old boy and a 19 year old boy had emailed me and was attempting to flirt and wasn't interested. I'm almost 30 and have always been attracted to older than me, not younger than me. I find that would be best fit for a few years older than me or someone my age. You have been engaged to her for that long! why haven't you married her yet then? (I mean, before these new differences goals became an issue.) =	page 833

02/25/2021 16:06:04	Outbound	To answer your question, think find security in commitment. However, as I've seen 6 months before almost getting married, anything can change. My friend and were just talking about this. That move too fast. I sent you an email about my relationship history but it might get censored because mentioned the sex was horrible. a whole paragraph of how horrible it was. lol anyway. I've had only 2 serious relationships and feel like when get close to someone, open up more about my past and share things that don't share even with family, and because of that it hurts even more when the relationship ends because have not only lost a lover but my best friend, my guidance, my sanity...everything that trusted that person to be leaves with him. So now having done that twice, I am almost numb inside. can't feel anything but hurt, and rejection, From all areas in life not only romantically. have probably been fed every line in the book and fell for it not once but twice. always seem to imagine a life with whoever I'm with and make plans with this person and when the relationship ends for whatever reason, am left to reconstruct my own life because allowed myself to include this person in my life to the point its interwoven into my own plans. My relationships have always been long distance. ive never lived with a man. I've never been on a real date. but I do know I don't have casual sex. intimacy for me, is a sex = love attachment. was molested at the age of 9 by my grandfather. So sex has been something have to trust to give. That is why I said making love means just that...love. have to be in love. can date, but if I'm not in love he ant getting any from me. lol There is a class take here in prison, it is called healthy relationships. It helps people who have been in abusive situations with partners understand why we think how we think, act the way we act. and find it helpful to better understand my own mind. Does she know you are having these feelings of doubt about the relationship? Does she know about me? If you are sure you want children and she is sure she doesn't then that may be a deal breaker. And it is better to end it now instead of dragging out the inevitable. This is just friendly advice would give to anyone. You are coming to a point that the two of you need to sit down and talk about it...all of it and one of two things will happen. #1 you and her will work on the relationship and remain together forever. or #2 the relationship is no longer going to move forward and you both go separate ways. (Believe me it wasn't easy waiting) It was nice but over time things got a lot better. Over the years have come to realize that sex can be very special even with someone you are infatuated with ... mean: With someone you think is SPECIAL but you still don't know 100% completely and you don't know if they will be the person in your life (believe me to know a person 100% it takes years). As told you have always rejected one-night stands. For me, sex is not only physical but also mental pleasure! had stories of a few months because we both understood that they did not have compatible personalities ... Unfortunately it is Life. ASK YOU TO THINK IT LIKE ME ... I'm not trying to convince you. I can say that over time your idea about relationships MAY change as it has changed for Two adult people know each other and spend time together to see if they like each other and if they are comfortable together ... when they understand that they are well and cannot be separated IN THAT CASE, A STABLE AND LASTING RELATIONSHIP CAN BE BORN. repeat, this is what I think ... You can think differently :-)) is a very intelligent person with a good heart ... she helped me a lot with my anger and my family ... When we are together we are fine. Honestly, didn't care about the children at first ... But now I've changed my mind ... I am afraid that our relationship remains like this and does not evolve. If we had a baby we probably wouldn't be talking now ... I'm also angry because didn't want her to leave for Spain HATE distance ... but couldn't stop her. She knows that support you, that wrote you the first email, and that donated some money ... She knows was heartbroken when heard about you and she knows wanted to be your friend. couldn't predict what would happen ... I'm not a seer. Maybe feel attracted to you because we have had some similar experiences that will tell you about someday ... Maybe because you remind me of myself as a child ... maybe because you look so sweet ... It would be difficult, but it is not impossible. And as you already are aware, do want children. have not set aside a timeline of when want to start trying, just know that would prefer before I'm 35 or at 35... (We would make some pretty babies...) (please don't think I'm crazy for saying can't believe just said I am well aware that we come from completely different places in the world. know little about life in Italy, am not totally ignorant about the culture itself have an interest in various other cultures. also am not unable to relocate if necessary, My parents are very understanding and want only my happiness. and to be totally honest,...starting over in a new place, where my case is less known...is very appealing. want a normal life, don't like the fame and attention. Making a new beginning for my life is a very beautiful thought. and have 50 thousand dollars guaranteed to me upon my freedom and if needed use that money to relocate. Please don't apologize for this, enjoying talking with you. care about you. I am not asking you to make any decisions now. am going to let you lead me where you this to go. So let's just focus on our communication for right now. :-)) I sent you a short letter and the visiting form in the mail on 2/22/21 I'm not sure how many days it takes to be received. In fact the reason why wrote you back when you first emailed me, was because there was something in the way you spoke to me. There was a warmth that felt drawn to. You are not cold towards me... The way you explain your personality it sounds is as if your affection is not easily won, but you are affectionate to me... We may not know fully until we are face to face with each other but this just may be something you are subconsciously doing to entertain yourself as a crutch for the issues you are having wit to fill a void because you are lonely. Or you could have real feelings for me. Ask yourself this, and this will answer that question as it stands currently. IF she told you tomorrow that she changed her mind, she now wants children with you. Would you still talk to me this way? would you still come to visit me? would you still want this dynamic between us? (you don't have to answer these to me) but If the answer is No, then you need to work things out with your future wife and let your care for me be only as a friend. guess what I'm trying to say is, want your feelings to be genuine, Not because the one you want isn't giving you the attention you need and the understanding you want. know from experience what it feels like to desire the person you love to want the same things as you, but they ultimately don't. So understand how torn you must be. That is why I gave you my advice, because care about YOUR happiness and the future you desire. In response to your email about physical intimacy. can completely understand how two people can be physically intimate within the relationship, was just saying that wont do one night stands and have to have an emotional attachment to that person. Like I said, have not had much experience in bed so maybe it is easy for me to say because don't know what good sex is like. The desire is there, just don't know what it is i'm desiring. It is a strange feeling to crave something you've never had... Marriage doesn't have to mean anything religious like the Catholic religion told us, if marriage is something you want, there are many other ways in which a marriage can be created other than by the church. Take for example, am newly converted Pagan/Wiccan (I still haven't told my very religious Christian stepmother) If someday want to be married, a celebration ceremony will be held outside where vows would be exchanged, however	page 833

02/28/2021 17:53:57	Outbound	My second relationship was with The day that left me was the day reached out to an acquaintance of mine. had not all that well, but was so brokenhearted called him anyway. Previously In March of 2011 emailed me to show his support after learning about my case by watching Hulu's The Act. We exchanged a few short emails. was 42 and worked selling boat insurance processing claims. He lives alone in Florida and spends his time watching sports and makes trips to the beach. kept my correspondence with other men to a minimum when was in a relationship so had not made it a point to develop a full friendship with had been in several support Facebook groups and would often defend me and my family against haters. Our communication was very little and then In October 2019 called him out of the blue. explained that had left me and vented to him about the break up. and continued to talk every week from then on. As the months rolled on, he and I grew closer romantically. It was known but not spoken that we were in a relationship. We made plans to have a visit but the pandemic happened and visits were suspended. The age difference didn't seem to affect us, however we had nothing in common, we didn't like the same interests, he's never even seen Star Wars. Anyway... He stopped talking to other women, didn't have any one night stands. He was all mine, but still wasn't over 100%. so In June 2020, voiced my feelings to him about this and he told me that needed to sort out my feelings, that we couldn't continue our relationship while my heart belonged to another. was upset by this but in the long run I'm glad he gave me that time needed to fully move on passed my relationship with my ex. After 4 months never gave up on my relationship unintentionally got with him as a rebound relationship but then fell in love with him...and didn't know until I lost him. continued to try to email and call him...with the promise was over my ex and was sure that wanted to be with him admitted my mistake in getting into the relationship too fast and told him that was ready to start over. In September, He finally emailed me back after months of ignoring me, and told me to call him, and so I did. He told me the whole truth of his involvement in my life and the truth of his feelings for me. As it turns out, what I didn't know was left his girlfriend of 2 years before he and even became acquainted because he saw me on Tv, and as he claimed it was love at first sight. He didn't feel right him having these romantic feelings for me while with her so he ended the relationship with her to see what could potentially be. (mind you was engaged at this time) it would be another 7 months before unexpectedly became single. That told me for the first time that he loved me. was shocked. Never in the time that was talking did he ever let known his true feelings to that extent. Upon telling me all this he also changed his mind about having children, He said he felt like he is just too old to raise kids. and because he wanted him, gave up my dream of being a mother someday.	page 832
02/28/2021 17:53:58	Outbound	My first relationship was In mid 2017, He wrote me a letter of support after watching my HBO documentary, Mommy Dead and Dearest. wrote him back and we exchanged a hand full of letters until we decided to start talking on the phone. He was 24, working at a downtown Seattle bar. Bartending had been his career for the majority of his young adulthood. The first phone call, was so nervous because I am shy at first, but within 10 minutes it was as if he and I knew each other our whole lives. We found similar interest in everything! He liked all the same movies and things as I, we even shared a love for the dog breed Huskys. :-) As the first 3 months progressed, told him that if he ever was in the Missouri area to stop by for a visit, sent him a visiting form and was shocked when he said he would be booking a trip to visit me within the next 2 months. The day came that he arrived for a visit and was very excited to meet this guy had been talking to someone considered my male best friend. walked into the room and met him at our assigned table, hugged him...he picked me up (which isn't allowed) and hugged me so tight...he also grabbed my ass but at the time thought that it was an accident because of how he was holding up. (later found out it was totally on purpose) We sat down and started talking. Then he out of nowhere kissed me...and meant a good kiss. I kissed back. and just looked at him, then looked around for the guards. I'm like, "we aren't allowed to kiss like that." And inquired as to why he kissed me as was under the impression we were just best friends. (I did have a crush on him but I'd never jeopardize our friendship) Unknown to me he liked me. so we went for another long kiss annnnnnd...Got so busted...the guard caught us mid kiss and was reprimanded immediately. The guard terminated the visit and he was told to leave. I got a lighter sanction than what would normally happen had the sergeant that normally works visiting would have given me. received a write up, rather than going to segregation. and he was banned for 6 months from visiting me again. In those 6 months, we officially decided to get into a relationship. and once the 6 month suspension was over, he came back to visit. EVERYONE on camp including all the guards talked about the kissing incident, it went down in history it seemed lol He and I had a good relationship, We never had fights, We always was each others stronger half. My stepmother did make a wrong decision in posting publicly in a FB group that had a new boyfriend was now thrown into the same spotlight was. He was getting backlash because people had opinions. Some made comments saying was using him for money, some said he was using me for fame...He was bashed on social media because people couldn't understand how we could fall in love this way. We stayed strong though. In December 2017 on a phone call, he asked me to ask him anything and calmly asked, Will you be my husband? He said Yes. This was not a proposal, was just asking if someday would that be something he would want. It wouldn't be until October of 2018 on a visit that he would ask me to marry him, said yes. I told my parents and he told his, they were happy for us and approved. But the bigger question was should we marry in here and then have a bigger wedding when I am home or stay engaged	page 832

And in my opinion the eyes that look with tenderness are the most beautiful. You look great with wavy hair Now want you even more! read the only mail received (the one about the gym) well, it's normal that you are hungry after a workout ... don't know what exactly you eat in prison, but if you try to eat more proteins (meat, fish) it would be better (but don't make the mistake of reducing too much carbohydrates, otherwise you lose strength). Snacks are important. As told you don't take food supplements (they can tire the kidneys) I am against all drugs, doping and various crap. Healthy mind in a healthy body (but without exaggerating) Do you want to lose 15 pounds? From the photos it seems to me that you look great! Perfection is useless. you have to know that last year shaved my head completely, had a very long mustache and thick glasses! I don't give a damn about people's judgment ... I'm not afraid to show what I am. People who really love you appreciate you for who really you are ... And prefer to surround myself with real people. Also for this reason don't use social networks (just a little Facebook) many people show their lives and their retouched photos to look more beautiful and to try to be envied. They seem sad and empty inside ... and they don't stimulate me. This is why some people say look cold... When meet this kind of people, get bored and don't take them into consideration and therefore appear detached. At can't do that and I try to be (almost) always with a smile on my face. I'm wearing a mask ... but I'm used to it by now. Fortunately, there are also pleasant and inspiring people ... People who make your day better.	page 837

03/02/2021 14:10:05	Inbound	Hello my dear Gypsy read your email abou! I'm sorry you suffered terribly ... can assure you that suffered like you. For months my life seemed to have lost meaning ... felt that every certainty had collapsed like a sand castle. I am not ashamed to say that cried every day ... at work pretended to go to the bathroom and cried, in the evening fell asleep crying. Not because felt abandoned (I was used to that ... grew up almost alone, only had babysitters for company) because was deeply disappointed in the person had been with for over a year ... A person that had HELPED to face an extremely difficult situation. It was terrible, but got stronger. I can tell you that did it was pretty shameful. I'm sorry to say but from what could understand he acted like a real immature kid. If he had these intentions it was better that he didn't make a commitment to you. it don't behave like that (not even at 24 years old) Consider that I'm not saying that you shouldn't have relations with him, on the contrary ... over time he may have understood his mistakes and maybe he can have changed. Unfortunately when drugs are involved (something hate a lot) the problems tend to be even more complex. But don't forget that A REAL AND STRONG couple faces problems together ... probably he didn't really want to commit ... Maybe he thought so ... But he didn't want it with all of himself. You wrote me that sometimes you talk on the phone with him... so you don't feel so much grudge. This thing does you honor. I have not succeeded. Don't be like me ... Forgiving those who have hurt you is a sign of great strength and goodness of mind. Maybe one day will succeed.	page 837

03/02/2021 17:45:19	Inbound	I got the email Last month I searched for him on Facebook. (I know I'm curious) We are in the same support group on fb. I saw his profile and read his comments ... He seems like a good person. A little too aggressive with others ... often gives unnecessarily rude answers ... But I'm pretty sure that he hides a sensitive soul and is certainly a little lonely! From the answers he wrote in the group he seems touchy ... Surely he is the classic type that you have to "know how to take" otherwise he is always capable of arguing ... (I'm sorry for how he treated a lady who had made a simple question) Well, he has a strange way of showing "love". It's nice to say "I love you" ... But it also have to prove it. No wonder he's alone. In my opinion he should be more "flexible" ... But obviously this is my humble opinion . I think he is a more reliable person (but should have more elements to confirm this) He is indecisive ... yes, he is left an open door with you (he will come back for sure) If he really wants to come back to you (and if you want to) hope he learns to be more patient and to give you the respect you deserve. Since when did you become a model?? see you over there! know it's probably not the best but what are your makeup secrets? what do you use? Do tell. Once your released you gotta go to Ulta Beauty or even Sephora. Wishing you well. Id love to let go like that. Sometimes just sit and blast my music in my ears lol How it works is, have a time window that can be released on parole. between Dec 2023 to June 2025 but if they don't release me until that June 2025 date I'll have maxed my sentence meaning no parole at all because would have served all of the whole 10 years in here. Obviously I'd rather be on parole out there for the year and a half can be released on parole rather than do every bit of it in here	page 653

03/04/2021 00:50:37	Outbound	March, 4th 2021 This is my first entry into my thoughts. It has been nearly six years since have seen the free world. Though never really truly free, at least during my life from before, was able to see the beauty of nature from a window. Now can't see anything but open fields with the exception of a little farm house beyond the gates. Sometimes will sit near my 5"x4' double window and watch the man that resides within the house run his lawn mower up and down his land, and on the 4th of July, if can set my view just right, can see a few fireworks. The buildings of each housing unit keeps the camp confined within a circular perimeter, making the area seem like a small city. Most days are too busy to think about what life is like beyond the gates. am always either reading a book of useless facts, watching TV, or on the phone chatting someones ear off For as well known am, actually do not have many close friends. learned very early into my stay that people don't come to prison to make friends. Giving trust to those who have not yet earned that privilege, is a set up for failure. The few friends do have are all in the free world. Some understand my surroundings and others feel like they are hearing an alien language when talk about what prison life is like. My father and are the only family communicate with on a regular basis. mostly speak t who have grown to call Mom, on the phone every week, communication with my father is a bit more rare as his work schedule doesn't leave much room for phone calls. The majority of our communication is through emails. Though he is a man of few words on the phone and maybe even in general, he never ceases to amaze me how open he becomes when the situation calls for it. He always offers up the best fatherly advice. The relationship dynamic between and I, is different then how the dynamic is between my father and I. Wit she takes on the role of a mother in every aspect. With my father, we are aware of the the father daughter relationship, however he displays more of a friendship rather then a father dynamic. Our bond with one another has grown stronger through the years, but we still have a lot of lost time to catch up on. My half siblings are now full adults as well. My is now nearly twenty years old and my is almost twenty-six. is in her second year in college studying to become a nurse is newly engaged. I did not grow up with my siblings, however do have a few memories mz and playing together as children. During a rare visit with my father, when I was maybe 10 years old, he too! and to Walmart and told us we could get anything we wanted from the toy isle settled on a red Star Wars lightsaber and decided on a talking baby doll. It is such a simple memory, but to me cherish it because it is one of the very few memories that was a normal childhood	page 889

03/06/2021 16:32:07	Inbound	My dear Gypsy Rose This is my last email. You're right, need to think about my relationship You absolutely don't have to apologize. AM the one who must apologize. don't kept my emotions in check and lef myself go too much. Please excuse me. How strange ... These days remembered an old dear friend. We have been friends for two years and thought had found a female friend to confide in. Suddenly she disappeared without saying goodbye and was upset ... Some time later learned that she was falling in love with me and she preferred to take distance from me. To me she was just a friend and she understood that. I'm telling you this because you and are getting too attached and it is better take distance each other Now we can't even be friends. prefer to do the right thing ... HAVE to do the right thing. I'm not like other men. I'm not saying I'm better than others ... on the contrary ... I'm just saying I'm different. I'm also sorry you're still sad f6 I don't think you should and want to tell you why: You got close to him after breaking up (who you were really in love with) You "fell in love" with him after he told you he was "in love" with you. (He told you it was "love" at first sight but he never saw you in person !!!!! a bit strange) You don't have many things / hobbies in common. You also wrote to me that you KNOW he should treat you differently. So it seems pretty obvious that maybe you're not that "in love". You just feel alone and it makes you crazy that he doesn't write and answer you. Deep down, you know that. Maybe you want a relationship at all costs and that confuses you a little. believe you can try to build a solid relationship with someone when you get out of jail. If something bothers you and make you sad... Don't hurt yourself just for having a boyfriend / husband. Don't be like many women (and men). Have respect for yourself	page 831

03/10/2021 13:23:23	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, We have some time to think about this. So, let me start doing some research and reading. And then I'll give this some serious preliminary thought. It's been a long time since I've looked at anything about you online. But after writing my last note to you, pulled up and listened to your testimony i 2018 trial. You were honest and forthright about what happened. You didn't try to downplay anything to make yourself look better or to make excuses. So, when you were asked, for example, "Who initially brought up killing your mother?", you simply answered, "I did." If you answer questions just like that in your parole hearing, that honesty and acceptance of your responsibility will get you 90% of the way there. The parole board members are people — not robots — and they will appreciate what you have to say and respect your honesty and willingness to accept responsibility for what happened. Most Americans (and probably most people in general) have a belief in and desire to embrace forgiveness and redemption in those who have done something wrong — even if it's something terribly wrong — if a person honestly accepts responsibility for and regrets what they did. Too many people go to parole hearings refusing to accept full responsibility for what they have done — and they either deny their guilt entirely or downplay it and offer excuses and blame others. Parole board members do not like that because it's not honest AND it shows the person hasn't really changed. Honestly accepting responsibility and being genuinely regretful about one's past conduct is exactly what a parole board is looking for. Gypsy, you have changed so much from who you were nearly six years ago. You have grown from being a misguided young person who found herself scared and trapped in terrible living conditions to a clear-eyed and mature young woman. Who you are now is who have long believed has been deep within you all along. You are a good human being, Gypsy, and you deserve a chance at living a full and meaningful life. You may not feel like it sometimes but you are still incredibly young and you have a whole lifetime ahead of you to live and just be you! So, happy to help you in anyway feels the same way. Did tell you is also a lawyer? She's the lawyer for the Minnesota Twins baseball team. We first met in law school back in the early 1990s. Okay, let me get started. Again, we have a lot of time between now and December. So, don't worry if you don't hear back from me immediately. In the meantime, if you want to reach out to me to ask a question or share a thought with me, just let me know!	page 219

03/11/2021 12:03:31	Outbound	would like to address the topic of my past struggle with addiction, mentioned in your last video. have in fact done things in my life that am not proud of have experienced the lowest of the low. have been guilty of using people to Even in here I am making mistakes and learning from them, this is how someone learns better. experience the same emotions as every other person on the planet and admit how handle situations are not always the correct or average way, however am working on my issues. I NO longer use drugs to help cope with my trauma, the drug of choice was pain pills. have always been open about my struggle with addiction, Even confessing this to Dr. Phil. The classes have taken teaches me healthy coping skills. So instead of getting high, use meditation and music. make a cup of hot chocolate and listen to nature sounds. It calms me and if that doesn't work, I call a friend and just talk and laugh for a little while and am ok. In the last video that you and I did, felt you both were being bullies with some topics. Laughing and being critical, passing judgement when you do not know my pain on the inside. My hope is that going forward you both exercise a little more compassion for those who you judge.	page 568
03/11/2021 10:29:33	Inbound	I guess need to explain the whole process first.... As am not sure if you can listen to podcasts as I know you don't have much access to internet. When we started our podcast, Good Wives Guide to True Crime, your case was our opener we ended up doing 13 episodes and that was our entire 1st season. Well, have a very strong accent and am not very tech savvy so Colleen stepped in to speak about the medical research. She did not go into your files like did and at the time when they were taping the show was still obtaining and researching medical files. Colleen never asked for my input and I just let her do her own thing. Colleen is no longer with the company and asked me to go back and review each episode and look for issues and did. Well, now have a team medical researchers and together we will make this even better and more accurate. So it's nothing wrong but just inaccurate on Colleen part for not researching and looking deeper into your medical files. Hope to hear from you soon. Stay safe and healthy.. Remember, am so proud of the women you have become. Hugs.. Ms	page 568

Iam upset that didn't get to know you to the full extant wanted to but if my presence is a distraction to you then I will respect your decision. As for me, You may be right, is not removing himself from Jpay and simply ignoring my calls because he is leaving the door open. He is a good man and as you said he is one of those people with a rough exterior, honestly think I am the only one who has seen his soft side. For Christmas he bought me a necklace and placed it under a small 2 foot tree (keep in mind he only got the tree because wanted one) And he took a picture of it (with a flashlight spotlight) so it is waiting for me when get out. More often then not he is soft to me. I think I will have some growing up to do to match his maturity level. I love him he is hard to be patient with, but do love him. I will treat you no different then have been, but do have one condition to accepting that offer. (That you never distance yourself from me because you are afraid to be close to me.) believe you were in YOUR box at the time you wrote that email to me last week. Running away never solved anything for anyone. (Listen to the song, Don't Let Me Be Lonely - The Band Perry) As said, it is easy to fantasize. do it all the time. Unfortunately reality is harder to apply to fantasy because fantasy doesn't have the obstacles that reality does. Even if you were single, you mentioned several obstacles on the phone a few weeks ago. And though there are ways that those things can be worked out, right now is not the time to think that far ahead. Right now, just like thinking about me and you cuddled on the couch watching a movie, with chicking the pause button for kissing breaks. (Listen to the song, Just For Now - Maren Morris) We DO both have someone in our lives that we love and could build futures with. You lov: and I lov: And though you both love each other and have this wonderful relationship, you know what will be missing in that future, don't need to remind you. And Though is not playing an active role in my life at the moment, he could walk back into my life and my feelings for him will still be there. could play a small or major role in my future, it is so hard to tell at this point. could end up feeling like he ruined his chance with me and never go into a relationship with him again. Also you mentioned he was in the same support group as you, Is he still in that group as of now? Everything is so unclear right now, and that is why I don't want you and to make any fast decisions regarding a relationship between us, nor do want us to run away from each other because we have a pull towards each other. You might think want a relationship above all else...that it doesn't matter with who, but that is not the case at all. Men email/write me all the time trying to flirt or get my attention. So many letters from guys who think they will be my next boyfriend, and their letters get tossed in the trash and emails get deleted. One of my good male friends has had a crush on me for years and he would probably faint if ever gave him a romantic glance, but have never have because don't want him. The few have had an attraction to, never expected it. The connection was built from a foundation of trust and met the elements needed to be romantic with someone. Let me tell you a bit about myself and what am passionate about? am 20 years old (21 on the 25th of March). 5'4, Long dark brown hair, olive skin, dark brown eyes and freckles. As said in my previous email will send you a letter and some photos so that you can see what actually look like. It must be strange talking to people and having no clue what they look like! have 3 main passions in life. These are dancing, looking after children and justice! am a dancer in training and hoping in the next few years to be a professional dancer. When I have had experience dancing on stage really want to do dance therapy so that can help other people. Growing up was quite chubby compared to other girls (especially other dancers) and used to get bullied for my weight and because of that thought that wasn't good enough to be what wanted to be (a dancer). However my friend encouraged me to keep dancing even though was different and that is what did and it helped me so much to be confident in who am and not hide because my body is bigger or different shaped to other girls and dancers. It has taught me that being different is what makes me unique and special, and that is what want to pass on to other people. want to teach people to be unapologetic about who they are. My other passion is children. babysit a lot for different parents while they are at work. This is kind if my second job whenever am not dance training. normally look after babies from the age of 6 months to 2 years old. love all children but bond a lot more with that age group. really cannot wait to have my own children one day! Do you like children? And my third passion is justice. am actually applying to do an apprenticeship with the crown prosecution services here is London! am very sensitive when see people not getting a fair trial or proper representation it really hurts me and want to be someone who can make a difference to our legal system. want to use my voice to be heard and to make a difference to our society. want to see the legal system run with love and compassion instead of just putting someone in a category of guilty and innocent when there is clearly so much more to a person than that. really want to help people and one of the areas that believe is severely lacking in fairness is the justice system and want to be someone to help. just	page 892

Something that is closely related to your statement are your post-prison plans. Those plans are important for two reasons. First, having detailed plans will help give the Parole Board more confidence that you will be able to successfully transition from prison life to independent living. Second, and more importantly, the more thought you put into your post-prison plans, the greater the chances are you will succeed with independent living. You not only want to secure parole — you want to SUCCESSFULLY make the transition from prison to supervised parole. Thoughtful post-prison plans will help make that success more likely. So, after you have gone through and answered my initial list of questions, would like to spend some time with you hearing more about your specific post-prison hopes and plans. Perhaps the best way to do that would be for you and to spend some time on the phone together. Please let me know what you think. In the time that you were a direct participant in my every day life, you always encouraged me to display the appropriate behavior needed to transcend these surroundings. Your influence on me was positive and though at times your constructive criticism was hard to take, it made me a better person because of it. was not appreciative of your tough love in the final days of our relationship, which know you had the best of intentions. apologize for rebuttaling with being immature. We left in a bad place and that is my own fault. My initial lack of accountability was in poor taste. It was unfortunate that our relationship had to take such a blow to get me to realize that not all consequences are give with a write up or a trip to the hole. Some are personal losses. A loss of a friendship, the loss of a relationship or the loss of faith someone can have in you can be the cost of irresponsible choices. When think back to some of what I projected to you as my character and morals, cringe and some of the things said and did. It is easy to get pulled into what is accepted by peers. It is easy to lose yourself in a place like this. However not all was a far cry from my true personality, more often than not was myself when talking with you. gave you a well rounded example of who am today. Driven by a desire to live my life and shape who am the way I choose to, on my terms has always been my strength to take me to freedom and a chance at something better, a chance to make a better version of me with every new experience, and though could probably do this on my own, want you to be a part of my life to share it with me. want to be your light through the darkness and you be mine. Though I have the support of my parents, and many people who care, My life lacks happiness and a love to call mine. Our relationship was a perfect blend of romance and friendship and was met with many new discoveries both joint and personal. We came to have a connection that was intensely special. It was a worldwind of passionate emotions with the lifelong lasting love that still to this day still warms my heart when thinking of you. Not a day passes that I don't miss the relationship we had. I do understand if you do not wish to respond and reconnect. If you are in a relationship currently with someone new, mean no disrespect to your girlfriend when I say this, but will always love you.	page 889

The difference is NC has opinions without facts has facts but spins it to fit the narrative she wants the public to think. So to me just being honest with you is the best option. have a question, in her videos why did she neglect to mention to her viewers that in 2019 she sent a message to a woman in one of the groups who she confided in, a message that read something to the fact, " have the truth about Gypsy, something no one will see coming and am going to find a way to bury Gypsy so deep in a hole she can't get out of" You want the reason why don't want to talk to her, it is because of THAT. she may care to a point but don't care who pissed off so bad, NO one who loves and cares about me in no situation would ever make that comment. Under no circumstances do trust apologized to her for my rudeness, she needs to apologize to me for what she said and how her influence in my life	page 572

What do you think life will be like a year from now? once everyone has had the opportunity to get the vaccine...do you think things will ever be normal? I miss having a visit... It takes me like 4 hours to do my hair and make up for a visit lol and wear a little perfume. :-) I never appreciated the limited interaction we were allowed to have before all this, always wanted more... You would be surprised how much miss the touch of someones hand. That skin on skin touch.	page 838

03/18/2021 12:35:19	Outbound	So how long going to be home until she has to leave again for Spain? or can she even go back to work with Italy's red zone? My father has a work schedule similar, he leaves for work and spends months at sea and is only home for a month or so. It is strange but when i read your emails can imagine hearing you speak with your accent. :-)	page 839
03/18/2021 17:25:39	Outbound	Mmmm so you caught on that speak with songs. :-) Yes, am guilty of doing that. I train nearly every day (I only take a week off when its "that time" of the month) do 20 minutes on the elliptical machine, 10 minutes on a stair climber, and 3 reps of 8, on the weights. enjoy it because that is my me time. there are 2 ways relax and that is either cozy under my blankets watching TV, or my more productive way is training. When am mad or really in my box I just need to be active so don't fall into a depression and want to sleep all the time. train in front of a huge wall mirror so can see myself work out. like to watch my hair bounce up and down when am running. lol wish we got to watch Netflix. am currently looking for a new show to watch. was watching a show called the Discovery of Witches on ABC watched the first season and the second season is already streaming but it premieres in June on regular cable. Its a good show. I'm into Fantasy, science fiction, historical dramas. back in 2008 or so on HBO was a good show called the Tudors. It followed the story of King Henry the 8th. I've seen the first season of Game of Thrones on HBO. Apparently that show lasted 7 seasons. have wanted to watch the Outlander series but I'll have to wait until I'm home to watch that. can request movies as long as it is not rated R, to be shown on the "movie channel" It is only a channel that broadcast a chosen movie to the whole camp. That is how I have been able to watch some of the newer movies that have come out while have been in prison. liust watched the new Disnev Mulan movie. It was not bad. but it was too different fram the animated version.	page 839

My last vacation was in "tropea" (summer 2919) It is located in the region of Calabria (southern Italy) the sea is wonderful If you can, do some research on the internet (if you can access) Have you seen some nice movies recently?	page 839
03/18/2021 23:04:01	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, wrote to you recently and haven't received anything back I'm not sure if you got my mail. just wanted to ask if you'd seen 'The Act'? Would you say that's a accurate representation of your life leading up to the death of your mother? Do you suffer with anything due to all of the medication your mother gave to you? And lastly, when will you be released from prison? I'm a law student and I'd like to understand the case as the film and internet can be inaccurate and your case has really interested me. I'm sorry for what you went through and understand why you done what you done. Everyone has a breaking point and you lasted a very long time. hope to hear from you soon Gypsy. Many thanks	page 867

03/21/2021 22:42:52	Outbound	Deai know this may come unexpected, have had my friend message you previously, but do not know if you are even viewing any messages at this point. You have been on my mind lately and truly feel a lot of regret about the past. It has been a long past few years since we talked and am not same person as when you knew me. have grown from many experiences that have shaped who am today and the woman am today is reaching out because care about you and still to this day feel saddened by the loss of our bond. know that we had parted on bad terms, and was very irresponsible with the feelings that were involved, but trust me when I say that would never do something like that now, it isn't my character to make those same choices. was such a stupid little girl back in 2017, was still not yet matured with only having a short time in my new found life in prison. Now having almost 4 years passed and a lot of mistakes between then and now, do not think you would be so disappointed with the person have grown to be. I am so sorry for hurting you the way I did. now see had a really great guy in you and wasn't able to give you the same devotion you deserved at that time. know better now.... would be grateful if you could find it in your heart to respond and if it would suit you, us have a phone call for the first time in a very long time. These days am not in a relationship, have made poor choices in that area of my life, so have been more focused on preparing for my life outside of prison. see the parole board in December and will know my exact date of my release at that time. If you would like, You can email me and am able to respond back to emails through the email service JPAY. if you do not wish to ever hear from me understand but I thought owe you a real message from me. will be happy to hear from you if you do reach back out to me. 03/21/2021 02:52:20	Inbound	It's late Saturday night around 145, and I can't sleep. So decided to write you an email... Little girl is next to me and she is hogging up the damn covers, haha. But keep wishing that you were right here next to us. Hopefully one day that will happen, but for now just have to imagine it... Imagine your beautiful self snuggled up against me, rubbing your back, kissing your neck, listening to yawns and noises. Wow, what a daydream... can almost picture it Gorgeous. Maybe you can too. See it? Stay Gorgeous,	page 812
03/21/2021 10:24:04	Inbound	Everyone has a dark side ... An inner shadow we cannot get rid of it but if we want, it is possible to integrate it into ourselves, accept it, without risking projecting it onto someone else, such as a partner, friends, parents and anyone you meet on your path ... As told you: do not do to others what you do not want to be done to yourself ... And that's something I've learned the hard way ... Redemption comes when you start accepting yourself and understand that it is best to think before you act. Gypsy am writing this to tell you that it is better to think about it before taking an action that could harm another person (not only in love but also in friendship and in everyday situations) It is also difficult for sensitive people (like you and me) not to have "remorse". These are probably things you already know ... But wanted to write it down anyway. Obviously when write "Jedi master" joke still have a lot of things to learn ...	page 838

I cried...a lot. And now am going to pick myself up off the ground and continue on. mean it isn't the first time a guy has shattered me. picked up every piece and continued forward. In the end he is the one who will be alone and maybe he will realize what he threw away or maybe he never will but either way, once someone abandons me, it's over forever. can never trust him again.	page 886

We have medical records that go back as far as 2000, which is really interesting but there are very little records from the time you left New Orleans and moved to Aurora, MO. Do you remember that time frame? Was there a period of time when you didn't go to the doctors anymore? There is like a whole year and a half with no records. was just wondering if maybe that was a time you might have had some normalcy in your life? Remember am always here for you! am super proud of you! hope and pray for you everyday that you will find peace, love, and happiness everyday. Hugs!	page 572

My dad died about 8 years ago and did apologize for his behavior but my mother has never taken any responsibility for her actions/inaction and probably never will. don't contact her anymore. Anyhow how are things with you now? read that you were writing a book. Awesome job by the way. That must be a challenge but every challenge is good because it reminds us of how strong you are. 03/23/2021 00:02:11	Outbound	Yes, a physical touch even just touching someone's hand is better than nothing at all. In the U.S very few prisons still allow conjugal visits. (married couples are given the privilege spend 24 hours to be sensually intimate within a setting similar to a small cottage house) Unfortunately, my facility is not among those that offer this. In here during visits, guards who are far less intimidating than the name suggests, keep a watchful eye on those who are hugging, kissing and holding hands. They simply have to do their job looking for any illegal activities. The interaction is so limited that they even monitor if you get too deep into a kiss, No French kisses allowed..lol but I've managed to get a few good ones in. :-P.. I am a very good kisser if you were wondering. was always getting in trouble for touching me when he would visit me, (no not like that) He would touch my shoulder, try to wrap his arm around my waist or my back or my arm and the guards would remind him, ONLY holding hands is permitted beside the greeting and departing embrace and kiss. He still would always push the boundaries, hated when he would because it only drew more attention to us. :-\ Even with the rules of the institution, found a happiness in being able to be physically in front of my loved ones.	page 840

COVID-19 vaccinations are underway for offenders eligible in Phase 1B of the states vaccination rollout plan. So far we have vaccinated more than 4,785 offenders, or about 21% of the statewide prison population. On April 9, all adults in Missouri will become eligible to receive the COVID-19 vaccination. This means all residents of Missouri Department of Corrections facilities will be eligible. We encourage you to take advantage of this opportunity to get vaccinated. Getting vaccinated is the best way to protect your health and the fastest way to reopen programming, visits and other activities. Nationwide, the COVID vaccine supply is starting to catch up with the demand, and we expect the vaccination rollout to speed up soon. Your cooperation with safety protocols has paid off. There now are COVID-19 cases in less than 0.1% of the offender population. Most facilities have NO CASES of COVID-19. COVID-19 vaccinations are underway for offenders eligible in Phase 1B of the states vaccination rollout plan. So far we have vaccinated more than 4,785 offenders, or about 21% of the statewide prison population. On April 9, all adults in Missouri will become eligible to receive the COVID-19 vaccination. This means all residents of Missouri Department of Corrections facilities will be eligible. We encourage you to take advantage of this opportunity to get vaccinated. Getting vaccinated is the best way to protect your health and the fastest way to reopen programming, visits and other activities. Nationwide, the COVID vaccine supply is starting to catch up with the demand, and we expect the vaccination rollout to speed up soon. However, vaccine supplies might be limited at the beginning of Phase 3, so please be patient. I like sci-fi, action, fantasy, comedy, and horror. But my favorite genre is all the superhero movies that they have out. like Star Wars too!!! have every movie that they have out. As for giving you my phone number, let's get to know each other a little better first, really don't give it out to many people. But you will get it, promise. Anyway can't wait to hear from you again!!! Have a good day, and make sure to take care of yourself. tried sending a picture, hope it worked, if not let me know and I'll try again	page 820

I also like the name Merlin for a boy (I doubt any man would remotely allow me to name our child after a wizard)...and if I had twins, my twins would be Luke and Leia, (Skywalker) as a middle name. :-) I am an earner hu tha	page 839

03/27/2021 14:20:45	Outbound	Hi You Know I just remembered that my mother as a child lived in Reo, her father (my grandfather) worked for the Brazilian government in oil research. She told me stories about living there. She said Carnival was amazing. So have you ever been to the U.S? there isn't much to see in my state it is mostly farm land. but in other parts of the U.S there are beautiful places to see. Have you ever heard of New Orleans? that is a popular place to visit in my home state of Louisiana. If you ever choose to visit someday I'll give you a tour of New Orleans. :) it is the second most popular place to celebrate Carnival. Mardi Gras is one hell of a party. personally have never been to the party, drinking side of the celebrations, I've only seen the parades. New Orleans is about an hour drive from my parents home where I will be living. So since we like the same movies and tv shows, I want to suggest a few you might like to watch. So here is a few tv shows, Legend of the Seeker, (season one and two) BBC Merlin BBC Robin Hood BBC Doctor Who BBC Sinbad	page 882

My family doesn't know just yet and to be honest I'm scared they might be disappointed in my choice. I am struggling to find the right way to open up to those am close with about my choice in religion. 03/28/2021 12:46:16	Outbound	Dear Gypsy, know you must be getting tons of emails and letters daily so I'll try to keep it short. not here to talk to you about your past because be real, that's all you've been doing for years now. just wanted to reach out and say yes I am a supporter but also understand you. When heard your story, it just resonated with me. too was horrifically abused by my parents and ended up in foster care when was 11, but I still got abused. Now I'm 23 and finally moved out last year after my 22nd birthday. know you might think of me as some young girl who just wants to talk to someone who is all over the news, but I'm not. can imagine that it's very hard to make new friends who interested in just listening to your story. just want to be a friend, or a pen pal or whatever you want to call it. just really look up to you Gypsy and you inspire me a lot. I think it's so amazing that you are getting an education and trying to better yourself for when you are released. A few years after you're released, I'm sure things will settle down and you won't be bombarded as much. But I'll still support you and wish the best for you. Okay I'm sorry lol tried really hard to keep it short but guess I need a friend too. Who understands the ugly part of life but also who just could use an extra friend? Lol if I'm being totally creepy you don't have to even respond. have no idea where this is going but wanted to reach out and at least offer a friendship, even if you don't want it haha. But after all that, how are you doing? What are your classes that you're taking? heard you are in some sort of an "honor" wing think it's called? For having good behavior but I could be wrong lol rumors are just rumors after all. But what's your day to day life like? You seem so busy with all your classes and therapy and stuff. Honestly applaud you for taking classes. left college a few years ago because it just wasn't working for me haha. I'm so happy you are free from the pain you were put through. Again I'm sorry this is so long lol. I've been just thinking about what to say and how to say it because I'm sure you're sick of just answering the same questions about your story and your mom and all those things. I guess kind of just word vomited all over this email lol. If you get the chance, look forward to hearing back from you. If not, just know that despite your hardships, still look up to you and think a pretty incredible human being. Plus heard from someone in a support group on Facebook for you that you are just the sweetest and funny and kind. hope my messy email makes you realize how important you are to some people even if some days you feel unnoticed. Anyways, thanks for listening to me ramble and really hope that we can continue to chat but that's entirely up to you. will send stamps or money or however this works so that you can reply. Best of luck in all that you do,	page 647

You are truly an inspiration for me. My mom has also been abusive to me throughout my life. Your story has inspired me to see there are brighter days ahead, and will be free someday! hope you are able to get therapy and the mental health help you need and deserve while you're there. If not, hope you will be able to get the help you deserve once you get out. attempted suicide last year because things at home were so bad. I finally found the strength to ask for help and get the therapy and medication I've needed for so many years. hope you are able to do the same! You are SO strong, beautiful, and loved by so many! There are hundreds of thousands of people in Gypsy Rose Support Groups all over Facebook chatting about your story and how inspiring you are to everyone! Everyone just wants to see you grow, flourish and enjoy your freedom!! This might be kind of a personal question, but are they giving you proper feminine products in there? I am missing home a lot (Las Vegas). am happy it is sunny today. have been reading so much over the past year since other than work, there has not been much to do. Do you read? If so, what do you enjoy? need some more recommendations. love thriller/horror books, but read all different kinds. have included a pre-paid reply. Does that help? haven't used this service much. If you can think of any names or information during that time who could. verify that your mom was working on her mental health and trying too get her disability. That would be great... If you can think of any of the therapist or doctors she saw that would be good too... might try to reach out for her medical records to see if they have any may need you to sign more forms if you are interested ... just let me know. hope to hear from you soon! hugs ms.	page 572

03/29/2021 19:46:26	Outbound	please dont ever think about something like that again... can see why it would be a passion of yours to help others with mental illness. You seem positive now. I can't say that havent been tempted to a few times myself, had not been so afraid of going all the way through with it, my fate would have been different. Although if hadn't been so afraid to speak up for myself before committed my crime things also would have been different...But can't dwell on those things. And neither can you. There is far too much beauty in the world to let our best moments in life go unappreciated. Please make me a promise, and know that am just an acquaintance, so please don't think me too forward, but lam a very good listener and if you ever feel yourself starting to slip back into those thoughts or feelings then please reach out to me? don't have all the answers but I care. Are you on Facebook at all? If you wish you can friend request my stepmother. She and my dad have a joint account, Lives in cutoff Louisiana, if that helps you find her. I call her about once or twice a week and she would also relay any messages. Plus...She has many new recent pictures of me. :) well prepandemic pics anyway. anyway on a lighter note, lam sure you have things you enjoy doing, so what are some of your interests? 03/29/2021 20:24:57	Outbound	By the way, Yes do receive emails and letters from many new people, but don't respond to even most. lam extremely selective of who respond to. Many do ask me about my past right from the start and it does deter me from responding. am not going to from the beginning pour out my life and feelings to a stranger, so thank you for not prying in your first email. lam guarded and have major trust issues. In the past, my trust has been betrayed by friends, family and lovers alike. So am less inclined to divulge my most intimate thoughts to just anyone anymore... Especially when have been bumed at the height of my vulnerability, was left abandoned. Most people have good intentions, others are just seeking answers to their curiosity. Many have emailed me and instead of keeping my response private, like assumed it was, they post it in social media groups. My inner circle of those actually can call when need to talk or that have my best interest is around 10 - 15 people including family. have over 5,000 jpay contacts from people adding themselves to my jpay list and it keeps growing but as I said, lam very cautious about who respond to... and just because respond once doesn't mean I'll want to continue to correspond. Obviously you can see from how many times I've written you so far that intend to keep writing you. :~)	page 766
03/29/2021 16:32:17	Inbound	You can ask me anythig Gypsy I'll never be offended don't worry know more about you than you do me so it's only fair that you get to know about me to! Two years ago was very depressed and unwell and attempted to take my own life.. Its hard to pin point exactly why was so depressed. got alot of help and they suggested may have a personality disorder but don't really take any notice of it because know how to help myself mentally and make it positive for my life and for the people love! Its never been a negative factor of my life towards anyone else but myself and I'm alot more happy with my life than was a couple of years ago.. And amazing people like yourself inspire me to get through life hope this answers your question! But yes I'm very big on mental health because i wanted to end my own life but with help and support from others got through it.. So many people feel this way but havent got that support and sadly take there own life.. But with support it's an illness where death can be avoided if treated! always make sure everyone knows Im here to help and to listen.. Which was my main motivation to reach out to you as if help you or occupy you positively even a little bit then that's worth doing.. Plus of course I'm really enjoying hearing from you	page 766

You're your own person though Gypsy and you should be proud of what you chose to do.. don't want to bring up or talk about your past because that's up to you to do if you ever wanted to.. But what will say is because don't think you had much choice on what your beliefs could be of the way you wafed to live your life it's amazing that you're finding yourself. You deserve to explore what you truly believe in and to be happy with who you are! I'm sure your family will feel the same.. I'm not a religious person but I'm sure your family and friends will just want to see you happy and will also empower you to be vaurealf and maka waur v v	page 766

03/29/2021 13:49:46	Inbound	Hi Gypsy :-) Oh good that you were not mad at the photo and thanks for the compliments, anyway promise not to send you that kind of thing. Thanks, Seriously did you want to see me dressed as a spiderman? You just gave me a good idea about this, I'm going to look for a spider-man suit on the internet to buy and then will send you some of the photos! Thanks for the indications of tv shows, will definitely take a look at the synopses and choose where to start, many of these tv shows have on netflix. Wow, Xena the warrior princess, what a nostalgia :-) didn't even remember this TV show anymore, it was very good, liked Hercules too. I researched about Gangs of London, it looks good let's watch it together yes, thanks for the indication and the invitation :-) Wow, how nice your family to have had some contact with Brazilian culture, the most amazing thing was that your grandfather was working here. Unfortunately I've never been to the USA, it's my dream to meet, in fact it is my priority, as it is the first country want to visit! Yes, I've heard of New Orleans and Mardi Gras and a lot, always see it on TV and in the movies and also researched it, cool, you're going to live very close to New Orleans! I will visit yes you can be sure and would love to have you as my tour guide :- Religion is something very personal because you must follow the one that completes you, you have this right, even if your family does not accept they must respect your decision, in the beginning it will be difficult for them to understand because generally parents want their children to be everything they they have planned and forgotten that the children are not themselves and will follow their own path. Tell your parents that you are trying to find your way and that you can get it right or wrong, but you still deserve to be yourself. If you find yourself in paganism it is there that you should stay and if after that it is not exactly what you wanted there is no problem. now that realized that your name has a different meaning "Gypsy", as am stupid, had not thought of that. I am from a Christian family but currently do not have a religion but respect them all. would like to take some doubts It's because don't have many friends and end up having nobody to talk to, so sometimes would also like to write to you on weekends, it's not that you are my last option, in fact you are my first option, like to talk with you thought you were really cool! Can you receive my messages on the weekends? How do you see the photos send to you? on the computer? board? are they printed? colorful or black and white?	page 883

In the long run it probably would not have worked out anyway, want kids, he didn't... Probably just wasn't meant to be. If you need to vent am here. It helps talking, this is my second failed relationship and am really starting to reevaluate what I do and do not want in a man. Anyways, How are things with the music? Awwe what is your sons name? :-)	page 281

Quick bio of me: actually a Banker for a Wells Fargo branch, am always all over the place doing quick gigs everywhere, painting houses, selling stuff, investing in stock market, doing roofing. just can't stay in the house by myself because get bored! haha You know I'd love to maybe see if one day we could meet each other in the future(: think it'd be nice to get to know someone as beautiful as you haha	page 472
03/30/2021 17:45:10	Inbound	Yes love the gym! It's a big part of my life as it helps me massively mentally too.. have quite a stressful job at times so also workout using a punch bag :D love long walks and socialising! do like to party and love live music.. Did you ever really drink alcohol? You mentioned your past religion so maybe you didn't haha. don't drink recreationally but you may of heard that certain places in England love to party and get very drunk and dance.. In my home county we make a drink called cider which is an apple based alcohol! Through lockdown I have started playing xbox and stuff. love music too listen to pretty much all genres :D what sort of music do you like? I've travelled a fair bit would say had a pretty privileged childhood for the most part and got to go a few places.. I've been to Portugal a 4 times.. Spain, France, Egypt twice (saw the pyramids) Cyprus, Prague (Czech Republic) Dominican Republic (carribean) and next year am booked to go to Germany the three places would like to visit are.. Croatia.. Iceland.. And Italy! America does kinda intrigue me.. And you're amazing.. And I'm sure your family and friends are.. But when went to the caribbean me and my ex girlfriend and our friends were the only British people in the hotel and the rest were American & we only got along with a few.. think the culture is alot different because would say we are overly polite (what an American once told me) for example on the holiday opened the door and loads of people walked through and didn't say thankyou so just shouted you're welcome! Haha if you don't say your please and thankyou's and always have good manners where live you are considered rude and ignorant very quickly! Where are the three places you would like to go?	page 765

Out of respect to you for taking the time to message me will not betray you! if I'm honest was part of a discussion group before but only joined to find out how to contact you haha! have left the group when found out about JPay © Im similar to you have alot of acquaintances but only a select load of friends! It saddens me to hear that so many have abused your trust and good nature.. But more so amazed and so impressed with your persistence in giving people chances! can only try to imagine what it must be like having people messaging you It must be hard to trust them.. I think would of given up on people in anger but you amaze me that you still have it in	page 765
03/30/2021 17:33:24	Inbound	Gypsy.. The only questions had was the ones asked at first which was about your welfare! wanted to offer my support as said.. If I can help even a little bit to somebodies life then that means alot to me :) I'm not going to ask you anything because even though really really appreciate and love that you trust me enough to ask questions and would always keep it private you haven't been speaking to me long so for me wouldn't expect you to tell me anything.. But as said you know was only ever intending in learning about how you are now.. Today. In the present. If one day we talk and talk and naturally things come up about the past then it's up to you! But I will never pry :D	page 765

If you are asking what the town of Chillicothe is like, it is small and unspecial. One of those if you blink, you'll miss it towns its so small. As for my facility, the buildings are mostly housing units. Each housing unit building holds 4 wings. A,B,C,D. There are 8 housing units. One main long building is our dinning hall/kitchen, school, recreational, and other offices. We have a open space in the middle of the hub which is our yard, a few picnic tables, and the sof ball field. We have keys to our rooms. Each room has 2 bunk beds 4 lockers and a table in the middle of the room. am top bunk. :->) have a personal electronics, such as, a fan, hair dryer, lamp, tablet, TV. Honestly my prison is like a small college campus. To me seeing the uniforms of the guards so often am used to it, so it doesn't seem weird or scary anymore. I rarely wear my khakis except for school, visits or to eat at the dinning hall. Any other time, am wearing gray fleece pants or sweat pants and a white sleeveless shirt, or just a t shirt and shorts. The guards are for the majority are nice to me, or at least neutral. Some are assholes but there is those kinds of people in every crowd. respect them and don't give them a difficult time and they in turn, treat me with decency. have never had an issue with a guard treating me badly. have had 11 write ups for things like sleeping through count time, and minor contraband. have never been to segregation. The only time handcuffs are ever used in here is to take an inmate to segregation. have had some of the best times in my life here. For new years eve 2017, we cut up paper for confetti and at midnight we all yelled out happy new year! and threw the confetti off the top tier of the wing. lol It was awesome! We also have little carnivals at the gym building. They turn it into something fun for us a few times a year. :-)) In America we watch football, and once a year the two best teams compete for the trophy at the super bowl, and so the staff puts on this Superbowl party at the gym almost every year. It is the one time a year actually forget this is a prison and we just have fun gathering together to watch the game. (they have a TV projector so the whole damn gym wall is the	page 844

I'm not sure why your last two boyfriends left you but believe it wasn't just because you are Gypsy Blanchard, that is no reason to leave someone you care about. Is that part of your past !? it does, and as the name says it's passed on so don't see any problem with that at least for me. Don't be saying that you are" murderer Gypsy Blanchard ", you are not, ok! You didn't do it, you may have had the intention but not the action, anyway don't want to go into those uncomfortable details for you. What just want to say is that for someone who likes you, your past will not be a problem.(I hope have expressed myself correctly in english) You are so beautiful and you have an incredible life ahead of it you can be sure, Guys flirting with you is the kind of thing that you will not miss. be well and don't lower your spirits :-)) also saw that you met the actor Elijah Wood, that must have been surreal, suddenly seeing these characters in front of you and talking to you must have been incredible. 03/31/2021 17:45:07	Inbound	Well we were good for about a year and a half. It wasn't perfect, but enjoyable. She has struggles. She was working on them, doing good. Then she started drinking, saying awful things. Then she would start accusing me of stuff, blaming me for things that made no sense at all. She lost an e-reader i bought her. So i bought her another one. She ended up finding the one she lost and blamed me for hiding it. said, so you think i hid that for what purpose? And then waste money buying another one? Stuff like that and just makes no sense. Then she would get mad at stuff and just go crazy on me. Saying am a terrible person, she would be better by herself. Finally got tired of hearing it and said well go ahead, because am done. am making the story short obviously, but that is it in a nutshell. Yes she is the mother. It's sad, but I feel okay. feel like it needed to be done. She doesn't understand my medical issues and would basically mock me for it. Just isn't something cant deal with mentally or physically anymore. Sorry missed your call.	page 281

03/31/2021 15:54:05	Outbound	Ah,..then think know what happened. was engaged back in 2018-2019 and out of respect for my relationship, chose to not make excessive male friends. It was my choice because wanted my boyfriend to feel secure in our relationship and when he ended the relationship in late 2019, realized that because had did that, barely made any new friends. have female friends but the ratio is very disproportionate. Anyway now as a single woman am allowing myself to meet people. sorry for neglecting to write a few years ago. Mmmmm well as long as your not a psycho might want to meet someday. (I'm teasing lol) Sure, let's get to know one another first. :-) Where are you from? can you send me a picture so that may put a face to a name? believe click (snap n' send) :-) Well, I am doing as good as one can be in these crazy times. My facility should be allowing us to receive the vaccine starting next month. We have not been able to have visits for a year now. haven't seen my parents in 2 years, However the facility is working towards video visits. As for me personally, have been focused on my education and am slowly writing a book about my life. want to share my story MY way and this book will be me finally coming out with everything, even the things no one else knows. I am starting to really find myself who am and through trial and error learn what makes me happy. I am turning 30 years old this year, July 27th... and am realizing that it is time to really show am ready to take on the real world and enjoy being able to live the life always wanted. I'll see the parole board in December and will be eligible for parole 2 years later. :-) Can have hair during all that in	page 469

But all I can do is support you in the present time and future! That's amazing you've found you're bisexual and you definitely shouldn't be afraid to share that.. Hey! It means you get double the amount of options of who you want to be with haha! I'm 100% straight however people like to joke that too nice and polite to be a typical straight young man with muscles and a cheeky sense of humour.. Or as we say in this part of this world a "Lad" on the exterior come across as an aggressor but if like you then am a very gentle person :-) Wow I can't imagine never drinking alcohol! 03/31/2021 20:04:37	Inbound	My spoken English is horrible, have no one to practice with so my pronunciation is bad :-(Sometimes use the translator just to write. But read very well, read your emails easily, it's very rare that use the translator, use it only if it's a new word I've never seen before. watch videos in English with subtitles to practice, if you speak slowly understand without subtitles but if you speak too fast need subtitles in English and if you use unknown words put the subtitles in Portuguese lol I'm evolving my English, I'm sorry if express myself badly. Yes it is true have no friends, here in Brasilia the cases of covid increased again so the trade is closed, but before closing go out to have fun alone, like going to the cinema, parks or shopping. Im "forever alone" lol have some co-workers but it is only at work outside the service do not have contact with them, in college have no friend, and in the gym have only one friend, had another friend who left for another state, his father passed away and he had to go back to his state to take care of his mother. in my service and in the gym they always invite me to parties but i don't like alcoholic drinks, not to mention that they are superficial people, it's all appearance, money, status, falsehood and drugs. So this kind of friend prefer not to have, people trusted and thought were my friends betrayed me and did bad things to me, since then have stayed away People are bad, they never want to see you well and when they want they always want to be better than you, nobody really cares, people who don't care about the next one, nobody gives a damn what you think. Brazilians are what? That was funny, where did you see that!? lol, anyway i am not part of this statistic! always left myself in the corner, sometimes also due to my lack of ability to talk mainly with girls. was never popular with girls, in fact was once elected even the ugliest of the class in 2004 (I'm even ashamed to say that). had 3 girlfriends in my entire life, my first dating lasted 7 months, she ended, and believe me until today don't know why. my second courtship lasted 3 years, she broke up with me to date a guy from the gym, at that time i didn't go to the gym and after that sadness motivated me to start gym. And my last courtship lasted for almost 4 years, she deprived me of the gym for 3 years for "jealousies" that she said she had and in the end the infidel was she who betrayed me with 2 guys (the ones am sure that in addition to the other betrayals that didn't know) and the rest of this story you already know. In fact, they are sad and very shameful stories, and please don't feel sorry for me and don't think I'm a sad guy. After that you will find me a failure! Sometimes think about starting to play the lottery, Here is a popular saying that says: Good luck in game, bad luck in love lol it doesn't hurt to try.	page 883

03/31/2021 04:15:31	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! My name i and I've been thinking about writing you for a long time but I've heard lots of people say you might respond. Lol But basically just wanted to tell you that have followed you and your case very closely and support you 100%! think you're so brave for doing what you did and I'm so sorry that your life hasn't been very great. It makes me really happy though to see you thriving while you've been incarcerated and even heard you say in an interview that you're happy! That makes me really happy. Also, if you ever need anything like someone to talk with or anything, I'm here and you can write me anytime. I'll try to pack sure pre-pay all my messages for you! It certainly is interesting and found the podcast very insightful. will discuss with my team whether it will work for our format and be in touch with Amelia if we feel we could proceed with it. Hopefully, we will be in touch soon. Thank you again for taking the time to reply and best of luck with the documentary. Yours sincerely,	page 896

Looks fade like the brightness of autumn leaves, and what is left is the age of a soul. Beauty never dies to those who find the beauty in a loved soul. And no, that all was not from a book, or something read, this is all me just telling you the truth. So bring on your bald pics because for years and years, was forced to be bald now I can say have beautiful hair. take pride in my hair. won't think different of you. \	page 843

I'm 32 married and a mom of three boys. I'm a mail lady too. would like to be friends with you. don't have many and feel we could have a penpal relationship. i hear you are engaged. that is amazing am happy for you. are you studying anything? am obsessed with history and podcasts. also true crime. pray for you. hope you can get out and truly be free sooner than later. do you know who Dax Sheppard is? he has a podcast called armchair expert it's both funny and informative. if you can recommend listening to it. so tell me if you could go anywhere on vacation where would you go? 04/02/2021 14:45:03	Inbound	I think everyone in the UK only found out about your story because of the series made.. But don't think many would recognise you in the street. It's hard to explain but where come from for example there are very small villages where it's very quiet and the likelihood of anyone knowing you were there is very slim.. There's a lot of rumours of lots of celebrities having homes in Somerset Johnny Depp being one of them. The cities for example London are abit crazy and very overpopulated and not very safe.. I'd recommend the south west.. If you have the Internet or books and can look up Cornwall think you'd love it.. Of course the UK is surrounded by water so Cornwall is like at the bottom of the UK and has lots of beautiful sea side towns.. Does it scare you coming back into the world? Or excited? guess you must have	page 765
04/02/2021 14:47:55	Inbound	I am probably hard to find on Facebook and please don't be offended but because don't know your friend don't want him to be able to see my Facebook because put personal family things on there so try to keep it private.. Instagram don't mind as it's just pictures of me on there :) there was an account made as you on there that saw but I'm assuming that it's a fan name you haha	page 765

When people watch my Dr Phil episode, was getting tons of guys making advances towards me, in fact still do.. but like you said it is annoying when people who are strangers and don't know you as a person just see the outside and give their complements. hate it when a man who doesn't know me calls me any term of endearment. If want the advance il be ok with it, but if not normally that man never hears from me again. extremely attractive and am sure any woman would want to sleep with you, but there is a difference between wanting to sleep with you, and caring enough about who you are to want a relationship with you. Respect is absolutely necessary to even attempt the latter. in the beginning, saw your email before saw your photo. saw you as a beautiful person by your words before anything else. would never disrespect you by making vulgar comments. More then anything I'd just love to cuddle on the couch with you and watch a movie. like to think the reason why you stopped telling me that you want to make love to me is more then just because you are to think you know that to me take that term different then sex or just fucking. You and are the same, we both have the understanding and respect for each other that we won't tell each other pretty	page 843

04/02/2021 21:28:11	Inbound	Dear Gypsy I've re-written this email so many times because I'm not sure how to put across what your story means to me so I'll start at the beginning. My name i & I'm 28 years old live in a place called the Shetland islands in Scotland ifyou dont know where that is it's a small island in the north sea with a population of 20'000 it's where Shetland ponies come from!!! came across your story in 2015 when was pregnant with my daughter but didn't really know much about it until came across it again a few weeks ago. Your story has touched my heart & affected me in a way dont understand & think it's your strength & willingness to escape a life you were deeply unhappy in, a life of total unfairness & the fact that the system failed you in every possible way. It makes me so mad that they put you in prison when they should have rehabilitated you & taught you how to live a normal life. However it seems your happy where you are & last heard you were getting your GED? Is that right? We dont have those here we have degrees but think it's the same thing. Anyway I'm so happy that you are so happy & comfortable where you are. understand that you did what you did because you thought it was the only way out & omg we all make mistakes!! had a drug addiction for a very long time & the only way I kicked it was falling pregnant with my daughter. I'm now running a crafting shop with my mum in Shetland where we live. In sorry this email seems like I'm totally rambling but think your amazing Gypsy & I've always wanted a pen pal in another country & your strength truly inspires me. Despite the fact run a business with my mum I'm battling really bad depression & for some reason speaking to someone dont know makes me feel better. I'm hoping your strength rubs off on me LOL. Anyway would love to help you in any way I can, by sending money, stamps, care packages (am allowed to send care packages to the prison?) like sweets (candy) clothes, makeup etc?? Please email me back I'd love to stay in contact! XOXOX	page 900

04/06/2021 12:12:53	Inbound	Hey gypsy :D That sounds lovely and sounds about right because one of the main things can take from talking to you is that you have a certain warmth to you.. You're very easy to like and have made me feel so welcome talking to you so quickly! have a quite a small family only have one blood relative brother and a few step brothers.. before my parents an awful lot though my parents separated when was very young I've always had an amazing relationship with both of them! I guess they are very welcoming but we don't really have many mutual friends we sort of go about our own social business.. I'd say do more social activities with my father and my brother! My friends mean so much to me always make sure that I'm always on contact with them so they know I'm here whenever they need me.. I'm the sort of guy who always keeps my phone on loud at night incase I'm needed.. I'm very much the go to friend when somebody wants to talk about something and pride myself on that.. As said before if can help somebody by talking then will because life is fucking tough.. a mixture of male and female friends.. My grandmother who loved dearly sadly passed this year she was a big influence on the way am as a person.. She motivates everyday even though she's not here.. Hope you're well!! X x	page 767

04/06/2021 23:48:16	Outbound	Deai Ok so I received several emails from over the last few days, so much to reply to..where do start... Ok well first, don't need any money, have enough. besides put what you would have sent me in savings so you can visit me and come absolve me of my sins. Forgive me father for have sinned thinking about you. :-P (I about fell over laughing) I'm glad made you feel better the other day. always want to be someone you can count on to be there even from thousands of miles away. <3 As said we might both equally feel alone at times but I'm always here for you. don't care how long it takes to earn your full trust, I'm not going anywhere. Ok...on the topic of children, have been thinking over the last few days about what happens if don't have a stable relationship by the time I'm 35. I think Ifthat happens am going to have a donor. At least then would not be putting my fate ofhaving children in the hands of a man. Men have let me down before. So with having an arrangement such as a donor, whether that be from a clinic or a friend that simply wishes to help me get pregnant but has no desire to have any claim to the child, or a person who might want to be in a co-parenting situation wink (teasing you) These are all alternatives to having a children within a committed relationship ifthat does not ever present itself to be the case. Unfortunately can not give you much advice about because you will think my opinions are bias. All do know is at some point, you will have to make a decision about your future with her. (with or without me in the picture) Believe me know you don't want to hurt either one of us. The difficult truth is, that want to be one and only and know you can't give me that while with her. This am more then aware of Your heart is what want, but must not let that interfere with our friendship. put it out of my mind... most of the time. also am realistic in knowing can not offer much while am in prison. But..what ifwe spent a few days in Rome together and explored this deeper? It might be what we need to do in order for us to feel any kind of relief Ifyou won't regret it, Can you give me one night?...Maybe that is a suggestion meant for a face to face conversation. We can sort things out then. For now... I do like that picture lol You little devil.. muah	page 841

It used to be there was no limit. I just got a write up yesterday for using another girls 15 minute call in addition to my own 15 minutes. However since in person visits has been suspended since March of last year, on Mondays two free 10 minute calls are added to our account and it can be used consecutive meaning talk the first 10, then the other 10 then the 15 minutes so total talk time is 35 minutes all together. :-) Between certain times we have unlimited access to the phones so could call at a time that works best for you.	page 768

The quantity and ratio of pigments are determined by genes.(for eye color too) Genes involved in melanin production are activated at different times in life. If there's anything like to know about me please feel free to ask :) Untill we chat next time ! Peace and love gypsy ! the Private, Its nice to meet you, I'm Gypsy the Secluded. :) have layers to me that only expose when trust someone. My outer layer is who my supporters see. - which is who they see in interviews. Underneath that, is the me that my friends see - which is pleasant and friendly. Going deeper is who my family sees, which is the semi put together strong woman...and then there is the layer let my partner see (when had one) That core of myself is the broken parts of me that hide from everyone else. It is where my deep insecurity lives and the center of why am the way am. can hide my flaws from many but not my partner. Keeping myself in layers seems to protect me from being hurt by a lot of people at once. To answer your question, Yes am over my ex. It has been a year and a half since our split. He broke my heart too much for me to ever trust HIM specifically again. Well am not most people, i enjoy conversating with you, like I do, will keep writing. :) understand if it is a little hard to know what to say, but It helps if you look at a picture of who you are talking to aka Me :-)(I'm serious, it helps) then it flows better. Considering that only know you the Private, you don't have to wear a mask with me. :) OK...so my everyday routine.. here we go. So wake up at around 9:30am most days. make my morning coffee and watch the news, will get bored with the news so I'll channel surf until find something like an animal show, love this one show called, Too Cute, and it follows baby kittens and puppies. :) and the narrator tells what they are doing. It literally is a camera that follows the kittens around the house. Anyways get dressed wearing sweat pants and a shirt, or my shorts and a T-shirt depending on what the weather is like outside. (I rarely have to wear the prison khaki uniform unless am entering a part of the building that it is required wear them.) will head over to the gym that is located in the recreation building. I'll work out for an hour then head back to my housing unit to fix something to eat. We have a microwave on each wing and so buy prepackaged food off canteen. (I have become quite a good microwave cook. lol) Then I will get ready to attend class. Class schedule normally is in rotation every other day, so some days its in the morning other days in the afternoon. After class have a job cleaning my wing so I'll do my work duty and at 4pm is mail call. after mail call, I'll relax in my room, reading, emailing or watching TV, and by 11pm am ready for bed. :) My life is pretty regular to this might change up what do for fun but attending class is mandatory. At the time of writing, am sitting alone in my apartment in Brumunddal, Norway. It's cold outside, but it's starting to get spring. It has been an icy winter, so am very ready for summer and sun. But most of all, my books is about finding "a meaning in life". Why i am here. What is my purpose. What have found out? have found that must dare to take chances. must be open to ALL people. Hear everyone's story. Give a helping hand. Do not lie. Be myself. Most of the year travel around with my stage show "An evening wit A show about life - for better or worse. (But support LGBT) had a bad relationship with my mom (now it's so much better) I don't talk about it because I don't want to sadden you and make you think of your mother. I think that's why I have this "tender side"... missed my mother's affection. respect women ... I'm a nice person and could never hit a woman (I'd suck by myself) With men it's different... As a child always fought (I know it's wrong) wasn't a bully (I hate bullies) but was very tough. have always defended the weakest. Once a boy insulted my brother and almost broke his jaw. 04/10/2021 01:59:01	Outbound	Dearest one, understand now. I'm sorry for asking if drugs was involved. only asked that because have had loved ones that have had a "difficult past" and drugs was often the case. now know it is about your mother. Sweetie you don't have to avoid talking about anything with me for the reason you do not want me to feel uncomfortable. It is ok to talk about whatever happened with you and your mother with me. My relationship with my mother was very unhealthy. We slept in the same bed, we bathed together, was hardly ever alone. Which from what I gather, you were the opposite end of the spectrum.. you mentioned you were often left alone. Neither of us had a happy middle ground. believe things really began to be manipulative when was around six and seven, was growing out of the babyish cartoons and toys and began watching Disney Princess movies and playing with barbie dolls. Even way back then my mother displayed a hesitant opinion about me growing up and growing away from her care. It was at this time that she started showing signs of wanting to make me younger and it was also at this time that she kept me from playing with other children. She only continued this path of forcing my stages of mental and physical growth to be a step behind making it so would always need her close. You have to understand that I was all my mother had to herself and she was a very bitter woman after my father divorced her. ..He was the man who ruined her. She told me at a young age, "Never trust a man, they are beautiful to look at but never love one because he will hurt you, he will betray you and he will leave you." I never understood this broke my heart. I truly believe alongside with MBP, her actions were that of a desperate woman's desire to be wanted and needed by someone. This saddens me because she didn't have to do all of that to keep me close. :-(Some people self destruct themselves and others take victims with them. feel anger for what happened, feel confused about it, about how to feel about her..but don't let it ever consume who am and am proud of you for using your emotions in a healthy manner. as my mom now because she gives me room to grow and make my choices even if they are mistakes at times] shows me how a mother shows love. am learning how a mother should be by So now when I have children of my own, KNOW what kind of mother want to be and what will never be. When am a mother I will be so overjoyed to see those milestones of growth. whichever have whether its a boy or girl can't wait for him or her to experience the things never did. Well a few days ago got a write up for using another girls 15 minute call (its against the rules to use other inmates phone pin number) the girl had let me use it, but regardless its against the rules. My punishment they impounded my TV for 30days. am doing everything can to keep myself busy. This is going to be hard 30 days without a TV! I still have my tablet so for the next 30 days will be writing you very long emails. enjoy talking to you, maybe we can set aside a day and time that can call you and we can talk for like 35 minutes. Of course most often just want to give you phone kisses over and over again. It is completely ok if your spoken English is patchy, can understand you. :-) Don't feel you need to rush to learn, as long as you understand me when talk slowly and if you don't understand my words will write them on here for you. :-) If you ever need to, you are welcome to ask me how a word is pronounced in English. 04/10/2021 13:05:26	Inbound	Ciao padawan! I'm finish to work... I'm going to supermarket. I ordered pizza for tonight(I love pizza, I'm a fing ninja turtle) What do you think about politically correct in movies and TV show? want make in clarity that I'm not razist(on the contrary... have a dear friend black) Do you think it's necessary to change ethnic in characters born white? In Italy there are no much black people and unfortunately they are almost all poor :-/ (that dear friend of mine is adoptive) (On the contrary, there are many Chinese people that have many shops and restaurants) know the situation in America it's very different... could give you a long list of fictional and literary characters whose skin color has been changed in TV transposition. Iam absolutely in favor of films starring people of color (Marvel's black Panter is awesome)(I also love Eddie murphy, Will Smith, Danzel Washington) I mean : heard it should make a new movie about a blac! Bond think they could intruduce for example a Bond "nephew" instead of changing ethnicity to the original character. hope I have expressed myself well. Ps. would like to see American horror story...	page 842
04/10/2021 17:00:17	Outbound	Hell How are you this afternoon? Thank you for writing to me so kindly. I, like you do not respond to every person who writes to me for the same reason. It it is very difficult to create really well formed bonds with many at the same time, Therefore am very selective of who correspond with. Congratulations on your literary success. am curious is your work published in only Norwegian, or is there a English version? Iam currently working on my book, am in the early stages of the process. It won't be published until after my release. To be honest, do not enjoy the attention get from being well know for my case and my past. The TV drama series, The Act, was created without my permission, they did not have my life rights to do so and will be looking into pressing legal charges on them for that. The two main documentaries made was HBO Mommy Dead and Dearest and Gypsys Revenge, still hate that title. Both films support as the best source, other then myself to learn about what happened. So many have exploited me for their own profit. My book will be MINE to share and written from my perspective without anyone interfering with what is presented to the public. This will be my voice after being silenced for so long even after being out of my mothers hold. I certainly am not going to hold back, honestly may lose a few friends, may even bum a few bridges with close ties, but once my words are released THAT is my ultimate freedom and with that my past becomes only my past. Iam now almost 30 years old. am far from the little girl shown in that documentary. Even my interviews are outdated. have been incarcerated 6 years and every bit of that time has made me grow into the woman am today. have been able to receive an education. have excelled in language arts and have taken a interest in poetry. In my free time enjoy drawing, reading, and exercise. have taken several classes that are both mental and behavioral selfhelp. In 2018 started teaching a class called ICVC, it is a 12 week class that is focused on helping inmates take accountability for their life choices and giving them the proper tools to make a positive difference in themselves and for others. On week 12, share my story with the class. My passion has become child advocacy. hope to bring awareness to MBP and along with my book be able to share my experience with others my way. Anyways, tell me more about yourself? are you married? do you have children? what are your interests? other then writing of course :-) Can you send a photo? (use the jpay snap n' send option.) Again thank you for writing me, hope to hear back from you soon. Have a wonderful day. -GypsyRose Blanchard	page 903

04/12/2021 15:20:27	Inbound	Hi Gypsy - hope you are well. It's Monday night - I'm sitting in the office (which is at home, have 3 bedrooms - one of them is the office). listen to music, and in the background hear "The king of queens" which is on TV. The time is 20:32 and the date is April 12. So nice of you to reply to my letter. You write that you do not answer so many, and completely agree with the reason you describe. It's almost impossible for me to form a bond with any of my followers. Not because they are not kind / good people, but because there are so many. They write about their whole lives, and can not separate them from each other. Everyone becomes a large massive bundle of people. But, it is very nice that they send letters, messages and emails. That means have touched them with my books or videos Sent you a picture - even though it looked like it was in poor resolution? do not know if JPAY converts images to lower resolution. Nice if you want to send a return =>? So amazing that you write a book - really. That you take control of your own story and say it as it is. That's the best thing you can do for yourself, think. That's what do with my book too. Takes control. want to tell my story myself. My words. My feelings. I've done a lot of stupid things in my life. a lot. But I'm not that person anymore, or, do not want to be that person anymore. Then have to take control. You say you're going to burn some bridges, I'm going to do the same. know that many will distance themselves from me, doubt me, talk bad about me. But can not care. But it can have no effect on me, or what I write. SO AMAZING THAT YOU WANT TO CREATE UNDERSTANDING FOR MBP ... applause! My first book is about ADHD, my diagnosis. For 7 years, over 600 performances - travel all over Norway to talk about ADHD. Schools, culture houses, cinemas..everywhere. It was wonderfully rewarding, and people appreciated me. Not for my past, but the one I'm about to become. You'll probably do a brilliant job, because you seem very reflective. It seems that you have learned a lot from your past, and they are the people who become a better version of themselves.	page 904
04/13/2021 22:28:03	Inbound	Hey Gypsy.. have not heard from you in a few days, so decided to reach out and make sure you were doing OK. have been very busy working on a new project. have become a partner and we have started our own line of wine and we have decided to make a and call it the Gypsy Rose. On the bottle will be an explanation of your story and how the abuse of your mother led to her death. A portion of the sales of the wine will go to MBP and Child Abuse charities. We are currently working on contracts with the charities and the one's we will decide. We are doing an event in June to raise money for Child Abuse and MBP along with CrimeDoor (who will also be launching a crime door of the crime scene) together we will be presenting your case. know you are not interested in doing any interviews or anything like that but was thinking this would be a great opportunity for you to reach out to your supporters if you wanted too. This would be good for you for the parole board as well, but we need to check to see to make sure do not break any rules or regulations. would like to get your signature on one of the bottle labels but i am not sure if i can send it to you in the mail for you to see it. What do you think? really think it is an awesome idea but no pressure? am super excited and can't wait to hear what you think. Hope you are doing OK and cant wait to hear from you. Hugs	page 573

I think we are fine as long as we don't sleep together while you are engaged..and since we can't while I'm in here, then we shouldn't feel guilty for simply being open about how we think and feel for each other. Anyways moving on from the obvious, watched a good movie the other day, its called The Shape of Water. Tonight me and my bunkmate is watching her TV. We are going to watch the movie Glass. It is the third film in a trilogy. The first movie is Unbreakable, the second is called Split and the third is Glass. The movie Split was awesome! If you can watch a movie called Water for Elephants. It is a good romantic drama. By the way, am is still having bad side effects from the vaccine.. :-)	page 847
04/13/2021 14:33:05	Outbound	personally don't like it when characters are changed from there original form. heard that Disney is making a live action version of the little mermaid and in the cartoon Ariel! is white with red hair..in the movie they are making they casted a black actress. don't want the original Ariel to be changed in any way. understand that in America everyone is wanting to be more open to diversity, race is a big topic right now. Blacks are fighting against police brutality. Asian Americans are being targeted due to the stigma from covid. and personally am not racist, however have also been around a lot of blacks who are racist against whites. Every day on my housing unit the whites are in a sense over run by the blacks. Blacks stick with there own and whites are just there and behave in their each individual way. befriend anyone who is nice to me. But yeah back to movies... don't like it when characters are changed in any way, race or otherwise.	page 847

I'm sorry for the email sent was feeling a certain way when wrote it. I need to be a good person, you are right you are engaged you don't belong to me, can't have you. But when I hear your voice and read your emails its like forget that for a while, and all can see is us and what we have. And don't want you to cheat, that's not a good example you would be setting, how does that old saying goes, "If he can do it to her, he can do it to you" We both just need some relief and hope you can understand what mean by "relief" Maybe you need a shower too. wink Lol guess you attract lots of little kittys. :-) There is a place called The Chatto, its a mansion for girls with that fetish. 04/13/2021 23:42:29	Outbound	Good evening. Thank you for that very in depth email. And yes did get your photo. You have such a kind smile. You look like you could be very charming. :-) Unfortunately can not jpay pictures of me as my tablet does not have a camera, however my facility will be able to have video visits soon, so perhaps one day we can video visit each other. Do you speak much English? I'm afraid would sound rather silly trying to speak in your language. Also when can will take new photos. Since the pandemic my facility has suspended lots of things including visits and the photos that we can take. used to love getting my photo taken and sending pictures to my family and friends. know what you mean, many write to me and it is so hard to even remember names let alone their personal story. have tried to send short emails here and there but rarely do form a bond that can keep a constant back and forth conversation. I even tried to make a standard response so at least no one felt unimportant but even that wasn't good enough for them. Then i finally stopped writing all together because would trust a few people and then they would betray my trust by posting my responses. I'm like, this is a private conversation, why the hell would you feel its okay to put it on social media for others to read?.. so stopped emailing back for awhile. I try and make new friends but finding people who just want to be my friend for the right reasons is not as black and white as it seems. have become very cautious about the personal information share with others. read your email and felt it was genuine so here am writing you. My first impression of you is a good one. Il see you have good taste in music, I'm curious if you like movies and TV? have very eclectic taste in music, like many genres. Country, rock, classical, alternative and pop are among my favorite genres. I am single, was engaged back in 2019, however he left me that same year after our 2 year long relationship. empathize with you, we are in different circumstances but same kind of issue. It is hard for me to have a relationship with someone because of the amount of time have to be incarcerated. Now only have under 3 years, but back then was still 6 or 7 years away from being released. Asking a man to be in a committed relationship abstaining from sex with other women until am free is like asking a man to put his whole life on hold for me, its difficult but not impossible, met my ex fiance after he wrote me in 2017 and we did have a wonderful relationship until he felt like he had to walk away 6 months before we were going to marry. This was very devastating to me. Being with me comes with baggage, the stigma of being with someone with a well known life story can become a lot. This means public and personal scrutiny. Even though have been bumed, still believe in true love, The man who will take that place in my life will just have to be one hell of a strong man to handle the pressure and I need someone who can have empathy and understanding for what need in a partner.	page 900

He was just such a pretty boy, and though I never had any hard proof. The women in here would make comments that they saw him visiting me and they really thought he was gay. He does do a great impression of a flamboyant gay man, a little too well if you ask me. And he and never had phone sex, he never wanted to. He lived in the second largest homosexual city in the country. (no really, Seattle is known for the gays) Even when met his mother, she told me that he really didn't date as a boy or in his teen years, she thought he would grow up to be gay. He told me of a story of when he went to the strip club for the first time, a stripper gave him a lap dance and he asked her if they could just talk instead. thought that was cute and sweet when he first told me that story but then started suspecting he could be GAY! him too. told him it would not make me think different of him, I'd love him all the same if he was bisexual. And here is another thing,...he gets his blood taken every so many months and gets sick very easy. A sign of being HIV positive. He still insists he isn't gay,	page 848

04/14/2021 17:19:26	Inbound	Good evening Gyps (I give everyone nicknames)! Hope you are doing well, and thank you very much for a very honest and nice letter. Well written, and very insightful. Let me just say this: [NEVER share my emails with anyone. Come on, it's just as private as anything else between adults. Like you, don't answer "in dept" to anyone, for the same reason. But hey, When you have a lot of people watching you, you get more and more private. do anyways. Let me say this, i speak better than i can write, so we can have a video call when you get the chance. Please don't even try to speak Norwegian - even we don't understand it from time to time :D yeah. none of my books are in English (yet). One of them has been translated into Swedish, so far. But can (if you want), send some pages can translate myself. So you can choose from which of the following books you want to hear from. "ADHD: my worst enemy and best friend". "Behind the mask", it too .." "The grass is not greener on the other side .." "From shame comes shame" "The life i survive". And i have 5 kids books about "Turbo Tore". Its about a little boy who has lost his mom. His father does not care about him. He is being bullied. No friends, but big dreams =) Thank you so much for the compliment about my smile - smile all the time. And laugh, ALL the time. "The smile is our finest expression," as they say. Well, i like all kinds of music. i just gave you the most played songs on my spotify. Other bands i like: Evanescence, Banks (if you can, check her out), System Of a Down, Drake - and when im hungover - Maroon 5. It depends what mood im in. But like you, i listen to all kind of genres. So sad to hear about the engagement. Did he say why he withdrew? Of course you come with a lot of luggage. We all do, but it is clear that with your experiences there is a LOT to work with. Mentally.	page 904

Take it easy sis just wanted to send some kind words your way <3 I did receive your letter, and appreciate the offer and opportunity to speak about my case, life and how am doing now however, must decline an interview because have came to the decision to take a back seat to the spotlight. declining any and all interviews or media projects in order to focus on my healing process and the healing of my family. I can tell you that doing much better and really progressing in my education, have passed all subjects in my GED except for math, am still striving to pass that subject as well. continue to bond closer with my father, he and my step mother are coming up to Missouri to visit in late April, they come up about once or twice a year. am also engaged to a wonderful man who have been dating for about a year and a half, and he really has been a huge blessing after a toxic relationship its so nice to just have a healthy positive relationship with someone who gives me the support, love and understanding deserve. I understand there are scripted TV series in production, one that is spearheaded by my stepmother, this is something have asked to be stopped however my wishes went ignored and production continues to my disapproval therefore, i am not a part of any tv projects however, can not control what my family decides to do with regards to media. as said my fiancee and have chosen to shy away from the publics interest in my case in order for us to forge our own path away from the public eye. thank you for your time. 04/15/2021 14:46:13	Inbound	To be honest I would like you to visit both! They are two of best cites in Italy. Italy has a ancient e beautiful culture. It a awesome country but government sucks :-(Our government and politicians are very selfish. For decades mantality where very ancient and Male chauvinist (young Italians are very different) This is no a violent e racist country... But Italians are not much "brave". In my opinion we could be a better country if we try to go away some politician... Ecspecially some senator that earns too much for to do nothing. We have everything:the real and most important art, ancient museums , amazing monuments, beautiful landscapes, excellent climate, awesome food.	page 848

04/15/2021 19:28:15	Outbound	I'm sure every country has its corruption from politicians. America is no different. My parents are Republican, so they did vote for Trump... But since I've never voted, don't have a official side, only have my opinions. wanted for Biden to win the election. like what he has been doing for our country so far, he has placed a spot light on climate change and in today's world we need to be more eco friendly (yes, I'm a tree hugging hippie) He has pulled our country out from a deceased infested shit hole and is making vaccine distribution a high priority. I am not a proud American. always felt was born in the wrong place. As said, have an interest in Europe. could pick many places to live, England, Ireland, Italy. I crave the majestic. My curious nature makes where was born too small for my inner Gypsy traveler. OK have a weird question heard that the women in Europe do not shave their body hair. Please believe me. don't know why but your voice made me horny on the phone. admit I've had phone sex a million times XD Even when didn't have long distance relationships XD I am a piggy but am not a pervert. For me when two people have an affair there should be no limits in bed ;-) In my takes it in the ass from Africans... But, who knows, could be wrong. It's an his Problem XD repeat: you have lost anything ... he has lost something. really think he has lost "a true love" The real love is my only drug (I admit, pizza too XD) Sorry if made in clear I'm not aav or bisexual ... don't want to sound homophobic.	page 848

Some people want to be mean and spread rumors saying that only reply to people who send me money, this is absolutely not true. will reply if feel comfortable enough to. Simple as that. want people to know that appreciate their kindness. so do my best to write back. I'm sending my hugs	page 912
04/15/2021 12:27:18	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! My name is , 28 and from France. This is the first time I'm writing to an inmate, guess just wanted to express my support and tell you that your story has touched a lot of people's heart, mine included :) I was also curious to know if you already made plans for your after-jail life, which reckon is coming soon!! know what kind of life are you aspiring to once you'll be free. just hope you'll have an awesome life, be happy and also careful of people with questionable intentions as you're as famous as Beyonce with all the movies and documentaries on your story lol suspect time can attract bad people, altho won't know about it for sure lol. Anyway, you answer if you feel like it, if not still wanna reassure you my solidarity. Kindly yours	page 912

04/15/2021 16:21:06	Inbound	Good afternoon Gypsy, How are you doing? have been following your story for a few years now and just feel compelled to say that am deeply sorry for the way your childhood went! hope your experience in jail has been a good one and that you are released soon. What do you plan to do once you are out? really hope to hear from you and maybe become friends. Talk to you soon Gypsy! Good morning, hope this week is treating you well! Thank you for responding. :) so glad you get to build a relationship with your brother and sister! can relate to not being able to have a relationship with your siblings. had a great relationship with my two younger sisters but due to a certain situation, was ripped away from them. was not able to be in their lives for over 10 years. We were able to reunite a few years ago. The oldest of the two has asked me to be in her wedding later this year and that is a huge honor to me! hope you are able to build an unbreakable bond with your siblings :) Are they able to visit you? A little about me, am 32 years old with two daughters, is 12, she will be 13 in June, and is 7. We live near Des Moines, Iowa and work with special needs students in a nearby middle school. Do you ever wish to have kids? Are you able to get care packages? If so, what are some things you would like to get from the My children and would love to send you some items if you would like. Let me know :) Talk to you soon,	page 912

04/16/2021 04:54:55	Inbound	Good morning, Gypsy... Hope you are doing well. The weather here has been terrible and have been struggling with my health issues. am not sure if ever told you about me. Several years ago was diagnosed with a non-cancerous brain tumor and about 2 years ago i was having lots of headaches, vision issues, hearing issues, and memory problems. Well ended up having to have radiation to treat my brain tumor. i lost most of my hair and was ok for a little bit but my headaches remained the same and new symptoms started. i ended up with too much fluid on my brain and had to have a device implanted in my brain to drain the fluid, VP shunt. Since the shunt surgery, have seen improvement but when the weather changes, i struggle to get out of bed. It has been raining for the last 3 days and it has been a struggle for me. The good think is get to lay in bed and catch up on my true crime documentaries or binge watch a reality series. hope that you are doing well and studying hard for that math test. cant wait to see you pass that GED and move on to your career path. want you to know am so proud of you. know you said they have started opening up visitation. Do you have anyone who goes to see you regularly? know your dad do occasionally. Well, am going to end this letter with a positive prayer for you.... Dear Lord, ask that you lay your loving, peaceful, and caring hands on Gypsy. Allow her to gather the knowledge that she needs to become the woman you want her to be. Help her to grow in only your love Lord and let your light shine through her to those who need a healing heart. For this pray today and everyday in your name, Lord Jesus Christ... Amen Good night! God Bless you!! Ms] Thank You. <3	page 573

04/16/2021 14:28:23	Inbound	Hello Gypsy, Thank you for your reply, it's so lovely to hear from you. understand exactly what your saying with replying back to emails as some people don't always have your best interests or privacy at heart. How are you? Have you completed any courses? I signed the petition your dad has made online & will continue to hope & pray you can get released earlier. want you to have a happy future, get married & have a family of your own. have 1 son but would have loved to have had a big family lol. How is your book coming along? can't wait to read it, it will give everyone a chance to hear your story instead of the fictions we see online. I'm still in lockdown in the UK but hopefully we can get back to normal on June 21st. can't wait to go back to work. Never in my mind or never could anyone ever put in my mind that you beg for money, how dare they!! But please Gypsy let me know if you need anything, even if it's just a chat or a laugh I'm here for you. will send you some more stamps so you can write me or anyone else back my love. 04/17/2021 14:21:13	Outbound	Deai do believe you when you say that you have never cheated on a girlfriend. And can see how you are relieved that the setting which we would first meet is one with limited physical contact. However you would be surprised how sensual holding hands can become if you rub your thumb on the palm of my excites me, The moment can become intense if you let it especially if our eyes are locked. <3 That peaked my curiosity, about when two people have an affair...well we both know an affair won't happen but Mmmm If you were single or with me, we would have no limits? have had phone sex twice and mostly made moaning sounds lol The guided talking part of it am not great at, but can manage the hard breathing. don't think ever told you about my father and his secret love affair. About 2 years ago was emailing with my dad and he casually asked me if he ever told me about the "cookie lady," had no idea what he was talking about so he proceeded to tell me the situation. This lady who is living in Canada had watched my story and wanted to reach out to me and my family. Her name i and owns her own bakery. She had sent my parents 2 dozen fresh cookies with a sweet letter of support. received the cookies while dad was at work and she was wary of food sent by a stranger so she threw the cookies away but kept the note. When dad came home he was told about the cookie package and they seemed thankful to the woman for her efforts of support. (dad would have eaten the cookies had not thrown them away) Anyways dad and became friends, without knowing, and through time they became much closer. They fell in love BUT both were married. They never met in person so the never slept together but, nude photos were exchanged. They often talked about divorcing their spouses and getting together, even discussing plans of him moving to Canada... but they had to make a choice and when it came down to talking about how would that involve me, they wanted me to move with them. My father felt deserve a stable living situation and me aside, he feels it is much more "affordable", his words, to stay in a stale marriage rather than get a divorce. He wanted to meet her in person but they agreed to both focus on their marriages and things were calm for awhile but at the beginning of 2020, and him started talking more and unfortunately he wasn't careful and left his text messages open on his phone caught him. She then knew everything. knew about the whole emotional affair but thought they ended it, so when he was caught, was between a rock and a hard place point blank asked me, Did you know about her? and yes, but I didn't know it was still going on. felt bad for knowing about the whole thing and not but he is my father I can't betray his trust.	page 847
04/18/2021 01:47:23	Inbound	Wow, April 9th is my sony birthday!! The 3 and 0 one -It's so strange cause my kids know that I'm 26, so they keep getting older than me lollllll Now this one, this one is difficult to answer. The definitive answer being No. All in the family have decided to decline the vaccination. It has been banned in other countries, causing heart attacks and skin reactions in our country and there are no long term side effect studies from it to be proven safe. Facts prove car crashes, cancer, obesity and many other viruses and bacterial infections have a greater chance to harm us than this virus. With that being said, understand it's a personal choice to make and hope it's not mandatory for you. In my opinion (only an opinion and my thoughts)...You of all people should never have forced medicine injected into your veins. pray/hope the penitentiary understands and honors that if that is your wishes to decline the vaccination. And it's many days later after the 9th.. so you may already have been vaccinated. My JPay wasn't working correctly so had to reboot it. And didn't want to tell you my answer because by no means do want you to get in trouble for sure if it's mandatory— And I'm thinking, the stats and infection rate put out by the system is wonderful to see. It's not affecting there as it is here on the outside as stated by the Missouri prison report. Extremely low chance of infection or worse—that's good to hear for y'all:)) But please let me know if it's your decision and what you decided. I'm curious is all:)) Kisses Wishes and Health <3	page 234

I'm 28 and have become so invested in your story and your life. watched your documentaries and The Act (but have heard there are a lot of things on the act that misrepresented you) so try not to assume any of it was real besides the stories and interviews that you yourself have been on. Your story is heart breaking and freeing all at once. can't imagine how hard this all is for you. Just know that God forgives all whom come to him. The intentions behind this aren't malicious. You were a young, scared and trapped girl. If you need anything or would like someone to talk just reach out! pray for you, girl. Always. Hang in there, You have got the support,	page 727

04/18/2021 11:43:14	Inbound	Hi, hope everything is going good with you. know things must be brutal being where you are with this pandemic going on, particularly incarcerated, could only imagine. anyways really just wanted to reach out to support ya, am not looking for a response as know you must be overwhelmed and likely annoyed with people bugging you. get it. hang in there cheers!	page 808

04/18/2021 10:48:47	Inbound	Sweetie Your phone call was a nice surprise !! :) has mental problems and a low IQ... but was wondering if his lawyer had As told you on the phone, know tha' advised him to look even more crazy to be able to stay in a mental institution (which is better than prison anyway) Of course think you deserve to be home with your family already. If you lived in Italy you would have done 2 or 3 years in prison and then you would have made house arrest. However, it is useless to talk about this. will try to send you the form for the visit. Listen to the Song: "face to face" Siouxsie & The Banshees	page 847
04/18/2021 11:41:00	Inbound	I care about the environment too! I try to be careful not to pollute... For example, one of the many things do is use the "classic razor" to shave. avoid buying disposable razors so as not to produce too much plastic. Gypsy in all honesty I've never been with a woman with body hair XD have seen many naked women in my life ... And can say that those older than me only had hair While many (but not all) younger girls were completely shaved (both in Italy and in the rest of the world) I don't mind a nice little triangle :) don't like hair on other parts of the body. Among the young Italian and European females there seems to be the fashion not to shave anymore. When went to the gym and showered, the young men were all completely shaved While "old" people like me hair. What a strange fashion... What do you prefer? By the way. in Europe and especially in Italy there is no circumcision (except when there are problems)	page 848
04/18/2021 00:32:44	Outbound	I know its been awhile since we had a visit. have to be honest with you, all this time only wanted to see you with the expectation of us getting back together. Now, don't think its a good idea to stir shit up. I've healed enough to where I can be civil with you but I still feel betrayed. 2 years is still not enough time to undo the damage you have done to us and it would only do more harm than good to see you, with that said, I think its best we never see each other again.	page 888
04/18/2021 16:31:16	Inbound	Thank you so much for the pics - so nice to see you. Look so kind - and sort of:)	page 900

04/18/2021 03:15:14	Inbound	Oh yeah I totally get it, you're just protecting yourself, especially from morbid curiosity.. guess all the documentaries, series etc. didn't help much, especially if you didn't want this much attention. Although I'm sure you also heard from a lot of nice people who just wanted to show their support, and hope this helped you soothe your heart. Anyway, let me know if you need an extra ear to talk to or just "a friend" to share casual stuff:-). We don't know each other but sometimes it's easier to talk to a stranger right. myself recently got out a rough break-up and felt it was hard to talk to my relatives, especially as my ex and have the same lol... On my side, I've been living in Cambodia, South East Asia for 3 years now ©) work for a child protection organisation as a fundraising and partnership officer. passionate about salsa/bachata dancing, horse riding, animals in general (I have 3 cats and 1 dog, all rescue pets :). we were safe from Covid til early this year, but in February a bunch of idiots escaped their quarantine hotel and infected many ppl across the city.. As a result now we're in full lockdown, so I'm staying at home and patiently waiting for the vaccination.. I'm just very concerned for the small street workers who are now jobless and even poorer than before: the tuktuk drivers, petty vendors,... they were already suffering from the drop of tourism but now this is getting very critical.. tough times for everyone So what about you?? what would you like to do once you're out? will you be looking for a incognito life or on the contrary use your notoriety to achieve your goals? what are your dreams? Kindly yours, = P.S: I'm NOT interested in gossips etc., so whatever you share with me is between us	page 912

When I hear you say that think of some stories of your mom, good and fun stories. am not sure if she ever talked about me and but we had some really fun times. Everyone wants to hear all the bad stuff she did, but not many want to hear the good and fun side. would love to share those stories with you when and if you are ready. They go back to way before you were even thought of.. hope that your week is good. Remember to keep your head held high and know there are lots of people praying for you. Hugs	page 573

04/19/2021 23:50:49	Outbound	OK random facts about me, have a very long tongue. (I can drink water like a cat with only my tongue.) I drink coffee in the morning and before bed. hate it when someone in rude and interrupts a conversation trying to be in the conversation. like it when a man likes to cuddle and kiss in public. have sniffed my own panties before. HATE raw tomatoes! I can not sleep white noise like a fan going at night. can't sleep in total silence.	page 842
04/19/2021 22:43:14	Outbound	Lol ok there is lots of films that show French or Italian women and they are so hairy I'm like omg! wtf ewwww Personally am one woman that doesn't like the feeling of hair, so shaved. would lying if said haven't tried different shapes, but I like no hair at all. Keeping it that way is not always easy, so a little stubble is more likely the case for a week. You mentioned how most Italian men are not circumcised, Are you? or was that your way of telling me discreetly that you're not? have to imagine because I've never seen one that isn't. Very interesting...	page 842
04/19/2021 11:58:26	Outbound	had a bad nights sleep, ugh and this morning everyone was being so loud yelling. 04/19/2021 14:21:42	Outbound	At the time thought I loved him but it was a little wanted to make sure was clear, don't have any feelings for girl like crush. He told me everything wanted to hear but he was abusive too. He would yell at me in messages, he would call me very bad things, He would manipulate me. It was always him training me to be his toy. was never a person to him, only a plaything. Now I see that he is a very disturbed person and would rather be alone for the rest of my life then ever be with him again. it was a very toxic thing. He is a pervert but its more than that, he likes hurting women physically and emotionally. And what is even more sad is there are women who write to him wanting to be his girlfriend! His last girlfriend added me on Jpay a year ago and recently tried to contact me to tell me they broke up because he was treating her badly. I'm thinking to myself sarcastically like, oh the fact he is in prison and knowing how he treated me wasn't a red flag! He is an evil person, that CAN say.	page 847
04/19/2021 15:42:03	Inbound	Let's stop talking about please. He disgusts me and I'm sorry you met him. have been very happy to talk to you for 35 minutes. 04/19/2021 00:48:28	Outbound	Ok so maybe was a bit abrupt with that last email. I'll explain better what's going through my head. I'm concerned that if we have a visit, it will fuck with my head and emotions. It seems so strange to think we were engaged and now we are strangers to each other. don't think can sit across from you and not feel some kind of reminiscing feelings. just know you would not be going into it with intentions of reconciliation. don't know how feel about you or for you to be able to say one way or the other how would feel coming into it and coming out of it. If it makes you feel better, still very much, haven't abandoned all hope just yet. But also know you are my first love so will always wonder what could have been. And who knows maybe in the end it won't be you On of anyone know currently... It might be someone haven't even met yet. All that is so difficult to know right now. And you can go all "fortune cookie" on me and say the things you think want to hear but for real can't chose who fall in love with, it just happens. My point is don't fault me if can't face you after everything. am very unsure about if want to put myself through that or not.	page 888

04/19/2021 23:18:50	Outbound	Hello there, I am glad you got my pictures. Yes did received the picture for your book. To me, the you that is sitting down looks like a younger more inexperienced version of yourself while the version of you standing over looks more mature, and judging by the body language of the two, it is as if your older self is almost mentoring your younger self. could be way off base but that is what saw when looked at it. Thank you for keeping our messages private. Is it a nice change to speak to someone that doesn't know you by your career but rather you as a person? or do you mostly like having conversations with fans? (aside from the conversation we had about not being able to make mass amounts of close ties.) Personally I kinda like it when someone doesn't know my past when first meeting me. It gives them a chance to know me as am now, then if needed they can see the old Gypsy. Its nice to just be simply Gypsy. Or Gyps, (my close friends call me that.) I like your positive outlook in life. :) It is refreshing to hear someone that has experienced struggles and overcome it with a "go get em" attitude is so amazing! am really amazed by that. and know sometimes complements can be cheap, know... But far too many are left bitter if they are dealt a difficult hand in life, but not you. :) Yes the smile is the best expression but the eyes are windows to the soul. always look into someones eyes. Yes would like to read some of your translated work. pick....Behind the Mask. Send me whatever you would like me to read. Thank you. :) I just bought a few more songs for my playlist. like like female artists with soft voices, so bought Ellie Goulding version of Your Song by it is beautiful. I also like Evanescence, just bought My Immortal. And Fleetwood Mac, Gypsy. :) To answer your question, Yes and no, He was going through a rough time with relapsing from his addiction to drugs and was being overwhelmed by the popularity my story brought me. 04/20/2021 06:59:44	Inbound	Dear I'm at work ... And I'm writing to you quickly. I just saw a client haven't seen in a while. We often talked when his wife or son came here for to buy glasses. Today he told me he is having chemotherapy. The thing that saddened me is when we have said goodbye each other have said to him: "I hope to see you again soon". He has looked at me with "the affection of a grandfather" and he has gone away ... Now feel strange. don't want to sadden you but wanted to share this thought with you. I got the email about your father. Life is strange and sometimes it makes strange jokes. Now know the story of the cookie lady. I'm trying to behave as best can wit didn't expect to be able to have this feeling for you ... it's new to me. I've been thinking about you a lot tonight. (what you told me in Italian got me very horny and believe me, would like to do to you whatever you told me) (honey, never get problems with me ... not even for "moans sounds") I'm sure there would be no limits between us in a hypothetical relationship ... unfortunately, however, it have to remain hypothetical (at least for now)	page 842
04/20/2021 13:13:12	Outbound	May I ask why do you think you have feelings for me, when other women cant turn your head? other women that are in your country. Is it that you feel a sense of protection over me? Is it a sympathetic nature because of my past? Or am someone who interests you because of who am now? What want to understand is do you have a romantic interest for the person am?	page 846

04/20/2021 12:59:33	Outbound	I'm sorry you feel saddened hugs Sometimes we are meant to cross someone's path in certain moments, and these are the moments we remember the most because they seem to have more precious meaning. muah miss you too <3 I wish you could see me today. decided to put on a little make up and look pretty. :-) my hair is in crinkle curls. ta af tha nein tha	page 846

Thank you for responding. :) so glad you get to build a relationship with your brother and sister! can relate to not being able to have a relationship with your siblings. had a great relationship with my two younger sisters but due to a certain situation, was ripped away from them. was not able to be in their lives for over 10 years. We were able to reunite a few years ago. The oldest of the two has asked me to be in her wedding later this year and that is a huge honor to me! hope you are able to build an unbreakable bond with your siblings :) Are they able to visit you? 04/21/2021 12:39:18	Outbound	I just received that email you sent asking about it attorney advised him to seem more crazy. do not believe so, believe they simply wanted to put a spot light on his MILD mental issues. believe he has a low IQ but he is far from the lower abilities that some other mentally challenged people have. He knows well enough right from wrong and is quite capable of independence enough to be abusive to a woman. Most challenge people are sweet and shy, he is aggressive once he knows you are impressionable. He is a preys on women who are of low self esteem. Which is why was perfect for him to use. I am simply saying the jury saw through all that bs.	page 846

04/21/2021 08:42:45	Inbound	always went on vacation with me ... never left her alone. have made Most of my trips before met her(with her have made vacations in Italy and one in Greece) I am planning to come with Vincenzo (the only person that knows about you) His father is dying ... So promised him that we would take a trip together to help him distract himself from this pain. But he let me choose on the destination (America, to you!) (Even if he said I'm crazy XD) This is what I told t (which is partly the truth) This could be the first "trip" without her in 8 years. If you were not in Chillicothe, couldn't come to you... You know that. I'm following my heart(or what remains of that) You ask me why have this feeling for you? had already answered about that, Do you remember? Do you have doubts? I'm not circumcised like 98% of Europeans. Circumcision is a widespread practice among Muslims and Jews. (They do it for a religious purpose) In America it seems to be done for no specific reason(and I think that is absurd) Once a boy told me that circumcision is done in your country by "tradition". Sounds like bullshit to me. Only 20% of men around the world are circumcised. (You can find all the information on the internet.) I've read that many American girls think hygienically it's better ... Well! tell you that if a man washes well every day, there is no risks XD would love so much to see you... I'm totally sure that you are very beautiful with make up and curly hairs <3 But would like you even without make up *muah (Instead, without clothes you could drive me crazy XD)	page 846

04/22/2021 12:00:47	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! hope this email finds you well. have written you once before This time I'm writing from a different perspective. Please Gypsy be aware is not a stable person.Recently have decided to stop talking to on Facebook messenger because needed a break from his drama. This caused him to totally lash out at me threatening me and creating multiple emails to continue to threaten me after have blocked the previous email. have asked him ,actually told him to stop contacting you. And he said he will never give up on you. Please Gypsy do not respond to any correspondence you received to him. will also contact your stepmother if I'm able to find a way lied to you about being abused and told him that is incredibly wrong. He had told me he thinks he is in love with you. I'm so sorry ever told him about your story. I'm doing my best to protect you on my end. Be well!! God bless!!	page 451
04/22/2021 22:01:49	Outbound	Thank you for warning me. That is very concerning as never gave him any indication wanted anything romantic with him. was nice to him and believe he took his obsession too far and distanced myselfbefore ended up in danger. won't answer anyone who is trying to contact me. Do you think I need a restraining order at some point?	page 451
04/22/2021 22:48:08	Inbound	Gypsy.. Iso understand where you are coming from and am glad you came to me. As I have told you from the very beginning, you can trust me and ifthere are things you do not want to share with your supporters or you dont want me to share with anyone else will honor your word. have not even about you and am the only one who has access to my emails, so what you write or say to me will only be between you and I. When we spoke about you told me how you didnt want his name out there and that he was very private and didnt like the drama and do understand. made a promise to you and it will not come out through me. So what we are doing is going back and redoing the 13 episodes of our first season of Good Wives Guide to True Crime. That is our podcast and we are now realizing the host that was doing the medical stuffdid not look deep into the medical files and she gave some miss information as well as we received more medical files and uncovered more medical information through research so that is why we decided to redo the entire first season. We will be doing that on our Youtube channel. So, ifyou have any concerns please don't worry! got your back and ifyou tell me not to share some information will not do it. Hope you are doing well and studying hard! Talk to you soon and always remember am only a phone call away! got your back! Hugs!	page 573

She will be two June 15th. know that's a crazy date for you. completely understand you not replying to everyone so thank you for taking the time to reply to my email. can only imagine how many you get through out the day. I've been following your case ever since it started . I'm so intrigued by you. You are such a unique individual. totally believe that you are the strongest people I've ever had the pleasure to talk too. You are incredibly strong and brave and not to mention beautiful! just want to say how sorry am for everything that you went through, through out your life. know you were so young to understand what happened but you still remained strong and so proud of you for that. don't have many friends , maybe one. I'd like to keep in contact with you and maybe we can build a friendship. It would be nice to have someone can trust ya know. like your vibes and have no judgement towards you at all. am a forgiving person! from Ontario Canada. live in a little city or town called Chatham . It's fairly close to Detroit . don't mind it here but I'd like to travel once this Covid stuff goes away. Btw hope your keeping safe in there while this virus floats around . an artist. love to pint and draw and make different crafts and everything . I'd love to mail you something sometime if I'm allowed too. A painting or drawing . Once figure out how to attach photos I'll be more then happy to send you a couple pictures of Amara and so you know who you are talking too. If there's anything like to know about me please feel free to ask :) Untill we chat next time ! Peace and love gypsy ! the Private, Its nice to meet you, I'm Gypsy the Secluded. :-) have layers to me that only expose when trust someone. My outer layer is who my supporters see. - which is who they see in interviews. Undemeath that, is the me that my friends see - which is pleasant and friendly. Going deeper is who my family sees, which is the semi put together strong woman...and then there is the layer let my partner see (when had one) That core of myself is the broken parts of me that hide from everyone else. It is where my deep insecurity lives and the center of why am the way am. can hide my flaws from many but not my partner. Keeping myself in layers seems to protect me from being hurt by a lot of people at once. To answer your question, Yes am over my ex. It has been a year and a half since our split. He broke my heart too much for me to ever trust HIM specifically again. Well am not most people, if enjoy conversating with you, like I do, will keep writing. :-) understand if it is a little hard to know what to say, but It helps if you look at a picture of who you are talking to aka Me :-) (I'm serious, it helps) then it flows better. Considering that only know you the Private, you don't have to wear a mask with me. :-) OK...so my everyday routine.. here we go. So wake up at around 9:30am most days. make my morning coffe and watch the news, will get bored with the news so I'll channel surf until find something like an animal show, love this one show called, Too Cute, and it follows baby kittens and puppies. :-) and the narrator tells what they are doing. It literally is a camera that follows the kittens around the house. Anyways get dressed wearing sweat pants and a shirt, or my shorts and a T-shirt depending on what the weather is like outside. (I rarely have to wear the prison khaki uniform unless am entering a part of the building that it is required wear them.) will head over to the gym that is located in the recreation building. I'll work out for an hour then head back to my housing unit to fix something to eat. We have a microwave on each wing and so buy prepackaged food off canteen. (I have become quite a good microwave cook. lol) Then I will get ready to attend class. Class schedule normally is in rotation every other day, so some days its in the morning other days in the afternoon. After class have a job cleaning my wing so I'll do my work duty and at 4pm is mail call. after mail call, I'll relax in my room, reading, emailing or watching TV, and by 11pm am ready for bed. :-) My life is pretty regular to this might change up what do for fun but attending class is mandatory. On Mondays will be	page 897
04/22/2021 02:06:50	Inbound	Gyps - so nice to hear from you again =) Its evening in Brumunddal, and full storm is blowing outside. Im sittn under my blanket, just hope the padiofurniture doesnt fly away :D Hope you have good days - here everything is terrific. I got a new tattoo today. On my neck. Its the "Panic at the disco" logo. The initials "M, G and K" stands for "the original 3 siblings". and <3 First. Covid vaccine. There has been a lot of trouble with vaccines in Norway, but hope to be able to take it before the summer. If am going to travel to the USA (as plan), must have a COVID passport. We'll see, but hope. The plan is for everyone between 25 and 35 to take the vaccine during the summer. Fingers crossed. Work. Im doing online performances for a while more, before have live shows throughout the summer and winter. Will be good to see people again. think its gonna be a busy summer and winter. So to your biggest question. Yes, i really do like to talk to someone who doesnt know my work. feel a lot of people want to get to know the person they watch on TV or read about. They dont want to get to know - the private. always have to wear a mask when get to know people. Entertain them in way. u get me? Just so u know, im not putting on a mask when i talk to you and like this way of gettn to know you. Its simple, but hard questions. Well, its easy to answer them anyways beacuse u dont know who i am. But im not used to it. cant talk to people online the same way here in Norway - its so damn small. Maybe that's why I'm struggling with what to write? When you are not used to sharing exactly what you think you feel - with someone - then it is a bit uncomfortable. you probably understand. Most people get to know disappear after a while. Once they have got what they wanted. Attention. So therefore very rarely get to know someone, and preserve the friendship or whatever it is. Would you like to tell me a little about what a day in your life looks like now? Routines? Mentally, how do you manage? I'm told my family about you. told my mom (who is a very good person) that she had to see "Mommy dead ..", so she knows who am referring to when i talk about you. She was going to.	page 901

04/25/2021 10:56:51	Inbound	when was 14(2001) I went to Corfu, Greece with my family for 15 days. We stayed in a big hotel with a huge garden and access to the beach. The first night, after eating at the restaurant, went for a walk to explore the environment. In the garden met a blonde girl with blue eyes. We looked at each other and she asked me if was Italian. said yes and we started talking. Her name wa: and she was my same age. We took a long walk then sat on a bench to talk. suddenly asked her if she had ever kissed a boy (I had given my first kiss 1 year earlier at 13) She said she wanted me to be her first kissed her. and we all stayed together for the whole holiday and The next day she introduced me to her friend continued to kiss and touch until the end of the vacation. When we left to come back home (she lived in Lecce 5 hours drive from Caserta) she cried a lot and gave me her phone number. It was a very nice summer story to the end. (It would have been better if it was over at that time) When we returned to Italy and our respective cities we exchanged many phone calls. She said she was in love with me. don't wanted have a long distance relationship with her. After few months she told me that she was engaged to an older boy and that it was better not to hear from us anymore. didn't take it badly (I had an Infatuation but wasn't in love) and, for respect, never called her again. In 2010 was 23 (I had just returned from was already working with my father and a day received a phone call at work!! She told me that she remembered my name and that my father was an optometrist from Caserta (she found the number on Google). She asked me if remembered her and if she could give to her my phone number. called me the next day. She was embarrassed and told me in that 9 years she had never forgotten me and that she would like to see me again.	page 849

What harm do you think can come from telling me about where you've been in life and where you want to go from here? Do you think will tell anyone else? Do you think I'll judge or think different of you? Please tell me what is holding you back? because of shitty people in the past? am not shitty people! care about you. You want honesty? I am guarded too because of my past relationships. All "good men" start off so kind and genuine...until it no longer suits their way of life and am thrown away....time and time again. I am guarded because have to be right now. dont need to go into detail about why it just is that way right now. My reasons are not the same as yours, am not a threat to YOUR heart. I'm probably WAY out line for saying this, but me being extremely bold I'll speak my mind. don't have a massive amount of guilt talking to you like do, because iz wanted to keep her man, then she should have put him as a priority. ignoring your wants and needs isn't fair to you. She is being selfish and she needs to figure her shit out, because she dont know about me. This figa is so good, I'll have you coming back for more. 04/27/2021 02:23:36	Inbound	Tuesday 27.04. 07:25 Good morning Gyps (acutally you are sleeping right now). Its early morning in Brumunddal. The sun is shining, sky is blue — but its still cold outside. Im sittn with a hot cup of coffee. Michael Jackson is playing on as im writing. Ill make some breakfast soon. Im making a commercial video today. dont like doing commercials, but its just a short video (2 minutes). Its for a cleaning service in northern norway, almost where i was born. Later im meeting up with a good friend of mine, Ingvill. We are going to have lunch outside today, at the river. One of norways biggest rivers. Ingvill is one of my best friends. can talk to her about everything, and i trust her with my life. When was little did not have many friends, and as an adult have almost no friends. It is strange how our upbringing persecutes us in adulthood. As a kid didn't choose to, but do now. have a really hard time trusting new people. And don't need to many people in my life really. Who is your best friend, and why? Brumunddal, where i live now is a small village out in the country, one hour drive from Oslo(kapital) and Gardemoen (norway biggest airport). Its a nice little town with some stores, coffee-shops, a small shopping mall and some exclusive boutiques. In my life i have lived over in over 20 citys all over Norway, im nomadic (just keep on moving when i get bored). like it, i get to experience alot. When i thing about all the people i have known — its wierd. Where did they all go ? But actually iam the one who left. Anyways. Some of my family lives in Hamar, a 10 minute drive. 20.000 people in Brumunddal, 60.000 in Hamar. In Hamar my big brother lives, my mother and his two kids They are the cutest kids in the world, im so lucky that i get to be their uncle. And where i was born, Kjøllefjord, my grandma (i call her SUPER-B), my father and 2 sisters. andj Well, soon a little brother, my stepmother's due date is in 1 week. dont get to see them very often, but i home i can travel to Kjøllefjord this summer. SUPER-B is gettn old, soi wanna se her before she «goes». u wanna tell me about your family? Who is the closest one? Tomorrow im going to the movies.	page 898

04/29/2021 07:26:04	Outbound	just got off the phone with you and you are right... am falling in love with you and I didn't realize it until yesterday when you were talking about and became jealous. I told you, know myself well and know if I'm not jealous that means that I am not attached in a meaningful way, but if I am then know my heart is involved. Every day I've been growing more and more closer to you and yesterday was like this wake up call that made me see that there isn't just me and you, you have a relationship and it may be "stale" because it might be stuck and won't evolve but it is still one that is most prominent in your life at this point being together for 8 years is like a marriage itself is such a big part of your life because she is in most of your memories. It's hard to let go of someone who has been such an important part of your life for so long that it seems impossible to move passed them And what was saying on the phone is, don't want you to up and leave her right now either. to self* (Maybe later) but not right now. And the only reason why say not right now, is because can't offer you a true relationship to give you the reason to end the relationship with her right now. If I was out in the free world, it would be different. If you will still come to me we can have that memory together. In the meantime don't know how to handle what I'm feeling at the moment. I'll get some fresh air and think about everything. I just wish you could hold me in this moment.	page 850
04/29/2021 12:15:17	Outbound	was also not really joking when said that would probably have children with you. I think you would make a wonderful father. You have a lot of patients and understanding and you have a good moral compass of right and wrong.	page 850
04/29/2021 00:52:55	Outbound	I'm so tired but can't sleep. I'm sorry if I was abrupt. I just don't see where I fit into your life. We both have these unexpected feelings arise and have no clue how to control them or how to appropriately tend to their needs. It really sank in when on the phone you told me everything is great between you and her now. You have a life with her. That left me with the question where does that leave me? I guess I'm starting to get jealous. (Which is going to cause issues between us.)	page 850
04/29/2021 20:55:06	Outbound	Good Morning, Evening, Night... whichever you receive this. Since they don't process emails on Saturday and Sunday wanted to get one sent out to you. :-) So I was approached yesterday to do an interview for a corrections officer training video. Myself and like 3 other women will give their experience with dealing with how the guards talk to us, treat us and how what women respond to better than how the officers talk to a male inmate. With my background of an abusive situation, don't like being yelled at or told what to do in an aggressive manner. It is traumatic if someone does so. Anyway so they will schedule a time for filming in the near future. I'm happy to be a part of something that can help the inmates get treated better. So got the picture of the book. Awww thank you. Well seeing as how I want to see the northern lights someday, was trying to figure out where I wanted to travel to to see them. There is this hotel called hotel Buuble (it might be in Sweden) but there are more like this kind of hotel. It is a hotel that looks like an igloo and it is only a bed in a glass "igloo" and you can sleep under the lights. There is another hotel similar and I believe it is in Norway, Oslo, think. So for awhile have been planning to make a trip there. Besides the lights know there is vast beauty in the country but know very little about what else is there to do other than sight see. have been fascinated with the lights since about 4 or 5 years old. There is something so magical and even a little romantic about them. If you wouldn't mind, can you take a few pictures of your area? would love to see where you live. :-) By the way do you have any pets? I will send this for now, the emails are being processed soooo slow this week. it is annoying how, #1 the emails are not received in chronological order of when they are written. #2 can write an email send it and it take an hour for you to receive it, or it can take 2,3,4 days. #3 and there are no emails processed on Saturday and Sunday. This isn't JPay's fault, the staff that works in the mail room have to read everything before we actually receive it. if ever you want to send me mail through the actual mail system My address is: Gypsy Blanchard #1302048 Chillicothe Correctional Center 3151 Litton Rd Chillicothe, Mo 64601 hope you are well! :-) have a good weekend!	page 898

04/29/2021 01:44:25	Inbound	Good morning Gyps - and good evening where u are =) Filming went well thanks. Ill send u pictures of my tattoos, but i dunno if you get this mail first, or the pictures first. Im having a hard time keeping track of what mails u recive first - and JPAY have had som problems the last couple of days. Back i think we are back on track now :D So nice to read about your family - that you have so many who loves you. Its gonna be soooo important when you get out into the real world again. It will really strengthen you on the "way back". Did you get the picture of the book i bought you? How can i send it to you, if you want in of course :D You can get to now my country, in a fun way :D like your idea about the book cover, AND the title. What does the publisher say about you not creating the title of your book? A writer decides what the title should be - always. Remember that people make money of your name and story, and its YOUR story, YOUR name. Please. Remember this. People want to take advantage, make money, use you - and if you do not play your cards right, you are left as a loser. If you're going to remember ONE thing I've told you, this is it. You get one chance. Use it wisely. But you are smart, so u dont need me to tell you :D I'm a cliché, i know - I'm a wandering cliché. love it..lol! Fint a hare at du har venner, bade der du er na, og dit du skal etterhvert. Jeg har noen få venner jeg og, og selv om vi er veldig gode venner - har jeg ingen "beste venn". Jeg er sa redd for at de skal forlate meg. Sa jeg holder vennene mine veldig nzert, men ikke 100%. Vil du om min familie? Jeg har jo fortalt litt fra før, men her får du hele. Jeg har 5 sosken (36) (17) (7). Den siste kommer na om 14 dager. Jeg har en skilt mamma og pappa. 05/03/2021 03:25:06	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, Wow! Thank you for writing back. didn't expect such a quick response. I'm glad that you're doing well. It's great to hear that you've been gaining maturity throughout your incarceration. don't think the average person realizes how much an individual can grow while behind those walls. It's not the most ideal environment but with a positive outlook a person can truly focus on themselves and even accomplish more than some people in the free world as there are less distractions. Finding yourself is probably one of the best achievements you could ask for. know there's no short answer to this but what did you find and what do you want from life moving forward? It's too bad that you didn't benefit from any interviews or anything but completely understand your humbleness and humility. It's a great foundation for your future. Its definitely helpful that your father has been supporting your needs for the past 6 years as well. So how do you keep busy? Are you involved in any programs? Do you read a lot? What's your favorite author? know you said you don't like accepting anything from anyone but I've always been the kind of person who does the opposite of what I'm told. So maybe can just get you a book or something which really isn't much but at least it would make me happy that my gesture was accepted. Trust me it's hardly an inconvenience. :p Well guess it's my tum to tell a little about myself feel like I'd have to write an entire novel but I'll try to give you everything in a nutshell: grew up in New Jersey in a somewhat affluent suburb of New York City. I'm the oldest of several siblings. As a teen made tons of poor decisions but always had a heart of gold. At the age of 19 got myself into some trouble and was sentenced to 10 years with an 85% mandatory minimum. That said, can completely relate to some of the things you are going through but we didn't have access to tablets or email at the time because we were told it was a security issue. Anyway, was SUPER productive throughout my incarceration. read hundreds of books, obtained a bunch of certifications, and earned a degree from Purdue University. While in a halfway house, continued my education at Rutgers University and was even offered an IT job there. want to say was lucky but in actuality earned the opportunity from all the hard work put into my personal growth while incarcerated. They had no idea was living in a halfway house and was still finishing up my sentence. lol Sorry if my story sucks so far but it goes to show you that there's hope after incarceration! :-) Anyhow, it took a couple of months to adapt back into society but never forgot where came from. I've had a pretty exciting life over the past 10 years. There are always some ups and downs but had a great career, moved to Las Vegas, then Europe, then back to New Jersey. had a bad car accident about 5 years ago and underwent a bunch of procedures and surgeries over the course of 2 years. Fortunately, I've recovered well!	page 261

05/03/2021 19:36:11	Outbound	Good morning, Gypsy... Hope you are doing well. The weather here has been terrible and have been struggling with my health issues. am not sure if ever told you about me. Several years ago was diagnosed with a non-cancerous brain tumor and about 2 years ago i was having lots of headaches, vision issues, hearing issues, and memory problems. Well ended up having to have radiation to treat my brain tumor. i lost most of my hair and was ok for a little bit but my headaches remained the same and new symptoms started. i ended up with too much fluid on my brain and had to have a device implanted in my brain to drain the fluid, VP shunt. Since the shunt surgery, have seen improvement but when the weather changes, i struggle to get out of bed. It has been raining for the last 3 days and it has been a struggle for me. The good thing is get to lay in bed and catch up on my true crime documentaries or binge watch a reality series. hope that you are doing well and studying hard for that math test. cant wait to see you pass that GED and move on to your career path. want you to know am so proud of you. know you said they have started opening up visitation. Do you have anyone who goes to see you regularly? know your dad do occasionally. Well, iam going to end this letter with a positive prayer for you.... Dear Lord, ask that you lay your loving, peaceful, and caring hands on Gypsy. Allow her to gather the knowledge that she needs to become the woman you want her to be. Help her to grow in only your love Lord and let your light shine through her to those who need a healing heart. For this pray today and everyday in your name, Lord Jesus Christ... Amen Good night! God Bless you!! MsJ Thank You. <3	page 573

I'm not sure how was portrayed in that show. From how the trailer looked, it doesn't look cheesy like some other portrayals. Heres some differences know are wrong. #1 never smoked with me (she doesn't smoke) #2 I never had a hamster, had a cat. #3 the guy met at the SciFi convention, his real name not and he was not dressed as wolverine, he was just in normal clothes. never said, "welcome to your new life" after having sex with me. #5 never spat at my mother, even while chained up. #6 My front teeth didn't fall out, they were surgically removed and according to records there was no valid reason why the dentist removed them, other than my mother wanted it done. I just know the one song (the one u sent me) - "OneRepublic" - so you just have to send me more songs if you want! Okay so HIGH HOPES is one of my favourites. dance on SNAPCHAT every morning, and 5 out of 7 days a week - its HIGH HOPES. Brendon Urie is the name of the lead singer. He has a damn good live voice (have seen PANIC 3 times live). He has ADHD, so he is one of my inspirations. And i can understand why you like him, hes a handsome man, with a good voice - and ADHD. What more can u ask for? lol How are you doing? Everything's running normal here. 43 days to my new book hits the market - so im counting days. Last weekend i was out partying, im still tired. Im not gonna drink again for a loooong time. This week, not much is happening here. don't have any shows, and very few other plans. I'm in the final stages of the script on the book, so hope it finishes by Friday. It should be submitted - finished - during the week. always find more want to write about, so I'm never going to finish. But I'll send it Friday, think. Ill check out the prison page, but then u will get the book i got you when u get out =) But i will write you a letter, just to make it feel more personal - do you want to send me one? =) a	page 902

Perhaps it was flagged? Let me know if you still don't have it in a day or two and Ill resend it. :(I sent a picture as well. Initially emailed you from a computer but JPay doesn't have an option to send pictures from the computer. That's when figured out there's a JPay mobile app!! The app has the option to send pictures and more :)	page 261

05/04/2021 23:14:26	Outbound	Well, did received both pictures and your email that was sent today. Yes, they censor emails, photos and letters however unless it has excessive drug use talk or explicit sexual content they don't reject much other than that. do know that Jpay was acting funny the last few days so maybe something glitched. Also emails are only processed mon-fri, not on holidays or sat/sun. Emails are not received in chronological order, and can take anywhere from an hour to a few days to be received for both of us. Anyways as said, did get the pics, that was a pretty awesome pic. You seem pretty bad ass. like the scorpion tattoo 5	page 261

Ok, I will be patient like you asked. muah I'm sorry if get a little crazy sometimes. can be psycho kitty lol :-P The next few weeks are hard on me emotionally. Yesterday would have been my mothers 54th birthday and mothers day is coming up then June 10th is the date of my crime, and June 15th marks 6 years have been locked up. cope with the anniversaries by sleeping the day away. feel uncomfortable on mothers day, because most have good moms or at least have decent mothers. always remember my mother but I as my mom. So anyways this time of year is just hard to get through, but somehow move forward every year. Oh almost forgot to tell you! when I talked t on the phone she told me that my brother is going to wait until am home to have the wedding so get to be there!! :-D I'm so happy. He is my only brother and want to be a part of something so big. :-) have been trying to tell myself not to focus so hard on the limitations have in here and open my understanding that WILL be getting out and CAN have a real life. I think I just see only the here and now sometimes and over focus on it. I'll work on having more patients (the thing I'm so bad at having)	page 852
05/04/2021 12:54:35	Outbound	"Meowno" Thank you again for being so understanding about so much. There is nothing that feel can't tell you. As was saying sometimes parents, particularly a father will be extra hard on his child, not because of a lack of faith but with the knowledge that you can reach the "bar" each time he sets it higher. know you are more then capable of handling more things then what you are given but believe in time your father will eventually give you more responsibility. can assume by what you have said, your parents were not that tender to you as that were towards your brother. Were your parents more concerned about your brother and you felt excluded a lot of the time as a child? can imagine that when your brother needed extra care and attention that must have made you feel alone. It is completely normal to have felt this way sweetie. Now as an adult, understand you are grown, but sometimes we can still feel the same feelings we had as children. I think you carry a lot of weight as the son who has to be the one to achieve things. Things like a good job, education, family of your own. These are things that carry significant meaning to your father and could be why he expects more and more from you.	page 852
05/04/2021 16:28:37	Outbound	LOL No... my brother is waiting for me to be at HIS wedding. He won't marry before get out. so can be home to see it. :-)	page 852
05/04/2021 14:33:03	Inbound	Honey, You understood perfectly. My parents rely on me a lot ... But sometimes it would be nice to hear the word "good". However, it doesn't matter anymore. These are things that no longer affect me :-) You must to know that have not received anything as a gift. never asked my dad for money (and time ago he had a lot) I've bought everything in my life with my savings. wouldn't have minded some help ... But never mind ... survived anyway. the relationship with my mother has always been bad. She is always nervous, anxious. Raising a child like my brother wasn't easy. Over time, realized why she was misbehaving with me ... it was a way to let off steam. (and yes ... my laptop was destroyed as yours) Now, fortunately, our relationship has improved :-) Btw, am very happy that your brother is expecting you to get married! Don't worry, as soon as you get out you will have the happy life you deserve so much !!!! am totally sure !!!! Hold on! MUAHHHHH	page 852

05/04/2021 01:48:47	Outbound	Good Moming! My birth day says I'm a leader- idk, loyal- extremely true, And willful, again true. Among other traits, it is so comical, it reads those born o are more prone to periodic physiological breakdowns and may benefit from seeking the help from a therapist, friend or family member. lol WOW yes have break downs (especially when I'm PMSing) I'm totally wacko when its "that" time. anyways I'm ok, just kind of feel like I'm in a dull place right now, like I'm not moving forward. It a rut of sorts. it could be nothing but the next few weeks are hard on me emotionally. Yesterday would have been my mothers 54th birthday and mothers day is coming up then June 10th is the date of my crime, and June 15th marks 6 years have been locked up. cope with the anniversaries by sleeping the day away. feel uncomfortable around mothers day, because most have good moms or at least have decent mothers. always remember my mother but as my mom. I'm more lik anyway, her and get along great. So anyways this time of year is just hard to get passed, but somehow move forward every year. Oh almost forgot to tell you! So my brother is engaged, he got engaged for Thanksgiving last year, and yesterday when talked t on the phone she told me that my brother is going to wait until am home to have the wedding so get to be there!! :-D I'm so happy. Her name i she is 58 she has been down for 19 years and her and actually see the parole board a month apart and our 85% dates are a month apart. do not go out to the yard much. might go out to get some sun for a few hours but don't hang out there. normally like to be alone when I'm out of the house. I do go to the gym to hop on the stair climber though. :-) have made a few good friends, some have already been released and we keep in touch pretty regularly. :-) I am currently on a sanction for a write up, they impounded my tv for 30days. get my TV back on Monday. was wrote for using another girls phone time slot. We are only allowed 15 minutes of talk time once every hour, and they caught me using mine and hers. :-P However on Mondays, they give us a free 20 min call and we can use our 20min and 15min consecutively so hey that's 35 mins of talk	page 259
05/06/2021 12:56:45	Outbound	Ok, so now that read your emails. :-) Yes, am involved and have taken several programs and classes. For the last 5 years have been in GED classes which in 2018 passed all subjects with the exception of math, however...on the 17th am taking a pre-test for math and if pass, then I will take the actual test and if passed graduate. -) came from having no formal education, so to have come so far so fast is an achievement. have completed several other classes such as Pathways to Change, Anger Management, ICVC, Anxiety group and others. I am an inmate facilitator for ICVC. share my story with the other women as a cautionary tale. Once graduate, want to move on to take a vocational class, (cosmetology) I see the parole board in December and I'm really hoping they will give me my 85% date. Which is 12/28/23 After 6 years down, am only now starting to feel like grown enough for the real world. I am almost 30 but lacked the experience most people have so basically I've grown up in here. I've had "prison moms" teach me the ropes of life, but never give in to the prison mentality of using people. TOTALLY against having "tricks" and asking for anything. It's no secret who am but don't take advantage of the kindness of others. All in all my time has been me learning life through experience in a controlled setting. To me prison is a world within a world and every day I'm just doing what everyone else is doing out in the big world and that is just trying to do the best I can and remember to stay true to who am. stay busy with classes. draw, watch tv, read...mostly email a lot. My Jpay Tablet never leaves my side lol I'm worse then a teenager. :-) don't email everyone who emails me because I've had people betray my trust by posting my emails on social media and to me, I'm giving my trust and all ask is give me a little respect not to post my correspondence. Therefore I'm super selective of who I reply back to. What else can tell you about me... I am pagan/wicca. am a hippie tree hugger lol don't have a favorite author but do like fantasy books. My taste in movies is everything geek lol speak geek fluently. :-P and anything else you wanna know just ask. :-) Well from what you've told me it sounds like you've turned your life around and are doing very well. That is wonderful to hear. too often many get stuck in that life of in and out of jail or prison and never realize they can be living a better life. I'm glad you're a success story. Why may ask were you in prison?	page 259

However, curiosity as well as interest out weighed my logic and reasoning. don't want to come off as a suck up but after years of articles and documentaries and research I've done your innocents screams at a volume that should most definitely be heard. I've been wrapped up in your story... your life for almost two years of mine now and have recurring questions that I just can't satisfy with interviews. Gypsy, are you okay? How are you doing now? Does actual prison even compare to what you lived through those 20+ years? I'm hoping to hear from you Gypsy. If not, pray for your wellbeing and happiness when you're released. = Hi	page 866

If so, please let her know that even though I haven't seen the act, do feel she did wonderful. do wish that she and could have met or got to at least got to speak on the phone, unfortunately the co writers and producers of The Act Dean) unhandedly stole my story and without my permission made the show and didn't pay me one red cent for using my name and likeness. don't hold anything against any of the actors, it was not something believe they were even aware of until after its airing on Hulu. But despite all that, I'm proud of Joey for taking on my life story and bringing awareness to Munchausen By Proxy. I am doing very well, see the parole board in December and hopefully will be released in 2023. :) Thanks so much for the encouragement, honestly sometimes its just nice to hear a kind word from someone. :) right now am studying for my math test, take my GED math test on the 17th and if pass, then graduate and can move on to take college courses. want to also take cosmetology, love doing hair skin and nails. and if can get my license, can work at a beauty salon when I'm home. :) Anyways I'll send this for now. :) Have a great day! I'm a godmother... that counts lol didn't give birth to them but those are my girls too. :) I am also the mother of a stuffed animal named Dr. Porkenstine. (its a pig/rabbit toy) Ugliest thing you'll ever see. lol Anyways know that your relationship with your mother is better now, but today want you to know that you are not alone with how you might feel underneath it all. My mother could have been better than what she was. What you need to focus on is the positive that you even have the ability to always improve your relationship with her. That is something to celebrate. hugs MUAH miss you, so much.	page 851

05/10/2021 22:21:39	Inbound	Hey Gypsy! Ok, so now I think understand how this works with the delays. Lol It's great that you're taking advantage of programs. I'm so excited for you being so close to graduating!!!! you can do it! Math can be boring but try to look at it as solving a puzzle. Sometimes it's hard to retain the information but practice makes perfect. how math works. If you keep solving problems over and over it gets easier and easier. It just becomes a bit repetitive but then it will all sink in. :-) The other programs are a good way to keep busy and possibly learn something from. remember there was a required 9- 18 month program at my prison that almost everyone had to complete before being eligible for a halfway house. was a facilitator too at some point during that program! Cosmetology is beneficial also. actually used to cut hair in prison for several years. It was a great side hustle as people would give me commissary for hooking them up. fantastic that you see the parole board in 6 months! Is there any chance that they won't give you your 85% date? The way it worked for me was pretty automatic. The only way they wouldn't have given me a date was if screwed up big time in prison and lost a bunch of comp time. I'm sure its similar for Missouri but once they switched me to minimum security then I finally made it to a halfway house when had about 18 months left in my sentence. Do you know if you're going to be eligible for a halfway house? It must feel amazing to finally start feeling ready for the real world. remember the feeling although some anxiety came along with it. You have to look at it as though you're 30 years YOUNG and the world might not be ready for you! LMAO @ "prison moms"! totally get what you mean but it makes me think of "prison dads" which are simply repeat offenders at men's facilities. right though, they can preach to you some of the ropes but what they know obviously didn't work because right there with you. Just keep doing what you're doing and don't give into that prison mentality. It's better to be independent and selfsufficient. No "tricks"! lol Besides, it's best not to take advantage of the kindness of others in there because in all reality everyone is in the same boat and already hurting or suffering from a different past. LOVE how you said, "To me prison is a world within a world and every day I'm just doing what everyone else is doing out in the big world and that is just trying to do the best can and remember to stay true to who am." You honestly couldn't have said that any better! which also leads me to tell you that SUPER IMPRESSED at how well you write and express yourself! actually wasn't sure what to expect when I first reached out to you but I like it! I can't believe they took your TV for using the phone out of line. That's fucked up! What shows do you watch? What kind of stuff do you like drawing? Do you use the phones a lot? didn't use the phone too often when was incarcerated because it used to be kind of expensive. always felt like it would be a burden for me to call people because then they'd have to pay for it. They always told me to call but didn't believe in them having to incur costs for my calls when I'm the one who made the mistake of getting locked up. At least they didn't take your tablet. Do you get a ton of emails? understand why you don't reply to everyone who emails you. People can be real assholes. What benefit could it possibly have for them to post your stuff on social media? Personally, prefer keeping my life kind of private. The only things post on social media are pictures from places travel and an occasional selfie. don't even post pictures of myself with friends or anything like that because it's business seeing who I'm with or hanging around. Anyway, hope you don't worry about that too much with me. haven't even told a single soul that I'm even writing you and plan to keep it that way! Regardless, I'm really happy that you responded but I'd like to know what made you pick me since you're so	page 260

She might tell me what she thinks about how you feel but she doesn't discuss what was said with me, that stays between you and her. often would like her to tell me lol but she keeps everything vague. Now in response to your emails. understand and you are right, have not been with a man in a safe loving way. My experience was violent and abnormal and had no idea it wasn't suppose to be that way. After was for a year or so, told him more about my "experience" and it became quickly known to me that was taken advantage of by a sadistic psychopath who manipulated me to think it was ok. Like everything else in life that have yet to experience, feel when the time is right will experience intimacy the right way with someone who loves me for me. am not sad about this topic because know that real love making is worth the long wait. <3 Your experiment email made me desire you. tried taking deep breaths to help slow my heart but nothing could calm myself hearing your voice. <3 If could have you now, there would be a few scratches on us both... a few bite marks too. <3 Meow I don't know for sure who this mysterious man in my future will be, but it is nice to think about you. <3 muah	page 853

I am currently studying for the PRE-HSE (GED) math. never had a formal education so have been in GED school for the last 5 years and in 2018 passed all subjects except for math, and last week finally passed the first math test and have 2 more math tests to pass then will graduate. Once graduate, will sign up to take a vocational class. want to take cosmetology. might also look into college courses from Ashland university. don't have any career goals per say, good jobs are limited for felons, but I'd like to work at a hair salon. have been in prison for 6 years and could possibly get released in 2023, I'll know for sure my outdate after see the parole board in December. My life in here is pretty routine, Mondays attend Wicca service at 1:30pm I attend ged class 5 days a week, sometimes go to the gym to exercise for 45 minutes. I'm 5'0 and normally 115lbs BUT since the pandemic I've gained like 15lbs ...it all went to my ass and boobs. lol am petite with an hourglass figure. like some exercise but I'm not a workout beast. mostly either read, draw watch TV or email on my tablet. 05/10/2021 11:15:57	Inbound	Hello again, Gypsy! Thank you for writing back :) Yes, know Joey. will tell her what you said next time speak to her. She is busy filming a new movie in Atlanta, so spoken to her much lately. do not think they were aware that the creators of The Act stole the story without your permission and don't think they know they didn't give you any money for using your likeness and story. think that's wrong. They should have at least given you some of the money the writers and producers made off of the movie, especially since it is YOUR story. That makes me mad and I'm sorry about that. Oh really? I'm glad you're gonna see the parole board!! hope you get to get out in 2023. Are you planning on living in Missouri still or are you moving somewhere else? I've never been to Missouri but my mom and are going to St Louis and Springfield in a couple of months. She's a photographer and apparently there is some beautiful areas in both St Louis and Springfield. You can pass the test :) know you can! And cosmetology? That's interesting! Maybe you can be my mom's makeup artist! Haha! I'm just kidding but you never know :) I'm sorry for how talkative am, btw, but love that you're also so talkative. have Autism and so sometimes will talk too much or I'll stay quiet. It depends on who I'm talking to. Do you have to wear masks in there? With corona, don't know how it works in there. Did you get vaccinated? Stay safe in there. And hope we can be good friends and keep in touch!!! leave you with this so you can respond back and not have so much to respond back to. Looking forward to hearing back from you again! This guy messaged her on TikTok asking if was single and shes like, yep. She told me there is 2 things need to know first...#1, he is 19years old, #2 he is originally female. which I'm not against transgender people, that is not the problem.. but the age...ehhhh that's a little too young for me. I'm pushing 30 and though can pass for much younger, have things in mind for when get out, kids being one of them. don't want to hurt either of their feelings but not being interested but that's not a match for me. :-P I talked to my stepmom today and will be signing with RandomHouse publishing. :-)	page 901
05/11/2021 18:06:52	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, I am currently working with my dad as a mechanic in his shop. I've been working with him since was 15 doing mostly oil changes, tire changes, and other simple things like that since I'm not a certified mechanic yet. listen to almost every type of music including classical music. used to be a band nerd play the trumpet then my last year of school learned how to play most percussion instruments. miss being in band it was very fun remember this one thing called national honor band which was one of the funnest thing remember doing in school. I really like horror movies even tho some of the jump scares make me scream like a little kid really enjoy them. If had to chose a favorite movie it would or be insidious because was very young when watched it and watched it with my sisters in the middle of the night without mom's permission and we all slept in the living scared to death because of it. play all sorts of games watched the queens gambit on Netflix once and became addicted to chess. also play a lot of card games because my a cell mate and would play for hours which was pretty fun and since got out of the juvenile detention center bought myself a deck of cards and now play solitaire a lot. also play a lot of video games one of the games I've started to play a lot is Minecraft its sort of a kids game but a lot of adults and teenagers have started playing it mostly for the survival version of the game. It can be a pretty fun game with the right people. also just realized can put actual emojis in these emails but don't even know if you can see them if can't that will be sad because use emojis a lot feel like they add emotion to every sentence &} anyway if you can see emojis will be pretty happy about it. Also hope you got to two pictures sent to hope you have a good day	page 914

She has lived in this house for 29 years — she bought it when she was in law school — and she finally convinced me that it's time to move to something a bit roomier. We are very close to a purchase and hope to know next week. If we do purchase it, much of the next six weeks will be spent getting ready to move and to sell our current house. have written a first draft of a written statement for the parole hearing. still want to tweak it a bit before sending it to you. 05/12/2021 13:40:01	Outbound	could have pegged you for a geekish rockstar lol :-P with the long hair and tats I'd say classic rock fan meets chill fanboy. :-) Pagan/wicca is new to me, converted 5 months ago from Catholic Christian. felt needed to find my own path rather then stick with what was born into. My good just transferred from Vandalia women's center to here and she exposed me to a more in depth understanding of it. She read my cards and was surprisd to find the reading was spot on. I talked with her more and more and did research on the ways and traditions and found that it fit me. have recently bought my own set of tarot cards so can do my own readings. No I have never been to the hole. For the most part have good behavior, a few rooky mistakes here and there but am basically growing up in here so I'm bound to make a few. I did get 8 hours extra duty for that K tat. (it was my first violation in a year) had it been under different circumstances would have went to the hole. The first time met my ex fiancé in person, he almost got me put in the hole because on a visit he French kissed me. (luckily the normal Sargent wasn't working that day, because had she, would have been cuffed FOR A KISS! I did get a write up for it though. I'll save some more stories if you would like to talk on the phone sometime. Its .05¢ a minute, and have about $10 in phone time right now. Thank you. I've dated while in here, and the guys were good guys but for different reasons they both ended the relationship with me. The first was my ex he was 24 when we started dating and 4 years ago he wrote me after seeing my story on Tv. He and I had this instant connection, not so much romantic at first but more like a soulmate connection of finding your best friend. anyways its a long story but the short version is we were happily in love until the pressure of being with me at a time my name was super hyped in the media world made him relaps into using after 5 years of being clean. He pushed me away and we have never been able to come back to that connection we once had. actually just removed him from my visitors list last month. Then my second relationship was an unintentional rebound and I split. His name he was 41, nice job, very put together. He had been friends with my step mom on Facebook and had his number so the da' dumped me and he became someone to lean on. grew closer with him and pretty soon he and started dating. We had a few ups and downs, small arguments here and there but we seemed to complement each other. The age difference was not a bad thing. In some weird way need a male figure that was responsible and could be a role model for me as never had a father figure in my life as a child or young adult. He decided that he never wants children so my circumstances of being a woman but with some needed guidance was both a complex but complementary side to our relationship. It wasn't any kind of fetish daddy shit it was just the simple fact he had what I lacked and had what he lacked in his life.	page 260

It's more about how you look at life, how you are inside. think. But love can appear without you being aware of it - didnt work out...just some dates and "yea.im done with this". have not been on a date in 2 years think. fell in love (online) with a girl who lives far north in Norway. Now that we first met, it was not as we had intended. had not been completely honest with her..it didnt feel right - and i was right, in the end. was not as brave (as am now)... Im fine thnx, working on my PR-tour. The book is out in 34 days. oooohh.... In 2 weeks i start working on the road again- YEEY! Cant wait for that first night....first live show in aaages..seeing my audience again, making people laugh...Give them an escape! <3 Norway is almost open again.. Most shops and social are open. think everything will be back to normal in a few months. will get vaccinated this summer, then will get the COVID passport. Then can finally go back to England. I'm in England all the time, but not since COVID. use to rent an apartment in Manchester city center. Shopping, drinking beer, working on scripts. all alone. Fantastic. 17th of may is our nationalday, next week - just so u know :D How manv naaes have written on your book? :D	page 901
05/13/2021 15:59:38	Inbound	Hey Gypsy! I got 4 more of your messages! Haha! So you figured out I'm a Scorpio from the last picture with my other tattoo? I'm glad you liked it and wrote me back just because of it. My birthday is November 11th. Isn't your birthday just around the corner? July right? Is the astrology birthday book usually pretty on point? I'm curious what it says about me. I'll tell you if its right or wrong. :P I'm definitely more computer geek than Rockstar although can play guitar fairly well. only recently grew out my hair over the past few years kind of on a whim. Are a lot of girls pagan/wicca in prison or is that just an affinity you have? was kind of forcibly raised to be Catholic as a child with Sunday school classes and whatnot but as got a little older I'd walk in the front door and right out the back LMAO. Aside from that, I'm not really a religious person. mean don't get me wrong. totally believe in the supernatural and being spiritual but I just don't spend much time with it. also don't affiliate myself with any religion because my own belief system is made up from ALL religions in a way. That's really neat that you're learning to read cards! I'm surprised the prison allows them. had mine done by some fake psychic like 10 years ago but she was so wrong don't think that really counts. Maybe you can read mine one day and tell me? It's nice to hear you've never had to experience the hole. was sent there several times during my stint. The messed up thing is never did anything to deserve to go! One time a C.O. that just didn't like me wrote me up because was sleeping and not at my vocational trade. tried to tell him that our teacher was out for the day but he wasn't trying to listen and sent me to lockup over nothing! Another time there was a really bad fight in the cell across from me. The officers knew I saw everything but wouldn't snitch. So they put me in the hole a week for not giving them any information which is bullshit. The funny thing is that anytime actually got in a fight never got caught. OMG I have tons of stories! You got really lucky with only 8 hours for the tattoo! Is it small? Tattoos were automatic 15-30 days in the hole at a minimum where was. You must be a good luck charm since you didn't get in much trouble for the kiss either. don't want to be intrusive but I'm assuming that you didn't get much time to meet guys and do stuff like that before. I'm still in awe that you got engaged while there. It must have seemed amazing at time. hope the breakup wasn't hard on you. In my opinion, don't think its a good idea to date while locked up. Not only have seen how people end up leaving and forgetting about inmates but I've experienced it. It can become an emotional roller coaster that isn't easy to deal with. Then again its hard for someone to not want to date because love and affection are a human need. I'm sure its a long story but that wasn't very nice o to push you away. Then look at you!!! A little player huh? hahaha.. You didn't waste any time You go girl ;D Its great that you felt like you complemented each other well. That's really important. can kind of understand the whole father figure thing but thought you said your father helps you out now. Eh, guess its still way different. What don't totally understand is why he would get so mad over you posting something. To me that's like a red flag for being too controlling. Then again, tons of people destroy relationships over their social media. Then to top it off he yelled at you? Oh hell no! I'm not into all that confrontational stuff. Why would he yell at you? That's way too aggressive for someone sweet like you. If it was that easy to leave then it wasn't meant to be anyway. Besides, you're going to have guys throwing themselves at you left and right when you get out. You don't want to be tied down right now. Maybe tied up but not tied down. lol	page 262
05/13/2021 16:14:26	Inbound	I think you can pull off anything. Highlights might be nice but love your brown hair; especially when it's slightly curled and wavy. Hot AF! :)	page 262
05/13/2021 17:43:48	Outbound	Thanks, my hair is naturally wavy so always have curls. I've experimented with many style and colors. My hair has now grown back out long again after cut it into a short Bob. have been dark cherry black, I've tried to go blonde but it was a huac mistake as it turned orange. now its just natural dark brown. :-)	page 262

05/13/2021 18:24:04	Outbound	The thing you need to know about me is I'm not a career driven woman. iam more family inspired. think of it like the boardgame Life, one path leads to a successful career, and the other leads to marriage and children. There is always that off chance you end up with neither lol but I'll stick to the point.. For me, will be very fortunate to have this book deal as will not only receive a payment in a high amount but will also draw earnings from it for a very long time. may want a job like cutting hair at a salon, to keep me busy but that is all. My work for advocacy can be in any number of areas which do not have to be in a set location. Meaning can do it from online. Many times feel just by being a face to the problem of MBP is helping spread awareness. Online will have many more freedoms to work with agencies doing interviews and talks via Skype or zoom. With this can do advocacy wherever am. :-) hope answered your questions.	page 851

But if you have any questions don't hesitate to get contact me there is a lot of misconceptions unfortunately people thinking that we sacrifice people or animals which for the majority of us that's not true. The most common thing is people think is we worship the devil which is also not true . But anyway stepping into this path has gotten me through a lot of heartbreak and helped me not give a fuck of what people or society thinks of me just do me spread love and be the bold artist witchy person i am . And just remember with this path you can do whatever you want as long as you aren't causing harm to anyone or anything . We are big believers in Karma and whatever you put out into the universe good or bad comes back too you 3 times harder . So if you put out good you get good if you put out bad you get bad. hope all is well and like said If you have any questions or wanna chat just because you can always call me or email me no pressure know you get a lot my number i we can talk about anything . Love and light Witchysister don't care call me whatever you want nothing offends me anymore	page 880

05/15/2021 10:25:24	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, Hope doing well! Here in NJ, the weather is getting nicer. I'm taking vacation time from work to enjoy it, which has been nice. I just read an article from February of this year that you're in the process of writing a book. will totally be getting it once it's out!! I've been wanting to hear your perspective of your life from your own words. When are you hoping to publish it? can't imagine how much work must go into that, and at least once you're done writing, more people will know the truth about your story. I'm looking for new books to read, do you have any recommendations? Love, "With everything that has happened to you, you can either feel sorry for yourself or treat what has happened as a gift. Everything is either an opportunity to grow or an obstacle to keep you from growing. You get to choose." -Wayne Dyer obviously have chosen growth, which is why this quote made me think of you © "Don't cry over the past. it's gone. Don't stress about the future. it hasn't arrived. live in the present and make it beautiful	page 913

05/16/2021 12:56:48	Outbound	Sweetie can understand how it would be a completely different life change for you if you were to move, and find another work. But you can't work your life away. There is so much more to life than work.. You have what they call ties to your way of life currently. You live in a shared place so your living situation is tied to your relationship.. You work for your father and you are afraid leaving the shop would disrespect him so your work has emotional ties. When wanted to live my life differently then was living it a few years ago, just spoke up. When wanted to and everyone told me not to, spoke up and told them its my life and can do what want as an adult. My advice, talk with your father and even though it may be hard...make a plan, and take action to live the life YOU WANT If you want to live in England for example, research apartments, and jobs. I loves you she will understand they way you feel and support you. And don't feel that your father will be disrespected if you tell him that you need a change in your life. You are 34, its time you found yourself and what mean by "yourself", is your way of life. have known you for about 6 months or so and feel you have the drive, the maturity and the passion for life to make a change. support you in your dreams and desires you are a strong man, you can do it. believe in you. muah	page 851

As told you on the phone, after the second dose of the vaccine, she had a fever. preferred not go to them for for not to make tired my mom(clean house, cooking etc) ... But she is offended. (she would have been offended even if went ... she would have said would tire her out XD) (so the result wouldn't have changed) As told you if could go back in time, would have left them at 20... it would have been better. Even if they don't know it, my parents have to than! I stayed in Caserta because met her in 2013 ... Otherwise would have left. Now, am convinced that my father will not retire anytime soon and am a bit annoyed...	page 852

It's out of my concern for you, so then was glad wrote the information to you. Now let's talk about something fun! :) My JPay app wasn't working; really don't know if all of my emails get to you. I wrote you a long email about the beach and didn't hear back from you— so sent the pictures! :)~ I, finally, texted my boy here who trusts, waiting for him to come in off the trains and then I'll tell him all about it :) to personally speak to him about writing to you. He's a good dude but he's been jaded. The #metoo movement has made it difficult for young men to ask a girl out. I've told many, if it wasn't for women like me in the 80's; the men	page 234

I'm sure you get loads of messages so no problem if you can't reply. just want to say and as you know, many others, really sympathize for you <3 Learning about what you went through was tough to hear and I'm really sorry it happened. hope you have found peace now and the sense of "freedom". Not long now until you can walk out and start again. Hopefully Covid-19 is gone by then. Which I'm sure it will be (fingers crossed). What ever happens, just remember, loads of people have your back. You've just been stuck in my head since discovered you. It's really made me think you know? I'm so sorry. We are all here for you. Even if I'm 4000 miles across the pond. Hell “ Ive been wanting to write you for the longest time and am glad finally am able to. Ever since read your story was super captivated by you, you truly are a strong person and you inspire a lot of people and mostly me. Ive been looking up facts about you as much as I can just because you are super amazing in my eyes. know the chances of you replying is slim because know you probably get a ton of messages and understand. Ive watched your interviews over and over just because they are super touching and you truly are a beautiful person like wow. cant wait until you are able to get out just because you dont need to be in there. We need you out in the world to be able to shine your awesomeness to everyone everywhere. Youre probably wondering who am and why wanna write to you. Hello am Lisa. Im not that much older than you, am 34 years old female who resides in the midwest, super introverted person but am very artistic and always in my head a huge nerd for the most part but very empathic. But back to what was saying about wanting to write you for the longest time. Ive been nervous to write you because you just kinda make me a little too starstruck, haha. Sorry that probably sounds weird but honestly Ive been too nervous just because Ive been reading about you for the longest time. Im thinking about painting a photo of you onto a canvas, not sure if youd think that was weird but Ive been thinking about it. thoughts on that? dont know if a painting can do justice though. Have you seen yourself? Youre like the most gorgeous human in the world. like omg :D okay I'll stop simping now haha. anyways just wanna be able to talk to you and be able to know the awesome Gypsy you are. Im not sure what kinda things youre into but wanted to give you a little backstory of myself ha. So Im currently listening to an indie band Turnover and these lyrics just kinda got to me and wanted to share them with you... "Let me know your secret Tell me how you color all the empty space Drawn outside the lines Your words, a lively illustration you create" hope you are doing well though Gypsy. You deserve to be happy, you deserve the world. You are special in every way. And just being able to write you right now makes me smile. hope to hear from you it would kinda be super amazing. But know you get a lot of mail and youre busy. Just remember how much you mean to me even though I know don't know you but just learning about you has gotten me being able to connect with you even though its not in person hehe. From :D	page 920
05/21/2021 14:16:49	Inbound	The list of names and phone The list of names and phone numbers of the people I've been closest to when they were in prison with me are, numbers of the people (known from the first day of prison to currently) (met in 2019, we were bunkmates for a year and a half) (met in 2018, attended school together and have been great friends since) (bunkmates in 2017, friends ever since) (roommate in 2017 with me and Rebecca Mcree) (was my first roommate in 2016) ' a Hi Gypsy, I'm working on questions for you for when we talk and I'd like to explore some aspects of your story with you. I'd like to really understand when you escaped the first time from your mom. feel like that most likely was the moment you knew you were not going to break away or at least lost hope of finding freedom. Can you tell me more about that time? How did you come to meet the Sci-fi guy? Who was he? Why did he help you? Was this a romantic (or did he want it to be romantic) relationship? Please tell me the story of the first escape. This would be a great starting point to understand the crisis of the situation. My intention is to fully explain why you felt you had no other options. The abuse and the hostage situation is how we show that. The first escape explains that you couldn't "just run away" you tried that and it didn't work. really need to understand the level of abuse after your escape that your mom put you through too. read that she tied you up....please go into detail so can understand what you endured. hope you know I'm having you recount these events to fully flush out what will be	page 076

I'll get the phone thing squared away too then we can figure out a regular schedule. want to hear your voice more!!! ;-p You don't have to worry about calling and upsetting anyone >.< I'm heading to Europe all by my lonesome and I'm not married anyway. actually got married right before went to prison when was 19 but that didn't last long and was divorced by my 2nd year of incarceration. I've had girlfriends since I've been out and even one fiancée but that's a long story I'll tell you about in the near future. But back to me traveling alone.. do it ALL of the time. Most of my friends have families or other obligations 90% of the time so it's hard to get anyone to travel most of the time. always ask people but don't put my life on hold. I just go where want whether anyone can make it or not. Sometimes people come but 75% explore on my own and meet people. I'm very social! However, this trip have a colleague meeting me in Greece next week. Then have two friends from Miami and Boston that got married and moved to Greece in his deceased father's awesome villa. It can sleep 14-16 people and is right up the street from an absolutely gorgeous beach! So I'll meet them to go hiking in some ancient ruins and stuff like that. Then I have another friend that's coming to Greece near the end of June. So I'll meet up with them also :-)) So agree with some of your astrology book for my birthday but the possessive part is WAY OFF. I'm the complete opposite. I've never been that way and in fact was in a relationship where it was the other way around. had an ex that pretty much caused me to lose a bunch of friendships and family relationships. She was super possessive and didn't want me hanging out with any of my friends unless she was there... then when she came she caused problems so my friends didn't even want to be around me if she was there. It was horrible. had to walk on eggshells or she'd go crazy. So basically I'm completely against that. believe in people being themselves with no confines. I'm the least jealous person you'll meet. :-)) The rest isn't spot on but has some truth to it. Definitely a turbulent nature but I think manage it well. can be impulsive and an extremist but only in the best of ways. enjoy pleasing! like making people happy. am a protector by virtue and only use aggression out of defense and won't be pushed around. My temper doesn't exist. left that in prison years ago. prefer laughter and joking about things (often joking at the wrong times). agree and consider myself to be persuasive, energetic, colorful, and with some power. can totally be spellbound, sometimes morbidly dark, and extensively sexual. think Scorpios have a reputation for being sexual & didn't know we were drawn to Leo's. Aren't you one?!?! Lol feel so bad that the vaccine made you so sick! I'm not getting that shit unless they force me to. I'm not a conspiracy theorist but there's a bunch of shady shit going on in the world today. As for belly dancers at ren faires; yes! I've seen some! I've never seen a contest but people dress in all kinds of stuff and I've definitely seen belly dancer type outfits. I've also seen some acts or shows at ren faires that aren't strictly belly dancing but the act might include and incorporate some belly dancing. Oh and my jaw just dropped when you said you want to enter a competition! Do you practice a lot? probably lose my shit if saw you belly dancing with your stomach exposed and your hips moving. bet it would be fucking fire! You're pretty petite so bet you have an outrageous body. You remind me of Wonder Woman lol And totally agree with you that America is boring in comparison to the beauty, architecture, and cultures of other	page 264

It seemed fitting to donate them to you and hope you can connect with a friend or family member. hope you're holding up well!!!	page 040

I'd like to really understand when you escaped the first time from your mom. feel like that most likely was the moment you knew you were not going to break away or at least lost hope of finding freedom. Can you tell me more about that time? How did you come to meet the Sci-fi guy? Who was he? Why did he help you? Was this a romantic (or did he want it to be romantic) relationship? Please tell me the story of the first escape. This would be a great starting point to understand the crisis of the situation. My intention is to fully explain why you felt you had no other options. The abuse and the hostage situation is how we show that. The first escape explains that you couldn't "just run away" you tried that and it didn't work. really need to understand the level of abuse after your escape that your mom put you through too. read that she tied you up....please go into detail so can understand what you endured. hope you know I'm having you recount these events to fully flush out what will be	page 076

05/26/2021 14:11:49	Inbound	Wow. This is incredibly creepy that this older man would seek you out. want to explore this more. If you want, you can answer on this email and we can talk on the phone about it more too if you're comfortable. 1.) How long did you communicate on FB before you ran away to his house? 2.) Did he try to take the "friendship" to a sexual one? If so, what did he do or say if you remember? 3.) When you were with him, did he attempt to be with you sexually? Did you feel "safe" around him, why or why not. 4.) What were your hopes would happen when you escaped and ran away? 5.) tell me about the abuse after you were found by your mom. Who told your mom where you were? 6.) Before had you had any other relationships online with men? 7.) Who was your first sexual experience with? Was (I believe it's quoted it was but not sure if that is accurate?) btw, I'm only asking about this to explore your "coming of age" as a woman. Sexual experiences shape us to some effect.	page 076

05/26/2021 21:51:09	Outbound	The relationship and I, was essentially to individuals who had shared this fantasy of being in love but had little to no experience in dating relationships or love. At the begining, was very innocent and my view of love and relationships was through the vision of a Disney film. believed in the romantic fairytale true love and became what based my focus and vision on. However he didn't fit the rated PG version of a prince charming. About 3 months into our relationship, he began talking about his alternate personality named Victor who was a 500 yr old vampire. and from this moment on, it began to take a dark turn from the romantic conversations we previously had. It was at this time he told me of his BDSM fetish. was not aware of what this was when he first mentioned it to me. He had shown me googled images of women in leather and in handcuffs. He explained that this was what pleased him and if loved him would be ok with this type of relationship. was very desperate to keep him interested in me so agreed without knowing fully what was agreeing to. In the months or following year that followed believe the 50 shades books became popular and it became popular to have this style of a relationship. The main dialogue of our entire relationship was him training me to be his Sub. "Training" consisted of endless conversations about how to speak, sit stand, behave around him when he was in the role of a Dom. So we had this style of a relationship but never once acted it out in a physical manner. It was purely all dialogue. The only things that played out in real life was the videos he instructed me to make for him. He created the dialogue of what I had to say, how needed to dress in the videos. In addition to this aspect of our relationship, we both had a mutual manipulation of being emotionally manipulative. He would play on my desire to "save" him from his dark side and would play on his need for sex to be physically desired. It was unintentional on my part, only knew if was what he liked in a sexual sense then he would continue to stay in the relationship with me. Where as by the texts and messages he just wanted someone to control and he knew my feelings of need for him would keep me interested as long as he would incorporate that he was the true love longed for, even if he had this dark side. always had hope he would let go of his darkness but he ended up pulling out the darkness within me. When that was developing, then we began this dialogue of crime and he started to talk about murder and rape. It was freighting but thought he was acting in a role, never took it serious. Until what would eventually become our crime. Yes ay was the first man had sex with (at the movie theater) and omg it was horrible! He was obviously inexperienced because he seemed to be just wing'n it. The second time was after the crime happened and it WAS rape. I'm very uncomfortable with this, have a hard time talking about it. have lasting emotional trauma because of this experience. And it makes me absolutely sick that at his trial on the stand had to bite my tounge and say wasn't raped because had prior knowledge that he was going to have sex with me, however like said on the stand, screamd stop your hurting me and he didn't stop, he choked me and had my hands held down above my head. He gave me no mercy, meant it when I said stop, wasn't participating in a roleplay. this was a sacrifice to keep him from being crule to my mother.	page 076
05/26/2021 23:05:01	Outbound	So my idea for the book is basically what will be 32 years of my life within its pages. think the focus being the emotional and mental complexity of what I've been through and the struggle to find myself and have the freedom to have a life of my own. give the readers a deeper look into what life was like for me. It seemed like a each phase of growing up created a more intense hold my mother had on me until it ultimately led to the murder, but really don't want to linger too much on the murder itself, feel that part of the story has been repeatedly told. believe we can somehow fit the suspicion of my grandmother having MBP as well and that cycle repeating itself. This is why would need the help of an author. There is so much information and I'm not sure how to sculpt it to create this book. ne	page 076

05/26/2021 23:05:28	Inbound	OMG HOLY FUCK THIS IS LONG: Ok so here's the long response.. it might be randomized but I'll mostly try to reply to your messages in order :-)) That's great that Securis is implementing video visits. Keep me posted on that. downloaded the google voice app yesterday but it will only let me have the calls forwarded to a U.S. number so I'm going to have to play around with that a bit or try other apps. Can you ask your friend what they use? The online visitation application was easy to find as well as instructions on sending books. Are there any books you have in mind? I'll be in europe for at least the entire Summer so take a look at everything else before I'm back this autumn. That's crazy how visits need to be reserved in advance now but hopefully that goes away when covid disappears. You definitely need to binge the rest of Game of Thrones. 8 seasons is pretty long but hope to watch them all again sometime. OMG what a piece of shit! Did you actually get written up for washing your hands in the day room after 10pm or did they drop it? Just stay away from him if you see him anymore. It's not worth the trouble even if you were in the right. And feel free to vent any time. Believe me, KNOW how frustrating those experiences can be in there. As for your shows; I've never seen discovery of witches but I'll check it out if happen upon it. I'm not a huge tv watcher but have my moments where binge. I've seen a few 90 day fiancé and it's just completely ridiculous but entertaining. saw a bunch of walking dead episodes but one day I'll have to binge from start to finish. liked Merlin, Xena, Robinhood, etc.. those are right up my alley. If just flip on the TV and sit down for 10 or 20 minutes I usually have a comedy like family guy, king of queens, Simpsons, or impractical jokers. Otherwise I'll check what's on ID channel or see if any good sci-fi or fantasy movies are on. As for being in shape... well I'm not out of shape but definitely not where should be. must have put on 20 pounds during covid but for me that's not a big deal. My weight has fluctuated between 205-240 back and forth over and over again since high school... even without working out! was probably about 215 in the shirtless pick. That was a year ago. Right now I'm closer to 230. I'm going to be super active with tons of hiking, swimming, and cliff diving this summer so probably be back down to 210 or so if don't eat too crazy and drink too much beer. Lol Oh and I'm glad said anything too reckless yet because sometimes I'm oblivious to any filter. I'm absolutely in awe that you have an hour glass figure. mean heard of it but had no idea what it was exactly aside from some curves so looked it up. read that an hour glass figure is the optimal most sought after physique historically that most women would die for! So apparently pretty damn blessed! Omg bet your hips are amazing then! Sooo edible. But you look so petite to me! probably less than half my weight! It's hard to tell under state clothing but you must have an incredible ass too then. know you said you've never had alcohol so you wouldn't know how it feels. It's tough to say as it affects everyone differently. get happy and loopy and sometimes talkative. Some people get emotional or angry. The closest thing is probably to some medications. Maybe like a half a Xanax but don't really know. A lot of people drink wine throughout the world though and doctors say red wine has some benefit. Maybe you can do some Wicca with red wine in a chalice! Yes had a rough start to my trip. I've been EXHAUSTED from sleep deprivation. From New Jersey to Washington DC to Frankfurt Germany to Poland and then finally to Ukraine took me close to 2 days all because my flight out of DC was delayed 3 hours. Otherwise it would have only taken me like 14 hours or so. only slept about 3 hours total while on the planes so shut down and slept like crazy after arriving. Have you been on a plane before?	page 263
05/26/2021 19:17:25	Outbound	So may or may not have mentioned I'm in the stages of writing a book about my life, a much deeper look into my past, and this time during my incarceration. It won't release until I'm home and it will be a tripple platform experience. A book, podcast and documentary. Randomhouse is who I'd be partnered with. The book highlights what I've kept private, things very few know and my perspective on my time in here. The podcast will be an interview like experience and the documentary will film me post prison. I'll have to do PR for the book as well as go on a book tour, hopefully taking me abroad as well. This book will be my way of becoming my "tell all" After this no one should have even one question about "why this or why will to fadiand at that point living my life away from media	page 263

05/26/2021 01:14:46	Outbound	By the way, that much jealousy in a woman is PSYCHO! A little jealousy is perfectly normal, but to the point you said is very unhealthy. I think if a woman is confident in herself and the connection that she can manage to keep her man then she won't look at others as a threat. He was a 24 year old handsome bartender so my man was around drunk floozys all day and all When was wit night. He would tell me if girls hit on him and when we had a great bond, it didn't phase me as knew at quittin time he was driving home to talk to me and only me. There was only one time was jealous for real and that was when he took his hot coworker out for ice cream at 99m ona night that was OUR date night. "ice cream chick" didn't even know he had a fiancé. just felt that it was disrespectful to me. best believe never let him forget it. I'm like oh that time you took that chick on a date for ice cream while your future WIFE was calling your phone and you hit ignore...oh yeah that time. lol My relationship however was nothing but trust. knew he went to work then stopped by his parents and was back home at 7pm to wait for my phone call. He was very loyal, probably the only thing I think well of him for. So yeah I think If the connection of trust is strong no one can break it. I'm possessive when it comes to the topic of sex with other women.	page 264

05/28/2021 00:34:33	Outbound	$0 I just talked to my good and she said she talked about Cellmate Secrets and doesn't feel comfortable doing it. I'm really concerned about who they will get to do any interviews with and how that affects my image. Does that peg a concern with you about how that might effect the book? I'm stressing over it honestly, mean anyone can say anything without it even being true. That is what concerns me there are a lot of women in here who are jealous, petty and want to drag my name through the mud. \Mhat ara vaur thaunhte?	page 077
05/28/2021 09:11:56	Inbound	not worried about Cellmate Secrets at all for you. Here's why: it's not a major show at all. It's a one hour episode and it will have aired before anything you've created so that gives time for people to want to know more. If they say anything negative it will just make people more curious about who you are. This is just really small time compared to the multi hour documentary and podcast we are doing. The podcast will be 12 hours! So an hour a week that listeners will get to know you. Then, there is a 6 hour visual documentary. That will have other people explaining your abuse and circumstances. Then there is your book that will outline more of the abuse. Since your grandpa is alive, can't share the sexual abuse via tv doc, only through book where I can change is name. It's a legal thing. Let any fears go on whatever they say. Even if it's horrific and horrible. People are just interested in understanding who you are and everyone knows we all have people who would tell another story about us. Viewers are smart and know this. Ofcourse not everyone likes you they will think but that makes you REAL. It would be weird and abnormal to have everyone raving praises. They get that. hope that gives you comfort? On the outside here the show is on Lifetime which would get maybe 800,000 to a million	page 077
05/28/2021 14:57:09	Outbound	That does make me feel better. Thanks. Did mention if was going to be this season or next? Ok great! I'll call Tuesday. Also I'll have to send you another visiting form because, was clearing out names on my list a while back and honestly didn't think you would be back to visit so I'll send the form so you can send it in to the prison again. Sorry about that, who would have thought back then that we would be working on a book together lol anyhow. would like to hear more about that little girl. They rejected the pics of the article. :-P On a side note passed my math and now I'm done with high school education. Thank God! lol am signing up for college, and a vocational class ASAP. :-) am also applying for a job doing photography again. I think want to try to get a bachelors in Psychology, that is what I'm leaning towards. don't get to choose what my classes are at first, the program selects them and gives me what I'll be taking and the whole thing would be done via my personal tablet. This is all very new to me, never in my wildest dreams think I'd ever be deciding to enroll in college. and maybe I'm riding on the high of feeling accomplished but I'm motivated. passed every subject in the HiSET test with above minimum scores. This last exam took, needed a score of minimum 8 to pass, scored 12. In my worst subject! I'm pretty satisfied with that. :-) So it just gives me that extra boost to know that just because am at a disadvantage with having had no education but the simple things to get someone by without seeming totally unable to function in life, That I can still catch up and make accomplishments just the same as someone who didn't grow up how did. If there is one thing about me that would say stands out in my personality its that don't give up, unless the odds are impossible but if there is even a slight chance I'm giving it everything got and then some, and the more people doubt me	page 077
05/28/2021 02:28:06	Inbound	How are you feeling about the upcoming test, my dear? If you're a little nervous, that's okay. You know you can do it — you passed the pre-test!! I'll be thinking about you that day and sending lots of positive thoughts and energy your way. Just try to do your best. all you can do. I'm really pulling for you!! This is not good. No problem with rescheduling, obviously. Just focus on your recovery. The good news, however, is you are at a VERY LOW RISK, given your age. So, please keep that in mind and just focus on your recovery — lots of rest. We'll reschedule when you have bounced back. okav?	page 221
05/28/2021 12:16:43	Outbound	Wow that was a very long email lol love it! :-) Well as for the phone number yes, the app forwards the call to your phone so you have that correct. Normally I'll have a certain time I'll call and you can expect to received the call around that time.	page 262
05/28/2021 12:37:49	Outbound	No, didn't get a write up for washing my hands. oh what meant by I'm possessive in the sense that in my relationships while being locked up, my partner and had the conversation of the boundaries of the relationship and put how feel out there I'm like know you have needs but so do I, but that is no excuse to be able to fuck other women. So it was mutually agreed that until get out, no sex. Its phone sex with me and hell even a pocketP and pom is fine. But no other women. Some women in here don't care, DO, to me its cheating. Ive been dealt a shitty hand with experience. Let's just some it up to twice with my co defendant and neither time was it good. Ive never been pleased. Yes, drink coffee No dont wear glasses My eyes are brown My favorite color is lavender and sapphire blue First kiss was a peck with one guy, second kiss was again my codefendant and he sucked at kissing, my third wa and THAT was the kiss that got me in trouble but it was the best kiss I've ever had. I'm actually a pretty good French kisser.:-) Kisses are allowed on visits but they restrict it to a peck, this was full on make out lol	page 263

05/28/2021 12:56:59	Inbound	totally understand how you want to be aware so you're not disrespectful about someone's relationship. So yeah I'm single. Honestly, fucked up big time. My whole life it's always been me dumping my girlfriend because she did something fucked up or cheated on me. This time was the idiot. My girlfriend was pretty awesome but we had an argument and when was mad at her did a search for dating apps in the internet. used an app and asked someone if they'd want to grab dinner or a drink sometime. The chat wasn't lengthy or indecent in any way and never followed through or pursued anything. It's not like met anyone or had sex with somebody but yeah screwed up big time. She saw the search history on the computer and the message in the app. So here am in Europe all single and alone. She hasn't spoken to me but we lived together so we have some shared bills to take care of plus we went halves to share in some small investments. So don't know when that will be resolved. Like you said, it's probably for the better that you didn't get married. I'm sure you'd look amazing in a white dress but it's definitely not something to dive into, especially while incarcerated. Being behind those walls can cloud your vision and not realize how many options and opportunities will come your way once you're out. Patience my pet! Your time will come. Trust me, know been finding yourself but there will be so much more to find. So don't be hasty! totally understand that your lack of freedom has hindered your experience. But you seem to have an inner flame and playfulness that's half the battle. Besides, kitten play is adorable and hot as fuck! be a pro in no time! LOL Have you ever had kittens? They clean each other by licking. Maybe I'll lick you sometime :D incredible that willing to sacrifice and wait for the person you love. All too many people don't have those ideals. When the time comes, the right person is going to make you feel things and have your body do things that you never imagined even possible. Especially since going to wait for the emotional bond to generate your physical prowess. know there's not much room in the cells but at least you can still practice your dancing a little. Do you ever feel awkward in front of your bunkies? didn't know you practiced erotic dancing too. So yes! You piqued my interest Hahahaha We'll most definitely have to see about that private show :p You never mentioned that you were doing a "tell all" or writing a book but that's great! It makes total sense as part of your reentry to society and route back to some normalcy. I'm amazed that been able to pull all that stuff together from in there. Did you have any help? You need to be very careful who knows about that stuff. You wouldn't want any of your work to be stolen or leaked. But good for you. That mic drop sounds like a perfect way to get away from the media.	page 263

I am sure you have hundreds of emails and letters coming to you, but would be overjoyed to hear back from you. will tell you a little about myself, right now am going to school to be a Medical Assistant, want to work in a hospital, hopefully in the and delivery unit or in the NICU. I work full time and go to school, as well as care for my son, who is an absolute joy to be around. love to travel, i love animals, and have over 20 houseplants that love to take care of. If a job in the medical field does not work out for me, my dream is to become a flight attendant. Anyways, will end this here but would love to hear more about you and how you are doing. Maybe we can email back and forth (even though am sure you have alot to respond to) Hopefully my email brings a smile to your face. Stay safe and well. Sincerely,	page 918

Hell " Ive been wanting to write you for the longest time and am glad finally am able to. Ever since read your story was super captivated by you, you truly are a strong person and you inspire a lot of people and mostly me. Ive been looking up facts about you as much as I can just because you are super amazing in my eyes. know the chances of you replying is slim because know you probably get a ton of messages and understand. Ive watched your interviews over and over just because they are super touching and you truly are a beautiful person like wow. cant wait until you are able to get out just because you dont need to be in there. We need you out in the world to be able to shine your awesomeness to everyone everywhere. Youre probably wondering who am and why wanna write to you. Hello am Lisa. Im not that much older than you, am 34 years old female who resides in the midwest, super introverted person but am very artistic and always in my head a huge nerd for the most part but very empathic. But back to what was saying about wanting to write you for the longest time. Ive been nervous to write you because you just kinda make me a little too starstruck, haha. Sorry that probably sounds weird but honestly Ive been too nervous just because Ive been reading about you for the longest time. Im thinking about painting a photo of you onto a canvas, not sure if youd think that was weird but Ive been thinking about it. thoughts on that? dont know if a painting can do justice though. Have you seen yourself? Youre like the most gorgeous human in the world. like omg :D okay I'll stop simping now haha. anyways just wanna be able to talk to you and be able to know the awesome Gypsy you are. Im not sure what kinda things youre into but wanted to give you a little backstory of myself ha. So Im currently listening to an indie band Turnover and these lyrics just kinda got to me and wanted to share them with you... "Let me know your secret Tell me how you color all the empty space Drawn outside the lines Your words, a lively illustration you create" hope you are doing well though Gypsy. You deserve to be happy, you deserve the world. You are special in every way. And just being able to write you right now makes me smile. hope to hear from you it would kinda be super amazing. But know you get a lot of mail and youre busy. Just remember how much you mean to me even though I know don't know you but just learning about you has gotten me being able to connect with you even though its not in person hehe. From :D	page 920

06/02/2021 02:22:47	Outbound	So its the buzz of camp. she was convicted of 1st degree murder and was on a life without parole The woman told you about, sentence, won her appeal in court and she is set to be released in May 2023. This is concerning to me because she has caused me issues in the past and I'm concerned she will continue to do so when she is free. when tell you she put me through it. We were once bunkmates. And when you are in a room together, girls talk, stories are shared.. well always had a bad habit of talking too much about my personal life with anyone. She was the one person should have kept my mouth shut around. She started manipulating me to turn against my friends, family and at the time when i was she tried to turn me against him as well. She said things like "the media pays for his trips to visit you." or perhaps he isn't traveling alone, had my husband look him up on fb and he has all pictures of this chick." She got in my head enough to where was having doubts about She told me ran a gossip blog and claimed said that she feels I'm a burden on her and dad. This woman was mind fucking the shit out of me (pardon my language) and even as of 3 months ago, she had set up some girl to send naked pics phone. Side note. ha number because she stole it from my address book when we were roommates. and she's had girls call him, text him, send nudes to him. All just to get under my skin. and the prison system is letting this master manipulator go free. Wow...just wow.	page 076
06/02/2021 07:40:58	Outbound	Omg look how cute was! that was my first pet cat. had her from 1996-2014 she died of old age but she had a very long and interesting life.	page 077
06/02/2021 14:10:32	Outbound	ok, I'll write to her. will work on it. Its hard because she's so young. At 6 was so innocent and didn't question anything.	page 077

06/02/2021 23:16:51	Outbound	Do you think you've learned from the cycle of things what you need to work on yourself to be able to sustain a relationship instead of repeating the pattern? mean that wasn't the best move to try and chat up some other chick but, can understand being upset. think men forget that unless it's really fucked up what someone does, no one is perfect so don't throw away a good thing over something that is not a deal breaker. Lol yes, know all too well how cats behave. And I would say I'm adventurous and sky's the limit with a lover. As long as I'm within a trusted safe relationship, I'm a freeeeak lol :-P No I never feel awkward around my bunkie, she knows me well and we laugh and have fun a lot. She is like a older older Lin \	page 262
06/02/2021 09:15:23	Outbound	Hey there! :-) It was a 3 day weekend so they are catching up sending emails. read all of your massive email from last week. Wow it seems like you have done a lot of experimental work with life and what you want from it. that's great. :-) having a plan for yourself is important. had a friend who lived his life with NO ambition to do anything! all because he is a felon. He caught a weapons charge for explosives. anyway he is 34 still lives with daddy and doesn't have any prospects in life. He kinda liked me a little but when he would hint to anything romantic I'm like, "I don't think I'm the right fit for you." So you definitely have it together more than most.	page 262
06/02/2021 07:41:31	Inbound	Oh baby girl. hate you felt bad after it. Most people i have interviewed about their reactions sound just like yours. said you tried to call me. didn't see a missed call from you so here is my number again in case you can't find it. Love you sweet girl. Praying for you always. have been thinking about you. hope everything is going as good as it can. I'd love to hear from you soon....either by phone or email. hope you were able to have a good Easter. Do they offer church services there? so. When you and last talked, you said you were sad about some things. I'm hoping things are getting better. Hopefully, you will be able to have visitors soon. know that would help. Take care of yourself Love you well. I am THRILLED that you are getting your vaccine. The weather is finally starting to get warmer now so I'm glad about that. We are looking at getting a new boat this year. We have a boat already but we are getting one that will sleep 4 with a small galley and head. They call them sport yachts or cabin cruisers got me an Infiniti QX-80 in October. had a pathfinder but it was not big enough to pull a large boat the size we want. So now we are boat shopping. can't wait until we pull it to the gulf and take off for a long weekend or week on the water. told that she are going to have to come down and go out with us. When you get your tail home, we will take you out for some sun too. We just wanted to get one that we can spend weekend on without having to leave the water. think this will be our vacations each year now. The town we live in has a large lake so when we down in the gulf we will be spending time on the new boat on the lake. We live about 5 hours from the gulf but Grenada lake is 5 minutes from my house. am going to sell my little camper and the boat we have now because there will really be no reason to have either when the new boat will work for both. On Easter, all of my sisters and their families came and stayed at the lake camping so we cooked our annual crawfish boil and visited by the fire at night. It was great. from Monroe and visited. This momma hates it when don't get to see him as often as want. Call me soon. I'd love to hear your voice. Praying for you and love you,	page 577

06/03/2021 18:49:16	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, watched your documentary on the tv and had to find a way to reach out to you. realise you're probably inundated with emails and letters, which I sure can be really comforting, knowing so many people are behind you and want you to succeed in living a happy life. was in an abusive situation once and completely understand the trauma you must have been going through as well as now, although mine is not as extreme as what you've been through. have joined your support group on Facebook and your friend mentioned some possible exciting news, she didn't explain what it was (said she needed your permission first) but hope it's something positive for you. Have you much support now whilst you're in there? hope you're getting the most positive outcomes you can of being in prison. I had to write to you (I'm sure everyone says the same) because your story really has effected me and can't stop thinking about whether you are okay now? lam the same age as you, we were born the same year. I'm from London, uk. I'd love to hear back from you, but completely understand if you would rather not or can't because you have so many other letters. Just knowing you will have received this and hopefully it will make you feel better knowing you have support everywhere routing for you. What are your plans for once you're out?! If you want a pen pal I'm always here. I wish you All the best.	page 920

06/04/2021 02:07:26	Outbound	That does make me feel better. Thanks. Did mention if was going to be this season or next? Ok great! I'll call Tuesday. Also I'll have to send you another visiting form because, was clearing out names on my list a while back and honestly didn't think you would be back to visit so I'll send the form so you can send it in to the prison again. Sorry about that, who would have thought back then that we would be working on a book together lol anyhow. would like to hear more about that little girl. They rejected the pics of the article. :-P On a side note passed my math and now I'm done with high school education. Thank God! lol am signing up for college, and a vocational class ASAP. :-) am also applying for a job doing photography again. I think want to try to get a bachelors in Psychology, that is what I'm leaning towards. don't get to choose what my classes are at first, the program selects them and gives me what I'll be taking and the whole thing would be done via my personal tablet. This is all very new to me, never in my wildest dreams think I'd ever be deciding to enroll in college. and maybe I'm riding on the high of feeling accomplished but I'm motivated. passed every subject in the HiSET test with above minimum scores. This last exam took, needed a score of minimum 8 to pass, scored 12. In my worst subject! I'm pretty satisfied with that. :-) So it just gives me that extra boost to know that just because am at a disadvantage with having had no education but the simple things to get someone by without seeming totally unable to function in life, That I can still catch up and make accomplishments just the same as someone who didn't grow up how did. If there is one thing about me that would say stands out in my personality its that don't give up, unless the odds are impossible but if there is even a slight chance I'm giving it everything got and then some, and the more people doubt me	page 077

06/04/2021 12:01:35	Inbound	This is AWESOME news!!! I'm so proud of you, Gypsy. know you worked SO HARD at this —and really persisted — and now you have been rewarded!!! Yay!!!	page 220
06/04/2021 23:26:01	Inbound	must tell you that your news made my week. know how hard you have worked — and to see you rewarded for that work made me so happy. Yes, getting your GED will help you in your parole hearing. But it's bigger than that. It shows you that hard work and persistence can pay off. It does not guarantee success but it makes success more likely. This is something you need to take with you when you are out of prison. Getting a parole release is going to be easier for you than it will be to succeed when you are free. There will be people who will try to take advantage of you. You need to be grounded in what is best for you. best for you is very likely going to be found in helping others. But want you to know two things: (1) There will be people who will want to benefit from your notoriety. People are greedy and will try to take advantage of you. (2) Most of the people who need your help will not be grateful for your help. So, a couple of things want to say: First, am going to tell you what is in YOUR best interests and need nothing in life — we don't need money and we don't need notoriety. So, we need nothing from you. When we give you our thoughts, they are our thoughts focused on YOU. Second, when you help people, most will not be particularly grateful for your help. That's okay!! You are not going to help people for you — you are going to help people because it's the right thing to do. It's good to help others even if you don't get the thanks you might deserve. Just keep that in mind, okay? Bottom line? want you to just be you with me and to know that when I give you advice, it's for YOUR benefit, not mine. You don't bullshit me and won't bullshit you. Okay? So, on a different subject, have written a statement for the parole board for you to read. It is meant to be a statement from YOU. I can send you a copy here or through the mail. would like to discuss it with you via phone after you have had a chance to read it. We can figure that out later. want you to understand WHY wrote it in the way did. With that all said, Gypsy, I am THRILLED that you have EARNED your GED. It's the most important thing that has happened in my week. :) So, next step is for me to send you a draft statement for the parole board. Right? Be good, my dear. Just be you. Your friend,	page 220

06/04/2021 00:15:14	Outbound	I'm not mad at you, promise. Everything you said made perfect sense and I'm just confused and need time to deal with it. It just hit me all at once because now am accepting that am in prison and while am in prison its best to stay away from individuals that may spark feelings because, in the end always get hurt. so just want to be left alone. will live within my ability of what can do, and an email here and there is it. And your right you can title yourself whatever you want, it doesn't matter anyway. And its not your fault, its mine for getting lost and trying to live a life out there instead of in here where am. Its not easy to accept that I'm not an adequate woman to anyone because I'm in prison,...and again please don't feel bad, I'm just being very bluntly honest. its not like don't understand, do, really do, but being on this end of things sucks. The positive news is I am now moving to do college education. applied for my old job as a photographer, because did love that job. So everything else in my life is going pretty great. 06/13/2021 14:38:56	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, know you probably get a lot of emails and letters, and you may never read mine, but just wanted to reach out, and say hello, in hopes that one day you are able to find the time to read this. My name lam 21 from Las Vegas, currently living in Tennessee. am fascinated by your story and deeply apologize for everything that you had to go through. know I will never fully understand everything that you went through; however, think can somewhat relate to you, in the sense that was also born into a fairly troubled life, often wondering why couldn't have had a normal life like everyone surrounding me. Obviously, our circumstances differ drastically, but do believe that you and probably faced a lot of similar challenges within ourselves. I'm not sure if this makes any sense. But basically just want you to know you are not completely alone. When was 13 my parents got divorced and my dad turned to drugs. My dad was wanted for money laundering or something (I'm not totally sure just saw him on the news when he got arrested) and he took me and my brothers on a "vacation" to Belize where we then lived for several months. was not aware of what was truly going on at the time. had a lot of traumatizing experiences there, but when got back to Vegas, my father was arrested. was left homeless from ages 15-19 and being groomed by a 22 year old. My entire family turned to drugs and left me alone in Vegas to figure things out for myself (I had actually already used JPay previously to talk to my dad and brother while they were in prison) Anyway, put myself back in school while was homeless and became the first and only person in my family to graduate, while worked a part time job. Went to therapy, and ended up forming a strong bond with my therapist. (She helped me with my mental health a lot, was really struggling for a long time.) And now I'm just living a boring little life, tucked away in Tennessee, and trying to become a bartender. really talk to my family. And truly feel alone in this world very often. There is a lot more to my story, and if it would entertain you to hear about it, I'd be more than happy to write an essay on it for you, haha. But I just wanted to share a little bit of it to tell you this. don't want to say that I find comfort in your story, necessarily, but find comfort in you, as a person. really believe that you are a beautiful person with a beautiful soul, and you deserve the best, most beautiful life, and do hope that you find that when you are released. You are a reminder to me, and probably many others, that our struggles do not define us as people. know that you are so much more than your story. And I'm so excited for you to take on your journey of self discovery. blame myself for a lot of the experiences that had when was younger, and you remind me that those experiences are not my fault. And you should know that yours are not your fault as well. My friends do try to paint my picture as just my story when they describe me, and it's frustrating. constantly getting told that I'm so strong and I can do anything, because of my experiences, but I'm exhausted from hearing that. struggle too just like everyone else, and don't feel strong, just feel exhausted and drained. Do you ever feel like that too? Anyway, most of the people around me have had pretty normal lives and they find my story interesting, so can't blame them. Although, do appreciate my experiences, and my pain, for making me the person I am today, so badly wish had a normal life. don't know anyone with any similar experiences to me, and know obviously, like said our experiences differ	page 266

06/14/2021 18:36:18	Inbound	Oh gypsy.. You were spot on with what you were saying earlier.. Men who talk to women this way when they have partners and really men there cowards and untruthful and unfaithful.. I've heard every excuse you can think of. I'm not big-headed but I get quite a lot of female attention but I'd never be unfaithful anyway because I'm mentally stronger than the pussies that fuck around talking to other women.. You're worth so much more than this and promise you will find someone that will treat you the way you deserve! But as you said you've got alot going on for you now and you're bettering yourself every day and from what you've come from and been through.. Fuck your an inspiration.. don't ever feel bad for being hard on people because all that mostly does is create a screening process where you and windle out the unguenuine people.. The barrier is not a bad thing because then only people that truly care about you will stick it out and work for you.. This guy is saying that he doesn't want to talk again etc.. Just laugh at this cause he will fuck up his life because he's not genuine or real with people :D but I know you said you often feel alone.. You're in my thoughts daily and as said in my thoughts want the best for you and will always give no bullshit responses because don't want anyone taking advantage of you because of your good nature :D your not alone because you're loved and you've come so far and Im sure everyone else aswell as me is so proud.. You're worth alot don't let anyone mess you about! I'm proud of you how you handled the situation! By the way I'm friends with your step mom on Facebook now.. You're looking so well in the pictures! 06/16/2021 23:12:13	Outbound	Moreover on the topic I think its important to mention that the fame caused his relaps to drugs and consequently the break up led to mine as well. was using drugs soon after the break up and he had been secretly using drugs a few months before and after the split. Neither one of us knew of each others relaps. It was the pressure of the media that he had started using opioids and he grew distant and cold to me. He ended the 2 year relationship claiming it was in the best interest of us both that we separate. He claimed he needed to figure things out in his life and he was afraid of being a negative role in my life. was left heartbroken and when down a bad path of drug use and depression. I told was going to talk about him in my book and he is ok with that. I told him wasn't going to trash talk him that the facts would be laid out and think people will understand that he isn't a bad guy in this story and see that it was yet again a tragic event for me. want people to understand him to be someone who came into my life with the best of intentions and was a support for me and unfortunately the negative that the media brought to my life had completely tainted the relationship. to this and I still have a mutual love for each other and would never say anything untrue or unfair about him. He is always someone consider to be a blessing to have shared the bond we had together. Even though we are living our lives apart, we still talk about spending time together when I'm finally home. As recent as last week we spoke on the phone and we agree the love is still there, however we agreed to let our lives either come back together naturally when I'm home or we would be happy for each other even if we find other people to have a relationship with. I'll always love him and want him to be happy.	page 078

You said in the last email that they didn't have a teacher yet. Did they get one or are they still looking? Also, will you have enough time to take college courses AND the cosmetology courses? don't want to see you get overwhelmed by taking too many classes all at once. have been thinking that since cosmetology is the career you want, it would make sense to take business management courses. know you don't care for math but you are so smart. 06/21/2021 19:18:03	Inbound	Gypsy, have a couple of questions for you: First, have you met with your Institutional Parole Officer at Chillicothe? Second, have you been working on a home and employment plan (or a Supervision Release Plan)? you liked the draft statement. Now, we just need to find a time to discuss it by phone. I set up a phone account with Securus — so you just need to make a collect call to my number. My number What are the hours you can make calls? would like to set up a specific time for a call with you — spend much of my time on calls for work and want to make sure I don't miss your call. So, if you give me the hours and days when you have access to a phone, then pick a couple of dates and times and you can choose one that works for you. Sound good?	page 221
06/21/2021 12:51:06	Inbound	So, your schedule is super flexible. Perfect. Okay, then let's have a call exactly at 12:30PM on Thursday, July 22 — and we can discuss the statement for the parole board. Please mark your calendar!!) The reason want to push it that far out is, if I didn't tell you already, we are in the process of moving and everything should be mostly settled down by then. look forward to talking with you on July 22, Gypsy.	page 221

06/21/2021 09:04:52	Inbound	OMGOSH!!!!!! This is the best news could hear on a Monday morning. Waking up, turning the computer on and seeing a notice of a new email from you is always great but this is SO EXCITING!!! so happy for you! You do your thing, ladybug. YOU ARE AMAZING!!! am so proud of you. So when does the cosmetology class start? Do you think you will be able to start it before the summer is over? You said in the last email that they didn't have a teacher yet. Did they get one or are they still looking? Also, will you have enough time to take college courses AND the cosmetology courses? don't want to see you get overwhelmed by taking too many classes all at once. have been thinking that since cosmetology is the career you want, it would make sense to take business management courses. know you don't care for math but you are so smart. Getting a degree or even taking business management classes would be a benefit when running your own business eventually. am not talking about being a secretary. am talking about actually being the boss. and were talking last week about it last week. You could get a degree in business management and the doors to different careers and job opportunities would be wide open for you. It would also be a good thing to have just for your personal life. know asked you a lot of questions in this email BUT am thrilled for you. You have worked so hard to get this far and done such a good job at preparing yourself for life when you come home. God is answering our prayers for you, Gypsy. He will continue answering prayers if YOU keep Him by your side. Always remember that God is in control. His answers to our prayers might not always be what WE want but He already knows how things are going to turn out. I love you and am still praying for you. Call when you can so I can hear that sweet voice. Love, = Stay safe, gypsy. Wash your hands frequently. Do not touch your face unless your hands are clean. was just thinking about you a little bit ago. was wondering which college courses you are signing up for. I am so excited to know you will be going to college. am very proud of you. Call me soon so i can hear all about that last math test. know you passed but i want to hear if you thought it was hard or did you just breeze right through it. About 20 minutes later he came back he had been at home worried about me offered me a lift home and also asked if had a Facebook so he could check up on me in a couple of days. Ive been learning how to weave with 2 sticks it is really calming and relaxing. malachi sophia and catherine all say hi. catherine went to colorado with my parents to visit today is actually her birthday she is 11 today. malachi and sophia are having a 24 hour challenge on the trampoline right now to see who can last the longest lol and is asleep he worked all night he had a sweat here at the house lots of people came and we said a prayer for you and a sweat is a native american prayer ceremony they make this small structure and cover it with tarps and there is a pit in the middle of the ground where the rocks go in they put the rocks in fire to get them hot then take them out alittle at a time and close the door then pour water on them making hot steam and as they do this they pray they also put cedar and copaw and sweet grass on it the first round they will smoke tobacco and use the smoke to cover themselves and use the smells from the copaw and sweet grass and cedar to cover and bless themselves and bless their prayers. The heat they create is taking all the negative and all the old out of the body and prayers put positive and new in when you come out of the lodge it feels amazing. i know it sounds weird but its how he prays he is ponca nation. i hope i didnt weird you out telling you prays it his culture alot of native cultures do. hope to talk to you on the phone and in person one day :) im going to go for now but write me back tell me what ya think about what i told you and what your doing with yourself now that you graduated :) ttyl my beautiful friend.	page 805

This was my first time back doing interviews since the Enews interview about my former engagement. And haven't done anything on camera in so long that was fearful would not phase things as eloquent as normally would. That one question about my sentence is hard to answer that question and HOW did feel Those are questions that struggle to answer because for 6 years people have told me their options and struggle to find my own opinion. But difficulty trying to decide how to those 2 questions that are a big topic of debate to everyone hope 5	page 078

06/23/2021 00:43:13	Outbound	So I'm up late, can't get my mind to shut off. I'm thinking about the future... know its silly to think about things post prison but I'm so ready to get out of here. 6 years down and 2 more to go. already have my dress out box waiting for me at home. picked out a pair of dark wash jeans, a white sweater, and tall black boots, which my father dubbed as stripper boots. lol although better slow down on the zippy cakes or my ass won't fit in those jeans lol I'm a tiny bit curvy for a petite chick. boobs and ass for days lol bought a small wardrobe of clothes for when get out. have dresses, tops and even lingerie, im not even sure why i bought that, just was picking out things liked in catalogs and decided to buy some things. After all coming out to a whole new life, needed a whole new wardrobe. I'm not gonna say I'm rich, I'm not, but my parents do make sure I'm taken care of and don't go without. live off $200 a month which is probably "prison rich" and just got a pay slot job making $15 a month for photography. don't do the whole trick thing, always was disgusted by women who use people for money. am thankful for what get and consider myself a rare breed of a person because I'm not using others. have a few friends in here my has been my bunkmate for a little over a year. She is 56 and done 19 years so far for 2nd degree murder. She and actually see the parole board a month apart and our 85% mark is a month apart as well. We have similar backgrounds with abuse. I consider her my bunkie but moreover my friend. have another friend who is in the dog program and she is a lead dog trainer. Her name i she has a murder charge but like me, she didn't commit the actual kill. Her and have similar stories, her boyfriend also killed her mom. However unlike me, the courts fucked her over and slammed her with 2 life sentences ran consecutive. My activities include some gym workouts, stay in my room a lot either watching TV or emailing. do draw for fun. I'm not a huge novel reader but love self help books or educational books that include facts. do not have a girlfriend, unlike the rest of the prison population, am sure you've heard of all the gay relationships in here lol I am bi curious, but lean more towards men. My most significant relationship was with my ex fiancé Our engagement was all over the news and online media. In October 2019 he ended the relationship after 2 years. A lot of factors played a role in the break up but the biggest was don't think when he got with me he really knew how having a relationship with someone locked up takes dedication and work and believe he did love me and he still loves me to this day but he wasn't strong enough to make it work with me. Since then I've been single and trying to make the most of my life. It gets lonely in here but still find happiness in my every day life. :) and know this is only temporary.	page 776

Gypsy is happy to announce that after lots of hard work and multiple testing sessions, she has successfully passed her High School equivalency exams and can now move on to bigger and brighter goals. She will now begin the process of obtaining a certification in cosmetology and has applied for some online college courses for psychology and sociology which will help her when fulfilling her advocacy dreams. She continues to take part in the available selfhelp programs and has recently been promoted to lead photographer for the facility. She wishes to thank everyone for all the support and is looking forward to a positive parole hearing in December of this year. I'm so proud of you, love you. !! I've also completed rough draft of your delegate is proofreading it now. will send that later for your review.	page 194

06/27/2021 08:04:43	Outbound	You have been in my thoughts and on my heart. The purpose of this letter is not to bring you any negative emotions, but rather to inspire healing between us. have regrets about the last we spoke and at the time it was hard for me to see things from a perspective other than my own. It has taken me months to fully understand why you felt it necessary to remove yourself from my life. It broke my heart to lose you not only once due to my lack of good judgement and maturity, but twice. This is a deep hurt that feels as strongly now as did then. This weighs heavy on my heart, so am writing because owe you a true apology. In the time that you were in my life, you always encouraged me to display the appropriate behavior needed to transcend my surroundings. Your influence and support was a major positive that gave me insight on my every day choices. Though at times your constructive criticism was not always easy to hear, it was what needed to build a foundation creating new morals instilled by someone who would describe as wise. At times you displayed tough love, and know you did so with the best intentions. I truly am sorry for my history of lacking responsibility. In many if not all situations that led to trouble can make the connection to desiring to have my way all the time, something now have come to understand as not realistic. It was unfortunate that our relationship had to take a hard blow to learn that not all consequences are given with a write up or a trip to the hole. Some are personal losses. The loss of a friendship or relationship, and the loss of faith in such relationships can be the ultimate cost of irresponsibility. Our current standing is the perfect example of such a loss. The separation with you was only the beginning of the consequences of that last incident. Unfortunately as scrambled to make things better, kept making the situation worse, and by the end of it, everyone that love was disappointed and upset with me. It was as if kept digging a hole and further embarrassing myself with you, and with my supporters. It got much worse before it got better. The dust finally settled from the drama it created, however the damage is still felt by your absence. I can only apologize and take a hard lesson from it. Over this span of time since we last spoke, was forced to reevaluate my life. have adopted the technique of weighing out the pros and cons before making decisions that may carry the potential to be problematic. Another thing that has been a guide for me is asking for a second, and third opinion about something. I'm learning to trust in the people that know have my best interest. Doing this has helped because am a year write up free and honor dorm acceptable.	page 890

They took your 2019 letters to the parole board tried to say it was current and interjected their truth on what your saying being fake. And talked about the new boyfriend who they described his profile pic and said you got mad contacting him. Feels like what was done with IMO. I don't know if remember her saying anything about Bu keep their work pretty private and hide from everyone. She has lied on me so horribly, publicly trying to ruin my credibility. She's covering the fact she built herself up to be more than she was. Hell was told by her partner that she turned down an offer from Netflix for $1million because she would lose control. I've been asked by several to talk about your case. When I do will explode. They even said they planned on contacting everyone to show proof of your current manipulation tactics to prevent parole from happening. It's just horrible! So if there is anything you want said I'd gladly share. will read it exactly as it's written.	page 689

Their videos counts for 90% of the stress in my life, because know they are putting my name out there to make me look like a nonfunctional psycho! and because of past communication with these women it gives them more credit to claim they know my personality. Honestly what they are doing may be free speech but its also mild Cyber bullying. I never thought anything legal could be done because of free speech. its easy for me to ignore because I'm not on social media, so its out of sight out of mind. But they target my friends and family who do have social media and can't really avoid it when its right in front of their faces. will say that my friends and family have to have tough skin to ride close with me because it is people and who feel its ok to throw personal attacks to the people who do stand by me. Friendships do get tested to the max because there is always people who will try and talk shit on me and them and it can either make or break a friendship. I've had friends who fell off because of other people bullying them for the simple fact they were friends with me. And have friends who have been through hell and back with me for this reason. anyways, yes if you can figure out anything that can be done legally that would be great. I figure studio 6 might want something legally done because seeing as ho is trying to use my story to make a TV drama or book of her own, can something be done to prevent her from capitalizing on my story, brand, image, because of our cooperation with a partnerd companv?	page 079

I've never visited a prison or jail but I've visited many Military Bases:)) Sometimes it took a few minutes to a few days for background check. With my boys, I've been on many Marine Corps Bases and a few Air Force Bases. One of my favorite times, had so much fun on the USMC Base with all them war tom Marines!! That's one hell of a statement but after War, they were so happy, beyond happy to be home. To have beds to sleep in, hot water, hot food, communication, freedom and although we were Matthew's they all became my boys!! We all still stay in touch:)) Anyways, that's just a moment in time thought of, talking about background clearance. Iam convinced that my mother is the spawn of Satan's seed. Anywho; that aside... was thinking. You really allowed to live and experience life before the joint. You weren't able to form real bonds of friendship in any fashion as yourself. Everyone you encountered in real life only knew you as the feeble "little girl" in a wheelchair with a myriad of medical afflictions. What want to offer you is an actual friendship, from scratch, pasts aside, as ourselves. No medical ficades, no bs. You seem like a sweet woman, from what seen. bought a bunch of stamps, so ifyou are interested in having an actual friend and live normally when your parole is granted, just respond and we will chat. Get to know eachother. You seem like a really cool person and we have a few things in common. Well, I'll let you go, I'm sure you get tons of emails and letters a day lol. Talk to you later! =	page 970

With how we had been told about the life rights was that if you hadn't ever agreed you would have spoken up before then. Made sense at the time. Not long after that busted her for the dawn bowker lies. When they convinced her to lie t and set him off on purpose to make him look vicious, or more vicious. When found that proof put me in the chat where that went down by accident) I'd gone off and was furious. So when she made comments about our supporters on FB quit. 07/08/2021 20:15:38	Outbound	Here is the thing, don't talk to these women anymore.. once did and mainly it was to try and have some civil dialog and debate our difference in opinions as adults, but instead of even agreeing to disagree, they have a whole slew of videos dedicated to trash talking me and anyone who associates with me. They try and portray this image of me as a "seriously disturbed individual" who is unable to function in normal society and basically curled up in a ball eating her own hair. Their videos are NOT to give updates on how am doing, or to advocate about MBP but instead it is a platform for them to bully people and spread slander, and misrepresent who am as a person. Contrary to wha and I say, am doing better then ever. :) In the last 6 years feel like I've had a crash course in the hard knocks. No one has babied me through my time, have had to grow and learn by trial and error. I'm not perfect I've made mistakes and have learned from those mistakes. Now as approach my 30th birthday at the end of the month, feel like I'm finally starting to find myself To me, its ok if not everyone likes me. As long as I can look back on the day and rest easy knowing didn't do anything to cause harm or hurt feelings to anyone then completely content with that. wake up every day with a positive outlook on life, its something hold in my heart, and it is something no one can diminish. I'm not naive about the world, I'm hopeful about the world will be walking into.	page 216

"REMEMBER ME? My name is gossip! have NO RESPECT for justice. maim without killing. break hearts and ruin lives. am cunning and malicious and gather strength with age. The more am quoted, the more am believed. flourish at every level of society. My victims are helpless. They cannot protect themselves against me because have no name and no face. To track me down is virtually impossible. The harder you try, the more elusive become. I'm nobody's friend. Once tarnish a reputation, its never quite the same. topple governments and wreck marriages. ruin careers, cause sleepless nights and heartaches. spawn suspicion and generate grief. make innocent people cry in their pillows. Even my name hisses. Iam called GOSSIP. Before you repeat a story, ask yourself is it TRUE? is it NECESSARY? if SHUT THE FUCK UP!" written by anonymous, shared by GypsyRose Blanchard.	page 216

07/08/2021 16:25:48	Outbound	People will always have an opinion. People will say anything to have their voice mean something for a moment in time, however they are what they put out. People have a tendency to project how they feel about themselves on to others. People who hate and judge me take to the internet to find like minded individuals. Misery loves company as they say. Meanwhile people like myself look to actual real life tangible friends for company. Friends who can call and vent to, laugh, cry and share real meaningful conversations with. Obviously because am in prison can not physically connect with these friends as much as I'd like to, HOWEVER most of these friends are on my visiting list and see them as often as possible. True friends don't talk shit on each other, and never having the approval of the people who do hate on me doesn't break my heart or make me lose sleep. By the end of my full sentence, I'll have lived 35 years in a prison of some form or fashion and after everything I've been through does anyone really think I'll care if so and so doesn't like me? Hell No! I'll be surrounding myself with the best company, drinking a glass of wine and living my life to the fullest with ever bit of happiness and heartbreak life brings and I'll do it with a smile because finally after everything someone can take, I'll be free and happy with who am, and if no one else, I'm proud of how far I've come. No one broke me because AM unbreakable. -GypsyRose Blanchard	page 216

(by the way, She talks to me like I'm retarded by talking all slower and shit...it's super annoying) and I tried to give her a chance and all she did was try and manipulate me. She is insisting that go to another facility if given parole. First, the facility doesn't even do that. Second the parole hearing isn't going to care about her opinions of me, they will read my file made by the institution and then base their judgement on my conduct alone. I tried telling her, if she travels up here, they will be turned away. I'm glad my emails are getting out to everyone. In some groups the admins deny any postings that mention them, which is hell. Oh by the way guess who, made an all new jpay account after blocked her a year and a half And this "new info" and I have is due to them speaking with a former guard that disliked me while was in jail over 6 years ago. She probably disclosed the information that had sex with another girl while in county jail, and this girl ended up threatening me so my bunkmate at the time gave me the advice to get her in trouble by lying and claiming she raped me. spun an elaborate story that did make me look innocent and it was all lies. I'm not proud of the things I did back then, was young and very green to the world, was scared and yes lying was my go to, however I did eventually tell the cops it was consensual and she was released with no more issues due to it. I'm so embarrassed about this event because didn't handle it like a woman I lied like was still a little child trying not to get in trouble. That was so long ago shit, I'd never do that shit now. like said I've had years to experience doing the wrong things to learn, do the right things. I live in Ontario well don't want to make this letter to long because you probably have a lot to do... hope hear from you soon... and hope we can become friends/panpals will hopefully talk to you in the future.... hope u have a great day and keep smiling from Gypsy, got this email service to send messages to my brother who is incarcerated, much less exciting of a story though. Anyway, the reason wanted to send you a message is because when was young, my parents had gone through a divorce. and subsequently my father had non stop guilt tripped me, put words in my mouth, and made me feel so terrible I spent many years depressed and empty over the whole situation. loved him, he meant the world to me, but didn't want to live with him. The pressure it put me under made me do stupid things, he wanted me to promise him I'd choose his side if we went back to court, even though didn't want to live with him. This ended up costing my mother a lot of money, and remember everyone being upset with me for not being able to stand up for myself or to tell my father the truth. didn't realize it at the time but I think was emotionally abused. Yelling, screaming, crying at me saying things like "am not good enough? do you love your mom more?". was about 10 at the time, and don't think about it much anymore.. but then heard about your story and sympathized because realized, that it's so easy for everyone on the outside to say "do this, do that, you should have done blah blah blah". They don't really understand how hard it is, especially as a child. my story is in no way comparable to yours, but when I read the details of your story couldn't help but think, "I've felt that!!!" and it's paralyzing. The reporters don't understand that feeling... I'm not a great writer (sorry for jumbled letter) , but just wanted to let you know I think you get painted as a much worse person than you are. we've all had bad moments, made bad choices, the TV just latches on to the stuff that everyone wants to see. At the end of the day one's own wellbeing matters most, and you got out of there. Anyway, hope you're doing well! How is it going?	page 970

07/15/2021 19:19:36	Inbound	hi Gypsy my name i but my friends call m for short.... heard about your story and I'm sorry for everything that has happened. would love to be friends/panpalz... glad to hear that you are doing great where you are and hope you keep that chin held up high and stay strong... heard that you finally got your GED and that your going for cosmology... think that is really awesome... really do hope for the best for you and do believe you will go far in places... other than the minor updates how have you been? what kinda of interest/hobbies are you into now? hope you have a lot of supportive friends and family to help keep the sun shining. here's a little bit about myself I am 29 years old and love to play video games... also love the the color green.. got 2 siblings a brother and a sister... also work 40 hours a week... drive forklift in a factory... [am trying to save money so I can start my own business myself.. will be able to put logos onto clothing like t-shirts pants sweaters kids clothing masks then eventually upgrade to mugs plates baseball caps and so on and so forth.. have a cat who is 13 years old... I live in Ontario well don't want to make this letter too long because you probably have a lot to do... hope hear from you soon... and hope we can become friends/panpals will hopefully talk to you in the future.... hope u have a great day and keep smiling from Gypsy, got this email service to send messages to my brother who is incarcerated, much less exciting of a story though. Anyway, the reason wanted to send you a message is because when was young, my parents had gone through a divorce. and subsequently my father had non stop guilt tripped me, put words in my mouth, and made me feel so terrible I spent many years depressed and empty over the whole situation. loved him, he meant the world to me, but didn't want to live with him. The pressure it put me under made me do stupid things, he wanted me to promise him I'd choose his side if we went back to court, even though didn't want to live with him. This ended up costing my mother a lot of money, and remember everyone being upset with me for not being able to stand up for myself or to tell my father the truth. didn't realize it at the time but I think was emotionally abused. Yelling, screaming, crying at me saying things like "am not good enough? do you love your mom more?". was about 10 at the time, and don't think about it much anymore.. but then heard about your story and sympathized because realized, that it's so easy for everyone on the outside to say "do this, do that, you should have done blah blah blah". They don't really understand how hard it is, especially as a child. my story is in no way comparable to yours, but when I read the details of your story couldn't help but think, "I've felt that!!!" and it's paralyzing. The reporters don't understand that feeling... I'm not a great writer (sorry for jumbled letter), but just wanted to let you know I think you get painted as a much worse person than you are. we've all had bad moments, made bad choices, the TV just latches on to the stuff that everyone wants to see. At the end of the day one's own wellbeing matters most, and you got out of there. Anyway, hope you're doing well! How is it going?	page 970

Who knows, maybe you won't ever see this. want to start off by saying that do believe you're innocent. Things that are so hard for myself to imagine, you had to live through. But that doesn't mean you deserved it. You're smart and kind, and can see that through interviews have seen of you. (And I'd also like to kindly admit that you are absolutely gorgeous.) And feel the choices you made on that night, so many years ago, might have been extremely different to the choices you make now. I really wish the best for you and your life after your very well deserved freedom. And am aware that there may not be people that agree with how things went about that night, but keep your head high. You had a reason, and the only person who will ever fully understand that reason. You don't owe an explanation to anybody. Your story is yours. Remember that. And I'm sorry for bringing up things that have been traumatic for you. apologize for that, in case have caused any heartache to you. You are strong; never forget that. P.S. I never signed a contract because legally, while I'm in prison, can not sign any documents to enter into a business contract..the facility won't even allow me to receive the papers to be able to sign. forged my signature on her contract and lied to everyone saying had no right to speak against the project because signed to her contract and any attempts to walk away from said project would violate her contract. You're AMAZING GIRL!! vy Wow. honestly never thought I'd ever get the day to actually say something to you? Who knows, maybe you won't ever see this. want to start off by saying that do believe you're innocent. Things that are so hard for myself to imagine, you had to live through. But that doesn't mean you deserved it. You're smart and kind, and can see that through interviews have seen of you. (And I'd also like to kindly admit that you are absolutely gorgeous.) And feel the choices you made on that night, so many years ago, might have been extremely different to the choices you make now. I really wish the best for you and your life after your very well deserved freedom. And am aware that there may not be people that agree with how things went about that night, but keep your head high. You had a reason, and the only person who will ever fully understand that reason. You don't owe an explanation to anybody. Your story is yours. Remember that. And I'm sorry for bringing up things that have been traumatic for you. apologize for that, in case have caused any heartache to you. You are strong; never forget that. P.S. (by the way, She talks to me like I'm retarded by talking all slower and shit...it's super annoying) and I tried to give her a chance and all she did was try and manipulate me. She is insisting that go to another facility if given parole. First, the facility doesn't even do that. Second the parole hearing isnt going to care about her opinions of me, they will read my file made by the institution and then base their judgement on my conduct alone. I tried telling her, if she travels up here, they will be turned away. I'm glad my emails are getting out to everyone. In some groups the admins deny any postings that mention them, which is hella fishy. Oh by the way guess who, made an all new jpay account after blocked her a year and a half And this "new info" andl have is due to them speaking with a former guard that disliked me while was in jail over 6 years ago. She probably disclosed the information that had sex with another girl while in county jail, and this girl ended up threatening me so my bunkmate at the time gave me the advice to get her in trouble by lieing and claiming she raped me. spun an elaborate story that did make me look innocent and it was all lies. I'm not proud of the things did back then, was young and very green to the world, was scared and yes lieing was my go to, however I did eventually tell the cops it was consensual and she was released with no more issues due to it. I'm so embarrassed about this event because didn't handle it like a woman I lied like was still a little child trying not to get in trouble. That was so long ago shit, I'd never do that shit now. like said I've had years to experience doing the wrong things to learn, do the right things. (sounds so innocent) She tries to portray me as so mentally messed up and she doesn't know me at all. She knew my mom in high school and that is her "claim to fame" as they say. know have been through a lot but have taken every class of self betterment this facility provides, have graduated my GED, and am now going for a degree. have a mental level score of 1 being the best there is in accordance with the facilities classification evaluation. I'm not rocking in a corner eating my own hair, I'm doing just fine and actually really coming into my own at this point in time. And it is people like her who do not want to accept anything positive that I've done because that doesn't fit their own opinions about me being too disturbed to function in normal society. I plan on seeing a therapist when am at home, know that will be something that is needed for many years to come. what I tried to explain it was that I'm not going to get out and have no support, have my father and my friends to help me adjust to life outside of prison. My friends who know me, know these women are obsessed with my case and are true crime enthusiasts. will probably have to place some kind of retraining order against these women because they have been causing issues for like 3 or 4 years. Thanks for sticking with me through the drama. it gets wild sometimes but ya know what is crazy is the drama is only ever caused by those three women, and anyways am in isolation because tested positive for covid. asymptomatic so don't even feel sick, have a slight headache but I get stress headaches so didn't know it was because of covid. 13 more days in isolation. :-P for \	page 969

Sometimes you see things from a negative perspective and its not really that way. Do you think you might just be being negative? sometimes other people don't even realize you might be feeling this way. All I'm saying is, you do have friends that care about you. care and I'm the worst at calling and emailing but that don't mean dont care about you. Just think about that ok. <3 Now what you need to do is send me a new pic of you. :-) wanna have pics of all my friends on my tablet. hugs	page 656

Finals are coming up, best friend is moving to a different state, having to figure financials out for the fall semester..having to deal with at home stressors. Just taking one step at a time. That's all can do. feel like i cause an annoyance to the people talk to, or that they don't care, so try to keep to myself. know who my real friends are and can clearly see who doesn't have my best interest. I appreciate you reaching out. Miss talking to you. Yes,I am a member of that group and would not mind providing it with approved updates on your behalf. Wishing you well	page 656
07/23/2021 16:03:09	Inbound	The day got your email, got a txt fromy with ss of the email. told her I'd gotten the email and was about to share and would go on YouTube soon to talk about it. A few days later she said someone sent her the email then she checked JPay which she hadn't done in months and had the email and was going to talk about this case again soon. Makes me angry but oh well. She fabricated shit. Her followers believe everything she says as fact. Her claims of talking to guys been sleeping with they all fall for and she has NO PROOF. If I'm going to make a claim there will be proof hate when people do that. She won't discuss the case with me because she knows I've seen the facts. Unlike her I've seen more than 7 pages of medical files. And she knows won't play that game. I'm not going to lie about cases I'm not going to make up witness and give my opinion as fact. have a gif of looking at both sides of a story and seeing the whys and reasons behind things. My empathy picks things up. Right is covering reality TV on YouTube for: It's a joke. She makes me angry listening to her lol I'm still laughing that they called me a "known scammer" lol nah that would be the one pointing fingers. I've never scammed who has a record for it). Ridiculous anyone, not even welfare (lik She's just mad wanted to do my own thing could be proud of and not feel like a shut human. She's mad the same professionals she knows communicate with me like a real person. She knows I've shown people I'm 100% me no matter who they are and like them for them and not their titles. So anyways onto better things. When you get out we will go to a winery and enjoy wine and have laughs. Keep up the good work honey you've got this. 07/25/2021 13:10:16	Inbound	WARNING THIS IS LONG BUT NEEDED TO SPEAK MY PEACE So it's my turn to say something The first 2 screenshots are explanations of why the report was made written by (this is public)! Because it had my name in it believe I'm allowed to labiate lam not just a former "INMATE" that in its self shows how judgemental this statement is! Yes was in prison & I've always been 100% honest about it. cashed some checks 10 years ago! was an addict & didn't do what was supposed to do for my probation, therefore went to prison twice. As of now have 5 years clean, got my GED, kept a job for 4 years, regained custody of my son, completed 13 months STRAIGHT of outpatient drug treatment, completed a 120 drug treatment (in prison), been baptised, chaired NA meetings, have had the same sponsor for 5 years that has 33 years clean, kept housing for myself & my family, current on my bills, have a nice safe car for my family & much more!!! As for making money on TikTok it's $15-$30 a month & mostly post videos of my family & if it's referring to me as a scammer... Ask anyone in this group if they didn't receive their shirt!!! paid $15.50 per mask/shirt set! sold them for $15 that includes shipping so actually lost alot of money & I'm STILL going to send Gyps $50 for her birthday even though she told me not to So I'm not profiting off NOBODY! I've asked people for 1 thing, a phone because can't afford to fix mine. Now about Gypsy.. 1. She does see mental health! People are different when it comes to trama. It took her some time to want to talk about it & she is now & } she's also completed several other classes such as victim remorse, anger, self accountability to name a few. 2. The bad influences are them!! Pretending to care about her but make assumptions & plant doubt and people's minds about her & cause them problems with her, her family & friends! Gypsy has wonderful friends me, her family & family friends make damn sure we weed out people ect. That's what what people who care do!! We speak nothing but good about her. 3. Gypsy didn't get to go through the boy crazy phase we all got to do as teens!! Gypsy is growing up in prison! So what if she's boy crazy!! We ALL were! Hers is just a different situation/age. To be honest she's single right now & happy. She has guy friends yes BUT wants to focus on her education for now so even though she's lonely she is proving she's an adult by setting that aside! MAKE MONEY OFF HER @ In the dark colored photos is The Gypsy Rose Wine Label made by. True Crime wive: They use Gypsy's name & story without her permission! Gypsy told the investigator she does not support them in anyway! All they are is butt hurt Gypsy cut off communication with them because they claim they care & flier over for CLOUT! kne in highschool and thinks she's a victim. She came out of the woodwork latched onto the family in the beginning & inserted herself & when it was noticed she was just trying to get clout she turned to the press spilling who Gypsy's fiance was & talking crap o So they started blackmailing Gypsy into giving them updates by telling her they would tell the prison bad stuff about her & THEY DID first chance they got & it backfired They are now listed as harassers and have set Gypsy free of them! If you read all of this YOU ARE FREAKING AWESOME	page 981

07/26/2021 21:41:50	Inbound	HAPPY BIRTHDAY, GYPSY. WE LOVE YOU!!! Love, and eet baby birthday...when you see this. girl. Thank you for my family card. You made my day. Love you bunches, exactly right. They ONLY want to get you to respond in a negative way. know it can be difficult to not respond but if you do, they will keep on saying crap. Sometimes the best response to people like them, is NO response at all. What i find helps me in situations like this is to write down exactly what you want to say to them on a piece of paper, read it to yourself then tear it up into little pieces and throw it away. You get the opportunity to get your feelings out but they don't get the thrill of you responding to them. promise it helps. They made a video or post about you this week. am watching for that. When do your college classes start? What have you decided to take? Remember, don't overload yourself with too many classes at once. It will be overwhelming. hope your birthday was good. posted that you and your roommate binge watched tv so that sounds like a good time to me. Call me when you get the chance. I'd love to hear that sweet voice. Love you girl,	page 579
07/26/2021 17:30:37	Inbound	Yeah, tend to get in my head about things or situations. I'm trying to work with myself on not always having such negative feelings. know it isn't good to bottle up my feelings or to always look at something in a negative way. Thank you for being such a good friend. hope we can stay in touch even after your release. have sent you my photo. If may, would you like to have my school address, should you ever wish to send anything, photos, mail, cards, etc. will be returning to school on the 17th of August. It will be a little late but you will be getting a card from me for your birthday. Happy Birthday Gypsy, hope you enjoy your special day. Much love,	page 656
07/26/2021 09:08:34	Inbound	Oh dear lord need to make sure and not drink anything when read emails. spit my coffee all over my phone reading this Imao! Have you ever seen pics o No body fucking that trust me Imao doesn't even share a bedroom with her husband. Sorry my mean girl side came out lol is notorious for acting the exact same way with every case she does. She messaged me and was like "we can collaborate on Gypsy for a recap" ummm yeah I'm good lol know for a fact it will end badly because when she starts on her bs I'd have to ask for proof or shut up. It pisses me off when people use their opinion and gossip as fact. I'm older than either one of those 2 and it makes my head spin with their bs. Just do not understand it. If there is something need to share send it my way Have a good week... my baby turns 25 today lol so off to celebrate his bday	page 689

Last Saturday talked to the gastroenterologist ... have to continue taking medicine. I'm sure it's a side effect of the vaccine, but doctors say it's not easy to know. I am sick and tired. I'm sorry you're still in solitary ... honestly thought you were going to call me as you ... But that's okay. I know, luckily you are fine (I mean for your health) but guess it's hard to stay in quarantine ... hold on for another week. want to see you too, my little padawan.	page 858

But please do not think haven't wanted to call. Yeah emails have been slow, especially last week. Ira haan wantinn ta haar fram fir dave naw <2	page 858

07/26/2021 20:17:15	Outbound	If my way, I'd be enjoying dinner with you in Naples, and would be wearing this short black mini dress with 5" heels and diamond earrings. :-) You can guess the rest.	page 858
