08/20/2019 17:15:03	Outbound	Ye and are going through a rough patch its been like a month that we have been having issues with communication. did get to meet his mom recently and it went great! but she did voice that she would like us to wait to marry and after that had an emotional day and broke up with him becuase i thought thats what he wanted, then 3 days later got back together, now HE says he wants space and a short break because he "wants to do what's best for me" He started working this new job at the Hyatt Hotel and they gave him a free nights stay. well, he told me he was going get a drink then using his free night stay. now keep in mind I'm already insecure, but being in prison adds to that. so called him back 30mins after we had that conversation... no answer called like 20 times, was crying worried he was gonna take a drunk slut back to the hotel. well the next day got him to answer.. He got drunk with his buddy and was ignoring my calls for the rest of the night because he was having a night with the dudes. when I say cussed him out and screamed so loud my normal squeaky voice changed and was deep and full of emotional stress.. was pissed. he apologized and we leff it in the past. he didn't sleep with another woman either. but told him he has a responsibility to me as my fiance to answer the phone when call because I'm in prison that's my only way to get ahold of him fast, so he needs to grow up. and realize that he's not a 26 yr old bachelor but a soon to be 27 yr old engaged man. have no problems with him having fun with his friends but he best let me know and answer the phone when I need a little reassurance that things are good between us. men!!! swear! (rolls eyes) I told him a wedding is not gonna solve our issues we need to be more prepared for what's to come.	page 353

08/22/2019 06:19:14	Outbound	Hi M -) have gotten your video grams :-)) let me know if you need me to send you a visiting form. I am still not doing on cam interviews. there isn't much I have to say about my future, currently I'm going guess a phase/crisis that don't know what want for my future. things are not stable in my relationship with my Fiance. my life is at a stand still, have nothing new going on. the only thing I'm trying to do is focus on my parole hearing in December of 2021, I'm trying to take extra classes, striving for good behaviour and figure out my plans for my home plan. these last few years have shyed away from interviews, because didn't wanna talk about the past. now it seems I'm so unsure about my future and what want, can't do an interview on that either. the main thing want express is, myself am having issues with working on myself as an individual so how can be an advocate if am not ready to be one. wouldn't mind or my father would do an interview in my stead. thanks hugs GypsyRose	page 075
08/22/2019 17:02:02	Outbound	I don't think you sent me an email, I'm getting em from today but not yours.	page 150
08/22/2019 06:19:12	Outbound	wanted to add one more thing to the conversation that we had about you having a one nighter. YOU told me awhile back, before our engagement If that ever would happen wouldn't tell me. then post engagement, let you know wasn't comfortable with it and you said you wouldn't even enjoy it if it happened so you just was gonna wait for me and was gonna wait for you. you even made a cute corny joke, (our time will come and so will we.) :-)) but we agreed if you needed and wanted to do it, we would talk about it before hand. NOW your saying Nope, we never had that conversation. we did many times at different stages in our relationship. just asked you about 3 months ago, we are getting married, do you wanna have sex before we are husband and wife? because there is not gonna be another offer to you and you told me no. you cling onto what i said a year and a half ago so that you could have sex as long as you didn't get a chick pregnant, to justify your potential to cheat and have my permission to fall back on. We were fresh into a relationship and was listening to what other women in here told me to say to you, so FYI THAT WAS NEVER MY OWN FEELINGS. To me, sex is something intimate, why if we are in a committed relationship would you want to do that to me, to us and our relationship? we clearly see things differently, just another thing your opinion and perception has changed in the last few weeks. if you need me to state how feel here it is. realize that abstaining is hard, am just as sexually frustrated as you, at this point wouldn't care if it was your tongue, finger or toe, just know that I'm gonna ride it, and own it like a 100k hoe. my pussy will strangle it when come. but who do want? YOU, who am gonna wait for? you, AM monogamous, not because I'm forced to be but because want to be. and thought my fiance felt the same. maybe YOU are not ready to be engaged. ask yourself how would you like it if it were vice versa? if behind your back, fucked around. you would say cheated???? same thing and it is wrong of you to try and peg what I said nearly 2 years ago on me now just to ease your guilt. because you know in your heart, its not OK with me, never will be OK with it. its infidelity no matter what way you spin it. love you	page 174

08/23/2019 08:38:01	Inbound	Hello Gypsy, Well, have never done this before in my life, so have really NO idea what should write exactly. So please forgive me, if write any nonsense. Hahaha. guess the very best way to start this letter would be to introduce myself to you first. Do you agree? My name i 37 years old and I'm from Germany. work for the Government since August of 2016. work for the State Ministry of the Interior. responsible for fire fighters, Police, Emergency rescue service and disaster protection. It is truly a very interesting and AWESOME job. Ok, know that sounds a little bit boring, but really like that way of working. Well, maybe I'm a little bit boring too? Hmm, ... nobody knows. Hahaha. Maybe you can find it out? Hahaha. One of my BIGGEST hobbies is MUSIC. really love music. In my spare time play some music and I'm a member of 2 music groups. Music makes me feel good. It's like a helping medicine. Music let me forget all the problems which have. Hahaha. guess would die without my music. May ask you what about you? Do you like music too? What kind of? I really love to travel. In 2009, 2014, 2016, 2017 and 2019 travelled through Japan. All these trips were TOTALLY awesome. really want to do it again. Have you ever been to foreign countries? If yes, in which? I'm so curious. Well, guess in the meanwhile you will ask yourself what's the reason for that message. That is a very good question. As mentioned have never done that before in my life and guess need always too many words to express myself in English. Hahaha. will become a very good pen pal to you. want to help you with my lines a little despite of the huge distance. want to bring a smile on your face whenever write you. To make it short: will become one of your friends. That means, if you don't object. What do you say? Do you agree? Please don't hesitate to tell me honestly. hope you have been able to understand my poor English. know, my English is not the best but still work on it. Hahaha. You can be sure totally, my German is much better than my English. Hahaha. Do you know any other languages? May ask you to tell me a little bit about you? If you want to know something about me, please don't hesitate to ask me. NO matter what you want to know. Ok? will answer to all of your questions 100% honestly. Promised! will close this very first message for today. really hope to hear from you soon. Please answer me back as soon as possible. If you want you can answer me by using my e-mail address or by using my normal postal address: wait to hear back from you,	page 006
08/23/2019 19:12:49	Inbound	btw. feel really bad that you can't see things out here. I'm not sure if you selected as a slap i face to be your spokesperson. But it's more like a slap in your own face & those that have supported you. I'm sorry but I'm going to keep it one hundred. Everyone (members, supporters) are confused. They have all feelings for you in addition to her new scandal on what is viewed as not only racial but neglectful towards her niece(a child) No matter what, it's not a good look It's like jumping from one frying pan to another. My opinion is take a break, across the board. if you are taking a break in your own personal life, then have your step mom do the same out here. Let those that support you, do that in your support groups. & when the time is right you will find an unbiased spokesperson. is a joke to everyone and that's how people will perceive anyone associated with her. At this point you now have a bunch of phony supporters in her group, that truly could care less about your well being. personally can't partake in her phoniness as your spokesperson. would be just as phony if did. Hope you understand. . it actually saddens me. why? simply because it's a spit in your face. if you need me , you know where to reach me.	page 063

I just dont like bull shitters.	page 066

But got it all straightened out now. put phone time on my phone and transferred you $50. Hope did the phone thing right. guess the only way to know if did it right is for you to try calling me. If did it right will add more money to it. Not sure how much it costs per minute from where you are. But hope we can at least talk once a week and do a Visitation Call too. On the Bright side...You have the time to get to know each other on a different level. can set up some counseling with you as your Spiritual Advisor and come see you through the Chaplin there. But you will have to send me the paperwork to get on your Visitation List. can also send you things to work on in some emails. Of course this is all up to you if you want my help. Just let me know and will do everything can to help you to have a bright and happy life together. Gypsy, it is all about you. It is your life and you need to learn to make your own decisions. Some may not agree, but it is your time to shine. Do what makes you happy!!! Trust your heart! Anyways, hope to hear from you soon. Your my 2nd daughter. know how good it feels to have someone that believes in you. No matter what is going on. And like have said before, do not want anything but to help you have a bright and happy future. And you can and will. There is nothing so bad that you can do, that God's Grace and Mercy cannot make worthy. And you are worthy and deserve happiness. So, will wait to hear from you. am free to talk tonight and tomorrow after 3 and any other time after that. If you decide to call me, we can figure out the best times to call, so don't miss your call. Anyways, here is a little something that made me think of you. ALWAYS HAVE HOPE...HEBREWS 6: 19 WE HAVE THIS HOPE AS AN ANCHOR FOR THE SOUL, FIRM AND SECURE. So never give up your hope that your life will be wonderful again one day. Just think of this time of where you are to become the best woman you can be. Learn to love yourself and know there are those that have that hope and love for you. Trust God, don't be afraid to ask for help and to keep from wandering into doubt and insecurity over the future. With God, you are in control of your life. Think on this and pray it will help you in some way. pray that you will feel my true concern for you and your happiness. Going to go for now and hope to hear from you soon. know we have never met, but already feel that we are close friends. If you will have me, will be your light till you can see the Bright blessings coming your way.	page 667

08/24/2019 05:13:20	Inbound	Gypsy, went to check on the email sent you and it turns out it was somehow a draft, and never went through. Maybe it was because was out of stamps, and had to buy stamps before sending it, and afterwards thought it did, but guess had to go back and re-do it. Anyway, it gives me the chance to edit it so basically im just gonna start from scratch. want to say sorry for how ive been the last few weeks. havent been myself because lost touch with my true feelings. The comedown from you, then the opinions of everyone coming to light about the engagement, and the cut-off from phone calls - it hit me like a brick wall. wanted only to do whats right for you, and for me, and didnt really know what to do. As have said for the longest time: Im just a kid whose in love with a girl. And wanted to do the right thing for that girl. The truth is, youre my best friend. You know me like no other person in this world. You and have a bond Ive never had. And the thought of losing that makes me sick to my stomach. dont want that. But also dont want to hurt you. And it seems lately thats all Ive done. And im so, so sorry. dont want to lose the best thing have. But also want the best for you, and wonder sometimes if all this advice everyone is giving me is true. Do you need space? Do you need seperation? Do you need to be alone for awhile? To grow, and be independant? Is that whats best for your recovery? KNOW. But MISS you. miss laughing with you. miss talking about my week with you. miss complaining about my job with you. miss sending you songs of the week. miss hearing you say goodnight everyday. miss hearing about your roommates. miss hearing about your new certificate class. just miss my best friend. Youve been the one true person Ive had, whose been there for me, and just want you to know how important youve been, and the significance youve brought to my life. love you Gypsy, with all my heart. wanted space apart from you not only for me, but for you. To see what you thought might be best for you going into your future. What do you really want? Know that no matter what, youre my first love. And again, best friend. truly, honestly, deeply, only want whats best for you. never want to hurt you or make you feel less than special. just hope you understand. Whenever youre comfortable, Id love you to call me. Love ALWAYS,	page 151

08/24/2019 18:15:17	Inbound	Evening Gypsy, hope you have had a good day. Been a little less hot and humid here today. was reading through some of my old journals and this made me think of you. So if you wonder about my intentions in reaching out to you or wonder what kind of friend am, this will sorta tell you. Two Horses Just up the road from my home is a field, with two horses in it. From a distance, each looks like every other horse. But if you stop your car, or are walking by, you will notice something quite amazing. Looking into the eyes of one horse will disclose that he is blind. His owner has chosen not to have him put down, but has made a good home for him. This alone is amazing. If nearby and listening, you will hear the sound of a bell. Looking around for the source of the sound, you will see that it comes from the smaller horse in the field. Attached to her halter is a small bell. It lets her blind friend know where she is, so he can follow her. As you stand and watch these two friends, you'll see how she is always checking on him, and that he will listen for her bell and then slowly walk to where she is, trusting that she will not lead him astray. When she returns to the shelter of the barn each evening, she stops occasionally and looks back, making sure her friend isn't too far behind to hear the bell. Like the owners of these two horses, God does not throw us away just because we are not perfect or because we have problems or challenges. He watches over us and even brings others into our lives to help us when we are in need. Sometimes we are the blind horse being guided by the little ringing bell of those who God places in our lives. Other times we are the guide horse, helping others see. Good friends are like this . You don't always see them, but you know they are always there. Please listen for my bell and I'll listen for yours. Love, hugs and prayers from me to you. Your friend always	page 667

No. Did he know in full details of my life living with my mother? Not in full detail, but he knew some, mostly speculation about my real age. Was he a romantic interest? To me kinda, only in the way I did have a huge crush on him way back when even with the 16 or so age gap. although think it was one sided, we were only ever flirty friends. another one that people ask is, Why didn't he call the cops on my mother or try and stand up to her when my mother found me with him and proceeded to bring me back home? at the time, was really 19 yrs old, but my mother had claimed was only 15 yrs old. feared being arrested for being in company of old minor" even though was really of legal age. if you have anymore questions please feel free to email me back. Her involvement with my life, had been the cause of so much chaos. she has played with our lives as if we were her toys and has done nothing but cause drama. have spoken out loud and clear how feel about her and how want my life to be and how don't want it to be, ...people heard, one by one the By Proxy "team" fell off, then when you posted your long post sharing the truth, people heard, ..and now people know your intentions are only for the best, and are praising your bravery. finally, gav a one that would hold repercussions for the rest of our lives, and she chose her family. and is now completely out of By Proxy and the contract with April called mom. told her dont want a director or producer, want amom. she started crying and so did I. she apologized for everything getting out of hand, and forgive her. Its August 1st, 2019 and for the first time in 4 years, can breathe a bit easier. there won't be another TV series about my abusive childhood, embarrassing sexkapades, or the murder that to this day, have nightmares about. is no longer part of anything involving my life. the drama is over. You will not be exploited anymore and neither will I. with all my heart, with all my love that can hold inside my body, am sorry for everything that you have had to go through baby. I can't imagin anyone else in your shoes, who could have handled themselves and the situations that were thrown at you with more courage and poise, then only you. do not think the true measure of a man is in his pants, but rather how much maturity he has in his head and how much love in his darling you do measure up in every way and do mean, every way) a lot of you, but want to ask one more thing, ...please stay in my life. know that we are trying to adjust to these new rules and curve balls, cried to everyone with a shoulder, the day I found out about the phone timer. because knew it would effect our relationship in a big way. BUT you and I have made it through 6 months no visits, we only used to talk like 4 times a month AND you fell off from writing me while only talking 4 times a month, so you and I have had fluctuations in communication throughout our relationship. we really had been talking heavily for about 11 months, and have loved every bit of it. now we also have email, sooooo email me more silly! you everyday.	page 149

LOVE YOU! apparently we are labeled lol we have a couple mash up name lol you have a whole fan base just FYI baby. :-/ My Love First, love you always. babe, have received your email, and though you do not need to apologize for having a hard day, the reassurance that you do love me was needed and is appreciated. This has been a year so far, feel that our relationship has been put down through it, but we have made it out practically without a scratch. have always been insecure about being in a serious relationship while am incarcerated, though think you knew that when we decided to be a couple, in fact, remember a little note all about it, and your response back. still to this day my favorite moment in our history, because that letter in particular was when knew you really loved me. <3 :-/ I think things really became crazy early this year and we took quite a beating, from every angle. was mainly to blame. Her involvement with my life, had been the cause of so much chaos. she has played with our lives as if we were her toys and has done nothing but cause drama. have spoken out loud and clear how feel about her and how want my life to be and how don't want it to be, ...people heard, one by one the By Proxy "team" fell off, then when you posted your long post sharing the truth, people heard, ...and now people know your intentions are only for the best, and are praising your bravery. finally, gav a one that would hold repercussions for the rest of our lives, and she chose her family. and is now completely out of By Proxy and the contract with April called mom. told her dont want a director or producer, want amom. she started crying and so did I. she apologized for everything getting out of hand, and forgive her. Its August 1st, 2019 and for the first time in 4 years, can breathe a bit easier. there won't be another TV series about my abusive childhood, embarrassing sexkapedes, or the murder that to this day, have nightmares about. is no longer part of anything involving my life. the drama is over. You will not be exploited anymore and neither will I. with all my heart, with all my love that can hold inside my body, am sorry for everything that you have had to go through baby. I can't imagin anyone else in your shoes, who could have handled themselves and the situations that were thrown at you with more courage and poise, then only you. do not think the true measure of a man is in his pants, but rather how much maturity he has in his head and how much love in his darling you do measure up in every way and do mean, every way) a lot of you, but want to ask one more thing, ...please stay in my life. know that we are trying to adjust to these new rules and curve balls, cried to everyone with a shoulder, the day I found out about the phone timer. because knew it would effect our relationship in a big way. BUT you and I have made it through 6 months no visits, we only used to talk like 4 times a month AND you fell off from writing me while only talking 4 times a month, so you and I have had fluctuations in communication throughout our relationship. we really had been talking heavily for about 11 months, and have loved every bit of it. now we also have email, sooooo email me more silly! you everyday.	page 149

08/26/2019 21:29:38	Outbound	My Love, I just received your email. The truth is, you did more damage to me by choosing to listen to others instead of asking me what wanted and needed in the first place. you put me through heartach and pain by making me feel unwanted and unloved and worse, a burden to you. I spent many nights crying myself to sleep, then wake from a nightmare that was alone in this world only to wake and realize AM alone because your gone. You ignored my pleas for you and to mend things and work on our communication, you only grew more distant and resorting to your addiction to numb yourself took every picture of you down because every time would look at you, would cry. and would ask myself, how did this happen? what did do so wrong in such a short amount of time for him to push me away so far? my past, but most of all blamed myself. We have been through the challenges of being in the public eye, we faced it together. We have been through 6 months no visits, we faced it together. We have had jealous LWOPs try and place doubt in our minds, we faced it together. Now We face people, friends and family who want us to live our lives the way they want it or perceive it as best, ...you left me alone and broke my heart. was planning a life with you, was happy, the happiest have ever been. had my heart set on you moving to KC, we would have our little private ceremony just you and me, then be picking out a little Golden Retriever puppy and could have bought little toys, a nice bowl or a bed. we would just make do with our weekend visits and our little phone calls to fill the spaces between. and sooner then you think, it will be time to start buying me a hair dryer and woman's body washes for your/our bathroom as well as my dress out box to come home to my hubby, and 2 dogs, just know Balto is my baby. :-) and after that, the skys the limit. that was in July that had planned that..and by August you and broke under the pressure to appease others, and now we are in a since broken up. what happened to me and you against the world? guess you loved the world more then me. because God knows did my best to get you to stay. Yes had my moment of weakness but was hoping to see you fight for us, and you didn't. so think it goes without needed words, that never wanted space, or to be alone, all wanted was to be loved and and love someone enough to share my life with. have taken 5 classes and still at the end of the day deep inside, feel worthless because everyone have ever loved hurts me or says I'm not enough. everyone, including you. thought you were different. before all this, actually felt like was worth something to at least you and that was everything to me. will be honest even if we did go back to us as a united couple, you need to gain my full trust back. have trust issues like bitch and you will need to have actions behind your words, that's how you gained it in the beginning. don't lie to me. don't hide shit from me. don't EVER use drugs again.	page 175

Wanted to say hi but when you cut ties didn't want to interfere or upset anyone. was working on the podcast covering your story when I quit. couldn't handle it anymore redid the podcast and changed her view on a few things and I'm appalled. sent them so she is spinning things but nothing can do. plan on covering a few things on this story in my own podcast just have to figure out what to do and how. But anyways wanted to reach out and hopefully establish some open communication and maybe a friendship. sorry about your recent breakup but have faith that when it's right for you it will happen. Sometimes God knows we need to work on us then he gives us those desires. I've been pretty vocal and protective of you on Facebook. Even raising hell with people for stupid memes and post that are beyond disrespectful to you. As a mom to 3(23,27,30) I'm a vicious momma tiger lol anyways hope you have a good week just wanted to drop a line and introduce myself a little bit. Thank you for responding and giving me your words. hope that these programs are giving you insight, and healing. From experience, and from walking through trauma myself went through and with my own daughters can tell you that you are no good to your future partner til you work on you. Sometimes we think we are perfect and in reality we are not. It takes time to heal from all the bs, and the journey isn't always easy. Work on you, your parole and building a life when you are released. Focus on you. When you finally meet the right one, that isn't about using you, your name or your story for their own benefit you will know and be ready for the blessing that truly is. I'm going to encourage you to take it slow. You have a sort of celebrity thing that will bring them out of no where. And they are all good liars. But being happy with yourself and where you are will make all the difference. Don't let anything jeopardize your freedom. And don't mean just your physical freedom but your mental and emotional freedom. Mourn the losses. The loss of your freedom from time with your mom and now, mourn the loss of your teenage years, all those things you should have been able to do but didn't get to do. Mourn your mom and what she should have been. (I mourn my relationship with my mother so this I know a lot about)... make sure you forgive her, your dad, doctors and yourself. You can do this and you can become an awesome advocate for those with no voice. have no doubt that you can become anything if you stay focused! When started following your story in 2015, immediately felt protective of you. Like a mother should. I've had many heated debates over it lol. cost me dearly and in some ways still does. She doesn't care who she hurts as long as she does what she wants to further herself. lost all respect for her. Beware of all of those involved in that time... feel free to ask me anything will be honest, sometimes brutally honest. I'm so sorry you hurt as bad as you did with the mess that happened I can tell wasn't the only one causing issues there. watched it all unfold. But do understand your feelings toward her. Ps the good thing about hair... it grows back.... lol hang in there honey got this. Please stay in touch. Hugs,	page 687

A lot of people would probably call me a liar because don't even actually know you, but WANT to know you. want to be your friend, want to be a person you can turn to if you feel like there's no one else you can. I've reached out to a few people that know try to keep in touch with you, but I'm not sure they care all too much, because to them, I'm sure seem like another annoying crazy "fan". I'm not a fan, especially not of the act. It was unappealing in many ways and dramatized for over half of the series. Your awesome!! to bad everyone doesn't realize this. Gypsy all relationships go thru ups and downs & You are going to have it even harder then if you were out side them walls. Remember told you have my fiancé locked up as well. it's been very difficult. but we have been together 4 and a half years and wasn't sure we would make it. My fiancé told me not to let anyone come between us. (I took his advice) This is what pass on to you. I do mean anyone. it's just you in this. Family & friends are awesome and if they love you, will still be there. But this union is of only 2 people & Gypsy. Do what makes you happy, not what others think will. Sending good vibes & hugs. goodness no, that was making a sarcastic joke. honestly am not dealing with any of that right now. I'm trying to work on my relationship we are holding on by our finger tips, and am trying to hold on to my sanity at that. The groups thing not mine. thanks for looking out for me :-)& hugs	page 063

08/27/2019 08:42:42	Outbound	My Lover and Best friend, have a quick something to add to my 2 longer e-mails made before our long heavy conversation last night. Baby you don't have to remind me that YOU have a life out there, that fact has never left my mind. You have freedom to do this and that, go to games and concerts and something as simple as the mall. do not. However it means everything to me that you would still include me in the ways that was possible, (example, asking me what kind of hoodie you should buy, what kind of peanut butter to buy, take video grams of events.) so my question is When you say have a life out here and (we have to live our own lives)" but then you contradict by saying you will include me. which is it? are you saying, we just do our own thing separate from one another, OR that you want us to still include each other in our daily lives like normal? I'm so confused. feel like you are reintroducing the "advice" someone told you, but then you have your own wants on top of their opinions. therefore its confusing. understand that here and your there however can still be your partner in a lot of ways other than just physical, as made proof by our 2 years together. you say you miss sharing your daily life with me, want you to include me. just because I'm in prison doesn't mean can't be a good wife to the best of my ability even with the limitations have. have always stood by your side. have made mistakes, I'm not perfect. however will always be yours, flaws included. what these fucking no body ass losers without a Goddamn thing to do with their own lives don't realize is WE are gonna do our relationship or at least we should be, the way WE feel we have to in order to make it through the next few years. if that goes against their way of how they want us to do it, then FUCK THEM seriously STOP LISTENING TO THESE PEOPLE WHO ARE TRYING TO BRING US DOWN!!! I can't be the ONLY one of us that has that attitude. it has to be us united. are we united or not? you said you are trying, that IS enough for me baby. DO matter enough? and if do, then please focus on building with me. let's be a team again. I'll tell everyone to shut the fuck up, watch me..doing it right have balls of steel..well a clut of steel.. never mind lol I am getting the stuff ready to send to you for your our anniversary in 2 weeks :-)& will be asking you a very important question on that day and need you to have an answer for me, think you know what I'm gonna be asking, so think about it, search your heart and be ready to give me your final decision. love love love you. your my soulie, my best friend, my lover, my everything. please stay mine forever.	page 175

08/27/2019 16:50:46	Inbound	Okay so figured I'd answer your past emails... First you should always send me pictures regardless of how "good" they came out. My (2) issues with submitting my application are as follows: 1. I'm old AF and dunno if I can spare the time, seriously, need a kid (and the vagina to help me get one) like NOW so the first decent looking girl to waff my way is gonna get it HARD. 2. You'd need some one who's more "stable" than am. So, for example (or however tf it's spelled) although he is queer as a three dollar bill he did have a steady, decent income job and lived more or less on his own. Me on the other hand, get a new job like every 3ish years and in doing so plummet down in hierarchy and pay (minimum wage anyone?). And at the ripe age of 33 still live "at home"... God my life sucks, lol... But my point was with all the shit you've had to deal with and having a hard-life you deserve someone who can make it "easier" for you. Now don't mean you need to be pampered like royalty, but you shouldn't have to struggle to get by... You need a happy ending, not whatever tf got going on. And you can save the "oh, but all need is love" bit because we all know the lie detector test determined that was a lie! lol, Maury reference. But seriously, love only get you so far, don't believe me? Ask my ex :/ Hope all is well!	page 214

08/28/2019 07:18:39	Outbound	I'm glad you got out of drama too girl. and burry me with nothing because that's all she will ever have, nothing. every aspect, every secret, every nude pic, every minuscule detail of my life is already out there for everyone to see and know. have no privacy, therefore have nothing left to hide. she's making up crazy shit just like did. there is one secret that have that no one know and now I will share with you, please keep this between us. did write me as soon as he hit DOC grounds, deliberated for a week or so, talked about it and he told me just let him know what I decided to do. needed closure, true closure. so wrote one letter in response. apologized and took accountability for my choices for the crime. explained everything had gone through after the arrest, and told him that have gone through many mixed emotions about him. and when he gave me the choice him or } and gave me to choose, explained that have a good relationship with a man that treats me right, can't abandon that. I told him that have been broken but have been rebuilt stronger then ever and will NEVER be broken or controlled again. He sent a second letter in reply. He said was abandoning him. never replied. needed that, needed to tell him everything start to finish. called him out on cheating on me when we were together, told him we are toxic for each other. but also was fair and told him to find a purpose for his life and wished him well. the closure letter was for me, not him. now can move on knowing closed that relationship the right way. know that you might not be there yet, it took me 4 years to be able to feel neutral about him. in the beginning, was still under his control and was still infatuated with him, then became resentful and angry, then felt pitty, now I'm numb. and don't give him a second thought anymore. trust this conversation will be kept in careful hands. Franchesa wanted to exploit you just as she wanted to with me, and now she has no one use or exploit for her own benefit, she will fade out in time. sent me a screenshot of the contract supposedly signed, have never seen that thing before, she was BTW holding me to a lie! never signed anything and dad did, never me. crazy... well anyhow thanks for still writing me :-)	page 523

Make it a priority and study hard for a few months then pass it and then you can have time to do other stuff. When i took all my captains test. Thats all i had time for. Study study study. Every free minute. It was a rough 4-6 months but after its done you never have to test again. Thats the best advice i can give for now. The addiction/ relaps is a big Huge Red flag baby. Sorry, I'm advising you to accept that you cannot change and addicts desires. Someone in their Mid 20s going on bing coke highs surely carries baggage that at this point makes your relationship extremely tough to grow properly. You Made a good call to step back a bit for now. He has a lot of maturing to do in my view. hope he can. Hes a nice guy but making a terrible decision by using drugs. Im sorry to hear that boo. All you can do is talk to him and tell him he needs to be strong and stay strong, nobody will ever carry his weight, he and only him can choose the right road when the devil start to temp him. 08/29/2019 04:06:25	Inbound	Hey Girly, said really mean things about me. honestly was leaving By Proxy at that team i just I thought you hated me b was gathering what info i could to get out. Like said i got the email for you!!!! Not for anyone else but you. feel so dumb for believing she did nothing but lie. Made fun of which really was making fun of me to. Like we did the same thing and reached out to you he did not we all fell for each other so her to take jabs at i took so personal. She would say it was different but it wasn't. She had me so fucked in the head bc she had me talking to psychologist and they were in training so i assumed they knew what they were doing what a bitch for that. So i pretty much stopped being in all the groups. just wish! would stop bashing me and thinking i am some kind of scam artist. I am glad though she is able to help you. Gypsy know if ANYTHING I MEAN ANYTHING WILL HELP YOU. I mean i hope you trust me i did get those emails of the forging of the signatures both emails she sent. here to help if possible. Besides that i am doing better. i am sorry about your break-up i hate that its plastered all over. pray you get your peace soon. When i was locked up i did a lot of soul searching i made a lot of lists of things i really never took the time to find out about me. wrote my dreams aspirations even if it was silly. i just wanted to know who i was b.c i was so controlled that it was i had to be whatever everyone else wanted me to be. Well i am kinda there again. Soul searching. i just want to have fun and enjoy life all this hate it weighs on my heart. Another reason i left the groups they honestly are breeding ground for gossip and drama. i was part of all that and i am so sorry that i ever spoke and our made me think there was SOMETHING actually wrong with me for writing and not feeling that personal shit) was wrong and then she made me into this fragile helpless victim and i just seen what she was doing to you she was doing to me telling me what to say and i honestly thought she cared about me wanted a better life for me. it was her a self-serving agenda that she thought would boost her chances to be somebody. am just so happy to be free from being under anyone's finger. Even the Freedom fighters that fan girls they sensed me and told me what to do and really hurt me but ik that my actions were not perfect i mean everyone hates me. i don't get it like why can ppl and support him after what he did but me fell victim to the groups and made wrong choices and believed in the wrong ppl can gwt crucified? its a strange world in this land lol. do wish the best for you and think you a great person. Anyway, so how r u holding up? ik even though you agreed on a break or split shit still hurts and missing just being able to speak on the phone for however is an escape it's like everything disappears and for those 15 mins life is pretty good depending on the convo but then u hang up turn around and be like smack back in to this hell hole of a world. You can call me if you at least its another 15 min of not being in there mentally. lol if any of that makes sense. So what food do u want first when you get home? Lmao when i got out my ex at the time was like babe ill take u anywhere u want to eat and he would take me where ever but all i wanted was a taco salad and nachos from taco bell. Eeew right Lmao idk its what i was craving. My she is 12 she adores you Gypsy she thinks your so brave and omg beautiful your her crush lol which is weird but she is a gay 12 yr old. she asked the other day since your famous do u sign autographs. i was like hmm maybe if you write her she will write you a personal letter. Ik what you did in eyes of the law was wrong i get that. No one can say they know what its like if they never been there before but i do know Gypsy. wanted so badly and desperately to get away from my moms bc he was molesting me and	page 524

Family & friends are awesome and if they love you, will still be there. But this union is of only 2 people & Gypsy. Do what makes you happy, not what others think will. 08/30/2019 20:05:23	Inbound	O my goodness sweet babygirl, Gypsy, just watched your Enews interview. So nice to hear your voice again, very well done interview!! I've stayed offline, written/texted to you or in awhile — A couple months ago, wrote a comment to on the By Proxy page— It wasn't nasty or mean, just matter of fact my feelings of her treatment towards you and your Dad, and and fan. had read another article online wher made the quote, "I own Gypsy's life story", "I own the rights to Gypsy's life", everytime read quotes like that, it made my skin crawl. No one "owns" anyone on this Planet!! You've broke free from being 'owned'. So stated my opinion of leaving be!! got blocked lol! So didn't anymore. Or you. thought would be upset with my words:(Then when added to the new group, read the email that you, yourself wrote My heart starting racing, it was I got this!!! @ @ like hold my beer M so happy, relieved y/all finally saw thru the falsehood had your back, 2 months ago and didn't even know it!!!!!! As I've stated, I've never loved anyone I've never met— fan, intrigued, care, concern, an online friend, don't know what it is—but do love ya You've got a voice, louder for the ones in the So Proud of You!! do believe, in time, you should get a lawyer/public relations representative that you can trust!! Once released, you can do so much for advocacy for munchausen syndrome by proxy. And also, do believe, attention to children who have lived your life, for real. Like my son, he never wanted the years of medical treatments, but it kept him alive. The real children of childhood cancer, diseases, muscular dystrophy, asthma— Everything you "had"— you could bring worldwide attention to the treatments and procedures and medications of so many. know that's a lot right now. But everytime go to a Children's Hospital, especially St Jude, think of you!!!! Or just do cosmetology like you want to:)) I'm surprised you cut your hair, but it's looks good on you!! You could even do an old fashioned pixie cut, you've got a beautiful face to pull it off, and confidence makes you even more beautiful!!!:)) I've been busy, traveling the United States on an 18 wheeler with my husband. Just got back from Portland, Oregon. a long trip from Louisiana ha! Doing a turtle and alligator sauce piquant' and grill for Labor Day!! wait 'til out, to see it all for yourself, and mostly, hanging out at the beach, walking on the beach, with your toes in the sand— pa And I've got more postcards for you, oh my!! Lol! stay strong together, and be cautious of all the snakes that want a bite of your fame!! We got you Gyps, God got you, and your supporters got all y'all!!	page 232
08/30/2019 18:58:57	Inbound	Good afternoon Gypsy. It has been some time since have written you. Although, you havent written back to me, as of yet; wanted to pop in and check up on you. I am unsure if mentioned this before but i am part of an online group on facebook that supports you very much! Word got back to the group that you and your fiance have broken up. dont know anything about your relationship but know break ups can be hard. know you probably have no interests in unsolicited advice on this issue especially from strangers but just know it's from a good place. A lot of ppl know your story and even though we dont know you personally, we are invested in you and your story and care about how you are and how you will move forward once you are no longer in prison or controlled by someone else. Your start in life wasnt very mainstream (normal) and you were led by a sick mind that impacted your perception of the world physically and mentally. Therefore understand the need for something normal or at least a stark difference from your past experience. Hormones lead our hearts and brains wjen we are young anyway but to be trapped and have those same desires can do a number on us. It can add desperation to the love you want. It can put weird expectations on a relationship. You will not know who you really are until you can live your life as a free woman, a free adult to choose her own path. hope you can see being single and having no love interests for now is probably the very best thing for you. Young love puts a lot of trust and consideration into the person we love. Therefore, there is this needed approval we seek. You have a chance to finally experience life based on your own expectations of the world without answering to anyone else. That is something most of us take for granted that for you would seem like a much deserved gift from the Gods themselves. who knows maybe you already know this, maybe it's why your single now, dont know. But want to make sure that you do. interested in knowing what interests you, what are your plans after prison? What do you do in prison to pass the time? Do they offer a way to get your GED? Prepare you for college courses? Any clue where you want to put your time and be successful at? Honestly it sucks why people know you but you could certainly use people knowing who you are as a platform to move forward. It's not so great always having to depend on other people and think earning your keep will make you feel so great and accomplished. hope you are focusing on yourself in a way to help you be more independent when you are released. I, myself have anxiety issues so it makes things a lil more challenging. So, am trying to get involved in politics lol It means getting to know your community. hope this will help me manage and control it better. love helping people but have always been restricted by my nerves. Jumping all in is harder to back out from. So we will see. have been dubbed many peoples unofficial therapist too. I am always so much better at helping others sort out their life then am at doing for myself am finding that is usually the case for most professions. Almost like the painters house is never painted or the mechanics car always needs work Haha So noticed think can send you pictures on here? do you know if it costs extra for that? I'm a photographer and live in Hawaii. Maybe can send you photos to give you inspiration for when you are let out. Hawaii is amazing place to visit to just relax and enjoy the beautiful scenery. very therapeutic. Maybe you might find yourself visiting one day. After all you been through you deserve some time to just enjoy being somewhere.	page 639

Please DONT let the ignorance of others ruin your day. YOU know in your heart what we share is nothing but love and you have brought me only positive things to my life. fuck the haters!, and know you are one hell of a knight in shining armor who this damsel will most certainly ride off into the sunset with :-)) Never forget one very true fact, in life, you can change yourself in every way possible to appease others, and still have at least one person who has a negative opinion about you. no matter what you do, its never going to win everyone over. So YOU do what makes YOU happy and screw the haters! if you need someone to tell you the truth about our relationship TALK TO ME WHOIS THE OTHER HALF IN THIS RELATIONSHIP.. don't listen to people behind a screen who comment on our relationship because these people do NOT know us! these are people who are jealous of us. Everything you have gone through and going through, is your story. And one day pray that you will use all this together. Your story will one day be someone's survival guide. Your a strong young woman and you can get through any obstacles that come your way. Like always say, bring on the boulders!! You can't keep a strong woman down. Keep your faith..God will give you peace and comfort no matter what. I told you once before that do not share our corresponding with anyone. Not even my own daughter knows only that have received a few emails from you. She is, next to me of course. A believer that You Gypsy are the most courageous and strongest young woman of all time. know you need your privacy and maybe overstepped it in that Video Gram sent you. really have no place to give you advise , especially No one knows your relationship better than you I truly pray your little break from each other brings you back together. Anyways, am sorry if have said anything that upset you in any way. still hope to receive a call from you one evening. Hearing your voice will let me know you are OK. don't follow any groups on FB or TV, because feel if there was something you wanted to talk to me about, You would. What little my daughter knows is, you don't get much privacy. So pray that you get some soon. Part of the healing process is looking at the now and plan for a bright future. Sorry to go on and on. just want you to know, am here for you, no matter what I still would love to come visit. But need a visitation form. did see, when looking on the Missouri DOC, to see what it says about the days and times to visitation. It has a place where to print a visitation form. And send will do that if you want me to. also looked into the Video Visaition thing and can do that to. I just have to set it up and schedule a time and send it in via the Jpay site and they will send it in to where you are to get approved. Of course on my dime..And of course only if you wanted me to schedule a Video visitation, till come see you in person. will leave it all up to you as to whether you want to build our friendship up or not. So, was informed that Sabastian has a girlfriend now, which am happy for him. thats not the point, the point is it made me think about if that was you. if one day, called and she told me that you had a new girlfriend IF after we separated, how would feel? the truth is, it is this very thought that made me take that step, wayyy back when, to tell you what is in my heart and where want us to go from here. couldn't even think of this without tears filling my eyes. it tore me up inside to think of someone else in my place or in the place that could/should be. its crazy that to this day, still feel that deep passion to want to be that woman that stands by your side. and i just wanted to share this with you, knowing the "chem lab" is still exploding, at least for me. I love you, that will never change, but am also coming to an acceptance if the "chem lab" is an old abandoned room filled with dust for you. and with each day that passes without hearing your voice, am giving up the will to fight for us,	page 176

"Hey man, am so SO sorry to message you. Trust me it was the last thing wanted to do. This isnt to harass you or anything but obviously couldn't help to like not see what was going on, and just please read this, really need your help. So, LIKE YOU wrote a letter to Gypsy AS SOON AS I learned everything that happened. was way after you (and after, unfortunately, all of the media amongst other things) so really didnt expect to hear back because I know shes so wrapped up in other things. Anyways, wrote the letter probably almost 2 or 3 months ago tbh and like when say wrote it mean went and got stamps that day and just sent it out the same day. know it might sound weird to put it like this, but it was almost like was kind of eager to talk to her. Nonetheless, a few months later I didn't get anything and kept researching because just wanted to talk to her. Just girl to girl. know that she has a friend, but sometimes it's nice to have a lady friend you can ALWAYS trust too. felt like for a while only needed my fiance, (and still do feel that way) BUT it's still nice to have like a friend connection with someone. So emailed her on Jpay a few weeks ago and got a message back! Dude was stoked, just because like i want a friend that badly that i can relate to in some way.. some people could take that really bad, so don't talk to anyone about it. It was the "Hi, how are you today? :)" message and emailed her back twice since then, but still havent heard back. Like said, with media and bs people hounding her all of the time, get it. Unless she just didnt want to talk to me, because tbh may have came off as a creep idk. was just trying to be and to tell her that really just wanted to be there for her. wanted to start a relationship (friendship) with her and grow. Just somehow feel like we relate, it's hard to explain. Just if you could find the kindness in your heart, if you even get to read this, please ask her to email me. just really need a friend, and would like that with her. mean when i tell you i felt PHYSICAL pain for her, i just cannot explain it. think about it everyday tbh. want to be another real person to her. Not someone using contact with her for attention or to attract media and make money. That's so messed up. But anyways, keep rambling. would appreciate it GREATLY, if you got this to her somehow. Once again, thank you so so much." my last hone "	page 691

I'm not quite sure how should start this letter off My name is and I am a MSBP survivor too. just want to offer you support and a friendly person to talk to who understands what been through. have followed your story since the beginning and was drawn to it because for so many years, I thought was alone and that no one would understand what I've been through. It wasn't until your story came out that finally had the courage to get away from my mother. My mother also alienated me from my father from the time was 8 years old and didn't speak with him again until a couple years ago when finally broke free. It's been really hard to learn to trust him and even harder to learn to trust my step mother. am sure don't have to tell you that though, I'm sure you know exactly what I'm talking about. know you get tons of emails and letters, but guess my hope is that you will see this and know that not everyone out here has poor opinions of you and that most importantly you are not alone in the recovery process. Leaving my moms grasp on me, began realizing that had no idea who was as a person. had no likes, dislikes, opinions, etc of my own. My mom had manipulated me so much that don't even know sometimes which memories are actual memories of mine or if they are just lies she fed to me so often that started believing they were true at some point. For a long time it felt like she stole my opportunity to develop my individuality, but I've worked hard at figuring it out and I'm learning more and more about who am every day. know it's hard to trust people, especially with the flood of people contacting you constantly. But if you ever need someone to talk to who understands the emotional trauma behind the things been through, want you to know that I am here for you. know how sometimes it can be hard to talk to just anyone because it's not an upbringing that most people can fathom having lived through. Please know that if you need a friend to talk to, here. hope doing well. don't know much about what life is like in prison, but hope that you are able to rest and enjoy life as much as you can. You are in my thoughts and prayers. This road of recovery is not an easy one, wish you all the happiness and peace in the world. My name I got your JPay info from Dawn Brown. have been following your case from the beginning and just recently joined the support group on Facebook that your stepmom is a part of wanted to give you some words of encouragement and let you know am on your side. don't judge you for anything you have done. don't want the obvious subject of our conversation. People can say all day long they wouldn't but no one knows until they walk in your shoes. hope we can correspond back and forth. know your family is in Louisiana. live there also. But in the north part of Louisiana. Been here all my life. Well just wanted to get in touch with you. Hope to hear back from you. Best wishes,	page 693

Such as the drama, the issues of victims of crimes, and Domestic Violence. We're going to start doing more support for members of the group as well and move forward. You're the inspiration for it. Stay strong. wear your crown and know you have a lot of support. Sincerely, I am writing this because, have been getting so many emails from people telling me about the drama going on between aka aka and they are hashing it out via social media, a very wide platform to which a lot of people see and comment. so am asking you and I please leave the social media groups because it is not a place to find positive outlooks with like minded individuals, but rather a battle ground for drama. though I have the urge to smack talk anyone who says anything bad about my loved ones, fighting fire with fire only creates more fire. this is me asking to throw water on it. if they want to continue to duke it out so everyone can watch, that's them, let's take a different path and leave it be. please please please get out of the groups? if ran a group it would be a coombyya fest compiled of hugs and rainbows lol anyone up for a Disney sing along???, let's make like Elsa and Let it Go :) anyways please share this with mom, and choose to ignore the negativity. thanks big hugs	page 690

09/11/2019 06:28:10	Outbound	Here is my response to your application, issue #1 I'm pretty sure you have a good best by date and your sperm will be good for years and years even after I'm home. :-)) issue #2 have taken the traditional route meeting my family and such, and to me it seems to only complicate things. think the pressure for a man to provide only the best for his girl is more placed by the in laws rather than the girl aka me. don't want expensive things feel that if you had plans for in the long run of moving into a place of your own at some point when marriage and kids are being talked about then it can be addressed. however a more stable life is one of those things that has to be worked for its not given. won't say "All you need is love" however the success of a relationship depends on how much love is shared. so in a nutshell, I'm saying, don't feel that you are inadequate just because of your current living situation, things change, things evolve, and so will you when you feel its necessary. :-)) you have brownie points in your favor. I don't but it doesn't always take to actually meet someone to get an idea of the persona. believe he's a keeper. He remains respectful & very loyal to you. He stands up for you and only you! That's rare in humans these days. hugs 2 years, and have officially ended our long term relationship today. Although our engagement seemed to be the momentary height of our couples bliss, We had been having issues for the last few months dealing with the stress from media attention, personal hardships, and the everyday struggle to maintain a relationship while one is free, and the other is incarcerated. We have had periods of break ups and make ups, and now equally recognize that this is an unhealthy pattern for us both The decision to go our separate ways was chosen based on the fact that still have approximately another 4 years of incarceration left to complete before being released, and could only then have every element that makes a relationship work successfully. gave my heart and soul into this relationship and had so innocently believed this time would have been my happily ever after, even with my current circumstances being the fighting odds, but was mistaken. Though the last 2 years has had its ups and downs, don't regret the happiness and love that was shared between he and I. will keep the wonderfully beautiful moments and memories safe in my heart forever is a kind and loving person whom still love wholeheartedly and wish him every happiness. Going forward, will be focusing on healing from this heartbreak and ask for prayers so that may find comfort and emotional healing. will be throwing myself into my studies and continuing to try and achieve personal goals. Thank you for your support. sending love and hugs	page 062
09/12/2019 08:14:49	Outbound	My conditions are as follows, #1 Stay out of social media groups. (nothing but drama filled with only haters) #2 Be honest about YOUR own feelings and thoughts uninfluenced by others. (I'm in love with YOU not everyone else) #3 No more negative talk about your involvement in my life. (you are every bit of a positive in my life and are my reason for becoming the woman am.) #4 Try and communicate with me about your wants and needs. (I'm not a mind reader, nor do know how a man thinks) #5 Hold my hand and don't let go (it won't always be easy, but if we stand by our conditions, we can make it) those are my conditions. will admit that don't feel right about pulling our application, its a gut feeling like its wrong pulling it.. however will never force you to do something you don't equally want. if the plans we had have changed, then you must let me deal with the emotions that come with that decision. you have reserved yourself and so shall I. want to be with you, but want more stability for our relationship, and guess, that will come in time. am relieved that your decision to leave me was changed. it hurt like hell to hear you say the things you said last night. feel that too many outside influences are affecting your judgment. relate more then you know, you think you have it hard? at least your not the murder monster in the relationship. people look at me like I'm something evil and they judge you by proxy. I'm sorry. I'm sorry that this is my baggage my past and present circumstances is my baggage. but can promise you no more interviews or social media posts from me. At this point, let's get back to the basics of each other and just enjoy being a couple again. make a small date day/night here and there. we can do some quizzes maybe have a quicky robe night and plan for a visit at the beginning of the year. January lol yeah kinda comical or February for Valentine's Day :-) understand if "talking" is not how you cope with things, however talking is the base of our relationship right now, these phone dates, however short, is what we have until your living here and can visit every weekend. Put a little effort in, and you might find yourself having a good time and finding happiness in our relationship again as well as a reassured sense that your a positive in my life. let's take baby steps together. love you, want to come home to you, need you by my side. your my soulie. 09/13/2019 11:40:13	Outbound	Dad, Things are getting better in my life, guess when life gives you hell it makes you realize just how strong ya have to be. do have good news, talked with the warden for like 10 minutes today and asked about video visits and he said they will be starting installations for the live feed in the next few weeks and that they will be soon. in addition to that, asked if the 15 minute phone calls are permanent and he said no, its a trial basis because of issues with inmates, and it could possibly change back to no time restrictions. :-) and are doing ok, we are taking baby steps after having 2 "break ups" and make ups. he is very happy to hear this news, at least it gave him hope. he has been going through a lot and needed something to lif his hope for our relationship. you are right communication is key and for the last 2 months our communication went to shit. Last night we had th daddy of all talks. he had been pushed so far in his head believing the negative things that the general public says on social media saying he is "bad for me." therefore has been in the mind set, "If you love her let her go" he is overwhelmed by the media attention and is not handling it well. though now that things are calming back down, he is coming around to talking with me more. and feel if our communication can be worked on then we can make it another 2 years, cant say any further then that, its kinda something that needs to be taken one day at a time. am gonna be starting another class, one on healthy relationships and another on dealing with anxiety. did a risk assessment that everyone has had to take and got a low risk of coming back to prison, well duh... but hey cool its another piece of paper saying "hey let her out of this dungeon" lol anyways, I'll keep you posted on anything new. hope all is well, love ya. She thinks she is some sort of journalist but all her material is being done in very poor taste. She made a long post tonight on facebook containing photos from a conversation you guys have had and the comments were on your side and her having no right to talk about you in such a manner and her just putting her nose where it doesn't belong which upset her so she deleted the post. It seems her main intent is to "expose" you, she says. I'm sure you may have already received similar messages about this situation but would recommend not giving her any more of your time. She's toxic and hyper emotional and can't even call her a journalist. Keep strong in there- you'll be out soon enough. You have tons of people who support you and shut down haters on the outside. - 23 yr old from Nashville, TN	page 278

You never think your gonna mess up your life so bad and do something to land yourself in the "big house" until the moment when your forced to put on a orange jumpsuit that does nothing for your figure and manages to make you look like someone out of a Netflix TV series, only to realize your life IS the new TV series. As the headlines print your mugshot that could make a homeless person who hasn't bathed in months look better, as you stare at the image of a person you yourself doesn't recognize, and so begins the journey to find who you really are inside. Four and a half years pass and am still on this journey of self discovery. what have learned? have learned that though am 5 feet tall, can stand over my haters heads. have learned that have issues, but they are the parts of me held exclusively for my partner to see as he is the only one who can overcome them. have learned that the people who are the most misunderstood are the most beautiful. and that love is a doorway to a life worth living with all of its joys and pains. have learned to accept the parts of me that are flawed, to show the scars that are the road map to where have been, but not where I'm going. 09/18/2019 21:50:28	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, I'm kind of socially awkward, so forgive me. I'm not quite sure how should start this letter off My name i and iam a MSBP survivor too. just want to offer you support and a friendly person to talk to who understands what been through. have followed your story since the beginning and was drawn to it because for so many years, I thought was alone and that no one would understand what I've been through. It wasn't until your story came out that finally had the courage to get away from my mother. My mother also alienated me from my father from the time was 8 years old and didn't speak with him again until a couple years ago when finally broke free. It's been really hard to learn to trust him and even harder to learn to trust my step mother. am sure don't have to tell you that though, I'm sure you know exactly what I'm talking about. know you get tons of emails and letters, but guess my hope is that you will see this and know that not everyone out here has poor opinions of you and that most importantly you are not alone in the recovery process. Leaving my moms grasp on me, began realizing that had no idea who was as a person. had no likes, dislikes, opinions, etc of my own. My mom had manipulated me so much that don't even know sometimes which memories are actual memories of mine or if they are just lies she fed to me so often that started believing they were true at some point. For a long time it felt like she stole my opportunity to develop my individuality, but I've worked hard at figuring it out and I'm learning more and more about who am every day. know it's hard to trust people, especially with the flood of people contacting you constantly. But if you ever need someone to talk to who understands the emotional trauma behind the things been through, want you to know that iam here for you. know how sometimes it can be hard to talk to just anyone because it's not an upbringing that most people can fathom having lived through. Please know that if you need a friend to talk to, here. hope doing well. don't know much about what life is like in prison, but hope that you are able to rest and enjoy life as much as you can. You are in my thoughts and prayers. This road of recovery is not an easy one, wish you all the happiness and peace in the world. My name I got your JPay info from Dawn Brown. have been following your case from the beginning and just recently joined the support group on Facebook that your stepmom] is a part of. wanted to give you some words of encouragement and let you know am on your side. don't judge you for anything you have done. don't want the obvious the subject of our conversation. People can say all day long they wouldn't but no one knows until they walk in your shoes. hope we can correspond back and forth. know your family is in Louisiana. live there also. But in the north part of Louisiana. Been here all my life. Well just wanted to get in touch with you. Hope to hear back from you. Best wishes,	page 693
09/19/2019 20:37:40	Inbound	Gypsy, This is crazy but just saw a story about you on t.v. know how media can be. Anyway. The reason I'm writing is just to say that spent 15 years in prison in georgia for a similar charge. It was crazy but at the time so was I. was released in 2014. Im now off parole. iam buying a home and rebuilding relationships with my family. Im quite a bit older than you. just want to say to you that you can do anything you want to do with the rest of your life. When you leave there...leave. leave everything there and don't look back. Don't feel guilty about the ones you leave. Live your life and be happy. You deserve it. It is your job to make you happy. I'll send a stamp in case you wish to respond but you aren't obligated. 09/19/2019 21:13:09	Inbound	Hi my name i and just wanted to tell you that think that you are a very brave girl. To put up with all you did in your life and to come out of it as a sweet person is beyond anything that can imagine. am going to give you my address so you can write me back if you want. am sure you have a million people writing to you every day so you don't have to write me back if you don't want to but would love to talk to you about anything you want. you that have been keeping up with you since you went to jail. missed watching the lifetime movie but as I hear it was not good. have been watching the act on Hulu and if they even have a little bit of your life right sorry. can't imagine what it would be like to live that way. am sorry that this was your only way out of it. Here is my address write me any time. You don't know me, but wanted to reach out to encourage and support you. watched your story and felt compelled to write. Like you, also grew up with a very abusive and mentally ill mother. Throughout my life I've suffered with extreme depression. This was due to the mental and physical abuse received, from the person who gave me life. couldn't wrap my mind around how or why a mother would treat her own child so cruel. can truly understand your desperation to escape the abuse that you endured from your mom. No one ever comes to save us. We just have to endure it and try to survive until tragedy happens, or until of age to leave. I'm not sure about your mom, but my mom was and still IS very manipulative and cunning. She hid her abuse. So no one knew the hell was going through. America's system is broken when it comes to protecting children from an abusive mother. I'm grown now and have gone through many years of extensive therapy. I'm much healthier now and I've tried having a healthier relationship with my mom. However, she's lied on me, tried putting me in prison, she's tried to get my license revoked and she's tried to put me in a psychiatric facility. All her efforts to destroy me has failed. However, for my own safety, decided to cut off all contact with her. As I see she truly hates me and wants to destroy me. Gypsy, you have been through a lot in your young life. However, pray that God allows you to find true, pure, love, kindness and happiness. also hope you have a good support system. As you deserve that and more .. I'll deposit a few stamps onto your account. I'm praying for you.	page 102

09/21/2019 14:41:08	Inbound	Dear Sweet Gypsy, Have not heard from you in a while. Hope things are going well for you. hope You have worked things out. You so deserve love and happiness. I am still here for you. still would like to visit you and talk with you about things we so have in common. Things can relate with you on. printed out a Visitation Form from the Missouri DOC, but need to know if you want me to come visit or not. I am not wanting anything from you. just want to be your friend and help you along the way. There is still the phone time for you to call me if you The only evenings am not available is Sunday and Wednesdays nights. Anyway, hope you are doing ok. want to share with you something that made me think of you. Because you are such a strong young lady. In some circumstances of difficulty it is amazing to see how some succeed greatly when arising against a challenge while others seem to get discouraged and shut down completely in the face of adversity. Those who are able to succeed greatly in the face of stressful turmoil are those who are strong. Whether it be mental, physical, spiritual, or a good mix of all three, when someone has great strength it shows in the way that they handle themselves in different situations in their everyday lives. Being strong is a trait that takes time and effort to achieve, but with much hard work, dedication, and determination, being strong all around is definitely something that anyone is capable of One main component of being strong is getting yourself to realize that periods of pain won't last forever and that whatever situation you may be going through in your present, will only make you stronger in the future. Well, still been really hot here. Not much going on with me. But I did have a dinner given to me in honor of my work with the victims of child abuse. Was awesome, that people appreciated me for what do. Makes everything suffered as a child, worth it. It is really not about me. It is making a difference in the life of those who have suffered child abuse in ways that can relate and share my strength with them. That is what want for us, as friends. To be someone you can learn on. Not be judged and safe to talk about anything. It goes no further than me. Just the way am. do hope to hear from you soon. At least so know you ok and happy. Your Always in my Prayers..	page 661

If you owe back taxes will pay those too. It will be used to live in by my daughter, not used for any media movies or anything like that at all. You can call me ai or write me have time on my phone so you do not have to pay for the phone calls. Oh! am not sure if anyone ever told you but you can file medical malpractice claims on the Drs that treated you for disorders you didn't have! You really should because they really neglected to treat you responsibly. If you are interested in that can help you with that too. I have had a interesting last few days. had a particularly upsetting conversation wit today. it appear: is trying to snake her way back int good favor, by means of into thinking she wants a truce, but wants her and to do an interview about the truce, to which I gav more then an ear full on the matter. but that is less upsetting then what found out was posted on YouTube that made me physically sick, every crime scene photo was revealed i (By Proxy) on YouTube yesterday. The video was reported and later taken down, and even more upsetting Dawn Brown asked if she could post one of the never made public photos, of what??? my mothers nearly cut off head. WHAT THE FUCK IS WRONG WITH THESE PEOPLE said no of course, but I'm sickened by how disrespectful everyone is to me, to my mothers family. I'm just in a very bad mood and I'm pissed at everyone.	page 178

Peace n Blessings from SW MICHIGAN... Hi Thanks for the encouragement. :-) I am doing well in my current circumstance besides for me, prison is more freedom then ever had before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED having passed everything except math, I'm striving to pass that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental health as well as to teach me coping skills to deal with my past trauma. most of my days consist of work and classes, and In my free time like to go to the gym, the library or just sit outside enjoying the beautiful weather. :-) on the honor wing which is for inmates who have earned extra privileges though good behavior. I am happily engaged to a wonderful man who has had my heart for almost 2 years and has been nothing but the biggest blessing giving me the love, understanding and support that deserve. My main focus is making good use of my time, taking every opportunity to better myself through programs, classes and therapy so that when am released am able to live and function with ease in society. I do not enjoy the "fame" my case nor my traumatic past has given me, however do hope to become an advocate for children who have experienced abuse by parents with Munchausen By Proxy in the hopes it will encourage others to be proactive in recognizing the warning signs as well as give victims a voice. In recent years have chosen to shy away from the media in order to focus on my own emotional healing as well as the healing process of my family and friends. just want to live a normal life, move forward and focus on the here and now and put my efforts to creating a better future for myself. :-) have made life long friends along my journey some have met just like this...lol have friends that have met in here, others have been just sweet people who didnt know me at the time , but took the time to know me and now we are very close true friends. I'm blessed to have loyal friends stand by me through all this. My future plans include, travel, a big wedding and a few children someday. my dreams may sound simple, but they are simply perfect for me. :-) don't really write much, however do love new friends to message occasionally and enjoy getting to know new people. these Jpay emails are super slow and sometimes get backed up, so please don't take offence to the slow response. I appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence, many has signed the Free Gypsy Blanchard petition created by my Now, I must ask a favor, if you havent already done so, am respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for my freedom and write letters expressing support for my early release to either The Missouri State Governor Michael L. 09/30/2019 08:55:38	Outbound	He I just talked tonight and she seems to really be into you and think its genuine. the timing might be questionable, but she told me that she does want to continue to stay in touch even after she is released. she did admit that she was totally serious about homplanning with you but she felt awkward after you kinda rejected that idea so she played it off like "oh just kidding" but she wasn't. felt like she kinda was stand offish when spoke negatively about her moving in with you so soon. told her that think y'all need to get to know one another better. if you are not interested in a potential relationship with her, you kinda need to let her down easy, just say'n. Besides a relationship between one in and one out is hard. how many times have you heard me cry on the phone over more then i'd like to admit. which things are getting better, but still feel like don't make him happy anymore and there is someone else. always feel like he belongs with someone I'm not, the blonde hair, valley girl bimbo bitch who thinks the Beatles is a car, type of chick. Maybe he should just lol she's legal now. for real though feel inadequate for him. and know you would just say fuck em, dump em, but all of the bullshit aside, am in love with him and all want is his happiness. despite all of the times felt let down, the broken promises, the almost weddings, the hours spent in phone lines just for him to dismiss me because was a bother, all of the bad that came crying to you about, there are tons of good. many times felt homesick and he would comfort me. the times that he defended me from or anyone else. the things he would say that would be so meaningful that it touched my soul. our stupid personal quarks that match together perfectly. those are the reasons why I love him, he has gave me wings, broke my heart, built me up, tore me down, rebuilt me and all of the above, and still feel unconditional love for him. THAT is why want to marry him, because if its for better or worse then feel i have done that already many times over. so if you wanted my 2¢ about you feel if you and her don't even have a fraction the level of a connection that and have, its best to have a platonic friendship rather then being a couple, because it takes something amazing to be able to handle the "prison relationship lie" OK well that's all have to say on the matter :-) sending Hugs	page 214

B.A.C.A. stands for Bikers Against Child Abuse. So we finally reached our goal of 100,000 letters supporting your early release. They were mailed about a month ago, to the Governor of Missouri, The Missouri Parole Board and Missouri State Senators. did not want get your Hope's up, so have not told you about my project on helping you get released early. But, to my surprise received a Certified Letter from one of the State of Missouri Senators today! Stating that my very own personal letter reached his desk. And that have shed light on your case from a different perspective. That he personally would like to see this through "Let Gypsy Come Home" as named it. They ask me to call and set up a time to come and speak to them, along with some of the B.A.C.A Members as well. called and it looks like January before we can all get everyone's schedule together. Of course there is paperwork involved in speaker on the level of security for the State Senators. am ecstatic that my own letter could make such an impact. figured all the letters would push it through. So, yes am going to come to Missouri as a guest speaker. And pray that my speech in person makes even a bigger impact. I truly believe you will be released earlier than you think. Anyways, though you have not emailed me or called. am still in support of you and your always in my prayer. Your A Strong. Courageous Young Woman. Your future will be as wonderful as you are. Although our engagement seemed to be the momentary height of our couples bliss, We had been having issues for the last few months dealing with the stress from media attention, personal hardships, and the everyday struggle to maintain a relationship while one is free, and the other is incarcerated. We have had periods of break ups and make ups, and now equally recognize that this is an unhealthy pattern for us both. The decision to go our separate ways was chosen based on the fact that still have approximately another 4 years of incarceration left to complete before being released, and could only then have every element that makes a relationship work successfully. gave my heart and soul into this relationship and had so innocently believed this time would have been my happily ever after, even with my current circumstances being the fighting odds, but was mistaken. Though the last 2 years has had its ups and downs, don't regret the happiness and love that was shared between he and I. will keep the wonderfully beautiful moments and memories safe in my heart forever is a kind and loving person whom still love wholeheartedly and wish him every happiness. Going forward, will be focusing on healing from this heartbreak and ask for prayers so that may find comfort and emotional healing. will be throwing myself into my studies and continuing to try and achieve personal goals. 10/04/2019 22:42:32	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, was getting ready for bed when you came across my thoughts. So am laying in bed and just said a special Prayer for you. , as someone who suffered emotional and physical abuse as a child by the ones trusted and loved gives me the empathy to what you have been through. It took me many years to talk openly about it all. When in your email, you said you thought being a leader is your calling. That is so what said many years ago. choose not to live in my past, but to live in the now and the future. God has helped me to heal and given me a purpose. So use my circumstances to help others. You seem to have gotten that calling also and affirms to me that reaching out to you was the right and best thing could have done for you. Having someone who can relate too many different levels helps. As of this week and looking back on those I have helped along the way. Has made all the pain and suffering worth it. After much prayer this week. decided that since all the young ladies have helped in similar situations are living great lives. am now going to focus on doing all I can to help you. appreciate you for letting me in your life. not doing anything for gain or game, just want you to know your not alone. know without a doubt am doing what God wants me to do. Gypsy, am looking forward to becoming great friends with you. Encourage you to be all you can be. Having a great support system really helps. So never forget am on your side all the way. Thank You for giving me this opportunity to pass along my wisdom to someone who know will use the knowledge for the betterment of helping others. So when you said you felt leading was your calling. agree, you just had to find that out yourself. am proud of you and for you! Anyways, sorry was not able to send you money this last month. 10/05/2019 08:09:07	Inbound	Good morning, Gypsy hope enjoying coffee and a bagel with cream cheese, and bacon! really love that you're comfortable talking to me. certainly enjoy talking to you as well. Typically I'm not a huge fan of talking on the phone due to awkward silences, but fä some reason when talk to you it feels like we both have 10,000 words we want to get out at once like we can't say them fast enough. It's a good thing, really like your high energy. Okay as fä as the girlfriend goes, well she isn't my girlfriend anymore. found out she was hooking up with a married guy because of his BMW, and money. So she clearly isn't the one fä me lol. What can ya do right? Wtf is wrong with people!? Life is too short to be around toxic people like that. So needless to say her and be speaking anymore. If did start dating anyone new and they have any type of issue with my friendship with you then that's their problem. They can kick rocks. So I'll look forward to hearing from you on Monday. Yes 5am was as awful as it sounds this morning lol. It should be illegal to force people to wake up before the sun rises! just have to load up on the caffeine and hope work goes by quick. Let me know what you want to see in a videogram. 10/06/2019 20:33:00	Outbound	My One, I miss you to the point it is painful. lay awake wondering why are we doing this to ourselves. Unlike your text t it was never who wanted to be parted from you. know my reasoning for it, did everything possible to make you stay until was left with the realization that i was no longer making you happy. wanted so badly for you and to be closer, both physically and emotionally. Simply feel if you wanted me, if you love me, if was The One, you would have stayed by my side, as my lover, to the end. You should have held me close and just married me, or at least made an effort to bring us closer together. Things would be very different, truly believe we would have been happy. I am placing my attention on others to occupy my mind from dwelling on the thought of you and the emotions felt because of your absence. Last night, as well as today, had a moments of weakness and tried to call you, quite a few times. just wanted to hear your voice, was desperate for relief from the many tears have have cried over the last few days. Part of me is relieved that you remained strong, because had you answered, would have only tried to find my soulie who has me so wrapped, the man who stole my heart with one kiss two years ago. I'm trying to convince myself that my soulie is gone, and in his place someone who is the mirror image of my once perfect lover. have no estimated time of when YOU want us to come back together as a couple or even IF you ever will come back. don't know if this separation will last months or years, if it were up to me, I'd come back without another second being spent apart and let you come to see me immediately, but its not up to me is it? each time we try to do this, always cave in. Doing this just feels wrong in my soul. feel like we shouldn't be apart, we were always stronger together, was always stronger together. :(My mind is restless with a repeating question, why? why did we come to be so distant. what did do so wrong to drive you away? finally had someone good for me, someone who built me up, without you, have no one. If you were in love with me, we could have been each others stability throughout. You were NEVER selfish by reason of you being my lover, you was doing the most selfless thing by being everything needed you to be for me, holding me and taking on whatever came our way. you ARE being selfish by not taking my feelings into consideration when leaving me alone. always told you would be your woman as long as you wanted me. guess I'm no longer your woman now am I? wish could tell my heart to feel that way. The opinions of some, when they said that we shouldnt be in a relationship, what they meant is that, the possibility of me getting my heart broke at such a venerable time would be bad for me. You as a person was never bad for me. understand if you need a few months to yourself to work things out in your mind and or work on your personal stability with your living situation, your career, family, friends, but simply can not deal with years. truly miss you, and hope that you are not in as much anguish and heartbreak as am. will remind you yet again, You were, and always will be My One. Your a wonderful would have worn that Tiffany's ring, and claimed that unique last name proudly. <3 I love you with all my heart. GypsyRose Alcida Blanchard.	page 178

But it's all good shaved the scruff off this morning so be too bad by Friday morning when I leave. do love my Patriots and Tom Brady. Boston sports fans have been quite blessed over the last 20 years. I'm at the airport and just got your message waiting to board my plane. I'm excited to see the Smoky Mountains for the first time. It should be fun. My boss already has me on a work laptop making me do part orders lol. I'm definitely not working at full speed, promise you that. No never stop taking too much. It's definitely part of your charm. know you still have demons from your past with your nightmares and all. Just know with me you don't ever have to hide it, or put on any type of “interview face” when you talk to me. know it goes without saying at this point, but can't drive that point home enough. Yes it's definitely a different experience talking to someone in prison. mean knew there would be some rules you needed to follow but had no idea. You'll have to fill me in on the do's and don'ts when the video visit machine starts to work. So as interesting as your story is, that isn't what find so intriguing about you. What it is, is how you've come out of it, and who you are today. And know like you told me last night you definitely have bad times/days, but you still have a positive attitude towards the future. Regardless do believe 99.9% of the human race would not have the same outlook on life. I've said it before, and it's true. You're perseverance, and will to live is unmatched. And that's what love about you. I this morning thanking her for putting in the good word for me to you. Welp it's almost time to board. I'll look forward to hearing from you Friday. probably be back home till about noon or so. Have a good day, Gypsy. Talk to ya soon!! Go Pats	page 362

But the beautiful thing is that there is always second chances. I've been know. You have a gift and that is the ability to reach others going through hard times and help them through.. you and are nearly two sides of the same coin. HATE to see hurting or in pain and wish could take that away from you. know you've probably heard lots of negative things but can tell you that you are a good person and have a good soul. really do enjoy and highly appreciate these messages from you, it actually is a huge highlight for me. As far as I'm going... pretty good work is still work. supervise 20 employees so there is a lot of coaching and mentoring that do. do own my on house, single, no kids, but do have a cat..she's always there to keep me company. 10/09/2019 16:54:52	Outbound	Thanks Dad. I think the worst part is truly believe if was out there he and would be amazing together, and still hope that in the end it is him. Right now he doesn't want to accept my calls. so will either wait for him to reach out first or try and talk with him at the beginning of the year. The day he and ended it, it was more of me letting him go after he has repeatedly suggested we break now then get back together later. felt he has wanted this for a few months, but was always the one to try and convince him to stay. and right now whatever is going on within himself with the mix of thoughts and emotions. he and recognized that his personal happiness in his own life is affecting our relationship. When had a card, a drawn portrait, plus a little gift from a catalog sent to him and it arrived on the date of our anniversary and he didn't so much as even buy me a card!!! (which is totally out of the norm) and then proceeded to lie ABOUT sending the "card." realized that whatever was going on, it was on his end, not mine. and couldn't spend anymore time or effort into him if it isn't 50/50. so I called him and said ok, I'm letting you go, won't fight anymore. he said all the "but still love you, still want you." and I'm like want you to come back when your more mature, go live life, bang chicks and party, then come back when your ready to be my stability. its been one week and have cried only every night into my tear stained pillowcase. thank God have friends who are kind enough to be there if need to cry or talk. its not that far being alone, its the amount of trust and loyalty that gave to him specifically. I have never trusted so fully, until HE gained that trust. what hurts more then anything else is the fact bared my soul, and feel rejected after such openness. all the normal break up pains is just extra. the missing, the lonely, the reminiscent thoughts, all sugar on top. I'm OK though, I'll live. has beina workina on a proiect. she has aotten the attention of a state senator about my earlv Mv what's up pimp juice, moms crying, what's going on with and you? are y'all getting together??? asking her what's up, nothing mean or anything just havent messaged her in awhile. guess my big question is what are you gonna do? seriously dad how long are you gonna be messaging chicks and pretending to be happy I just want you to be happy. didn't tell her that already knew I just want a heads up on what cha thinking. love you,	page 187

10/10/2019 17:54:55	Inbound	Dearest Gypsy, Hope this email finds you in good spirits. know you are busy with your teaching. so proud of you doing that. Your strength and healing will come with time. And this period of time will benefit you once you are out. I did get that Visitation Form mailed there Tue morning. Not sure how long it takes to get approved. But do know there will be no problem getting my approval to come visit you. am looking forward to meeting you and show you the encouragement you so deserve. have not about my news yet. wanted to get the ok from the B.A.C.A. BIKERS AGAINST CHILD ABUSE groups first. Since we have been working so diligently together to make this happen. We decided early on, that all decisions will be made together. It was brought up though with one chapter, that they in no way do we want who ever is to be in the middle of this and have the media all over this. B.A.C.A. prides themselves on keeping anonymity about things. We meet for our monthly meeting next Wed in Nashville, we will decide then whether it would help to have your Father in with us. Our goal is to see you get out and be free to live as much as a normal life as possible. But...If you do desire, will push that you want your Father to be involved with our "Let Gypsy Come Home" We just want you to be happy and safe. None of us cares to speak to the media or anything like that. For your sake and after we succeed in our endeavor (Yes, we are keeping it positive) The choice then will be yours to make. But truly, the media means nothing to us. It is all about you Gypsy! And your being set free early. Anyways, if you do definitely want me to contact your father and tell them, if you have not already told them. I will do so. As far as whoever the person, that was brought up at our last meeting. We don't feel this is any other business. Someone said she was a busy body. We think you need your privacy and this is a private matter. Again though, it will be totally up to you, as to who shall know about us coming to Missouri to the State Capital. You can just let me know who you want me to contact. Whatever makes you happy, that will do for you. I still have that phone time that you can use if you ever want to call. will transfer some money to you next week, for what ever way you want to use it. So, is it getting better for you to speak to others in a leadership role? hope so! As much as am sure it helps them, it probably helps you too. am just so proud for you. excited to get approved, so we can visit. can make it a weekend thing. I will go for now. But remember, hold your head high, smile and walk with out shame. Your a strong young lady and am looking forward to watching you grow in your journey of future blessings. Hope to hear from you soon Love, hugs and prayers... Your Friend Always,	page 662

Can't afford to lose anything as important as this. Anyways, here is what love doing most. personally want to leave every experience and presence of every person encounter in a better way than when it began want to be one who brings hope, love & laughter to all. want to live my life with happiness & pleasure. figure the best way to accomplish this is to be one who brings these to others along the way. 10/11/2019 15:53:35	Outbound	Hello M OK now that I have time to sit and email, hi how are you? :-) totally understand if y'all need to talk about things regarding} and dad knowing about the project. did tel you had wrote a letter to a senator but would like you to fill her in on everything. would stress to her to keep it completely private and know she would obey by that. is no longer a part of our inner circle, we all parted ways with her months ago. have developed a strong dislike for the media and just turned down an interview with Dr Oz which would have paid me 5K to do it but still refused. I think it would be good to partner up with my dad and IF they promise to keep it a secret as well. would like copies of the correspondence from the State senator if its not too much trouble. am curious, are y'all asking for a commute of sentence, or a pardon? do you need any information about my institutional behavior such as classes i have taken, or achievements? can get you character references. do you need my sentence and judgement paperwork? am set for a parole hearing in December of 2021 but I can only be paroled as early as late 2023 anyways am doing ok, am trying to focus on the class I'm teaching and my own education. The break up really shook me to my core. it really is sad, the truth of it is a former heroin addict and had been clean for 5 years, then in August, he relapsed because of the media attention and the mass judgment that was placed on him. so with him being back in his addiction, he feels he is protecting me by pushing me always before he becomes toxic to me. it breaks my heart because feel responsible. want to be there for him but guess can't be. he said all the heartfelt goodbyes of Sparks movie would be proud of and told me that he hopes one day we could come back together again, when the time is better. I cried for days, and still have moments of crying. have a few good friends, You, are keeping me from totally losing it, and for that thank you. will want to call soon, the calls are limited to 15 minutes per hour. anyhoo its getting cold here, what happened to the sun???? lol sending love and hugs	page 662

10/12/2019 09:41:52	Inbound	Good morning GypsyRose. Okay so settle in, get comfortable. This is probably going to be a long one lol. First of all feel like a piece of shit right now. told you we would talk Friday (yesterday) and was so wiped out hardly remember our brief conversation. The call must have woken me up. saw your face on my phone, and thought it was a dream, or had happened in the past when it was happening in real time. That trip really kicked my ass for some reason, as brief as it was. Even now it's 8:43am and I'm trying to catch up on work we missed all week, but still feel like my head is spinning. legit must have gotten about 12-13 hours sleep yesterday, and going into today. Yet at 5am when my alarm went off still groaned and didn't want to wake up. Regardless of all that still feel like a jerk for not being alert and myself when you called. feel like disappointed you. Especially when looked back at the call and saw we only talked for 7 minutes. want you to know that a value any time we have the opportunity to talk on the phone, and hate that wasn't there for you yesterday. Like what if you had something important to tell me. Either way hope forgive me. Everyone's time is valuable and feel like wasted yours. So moving on from that. Like said did get your two emails. I'll answer some of those questions now. I'll have a few for you myself after. Okay so you know about the coffee, for me it's regular cream (or at least milk) and sugar every time. I'll only drink black coffee in the morning for addiction purposes only if nothing is available lol. As far as music, I'm a product of the 90s, and when was a teen my brother actually lived in the Seattle area, and was able to visit a couple times. So obviously was all about the grunge music scene. Nirvana, Pearl Jam, Alice In Chains. Those were some of my favorite bands to listen to. Movies can watch about any type, horror, comedy, sci-fi. My two favorite series all time are The Matrix, and Back to the Future. You mentioned a Nicholas Sparks in one of you're emails to me. can tell you for certain don't know who that is, but after I'm done with this novel I will look him up and see if there's anything he made that I have seen. assume he produced several rom coms based on the context about you heart to heart. Which by the way I'm glad you had that. Not everyone gets to in every relationship they have. Often times a relationship ends and that's it. When you're done talking you're done. It says a lot about the characters of both of you. It's good to have closure and not have any hatred towards one another. It's baggage no one needs to carry around. So got off track there, back to your questions ©). As far as talents not many, say passionate about few things, but those things that am passionate about are always at the front of the line for me and always on my mind. was talented enough to play baseball till was 30. Not professionally obviously but could hang in there. pitched and played first base. My hitting wasn't always the best but had a few games where could crush the ball pretty well. had a walk off hit that won a game for us against a team that always kicked our asses. That I'll always be proud about. Hunting isn't really my thing, not is fishing for that matter. Hunting probably do. care too much for animals. can't say I'm against it or I'd be a hypocrite. love my steaks, pepperoni, and bacon far too much to be giving them up!! feel like if you're gonna hunt or fish at least be doing it to eat your kill. If you're just doing it to mount a bear's head on your	page 358

I'm not sure if you got a chance to read it, but understand you are bombarded with letters from all over the world, and answering your family and friends are the most important! Basically, my letter just said that had a similar but less extreme childhood as you, so understand in a way some of the pain you endured. am now in my 20s, recently married and building a life for myself want you to know that it is possible to live a full and beautiful life after going through something horrible! I live in southern California with my husband and our 2 cats. We just got married this summer. work for a local city as an administrative assistant, and want to try to go back to school next year. love reading, art (I'm not very good lol), listening to music, going to Disneyland (that's where we got engaged!) Comic-con or the beach (lots of stuff to do in California!), card games, playing with my nieces (I don't have any biological siblings or nieces of my own, but have some honorary ones!) and hanging out with my friends, husband and my cats. Sometimes, we go with my husband's family to the desert. It sounds kinda boring typing it out but I'm just a regular young woman. was going to attach some pictures of me, my husband and our cats but it doesn't look like JPay will let me. might mail some out this week. understand some of what you went through and while neither one of us probably want to or has to dwell on the past, think it gives me an interesting perspective, especially on moving forward in life, finding love and friendships, and just trying to be a person! I'd love to chat with you more and be pen pals and potentially even friends. However, also understand if you don't want to either. Thanks for taking the time to read this letter! Hugs	page 683

Dad is the one who wanted to make one together which was very surprising @ I did talk t today. If you can send her an email about the lab work we discussed she may be able to find it. She's looking at the binders have and will make copies her so I can get them back. remember that you told me where to find them but didn't remember what year. Sometimes my mind gets to much information and forget things. was never really good at remembering everything that's told to me unless I'm reminded. Always was like that but you knew that already. Dad comes in Wednesday morning. He lands at 9:30 in the morning. can't wait to see him. We are all doing good. I'm going to the store tomorrow so will get you some glitter cards. When was arrested in 2015, that was my first ground zero moment, a moment that things can only go up from here. then transitioned into the woman am today, unfortunately who am today is not as strong of a person within as some give me credit for. still have weak moments and still have emotional issues that need treated. Now because of certain changes in my life, find myself at ground zero once again, and need to evolve yet again. I am more vigilant then ever to grow as a person. Today is another ground zero moment, and tomorrow is a better, stronger me. Thank you to all who have supported me throughout the good, and the bad. Hugs	page 690

I'm laying awake in bed and keep wondering when my mind will stop thinking about him. its been only 2 weeks and have a nightmare of him every night. its like have PTSD from him leaving. told him wasn't upset with him and I'm not, but part of me wonders how? how did we go from getting engaged one year ago to now he won't even speak to me. He thinks this is best for me and what he fails to understand is how does he ever expect to have my full trust again? will never forget this. does he know what he has done? He built me up for 2 years, gained my trust, my love, then when I think its gonna be OK. He let me fall to the ground, along with every promise that now seems like a lie. Every hope and dream ripped away. In my eyes, he is worse because he got closer then anyone to my heart then destroyed it. I am so confused and it drives me crazy. miss him, I keep thinking about all the good times. How sweet he used to be. wondering does he even want to be with me at all..maybe this is normal, maybe he fell out of love and just felt it was best to not lead me on anymore, which can respect that. (sighs) am just going through it hard. I'm only crying 5 times a day now. don't have long hair at all anymore, (stress makes me be impulsive) its a pixy cut. meant it when said that am starting fresh. in December I'm gonna dye it dark blonde and just let it grow back out long again, but this time I'll be going for a lighter hair color :-) its weird having short hair again, its gonna take a good year to get long again so don't expect any pics from me for a long while lol anyways love you mom.	page 307

Crazy to the point where the cops now shut the party down at 10pm. It used to rage on till late. So what do you watch? You mentioned American Horror story. do see that on Hulu but I'm not sure if it is caught up to real time TV I'll have to check again. That sucks you were busy Tuesday, but it's also a good thing that you're staying busy. know didn't answer last night, but honestly wasn't expecting a call from you. wish it was as simple as just calling you back. But don't let that stop you from ever trying to reach me on any random day. Especially on weekends. Work is a lot slower on weekends right now so any time then is good. I'll talk to you again soon. Have a good night. Good Morning Well just as thought was unable to call on Tuesday. :-\ was hoping you would get my email before giving you a heads up but I see it only posted today. The emails have been slower lately. just received yours from Saturday. First, please don't at all beat yourself up about the short call on Friday, totally understood. was actually kinda tired myself. After our phone call went to bed as well. also figured you might be super tired after the trip so I just basically called to say goodnight anyways. but one thing you said in your email that really touched my heart was when you said "what if you had something important to tell me." that was sweet. that's something no one thinks about. thats happened before, not with you but with someone else. about two or three months or so ago, was having a really bad day. had had posted a picture of my mothers body from one the crime scene photos on FB, been informed b tha and people were making such horrible comments. this upset me so much because even though am responsible for her death, in no way want her to be disrespected, made fun of or anything that would be cruel to her memory. personally have never seen ANY of the crime scene photos and do not wish to. but its sicking that people can look at a photo of a naked woman who has been brutally murdered and laugh and make comments about her weight and other say mean things. After learning this, felt guilt, shame, hopelessness. it was a ripple effect all because of me, my actions and choices led to that. it wa who posted the picture, but its because of me, my mother is dead and why her body was put up on social media in that way. That guilt was alot to handle that day, so tried calling the one person who could calm me] I called throughout the day with no answer. then at 9pm that night he answered and by that time, was annoyed and ina mood to start a fight. he was going hang out with his buddies anyway, so I did even tell him anything. felt if call once and its a missed call its not anything but me wanting to chit chat, but if I'm calling persistently, something is wrong. honestly I think that's about when he stopped caring. and did feel disappointed and neglected. He had been aware of his lack of being a attentive partner for awhile so it was something he knew he fucked up, but it was something the both of us was just too tired of fighting to fight. anyways so my whole point to that long shepal was that it was sweet of you to think about my emotional well being for calling. Also, my time is never wasted on a kind soul. :-) As for some of your answers to my questions. you have good taste in music and film. love a variety. Trying to let the drama die down so it doesn't in any way appeal. started on a case that's local to me, the disappearance She was 17 and just vanished. If you have time and any interest, I'd love to get your thoughts about the case. hope you are doing well. truly wish the best for you and hope to hear from you soon.	page 511

10/17/2019 18:03:55	Inbound	Dear Precious Gypsy, So good to hear from you. hope to get approved to visit soon. So we can really talk about my project and just be there for you. We met up in Nashville yesterday and decided that it would be great to and your Dad on board with us. Glad to hear he is out of the picture. will a message with my phone number, so can fill her in on what we are doing. Keeping it as private as possible, is what we believe would be in your best interest. Not involving the media, shows your not just trying to be famous. And will keep certain people from trying to come against us. We are seeking a full Pardon. We just want you to be you. will get all the correspondence together and get it to you. We will need to know all those things you have been doing to better yourself. And anything that shows your classes and doing your best to better yourself will get it all in writing and get it to you. And was nominated to speak first you from one point of view. Visiting you will help a lot. will be able to speak with first hand experience of our visits. There will be other speakers pleading for you Full Pardon, because of the special circumstances of your case. We are very confident that you will walk out a free Gypsy. I am proud you are maturing and healing, becoming a strong advocate for others to be led by your story. And believe me, will share my story with you in person when I come to visit. Looking forward to you calling. The 15 minute is the normal in all prisons. You just stay strong and always know that support you in whatever way you need it. am not the child of abuse used to be. use my story to help others. We have more in common than you think, despite our age difference. Emails just don't seem to tell it all. You just keep doing what your doing and in the long run, it will pay off. know your hurting and what has happened between you. Crying is good, it helps really and it does get better. Just remember, you are worthy of true love and you will get it one day. am glad you have those to help you get through this thing. Don't keep it to yourself. talking can change a lot of things and helps your heart to heal. can't wait till we can sit and really talk. will get a motel and make my visits a whole weekend thing. I will cry with you, laugh with you and just let you be you. When you call and miss your call, try again. Hard to tell when it comes from you. It comes up a Colorado number. We will connect soon. And you are always in my prayers. It is getting a little cold here too, in the 50 and 60's in the daytime and in the 40's at night. Do you stay warm? Anyways, will go for now and find on FB and send her my phone number, so can catch her up what B.A.C.A and are doing to prepare for our meeting to plead for your Full Pardon. truly believe that since my letter actually got to the desk of one of your Senators there in Missouri, we have a very very good chance of getting you home and free. By the way, we have a good history of victory as advocates of adults who suffered child abuse like you. Over the past 5 years we have gotten 3 women fully Pardoned. So we are confident you will be #4 Talk to you soon. Fixing to send you a little money and a message. Take care, stay strong. Will talk and see	page 661

Mom and dad didn't say that, but my roomies did. You basically just disappearing from my life by your own choice has me fucked up. have been in deep thought ever since you just straight up left me, and can't just sit idly by and have my suspicion and concern that your back in your addiction. Everything you said to me, the reasoning behind wanting to go our separate ways. a gut feeling tells me that your not ok, not really. it makes perfect sense. There is a sliiiiiiight chance could be wrong, but love you too much to take the chance and be right. if i am way off base then sorry for this now veeeery awkward email and i'll just cut this short and say love and miss you, sorry for interrupting your (fuck that chick was engaged to, but now out of the blue don't give a shit about her, attitude) carry on. your teddy bears and all your mementos are on its way back to ya, and don't forget to delete your Jpay. would hate to upset your new boo thang with my messages. On the other hand, IF you are back in a dark place in your life and have relapsed,...Baby why are you pushing me out of it? will be here for you, will be your support, WANT to be your superwoman. know that you turn inward when it comes to dark places, and I'm not oblivious to how this all happened and feel 100% responsible. however its been calm and quiet, and honestly feel that this time it will stay calm. want you to know that I love you enough to show you that you have one person who will always be your support. will ask this... Are you still in love with me or not? if you are not then I'm one hell of an idiot and am now so embarrassed. but if you ARE and still want to be with me, without all the bullshit involved, Then can you please send me a reply with a date and time to call you and we can work things out. do you want to try counselling? could probably work something out for us to have that in place. can help you go through the NA steps. have access to all kinds of books and support information, and can just listen if you wanna just talk. know you are convinced that you will drag me down, you forget, have been through much worse in life and having someone, even with baggage, brings me more happiness and is more comforting then spending my days without my ONE who was made to help carry his baggage so that we share the love and the struggles together. please dwell on this and if no response comes then do really wish you well and leave it at that. have one regret, didn't get to kiss you one last time. know you will be visiting your Gma soon. hope you have a lovely visit with her. To laying in bed, without anyone who really even cares, wondering how did fuck up my life so bad. I could call everyone in my phone book, but no one would truly understand or they would try and tell me" your young, someone better will come along" while cry because you were just too fucking perfect for me for anyone "better" to even exist. its been really painful and some nights are worse then others. i hate time apart, really do. Its so hard not hearing your voice everyday, not having a date night to look forward to. I'm not the same bubbly Gypsy without you. worry about you and how you are doing, if your ok. wonder if you even miss me at all. keep thinking if could just reach you, wherever your mind is, could break through, and get you to see, that my life is better with you in it, even IF your going through an internal hardship, you ARE every bit of the man need, because we can be there for each other. 10/19/2019 04:50:44	Inbound	Hey girl, Sorry it took me a min to right back. So wow am sorry that you guys broke up. Ik how much you loved and wanted to be with him. do support any decision you make Ik you know that. Well have been doing ok so i was trying to work on getting back with and ex but he really didnt change so back to be single again lol. am to just really working on myself and trying to get my life back in order after the mess It was made out to be and her bullshit. So what have you been working on? Me am starting to work on myself and being raped as a child from 6 to 10. thought was like ok and over it but wasnt and went and posted my stuff that told her on line screenshots of our whole conversation 231 screenshots to be exact why she felt the need to take my childhood trauma and make a smear campaign of me Is crazy. She is absolutely fucking nuts. Idk all the sudde and Dawn Brown where really nice to me then boom they stopped talking to me telling ppl was toxic or drama bc I went public t doing that shit to me. ik it probably wasnt the right thing to do but feel like ppl have a right to know that she is doing that to pp! posting someone's trauma as a child is disgusting and how unprofessional. So now don't talk to anyone that has to do with the case lol. have a group it's a women support group. its going great to a lot of women just want a safe place to be able to talk to women and relate to them on one trauma or just everyday mom life to single parents we have a great group of women. missed talking to you it's so nice to be able to speak to someone that knows what it's like got moved and they didnt even have his bed ready for him so they have him in seg lol no tablet either. He can make phone call here and there heard. know that must suck. So girl tell me how you are and what you been up to. I never told anyone about what you said wouldn't it's not my place. Do you guys still talk at least and you can always call me to am here for you. Well gonna go make some coffee hope to hear from you soon. keep that crown on and that head up girly. wn, also wanted to ask, please do not post the email about me breaking up. he and want these things private, to avoid media exposure. only our friends and family know. thank you Gvosv	page 527

10/20/2019 17:47:54	Outbound	I just wanted to take the time to write a few thoughts on my mind. When you first wrote me around the time when The Act was coming out, was getting like 200+ emails per day and couldn't keep up friendships with everyone nor did everyone get a response. remember your email, but it wasn't until your name kept coming up in groups and when you reached out a second time started paying attention. called you once after that, and had a lovely time talking. Then recently, my life was rocked to its core by the sudden break up with This has been devastating on me, as all my life's hopes and dreams was thought and expected to be shared with him. blame myself because built my life around him, should have known better. i just believed him when he made promises and we made these big decisions together. anyways to make a really long email short, its been very hard on me emotionally and mentally. Going from thinking had someone dependable, someone who knew me inside and out, all my quirks and everything that makes me, me, and was in love with all of that. To feeling rejected, fooled, inadequate, lonely, a failure, and worse, alone. hate being alone, always had a constant, not always so much a romantic relationship, but just someone who was by my side and now that security of having someone is gone. So bringing me to my point, believe people come into your life for a reason, it doesn't always make sense why they are placed there at that time, but you just have to trust its needed. believe that you were placed in my life because its needed at this point in time. need real solid people and truly feel that can count you into my inner circle that is probably like 4 people at most not including like family. want you to know that I value you as a person and our friendship. :) can see that you are a really kind hearted person and getting to know you on a personal level through the more in depth conversations is quite enjoyable. think you are interesting and are someone would love to keep in contact with for long time. When am released, my parents will be having a welcome home party for me about a month or so after I'm settled in, and would love it if you could be there. I'm not that experienced in dancing but I'll definitely save a dance for you. :) thank you for listening and for encouraging me to push forward through the pain and see a better tomorrow. My name I'm 34, I live in Calgary, Alberta, Canada. know these emails/letters are probably coming in to you at an overwhelming level, but I just wanted to reach out and say that admire your braveness in telling your story and hope that you continue to be successful in drawing awareness to those of us who have lived similar types of situations. I am 100% writing a letter in support of your early release. just wanted to also reach out on a personal level, to wish you well and let you know that there are people who support you and appreciate you. know that lost a lot of autonomy around your life and it being exposed to the world, but I've just got to say that hearing your story was one truly the first times in my life where I felt seen. There were words from your mouth in documentary that actually caused me to cry and think, how did someone else actually know things that I've thought. After many years of therapy (ugh know right?) know that our traumas are not to be compared, but simply acknowledged and witnessed. hope that you have all the unconditional support and love in your that you so richly deserve. In my life, one thing I've always struggled with is just....trusting others, trusting myself, and knowing that I'm my own complete person who deserves good things. It's own personal daily struggle. hope you find that too. read somewhere that you're engaged — congrats! hope the wedding planning is going well. You've got such a bright future girl. just know it in my gut and truly send those wishes on to you. hope the day to day isn't wearing you down too badly. don't know how many pen pals you have, but if you ever feel like adding another one, I'd love to be your friend. I've personally always struggled with making new friends, but do like being penpals! A little about me: love to read (Harry Potter is my favourite- 100% a Ravenclaw here), watch tv, travel and cook and bake. I've got a beautiful cat baby named Daphne. work as a family lawyer (ha! Shocking! We do what we know right?). My goal in the next five years is to become children's counsel, so that can represent children in court proceedings and advocate for them. got married to my wonderful husband last year in the fall here in the mountains. Our anniversary is actually next week and we're heading to the arctic to see the northern lights for a short trip! Hope having a good day & no need to feel obligated to write back. truly hope you get hundreds of these type of letters to show that there are so many people out here that support you. All the best!	page 658

10/22/2019 13:35:57	Outbound	LOL so the back story on "eBay" panties. There was a guy that my best girly friend found online on the dark web, and he was interested in selling all things Gypsy Blanchard, on a site called "Murderabilia" and the money would go to help her out with the expenses of having a new baby. Annnnyhoo the guy wanted to sell my pictures, drawings, ID card, and signed panties. refused to send him anything. that was like in March, now he has been sending me emails again trying to get me to call him, hitt'n on me because he heard I'm single, (a way to a gals heart is not by asking for her panties from the git.. especially not to sell, because that's so romantic rolls eyes) so asked to message him requesting he leave me alone, I'm not interested. so my underwear was never up for sale, but it made for a crazy story. :-P That must have been exciting to live near such a historical area. Salem is one of the most noted and haunted places in the country. can imagine the locals throw one hell of a shabang for Halloween. remember traveling to Mass and it was so beautiful. We passed through New Bedford, New Haven, Boston and stayed in the Cape. the one thing that seems to stick out in my mind is the smell of the sea in the air, liked it. :-)) What is your most memorable thing about your childhood or teen years there? What do like to watch, well have eclectic taste in TV and film. Action/Fantasy would be a genre that is my biggest interest. Horror is not a big interest unless its October and then I'll watch em to get into the Halloween mood, or i will occasionally watch if i have someone to hold tight to when i get scared, those Annabel dolls are creepy as hell. do like Comedy, Deadpool is both a comedy/action just love the sarcastic humor. throwing out titles of just shows or movies like Game of Thrones, Supernatural, Reign, Once Upon a Time, New Girl, Blood Drive (which that show is seriously the most fucked up TV show ever made lol its like omg but its soooooo fd up you can't look away!) The Bachelor, Alaskan Bush People, The Tudors Ruins Everything, 90 Day Fiancé, Married At First Sight, Vikings, The Good Doctor. Star Wars, Lord of the Rings, Harry Potter, Hunger Games, Avengers, Army of Darkness. Splash, Forest Gump. As you can see have many. I just watched this movie that was so good but soooo sad, its called 5 Feet Apart. another good movie similar to that is Everything, Everything its about a girl with a mother with Munchausen By Proxy. yeah... can relate. spoiler alert, the girl finds out she's not really sick. that was emotional to watch. 2 more sappy films is, Me Before You, and Breathe. As said can watch anything as long as can curl up under a warm blanket and have a bag of popcorn in hand. :-)) oh and Back to The Future is totally on that list as well :-)) Maybe I'll call on a random day, but Tuesdays is our day :-)) BTW keep a eye on the mail :-))	page 363

10/23/2019 06:52:10	Inbound	So it's very early. It's 6:40am, and just woke up from the weirdest dream, and very vivid. So was hanging out with you, and your dad in Louisiana. Just sitting there watching football. A Saints game of course lol. Then had to get ready work, so my bedroom/bathroom in Florida was attached to their living room. And went to get ready. So in the dream don't work where work now, was working at my old restaurant worked at in like 2011-2012. Which is obviously right outside of Boston. But before going into work stop at a fast food restaurant, don't know which one, but there's: and your dad. don't know why we left you at home, but of course sitting there to join us at the table was President Trump. And what did we talk about? More football Thought I'd share. don't dream often, and even more rare are they that vivid. plan on sending another novel to you later today. I've just learned with dreams that as the day goes on you start to forget them so wanted to get this one out now. So much more later, but right now its time for coffee!!	page 366

10/23/2019 12:30:41	Inbound	GypsyRose, Okay. Now I'm settled in at work. The day is already dragging. It's my "Monday" and already want to go home. So I'm looking forward to the list of shows you watch. I'm sure I'll find a few things to watch on there then we can have conversations about those. Not that we're ever at a loss for words with each other, but it will be fun. Other shows and movies I've watched and love are How Met Your Mother, Hunger Games, Breaking Bad, Game of Thrones, and my all time favorite sports movie is Rudy. In fact when I'm jogging it's the Rudy theme music playing in my head to keep me motivated I though our conversation last night was amazing. You manage to keep a smile on my face just by listening to you. For me being someone that doesn't typically like to talk on the phone you definitely keep me intrigued, and looking forward to your next call. I'm beyond excited that you appreciate my concern, and care for you. Yes of course I'm passionate about you. When first heard your story and your interviews thought you were an amazing person immediately. Now that I'm getting to know you on a personal level realize didn't know the half of how many layers there are to you. How much of a sweetheart you are. How intelligent you really are. You may not even realize it, but you really do have shit more figured out than most people. Most of us don't have a damn clue what to do next with life lol. You say you're no "love expert" yet you know better than anyone else how important it is to get to know someone on a level of friendship, and seeing if you actually are compatible with each other when the rest of us keep jumping in the deep end head first then 6 months later find ourselves with a partner we can't stand. Before we really started talking over the last month or two was finding myself in a funk. Just a rut where wasn't doing much, excited about much, maybe a little depressed about nothing. I'm 100% sincere that since then I have just in general been a much happier person. More motivated in things need to be motivated for. Work, exercise, overall health. a true positive influence on my life in every way. never had any idea ever get this close with each other. really just thought it would be a few emails, and some kind words and that would be that, but I think right. You and will know each other for many years to come. And when finally do get to meet you and get that hug apologize in advance if squeeze too tight, and that I'm gonna hold on a little longer than your average every day hug lol. So call me anytime, you know after 6 is good, and obviously Tuesdays. I'll for the "pic of 2019" think that's what you called it. Even though I still feel kinda weird asking her. mm going to insist to her that you made me ask lol. Have	page 366

10/25/2019 18:47:48	Outbound	Mi it was wonderful to get to talk with you as well :) I'm so happy that God put you in my life. :) have made copies of my certificates of classes have completed, a copy of my sentencing paperwork, with my time spent in county jail credited to me. am working on those letters you said right now. so all of that working on. hoping to get my principal to maybe write something up to state that did complete most of my GED, with having passed all but the subject of math. to show that have worked to get my education. Today is a beautiful day outside, but next week its gonna snow :-\ I'm not ready for all that lol anyway I'll talk to you soon :-)	page 663
10/26/2019 16:52:49	Outbound	Deai do apologize if have been quite bothersome with all my crazy emails, however please know that my care and concern for your wellbeing leads me to worry for you, and dealing with the separation has been harder the hell. just wanted to let you know that I'm praying for your grandmother and hoping that y'all may share a few good memories together. I'm here, if you need to talk.	page 177
10/26/2019 12:53:51	Outbound	Today, was busy getting the paperwork fo for the state senator meeting. have made copies of my certificates, sentence papers, and other useful information. Senator Hawley's assistant requested certain things needed. a letter from me to my mother basically showing remorse and just accountability for my actions. a 5 year plan, stating my goals and plans if released. These are all things that the parole board does so its kinda like I'm seeing the board 2 years early, except this is much bigger. on my God I'm so fucking nervous. honestly wouldn't know how to process it if was just released soon. for all my life, a cage is all know. guess accepting my time was needed to cope, and have become comfortable with it. so thinking about if was just free is almost uncomfortable because its change, its different, its unknown. its something dream about, yet have been conditioned to a life of confinement. I'm legitimately kinda internally freaking out. As for my 5 year plan, want to pass the math for the GED, so have that out of the way. then want to get a stable job and find a community college to start taking courses. between you and I, have had the baby bug for years now, and having my 1 year old goddaughter come to visit me has just made that bug grow bigger. so want to have my first child probably a year or two after my release. Real talk where I'm gonna get the sperm do not know. is out of the equation soooo... I'll just be like, Hey! whoever wants to knock me down and up, hit me up. my number is lol jk I'm gonna have to find a baby daddy soon. also plan to start participating in public advocacy for MBP. feel sharing my story the right way through public speaking would be more beneficial then on camera.	page 367

10/26/2019 11:46:49	Outbound	Hello Gypsy, know leff off my previous email to you my hobbies but love to fish and any opportunity have to be on a lake somewhere take it. At my job when I'm not supervising my employees I'm actually doing a lot of safety mentoring for all the new hires that we receive in. really loved to hear that your doing fine and that you are really stepping up into your new leadership role in your class. Trust me when say it isn't always easy being a leader, ive kinda been thrust into these roles since high school, but you always struck me as the type could do anything that you set your mind to. Stay safe Gynew and know that I'm of your always wanted a Sphinx cat. think they are just S :-)) if I had one, would name it Yoda :-)) cuz of the big ears lol so guess what my facility has now? ...video visits through Securus Mobile. its new and has not started yet, however it should be in the next few weeks. I'm very excited to see my family via video chat because they can't always make it up here to see me (all my family live in Louisiana) so in person visits are rare. this gives us a chance to see each other more regularly. As for the class I'm teaching it is all about taking accountability for your crime and actions that led to prison and how it effects everyone involved and indirectly involved. was a bit shy and quiet at first but I'm starting to slip into this "role" of a leader which is not my comfort zone. my nature is shy and timid so have to push myself out of that to be assertive in the classroom. have been doing a little better with dealing with the split between me and my ex, its been really difficult especially considered we were engaged then he just left me out of no where. it kinda shook my world up. now I'm at square one again picking up the pieces of the me that I thought was strong, but apparently was easily broken. have placed my pain into motivation to work out and start working on my revenge body lol yeah its gonna be epic. Anyway, enough about me. What are your plans for the coming year? do you have any hobbies? BTW can you please send me a pic of Cleopatra? just love cats lol oh BTW, don't know if you are religious or not but can you either please keep me in your prayers or send positive vibes, because have something going on legally that could hopefully be getting released as soon as next year. can't go into detail but have high hopes. thanks	page 475

10/28/2019 18:25:05	Outbound	Deai You have an account number already! :-)) guess you didn't have to be on my in person visiting list after all, well guess you can disregard the form sent you lol or just hold on to it just in case, so far your the only one with an account number. to try creating an account again, last time she tried, it was having technical difficulties. Speaking about this dream, interpret that as she trusts you being in my life. If she didn't think highly of you as a person she would have never even had that thought. Which she didn't have a negative opinion if that thought ever became a reality. it was more an invisible nudge on my arm lol It just means she thinks well enough of you to see you being a close role in my life whether that role be as a close friend or more. As for Mr. Smitten, wouldn't say too obvious, but wouldn't say too hard either. :-)) this brings me to was teasing me about about 3 or 4 months ago, and feel this is a perfect time to tell you about it as i know i never would any other random time. He was teasing me about you, particularly about your name. he called it, special last name" ..He was always teasing me about any guys who would email or write me so don't feel offended. He would tell me "oh yeah, wants you to Gag-on something wink* I'm like, your such a guy..tasteful play on oh wait,..maybe shouldn't have used "tasteful." He got so pissed LOL he did talk to me for the rest of the day. Anyways, As said, you and both just came out of long term relationships, and though you are not losing sleep over Im still pretty broken up. really put a lot of myself into that relationship to have it end without any really good reason why. Its gonna take time to heal, and I'm glad that you are here to help pick up the pieces. Thats why was hesitant to dream because didnt want to give off the impression that would reject you, because that's not the case addres: at all, just need time and comforting. Your doing exactly what need right now. know your not trying to be anything but a friend to me, and thank you for being respectful to my emotional healing and thank you for all you have done for me. enjoy our conversations and find you to be a very interesting person with one of the kindest hearts i have ever met, and for what its worth I think your pretty damn attractive and I'm a bit of a smitten kitten myself. don't wanna rush anything, just enjoy the butterflies now while they still flutter. :-)) Like told turns beat red -GypsyRose	page 369
10/28/2019 21:09:41	Outbound	No, I don't have access to HBO. was able to watch the 1st season and like half of the 2nd season of GOT back before was arrested. have always been intrigued with Daenaries character. have kinda kept aware of what's going on with the main major characters but haven't been able to watch the rest of the seasons. Maybe when make a trip to Florida perhaps we can binge watch a season or two. :-)) did you watch the last season? if so what did you think? Are you into any cable shows right now? Vikings is a good one to watch. also would highly recommend a show, it only had one season, but its called, Taboo. it stars Tom Hardy. watched the remake of IT chapter one last night, hella creepy. hate clowns, didn't always hate them, something traumatic happened to make me hate them. the Christmas movies are playing now as well. that means close to another year down, and the beginning of another. Do you have any traditions you do for either the Christmas holidays or New Years?? and do you have a New Years resolution in mind? make a fun little room party here, my roommates and would play music and dance watch the Rock'n Eve performances. and would watch the ball drop. Though, do get a bit sad because have never been kissed at midnight. One year i believe it was 2016 going into 2017 the COs let us throw confetti off the top walk way as long as we cleaned up after, that was awesome :-)) I think for my resolution it will be to be to take better control of my life back in terms of media. 2019 sucked balls. if anything 2019 was a year had so many set backs in my progress, all because of media. If there will be any media hype in 2020 its gonna be because walked out of these gates a free woman. I'll never allow my life to become chaos like that aaain. It caused unreainrable damaae.	page 369

10/28/2019 17:24:42	Inbound	Sweet Gypsy, Yes it was awesome talking to you too. check my account, it only cost less than $2 to talk to you. Do there is plenty of time for you to call me. God has definitively played a part in our paths crossing. Don't get overwhelmed with doing so much. Learn to take a break, so it is not too much for you. have been sick. Had to go to the ER. My daughter took me because could not walk. They checked to make sure did not have a blood clot. Turn out they found out that have a Bacteria Infection in the lymph nodes in my left leg. they have me on some strong antibiotics. Seems to be help. My left leg was so swollen, red and burning, thought it was going to pop. Anyways, they put me on bedrest till Thursday. Today am able to get around with my cane. So by Thursday it should be better. Still swollen and hurting some, can't wear any shoes. so hope to be better enough Thursday. We are having Trunk or Treat at church and will be doing face painting. Plus there will be games and lots of candy. They are serving hotdogs and chips with drinks too. We are just hoping it does not rain or snow Thursday. But our church is big enough, we are prepared to move it all inside if the weather is bad. Last year we had 1200 children come. Expecting at least that many if not more this year. will send you some of my face paintings after Thursday. Snow in not my favorite thing. When it snows and have to go somewhere, my son n law takes me. Do you get alot of snow there? Have not chatted wit in a few days, she has been sorta sick too. She had to spend one day, all day in bed. She really loves you. God is working in your favor. So don't think you need to rush all those things. really hated asking for those 3. But they will help alot, when we present them to plea for your Pardon. so math is not so fun for you. hated it is High school and college. But got through it. Well need to lay down and elevate my leg. Hope to talk to you soon. Keep your faith. Remember, God loves you and there are those like me that loves and believe in you. And judging is not for us. Remember, you are not your past. You are Sweet Gypsy today with a bright future ahead of you. Sending virtual hugs, expect an approval to visit you this week. am doing my best to be patient. It will get approved right on time am sure. For sure got to lay down, SMILE! HOPE TO TALK YOU SOON. IN MY PRAYERS,	page 661
10/29/2019 22:35:50	Inbound	Okay so we just got off the phone a few minutes ago. A few things wanted to mention. As far as smoking goes, I've cut my intake down to about 3-5 smokes a day, as opposed to the 10-15 or so was having. Hitting the gym haven't gotten myself on a set schedule, but I'm doing something every day. Weights, sit ups, push ups, and most importantly that I'm trying to get in at the very least 4-5 days a week of cardio. I'm already noticing big changes in how far can jog before my lungs quit on me lol. ran track in high school. don't know how the hell that was possible! As far as visiting. If you think January is too soon it's really okay. was trying to read between the lines and it sounded like that's what you were looking for was a visit sooner rather than later. It can wait, it's really okay. really like talking to you. And when read that line from you about the butterfly landing on my finger.... mean, my heart might have skipped a beat. I'm still learning something new about you every time we talk or message. meant what said when I think that regardless of what your past was you'd still be a compelling person. A person people would gravitate towards. That magnetic personality. guess that's why I'm surprised that you don't have this enormous circle of friends always talking to. It makes it that much more special that you want me in your "small council" (Game of Thrones reference). Okay, GypsyRose work in the morning. Time to crash. Have a good night. love hearing from you always. Sweet dreams =	page 368
10/29/2019 14:35:12	Inbound	Lol well went back and looked at the second message sent you before had any idea there was a guy in your life. You had mentioned you wanted kids to me back then I think you said something like "I'll be 32 by then so better get crackin'" and told you that you were a very attractive and intelligent woman who will have no problems attracting a proper suitor when released. And that's definitely true. find your sperm donor lol. Don't worry. sent you a bunch of articles that you asked for. wasn't sure if they were allowed to contain pictures so they are a bit chopped up, but tried to organize them best could, and numbered them for you. couldn't find anything what you requested from Newsweek but I think the 4 sent should be what looking for. I'm just sitting here eating with my parents. They arrived last night. It still hasn't sunk in to me yet that they sold their house in Boston. I'll look forward to your Okay so looking at my finances, and in response to your last email in regards to it won't visit will look ahead 'till, vane like you said to the spring. very quickly approaching that moment where am gonna need a new car. So I'll need to make my down payment soon. My car is a 2014 Nissan, but with my 80 mile round trip commute to work the miles have added up QUICK! can't believe it has over 120K on it already! Regardless did glance at April. The weekend of the Sat the 4th and Sun the 5th would be perfect. know you mentioned Friday as well but if take the flight and everything have looked at with the rental car, and hotels could swing those two days for around $500 as opposed to the thousand! Let me know what you think. There's so much more to respond to, but should probably get back to work now. write more An Good morning, well got your emails from yesterday even as recent as the one from last night. :) I'm so proud of you for making those changes. how is your energy levels? any fatigue or or soreness? are you eating before you workout or after? in addition to working out, maybe try a vitamin supplement as well to help with your vitamin levels. there are quite a few that are great for men. hear Nugenix is a good one, but you can always start off with something a bit more natural as well, going to maybe a natural health market is the best for finding organic foods, drinks and vitamins. As for in person visit, actually would love a visit from you, however would like to wait until the spring, perhaps May. would like to first see what happens with the possible January meeting City. if I'm being released, I'll just come visit you in Florida soon after im home, which by the way is the first place I'm vacationing to anyway :) hints why I'm working on my beach bod lol and if I'm not being released this year, like said would very much enjoy spending time with you in person. The outdoor visiting area closes for the winter and reopens spring through fall. besides give a girl time to grow her hair back from a pixy, my hair is my dude magnate lol :-P If you would like, you can send in the visitation form, get approved on my visitors list, by the way its a permanent approval unless remove you from it, which don't see that happening. Then once your approved, we can we can video visit for a bit then discuss when a good time for both of us would be to have a in person visit. il send you the visiting information via snail mail, so you are prepared when its time. the visits are in 4 hour sessions, and like said would try and get you 8 hours all weekend long. double sessions for Fri, Sat and Sun. :) worst can do is a double session on the Friday. Oh need to know how many miles is it from you to me??? I'll talk to you soon	page 369
10/29/2019 19:25:13	Inbound	hey Gypsy I thought would take the time and write to you and let you know that, Know that you are going through some emotional things right now and for that im sorry but just know that im here if you ever need to talk or just let it all out. Just know that im here for you. your friend It was great to hear back from you.. sent you a photo of Cleopatra in a separate email (I hope you get it) she is wearing a blue collar in the photo. It's funny that you talk about if I'm religious or not but funny thing is my brother is a preacher in South Carolina. pray for your release every day and pray for your well being also. It is really cool to hear back from you literally check my phone several times a day to see if got an email back. As far as the coming year idk what I'm going to do sort of play things by ear. I'm always looking to move up in my company. It's to bad can't get a current photo of you if possible. can't send one of me if you would like so can see that I'm real...LOL really look forward to hearing from you real soon.	page 475

10/30/2019 21:43:10	Inbound	Good evening GypsyRose, Good!! I'm glad you like the scruff, very rarely do give myself a close shave anymore. Just kinda trim the scruff now lol. That's why didn't feel so out of place when went to TN without my razor. Damn it is cold there! It's hard to imagine when it pushes 90 here everyday and humid. looked up your weather, 30s and snowing! No thanks! My sister was into figure skating back in the day. Unfortunately I'm not 100% certain what my sisters problem is. She has three daughters that don't speak to her anymore, and her and had more than a couple of brief conversations in the last two years. She is a selfish person unfortunately. She's the smartest person in my family. But makes poor choices when it comes to her kids and the rest of us when it comes to family relationships. While on that subject that's my brother. My brother and aren't super close, but we get along pretty well when he visits. He's an incredible golfer and could make a name for himself if he really wanted to. When he comes down me, him, and my dad go to baseball games, and play golf where he absolutely kicks my ass. I'm sad my parents sold their house, but I'm glad here, and the dogs, and cat just as equally lol. I'm not much of a skater myself. Its been a LOOOONNG ass time till strapped them on. It's been a regret in life because hockey just looks so fun to play, wish could have given that a shot. But stuck with baseball and still loved every moment of it. Your workouts, mean damn woman!! putting me to shame over here lol. Although I'm the lightest this morning when weighed in than I have been since moved to FL 4 years ago! However jogging/running has begun to be an addiction for me again. did run track in HS. can't believe how much running did back then and how much of a struggle it is now. But literally every day right now I'm seeing amazing progress. run the same route and I'm seeing myself and my lungs make gains daily. Btw speaking of my lungs ZERO cigarettes today!! On weights do 5x 15 reps of same with shoulder press, and 4x 15 reps of triceps. don't feel like need leg day just yet. My body type has always given my muscular quads, and then the sit ups and pushups try to do a minimum of 50 each then keep going till just can't anymore lol. The one you mentioned you do, burpees. really should start doing those myself. Those are like the biggest ass kicking thing a person can do. So when you say 15, do you do 15 in a row? Typical get to 5 or 6 and feel like I'm gonna pass out!! So went on the Securus app again today. Were you able to find me? was trying to click the button for "add funds" but it just doesn't seem to work. Like it's not a button lol. Obviously when we figure that shit out the nearest Tuesday will be best for it. And like you.... definitely get butterflies when I'm anticipating a call from you. But it's weird, as soon as hear your voice they vanish. Then we talk for however long, and when we finally hang up it almost literally feels like was picked up and spun around by a tornado, then set back down. It's not a bad thing promise. As far as dream yes it flatter that in some way her sub conscious feels that way. It goes back to the bittersweet feelings of this. If it wasn't for NC, and the interactions had with the people in those groups never would have seen it, maybe my emails would have simply gotten lost in the mix, and we have the friendship we have now. So as awful as those women	page 368

You had mentioned you wanted kids to me back then I think you said something like "I'll be 32 by then so better get crackin'" and told you that you were a very attractive and intelligent woman who will have no problems attracting a proper suitor when released. And that's definitely true. find your sperm donor lol. Don't worry. sent you a bunch of articles that you asked for. wasn't sure if they were allowed to contain pictures so they are a bit chopped up, but tried to organize them best could, and numbered them for you. couldn't find anything what you requested from Newsweek but I think the 4 sent should be what looking for. Regardless did glance at April. The weekend of the Sat the 4th and Sun the 5th would be perfect. know you mentioned Friday as well but if take the flight and everything have looked at with the rental car, and hotels could swing those two days for around $500 as opposed to the thousand! I'm sure you get many messages everyday, but i just had to reach out to you. I've followed your story since the very beginning. One thing has always stayed constant for me, and that's the feeling that you deserved/deserve the best in life. You've been failed countless times and it breaks my heart. It makes me SO happy to see you healthy and thriving in life! Congrats on the engagement, by the way! :) ---	page 696

Also was curious, do you have any siblings or are you an only child? Lol Yes remember when you said that in your second email. Awwwe, a charmer even back then as well. :-)) It was quite charming, because only a man with intelligence and a true gentleman uses the word suitor when referencing a boyfriend or fiancé. most men don't have class, count you among the few that do. What about you, no children currently, do you think you would want kids when you finally settle down? or do you think you'll rock anti parenthood for the rest of your life? It began to snow last night and was up late listening to the radio and a song came on that reminded me of you, its called Crash and Burn by Savage Garden. its pretty fitting. Sweet dreams tonight :) p.s How tall are you? I'm 5ft, and most people talk about how short am, so was curious how much taller are you then me. OK random weird	page 368
10/31/2019 16:47:48	Outbound	April sounds great with me, when the time gets closer, I'll put the request in for a special visit. if that weekend changes for any reason during now to then just let me know. You might think that 4 hours is a long time for one session but it goes so fast. besides, technically its 3 and a half hours because it takes about 30mins to get me called up to visiting and get me stripped searched, then finally get to walk into the visiting room. I did send you the basic rules of visits, there is an easier version of it printed out but, all could get my hands on was a copy of visitation policy which I just highlighted the important things and crossed out the unimportant things. if you want something more basic then policy to glance at. has screenshots of the rules she could send you. did mention to her that we are talking about a visit, she is aware that you and started talking much more frequently now, and thinks a visit is a great idea. Now il give you the rundown of how my facility works as it pertains to visiting. As I am sure you are aware visits are contact visits, so there isnt any glass or anything separating us, but this little coffee table (its so small and short lol) The physical contact allowed is a brief hug and kiss at the beginning and end of the visit, during the visit the contact is limited to holding hands. There are several vending machines with everything from coffee to burgers, microwaves are provided. Pictures are available, have a bunch of already purchased picture tickets on hand at all times as I'm one of the picture workers, however my co worker will be taking our pics :) I'll warn you ahead of time, if you decide to send a screenshot of our pic, if you do not want it posted, let her know straight up that you do not want it posted. Last thing want or someone with ill intent to get ahold of it, then OMG!!! the rumors, next thing innocently posting it then have a love triangle and I'm prego with one of the two of you being the father and we are going ya know you, me, and on Maury, only to find out it oh wait, how could it be his when my baby is BLACK! dundunDAAAa! this is how shit gets crazy, nice plot twist totally just made all that up lol anyway like said want to keep a tight grip on who knows what in my life, so like said, just use caution. I'm only looking out for our privacy. shit at this rate I'll never have any social media accounts ever again lol OK moving on, was telling you about the outdoor area, its a bit more private, as private as you can get with a CO staring at everyone. There are two picnic tables outside and you can bring food out there, its fenced in, but its still the best place to get as close as you can without touching except for the allowed hand holding. and its just overall more relaxing then the room. like to stand in this corner away from everyone else and just chat there. They open the outdoor area based on staff availability and the time of the year. if the weather permits then can always request it to open, doesn't always work out to open but its still a shot. There are board games, card games available but I'm pretty sure for the first few hours or even day, we will be taking non stop, as you already are aware, can talk your ear off :) silences for some reason actually are nice as well. sometimes just like quietness and having physical contact, though the number of people let hold my hand throughout the duration of the visit is like only one, a trust thing, can't explain it. The only thing more that I can think to remind you of is get here like 30mins early to be one of the first here. its not necessary to have to be here at the start of the session you can arrive at any time within the visiting time slot, however to maximize your time with me, plan to be early :) OK that's it on all of that.	page 368

I have been having a good support between mom and my they are there to help on those bad days: lives in Florida, he has been a supporter for awhile, but he and I just now started to get to know each other. He is cool though. I am still facilitating ICVC and here in about 3 weeks share my story with the class. have some news articles to show them as well. As told you a few weeks ago, most of the time I'm feeling ok. some other days, I'm not my normal self, but regardless of the mood I'm in, hearing your voice helps and always makes me smile. btw, You'll find out why needed your shirt size in a few weeks. :-) Ok now moving on. Thank you again for your help with getting the paperwork ready fo as well as for my ICVC class. placed bits of all the articles onto another paper and formed a perfect solid article that is a perfect summary of my case. I'm sure that will help my participants understand why I'm here maybe better then I can explain the very first time I'm telling my story. So before we got cut off last night, you mentioned you do now want children and to comment on that further, you are still young enough to have that opportunity and from what know about you, think you would be a good father. all things happen in the right timing. but ya gotta quit those cigs so you can chase your kids around, they aint gonna stay at one place for long, build up your lung strength now for all the running you'll be doing lol You said that you once was 218lbs is that bigger for someone of your height? I'm not Good with knowing what's a healthy average weight for men, I'm pretty limited to knowing my own and what's the norm for a woman of my height. Judging from your pics you seem in good shape already. Like you said, the daily workouts help build that muscle tone and muscle does weigh more then fat. so would say for you, can see you reaching that goal in a fast amount of time. You'll be taken shirtless mirror pics in no time lol This email is short, but do hope your work week is an easy one and even if it is stressful, I'm always here if you need to vent about the bitch boss. At my job when I'm not supervising my employees I'm actually doing a lot of safety mentoring for all the new hires that we receive in. really loved to hear that your doing fine and that you are really stepping up into your new leadership role in your class. Trust me when say it isn't always easy being a leader, ive kinda been thrust into these roles since high school, but you always struck me as the type could do anything that you set your mind to. Stay safe Gynew and know that Pm of vour always wanted a Sphinx cat. think they are just S :-) if i had one, would name it Yoda :-) cuz of the big ears lol so guess what my facility has now? ...video visits through Securus Mobile. its new and has not started yet, however it should be in the next few weeks. I'm very excited to see my family via video chat because they can't always make it up here to see me (all my family live in Louisiana) so in person visits are rare. this gives us a chance to see each other more regularly. As for the class I'm teaching it is all about taking accountability for your crime and or actions that led to prison and how it effects everyone involved and indirectly involved. was a bit shy and quiet at first but I'm starting to slip into this "role" of a leader which is not my comfort zone. my nature is shy and timid so have to push myself out of that to be assertive in the classroom. have been doing a little better with dealing with the split between me and my ex, its been really difficult especially considered we were engaged then he just left me out of no where. it kinda shook my world up. now I'm at square one again picking up the pieces of the me that I thought was strong, but apparently was easily broken. have placed my pain into motivation to work out and start working on my revenge body lol yeah its gonna be epic. Anyway, enough about me. What are your plans for the coming year? do you have any hobbies? BTW can you please send me a pic of Cleopatra? just love cats lol oh BTW, don't know if you are religious or not but can you either please keep me in your prayers or send positive vibes, because have something going on legally that could hopefully be getting released as soon as next year. can't go into detail but have high hopes. thanks	page 475

I'm starting to see that having had this all fall apart makes me want to be alot more cautious when accepting a proposal in the future and just the amount of time spent together before getting married. can see now why y'all wanted us to wait. have also have a better idea of what do and don't like in a had a bad habitat of being irresponsible. and though he was fitting to my personality and we had off the partner) charts chemistry but the lack of maturity was unattractive. In my life and with my lack of worldly knowledge, would need someone with enough maturity to be my guide, someone reliable. had the potential to be that for me, but just wasn't there quite yet. like said when you told me about your dream that me got together. I'm not dating anyone, not for awhile. once I'm healed over then if someone feel a connection with is present in my life then I'll take the steps to move on, until then its all focused on me. will however say is attractive for someone older than me. but what is comforting is that your dream was addressed in our own personal conversations and neither one of us was like "oh that's crazy, that would never happen." instead it was just discussed that have been through a lot and having someone be here for me is what's needed right now. neither of us felt like the idea was rejected, and the ease of just being myself getting to know him and in vice versa without pressure to be more is nice. He is someone feel would be a great person to have in my life, but if anything more comes of it its much later down the line. I did have a good phone call with him, we talked for like an hour on Friday. He was able to send me my GED test scores from online for as well as articles about my case for ICVC. have been just keeping busy with heading to the gym every chance get. it gets me out of the house and helps clear my mind. got the request from but im not up for an interview. so declined. just can't bring myself to be what they would want to see, I'm not the happy hopeful Gypsy I was 6 months ago. if did an interview now they would see a very different woman. feel like I just took 5 steps back in my personal growth. I'm weighted with sadness and its hard to do a story of how I'm doing great whenever that's so far from the truth. I'm making it moment by moment. hope you are doing alright at home.	page 308

Regardless lost like a full day so you probably get it till later in the week. have a shit ton of extra stamps now so let me know if you'd like anything else specific mailed to you. to take a picture of that pamphlet for me and she basically said "look you either know how to follow rules or I you don't" lol. So said "yeah hear your husband has a hard time remembering the rules when it comes to putting his feet on the table" &. took a "flex" selfie in the mirror for you and feel really vain, and douchey about it, but you requested it so I'm gonna send it. You asked for a gun show, I can only do one gun at a time with the phone in my hand. put in my request for April 3-6 off I'm almost positive I'll be approved. Then I'll look to book the actual trip there probably around February, but otherwise keep checking the trip cost to make sure nothing crazy happens to the prices. did go online to find pics of what the visiting room, and procedures are. think can handle the rules and be okay. Looks like there's a lot of tables all lined up next to each other with blue chairs. It isn't clear whether or not it's your facility I'm looking at. can't believe you don't want me to visit in January because of you don't like your haircut @ Anyways. I've definitely had some day dreams of you visiting Florida after you're out. In fact I'm going to stop at the beach on my way to my parents house today and FINALLY get you that beach video. can't wait to see you and your hot little beach bod there @3). Okay, I'll hear from you Tuesday. hope your weekend went well. Talk to you soon.	page 358

11/03/2019 17:01:22	Outbound	Hey There Mr. Smitten, was wondering, if it wouldn't be too much trouble, would love some hard copy pics of you for my photo album, and was wondering if you could send me some? :-) its 5 pics to an envelope. So good news, was able to contact Jpay and request that and be blocked from my email. also asked be blocked as well since can't seem to keep my thoughts and emotions to myself. Now it can be easier and not so tempting. Last night i started reading a very helpful book its called Mars and Venus Starting over. its a guide to emotional healing, and I'm finding it helpful. anyway, have been trying to block those 2 bioches for months now and finally can. was wondering, when do you think you might purchase your travel package for April? was just curious if the package was a time of the year price or it was the same if purchased closer to the time of the visit. either way, can damn near promise that you will get the double sessions for both Sat/Sun. I'm about a month away from getting my hair dyed lighter color, can't say it will be blonde, but its gonna be lighter than my natural medium brown. I'm nervous how it will look. its hard because they don't use bleach so getting dark hair to lighten is risky and could result in turning my hair orangeish :-\ Thankfully, the Cosmology teacher has a vast experience and knowledge in hair, so she can tell me just how light can go without turning orange. Well hope you get all of my 7 or so emails tomorrow or Tuesday. I'll be anticipating your emails, and looking forward to hearing your voice. have another double class as well as work, but will at least call to tell you goodnight. I'm pretty sure gave you alot to read over the weekend, I'll save some of those butterflies for next week. and sweet dreams Donald is a Pats fan lol --	page 367

11/03/2019 12:58:04	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! and I just recently learned about you, have to say am "team gypsy". Your story is fascinating and I'm moved to write you, I'm assuming you likely receive a ton of mail so hope am not bothering you or such. At first wasn't sure if should, but then (idk if this will bother you n if it does apologise) watched a documentary thing on YouTube and learned had the same birthday as your mom and to me took that as a sign to write. I'm so sorry you went thru what you did and how things played out, but understand and believe that what happened was what you believed to be a way out in the moment and believ: was the biggest influence. Im not gonna get into the whole thing, you don't need that just know totally get all of it! IDK what would have done if were you, but if it came down to it you do what you gotta do to save yourself. Only God can judge you and He knows your heart. If not you could still be in that position now and that thought alone is so, so sad. know it's something that you will carry forever and know you probably feel awful and maybe shameful, but know all of us humans make poor choices, yes some may be more extreme then others, but that don't matter. Some people just have not gotten caught and some have secrets, nobody is any better then you, you are human and worthy of all that life has to offer! hope you are ok and safe where you are, hope everybody treats you good. Have you befriended any of the other people with you? Idk why I'm so drawn to you, but so feel that had to share this with you just to show you, you are not alone and there is good people in this world. Your a beautiful girl and see you having a beautiful, bright future! can say so much, but I think this will be good enough for now... It would be awesome if you responded, but idk if you will especially considering you don't know me and you probably get tons of mail. will tell you my name and I'm from NY, I'm nobody special, just an average everyday person. went through some things growing up too in my home and wasted years of my life making poor choices myself, too have been to jail, not for long compared to you but know how it feels to be behind bars. So anyways, if you feel like getting back to me, or you need a friend or somebody to talk to I'm here. If not understand and wish you the best in life.	page 696
11/04/2019 12:25:48	Inbound	Gypsy, You are strong and what helps me with change is knowing every loss is an opening to receive something new and better. You dodged a bullet of long term problems with him—his hot and cold is toxic. You deserve someone always open to being your partner and not when it's best for him. Sorry for my delay, lots of big family changes and remodeling and work. I'll send pictures. If you like the pixie cut then say go for it but if you don't like the cut then maybe be open to figuring out what causes that reaction from you to cut your hair. imagine it's due to control and you not having any libertys of independence? Someone has ALWAYS told you what to do and controlled you. Cutting your hair is the one thing they can't stop you from doing. That may change when your out. Sending love,	page 075
11/04/2019 00:44:48	Outbound	I do still have love for you, and am sorry if am being mean, its hard for me. have decided to speak with a counsellor about healing from this. and have sent Jpay and request to delete you as a contact, am not tempted to do exactly what I'm doing now, emailing you every time feel a different emotion, one moment I'm ok then hate you, then I love you, then am lonely, then I'm ok again like.. I'm not OK. Just know, whatever I feel or have said, please just remember me like used to be, happy and goofy and the stupid jokes we would tell each other. remember me how was when we were in love, don't let how broken am change that image. just didn't want Jpay to remove you before had been really honest with you. really loved yo and know you have read my messages, so your well aware how much I'm hurting. I'm grieving. I'm trying to figure out what happens when your not the one for the one. oh and all those people who said was better alone...they were wrong. really do wish you well. will be upset for quite some time, but hope that just as let go of anger toward and wrote a closure letter and that day was able to be free of those old memories, hope that one day I can think of you without pain following after, and be able to have that freedom of true closure with you. until then... 11/04/2019 18:58:37	Outbound	Thanks Dad. I think the worst part is truly believe if was out there he and would be amazing together, and still hope that in the end it is him. Right now he doesn't want to accept my calls. so will either wait for him to reach out first or try and talk with him at the beginning of the year. The day he and ended it, it was more of me letting him go after he has repeatedly suggested we break now then get back together later. felt he has wanted this for a few months, but was always the one to try and convince him to stay. and right now whatever is going on within himself with the mix of thoughts and emotions. he and recognized that his personal happiness in his own life is affecting our relationship. When had a card, a drawn portrait, plus a little gift from a catalog sent to him and it arrived on the date of our anniversary and he didn't so much as even buy me a card!!! (which is totally out of the norm) and then proceeded to lie ABOUT sending the "card." realized that whatever was going on, it was on his end, not mine. and couldn't spend anymore time or effort into him if it isn't 50/50. so I called him and said ok, I'm letting you go, won't fight anymore. he said all the "but still love you, still want you." and I'm like want you to come back when your more mature, go live life, bang chicks and party, then come back when your ready to be my stability. its been one week and have cried only every night into my tear stained pillowcase. thank God have friends who are kind enough to be there if need to cry or talk. its not that fear being alone, its the amount of trust and loyalty that gave to him specifically. I have never trusted so fully, until HE gained that trust. what hurts more then anything else is the fact bared my soul, and feel rejected after such openness. all the normal break up pains is just extra. the missing, the lonely, the reminiscent thoughts, all sugar on top. I'm OK though, I'll live. has been working on a project. she has aotten the attention of a state senator about my early Mv what's up pimp juice, moms crying, what's going on with and you? are y'all getting together??? asking her what's up, nothing mean or anything just havent messaged her in awhile. guess my big question is what are you gonna do? seriously dad how long are you gonna be messaging chicks and pretending to be happy I just want you to be happy. didn't tell her that already knew I just want a heads up on what cha thinking. love you,	page 187

11/04/2019 21:47:14	Inbound	Hi Smitten Kitten. Sorry we got cut off without saying goodnight, but what can ya do? Okay so I'll see what can get printed out for pictures and get them sent to you. hope you like the articles that are on the way. Let me know other article topics you want to read about. You leave me beaming with this smile every time we get off the phone. It leaves me with such peace of mind getting to know you. Since the first day saw your face on my TV I've wanted to march right up to Missouri and wrap you up in my arms and take you out of there. In my opinion never belonged there in the first place. It's really been amazing the last couple months getting to know you and talk to you on this level. All I've wanted to do since that day is make it my mission to make sure you live the best life possible, and I'm so happy and willing to be part of your support team. April can't come fast enough. If when meet you hug you too long just kick me in the shin before get you in trouble because I'm definitely not going to. okay well was just interrupted while writing this, by you of course. just called you sweetheart before hanging up, hmm that just kinda came out. can't take it back now lol. absolutely wonderful, definitely think about you a lot. That's all I can really say. Like said I'll definitely make more of an effort to leave the ringer on my phone in case you call me on random days. So changing gears. My mom is a huge pack rat. Like you know they sold their house in Boston, and my mom packed literally about 300 boxes of crap, like just crap. Now there's a lifetime of books, furniture, pots, pans, and just about anything else you can think of in this one house. should take pictures of that. The entire garage is packed front to back with boxes. My mom is definitely going to give my dad a stroke. I've never seen so much crap in a house unless it was on an episode of borders. You can hardly move anything from one place to another because once you pick something up there's no where else to put it down! I'm stressed out just being there for a few hours. You can tell not only is my dad stressed, but the dogs are too. Uhhh if you've ever watched any Seinfeld episodes sitting there with them listening to them bicker feel like George Costanza. Now talking about building a bigger garage on the empty lot next to them that they own. I said to my dad "so what you're gonna spend $20,000 to build a place just to shove all these boxes!!". And she still sits there and tells me she's upset about all the stuff she ended up getting rid of!!! I'm like, there was more!? Some of it is interesting. She brought a few boxes of my stuff, old toys, newspapers, stuff that haven't seen in decades. It's like opening a time capsule from my childhood. really wish for yours and sake that your dad snaps out of this mid life crisis shit he's going through or he will end up regretting it. You don't have a 26 year marriage like that and just throw it away without thinking of the consequences. He will regret it and be sad about it one day. And it will hit him like a brick. As far as you go, know just said it on the phone but it's out of your control. Just be there for: She loves you, and it certainly doesn't sound like she will hold anything against you. When we chat I can tell she loves and wants to protect you like her own. So I'll leave you with that. hope your double session classes go well tomorrow. glad the articles you	page 364

Mostly sit behind a desk and read. got glasses for the first time last week so it's official - I'm a nerd. Haha! Anyway, just wanted to reach out and say hello and that hope you're doing well! Feel free to write back, or don't (no pressure!), and if you need any book recommendations, let me know... From My name i and just wanted to say hello and say hope you are doing well. just recently learned of your story and can't stop thinking about you and what you have been through. don't know if you will even see this or not. Hopefully you will and if so would love to hear from you. My name is and wanted to wish you a Merry Christmas. know it's the place you want to be, but assure you that you won't always be there and know you will finally have a life of your own one day that no one can dictate to you. As you probably have heard from so many other people over time due to the publicity of your story and all the media around it, too learned your story. don't believe anyone has the right to judge someone and found much empathy for you. think at the time when everything happened you felt so trapped with no way out and my heart goes out to you. only wish I could have been a friend to you then that you could have come to and helped. Unfortunately, didn't get to know about you until much too late. do have to say that you are finding yourself in this world and you look great from the last interviews have seen of you. I'm sorry people are making money at your expense but that's what happens in these cases. Everybody wants their piece. You have to watch who you can trust even now. My dad used to tell me if you make one true friend in a lifetime then you have accomplished a miracle. didn't understand what he meant back then but through the years, have learned. So many people want to say they are your friend but they aren't. Anyway, live in Oregon (originally from Texas and still have that Southern accent). We moved to Las Vegas after my parents died then recently moved to Oregon. I'm sick of hot and humid, and hot and dry so the cold is it, lol. married to a guy named Jason and we have been together 19 years coming up. Time flies. am 42 and just now finding myself. When was your age, wanted to be an actor and graduated from a modeling school in Dallas. went to NYC and was told needed to move there if wanted to make it happen. was adopted by my great uncle and aunt and they were in their 80s by then and I had to tend to them as their health declined. So those dreams did not come true. I've worked retail, customer service, cosmetics/ fragrances, and we even lived with a retired and disabled actress for a year. Then took care of my mother in law when she got sick until she died. In many ways, have taken care of others even moving here to be closer to Jason's aunt and uncle that plan to move here from CA. We did this for them in a sense. I have rattled on enough, but I just want you to know you have someone out there that really feels compassion for you and don't blame you. No one has that right. Other choices could have been made, but with your situation and you were so young, you didn't know what to do. I just hate it and hopefully one day you can put it all behind you and move forward. hope your relationship with your dad and stepmom continues. hear congratulations are in order for you are getting married. hope it's the right and best choice for you, but just remember you have a field to meet many once you are out and grab every opportunity that you can in life. Take care and if you ever need an extra penpal, then hit me up sometime)	page 700

A mutual friend sent me your info' and wanted you to be first on the list to get your free profile started on Xclusive Connections. This means you've been chosen to receive a 100% FREE membership. We also want to take the time here to help you write an excellent profile that will be seen and will gain responses with the tips below. We'd love to have you back next year but we're really hoping you meet that special someone in your introductory year. Creating an online profile can seem hard at first, but it's really all about being yourself & introducing yourself to people in a way that makes them want to know more about you... To help take your profile to the next level and make sure you start chatting and meeting more people, here are those few simple tips you can do right away that can have a big impact: 1) Don't leave anything blank! A big mistake a lot of people make when writing their profile is not taking advantage of all the tools they have to show who they are. For example: You can post up to 7 photos, so use all seven and invest in great photos... Also, we eagerly accept poetry, short stories, artwork, and music submissions. So if you have them skills, share /send them. The more you put into your profile, the more interesting you'll be. 2) Be honest! When asked what looking for in another person, the number one thing people across the board are looking for is someone who's honest. We realize you have a past, and as you get to know someone that story can be told. For now, just	page 328

11/05/2019 21:50:26	Outbound	Damn Booooy, you want a haulsta for those guns?? feel you had those before you started working out, lifting weights was just muscle memory. very impressive. keep it up :-) LOL a "flex mirror pic" is not doushy under these circumstances, if was out there and we were at a gym together, could see the gun show up close and personal, but for now I'll settle for one bicep at a time. :-) have noticed results in my legs, compared to 2years ago my legs are better toned. wouldn't mind wearing heels now. when it comes to weights have to be careful because don't want to be overly muscular, maintaining a feminine tone is what I'm going for. It seems you have a habit of reading my mind and answering my questions before getting my emails lol. sounds great to me booking for April. :-) Yes, I'm slightly vain about my hair, clearly was in a crazy state of mind to cut it, because i hate it now. In April it STILL wont be as long as it was before i chopped it, but it grows fast so at least it will be a little longer then now. Also yes there are little tables and blue chairs in the visiting room. or just find a clip from when had my Dr Phil interview, we did the interview in the visiting room. So day dream'n huh??? wanna share??? The beach would be nice, wanna go somewhere peaceful though, not a crowded populated area. just someplace can watch the ocean waves crash in and out, and hear the sounds of seagulls flying in the sky. maybe have a fire pit and spend a few hours at night under the stars, having a glass of wine for the first time. Your welcome to join me if you like, I'm bett'n its been awhile since you went star gazing on the beautiful Florida cost. And if you decide to visit Louisiana sometime, will show you my favorite places. City Park has beautiful Christmas lights during the holidays. the lights are wrapped around giant oak trees that have a humbling effect on the soul. Aside from my love of beauty in nature, would love to take you to somewhere myself haven't been yet, but the classic Burban street places for fun are legendary. have no idea what I'm like tipsy, so may need you to protect my honor from all those drunk cajuns lol but the bars, hear, are a element to the city that cannot be missed. and most have live music, so your gonna have a tipsy Gypsy hitt'n that dance floor. :-) Well Mr. Smitten, this is just a short message in response to yours. Im drinking my late night cup of coffee then calling it a night. I'll talk to you soon, enjoy your dreams both day and night ones. :-) SmittenKitten Hugs, and rubs against your leg...get it? cus of "kitten"... ok dumb lol :-P	page 364

It was CRAZY! swear one of the voices sounded just like the clips I've heard of her. The psychic who does them with us said she was at peace. Is there anything you would like us to ask her? Just thought would offer since you've answered several of my questions in the past. I'm not sure if you are even interested but if you are, I'd be happy to tell you what we asked and what the answers were. Just lmk. Hope to hear from you soon.	page 511
11/06/2019 16:18:58	Inbound	Hi Cutes. So sorry you are in the middle of all this. Ye has apparently found some emails sent your dad back in September. She emailed me with some threats and wanting to talk. didn't respond and won't respond. Your dad ended up everything about me, including the cookie lady info. He did tell her he has to choose but thin! will shape up after this and your dad will stay with her, and that us totally fine. I'm not here to take your dad away from her. Your dad and agreed that if they can work things out, then they should. Your dad and stayed in touch and talked a lot. He would often fantasize about moving up here and getting a job in Seattle or Akadka. didn't take your dad too seriously because it was a long shot. Also we considered your situation because we wanted you to live up here with us so was going to buy a house for all of us to live in. Your dad was told you couldn't come up here but briefly researched it and it turns out that you can with a few loopholes to jump through. didn't think your dad was too serious about being with me so just played along. He has a lot on his plate and needs to make smart choices. do think it's a safe choice to work everything out with" so sorry you are in the middle of this. Are you doing ok otherwise? In regards to men, you are going to have them lined up so think you should date for a while.	page 352
11/06/2019 18:53:33	Outbound	Good evening, I was gonna call last night, but it would have been at like 10pm your time that had the chance. just decided to wait until another night as figured most people go to bed that late and didn't wanna wake you up had you been asleep. but you were in fact on my mind all night. :-) I did get both your emails from that night and yesterday. I'm glad you got the visiting info with my little notes. Oh you can eat the food you bring as well, we just can't share plates is what that meant. and might have you bring me some McDonald's fries, but that would be for the second day. the first day I'll be too excited to see you to be concerned with food lol No article requests right now, I'll keep ya posted though. :-) My father did email me telling me he is not gonna talk anymore that for now he is gonna be good and try and work on things witl we'll see how long that lasts. on the subject of my email if it sounded like was threading him with media then clearly didn't phrase what meant right. never would have sen that exact email. meant that could have told the wrong people we are over and the media get it indirectly. back in August, said we are taking time apart t and shit hit the fan real quick then the media went wild. so didn't mean for it to sound like a threat, just meant like "hey look I'm upset enough to think you kinda deserve that but you dont so I'm not gonna do that to you because care enough about your doushbag ass not to." Regardless he knows I'm upset, plus did apologize after that email, and now that requested he be removed it will get easier for us both. was reading what you said about your mom having been a pack rat. Omg! I can relate, my mother was a big time horder. everything had a "memory" attached to it. so she would never throw it away. I'm like mom this old cardboard box does not have a "memory" to it. got so frustrated with all the shit, literally bagged almost everything from the (room of doom) aka the spare bedroom with all the crap in it. and took the bags to the corner for trash. unfortunately she noticed and brought all the shit back inside. now think it had a impact on me because I hate clutter, I'm OCD about my locker and how everything is arranged. if don't use it, I'm chuck'n it. Also for a bachelor, your very organized yourself judging from your apartment. :-) and you should maybe keep a few things from your childhood like a ball or a toy so that one day when your a father you can pass it down to your child. is there anything from your childhood that was particularly special to you?? for me, had a blue stuffed dog that was a gift from my grandma. had it until was arrested. all the stuff went to Goodwill, or was donated to a church. Awwwe, I'm glad my calls make you feel that way and don't get ranked with the eye rollable few. always get off the phone bright pink from blushing with a big smile the whole call through, so its the same here :-) its totally fine about calling me a sweetheart, nothing to take back needed. :-) and I'm not kicking you anywhere, how about I just pull away first, that will be your cue to let go lol feel everything will be just fine. feel you are a man responsible enough to know how and when is the right time to push further, and has a wise approach to things. and that goes for more then just the visit is concerned. Kissed the pumpkin card huh, that was cute. :-)	page 364

11/06/2019 09:30:25	Inbound	Good Moming!! Okay so a couple of workout tips that may or may not help. But determined a couple things this morning. First of all, in ya face because matched your 15 burpees @). simply added it to my every other day routine. So a pro and a con came from it. Normally to get loosened up walk at a fast pace for about 1/4 mile then start jogging. After the burpees was jogging right out of the driveway and felt strong right away. The con was my shins, and calf really tightened up at about the two mile mark. think I'll stick with it though, and hope that it's just a temporary thing while my muscles get used to it. Just thought share. Tomorrow after work I'll bring my phone to CVS, or a Walgreens and see about getting some pics printed for you. You must have a few of yourself flying around. Send me one too. Have a good day. #smitten	page 364

11/07/2019 20:34:29	Inbound	It's like sometimes write something and you'll read my mind. The "day dreaming" you're asking me about. Then you mention how love to see a night at the beach with a glass of wine. know the perfect spots one the beaches down here for either partying or the most quiet of spots. The sunset is often the best part of the day on the gulf beaches. You can literally watch the sun move down towards the water as it sets. Then after, it's the most amazing blues, reds, oranges, just a blend of colors you never knew existed. That's what I'm looking forward to bringing you to see one day... you know if you're up for joining me. That's the day dreaming have. To see you smile and enjoy that one day. And if you're a lightweight from the wine I'll just have to carry you back to the car lol. So there you go. I didn't hate Bourbon Street when went. It's definitely a unique party. was there last year with some friends for Wrestlemania lol. It's definitely on the grimy side. was approached by no less than 4-5 hookers that week that almost had me convinced at first "hey this girl is really into me" @. So I did talk t a bit last night. wanted to check in on her to make sure she was okay after the Snap Chat incident. She said that if anyone were to show up there that they should be the ones worried, not her. Lol she's one tough chick. She cracks me up. Then she messaged me today and told me there was a very exciting message on the way to me. It sounded really hot from what she said. Unfortunately she also mentioned that you weren't the author of this incoming message &} Don't be too pissed off with you're roommate. Nothing wrong with a prank once in awhile. had friends a few years ago start messaging this girl had just started dating do the same thing. The assholes got drunk and decided it would be funny to ask her for nudes from my phone. So don't worry, it's cool I'm sure Ill get a laugh out of it. So yes like you said I'm always answering your questions before you ask them. Yes unless see some sort of amazing deal then like the first week or February I'll start getting aggressive in searching for a deal. love booking trips. I'm determined to get the best deal. Constantly refreshing and bouncing around the websites to shave off every dollar can has always been exiting to me. can't explain it. If saved my money in every day life like do booking a trip I'd be a millionaire. Speaking of which was approved for the time off. So the first bridge is crossed. hope gotten the articles from Halloween, and the Star Wars movie by now. How about don't watch it, and some time in the future I'll watch it with you for the first time. I'll talk to you soon. I'll be around Friday night (tomorrow) if you get this by then call me. Feel free to write back, or don't (no pressure!), and if you need any book recommendations, let me know... From My name i and just wanted to say hello and say hope you are doing well. just recently learned of your story and can't stop thinking about you and what you have been through. don't know if you will even see this or not. Hopefully you will and if so would love to hear from you. My name is and wanted to wish you a Merry Christmas. know its the the place you want to be, but assure you that you wont always be there and know you will finally have a life of your own one day that no once can dictate to you As you probably have heard from so many other people over time due to the publicity of your story and all the media around it, too learned your story. dont believe anyone has the right to judge someone and found much empathy for you. think at the time when everything happened you felt so trapped with no way out and my heart goes out to you. only wish I could have been a friend to you then that you could have come to and helped. Unfortunately, didnt get to know about you until much too late. do have to say that you are finding yourself in this world and you look great from the last interviews have seen of you. Im sorry people are making money at your expense but thats whats happens in these cases. Everybody wants their piece. You have to watch who you can trust even now. My dad use to tell me if you make one true friend in a lifetime then you have accomplished a miracle. didnt understand what he meant back then but through the years, have learned. So many people want to say they you are their friend but they arent. Anyway, live in Oregon (originally from Texas and still have that Southern accent). We moved to Las Vegas after my parents died then recently moved to Oregon. Im sick of hot and humid, and hot and dry so the cold is it, lol. married to a guy named Jason and we have been together 19 years coming up. Time flies. am 42 and just now finding myself. When was your age, wanted to be an actor and graduated from a modeling school in Dallas. went to NYC and was told needed to move there if wanted to make it happen. was adopted by my great uncle and aunt and they were in their 80s by then and I had to tend to them as their health declined. So those dreams did not come true. Ive worked retail, customer service, cosmetics/ fragrances, and we even lived with a retired and disabled actress for a year. Then took care of my mother in law when she got sick until she died. In many ways, have taken care of others even moving here to be closer to Jason's aunt and uncle that plan to move here from CA. We did this for them in a sense. I have rattled on enough, but I just want you to know you have someone out there that really feels compassion for you and dont blame you. No one has that right. Other choices could have been made, but with your situation and you were so young, you didnt know what to do. I just hate it and hopefully one day you can put it all behind you and move forward. hope your relationship with your dad and stepmom continues. hear congratulations are in order for you are getting married. hope its the right and best choice for you, but just remember you have a field to meet many once you are out and grab every opportunity that you can in life. I'm not quite sure how would have reacted to that otherwise. think because of the length of it without a signature/signoff would have suspected someone else wrote that, or something weird was up, like you lost a bet or something. So it's Friday afternoon with a Monday holiday. Hopefully you get this before the end of the year! just got your messages well your message, and your friends. sent out some pictures this morning to you. Let's see which one arrives faster, this or the envelope. A couple of them are "repeat" pics that I've already sent you, but at least these will be in your hand as opposed to having to go to the kiosk to see them. don't really have many up to date pictures of myself Don't worry I'm not gonna sell your card. Not even for a million dollars. well, a million? I'd definitely split it with you if someone wants to fork that kind of cash over! No, but in all seriousness no one even knows have that besides you. love it. keep it right up next to my TV so I'm always seeing it. not concerned about the length of your hair as you are promise. did again check out a pic of you from last year when you were in court. still like your look that day best. 11/10/2019 21:18:38	Inbound	Dear Gypsy Sorry it has taken so long to get back to you have been sick and in the hospital with pneumonia. Just got home this afternoon and feeling much better. You can keep the snow. Just been cold here. have a feeling will get approved to visit very soon Would like to make a weekend trip the 1st week of December to spend time with you. have been and even talked to her on the phone for a while one day before got sick. thought it all went well. Then when my daughter brought my phone to the hospital, saw where she blocked me on Facebook and have sent her a couple of messages, but no reply. Got me confused, because our conversations went well. Maybe she is upset that said no to having Dr. Oz involved in what B.A.C.A and are doing for you. They are strong believers in the privacy and safety of the person we are helping. tried to explain that to her. But she kept bringing up getting some woman from the Dr.Oz show. told her no to that. We are not seeking media attention, we are seeking your freedom. Then she wanted me to watch Gypsy's Revenge to get the real story. said do not care to watch any such shows as that. It is the now and future that we are concerned about for you. A B.A.C.A Attorney has all the facts we need. And told her that anything else, would rather hear from you. But you should know by now, the past is gone, choose to focus on the now for you and helping you find a bright and happy future. Anyways, am confused about ho' and were getting along along and then poof. She turned away from me. Sorry to bother you about this. Maybe you can shed some light on why she has acted so rudely to me. always think honestly and communication are best. Talking things out. Ignoring things, don't make them go away. Anyways, enough about that. hope you are doing well and keeping a positive outlook on life. Your Blessed with a good heart and am honored to be your friend. Not feeling so well, so going to call it a nite. Hope to hear from you soon. Call if you want to email me please and let me know how you are. am sure they will let you know soon that have been approved to visit you. Excited about coming to see you. HUGS AND PRAYERS, YOUR FRIEND ALWAYS	page 666

Just wanted to let you know that have spoken i and told her everything about my 'relationship' with your father. We actually had a pleasant conversation. However, she did ask me if and how long you knew about me. told her don't know what Gypsy knows, I believe she only knows me as the cookie lady'. just wanted to give you a heads up in case she tries to trick you with certain questions. 11/13/2019 12:52:59	Inbound	Dear Sweet Gypsy, I just got back from the library. talked to someone there about my visitation request. They told me to go online and submit it that way. put down that your Spiritual Advisor. They told me they were backlogged on visitation request and that putting down that am your Spiritual Advisor would go through faster. So instead of mailing it, submitted it online. so ready to come see you. And am really your Spiritual Advisor, so you should hear something in the next few days. Anyways, hope you are doing good and keeping up bettering yourself am very proud of sent me a copy of you Anger Management Completion. That is awesome. But just can't see you having anger issues. But you taking that course is great. Have you been working on those things sent you. We want to get a Presentation Package together by December 15th. And by then I will have visited you and can write my letter of recommendation for you to be released. It is a process, we just have to be patient. Once they can our Plea Presentation, they will set up a date and time to Present it all in person. have some emails to with what we need from her and your Dad. We want to have it all together, so that they don't say we are missing anything. Just be patient and keep up with the good work. Your a STRONG young woman with a bright future. lam feeling much better and between helping with the Children's Ministry at church and getting things together with my B.A.C.A friends. staying busy. How are you doing really? know it is hard, but one day this will all be behind you. And you will be surrounded by those who truly care and have your best interest at heart. will go for now and get some rest before church tonight. We still have a little snow around, but mostly melted where the sun shines. Though it is only 21 degrees today. Are you staying warm? I worry about you, like your my daughter. want the best for you. And so excited, will be seeing you before Christmas, it will make my Christmas complete. IDK what the hold up with my visitation request. But since put down as your Spiritual Advisor, believe we will get the go ahead soon and I can start making my plans to CNN come up there. will have to watch the weather. Are there any special rules need to know about visiting you? pretty much know how it is, from visiting others, as for what to wear and things like that. But every prison is different. So if there is something should know, you can tell me. Really need to go for now. Call again soon love talking to you. You are so precious. Hugs and Prayers YOUR FRIEND ALWAYS	page 660

Is your new password Mr. Smitten, was thinking i wouldnt get any emails for a week due to them being backed up but i was happy to find that i had at least 6 from you. :) LOL no that isnt my password but i just might change it yet again because thats just too catchy to pass up. :) Awwwwwww the flowers are beautiful!!!! always the chamer. :) Yes, i think i could make enough time to join you for a long walk on the beach with a lovely sunset :) well my clock is counting down so i will send this off. think for a guy who doesnt like phone calls that much, you sure keep my interest in talking :) im never bored. Goodnight Sweet dreams kisses you not on the cheek back* <3 Litten Boo to JPay once again!! woke up with it saying had 4 new messages from you. So made my coffee, took a shower, got dressed and was ready to settle in for a few to read them. And nothing lol. There were no new messages at all, so needless to say my morning was ruined! Thanks JPay @!!!! Okay so enough complaining lol. How's your morning going? It was good to hear from you again last night even if it was brief. It was just those two that had to work late. Definitely not part of my permanent schedule, thank god. hate getting home at midnight then having to be up by 730 again. Literally just now the mailman showed up. sent off some more pictures, and your requested hand written letter. Did tell you made my rental car reservation for April already? called Alamo just to see what was required. I'm surprised I've made it this far in life never having rented a car so wanted to talk to an actual person there to make sure had everything lined up. I've heard stories about people getting denied for different reasons like not having a credit card, or their credit limit not being high enough. Stupid shit would rather take care of now instead of paying for an Uber from the airport to Chillicothe lol. found the funniest thing yesterday. went to look at Francesca's twitter just to see what she's been up to. found this link on there for her Facebook. find this like 1,000 word bullet point essay she wrote, and in it. Literally 83 comments mostly the two of them just verbally attacking each other and it went on for hours lol. was sooooo tempted to comment my classic hashtag #freegypsynow, but decided all that shit is best left alone. That is now "for entertainment purposes only" can't get involved with any of that again lol. Especially if either of them knew how often we talk now. They would be all up in my shit. The basic argument they're having is one they've been having for like 6 months. accuses NC of scamming people for your case file information. Then NC gets on and makes fun of FMs mustache. It's a constant circle lol. Entertaining, but best viewed from a distance. Well sweet GypsyRose supposed should get some work done for the day before the boss walks by me for the third in a daw cana anfan and a hanal and tan hard nm By the way, just to clarify, if ever was to write a "hot" email to you, it would not be tasteless and would be more eloquent and sensuously written. You do not strike me as a man who's physical affection can be so easily won by use of common pick up lines. Besides, you're gonna need more than a handsome face to win mine, however the odds are in your favor. After all, you already have in my dreams, but i dont dream and tell. :) Goodnight. il talk to you on Tuesday :)	page 365
11/14/2019 22:32:45	Inbound	Gypsy! Tell me all about your wild dreams right now lol!! want to hear all about them!!! But no seriously. If you had any idea. My dreams/imagination can tend to run pretty wild. I'll just say that sometimes think about you randomly and have to take some pretty deep breaths, and re focus. It tends to happen at work a lot lol. I can't believe you got six messages from me today. They must have held last till now too. No Tuesday is too far away. want to talk to you long before then. hope you get this before then. Sunday night would be nice. Kiss "not my cheek" don't know what that means. You'll have to spell it out better than that. Goodnight and sweet dreams, Gypsy .	page 365

But don't want it to cause any conflict with your Dad and As far as the media, my B.A.C.A Friends will not tolerate any type of media or reporters. along with them believe for your well being and privacy, we don't need any kind of attention that would overwhelm you when you get out. They can be very pushy and only want to up their rankings by getting your story. You need your privacy to live and rebuild your bright future. Let your light shine! Anyways, am feeling better. 11/15/2019 17:13:31	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, hope your well! I'm doing great, just started my own business caring for animals. I'm in the local newspaper soon because of it. never believed anything like this would happen for me. didn't think was capable. But am. Have you started teaching your class yet? I'm learning how to microchip dogs and cats. Have you thought about working with animals? think you'd be great at that. The dogs are getting big. They are 8 weeks old now, they will be going soon. don't want to let them go. But we have to because we are fostering some dogs from Romania which have been living on the streets or in caves, living off the scraps of each other's bodies. It's horrible. But we get pippin in the UK in 4 weeks, 6 weeks quarantine, then home to me. know I'll give him enough love to last a life time. really hope your doing good. Reach out if you want a chat.	page 679

So like, said I'mj I'm 32 years old, live in Payson, Az. work as a caregiver for mentally and physically handicapped individuals. work over nights. love my job and the clients work with, think of them all as my family :) have a dog that's a dachshund named Luna and an orange tabby named Cheeto. also have a guinea pig named Cupcake Unicom Princess that call Cupcake for short. Cupcake is a he, thought he was a girl when I got him many many years ago but found out maybe a year ago Cupcake is a boy. He doesn't seemed too bothered by the name so just kept it haha. So my hobbies, love anime and manga. Lately I've been into Sword Art Online, Black Clover and a few others. My all time fav is Naruto and Dragon ball Z. love playing came video games and LOVE everything pokemon. The newest game just came out the other day, Pokemon Sword and Shield. got Sword and I've been playing it, it's so much fun! also play Fortnite and Overwatch. love to paint and draw. love Star Wars and everything about it, and Jurassic Park, and the Alien movies. like movies in general usually scary stuff like ghosts and demon stuff also like to collect rocks and crystals. I'm 37 years old and was raised by a mother that was abusive and cold (though nothing in comparison to what you endured) and it took a long time to learn to love myself and to learn it's ok to be alone and learn who was. It wasn't until then that found love; married a woman who loves me for me. have a normal life now and found my own happiness and success but had to do it on my own; without my family in my life. hope you are able to learn to trust others and to open up to your dad and to someone who will love you for you. But really hope you take your time finding love and are careful to find yourself first when you are released. I'm sure you get tons of letters and people sending you money and photos to your JPay but I'd love to learn more about you if you have a chance to write back. Do they treat you ok in there? Have you made some friends? Are you happy? Anything about you or your experiences or if	page 692

Okay Ill give you a bit of something, maybe this is more of a daydream than actual dream. The part I'll give you is G rated. But have this dream of you being out of there with me. Us sitting on the couch with a movie on. It doesn't really matter what movie because you and are just one the couch. My arm around you, us smiling, looking into each other's eyes, holding hands, kissing each other. know in my version of it I'm just elated to have you next to me, just melting into each other. It feels like pure bliss when imagine it. You can use your own imagination where it all goes from there like you force me to do lol well just answered your call to hear you kiss me goodnight while writing this. I'll assume it wasn't on the cheek. Okay maybe now am blushing a bit. That typically doesn't happen to me. I'm kinda beaming right now, sweetheart. You've got my full attention that's all can really say. Just a huge smile on my face. Goodnight, Smitten Kitten. If I'm lucky my dreams include you tonight. Meet me there. Goodnight ©.	page 366

11/20/2019 21:47:52	Inbound	Hi gypsy hope you are doing well still. When do you get released? send you drawings? How can i give you something. glad to hear you're doing well!! have already sent a letter to the parole board for you. so happy for you to have your dad & family back in your life full time. We are almost the same age & you haven't even gotten to experience any of the things that you should have. cannot wait to see how you progress with your life after your release. I'm sure with all the publicity from everything you're pretty overwhelmed. know that you have a lot weighing on you. also do photography, that's a great stress relief If you ever want to chat about anything, know you probably have a list of people offering friendships but love to talk & make friends that understand hardships. My daughter loves your name by the way! She keeps saying she's going to name her daughter that & she's only 6 lol but you've inspired her to be strong & cant thank you enough for that. I'm happy to hear you've found love! You deserve that & so much more. You will do great sure you're getting overwhelmed with emails from everyone all over the world! have been following your story since it all came out. actually live just a couple hours from where you are now. just wanted to say that you are the bravest woman I have ever seen & everyone trying to profit off your story is sickening. You have been taken advantage of your whole life & people are still continuing to do it. I'm so sorry for everything you went through. Everyone keeps pointing fingers & making their own conclusions but no one has lived your life & until someone has been through everything you have, no one can say anything. admire your honesty & too have been through a lot with my mother but nothing compared to you. cant imagine coming out as great as you have with all of that. We are the same age & just cant believe you are so much stronger than ever could be. have a 6 year old & I've kind of told her your story with out all the gritty details. Just that even family members can hurt you so always be smart & know if something seems off to tell someone. She always says how beautiful you are. know you're getting swarmed with people but I just wanted to show my support & if you ever just want to chat, I'm always available. Good luck Gypsy. You have so much support out in this	page 543

So last night we went to eat and Mom and it was real nice. We had breakfast!! Well bro, this is short and sweet, its a busy Friday for us...love and praying for you always! God & Family = Engaged Train up a child in the way he should go; even when he is old he will not depart from it—Proverbs 22:6 Parents today are engaging in ways that are much different from previous generations. Sports and competitive events are consuming the time, energy, and money of parents, grandparents, and kids of all ages. While many focus on the negative impact on long-standing spiritual traditions, wonder if there could be a positive side? Could this be a path of reengagement in a society where the family unit is disengaged and under attack? Is this a way to recapture time with children that reinforces character, ethics, and even spiritual values? Time will tell the real story, but distancing ourselves from the world and sports is not the answer. "Training up a child in the way" requires engagement. It infers parents must invest time, energy, and money. And while there are unhealthy levels of recreational engagement that turn into idolizing the wrong things, we are called to train in a world full of idols that tempt our children, and us, at every turn. DO THIS: Engage. Train others how to think and act biblically.	page 006
11/22/2019 19:41:19	Outbound	Mother, I am writing this letter with having had nearly five years to feel the emotions felt when expressing the words written. Every day since your death, have had nothing but time to reflect on the choices that have led me to where I am today, moreover of how your own actions formed the circumstances around mine. The woman writing this letter to you is far different than the girl who was once broken and desperate to live what would later come to understand as just an average life for a young woman. Living twenty-three years of my life with you as my only guardian, the one person who had the responsibility of shaping who would grow up to become. Unfortunately, my upbringing was a far cry from that which should have been. Starting from my birth going into my young adulthood, being isolated from having any other human interaction other than yours was lonely and has affected my ability to have appropriate social necessary to make healthy social interaction with others. The many unnecessary medical surgical procedures and medications that was forced upon me to "treat" illnesses that did not have has left my body marked with scars both physical and emotional. Your choice to not have me educated growing up has made it difficult to gain the appropriate level of education needed for a woman of my age, and has caused a depleted self-esteem in my ability to make achievements in society. When mentioning the over all lack of life experience that was withheld from me by your choice as my mother, you did not only take away the normal life experiences that shapes an individual to be who they are, or could be, but you made the choice to keep me from the best things in life that makes life worth living as a youth. The innocent joy of having a first day of school. The fun of going to the mall with friends and buying a dress that would surely never pass your approval. The excitement of being asked to prom. The comfort of your embrace when getting my heart broke for the first time. The nerves of awaiting that college acceptance letter. These are all things that was not able to experience. It would be many years before was able to fully understand the reasons for why I grew up being isolated from others, being taken to hospital after hospital, doctor after doctor without anything being medically wrong with me. Waiting for the next time your hand was to strike me for simply trying to make a friend. Fear, manipulation and isolation was all knew of your kind of "love," and the lingering question of why was unable to be allowed the one thing that everyone else seemed to have, the ability of freewill. I am now 28 years old and am in prison for my part in your murder, and though I can never justify my crime, nor can any letter or apology give back the life that was taken. am writing this as if you were physically in front of me to express all that have held in for the whole of my life. Mom, after all that has happened, I have been searching for answers and spending my time trying to learn about myself as a person, trying to make sense of why all these events unfolded with this amount of tragedy. want you to know that now understand that you were mentally and emotionally unstable when raising me, and that your	page 307

Since being incarcerated have successfully completed five institutional programs that which include ICVC, Pathways to Change, Anger Management, Balanced Living, and Trauma Resolution. I am currently enrolled in General Education classes with having passed the subjects of Science, Social Studies, Language, Reading and am close to achieving Math for successful completion of a full GED. As of October 2019, have started facilitating the institutional class, ICVC, an offender facilitated program that helps teach offenders the importance of taking accountability for their crimes and actions giving them a better understanding of the impact that crime has on victims, as well as giving them further insight into living a crime free life. decided to go into facilitating this particular program because felt that by sharing my personal story with other offenders, could be a positive change in the community. Leading by example displaying good behavior in our institution and by taking the time to educate others to be accountable and remorseful for their actions as well. In addition to these programs, have held an institutional job without any issues and am in psychotherapy for the emotional/mental trauma as a result of abuse. Being able to reconnect with family and build beautiful happy memories with my loved ones is the most important thing to me. Acquiring steady employment is a goal, as well as furthering my education by attending a community college with a particular interest in language arts. furthermore, am interested in taking extensive mental heath therapy to learn how to better cope with the emotional and phycological issues that include, PTSD, depression and codependency. My goal in this area is to have better control over these issues as a result of the abuse suffered at the hands of my mother. In addition my personal goals, wish to go into pubic advocacy for children who have suffered abuse, particularly as it pertains to Munchausen Syndrome By Proxy. Spreading awareness by educating others on how to combat child abuse has become my personal passion and by sharing my own life story as a survivor of abuse, am able to give those too affaid to speak, a voice. If don't talk to you before Christmas hope you have a Merry Christmas. 12/03/2019 06:34:09	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, Firstly, it is really great to see how you have changed over the years. You seem to be enjoying your life at last, well better than the decades of abuse — that don't know how anyone could do all that to their own child. You don't know me, live in England... A family member told me about a program and said should watch it. It was called “The Act” - one of my favorite actresses is Patricia Arquette. Your life with your mother shocked me, as had never heard of such abuse on the scale you encountered from such a young age. Just to be straight with you am not a reporter or anything else. joined a Facebook group run by a woman called Dawn. expect you know of her there was a cover image of You seem to look so happy together, thriving and surviving. lam not an obsessive fan or a stalker, and certainly wouldn't try to even phone you in prison, which read someone tried to do, I could not believe they had the audacity to do so! It seems you attract people from all walks of life. hope you get your wish for an early release. guess by now you can tell am on your side. have never had any doubts about you. All can say is you must be one very brave woman to go through such an ordeal. You have a great family waiting for you, and a husband (so I have heard)! lam so glad you came out of all this and still be able to hold your head high. watched your court case, on tv and could see you were upset by the whole ordeal you have experienced, in your life. No one should ever have to go through what you did. thought the abuse was bad enough, but then you got a 10-year sentence on top. know you think you are better off now, but a jury decided your life after all the years of abuse you had already endured. hope you did not mind me writing to you, have paid for you to reply, however, will understand if you don't. know you have many people contact you, but thought would try and reach out to you, on the off chance. You may be wondering why am contacting you. It is a long story but in one part of the documentaries showing actual footage of the huge amount of medication have seen some that personally rely on. Some of the undiagnosed conditions you were being treated for, actually suffer from. found some parts of the movie very disturbing, how could anyone even think of abusing you this way is beyond my imagination. know from my own experience what it is like to be pushed around in a wheelchair, but in my case, it is because cannot walk very far without severe pain. had an accident when was 22 years old, and damaged my spine — damaged my nerve system. However, in my case, there is no cure, just medication to try and keep me pain-free to a degree. fought for months to not use a wheelchair, but did not win — now have no choice but to use a wheelchair.	page 700

Feel free to call me as well any time you ever just need someone to talk to. My phone number is I really hope you can write me back. Hi Gypsy, You don't know me, which is fine. just wanted to reach out to you because heard about your story and just wanted to say am so sorry for what had happened to you. couldn't even imagine. But, am glad that you are slowly moving past it, and have improved yourself mentally and physically since the incident. To be honest, at first didn't think it was appropriate for me to reach out to you because you don't know me but I found a support page on Facebook, think your dad and stepmom run it? But, they were encouraging people to write you so you lonely, which made me want to finally do it! Since you don't know me, I'll totally understand if you decline the offer, but I'm willing to be your penpal on here and I can even your friend after you get out of incarceration, if you're fine with that. But, like said will totally understand considering the situation and everything. But, since I'm a stranger to you, I'll go ahead and tell you who am! So, my name i I'm 18 (almost 19) in February, and actually live in Springfield, Missouri! I'm quiet, and very shy, and lonely haha only because when was 10 I was injured in a school accident and broke my hips, had like 5 surgeries, fell into a coma, and finally I'm on a disability and just can't find friends because nobody wants to wait on me, i can't keep up because of my hip/leg problems, so am kind of excited that we could possibly be friends but if not it's like said, TOTALLY understand. Also, meant to say, literally SO BEAUTIFUL! I think you have the prettiest smile! :) But, gotta go, I'm almost running out of characters haha, so I'm gonna go! hope to hear back from you soon. If not, it's ok! No worries! :) Keep your head up, and stay positive! I'm praying for a strong recovery, and a beautiful future for you. hope to talk to you soon Gypsy! Sincerely,	page 701

My name , from Canada (Toronto) and have been inspired by your experiences. I'm sure this show (which know/assume you have not had the ability to see) does not do justice of what you went through for 24 years. My heart goes out to you. myself was abused by my mother up until was 27 years old, not anywhere as close to as awful as what you endured. cut off all ties and now am living a better life for it. have a family member who is in prison and understand how important it is to have someone to keep in contact and communicate with. I'm sure you don't have any shortage of that on your end... but felt compelled to reach out. know you try and stay away from the fame aspect as you can- but hope you don't mind me writing you. How are you doing and feeling? understand you have a fiancée now.. congratulations! How did you meet? How is prison? What is it like? Are there chances of you getting released early? If there was one thing you wanted someone to know about you that they may not, what would it be? It would be nice to hear back from you, if you have the time or even see this. All the best,	page 253

12/17/2019 00:19:18	Outbound	To Whom that may concern, My name is Gypsy Blanchard #1302048, I am writing this letter to express how deeply remorseful I am for my actions. In the years since my conviction of second degree murder for my part in the death of my mother and victim, Claudine Blanchard, in June 2015, have learned the importance of taking accountability for my crime and do so without hesitation. have come to realize just how deeply my crime has negatively impacted so many lives, creating a ripple effect, that motions far beyond my own realization. The pain and heartbreak felt by her family and friends will never be something I can ease. The unanswered questions will never be able to give them peace of mind. The stolen memories with their loved one, will never be able to give back to them. This was a close death for me as she was my mother. She gave me life and with one choice, wrongfully took hers. cannot ignore the fact that made this choice to commit murder as a means to a way out of an abusive relationship with my mother, however do not and will never condone, nor justify my actions as now understand that no matter what the circumstances, murder/violence is never the answer. By taking her life, took away the possibility of her receiving treatment for her mental health issues that was the source of her abusive behavior towards me, and possibly improving such behavior could have been the solution to her and making amends and having a healthy relationship that never resulted in the tragic reality that was losing her life to murder, and robbing myself the possibility of her and potentially sharing the treasured memories that are so important for a daughter to have of her mother. This is but a small fraction of the regret that carry, wishing that could have made a better choice that did not result in murder. would do anything to undo the damage have inflicted on so many, and moreover wish that could give back the life that was taken by my own choice, but can not. My sympathy for her family continues to grow as the impact of this crime continues to unfold. For my actions, am truly sorry. Sincerely, Gypsy Blanchard #1302048 Chillicothe Correctional Center 3151 Litton Rd Chillicothe, Mo 64601	page 664
12/17/2019 00:41:05	Outbound	Mi (sigh) the last of the letters from me is sent to you. it is not a particularly long letter, feel with the other letters it makes each letter have a point of its own and all 4 summarized together makes a perfect pitch. have asked a few close friends to write character reference letters and gave them your address to send them to. he wrote a letter that in itself was a summary of the whole story with reasons why One letter for sure is from he feels should be pardoned, and read it to me over the phone, it is well written and sure to be impactful. I also asked to write one and he is currently writing his. My best who am the Godmother to her daughter is writing one. needs to write hers and so does my father, he is coming home from work on the 27th of this month. know its been slow, but we are all starting to get the ball going for what we need to do on our ends. believ said that the forms you need to send her was misplaced? and you were looking for them, were you able to find them? I'm sure something can be worked out for the senators office to send the paperwork again, or is that after the initial presentation package is sent that they ask who all is your chosen guests at the possible meeting in Jefferson City? anyways. if you need anything else please let me know. hope you are feeling better and that nasty pneumonia is gone. 12/18/2019 13:07:26	Inbound	Dear Gypsy Rose, My name i and live in Baltimore County MD. have 3 kids and work at lhop lol. A few days ago binge watched the act and after that looked more into your story and wanted to reach out and see if you could use any new friends. I'd love to get to know you and see if maybe we could possibly become friends. The Netflix show was okay but id like to know the real you. My name (Igo > and I'm writing to you mostly out of curiosity. I'm not going to pester you for answers about the incident as I'm sure you get plenty. I'm primarily curious about how you've adjusted to life behind bars and what that's like for someone in your position. know the quality of life in prison can vary by state and by case. What prompted me to write you is that my boyfriend recently showed me the show that premiered on Hulu called The Act. I've heard mixed reviews about it and I've heard that it isn't the most accurate. I've also read that you were not a fan of it - figured the most accurate source for that 2nd statement would be the woman herself. That all aside, also would love to know what kind of interests you've acquired now that you're able to form your own and do what you like freely. How do they treat you where you live? Have you made friends, met any good/consistent pen pals? Another of my favorite things to ask when I write inmates is how the food is where they are doing their time. hope to hear from you but understand if you'd rather not answer any questions. included a stamp with this email so if you do decide to write back you won't have to give any payment a second thought. 12/21/2019 06:04:56	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, Thank you so much for replying to me, so much appreciated. was not too sure if you were still into Disney, but I think the words were appropriate. watched "Abominable" by Disney just a week ago, yes watch the odd Disney now and then, I'll admit it. Lol So Gypsy what kind of movies do you like, now you have grown up? have many hobbies myself including cybersecurity, computers, gaming, electronics, biochemistry, etc. Many friends just call me a "geek", mainly because have studied many subjects and attained above-average marks. am different because like looking at the world of microscopic organisms. assume you know what OCD is, if not it stands for a mental health condition called 'Obsessive-compulsive Usually, a person with it will keep their houses absolutely spotlessly clean. No, don't suffer from it, but have done an experiment and washed my hands 5 times, so in theory, my hands should have clean as you can get. You only have to place one finger under a powerful microscope to see what is moving around your skin. It may sound disgusting, but we are talking of creatures that you can only see with a microscope with at least 2000x magnification. My perspective upon life is we are learning every day of our lives. It's a shame your relationship did not work out. know how heartbreaking relationships can be, some can make you really ill. Did he not even give you a reason why he called it off? Yes, it is horrible being on the receiving end of a break off by anyone romantically. personally could not just drop anyone, would try and work things out at least. Okay, we are all different in our own ways - some people just do not know how to communicate with others. However, you should have deserved an explanation as to why? Perhaps it was the media attention your case attracted, many people hate the media. It's not really worth speculating. told me how badly you took the break up, am not surprised, to say the least, would be the same. In time your heart will heal, know it's easy for me to say, but I think many people these days go through heartbreaking relationships, the worst case being with children involved. told me when you are released you will be living with them and they cannot wait for that day! That day will be like a dream come true for you. Freedom for you at last after so many years of being told what you must do and when I can only imagine your joy when that day arrives. I noticed you can send ecards via jpay.com, so I'll send you one - just to let you know am thinking about you over the Christmas season. have any recent photographs of you? You look very petite, from what saw of your court case. But they say nice things come in little packages! ;) You made my day today, wasn't expecting to hear from you so soon - you must have many people emailing you per day. Today was quite a stressful day, had to have BOTOX injections in my neck and shoulder because of a nerve condition and they are painful. understand your mother made you have BOTOX injections in your saliva glands, that must hurt!	page 698

12/24/2019 00:36:12	Outbound	Good evening, hope your Christmas was nice. wow how much do you talk? lol the reason that was given for the drop, was that our relationship was made public and the very popular opinion of others is that do not need to be in a relationship at this point in my life, so his family, friends and random strangers drilled it into his mind the "if you love her, let her go" thing and so he did...problem is,..that was never what needed, I needed him to be my rock through all of this. He eventually came to see that was a very costly move as now if he was to ask me to take him back, won't and told him that he broke my trust too much to just pretend its all back to normal. so in other words he chose to listen to everyone else except the one that matters and now my trust can not be gained back enough for us to be us" again. don't get me wrong still love him and he will always be in my heart but don't think can look at him with the same adoring eyes as once did. have horrible luck with relationships. :-\ anyway, as for movies I'm interested in now, well whatever kinda grabs my attention. watch more TV shows then movies per say. 90 Day Fiance, New Girl, Survivor, Modern Family. don't have anything that watch every week yet I'm waiting for something good to interest me. So tell me a bit more about yourself! how old are you, where do you live, things like that :) you can send a pic if you like.	page 698
12/24/2019 13:15:33	Inbound	Hey Gypsy How are you? We've never met so I'll introduce myself. My name I'm a 33 y/o woman from Canada. work at a bookstore in Toronto. Mostly sit behind a desk and read. got glasses for the first time last week so it's official - I'm a nerd. Haha! Anyway, just wanted to reach out and say hello and that hope you're doing well! Feel free to write back, or don't (no pressure!), and if you need any book recommendations, let me know... From My name i and just wanted to say hello and say hope you are doing well. just recently learned of your story and can't stop thinking about you and what you have been through. don't know if you will even see this or not. Hopefully you will and if so would love to hear from you. My name is and wanted to wish you a Merry Christmas. know its the the place you want to be, but assure you that you wont always be there and know you will finally have a life of your own one day that no one can dictate to you As you probably have heard from so many other people over time due to the publicity of your story and all the media around it, too learned your story. dont believe anyone has the right to judge someone and found much empathy for you. think at the time when everything happened you felt so trapped with no way out and my heart goes out to you. only wish I could have been a friend to you then that you could have come to and helped. Unfortunately, didnt get to know about you until much too late. do have to say that you are finding yourself in this world and you look great from the last interviews have seen of you. Im sorry people are making money at your expense but thats whats happens in these cases. Everybody wants their piece. You have to watch who you can trust even now. My dad use to tell me if you make one true friend in a lifetime then you have accomplished a miracle. didnt understand what he meant back then but through the years, have learned. So many people want to say they you are their friend but they arent. Anyway, live in Oregon (originally from Texas and still have that Southern accent). We moved to Las Vegas after my parents died then recently moved to Oregon. Im sick of hot and humid, and hot and dry so the cold is it, lol. married to a guy named Jason and we have been together 19 years coming up. Time flies. am 42 and just now finding myself. When was your age, wanted to be an actor and graduated from a modeling school in Dallas. went to NYC and was told needed to move there if wanted to make it happen. was adopted by my great uncle and aunt and they were in their 80s by then and I had to tend to them as their health declined. So those dreams did not come true. Ive worked retail, customer service, cosmetics/ fragrances, and we even lived with a retired and disabled actress for a year. Then took care of my mother in law when she got sick until she died. In many ways, have taken care of others even moving here to be closer to Jason's aunt and uncle that plan to move here from CA. We did this for them in a sense. I have rattled on enough, but I just want you to know you have someone out there that really feels compassion for you and dont blame you. No one has that right. Other choices could have been made, but with your situation and you were so young. you didnt know what to do. I just hate it and hopefully one day you can put it all behind you and move forward. hope your relationship with your dad and stepmom continues. hear congratulations are in order for you are getting married. hope its the right and best choice for you, but just remember you have a field to meet many once you are out and grab every opportunity that you can in life. Honestly, never know what we are going to talk about when I call, or where the conversation will end up at, we could start with talking about pizza end on the price of tea in China lol Hmmm as for your reward for abstaining from smoking a month straight, might tell you a story, Maybe one set straight out of one of my fantasies or one specially created. wanna make YOUR body blush this time <3 You have told me that need to be your guide when it comes to content regarding the more explicit details. Just say what you want when we talk, its ok promise. am just bashful, however when I have had too much coffee and my confidence is sky high, I'll call you and tell you what's on my mind and to get a literal rise out of you teasing you with all that talk. :) maybe I'll let you hear me moan a little, mean "purr" :) It is now Christmas Day and am up early getting ready. another girl on the wing did my make up which omg she did an amazing job!!! she is teaching me the tricks of the trade so can do it myself. 12/26/2019 01:45:43	Inbound	Dearest Gypsy, It's crawfish time.... in South Louisiana!! My favorite season, my favorite wildlife, my favorite food!! © Thanks for your email letter @!! So getting your teaching cred are you?! The class seems to be also therapeutic. And know for sure that you will make a positive difference:)) try not to write about any crimes. The documentary and your interviews- childhood, leukemia, original Louisiana girl- emotions, thoughts.. so much in common. When we have some adult beverages and kicking it back at a crawfish boil, we'll have lots to talk about!!:)) What?? Oh no not the beautiful hair. You're only supposed to cut up pictures of the ex, not the hair lol (just playing) Breakups are difficult. Especially when relationships are limited and ruled by the law. The good side see is that real freedom!! For all your relationships!! Family night, out with friends, girls night out on the town, going on dates.... besides, have a 28yr old son and a 20yr old son and both single wink, wink! Oh yes indeed girl. With all the publicity and the "paparazzi", for awhile there, online you were 'viral', the "trending" story of everyday. Your story is an extraordinary story, but it's your story!! It's definitely your decision if you want to live a quiet and reserved life or live your life out loud. That's why didn't write as often. just knew would be overwhelmed!! still reach out to Mr. from time to time. And your Dad is such a character, a true rajun cajun bayou boy- he is the coolest, which is cool for you for re-establishing a relationship as adults—just fun to hang out with and become best of friends!! (I met my Dad when I was 18, that's how it was for us:)) An old hippie song by Janis Joplin "Freedom's just another word for nothing left to " In your freedom, the world is yours!! Thoughts of you. Keep your spirits high, dream in the daytime and keep that attitude with personality- A beautiful life for a beautiful lady is waiting on you!! Always, love huas Well hi there sweet Gypsy baby girl, what a pleasant surprise!! sure have missed hearing from you ___ how are you these days?? Things have been active here—traveling on the 18wheeler, (I've got more postcards from different states for ya:)) And activity of the holidays.... My birthday is in October thru Christmas in December with Halloween and Thanksgiving in between.. is always a fast paced time for me!! From different perspectives, on different circumstances, you either want time to speed up or slow down.... I'm sure you can relate to and understand those feelings of mine:)) My youngest boy is home from the Military, US Air Force, for all my children together, you want time at a standstill but it keeps moving so fast!! But I've enjoyed, embraced every moment.... and cooked lots and lots of Cajun foods.. I think of you often.. with care and concern, wondering what you're doing, how are you feeling, if you're happy, hanging in there, dreaming, thinking and knowing, that beautiful days for you are on the way!! And it also keeps me grounded to appreciate the freedoms have, and not to take for granted, and advantages granted to me, are given for accomplishments and happiness in life!! If anything, these things I've learned from the moment your story, and you, went straight to my heart SQ So good to hear from you.... send back good thoughts, the best wishes ever, every year happier holidays because it's another year getting closer to home.... that's exciting!! And of course, it's hugs and kisses and my as	page 233

The media hype has finally dissipated, so we are all just loving the calmness. have been just trying to continue to better myself anyway I can, and its done me a world of good. :-)) unfortunately cut my hair really short about 3 months ago due to my break down over the break up, but am growing it out long again. going into 2020 my focus is on myself and my family. as feel last year got caught up in so much stress need to get back to it being about bettering who am and not the drama that can be created by others. anyways, thought would update ya on me, I'm so blessed to have wonderful people like you in my life. keep in touch :-)) Hugs	page 233

12/26/2019 12:24:18	Outbound	Good morning M: I'm sure the number change will be just fine on my end. the word Blatter made me laugh lol ok so I have read over the opening letter and its amazing! the only thing is can you change my mothers name from Dee Dee to her actual name?? and that is Claudine Blanchard if you would like to add that's fine but by a legal standpoint in the court paperwork her actual birth name i other then that its wonderful and give the full go ahead to send it with everything else. :-)) I will print it out on my end to keep a copy :-)) I too hope the weather holds out, can't wait to meet you in a few weeks :-)) hope your holiday was cheerful, mine was ok miss family ya know, but in time I'll be with them all :-)) sending love and hugs How are you? Its been over a year since seen them. anyways just wanted to say hi and keep you in the loop of what's going on here. Stay safe. Hugs	page 672

12/27/2019 15:58:54	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, Guess what, I'm missing you again. can't wait to hear your voice tonight. Honestly it's okay when people interrupt you. It kinda gives me a peek into who you are when you're not on your "best behavior" with me. Kinda like the video of me on the boat. almost deleted that and re shit it but decided it was better for you to hear me interacting with my co workers. As far as you giving me body blushes believe me you do plenty. won't lie there's been plenty of times where I've closed my eyes and thought of you while umm... taking care of myself wouldn't hate doing it while you're on the phone. Honestly the phone, the pictures, the stories, the using our imaginations... it's just something I'm not used to, but also understand that it's something have to get used to for now. It isn't a bad thing, it's just a fact of what this is. The point I'm making is that sometimes it may sound as if I'm uncomfortable, when that isn't it. It's just different to me. Everything about this is different to me. have asked myself a thousand times "how did this get to this!?" lol. But here you are all the sudden. And I love it. find you exciting, and unique. And like I've said, understand where you are and how long it might be, and that's okay. Let's just stay on this ride and see where it goes!! I've said it before, it isn't what you've gone through in life that intrigues me. It's the person become, and are becoming since then. The past is the past, and it can't be changed. The future is anything and everything we want to make it. Muah!! Talk to you later tonight, sweetheart. SH	page 377
12/27/2019 04:44:33	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, Wishing you a very merry Christmas all the way from Sydney Australia. Thinking of you during this festive season and hoping you are ok! I am sure you are receiving many letters if support to keep your spirits high. In my thoughts, sy. I've been following your case for a while me and about 45 people sent letters! hope you have a good Christmas	page 678
12/28/2019 12:02:20	Outbound	don't know why but today am so depressed. like my body is drained of all happiness and all can do is cry. was doing just fine, then woke up today just overwhelmed with this feeling of sadness. Anyway was tease'n ya about not calling Sunday, simply wanted to be the one who decides when call you lol I'll talk to you tomorrow evening,...maybe,...probably.. lol - GypsyRose ah hha chack and ie in mu Hi babe, know once you wake up you'll see my missed calls, don't feel bad for miss'n em ok? know Saturdays are a long one for you, and you was not expecting me to call until tomorrow, was just kinda taking the chance calling because i am feeling frisky last night and wanted to see where the mood could take us. perhaps tonight you could persuade me to try again. Just tell me all about that oral presentation. wink In the mean time, I'll think of you. <3 mmmm that pic of you has me desiring you. If was able to, would send you a pic of me wearing nothing, with my hair down (obviously once it is fully long again) statistically placed covering me, so you still dont see every inch of me, I'm saving that for our first moments really alone together. I'm the kind of person I'm so shy at first, then once you have seen all of me, after that I'll walk around the house naked all day long totally chill. Remember what said about my scars in one of the emails that I'm very insecure about them? and yes, remember your response, however didn't think that you would potentially be the one to see me like that. You are so handsome and desirable my mind can't help but think about what it would be like. My curiosity has me wondering if you are gentle and romantic, or rough and dirty? is there anything you don't like? oh 2 things you need to know about me #1 NO ass stuff, with the exception of spanks. #2 personally need both pen and stim, to make me "pun" BTW I have a little round scar on my upper tummy just below my left ribcage, four small half inch scars around my tummy, a 3 inch scar on my right front thigh, and two light colored scars on my neck. the scars are not as ugly as scars could be, but i sure don't look perfect, for this reason i dont normally wear lingerie that is just a bra and panties as normally op for the outfits that cover the tummy area. anyways. as always am anticipating our conversation tonight. muah -SK	page 376
12/29/2019 23:28:22	Inbound	To that hot Gypsy gal with the prettiest brown eyes I've ever seen, We just got off the phone, and it's just never enough. so absolutely amazing, and awesome. can't get enough of you. have fantasies of being right there when you walk out. The hug, think for like the first week you're out I'd just walk around with your arms around my neck, and legs wrapped around my waist. Or on a serious note. What you'd be wearing, or what might have for you in a bag to change into since you just told me about 10 minutes ago they actually have rules about what you're allowed to wear when you walk out. It really went down that way when found out about your story, and what my initial attraction to you was. just wanted to stand in front of anyone, and everyone who has the anything bad to say to you or about you, and push anyone out of the way that ever tries to stop you from living the exact life you desire to live. don't recall ever so literally having such a "take a bullet for you" type of feeling towards anyone. Like said, men are naturally protective of their woman. Not that I think you can't take care of yourself. You might think you're a pushover when you talk about yourself and interacting with the other women in there. think you come off as a pretty tough chick who isn't about to take anyone's shit in life and live it the way you see fit. And have wanted to see that since day one of finding out about you. Only now, hope to see it at a much more up close and personal view. Sometimes when we're on the phone close my eyes and just let you talk, and imagine you laying on my chest saying all the things saying. All the details right down to you erratically moving your hands around while you talk. You're so over caffeinated, love it @. So next time we talk it will be the last day of 2019. The future is ahead! We'll be in a new decade. The decade as you put it a few weeks ago "the decade you get freed"!!! A new chapter, new goals, and a new life are ahead so soon for you! Are you nervous, or excited? know told me you are. can certainly see there being some anxiety more than anything. Soon after out the shock of it will dissipate, and you'll take a deep breath and begin to enjoy the life you've always deserved to live. So another day that's coming up is January 3rd. Once that day passes it will be less than three months till we meet. Are you nervous? sure as hell am. don't know about what exactly. I'm 100% certain it will be amazing. But you're gonna have to start thinking hard about the food portion of the visit! refuse to just show up with fries! If you don't decide I'll just decide for you, and bring 4 different things to try. Something that seems to be happening on a daily basis now. You're in my dreams just about every night. Sometimes it's really vague and can't really tell you what the dream was about, and sometimes it's really vivid. Sometimes it isn't even all bliss. About a week ago the only part of the dream had was you giving me attitude saying "if you want me to be your girlfriend then you need to stop talking to all those hoes". This was in person and you were in your khakis in my room. promise you there are no hoes & } & }. guess in the dream was asking you to be my girlfriend maybe?	page 377

12/30/2019 22:16:12	Inbound	Sweetest Gypsy the Smitten Kitten, absolutely love the t shirt. I'm going to wear it this Saturday to work. can't thank you enough for it. Not at all lame in any way. *Muah! So to just get directly to the point and the fun stuff. often think about what it would be like to be with you. I'm glad you called feeling frisky the other night. It's most certainly one of those things if we were in person would have gotten to by now. First as far as what kind of sex would we have. Well I'd imagine it depends on how the mood strikes us. It can be slow and passionate one day, and loud and crazy the next. Some times just jump right out of the shower while I'm watching tv. Come out drop your towel and sit on my face. I'm certain it would taste absolutely amazing. But imagine when you first get out. can't imagine how amazing that day would be. When I'd finally have you alone at night. Slowly stroking your hair, pulling your face close with both hands. . Very slow and passionate kissing. Letting our hands drift, and explore each other. You climbing on top of me moving around slowly. Just letting our bodies get to know each other. Just getting familiar with each other, how warm you are, how soft you feel, continuing to press my lips against your big beautiful pouty lips. It always seems to slip my mind to tell you about how amazingly soft your lips look. You have this adorable kind of naturally pouty face. lie look a at least a couple pics of you every day. Even if the same pics. You really are so beautiful. Then be other nights where idk maybe you're stirring sauce on the stove in the kitchen and I'll just look at you, and have to have you. I'll just pick you up, and bring you to the bed. We, can worry about the sauce on the stove after. It isn't important until we smell something burning.... so no butt stuff is absolutely fine. Not something that's ever been an interest. Turn on well the first thing that comes to mind is that would go absolutely crazy if you were on top of me, stuck your tongue in my ear while moaning. It's a move best saved for the um, grand finale. Turn off, basically the only thing can think of is the starfish. If you don't know what the starfish is I'll send you a picture of one, just look at it and think about it Lmao. Don't feel dumb if you don't see it right away. Anyways.... that was all fun to write out and think about You do know how feel about your scars. You can wear anything you want around me (preferably nothing). But most importantly just be completely comfortable. That's what's most important. Never feel obligated to do anything ever. If you ever need to slow down, stop or whatever just tell me. think you already know that would be my attitude towards you, but I think it's important to say. So tomorrow is New Years. Like you already know I'm going up to Tampa to the Casino, and possibly Ybor City. Ybor City isn't really a city. It's a small neighborhood in Tampa similar to the French Quarter. Kinda but not really. Think of it more like Bourbon Street's little brother. Maybe an adopted brother lol. It's the same but not really. I'm not sure if want to head there or not. I've been hearing a lot about the crime at night there, and I'm sure it will be especially crazy on New Years. may just stick with the blackjack tables instead. It would be far better if it was our planned evening on the beach. We'll get there one day. One year, and can't wait. Mostly because I'm sure gonna look like a smoke show in that little black dress. With your long brown hair and pouty lips But for now look forward to hearing from you tomorrow afternoon. Oh right there was one more thing wanted to mention. About the phone calls. fine, call me whenever	page 377

I'd love to get to know you better, but don't want to be annoying or ask anything too personal, because I'm sure you've gotten burned by people in the past. I thought I'd ask you a couple questions, and if you have any for me, be happy to answer them! 1. Have you ever been to California, or San Diego? Would you ever want to? That's where I live and grew up. It's amazing because certain times of the year you could literally drive from the desert to the mountains and see snow, and to beach all in one day! It would just be a long day lol. We also have amazing food from all different parts of the world because it's such a diverse area. 2. Speaking of driving, do you have a dream car? Or maybe just learning to drive when you get out? Is that something that scares you or excites you? didn't start driving until was 19 years old, and while it was kinda scary at first, it's great to have the freedom to go anywhere. 3. that San Diego has amazing food. What is your favorite food? Are there things you wish they served in prison or are excited to try in the future? love Asian food, like sushi and ramen. There's even a Cajun seafood place here that's really good too. don't want to bombard you with questions but thought that these would be short and fun. Take your time answering and don't feel like you have to answer me if you don't want to. Like I've said before, I'd love to chat sometimes. My upbringing was similar to yours, but know both of us are more than our past. Happy New Years Gypsy! Your supporter,	page 684

01/02/2020 20:42:25	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, If I have come over to you a bit strong, please forgive me, that is not my intention at all. Telling you all about myself was probably too much information for you to take in, know it is complex but that's some people's lives, sadly mine's that way. am hoping we can keep our relationship platonic and on a professional level if that is okay with you? My main objective is to give you support but not by writing to people in high places. have been studying U.S. law and come across the possibility of helping you in a big way. have been studying your case in-depth going through all video footage available online. have also been going through other people's cases and outcomes depending on the sentence and the circumstances involved. By cross-referencing your case with many others there is a pattern we could take, will need to speak with your dad though. He wrote a petition for you on Change.org - what I need him to do is make an amendment to it, to make it stand out more and add a few paragraphs of text that can write for you, or your dad can rewrite it in his own words. As long as the content stays roughly the same, we can get your sentence shortened considerably. By taking my advice do not want any money for what would like to do for you. It would be my honor to help you Gypsy, all that ask is my name is kept out of the media. have checked change.org regarding amendments and edits, as far as aware you can legally amend any petition. Your dad has done a good job already, but to take it to the level we need it to be, an amendment is required. Once completed will tell him what forms he will need to complete, these are official government documents if he wants to get a lawyer involved then that will be his prerogative - but personally think it will be a waste of money. As it stands at the moment, you cost the average taxpayer around $25-30k per year. Now, if you were released you would benefit your country more by not being incarcerated. So, what we have to do is prove this, which is quite easy to do. Do you know what I think you could do, in the years to come to write your own biography, you would put all the lies going around about you which are false. Some people on YouTube have used your story in very horrible ways! Even am disgusted with many of them. I am hoping this email will put things between us, in the past, where it can stay. will just help you whenever you need me. You still are a pretty woman either way, with an amazing personality and well-mannered, that all goes a long way these days with the right person. Anyway, Gypsy, take care and hope to hear from you soon! Regards, =	page 700

And you already know—you've been an honorary family member for a long time now, especially on your birthday and for Christmas, got you!!)) lol @ And for real, thoughts of you for a wonderful Merry Christmas and a fabulous Happy New Year!!!! &4 @ Ac Alwave in Lanisiana Hi M Thank you so very much for the Christmas gift! everything is alright here. started teaching a class here in addition to taking some of my own. teach inmates how to take accountability for their crimes as well as give them the tools to make a positive difference in society. its a wonderful program. :-) its been 3 months and separated and am doing better at handling it. started going to the gym more (revenge body what what! lol) and exploring other friendships. and Dad are doing fine. The media hype has finally dissipated, so we are all just loving the calmness. have been just trying to continue to better myself anyway I can, and its done me a world of good. :-) unfortunately cut my hair really short about 3 months ago due to my break down over the break up, but am growing it out long again. going into 2020 my focus is on myself and my family. as feel last year got caught up in so much stress need to get back to it being about bettering who am and not the drama that can be created by others. anyways, thought would update ya on me, I'm so blessed to have wonderful people like you in my life. keep in touch :-) Hugs	page 233
01/03/2020 02:06:15	Outbound	I'm so glad you like the shirt, thought since you like to chill at work in comfy T's, that one needed to be added to your collection, besides when ever again in life are you gonna receive a prison dog program t-shirt for a present?? lol :-) You mentioned me leaving the prison wearing normal clothes, What, in your opinion, would look nice on me to wear? and yes both dress and jeans/shirt is allowed when talking about the allowed clothing items. So about that dream, gosh! hope it doesn't take THAT long for you to ask me to be your girlfriend lol but ya gotta stay away from those hoes!!! lol gives you the pouty lips face look mmmmmhllllmmmm While on that topic i do have a question for you simply out of pure curiosity. What are your desires for a long term relationship and how do you see it being beneficial to you as a person? I'm just trying to understand you as an individual and everyone has their own wants and reasons for such a relationship and knowing what that key point of your desire for a relationship is, helps me to know what do you expect to gain from being with me and really what can bring to the table in your life as that role in your life, is why I'm asking. To answer you, Yes, am very nervous about the visit in 3 months but overall am very excited. My hair is still ugly as hell, so I'm getting iffy about taking a picture this time around...It will take a year for it to be long and pretty like used to be. :-\ I might have it braided like had it in the HBO doc, the hairband braid, Its about that length right now. Ok as for food, there is a HyVee or Walmart which ever you prefer, very near by about 5 minutes from your hotel. This is what would like please, McDonald's Fries Corn (not on the cob) lol Chicken poppers Mac n Cheese Planter's Salted Cashews Your gonna have to put multiple items in one container to make them fit. Also very important, bring paper plates into the visit with you. you don't have to bring spoons and forks they have those already inside the visiting area. and that's all :-) Now moving on to what you were saying about that protective instinct. Yes, can imagine that men have that natural programing to be that way. Most have it, but there are a few that do not, those types of men are normally abusers. took a class last year, it was on coping skills dealing in trauma, and some things I won't lie, really related to. In one session we talked about relationships, and why people like me, are more likely to "self sabotage" a good healthy relationship. For me and others like me, something good and healthy seems like a danger zone and a abusive relationship seems safe, because its what know and it's familiar. In my relationship it was good and healthy but always had insecurity racing though my mind, wondering did he really go home alone after work? as well as other things. would fight the urge to play the "yoyo game" (push away, then	page 375

01/04/2020 04:54:31	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, hope you have read my email from yesterday, which explains how feel about you and am sorry what put, considering you are still heartbroken over your ex-boyfriend. deeply regret what told you, from now on I'll be more considerate towards you. like how you came straight to the point about what have in mind, you come across as a strong woman. Keep in mind that your case is unique. There are many areas in your case which personally think where you should not be incarcerated, you have suffered enough abuse over the years, without the need for more time to remind you of what happened in your past. The following copied about granting you an Executive Clemency. Therefore, with reference to your case please check everything you have been through. have highlighted one line that does not apply in your case. Executive Clemency Initiative On April 23, 2014, former Deputy Attorney M. Cole announced the Department's initiative to encourage qualified federal inmates to petition to have their sentences commuted, or reduced, by the President of the United States. The program came to an end when President Obama left office on January 20, 2017. <- This has been updated since President Trump took office. Under the initiative, the Department prioritized clemency applications from inmates who met most, if not all of the following factors: 1. They are currently serving a federal sentence in prison and, by operation of law, which likely would have received a substantially lower sentence if convicted of the same offense(s) today; 2. They are non-violent, low-level offenders without significant ties to large scale criminal organizations, gangs or cartels; 3. They have served at least 10 years of their prison sentence; as 4. They do not have a significant criminal history; 5. They have demonstrated good conduct in prison; and 6. They have no history of violence prior to or during their current term of imprisonment. If you can verify that you can meet most of these factors we may have a good case, for the petition to work in your favor. Remember your case is very unique, Therefore you should be treated differently, not the same. If you have access to the internet then this page from the Office of Justice will interest you regarding other cases. The website also has lists of clemencies issued by other Presidents that have been in office over the years. Just some of the cases under President Trump you can find here, along with the crimes they were incarcerated for. https://www.justice.gov/pardon/pardons-granted-president-donald-trump	page 697

We haven't had a lot of talk time this week with the holiday and my stupid ass cold that finally seems to be letting up. JPay seems to have finally gotten their shit together, and is back up and running. printed out your previous email because wanted to read it multiple times as there is so much to respond to here!. Yes so first of all wore my Puppies for parole shirt I'm kinda mad no one noticed it and asked "hey where did you get that from?!" mean where does anyone randomly get a shirt like that out of the blue lol. So the first question you asked is what would I like to see you wearing. Well assuming you're talking about when you get to walk out of there guess to be perfectly honest always pictured it to be a cold winter day with a mix of snow/rain, right on the cusp of 32 degrees. So maybe some tight jeans with black boots, a white top underneath a big winter coat, white winter hat with your beautiful long hair flowing out of it. You coming out and jumping into my arms while we both have tears in our eyes (happy tears of course). Then we get into the back of an SUV assume your Dad and must be in the front lol), and get the hell out of there with you NEVER having to return. Maybe I've gone through this scenario a few times in my head Then we find something for you to eat. What ever you desire. Later show you my oral presentation, then give you a few clt noogies (a Gypsy original lol) later in the evening. You asked previously how you picture us making love. Well that particular night see it as slow, long and passionate. We can get into the crazy stuff another day. just want to lay next to you, and remind you of how beautiful you are, and how much you mean to me..... so. Yeah, that's what I'd like to see you wearing the day you walk free. So I think gonna buy my plane tickets tomorrow. know said I'd wait until February to buy them, but I don't see any of this slowing down between us. My heart grows fonder of you every day. I do love, and always look forward to our phone dates. Today is 1/5!! Less than three months now!! 90 says 2 hours and 9 minutes it will be 9:30 in Chillicothe and I'll be in the room waiting for you. This day is actually happening, and its coming fast now! As much as am looking forward to it, I'm already saddened that its going to come to an end by that Sunday evening, but don't want to think about that. Although it is hard not to. Okay, so you were asking me about what kind of desires or expectations have for a long term relationship with you. So in general need companionship just as you desire it. As I've told you before. From the second found out about you, and your story it has become quite important to me to see to it that you have an amazing life going forward. When I see pictures, or videos of you don't just listen to the words coming out of your mouth. pay attention to the faces you make, the tone in your voice. You come off as incredibly confident, and optimistic about the future. can see us just being together always laughing, or holding each other for comfort, doing the small things for each other, taking care of each other when sick (I really could have used you here next to me this week). Then other things like you showing me around Louisiana at Christmas time, or me taking you to Fenway Park in Boston, or a Patriots game in Foxboro. want you to show me everything about who Gypsy is today. The good and the bad. We haven't had a lot of talk time this week with the holiday and my stupid ass cold that finally seems to be letting up. JPay seems to have finally gotten their shit together, and is back up and running. printed out your previous email because wanted to read it multiple times as there is so much to respond to here!. Yes so first of all wore my Puppies for parole shirt I'm kinda mad no one noticed it and asked "hey where did you get that from?!" mean where does anyone randomly get a shirt like that out of the blue lol. So the first question you asked is what would I like to see you wearing. Well assuming you're talking about when you get to walk out of there guess to be perfectly honest always pictured it to be a cold winter day with a mix of snow/rain, right on the cusp of 32 degrees. So maybe some tight jeans with black boots, a white top underneath a big winter coat, white winter hat with your beautiful long hair flowing out of it. You coming out and jumping into my arms while we both have tears in our eyes (happy tears of course). Then we get into the back of an SUV assume your Dad and must be in the front lol), and get the hell out of there with you NEVER having to return. Maybe I've gone through this scenario a few times in my head Then we find something for you to eat. What ever you desire. Later show you my oral presentation, then give you a few clt noogies (a Gypsy original lol) later in the evening. You asked previously how you picture us making love. Well that particular night see it as slow, long and passionate. We can get into the crazy stuff another day. just want to lay next to you, and remind you of how beautiful you are, and how much you mean to me..... so. Yeah, that's what I'd like to see you wearing the day you walk free. So I think gonna buy my plane tickets tomorrow. know said I'd wait until February to buy them, but I don't see any of this slowing down between us. My heart grows fonder of you every day. I do love, and always look forward to our phone dates. Today is 1/5!! Less than three months now!! 90 says 2 hours and 9 minutes it will be 9:30 in Chillicothe and I'll be in the room waiting for you. This day is actually happening, and its coming fast now! As much as am looking forward to it, I'm already saddened that its going to come to an end by that Sunday evening, but don't want to think about that. Although it is hard not to. Okay, so you were asking me about what kind of desires or expectations have for a long term relationship with you. So in general need companionship just as you desire it. As I've told you before. From the second found out about you, and your story it has become quite important to me to see to it that you have an amazing life going forward. When I see pictures, or videos of you don't just listen to the words coming out of your mouth. pay attention to the faces you make, the tone in your voice. You come off as incredibly confident, and optimistic about the future. can see us just being together always laughing, or holding each other for comfort, doing the small things for each other, taking care of each other when sick (I really could have used you here next to me this week). Then other things like you showing me around Louisiana at Christmas time, or me taking you to Fenway Park in Boston, or a Patriots game in Foxboro. want you to show me everything about who Gypsy is today. 01/06/2020 20:00:41	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, Well, it's the early hours of Tuesday morning, everything is so quiet. am sitting here in bed hoping that have done as much as could for you a few days ago. checked on change.org, signed your dad's petition and shared it just over 6,000 times on Facebook and Twitter! determined to get you the support you so need. It breaks my heart just reading what your dad wrote in your petition - if there is any other way in which could support you, please let me know. posted a reminder in the Support group about the petition, it doesn't seem very active at the moment. However, it included a picture of you, your dad and I - that contagious smile of yours. How someone could just dump you upon hearsay is beyond me. Our lives are based on reasons, we all do something out of character in our lives. But letting the media control your mind is a totally different story, they can do what they like basically as long as it does not go too far. The problem is people let the media control them, which causes more problems, which you have already endured have always been a person that looks back on what have done in my past, whether should have taken path A or B, what would have happened if had taken a different path, and where would be today? We tend to make decisions based on what we think is right at the time, and not think of how it could affect our future or even someone else's future. At the end of the day we are only human, we cannot foretell the future - the world would be a very different place if we could. When look at what you have achieved over very little time, can see a strong person with a whole new future in front of you. Your English is very good, can tell that from your emails you have sent. If it was possible would teach you many subjects, one-on-one tutoring, is easier to get on with than a class. So many people on Facebook think was born with a gift, but just call it a creative mind! People actually ask me how to find certain things on the web, but unless you know how to use boolean expressions within a search, you fail to lower the number of results lowered. So, Gypsy what do you actually do in an average week, apart from talking to quite often as your dad states in your campaign. Lol, It seems so many people want you out of incarceration, included! Any ideas get add to your dad's Support Group on Facebook. At first, thought it was your dad answering my questions, etc - but was put in my place when it turned out to Lol Do you think your parole could be granted next year? didn't know until recently. You don't seem the type to mess up in prison, so petite and caring - that is the vibes you gave off in your court case. wish was younger and closer to your age, probably frightened you away by stating my age! lol However, they do day American women prefer older and wiser men. What do not understand is why American women find the English accent so sexy? No, don't expect you to answer that	page 697

01/11/2020 00:16:02	Outbound	Mom, had my final conversation and its truly over between us. at this point want no further contact with him and if he ever asks how am i in a text or whatever please don't tell him how I'm doing. he doesn't deserve to know. at least no gets a fair chance with me. he has been so sweet to me throughout and do like him possibly enough to get together but had to give it one last shot wit and basically was told he loves me but he isn't in love anymore. so I'm just going my way without him being anything to me but my ex fiancé. it hurts so much, but it will get better. I think as time goes on and let myself be open again will be able to love with an open heart but for is well aware I'm healing and is here for me and our visit will determine what's the next step for him and I. Dad asked me about him and just simply said he is a good friend who is helping me heal from the breakup. anyways love you just wanted to keep you updated about my love life lol	page 306
01/11/2020 02:58:45	Outbound	My Adored Smitten, After our talk last night feel so relieved that even with our romance that can still find comfort in you when healing from that lingering pain. just didn't want you to think that was taking a step back from you because I'm not at all, nor do i want you to step back from me. love this and actually hearing your response makes me want and care for you so much more now because know that this isn't something that is a game to you and what I'm feeling matters. so you actually just earned points. <3 just talking with you made me feel 100% better and made me just wanna kiss you so bad. Can we make love now? just light a few candles and hold me so close that feel your warmth on every inch of my skin. sighs guess I'll just have to use my own imagination tonight....hopefully my roommates are sound asleep would hate to wake them, letting out little moans with your name on my breath. Perhaps on a date night you should randomly tell me just a little something you would wanna do to me if i was in your bed. well... clearly I'm in a different mood now. <3 You are absolutely right, if was physically with you, sleeping with you every night, us being able to build on that more wouldn't be having days that am bothered by that pain of rejection but it just takes longer this way. In another 3 months, you will be here sitting right across from me holding my hands and feel that having that connection established will make a huge difference as well. Oh btw and my lips ARE super soft. <3 and have noticed when I'm having a body blush I normally bite my lower lip a little. just something for you to pick up on. hand holding can become very suggestive if you rub my palms just right, but I'm sure you will be paying close attention to my body and facial expressions anyway. :-)	On a serious note, you might have a few doubts about the unknown, however it feels good and happy to me so if you feel the same don't worry about what's too soon. know I'm not technically your woman but I like to think I'm pretty close to it. however, its not official until you kiss and ask me <3 sorry about that lipstick giveaway on the envelope, the fact your roommate gets the mail slipped my mind. its ok if you wanna tell him, I'm sure he won't post anything on social media about it. would say use your judgement when it comes to people knowing. if you feel he suspects then maybe throw out a hook like " yeah we talk a lot she's kinda hot too" and see what his reaction is and if he isn't negative about it then maybe tell him. Oh one more thing to add to that long term relationship question, don't think it's too out there, especially after having talked previously before we were on the level we are now, to say that you know from other conversations that would like to start trying for a family like 2-3 years after my release. do you see that being an issue if we did get to that point in our relationship? know you said that having children was not something you previously wanted but you mentioned you might think differently now. anyways am going to wrap this email up, I'm sad I didn't get to give you a goodnight muah before the nights end so here it is MUAH xoxoxoxox thank you for being you <3 goodnight sweetie -Smitten Kitten <3	page 379
01/11/2020 09:51:42	Inbound	Dear Esskay, So you've been on my mind all morning (which is pretty normal after a night we talk), and I did look at the rules of books can send, unfortunately cannot send a hardcover book. So I'll have to search Amazon for the paperback version if it exists. So I'm glad we had the talk we did last night after you tried to just say "Ehh just ignore that last message" lol. No I do think it is important to talk about theses things. Yes have a romantic interest in you clearly, but in order for that to grow you still need to tell me what is on your mind, talk to me as a friend when you're "in your box". love and appreciate that you do feel like you can talk to me. want to and will be there for you always. Anyways, we've gone over that. Just please don't ever hold anything back. Our friendship, and honesty are the foundation to a romance with each other. Like said please be honest, and obvious. often try to read between the lines on things. My initial reaction to all that was "shes writing this for reasons beyond what she wrote" meaning thought that was the beginning of your trying to tell me we shouldn't be talking as much. You've assured that is not the case. So take you at your word. Just know I'm there for you in any capacity. Also please call at any time during any day. You do know my schedule right? You don't have to always wait until after 8pm to call me. Even if you just call to say hi, scream, cry, vent whatever you want to call it for two minutes., if hear the phone I'll answer. And as I've told you in the past, especially on weekends at work barring something weird going on here I'd be able to answer my phone. As far as the wackadoos go do enjoy those stories. The amount of "crazy" in this world never ceases to amaze me. So right after we talked last night your new buddy Leslie replied back to me. He thought I was there initially to help him with help fixing his Jpay. mean I don't understand with his level of security clearance why he couldn't figure it out on his own lol. Anyways he wanted to know why his Jpay was acting up. responded with exactly this "Hey. So it's really simple. Gypsy has blocked you. She doesn't want you to take any offense to it. She is very selective on who she makes friends with". So he basically wanted to know why, explained that you found the entire thing really strange when asking if it was possible to have a platonic relationship yada yada. He went on to blame the cultural difference between the US and UK. I'll read it verbatim next time we talk. Which assume we'll talk Sunday night. We didn't really get to have a proper goodnight kiss last night. In short told him that you still would appreciate his continued support, and repeated not to take offense to being blocked. So moving on from all that. The other email you wrote just a few hours prior to the sad one was amazing. Hell no! never had the thought of waiting till new years to have you. The day you walk out of there want to make you wink about a hundred times that night. Its gonna be epic. We will have to make sure there's plenty of coffee on hand, because don't think there will be much sleeping going on. Hell no, no one needs to know about anything we talk about. did tell my about what has been going on. She wasn't too surprised. think to some it was obvious had a thing for you friend from the start. Which is true. won't deny it. Clearly something said sparked that drea had. And I told you that yes am quite smitten by you, and still am. So one day at a time. Like said the situation is what it is. And I'll repeat this, only want to be around you, talking to you only if you feel like am a 100% positive influence in your life. I'll repeat that every day because to me that is what is most important. And it has been since the day messaged you. So you	page 379
01/11/2020 17:03:22	Outbound	Hi Sweetie, It is Saturday afternoon. am feeling much happier today. Iam inside warm and cozy, reading and watching the snow fall against a white sky. a hidden interest of mine is reading poetry. love the ones from the 1500s-1800s. they require a lot of thought into the meaning mostly because most are written in old English. would like share some of them with you sometime. its ok if you dont care much for poems however, did come across a few Irish poems made around that same time period. well guess my point to all that is was just thinking of you when reading them that's all. <3 I talked t today and she read to me the conversation between you and Leslie, understand that it was a misunderstanding with a language barrier, however simply just don't wanna talk to this guy and don't regret blocking. You handled that very well by the way. We just talked last night, yet I'm missing you as if haven't spoken to you in weeks. if you can't tell, I'm very fond of you, and your Bostonian accent :-)	lol il call you for date night on Tuesday!	page 379

01/16/2020 02:14:04	Outbound	Dearest, really mean it when said that I'm greatful for your level of understanding about everything. The last year had been a time in my life that was a low point. lam going to tell you why I took the breakup so hard so you can understand in detail, why spiraled out of control. After The Act was released, My life changed overnight. became a public figure and even to this day, other women would come up to me in here without knowing me personally, but only what they have heard, and tell me their daughter, sister or mother just loves me, looks up to me and asks for my autograph. don't understand why. I'm nothing but another human on the planet who has made major mistakes. I'm not someone to hold to a higher standard. My "image" is one that was pretty for TV, but would break under pressure due to the stress of interviews and the weight of judgement from everyone. Even my parents were a source of stress. grew to hate the attention and felt pressured to gain more. So I'd hide away from everyone and everything in a little phone booth corner of the day room and spend hours and hours talking doing Facebook quizzes and going on phone trips to the store. told him all my secrets and desires for life as he opened up his secrets no one else knew. In one particular conversation confessed that believed he was my soulmate, and went on to explain why believed this to be true. Which will now tell you as it is part of the story. When was living with my mother, before ever me created my perfect guy in my mind. I drew pictures of him, still remember the drawing, gave him dark hair and green eyes. Soon after, my mother and were shopping at the mall, we went into a Abacrombie and Fitch store and remember looking at the colognes. caught the scent of one, and took a bottle of it from the store. It was called Fierce. took it home and thought to myself this is will be the scent he wears. began to write a list of qualities he would have and said that would say yes to the guy who met these traits and who would buy me a Tiffany's ring. (I think it was more the little blue box wanted more then the actual ring lol) anyway So fast forward 10 or so years, and here 6'1 24yrs old dark hair, green eyes. First visit with him, caught that familiar scent again, it was none other then Abacrombie's Fierce. The first of many "signs" His personality had all the traits listed even down to our love for Husky dogs. Then in October of 2018 he proposed with the promise of a Tiffany's ring without me ever telling him that whole back story. only told him about me "creating my soulmate" after the fact. not one to thorough out the pitty me card, but facts are facts. In my life My father didn't love my mother, so he left to follow his heart, but left me with a mother who was left broken and bitter. She only "loved me" when did as told. She never dreamt of a day would grow up to be beautiful and happy. was led to believe my father abandoned my mother and I. All lever wanted in life was to be loved, truly loved for who am as a person. To not be used for personal gain but rather be seen for the value in my love in return. So, came into my life, thought FINALLY! Someone sees me, Someone truly loves me, knowing every flaw and every detail. Never once did he use me, exploit me or was ever unjust to me in any way. felt happy, appreciated and	page 375

01/17/2020 05:36:47	Inbound	FAO GYPSY ROSE BLANCHARDE Dear Gypsy, Thank you in advance for taking the time to read this letter and do hope that you are well. a Producer working with Plum Pictures, an award-winning television production company based in London, England. We specialise in presenter-led factual documentaries for UK and US broadcasters from the BBC, ITV, Discovery and NatGeo that have been aired in over 180 countries and have been viewed by millions. We are making a new series based in US prisons with British journalist and television presenter Piers Morgan. In the series we will be interviewing a number of inmates across US prisons with a range of backstories, with the intention of enabling Piers to look into the details of each case. We are particularly interested in complicated cases where evidence has been questioned or inmates have tried or are trying to appeal their case, and am reaching out to you because we would like to know if you might be interested in taking part. know you have done lots of interviews before and you have gone through an extraordinary transformation since you have been in prison. Although you have spoken about what's changed about you whilst you've been incarcerated, feel like your story is so fascinating that there is still so much more to know. Piers will be absolutely astounded by what you've been through and would like to know what the future holds for you. You are likely to be very different to the other interviewees we feature on the show, especially as you have a very sweet demeanor. There will be space for you to tell us what you want to talk about. If there are any particular aspects of what you've been accused of - what you've found most hurtful or exasperating - then we would like to know. To give you a bit more information on Piers Morgan; he has interviewed some of the most famous people from the worlds of entertainment and politics - Bill Clinton, Oprah Winfrey, Madonna, Princess Diana and the Dalai Lama to name a few. He took over Larry King's show on CNN and was a judge on America's Got Talent. Before this he was a newspaper editor for over 20 years in London, running some of the biggest newspapers in the country. If you are interested in being interviewed for the series, love to speak with you via letters or even over the phone if that's possible. would also be keen to speak to any of your friends or family members who you feel might be keen to talk about your imprisonment- someone who you feel could really represent you. You can reply to me via jpay or we can have a chat on the phone- let me know if you are stuck for funds so that can put some money into your account for our communication.	page 709

Not sure how exciting that is once you become an old fart like myself Just dropping another message to let you know you're not forgotten. I respect your need for peace of mind. I still have my group open, just not active in it. still have members joining. My moderators keep the group up and running for me. i too have just taken back my life from social media. Never have really liked it. I'm a loner, know many people, but am very picky with whom deal with. And right now, it's been just my Fiance, my loving cat & myself I've isolated myself with exception of work & back home. No it's not much fun. but prefer the peace over everything else. There's to many people out here fighting their own demons & want nothing to do with their demons. Anyhow. Happy Feburary! pray you are @ peace & remember trouble doesn't last forever. Your trusted MISS YOU!!! Hi Gypsy. had decided to give you time to breath & get back to you. Hope you still remember me. haven't in any groups, not even my own. had decided to focus on my own needs & leave social media alone all together. I still have my group dedicated to still just you. Not sure if I'll keep it active or switch topics/ cases. Not really sure if want to put time into another case. Anyhow, how are you? how's the family? actually don't know what groups regarding your case still exist, meaning don't know & Dawn still have an active group. 01/24/2020 00:14:53	Outbound	Hi How are you? received the video you sent. :) I am doing much better, have my hard days as have my good ones, am just happy can finally say next year in December, see the parole board and learn my official outdate. 2020 is already a much better year than last year. am taking a class on anxiety management its a 6 week class and my father are doing good. have spoken recently as we speak maybe once a month, and he is simply working a lot and living his life as normal, honestly he sounds great now that I'm not a big role in his life, which hurts, but I'm glad I don't weigh him down anymore. On that same note, went through a really rough last 3 months when I lost myself, didn't recognize the woman staring back at me in the mirror. started reading more self help books and drew strength from that. The worst of the heart ache is over. also draw strength from the close circle of friends that have. The media asked if she wanted to comment on any update to which we both declined. was asked to do an interview with Pieres Morgan (ok not sure how you spell his first name lol) for BBC and declined that as well. Right now is a moment of peace and love it. its been so long since was actually a little bored with how quiet things are as far as media and drama, but wouldn't want it any other way. So how is your daughter? does she like college so far? anyhoo, Thanks for staying in touch, hope all is well with you. :-)	page 075

I love you <3 Gyn	page 306
01/26/2020 00:52:18	Outbound	Good Morning Mr. Smitten, Thank you for reading to me your email. gosh where do start... ok well first thank you for researching the 85 to 50% thing. Khaki.com has been talking about it for years and years, but only laws that affect those with non violent crimes are affected by it. getting any branch of government to lower time spent in prison for violent crimes is a fools errand, however am not giving up all hope. know my parents and supporters will never stop fighting for my freedom even if it is a half of a second sooner. Until that day that am to walk out of here a free woman, will continue to do my best to gain whatever knowledge can to help create personal growth while am in the care of the state. Yes, have had a difficult more than a few months and have made some bad choices. am 28, yet for certain things feel more like 18 or 21. You are right about if I was cut off by my parents. they are the only ones who take care of me on a month to month basis. that is something that didn't cross my mind, only was wanting to stop the pain and thought of nothing else. am doing so much better now and will keep focused on the fact need good behavior to see the board next year. As for you being harsh, don't feel you are being too harsh to not confide in you. The balance you are looking for comes as not someone who is controlling as don't respond well to being controlled, but the key is to not to tell me what to do, but rather make me understand why should or shouldn't be doing whatever it is, Then if feel like it makes sense I'll make my own judgement. You are more than welcome to be harsh if need be, sometimes need it. the only time want a yes man is in the bedroom wink In time you will find what works best for you and I. Mmmmm so you like a woman who takes the lead in bed?, well I'll probably be the one to almost always initiate anyway, they say women in their 30s are insatiable. which if ya put it all together, I'm gonna be make'n up for lost time AND in my zone... boi your in for it! drink a few Red Bulls lol My goal as a girlfriend would be to keep a smile on your face, your tummy full and your balls empty and at the end of the day, if I've done that then I'm happy. A month smoke free, you are doing so wonderful!!! that's funny "I quit smoking" "who is she?" lol are you still lifting weights and running??? As for yes have mostly all good memories which that is why it is difficult to grasp the concept of the breakup. I'm sure he feels guilt for breaking my heart, and putting me through it. At least got closure. never want to be the cause of someones unhappiness and at some point he just stopped enjoying me as a person and the time we would spend together. The day found out about the phone timer is the day new he was gone because THAT was our connection. fell to the ground and just knew in my heart it was over, that was July 9th. called him crying and just said what are we going to do?...and he changed demeanor automatically. He didn't try and comfort me or tell me we were going to be ok it was like he said without saying it, Oh...shit well nice knowing ya. bye. after that he was never the same after that, and that was the beginning of the end.	page 373

I've been in plenty of relationships that didn't work out and was devastated at the time but looking back am so glad am not with that person anymore. I've had too many bad relationships. When the right person comes along though, you will know that it's different. They will support and love you through everything and make you feel like no matter what you do you are still amazing and beautiful to them. It's easy to get caught up in relationships but don't settle for just anyone. You are amazing and beautiful and you need someone who can truly care and support you and the great things you can do. You will get through this. If you need to talk, am here. am well experienced with break ups haha! How are your studies going? Are you still doing photography? As I've said before, am a social worker. love helping other people. It's a great field to be in. think it's something you could be great at. Helping people through the hard parts of life. If anyone understands that part, it's you. If you need help with anything, let me know. I am doing well. was feeling depressed for a few days but I think it's going away. sometimes get depression for no reason. It can be very difficult at times. Are people nice to you there? Do you have any friends? I've never been great at making friends. I'm pretty awkward socially and it's hard. I'd love to have a best friend that could do everything with but haven't had that since high school. Being an adult can be lame! Hope to hear from you soon! Let me know if you would like me to send you letters in the mail, instead of on here. Or if this is better. Keep your hope alive. Keep studying and making yourself the best you can be and bet your parole hearing will be positive! Xoxo, It's been so long since I've heard from you. Almost a year! How are you doing? How are things now? hope the craziness from that show is wearing off for you, know you were overwhelmed by that. How is your fiancé? Please let me know if can help you with anything! live pretty close to you. 02/01/2020 04:22:13	Inbound	Dear gypsy, felt compelled to email you since hearing of your case. I'm in the United Kingdom and only heard about you a couple weeks ago when a documentary aired in my country called "The Act" know things such as real life documentaries never really tell the story as it was and much of it could be misconstrued but ever since watched it cannot stop thinking about you! I'm truly very sorry for the torture you endured over the course of your life, nobody should have to go through such horror at the hands of their own mother. My mother was abusive but was lucky enough to get away. My mother was a very evil individual who went on to cause harm and abuse to all of her children for many years, she was never punished for this and continues to walk the earth like nothing ever happened, even though the mental torture affected us for the rest of our lives, as well as the physical harm she caused to us - although cannot begin to understand how you feel, would just like to say that that I've personally come face to face with evil, too, though not to the same kind of extreme as yourself. When read about you was thoroughly appalled to discover that you were punished for what happened to your mother, in fact, everyone heard of your case are equally as shocked, I'm sure! Faced with the same Situation as you, would have done anything to be Free from the pain. Your bravery is most certainly something to be proud of and I truly do hope that you can find peace and love within your heart to overcome all that has happened to you and all that you are still going through as we speak. will not make this email too long as I'm sure you are inundated with messages but I just wanted to let you know, much like everyone else who's contacted you, that you have so much love and support out here and we are all praying that you will soon be able to enjoy your life with your family, free from any burdens you may carry... Forgiveness is the key to happiness; and whilst will never forget my mother's actions towards me and my siblings, i forgave everything that tortured me mentally over the years, and was able to let go! You are a very beautiful young woman who deserves love, support and understanding, and let me tell you, you have an overwhelming amount of that. I sincerely hope my message makes it's way to you, may be one of thousands to contact you but I'm one of thousands who understands having gone through abuse myself. Keep that head held high beautiful, for everyone's sending you all the love in the world	page 714

02/03/2020 16:10:21	Outbound	Hi Gypsy, You don't know me, so I'm sure it's kind of weird that I'm writing you out of nowhere. My name I live in Arizona. know it can get lonely serving time. joined your support group on Facebook, the admins, and thought would write you a little note. So do you still like Disney? Me and my best still love watching it and collect the jewelry too. My favorite is beauty and the beast, mainly because she loves to read and love to read and write stories too! If you'd like another pen pal, I'd love to get to know you, and maybe help brighten your days. promise I'm not a weirdo. Well, not a weirdo you need to worry about at least @ @. feel like can relate so much to you. had a terrible terrible bit of a childhood and it still affects me today. have agoraphobia, which am working really hard to overcome, but have been diagnosed with cptsd due to my trauma. know you probably don't want to talk about that stuff, but just thought I'd let you know, get it. Anyways. hope you write back and that everything is going well for you. Let me know if there is anything can do for you. Take care I thank you for your support. will ask who is thi lady? do not know her, email her and have close friends asking me do know this lady. only frequently email close friends who have known for along time, was just wondering because get a lot of people claiming they get emails from me all the time and its not true. anyways thank you for reaching out. :-) many hugs to anyone out there who is my support. <3	page 031

It's a group on Facebook filled with people who support you, just average people. She's the one who posted the information to write to you. just joined it a few weeks ago, but supposedly she is pretty close to you. Maybe she uses a different name on Facebook? I'm not sure. Well hope everything is going well. Again let me know if there is anything can do to help, and I'm always here to chat about whatever you want, if you want. My baby brother served 10 years and that was before the whole jpay email thing, but we wrote twice a week while he was in there. So know it can get rough. My good friend is serving 4 years in Tucson, so already had the app to write with him, just decided to drop a line in case you were wanting someone to talk to. Have a great week Gypsy and stay strong! =z	page 031

02/05/2020 18:26:27	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, hope your well and your new year has been good to you so far. I've been thinking about you a lot recently. You see go to a MBP group for survivors like us. We have actually discussed your case at length and discuss where improvements can be made to services to protect more children and vulnerable people. We speak about a lot of cases of MBP. Parents, nurses, nannies, teachers, siblings. All capable and able to get away with it. All there needs to be is one person to speak up. Our aim is to go into medical facilities and speak with doctors, nurses, care staff, how to spot signs of MBP, how to report, how to approach the suspected adult. would love your input. Would you mind sharing your thoughts on how the Drs could have helped you? don't want to pry. just want as many voices together so we can be heard! I've sent you a picture of the puppy. He's getting bigger now. hope your well, and I will hopefully hear from you soon All my thoughts, prayers and virtual hugs!	page 679

Always in my prayers You're forever friend Not sure why Bladder came up when was talking about that opening letter In that last email to you. am trying the new talk to text thing on this new phone and it's crazy. No want about the visit thing it would probably be more like the end of April before come but will try to let you know at least a couple of weeks ahead of time to make sure not having another visit but right now I'm just focusing on getting stronger now so that I can travel . Been Cold here the last couple of days down in the 20s we did have some snow this morning when woke up but what an enough to count for anything and it was gone by noon. Supposed be up in the 60s this coming week but it's just a crazy weather. And yes my kids are great comfort to me they'll be six years old in April and they bring me a lot of joy and laughter still say we could probably be on America's Funniest Videos with some of the things that goes on with my cats and me. Your emails are you so mature like can tell no longer than we've been talking that you're really growing and hope you know before long we can have some good news for you but not sure how long it's going to take the Senate to get all their business caught up but will just keep praying and keep doing what doing I'd like to send you a few things just to give you something to think about that has helped me through some hard times in my life and through my childhood when was being abused all those years. One day I'll tell you all about it and we can talk face-to-face it is hard to explain things in an email but we can relate more than you know. It's one of the reasons reached out to you because we do have so much in common even with our age difference am glad that you're in my life and I'm going to keep you in my life when you're out I'm just gonna be the one you come to visit you wanna come to visit you won't be friends forever and will pray together probably cry and most certainly will have lots of laughs. Just keep being you and stay strong .Have you got to see your dad lately? Thank you for being so understanding and not giving up on me thought of you often while was in the hospital but with me not having my phone really didn't have no way of emailing you to call him but I'm sure my daughter was just trying to take care of me it's OK. If my email send a little funny it's because I'm using talk to text and email because it's easier for me right now and sometimes my phone just don't understand what I'm saying ...lol Are you still teaching that accountability class? And how are the other things going with class is a big been able to work on getting your GED or it sounds like really busy a lot. 02/10/2020 17:32:52	Inbound	Good afternoon Esskay, I just got done winking about you I'm laying here in bed, finally feeling better. almost made the decision to go to the ER last night. thought was gonna pass out. randomly awoke at 23am with bad stomach pains. I've had stomach aches before but damn nothing that ever made me feel like was gonna legit pass out. I'm lucky didn't fall over and whack my head on the sink or something. It was weird. If anything like that happens again any time soon I'm gonna go to the ER. But anyways how is your day going? got your amazingly lovely card in the mail today and wanted to thank you for that. It truly means a lot and feel quite blessed to be speaking to you in this manner and getting these cards from you. You are so amazing and adorable, my heart aches to be with you. did catch a couple minutes of your show. think already mentioned that in my last email. have seen a bit of increased activity around your name online, but wouldn't worry too much about it. It must be the UK thing. do still see people asking how to write you from groups, and quickly getting answers from random people. think as long as no one close to you participates in their conversations in the groups things will mellow down quickly. NC is a terrible person, but she isn't stupid either. She knows the UK is search your name, and she LOVES the attention at your expense. There's nothing anyone can do about people like that other than ignore them. If she has or if she had any clue what kind of conversations you and are having and my previous activity from her group she'd have a mountain of new shit to post and talk about. But if she doesn't have any of that shit aka people giving her a story then she has nothing new and will move on. had the chance to write it yet. But am going to paint a picture with words Friday. About our "casual" Valentines date will take you on someday. Until then just gonna have to wait. muah have a good day. But just love talking to you. got plenty of sleep yesterday and today. Way more than I normally do. It's time to start eating better and exercising again!! In fact I'm hitting the weights, and jogging right after I write this. No more excuses. You need to hit the gym too, no more slacking for either of us. The better shape we are in the better we'll wink each other when you get out of there! Which reminds me I'm blasting my letter this week to the MO politicians. Both senators, and the governor. Then I'm gonna look up state congressmen. Even if the people who don't hold power to help you read it they may make certain the people who do have power read it. Okay, enough sitting on my ass. I'm gonna finish my coffee, and get serious!! I'm going to make a deal with you here though. If you don't get your GED by the end of the year I'm going back to cigarettes. So you better get serious about it if you want to stop me from getting lung cancer! J/k do that (or would @)) But I do still crave them every day. It doesn't take much to be set back!! My normal 2.5 mile jog that used to get done in 23-24 minutes took me 30 today! That is a significant drop off so anyways. Enough about that. just need to get back out tomorrow and work on that time, and then Thursday I'm back to the weights again. I did forget to mention one thing last night that is important. So you know how you feel about raw tomatoes? feel the same way about raisins in anything that is meant to be savory. Salad, or entrees just can't do it! 02/12/2020 16:37:31	Outbound	Good job!!!! for getting back to working out. Do you do any Abs work outs? the one thing they say that I've paid attention to is when you work the upper equally work the lower. challenge you to 30 consecutive crunches, do that many in an average session. then whatever you do ll match it. You have a good starting point, you don't have a lot of belly fat so you will tone up your core really well and without a huge amount of effort. How about this, will study hard for my math gradually, if you work on toning your core muscles?? both takes gradual progress. you can send me pics to show your progress, and I'll send you my graded math assignments to show you mine... deal??? :-) that would give me incentive to do homework. know exactly how you feel, last year at this time was preparing my parents to meet my fiancé and a year later I'm left by that same fiancé and preparing to meet a completely different guy! If anyone can relate about how unpredictable life is, that is me. I'm glad you will have something to calm your nerves before our visit, don't get that luxury. lol Its completely understandable if you feel shy with the more X rated conversations. That might be something that might be too fast pace right now and its ok if it is, there is no pressure behind anything say. sometimes just express my desires from time to time and it gets easier with time and comfortability with each other. For now, if its a little intimidating and ahead of our speed then perhaps just talking about what is desired without the intent to arouse the other, is a start. <3 like all good things start first <3 xoxox muah -GypsyRose p.s I can't tell that one ear is larger then the other. maybe the left ear is the one should nibble on if it makes you feel better to know, had my measurements taken and the only thing symmetrical on my body is my ankles lol everything alea ic offhy lika a half inch lal	page 376

You brighten my day in ways you never get to see, I smile just thinking about you. Sometimes I'll just put on one of your interviews just to see your face (like did after we hung up last night even though as you now know Dr. Phil makes me angry and think he's completely full of shit, and just out to make a buck off people who have already had a rough life). just want to feel your embrace. I'll follow your lead on the first one, but think as the weekend goes on may lean in a bit more each time, especially on my final exit on Sunday night. I'm glad you love the card. knew it was perfect for you. Maybe can send you back just the envelope and medallion? Those be an issue, although they might toss the medallion and classify it as “confetti”. I'll try again if you think it's a good idea. knew when bought it there was a 50/50 chance it wouldn't get through. I'm sitting here at work right now. The bitch, oops mean boss is behind me talking to someone. Her voice is more painful than fingers on a chalk board lol. My approach to the whole thing is to just do my job to the best of my ability. still have not officially made the department transfer request. But if she says anything to me in even the slightest tone of attitude I'll call her out on it, and she have a leg to stand on as my work will show I've been nothing but a stellar employee. That's her problem if she doesn't like me personally. promise when I'm there nothing is going to be “forced”. expect the same from you though. Although you've made it pretty clear how you feel, which certainly makes me happy. Very very happy honestly. Now we just need to get you out of there!!! have 5 copies of my letter I'm sending out tonight, once get the proper addresses to send them to. Then I'll send 'em out again every month till at least get a response from someone. I'll be a huge pain in someone's ass lol. I just want to hug you, pick you up, throw you down into my nice, and comfy bed, and get all tangled up with you for like a week straight!! want to look into your eyes, see your smile in person while stroking your hair. It's going to be so amazing one day. You are desired by me in every way, Esskay. just sent you a few pics on here, I'll get to work on getting you some more physical pics to send you. Have a wonderful day -Smitten.	page 374

02/23/2020 01:49:41	Inbound	Dearest Gypsy, It's crawfish time.... in South Louisiana!! My favorite season, my favorite wildlife, my favorite food!! © Thanks for your email letter @!! So getting your teaching cred are you?! The class seems to be also therapeutic. And know for sure that you will make a positive difference:)) try not to write about any crimes. The documentary and your interviews- childhood, leukemia, original Louisiana girl- emotions, thoughts.. so much in common. When we have some adult beverages and kicking it back at a crawfish boil, we'll have lots to talk about!!:)) What?? Oh no not the beautiful hair. You're only supposed to cut up pictures of the ex, not the hair lol (just playing) Breakups are difficult. Especially when relationships are limited and ruled by the law. The good side see is that real freedom!! For all your relationships!! Family night, out with friends, girls night out on the town, going on dates.... besides, have a 28yr old son and a 20yr old son and both single wink, wink! Oh yes indeed girl. With all the publicity and the "paparazzi", for awhile there, online you were 'viral', the "trending" story of everyday. Your story is an extraordinary story, but it's your story!! It's definitely your decision if you want to live a quiet and reserved life or live your life out loud. That's why didn't write as often. just knew would be overwhelmed!! still reach out to Mr. from time to time. And your Dad is such a character, a true rajun cajun bayou boy- he is the coolest, which is cool for you for re-establishing a relationship as adults—just fun to hang out with and become best of friends!! (I met my Dad when I was 18, that's how it was for us:)) An old hippie song by Janis Joplin "Freedom's just another word for nothing left to " In your freedom, the world is yours!! Thoughts of you. Keep your spirits high, dream in the daytime and keep that attitude with personality- A beautiful life for a beautiful lady is waiting on you!! Always, love huas Well hi there sweet Gypsy baby girl, what a pleasant surprise!! sure have missed hearing from you ___ how are you these days?? Things have been active here—traveling on the 18wheeler, (I've got more postcards from different states for ya:)) And activity of the holidays.... My birthday is in October thru Christmas in December with Halloween and Thanksgiving in between.. is always a fast paced time for me!! From different perspectives, on different circumstances, you either want time to speed up or slow down.... I'm sure you can relate to and understand those feelings of mine:)) My youngest boy is home from the Military, US Air Force, for all my children together, you want time at a standstill but it keeps moving so fast!! But I've enjoyed, embraced every moment.... and cooked lots and lots of Cajun foods.. I think of you often... with care and concern, wondering what you're doing, how are you feeling, if you're happy, hanging in there, dreaming, thinking and knowing, that beautiful days for you are on the way!! And it also keeps me grounded to appreciate the freedoms have, and not to take for granted, and advantages granted to me, are given for accomplishments and happiness in life!! If anything, these things I've learned from the moment your story, and you, went straight to my heart SQ So good to hear from you.... send back good thoughts, the best wishes ever, every year happier holidays because it's another year getting closer to home.... that's exciting!! And of course, it's hugs and kisses and my as	page 233

02/24/2020 15:54:18	Outbound	Hello, You do not know me personally, but have a strong suspicion that you new girl. not writing with any ill intent but rather to speak my mind. have been told by a very reliable source that you often brag and post about y'all relationship online. will say this as a word of advice from someone who is often in the public eye, keep your relationship with him private. used to be in a wonderful relationship with the guy dated after: He and were happily in love and was once engaged, but even the strongest, purest love can not survive if the public is involved in something as personal as a relationship. People will judge, people will pry and more then the lack of respect for your privacy, people will say crude and harsh things about you, him and the relationship. Unfortunately lost the man I truly love, all because let the public know too much about our relationship. Hell, my engagement was announced on both the local and Enews! My relationship soon crashed and burned after that, because everyone was so extremely intrusive and negative, so take it from someone who knows heartbreak REALLY well. a relationship takes 2 not, 2 thousand. Keep it private. nothing but happiness and am glad if he finds love. Thank you for reading this. Sincerely	page 274

02/24/2020 16:31:36	Inbound	Hello Gypsy! Firstly just want to say as we don't know each other personally don't have any issue with you at all as have no reason to, as I'm sure most people may think probably do with you ex. You know like the usual " oh she's his ex, his current girlfriend must have an issue with his ex". No don't have any issue with you. Honestly you're probably a nice person and someone great to get along with. and yes am his new girl. I'm not sure who told you I like to brag but I really appreciate your advice to myself an like to clear up that don't brag about it only thing that's been said about us online is that he has a new girlfriend and all the public knows is that and are together. not letting them know anymore than that. As we do want to keep our lives as private as possible. I did see you was with a guy and was engaged to him. You seemed to happy with him and was very happy for you! Was disappointed for you when you both broke up as you deserve happiness. couldn't agree with you more! A relationship does take 2 and not 2 thousand, and have agreed that our relationship is going to be private and all people will know is that we're together, they won't know anymore than that because the last thing want is to lose him. Thank you again for your advice, will definitely keep it in mind. And please always remember I have no issue with you and am more than happy to chat, without any guys being Involved. have no ill intent messaging you. Talk soon,	page 275

I'm not going anywhere, and don't want you to feel any pressure from me. promise, will not force anything either. You have been lovely to me and think your just such a charming man who am only 100% excited to meet. You're letting me lead??? well your going to have to lean down some I'm a short gal remember. :->) That aside, and now responding to your last email from Thursday. I am sure when we spend time together in person it will be wonderful. :-> its funny and interesting, you and don't exactly have many common interests however, am a very flexible when it comes to interests because there is a lot haven't had the opportunity to experience. am starting to see that this attraction is not based nor defined by common interest but rather something else can't place my finger on that is more of a mature reasoning for such an attraction then the other. suppose the only way to make common interests is by doing things together, a pleasure that one day hope we may both share. I am laying wide awake watching Gone With The Wind, it's my favorite classic film. always thought Rhett Butler was so handsome. As for classic film feel like The Wizard Of Oz is another good one and Its a Wonderful Life. I am remembering something wanted to ask you, did you send the Valentines letter to me in the mail yet? remember you needed envelopes then didn't know if you sent the letter off. lol I'm jumping from topic to topic again, I've had 3 cups of coffee so I'm super hyper yep that hyper lol could use a few cl noogies, I'm ampted up. lol BTW have an innu and I'm not talking about my belly button. Oh get that he's a complex man I really do, and agree he needs therapy as I'm sure you do too of some form. I'm glad you take the weight of responsibility too as he also has :) and of course will wish him well from you when he calls later. will admit I'm glad we're on good terms with each other and it does make things easier. I've always cared about your cause. Did you ever get to cosmetology classes or the animal Care program that you were hopeful for? How's your travel scrapbook coming along? Things here have changed a little since the last i wrote. Job is up in the air because of the health issues. My sister moved out and we got our cat back. Looking forward to warm weather. planted spring bulbs, they came up and the snow came down, but they're pretty hearty so I'm thinking they'll make it. When i planted them i was worried that i wouldn't be here to see them come up. That was right before the heart procedure and now they're coming up and I'm still kicking Shout me up sometime. 02/28/2020 00:14:51	Outbound	Hi M April 18th is a good weekend for me. :-)) totally understand that things are slow after the impeachment trial. will about getting those letters to you. things had been a little crazy. My brother got beat up and had to have nose surgery, he is doing better, but was out of work for 3 weeks. between that and the frequent migraines gets often, things slip her mind sometimes so I'll remind her. I'm doing alright feel like I'm always in class doing one or another, but guess that's a good thing. I'm trying to get as much as I can under my belt because next December (December 2021) see the parole board. just since wrote my letter for the presentation, have been in 3 more classes. one is an ongoing group its called Healthy Relationships. As for the man have been talking to, things are going smoothly, there's no rush or pressure to be in a relationship. meeting him in person April 4th and 5th. He is a sweet person who can tell is genuine about just wanting to be someone I can trust and be there for me. we have been talking on a regular for about 4 and a half months. is doing well, he is considering coming to visit later in the year. just don't know how I'll feel seeing him in person again post break up. I'm afraid it will hurt me more to see him. it would make me miss him more. so don't know only time will tell. he knows I'm talking to someone new, and is more or less jealous and seems to keep telling me that don't need to be with anyone right now wait until get out. I'm like that's easy for you to say, your bio clock isn't ticking! lol He is very sceptical of people who try and get close to me while I'm still locked up. he seems to still be protective of me even though we aren't a couple anymore. oh guess who added me on new girlfriend. she put his last name as her own in my contacts. and so sent her a message asking who she was and she told me she is his girlfriend. it was just weird. well the snow seems to have gone for this year, it snowed a few flurries nothing major last week. now its 40s 50s 60s weather. anyhoo I'm gonna send this for now. hope you are continuing to heal well.	page 671

How is it where you are? Do you get treated alright? Are there nice women around you? hope you have friends in there that have your back! I first saw your story on Dr. Phil. remember that felt so bad for you. You never had the chance at a real life...a life that you were free to experience all that the world can offer. know that the circumstances were truly awful and you have to spend time there but once you get out, you have the whole world to experience! was happy to see the support you were getting from your dad & step mom. It's wonderful that thru this circumstance, you have seen the love and support of your family! So, what kind of things do you like to do? Do you draw or write or anything like that? like to draw. not as good at it as was when was in highschool but still love it! think passed that love down to my daughter because she is becoming quite the artist! she enjoys watercolors these days....watercolors and drawing on her ipad....She is really good! What is your favorite color? Mine is brown. Not a lot of people like brown as a get a lot of "brown? really??" from people when tell them that is my favorite...lol How much longer do you have until you get to leave there? do send a lot of prayers your way that your time goes quickly and that you are free to be with your family soon! Today is Thanksgiving. hope you get a nice, hot turkey dinner today! If not, just keep in mind that better days are coming! Wril, Gypsy, as always, send my best! 03/02/2020 07:09:19	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! :) You probably won't reply to this message but just hope that you read this all through. just wanted to let you know that I've sent letters to both the Missouri State Governor and the Division of the Missouri State Board of Probation and Parole about your early release, managed to get a little over 5 people to do so too and I'm doing everything possibly can to get you out of the correction center as soon as possible!! You still have 3-4 years left but hopefully me and you're friends/family/supporters can reduce that to 1 or 2 year(s). Wishing you luck and hope you know that won't stop fighting until you're free because you deserve every right to live your life as free as a bird! Lots of love, psy! thank you for writing me back :) such an honor haha. did have an amazing day so thank you or wishing me one. Hope you have an amazing day as well. Before go was wondering whether you have a plan after you get released, just a question, you don't have to answer of course. Like I said, wanted to get to know you better and not for self attention but just because (as crazy as this sounds) feel like me and you have a type of connection, even though we have never spoken to each other. already covered most of the questions asked but now want to know who Gypsy is as a person. Not for your past but for who you are now and in the future. 03/03/2020 00:02:51	Outbound	Hi How are you? actually love everything British, used to watch BBC shows like Doctor Who and the BBC versions of Merlin, Robin Hood and Sinbad. all of those are my faves and if binged watched all of em. lol also have been intrigued with the Royal family for years and years. watched both Royal weddings on TV. actually got to see a Princess Diana exhibit when it was near by. the exhibit showcased her dresses and her jewelry. I do still love Disney. Belle has always been my fav Disney princess but if had to pick one that I am most like as personality goes, Anna from Frozen. that quirky awkwardness she has, is me 100% lol if you were a Disney princess who would you be? I just watched the live action Lion King, good as someone who grew up on that movie they did a great remake.	page 693
03/03/2020 13:26:07	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! Quite a scandal with the royal family at the moment! With Megan Markle wants to leave with the prince and move back to America!!! I'm brilliant thank you it's amazing to hear from you! just had Frozen 2 out over here!! have not seen it yet though. Who would be if was a Disney princess probably sleeping beauty because love sleeping lol!! If I'm no where to be seen I'll be having a nap somewhere lol! watched Merlin! loved it I've watched all of once upon a time to! If you haven't seen or no if it's basically Disney and fairytale characters as humans and living in the real world! It's amazing! Yes the new Lion King was fantastic! Aladdin was good to with Will Smith as the genie! think as you get older the remakes are good to keep hold of the Disney life with in us! I've always wanted to go to Disneyland or Disney world! My closest one is all the way in France.. guess I'll need a passport soon! music as well. will happily sing Disney songs too! Anna is amazing so down to earth, trying to live up to the perfection of princess life but still so normal and happy :) Recently I've been to the home town of Shakespeare he's from a place called Stratford upon Avon in England the houses are lovely and to see some of his earlier work think still prefer Romeo and Juliet though! A good love story might not end well but definitely true love. Hope to hear from you again soon! Anything you want to no about England? I'll happily send photos or as much information as I can. Are you studying anything over there or doing much with your free time? Lots of OXOXOXO	page 693
03/04/2020 11:51:07	Inbound	Sweet GypsyRose, So as you may have already seen I'm getting some envelopes together to send out my letter to 6 different officials in Missouri. The one you didn't see on there was an after thought. It's to the vice chairwoman of the parole board Jennifer Zamkus. So if don't hear anything within a couple weeks will resend them. Then send them again, and again. Have you ever seen The Shawshank Redemption? It's a movie about a guy who is in jail for a murder he didn't commit. He's a very smart man, and persistent. He was in pursuit of getting more funds for books for the prison library. He sent them hundreds of letters even when the warden told him it was useless. So after all the letters that he wrote for 6 years the state finally awarded him a check, and a donation of books from local libraries. The senate states in a letter back to him to please stop sending us letters (almost like they were annoyed). So what I'm saying is. think it's time to flood these offices with letters. More letters. know before wit getting her project together this was to all be on the hush with what she was doing, but it feels like the negativity towards you has died down. The world doesn't need to know anything more than that you and are just friends. So if you'd like I'd like to post the letter wrote in your support groups, and use it as inspiration to get others to write letters to these same powers in MO. think it's a great idea. Tell me what you think.	page 373
03/04/2020 13:35:30	Outbound	I think that's a wonderful idea! yes go right ahead. have seen Shawshank. it was a very good movie. remember how he wrote many letters and finally had gotten a response. Also just got the email and $ you sent you didn't have to do that, but won't lie and say it wasn't needed. promise I'll buy lots of bacon lol muah :) Thank you	page 373

03/05/2020 23:32:57	Inbound	Omygoodness, was sitting on my bed, reading your email, almost fell out laughing.... Oh to the yeah, I'd definitely stand next to you at a Mardi Gras parade cause want them good @ "throw me me something" LOL How you think gets mine?!;~ lol! This is a true Mardi Gras story that might make you laugh— years back, when was younger, me and friends went to the New Orleans parades. Afterwards, it was a long, long walk down Canal Blvd back to the car. Of course, drinking lots needed to borrow a bathroom. It was very late and nowhere to go and not many people around, so- went in between 2 cars paralleled parked and my friends stood on the road so no one could see me. Well then— when was done, and pulling up my pants, we heard clapping- so we turned around and on the sidewalk, a group of tourists from Japan were applauding me, taking pictures and laughing -O My!! couldn't understand the language, but what a story to tell when they got back home, crazy redhead girl peeing in the streets between cars at the Mardi Gras in New Orleans, Louisiana America!! LOL Good thing it was an old fashioned camera before iPhones and internet, or my butt would probably be a meme!!! © hahaa! Nice, New Orleans on your to do list, that's a good one!! Where else would you want to go when outside?! What about the beach?? When's the last time you've seen the ocean?? got a spot in Florida we go to on vacation every year!! It's sugar sand, aqua water- Emerald Isle, Ft Walton/Destin beach is where we stay at on the island:)) A beach phrase of what many want- "toes in the sand, footprints on the I'm thinking that's something that would be so special to you!! My favorite artist sent me that print of one of her paintings, and made sure to read the mail rules, to send to you. I keep meaning to take that "good morning" video from bed but keep forgetting. always remember after I'm showered and ready for work. So as far as me sending the money to you know didn't have to truly did want to, especially after you told me that what your dad sends you was being cut back. know you needed it. And know we already talked about it so it doesn't need to be brought up again. But 100% trust you. So the letter posted on FB got a few responses. feel like not enough though. 03/08/2020 13:49:41	Inbound	Soooo anyways. thought I'd send that other one through now because you just never know what will, and maybe not get to you lol. hope cooling it on the caffeine. haven't heard you that tuned up in awhile like you were on Friday. The time change is absolutely kicking my ass today. Instead of waking at 5am it felt like 4, and had a hard time trying to fall asleep. think it might be nap day today. need it. wish you were there to purr up snuggling next to me. We will make that a reality some day. One way or another. 26 days till get on the plane!! It's coming quick! shouldn't already be thinking like this but it's gonna be hard walking out of there the last time on that Sunday night. I'll try not to dwell on that till have to. know you won't get this by tonight but it is Sunday so hope you'll call me. You threw me off last night calling me on a Saturday. Either way I'll talk to you soon, Smitten Kitten. Muah! SH	page 372

03/09/2020 23:42:34	Outbound	OMFG I'm so fucking stressed out right now. Solca and she said Her, Dad, want to visit the same weekend as YOU I'm like, is coming to visit that weekend!!!! this she already knew, but i guess with what dads schedule looks like it was the only time, so asked her to see if they can please come the following weekend because though am allowed 4 adults at a time per session, you know that you and wouldnt be able to have the visit that we would want with how we are having to keep our real interaction hidden from others. Don't get me wrong, part of me wants you to be able to mee in person, but idk kinda wanna meet you myself first. I'm just gonna have to stress t that they wouldn't be able to have the possibility to visit with the way the special visit is set up for you that weekend, therefore it would be pointless to try to visit those days. if you could have seen my face when read your like WHAT! they always normally talk about it with never even mentioned nor insinuated that they were even talking about a visit so soon. mean just a few days was saying how broke they are then today Oh were coming next month! lam calling her back tomorrow afternoon so we can figure this out. I'll probably call you before our normal time once find out what dad said. is there like forces at work that just don't want us to meet...lol wtf	page 372
03/09/2020 15:37:34	Outbound	Good Afternoon, So the saga continued with the room drama, this time had to use my adult voice and get loud. eyes* may be 4'11 but NOT gonna let someone talk to me crazy. I'll tell ya all about it tomorrow night. I'm a pint size bad ass lol I miss your voice already. <3 muah muah muah ow	page 374
03/09/2020 10:47:50	Inbound	Yeah for here all it seems to do is rain... almost everyday. It is super hot in the summer and can actually get kinda cold in the winter but rarely do we ever get snow but when we do the people freak out down here... you would think that we were at war or somethina the wav people act.	page 475
03/09/2020 11:38:08	Inbound	Awesome can't wait	page 475
03/09/2020 08:35:15	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, Sorry it's taken me so long to get back to you. But I've been busy with rehabilitation love from my heart surgery and everything is going very well. The doctors say am have really surprised them with the strength and the courage that I've got to get better so quickly. lam still so proud of you trying to better yourself with all those classes and everything you're taking. still have not received anything fromy But if you have any more certificates of your classes if you can please send them to me. My BACA friends have also been informed that everything we send to the center also need to be sent to the governor and to the parole board. That way we are covering all the bases and there will be more than one option to get you a really released early. wish it would go faster than it is but we're doing our best to get you home. lam excited about coming to see you do not foresee any problems. As a matter fact I've already booked a hotel close to the Prison. will be driving up that Friday but not able to get there soon enough to see you that day. But I'll be able to rest up and see you at the early morning visit on Saturday the 18th and on Sunday the 19th and leaving to come home after that visit. It will be good to sit and talk with you and let you know that do truly support you no matter what. do hope to keep this visit privately so that no media gets involved because it's not about me it's all about you and helping you after that visit will have a personal realization and able to write a letter of recommendation based on my visits with you. We have been continually sending the letters that we have collected from people that have supported you and are supporting you and your early release the more we send the better it is that's the attention but where are you it is not the best place for you. That home is where you need to be surrounded by friends and family that truly care for you. We want you to have as normal life as possible in any media Will only handle that. It is great to have so many people that are supporting you. You would not believe the letters that we have received close to 200,000 as of last week. People love you even though they don't know you. But anyways everything that could be done is being done to help you get an early release. Of course there is no guarantee but we are trying and am trying because believe in you. When we have our visits and are able to sit and talk you'll see how much we can relate to each other. Because had no childhood either together we were hill and together am sure will see you become the young lady that God has made you to be. As I've said before your story will become the guide book for someone else to get out of their abusive relationship and personally know what it's like to be abused as a child understand the desperation the loneliness and all the emotions that go along with it that is something we can talk about in person. So will not dwell on that in my email. know you're excited about your visit with your new friend and do hope that all goes well with that. You're a grown woman now in the decision is yours and who you say and you don't see. The only advice can give you is to always pray about it and God will give you the answer that you need and the discernment to make the right decision. As fir a is concerned and this is only my opinion know that were very close and you both love each other very much and I'm glad that you're able to talk and be friends with him. And you may believe that he's just trying to protect you. But seeing him in person believe what are you more harm than good because it will bring up the old emotions and the love and hope that y'all went through. And that will keep you from being able to completely let go and have a happy healthy	page 671

03/09/2020 08:41:14	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, Forgot to add this to my last email. finally went to church for the first time since all of my surgery. seeing your picture that was taken Sunday anyway I got to run I've got a doctors appointment this morning. Proud of you being able to recognize that you need more time to heal. was going through everything have and any updated materials would be of great help. Our BACA Attorney (he wants to stay anonymous if at all possible right now. Anyways, he had a few questions for me. So I am making a list to send him so he will know exactly what and where we are standing. The Parole Board has requested us to put our package together, so that they may be able to help in some way. That is a good thing. You are awesome, have read your letters and they are great. Once we get your updated material and 2 more of our BACA Advocates letters of recommendation. We are going to start pushing your case till they hear us. BACA has done these kind of cases many times and they know exactly what to say and the correct way to get your case in the right hands. You have a lot of support from here and we will not give up till we see you home, I am so excited about coming to see you! hope you are too. Will write more later. Got to run to the store. 03/10/2020 00:46:03	Outbound	Hey there. :-) got your email today. :-) Well first thing don't want you to worry about me talking new girlfriend am blocking her from my contact list soon anyway. agree nothing needs to be said to her or him. As I had a loooooong talk with him and explained a visit so soon wouldn't be good for my emotional stability. its not that never wanna have a visit with him again but just not while I'm still upset by the break up. He understands but did open up about his personal struggles and would ask for you to keep him in your prayers as he is battling addiction right now. This is not like him and I'm afraid he has lost himself. This is something understand he needs to work on his own issues which makes sense of why he felt he needed to push me away. My friend sent the letter he wrote as a character reference to all Missouri officials such as the governor, the chairman of the parole board and the Hawley. His letter was very in depth of my situation. will send anything have that is new to you. also have revised my letter of the classes have taken to include my new ones completed, I'll send you a new copy via snail mail. :-) I'm glad you are recovering well. have probably sent God only a million prayers for your health. it was his will that brought you into my life and it is his will that we meet in person at the right time.:-) look forward to hearing what your personal struggles and story is. it is a remarkable thing you are doing for me and for others like me. sending my love, talk soon	page 671

03/12/2020 01:26:22	Outbound	Dear Smitten, Its late at night and wrapped up in my blankets, reading a book. didn't start The Delirium series yet. found another book series have been wanting to read for awhile but the 1st book was always on reserve, until now so went ahead and checked out book one in the Hush Hush saga. its kinda like Twilight, but instead of Vamps, its fallen angels half human half angel. and once I've read these then I'll read Delirium as it is my own personal book so I've got lots of time to read it. :) I am keeping a close eye on the news coverage on the Coronavirus, its horrible how it is making such a negative impact on our country. fear for my loved ones each passing day, though thankfully the people who are closest to me are under the age range of being susceptible to contracting the virus. My father works in a industry that deals with a lot of exposure with travel, however as said he is in good health and so is You already know get on to you about your own safety with this going on. also do worry about as he is a bartender in the most dangerously affected cities in the U.S. feel tempted to call him, but keeping a close eye on him, as much as she can via FB and text. besides still have his moms phone # as well. It's just crazy how much uncertainty is going on, with everything. The travel bans and states declaring state of emergency. You very well could be on a good prediction, wouldn't be surprised if in another 2-3 weeks they would shut down all air travel. if that happens, can you get your money back for the expenses? anything can happen with the way its continuing to spread and get worse. All we can do is wait and have our bases covered, so look into if that happens if your money can be refunded. My friend left here yesterday. called her and she's overwhelmed by everything. told her to just take 10 minutes to herself to breath and process being on the outside. know I will need like maybe like an hour to just soak it all in and cry or just have that sense of relief that its finally over. No more C.O.s threatening me with a write up, No one telling me can't embrace or have a physical interaction with another person, No more stupid STUPID rules!, and more over, no more walls. just complete openness. Its been a long journey for me already. this year marks 5 years since the crime, and its 5 years that have been in this semi form of freedom. have grown up tremendously and am finding myself more every year. feel like was just a kid when came into this new reality, and since have grown in maturity and confidence in myself. I still make choices that probably most make in their teen years like trying to turn brown hair blonde and it come out orange, or having a weird goth phase, (yeah did that for a few months back in 2017, still kinda dig the goth look. There is this catalog called Alchemy England 1977. such cool shit that would totally rock. wanna buy the ear cuffs that look like dragon wings!) I told you my "style" would probably be somewhere in between Forever 21 and Hot Topic. figure it out Mall boy "clicks tongue :) ANNND I'm babbling now...so I'll stop for now. Or maybe not, maybe it happens all the time lol. just lost my grandfather yesterday. have been crying a lot so decided, if can not smile for myself. maybe could make a stranger smile and show some kindness. was on youtube and saw an interview with you and dr phil. So decided to send some kindness your way. It may not be a lot. don't have much myself. But it sureley should be enough for a candy bar or something else. Something for a rainy day when you need a pick me up. love making people smile. When was young would always save all my birthday money and would use it to buy my family gifts. On a not so good day don't forget to chin up sweetie, and never forget to smile. Here some random things going on in the world. Covid19, am sure you already know all about it, but just read Tom Hanks and his wife have it now too. work in a Walgreens ...people are wiping our shelves. Buying all the toilet paper, handsoap and handsanitizer. Weird how washing your hands has just now become a trend. What were people doing before??? But like Dr. Mike from Youtube says.... don't be anxious - be alert! People on the other hand are alertly anxious lol! My daughter she is 10 years old. She is just crossing her fingers her school closes for a while. Kids....haha. Well it is 4.32 am and probably should go to bed. Keep a smile and your chin up sweetie. 03/14/2020 08:14:30	Inbound	Dearest Gypsy, Good morning!! Sorry have been so bad about writing here recently!! And shit I just realized forgot the game board damnit! I'll remember it tomorrow. It's early right now and work is off to a slow start. Hopefully it stays this way for at least one more weekend. I'm not in the mood for work today. The bitch has already sent me an email from home trying to correct me on something that she is WRONG about but that's okay.... I'm not gonna flip out and write her a nasty email back. Just gonna not respond and let her figure it out on her own. So anyways. You asked me what a day together when you're with me might be like. It's the simple things. picture you in a blue and white sundress (I can't explain why but when read your question that's what pictured lol). Making lunch while clean the bathroom with bleach. live the smell of bleach, with open windows. Just seems very fresh and clean! For lunch I'm hoping you're making BLTs with maple bacon! That sounds really delicious right now actually! Hold the sliced tomato on your sandwich though. Those along with some cheesy potato puffs sounds amazing! Just you and lin the house on a breezy warm and sunny afternoon without a care in the world, and nothing but time on our hands, and not a care in the world other than just being with each other, and happy. see myself do nothing but smile when you're around. After lunch, and hour or so in bed wink, then maybe finish the second half of the movie we were watching because we were um... busy. Then we get up, maybe take a drive to the beach. Take a long walk out to the Jetty's long rocky piers that stick out into the water. I think might have sent you a video from there, can't remember. I'm due to make you another video soon. Anyways after a drive, and walk on this perfect sunny day we find a restaurant outside and eat there for dinner. Then stop at a pub on the way home for a drink or two. We get back home later in the evening, cuddled up on the couch watching more TV, then we shut the lights of and head for the bedroom where there's plenty more winking before we exhaust ourselves and drift off to sleep ready for another perfect day with each other tomorrow didn't think about that, or plan to write any of that in any way. It all just kinda came together. Maybe not everyday would be like that. There's work, bills, family stresses, things break down (I think my fridge is dying). But to me that's a perfect day. We will live it someday. An average day, yet perfect.	page 371

I'm not here to talk about your case, but thought you would like a friend and corresponder during your sentence. feel like we are similar, personality wise. know you trust me, but just want to make friends and talk. Ill tell you more about myself I'm 22 years old and have a dog, still live with my parents and my brother. I love makeup, doing nails on other people and like to meet new people too. I'm a very artistic person, generous, and always see the best in others. One day want my own family, dogs too. But first really want to find the love of my life. thought I found it last year, but he ended up leaving me. He gave me all the reasons in the world to not believe in real love again, but know it'll happen. see my grandparents still loving each other after 45 years of marriage, and it makes my heart melt. They still kiss each other and hold hands. Career wise, I'm very confused. But I'm trying to figure it out. Most times feel alone and different from the other girls because don't fit in. like meeting new people and to talk online, because for me it's easier to show who really am. Physically, I'm 5'8" tall, have black hair, blue eyes and I'm a little bit chubby lol. love food too much. love playing with makeup it makes me feel confident and beautiful. feel like can be who really am with makeup. If you want to talk to me, I've included a pre-paid reply. want you to be comfortable with me, so don't be afraid to ask me anything. hope doing well! times do feel broken. am upbeat the majority of the time but have a lot if issues. have insecurity issues, trust issues, co- dependent as fuck issues. was molested at the age of 9 by my grandfather, the same one you saw in the HBO doc. It fucks with your head when the first man to give you head is your own grandpa. yeah real shit. have had a lot of people want to be my "friend" because of the fame aspect. People ask for my autograph all the time. People from all over the world including little no where places like the Philippines know who am. I am in no way proud of my crime and often wonder why people idolize me when kids draw pictures of me and tell me they support me, its so sweet but don't understand why they think of me in a good light, I'm just a murderer. live with PTSD and have nightmares of that night. have a hard time watching scary movies because anything with knives and stabbing people is a trauma trigger for me. Screams of terror is another trigger. can manage to watch the old Freddie Jason movies and do love American Horror Story but its still hard. My favorite holiday is Halloween and I'm worried how will react going into a Halloween shop when I'm out. Seeing the fake bloody knives might be too much for me. These are things that live with after a murder. wasn't even in the room when it happened yet still heard everything, remember my heart feeling fast yet each beat was so loud and hard in my chest. remember telling myself to keep breathing. don't know how long it was happening for, it seemed like a minute or two, but now looking back it could have been longer. Needless to say I'm still coping with it all. still to this day have never seen the crime scene photos. Many others have because someone managed to talk my stepmother into giving them to someone and that someone posted every one of them including my mothers naked body for all to comment. in Facebook discussion groups. That sickens me. the photos were later reported but everyone already saw it all. loved my mother, loved and hated her. still miss her, still have grief to deal with and every year that goes by on the anniversary of her death I say a prayer,.. and I'm not the praying kind..but make an exception an spray her finds peace. Wow I really got off track guess wanted to dive into my head a little. Now have taken classes in here that have built up my selfesteem. had a set back with that 8 months ago left me. long story short he is mostly attracted to blondes. well had long dark brown hair and had been dying it with a maroon tint for like 2 years. We can get our hair dyed in here through Cosmo (Cosmetology) however when a brown haired girl tries to go blonde, on the outside salons use bleach to lighten the natural tones in the dark hair so the color comes out properly. In here our Cosmo does not use the bleaching process, so....as a last ditch effort to make him love me again cut my hair into a pixy cut and attempted to go blonde.... big fin mistake.. it turned copper orange... best way to give you a visual, have you watched the new IT movie? the little red haired girl?...yep same color same length. I cried, cried because my hair was so long and beautiful. after not having hair all my life finally looked pretty then butchered my hair all to make a man love me.	page 715
03/15/2020 01:17:25	Outbound	Dear Handsome, an email that is simple to the point asking to see a picture of the letter from the senator as well as the attorneys information. I'll keep you posted on what she says in response. it's kind of humorous, your profile pic is like clue into how close we are to each other. That P4P shirt is that subtle clue that no one will ever notice. lol You're in the background yet currently the closest to me. :-) its just nice to have to ourselves. have to admit, talking with you seems to be my my ONLY favorite thing in my week. Mondays@9am have Healthy Relationships group, Wednesdays@9:30am Emotional Empowerment class then school I go straight from that class to school then after my own classes have to teach ICVC from 1-3pm so my Wednesdays are busy. Honestly with the dullness of the day to day routine, its so comforting to take a shower after my long day and wait for 7pm (8pm your time) to call you for date night. <3 can think of nothing better that would want to be doing then being in the moment with you. really am so disappointed that our visit had to be cancelled. was looking forward to that kiss. Your lips look smooth and warm. Mmmmmm I can only dream of how you would kiss me if were there with you right now. I'm getting a body blush thinking about it. I am sorry you are having difficulties sleeping sweetie. Remember when said that can help you relax to help you sleep? let me elaborate on that for a moment. First would dim the lights in your room to only candle light, then have you sit on the bed with your shirt off while am sitting behind you on the bed. know where you think this is going, however keep reading. would place lavender essential oil on my hand dabbing only enough for my hands to run smoothly across your back. Then would start from the base of your neck and shoulders down. Applying just enough pressure to ease the stress away but gentle enough that it is almost erotic. Rubbing my hands further down your back, stop for a moment and give you a gentle kiss on your earlobe, as you feel my body pressing against you. then have you lay on your back so can relax you even more rubbing and kissing your stress away. (use your imagination.) after that I'd give you a goodnight kiss then curl up next to you and we would fall asleep in each others arms. <3 who knew a back massage could be so....satisfying. xoxox could see you being the type of guy who takes his stress from work or the long day home and it wear on you. mean with everything that is happening with the world, who wouldn't be stressed?. well might not be in your bedroom right now (someday) but if you ever wanna have a relaxing convo I'll make sure to leave the caffeine alone and we can enjoy just smooth conversation before bed.	page 372

(I might be weird for liking those lol) know, am pretty bummed about the cancelled visit too, but everything happens for a reason right? You were more aware that might happen on gut intuition, while was kinda surprised. thought that maybe they would just say no touching, no hug nor kiss. Welp guess we will just have to wait and see what happens. With the trend we are seeing, it looks like either A its the end of the human race lol or B, this crisis will last throughout most of the year. All humor aside, It will get better in time. I'll still be here to visit when this is all over and done with. wonder if once they do have a vaccine if we inmates will be given it... Anyways wanted to at least get a quick email to ya its almost 7am my time I'm gonna sleep some more because just randomly woke up and started this email lol	page 370
03/17/2020 10:43:39	Inbound	Sweet GypsyRose, I just got your email you sent just a couple hours ago! was thinking about you. Thinking about how sad it is our visit was cancelled. I'm now nervous that my work will be shut down. really can't afford that, but millions of others can't either. ANNNNNND! It was just announced that Tom Brady is leaving the Patriots &). Like what next!? One thing that keeps me thinking positively is having you in my life. It sucks be seeing you, we were only three weeks away! Maybe if you so worried about your hair we would have met in January ®). I'm just playin, it was the right idea to make it April. This whole pandemic is out of our control, and out of the control of the other 7.3 billion people in the world. just wish you could be here so we can buy a bunch of food, and quarantine in my room until further notice. Hopefully you have the massage oils with you. We can help each other relax. I'd have to see about some Viagra so we could wink all day. Then when done just do it some more ©). Hopefully you get this soon, and they don't shut down the mail room. I'll talk to you tonight MUAH. I'm very blessed to have you in my life. did already write that in this message? just wanted to make sure you know how important and appreciated you are to me.	page 370
03/17/2020 13:37:40	Inbound	Smitten Kitten, Wow life sure seems surreal right now. Like you I'm big on anniversaries good or bad. At this point a year ago was most definitely newly engaged into you and your story. Probably watching you walking into the courtroom a few months prior thinking "wow she is absolutely gorgeous, I'd love to get to know her". Of course thinking there was about a 1% chance that would actually ever happen. was also kinda bummed that had to miss going to Wrestlemania as didn't plan a trip to NYC, like I did to New Orleans the year prior. NYC is expensive as fuck plus the hassle of getting around a big city like that was not appealing to me. Of course that didn't matter, as it was already announced that it would be in Tampa the following year (this year). Then boom. September, and October came and all the sudden that girl was a bit smitten by suddenly started calling me more and more often. So okay, I can do one of two things, can go to Wrestlemania or visit that hot chick up in Missouri. Well duh hot chick, or sweaty men throwing each other around in underwear That's an easy choice. Now sit here today thinking back to St Patrick's day last year. wanted to go to the Red Sox game that was being played that day at 1pm. My boss told me couldn't leave early a few weeks prior. It ended up being the last day was out sick with the flu so I didn't end up doing either. Fast forward one year and here we are. No visit, no Wrestlemania. You never know what life is going to throw you. All you can do is try your best to plan things, and how nothing out of your control gets in the way. Just sharing my thought for today. Muah I'll talk to you later tonight. SH #fuck2020	page 370

03/21/2020 12:54:22	Inbound	Dearest Gypsy, was just sitting here thinking about you. And wanted to remind you how fond am of you. Like said last night the instant saw you was immediately drawn to you. That remains true to this day. I'm incredibly happy to have you in my life, yet really sad that was supposed to be getting a hug and kiss from you in just 13 days. Ugh nothing we can do but wait. I'm sitting at work a little bit worried about how little work there is to do. We should be cranking up now especially heading into the last 10 days of March. It's concerning, but the boss insists no one is getting laid off in any way. believe him. And it does make sense. We work under contracts. Those contracts from bigger companies provide lump sums of cash to my boss (the owner). It is then up to him to spend appropriately (the employees) to get work done. It doesn't stipulate that we make more or less money based on the amount of work. So basically as long as the bigger companies don't bail out on their contracts with us will still get my paychecks! You're probably wondering just what in the hell is up with the random guys in those pictures sent. That is from the Coronavirus song and a video they made. spraying Lysol all over the place while dancing. It's quite amusing lol. So don't remember how clear made it last night. did tell when got that message about you being "in your box" and not calling me. definitely thought it was you being in lockdown, and definitely thought it meant it was gonna be some time before heard from you again. So did text her telling her that. did then get your next message when you told me it wasn't a lockdown and it was because you were having a bad day. So I'm not sure if she will bring it up or not. hope talking to me helps. am always here for you no matter how down you are. You already know that. We went over all that. feel the same way only stronger now since the day first heard about you. just want to go up there wrap you up in my arms and get you out of there. And not just tell you that you're gonna be okay. But make sure that you're gonna be okay. One day in the future when they open the door for you will be there to make all of that a reality. For now call me often, and I'll tell you how cute you are, and how absolutely adorable find it when I hear you snort from laughing. hope having a better day today. I'll talk to you soon. muah Mr. Smitten	page 370

You are such a sweetie. So it been almost 6 months since you and started talking every week 3 or more times a week. am curious to how you feel about me? realize its probably still a hard judgment based on my voice alone, but by now you have gotten a feel for me. so what do	page 370
03/21/2020 16:28:16	Inbound	Hello Gypsy, hope this finds you well also. My family and are all doing good and no one is sick at this time. The stay at home thing we're making us do it's so boring, but am catching up on my reading and things like that. will ask the B.A.C.A attorney for permission to send you his name and email. He is a criminal defense attorney, mainly specializing in domestic violence and child abuse cases. The letter from the senator is in Nashville with him. will email him and have him send it to me or make a picture or copy for me to Send to you. know you have lots of questions and you do need to validate doing and will get that done as soon as possible. There was supposed to be a meeting this past week in Nashville but it was canceled due to the virus thing going around. will get what you are asking and to you as soon as possible when he send them to me. We always have to ask permission before giving out names and such like that. on Facebook and we messaged each other a little. He was also asking questions that I did connect with your friend wasn't being able to give to him. He one of the names of the ladies that had helped in the past. But that is something that must stay anonymous for their safety and well-being. After that though nothing much was said And have a message to him or got a message from him since. did get the letters fro and your dad and they were really wonderful and supportive of you. She also sent a picture of you and them, saying that thought it would be a good thing to add to it if you want we send it to everyone. Kristie told me about the ban on the visitors but she thought that it would be lifted by the time of my visit on the 18th. But she said you would probably let me know. I'm truly looking forward to seeing you and talking with you face-to-face about things that emails just can't say enough. You do want me to still come see you, right? When is it they are lifting the ban from having visitors? told me they were planning on coming the weekend before me but because of the van they had to cancel the trip and had to cancel his trip as well. asked her if she wanted me to trade weekends with her so they could come but she said no that would be fine that she wanted us to meet and see each other. This process is really taking longer than we expected First All the impeachment proceedings and such. And now with the coronavirus issues going on. do know that Senator Harley is doing everything he can for the state of Missouri during this time of Panic With this virus thing going on. He was on the news speaking about it just this past week. So am sure he is a very busy man, but I would think that he would have people that was helping him catch up with the things they got behind him. Anyway will get your questions answered and get the information that you asked me for this week. Are you really OK? know you must be disappointed and your dad and had to cancel their trips to see you. If you want me to switch weekends will be near them so they can come do not mind. Because know that you were really wanting to see them as much as they are wanting to see you. Through just Facebook post he does not post anything about you and him because he believes it to be a private matter. My daughter did say on one page that someone has done in support of you where he posted a letter he got from the parole board and it sort of surprised me. Because he just told me that he wasn't posting about you and him for your privacy and your safety. did check it out and saw the letter and don't understand why he posted it, but you did get a lot of support from that post made with that letter from them. When we finally get to have a visit we will talk more deeply about thing, but emails just can't do enough for.	page 672

03/24/2020 00:33:04	Outbound	Hey Mom, Since our phone call kept cutting out, thought would send an email. Things are ok here, they are still having us have normal activities. Volunteers are told not to come in, however as of right now teachers and caseworkers are still coming to work. A few days ago told was "in my box", he thought I was on lockdown lol explained no no no its that I'm having a bad day and I'm depressed. he asked me to call him so called him later that night and he made me laugh, pulling me out of my box. He is such a sweetheart. added me back on Jpay, rather he was invited back. called his phone last night and he answered BUT heard a girls voice in the background close enough to his phone that could hear her clear as day. He asked me to call back later, and I never did, just ran into the bathroom and cried...of course. can't handle thinking about him with another girl. I'm sure he's happier though, now at he is not held back by me. received an email I am slightly suspicious of this whole "project" to get me pardoned. I'm have been taken advantage of by other people making false promises and claiming they are something they are not, therefore I'm seeing red flags. I'm giving her time to prove me wrong but do not like all the anonymous nature of all her claims. there is an attorney helping her, BUT no one can know his name, where he works or anything about him because he wants to be "anonymous" ok WEIRD! red flag then she claims this attorney along with the Bikers Against Child Abuse Association, has been able to free 4 other people from prison, BUT can't give me names dates or any article of such a pardon, because it must be anonymous. and the biggest one.. Senator Josh Hawley of Missouri, wrote her a letter, BUT has no screen shots, no copy, nothing kept for herself she claims its with the attorney. I asked her respectfully for validation to her claims, and was told she will try to get me what I ask for soon. Mom I'm starting to get a bad feeling about it...I talked about it and he made a good point, what would be her motive to doop me? she seems like a sweet Christian lady who wants to help. but her vagueness is what's really rubbing me the wrong way. what attorney wants to remain anonymous from his client? and sure am not a threat to the people that have been released so why not share something about their stories with me. idk all know is if don't get proof soon I'm gonna stay more focused on my parole hearing next year and less on getting my hopes up about a bogus pardon. NEED you to do one thing for me, can you send me letters? if it can be changed to address to the board of Probation and Parole, can use it for my hearing. Lately I've been so homesick. am so over the women in here, drama all can say is drama. ugh I think this Coronavirus is gonna take up much of the year to get through. if it doesn't get better this year that we should have the visit on his birthday next year in January. think by the way its going the yearly family visit might have to be next year as well. my hair will be as long as it was the last time saw me! lol sent Dad a birthday ecard, ran out of real birthday cards to send, they stop selling greeting cards last year. stocked on a few,...granted all of em are kissed with a lip print because bought enough cards so could send one for every holiday until come home...so needless to say got a lot of kissie cards buuuuuu no birthday ones. I'll just send the kissed ones :-) lol our secret.	page 309

Your mom mentioned you were kinda stressed and can imagine its hard with a new baby. Listen know you probably want to keep your family together for the sake of your baby boy, but remember don't let any man put make you feel less about you or treat you wrongly. there are many more ways then physical that's abuse in a relationship. it might not be my place but like said me and your mom talk a lot. You are young and need to be uplifted, not torn down. You need to be strong for that child. its ok to set boundaries and stand your ground for yourself and what you want and need from your boyfriend. it will be ok. :-) hugs Gypsy	page 550

03/26/2020 19:06:17	Inbound	Evening Gypsy, just a short note to let you know that most likely we will have to cancel my visitation due to the Coranna Virus. My cardiologist gave me an order of a stay at home and ordered for 30 more days and that's not going to be soon enough for me to come visit on the date we had planned. I'm time so it does far as has really messed up this country made a lot of things inconvenient. Place is closing shortage of food all that kind of stuff. What effect does it have any on you being there? Has anyone gotten sick got sick or y'all running out of things? I don't feel real good but just wanted to let you know about what my cardiologist has done. Endo to what I've been through really need to follow his orders. Still waiting on keys to get back with me on that letter you wanted and permission to give you his information. He is taking care of his mother up in Pennsylvania and says when he gets back home that he will get those things to me or to you. Would you rather him email you personally rather than it down for me? Still waiting on Keith to get back with me on that letter you wanted and permission to give you his information. He is taking care of his mother up in Pennsylvania and says when he gets back home then he will get those things to me or to you. Would you rather him email you personally rather than it down for me? Sorry this has to be short just don't feel good and need to lay down. Between not feeling good and a stay at home and order, not being able to get out even to see my grandchildren it's really the pits. TV is even boring, not much else to do but I guess I'll take the time to keep on recovering so that when my cardiologist lift the stay at home or can come visit. Take care and will write soon. Huas and prayers always. Your Hi M sorry its been awhile since last wrote. a lot of changes has been going in within my facility to ensure our safety from the pandemic. I'm pretty bored myself :-P think I've cleaned my belonging like 5 times a day. I'm glad another package was sent to those officials. understand letter was not placed in that package, he already sent his to all the states officials anyway, plus gave him permission to post the pics of his letters. he never does anything without talking to me about it first. know why he added those details about his life, it was not to come off as conceded, but to let people know he is not someone of a criminal background writing this, He is of a working class who is anormal member of society. to show that someone of an average life believes in my freedom. that was all. but I understand if that wasn't taken in the context he was trying to get across. didn't tell him that his letter wasn't sent with that package because simply didn't wanna hurt his feelings. Anyways. This pandemic has gotten everything slammed to a hult. all my classes and schooling has been put on hold, so I'm just in my room watching tv, drawing/doodling and catching up on emails to people need to keep in better contact with. My dad is stuck at work, he has been gone offshore for 3 months so far with no idea when he will be back home. I do email him on the regular though. Everyone is doing ok, hang'n in there during all this. How is your family? hugs	page 674

It just might be a hidden desire of mine. with that said, I'll leave that there and call you sometime tomorrow I'll try at like 1pm your time if youre busy or whatever I'll try again closer to 6ish your time. unless your still holding me to those 2 weeks?. :-P BTW I dont have "date night" with anymore. Understanding that the safety of the inmates as well as staff are a priority, am writing to ask if anyone would like to help aid my efforts in bringing alternative visitation access to the facility by writing a short letter to the warden requesting/suggesting that Video Visits be implemented into the facility so that the we are able to stay connected with our friends and family. You know youre THAT guy call when I'm wet and wild, No one else can make me blush and my lip quiver like you. <3 To finish what was saying, You're a wonderful person yourself and though you have demons to work through, you have the purest heart ive ever had the pleasure to love. One day when I'm free, hope to see the man believe you are having had overcome your struggles. Maybe our paths will lead us back together. Many things are uncertain in life, where we will be in our lives 3 years from now is one neither of us can predict, however I'm certain about one thing, there will be a place and desire in my heart for you for the rest of my life and that is something that neither time, distance, nor another man can ever take away. You're wrong by the way, One person that is true to me IS worth more then a thousand people who are fair weather friends. One is enough, if it is the one love. You were always enough and you would always be enough. <3 well, hope didn't go too deep into things to scare you away again. just wanted to finish what had to say. 04/03/2020 19:45:15	Inbound	Ms Gypsy Rose % How are you today???? I'm sure you know about the virus~ and that Louisiana is one of the states on lockdown!! Are things different and changed for Wanted to write, was thinking about Grand Isle today. That's on the Coast by your people:)) Then it dawned on me.... my middle son (a real cancer patient) (that's how know what you went thru, cause lived it with my own son:(Anyhow, it dawned on me- you and him were both born in 1991. So was putting the time line together— Do you know that you were still living in Louisiana when we would take trips with the boys to Grand Isle. We've driven thru the hometowns- Galliano, Cut-Off, Golden always stop there at the Popeyes Chicken and sometimes the Burger King to get food for the beach:)) We went twice last year to the Island. On one trip, took my friend from California there to see the Gulf of Mexico for his very first time!! He was trippin' that you could see the oil platforms from land.... he'd only seen them in a movie, Deepwater Horizon. So then took him to Port Fourchon, to see the $2Billion+ dollar island of oil industry!!:) It's fascinating!! Both times, sent a private message to Mr. that I'd be down the bayou and we could meet for drinks <— too funny, meet for drinks with someone I've never met!! lol! But I'd do it, especially at a delicious seafood restaurant, it'd be fun and very interesting think:)) So again, I'd been tripping on that today that we were close at times of crossing paths. The truth being known now, of what your future was to become, "if could go back in time" and while driving thru and if I saw a beautiful smiling little girl with big glasses sitting there in her wheelchair woulda stole (just playing, maybe;) LoL Phenomenal the way the world works with its twist and turns at times!!	page 231

04/03/2020 22:53:46	Inbound	Hey Gypsy! We spoke a while back but it's been a while. Life has been flipped upside down so I'm sorry for not reaching out sooner. How are you? Are you staying healthy? Did your fiancé ever meet your dad? How's the photography going? Hope you are well. I'd love to hear how your doing and new in your world. Hugs and well wishes, thank you for reaching out with support. :-) I am doing good :-) have adapted well. prison is not so bad, for me its more freedom then ever knew before. since have been incarcerated, have obtained most of my GED, passed every subject except math though I'm striving to achieve that as well. work part time as a photographer taking pictures for the women in here. :-) do have a wonderful support system, My father and continue to build a bond. He and my stepmothe are coming up to visit next month, they will also be meeting my fiancé. I am engaged to a wonderful man, his name we have been together for about 2 years and he has been nothing but my biggest blessing. :-) I am aware that there is a Hulu series, The Act, however am unable to watch it so have little to say about the show, only that the production team and creators of the show has used my actual name and story without my consent or the life rights to do so, therefore do not receive any financial profit from it. other then that, i have heard its semi accurate to the true events of my life. as for me, spend my time either on my tablet listening to music, I'm a big country fan, or in the library. also take additional classes to better my emotional and mental well being. :-) I try and stay positive in my day to day life, just look forward to starting a wonderful new life when am free. would love to travel, seeing the northern lights is on my top 10 list. do want to have children someday and want to do a line of work that either works with animals or kids love both, or working as a hair stylist. :-) for now just can't wait for summer. think I'm going to try a sport this year,..eshh wish me luck, I'm so clumsy lol anyways have a great day and thanks again for the encouragement. :-) P.S I am also asking all my friends and supporters to send letters to Missouri State Government officials in order to help with my early release. Hello Friends and Supporters, I appreciate the continued encouragement throughout my prison sentence. Many of ya'll have signed The Free Gypsy Blanchard Petition created by my father Now, must ask a favor, am respectfully asking all who wish me an early release to please aid my father in his efforts for my freedom and write a letter expressing support for my early release to either the Missouri State Governor Michael L. Parson AND/OR The Division of the Missouri State Board of Probation and Parole. I am scheduled for a parole hearing in December of 2021, however any and all letters of support are helpful. please remember to add my first and last name and in the letter. Thank You :-) GypsyRose Blanchard	page 501

04/03/2020 22:32:19	Inbound	Dear gypsy Hi my name is amber meese. know you probably get 1000 emails and letters and will never see this but I'm writing just in case. would like to be friends. have no friends but do have a fiancé and two little boys. would love it if we could be friends we could write/talk and even video. Feel free to call me as well any time you ever just need someone to talk to. My phone number is I really hope you can write me back. Hi Gypsy, You don't know me, which is fine. just wanted to reach out to you because heard about your story and just wanted to say am so sorry for what had happened to you. couldn't even imagine. But, am glad that you are slowly moving past it, and have improved yourself mentally and physically since the incident. To be honest, at first didn't think it was appropriate for me to reach out to you because you don't know me but I found a support page on Facebook, think your dad and stepmom run it? But, they were encouraging people to write you so you lonely, which made me want to finally do it! Since you don't know me, I'll totally understand if you decline the offer, but I'm willing to be your penpal on here and I can even your friend after you get out of incarceration, if you're fine with that. But, like said will totally understand considering the situation and everything. But, since I'm a stranger to you, I'll go ahead and tell you who am! So, my name i I'm 18 (almost 19) in February, and actually live in Springfield, Missouri! I'm quiet, and very shy, and lonely haha only because when was 10 I was injured in a school accident and broke my hips, had like 5 surgeries, fell into a coma, and finally I'm on a disability and just can't find friends because nobody wants to wait on me, i can't keep up because of my hip/leg problems, so am kind of excited that we could possibly be friends but if not it's like said, TOTALLY understand. Also, meant to say, literally SO BEAUTIFUL! I think you have the prettiest smile! :) But, gotta go, I'm almost running out of characters haha, so I'm gonna go! hope to hear back from you soon. If not, it's ok! No worries! :) Keep your head up, and stay positive! I'm praying for a strong recovery, and a beautiful future for you. hope to talk to you soon Gypsy! Sincerely,	page 701

04/04/2020 05:55:59	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, It has been a bit since have heard from you. hope you're doing well. Is the coronavirus affecting anyone in the prison you're at. hope not. think of you often and pray that you're OK. know things are going slow with your case but the world has gone absolutely crazy it seems. There is so much going on it's never thought in my lifetime will see things like this go alone but the best thing that you knew of us can do is turn to God and trust him and pray he sees us through. People are losing their lives to this virus and will add a stay at home order and they are tracking our cell phone to make sure that we are doing that. The only places we can go is to get groceries, see a doctor or to get medicine. Walmart is nuts, and the way people are acting about toilet paper is absolutely funny. And there is so much going on especially with people that live alone such a time. It gets really lonely not being able to see anyone, at least have my church family to call and talk to and my daughter and her family. It's really depressing, I'm tired of playing hell am big decision is whether I'm not lying on the couch or lay in the bed. But am using my time to read God's word and study so that one day will be able to help someone that doesn't know Jesus. When things finally get back to normal or almost normal will be able to pick up where we left off working on your case right now is that a standstill. The attorneys name you wanted is Keith Lyle LYELL. And he is licensed to practice in five states. And forgot to ask him which states he was licensing. He said he will call as soon as he can right now he is in Pennsylvania taking care of his mother who has the coronavirus. I just can't imagine losing someone to this virus. Let alone go through what this world is having to go through the best we can do is pray for our country and our leaders that they will make the right decisions to help us get through this time of crisis. It's almost 5 AM, couldn't sleep so thought I'd take the time to write you a little and let you know danger OK here and did find out one of the things about Keith saying someone broke the end amenity about what was doing. The only thing he would tell me it came from Florida. But it has been addressed and taken care of. Just so much on my mind, worried about my son that is in the army in Washington. Where they are having so many cases of this virus. In my candy alone we have had 10 confirmed cases. Where are my sisters live in Memphis Tennessee have had hundreds of confirmed cases. The lot to take in. We don't know from day today what can happen we just have to trust God. know that we are on the stay at home water and till April 30. And like that in most states know it makes it hard for you and those are around we're not having any visitors . Hopefully this won't go much longer and the president will not keep extending our stay at home more so that we can get out and about and not just talk to her family and friends over the phone. And of course they had the 6 foot rule called Social distancing even in the house with the family. I am going to go for now because I'm a little sad and need to get on my knees and pray Because there is nothing can do to change what is going on in the world. have a strong faith and trust God. So do worry about you and was trying to do everything could to help you and this year has really brought everybody for a loop, especially with the virus thing.	page 673

04/05/2020 10:43:40	Inbound	Hi Gypsy hope your doing well. Don't know if you read my last quick email but wanted to reach out to you again. was previously a partner wit! working on your story. Our partnership ended over several things, mainly because didn't agree with how she treats people. She's a shit person. I'm sorry for how she's acted towards you and appalled with how she's now portrayed you, without being honest of how she instigated things. I've started my own podcast about true crime. wasn't going to talk about your story because of my issues but I've decided that I will be covering it and working on the things she ignored. She firmly believes you were an accomplice in lying about all medical issues. That you knew and lied for financial gain. firmly believe that everything that's happened false back o don't blame you for loving your mother, but needing to escape her as well. get it, have a rocky relationship with my own mother, that have to keep at a far distance for my own well being. ran away from home at 15 because my birth mother and step mother were both beyond abusive. So understand how you felt to a small degree. And she didn't focus on was a victim of his family either. know you don't trust many people and don't blame you there either. So many people have exploited you and it's sad. was very hard for befriendng after everything said about you and made fun of you. was appalled by that and I have since talked and made amends for that. struggled with it and wasn't very nice. As a mother felt like so many had failed you that you deserved better now. hope to hear back from you. If you would like to answer question or make a statement for our podcast please let me know. would love your input... honey how are you doing? Hope things are going good. haven't done my podcast on your story yet but will soon. So wanted to reach out to you and give you some info just found out She's writing a book about you and being interviewed on some crime show being called the Gypsy rose expert. figured you should know. If you have any legal counsel you may want to look into it. Anyways hope your progress is still going forward. 04/06/2020 19:41:25	Outbound	Well look who it is!!! :-D I'm glad you reset your password :-) I call mom like every other day to check in on her and Yeah was so bummed about us having to postpone our family visit. The facilities all over Missouri has been taking extra precautions to make sure we are all safe. They actually extended that visiting suspension through May 14th. so wasn't able to get any of my visits that had planned. Omg dad I'm not a fuzzy! lol actually AM single lol A friend of mine, who have been talking to for 6months now was gonna be visiting just this passed weekend, but due to the whole pandemic and visitation being suspended we had to cancel our plans] has been a strong supporter for like a year now. He is 42 so like 3 years younger then you lol but very respectful guy. We do flirt, a big part of that is started calling him affe: left me has been someone kinda focused my attention to after that. He is not a bad looking guy either, however I'm still so in love I can't seem to emotionally move on. talk withy here and there. He is still trying to find himself and deal with his issues. Ever since he left me he was in like denial thinking that him leaving was no big deal. That all changed one night when was having a conversation with him and he just broke down crying, and in the 2 years that we were together had never heard this man cry, he was crying apologizing for hurting me and he feels less of a man because of it. that was the first real heartfelt apology he gave me since we parted. We still have moments we slip back into those roles like we are together. Deep in my heart know its not completely over. it just is on hold as long as I'm in would be about the only one would want at that gate besides y'all the day I get out. and know there are other fish in the sea, but why did this fish have to be so...matchy matcy to me? error love is complicated! Anyway, so your being good? good. No extra rendezvous huh? lol I'm starting to think take after you in that department lol maybe am a fuzzy lol :-P hey at least its only flirting and not other Yeah mom said you have chosen to shave your hair off and go bald. she doesn't like it, she says you look like your dad too much so its weird for her when ya'll uhhy ya know. she just misses your hair. that's all. Gosh I'm so ready to get out of here. What keeps me going is y'all. knowing what is beyond these walls and knowing its 3.5 years away. Its crazy its about 5 years since everything happened. Yes, mom and are back to normal and see eye to eye. actually think when things blew up witl and mom. that made mom realize she needed to focus on the family and and her "show" so a good thing came out of it. Mom stays out of the social media pages that would stir drama, and no longer presses me to do new interviews. :-) its nice having everything quiet for a change. Of course we still have certain people still pushing for an early release, but with my parole hearing next year I'm really focusing on my behavior and achievements in here so get my earliest out date possible wrote a letter of support to the parole board and got a recognition response saying my earliest date could be 12/28/23. crossing fingers. :-) I'm glad you are staying safe that was my biggest worry when all this first happened. hope you will be able to come home soon.	page 190
04/06/2020 10:47:51	Outbound	wow, that's so interesting! yeah sometimes think about who all ive maybe met in passing or indirectly and wonder if when they saw my story, do they stop and dwell on that brief encounter. Things over here have changed we are on lockdown so we can't go outside or do a lot of our normal activities such as school, classes or recreation. I'm binge watching lifetime movies and eating my locker of food lol :-P also I've been enjoying playing with my make up I've learned how to contour! so I'm just trying to stay positive during this pandemic. stay safe out there. 04/06/2020 16:52:34	Outbound	Pretty sure its because of the same reason we broke up before. have a bid to do and we are both separated by walls that have rules that says you can't come in. 3 years ago did what was best for you and let you go. when heard you found love was happy for you, as found someone too.. but shit happens and things don't always work out. in your case you went through something far worse then being dumped. and here we are. Well a lot has happened since we used to write each other back when you were in Boonville. Most of it is just drama but I'll spare you that stuff. lam 7months Single. I'm getting old lol I'll be 29 in July! :-P lam doing janitorial service on my wing. lost my GP photography gig, due to a glitch in the computer. :-(- lam a facilitator for ICVC now. still haven't passed math in my GED so that sucks but whatever. see the board in December of next year so I've been racking up the certificates lol most days I'm so over this prison way of life. my 85% is at exactly 12/28/23 no sooner. I'm ready to get the fuck out! want babies and to have so much sex like I'm wet and ready now. anyway. My family is doing alright my father is stuck at work offshore he is a boat captain for an oil rig down in Louisiana. My sister is in college but due to the pandemic she's taking her classes online. My brother is well he is him lol my ex fiancé is still living in Seattle and is getting high on heroin and boos, a complete 180 from the wholesome well dressed prissy pants bartender who was a recovered addict when we met but since has relapsed in the last year. that's partly why he left me, he didn't want to bring me down through there with him so he walked, also dating a chick you can't fuck because she's in prison for like 3 more years tends to put a damper on romance. :-\ just say'n I still Keep in contact she's about 10 weeks away from giving birth to her new baby Her husband brings her other little to visit me can't visit due to the same reasons you can't either, former prisoners lol but all is ok I just get lonely a lot and homesick, but other then just rock'n out the next few years I'm staying positive. :-) This pandemic is crazy are you ok? are you work'n? whats been going on in your life? I'm in a fairly small town in Iowa now and while i don't love it do love my kids school and don't know if i could ever move them. I've been to Louisiana once as a teenager with an old boyfriend. want to say we were in Sulfer maybe? I'd love to go back one day. Maybe during Mardi gras! only has good things to say about you as well. Its crazy how life brings certain people together in the most random ways. I cant wait to get to know you! Im typically an introvert but ive been pushing myself a lot lately to socialize more! met my husband at 16, married him at 17 right after getting out of school. We had 4 children (7,5,3,1) before separating last November. mostly just go to work and take care of my kids. wanted to start getting out more and being more social before this whole covid19 thing shut that lol.	page 632

When it comes I am so relieved she is no longer in my life or the lives of my loved ones. 1100% blame for the deterioration of my relationship with my now ex fiancé. He and were a very happy couple with simple hopes and dreams of what our future could be together but the stress from all of Fancy's media exploitation caused havoc on my life in all areas, and was devastating for us as a couple who wished to remain private in the very public eye. the memories of this very chaotic time are still very real in both my life and the lives of the people who are closest to me. As a result had a break down that caused me to relapse with substance abuse and battle depression starting acting out going as far as cutting all of my hair off. This is something never wanted anyone to know not even my own family, however if this information was ever made public am in a place in my life now that can own my choices that made at that time whether they were good or bad, and have since moved forward with positive behaviors and choices. I am now single and working on trying to rebuild myself after a very painful break up. am still hopeful about my future and feel that when the time is right will start dating again but for now am still healing. now have a much better relationship with her eventually did see that the toll that the media had been taking on me was far worse then she thought and it was jointly decided it was best for our family to from our lives. I am preparing for my parole hearing in December of 2021, taking any and all classes and programs to better myself actually started teaching one of the institutions most important rehabilitation programs, it is called ICVC, a program that helps offenders take accountability for their crimes and actions and teaches them ways to give back to their communities. I find this is a much better way to use my story to help others rather than by being portrayed as a "celebrity" am helping others one on one. Things are finally calm in my life. simply want to live my life outside of the media attention, as a normal 28 year old woman. Some day might publish a autobiography with insight into every detail of my life, but for now I'll stick with keeping something personal for myself :) you want to use any of what I've said you have my permission. :-)	page 688

04/07/2020 12:57:23	Inbound	Gypsy, If you need supplies while you are in please let me know i would be happy to help you get somethings you may need. I have included some worksheets you may want to look at that can help you better develop your selfawareness. Hope you are well This is a worksheet that can help you get to know yourself Selfawareness is not only an essential construct in positive psychology, but it's also a vital first step towards getting to know yourself, improving yourself and improving your life. It poses an easy set of prompts you can answer in a few sentences or less, but they are effective in getting you to think about who you are and what you value, what you are proud of, and what you enjoy. was really happy when... Something that my friends like about me is... I am very proud of... My family was very happy with me when I... In school, am very good at... Something that makes me really unique is... Respond to these simple prompts, and you'll have taken a good first step towards greater selfawareness and, eventually, greater selfknowledge and selflove. Another way for boosting selfawareness is this SelfAwareness Worksheet aimed towards adults. It will get a little deeper than the last worksheet, which means it also requires a bit more thought and effort. Try the worksheet above first if you're just dipping your toes into selfawareness. The questions in this worksheet are: What are your greatest talents or skills? Which of your talents or skills gives you the greatest sense of pride or satisfaction? What talents or skills do you admire most in others? What talent or skill do you wish to develop for yourself? What are your five greatest strengths? What do you feel are your two biggest weaknesses? What are your best qualities/characteristics? What behaviors, traits, or qualities do you want other people to admire in you? What are the three most important things to you? Do you spend as much time as you would like to on/with these things? Why or why not? What makes it hard to be yourself with others?	page 694

04/09/2020 08:34:09	Inbound	Hello, Gypsy. hope you're doing well. I'm not sure how much they keep you informed of the outside world. Still, you may have heard that the planet is locked down due to the coronavirus pandemic. I'm not sure who has it worse – the people with freedom who can't go anywhere, or the people in jail without freedom who can't go anywhere. Government officials say they're keeping us inside for public safety. They also say they're keeping criminals inside for public safety too. suppose we're in the same boat, except there's a finite date on most prison sentences. We don't know when or how this pandemic will end. Regardless of all that, I'm writing you for a very specific reason. want to be your friend. Friendship is in short supply these days even though we need friendship now more than ever. So here lam. Here we are. Two complete strangers with one extending the hand of friendship in hopes that he'll get it back. Stay safe, and let me know if you're interesting in some good reading material. All the best, hi Gypsy is already speaking to you through this so thought i'd send you a friendly hope you are well. My friend message to you also. hope you've been keeping yourself busy. know what happened and if you ever need to have a chat i'm here as a friend. 04/10/2020 19:37:10	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, Hope this email finds you doing well. As for here, we are still on the stay at home order. am so bored, said outside hoping someone will by just to have someone to say hi to. cannot even go see my daughter and grandchildren right now. It seems our country has gone crazy with this forest thing. With so many getting the virus in so many dying. really sad. never thought in my lifetime would say something like this. don't have too much to say right now. Because nothing is really going on here. But will catch you up on what I do know about was the BACA CHAPTER in Asheville has done. They had a meeting last week, which was not able to attend. But was updated on what they had decided and what they had done. All information, letters, your accomplishments and letters of support from others and myself were all included. And sent to the State Senate Legislators Office, To the Governor and the Parole do know that they voted not to include the letter because it was more about him and not much according to them that would be useful in talking about you in his letter. Also, because he had posted In a couple of support groups on Facebook a letter he got from the parole board. Which is a general letter that everyone gets that writing your support. They did not feel like he would be a good source in this case. do not agree, since wasn't at the meeting to speak up in the case of his letter. After reading it again myself, do agree that it was more about his wonderful life and less about you and supporting you and getting out. I'm sorry know that's not something you wanted to hear. know how much you care for him and how close you two have become. But don't let that get you down and hope things are going well for you two. Anyways, always in my prayers and hope that staying well. Because the fires can even get into the prison. will let you go for now, and hope to hear from you soon. As for your case, all we could do now is wait for a response from one of the offices. During the time that our country is going through this Covid Virus thing, that is the main priority of all of our government offices at this time. So now we wait and was towed if we heard nothing in a month. They will re- organize and re-prioritize what we've already sent them and mail it again to them. Until we get a response, all we can do is wait. We still believe there will be a positive outcome for your early release. Stay strong keep your faith and hang on. And maybe all that is going on in our country right now will get settled down and then can get back to normal. Hugs from your friend, you're always in my prayers. Your friend always P.S. I still want to come and visit with you as soon as we can. As far as my heart condition am doing great. But being on restriction from our governor and president makes it hard to do anything these days. You take care and hope to hear from you soon.	page 673

04/12/2020 20:03:19	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, My name and I'm from Mississippi. is a male or females name but am a male, just so you weren't confused. wanted to write and tell you that read your story online and know there are so many misconceptions but also watched you on dr.Phil and want to say that and so many other people are very proud of the person you have become and how far you've come since all of that happened. You're a very inspirational person and think you have brought awareness to so many people. have yet to watch the Act on Hulu because heard that you were disappointed by it and wanted to ask you your thoughts and opinions on it before actually watched it. know you have so many random people writing to you and I hope these letters make you feel like a very good person because you are! think you handled the aftermath situation as best as you could and you took responsibility for your actions and that shows great maturity on your part. was very glad when watched Dr.Phil because saw that you said you understood all the actions and everything was clear to you. I'm also close to your age and had been thinking a lot lately about reaching out to you and checking in on you to see how you were doing! Like said, know you get a lot of letters from people and you can't begin to respond to all of them but I'm hoping just reading this one will put you in a good mood! Today is Easter also, so Happy Easter to you! also read online (and please correct me if ANY of this online information is false) that you're engaged as well? Congratulations! see a lot of things online about you, your old house and so on stuff like that and personally think that people should not speak on it if they don't know the truth about any of it. know you hear so much stuff about the past and don't like to bring up any negative things. I'm so happy to hear that you're a healthy person! I've been praying for you and your well being in that facility. do hope you're doing okay and if you ever need anything, please do not hesitate to ask! don't want to go into a lot of details about me because you don't know me but I'm 29 years old, work at a bank and it's tomado season down here in the South. Also, hope you're doing well in this pandemic. do hope we can be friends! think people deserve as many real friends as they can get in this world. It's an ugly place and my friends and support system have meant the world to me while go through hard things. My parents are deceased to cancer. One when was 17 and the other when was 27 so it's just me. do have the best friends and hope can make a new one! know this was long and apologize. hope the best for you and hope to hear from you sooner or later! Always praying for you! Also have included a pre-paid reply for you, just in case you wanted to write back. :) Love,	page 731

04/13/2020 18:04:37	Outbound	Hell Thanks for writing me. :) Thank you for the encouraging words and prayers. BTW happy late Easter as well. am doing alright during the pandemic, my facility is taking all precautions to ensure our safety. Ok so about if you should or shouldn't watch The Act, would say go ahead and watch it, the only reason spoke negatively about it, it wasn't the show itself that was upset about it was that co producer, Dean, went behind my back and stole my story with all rights to use my name and the events that happened, and she made this show without giving me a single red penny of its earnings. that was dirty and low of her to do that to me and my family. Therefore of course was upset, however it is a good depiction of my life from before. I am actually no longer engaged, he left me about 6 months ago. that was my first real broken heart experience, so now I'm single again. My pillow is my new main squeeze lol :-P So you live in Mississippi? My family lives in the south as well, Cut Off Louisiana. that is where I'm planning to live when get out. I'm going back to live with my father and stepmother, until get a place of my own that is. when is your birthday? mine i'll be coming up on 29 myself anyhoo. you are welcome to email me anytime, the emails take a day or two to go through so its not like IMs :-P I wish it was that fast. hope you have a lovely day. stay safe out there. :~)	page 731

04/14/2020 11:32:15	Outbound	I sent you that song because when heard it, it made me think about how we are both going through it. that's all. Is that what you want, to just walk away completely from each other? All you do is "leave me alone" anyway, That is what hurts me. I crave a level of closeness that you won't give me right now. If you have NO intention of ever having reconciliation with me then you need to be honest and say so regardless of my feelings, so that can move on and let you live your life just the same. I'm still just as in love with you today as was nearly 3 years ago. knew from very early on, my feelings for you were unlike any I've ever felt. I think my intentions have been made clear time and time again. That is just something to think about. When this pandemic is over, do want to have a visit. BUT only if we are both stable enough for the emotions that could resurface as a result of seeing each other face to face again. We will literally be forced to confront each other without the ability to hide away back into ourselves. Are you ready for that? I'm always gonna be here for you as your friend but my romantic attachment to you is very much still there. Love you	page 723
04/14/2020 23:40:04	Inbound	Hello, Gypsy. hope you're doing well. I'm not sure how much they keep you informed of the outside world. Still, you may have heard that the planet is locked down due to the coronavirus pandemic. I'm not sure who has it worse -- the people with freedom who can't go anywhere, or the people in jail without freedom who can't go anywhere. Government officials say they're keeping us inside for public safety. They also say they're keeping criminals inside for public safety too. suppose we're in the same boat, except there's a finite date on most prison sentences. We don't know when or how this pandemic will end. Regardless of all that, I'm writing you for a very specific reason. want to be your friend. Friendship is in short supply these days even though we need friendship now more than ever. So here I am. Here we are. Two complete strangers with one extending the hand of friendship in hopes that he'll get it back. Stay safe, and let me know if you're interesting in some good reading material. All the best, hi Gypsy is already speaking to you through this so thought i'd send you a friendly hope you are well. My friend message to you also. hope you've been keeping yourself busy. know what happened and if you ever need to have a chat i'm here as a friend. We are on lockdown in the UK and finding it hard can only imagine what you going through All the best	page 727

04/15/2020 18:33:35	Outbound	I'm sure there were things that were inaccurate, like "the neighborhood girl" never gave me pot or was a bad influence. personally have not watched The Act, so its hard to say what's accurate and what's not. do know a few things from what others have told me though. Awwwwwe I'm sorry about your heartbreak, its the worst kind of pain there is. :(No, do not have any Internet access, have my tablet that has jpay email and that's it. do not get as much mail as you might think, for the most part get a letter here and there but nothing like before. around the time The Act premiered. was getting 200+ emails a day for a good month. besides actually don't normally respond because too many people have posted my emails and to my that is a breach of trust. if want something posted I'll say so, but if I'm having a conversation with someone hope it stays private. That's why rarely do answer mail. Before the pandemic, was very active in here. am enrolled in GED classes, which 2 years ago did pass everything except math, so just need my math and then can graduate. I do teach a class myself it is one of the institutional classes called ICVC. it is a class that focuses on taking accountability for your actions and how you can give back to society after committing crime. In this share my story, in the hopes it can enlighten others to make better choices even if its like a situation like mine that abuse was involved. am both a victim and a perpetrator, so know what its like on both ends. I've grown up a lot even after filming the Dr Phil episode that was 3 years ago. I've learned how to use the voice and the story have without needing a camera in my face to do so. actually have come to hate the media and wish to live my life as just a normal woman. the fame that came with my case, never asked for but now know where stand and what want for my life and to be in the spotlight is not it. The media played a huge part of my breakup with my ex fiancé. He was a very private person and our engagement and relationship became the juicy news last year. that's when we started fighting more and he couldn't handle it so he left me. so from now on want to keep my personal life out of any topic of discussion when it comes to media. Anyway back to my daily life lol have a TV so watch shows like 90day fiancé, The Bachelor, Or anything on National Geographic lol Now that we are all inside because of the pandemic, I'm so bored I've cleaned everything in my room, I've organized my canteen in my locker like 4 times today lol then ate popcom watched a Harry Potter marathon and now I'm writing you :) Next year in December, see the parole board and will know my exact date I'll get out. for now know the earliest is December of 2023 that I can be paroled so I'm hoping get that date. I've never been to a bon fire, I'd probably love it! Anywhoo I'll send this for now :-)	page 730

04/16/2020 00:33:40	Outbound	Deai Hearing your thoughts on what wrote in my email about your intention regarding us, just needed to know what was up, and now do. The back and forth game of running in circles is just becoming unhealthy. It IS time to let go. thought that could be your friend and us try and remain semi close like your mothers advice, but from what your thoughts were, it's time for me to go. still can't answer if would wanna see you ever again, maybe when I'm married and have a family of my own, we can catch up over coffee or something. Never mind about visiting me later in the year. I'm so sorry made this so hard on you, that was never my intention. Our time was truly the happiness any girl could ever dream to find in a romance, just didnt wanna give up on that. I will think fondly on you forever even if you are no longer mine. Just promise me that you will never have a baby Balto with another chick!? ..that was gonna be our baby! Love you, (not "in love" just love) didn't want awkwardness there. Stay safe during the pandemic. Bye	page 723
04/16/2020 19:50:13	Inbound	Hi gypsy sent you a written letter a couple months ago. dont know if you got it or not. Ive just read about your past and felt like needed to contact you. it's not good how your mother treated you. it sickens me to here about it and I'm sorry for what you had to go trough. do support you and believe you should not be in prison. Youve gone trough enough. Anyway hope you're doing good. Write back if you want. Have a great day. I appreciate that very much. :-)	page 728

04/16/2020 15:17:19	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! hate to hear people post your letters and emails for the public to see. That is so rude and disrespectful. wouldn't want anyone to do me that way so most certainly wouldn't do anyone else that way. guess it comes with the fame though right? And yes for sure. The heartbreak was a lot. The person did me wrong and still to this day hasn't admitted it but I let them know what thought. Also hope this doesn't affect how you perceive me but am gay. know a lot of people have very strong feelings toward that. It is so good to hear that you're teaching classes :) I'm happy to hear that you pass the time by! took my GED as well and struggled with math. It's the most awful part of schooling in my opinion but did pass it. Funny thing now is work at a bank lol but I'm more on the fraud side :) 200 letters? That is crazy. figure those people only wanted answers to their The Act related questions which know asked questions too but I'm not throwing your answers up on a forum online anywhere! And as far as that show goes, it was okay. In the end, when the door shut on the 'cell', they just made you look crazy and didn't like it. did think the actress did a wonderful job. hope you intend on pursuing that co-producer for what she did. That was downright dirty of her. watched a few gossip YouTube channels about the show and they all had different things to say that 'you' said about it. And just shook my head knowing you didn't say all those things. Also; so sorry referred to her as 'the neighborhood girl' I just couldn't remember her name. didn't mean for it to sound rude. I really think you're going to face a lot of publicity and fame when you get out. It will probably make headline news and that will make it so hard for you to live a normal life. But don't let them deter you from being normal. Everyone makes mistakes in their lives and does the time one way or another. think you're a super nice person but very misunderstood. You seem to be learning exactly who you are and anyone who knows you is blessed to be able to learn about you too. lol that's how I was when was working from home. cleaned my whole house and was bored to tears! Our state is shut down so all the restaurants are to go only and everyone is panicking. You like Harry Potter? cool, the first movie is my favorite though lol along with twilight too (which is lame know) but it's good you have a tv. You should watch Chrisley Knows Best, he is so funny. He's on USA, if you have that channel. And you watch the bachelor?! Yuckkkk. It's so sappy can't lol. absolutely praying for you and hope you get good news in December when you go before the board. You seem to be making a lot of progress in that facility. just know it has to be draining sometimes since everyone in there knows who you are, the famous one of all of them. so glad you gave me a chance and decided to talk with me! As you said, you can email me anytime :) new friends are a blessing! I'm the one that all my friends come to talk about things with like if they're having problems and love to help. just don't open up much about my problems because feel like a burden to others you know? Bon fires are so much fun! Music, good friends, food, ghost stories lol we don't get to do it much due to our busy lives but I've had the same friends for 10+ years and that's you know real friends. Well, think I've bored you enough for now. hope to hear from you soon and hope you don't think any differently of me. Also, tried to add an attachment and it	page 731

Remember do not touch your face, keep your hands clean and social distance. know that may be hard there but please do the best you can. Let the nurses know if you get sick so they can immediately check you out. Try and stay away from anyone with a cough which is difficult considering a lot of people get sick because of allergies this time of year. hope you are still able to take classes right now. We have one hour of rec a week by house, other then that we are kept inside restricted to the wing. they moved everyone together based on their job detail so all the kitchen workers are on 4house, central service workers on 7, and so on. they grouped everyone and literally moved the whole camp around. I'm still on 7C because dom tend on my wing. there is no honor doms right now. Visiting is suspended until May 14th. its just all crazy. My hair is finally looking like a girl again lol will never cut it ever again. :-P and are still going in circles. He doesn't want to be in a relationship, yet he gets hella jealous when another guy moves in. One of us needs to walk away but its hard. went home, she's doing fine. she is just freaked out because shed been locked up 2 years then goes home to a world pandemic! My dad and are fine, dad got caught talking to the cookie lady back in like December. and everything came out about them twoJ asked me how long I'd known and told her a long time. dad eventually broke it off with the cookie lady and decided to work on his marriage. has another new girlfriend, this one is from the UK, she's a cwak! too she took his last name as her own (not married) and added me on jpay without sending an email saying who she was, send her an email asking who is this? and she's like girlfriend" I'm thinking, why the hell are you on my jpay?? didn't say that but thought it lol My life regarding media attention is calm, and love it. haven't been on TV in like 8 or 9 months. which is great! all the stresses of last year at this time are gone: and see eye to eye, dad is becoming more of a father role, and have found my voice in every sence of the word. don't let anyone take advantage of me anymore, some would call me a bitch when do stand up for myself but that's ok, I'm proud to be one because it means won't take peoples shit. lam doing good really. have about 3.5 years left. see the board December of next year (2021) I'm ready. even just to know an outdate. My facility is making changes to our normal routine and now we must follow certain guidelines set by the state. things are very controlled here, we are allowed only one hour of recreation a week, meaning right now we must be inside all but that one hour. very different from the freedom we had before. 04/19/2020 02:11:55	Outbound	Evening Gypsy, just a short note to let you know that most likely we will have to cancel my visitation due to the Coranna Virus. My cardiologist gave me an order of a stay at home and ordered for 30 more days and that's not going to be soon enough for me to come visit on the date we had planned. I'm time so it does far as has really messed up this country made a lot of things inconvenient. Place is closing shortage of food all that kind of stuff. What effect does it have any on you being there? Has anyone gotten sick got sick or y'all running out of things? I don't feel real good but just wanted to let you know about what my cardiologist has done. Endo to what I've been through really need to follow his orders. Still waiting on keys to get back with me on that letter you wanted and permission to give you his information. He is taking care of his mother up in Pennsylvania and says when he gets back home that he will get those things to me or to you. Would you rather him email you personally rather than it down for me? Still waiting on Keith to get back with me on that letter you wanted and permission to give you his information. He is taking care of his mother up in Pennsylvania and says when he gets back home then he will get those things to me or to you. Would you rather him email you personally rather than it down for me? Sorry this has to be short just don't feel good and need to lay down. Between not feeling good and a stay at home and order, not being able to get out even to see my grandchildren it's really the pits. TV is even boring, not much else to do but I guess I'll take the time to keep on recovering so that when my cardiologist lif the stay at home or can come visit. Take care and will write soon. Huas and prayers always. Your Hi M sorry its been awhile since last wrote. a lot of changes has been going in within my facility to ensure our safety from the pandemic. I'm pretty bored myself :-P think I've cleaned my belonging like 5 times a day. I'm glad another package was sent to those officials. understand letter was not placed in that package, he already sent his to all the states officials anyway, plus gave him permission to post the pics of his letters. he never does anything without talking to me about it first. know why he added those details about his life, it was not to come off as conceded, but to let people know he is not someone of a criminal background writing this, He is of a working class who is anormal member of society. to show that someone of an average life believes in my freedom. that was all. but I understand if that wasn't taken in the context he was trying to get across. didn't tell him that his letter wasn't sent with that package because simply didn't wanna hurt his feelings. Anyways. This pandemic has gotten everything slammed to a hult. all my classes and schooling has been put on hold, so I'm just in my room watching tv, drawing/doodling and catching up on emails to people need to keep in better contact with. My dad is stuck at work, he has been gone offshore for 3 months so far with no idea when he will be back home. I do email him on the regular though. Everyone is doing ok, hang'n in there during all this. How is your family? hugs	page 674

04/21/2020 01:05:59	Inbound	ly lol it's always good to match a face with a name. But for real! haven't seen the documentary yet but since it's more accurate probably watch it too. don't have that many friends either have my select few. was bullied through middle and high school so you know it wasn't hard to know who your real friends were. I totally get why you wouldn't want to watch it or anything that's based on your life. You lived it so why watch it happen again? I personally think you should write a book. believe it would sell out so quickly and I'd be the first one to buy it! I'm not much of a book reader but if it's interesting I'll read it. really think the last book read was Harry Potter lol used to read Nancy drew in school just because like the mystery books. not sure what really possessed me to be like I'm gonna write Gypsy a letter lol think I just wanted to reach out and tell you that you're strong and you have support behind you that you didn't know you had! I really think if was in the situation I'd want people to reach out but then again see your point of why you don't reply a lot. People really put your business out there for clout and attention! Since talking to you, I'll be on YouTube and I'll see a video that says 'Gypsy said this and this' and I'm like eye roll....really. gonna stop talking about my new friend lol So tell me more! Favorite books? Movies? Do you like board games cause me and my friends love board games lol they have a Harry Potter clue game that's pretty fun. know I talk a lot but I like to keep conversations going! like learning about my friends and what they like Bc if they're upset or down one day, I can do something nice for them you know? Trust me though on the being friends with your ex thing, can't do it. Bc I'm ready to fight him lol he cheated on me and all this other shit. I try not to be crazy but man it's hard. And now I see his new girlfriends shit on Instagram too...legit makes me sick. Sorry not to bore you with that story. It's good not to have a lot of friends though but if you get along with your ex and are friends that's great! That means you been too crazy yet lol Well it's midnight and I'm still awake. It's been storming pretty bad with tomadoes and all that other stuff. Welcome to the south. And know you said you were moving to Louisiana so you'll be in the middle of the bipolar weather too. One day sun, next day tomadoes, next day 40 degrees. Which town did you say your dad lived in? live in northern MS so I'm right in the Bible Belt you know lol well I'm headed to bed, have to be up at 6:30. Hope to hear from you soon! You sound so cool :)	page 731

Not today! got bullied in school so now I'm thick skinned! Absolutely not lol and you shouldn't be running to the bathroom crying either you should be like WTF is that! You better tell me! Lol you tell me where he lives and I'll find out for you!! don't play games lol nah I try to control my crazy honestly but it's hard sometimes. People just make you sick and it's hard. see when you have to deal with the public on a daily basis. truly hope you don't have to deal with cameras and the media too though but I'm afraid you may have to :(all you need is a body guard to make them go away lol but don't let guys lie to you and act crazy toward you cause we can fix that! We scared are we! Lol Sorry I may be boring you. Feel free to tell me to hush for a few days lol	page 731

04/23/2020 01:30:34	Outbound	HiM I did receive your letter and gift. thank you so much. awwwe I'm so happy that you and your wife are so happy. My parents, meaning my dad and step mom have been together 29 years. They have their ups and downs but are still going strong. I'm doing ok these days. was engaged last year, however he and are no longer together, but we still have nothing but love and care for each other. It was a hard break up for me and kinda lost myself for awhile, but I'm doing much better now. I started teaching a class here at the facility called ICVC and it is a rehabilitation class that helps inmates take accountability for their crimes and find ways to give back to the community. in this share my story basically to make them understand why its important to reach out for help in a abusive situation, that murder is never the answer, and think reach a lot of people this way. it gives me a purpose with my time. have my parole hearing coming up next year and can be released as early as December 28th, 2023. so just a few years left. when am released I'll be going home with my dad and stepmom I'm not 100% sure what I'll wanna do for work but was thinking maybe something like a beauty salon. like doing hair, nails and make up so to do it as a job would be cool. don't have those details figured out yet, but do know want to be an advocate for children who have been abused specifically by parents with Munchausen By Proxy. am a rare case that survived to see adulthood and to share my story with others in a one on one setting would be ideal. many kids and people don't understand that form of abuse so could maybe help kids identity what happened to them once they are in a safe environment, so perhaps dive into social working in the childrens division. How are yall doing with this pandemic? its all so scary what is going on in the world right now. My facility has made lots of changes to ensure our safety during this time. anyways I'll send this for now. hope you and your wife stay safe and healthy.	page 218

04/23/2020 00:40:39	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, hope your well and corona isn't causing you too much trouble England is like a ghost town. wanted to update you on something have messaged about before. We were fighting over here, a group of us who have been victims of MBP and the British government is now signing into law ways to help people like us out of the situation by forcing an investigation the moment concern is raised by an official. Meaning if they were aware and didn't investigate and we continue to get hurt. If we end up having to fight our way out then the courts will not hold us but social services for the failure! I've been fighting for this for 8 1/2 years and now finally we are protected. hope when you can this is something you will get behind. It's not a UK issue. It's a global issue. You encouraged me to carry on as do not believe you belong in there. hope your family is safe and well. hope your keeping healthy .	page 677
04/23/2020 14:25:06	Outbound	That is wonderful Beekie! I'm so glad that is happening for the UK. hope something like that happens for every country in the world. 04/23/2020 09:29:54	Inbound	hey gypsy! know you don't know me or anything but figured it would always be nice to have someone to talk to tho. my name i and I'm 26 from joplin. if you don't respond understand but thought nonetheless messaging you would possibly brighten your day because you heard from someone in hopes to shed some happiness on these troubling times we're having. hope you are staying safe in there with this virus going around as well. no one out here is really listening to the stay at home order that's in place so anything can happen.... after all it is Missouri lol. if you respond that's cool if not hope at least you appreciated someone reaching out to you. have a wonderful day!! How are you doing? seen your video on youtube its very interesting how that all happen im glad you ended up making it away from your mom even tho it was the worst option to choose but i guess if you find a crazy guy to do it then good for you, i definitely love how sweet you seem in the movie and the disney fairy tale dream that you definitely wanted but never got i see that you got married so hopefully hes ur prince charming and when you get out maybe he will give you what you want	page 694
04/23/2020 13:47:57	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, my name: from the UK. actually use to live in America when was younger. Out in California for about 4 years. My boyfriend lives in Rhode Island. Not sure if you've ever been before? can't go over at the moment because of this corona shit:(! Very annoying! But guess we got to keep safe. So I've been on lockdown for 4 weeks now. Only allowed to go to the shop.. guess that's what's brought me to this JPay thing. My friend was telling me about it. So thought I'd try it. Anyway would be cool for a message back. Maybe thought an extra friend to talk to would be fun. But I understand if you don't reply. Anyway, hope all good OA	page 695

04/27/2020 16:25:15	Outbound	Hey! My favorite color is sapphire blue. my favorite food is gumbo, duh I'm from Louisiana! lol How met is 27, dark brown hair, gorgeous green eyes 6,0 180lbs average build. and he is a Libra I'm a Leo and they say its a perfect match. in May 2017 he watched my HBO documentary and decided to write me a letter, sent him a response letter and pretty soon we wrote on a weekly. then asked for his phone number, then we started talking, soon invited him to come to visit, mind you he lives in Seattle and really didn't think he would come. well he sure did, and 30 minutes into our in person face to face visit out of no where he kissed me, like passionately kissed me. was shocked because didn't know he liked me like that, we were only friends...or so thought. but truth is knew this guy was my soulmate just by how we talked and the chemistry between us. well by the visiting rules, the only physical contact allowed is a brief hug and closed mouth kiss and holding hands throughout the visit. we got caught making out, got in trouble and so did he. he was suspended for 6 months from visiting me! then once the 6 months passed he came back and we were the legendary couple that got caught making out lol epic tale for future kids lol Anyway we stayed together for 2 years then things started to go bad once the media found out about our relationship and engagement. after that he became so distant towards me, and finally left me on October 2nd. it was very painful so reached out to a friend of mine who is actually now become a romantic interest. He is 42 which is older than me but he is a good looking guy with a heart of gold, so I'm giving him a chance. feel like I'm over because have this other guy, if were alone I'm afraid I'd never get over him. I'm ok doesn't want to be with me because I'm locked up, but the one thing I'm not ready for is him to be with another woman. one time suspected hes just gay and doesn't wanna own it yet. The way he isolates himself from everyone, says hes going through a mid life crisis at 27! doesn't know what he wants. did just ask him straight up. I'm like "so....I will love you no matter what, that won't change how I see you, but is the reason why you left me because I'm not the right gender?"... OMG he got so mad and defensive. I'm not sure why I have this gut feeling he is, its just a feeling. sad part is I'd be relieved if he was, just because I'd know it wasn't me as a person and no other woman could replace me. anhedonia love sucks!	page 730

04/27/2020 20:26:47	Outbound	Hi How are you? just received your letter. :) Thank you for reaching out with support. It really means a lot, and you sound so sweet. Ahhh a fellow Louisiana native! Golden Meadow is where my mother's side of the family lives and Cutoff is where my father's side lives. plan on living with my and in Cutoff when I'm released. going back home. it has been far too long. I am glad you watched the HBO documentary first, there has been many other shows based on my life. The documentary is by far the most accurate of them all, that and my Dr. Phil episode. it is hard to believe that the HBO documentary was filmed 4 years ago. Time has passed by quickly. It has been a journey thus far, but I am making the most of my time. have taken every opportunity to better myself while am incarcerated. passed my GED in Reading, Language, Science and Social Studies. unfortunately still am struggling in math, but am close to passing that as well. have graduated from several institutional classes and am in fact teaching one myself. The class is called ICVC. it is a class that focuses on the accountability for crimes and rehabilitation allowing inmates to have the understanding to not only better themselves but also give back to the community. share my story in the hopes can be a cautionary tale, as a moral lesson to reach out for help in abusive situations instead of resorting to violence to solve the problem. wanted to help others on a one on one level because in the past I've done several interviews with various media outlets and found my personal life being exploited, so instead now choose a more personal approach to sharing my story. My hopes and dreams kinda follow suit with that. want to go into advocacy for children who have suffered abuse, specifically as it pertains to Munchausen. My personal dreams are what any woman my age would be. fall in love, get married, family of my own. dream of being able to live life with the ability to freely enjoy how I want to live my life. want to travel and see the things I've only seen in magazines, but moreover its the simple things I crave. the things I've never done like drive a car, wear high heels, go on a real date, spend time with my father catching up on lost time. My dreams are simple but amazing to me because they were so impossible before and now its only 3 years away. My passion is for helping others and my personal passion is living for the little things that means the most. Last year, was happily engaged to a guy had been dating for 2 years, but in October he left me. He lives in Seattle with no plans to move to small Cajun town Louisiana. He and I did part on good terms though. am only now feeling like I am passed it. Anyway. Next year have my first parole hearing and will find out my release date. can be paroled as early as 12/28/23 so about 3 years left. Thankfully have a good family support system. So now that I've filled you in on some of my life post HBO, tell me more about you? You mentioned you work at a hospital and plan on going into teaching, what field is your specialty? by the way, That is very admirable that you took that role for	page 750

04/27/2020 20:59:32	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, hope everything is going well. First off, wow. take it you received my letter. am shocked that you got back to me so fast. Well, sort of got back to me. You did invite me to communicate with you through JPAY. So, again, will say Wow. Haha. wasn't sure that you would have read my letter, let alone invite me to communicate further with you. I'm honored. So, this makes the third time that will officially say Wow... What did you think of my letter? Really? Did come off as weird writing you out the blue? Do come off as weird now with this email? If so, apologize. That is truly not my intention. was just intrigued by you and your story. Plus, love your smile and laugh. sure was hoping my letter made you do both of those... How many people have you invited to talk to you in Jpay? Do you invite anyone who writes you or did you want to talk to me more after my letter? I'm hoping that my letter made you curious about me in some small way similar to how your documentary made me curious to learn more about you. If not, no worries. understand completely if this is your standard reply to all of your letters from people. am thankful regardless. Anyways, meant what I said in my letter. I am curious to learn more about you. I'm interested. sure hope to hear from you soon. Thanks again for the invite. Did mention, wow. Because that was my real reaction.	page 750

04/28/2020 22:08:44	Inbound	mean I'm from Mississippi and my favorite food is spaghetti lol but my fav color is blue too! But really? That's crazy! Seattle is like 28 hours away from there lol that's such a long way but it was sweet that he did that! If they get super defensive about something that usually means it's true and hiding it. What makes you think he's gay though? I can def help you out on this one lol so he's the one that the media ruined? wonder how they found out anyway unless people ran their mouths to them. That's such an invasion of privacy. Well since can guarantee the only one in there with an HBO documentary, already legendary lol but that's crazy! You better stop getting caught! But highly doubt it has anything to do with you though as in why he left. It couldn't be cause you're locked up cause he have ever liked you like that in the first place cause mean that's where you were when you met him...nothing changed except the media. Maybe he was just shy or something but obviously he had to know that was going to happen and most def will when you get out. But if he's going to do that and be distant then you don't need him anyway. But really do understand cause I'm slowly getting over my ex but it's really hard..especially seeing pictures of him with his new girlfriend. That stuff sucks. Like it hurts my heart so bad but know I have to move on you know? So where did you meet the new guy? He's a bit older but maybe that's not a bad thing! Sugar daddy?? Lol jk!! hope he's nice and hope he means everything he says. Cant keep going through heartbreak and idk what I'd do if had to sit everyday and just had time to think about everything over and over. That's why I'm glad can keep myself busy with whatever I can do to keep my mind off of it. But really though and have to tell myself this too...watch the way people act. If something feels off about them, it probably true. Don't be with anybody who wants to use you for fame or use you to get their 15 minutes of magazine/TMZ time. too good for that! But def right. Love sucks. And you know what they say...sometimes in lasts in love but sometimes it hurts instead <3	page 732

It isn't out of the norm for me to receive letters from people don't know, however don't respond to everyone. am very selective of who talk to. I thought your letter was very kind. could tell you meant every word with compassion, so decided to send you a jpay request, something don't normally do, so we could communicate further. 04/28/2020 21:19:21	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, how was your day? It is raining hard down here in Louisiana today. My poor dog, Little girl, has been losing her mind since got home from work this evening. didn't name her that, but the name stuck after started calling her that as a puppy. Anyways, thanks for the email. received your reply during work, and it made my day. still in a state of shock that we have started writing each other. It truly is remarkable. I am very impressed with everything you have accomplished since being incarcerated. You should be proud. Working hard at getting your GED, taking training classes, and even teaching a class of your own. Wow. I will try not to say too many Wows during this email, but Wow fits perfectly, Haha. Math is definitely very difficult, but have no doubt that you will get it. You can seriously do anything that you set your mind to in this world. know that is such a familiar phrase, but it really does remain true. Your desire to be an advocate for child abuse is outstanding also. Your story is powerful. You will help so many people when you get out. Gypsy, you might start overwhelming me with how amazing you truly are. I'm glad that you want to know more about me as well. will tell you whatever you want to know about me. do work in a Hospital here in Lake Charles. It is the biggest one in this area. am currently a Patient Access Specialist in our Radiology department. am responsible for checking Patient Insurance, Information, etc. also collect payments for Procedures. My department does Ultrasounds, CT Scans, Xrays, etc. Dealing with Insurance companies and Doctors offices can be boring and sometimes difficult as well. I'm thankful to have a job during this crazy time with the Pandemic. I still don't know what to think about everything going on with this Covid-19. It is strange having to wear a mask all day at work. do work with some great people though. have made some really good friends there. But enough about work. actually have a Bachelor's Degree from McNeese State here in Lake Charles. My degree is in History. know it isn't exciting, but love History. was a Substitute Teacher when first graduated college. It wasn't bad. I am debating on whether or not want to become a full fledged teacher. could coach sports also. like the idea of being able to teach anywhere. Schools are in desperate need for teachers, so will have the freedom to live wherever want. have thought about other careers as well. There is many different things can choose from actually. like having options. There is plenty of things to learn about me. just don't where to begin. Now back to you, you stated that you were recently engaged, and he left you. What a nutjob, just playing. can't imagine how difficult that had to be for you. 2 years is a long time Gypsy. have had as couple of long term relationships also, but never got engaged. Came close once. It didn't work out, but it must not have been meant to be. Some people don't know a good thing when it is staring them in the face. In my opinion, it's completely his loss. I'm glad that you are starting to move on. I have a couple of questions, though, if you don't mind, how often do you get to use Jpay? I'm just learning about all of the things Jpay can offer. know that you have been using electronic devices for your means of communication in relationships for quite some time now, possibly forever, right? What does it detail? How do you make it work? curious and interested of course. Also, get that you are wanting to enjoy simple things like Driving, going on a real date, wearing heels, and just being able to be. Those things are coming soon enough. If could, would let you experience those things immediately. My vehicle can handle the damage of your driving, just playing. I'm truly excited for you to do these things in the near future. 3 years, a piece of cake.	page 752

Your emails lift my spirits up. And you are right about the time delay on the emails. The first one received this morning said good night on it. understand though, so no worries. Your emails can say whatever, because just like getting to hear from you, period. It's still very surreal to me that we are sending emails to one another. laughed so hard when I read your line about conjugal visits. My coworker wanted to know what was so funny, but I didn't tell her. I told it was something silly read online. Our emails aren't anyone's busy anyways. Part of me wants to tell someone that have started emailing you, but don't think anyone would truly believe it. can't hardly believe it actually. feel like need to pinch myself to see if I am dreaming on occasion, just kidding. Anyways, really do enjoy communicating with you, and am glad that you want to get to know me also. was grateful when you said that you don't respond to everyone who writes to you by inviting them to Jpay. That really made me feel special Gypsy. It means a lot. Okay, on to your questions. My birthday is , SO my zodiac sign is Cancer, the Crab. have some of those qualities also. My home is my safe place. am definitely most comfortable in my own living space. I'm extremely loyal also. have a hard exterior on the outside, but can be very vulnerable on the inside. a very deep person. I'm in touch with my feelings. hope that doesn't sound to silly. Food. You asked about the foods enjoy. Well, I am not picky. like to try different types of food to say that at least tried it. Of course, am from Louisiana, so seafood can be a priority on occasion. Down here, people eat fish religiously on Fridays, especially during Lent, but am not Catholic. do eat Boiled Crawfish, but it is more fun to just go to a friend's house for a Crawfish Boil instead of the Crawfish. dig all types of Creole cuisine like Gumbo, jambalaya, and probably my favorite, etoufée. can make a mean Crawfish Etoufée when want to. also like to eat healthy food also. love salads, but a salad isn't a salad to me without tomatoes love tomatoes. always have actually. My aunt told me that my first words to her when she finally met me were, want a tomato. Being from Louisiana, what is your take on Seafood and other Cajun dishes? Like said though, am well diverse in all types of foods. am adventurous by nature. My son, that is a different story. It is ridiculous how picky of an eater he is. He likes Chicken Nuggets, corn dogs, lunchables, mac n cheese, and pizza. That is about it really, although my boy loves Chinese food with shrimp along with Boiled Crab. That's the only Cajun cuisine he will eat. Speaking of pizza, am ordering Pizza tonight for dinner. We order from a local pizza place called Johnny's Pizza. It's only in Louisiana, so you definitely have to try it when you get out. It's a must if you like pizza. love going to the movies. Cinemark recently created a Movie Club membership that joined. It gives me a free movie ticket a month that rolls over if I don't use it. The membership also gives me 20% off the concessions. take to the movies everytime he makes the Honor roll on his report card. We have seen a lot of movies, but not many recently. He is having trouble lately. His handwriting is horrible and he gets into a hurry taking tests. But that's another story. worked in video stores during College. love movies. There isn't a movie genre that I truly dislike. I'm not a huge horror movie guy. like History based Horror movies, but that's definitely not my first choice. even like chick flicks, but don't repeat that info, Haha.	page 750

Like said though, am well diverse in all types of foods. am adventurous by nature. My son, that is a different story. It ridiculous how picky of an eater he is. He likes Chicken Nuggets, corn dogs, lunchables, mac n cheese, and pizza. That is about it really, although my boy loves Chinese food with shrimp along with Boiled Crab. That's the only Cajun cuisine he will eat. Speaking of pizza, am ordering Pizza tonight for dinner. We order from a local pizza place called Johnny's Pizza. It's only on Louisiana, so you definitely have to try it when you get out. Its a must if you like pizza. love going to the movies. Cinemark recently created a Movie Club membership that joined. It give me a free movie ticket a month that rolls over if don't use it. The membership also gives me 20% off the concessions. tak: to the movies everytime he makes the Honor roll on his report card. We have seen a lot of movies, but not many recently. He is having trouble lately. His handwriting is horrible and he gets into a hurry taking tests. But that's another story. worked in video stores during College. love movies. There isn't a movie genre that I truly dislike. I'm not a huge horror movie guy. like History based Horror movies, but that's definitely not my first choice. even like chick flicks, but don't repeat that info, Haha.	page 750
04/29/2020 14:17:28	Outbound	Hi Good morning, just waking up, drinking my first cup of coffee of the day. stretches ok I'm up. :-) use jpay all day every day. have a tablet that is in possession at all times and can use whenever want. do not have Internet access, this is just a standard email service through Jpay only. they offer the ability to send pictures, emails, ecards and 30 second videos (but vids are having tech difficulties right now.) Our phone company is a different service then Jpay though. Phone service is through Securus. phone accounts are set up through Securus mobile app. Late last year the they installed Securus video visitation kiosks on each wing. will have the ability to video chat hopefully soon. I'm excited about that because my in person visits are few and far between. My parents only come up to visit about once a year. My dad works as a boat captain for a oil company. He is gone offshore for like 2-3 months at a time, so planning visits around his work schedule isn't always easy. I once thought about getting a transfer to Louisiana BUT, heard the prisons there are shit and my facility is actually really nice. it is not one of those hard camps doing hard time. Nothing like TV would have you believe. besides if did transfer to anywhere it would be a state that has conjugal visits. LOL So wasn't sure if you were curious to how communicate with people in general or how made a relationship work while I'm in here. I'll tell you both as it applies to both either way. Visits, emails, pictures, letters and A LOT of phone calls. Once they start video visits that will be another means of communication as well. My ex lives in Seattle, so he and would have "date nights" when we would spend and few hours just talking on the phone. plus we would have a few in person visits a year. When it came to intimacy oh that is were it got real creative, because as mentioned my facility doesn't have conjugal visits, so a phone and skill with words is the best its gonna get until get out. lol It was challenging but we made it work until it no longer worked for him. As for family and friends call home every few days and call my gal pals on a weekly and we email all the time. hope that answered your questions. :-) Wow! you are very accomplished for being still young, mean most people are in their 40s by the time they can accomplish that much. have a friend who is 33 as well and lives in his dad's basement, no career, no life! lol tried hooking him up with one of my girl friends and she's like oh hell no! So I'm just saying your doing well for yourself. I'm sure you will choose whatever career path that your heart leads to. I'm curious what area of history interests you? and why did you choose the medical field for your current job? Once do graduate fully from my GED, I love literature and art. History is a secondary as only have an interest in European history, particularly the tutor era. 15th 16th century art is my favorite. Greek mythology is also intriguing to me.	page 753

04/30/2020 15:27:18	Inbound	I'm laughing at that last sentence you wrote about if it's not in yo face then it don't matter haha needed that laugh. It was an Adele reference and had to search to find exactly what she said lol but it's so true. Sometimes it hurts instead and that's such a true statement. It hurts so bad but you are right too. need to stop looking at stuff. His new girlfriend pisses me off too so bad like she better sit on down cause nobody gives AF about her Also a documentary about you is coming on Oxygen on May 9th. looked it up and it's from 2019 so I plan on watching it and seeing what it's about. Btw did you know there's a support group fo on fb? It has a whopping 1000 followers. was like what in the world is this. It's crazy. AND there's a fake Facebook of you too. just shook my head. also wondered, too, about the house in Missouri. Will that not go to you? Not like you'd really want to live in it but you know. Well that's not a good reason to break up with someone because they reached out to someone for support. People don't surprise me nowadays though. If someone broke up with me cause emailed you I'd be like tff! Ok bye. It doesn't cost anything to be a nice and supportive person to someone one else and people make it revolve around them. How could you even be a threat to their relationship? So dumb. Well personally think you're a super nice person and you stay making me laugh too lol but also worry too. Cause know his people are and really hope no one trying to use you purely for the fame that comes with it. People know good and well that when you get out, the media will be there. But I know know whose using you and whose not. Always trust your instincts! Speaking of Missouri, I've been to Branson and that's it. It was fun though, enjoyed it. also go to New Orleans, Louisiana quite a bit too! think enjoy it too. We'll be neighboring states so that means we gotta be friends lol jk but Mississippi is def nothing special. We got hit pretty bad by Katrina too but nothing major like got. These emails make mv dav! I'm hannv to hear fram someone outside mv friend aroun :) you'd fit in iust fine!!	page 732

I think he is gay is because in a conversation one night, he told me that he never has felt this way about any guy, girl...and hooked onto the (guy) part. He has made multiple kiddings that he is gay. Like saying "wouldn't it be funny if you were my "beard" I'm like what does that mean? he said "oh like I'm only dating a chick to hide that I'm gay, you'd be my "beard." What straight guy knows that? Also the big'n, met his mother and she said, Oh its crazy always thought he'd be gay because he never dated girls as a boy or teen and he was always so shy. He had told me this one story about his first time to a strip club, mind you he was a virgin until 21! he asked the dancer if she could just talk with him instead of giving him a lap dance. He isn't masculine, but nor is he like metrosexual, he just looks like your every day dude. just don't know, he has pretty much over used the jokes that he is gay to the point I'm like well are you? told him also if he ever decided to be trans would love him and stay with him all the same. meant that too. when you truly love someone body parts don't matter. Well guess it doesn't matter now if it wasn't meant to be. The new guy is very sweet he is 42, and is someone who actually watched The Act last year when it was first released. He then was in a relationship with a chick and once she found out he emailed me to give me support after watching the show, she got jealous even though had a man and was not a threat to her relationship. They ended up breaking up over it and dumped me, He and started talking. its kinda crazy that both our relationships fell apart and we found common ground in our pain and needed each other to heal from our break ups. caw mavha try and waur ay fram encial madia en not tamntad ta an fh lal ifite nat fara	page 732

You asked about my routine, well as of currently while this Covid pandemic is going on, my facility made some changes to how the prison functions on a daily bases. Normally my facility is a open movement camp meaning we can go to the areas in the prison meant for recreational purposes such as the gym, library, outside yard at any time during the day and evening with the exception of count time. We could come and go freely, but currently each housing unit has a set day and time for their recreational hour a week. This is only because of the precautions they are taking to ensure everyone's safety while the pandemic is a current threat and will resume the normal movement once things are better. My normal Monday - Friday day consists of school in the morning 10:15am - 12:15pm After, am a janitor for the wing so I clean for like an hour at 1pm. Then have the rest of my day to do whatever. I'll clean the room, oh and it's a room its not a "cell." we have actual keys to our rooms and have personal TVs, and stuff to make it cozy. a lot of people imagine prison looking like county jail with the steel cell doors, well where I'm at doesn't look like that. has been my roomie for about a year. Shes a sweet girl ay only has a few have 3 roommates. My roommat months left then she goes home, il miss her. Some nights all of us in our room will pick a TV show we wanna watch, pop popcorn and make it a "family night" and watch a movie or show. 90Day fiancé is me show :-)) I'm told make sounds during a show. I'm like ahhhhh snap!!! or some other reaction to what's going on in the movie. lol have my tablet glued to me as if it was my smart phone. it dules as my music player. can purchase songs from the Jpay Kiosk on the wing. have 460 songs on my playlist. Everything from Taylor Swift to Def Leopard and Percy Sledge. I'm very eclectic when it comes to music, but don't much care for rap. You asked if I've made any friends. Yes, have made 3 very very close friends and I'm actually the godmother t 3 year old daughte can't visit me herself due to the policy stating that ex offenders can not visit current offenders, so she has her husband to visit is pregnant with another girl so I'll have another baby to love on soon. :-)) That is one thing that know for sure I want is to have children someday. love kids. Some people judge me and feel like won't be a good mother because of how my childhood was, that assumption hurts deeply because if anything know how not to parent like my mother did. I'm far from anything like her besides have taken my stepmom as more of a role model. I'll be 32 when am released so defiantly having children within the first few years of being out is something want. Anyway getting back to what was saying, Making friends here is not something you choose and its rare to make loyal friends who will keep in touch once they leave from here. so I've been blessed with my three. :-)) Alright now think covered everything. :-)) by the way if you wanna talk on the phone, that would be great with me. 04/30/2020 15:36:54	Outbound	Hey! I'm doing alright today. I'll answer my own of what asked you, so here it goes. My birthday i I'm a Leo, and very true to my sign. Especially in being loyal. The best way to sum up my over all personality is have you ever seen the TV show The New Girl? the character Jess played by Zoey Day Chanelle is pretty much ME lol I'm very quirky, socially awkward. I'm funny without trying to be, mostly people laugh at the quirky stuff I do. My favorite color is Sapphire Blue. My music interests are country, pop, alternative, some rock. Movie wise, I'm a total geek. love Star Wars, and any fantasy/ action film franchise like Harry Potter, Lord of the Rings, Hunger Games. The Marvel films. Like you I'm not big horror buff just tried to watch the Saw movies on SyFy and I literally got queezy. couldn't do it. I'm naturally squeamish with blood and guts anyway. do watch pro football, I'm a proud member of the who dat nation! what what! your a trader if your team is anything but Saints. lol :-P As for food, do love Gumbo. haven't had crab or crawfish to know if that is something I like. do like shrimp though. haven't been able to try a lot of food, so am curious to know what will like when am free to try all kinds of things. Thats where we are completely different HATE raw tomatoes. like red sauce but when it comes to fresh cut tomatoes...nope. Oh and think every kid his age seem to like only those things you listed lol Yes, have a visiting list. If someone wants to visit me that is not yet on my list has to fill out a visiting application that usually will send them first. then that person fills it out and sends it to the prison for approval. Which unless that person has current warrants or has been recently incarcerated, it normally gets approved without issue. Or the form can be sent in online now at www.modoc.gov some of the information about my facility is listed on that website. The caseworker approving or denying applications knows to ask me if i know this person before he approves it because he knows the situation. No, thankfully don't have random people just show up to visit me. lol Visits are contact visitation with limited physical contact. Every visitor is allowed a brief hug and kiss at the beginning and end of the visit. the ONLY other physical contact is hand holding throughout the visit. Fri, Sat, Sun. Only one session per day Session one 9:30am-1:30pm Session two 2:30pm-6:30pm Fridays are for family and friends. but Saturdays and Sundays are just for family unless approved through a special visit. Special visits are requested for certain circumstances, such as my visitor is traveling from out of state, so double sessions are available at request for extra time.	page 751

I didn't mean it as am afraid to tell people am talking to you. just didn't want to tell that person. She has a tendency to run her mouth and tell everyone some bs. am thrilled to be communicating with you. sure didn't want you to think anything else. apologize if made you feel that I am a very private person also. actually haven't been on Facebook in years, because don't want people to know way. my business. I'm not doing anything wrong or illegal, but am the type of person who feels that if you really want to know what is going on with me, get in touch with me. I'm not a person who wants to document my life online. hope you understand. Also, am very self conscious on some aspects. use to be a very big person. Not huge, but bigger. have been dealing with it my entire life it seems. have recently lost almost 100 pounds. I'm still considered a big guy though. I'm still losing weight also. so hopefully won't consider myself to be big anymore in the near future. I'm also 6'1 with broad shoulders too. come from a big family on my Dad's side. thought you have a right to know. You have been opening up to me, so want to do the same. didn't know if you would lose interest once you saw my picture. sure hope that you haven't, but understand if you have. know I should be confident, and shouldn't be saying things like that, but want to be honest with you.	page 751

I'm not how the justice system works in the UK but in the USA if a person who is guilty of a crime can plea guilty to take an offer of a certain amount of years, to avoid getting a worse sentence if taken to trial. My father has created a petition on change.org/freegypsyblanchard in the hopes the governor of my state could release me earlier. other then that, 3 more years is ok. But am deeply touched by the offer to help if did have any legal costs. hope you stay safe and healthy during this time. Big Hugs -GypsyRose	page 763

05/01/2020 11:03:39	Outbound	Hey Gypsy, hope that you had a great day and are having one as well when this email reaches you. set up an account on Securus tonight. My phone number i My usual schedule is as follows: Monday-Friday 730-400 at work, but it has changed during this Covid Pandemic. now work somedays 630-3 and others 830-5. Its changes week to week for now. During this pandemic, have more free time as of late. After work usually go home and hangout. have my fatherly duties as well. have to make do his homework, feed him, make him take a bath, and get him ready for bed. That is the normal routine anyway. tries his Jedi Mind Tricks on me the most when it is time for homework and a bath. Typically boy antics. Anyways, am usually free to do my own thing at night. have to find time for myself everyday, even if it is just relaxing and watching TV. On the weekends, it depends on what is going on. make plans with friends, go out and about, etc. dont go clubbing or to bars. That is not my scene anymore. had to grow up about 10 years ago. dont even drink. dont have an issue with people who do, just prefer to stay level headed. have been relegated to be the designated driver from time-to-time when do go out with friends. No worries though. Anyways, did mention to one of my closest friends that have begun communicating with you. He didn't believe me at first. He was worried that wasn't really talking to you, but to someone else. He called it "Catfishing." had never heard of that term at all. assured him that really was talking to you. He actually made me tell him the address that sent my first letter to you. He wanted to do his own research. It was crazy. He finally believes it. He wanted details, but didn't want to give him specifics. All told him was that you really are an interesting person that enjoy talking to. The rest doesn't concern anyone. like that you are a normal chick. Now that's your words, but you are way more than that actually. You have an amazing smile that can light up a room. that's not normal, that's amazing, haha. hope to hear from you soon. I'm to bed. because it's a little late. relax... didnt think anything negative about what you said. in fact am grateful your not flashy flashy everyone look at me.. I'm talking to the famous Gypsy Blanchard" there is nothing that will run me off faster. just a normal chick. yeah have a past so does everyone just not everyone has their past on national TV to be gawked at. Thank you for keeping it private. Now if you had some buddies you wanna tell that's fine. wouldn't take offence. also please dont ever feel self conscious about your build. your a cute guy. as long as your doing things to keep you healthy theres nothing wrong having a stocky build. assumed you have that football player type going on lol I'm 5,0 and have an hour glass figure but have scars from the surgeries I've had. AND my ass grew so fast when hit 13 that have stretch marks on my thighs and ass. My boobs are perfect though. boobs and ass, got the combo pack. lol See what did just there? owned my flaws without taking away from what I do have. So what if you are naturally bigger figure out what you do like about your body and be proud of it. You have pretty eyes,...wait can tell guy he has pretty eyes??? is that weird? you have nice eyes.. anyway Just be you, anyone who judges you for it, they aren't worth you time. hugs -Gypsy	page 753

05/01/2020 16:39:56	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, hope all is well. absolutely love how open and honest you have been with me. it shows trust. really hope you continue to trust me. Always in fact, haha. We really have alot in common. Every movie series that you listed are some of my favorites. Star Wars and Harry Potter are amazing. actually bought my son all of the Star Wars movie posters recently. About a year ago or so, me and him started to watch movie series. We just finished all 5 of the Pirates of the Caribbean movies. Anyways, had been wanting him to watch all of the Star Wars movies forever, but he was too young to get all of the unique subplots, stories, etc. He is old enough now, so we watched all of them about 3 months has now become a huge fan of Star Wars. He thinks he is a ago, starting with episode 1 and so on and so forth. Jedi with all of his mind tricks he tries on me, haha. really want to go see the new Star Wars theme park at Disney World. One day for sure. Interested? have been to Universal Studios in Orlando and loved the Harry Potter worlds there. It was unreal. The giant dragon on the Bank breathes out fire, the rides, the Hogwarts Express train is there. It was a great trip. really do like to travel. My goal is to see all fifty states before die. would love to get an RV or something and just drive around the country at some point. have never been to Europe either. would love to see all of the Historic Landmarks, etc. think it would be cool to experience different cultures and things. I think it is awesome that you get to buy songs to listen to on your tablet. amazed that you like Def Leppard. "Photograph" is by far my favorite song by them. enjoy going to concerts also. haven't been to one in a long time it seems. even took a friend that graduated College with to Houston to see Lady Gaga once. Don't laugh at me, but it was really entertaining. My friend goes bananas for her. It was her going away present when she moved to Georgia a couple of years ago. Their is a couple of Casinos here in Lake Charles, and there is always concerts there, saw the Goo Goo Dolls, and believe that is the last concert have seen. You mentioned Country music. Okay, you don't like tomatoes, and don't care for Country Music, haha. can't say that dislike all Country Music though. did like Taylor Swift's first couple of songs. Garth Brooks is good also. How many songs can you have on your tablet? Is there a limit? What do they cost? If interested, can suggest a couple of my favorites. relate to your box dye incident with your hair. did mine myself recently. made a bet with my friends that if the Saints didn't make it to the Super Bowl this year, would dye my hair. Big mistake like you said. My hair came out the same color as yours did. had to go get it professional done to fix it somewhat. This color have now is the second time have had it done. sent you a picture of my natural hair color though. It is funny, must have been reading your mind, because sent it before receiving your last emails. Now, one of your emails got me steaming mad. Not at you of course. know that probably cant cuss on these emails, so I will try to keep it PG. Screw those SOB's that have said you wouldn't be a good mother. What the hell do they know. Nothing. was so mad when I read that shit. could say a hell of a lot more about those sorry people. think you would you be great at it. have no doubt in my mind. can't stand when ignorant people tell someone that they can't or shouldn't do something, especially that. think it is amazing that you want to have children. would like to have one of my own someday. do raise my nephew as my own son, and treat him like he is my own, but still want to have kids that are truly mine.	page 754

05/02/2020 00:33:29	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, Thank you for your note. sorry about your engagement falling through. had an engagement that fell through (two weeks before we were to be married) many years ago — was probably about your age, maybe a little younger than you are. About five years later, married another woman. Seven or eight years later, that ended in divorce. Not a good track record, right? Well, my sweetheart, and have been together for over 20 years now. So, sometimes you need to go through some hard times to find the right one. like it that you are focusing on giving back. think that is where real meaning in life comes from. The specific thing you are focusing on is really important: Children need to understand that abuse, in any form, is not acceptable — and it is not their fault! — and that there are people out there who can help them. wish could have helped you years ago. You are a sweet girl. see goodness in you. But you can help others. That is where like to focus my efforts now. I've told you this before but am grateful that your father and mother-in-law are awaiting you when you get out. have seen them on TV and they seem like good and loving people. You are lucky to have them! They will help you find your footing. also sense a change in your thinking from some of your other letters to me. see you understanding that murder is never a solution to any problem. Honestly, happy to hear that from you. What has happened in your past cannot be changed. It is what it is. What matters now is: What are you going to do today...and tomorrow? You only have influence of your future — you cannot change your past. To me, think you have true goodness in you. And so think you have a good future ahead of you. You will have challenges ahead of you. There will be times when you question yourself, I'm sure. Just be prepared for that. And know that that is okay and it is normal!! I'm 58 years old and am a pretty smart guy but still have much to learn about life! learn something new all the time. learn continue to learn about how to live life better. So, please keep that in mind when you have your struggles — and you will have your struggles!! That is okay!! If you wouldn't mind, would you please give my email address to your dad? My email address is would like to connect with him sometime before you get out. If he's okay with it, ask him to send me an email and I'll send him a note back. Despite your current (and temporary!!) circumstances, what gives you your biggest sense of meaning right now? Also, do you like to read — and, if so, what do you like to read? I'm going to send this message off to you know. look forward to hearing from you when it fits in with your schedule. Your friend,	page 218

05/02/2020 02:09:37	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, hope that you had a great day and are having one as well when this email reaches you. set up an account on Securus tonight. My phone number is My usual schedule is as follows: Monday-Friday 730-400 at work, but it has changed during this Covid Pandemic. now work some days 630-3 and others 830-5. Its changes week to week for now. During this pandemic, have more free time as of late. After work usually go home and hangout. have my fatherly duties as well. have to make do his homework, feed him, make him take a bath, and get him ready for bed. That is the normal routine anyway. tries his Jedi Mind Tricks on me the most when it is time for homework and a bath. Typically boy antics. Anyways, am usually free to do my own thing at night. have to find time for myself everyday, even if it is just relaxing and watching TV. On the weekends, it depends on what is going on. make plans with friends, go out and about, etc. don't go clubbing or to bars. That is not my scene anymore. had to grow up about 10 years ago. don't even drink. don't have an issue with people who do, just prefer to stay level headed. have been relegated to be the designated driver from time-to-time when do go out with friends. No worries though. Anyways, did mention to one of my closest friends that have begun communicating with you. He didn't believe me at first. He was worried that wasn't really talking to you, but to someone else. He called it "Catfishing." had never heard of that term at all. assured him that really was talking to you. He actually made me tell him the address that sent my first letter to you. He wanted to do his own research. It was crazy. He finally believes it. He wanted details, but didn't want to give him specifics. All told him was that you really are an interesting person that enjoy talking to. The rest doesn't concern anyone. like that you are a normal chick. Now that's your words, but you are way more than that actually. You have an amazing smile that can light up a room. that's not normal, that's amazing, haha. hope to hear from you soon. I'm to bed. because it's getting late. relax... didn't think anything negative about what you said. in fact am grateful you're not flashy flashy everyone look at me.. I'm talking to the famous Gypsy Blanchard" there is nothing that will run me off faster. just a normal chick. yeah have a past so does everyone just not everyone has their past on national TV to be gawked at. Thank you for keeping it private. Now if you had some buddies you wanna tell that's fine. wouldn't take offense. also please don't ever feel self-conscious about your build. your a cute guy. as long as your doing things to keep you healthy there's nothing wrong having a stocky build. assumed you have that football player type going on lol I'm 5,0 and have an hour glass figure but have scars from the surgeries I've had. AND my ass grew so fast when hit 13 that have stretch marks on my thighs and ass. My boobs are perfect though. boobs and ass, got the combo pack. lol See what did just there? owned my flaws without taking away from what I do have. So what if you are naturally bigger figure out what you do like about your body and be proud of it. You have pretty eyes,...wait can tell guy he has pretty eyes??? is that weird? you have nice eyes.. anyway Just be you, anyone who judges you for it, they aren't worth your time. hugs -Gypsy	page 753

I did send that guy who sent me $80 a thank you email and that is it. do answer support mail here and there but let me make it clear I'm NOT trying to make a love connection right now, unless it was with you but that's only cause you're you lol and making friends I'm always gonna be guarded. is one person who is willing to stay by my side during my time and be faithful. He hasn't hooked up with any other women in like 7 months to prove something to me. never asked him to put aside all other women because of our friendship, he just felt it respectful and that holds a lot of merit in my eyes. it shows me he is mature enough to handle the type of relationship can offer right now and is fully aware of its challenges and sacrifices. according to him it does not deter him from wanting a relationship with me. I'm very torn when it comes to what I should do. Part of me wants wait for you because want to have what we missed out on. can offer more when im out there then could being in here. When said was over you, meant that I'm not in pain anymore. however still care very deeply for you and would be lying if said that I didn't still want you, and still miss you every day that don't hear your voice which is more often than not. Then the other part of me feels like by everything you have said and shown me since we have been separated with the exception of that one conversation that we both had a weak moment that we cried our eyes out. can see that the love you once had for me is just faded so much its not hard for you to let go. feel that have over stayed my welcome and should move on from you as a whole, even though that is not at all my desire to do so. These are just my thoughts and feelings. When it comes to you I'll always have a weak spot in my heart for you. No matter what. wish could have been more for you.	page 722

You said in your last letter that your fiance left you and hope you are getting through that pain. Is your dad able to visit much? Do you get many visitors? Do you like to read? could send you some books or a surprise box. 05/05/2020 13:25:22	Outbound	You are needed! but moreover you're loved. I just see you'll never love me like you did once upon a time. gave you more than enough chances to come back, more than enough tears to show what is in my heart but you made your mind up long ago and failed at changing it. Don't you dare act as if you're the one holding on because you and both know, gave it my all. hell tried to change myself to make you want me again. Nothing did or said ever got through to you that needed you in my life like before. You think it is easy for me to cope with you doing your thing there and me here? Not knowing how you're doing. Knowing someone else slept with you after our relationship, and even though we aren't together so you did nothing wrong in doing so. it still hurts my soul, that some hoe slept with you but I, your now ex fiancé never got the chance to, didn't have the ability to. Look at the facts, ever since we split all I've done is spiral out of control and you have seemed happier now then I've ever seen you when was in your life. My feelings are one sided and it showed every time tried to talk to you about us working things out, all would get is rejection. Every time think could come to you for comfort, get a unanswered phone call. When it all boils down, you are not in love with me anymore so don't matter as much. don't know what's going through your mind or in your heart right now, at this point this has nothing to do and his intentions, or anyone but you and I. Had you fought for us, would have listened and avoided talking to anyone else. as said, I'm not looking for a love connection unless it was with you and I stand by that even now. You are absolutely right, should wait for a relationship until I'm free, and will, but was hoping you'd be what was waiting for. You left me, I never left you. even after you left the relationship, never left you. Remember that when you wanna say "I need to let go." You wasn't the the one holding on, and you are not one who build their life around the other. If you no longer want to talk to me, then that is just the final killing blow you had not yet dealt me until now. don't want the last things say to you to be out of pain and anger. so with that said, I'll just wipe my tears, swallow my pride and tell you that I love you more then you'll ever know. am sorry things didn't work out for us, truly thought we were the exception and could make it. I still feel you're my soulie but so were Rose and Jack, and Romeo and Juliet, look what happened to them!.. my love story is just another tragic tale to add to the greats. will live on in my heart forever. you will never know how hard it was losing you until you lose someone you truly love.	page 722
05/05/2020 18:09:41	Inbound	I'm very good thanks for asking! I've always wanted to message you and just talk to you. You seem so down to earth and seem like be a really nice and fun person. I'm sure you have a lot of people you write back and forth too though. hope you're doing well with all the covid stuff going on. :)	page 727
05/05/2020 18:38:53	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, was thinking about our conversation from earlier. hate that you got upset today by your ex. know that it is very tough and difficult to hear from him. don't think it is fair for him to keep you from moving on though. totally disagree with that. Like I said in a previous email, "it's completely his loss." Also, remember that when one door closes, two more open up, and those doors are possibly going to be way better. Anyways, sure hope my emails continue to make you smile, because your smile can light up a room. And if the prison ever loses electricity, just call me. will make you smile and laugh so you could light up the entire place. know that was probably very corny, but if it made you smile just a little, then my goal was accomplished. Just keep smiling	page 754
05/06/2020 11:11:30	Inbound	Hey my girl, updated my cell and now it's working ok. For some reason it wasn't just your calls was I think I figured out the glitch. missing. Things are going good. will send you pictures of the hutch redone and now I'm doing the table. The last two days I've been down with a migraine because Aunt Flow arrived @ Dad crew change got pushed back to the 30th now. Hopefully it doesn't get pushed back any more. I've also been dealing with my cousin Desi who is hooked on meth. So much to tell you on that situation. even talked to her and it just broke both our hearts. We just have to pray for her and that she gets better. But we can't help someone who doesn't want to be helped. I will after send you this email. Hope you're doing good. Paw is doing ok. Not showing any symptoms of the COVID. Hopefully he is just a carrier and will be fine. and miss you.	page 308

05/06/2020 01:56:10	Inbound	yay! what a nice surprise hearing from you! guess sending that pic really helped lol i am glad u like it. it is one of my favorite spots here. as you can see it isnt a crowded beach at all. there are still a few places we can go for privacy. thankfully most tourists stay in Waikiki or the north shore. your in a prime spot to be shown places most tourists wouldn't see if you ever come here. would be happy to show you around and give you a unique experience. myself was fortunate to move here 13 years ago my ole mans dad married a local woman so wasnt branded military transplant which is a very good thing hehe so when you ever make your way here we should definitely hook up! I'm running low on stamps and this virus has us out of work but I will definitely send you more as soon as can. after send this message will have 2 left. o hope they go to good use building a new friendship. as mentioned in previous messages do have anxiety so it does sometimes interfere with relationships and am generally a one to two person friend. just recently lost my good friend here of 10 years to the streets. our friendship was rocky for the past 2 years and didnt know why until recently when she came to my door a frightful mess. she treated me as a flop house to get a shower food and sleep and when she was done left without saying thank you, good bye fyou nothing. made me think she was just going to the store. that's when reality hit that she is on drugs and nowhere ready to face her demons. as we all know tough love usually comes with a backlash of vengeance and denial. when gave her tough love and made her face the truth of who she has become, she of course has cut me completely off. already know until shes ready to face the facts, pure friendship is non existent as the person knew doesnt exist right now. it's sad and am deeply hurt to see her this way and hope she one day wakes up and fixes her life. so right now I'm a bit of a loner which makes the quarantine and social distancing even more brutal. love my ole man but us ladies we need an outlet and that right now is something dont have close by. am getting some much needed projects out if the way. one of them is seriously kicking my ass though. am resealing a fish tank. if do it right and there are no leaks am going to make it a saltwater tank. havent had one in years. finally have a tank it just needs some TLC so hopefully it will hold fish soon but worse case a lizard hahahaha what kind of life can inhabit is still up on the air as Hawaii has many restrictions. for instance its against the law to own snakes here. lol I'm glad you are focusing on you for now. getting to know yourself is so important. it will better help set boundaries and expectations of those around you :) I'm happy you have many friends but do be careful who you trust. Many people have selfish intent in their heart and are opportunists. the bigger your circle the bigger the drama that can unfold. live a pretty quiet life but I didnt always. the difference in my life now is more positive. people can be very draining. As i now know, am empathic, realized people can steal your energy and sometimes your peace. you definitely have to pay attention to how you feel physically when people are around you. this virus has me going nuts. feel so bad for a friend of mine who has covid and now she has pneumonia but as if now shes not being hospitalized so that a good thing but it is scary. even tho advocate for choice it is still such an uncertain situation once you get it. i honestly think i may have had a run in with it back in December. mild case but dont get sick often and was on my ass for a month it was horrible and draining. a lot of ppl seem to think they had a run in with this virus before we even knew of its existence. some of the people being released from prison is concerning and then watching ppl get arrested for protesting and opening their business is just mind boggling. welp made it passed 4000 characters hehe trying to get the most out of these stamps haha	page 640
05/06/2020 16:22:04	Outbound	Omg assbutt ok I'll stay single! but not because you said should, will because don't have any good looking candidates. will you please talk to me now?	page 722
05/06/2020 15:27:21	Outbound	lol yeah that did make me smile. :) seriously do appreciate that. Today is better emails are going through at a snails pace though. :-P So today got up at around 5am, went to breakfast, decided to stay up and take an early shower, and give myself a spa day. oh let me just fill you in what that is. so have a personal trash can and fill it with hot water, grab my face mask cream to apply on my face then soak my feet in my hot water trash can all while listening to Taylor Swifts Blank Space. lol oh also apply honey to my hair which has great benefits for hair growth and shine. Yeah.. its kinda lame but its my own me time ya know. :) avn	page 753

05/07/2020 20:01:12	Inbound	Gypsy, I just wanted to reach out to you because amy is 16 and has autism. Your story has mesmerized mom her! I just wanted to give you a little bit of background, so you aren't wondering what creep is emailing you! I'm sure you get plenty of those! Sophia thinks you are amazing and beautiful (and so do I). She is very naive and thinks you are a princess too! just wanted to reach out to you - it's okay if you don't feel like emailing her back, but I've let her because honestly she talks about you alot. She asks if you are ok, if you'll be ok - truly believe she is worried about you. She calls "bully" - think that's the best way she knows how to say it... Anyway, you mean alot to our family and we talk about you alot. don't mean that in a weird or creepy way - your story has been so impactful on us, and to much of the special needs community hope you are well. know, would love to meet you someday. Thank you for responding to her first email - she was SO excited to see it! Now that we are all staying at home due to this COVID stuff..she really looks forward to outside connections. hope you are well.	page 711

05/07/2020 20:10:09	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, how are things going today? I'm glad that you had a better day. hope you are having a great day by the time you receive this email. just received your last two emails. You are right, they do move slow on occasion, but no worries. It is what it is. hoping that comy saying did make you smile. did mean it though, Anyways, sent you a picture of me in my Saints mask at work today. "Who Dat Say They Gonna Beat Dem Saints" would have been the caption of that picture. bet you are probably going to be like what the hell, but couldn't help it. You asked if had to wear a mask at work, so I decided to just show you..... So you decided to have a Spa Day after Breakfast the other day. loved that you explained it to me. It was very graphic, and could picture you sitting with you hair sticky from honey, with face wash on, feet in a trash can, jamming to music. Its good image. can picture you doing this when you get out also, which is awesome. But it will be In nicer surroundings of course. do like you are able to find time to relax and pamper yourself. Everyone deserves a Spa Day. All that was missing was a massage and have big hands, haha..... To answer your question, yeah, it is kind of both. Going to bars/clubs wasn't really my thing, but did get to experience it. It isn't all that it is cracked up to be. did decide to grow up when had to start though. But was ready anyway. hate that you haven't been able to experience some things, but am also very intrigued and excited for you. When you get out, want you to be able to do whatever your heart desires. It will be great. Seriously Gypsy. would love to see your reactions to some of those things, the big things and the little things. bet that smile would really be glowing then.... When we talked the other day, you were upset about something your ex had said to you. Do you want to talk more about it? If not, am just curious what triggered his sudden interest in telling you what you should do and shouldn't do all of a sudden. Did he find out about me? Is he jealous, because if he isn't, he should be. a one of a kind type of find. Nobody can treat you like me..... Speaking of that, have you told anyone about me? Or is there nothing to say, ouch. If no, no worries. You will, haha. just joking Anyways, your joke in your last email was so damn funny. That is another thing we have in common, have never tasted sperm either, haha... Seriously though, almost spit out my drink when read that. laughed so loud that coworkers thought that had lost my mind. like that you say what is on your mind. hope you keep it up, because will always be interested to know what you are thinking... Plus, still would like a picture. know that you are not wanting to send me one though. don't want you to do anything you don't want to do either. I am wondering if will get to hear your beautiful voice anytime soon. know that you don't get a lot of time to roam around and make phone calls at the moment. Damn Covid, haha. get that you have to make phone calls to everyone	page 752
05/07/2020 01:58:40	Outbound	Its late and I'm up obviously. lol So you don't do the bar scene huh? have you been there done that? or just never did it? I've never gone to a bar or partying, but I don't think it would be my thing either. would probably go to a restaurant and have a glass of wine though. It sounds like you had to grow up pretty fast to become a father. That was sweet of you to say that, that would be a good mother. When my goddaughter came to visit she just turned 1, well she fell and hit her mouth on the play chair she was trying to climb on, as soon as she started crying scooped her up and starting rocking her on my hip. interesting part was had never held a child before, it was like instinct to calm her. 4 years ago had a plan that was gonna find any cute guy to knock me up so could have kids, but now having matured, know that isn't the best way to go about it lol All things have their own timing. :-) I'm gonna give myself transitional timing. need to first get myself stable as well as a man. yep gonna need that sperm, yummm..lol jk I've actually never tasted...ahhhh...ok well that got awkward real fast. I'm gonna delete that whole line..hell I'll leave it who knows you might laugh. by the way I have no filter I'm very raw and real. moving on. People expect me to be more messed up then what am so they assume the worst of me. This time that have between who was raised to be and who I will be walking out of these gates, is a good thing, because this time is making me grow up. The facts are, do miss my family and want to go home? absolutely, but know what need is time to figure out who am before leaving here. it is so vital to me becoming stable in a emotional, and psychological way and can prepare me for the outside. I consider this time as a journey, there are high moments, low moments and some in between but all I'm taking with me when leave is the best moments of this time in my life. Ok so its almost 1am so I'm gonna close this out for tonight. have a goodnight, -Gypsy	page 753

I've been following you and your case for quite some time, just found out how to correspond with you. lived in Mississippi for 23 years and used to go down to New Orleans quite often. Had friends that live in Slidell so in your case came up we followed very closely. love seeing the pictures of you recently that you posted about your engagement you look absolutely gorgeous. What a change from that little girl that was forced to live a life of confinement. As a mother grandmother and great grandmother could not imagine my children or my grandchildren ever happen to live the life that your mother made you live. The benefits you receive from being in a wheelchair could never outweigh the benefits of freedom. saw the petition your father put on the Internet today and that's why I'm pursue trying to find your contact information. watch the videos of your Dr. Phil interview hope you have been receiving some help that he said he would give you. When heard you say something about you feel free in jail than you did living with your mother, can't even imagine what your life is like. Your father and stepmother seem to be really good honest people i'm sure they'll be a big influence on you now. look forward to following you and your progress. Stay positive and keep that beautiful smile.	page 775

Anyways, hope you are having a great weekend. As was laying in bed, couldn't help but think about how we started talking with each other. still can't believe it really. am still in awe that my letter was even received by you. just thought my letter would end up in an endless supply of letters that you must receive on the regular, but you liked my letter. Then the Jpay request. Now, phone calls. All can say is Wow. Have said that expression before to you? Haha lam curious your thoughts on my previous email. am really confident in it, aren't do stand by it though. Being in quarantine still, it is really weird to not leave the house. Although, did go to Kroger and then to Olive Garden to pick up food. wanted their Spaghetti and Meatballs, so went ahead and got that for dinner. such a rule breaker leaving the house during a pandemic, haha.... had You mentioned Xena: Warrior Princess during our last conversation. was thinking about watching it every time it comes on, so we could talk about it. Haha, you would wanna be La Brava, it's too fitting... its a few seasons deep already; if you watched it from the beginning the story would be 100% better... the story arc that just ended not too long before La Brava and Gental Criminal was really good and one climax episode was awesome as-fuck because of the fight scene when Deku rescued the little girl Eri; watched that scene 100x... hope you like it... it's not a bad anime... 05/12/2020 04:57:58	Outbound	Deares' I tried calling back, sorry it took a little bit longer, went to get something upstairs and tried to hop back in line and there was like 7 people ahead of me. :-\ I'm sorry that make you feel guilty, that is not my intention. My point is to remind you that love you and that never rejected you, it was the other way around. I do still have mixed emotions and am trying to work through it. My heart holds you to the things and promises you told me back then, but my mind is confused about how you feel currently due to the conflicting way you handle me. You tell me you'll always love me and grow jealous when other guys come sniffing around my female mating pheromones but once show my attention back to you, you throw me off by crawling back into your man cave instead of answering my mating call, and us making cute big cubs...ok got carried away with the animal references there...lol ya get my point moving on. Yes, We did grow apart and when try and get close to you again it is only me who wants it. In order for us to reconnect, it must be a mutual desire. Correct me if I'm wrong but didn't you say the reason for you leaving the relationship was because you were under the assumption that in order for me to live a "happy fulfilled adventurous life" had to be single? so you left with the intention not to hurt me, but out of some "greater good purpose", However what is it always told you wanted? I need a partner and protector, One who knows my past and accepts my baggage, One who loves my present even if I'm not fully healed from my past, and one who is devoted to our future because one day will be free to live a wonderful life outside of these walls. All you accomplished by ending our relationship was you threw away a good thing, and damaged the trust we spent two years building in each other...Oh and it gave the other males a reason to try for my affection in your absence. In other words what you thought what was a good intention act of true love was actually the most devastating act from a true love. it was done in vain and was unnecessary. That point in case is where my frustration about the whole thing lies. It is the fact it was done for no good legitimate reason for the supposed benefit of me. If that concludes our relationship in its entirety past, present, future then it was an unfortunate end to a beautiful what could have been. So tell me my love, all bullshit aside, your heart to mine.. broke through once and I can do it again. What do you want If your heart isn't with me anymore then flat out say it. because I'm done being the fool. If you can't tell me a clear answer now, then get your ass over here as soon as you can and we can have this conversation face to face. want to look into your eyes. always could see the love within your eyes. If don't see that then I'll let you go for good. I need validation, and if you wish won't breathe another word about the subject before the visit. oh and if you need a kiss to decide I'll be happy to offer my lip service.	page 722
05/12/2020 14:22:01	Outbound	by the way, am sorry for my persistence on the matter. do understand you need your space. The truth is, What you said is very true, anything could happen in the next 3 years. So it is completely logical to suggest that someone could catch your eye and you will move on with someone else. You're a really wonderful guy and she would be lucky to have you. It is my own selfish fear that what she would offer you in terms of a physical relationship would over-shadow the emotional connection we established, Making a reconnection no longer a possibility. Just as you said, eventually will meet someone, and so will you. but who will we choose to spend our lives with, the new someone or give us another shot at forever. This is not yet a reality, am single with no prospects of a life partner in sight and if your being truthful the same can be said for you. My mind keeps replaying the conversation in which you placed your hand on my heart and told me you love the real me for who am today and told me that was enough to make you happy, the rest was just white noise. That is what mean when I said my heart holds you to what you said back then.	page 722

05/12/2020 19:46:35	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, that 10 minute call went by so fast yesterday. like the 15 minute ones, haha. So you get two free 10 minute calls a week? Well, that's nice of them, haha probably have asked this question already, but how often do you get to use the phone? Is using the phone tied into your hour of leisure time you get? know Covid has thrown your daily routines in a mess. When covid ends, hopefully soon, what does your phone time look like? I'm just curious. You did mention that you have to put your name on a list also. It sounds confusing, but I'm sure you are used to it though. Honestly, guess am asking, because just don't really know if I can wait until Friday to hear your beautiful voice. was at work today, and my coworker is a person that has to constantly talk about something all day long. She is friendly, but she keeps wanting to talk about the same things over and over, and after a while, am no longer interested in. For example, She is pregnant, which am happy for her, truly, but she asked my opinion fifty times on whether or not she should have an Epidural during childbirth. gave my opinion, which was well thought out and intelligent, but it just wasn't good enough for her. So long story short, now know the pros and cons of Epidurals during childbirth, because heard about it for 6 straight hours, haha. Anyways, as was sitting there today, kept thinking that much rather be talking to you, listening to your sweet voice. So don't be afraid to call me to where I pay for it. created a Securus account for that very reason. don't mind, ever. Seriously, anytime... know that we haven't been talking for a long time, but am really enjoying getting to know you. have been thinking about you a lot lately. hope the feeling is mutual. am wondering if you would be willing to add my name to your visitor list. remember you saying that you could only add names twice a year though. When that time comes, hope you won't forget to put my name, because am definitely down... Well, better get back to being a Daddy. need to go I'm wondering what type of nonsense he's going to want to eat tonight. Pizza, comdogs, nuggets, mac N cheese, etc. Same ole same ole, haha. hope to hear from you soon P.S. My bad for not telling what was jamming to during my "cocky email," but believe me if am jamming while writing you, it's something sweet with some substance...	page 751

05/14/2020 01:51:22	Outbound	He So I'm sorry this took a few days to get written, wasn't feeling very good the last few days so slept a lot. am feeling better now though. So to answer your emails. There is nothing specific that I wanna talk about when it comes to my ex. This is someone I've known for 3 years, someone who introduced to my parents, he even asked for my father's blessing to marry me, received my dad's blessing, buys me a Tiffany ring and like 5 months later dumps me! It just is crazy how he flipped 180 from being such a sweetie to a total asshole. don't understand it at all. No, don't tell him about anyone talk to now a days because he gets jealous of any guy with a dick, even if dudes like 65 years old lol A few months ago a guy randomly sent me $80, and I guess the guy posted about it online. Well was like who sent you $80? I'm like someone don't know. and he was like, well you wrote him back...I'm like yeah, to thank him, and how do you know someone sent me money? he said know things I'm like kinda creepy. I don't tell him much in that area because he takes it too far and over thinks things. Anyway, enough about that. I didn't think your email to be "cocky" there is nothing wrong with being confident in yourself that's a good thing. :) it's sweet, your cute and ya make me smile. So you asked if I could put you on my visiting list? Yes, can at any time, can only remove people twice a year. are you thinking about visiting in the future? who would wait! Its like an 17 hour drive from Louisiana but I'll send you a visiting form and just fill it out and send it back to the prison (not to me) and they can add you on. we can talk about when later. Right now all visiting is suspended because of Covid precautions. :-P they keep extending the suspension because Covid is still a threat. also you asked how often I can use the phone, well I can use it from 5:20am to 9:45pm every day. The changes they made due to covid has not changed our phone access at all. we don't have to add our name to a list to use the phone we do have to wait in line though. 38 women 4 phones, ya know. almost a year ago they started the 15 minutes every one hour so its limited calling now, fucking bullshit is what it is. Yes, they now give us 2 10min free calls a week due to the visits being suspended to kinda compensate and we can use the 10 10 15 back to back. which is nice. what they need to do is hurry up with the fuck'n video visits. Are you watching any good shows right now? I need to start a new show 90day Fiancé is almost over and I'm ready for something new. Oh have you ever watched Love After Lockup? was asked to be on the show when I was engaged. Its a reality show all about people who are dating..yep...you guessed it inmates!!! declined as I don't need anymore cameras in my face nor in my partners so I passed on the opportunity.	page 751
05/14/2020 02:04:39	Outbound	oh and will send you a pic once I can take em. right now they aren't doing pictures because of all the things that have been put on hold due to covid. Once I can I'll send a few new ones. :) that used to be my job, photography for the inmates. worked that job for a year then a glitch in the computer assigned a new job to me by mistake and couldn't get my old job back again. do miss that job though. was always getting pics taken back then	page 751
05/14/2020 21:07:51	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, first off you have no reason to apologize. understand completely wanting to sleep when you feel awful. get it. hate that you felt bad this week though. Does the prison offer you anything to help when you feel bad? I'm sure there is a nurse or an infirmary, but that doesn't mean anything though. am just glad that you feel better. But there is nothing to be sorry And believe me, am cool with not talking about your ex. don't need to, ever actually, haha. Anybody who can treat someone as amazing as you are like that, doesn't deserve any of my time. Sounds like a complete Shithead to me, haha, no offense though, but seriously. You definitely deserve way better Gypsy... And were you really asked to be apart of that show Love after Lockup? have seen advertisements, but never watched it. That's something to be asked. How are you approached about things like that. You also mentioned Dr. Phil also. You said you did that, which I haven't seen. I'm very skeptical especially after you said that you felt exploited. And honestly, you made the right decision to pass on Love after Lockup. Some things need to stay private. The money might be good, but it doesn't buy happiness. admire you for not accepting it. It shows me that you value Love over Money. Honestly, grow in awe over you more and more everyday. You keep showing me how wonderful you truly are.. I am glad you liked my "cocky email." That email was truthful. All of my emails are actually. just being me, the sweet, charming, and undeniably handsome man that I am. We might just need to change the name of that style of emails to just be forever known now as Emails," haha... Anyways, know that I can't right now due to Covid, but hell yeah want to come visit you in the future. Why wouldn't I? if you send me the form, will fill it out in a second. No pressure though, only if you want. An I can figure that out when that time comes. No worries there. 17 hours is a long time, but seeing you would totally be worth it. bet could fly in also, maybe to Kansas City or something. Lake Charles is only 2 hours away from Houston, and can fly anywhere from Houston. Thanks for answering my questions about the phone calls. 38 women, and only 4 phones. bet it is a drag to wait in line for a call. Plus, know you are pissed about the video conference kiosks. get your frustration also. love that you wrote the warden about it. It shows that you fight for what you believe in. That's a great quality. And just so you know, am thrilled with whatever time I get with you on the phone. Well, better send this email out now, so you get it before the weekend.	page 752

05/16/2020 17:47:28	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, hope you are having a great day. really enjoyed talking to you last night. Now, was that considered our first date night on the phone being it was Friday night, haha. if so, awesome. went to eat lunch with a friend today. My has been wanting to drive to Texas to go to Whataburger for quite some time now, and finally agreed to ride with him. His wife finally let him hangout since the Covid pandemic, so he was overly excited about it. thought it was weird driving over to Texas for fast food, but their isn't a Whataburger in town. Actually, Whataburger is strictly a Texas Burger chain although there is one in Lafayette. The Texas border was closer though. It was good fun of course, because anytime with me always is, haha. Just playing. mentioned you to him. He asked what has been going on with me, and had to talk about you. He was skeptical just like another friend was. He asked questions of course, and told him about my letter, emails, phone calls etc. didn't have to convince him that was actually talking to you though. That was nice. He didn't say anything about "Catfishing" haha. But didn't tell him to much, because that is our business. did say how much enjoy getting to know you. And your voice, Wow, love it....haha... Anyways, wanted to write you, because was thinking about you. don't know if will do anything else later on tonight. The weather is awful and nasty today. did get invited to a get together to celebrate our work schedules getting back to normal and restrictions on Covid starting to become more relaxed. A girl that works at the hospital in a different department is throwing it. She invited me on Thursday. just don't really want to go. This girl always calls me her "husband" when I see her at work. It really weirds me out, because have never approached her like that. am not interested in her and don't want to give her the impression that I am by going. Plus, would rather talk to you anyways, if you call... Also, was thinking about our conversation from last night, and you realize that you don't have to thank me when we talk on the phone for awhile. say that, because really like you, and WANT to talk to you. think we have something pretty amazing going on. might be wrong, but really don't think so. feel it, and hope you do as well. don't know what it is quite yet, in terms of name calling, but believe it definitely is something special. And am interested in pursuing it.. Well, better send this Email", haha. Hope to hear from you	page 755

05/17/2020 22:35:11	Inbound	Gypsy, please reread that email you sent me. His direct quote just told you that he was planning on seeing other people. He doesn't want you right now, but maybe if you want to when you get out, in 3 years might add, then he wants to rekindle what could have been. He put you on a shelf, plain and simple, and you are not shelf-worthy. You do whatever you want, but Gypsy, after everything you have been through, you want to wait on a guy like that. You said that you don't like who he is now, but who he was, well, in 3 years will he be that man? Are you scared that you won't find anybody else or something? don't know this guy, but that isn't Love Gypsy. You deserve way better, and while you wait, you could let way better slip through your hands. And don't mean me either. Trust me, I am wonderful and all, but don't fall in love with me. will end up breaking your heart too. Gypsy, you deserve the fairytale ending. You are that amazing of a person and hate to see your waste your time on a maybe, which already broke your heart once. He is using you being in prison as a crutch. am deeply concerned about your logic, because as your friend, care.... Anyways, enough about that, just know, want you in my world in any capacity- Friend, bellhop, loverboy, boy toy, private shopper, teacher, pen pal, boyfriend #2, sugar daddy, sex slave, or a comedian- haha, it doesn't matter. just want to make you smile, because your smile is So, when am going to hear that beautiful voice of yours again? hearing you laugh, because if you talk to me, we will definitely laugh with each other. that amazing if must remind you.... I'm still waiting for my picture also, haha, and my visitation form. just want a Big-AZ Burger, that's all, just joking, haha... Hane to hear from keen smilina for me So, just listened to the Noose by Perfect Circle, of it anymore. It reminds me of a friend that past away, but not a fan. Don't buy that song, haha. now, if you like Remember Ever Scar, you would like the band Finch. What it is to Bum is a song that have been jamming to for years. This was just on my mind. Hope to hear from you	page 754
05/17/2020 23:39:10	Outbound	Hey, Sorry our conversation ended abruptly, that 15 mins goes by fast! Well some more questions had was.... What are your favorite movies and music? what are your dreams and goals? Do you have any phobias? mine are bugs and spiders. Who are your heroes, both real and fictional? Is The Act the only thing you've watched about me? may recommend watching the HBO documentary called Mommy Dead and Dearest. it was released in 2017 and is the best accurate source of information about my life and case. well I will send this out so we can start emailing. I do have stamps so can email often. :-) have a goodnight talk soon -Gypsy	page 777
05/18/2020 20:36:59	Outbound	So I'm just laying here listening to Red by Taylor Swift, breaking hearts as I'm lett'n down all these dudes that have been all up on me lately. told em all that I'm in love with my ex, so I'm emotionally unavailable. done blocked one because he was hell a creepy. Maybe I'll just talk to other chicks from now on. -G	page 723
05/18/2020 15:39:31	Outbound	Soulie, wanted to add something to the conversation we had. I never replaced you. was only doing everything could think to cope with the separation, and using both drugs and people, "men" to deal seemed like a good option at the time, was trying to fill the void. I never forgot about you, never loved anyone else after you, and still tried to make an effort to talk to you back months and months after. never moved on. also don't want an apology, already forgave you. You went through something difficult that I still don't fully understand what that was, however have come to understand that you have times of needing your space, even from me. I am just ready to get the hell out of here so can show you just how much haven't moved on. We are gonna have the most epic make up sex. You owe me so much biscuits n gravy.... every week for like a month. Eat all that cherry filling in that pop tart...lol want to ask one thing... If possible and desirable for you, Can you visit me please? do want to see you. It would have to be later in the year due to the covid pandemic but I think the best way to go about keeping a connection between us would be if you could visit at least once a year until I'm out, and then after could visit you whether that is in Seattle or Dallas, whichever is my first destination. What do you think? Love you	page 723
05/18/2020 20:06:30	Outbound	so received your email today. enjoy talking to you as well. but don't want to mislead you about our friendship. think you are a sweetie, however am not looking to be with anyone right now. I still am in love with my ex, and in a conversation he had last night he said if get out and wanna reconnect then he wants to as well. I'm very conflicted because feel one way that want to wait for him because love him, but then another part of me feels he is side lining me for the next 3 years. I'm very confused. I just wanted to be honest with you because you are a really sweet person and don't want to end up hurting you, and at this point that's all I'd do with the lingering feelings have. hope you don't take offense because do need people in my life who genuinely care about me and who are good friends Talk soon -G	page 754

She just got out about 2 months ago and is starting her life over sober from drugs. :-) June 26th will make 5 years I've been locked up total with 4 years in prison. 3.5 more to go. Sorry it's taken me some time to get back to you. So much going on over on my end. Honestly just trying to stay afloat had a dear friend commit suicide & another friend die this past Saturday of the coronavirus. Good news for me is am still here blessed & plugging away. Although have not been active in my own group. It has grown alot. There are people that are new to your story & still want to send their love & support. How are things otherwise for you?? 05/20/2020 10:56:12	Outbound	Hey Dad, hope all is good with you. mom said you are coming home in 2 weeks or so. I am sure it will be so nice to be back home. :-) I'm doing good. think I'm just rather done with being cooped up in here. They said visits won't resume until June 18th now, feel that date will change yet again. But at least no one in here has covid, so I'm thankful about that. watched one of the reenactments of my case, th Patterson version, on ID channel. It was so cheesy! the guy who played you looked nothing like you lol the lady that played momma kinda looked like her in one scene. it was supposed to be her when she first had me and she had froofy hair like her back then. lol Sometimes kinda wonder why she never let my hair grow out long. She probably would have been surprised to see if she had, that she and had similar hair with the curls. a perfect blend of you and her. have come to accept I'll never know why she did or didn't do the things she did. however do know looked enough like you to remind her of you every day and maybe that was a heartbreak too hard to handle sometimes. In her own weird ass way she loved us both, but sometimes rejection is too much for some people. She lost you and then it had became her fear to lose me. In a lot of ways am starting to see her actions is a result of insecurity and loneliness inside and that is something that makes her memory easier to cope and forgive her for everything. Its coming up on the anniversary in a few weeks. 5 years is along time since You and were standing on either side of the glass, remember feeling very unsure of what to say to you. You were always this person that wanted to know and love, really love, not act because was forced to say certain things on the phone but mean it when I said love you. and there was standing in front of you as an adult with not a clue of where to begin. 5 years has passed and now feel like have a bond with everyone in the family, with You and dont feel that distance anymore of feeling like dont fit in because I'm only half related feel like we all have come together and there are only better days ahead. :-) I'm ready to come home. Mom and I can hold the fort down while your at work. Mom always talks about needing someone to help her around the house with the dogs anyway. I'm gonna love Aurora, Mom has sent me videos of Aurora playing on the bed, cracks me up every time. :-) Anyways just wanted to send you some of my thoughts.	page 189

05/20/2020 11:22:46	Outbound	He said he does love me, and no matter who he is seeing, when get out if wanna see him then he wants to see me as well to see what could have been. and thats a direct quote. He also stated that he doesn't want to rebuild us because if he goes into another downward spiral and starts getting high again and then hurts me yet again. he doesnt wanna build me up only at the risk of it falling apart again. so he feels its better to not build on relationship that he feels his behavior can be destructive towards. He has a past using drugs and I'm always worried he uses again. I just know if he does start seeing someone else while I'm in here, with him having stated he doesn't feel like he can sustain a relationship right now, I'm done, I'm out. Because at that point why is she entitled to a relationship but I'm not?. He wants me to be single for 3 years and would be upset if was to start seeing someone right now, but somehow am not supposed to feel that same way if and when he starts a new relationship. that's unfair. that's just a line that once crossed there is no coming back from that. The moment another chick comes in is when I'm out. dont feel like should be put aside on a shelf for when its convenient for him to want me again. and like an idiot I let him, maybe not while he is seeing someone but when its a phone call or maybe need emotional comforting from him and all he does is hit ignore all damn day. Its not right and know it. I just keep hoping he will change back into the person fell in love with, because that's what I'm clinging to. not him now, but the memory of how he used to be towards me. of course that was way back when I was a shiney new toy. things lose their shine over time though. Anyways I'm sorry if misread that email or those signals, feel embarrassed now. lol Thank you for that offer. youre a pretty cool friend as well. :-) Have a lovely dav.	page 754

05/22/2020 07:49:44	Inbound	Ohh baby don't know you how you do it in there for so long. know its easy to say dont think about it and just get through today, one day at a time but that gets old and Its impossible to not think about how long a year is in confinement. The only good thing is knowing there will be a day when you can walk out of there and breathe your first breath of freedom, lettting the sunshine on you face and see where God wants you to truly be. That hopeful anticipation must be blooming deep within you and keeping you sane while you prepare yourself for the reins of life. know you understand how important it is to stay the course and focus on the lil goals, only you know what Gypsy will be when you step on that freedom bus.. Hold her to high hopes and expect to be remarkably conscious of the things everyone else takes for granted.. Mom loved you,, like no other baby.. never find anyone else who's loved you more.. why she did those things ?? don't know.. maybe she was scared you would love me too if given half the chance.. ran from you guys like a scared lil punk bitch and she couldn't run from the responsibility like did.. Thats why always respected her and did the best i could financially to help. She started something long ago and never could get out of the crazy hole that she dug.. all in the name of love for you, to protect you.. wish she woulda just let you grow up and dat Maybe you and woulda never been close but you woulda had some freedom. Its sad, but Im glad you and could talk about it and have a real relationship now, am soo happy that you are in my thoughts every single day now and when think about the future, your alway part of it. ready for you to come home too and give mom some company because when call and she dont answer I will call you lol. 05/22/2020 17:39:31	Outbound	I always said, regret the actions took, but never will regret the blessings that have came from it. am free to grow and learn even in a "controlled" environment. 3 more years seems like a long time however with having had the worst over its all gonna be easy from here on out. The media is no longer driving me bat shit crazy so that's a plus :) lol If you lay out all I've been through in those 5 years good and bad, its a whole life time in itself! which is just enough to be able to gain the maturity needed to catch up with my age. and yeah you may have ran back then, but you didn't run 5years ago when the time to step up and be a father presented itself again. call it a second chance if you will. besides you were just a kid yourself when mom got pregnant with me so you hadn't done what any other teen wouldn't have. have my story, you have yours, mom had hers, our stories intertwined and each one of us has a past, it is growing from that past that makes a story have a happy ending. have grown, so have you and for what its worth had known better, would have called you in a heart beat back then. wanted to ask you something, so as you know not this December but the next is my parole hearing, wanted to ask if you could come and be my person who is there on my behalf? you can address the parole board and say a few things about how being home would benefit me and that have a lot of support who can help me adjust back into society. and since I'm going home with you and mom it would be most meaningful for them to see you there. The parole board will already know about my case, not entirely sure about my life with mom but maybe you could shed light on that. wanted to ask in advance so next year you could maybe plan it so you could be home around that time. Ok I'll send this off for now, Love you stay safe. -Gyps	page 189

I'm guessing you can't have visitors right now because of COVID-19. It's been a strange world the past few months. I'm still working a lot at my hospital but have to wear a mask mask at all times. I've been trying to read more lately. Do you like to read? Are you allowed to get calls? And packages? I'd love to send you a care package of fun stuff! How is your GED going? It can be difficult to do important tests but know you can do it all. hope you are getting support through all of this. Having support is very important. 05/24/2020 22:07:32	Outbound	Dad, was also wondering if you could send a message sometime soon. He hasn't heard from you in a long while and I'm sure it would mean a lot to him to know that y'all still care about him. Mom has texted him here and there but he has always respected and valued you as a person and more so as my father. He and are planning to have a visit when all this covid shit ends. Its been a year since we all had our family visit with him and a lot has changed since then. We have been separated for a few months now and its been really hard. think now we both realize it was too soon to be talking about marriage, however he was always a positive in my life and think he has forgotten that. In these months apart we both have grown up more and those feelings for each other are still there. think anything is possible when we see each other face to face again. He needs to follow his heart for real, and stop worrying about what others say about the relationship. we already know we aren't getting married while I'm in here, I've had a complete 180 head change about that, and now know for sure that don't wanna get married in here. but am open to he and reconnecting someday. p.s his # is still the same. thanks, love ya.	page 190

Sending prayers and love.	page 673
05/25/2020 14:45:46	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, hope all is well. Did you get to see any good shows this weekend? I saw something on TV that reminded me of you, so decided to write you. still would like to know more about you. I am still very much intrigued by you. You stated in your last email has made you feel like a shiny toy that lost its shine over time. Gypsy, that is so ridiculous to me. Someone as amazing as you are couldn't never lose your shine. but you are glowing now, especially if you are During one of our conversations, you said something like you lost some privileges. ask why? If you don't want to talk about it, no worries. Also, what is the food like in there? Do you ever just eat food from the commissary instead? Do you ever get to receive gifts? You mentioned your Cosmo magazines haven't been going through lately. What other types of things do you ever get? am sure people send you things on your bday or Christmas. Just curious. Anyways, better send this email out. sure don't want to ever receive an email from your stepmom asking me to leave you alone, so will keep my email short and sweet. I'm not short, but definitely am sweet, haha. wonder if am going to hear your beautiful voice anytime soon. guess that will just have to wait and see,	page 755

05/26/2020 23:35:31	Inbound	Gypsy, am bothering you with my emails? Please be honest. feel like a distance has grown between us after last week. was really enjoying our friendship also. Things changed when you talked to my brother also. What happened? know you are confused, but that shouldn't have changed our friendship. Sorry if my jokes were creepy also. just was trying to make you laugh. And you weren't wrong with my signals, so don't feel embarrassed. 05/28/2020 03:53:51	Inbound	Gypsy, I'm sure you get a lot of these, and I'm sure they all start out with this same opening. I'm hoping this gets to you and I'm hoping you read it, and more importantly, I'm hoping you respond. I'm a 32 year old male from New Mexico and my name I've followed your story since your first Dr. Phil appearance and couldn't believe what was hearing. The story was intense, heart breaking, and absolutely gut wrenching. hurt for you and felt every bit of the heartache I'm sure your family felt learning of your freedom being stripped away, when all you wanted was freedom from your mother. recently watched The Act, and although I'm sure it was highly dramatized, it still left me with that painful feeling in my gut that you didn't deserve the ending you got. do not want this e-mail to be about your past, because I'm sure a lot of people want to know the inner details of your life, and do not. only want to talk to you about the future, your life now, and how you are doing today. Would you be interested in writing me back? I'd love to hear back from you, and I'd love to keep a dialogue with you ongoing. Again, in no way want to dig into your past. am only fascinated in the type of character you have and to know more about the girl behind the B.S. shown on television. Here's to hoping get a response! Hey Gypsy! hope you are doing well. tried to message you a few months back but never heard back from you. saw a post on Facebook saying that you able to get visitors so figured would write and try again. know you must be overwhelmed with all the messages that you receive. It's crazy to me how people are drawn to your story, including myself. Please tell me how you are doing. What do you do in there everyday? an estimate of messages you get daily? Well, hope to hear from you soon. Have a great day!	page 642
05/28/2020 23:32:29	Inbound	Good morning Gypsy, hope you are having a great day. Did you get to watch Xena again yesterday morning? pictured you having another Spa Day with oatmeal on your face watching 90's era television, haha. Just playing... Anyways, have noticed something about myself lately that find very interesting. Since we started communicating on the phone, seem to know when it is around 9 o'clock every night, because make sure my phone is handy in case you call. Its like you hypnotized me or something, haha. guess someone as amazing as you are can have that affect on people, haha.. So you got moved back into an Honor Wing. am curious about the changes this will have to your routine. What are the privileges again? What makes this wing so much different? How many girls are on this wing? am glad that you and Emily stayed roommates also. Although, you should have gotten a bottom bunk. Is being on the Honor Wing that much better. I'm sure it is, but this damn Covid probably doesn't help the situation much. Did you get two other roommates? is it strange to get to know new people? Do you know any of the girls on this wing already? How big of an adjustment is it? Sorry for the questions. am just intrigued to learn more. Last night you mentioned that you have some school work/projects due soon. have no doubt that you will do great on them. As long as you don't give up any toothpaste or anything to be a slacker, just playing Gypsy. It sucks having to finish school work in a short amount of time, but know will do great. No worries. know how stressful school can be, so don't want to keep talking about it. want to ease your mind when we communicate, not create stress and worry, so enough about that. Our conversation went by so fast last night. Time flies when you are having fun though. got an update on JPay today, and video messaging is now allowed on my phone. am curious how those work. Do they take along time to go through, longer than emails? was thinking of sending you one soon just to try it out. would probably look like a fool filming a video by myself. don't ever create videos either. Could be fun though. Anyways, back to our short conversation last night. sure you will work your magic soon to obtain more phone time. Like have said in previous emails, it doesn't matter how long I get to talk to you. am honored to have any time with you. Wow is the proper expression to explain it, better send this email out, so you get it before the weekend. look forward to hearing from you soon. You know what think about your voice, haha. Just keep smiling and enjoy your day. Talk to you later p.s. can also relate to when you said that you sometimes can be distant. get it. really do. also don't want you to ever feel obligated to call me either. hope you know that. If you want to call me, then call me. If not, no worries.	page 755

When he can be the man need him to be is then allow him to be that person to me again. In the meantime maybe a talk man to man ant a bad idea. don't think ya need to go too much into the "don't do drugs talk" but a text or whatever to at least keep that connection would be nice. 06/01/2020 01:12:38	Outbound	wanted to make you aware that there is a new Enews article that didn't know anything about until a friend brought it to my attention today. It mentioned briefly that we are separated and am currently single so,..I'll have 500 love letters by morning. rolls eyes mentioned from Enews called her and she ignored it. Then she grew curious as to why they were calling so she returned the call. turns out it was an "accidental butt asked how was doing during the pandemic and (offrecord), told her that I'm fine bla bla bla, and obviously mentioned our split, and that we have no plans to rekindle our relationship or plans for another relationship while I'm in prison. Well, mentioned it wasn't on record and the two were just catching up, thought nothing of it....until they released this article. I never talked about the details of the separation to the media, have always kept everything regarding our break up private and have done so with respect to you. You're free to have your life apart from mine.. I'm no longer holding you back in any context from the life you want to live or whoever your new girl is. I just am feeling very embarrassed because in the past defended our relationship fiercely and now that it is public that failed another relationship, it's just not something that I'm happy about being brought up even briefly. I just wanted you to know that I personally still have kept that respect for you even to this day.	page 723

06/03/2020 01:28:32	Outbound	My Darling Love, You made me grow wings and fly tonight, haven't felt like this in so long. thought I'd never feel happiness like this again. <3 I've been trying like hell to suppress these feelings because thought you were lost to me, but to hear you say that you believe that you are the only one who is right for me is something that for the first time since our separation you have brought tears of love and happiness instead of tears of pain and heartbreak. understand am in prison and "physically unattainable" but feel the same know we are meant to be. get so upset thinking about the possibility of you in a relationship with someone else. That is my place. feel if you can have a relationship with another woman after me, then there is no damn reason why you can't have a relationship with ME. No other woman can give you that perfect mind, body soul connection like can, That is my place. No other woman can be your stormtrooper snuggie partner.. that's defiantly my bought the snuggies. No other woman will spend every breath she takes putting you as her reason for existing, That's my place. and No other woman will hold your hand throughout life with as much kindness, patients and unconditional true love as can and will. That is now and forever...My place. ..and if for one second that bitch thinks she's tasteing my mans Hershey pie I'm gonna beat her ass! I'll come out to go right back in here. As for me, My heart is spoken for. No matter who tries to win me over, You will always and forever be the love of my life. Though we did not legally marry as planned, want you to know that in my heart and in every way that matters, you are my husband. My heart has remained loyal to you and only ever you. One thing can swear to is I'll never say the words love you to other man for the fun of it. You have solidified those words as meaningful to me. love you, come back to me someday. Please put aside the finances to come to visit as soon as possible. need to see you! In October can place you as my S/O again or my Primary Support whichever you desire, and you will have your status back as immediate family. admit, miss being kissed. 06/06/2020 02:04:42	Outbound	Hi So kno talked to you about me having a conversation with my ex Honestly would need advice as well. Girl to Girl. So super long story short, have feelings for 2 guys. One guy wants to love me when it suits him and one guy is a good guy who is probably too good to me. was for 2 years before he wanted to separate in October. We have been through hell and back together and have had very memorable moments throughout our history, so when he wanted to leave the relationship, was devastated. But that is also and I started talking a lot more. had no intention to get into another relationship while in prison, but here am in a relationship with a really great guy. Where find myself conflicted is talking today stired up feelings that should have faded since I've been communicating wit that if he and weren't together would want to rekindle a relationship wit! I told because love him and feel we deserve to see what could have been. Our relationship was with me behind stone walls. He and never even had sex, so feel it wasn't a fair shot for us. We couldn't be in each others lives like we wanted and needed to be. but again that is if and would find ourselves separating in the future. wasn't saying that to hurt him in any way, only was being truthful. has the maturity to understand that he will have to wait 3 years for me to get out of prison. he is willing to do that plus be in a committed relationship with me now. he has been so patient with me since the split. He has waited and taken steps back and forth from me based on my wants and needs. He has been so good to me and feel like I'm not giving him what he deserves. I'm trying to grow to give him that, and give him the devotion he should have from a relationship. do not feel like my feelings get in the way of my feelings I am able to be faithful and focus on him and our relationship. am very fond of him and he makes me happy. On the flip side and have this already established love and connection. He and know what we would want for our lives and those are and don't have. When do pursue those things wit he tells me its not the right time to be discussing things like that. To me, need to know those things because if I'm dating him want to know if could see a future with him and if our life goals am't the same, we will run into differences that could be detrimental to the relationship. Like I'm pretty sure that having children isn't one life goals per say, but he knows its mine, so he is open to that but it is MY desire not his. That is one of my deal breakers, and he knows it. don't wanna even touch the subject of if he would ever want to be married, not specifically with me, but married in general. just feel like the questions you would ask someone or essentially know about your partner, I'm hesitant to ask him because don't wanna ask a question that makes him feel like I'm pushy or moving to fast.	page 636

06/07/2020 00:08:44	Outbound	So, left me..big surprise...and now I'm grieving 2 failed relationships in under a year. really heartbroken. really did not want my relationship to end, have growing love for him but feel like the fact have not met him face to face is my roadblock here. the last person to hold and kiss me so think that has a big part to play in me failing to completely give my heart 'omy I just wish that was of there and could have a real shot at a relationship. Maybe I'm not the kind of woman who has that. Maybe I'm meant to be alone forever. I'm fucked up in the head for real and im just not healthy for anyone. have so much emotional baggage that the ups and downs, hots and colds of how am in a relationship is disfunctional. got emotionally overwhelmed when talking with my ex and now that those emotions that were kicked up are starting to settle, now I'm very upset with myself and just would answer the phone.	page 636
06/07/2020 00:21:02	Outbound	omg so finally found that song was asking you about the one "something... something put the phone away.." yeah lol well its called Be Alright by I'm happy found it, it was driving me insane trying to figure it out. :-P	page 725

06/08/2020 22:47:41	Inbound	I'm really happy to hear about your decision. I'm hear any time you want to talk and support your decision 100% is truly great. huas Hi So after a long weekend of really complicated emotions, have come to a piece of mind and heart that really do just want The nast is the nast and it should stay in the nast First let me say all of these feelings and emotions are NORMAL. You are no more damaged than anyone else. We all have our demons we are fighting and that does not make us unworthy of love. really don't know a woman that hasn't battled with feelings for more than one person. Personally believe we can love more than one person but we are taught that we can't from a young age so it feels like we are doing something wrong. Choosing to be monogamous is great but it doesn't change the fact that your heart can love more than one person. That's when it comes down to having to make a huge very important life decision of which person you would rather be with in the moment and in the long term. And it's not a decision that can be taken lightly. Your situation has an added layer of complication because you can't get that experience of being around your person daily, living with them, having physical contact with them etc. Those things are so so important to knowing what you really truly want. It's easy to form an emotional bond with someone through writing, talking on the phone, occasional contact because your mind and body crave that comfort and social interaction from someone. We all want to be loved. But it's so hard to truly know someone and truly know if you are compatible without seeing them in their natural environment. don't know anything at all about really, but it is important to look at the fact that he already left you once, so maybe he's just not prepared to wait 3 more years, will he leave again? Is that something you're willing to risk? by the way, there is no wrong answer there. Most rewards don't come without some risk and it's okay if you are willing to try again with him! No He is really an amazing person and he is typically very rational and clear headed. So, when he tells me how he feels about you and that he was willing to wait for you, really believe him. But, again, you haven't lived with him, you haven't seen if you can stand each other in person daily, you haven't even met him in person. So it's still hard to know if you're really truly compatible in a relationship. And children is a huge huge factor in my opinion. agree maybe it's too early in the relationship without meeting face to face yet to discuss heavy topics like marriage and children BUT it's also important not to waste each other's time if those are deal breakers. I am probably the worst person for relationship advice. have a failed 10 year marriage under my belt. But the best advice can give is to focus on YOU and YOUR life goals and things will fall into place how they are meant to. know the need for love and comfort is always going to be there. But maybe just having a friendship with both of these men for now would be best? If they can survive the next 3 years as friends, just being there for you with no expectations of a relationship, think things would fall into place and you will realize which one, if either, is meant to be with you when you get out. Don't make yourself sick over this. This is normal. Most people have gone through this. Things will work out how they are	page 636

In all the times that we maybe had a fight or there at the end when you would ignore me when was calling you, knowing you were on purpose disregarding me, did you ever, ever cheat on me? that goes for kissing another girl, flirting excessively with another girl and of course did you ever sleep with another girl while we were together? and how long after you left me did you just forget about me and hop in the sack with someone else? legitimately need to know these things. there is a lot of coping still need to do from all of that, so need to know what exactly I'm coping from. don't about what hurts me the damage of not knowing is worse.	page 725

You were stuck in a horrible situation that nobody deserves and understand why things came to be that way. Then Hulu released "The Act" and it was extremely interesting but always wondered how accurate it truly was. I'm curious about you, I'd like to talk more and get to know you, and you can get to know me, perhaps we could be pen pals. But I'd love to talk more. I'm not good at writing letters so forgive me if sound bland. look forward to hearing from you! !! omg I've missed you!	page 779

We have all been without jobs since March and most of us have chosen to stay home during this time since a few of my family members are at higher risk. We have taken this time to start our garden for the year and spend more time outside which is something we take for granted sometimes. I've been a little bored and worried about our finances, but know this too will pass and everything will work itself out eventually! Just trying to stay positive! I am so excited you messaged me again, enjoy our little conversations and updates on how you're doing. message me anytime you need someone to talk to:) Keep on	page 460

06/12/2020 08:01:33	Outbound	It has taken so long for me to be strong enough to mean it when wrote this. As much as wanted us to have a future together, don't deserve to be put on a shelf and acceptable to be "loved" when convenient for you. the fact that you are even open to another relationship with someone else shows me your true character and deserve so much better then the bullshit halfass way you "love" me. deserve to be treated with compassion, loyalty and respect all the time, not have these things for me one day then the next be cold and distant with little to no care how feel. If you try to come back into my life when I'm home, I'll just tell you to leave as you made your mind up long ago. You chose not to be here at my worse, you for damn sure don't deserve me at my best. You should have chosen differently when it made a difference. as said you made up your mind, and now so have I, and I'm finally tired of it and ready to say have a nice life. -G	page 725

06/13/2020 10:35:08	Inbound	Gypsy, Hello sweet girl! Sorry to of missed your call yesterday, my phone has been messed up. But got it fixed this morning. had not been getting any alerts that have messages from you. have been having trouble signing in on JPay, Every time I try to login it said had the wrong password. finally yesterday uninstalled and reinstalled it into my phone. And change my password. And it let me in so could get your messages and send you one back. Everything here is OK, not quite normal yet as far as things we can do. But we did start one service this Sunday till July. My daughter was in the hospital for two weeks with pneumonia. But is doing better now and home. lam doing OK, just a few health issues but nothing big or to worry about. have not been able to go to any of the meetings in Nashville. But do have someone keeping me updated. They only have one question and that is wow you have been there so long and do not have your GED yet? don't think they understand it. But am going to the July meeting and try to get things going with your case. Of course the government is not doing anything but trying to get things in order with the COVID-19. Oh I have been tested for it and it came back negative. don't think they are doing anything as far as personal issues at this time. And am so sorry for that, had such high hopes in getting you home by Christmas. But do believe in miracles and I'll keep you in my prayers also daily. Are you getting to get have any classes or anything all right just got your own not doing nothing like everybody else in the world? How are things going with the new man in your life? know he and your dad and stepmom and me were disappointed because we all planned on visiting. Hopefully, they will lif some of the restrictions and you can have visitors. I will try not to miss your call the next time. Hearing your voice will let me know that you were truly OK. So sorry that my JPay help me so messed up that I couldn't even send messages or even login. But have gotten that fixed and so now maybe we can communicate till I'm able to come and see you. will let you know what goes on in the meeting in July. And do hope that you try to call again soon, but Sunday morning be at church. do pray that you're really OK. And hope to hear from you again soon. was so aggravated at JPay that finally called and was actually able to talk to a real person to help me get my password changed unable to login. have not forgot you! am still here for you and always will be till the day you are free. actually feel closer to you than my own daughter. Long story, we've been having some problems, nothing major. will go for now, keep my phone near so don't miss your call the next time. Anyways, virtual hugs, love and prayers for you always. Your friend always	page 673

06/13/2020 21:20:45	Outbound	Hi! My name i lam from Kentucky. The reason am writing is because remember whenever your case first came out, and had always thought that it was unfair on every side. You were stuck in a horrible situation that nobody deserves and understand why things came to be that way. Then Hulu released "The Act" and it was extremely interesting but always wondered how accurate it truly was. I'm curious about you, I'd like to talk more and get to know you, and you can get to know me, perhaps we could be pen pals. But I'd love to talk more. I'm not good at writing letters so forgive me if sound bland. look forward to hearing from you! !! omg I've missed you!	page 779

06/18/2020 13:27:50	Inbound	Gypsy, I am dumbfounded at the moment. am extremely hurt and pissed off about something that happened yesterday. And it has nothing to do with you not wanting to be in a relationship right now. am cool with that. completely understand actually. Like have said on multiple occasions, am honored to just know you as a person. You are amazing and know that. want to explain something to you. We have more in common than you think we do. you mentioned Suboxone yesterday. Well, take Methadone. told you that wasn't perfect. But back to the main issue to me at this moment. enjoy talking to you, laughing with you, and getting to know the real Gypsy. And really believed that you were enjoying getting to know me also. thought we have something amazing going on in terms of our friendship. don't need anything more than that from you if that is what you want. no worries. do think you are gorgeous, hilarious, sensitive, sexy, etc. After last night, realized something. Ever since have been talking to you, my close friends have all told me to be careful. kept telling them there is nothing to worry about, because you are a cool person and that we are just enjoying getting to know each other. But then, you told me that could just be your Sugar Daddy and put money on your books. You don't realize this, but ever since day fucking one, have been defending you to all of my friends that our friendship has nothing to do with that over and over again. Everyone of them said that is your only interest in me. never believed that at all, because was the one speaking to you. really thought that we had something special going on, a real friendship, deep and truthful. But my greatest fear was brought into reality last night with that one fucking statement. went ahead and put 50 bucks on your Jpay account, but I don't know if that will just let you buy stamps and songs. It doesn't matter really. did that because if that is what mean to you, then fine. gave you what you wanted from this friendship then. But I will not be used and taken advantage of by anyone. don't care if they are amazing like you are. value myself way too much for that shit. So if you see me as someone who is pathetic, unworthy of your true friendship, and who can be taken advantage of, then prefer not to be in your life. have sent the rest of your stickers to you, because got those for a friend. really fucking hurt and feeling used. am not going to be walked on and over.	page 759

06/19/2020 22:51:10	Outbound	Woah,...owch did read it. am so sorry you thought that was serious. will be careful how joke in the future. If it eases your mind, my father puts $200 on every month and that is who has been taking care of me for 5 years now. My friends send me birthday and Christmas money. other then that make my money stretch for the month. my expenses are out of $200 phone time $25 laundry time $10 media finds $15 and the rest on food and hygiene. have never used anyone for money, have asked my good close best friends for a few bucks here and there when used all of my $200 too early. but NEVER have used people for anything. I talk to you because like you as a person. You are from home and I like that can talk about home with you. I'm sorry that not able to give a relationship, but can give my loyalty as a friend and I'm a damn good one at that. :-) I'm proud of you for standing up for yourself if that was the case, you are worth more then that so don't let any chickipoo use you, unless you wanna be used, sexually. last time joked you gave me what joked about,...so where's that D? lol jk You are awesome! what I need is someone can talk to, someone can spend time with even if its only 15 mins. like spending time with you. :-) your forgiven for basically accusing me of being a low life scum. :-P	page 756

06/20/2020 01:46:36	Outbound	I'm so glad to know you are doing ok. :-) was worried for awhile there. know I have been in school since December of 2016, took my test in 2018, passed my GED in everything except math, and math is something can't seem to pass.. struggle a lot with it. because unlike taking it out there, in here women have to pass a T.A.B.E test, then if passed, then a PRE GED test is required, then finally the actual GED test. so that is 3 tests that require different skills in math that which some things don't understand because its next to rocket science. considering that didn't even know how to multiply and divide when was first placed in school. so having a 520 score on the TABE test and needing a 537, I'm close to passing the first test.	page 673

06/21/2020 03:59:02	Inbound	Hey, couldn't sleep tonight, so decided to write you. But don't worry, its not a Email", because know you don't like those too much. They can be over the top and mushy, but do that for a reason because want you to feel great about yourself Their intention is to make you laugh and smile. hope you do that anytime you think of me actually, but not laughing at me, but with me, haha. went out tonight for my bday, and No, it wasn't a double/dinner date. very selective when deciding on seeing someone. am amazing and deserve only the best. So, can be choosy. Like told you before, have standards... Anyways, went to the Golden Nugget, the big Casino here in Lake Charles. Picture Las Vegas. The Nugget is very similar to a Vegas Casino. It is massive with restaurants, bars, clubs, shopping, pool, etc. had a great time tonight. There was 5 of us that went tonight. We made a guy's night out, no wives or girlfriends, which have neither of anyways. Remember, am very selective. But do know one black girl/stalker that would marry me if it was up to her, which am so damn thankful that it is clearly NOT. All kidding aside, did win some money tonight in the Casino. won the most money on a machine that had a feeling would be lucky for me. You will never guess what the damn machine was called. It was called Sparkling Roses. not kidding. figured that would win on that machine, and I did. Very much so. ended up hitting the Bonus twice, and won 350 on that machine. Hopefully, that is a good omen for the future. always interested in Getting Lucky, if you know what mean... I did feel sad on the way home tonight. One of my friends was going to a girl's house after the Casino. noticed that he was setting up that infamous Late Night Tip near the end of the night, and realized something. wanted to do the same, so pulled out my phone getting ready to make a call. But then realized that the girl was wanting to call was unavailable tonight. Actually, according to her, she is unfortunately off limits to me until 2024, haha. Just a couple of more things, and then will go to bed. went car shopping today. am thinking of buying a Cadillac. found one that is so fly. It is a Cadillac CTS, white, fully loaded. am about to switch careers and want a luxury vehicle to drive, especially if have to travel. did find out that won't have to travel all over with that new job, just around Louisiana. probably going to buy it. have an idea on where want my life to go, and am very goal oriented. have a picture in my head of where am going, don't ever want to just settle, so maybe that is why am very selective. Last thing, am confused about something. don't really want an answer to this question, but am just thinking out loud. How or why did get your classic break up line of "I just won't to work on myself at the moment." never asked you out and we sure weren't dating when you said that me. am just wondering. Am that pathetic that you think am that easy or predictable. If yes, then please don't answer that question, haha. Like have said, am cool with being in your world in any capacity, but would prefer Sex Slave, haha, just playing. And when you said that you don't want to be in a relationship right now, is that the truth? And do understand that with everything going on at the moment. OR Did you mean to say that you do want a relationship eventually, but never want to have one with me? Because if that is the case, that is completely your loss in this situation. am the ultimate guy. I might be a little bigger, but guarantee you would never find anyone better than me. Nobody could treat you like me. like winning the jackpot in the lottery. am handsome, sweet, smart, caring, understanding, nurturing, and sensual. Plus, am a fucking dynamo in the sack. got	page 756

06/22/2020 10:02:43	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, have been alright. A lot of changes have been happening the last year or so. lost my aunt in January unexpectedly. My gf and had a miscarriage, but are expecting again in a few weeks. Life takes a lot of turns. We released a new album in May. It has gotten some pretty good reviews. So that is always good. The world is a crazy place right now. So many protests, riots, it is wild. How have you been? Any new developments? read some stuff about some kind of tv show about you a while back and there was some push back on it. watched it though.	page 283
06/22/2020 23:10:43	Outbound	cating tin was engaged last year, but after our 2 year relationship, he dumped me. was so devastated. turned to drugs and cut my hair off lost myself and fell into a deep depression. I am doing better now and am over it, but it was a very hard time for me. There was a TV show (The Act) I didn't approve of it because didn't get paid one cent for it. Then my parents were being coned by this woman who claimed to be a script writer, when she was actually someone without any experience in the industry. stood up for my parents and myself and told her to shove her fake contract up her ya know. that was only after 3 years of her putting me through hell by exploiting me in the media. I am thankfully out of the public eye right now and feel at peace with my time. see the parole board next year and should be out in 3 years. I'm so sorry for news about the miscarriage but am happy to hear about your new baby. :-) Yes, life takes unexpected turns some are good some are bad but that's life guess. just wanted to say hi and I hope you are doing well. :-) big hugs	page 284

06/22/2020 23:10:42	Outbound	Well I'm not turning you down if that is what you're asking. just have had it with relationships at the moment. back in October actually started talking to a guy who is 42 and such a great guy. He had feelings for me but had just had my break up and only needed a friend, became a love interest and a few months went by and we got together unofficially. Then one day called him and told him still and he was devastated. He never talked to me again. Romance is not something on my radar right now. I've lost too many good male friends because of the attraction aspect. believe you probably are a wonderful lover and some lucky gal is gonna love on you like crazy. :-) One day I'll be ready for a relationship but don't want you to stop your dating life for me though.	page 756

06/23/2020 16:05:01	Inbound	Relationships can get the best of you if they let it. Just think you have your whole life ahead of you and once you get out things will be much better. Just try to stay positive! know sometimes that is easier said than done, but have to deal with it at times as well. Short hair isn't that bad is it? :) Glad you chose to keep in touch. It means a lot to me. deal with depression as well. It comes and goes mostly. It is about to storm here. It has been doing it for the last few days. That sucks people trying to take advantage of your life story just for a buck. Sometimes it is best to stay out of the public eye. It brings a lot more peace and easiness. u	page 284

The next week is all rain so I'll go to the gym instead of going outside. up with a thing, its called "winter tan" so the plan is to tan all summer, then have a bang'n tan during the winter hints why its called winter tan. I'm so smart. :-)) have a random thought, so who names their kid "Rupert" that's a terrible name lol idk why thought of that. wanted to name my first son, Merlin, like the wizard. I am generally easy to talk to. use a lot of humor but can be serious when needed. Like said am an introverted person until get comfortable and can tell you right now, feel super comfortable talking with you even though that was the first time we've spoken. :-) Your cheese and my toast makes a grilled cheese sandwich! :-) lol feel that was uber lame but whatever My time in here is very routine so some of what do is draw believe it or not actually draw pretty well, you'd never tell by my "toast book". also work out at the gym. have gained 20lbs in the last 2 years, it all went to my boobs and ass so its fine really. I just want to get a daily exercise routine for balanced health. I live my life the best way know how which is day by day. The pandemic really threw off my life with everyone else. Things are slowly getting back to normal in here. The prison has a phased reopening plan. Its quite concerning that there is a new surge in cases in the U.S. We had our first confirmed Covid case here last week, a staff member tested positive, however no inmates are currently infected that we know of. We have all been provided with cloth masks. its just crazy if its not the pandemic on the news its people killing people in riots. My ex fiance lives 2 blocks outside of the "CHOP" zone in Seattle WA, he said its fucking gone to hell over there. I try not to watch too much CNN but its hard because wanna know if things are getting any better. Now is the time for kindness and compassion not hate and violence. ALL lives matter, not just black not just white, ALL.... not spiders...those little fuckers can't die out soon enough. lol whooh feel like got into some deep convo there. anyways.. I am glad that you reached out to me that was pretty sweet of you. You seem like one of those people can talk to for hours. :-) oh BTW don't worry about the whole Cosmetology mix up, actually that was my bad, I misspelled it in my letter it's Cosmetology not Cosmology. oopps well it was close enough, well maybe not because I'm sure Cosmology does have everything to do with stars and the universe. hand on head* now I'm embarrassed. lol let's just move on. So set here wondering how you've never had a drink, then I'm like your 20... oh...right. so are you gonna drink when your legal to? when is your birthday? ooooh I'm totally looking up your sign when I know it....mmmm let me guess though....	page 713

I am kind of a mix of fairy tale princess with a kick ass goth undertone. lol like both Animal Planet and The Bachelor, however haven't watched The Bachelor since had my break up, watching all the kissing makes me depressed. do love 90Day Fiance on TLC, and Love After Lockup was actually asked to be on the show with my ex... we declined though. :-P Not really a horror fan unless its around Halloween. do love the Underworld movies. that's about all go to on an	page 714

Well the dentist will order xrays to look at them closer and we will go from there. he will not pull any unless uber needed. funniest episodes of Merlin is think maybe season 4...I'm not sure but its when Merlin has a mind altering parasite that is forcing him to attempt to kill Arthur, but because Merlin is a bit of a goofball and clumsy he fails every attempt and its so comical. Oh and another episode like is when Arthur is under a love spell and falls in love with a blue pixy. Most heartbreaking episodes were when Arthur finds out the truth that he was conceived by means of magic and his mother died giving birth to him because that was the cost of Uther having a heir. that was pretty heartbreaking, as well as an ahhhhhh snap! moment. And of course when Merlin gets a girlfriend and she.... you'll see. And lastly the final 2 episodes. :'(in the beginning you see the dynamic between Merlin and Arthur as more a playful even a bit rival but then their ina sense friendship grows throughout the series and they become almost like brothers by the end of it all.	page 757

07/02/2020 10:40:21	Inbound	LOL it wasn't until recently that actually thought that signs were legit. but some signs really do describe people so well it's hard to argue. I think like you said yesterday everyone has a story, not always the best one but when you can come together and tell someone that story you either found a soul mate or a friend for life ohhhh or or a soul friend -that rolls off the tongue rather nicely- actually I've been wondering this do you believe in fate? like do you think everything happens for a reason even if it's bad or when people exit your life or enter. find myself wondering that a lot actually haha. actually really love that movie split, McAvoy ohhhhh my God his performance as different personalities Literally scared me. love the whole concept of that movie, never really thought of it like that. you know though am thankful for everything because it taught me how to love people even more because of the lack of love got literally throw my heart into everything and everyone meet and love that can feel you do the same. was honestly thinking about that last night was laying there thinking about how much energy you radiate even through our phone calls. you literally just give off this optimism that seriously makes my stomach © idk what the word is tingle Imaoo that sounds weird as hell. don't know who finds you weird but those are some weird fucking people. "normal people scare me" they really do like wtf do they talk about the weather? khaki's? donald Trump and the thread count of their bed sheets © @ noway. Gypsy you should love who you are, you are seriously an amazing person like already know once your out your gonna go onto living an amazing life and be super successful. you know it took me a long long time to say yes or no to this question I've actually deleted my response like four times @ @ where am today am absolutely better then what was in 2016 mean don't think you would of liked me back then was heartless for so long. now looking at 2020 feel like my ego is gone and am able to love the person am today. haven't touched alcohol in almost two years, try to be kind and thoughtful of everything and everyone. I'm still working on some things but feel like life is going in a direction that's almost to blissfulness. like you, really honestly don't have many friends maybe one or two so it's nice to say that someone else has entered my little space of life even if that person is states away. especially when get home from work forget even worked even if it is for 15 minutes haha & & } omg this is a book I'm gonna den it here hun.	page 713

07/02/2020 19:42:52	Outbound	There's that toast again lol Yes, do believe in fate. believe that people come into our lives to teach us something about ourselves. Some stay, others go, but remains is the impact that person left. In my life there has been people who shaped who am as a person and who by what they taught me are always a part of my heart. You mentioned my ex fiancé, he was such a positive in my life before he left. was angry, was deeply hurt and even felt betrayed by him leaving me, however I'll always keep what he taught me about myself close. do not have any communication with him anymore, I'm moving on with my life. tried to remain friends but just couldn't do it. He is one that was only in my life for 2 years and was my first real relationship. Hopefully the next time give everything have to someone, that person will return my love equally as much. I'm a hopeless romantic by the way. I'm glad you are at a place in your life you can admit that you made mistakes but are doing better now. I'm really proud of you for that.	page 716

If you choose to reply or call me back, would be very grateful and appreciative. I'll answer just about any question you might have for me since know it might seem weird for some random person to message you. hope you are being treated well in prison. know it can get lonely, my fiance has been to the county jail where live and he wrote a LOT, so I'm hoping this helps. If calling is easier for you, then please call whenever you'd like! If don't answer right away, just call me back right after (if you can) and I'll know to pick up. 07/04/2020 16:35:01	Inbound	Gypsy, am a little confused at the moment. We had previously decided to be friends and be ourselves. really enjoy our conversations and in some ways our phone calls are the best part of my day. do look forward to 900 o'clock way more than I should. admit that... If have been coming on strong, making you feel like our friendship has become, what was the word you used, "flirty", then apologize. Just like you Gypsy, I do like to flirt as well. But, don't know how to be anyone but myself not fake and will not pretend to be something am not. don't know where was going with that statement, but nonetheless, it is true... Now, on one hand, find you irresistible. Your personality is so adorable and am infatuated with you, because have never known anyone like you. am so intrigued by you and am honored to be in your Inner Circle, and do want in your "Inner Circle", haha. But then, get confused on how much you flip-flop. Even in our conversation earlier, you explain yourself by saying that your email was a "bipolar" email and It was too strong because you feel awful about it. But if that is how you feel. then let it be how you feel. Don't protect my feelings. not made of glass. will definitely bounce back. Then, you say you still want my D in the same conversation, WTF. I guess that can understand, because you have mentioned FWB with me. know you are not wanting a relationship, which remind you, perfectly cool with that. have never asked that of you either. But a friendship is a relationship Gypsy. And sometimes feel like WE are both fooling ourselves on occasion. don't talk to any of my friends as much as speak with you. And know you have to feel that way too. Because am irresistible also, haha... And on the other hand, get emails that keep telling me one thing, and then another that contradicts it. have been hurt in the past, and know that you have also. So am very cautious on who allow in my world and more importantly my heart. That's why am very selective. And believe that you feel the same, so that is why WE both pull away from something that is obviously occurring to protect ourselves. With your past experiences with guys, get why you don't want an official or unofficial relationship. Are you afraid that if we go in that route that something would happen and would never talk to you again? Are you scared to lose me? Or am way off base here. Because when we are just ourselves, letting things take their natural course, we end up being too "flirty" again. Why is that? . Actions speak way louder than words to me. just can't keep getting signals that say one thing one day, and then another the next. It seems we are great for awhile, and then we feel that we have to clarify our friendship again, and no offense, but it fucking hurts to keep hearing that you don't want me over and over again. Then, you feel bad about it, and say something like, "Well, am not turning you down or anything." Maybe it would be better if you told me to get lost loser or some shit like that. Something other than some lucky gal is going to love on you like crazy, and then the next sentence say, will want a relationship one day. What? And then you say that you are destined to be in a relationship? Gypsy, you cherish our friendship. do as well. Every month are we going to have to clarify that we are just friends all over again. don't know what am trying to say by this email. probably shouldn't send it, because just like you, don't want to offend or hurt your feelings, because don't want to lose you either. Its obvious that WE CARE FOR EACH	page 761

07/06/2020 18:28:29	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, Thanks for writing me back and updating me. I'm sorry to hear that. wish you could see your parents and have visitors. A year is too long to go without seeing them! sure even before Covid, they visit as often as like to because of the distance. have never been to either state. 07/06/2020 19:42:04	Outbound	Hello Gypsy, My name and I'm from Canada. I'm not here to talk about your case, but thought you would like a friend and corresponder during your sentence. feel like we are similar, personality wise. know you trust me, but just want to make friends and talk. Ill tell you more about myself I'm 22 years old and have a dog, still live with my parents and my brother. I love makeup, doing nails on other people and like to meet new people too. I'm a very artistic person, generous, and always see the best in others. One day want my own family, dogs too. But first really want to find the love of my life. thought I found it last year, but he ended up leaving me. He gave me all the reasons in the world to not believe in real love again, but know it'll happen. see my grandparents still loving each other after 45 years of marriage, and it makes my heart melt. They still kiss each other and hold hands. Career wise, I'm very confused. But I'm trying to figure it out. Most times feel alone and different from the other girls because don't fit in. like meeting new people and to talk online, because for me it's easier to show who really am. Physically, I'm 5'8" tall, have black hair, blue eyes and I'm a little bit chubby lol. love food too much. love playing with makeup it makes me feel confident and beautiful. feel like can be who really am with makeup. If you want to talk to me, I've included a pre-paid reply. want you to be comfortable with me, so don't be afraid to ask me anything. hope doing well! times do feel broken. am upbeat the majority of the time but have a lot of issues. have insecurity issues, trust issues, co-dependent as fuck issues. was molested at the age of 9 by my grandfather, the same one you saw in the HBO doc. It fucks with your head when the first man to give you head is your own grandpa. yeah real shit. have had a lot of people want to be my "friend" because of the fame aspect. People ask for my autograph all the time. People from all over the world including little no where places like the Philippines know who am. I am in no way proud of my crime and often wonder why people idolize me when kids draw pictures of me and tell me they support me, its so sweet but don't understand why they think of me in a good light, I'm just a murderer. live with PTSD and have nightmares of that night. have a hard time watching scary movies because anything with knives and stabbing people is a trauma trigger for me. Screams of terror is another trigger. can manage to watch the old Freddie Jason movies and do love American Horror Story but its still hard. My favorite holiday is Halloween and I'm worried how will react going into a Halloween shop when I'm out. Seeing the fake bloody knives might be too much for me. These are things that live with after a murder. wasn't even in the room when it happened yet still heard everything, remember my heart feeling fast yet each beat was so loud and hard in my chest. remember telling myself to keep breathing. don't know how long it was happening for, it seemed like a minute or two, but now looking back it could have been longer. Needless to say I'm still coping with it all. still to this day have never seen the crime scene photos. Many others have because someone managed to talk my stepmother into giving them to someone and that someone posted every one of them including my mothers naked body for all to comment. in Facebook discussion groups. That sickens me. the photos were later reported but everyone already saw it all. loved my mother, loved and hated her. still miss her, still have grief to deal with and every year that goes by on the anniversary of her death I say a prayer,.. and I'm not the praying kind..but make an exception an spray her finds peace. Wow I really got off track guess wanted to dive into my head a little. Now have taken classes in here that have built up my self esteem. had a set back with that 8 months ago left me. long story short he is mostly attracted to blondes. well had long dark brown hair and had been dying it with a maroon tint for like 2 years. We can get our hair dyed in here through Cosmo (Cosmetology) however when a brown haired girl tries to go blonde, on the outside salons use bleach to lighten the natural tones in the dark hair so the color comes out properly. In here our Cosmo does not use the bleaching process, so....as a last ditch effort to make him love me again cut my hair into a pixy cut and attempted to go blonde.... big fat mistake.. it turned copper orange... best way to give you a visual, have you watched the new IT movie? the little red haired girl?...yep same color same length. I cried, cried because my hair was so long and beautiful. after not having hair all my life finally looked pretty then butchered my hair all to make a man love me.	page 715
07/06/2020 09:55:06	Inbound	absolutely agree people come into your life for many different reasons. either that be good or bad it teaches you lessons I've lost a lot of people in my life because didn't drink anymore my boss doesn't like me much anymore just cuz won't sit and drink all night. it shows you who's real who isn't and those lessons you learn are almost more important then meeting that person. your the first person to ever and mean ever say something like this always try to say this but no one understands hahaha Im glad your ex was a powerful experience for you hun you deserved that wish he would of stayed around and gave you more of that love. you guys don't talk much anymore? feel like that would be really hard honestly tried to be friends with one of my exes once and it's like the feeling honestly hurts cuz when date someone throw it all into it, no cheating, no disloyalty, pure honesty then when someone leaves your like fuck what did do? don't think of yourself as a hopeless romantic :) think of it like you have yet to meet the guy that's gonna make you feel like the only girl in the world. who knows might be happening sooner then later meannn &} shhh Imaoo. love doesn't scare me, what scares me is the eventual rejection for that person. are you a very affectionate person? like do you like that constant contact, cuddling? i won't lie I'm a very very affectionate person I've had a girlfriend who never wanted that and it seriously suckeddddd thank you for your motivation :) but we're both gonna do some amazing things in life and can already see that maybe one day you can use me as a test dummy to cut hair & & Im gonna trust you don't make me look like a troll & please.	page 715

07/06/2020 13:19:14	Outbound	Yes, I am a very affectionate person am very much the cuddler. :-) No my ex and do not talk at all anymore, we tried to be friends but like for the reasons you said, it hurts. and yes know exactly what you mean all kept doing was asking what did i do wrong. it was pathetic. He kept insisting it wasn't me but to me, if you aren't happy with me and you're not in love anymore... then its me. It hurt too much to reread old cards and love letters and the one question that kept circling in my mind was how did those feelings just disappear? how could someone be so in love one month then a few months later be so dismissive and cold? kept asking and asking...with little to no piece of mind as to why. was a really good girl to him too. for our 1 year anniversary I had a yam blanket crocheted for him that was 6' by 6' that had 2 hearts interlocked one gray one white with Soulmates written above and our names below and the year. spent $200 to get it made because can't crochet, so with the cost of the yam plus paying a lady to make it was $200. its sitting in his closet right now. real cute right... anyways was so loyal and don't regret being me because know was doing everything right. Lol no wasn't expecting you to look like a bald Asian, more like Peter Griffin from Family Guy. Then when I got your picture I'm like dammmmmn boy,..he sexy!, I'd ride his face. :-) :-P	page 716

07/07/2020 15:42:53	Inbound	it's okay to feel broken hun © this email actually meant alot to me your the only person to even open up to me that much about anything and I'm gonna let you know this. everyone says insecurities are such a bad thing they are not, can't say if we're gonna be talking for years (hope so) but hypothetically speaking if we did and we ended up meeting id be there every single step of the way with you. there are gonna be days that are horrible, there's gonna be times you might cry randomly and that's okay gypse you went though some of the worst shit I've ever read about. won't lie cried especially knowing that beautiful soul of yours was hurt and fully learning what happened to you made me think of one thing wanna see this girl overcome every obstacle that she faces. either that be dating or just being a friend that part doesn't matter all know is that wanna be part of your life. it's not Fame, it's not the fact being able to say know you because frankly don't think of it like that honestly just until a few days ago didn't fully know your story. may ask are you scared to be with someone again? are you scared to give your heart out again? cuz I'm not going to lie those fears scare me the most aswell. I'm gonna tell you something hun © that one secret that didn't tell you but I'm going to now... was raped every day for two years when was six by my neighbor. your the only one besides my therapist ever told that to it scares me have issues myself we aren't perfect we will never be because shitty things happened but we can come together in this world and make it great again. have pretty much delt with my trauma as a kid and sometimes feel so depressed it hurts. use to self harm cuz just didn't have another way to cope and now my arms are ugly. the one thing took from all this is understanding will never judge you, will never second question your opinion or how you feel cuz that's the most important thing. I'm gentle, listen and would never push you to talk to me or be open cuz that all happens in time :) let's do this healing shit together. won't lie to you do collect a lot of horror movie stuff, but hypothetically again wouldn't push that shit on you because I'm sure all this is gonna be hard, knives, blood, screams. don't think would want you to be around that stuff. think it's going to be a very very long time before you can handle that stuff cute Halloween is awesome too. you don't have to be around all that at least for some time cuz the number one thing is your comfortability especially once your out in the world. know what happened was not what you wanted, could tell that the moment heard you talk about it you weren't a cold blooded murderer you were a girl that didn't think she had any other option. was it the right one? don't know hun but will tell you this you are not a monster, honestly you are one of the most amazing humans have met your heart is pure. was what happened wrong of course but darling think your mom was very ill, she was hurting you in a way that is almost unfathomable. you are survivor and you will survive this world stronger and better then anyone. because once you have that family of yours you'll know exactly how to treat them and love them. on that documentary there was a few crime scene pictures. it was rough to look at don't think you ever need to see those pictures though I hope you don't. don't know why your stepmom would share something that personal with anybody don't know her I don't know how she is a person but think that's very wrong just don't see what words someone could say enough to share pictures of that nature with anybody. I know regardless you love your mom you always will because think in some way she did love you but I don't think she	page 712

Not your teeth cuz I've looked and they are still gorgeous :) you got a beautiful smile 6) favorite book? 7) describe yourself in three words? 8) what is one thing you take for granted? 9) what do you want most in life? 10) what do you think is most crucial thing for a healthy relationship? 11) Ideal first date? 12) what is unforgivable for you in a relationship? 13) apple or Android ? & © please God say the right answer & © (I'm kidding maybeeee) 14) what is your biggest pet peeve? 15) - this is probably the weirdest one- what's the longest amount of time that you have gone without showering? @ @ no judgements here 16) if you could live anywhere where would that place be? 17) how many kids do you want?	page 715

Unless you told him. really don't know what you and his relationship is and am not asking either. That is definitely your business, but you did tell me that there wasn't a love connection there. am wondering if you happened to tell him that about us though, haha, just playing Gypsy. He did sort of fish around about me a little bit. He let me know that you two talk alot in a roundabout way, haha... haven't forgotten about your pictures either. know you want to see those "posters" was talking about still. Im thinking of making that a Bday present for you. Also, had to see something first before sent them and you did show me at the beginning of the week. Still not going to tell you though. You might not like my reasoning... I really hope that you dont think less of me after what happened at the beginning of this week either. Im not in the business of freaking you out. Although do want to get freaky with you, haha. But that is besides the point. That wasn't me at all. am not like that. Seriously Gypsy. hope you realize that... So you aren't going to be able to call me on Tuesdays and Fridays now. You would rather call your dad and not your " Sugar daddy", haha, just joking... understand though. No worries. do like hearing your voice though. Not going to lie there. But its cool. guess will just make those the days go out or something... I still have some lingering thoughts about some things. am just going to have to wait and see. get why you sent me that song last week. did somewhat overreact, but I will always be honest with you about my feelings like a true friendship is supposed to be. Plus, know you were being honest also. do respect that about you and our dynamic. Next time, talk to me about it instead. will understand Gypsy. get that you were getting a little scared about our flirtation with each other, but we were just being ourselves which we agreed upon, right? don't know what the future holds, although you did say to me once that you were a mind reader, haha. If so, what am thinking about right now? know this is such a long damn email. do need to go to bed. have a busy day. know you wont get this email until Monday. When you're get it, call me, haha, if you can, no worries... Well Goodnight. Stay gorgeous, like you are and show that glowing smile off for Ps. love your style in those pictures. You are so unique. I am planning to get a crochet blanket and pillowcase made as well as a TV tray and locker top cover. I can order yarn from a company called Herschners and they offer a wide selection of different types of yarns. The type of yarn for my blanket and pillowcase is a super soft 100% polyester micro fiber yarn. The color is mostly white but with flecks of pink, purple and gray. ACTUALLY its the same yarn used for one of the teddy bears sent to you the bride bear's foot and nose and ears is the kind chose for my blanket. :-) Oh the best part...My pillowcase will have cat ears attached on the top!!! My TV tray and locker top covers will be made out of regular yarn, colors pink and purple.	page 726

It didn't make it right, but am thankful for the result. do that when see an opportunity for it. It made no sense for me to lose it like that Gypsy, and you know it didn't...	page 759

Your so fi sexy staring at me in that picture... hope you are doing alright with everything going on. Is Phase 1 completely different than about 2 weeks ago? Do you still have to go to school? knew you probably don't get to roam around alot. Just curious... keep seeing you laying down with those cat ears on your pillow. It really is an amazing visual. hope to see in person one day... Also, found that other show you mentioned the other day to me, Atlantis. It makes me wonder though, did you only ever watch BBC series growing up, haha. Just playing Gypsy. hope you know that don't play games either. above that bs. 07/15/2020 00:01:28	Inbound	Dear Gypsy: sorry missed your earlier email to me from the beginning of this month. am happy you sent a follow up message because that brought me to my JPay inbox! COVID's arrival at the prison is not unexpected. am sure it is and avoid people by staying home (we have been working at home since March 13). We don't go outside except to walk and get groceries. We do not expect to be back to work before the end of this year. But for you, you really can't avoid being around other people. So, that must add special stress for you. But, will say this: Unlike us (I am 59 is 64), you are of an age where you are very low risk. Most people your age who get CV19 don't even know it. And those who do get sick generally recover pretty quickly. So, hope knowing that give you a bit less worry. Still, it's important to wear a mask and try to spend as little time as possible around others. Speaking of others, do you have a cell mate? If so, what is she like? Is she considerate and respectful of you? do hope others treat you well. Are you working now and if so doing what? Are you taking classes as you look towards your release date? Now that you have the time, hope you are taking advantage of any classes you can take. It will make getting a job much easier later. Have you been thinking about what you would like to do for work when you get out? have some thoughts for you about finding a job — can share them later if you are interested. With the pandemic, it seems like we are in a weird time warp. When this started, there was snow on the ground. Now, only about six weeks from September and the start of fall. Our dog (Oskar) just turned ten. He is super happy that we are home all day. For him, it's like everyday is a weekend because he gets to hang out with us. We work at our dining room table, sits at one end working on her laptop and sit at the other end working on mine. We put Oskar's bed on the table between us and he just sleeps while we work. Unless the pandemic gets much worse. and plan on going to Vermont this fall (we stay on an island on Lake Champlain). One of Mary's friends from college graduated from college in 1978!) is the co-owner of a small resort. It's very quiet and we spend most of our time reading and going for walks. not sure if we will fly or drive. I'm not excited about getting on an airplane with 150 other people with the virus on the loose! hope this letter finds you well and, if you can find the time, hope you will write back with some answers to my questions! Be good!!	page 218

I'm sorry for lashing out in full force, that is literally the max of how mean I can be to you. But don't regret saying you don't deserve me. a month ago you told me you were the right kind of guy for me. please observe that more closely. Is the right guy one who puts his job, friends, and himself before the woman he loves? Is the right guy the one who tells me im not worth waiting for? Is the right guy someone who ignores me most of the time? Is the right guy someone who makes excuse after excuse why he doesn't want to be with me? Is the right guy going to continuously make me feel like don't matter? Ni The right guy will be nothing like the guy described. 07/17/2020 09:23:47	Inbound	Hi Gypsy. Thank you for always being so sweet & patient with me. literally always sing you praises when people wonder what kind of character is behind you. I tell them you really are sweet, good spirited & very patient. lam sorry to hear that this dam pandemic has entered in the prisons. if you remember me telling you my fiance is locked up & yes he is extremely affected by the inability to move around and do the few things they once were allowed to do. The good way to look at this is, we are already in mid July, fall & winter will be here before we know it. Which means one more year behind us, sooner you & my fiance will be home. What do you do with your time? know you still get a lot of people that write you, but outside of that, any painting, art, etc? Again thanx hun. You brightened my day. lam a loner & don't trust people for the most part. So choose not to vent to anyone as a result. So having you from time to time, really helps me. Thank you. hope to hear from you again soon. Lave vour friand	page 068

My heart broke for you when heard about your situation. My step son passed away in 2014, he lived with us & got visits with his bio mom. Doctors said she has munchausen by proxy but we had to prove it. Needless to say we never got to prove it before he passed away. Anyway know the struggles we had to deal with. guess that's what drew me to you when saw your story. I'll be honest, knew nothing about you until about 6 months ago. & then my heart just broke. added you to jaypay to email you months ago & just never emailed. hope your doing well. This Covid has our world turned upside down. have a family member in a prison in Illinois, where they have been on a strict lockdown forever it seems like. Do you read? draw? Is there something can send to help by sending you? Ive sent my family member channel guide magazine & books. Recently he asked for me to send stencils. More about me, I'm a stay at home mom. love to make crafts when I'm not taking care of kids. had 4 he had 2 & we had 4 together. So the younger ones are still at home, from 2 to 14. So they keep me busy. don't watch a lot of TV. My cousin told me about you. So read everything could find about you/your situation. He has become so different from the man told you was my soulmate. Needless to say, we don't have any communication anymore. was sentenced to life without in 2018, he has a new girlfriend now. On my end, will have my first parole hearing next year in December. I've taken like 7 classes here and part time facilitate ICVC. 07/24/2020 02:06:01	Outbound	Hi Dad, hope you had a good few weeks home. I talked with mom yesterday, did ask her something that I thought was a valid question seeing as how we are in talks about a book deal. I asked her if there was anything she didn't want put out there, and asked her if it was ok to mention briefly about the past instability of y'all marriage. don't want to put anything about or anything like that. just want to know if could shed light on how the stress of the fame took a toll on y'all marriage and it was hard for me to see that happen, because it was hard on me to cope with y'all having issues. but if that is something that is too personal to be put in the book then won't mention it. I think we should ask ourselves this questions what is too personal to be written about? certainly have things that are too personal. will have things in the book that might upset you to know about me and things I've done that are not my best moments in life. This book will be written with a consideration to how feel and how momma's side would feel reading it. and it is my thought to write from the beginning to the present. asked me how will write about him, said I'll do it with respect. Our relationship ended because we grew apart. won't paint him in a negative light either. It is what it is. don't see us getting back together. its ok though, I'm working on another prospect lol am a fluzzy :-P Anyway just wanted to clarify what talked about with mom and she said she doesn't want it mentioned so I'll keep that private. you safe at work	page 189

We met, we fell in love, we had 2 wonderful years together as a couple, but we grew apart and unfortunately this love story does not have a happy ending that people would love to read about and go, Awwwww. They will read my struggles to heal with the break up but it will all be in an unbiased way. People will know you chose to separate, because sure as hell didn't want to. but I will make sure its written in a way that you aren't made the bad guy. You won't be the "Hans" to this frozen heart lol (get it? Just in case you decide you do want to write back here is a little bit about me lam 30 years old, live in the UK, i am currently unemployed but will be looking at getting back to work once the lockdown is over, when i am working i work as a Health care assistant in care homes for the elderly with dementia. have a boyfriend who i live with and a 5 year old American Bulldog called Jupiter. have a son but he sadly passed away two years ago which lead me to come out of work. am currently pregnant again. enjoy rock climbing, reading - am currently reading the diary of anne frank, music - i have eclectic taste so like a variety of music. was adopted and raised by my auntie and uncle as my father was absent and my mother had health problems which prevented her from taking care of me. Through the adoption my two cousins became my sisters. My auntie was a nervous wreck leading to emotional manipulation, and my uncle was angry in general and lead to him being overly aggressive and emotionally, mentally and verbally abusive, i felt trapped and considered killing them a few times eventually i left, they tried multiple manipulations and pleas to get me back but i just kept moving until eventually they gave up. Anyway, that's more than enough about me for now. hope to hear back from you and we can talk about whatever you want Yours Sincerely	page 353

I'm 24- kinda close to your age! wanted to write you to tell you that I've been very fascinated with your story and I'm a part of a Facebook group that posted your story, and supports you and gives updates and so on. I'm sorry about what's happened to you growing up. It's absolutely awful what happened. Quite frankly, I'm sorry that you're serving as much jail times as you are. heard you have a parole hearing coming up December of next year, is that right? If it is, hope it goes well. You've had so much of your life stolen from you and really do pray you get a chance to actually live your life. If you need anything while you're in there i'd like to help as well. can't help with a ton of money but i'll definitely do what I can, and absolutely have an ear to listen and an open heart to have a conversation. I'm sure you get flooded with emails and stuff all the time, so do understand if you don't want to talk or "make a new friend" per day (sorry if that sounds odd just didn't know how to word it lol) at least wanted to write you to extend my support. Best,	page 789
07/27/2020 03:58:16	Inbound	Again again Dear Gypsy, & Writing to you is a place of peace for me. No agenda, don't have to take sides, don't have to prove anything to anyone, no judgement, no interrogations, no line of questioning.. only know what you want me to know sweet Gypsy, and that's fine by me:)) -just a genuine concern for another human on this planet, humanity. @ This is a "safe space" lol! and we just write to each other:)) Girl you got me to writing this evening, hope you don't mind.... love writing.. and painting and cooking and music and tattoos and dancing.. do you like any of that?? <— that's a question lol!! @ So how's the makeup classes going?!?! The contouring and such?!?! wish could send you some Max Factor (movie star makeup) it's so fab!:) Still distancing and eating lots?? I need my crawfish seafood diet back — right away at that!! © Well this time, did ask questions— lol! in my thoughts just as fam would be— Always, and take care and be good!! Love hugs @ kisses SherryV My favorite word right now is: Perspective.... it's a powerful word. "It's critically important, as perspective is everything in life. It governs one's mental outlook, which in turn determines one's mental attitude to what is happening around, i.e. how you choose to interpret and how you decide your response.	page 230

07/27/2020 00:34:41	Inbound	Dearest Gypsy, My goodness girl, you've been on my mind— It's a crazy, crazy world out here right now!! Writing to you is a place of peace for me. From this outside world go into yours.. From crawfish season to covid- Pandemonium to lockdowns- A beloved Louisiana State Trooper George Baker who was a mentor to my son, was laid to rest in an angelic, noble funeral because he died in the line of duty laying out spike strips in a police chase. He was hit by one of the units in the pursuit. was so sad. Then the next day, we were told to hate cops because of unnecessary and uncalled for police brutality to minorities. wish the lawmen that do that, would stop doing that. That caused protests, riots, Antifa, destruction and fires to major cities. Then America went back to the coronavirus 'pandemic' without skipping a beat:(Ath of July- (celebrated that at my oldest sons home, former US Marine Corps Infantry (Mortaman) so celebrating with a war tom Veteran that knows how to operate a cannon, was freaking amazing and it was a blast <— see what I did there lol! 3X And have opossums living in my walls — LoLL Politics have become with fierce conservative patriotism or liberalism radicalized. That's just been in 2 months out here!!!! don't know how much news y'all get in there, but that's on all the time on the news out here (*cept not my opossums lollll) So! mostly listen to music J@.... Can't believe I'm actually doing this but aye. 22 and I'm from Australia. Yes, the place with the kangaroos and cute koala's. Though I've never seen a koala in the wild though but maybe I'm just not looking at the right times. I've researched your story, as it is very well known. My thoughts on it, see both ways. Yes murder is wrong and against human values but at the same time the situation was very tragic. don't look at you in a pitying way and don't think ever will, because know what it's like to be pitied and some may like it but don't particularly, but maybe that's just me. not writing to remind you of all these things of course, I'd like to get to know you as a person not for some kind of cover story or to show off to people. just want to communicate with someone who has such a different life from me, like to get to know different peoples situations cause it makes me kind of try to think outside this box of what know and believe. But a little about me, grew up in a small town with my mum and dad and my little brother who is autistic along with myself had our hardships but go through that in this letter, maybe in future if get a reply. I'm currently studying business administration though I'm starting a sushi job tomorrow. I've never made sushi in my life so let you know how that goes down if we keep in contact. Oh I have a cat! Recently adopted her. Her name is Fem, she's chill one minute then crazy the next. She's a little grey and ginger calico. I've been in and out of hospital due to various disabilities including depression, anxiety and Tourette's. Tourette's is where you make sound work movements and you can't help it, so it's been fun. remember high school when was on the bus one of my sounds was barking like a dog. Oh gosh it was so embarrassing. I'll attach a recent picture of myself if that isn't weird, just to show I'm not some random person with strange motives. But I'll keep my description short for now. know this probably isn't the first letter you've gotten but still like to have hope that we can keep in contact as pen pals over seas pen pals. like to think might have some interesting Aussie stories to share. Would be great to have someone from overseas to just talk to and I hope that you might find my letters to be enjoyable. You see, have autism and I'm not very good with talking to people in real life except when I'm in a work situation because I've just trained to be that way. hope we can keep in contact but I understand if it's too much or out of your interest for you. Stay safe and healthy, be strong. Sincerely	page 789

07/29/2020 01:06:04	Inbound	So you know, Gypsy. accidentally sent you two stamps. Lol. So you got some extras to email me back. Gypsy, getting that last email from you really warmed my heart. feel so good getting emails from you. want you to know, dont see you as a Murderer. know of your past, but dont see or think of you as a Murderer. see you as an innocent young woman who hasn't had it very well in her life. You deserve that happy ending as you said. Just like in Once Upon a Time. thought you'd like to see a picture of me, was gonna attach it to this email but can't find how to do an attachment. It was me when dressed up as Cinderella's Prince when went to see the musical on Broadway. Just like you, love Cinderella. It's been a dream role of mine to play the Prince someday. I'm very sorry to hear about your engagement breakup. Is there any chances of rekindling it? Also, idk if mentioned, your bday gif is on the way. It should hopefully be there Wednesday. I'd love to see a picture of you with it, so know you got it. I've been meaning to mail it for some time now but was afraid it wouldnt make it to you. In an envelope there's a letter and in the larger envelope is the gif. hope you'll respond to my letter. :) Again, ty for responding to me. hope you continue too. It means so much to me. P.S. kind to the people who treat me kindly. So thank you so much. P.P.S. when you see the board next year, can you tell me what happens exactly? mean, do they say if you can get out early or what hannens when wou see the hnard?	page 599

07/29/2020 16:48:09	Outbound	Hell apologize if did not respond to your emails in the past. normally am a very private person and respond when I can. may be in prison but have a busy life with a lot going on, especially now that Covid-19 is ramped in my facility. do NOT only respond to male correspondence. have quite a few female correspondence as well. sorry you feel offended by my lack of a response. I appreciate any kind words anyone gives me and if had more of a widespread way of being able to thank everyone for that support, would. keep a super small circle of friends because have been bumed with people posting my emails online and that has made me very closed off to people do not know. take huge offense to that as am a person, not a celebrity. Please understand that it is in no way anything personal. I just am not very social these days. Again I'm sorry if seemed rude. Have a good day -GypsyRose	page 779
07/29/2020 22:39:37	Inbound	Hi Gypsy! My name 29 years old, and live in Canada. suppose it's weird that messaging a complete stranger that's in prison... 've never done this before. ... saw a documentary on you a few days ago, and once was done googled your name and read more about you and your past. know the internet is not always honest though so I'm sure most of what read is probably not true... while was reading more about you though, felt more and more sick to my stomach because feel like the justice system failed you... felt like needed to reach out to you, so made an account on here and decided to message you to see how doing. ... not messaging you because want to pry into your past and the things you did when you were younger - that's none of my business. don't want you to think that that's why I'm messaging you. don't want you to talk to me about anything that would make you uncomfortable. don't know what prison is like, but if were in your shoes, would want to have a friend in the outside world that could talk to now and then. hope you have friends and people that you can talk too... honestly would love to become a friend that you can talk to every now and then too if you would like. Reading about everything you went through absolutely broke my heart, and knowing could be someone you can talk to once in a while would make me so happy. not a whole lot of fun, but can be pretty funny at times. used to be really quiet and shy when was younger, but now that I'm older the "real" me is finally pushing through. I'm still quiet and shy when want to be, but I'm also loud and outgoing... I'm a full-time University student, and also work full-time. Because of COVID19 I've been working from home the last few months, and my University classes have changed to online classes as well... it's actually kind of nice because can work and do my classes in-between at the same time. Speaking of COVID19, hope staying as safe as possible during this time! Anyway, end this message now. really hope hear back from you... it would be nice to have another friend, and someone that I can talk to about my days and life. But if don't hear back from you, that's okay and completely understand. Just please know that there are people out here who care about you, think about you, and think that what happened to you was absolutely unfair. hope doing well, and hope we get to talk soon.	page 790

07/30/2020 10:27:53	Inbound	Hey boo, wanted to let you know about something going on. Mom said you broke ya tablet so, I'm not sure when you'll get this. A producer from Japan was asking for interviews from you and us, similar to HBO and 20/20.. told them you/ we were not interested in anymore publicity/ interviews. Then they asked if we wouldn't mind sharing some photos and videos. told them no then they offered to pay. thought about it and threw out a number that didn't think they'd agree too. $10,000, surprisingly they agreed to pay that much. Soo made sure it wouldnt involve you, and only be aired in Japan. So, we'll be sending them some pics and video. really didn't plan on doing it but honestly we can really use the money and hope it wouldn't effect you in any way whatsoever. will try to put some of the money aside for you when you get out. Let me know if you have any problem with that before we exchange any pictures and stuff, we havn't signed anything legal yet, it has all been verbal.. Ok love you and miss you too. stay healthy Dad	page 191

It seemed like freedom, light'n up a cig with friends and just enjoying being able to actually have friends. Now days seem to have grown to want more. Its no secret more is out there but at least before felt content with the newness of how it felt. I'm starting to feel constricted again. It may be because things have changed so much with the pandemic that I feel very controlled. saw a therapist today, told her I'm losing control of my emotions. lately I've been having extreme mood swings and can't seem to feel balanced. She said its because whatever issues had before are now amplified by the stress of the pandemic. so she scheduled for more sessions with her more often and gave me worksheets to use as well as other little tips to help. know momma had but I think that's what I have. think just have a harder time knowing what's the	page 191

07/31/2020 17:55:54	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, have been following your story shortly after it broke, btw hope this message gets to you and finds you well. Honestly, am mostly intrigued and saddened by the story. just rewatched the documentary on HBO. am unsure if you will write back seeing that you do not know me at all, and that is understandable. also wrote you to let you know if you didn't already that you are not missing much by not being out in the world right now as we are all on some sort of lock down, due to the virus, hopefully you are healthy. am just a 30s mom who has two young kids and is really into mysteries. am intrigued by the illness your mother had and why she did what she did to you, which is truly ashame. Nobody should have had to go through what you did and undoubetdly the medications and years of abuse affected your judgement. Hopefully, you are getting some counseling and rehabilitation while you are there and when you are released you can move forward and live your own life, putting this behind you. am truly sorry you were held prisoner your whole life but hopefully soon that will end when you are released. am curious, were you ever enrolled in school? Or a tutor? If not, hope this is something you are able to pursue in there if you desire it. It seems like you might be interested in some type of cosmetology maybe based on what I have seen on TV. Hopefully you will be up for parole soon and by that time this virus will be under would hope in 4 years we would have it under control anyways. You were dealt a bad hand in life, but hopeful that will turn around soon! Hope to hear back from you if you are interested in a pen pal via email. Like said am a mom, wife, and live outside Phoenix AZ, love to travel, watch/listen to cold case podcasts/shows, exercise, and love animals and shopping. Ps-I looove your first name it is so pretty!! My hubs would never go for that name if we ever have a girl though, he is super traditional :(Kind regards, you so much for responding! And yeah struggle in math too, it's a hard subject to learn, struggled all my years in school for math. That's amazing you get to take classes for your self esteem, think you're beautiful! And we have the same interests, i love drawing and reading! What shows do you watch? hope you stay safe! Sending positive vibes!	page 789

08/01/2020 12:26:50	Inbound	Hi sweet gyp! First and foremost, happy belated birthday! Your twenties definitely went faster than most people's, but better to get 'em over with ;) Did you do anything to commemorate the day? The book deal sounds like an incredible opportunity. hope that it gives you another platform to speak out both about your story, and on behalf of those who may be suffering in a similar way. Do you have ideas yet for structure, story, etc.? Writing my memoir a couple of years ago was quite the experience. It feels like never get there, and then somehow (with a lot of great people and support behind you), you do. know your work will be amazing. Please let me know if can be helpful!! In terms -- say much of anything, but when you get an email from him, implore you to, at the very least, open it. think it's important. It sounds like you're still making the most of your last few years in the facility, against all COVID odds! Any idea when classes will start up again? imagine the answer, as it is with everything these days, is that it depends. We really are all just hanging on for some sort of indication that it's time to return to normalcy, aren't we? I'm fascinated by how large institutions like prisons and, soon, college campuses, contain the spread. Please stay safe and healthy! Keep breathing CNN, and not any viral COVID particles from other inmates! Love hearing updates from you. All my best, always, xO	page 696

08/05/2020 15:50:41	Inbound	Hey Gyps, yea, that sound weird but can kinda understand and relate a little to that. What your describing is what feel after I've worked on the same boat for about 5 years.. get really bored, and complacent and no matter what i try, reading , working out, playing music, binge watchn TV. always seem to fall back to a state of just blahh ... whatever ... and sometimes move on to and feel a little refreshed. sort of like you say you did when jail was new. I'm sure the pandemic is stressn yall out too being ya'll have cases inside. wish ya'll wouldn't have that added stress and tension in the air. hope your session with the counselor can help you cope better with the emotions. hope your new man might help you get by too.. know am seriously not looking forwards to getting back to work knowing have to do at least 4 months but compared to you, have no room to complain but the time is not the problem, its the stress everyday,, every single problem is the Captains problem,, personal, mechanical and at home. But thats my job and what I chose.. was thinking about the short interveiw Japan people will be doing tomorow. they said they wanted to end it on a good note and my interview will kinda be helpfull,, so i was thinking of what can say to help with that and just want to say all the things we will be able to do together when you come home. There are a million things to look forward to If you can just hold on and keep it together.. Always remember, someone else was able to do it, so can you.. and at least you have hope and a definate timeframe. Also remember its ok to be blahh for a period, would be suprised if you didn't have some downtime periods where you just don't talk to anyone much..At the end of the day, before you get out, your gonna have to begin preparing for the real world and know it is early and you don't want to be to anxy because time will drag even more, but you should have ya lil time plan for your classes and your cosmo certificate and stuff. Meet those short term goals and find a routine that gets you through a whole day. if you have some free time in there thats warping you emotionally, then fill it with something creative or just relaxing, do you have enough music to listen too ? fine a new album from a favorite artist can go a long way.I don't have all the answers and can't pretend its gonna be or has been easy for you because know it is nothing could imaging, an etenal loop on planet bullshit where snitches get stitches.. am so disaappointed in this jpay app, it wont work on my iphone, ipad or my tablet.. maybe mom will let me try her password soi can send a short video clip. ok well hope you feel happier. lave Nad	page 191
08/05/2020 16:15:54	Inbound	Hi to you Gypsy @ I try to stay within the 24-48hr delivery but my JPay app doesn't tell me when you receive emails, or birthday gif! If it was late, have a good time at the after-party lol! And I'm here to tell you, I've made my life my own—it's all in Don't let a 'pandemic' or anything break your Spirit baby girl__you've come too far!! got you. I'm sure anger (of/why) comes a close 2nd to trust being your main issue. That's why don't ask you questions. As I've said before, it's your story and it's your story to tell. Once released, your legacy will be in your control— keep your head in the game, your classes, your therapy, fight the good fight!! All good things will have 4 keepsake/nostalgia boxes for each of my children—I've contributed, contributed. 08/05/2020 18:07:01	Inbound	I'm so happy you got it, Gypsy. was afraid there would be a problem . Like you wouldn't get it or it would get lost. But know how much you love Cinderella and fairy tales. Just like me. I've lived in a fairy tale world myself, well sorta. mean, always thought of myself as a Prince Charming, but know I'm not attractive like one. Not really good looking at all. But Cinderella's Prince in the musical of Cinderella is one of my dream roles for musical theatre. But knew was gonna get you an autographed invitation. Performers Carly Rae Jespen and Fran Drescher's (from the Nanny) are on there. Its Cinderella's invite to the ball. Consider it your invite to our world once you are released. Do you have any favorite tv shows that you watch while in prison? My favorite tv show has been cancelled since 2007 or 08. The soap opera Passions. If you liked Once Upon a Time, you'd love Passions. Because it was a soap opera inside of a fairy tale, musical, super natural world. I thought you'd like to see this. It's a picture of me when saw the musical of Cinderella and dressed up as the Prince (or Topher as he's called in the Broadway musical). Thought you'd like to see what look like for once. I'd love to make you a video of one of my performances but I dont know if they are allowed in prison. so hope to hear from you again. It feels good that someone keeps in touch with me. Only the best for you, Gypsy.	page 594

I've apologized multiple times. We hadn't spoken for 2 weeks. He has been back for 3 days and hasn't answered my calls yet. only received 2 emails one sentence long like "sorry missed your calls." He used to send me a decently written emails. He is so cold and distant, same as you were when you left me. now know the signs. 08/06/2020 21:03:33	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, thanks for the phone call tonight. really do enjoy hearing your voice. Also, thanks for trusting me enough to be a little vulnerable on the phone. know not all days are going to be sunshine and rainbows, so appreciate your willingness to open up. It is all going to work out for the best. know it in my heart it will, so have faith... Now, bet you enjoyed Star Wars last night. I'm so excited for you. would like to know what you thought about it ASAP. know that you have been waiting a long time to see that movie. fn love movie nights, so really hope you enjoyed it... And real quick, was upset today thinking about the possibility about not hearing from you. You really put my mind at ease tonight. so thank you Gypsy. That really meant alot to me. Plus, during our conversation tonight, you mentioned that you haven't really had alot of practice at relationships. Well, to be honest with you, neither have I lately. had to grow up and really fast, and dived into being a full time dad. That has been my existence these last few years. don't trust alot of people, well do, but not enough to be vulnerable around them. That is why on one email to you, said something like that must really be starting to trust you when I told you a very private thing about me almost having a kid. I don't tell just anyone. mean it. So, back to what you were saying, can relate to you about the relationship topic. Gypsy, maybe your third time will be the charm, hopefully, with me too. wonder if I will hear from you again soon. With everything going on, who knows, but can dream about it, right? Stay gorgeous	page 742

Are you always chasing the Ghost of a good thing when it comes to relationships and romance? Because am afraid that you are and coming from experience Gypsy, it makes you miss out on the things that are actually happening in the present. Be careful not to do that. Because you end up making awful decisions that you end up regretting and chasing again. It is a vicious cycle. I've been talking recently and wanted to contact you about something. If it's ok with you, I'd like to create a trust fund which you would be able to access when you're released. You could use it for education, therapy, and personal expenses when you're out. Would that be all right? When took the job helping to adapt the story of your experience on 'The Act,' thought would be able to speak with you directly as part of the writing and producing process. was disappointed when, after we had sold the show to Hulu, realized it wasn't likely to happen. Now that some time has passed, just wanted to reach out directly, say hi, and make sure it would be ok to set up the fund. All my best, =	page 795

08/08/2020 16:00:22	Outbound	He could really use a good friend right about now. So, just have been dumped. :(After my relationship with my ex ended in October last year, started dating from the group. No one knew about our relationship it was kept very private he had been a supporter for along time but he and only started talking once was single again and we had a pretty good connection, but screwd up getting into another relationship too fast and wasn't ready when he was to move forward. it took me about 8 or 9 months to be able to completely let go of my ex and had been away because knew wasn't fully ready to give my heart away again. anyways told about my difficulty moving on and he felt like second best so he left me for it. We went a month without talking then talked for a few weeks then we started to argue about the things said to him, referring to when confessed wasn't fully over my ex. So finally just told me he just can't let go of the things said and even if I'm over my ex now, it still doesn't take back what said and how it hurt him. We currently aren't speaking and this is the 2nd time I've been dumped in under a year. I'm just so hurt because have now moved on from my ex but now its too late. said he feels we need to go our separate ways, not forever but this is not something that can be fixed right now. asked him if he wanted to be here for my release day and he said he isn't saying yes and isn't saying no to that question. I'm at a point have given all have to both relationships, maybe a little late i case but gave it all got and it wasn't enough. Every time feel can love someone and that person love me and trust that person fully, get my heart so broken. I'm just really done with all relationships right now.	page 681

It hurt having to be told yet again "this isn't working need to go our separate ways" and he flat out said "I'm rejecting you right now" Like he cut ties and really drove it home that our friendship/relationship can't be fixed or worked out. I'm like, do put up walls and it ant a brick wall, its a ring of fire and I'll burn anyone when feel it necessary to do so but what I need is a man that's gonna walk through fire to get to me, kiss me and tell me its gonna be ok. and he's like well I'm sorry but can't be that guy for you...the same shit you said! I'm dumbfounded. No wonder I liked him he is just an older version of you! remember saying that too, liked him because certain things he'd say and did reminded me of you when you loved me. 08/10/2020 01:13:50	Outbound	Thank yo for the picture. :-) that's pretty cool how you're dressed as the prince. :-) feel you should absolutely reach for your dreams of playing the part on any stage! The autographs are wonderful! have placed them in my photo album. :-) As much as love fairy tales, honestly, don't much believe in fairy tales in a real life setting anymore. thought that had found my happy ending with my ex fiancé, and he left me. My heart healed eventually, it took some time but began to trust and love again with another and then, again was abandoned, quite recently. Now find myself questioning if true love even exists. if it does, sure have not been shown it. Perhaps happiness with another person just is not meant for me, or perhaps have had my heart broken one too many times to see me ever giving my heart again. will however always have the love of my family and it is with this that will have a happiness surrounded by people who know, love and accept me unconstitutionally and for now, that is enough. If ever do meet someone who will be the prince of my story book ending, well..lets just day he's sure got a lot to prove before he gets that title. Life is all about living for your dreams and once am free of these walls and chains, I'm gonna live my happiness. :-)	page 594

08/10/2020 22:58:22	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, I'm so sorry to hear that you're going through this. know that it feels absolutely awful, especially when your heart still hurts a bit have also been through this before. Once started dating someone once when wasn't over the last relationship and it wasn't good for me or my ex boyfriend and our relationship unfortunately suffered. want to say that am proud of you for keeping your relationship more private. You have a right to your privacy with your life and it's no one's business what you decide to do with it. Or to tell you what to do. Plus it sounded like people on the internet went crazy when they knew so that's another good reason to keep it more private. Also, anything you tell me stays between us. know you don't know me super well but do promise that. I'm also proud of you for realizing that you had moved too quickly and all the way ready to give your heart away again. That is growth and maturity! In some ways, you might be wishing that you didn't telly but honesty is so important and in the long run, its for the best that you did. He may need some space to figure out how he wants to move forward. It doesn't mean that it's over forever. Sometimes breaks can even be good for people, because having some time apart allows both people time to figure out what they really want and need. know your release date is very important to you- as it should be. It will be such a good day! not 100% sure when it is but know there is some time before it. You and could be in a very different place than where you are right now. If you are together at that point, have no doubt he will want to be there and show his support. know that your family will be there with loving arms and some of your friends to see you on that amazing day. Try to not to think about who be there. Only time will tell. Life is too often full of hurt and heartbreak. You deserve someone who is patient with you, understands you and allows you to be yourself might be that person. And he might not be. But if he isn't, that's ok. You are a beautiful, strong and amazing woman and the right person will come along someday. know there's nothing can say that will make it all better, but just know that you are not alone. am here for you :) If you ever want to just vent or talk and get it out, feel free to email me anytime. hate that it takes a few days but I guess it is what it is. can also give you my phone number if you want. don't know how that works but I can figure it out. hope this helped some.	page 681
08/10/2020 13:09:38	Outbound	had a VERY weird dream with you in it. So was back in Springfield and was wanting to buy this castle/mansion Turns out it was a castle occupied by vampires. I'm touring the place to buy it and then you show up to take a look at the castle as well. make the owner's an offer and they accept. then we have this party/ball to celebrate my new ownership of the castle, but the vampires still are living there as well. then find you standing ass naked in the moonlight in front of one of the larger windows in one of the bedrooms. You tell me to come closer to you and you tell me you've changed, youre not human anymore. ask you what do you mean? and you then tell me the house is not safe, the people who sold me the house are vampires and they also have werewolves and you have been bitten by a wolf I tell you to stay there and go to confront the old owners. rejoin the party and the main point of the party was to make me into a vampire as well with one huge vamp orgie. Then you and me come up with a plan to blow up the castle and get away, but you're still a wolf. So ending of this crazy story, I'm human and your a werewolf. down side no cure for your extra hair, up side sex is wild. lol and we live happily ever after! lol	page 720

Secondly know you may receive a lot of letter and emails and understand it may take a while for you to reply back to me and if you do appreciate it so much and thank you for your time in just taking the time to read my email. Your sad situation of how your life has come to be has made it all the way over the pond into the uk, and feel so bad for you and what has happened to you and how your life had come to be what it has. hope you get the help and support you may need and that hope you would like to correspond with me and talk more, like you my mother was overbearing and wanted attention, as well as being a hypochondriac she would also be the same about herself and us children with the Munchausen syndrome by proxy, so do understand more then most although it was not as bad as what your mother had put you through. would love to hear back from you and maybe even meet you one day but no pressure on that as this is only the first email and do not want you to feel obligated or forced into doing anything you don't want to do. would love to know so much more about you, but you are probably still finding yourself too, but if you ever need to talk about anything or need someone to just listen and be a friend am always here for you. Keep well and stay safe. Kind regards	page 796

08/11/2020 00:40:03	Inbound	Hey Gorgeous, Good Morning. hope your day is going great so far. really do dig that country song. Now, don't get too carried away with sending me too many country songs though. This song might be a diamond in the rough for me. like the message of the song also. agree completely. Who knows, right? just want to keep enjoying you and your company... Still sexy as fuck to me to communicate through songs... I am a little confused about something though. You didn't even want to talk i on the phone before, and now you want him to come visit? Just curious. Where did that come from Gypsy... Also, hope you receive all of your photos today. sent the scooby-doo ones and the posters talked about sending. The first three are probably my favorite ones, guess that is why they are hanging higher in that hallway. #4 and #5 are cool with some unique qualities too, but the first three are by far the better posters to me anyways. Check them out, let me know what you think. told you that love posters and artwork... Now, you asked me about our visit and a kiss. would be lying to you if said that haven't thought about it, but can't give you a straight answer at this second. If the opportunity arises and the mood is right, then am definitely down with it. Let's just see how it plays out. It might be a year before can even get up there to see you anyways. One thing though, really am a great kisser, not just saying that either. Maybe you will find out for yourself one day, but don't say that I didn't warn you... One thing that keep forgetting to tell you during our calls. Do you remember how last week said that i can always talk myself out of anything, and never get in trouble. Well, it wasn't the next fucking day that got a write-up at work from my supervisor. almost died out laughing in her office when I thought about what I told you the night before. WTF. just kept thinking to myself that Gypsy cursed me on this one, just playing, haha... So, your have your walls guarded like Azkaban huh? Haha, damn. A guy's soul will get destroyed by deamantors if they get within 5 feet? better not try for a kiss then, haha, unless have an "expecto patronum" spell on me to send those fuckers away. Who knows, could be lucky enough to pull that off..	page 743

She's even cheated on me 4 times all with the same guy and I'm afraid she might still be. Its come to a point where feel the same way you used to feel. feel cant leave. My autism has put a very big effect on me because have no family, no Job, no money. If I leave, I'll have nowhere to go, AND all my dreams had here in NY will vanish. tried looking for programs help, but no one will stick with me. feel even though treated badly, still have a roof over my head and food. And my wife has done (probably worse than the other girls) exactly what my past girlfriends have done. They all broke up with me because of my autism. So know how you feel about true love. I've gone through several fiancées before finally married this one, they all left me because I'm disabled and I'm limited (think that's the word). I'm starting to wonder also in true love exists. But know it exists for you. Because you DESERVE it. My feels like you as well. She'd love to message you but she's not sure what to say. But she loves your story. And idolizes you. I'd like to ask you, do you have a favorite tv show you've seen while in prison? :) Agaij, I'm huge on soap operas. My current favorite is Days of Our Lives. :) Are you nervous at all about seeing the board next year? Just know, love hearing from you. It makes me feel real good knowing someone would remember to message me. :) Hope to hear back from you. P.S. My saying to you is you can do anything you wanna do, Just believe. The music is in you. Deep down in your soul. When you find it, nothing will be able to keep you from making yoir dreams happen.	page 594
08/12/2020 01:35:23	Outbound	Guess who lives 10 feet from me??? FML she is directly across the hall from my room. am paranoid! locked my locker, ripped up my address book with names and numbers in case she tries to buy my roommates into sneaking in my things to get my family and friends numbers. she's not even in my room but she can easily still buy people into being her minions. She pretends to be cool with me but shes so fake its unreal. and what's pissing me off is she and my friend Emily are getting chummy with each other and Em knows EVERY detail about my life currently. Em and have been roomies for a year until she moved into a different room recently. Emily has rode tough with me through our break up. She held me when I'd cry at night, tried to talk me out of the epic blonde failure of a hair do, and she has been a good influence on me to learn how to build a tough skin with people. is my close friend and now the 2 are all buddy buddy... WTF? I'm starting to get this uneasy feeling in	page 721

And you want to have one pretty quickly when you get out? might be curious on who you got lined up as your Baby Daddy, haha... Also, honestly, hell yeah would to kiss you. What kind of question was that in the first place, haha. would like to do more than that if could, but don't think that is allowed during visitation, haha... The real question is whether you want to or not, hmmm? guess that have to wait and see...	page 743

I'm glad this sounds good to you. I'll work with my lawyer on creating the trust. It will take at least a few weeks, think, to do the paperwork. (I haven't created a trust before, so I'm not sure about the exact timeline.) My intention is to have $50,000 in the trust by the time you're released. I'll keep you updated, and I'll respond to your longer message once it arrives. In the meantime, feel free to send me any questions. Hope you're safe and well. All my best,	page 795

08/13/2020 15:23:50	Inbound	Hey, Gypsy No, she hasn't hit me yet. She's only done stuff like lie every single day, cheated on me with the same guy 4 times (a guy who used to be my friend), harass me about wanting children (I want them too but know now is not the time as we don't have the money), accuse me of going around sleeping with female friends of mine when never have, saying killed her grandparents when had nothing to do with their deaths (he was 91, she was 94, it was their time), and promising to get even with me for doing all this stuff never did. But no, she hasn't hit me. It's actually come to a point where I've been pushed to the brink of self-defense and call her names. Because if I don't, she steps on me (figure of speech) and taunts me for being a pansy. want to be nice but it keeps failing. The thing is, I tried some of those facilities for help. They pretty much took my wife's side and said "it's no wonder she treats you bad," or something like that. They basically took her side because she lied to them all, basically told her story and they fell for it. Interesting you ask that. I'm not only in the support group for you. I'm one of the admins. that. It's my favorite group that admin. And yes, trust you with stuff like this, because know what you've been through. And want friends like you, because you're right. My autism is a challenge. Many people in my life have abandoned me or turned me away because I'm in the spectrum. As a matter of fact, years ago when used to work in a movie theater (for 6 years), this customer came in, he could see was on the spectrum, physically pushed me and he told a police officer at the theater "people like him shouldn't be working for the public." I've had a very hard time for many years accepting who I am. haven't been able to make friends. So you are entirely correct. really really enjoy hearing from you. It really makes me feel less alone. You're really someone I feel like someone can relate to. :) And feel good being open to someone like you. It makes me feel a bit better about myself :) Hope to hear from you soon. Hey, It's been a while since heard from you. I've been depressed lately, what with my wife and all still abusing me. You said if ever needed someone to talk to. Well, found you a friend. was wondering something. made a recording of when did a reading of three shows: Wicked, Little Mermaid and Cinderella. would love to show you the videos. Am allowed to send like you YouTube videos or something to you via email? I'd love for you to see one. If so, any specific one of those three you'd like to see?	page 595

It makes me think though. am really hoping that this doesn't end by tomorrow morning like the lyric says... wonder if you are going to send me anymore country songs to listen to soon. And will get those song lyrics to you tomorrow night. have been busy this week and haven't forgotten... 08/13/2020 14:26:18	Outbound	Ok, that would be amazing. My other email contained questions for you, but I'll go ahead and resend a similar email to that first one, I'm not sure what happened to my longer email. was surprised when Erin mentioned you were going to be reaching out. will not hide the fact I felt cheated and used b The conversations that she and had were meant to be personal and confidential. My has texts from claiming she wouldn't go through with any projects involving my story, Then she went behind my back and created The Act without my involvement or permission. I'm not only upset but hurt that anyone would pretend to care about me as an individual then use my story because it was the most interested and intriguing story to date. do not and have not ever had any conflict with you or the actors, actually approve of Joey Kings portrayal of myself. My conflict was always with because of the personal one on one conversations she and had and her deception. It was deeply upsetting to my family and I, that while Joey and Patricia were accepting Emmy awards, the real Gypsy Blanchard is sitting in prison without any earnings from the shows production. watched them on stage and asked myself do they know how dirt did me? do they know I never saw one red cent from the show? and one question lingered in my mind, why?? Why and who said Joey couldn't talk with me? who said you couldn't talk with me?? and why was it all so hush hush from me? have done interviews in the past and worked with production teams so there would have been no issues working with my facility to set up a meeting. The money aspect aside, could have given details only know, and helped with the accuracy. want to add never spoke about my objections of the show, except when asked to make a comment to which stated my family is looking into legal grounds for suing, later recanted my statement. I still have not seen the show, lived it, the memories play over and over in my mind and that's enough for me. Please tell me what happened? am not upset with you personally, again it was always	page 795
08/13/2020 16:10:02	Outbound	In 2017-2019 My father and stepmother unfortunately fell prey to a con artist by the name who claimed to be in the industry. My father signed to a bogus contract with this woman. She made claims to be writing a TV drama similar to The Act, and this would have the involvement of my family and myself despite her claims knew she was a fraud once she started creating her production team, that consisted of random people she met in online social media case discussion groups people with absolutely NO experience or creditable sources to be signing to any entertainment projects. has spoken as a family source in multiple platforms such as In Touch Magazine, People Magazine and never had any say or control what she said or did. She was only ever a fraud who was creating damage for me both personally and publically. My family and have since cut all ties and she has slandered us on social media for it. In 2019 my engagement to my then fiancé was announced, not by our choosing. It was not meant to be made public. it was who announced the news without my permission. The public's interest in my life at the height of the hype from The Act mixed with this woman exploiting me at every turn, caused problems for my relationship was just a normal 27yr old guy working as a bartender in downtown Seattle. Due to the pressure of fame and everyone having an opinion about our relationship, in October he ended our 2 year long relationship and our engagement with it. The break up and pressure of the fame left me going through a mental break down. I lost myself and felt more alone then ever. Thankfully now that the hype has died down and am just living my life outside of the public eye much happier and am more stable. I'm currently single and 3.5 years away from release (eligible for parole) and I'm going back home to my father and stepmother where will live until can get a place of my own. have needs that my father can not afford, will need cosmetic dental work done and will need therapy when I'm home. These are things that do concern me while still in prison. So it is wonderful what you are trying to do for me.	page 795
08/13/2020 22:14:12	Inbound	Hi and I'm from the UK. I live in a place called Gosport which is near Portsmouth, England. saw your documentary here and became so drawn to your story, and I'm literally just watching The Act which had sent to me on DVD. It's shocking at what you had to deal with and my heart feels for you. You have grown up into a beautiful princess like you've always wanted to be and you have so much support for you it's awesome but I'm sure you know this already. can understand your mindset about the why's and where's and the what if's etc and truly wish you didn't have to serve time in prison for been in prison pretty much your whole life & hope that one day you gain your freedom soon. myself have had cancer twice and won and know about sickness very well. I am now 50 years old now with 4 teenage boys of whom am very proud of. They lost their mom to a heart attack last year and it's been and will be a continuing battle with their grief. Before this happened was a model for catalogues but I'm now a full time dad. It's the hardest job ever can tell ya! Even though I'm 50 I don't look my age which is a blessing lol. Well don't know if you'll receive this email or reply to it but hope so that you do so can see that it works and who knows we can become friends! You are going to have to be strong for yourself and at some point leave her. if you don't, you could very well end up like me sitting in prison for domestic assault or even murder. a person can only handle so much of the put downs and manipulation that one day and you've passed the point of no return. never have been quick to violence, I have never even hit anyone! swat a fly and it doesn't kill it but in here for murder! so please think about my advice and leave her before something really bad happens. understand your struggle, and the situation you are in with having no where to go but my concern is your emotional health.	page 594

They are about 17 hours driving time from me. so they travel about once a year to visit. 08/14/2020 15:39:18	Inbound	Hi I'm so sorry about your break up but hey hiss loss ! I'm shocked that your not getting paid anything from The Act and would keep on the case as you deserve at least a percentage . Regarding the Mommy Dearest documentary it started off obviously with what happened but as it went on you realise at what actually happened and feel for you and your dad and step mom seem lovely people and your dad came across as a victim to the lies that were probably put to him but it shows you meeting him and your step mom and it was a lovely moment and my heart melted for you . On Facebook there are numerous support groups for you each with over 2000+ members who are in support of you . In some media stuff over here it states that you could be out on parole by December 2021 but who knows the truth and really hope it's true and you can start life with your dad and step mom . hope that luck finally comes your way as your the victim . Are you able to watch Disney movies in there or is it restricted? Look forward to hearing from you soon and also there is going to be that someone special for you out there at some point in time and your a Prince will arrive x	page 792

08/14/2020 16:22:24	Inbound	Oh Gypsy really do hope you get out soon and served 5 years , that in itself must be so hard . Thankyou for letting me know about the emails on sat and Sunday that don't get to you . Im pleased that hopefully you'll get something good will come out of all this but it's easier said than done . know your prison uniform won't do your self esteem much good but it's the beauty inside as well as outside and not what your wearing . The transformation in yourself is awesome . You say that it's a 17 hour drive from your dads place to you !!! Wow that is some distance , where live is like the bottom of England and it would take me less time to drive to the top of the Uk , that goes to show you the vast difference in size of our country's ! You mention about your President about how he handles your country but trust me our Prime Minister is as bad if not worse! The guy is a clown ! In prison do you have to be up at a certain time and is it crowded or not too bad . I've never been to America ever but one day would like an opportunity to do so . Who knows ! I'm sorry you don't get a lot of visitors regularly but guess it is what it is and one day who knows we may meet at some point in life ! that be crazy ! It would probably be less time travelling from the Uk to where you are than it is for your dad . Ok my princess & I'll send another e mail on Sunday evening here so hopefully it'll get to you by the Monday . All my kids are out so it's just me and the dogs here but I've got the fans blowing as it's hot here x	page 792

Its funny you mention The Act, I'm currently emailing one of the producers. He reached out to me because I, for a lack of better words was screwed over by that show. By rights should have been given a percentage of earnings, was not. The production team membe Dean stole my story and created a show without my consent. Furthermore made sure no one, not even Joey could talk to me. am curious as to why and that is what I'm going to find out soon. have never been paid for anything I've done media wise. My name i and have been following your story for years now and wanted to take this opportunity to reach out to you to say G'day and show my support. couldn't even begin to imagine the life that you have lived and the terrible things that you have been out through from such a young age. As a young mother of two, could never comprehend hurting my babies in any way shape or form. The strength and determination that you show even after all you have been through is truly admirable. bet from where you were 5 years ago you never thought where you would be today. have a couple of questions to ask you if you have the time to respond and feel comfortable answering - please do not feel obliged at all. you contacted upon the making of the TV series The Act? And if so, how did you feel with them wanting to share such details of your life for other viewers enjoyment? Have you been allowed to watch the show since it has aired and if so, how do you feel that they portrayed yourself and your situation? Has the current pandemic changed anything for yourself while you've been in prison? Are they offering any kind of support for the inmates that are unable to see family and friends given happening around the world on the outside? Where am from in Australia we have been lucky and had too many cases, but have family in Florida who have said that it's just insane there. I send my condolences to you on the split from your fiancé. hope that you are doing well processing it all and moving forward and working on yourself. Just remember that we find happiness in ourselves, not other people. You are a beautiful, smart and worthy woman. really hope that you have the opportunity to respond so we can keep in contact with one another and become friends. would love the chance to eventually meet you one day when you have been released and the world isn't so crazy and are able to travel again. think you would love Australia. The shops and restaurants flourishing with the increased business that tourists bring ever year around this time. Sitting under the white and green stripped canopy of Café Du Mon, Gypsy Blanchard, a Louisiana born cajun, is enjoying her coffee with a side of Benets with extra powdered sugar. Her petite frame fills the dark washed jeans and black tank top she chose to wear on a semi sunshine day. Her long dark brown hair is pulled into a pony tail with sunglasses sitting on top like it was only a fashion accessory with little practical use. She finishes her coffee with a little bag of benets to go, and walks toward a small boutique filled with paintings from local artists. Art has always been a interest of hers with her having, what she would call, limited talent with a paintbrush. She admires what could capture the spirit of the city, almost like a moment in time depicted in a single canvas painting. Her eyes befell one such painting, that of a small child holding a flute, for many years, jazz and blues has brought life to the historic city and this is a essential part of what makes New Orleans such a soulful place. 08/18/2020 19:16:03	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, spoke to the lawyer this morning, and everything looks good. He is preparing the legal document required for the trust. When he's finished with that, will sign and notarize it, and then I will open an account with it. then send you a summary document from him that explains some details and says that the trust is intended to be used for therapy, health, education, support, maintenance, comfort and general welfare after your release. I can only imagine how difficult and frustrating your experience has been. hear you regarding the way you were treated on the journalist side of things, and I'm sorry that you felt cheated and used. It must have been very hard to see the show getting sold when you had been promised otherwise. can't apologize on someone else's behalf, but can do what think is right on my own, and that is to help you have resources for your health and wellbeing when you get out. More to come on the trust when I have news. I hope you're staying safe and well. All my best, =	page 791
08/18/2020 12:32:55	Outbound	Hi Gypsy, I sent a letter to the parole board. Hope it's of some help. mentioned this too as well. Is your request something that you would want shared with other people who might also be interested in writing letters to the parole board? Hope you're safe and well. Best, app sounds cool. Unfortunately have no access to apps or the internet while in prison, these emails are only through a certain email service that is only email. like Disney still, they have some good movies but I've grown up a lot over the last few years and now I'm more interested in other things. 08/18/2020 09:29:45	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, hope your ok and had as good weekend as you possibly can ! Yes my daughter has done modelling in the past but she is always critical about her appearance but we all are our own worst critics. She is a police Officer now so I'm very proud of her. Have you met your half sisters and brother ? came across a photo of you with long hair and you are stunning and I'm pretty sure as when you are eventually released opportunities will come with you . I'll send another photo and combine it with the photo of you to see what you think . This weekend for me has been traumatic as my 2nd youngest Harry who is 16 has just split up from his girlfriend and they got together 3 weeks after his mom passed away so he's taking it very hard and it's just like when we lost my wife his mom so it's awful to see my boy this way and all can do is be there for him but he opens up more to women than men and can understand that. I'm just laying down on the couch now watching some tv before do some recording . What mean by recording is that have this singing app called Smule and you can join in on duets or do solos with other singers all over the world good or bad but it's fun and takes a lot of time up. don't know if you have heard about it or not but it works like this , you join in on a duet of a song you love and you sing your part into your devices earphone mouthpiece and when your happy with your recording (you have settings as well to improve the recording) it goes into your channel on your profile with the music and it's amazing how good it is. know you love Disney movies and there are a lot of Disney songs on there to try . did a duet from the movie " The Greatest Showman " . It really does pass the time away. If you ever are able to get on Smule look up me and you can see all my recordings. My username name s Smithlet147. You don't have to pay any money to be on there either but you can only join in on duets. a VIP member as paid a years subscription after a few weeks of being a non member. The difference is that being a VIP member I can start a duet myself or even sing whatever song want to and if your not a member you can only join in on a duet. But trust me it takes a lot of spare time up and pretty much just do duets and it's fun . have no idea if you'd be allowed to do that in there but the app is called SMULE and it's harmless but if you like singing even if you think your bad it doesn't matter it's really fun . going to do some more recording later on to pass the time away as the weather here right now is rain which sucks. know this email gets screened or something like it but everyone join Smule if you love singing . had a few people message me on one of the support groups for you asking in how to get in contact with you so you should be getting more mail . So Princess does your days are always the same or does it differ? Do you have a routine that you like to go by? Me like routine as know where am in things to do , like in the mornings I take my dogs for a walk , then have some breakfast then shower, and start on housework, then lunch , then more housework then go food shopping . If a spare few hours I'll do some more recording or I'll be taking my kids to and from where ever they need to go . In the evening take the dogs for another walk , cook the boys dinner then I'll wash up and then I'll try and catch up on some tv . It's not like that everyday but it's not far off After I finish writing this I'm gonna have me some porridge, put the washing on and do some recording . Ok princess chat later and keep strong (% x	page 792

The bit that got to was where you were at the cinema watching Cinderella! Still never mind I'm sure it was made to be more for entertainment value but know the truth and believe in you ! Me personally regarding relationships is like yourself where as my wife passed away last March 2019 would never get involved with anyone else as my kids wouldn't approve and got it in me to do that. My wife had a sudden cardiac arrest and she just sat down and died , she just simply closed her eyes and that was it! thought she was mucking around but she wasn't so it was a case of dealing with the kids grief and helping them cope to which I'm still trying . She was only 46. You just never know about what happens in life. said to the doctors that she was ok 4 hours ago and there were no signs nothing and they said it happens which didn't make me feel any better so I'm a mom/dad all rolled into one and it's the hardest job in the world being a parent. hope things are ok with you well as can be and hope the day you find out when your release date comes sooner. really feel for you Princess being locked up but just stay positive and strong and you'll be out hopefully soon . Gypsy blurted a loud obscenity due to her sudden shock. Gypsy's horror quickly turned into laughter when the man quickly apologizes in broken French/Creole that she can barely understand. Gypsy then notices the horse. The horse, named Sugarcane, was a pretty black horse with a braided, shiny mane. Sugarcane seemed to look right at Gypsy, right into her eyes, like the horse was gazing directly into her soul. This encounter gave her a complete sense of relaxation and comfort as she stared back in awe. Gypsy almost broke down into tears when the man and the majestic horse rolled away from her. Gypsy looked in amazement as the two of them disappeared around the corner. Gypsy thought to herself and pondered what just happened... Around the same time, Gypsy had her experience with the horse carriage, across the famous Mississippi River on the East Bank, a handsome man was just waking up from a long night out in the historic city. a Louisiana Native similar to Gypsy, was from North Louisiana. considered himself to be a true Louisiana boy, despite being heckled by people from South Louisiana saying, "North Louisiana isn't Louisiana, you are actually from Arkansas, not Louisiana." This always seemed to the wrong way, but it was all in good fun. had actually been living in South Louisiana for close to a decade now, so he considered himself to be truly cajun, although he never fooled anyone with his strong, twangy country accent of course. came to New Orleans to see his childhood friend and of course, for Mardi Gras. had never been to New Orleans during this time of the year, so he took the opportunity when it was offered to him. es staying with one of his oldest friends during his trip. After waking up fully, enjoyed a bowl of Frosted Flakes, although they were nothing compared to the legendary Beignets from Café Du Monde that Gypsy had the privilege to eat for breakfast, but was satisfied nonetheless. really only had one mission to tell himself on the drive over from Lake Charles, in Southwest Louisiana, "I have to find the accomplish on his trip. best Mardi Gras parade in New Orleans." Little know that this trip could possibly be life-changing if the events took their natural course of action... After Gypsy regained her composure from her near fatal, but intriguing moment with the vehicle from the 1800's, Gypsy crossed the street walking in Jackson Square. Gypsy always took time to relish these small moments in this lively area. She would watch the street magicians and even the Mimes on occasion. Gypsy would always be reminded of a Peppy Le Pew cartoon when she would come across a mime dressed in the black and white stripes attire, and this time was no different. She always laughed to herself about it from some reason. Gypsy knew that she had to get home soon before she actually drops her new prized possession hanging under her arm. In the last year, ever since the show aired, have had thousands of new supporters sign my petition for early release, as well as contact me personally all with 100% positive feedback. I still believe that more awareness needs to be shared about Munchausen By Proxy. I thought maybe you might be curious to know how am doing besides all the rest shared with you earlier and share who is Gypsy Blanchard today. The Gypsy Blanchard everyone knows from The Act is almost a distant memory. no longer have a squeaky voice, Yes is it still feminine, but its no longer "child like". have been taking general education classes and have passed every subject except math. have successfully completed 7+ institutional classes and teach one myself a class called ICVC is devoted to teaching other inmates how to take accountability for their crimes and aid them in ways to give back to the community. share my story as a cautionary tale, own my part and don't sugar coat or make excuses for what I've done, but also know my actions were set in motion before was ever born, with my mothers choices. My father and stepmother are very close in my life, my father still feels guilt to this day but the past is not the majority of what we talk about. He and I have become close enough for me to share the deep stuff and though he is a man of few words he gives the advice need to hear. My stepmother is the spearhead for my support team, she may have been a little more outspoken in interviews then id like but her heart has always been focused on seeing me free as soon as possible. I've learned in the last 5 years, I am much stronger then ever thought possible, and these days have no problem speaking up for myself and doing what feel is best for myself. As to he did reach out to me when he finally arrived in prison. He wrote me a 7 pg letter that contained nothing but more of the abnormal talk with a biblical twist. He asked me to get back together with him and told me he knew about my then fiancé and was offended and believed was committing adultery because to him, he and were "married." and went on to make a point to give me a month to choose between him and my then relationship. As you can imagine it was not even a thought in my mind to rekindle things knew the day would come that he would contact me in some way, most likely a letter. pondered on if should or shouldn't write back. sought the advice of friends and family and we all agreed that needed closure. wrote him one and only one letter in response. explained everything that happened in the 4 years since our arrest and was honest with him and apologized for being responsible for his involvement and wish things hadn't turned out this way, however am not that same Gypsy anymore, can't erase the damage, nor can ignore the fact we are toxic together. Besides was happy with my new relationship	page 791

08/24/2020 01:46:07	Inbound	As Gypsy got ready for bed, her mind kept coming back to the loneliness she felt in the bathtub. To ease her suffering, Gypsy turned to a routine of hers that usually soothed her every single night. Gypsy went to her Keurig Coffee Maker in her luxurious kitchen and selected from a variety of coffee flavors that riddled her cabinets. Gypsy picked what she believed to be the perfect blend to comfort her nerves on this occasion. After a couple of minutes She sipped the freshly brewed coffee in her favorite mug, which resembled a little green man that was known for his wisdom and knowledge. Gypsy always hoped that the figure on her mug would somehow magical appear at the moment she drank, offering up some sort of advice that would help her immediately.. Of course, the mug she drank from was a Yoda coffee mug that she found online on a Star Wars website. His green, long ears were the handles for this cup, and when Gypsy was especially needing a great cup of coffee for the night, she would always use this exact mug as her go-to... As Gypsy was getting ready to turn in for the night was ending his day of sight seeing at a restaurant his close friend worked. spent the day at the famous D-Day Museum in Downtown New Orleans. He had never been there before despite his many trips to New Orleans in the past. always felt guilty for never experiencing the Museum considering his love for History and the fact that he had previously earned a Bachelor's Degree of Liberal Arts in History. decided that this was the trip to go see this World War II masterpiece that New Orleans built to honor WWII walked around the museum in awe, gazing at all the different exhibits and monuments that filled this veterans. decadent memorial building. couldn't help but to reminisce about his Grandfather, that he called "Paw Paw." Grandfather served in WWII and was a survivor of the D-Day invasion. His eyes welled up with tears when he came across an actual duck boat that his Paw Paw drove on that faithful day which carried the troops across the French Channel to invade France. got so teary eyed that he could no longer fight off the tears, and he began to sob openly. Bu knew that these were tears of Joy. heart filled with pride and happiness that he was able to experience a feeling so deep at this moment. was soon overcome with a great sense of accomplishment for his grandfather, and could almost feel his presence in the room with him. spent the night at the bar of this restaurant telling his friend about his fulfilling day at the museum. Although his day was very memorable in his wasn't completely satisfied yet. He knew his overall mission in this trip... As Gypsy lay in bed that very night with Vader laying across her pillow on the opposite side, she was yearning for something else. Gypsy loved living in Mid City. She loved riding the streetcar along Canal St. She loved the local restaurants that she frequently ate. She knew that New Orleans was the place for her to be and thrive. But she was lonely. Her heart has always been very fragile, but full of love as well. As Gypsy lay in the dark, she couldn't help but recall all of her previous relationships that ended in pain and agony. She wondered would her heart ever find true love. Gypsy longed for the day that she would come across her soulmate. Despite her recent thoughts, all of a sudden, Gypsy became very optimistic knowing that her love was out there somewhere and all she had to do was keep looking. Gypsy decided then and there to stop thinking about the past and look forward to her future. She realized that her future was brighter than ever, and fell asleep completely at peace. That night she slept so sound dreaming about the great things to follow in her life Gypsy felt completely rejuvenated as she opened her eyes in the morning. Of course, Vader was there to greet her like usual, but on this day after her sleep, Gypsy rose out of bed and said to herself "This Mardi Gras is going to be one to remember."	page 748

Think of all the possibilities with your Cuddle you! #need you! #wild and wicked!, then, #snuggle all night! Fat Tuesday. (Mardi Gras day) m = Vader watched as clothes few left and right from the 6 foot deep closet of everything from the most formal dresses to the simplicity of Levi jeans and a healthy collection of film franchise graphic T's. In the massive pile of fabrics, Gypsy tossed the bunked outfits that was not worthy of such a night. Tonight she knew she needed to look beautiful, classy and have a subtle hint of sensuality if she was going to attract the perfect man. It was not like her to go physically looking for her soulmate. She previously tried searching online for "The One," and only ever found trouble. She had been looking for love in all the wrong places for many years until accepting singlehood once in her 30's as she never wanted to seem needy or desperate. Taking this step was new and unfamiliar to her. Her mind filled with questions of what if. Lost in thought, her mind was brought to a black lace open back cocktail dress with small delicate silver chains crossing down the open back. If she were to pair this dress with the right heels, it just might be perfect for the occasion. Gypsy, wearing only a white bath robe carefully decides her make up choice, a subtle smokey eye with a natural lip. Undecided if her long dark wavy hair should be up or down, she settles on half up and half down. She feared appearing too sexual might give off the wrong impression that she is looking for a hook up rather than a date, she keeps a balance of elegance and sensual. A small spray of her favorite perfume, Calvin Klines Euphoria. She then slips into the form fitting black dress and slides on the pair of heels she has only dreamed of wearing for a night like tonight. Decorated with a red heel between each heel spike, these black heels made an unspoken statement. This was a woman who will walk hearts to get to the right man. Think of all the possibilities with your Cuddle you! #need you! #wild and wicked!, then, #snuggle all night! Fat Tuesday. (Mardi Gras day) m = Vader watched as clothes few left and right from the 6 foot deep closet of everything from the most formal dresses to the simplicity of Levi jeans and a healthy collection of film franchise graphic T's. In the massive pile of fabrics, Gypsy tossed the bunked outfits that was not worthy of such a night. Tonight she knew she needed to look beautiful, classy and have a subtle hint of sensuality if she was going to attract the perfect man. It was not like her to go physically looking for her soulmate. She previously tried searching online for "The One," and only ever found trouble. She had been looking for love in all the wrong places for many years until accepting singlehood once in her 30's as she never wanted to seem needy or desperate. Taking this step was new and unfamiliar to her. Her mind filled with questions of what if. Lost in thought, her mind was brought to a black lace open back cocktail dress with small delicate silver chains crossing down the open back. If she were to pair this dress with the right heels, it just might be perfect for the occasion. Gypsy, wearing only a white bath robe carefully decides her make up choice, a subtle smokey eye with a natural lip. Undecided if her long dark wavy hair should be up or down, she settles on half up and half down. She feared appearing too sexual might give off the wrong impression that she is looking for a hook up rather than a date, she keeps a balance of elegance and sensual. A small spray of her favorite perfume, Calvin Klins Euphoria. She then slips into the form fitting black dress and slides on the pair of heels she has only dreamed of wearing for a night like tonight. Decorated with a red heart between each heel spike, these black heels made an unspoken statement. This was a woman who will walk hearts to get to the right man. 09/02/2020 16:55:26	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, happy to let you know that the trust fund has been set up. It's called the "GYPSY ROSE TRUST," established August 25, 2020, and there's an associated account set up at Chase bank. There is $30,000 in the account now. need to wait until next year, also for tax reasons, to put in more. At the time you're released, there should be a total of $50,000 in it. It seems like can't attach a document or file in the JPay system, but the relevant highlights my lawyer sent are pretty simple: You are the designated beneficiary of the trust. am the trustee. That just means that I'm responsible for distributing funds from the trust to you. So when about to be released, let me know, and will get the funds to you for therapy, education, and support needs. (The language in the trust says it's intended to help "pay for Gypsy Rose Blanchard's therapy, health, education, support and maintenance.") The Gift Trust is an irrevocable trust and, as such, cannot be revoked or modified in any manner after it is signed. So fortunately that was pretty simple to set up, and it'll be there for you when you get out. hope that you're safe and doing all right. All my best.	page 791

09/13/2020 01:42:10	Outbound	After all the shit I've been through feel like I've met the one, and yes know just go on and on about it, but it's true. You know all the hell I've been through these last few years with relationships. I don't see me calling you bitching about how bad my relationship is with this one. know I'm not supposed to compare relationships but is a million times better was on a good day. Have you ever seen the movie Bedazzled? it's about a guy who is totally infatuated with this chick and makes a deal with the devil to grant him wishes and he asks for money fame smarts to win her over, well after every wish ends badly and he never ends up with the girl who is named Allison,... lol yeah know... anyways He realizes she was not meant to be then he ends up running into this girl next door who just moved in and she's perfect for him and they fall in love and she's everything that the other girl wasn't... happily ever after.. lol My point is feel like sometimes you have to let someone find you instead of looking or wishing for what's not meant to be. It's one of those when the stars align type things. Mmmm that was late night ponderings with Gypsy Blanchard, I'm your host Gypsy Blanchard lol	page 213

09/15/2020 00:42:32	Outbound	Mom, I tried calling but guess just kept missing ya or your phone is acting weird again. know you have physical therapy so il try and call before you leave. Il saw the hurricane is gonna hit soon. hope still will have power and all. just be safe. worry about you being home alone. just wish was there so you had somebody who could help you around the house. Have you spoken yet? Als told me he texted you, he read it to me after he already sent it. He has a good sense of humor. teased him about the "haha's" though. I'm like no one uses "haha" anymore lol feel like in the last week or so I've made gains in maturity, sat down and wrot an apology letter, owned up to looking for a "rebound" and apologized for causing him any hurt from that being the reason he and started anything romantic. I talked as well, and explained that because HE is the one who ended the relationship, can forgive but can never forget and it is because can't forget that he and I will never be a couple again. wished him well and that is it. (No going back this time) Now that my plate is clear, have the emotional space to a proper chance without my past relationships getting in the way of this new relationship. and lastly I've been busting my ass doing homework for school because this years report card is gonna be reviewed by the parole board next year. I'm trying to improve all areas that I've been a poor sport in. Its taken me some time to feel secure enough to do all this, but feel really confident in where this is and am determined to graduate soon. My love life and my education are things I've lacked in and I'm make'n up for lost time. I'm still covid clean things are slowly getting better around here. hope we can visit in the spring, are gonna have to come back in December also for my hearing so hopefully I'll get lucky see y'all twice next year. :-) Anyways I'll still try and call. I love you. - Gypsy oh can dad add money to my account? I'm not sure when he wants to add more.	page 305

09/15/2020 00:03:44	Outbound	It was so nice talking with you, spending time together like old times. I finally believe your reason for leaving and I'm really sorry that happened to you and to us. The is the biggest sadness of all is we were so in love and truly for once in my unfortunate life was happy. felt like was gonna have a bright happy future with you. wish could change how feel with regards to trusting you again, but NEED that security and certainty in a relationship to bring my walls down and don't feel like you have the effort to work hard and mean hard, to make our relationship strong again and even then, fear wouldn't be able to forget the time in our separation because did give you multiple chances to reconcile with me then and you rejected me every time, at that point its not anyone else's choice, that was your own. I'm gonna always have a part of me that wonders what could have been. imagine it would be nothing but more of our best moments for the rest of our lives. You are gonna be such a wonderful husband and father someday. Maybe your children can come over and play with mine. If you have a girl and have a boy or vice versa, watch them be best friends then grow up to date each other. lol PLOT TWIST! :-) Sadly our dream of baby Balto is just too exclusive to our relationship that won't ever get a black and white Huskey, but might get a white and grey girl Huskey and name her Aurora. It is damn hard to imagine a life without you as my husband, had those hopes so firmly planted in my soul the very moment you kissed me 3 years ago today, but I'll create a new hope one that even though we are not who we thought we would end up being to each other, we both find love and happiness with who ever our partners are and our time together will remain a memorable greatest love story. <3 will ask for one last kiss when you visit again, make it a good one handsome. 09/16/2020 02:00:03	Inbound	Hey, Gypsy No, she hasn't hit me yet. She's only done stuff like lie every single day, cheated on me with the same guy 4 times (a guy who used to be my friend), harass me about wanting children (I want them too but know now is not the time as we dont have the money), accuse me of going around sleeping with female friends of mine when never have, saying killed her grandparents when had nothing to do with their deaths (he was 91, she was 94, it was their time), and promising to get even with me for doing all this stuff never did. But no, she hasn't hit me. Its actually come to a point where I've been pushed to the brink of self defense and call her names. Because if dont, she steps on me (figure of speech) and taunts me for being a pansy. want to be nice but it keeps failing. The thing is, tried some of those facilities for help. They pretty much took my wife's side and said "it's no wonder she treats you bad," or something like that. They basically took her side because she lied to them all, basically told her story and they fell for it. Interesting you ask that. I'm not only in the support group for you. I'm one of the admins. that. It's my favorite group that admin. And yes, trust you with stuff like this, because know what you've been through. And want friends like you, because you're right. My autism is a challenge. Many people in my life have abandoned me or turned me away because I'm in the spectrum. As a matter of fact, years ago when used to work in a movie theater (for 6 years), this customer came in, he could see was on the spectrum, physically pushed me and he told a police officer at the theater "people like him shouldnt be working for the public." I've had a very hard time for many years accepting who am. havent been able to make friends. So you are entirely correct. really really enjoy hearing from you. It really makes me feel less alone. You're really someone feel like someone can relate to. :) And feel good being open to someone like you. It makes me feel a bit better about myself :) Hope to hear from you soon. Mey, It's been a while since heard from you. I've been depressed lately, what with my wife and all still abusing me. You said if ever needed someone to talk to. Well, found you a friend. was wondering something. made a recording of when did a reading of three shows: Wicked, Little Mermaid and Cinderella. would love to show you the videos. 09/17/2020 11:42:19	Inbound	Hi. Gypsy, Iam 32 years old and i live in North Carolina. just wanted to drop you a note to say hi. My name i think with how the world is today people need to encourage other people. hope that is what can do. Be a spark of encouragement for you, one said "Make your life a masterpiece. Imagine no limitations on what you can, have or do." That quote is very interesting to me because i have learned that ifyou set your mind to something you can accomplish big things. When I was in High School, had two brain injuries. The first one was a go kart crash and the second one was a bicycle crash. i slid down the rode on my face and broke my face. couldnt really function to much after had to figure out how to do things over. in November ofthat year i got sent to the hospital for contemplating slitting my wrist. Though didnt do it they put me there as a precaution. The next year, did start cutting. had to either go to minnesota, to live with my dad or the state was going to take me. went to minnesota. My dad got married to a lady and i loved with them. She was having an internet affair and kicked me out. i moved back to nc then graduated high school went back to MN then back to NC. ended up trying to go to college and got kicked out because my grades were not the best. Then I moved to MN for a while. While i was there, i got engaged, it didnt work out and i spiraled downhill for a long time. i will spare the details for now unless you really want to know lol, The point being i was disabled for 14 years after my brain injuries, Now own my business by myselfbecause its something really wanted to do. want you to know ifcan do something like that You can too. -What do you want to do in life? What are your goals? You can accompolish anything. -Do you like Katy Perry? -Do you like Ducks? hope that we will be able to continue to message each other. We can talk about anything you want. Ifyou need anything, let me know and I will try to help. Love, after The Act, you will now get thousands ofemails ect but i couldn't help but email you after i watched it. What a life you had, however you mother only wanted to protect you. But it such a way you seen the world in a different way ... through the Internet. You didnt really know any better but by god was a total creep, very dangerous! i read you are out in 2024? not long now though, and such a life ahead but dont meet men offthe Internet they are on there for a reason ha 10 years in prison should be a breeze compared to what you have gone through! love kirstan xx	page 804

09/22/2020 00:07:08	Inbound	Hi. Gypsy, I am 32 years old and I live in North Carolina. just wanted to drop you a note to say hi. My name I think with how the world is today people need to encourage other people. hope that is what can do. Be a spark of encouragement for you, one said "Make your life a masterpiece. Imagine no limitations on what you can, have or do." That quote is very interesting to me because I have learned that if you set your mind to something you can accomplish big things. When I was in High School, had two brain injuries. The first one was a go kart crash and the second one was a bicycle crash. I slid down the rode on my face and broke my face. couldn't really function to much after had to figure out how to do things over. in November of that year I got sent to the hospital for contemplating slitting my wrist. Though didn't do it they put me there as a precaution. The next year, did start cutting. had to either go to minnesota, to live with my dad or the state was going to take me. went to minnesota. My dad got married to a lady and I loved with them. She was having an internet affair and kicked me out. I moved back to nc then graduated high school went back to MN then back to NC. ended up trying to go to college and got kicked out because my grades were not the best. Then I moved to MN for a while. While I was there, I got engaged, it didn't work out and I spiraled downhill for a long time. I will spare the details for now unless you really want to know lol, The point being I was disabled for 14 years after my brain injuries, Now own my business by myself because it's something really wanted to do. want you to know if I can do something like that You can too. -What do you want to do in life? What are your goals? You can accomplish anything. -Do you like Katy Perry? -Do you like Ducks? hope that we will be able to continue to message each other. We can talk about anything you want. If you need anything, let me know and I will try to help. Love, after The Act, you will now get thousands of emails ect but I couldn't help but email you after I watched it. What a life you had, however your mother only wanted to protect you. But it such a way you seen the world in a different way ... through the Internet. You didn't really know any better but by god was a total creep, very dangerous! I read you are out in 2024? not long now though, and such a life ahead but don't meet men off the Internet they are on there for a reason ha 10 years in prison should be a breeze compared to what you have gone through! love kirstan xx	page 804

09/26/2020 23:46:58	Outbound	Mom, hope you are feeling good today. had a long talk wit and explained that don't want a committed relationship right now, plain and simple, I'm going home with my and that's it. That night I'm released I'm gonna wanna sleep in a real bed and that's all wanna do is sleep. want to just process being free. It really stuck when you and talked and do just want to wait until can date around when I'm out there. so won't even bother telling dad because at the end of the day I don't have anything serious enough to get dad involved in. In my next 3 years I'm sure I'll have a couple of male friends write and talk to, but there won't be another anytime soon. seriously feel that If it would be anyone close to serious would peg it to IF he and eventually started talking on that level again. He was such an amazing support. My friends in here always tease me because change my men like change my underwear lol but do wanna just focus	page 305

Right now want my parents to pick me up and that's all, no dude as a plus 1. Get home and just sleep by myself no sex, and just process being home. know I'm the kind that doesn't like to be alone but think I'd rather be alone then fake loving someone for the sake of companionship. wanna really love again, and just don't see me loving anyone to the degree love you, while locked up. need to get out and date around before commit myself. 09/27/2020 04:57:27	Inbound	Hey my Gorgeous Gypsy, can sleep at the moment, so wanted to write you an email about a thought that keeps crossing my mind... don't care what anyone thinks about our relationship. People will always think that they know what is best for you. They will always try to control that they know what they are talking about also. But don't ever let them fool you, because they are just as lost as everyone else is in this life and have no idea what is truly best for you because they aren't you and are never going to be you... You decide what is best and what you want. And then you fight for it, and God willing, it will become a reality... I stand 100% behind that statement, and know what want... Gypsy Rose, WANT YOU. That includes the good, the bad, your virtues, and your flaws. You are so damn amazing and wonderful. Absolutely Gorgeous... love you Gypsy Rose. And am here for as long as you will have me. Hopefully, you feel the same... #GypsyRose	page 738

10/03/2020 01:04:40	Inbound	hello Gypsy how are you today? it is late at night right now ive been wanting to write all day but have been waiting for a quiet time to. Someone brought to my attention today that probably make you uncomfortable asking if you wanna get to know each other and be friends, im sorry if do bet you have millions of people and a lot of nuts coming out of the wood work to get to know you, there are a lot of support groups on Facebook for you and trust me see some nutty people and some nice people, never wanted to get to know you because of all the events surrounding you, yes had heard about it but seen awhile back ago your step mom on one of the groups saying you would like to hear from people and it would help lift your spirits. just thought you seemed like a sweet person and someone could see being a true and real friend so this is why chose to write you granted it is about a year or so after your step mom posted this but was weary at first because didn't want you to feel like was intruding on you by writing to you, and still don't want you to feel that way. im very sorry for everything you have been thru in your life and hope and pray that when you go home all your dreams come true, and you have a happy and peace filled life. Anyhow felt the need to say all that since was told made you uncomfortable and that's the last thing ever wanna do to you. today was quiet I rearranged some furniture and got to go to town for about 30 min today I don't leave the house a lot played outside then watched a movie that was the extent of my day so pretty boring. is there anything new with you?? When you told me you purchased a two year subscription to TV guide does that mean you bout a book to read what's on or do you actually get to watch t.v. shows? that confused me alittle lol. do you have brothers and sisters? have a brother his name i well have to get off here need to turn on the air conditioner or im going to scream tyl stay safe my hi Gypsy im sorry haven't written in awhile haven't been feeling good so haven't done much of anything. thought was feeling better today but not so much just wanted to write and say hello and am thinking of you and hoping things are going well for you are you getting really good at hair and makeup?? ive never been good at either. anyhow stay safe and hope you have a good day full of laughter and joy with your friends. Iwill talk to vou later)	page 802

10/04/2020 13:31:27	Inbound	Good morning GypsyRose, I'm at work and thankfully we are off to a slow start. was thinking last night that there is absolutely no reason we should be spending 30 weeks reading a book lol. Most people read a book in 2-3 weeks on average. This is a large book, and since we both seem to have attention issues it will take us longer. But 30 weeks?! We need to pick up that pace. We should be getting in at least 3-4 chapters a week. Then after we see how it goes we can find another book. Anyways hope your weekend was good have really missed hearing your voice on a consistent basis. was going to make your video today at work but I look really grungy today. know you like the scruffy look, but need to get some sun. am very pale. Maybe just get some of that orange tan in can Trump gets lol. So as of now the Patriots/Chiefs game has been moved to tomorrow (Monday). The Chiefs will likely kick their asses. mean they should! The Patriots lost their QB Cam Newton. Which btw is that picture of the guy walking in the space landscape on that picture sent you. That was labeled "The can't remember if already explained that or not. feel like mentally have gone through a whirlwind over the last few weeks, but things are getting better now. You and are back together, and it feels stronger than ever. am leaving my comfortable work desk behind and going back to the bullpen, these are good things. But like told you last night good or bad, get my thoughts, and or adrenaline going it keeps me awake at night. feel honestly like it causes memory loss. I'll write or say things to you, or anyone in general i get a case of CRS (Can't remember Shit). re joined that other group but still haven't found these post from . So these posts must be in group assume. Or maybe they're i group which is private, and you can only get into by invite. So since left think her and are the only two people that can invite me back in. Either way don't want to ask for the invite just so can see his posts then leave again. My recommendation as far as he goes is that he is likely harmless, but also weirdly obsessed with you. don't suggest giving him a lot of attention. get you don't want to be mean, but he's an odd guy. actually just found the picture of the private message he sent someone, and sent it to you. It definitely reminds me of a someone you used to talk to. Well anyways enough about him. would rather talk about fun stuff! like things we do when you're out like take you to see the northern lights and get you fesh McDonald's fries! also can't wait to see the look on your face when you try your first beer. don't think you're gonna like it lol. Alcohols is an acquired taste. We also need to go to a football, and baseball game. And of course the movies so can steal your Snow Caps. and this is now being continued after our conversation. I'd really like to hear more about this dream on Tuesday when I'm not at work. I'd love for you to have a dream like that someday, then kinda nudge me awake and take advantage of that. Its something think about often. Us being all wraped up warm in bed early in the morning when its still mostly dark out but the sun is still coming up. light kiss begins to get heavier, and more passionate until all the sudden our hands are all over each other, and you end up on top of me. thoughts to take into the day. MUAH. can't wait to someday have all that, and we will. you, and we'll talk Tuesday! Have a good day. love you, Esskay. TEE	page 413

10/07/2020 12:11:56	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, have been following your story shortly after it broke, btw hope this message gets to you and finds you well. Honestly, am mostly intrigued and saddened by the story. just rewatched the documentary on HBO. am unsure if you will write back seeing that you do not know me at all, and that is understandable. also wrote you to let you know if you didn't already that you are not missing much by not being out in the world right now as we are all on some sort of lock down, due to the virus, hopefully you are healthy. am just a 30s mom who has two young kids and is really into mysteries. am intrigued by the illness your mother had and why she did what she did to you, which is truly ashamed. Nobody should have had to go through what you did and undoubtedly the medications and years of abuse affected your judgement. Hopefully, you are getting some counseling and rehabilitation while you are there and when you are released you can move forward and live your own life, putting this behind you. am truly sorry you were held prisoner your whole life but hopefully soon that will end when you are released. am curious, were you ever enrolled in school? Or a tutor? If not, hope this is something you are able to pursue in there if you desire it. It seems like you might be interested in some type of cosmetology maybe based on what I have seen on TV. Hopefully you will be up for parole soon and by that time this virus will be under would hope in 4 years we would have it under control anyways. You were dealt a bad hand in life, but hopeful that will turn around soon! Hope to hear back from you if you are interested in a pen pal via email. Like said am a mom, wife, and live outside Phoenix AZ, love to travel, watch/listen to cold case podcasts/shows, exercise, and love animals and shopping. Ps-I looove your first name it is so pretty!! My hubs would never go for that name if we ever have a girl though, he is super traditional :(Kind regards, you so much for responding! And yeah struggle in math too, it's a hard subject to learn, struggled all my years in school for math. That's amazing you get to take classes for your self esteem, think you're beautiful! And we have the same interests, i love drawing and reading! What shows do you watch? hope you stay safe! Sending positive vibes!	page 789

10/12/2020 23:20:11	Outbound	Hi Dad, so I've got new juicy news about my love life. My conversation went very well, better than imagined. Earlier in the year he and I were talking on a romantic level and even in a relationship for a few months but it was all too soon after what happened wit! Well it's been a year since the big break up and I'm fully healed from that. I needed time and space to figure out what I wanted and after 4 months of self reflection and personal time to be alone. reached out to him and to my surprise he felt comfortable enough for us to talk. called him and we agreed it's better timing for us to reconnect. We have found our connection is strong enough to make the decision to be together so We are officially a couple. I've already told mom, she does support the relationship, feel more so because she's a lot more familiar with him as opposed to some random somebody. anyways, I love you and look forward to talking soon. :-)-Gypsy	page 191

10/14/2020 16:53:22	Inbound	hello Gypsy how are you today? it is late at night right now ive been wanting to write all day but have been waiting for a quiet time to. Someone brought to my attention today that probably make you uncomfortable asking if you wanna get to know each other and be friends, im sorry if do bet you have millions of people and a lot of nuts coming out of the wood work to get to know you, there are a lot of support groups on Facebook for you and trust me see some nutty people and some nice people, never wanted to get to know you because of all the events surrounding you, yes had heard about it but seen awhile back ago your step mom on one of the groups saying you would like to hear from people and it would help lift your spirits. just thought you seemed like a sweet person and someone could see being a true and real friend so this is why chose to write you granted it is about a year or so after your step mom posted this but was weary at first because didn't want you to feel like was intruding on you by writing to you, and still don't want you to feel that way. im very sorry for everything you have been thru in your life and hope and pray that when you go home all your dreams come true, and you have a happy and peace filled life. Anyhow felt the need to say all that since was told made you uncomfortable and that's the last thing ever wanna do to you. today was quiet I rearranged some furniture and got to go to town for about 30 min today I don't leave the house a lot played outside then watched a movie that was the extent of my day so pretty boring. is there anything new with you?? When you told me you purchased a two year subscription to TV guide does that mean you bout a book to read what's on or do you actually get to watch t.v. shows? that confused me alittle lol. do you have brothers and sisters? have a brother his name i well have to get off here need to turn on the air conditioner or im going to scream ty! stay safe my hi Gypsy im sorry haven't written in awhile haven't been feeling good so haven't done much of anything. thought was feeling better today but not so much just wanted to write and say hello and am thinking of you and hoping things are going well for you are you getting really good at hair and makeup?? ive never been good at either. anyhow stay safe and hope you have a good day full of laughter and joy with your friends. Iwill talk to you later)	page 802

10/15/2020 19:22:50	Inbound	You know what hurts about being blocked on JPAY is that everything ever wrote to you or sent is erased forever. It would be like never existed to you.	page 739
10/15/2020 18:51:11	Inbound	Hey Gypsy, hate doing this, because it is literally breaking my heart into a million pieces, but believe that am going to have to let you go completely... I still have feelings for you and still want to be with you. hate that our relationship ended so abruptly, especially when nothing happened to ruin it. came back and you threw me away and what we had built together like it was nothing to you. That hurt me so much. know how sorry you are, and get that you didn't want to hurt me. So, thanks for that, but am still devastated nonetheless... know how loyal you are and feel like have grown resentment towards you, because you are going to fight so hard for your relationship knowing that yall don't want the same things in life and you are already having questions about your relationship/getting in your head. And you plan on sticking it out with him no matter your differences, dreams, etc. which is ridiculous, because that will never workout. But at the same time you weren't willing to fight for our relationship when nothing was wrong. chose you because of your loyalty and desire to make a relationship work, and you changed your mind so fast about us for him. still have those strong feelings for you and am really starting to accept the fact that you are NEVER going to want me again. And that hurts, because know what we HAVE is special and we HAVE a great connection with each other. But you stated that we HAD something, not anymore though... feel like we do and you dont. It's that simple... enjoy talking with you so much, so decided to be friends again. But it is so difficult for me, because am still in Love with you and you're in love with someone else. Personally, he doesn't deserve it, because do. There is no way that he is better than me. No way Gypsy. But can't make anyone love me, and feel that have made you be my friend out of sympathy. don't want your sympathy. know that you arent physically attracted to me. know that will never be with you again. know that you will never see that what we have is something really great and it kills me inside. know that you will never love me like I love you. hate how was the "ONE" less than a month ago and now am nothing to you romantically anymore. don't hate you, but I hate the situation. don't think that could ever hate you Gypsy. Because of what happened, You definitely don't deserve me in your life anymore, but still wanted you so said that we could be friends. just don't think can go backwards with you, especially not right now. said that we could do that, because believed that still had a chance with you as long as we talked. am no longer in the game if we don't communicate. Blocking me on Jpay let me know everything that will ever need to know. You don't want any emails from me anymore, and that helped me see the truth. have come to the realization that you are not going to leav and am just hoping for another chance to be with you that is NEVER going to happen. You have made that abundantly	page 739
