07/26/2021 08:38:39	Outbound	want to address a certain topic of interest with my supporters and haters alike. Currently am single. have dated very few men in my life thus far. It is no secret that in the past had tried online dating and that is how met my obviously no one needs to be told how that "relationship" worked out or rather didn't work out. After being sent to prison in 2016 started receiving letters of support from people all across the world, and in the summer of 2017 received a letter from a then 24 year old bartender. We had a wonderful 2 year long relationship and unfortunately it was his choice to end it, and was left brokenhearted. After that became close with someone else, his identity will keep private, but this someone, who had corresponded with very briefly before the separation occurred between myself put the broken pieces of my heart back together. With each letter and phone call, he and I grew closer and closer and suddenly we found ourselves falling in love. He encouraged me to grow in maturity, with also allowing me the space to find myself and his positive influence was just as an important factor in our relationship as the love we built. We shared one beautiful year together. He has been a fierce and loyal supporter, friend and once upon a time, lover. He is brazen in his opinions and his only desire is to see me have true freedom. owe no one an explanation of my love life, but DO owe it to this man to defend his intentions as some feel it is their business, when it isn't, to drag my relationships into their drama. Since my incarceration, have not gone looking for love out of desperation like had in the past when all those years ago, Love found me in unexpected ways and make no apologies for opening my heart to these relationships. Strong emotional connections were made in unconventional ways and am a better stronger woman for having had the experience. Please be respectful to my privacy and the privacy of my former partners, as am not just a public figure for people to discuss, but I am also just a woman living her own life. Thank you for your time in reading this.	page 981

Love you bunches, exactly right. They ONLY want to get you to respond in a negative way. know it can be difficult to not respond but if you do, they will keep on saying crap. Sometimes the best response to people like them, is NO response at all. What i find helps me in situations like this is to write down exactly what you want to say to them on a piece of paper, read it to yourself then tear it up into little pieces and throw it away. You get the opportunity to get your feelings out but they don't get the thrill of you responding to them. promise it helps. They made a video or post about you this week. am watching for that. When do your college classes start? What have you decided to take? Remember, don't overload yourself with too many classes at once. It will be overwhelming. hope your birthday was good. posted that you and your roommate binge watched tv so that sounds like a good time to me. Call me when you get the chance. 07/28/2021 04:38:52	Outbound	want to thank all my friends and supporters for the amazing birthday wishes!!!! :-D Y'all are just the most wonderful people and I'm so blessed to have y'all in my life. Entering into my 30's I still feel like am finding myself a little at a time, have a much more clear image of who am now then I did even two years ago. People don't mature with age, they mature with experience. have gone through good and bad experiences and found one common thing about myself in every situation, right, wrong, or indifferent... am strong. Strong hearted and strong willed. This strength to press passed the hardships that led me to where am today, is the same strength that will see me through and lead me home. also found a voice long silent that when I finally did speak, my voice was heard around the globe. This voice needed to be loud enough for even those with little ears, that do not yet understand what child abuse is, to hear...see.. and understand that they are not alone. Loud enough for people like the neighbor who deep inside has a bad feeling something just isn't quite right, to be encouraged to report that feeling. Loud enough so when people hear the life story of GypsyRose Blanchard, I'm not put into a category, but rather am the cautionary tale of what could happen if... Loud enough that will share my voice with the world in saying, I am NOT the cycle of my past, AM the hope for a future that eliminates Munchausen By Proxy Syndrome and generalized child abuse. So invite all my supporters to take this journey with me into this new chapter of my life and encourage everyone to come together and tag all of your friends and share education about MBP, because we only have one voice, but together we have the power to make the change we want to see. Let's do this thing! #TeamGypsy #MBPawareness #ShowYourVoice	page 982

They say you are having a UP* there & cant wait to see you live a real life! try to explain these things to you because know sometimes you feel what happened defines you but sharing with people what you are accomplishing is showing that you are truly an inspiration! A few people say you saved their lives!!! You have so much value Gypsy! Yes you did something dramatic but you did it to save your own life!!!! Most people say they would have done the same! In your times of doubting yourself on who you are please remember what I'm saying to you! YOU ARE LOVED BY SO MANY!!! And well as for the ones who don't just think of them as TRUMP SUPPORTERS!!! 07/29/2021 09:45:43	Inbound	HAPPY BIRTHDAY, GYPSY. WE LOVE YOU!!!! Love, and eet baby birthday...when you see this. girl. Thank you for my family card. You made my day. Love you bunches, exactly right. They ONLY want to get you to respond in a negative way. know it can be difficult to not respond but if you do, they will keep on saying crap. Sometimes the best response to people like them, is NO response at all. What i find helps me in situations like this is to write down exactly what you want to say to them on a piece of paper, read it to yourself then tear it up into little pieces and throw it away. You get the opportunity to get your feelings out but they don't get the thrill of you responding to them. promise it helps. They made a video or post about you this week. am watching for that. When do your college classes start? What have you decided to take? Remember, don't overload yourself with too many classes at once. It will be overwhelming. hope your birthday was good. posted that you and your roommate binge watched tv so that sounds like a good time to me. Call me when you get the chance. 07/29/2021 12:53:11	Inbound	Exactly. That's part of why had to reach out to you and why support you through and through. I'm just so sorry you went through it too so badly and people really don't understand. my blood boils whenever see hate directed at you because they just don't know, they don't know how it molds you and it's such a unique form of abuse stemming from an illness and it sucks too because there were good moments, at least in my case when was little and before it got so bad in my teens and people always assume you must hate your mom, blah blah, that you were who you were when younger just because or that you're evil and didn't love her, blah blah....you never get to be you around mom's with that illness and it wasn't a matter of loving them or not...but you can't hate them either, because they're sick. I'm not proud of what did to escape at 18, and that's why invited them to live with me once got on my feet, thought my mom was better and I'm trying to save my little sister who's had MBP abuse so so much worse but my mom's not better do love her so much, have a young daughter, not even two, and I'm scared she'll pick up on grandma's Munchausen disorder alone being near her but can't compare to your situation, it'd just be so inconsiderate and rude because can't imagine how it's painful for you. I'm sorry Gypsy. For talking so much when my mom is in the other room. forgiveness. really look up to you. no You're right. Forgiveness. It's hard to navigate through it but you are so right one gets it and you've grown so so much and you are so strong for going through all of it and still growing and almost don't have the right words except you nailed it on the head. Sending so much love and hugs. I can't wait until you are free. You deserve freedom, love, healing, normalcy...I'm glad you've found a way to forgive. hope do.	page 969

Its hard to believe its been 4 years since that episode was filmed. did watch it when it aired but have not been able to watch any of the documentaries, most are on networks like HBO, Hulu, and don't have internet access or premium channels. These emails run on WiFi but ONLY for Jpay service. normally ask my friends to Google stuff for me, send me pictures, and articles. Anyway. My interests, have very eclectic taste in music but mostly like country and rock. Movies: like action and fantasy films and some comedy. like film franchises such as StarWars, Hunger Games, marvel and DC. I'm not into horror films, a total pussycat when it comes to blood and guts, but don't mind them so much during October for the 31 days of Halloween movie marathon on SyFy. TVShows: watch things like 90day fiancé, American Horror story, Game of Thrones, Right now I'm into a show on AMC called Discovery of Witches. There are many things have yet to try as interests are concerned. do want to travel after am released, have friends in Italy, England and Norway. They want me to go on this European tour some day. have always wanted to visit Europe the culture of other places has always fascinated me. Very boring I just heard about your story for the first time maybe 3 days ago. I'm not sure how even came across this. I've never seen the movie "The Act", although did hear about it when it first came out, but since have a sensitive relationship with my parents didn't make an effort to watch it. have, however, been watching every integration and all the trial videos on YouTube. don't have any specific opinions on it because haven't heard it from you personally. It isn't my place to form opinions on others or their situations. I'm not writing to get information or anything like that. just haven't been able to stop thinking about you since I've learned of you. I'm not sure why exactly you're on my heart so much but do have love for you, as strange as that may be coming from a stranger. When see pictures and videos of you think you're such an amazingly beautiful person. can't wait for you to be out of prison and get to experience your first chance at real and true freedom. do want to offer to be pen pals... or "jpay pals" guess. would like to get to know you and be able to be supportive when you are released. Just passing along an email to give you my upmost respect, with love and care. People on the internet are cruel and continue to poke fun at things they have no right to poke fun at. If standing up for you makes me a "sensitive snowflake" then call me frosty the snowman... You have an army of people who cheer you on every day, myself being one of them. Also! Congrats on your GED accomplishment! So badass!!! Can't wait to see the amazing things you do. Much love always,	page 985

My heart goes out to you for your difficult start to life, but despite not being initially social growing up, you seem pretty friendly and approachable. It can be difficult sharing things with others as each person has their own way of opening up due to ones comfortability. Everyone has something traumatic in their past. No ones trauma is greater then the other and being able to trust someone enough to even admit they had a trauma is a step in the right direction.	page 970
08/05/2021 12:47:08	Inbound	Dearest Gypsy , Awww , I'm happy you thought of me . feel special . But very sorry you sleep . would love to read your book . believe you need to tell the world your story in your own words . And just in our short conversations you seem very good with words . You are just such a wonderful person. would absolutely love to speak with you on the phone . Although must warn you get really shy on the phone . But let me think of a time when I'm not working . usually work 10 hour shifts Monday through Thursday . 6 am till 4:30 eastern time . And then on Friday can work whenever want . Or not at all. Yes you should defiantly watch all the seasons of the walking Dead . Yea all the ladies like Darrel lol . And will try to check out Taboo this weekend . For some reason the J-pay app isn't letting me send pre-paid (stamps) like it did in the beginning . It's acting weird . uninstalled it and added it again . So hopefully it will work . Hope you have a great rest of your day . And as always look forward to hearing from you .	page 971

08/11/2021 22:42:47	Outbound	Good How was your day? Yes, share a room with 3 other women. My roommates can change if move to a different room or vice versa. Right now my current roommates are trouble makers so I'm not too thrilled about that. understand what you mean about things not being what you expected. My last relationship was with a man who was in love with the idea of me rather than me as am. He was 43, worked processing claims for a boat company down in south Florida. He and never met, we were supposed to have a visit last year but due to covid restrictions that didn't happen. He ended the relationship in January. Sad part is he was who rebuilt my heart after: my ex fiancé, broke it. So went through two major break ups back to back. My advice is, don't settle for just ok, If you are not 100% satisfied with being with her, taking into consideration all flaws and good qualities that come with her, then you need to reevaluate your relationship and do what is best for your own happiness. You are a sweet and attractive guy, you won't have a shortage of dates. Just say'n. Ok so moving on to my fears, have a fear called Magaphobia, it is a fear of big things. Spiders and bugs also are my fears. a negative quality about myself is often close myself off to others. keep many people at an arms length and let very few see the real me. But my biggest negative quality is something that is changing with time. I am 30 years old, however lack the experience most women my age have had in life, so am still learning life experience even from in here. I am living by trial and error and doing the best I can at navigating between right and wrong. I am a lot more mature now than I was even a year ago, but this aspect of myself has taken time and life lessons that cost me, friends, family, lovers... Only those who love me unconditionally have stayed in my life through this growth period. I can say have a better understanding of who am and who want to be going forward. Which all ties into being able to love myself before can truly love anyone else. Maybe that is why that is why my past relationships have failed is because until now didn't know how to love myself as am. Now that do, won't settle for	page 974

08/11/2021 21:02:08	Inbound	Hello Gypsy, Please no pressure to respond. cannot imagine what living in an actual prison must be like, but can imagine what your life was like growing up. often called myself the princess in the tower, but regret those words now since it paints a pretty picture of child abuse. heard about your story only because of the crime you were convicted of, but wish was able to have learned about you through another way, like in college or a gathering of friends. hope you have been given some chances to make friends. It is something still struggle with as was not allowed to have friends when was a child and it was so discouraged by my parents that did not often try to have friendships even as an adult. find that have created some bad habits and will treat myself the way my parents treated me. am learning slowly to be kind to myself. Maybe that will grow into self love, but am not there yet. read an article online that stated you were hoping that people would reach out to you, which is why am! have never blindly reach out to anyone before- unless dating apps count! also wanted to reach out since can relate a great deal to what have heard about your childhood and don't think there are that many people who can relate- although more people can relate than knew growing up. As an adult, have read about narcissistic parents and was shocked to see things written down in books that thought were unique to my life and my family. If you ever want to chat, feel free to contact me. would be happy to talk about anything. It doesn't have to be about the past! have seen people make creative meals from prison commissary food and bet you have lots of ideas for things you want to do when you get out! The general details about me- am 34 years old. grew up and lived in Phoenix, Arizona until 2020 when finally realized was living under the thumb of my mother. got divorced and I ran to the White Mountains. got to find myself there, in the snow and under the stars. got remarried and moved to Austin, Texas this summer. play chess. It was something forced on me as a kid, but now as an adult, discovered that really enjoy it. like to play tabletop games and board games, but struggle to make friends, so haven't played in awhile. love video games, but am not very good at them. work in social media. It is strange to get paid for being on Facebook! My job keeps me surprisingly busy. work at the American Diabetes Association doing their social media and virtual events. The job is remote, so spend a lot of time at home with my pets, and I have lots of pets! have three dogs, two ferrets, two rats, and a turtle. go to graduate school online at Arizona State University. love to bake and think tarot cards are fun! hope you are doing well. You deserve a happy ending to come out of your past. And your past won't be your story. The press doesn't often write about the good and therefore things. hope you find all the good things this life has to offer. am rooting for you! From,	page 985

08/13/2021 00:21:51	Outbound	Is there any place in particular in the world you want to see? Personally my dream has always been to see the northern lights. There is something so romantic about the lights. Its nature's best light show. You said music is an interest of yours, Do you sing, dance or play an instrument of any kind? took violin lessons when i was 6, don't remember a lick of it now. lol like to sing but get really shy so sing when no one is around or in the shower but only sometimes. great vocals in the shower :-P So what field in the military would have interested you? I am not very political so don't worry about offending me, but are you Republican or Democrat? Did you receive the vaccine? I am fully vaccinated but even so, 4 weeks ago tested positive and spent my 30th birthday in a quarantine cell. had no symptoms but a mild headache. I'm glad took the vaccine because didn't suffer the symptoms. My facility has struggled during the pandemic and still struggles with how to operate during all this. They didn't have "a in case of a worldwide virus plan" so for the last year and a half the wardens have been winging it and trying out every way to change how our movements are controlled in order to help contain the spread within our camp. Visits were suspended for a year and only in June was reinstated. We have recreation 3 times a week for an hour. (keep in mind that pre-covid we could go in and outside whenever we wanted from 9am - 8pm with the exception of count times which we had to be in our rooms) ...Now we are inside more often than not. Video visits was supposed to be implemented almost 2 years ago, however installation of equipment has been halted. So the pandemic hasn't been easy on inmates either, it made an already limited freedom even more limited and now each day is uncertain of how things will be operated within our camp because if the number of cases gets higher, our movements, visiting privileges and activities are decreased due to the spike in cases. Have you or anyone close to you been infected? No matter what your beliefs are about the vaccine, covid or masks, please take some kind of warning to how the dangerous this all is. So far me, my sister, brother and our grandfather on my father's side has all had it and have survived. I say this out of concern, stay safe and do what you can to make sure you are healthy.	page 973

08/18/2021 13:05:37	Outbound	That is great news! just let me know when you need me to call ya. :) oh did you see the new In Touch article did? It was read to me and the whole article is BS. had 1, only 1 relationship and she's saying date multiple is furious about it. He wanted her to contact In Touch to tell that journalist to not take any interviews from her again refused. can understand he would be pissed, she is slandering him. He never used me for money, in fact HE would send ME $300 a month for 2 years and never did an interview with anyone. So her claims are only her opinion and the relationship. She never liked him because he called her out as a con artist. She's had a vendetta ever since. My point is I'm a grown adult, even if I was having multiple men at my side, who still haven't had a real date in my whole life so if her goal was to make me look like a huchie or "unstable"...It won't work because people who know me know that broke my heart enough to where am still not yet healed from that break up. Nothing she said added up, because in late August of 2019 I did that Enews interview talking about how yes, we were having issues due to massive media attention, but we were strong in our relationship. so the claim in this new article that dumped him in August doesn't make sense. October 2nd was the actual date of our split. Anyway, it is irritating that she claims to be a family friend when we all have broken ties with her yet the media don't know	page 080

08/18/2021 00:07:39	Outbound	Good evening, hope you are having a nice night. Well I'm up late. as a new Wiccan am learning how to read tarot cards so am practicing different spreads and I like how it doesn't so much tell the future as it guides you how to approach a situation. focus on a situation that need guidance and the cards help show me the path. I am also ordering rune stones which are another tool that serve the same purpose as tarot cards, as well as sage for cleansing bad juju. Some think I'm bad shit crazy for deciding to join the wiccan community but I'm the kind of person that is a free spirit and do as please, as long as it doesn't harm anyone or myself, am pretty much a hippie who likes to dance to her own beat. :) love nature, feel at peace at night especially when I can see the moon out my window. My spirit animal is a cat, also have a kitten play fetish but I'll leave that to the imagination. I am shy and quiet to strangers but once know you, am very humorous, open and very quirky. Like you said quirks make a person special. :) My ex used to say reminded him of the character Jess on the comedy series, New Girl. watched a few episodes and	page 974

He says he was being supportive when your boyfriend wasn't, and said if you were his girl, he would treat you with respect... He said it made you uncomfortable and you stopped talking to him. If you want to tell me your side, will listen. I never wanted to hurt you, bother you, offend you in any way. didn't write alot because am sure you have so many people messaging you, and I'm not some groupie looking to be friends with you because you're in prison and they think it's cool. I'm just a girl who saw a person in a bad position who deserves another chance at life, a chance to be happy, a chance to make her own decisions. would never have reached out if it wasn't for but I'm glad I did, and was happy to be available if you ever did want to talk. I'm sad that he has posted that you hurt him on FB, and have talked to him about it and begged him to take that stuff down, because quite frankly, it isn't anyone's business when you are in the lime light. told him even not using names, people just know who he means, and to stop. He's becoming hated over it. Hopefully, it will end. hope so, truly. is a beautiful person, and love talking to her. She is so kind. happy when my jpay notifies me of a message. feel like we have become real friends. If you want to write, it will be my pleasure. will keep it for because he doesn't need to know, and you are uncomfortable with him. just want you to know up front that still talk to him. wish you the best, and appreciate you reading my message. Sincerely,	page 992
08/24/2021 07:37:49	Outbound	remember something else...When had to give a urine sample at the doctors, I'd pee in a cup but my mother would take it and prick her finger and add a drop of blood to the sample. Why? don't know... its just another weird thing.	page 080
08/24/2021 09:44:43	Inbound	This is really good insight!! Very helpful! Please walk through normal fears she had and how she operated. Did she always answer the door? At home did you ever run, or walk around house? Tell me about her shonlifina and what she steal	page 080
08/24/2021 16:54:09	Outbound	No, she rarely answered the door unless it was expected company. She would let the person knock and knock and pretend not to be there even though her van was parked in the driveway. sometimes she would drive the van to another spot to appear like we weren't home. Our house looked like a horder house all the time unless she knew company was coming over. Her fears ranged from Lizards as a basic normal fear, to abnormal fears like me being in my own room for too long. A few times she caught me on my computer while was in my room so after catching me talking to people on Facebook on the computer, she didn't trust me enough to spend anytime in my own room. By 2015 was limited to changing my clothes in my room and that's it, she would time how long it would take to change clothes and she would get up off her bed to check on what was doing. If took a little too long in my room. she placed a reversed lock on my door so it had the lock on the outside of the door and would have to ask her to unlock it so could get dressed in my room. No didn't walk or run around the house if she was home, but when she wasn't home, would walk and dance too. we had a CD player and would listen to music that was forbidden like Katy Perry and dance. She didn't let me listen to pop artists because she said that was too little for the adult content in the lyrics. (I was 22 years old) As for shoplifting, we would go to Sams club or walmart and she would put me in the basket cart and she told me to slip things under my dress and sit on them. did and we would steal so much stuff, like dvds, clothes, food, hygiene products. She sometimes would have me steal dvds and she would go resell them at a local video buy sell trade shop.	page 080
08/24/2021 17:00:04	Outbound	BTW she never shoplifted alone she needed me to be the one to use my wheelchair as a means to hide things.	page 080
08/24/2021 17:24:43	Outbound	I'm going to be writing you things remember because lately my memories are clear as day, So they may be random emails but I'm writing what can give you as it comes. When my mother and were living in the Slidell Housing complex, in 2004/2005, my mom had a neighbor she would sell her prescription medicine to for extra money. She started selling her weight loss pills but then she started selling her pain pills and xanax. This neighbor told other people in the complex, so she had more then one buyer. In 2015 my mother stole money from our neighbor Debby Akers, after Debby trusted my mom to put the money Debby made after doing a experimental trial for one of those companies that pay you to be a volunteer for a new drug or product, Debby knew mom had a safe and so Debby asked mom to put the 2k in the safe for her...mom agreed but stole a few hundred from the money. and when Debby realized the money was missing, mom played it off like it must have been Debby's disturbed older son	page 080

He continues to be cold for what? To teach you a lesson? think it's a bullst. What's the point of all this 772? As told you long ago, Sometimes love is not enough ... 2 people must be happy together... I mean, if you have nothing in common with him (or someone else), relationships don't go on. Obviously this is my humble opinion. know you need to be loved ... I am absolutely sure you will find what you are looking for when you get out of jail. Until the day, you have to be strong ... Please hold on. You can be very strong, even stronger than me ... I'm completely sure. When you get out, you probably won't think that idiot Or me... He said he accepts he will die old and alone. and said you don't have to you have me! and he deflected that comment. he said he just doesn't see a future with me and he feels I'll end up back in prison for something else later in life. it hurt because he was a supporter then says this... wtf! I've done nothing to give him this impression of me. always was kind to him even after the split and he was so cold to me like nothing said matters and when said, you hurt me he said "well break ups hurt" hate him so much. hate how he made me feel like shit and talk to me like I'm nothing.	page 879

09/02/2021 14:13:25	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, Hope you are doing well. would like to introduce myself to you. My name and am reaching out to you because am a first year graduate student at Fairleigh Dickinson University in New Jersey. am studying to become a social worker, and have read about story. My goal is to help victims of child abuse, especially women that are incarcerated, with rebuilding their life. would also like to remove the stigma and judgment that is placed upon women from past and unfortunate circumstances. also strongly believe that you can't just give on people, and make assumptions without any prior knowledge of the situation. was recently assigned a research paper for my human behavior class, and the topic is finding out more about a person and their childhood experience. immediately thought about you, and how wonderful it would be to get your input on childhood trauma, what your day to day life is like now, and how you interact with other people in your environment. This is anonymous, and your named be used, it's just research. was wondering if we would be able to set a phone interview if possible, and more importantly, only if you are completely comfortable. If not, completely understand, and thank you so much for your time. The goal for my paper is that more has to be done to recognize signs of abuse. We can do better, and you deserved better. wish you a wonderful day and thank you again for your time. If you are interested, can send you the outline of the paper to make you feel more comfortable. Hope to hear from you soon. Warm regards,	page 997

As han and nha han with thin mber, love animals :-)) Have patience until the next semester (I know it sucks) but working with animals is in itself a kind of therapy ... It will do you good. You're going to study psychology, right? have read a text of Freud's psychoanalytic theories (yes, know that today there are all new and different theories). By the way, I'm still a little angry about what happened to that murdered boy (I know you didn't ask but I'm telling you anyway XD) I have this "sense of justice" which is sometimes difficult to explain ... — It's okay GypsyRose. can understand. seems like a good guy. To the offender population: Thank you for working with staff over the past year to battle the COVID-19 pandemic. Your cooperation with safety protocols has paid off. There now are COVID-19 cases in less than 0.1% of the offender population. Most facilities have NO CASES of COVID-19. COVID-19 vaccinations are underway for offenders eligible in Phase 1B of the states vaccination rollout plan. So far we have vaccinated more than 4,785 offenders, or about 21% of the statewide prison population. On April 9, all adults in Missouri will become eligible to receive the COVID-19 vaccination. This means all residents of Missouri Department of Corrections facilities will be eligible. We encourage you to take advantage of this opportunity to get vaccinated. Getting vaccinated is the best way to protect your health and the fastest way to reopen programming, visits and other activities. Nationwide, the COVID vaccine supply is starting to catch up with the demand, and we expect the vaccination rollout to speed up soon. However, vaccine supplies might be limited at the beginning of Phase 3, so please be patient. 09/09/2021 11:56:45	Inbound	If it is any consolation told me he just wants it to all be over. told him he can't post shit about you because you are a public figure and whether he says your name or not, people know who he means. haven't seen anything lately, but am sure he is in way more groups than am. want to believe him, but can not 100% vouch he is telling me the truth that he is done posting. can't tell. will tell you that believe he's harmless. don't believe he would stalk you when you get out. He's just a lonely guy who wants friends, but he has the mind of a spoiled 12 year old boy. has come to think of me as a mother figure, and ha: calling me her mother too. try to be patient and tell him when he's done wrong. The thing is, he doesn't always get it. don't abandon him because he needs help, and when he really opens up and explains what is going on in his head, many times he seems to not mean anything bad. However, am leery, at this point, to believe he hasn't made advances towards several women based on talking to his wife and seeing some screenshots from other people. He does stop when he is told no, so I can at least respect that. will tell you hints don't work. He is not smart enough for that. He is very low functioning in many ways. You must be direct. We have had words about the 'my word is law' crap too. I told him he sounds like a dictator and he needs to stop doing that. He thinks he is being a tough admin, but he's just pissing people off. A lot of things he says he gets from movies, and I told him that's not how real people talk, but it's how he has learned to talk to people, and it's like it's ingrained in his brain. I'm glad you added me back too, and whatever you say is between us. will not talk to him about you. and he will never know we talk. have been distancing myself a little, to be completely honest. He is negative, and need to give my own mind a rest from his situation. feel sorry for him, but just can't deal with hearing the same complaints day in and out. Sometimes will watch something with him over the phone, and that's okay, because then we talk about the show, or Broadway, and then he's actually interesting and positive. Right now, have been seeing a very old friend of mine who has finally beat drugs and alcohol, and we have been talking about so much stuff that happened over the years and reconnecting. It is so amazing to have my real friend back, and to get big hugs and know it's really truly him inside. missed him so much. can't tell you how happy feel just having him back in my life and knowing he's not dead somewhere. For the first time in 25 years, believe he is really clean and staying clean. I'll send you a picture of us. My poor kid has a cold and was sent home from school because they fear she was exposed to covid-19. She had to go for a test yesterday and it takes 3 to 5 days to get results. Because she had a runny nose BEFORE the kid who had covid- 19 came to school, she is 'exhibiting symptoms' and isn't allowed to come back until her test is negative. This virus is taking such a toll on our kids. How is it in there? heard that some people were rumored to have it and you guys might be quarantined. My puppy has been getting into everything lately. He's a little stinker, but he's so cute. He tries to lay as close as he can to me and just constantly craves attention. took him because he was the oldest puppy at the shelter at 5 months, and	page 993
09/10/2021 16:51:16	Inbound	Dearest Gypsy Darling, It's been a minute since I've had an email from you. Are all things your way going smooth and alright?! How busy have you been these days?? Are you still the main photographer of the neighborhood 2? Just curious. My sons baby mama is a professional destination photographer based out of New Orleans. Being destination means she's been all over the United States as well as to Italy, Greece, Dominican Republic, France, many more and of course, the Islands—Jamaica and the Bahamas:)) I've only been to Emerald Isle Florida (beach) and Avery Island Louisiana (where they make Tabasco) lol! Oh and actually the Island of Hawaii!! That was actually my son Make-A-Wish. It was a family trip. Some of the offers we did. Some we did not. Although most families did, we didn't have any benefits, allow it. never felt right making a profit off the back of my sick son so we just winged it. We were so fortunate St Jude really never sends a bill; but we sure paid for a lot of oil changes going back and forth. named our car 'Dragon' because we were always 'dragging' our asses to Memphis:)) From Islands to rambling on.. it's just been awhile since I've heard from you—digitally sent my background application at the start of summer in June. And sent you a gif $ for your GED accomplishment and for your birthday and usually hear from you then. So I'm wanting to send thinking of you here in the South!! My bestie took the best photograph at the beach from our trip at the beginning of the year and wanted me to send to you —FootPrints In The Sand— Girl think of you	page 235

09/10/2021 16:59:38	Inbound	Dear, Gypsy went over and over many times that would NOT take up any of your time away from studies to write you. But you have left an impact on me with your story so much. As a mother and now young 40 year old GRANDMOTHER pray for you to continue growing and finding who you are and what you want in life on the outside. cried with each interview you have done because you deserve so much I'm born and raised very South LOUISIANA and only a couple hours from your Louisiana family. see you as a young girl that is so soft spoken, with a huge heart, and just SO SO BEAUTIFUL!! You deserve to flourish in life and know you will without a doubt. Your support system is out of this world girly. know you get messages nonstop daily and I don't expect to have or need you to reply to me at all! know its WEIRD for a stranger to even do something like this, and never imagined would email someone do not know. BUT I just had to reach out and say pray for you, your family, your future, and everything you do in life. Prayers do wonderful things. Keep your faith in God, and always talk to him when in doubt. Dec. 2023 is so so close, and soon you'll be a South Louisiana girl like you are at heart, eating that good cajun seafood and all the other greatness our culture offers here. I'm looking forward to being able to purchase your book one day soon. Again please don't feel obligated to write me back. You are a human just like anyone else, and know others need your time well before I. I'm always here if you do decide to reply, and would love to be a friend of yours that enjoy each others company and not only be about " Hey I'm friends with Gypsy Rose, and she wrote me this" LOL. promise am far from one of those and only just see the good in people's hearts, and eyes. My 22 & 17 year old daughters think you're beautiful as well, and inspiring with the voice you have for others. Love, (Last name pronounced BRO)	page 997

09/12/2021 13:55:18	Inbound	Ok. It is Sunday almost 1PM on September 12 and am sitting on my couch with Your daddy and my husband, are getting stuff off of the boat. We went on the boat yesterday and stayed out until after dark. I can't wait till we can get your little butt on the boat when you can get up here for a visit. Your daddy got drunk and had a good time yesterday. sent the picture of me and her yesterday to you. Your dad took some pictures too will send those when she goes through the pictures. Your dad just got here....he said to tell you "Hi". Love you was placed in segregation aka "the hole" on the morning of the 18th and have not been able to use the phone or email, was released today. I am NOT in trouble, The reason was was under investigation, however it was not revealed to me over what. Rumors flew around camp that it was about a visit, Which did have a visit the week prior with but nothing out of the ordinary happened to give cause for me to go to the hole, so was extremely confused. I'm hearing so many rumors from other inmates that said what they thought it was over. Some said it was the stranger who got on my visitors list and brought a package, others have said it was about drugs, others said in a sexual manner during the visit. Which know it wasn't drugs or that grabbed him, and if someone came to visit me and brought a package wasn't aware of it. have 3 people who don't know on my visitors list because the caseworker doesn't ask me if I know the person who sends the application, he just approves the person who applied if they pass a background check. will be taking care of that on Monday by removing those people off my visitors list. The whole thing was so crazy, they kept me in the hole for 2 weeks and then cleared me of the investigation and let me go back to general population. I'm shaken up because I'm like would like to know why was under investigation instead of just hearing idle gossip from other inmates. Anyways, miss you and I'm drinking coffee watching TV happy to be out of the hole. :-) Btw see the parole board December 9th, got the exact date last week. :-) miss you love you	page 581

My major is Social Work, and was just assigned a research paper in my Human Behavior Class. The topic is about the environment you are currently are in and what your personal experience is like on a day to day basis. How you interact with other people and what your perspective is about your surroundings. This is completely anonymous and your name will be not be used, this is for research only. was wondering if you would be interested in talking to me about what your experience is like now? My goal is to work with women that are incarcerated and help them achieve their life goals once they complete their prison sentence. People deserve a second chance and you deserve more and your story needs to be told. can also send you the outline of the research paper to make you feel more comfortable if you are interested. If not, completely understand and thank you so much for your time. Hope to hear from you. All the best to you. Warm regards,	page 997

Travelling to America right now it is not easy for who come from Italy(and other European countries) There are several problems due to COVID-19... We have to wait(if you want you can ask or your family how hard is to travel right now) Probably in few months this situation will be different. Be patient... will do the same. I gave you my word. As han and nha han with thin mber, love animals :-) Have patience until the next semester (I know it sucks) but working with animals is in itself a kind of therapy ... It will do you good. You're going to study psychology, right? have read a text of Freud's psychoanalytic theories (yes, know that today there are all new and different theories). By the way, I'm still a little angry about what happened to that murdered boy (I know you didn't ask but I'm telling you anyway XD) I have this "sense of justice" which is sometimes difficult to explain ... — It's okay GypsyRose. can understand. seems like a good guy. It makes more work for me in the short-term this year, but next year should be a breeze. got asked yesterday to help the football team. am thinking about it. would be at some practices during the week and the games on Thursday or Friday nights. The head coach said that could be beneficial... know that have already said this to you a bunch already, but am really missing you. can't stand that this has happened to you. really wish knew what happened. want to help you also, but am afraid that would make the situation worse. hope that this has nothing to do with me or our visit. It doesn't make any sense to me on how it could be... Please don't let this beat you. Try to not let this happen again either. know that this is difficult for you. Stay strong for me and remember to smile baby. My love for you still grows stronger and stronger each and every day. have that unconditional type of love, true love, for you. You are my girl. Hopefully always and forever...	page 931
09/21/2021 17:06:08	Inbound	I shared this to group & wanted you to know exactly what said said people are going to think we are scammers! this is the second time she's said that. enjoy talking t and Vicki & respect them but don't get the same. If you & decide to do something they don't like have to hear about it. love you! no matter what XOXOXO just wanted to show that a few people made the assumption that may be trying to scam people Like mentioned before lost money on the shirts & I'm fine with that. Do y'all wanna know why!? Because when I was in prison had no body! Nobody to call, nobody to visit me, nobody sent me money, nobody wrote me! Gypsy was there for me every day! She bought my hygiene supplies, food, tobacco & let me use her phone minutes when my brother was murdered! She sang to me, she laughed with me, spent time playing & chilling outside with me even on freezing winter days on the yard. We talked about everything under the sun together. She cared for me when NOBODY else did. People tell me I'm a good friend to her, that's because she's is a great friend to me! will stand by Gypsy no matter what even if look bad asking people for a few bucks to get her clothes! If people truly support her then they also understand & give a damn when she needs/wants some clothes! If they help great, if they can't fine we still appreciate you lifting her up in prayer. But I'm done feeling like I'm walking on eggshells to make other people happy in my friendship with Gypsy. only do for her what she does for me & that's being best friends!	page 981

Would you cast a spell or curse on someone? Have you?	page 080

09/26/2021 22:30:36	Inbound	Hey baby, Loo Loo Bear just called me and told me some rumors going around. think inmate dot com has lost their fucking mind. They are saying that you touched Peppy during our visit, haha. How fucking ridiculous is that. WTF. #1 There is no way we would ever be able to do that, wish we could, haha, but no way that could happen. #2 We are not that stupid. #3 want to come visit as much as possible, so would never risk doing anything stupid... Also, rumors are of drugs. Which is even more ridiculous. They are going to have to let you go, because this is bullshit. Gypsy, this was a setup of some kind. People are mentioning your makeup. Saying stuff like hope all of her makeup isn't missing. It's your old roommate, Ashton. You mentioning to me during the visit that you didn't allow her, Ashton, to use your makeup. Well, believe she set you up with everything. Asking me that dumb fucking question, and everything. If something happened on our visit, don't you think that would have been contacted by now... Seriously, you should drop a note that you want to put me as your SO, and maybe your emergency contact, so could maybe talk to someone to clear some of this shit up. Or a note saying that if call, they can talk to me about what is going on. Because this is so much bullshit. Teacher at a Christian High School and have way too much to lose to do something so stupid... I'm sorry baby, just went a tangent, haha...I'm so f#cked off about this situation. You haven't done anything wrong. love you so much. Do you realize that this has now been the longest time that we have ever gone without talking. can't stand it anymore. I am missing my Gorgeous Snuggles and my fiance more than you can possibly imagine. hope you are missing me also. do get in my head from time to time, wondering if you will still want to call me as much when you get back to a normal wing and stuff. This has just been the longest we have ever gone with talking on the phone, so I do wonder that. know that we are meant to be though, so! am fine. You have my heart Gypsy Rose, and hopefully you still want my last name... Your Cuddle Muffin	page 926

I've been praying for you daily. I've only at first so had someone to talk to because was sad but also waited a week to tell because was hoping it would blow over & you'd be out. when that didn't come & they were messaging me seeing if heard from you & I didn't have the heart to hold it in. anyway I've been able to send you $160 so when you get out you should be able to get the clothes you need. Please don't over think while you're down there. know you are but Gypsy you know God has a reason for this & think it was to get you off that housing unit. sure hope it turns out to be nothing too bad. especially since you have no idea why it's happened at first. love you so much & waiting on your call or letter. hang in there soul sister xoxoxo (don't worry I'm not telling anyone else)	page 980

09/27/2021 00:39:53	Inbound	I'm so upset and angry about this baby. This is ridiculous and ludicrous accusations. There is no evidence whatsoever to support those stupid claims, because nothing fucking happened. All they have to do is watch the visit video and listen to our conversations about our visit. there is no mention or anything to support it. a simple investigation would clear up this bullshit. It is appalling to me that someone can say or get someone on the outside to call up there and say anything about anyone, and the prisoner be punished for no real reason. No evidence, no video confirmation, no statements from Give me a fucking break. You are completely innocent and any their own employees to support that bullshit. investigation will prove that immediately. You are being unfairly punished. What a joke. Watch the damn video, ask the guards, nothing happened... you baby. so fñ mad at this unfair treatment of you. Stay strong and know that am still here for you...muah	page 926

10/02/2021 20:49:36	Outbound	So my current beliefs are centered around nature, karma and willpower. came by paganism/Wicca, by means of an old roommate and friend of mine. She introduced me to it and felt it was right for me. wanted a natured based religion that believes in karma, good engery and bad engery. feel your fate is in your hands rather than my previous Christian belief that all your life is been written by God already. have the belief that if you don't like your fate, then change it because life is made of choices. Some would say I'm fated to turn out like my mother because of her life choices affected how was raised, say make my own fate and change that because its in my hands and power to do so. That isn't to say I don't believe in God, do believe there is a God, just also believe in self willpower to steer your life in the direction you wanna go. I started learning about Wicca in late December 2020. attend wicca service on Mondays. how practice my religious belief? by allowing myself to let go of bad engery and allowing myself to give out positive engery toward others to introduce good karma to me. often meditate and read tarot cards to guide my day and pull revelations about my life. No, have never cursed anyone, would never do that to someone. Yes, have attempted a love spell. It was in 2013 created a spell to and together as lovers so he would never to send me a lock of his hair and he did. leave me in an attempt to cancel out my mothers curse on me. asked took a strand of his hair and short strand of mine when my mother cut my hair routinely, and twisted the two together and enclosed it in a photo of me and a photo of him and wrapped it in red yam. The willpower of this spell was broken when wrote after he was sentenced and he wrote wanting to get back together, rejected him and with closure the spell ended, and he was free to have new relationships. Curses and spells are like wishes or a prayer for something to happen it is called manifestation, and the karma you put in is how powerful it can be.	page 081

10/02/2021 01:44:36	Outbound	Hell unfortunately had some unexpected issues going on that hindered me from emailing for like 2 weeks, am able to now though. I am flattered by your email, however the last man to tell me that he felt it was love at first sight, we dated for year and he broke my heart because he was "in love" with the idea of me rather than...Me. To be blunt you don't know me except for what you've seen on TV, and trust me, who was back then is not me now. You seem sweet but I've been hurt one too many times by men who are in love with the Gypsy Blanchard they see on TV. believe true love comes from knowing someone to their core and seeing them for who they are, accepting the little flaws and imperfections as well as the ambitions, qualities and morals that make a person unique. I'm not trying to come off as rude, I'm only expressing what have learned from the 2 failed relationships I've had in recent years. Real love in real life is no fairy tale, love is pain and joy combined. I wish you luck finding your happiness though. As for your other questions, yes am doing very well, start college next spring and have an upcoming parole hearing that will determine my release date.	page 1000

10/14/2021 15:03:48	Outbound	Im alright. Been busy with working on my book. It takes up 2 full days out of my week. We should be announcing the book project sometime in late November or late December. And the documentary series will start to film in December as well. We will be filming twice a month for a year. So the co writing team will come to the prison to film my interview. have no idea who called the number you had, was it from the prison? or just Missouri? because maybe someone just called the wrong number and called the number you had instead. idk I told I still email you here and there and he understands. He knows about our history with one another. I'd often talk about you with him. Si placed a safe guard to prevent people from using certain about me Its hard when your partner is not good looking enough to be accepted. I never had this problem wit was my trophy guy, handsome but not a great was handsome for his age again no bad comments there. But people se: as unattractive and tell me can do better. It makes me unsure about the relationship. :-(its embarrassing. Please keep this to yourself just am venting because I'm in my head about it. mean I'm a pretty girl, I'm no super model but could get a hot guy, most hot guys are either 1 taken, 2 GAY or are just players in the game. tired af and mane Lam and fida and all that hut chit fram now know why hole. 10/14/2021 16:13:10	Inbound	So,Gyps listen to me well. As told you time ago,people think too much about appearances / beauty / looks etc...and they talk too much! Follow your Heart...If you love the way he loves you, that's okay...It's the only thing that matters. know, Obviously in a relationship it is important to be attracted to your partner...But please don't worry about people's judgment...People suck. The relationship is yours, not people's. I can give you what you need, that's fine. Please do the right thing. He seems to be a good guy. (it's not important if he isn't cute) A real woman is able to see beyond physical appearance. And to be (probably more now than before) isn't all this beauty... Trophy?! Don't make me laugh...he's a weak idiot hope someday when you get out of jail you will be able to live your life away from social media and gossip ... but that's just my HUMBLE OPINION. Don't worry, this is all between you and me.	page 854

Nice movie but I've seen better ones. can't wait to see the next "the flash" movie There's Michael Keaton(again!!!) in the role of Batman (I sent the trailer to XD) There is a new series in the Star Wars franchise called "the bad butch" (on Disney +) I'll take a look...	page 853

10/21/2021 13:24:22	Inbound	it sounds like you haven't had the best of luck on the relationship side of things, but when you find the one i think you know.. weather its an instantaneous knowledge, or if its something that starts as nothing, and after time trust, affection and closeness build between.. sharing intimacy isn't only making love.. you can share intimacy just by knowing someone is there for you. louisiana will be nice, do you think that will be your forever home, or do you think that you may want to explore and find your own place outside of either that state, or even the country? i have quite a wide variety of music that i like too, pretty much anything from the beatles to slipknot! i saw slipknot live in 2006 at a festival called download... the mosh pit was quite scary, but i had to go in it! my favorite colour is orange, and my favorite animals are monkeys! bad habits... i've stopped smoking now, on the 1st of october, which is 3 weeks today.. and i have experimented with a few drugs over the years, but personally i found they aren't as good as some people make out, im not a massive drinker of alcohol, i did have a couple of beers on tuesday at my brothers house, cos it was his birthday.. i sent you a picture of me holding a chicken, that was at his house... also i will occasionally pick my nose (if no one is looking!) :-)) i sent you a message earlier today, cos i hadn't heard from you, just to check you were alright, but this evening, i've had a few messages come through, sent from within the last week. must of just been the system being slow. i felt you were a dream come true, firstly on a physical basis, i have never seen someone as gorgeous as you, or could of ever dreamed of anyone as pretty as you, so by that you are more than a dream come true... but the more we message and get to know each other, i can see your personality is equally as stunning as your looks.. i think you are the most beautiful girl in the whole world gypsy rose.. i feel everyone has their own idea and image of what perfection is, and you gypsy, in my eyes, you are perfection.	page 998

10/21/2021 21:26:14	Inbound	Hi Gypsy, I don't know if you remember me, but we went to conventions together and we were Facebook friends. My friend and I were talking about your case, and we want to know if there is anything you currently need? Can we send a care package or would it be better to just put money on your commissary account? Wishing you the best. How're you? rm and I'm from the UK, I've just finished binge watching your story, both The Act and a documentary on YouTube. Kinda hit close to home for me because a good friend of mine's mum put him through similar. Whilst not wanting this message to go deep or too personal just wanted to wish you all the best in life and send all the strength you need for your release as im sure it's going to be a crazy time for you.	page 1004
10/21/2021 14:15:59	Inbound	Dear Gypsy, I am a professor and also a survivor of munchausen-by-proxy. am working on a book that want to use to advocate for adult survivors like you and (my dad wasn't so lucky, nor lots of the pets), and also to work on developing better protocols for training doctors to identify cases like yours and mine. Also, my case was not as extreme as yours, and the media only seems interested in talking about really really horrific cases--the more people tell my story to, the more people look at me shocked and say, "that happened to me, and didn't know it counted!" While your story is SO IMPORTANT, also want people to know that MBP can often look much, much more subtle. We need more professors researching the topic so we can save children. Why didn't any doctor save you? What about me? was on 80 milligrams of morphine daily--nothing NEAR as extreme as you went through, but why didn't anyone say anything? remember all their faces. could tell sometimes they knew something wasn't right. But no one said anything. These memories--being haunted by the faces of those who didn't help us--these are things only adult survivors who became AWARE of what happened to them can talk about. We are the only ones who can help people understand what this sort of abuse does to the adults who escape it. For my part, i thought was disabled until was 25. People do not understand how it messes with your head to "re-learn" your whole body as an adult. This has costs on our mental health, and for me it has huge medical expenses. seek medical care a lot, bc have NO IDEA what symptoms matter in my body--because was told to listen to my mom about my body, not myself You know all this, of course, but the world doesn't. have long dreamed of reaching out to you, bc one thing I see so often is that most victims don't even know they were victims. Unless you have some good reason to completely question your own medical history, why would you think your mom made it up? Our stories can help other victims recognize themselves, self identify, and then start groups demanding more research. I've wanted to reach out to you for so long just because there are so few of us to talk together and make sense of what happened to us. I've also wanted to interview you for my book. Finally, saw recently that you are considering writing a book, yourself. already have a book agent working with me on my book project (we haven't sold it to a press yet), and would be very open to considering co-authoring something, if you like. You have the famous name, platform, and the version of the story people have heard. have the specialization in medical ethics, and the psychology of embodiment, as well as the experience writing books--and the version of MBP no one ever hears. really think it could be a best seller, and ensure income for you when you are released. know we would need to get to know each other better to decide if we'd like to actually write a book together. We need to decide if that's in your best interest, especially, but mine as well, and if we even like each other! But I'd also like to just TALK with you, whether it's via an interview for my own book, or just to get to know one another. hope you will consider calling or e-mailing me back. My phone # and my email hope you'll connect with me! Sorry for writing so much	page 1005

10/25/2021 01:32:03	Outbound	Today is Monday, and am teaching a class today. help teach a class here at the prison, it is a selfbetterment class. enjoying helping the other inmates learn how to improve their lives by enlightening them about the choices they make. have been in prison for 6 and a half years after living all my life under my mothers control so have basically grown up my adult life within this facility. I'm now 30 years old and have aged about 15 years in maturity in the last 6 years I've been locked up. I've learned many things. Gained experience through trial and error, and have developed a better sense of who i am. Enough so that the facility sees me in good standing to teach others. It took me a while to find my voice and build confidence in myself enough to speak to more then one individual but soon came to see my audience as just people like myself willing to learn how to transcend this place. This week is Halloween, do you and your children have any celebrations like trick You are too keep it safe for me until can travel to the UK. 44 44 aa	page 1000

My father works as a boat captain for an offshore oil company and is offshore most of the time. occasionally talk to my e but he rarely answers the phone to me anymore, its been 2 years since we split and we are practically strangers now. My emails to people who reach out to me are short and vague. It gets exhausting repeatedly saying over and over how I'm doing or talking about my past. sometimes shut down and just won't reply at all if I'm not feeling up to diving into one of those conversations, especially with a stranger. People mean well but it takes a toll on my emotions having to always be smiles and almost wear a mask of confidence when I'm just a normal woman who really is shy and trying to cope with how many people know my business and about my life.	page 998

10/26/2021 00:24:59	Outbound	now have received the emails you've written within the last week. :-) have thought about living elsewhere then Louisiana its just complicated right now. On parole have to live with family, so for a year I'll be living with my father and then I'm free to live wherever choose. have thought about living in another country but right now that is too far in the future to think too much about. have this friend in Italy, we don't talk much anymore because he is engaged and was catching feelings for me and didn't want to be a distraction from his relationship, but he wanted me to move to Italy. Of course he had his own reasons for wanting that as you can imagine but have family obligations and don't speak Italian enough to move there. I thought about living in England, need to research more into how things function abroad vs America. I have thought about living in the states but somewhere other then Louisiana... its all up in the air.	page 998

10/27/2021 13:57:14	Inbound	On your canteen make these changes: 1.) change RC Cola to diet. 2.) change sugar cubes to an artificial sweetener if they have one for your coffee. 3.) stop making your meals. Instead go to Breakfast, lunch and dinner at cafeteria. 4.) take your vitamins everyday. 5.) on your shopping list for snacks I'd only keep the popcorn because it has fiber, the peanut butter, the pickles, long grain rice and chicken. I'd pick one splurge as my max for the week either two Twix bars OR one pint of ice cream. I'd recommend not eating them first thing in morning as it will spike your blood sugar for the day. I'd go to cafeteria for ALL meals and follow this set of rules: protein, fruit, veggie. These are your always "yes" to eat. Heavy limit these: no white bread, no milk (because it has a lot of sugar) and no beverage (unless sugar free) no jello unless sugar free. Sugar= insulin. Insulin then turns calories into stored fat. Sugar is in white flour and of course regular sugar. They also make you automatically over eat. So eat sparingly as a treat. Example: Breakfast, fruit, rice, scrambled eggs, 2tbl diet, margarine, coffee. Skip toast, skip biscuits, skip French toast sticks. Unless whole wheat. Lunch: Eat the protein offered, the lettuce with dressing, veggie and fruit. Skip the bread, the crackers, crisp. If grilled cheese sandwich is offered with soup I'd make that okay since the protein is coming from the cheese. Dinner: Skip the bread and beverage and jello that's not sugar free. The reason why I'd go to the cafeteria is that the meals offer a fruit or veggie and protein sources that are portion controlled for you and offer more than your canteen food. You may crave sugar or get headaches since you've had so much of it. But have more energy once your body	page 082

10/28/2021 00:43:17	Outbound	I sent two emails to both dad The one to my father was just saying that love him but I'm at a loss of what else to say. And then sent one telling her that I'm here for support and that I'm still her daughter too, blood or not. I'm trying to refrain from lashing out at my father for his infidelity. And do not want my book to be a means to get back at him. fear that if this were to go in the book or documentary, he will distance himself from me. It isn't my wish to embarrass him or to the world. When he was caught cheating with the cookie lady the first time asked my father if could put the affair with the cookie lady in the book, he really didn't want that so discarded the idea. feel a lot of guilt for this happening, because women have seen him on TV from the documentaries or interviews and women my age find my father very attractive so they find him on social media and start flirting and he starts flirting back... The fame of my case caused his exposure to these women and that is why feel responsible. The worry of who will live with if they live in different places plagues my mind. was the first person called to gain support after you and talked. Of course he made the offer for me to live with him in Lake Charles Louisiana, an offer didn't refuse but instead deflected the topic for right now. I don't know what the situation will look like when my release date finally arrives. If this separation is happening, My father could possibly move to Canada to live a life with the cookie lady like he mentioned to me a few years ago. and may or may not even be still dating when that day arrives. who knows what life will look like when I'm let out of prison but I know one thing is for sure...no matter what, these people who stand beside me today, will be there regardless of who is together or not, they will be a presence in my life to see that adjust back into society and freedom because of the love we have built together. Things just might not be that "come home to my father under the same roof dream" that think we all imagined	page 082
10/28/2021 12:05:24	Outbound	I just got done talking with mom and feel its probably best y'all separate. The news came out of the blue and she is very calm, it seems she is really done this time. You have some time to think and take this time to really consider a separation to find who you want to spend your life with Please don't worry about me, My offered for me to live with him in Lake Charles if need be and I'm fine with that. always was planning to go to live with y'all because felt y'all needed that, but I'm going to be very close by if that isn't going to work out. Idk who will be living where if you want to find out if you're happiness is in Canada with or its staying in Cutoff. All know is you and mom will always be my family and know you both will be in my life even if its not living all together under one roof. You have to see this as an opportunity to reset your life and who is standing beside you, don't be impulsive and just beg for another change to work it out, and then continue to do the same things... think and then act on what your heart wants once you know. I love you. P.S I'm applying for another college so I'm hoping that one will have the finding to cover new students.	page 196

10/29/2021 00:19:00	Outbound	know you are not the same kind of man as my father. Most women want their future husbands to be just as great of a man as their dad but in my case, don't want a man like my father. feel that if stayed that may have been the case because see the same coldness in Jeff's words to me as my father's words to Some men have what it takes to be faithful with only one woman for the rest of their lives and others never feel a love true enough to make them faithful so they are always dissatisfied. read your emails going back a year and they are consistently the same devotion without fail. We have not always been officially dating yet ever since you met me you haven't been with another woman, sexually or emotionally. don't feel you would betray me because you have too kind of a heart to ignore how much that would hurt me. Which is why I got so pissed when you told me about your co worker running her hands all around your shoulder (eerrr I'm pissed all over again thinking about it.) Bitch needs to learn about the MeToo movement and keep her muffins to herself. My man has a nice tasty warm muffin dripping with butter right here. My muffin is an all you can eat buffet. There is no "after" its starting to be just live with it. It has been a difficult last few years with the pandemic. Even in here, we had to deal with shutdowns of all our programs, classes and have limited recreational time. Our visits were suspended for like a year, in person contact visits just started back up this last June to where can actually hug and kiss my loved ones. Other things never started back up yet. Our staff directed us to wear the masks then don't wear the masks then its your choice to mask up, then back to wear the masks or get a write up for not wearing the masks. Our prison did not know what the hell to do. think they have a better handle on things now but in the beginning omg it was a nightmare. 11/02/2021 12:12:35	Inbound	Is it ok if as a friend on FB ? Your right about mom n . We need to see if we could be happier apart. always wanted a strong woman beside me and now she is there and don't deserve her anymore. should have had the guts to leave a long time ago instead of hanging on and thinking could find happiness on the side. She has never tested me before now and boy Im really devastated. My mom left my dad 3 times. She gave him a chance to change after the first 2 times. Mom went from love you to get out, do not pass go. No last call. have begged her, cried and prayed. Relentlessly this last week and have only been reminded of how cruel was at times. want to believe that this much pain can change me into doing right going forward but don't think I'll ever get the chance to find out. I just wished she would have made me see what i would be missing a long time ago. didnt know she meant this much to me until now. Too late, know, she shouldn't have ever had to show me that in the first place. She was weak for so long felt like was carrying her. believed she would get stronger one day. held on and looked for something/ someone else to keep me occupied while waited for her., never realized was killing her inside. failed us and am terribly ashamed of my actions. have never felt such pain in my life as now. cant eat sleep or listen to music. will never hurt her or any woman again. have to find the strength in Jesus and from deep within to move on. It will take years to look beyond our 30 years of friendship. know she is hurting too. Thank you for not judging. know soo wrong and made every bad choice could have. Her and will always be. Here for you. No matter what. sorry baby. love you.	page 194

I'm now 30 years old and have aged about 15 years in maturity in the last 6 years I've been locked up. I've learned many things. Gained experience through trial and error, and have developed a better sense of who I am. Enough so that the facility sees me in good standing to teach others. It took me a while to find my voice and build confidence in myself enough to speak to more than one individual but soon came to see my audience as just people like myself willing to learn how to transcend this place. The school is attempting to justify their decision claiming that broke the code of conduct contract, also adding that his employment at the school was a threat to the safety of its students. has done nothing to violate the code of conduct, influence or in otherwise harm the students in any way, making this a display of discrimination. In the three months that he was employed at HCS, maintained a professional standing with both the faculty and the student body alike and was well thought of and respected in his time teaching and always kept his personal and professional life separate. has a passion for history with a degree to further his experience and only wished to make a positive difference in the minds of young students, giving them the education to know what has past so that they could make a better future. is a kind individual who has the heart and patience to work with children and his gentle nature makes for a wonderful teacher. The school's code of conduct was not broken and furthermore the claim that the student's safety is in question, is outrageous. The conduct listed in the contract outlines that employees must not have living arrangements with a romantic partner outside of wedlock and can not be seen indulging in illegal activities or unacceptable behavior. has upstanding moral behavior, the detail in question was WHO his girlfriend is. The private "Christian" school fired him not for any fault on his performance as a teacher, but rather due to his personal relationship with me. The school is attempting to justify their decision claiming that broke the code of conduct contract, also adding that his employment at the school was a threat to the safety of its students. has done nothing to violate the code of conduct, influence or in otherwise harm the students in any way, making this a display of discrimination. In the three months that he was employed at HCS, maintained a professional standing with both the faculty and the student body alike and was well thought of and respected in his time teaching and always kept his personal and professional life separate. has a passion for history with a degree to further his experience and only wished to make a positive difference in the minds of young students, giving them the education to know what has past so that they could make a better future. is a kind individual who has the heart and patients to work with children and his gentle nature makes for a wonderful teacher. The schools code of conduct was not broken and furthermore the claim that the students safety is in question, is outrageous. Lots of love to vou Hi was placed in segregation aka "the hole" on the morning of the 18th and have not been able to use the phone or email, was released today. Iam NOT in trouble, The reason was was under investigation, however it was not revealed to me over what. Rumors flew around camp that it was about a visit, Which did have a visit the week prior but nothing out of the ordinary happened to give cause for me to go to the hole, so was extremely confused. I'm hearing so many rumors from other inmates that said what they thought it was over. Some said it was the stranger who got on my visitors list and brought a package, others have said it was about drugs, others said grabed ina sexual manner during the visit. Which know it wasn't drugs or that grabbed him, and if someone came to visit me and brought a package wasn't aware of it. have 3 people who don't know on my visitors list because the caseworker doesn't ask me if i know the person who sends the application, he just approves the person who applied if they pass a background check. will be taking care of that on Monday by removing those people off my visitors list. The whole thing was so crazy, they kept me in the hole for 2 weeks and then cleared me of the investigation and let me go back to general population. I'm shaken up because I'm like would like to know why was under investigation instead of just hearing idle gossip from other inmates. Anyways, I'm drinking coffee watching TV happy to be out of the hole. :-) Btw see the parole board December 9th, got the exact date last week. -GypsyRose	page 772

11/10/2021 11:38:14	Inbound	Oh my gosh, thought sent this email below! Apparently it never sent! was going to write you another one today, saying found another survivor on TikTok, and there was just something in her don't know how to explain it but KNOW that we survivors would understand something deep and unspeakable about one another that we don't even have a platform or words for. There are sexual abuse and physical abuse memoirs everywhere...people have a roadmap to understand what happened to them. We don't. We only have each other. But was like you - didn't fully understand that was more well than ill for a long, long time. When have shared my story, many people tell me confidentially afterwards that they have the same story, but they didn't realize what had happened to them. Anyway, watching her gave me this ... very very weird and deep longing to have a FRIEND who has lived through this. hope we can keep in touch. Sorry the previous email (below) didn't send. You know what else realized?? the three of us (you, me, theTiktok person) kind of all look alike. Not twins, but....some major similarities. Interesting. Can you access Tiktok in there? know there are tablets and stuff, but have heard it's limited what you can access. Sending Care! = Previous e-mail (that didn't send) Gypsy, Please call I don't know why it say: I changed my name when was 14—I look back now and see that did that to try to have an identity outside of my mother. It's very kind of you to reach out back. totally understand how non-disclosure agreements work, but would still like to keep in touch, just as friends, if you're willing? There are so few of us out there, and am realizing more and more as talk with people, that we don't have ways of understanding what happened to us the way people who were sexually or physically abused do. I think we need to stick together, and would just really like to get to know you better. That may not be what you need or want right now, but wanted to just say that - who cares about the book? maybe we can just be support for each other. Is there anything can do to support you right now? :) I think of you often and hope you're well and can't wait for you to be free.	page 1005

There is free money called grants, there's paid housing by the government that will pay for your apartment, there's food stamps. This is all to just help you start your new life and you won't need them long term. Here's an example of what you could do on parole: 1.) apply to community college. Pell Grant will pay 100% of the college 2.) apply for HUD, they will pay your apartment 3.) apply for a part time job $17 an hour at Walmart as a stocker or associate, there's lots of other jobs too at different places. 3.) apply for state food stamps and healthcare. The state healthcare pays 100% dental and medical plus mental health. 4.) open a Capital One Bank account. Use the 360 savings. 5.) open a secured credit card. This will build you credit fast. Everyone is accepted. Use no more than 30% of the card limit at a time. As credit cards will ding you if you max out cards or use more than 50% of card limit. 6.) apply for local driving school. They can let you use driving simulators to practice before you have a car to use. Then after applying for these things look for apartments or housing. You have enough for a deposit and first months rent which is needed. Right now, you'll need to pull your credit and see on there. If there's fraud from your mom I'll reach you how to fix. Your credit is what's pulled when setting a place.	page 082

11/15/2021 17:11:01	Inbound	Thank you baby. God is really working a miracle in me believe. went to church twice yesterday. The church where we got married. got very emotional but then felt God's grace and know it's part of his plan. He's finally called me to receive and accept his will. The struggle is real, yes but am controlling my emotions better now, knowing that he has me and there is happiness in my future that couldn't have ever imagined possible really wrecked us. confided so much in her and she spilled it all to mom. really hate her right now and don't want to hate anyone. She was like my therapist. And to have her just keep pouring salt into our marital wounds is just unbelievable after she initially pursued me from the beginning. Anyways, I'm rambling. hope you can hold onto what you. Seems you really like him. hope he can	page 194

Her reasoning doesn't add up and she hates cold weather and said she doesn't need my money. So unless she struck a deal with then idk. don't want that to fester in me but I'm just saying. . know pushed her too far but to walk away so suddenly after 30 years. 11/16/2021 00:17:34	Outbound	Emrr I'm so pissed! some prick apparently wrote back to like a year ago or so, is selling a birthday card sent him for $300! and he said he has proof its me because he has Jpay emails and apparently said something sexual to him.... don't remember this dude but said she seen the card and its my handwriting... which it probably was me but this dude doesn't have to put my emails out there to embarrass me...wtf! Prick just wants to make a quick buck at the expense of my name. honestly couldn't care less really had to see that shit being blasted on social media, which he understands that I've flirted with "Gypsy Groopies" in the past but still its nothing I'd intentionally want him to see. but what can you do, sometimes things come back to bite chya in the ass. 11/16/2021 13:05:51	Outbound	betrayed your trust, but knew, I knew in my heart that when you told me she texted you letting you know she got divorced was not the end of her. Something inside told me, she would not give up at that point. know very little about her, didnt even know she is black (not that it matters) until mom said she seen a nude pic way back when had a fight about the time before this time. Having someone to feel comfortable enough to open up to is special and when those secrets are taken in and then spilled out to a 3rd person it can feel very violating and unfair. can understand why you would hate her, BUT she probably feels like a scorned lover too but not nearly as much as mom does having had almost 30 years under her belt with you. As they say, "All is fair in love and war." may feel like you don't deserve either woman. My question would be, Why didn't you just stop talking once you knew you were in love with him and knew you could not have him? If you can't be just friends then don't be anything at all. Trays actions does not match with what she was telling mom. Mom asked basically do you want him? then take him is like No, No, No when she is talking to mom, but then turns around and makes googoo eyes at you. Like wtf! needed to back off and let you and mom fix whatever was broken but she didnt, not for real. Because if you were not the strong one to end it, she should have blocked you and never looked back. isn't standing on her shit and owning her part like she should.	page 194

11/16/2021 14:12:00	Outbound	It is people like this 'who make me hesitant to write back to any emails or letters receive. When being informed of this guy selling a birthday card sent him last year, didn't remember him by this last name. vaguely remember a guy named Matthew Shireman who emailed me mid summer last year and spoke to him on the phone like maybe 5 times. We exchanged a few emails, some a bit flirty and then started to find him a little odd and even creepy at times, so ended up blocking him on jpay October 19th 2020 and never spoke to him again. Now I find out he lied about his last name to me and is actually the kind of low life who stoops to making a quick buck off of my kindness. (Oh and furthermore, the Kissie print was not even meant for him, pre-kissed all my greeting cards one day when was super bored and sent them out to people because those cards were the only ones had at the time.) didn't want to stay silent about this, I'm not going to allow some asshole to embarrass me. It is people like that who never amount to anything in life because of what they stand for, which is nothing. I'd rather work hard for every penny then to take the cheep, underhanded and dishonest way toward making a way through life. This dirtbag may have tricked me but won't allow him to deter me from showing my kindness to others who ARE much more deserving.	page 980

11/18/2021 23:55:32	Inbound	Hi there Gyps darling, have written to you so many different times. hope that you are getting my emails!! The JPay app had to be updated and just got back WiFi internet connection two days ago! It had not been working right since the Hurricane Ida we had here(, Where live in Albany, La. We were supposed to get mild winds and some gusts. stayed home. It didn't hook like it was supposed to at the last minute and we took a direct hit!! The right side of the eye went right over me. We got lashings from both directions. We got slammed with 68-78mph sustained winds and 117mph wind gusts!! My friend and her boys were here too. At one point, it almost took us away in a tornado. That was the scariest, strongest, hardest hitting storm I've ever been thru; yet adrenaline rushing, exciting, felt so alive storm I've ever been thru because we survived Went without power, air conditioning, ice, electricity, TV, e-mail, text, phone calls for a long time. Washed my clothes in the bathtub and dried them on the clothesline in the sun lol! Very simplistic living. learned how to cook macaroni and cheese on the charcoal grill too!!)) An adventure for sure— I still wrote to you tho!! Let me know if you got it all. wrote to you a Halloween poem lol! After received your greeting card, it inspired my poem:)) it's pretty cool, hope you got that!! I've gotten compliments on it:)) And on October 28, mailed my application for visitation privileges to come see you. Have you heard an answer for that?? And wrote to the Parole/Probation Board last Friday and I've already received an email back from them:)) They thanked me and said it is in your file. Woohoo @ Wm so excited for you— will send you a copy of what I wrote to the DOC Parole Board. hope you like what I've written to them and hope it helps to release you.. I just hope don't fall into the temptation trap that is That man will be the end of every relationship if let him.. Every time he comes back into my world it scrambles my focus on what have NOW and think he knows he does that to me. I just talked to mom, not for very long just a few minutes but she does sound like she is trying to figure out where she wants her life to go next. flat out asked her if she's moving to Ohio and she seems to not even know herself. IDK if she's seeing a guy or not. buy and have our suspicion about the trips to Ohio. she may be just trying to get away from it all right now. Well in the meantime, you and her both have some healing to do. and when you are ready to jump into dating again then trust me, a ton of women will be around. and if mom needs to experience someone new, then just like you, you both have that right. 11/21/2021 17:35:18	Inbound	go back Dec 1 for 28 days. Mom is coming home on the 28th. don't think have much time to either meet with a lawyer or reconcile anything. asked her to come back so we can try counseling or go to church but nothing say or do has any weight in her decision making. found an address of an old boyfriend left on the table. She meet him on her 1 st trip to Ohio and It is 6 miles from where she has been staying at for the last 2 weeks. Im very upset about it. know she meet up with him because she told someone she (cant say who). confronted her and she lied and said she didn't meet him. feel like she stayed until something came through with then is running now that she wont need me financially. am trying not to think those thoughts but its hard not to. will go to work for 28 days and continue to give her the space she needs. She is still angry and i need to let her vent it out for a season. Your advise was to give her time but the address i found put me on a whole extra level of anxiety about our time apart. Especially if she is staying there near him. could understand if she went with her dad you know but there, next to an old flame. Before we ever sit down and try to work on us. That is kinda screwed up. never left her. Ever. stayed and hung in there. told her loved her every She knew i decide between them. She asked me night. know it was hard for her but was honest about to stop talking to i told her i couldnt. She could have left sooner. If she is with an old flame. Thats cool just be honest and I'll move on. Its just screwed up Gypsy. Im sorry fucked this all up so royally. held on the only way knew how too, but like said. No pain no gain. This pain is making me stronger and smarter. just dont want mom to use you to advance her agenda like your real mom did. would feel soo like a tool. How can not protect you from that. 11/21/2021 13:57:16	Inbound	Hi, Gypsy! It's again. am sorry if I'm bothering you...but the idea of having someone else to talk to who just GETS what we've gone through (even if you can't talk about it), means so much. I've felt so alone. mentioned in my last letter that went on TikTok—did you know there are huge influencers with 200,000 followers that are survivors like us?! had a kind of hard time getting any of them to talk to me, either. And it gave me a thought. wonder if one adult impact of surviving MBP is being suspicious. wouldn't say having difficulty trusting, because trust just fine and see many people going into relationships and stuff. But I think we are always a little suspicious—waiting to see what someone's agenda is, or what they want from us. definitely know I'm suspicious, and when reached out to other survivors, thought they'd be like OMG THERE ARE MORE OF US LET'S TALK. But instead, had to really try to convince them that ... it was ok to talk to me. wonder if it's because...for someone to realize that their own mother has been harming them in this way (because think most of us don't realize at the time), maybe there's an inherent suspicious tendency that gives you the ability to question it and realize? OR, maybe it's like 'which came first, the chicken or the egg.' Maybe we're just suspicious folks because we were gaslighted so bad by our own mothers. can't decide. I'm leaning toward the former. Anyway, i have been thinking about you a lot lately, spending Thanksgiving in there. I'm so glad you'll get out soon. Is there anything can send that would add a bit of holiday cheer to you? don't know what you're allowed or not to have, so some ideas would be great.	page 1005

11/23/2021 13:12:32	Outbound	Is his nam because mom and spoke last week and we didn't spend the full 15 minutes talking because a guy came to the house, claims he's the guy who comes look after the place. She said he is taller then I just talked te and she said there has been NO conversations about money or doesn't even know what she'll be paid for the project. If mom gets paid anything it will be a small portion for assistance on the project but won't come out of my pay. Mom is a huge asset to the book and documentary because you are not home to sign for paperwork, documents and medical records. And unless you are willing to handle all the details, it must go to ensure things run smoothly. So don't feel mom feels security in the financial success of the book or documentary therefore she's fine without your money, keep in mind you may have to pay her alimony after the divorce, y'all have a house together y'all have many shared things to work out. She may feel confidence from possibly this ex of hers feeding her what she wants to hear and she's saying things to you she may have not fully thought through yet. But to be clear, there has not been any talks about who will get paid what yet in terms of the book/doc. My portion goes into a trust. If want to get an apartment by myself, or and work out we may want to get a place together and start living our lives. I'll want to travel buy a car, ect... If mom gets paid anything its because she earned it. don't believe mom has any intention to use me or my story. admit there was once a time questioned it and it was when mom was doing interviews with} in 2019. would tell her that that woman was a fake and she would take her side not mine. and really hit a point was pissed when and mom did an article saying was basically too "sheltered" to function. My mind was blown and that's when put my foot down and said its either me or that bitch, and mom picked me. Mom and have had wonderfully great moments and some low times but we built it our own bond. She has an incredibly big and forgiving heart. She can be easily fooled by people who DO have bad intentions as we've seen in the past, but a lot of what has happened is because we were not trained how to handle the fame and its OK, I've made mistakes too, but we are in better hands wit she is well established in the industry and has gotten me what wanted to will be fair towards everyone and if she is not in charge of the documentary the she will achieve since day 1] make sure whoever is the lead will treat us all fairly. You are jumping to assumptions because you feel like you have to wrack your brain to find a solution to a problem, while trying to understand the components to the problem. STOP IT. it won't help. Mom isn't using me, you are not a tool, she gave you 30 years of her life and as a woman, if married a man and gave him 2 kids and stayed by his side to love and care for his ex wife's daughter and spent 30 years of my beauty, my youth, my body my soul and all my love, and he cheated on me... Oh I'd be getting even like a mutha.	page 207

11/24/2021 05:53:09	Inbound	Thanks for asking as know it sounds like a good experience, this would be a conflict and breach your agreement to your own show at the moment. Post your own documentary series you'll be able to participate. You're sharing your entire journey on your own 6 hour documentary from now until Fall. Then a 10 hour documentary post prison. It's fully exclusive, so no other interviews outside of your own show. You also have a book proposal on the table and we're awaiting an answer on that. When an offer comes in on the book that will also require you to not give interviews as to protect the new information that will be shared in the book. Our focus right now is you prepping for parole hearing, which is the single biggest milestone of your prison experience currently . why we doing weekly interviews at the moment so we aren't absorbing energy that maybe needed in prep of this big event. But behind the scenes people are starting to be interviewed/hired for your documentary series and we're prepping to support you in sharing your journey starting in only a few weeks. From there we will be visiting you regularly for filming. Since it's a holiday week, people are with families/travel so no meetings are happening until next week. We are in conversation with the prison to plan your next filming in January the week of the 11th where we hope to film the verdict of your parole hearing. Dates been confirmed. No doubt, this maybe be a more confusing time for you as you navigate your parents separation while in prison, while falling in love in your own relationship, and facing your future being determined by a board of strangers.	page 097
11/24/2021 06:17:54	Inbound	Hey Gypsy thanks for calling yesterday to talk out your concerns. When it comes to your parents separation need to be careful, as I've already accidentally shared news that was meant to be reserved for them to share to you. While I'm friends with you and your family members this is especially challenging, so am going to navigate carefully as to protect the integrity of the work we are doing together in your book and documentary series. Going forward, think the best approach is for me to not disclose anything to anyone but just document. When it comes to the work, there is nothing jeopardizing it from your parents. Their relationship is separate from your projects contractually. Their management of your power of attorney is in place and all agreements are set for you to be moving forward positively. Our next step is to start getting your medical records and can ask both your dad and who would like to assist with that? Since they are family, HIPPA requires it to be from them or yourself. If you do the forms then they will be mailed to the prison, which expressed you didn't want in the past. Please let me know who like me to request this	page 097

We don't fully understand why things happen the way they do, but if we keep aware enough, we'll be revealed all of the why's when the timing is perfect.. So at least now y'all can prepare for that moment ahead of time. had to give the phone number of Victims Services to register on behalf of my mother's side. said he has already booked his flight and hotel and he will register with victims services next week. it will be up to the visiting staff to decide if they have the availability to allow the 2 hour visit after or not. checked to see if had to do anything on my part for her and they said she just has to show up at 8am at the visitors door, tell them why she's here and my name and d.o.c number and they will direct her of what to do from there. I just had a great phone call with my dad. It was nice to talk to him on the phone and talk real talk not just the pleasantries of our daily lives. For a moment felt like was the parent lol Can you picture it, a woman with barely any life experience giving advice to her father who has 46 years of life experience and sound like a therapist who knows what's she's talking about lol Also did calm his mind and told him nothing has been talked about that concerns money from the project. He understands and explained that he was just jumping to conclusions and he is emotionally frazzled.	page 097

Oh how coincidental!! going to write more this evening before work— just got to know more lol! btw— you keep getting more beautiful!! Gyps darling, this of the letter that emailed to the Department of Probation and Parole: ma I've already received an email back from the DOC. Said my letter is in your file now!! Let me know if you received it and I'd like to know your opinion. Dreams and Wishes of Freedom are for you!! Dreams and Wishes for you for Freedom is near!!!!!! Love 8 Dearest Honorable Members of the Parole Board: What story involving abuse and hurt and pain to children ends well?? They are not good stories to tell. They have no good endings. The survivors do have an end; and shattered pieces of themselves to put back together for a beginning after life in an ordeal. How and why, we will never understand. For Gypsy's end is an extraordinary ordeal. Only the how and why are understood if we walked footsteps onto her path. Or a glimpse of life seen through her eyes. Some stories, the perpetrators never see the inside of a court room. Never placed in handcuffs. Live a long to an old age unpunished life. Some stories, the perpetrators are in prison and the child is deceased. Gypsy survived her life. Good or bad, better or worse.. judgement was rendered. writing in respect and compassion with true to the soul feelings of relatability and similarity; yet my story did not end the same. never escaped my predators and no one was ever held accountable in a court of law. I ask with grace and mercy for Gypsy's release. Life has punished Gypsy enough. It's time for her to be free. Really free. I've got an understanding, which can't explain, but know in my heart the regret, the reason and the remorse that is a part of who Gypsy is. I know, if given a chance; this tragic unfathomable ordeal will transform and become a beautiful life. A beautiful person. know if given the chance, I'll be there for Gypsy to hold her steady, catch her if she falls and hand in hand if need be to provide all the support to stand!! Literally. consider Gypsy one of my best friends, part of my family and have become to know and love her. She was the caterpillar, now in her cocoon and I'm anxious and excited for to give her wings and watch this sweet butterfly take flight!! And personally, Gypsy and I, for years have been imagining her going to the ocean and seeing it for the first time and walking on the beach and leaving.... footprints in the sand. As I've never written this kind of letter, want to express my appreciation for your time for reading it. Thank you.	page 238

11/28/2021 22:41:44	Inbound	Dear Gypsy Rose, My name i and live in Baltimore County MD. have 3 kids and work at lhop lol. A few days ago binge watched the act and after that looked more into your story and wanted to reach out and see if you could use any new friends. I'd love to get to know you and see if maybe we could possibly become friends. The Netflix show was okay but id like to know the real you. My name (Igo > and I'm writing to you mostly out of curiosity. I'm not going to pester you for answers about the incident as I'm sure you get plenty. I'm primarily curious about how you've adjusted to life behind bars and what that's like for someone in your position. know the quality of life in prison can vary by state and by case. What prompted me to write you is that my boyfriend recently showed me the show that premiered on Hulu called The Act. I've heard mixed reviews about it and I've heard that it isn't the most accurate. I've also read that you were not a fan of it - figured the most accurate source for that 2nd statement would be the woman herself. That all aside, also would love to know what kind of interests you've acquired now that you're able to form your own and do what you like freely. How do they treat you where you live? Have you made friends, met any good/consistent pen pals? Another of my favorite things to ask when I write inmates is how the food is where they are doing their time. hope to hear from you but understand if you'd rather not answer any questions. included a stamp with this email so if you do decide to write back you won't have to give any payment a second thought. Thanks for taking the time to read this. =	page 706

11/29/2021 01:56:23	Outbound	I'm sorry I'm late writing this but these are my answers to your questions that you sent to me Nov 11th. Question #1 Who are the helpers and why? First being released, will have to have a person to parole home to in order to show have support and someone to hold me accountable. Throughout my incarceration, it was always expected that would parole home to my father and that the both of them would ensure that have a safe and healthy tradition into society. Now, after learning news of their upcoming divorce, do not know when will eventually be residing, nor am sure if either one of them will continue to live in Louisiana, However do know that my father continues to offer his home wherever it may be as a place of residents if should chose to live with him. also have the option to reside with a significant other, Which should my relationship continue to develop, feel that after having a long distance relationship supported mainly through phone calls and weekend visits with him and without physically being intimate, really want to at least try to get a joint apartment, live with this person to get a feel if this person is who want as my partner. And if in the case live with him and don't see it working out, then I can call my parole officer and have him/her change my place of residents to my father, so am not obligated to stay in any residents don't feel comfortable living. Aside from my living arrangements, my best and a few other will need the emotional support o close friends who have stayed loyal throughout my journey. will need the overall support as my partner to be someone can lean on when initially getting out. do not need to be dependent and have someone do everything for me, what I do need is a guide to show me how something is done so that can do it independently. (and this applies to bot! and my father or anyone who is my support) will need to be driven from place to place before can apply for driving lessons, my father will have to take on the responsibility of making sure arrive at my P.O on time which should be a few days after my release. If no one drives me, and have no way to get to my P.O, get a parole violation and get sent back to prison. Having someone drive me to and from where need to go is very important. It doesn't necessarily have to b my father or anyone know specifically, anyone can take me to my parole officer appointment it just needs to be a ride to get there and back, but I'd prefer it was someone trust worthy and who knows whats at stake if don't make it there on time. Basically the support I get will be from whoever is the most active participants in my life around the time of my release, I and are no longer in a relationship then that changes the dynamics of that option. If after my father and divorce he chooses to move out of state, that may change my decision to reside with him. Only time will tell where these paths lead. My expectations are to have the support of my family friends but then once know how to drive, and am taught how to do the basics and start employment will want my own car, my own routine my own way of living. Version of me without initial support.	page 097
11/29/2021 04:18:12	Outbound	Question #3 What does true love look like, feel like, and what does it provide? If I was asked this six years ago, would have said that true love is when you kiss someone and just know that person is "the One" and you live happily ever after (Your basic Disney classic.) but after being in a few relationships while incarcerated have been able to add my own experience to base my new opinions. The first time ever felt real genuine love for someone was in the summer of 2018 while on a visit wit! My hand was resting on his arm as we were engaging in conversation and noticed a scar on his arm as my finger ran across the scar for a little while, didn't ask what happened, waited for him to explain its origins and as he told me of a dark time in his life when all he felt was nothing but hopelessness, felt the sudden desire to hold him in my arms and all wanted to do is protect him from all the bad in the world wishing that holding him would make the scar fade away, if only it were that simple. I never knew was capable of feeling such compassion and love for someone until that moment. normally very self centered and this moment made me lose interest in myself. It wasn't about if he was the right one for me, it wasn't about me at all, it was simply felt nothing but real love for him. I had never felt anything like that feeling before, knew he had my interest but that is when I knew he had my heart. loved me in the best way he could with our relationship being long distance. He would send me cards, letters every week and take care of me financially, but the way he showed his love was something simple that he probably didn't know meant more to me then anything else, it was when he and had very personal conversations that we shared deep thoughts and emotions that required us to be vulnerable to each other and he did not judge me or question me. This close emotional support was how felt his love for me. Unfortunately, not all relationships stand the test of time and we grew apart leading to our break up but Nevertheless, he showed me that AM capable of truly loving someone. came into my life and showed me what it feels like to be totally It wouldn't be until three years later tha loved for being nothing but who am. He shows his love in every way that is possible for our circumstances and has become my safe place, my calm in the storm, my comfort and even at times my sanity. have a lot of trauma that deal with on a daily so it takes a man with a lot of patients and understanding to accept but furthermore love me through all of it, the good and the bad. He is the ideal description of a good guy with a tender heart. Even if someday we are no longer a couple will always for his good heart. My father and show me love by showing their support for me even if they don't always agree with my choices in life shows me love by taking me on as a daughter, even now when she is faced with or the past mistakes I've made this divorce from my father, she is still by my side to support me through everything. Platonic or romantic, Love provides acceptance in its most valued form, to be cared about for who you are and nothing more is the very core of love.	page 097

11/29/2021 12:47:04	Outbound	Question #4 Beliefs about security and safety. How do achieve it? While in prison must rely on my intuition of who think might wish to cause me harm emotionally and physically and simply avoid these individuals. When am home, will be able to purchase a home security system. also will want to take self defence classes to protect myself even if alone. Because have a lack of trust in other people when it comes to my safety and overall well being, like to take control of my own safety rather than my safety be in someone elses hands. What triggers me being scared? Loud noises, crowds, confrontational arguments, feeling unsure how to do something, not being in control of a situation. What do fear the most? in terms of safety, fear someone will want to hurt or kill me because they are obsessed with me. have had a few disturbed individuals post things on social media about me and they seem far too interested in my life to be non threatening towards me. fear someone wanting to harm my family because they have a negative opinion about me and the crime have committed so they make threats on my loved ones. fear if have children that they will be targeted in a negative way not only for their safety but subjected to bullying by other children because of my past and my black mark as a murderer. What makes me feel safe the most? Being in control of my surroundings. The emotional comfort given by a loved one. The knowledge that if don't like a can leave and find a safe nlace	page 098

My plans for after release is to get situated with a job and the basics but also enjoy doing the things never had the freedom to do before prison. if you know anything about my life before you know that was kept from living a real life even doing the simple things such as driving a car and having a social life. want to travel after am off parole, I'll only be on parole for about a year. My dream is to see the northern lights, I've always been fascinated by them. do want children of my own someday, until then I'll settle for a fur baby. love both dogs and cats.	page 785
11/30/2021 17:10:40	Inbound	Gypsy, So meant to ask you, what is your relationship status? am currently engaged myself, but things haven't been working out lately, I'm not happy, and she's always being very mean to me, yelling at me for silly reasons that you shouldn't even have to raise your voice, such as me going to sleep immediately after work, moving something without asking first, she's too controlling of me, and I'm putting an end to it. do see a picture on Instagram with you so figured I'd ask, if you two are still together, don't want to invade on your relationship, I'm not a home wrecker, and wouldn't want another man to do the same to me, you know? So definitely let me know what the deal is in that regard, please and thanks. will still help you out while you're in there regardless, but cross certain lines, you know? You really are beautiful, and definitely would love to take you out sometime in the future, I'd let you pick where we went, if you wanted to! Let me know what you think of my pictures! know I'm not the best looking guy ever, but also know I'm far from ugly! (= I'm going to send you one more picture, of me and my ex fancé, since it's only fair saw yours! She is 5'4-5'5 130 pounds to give you an idea of just how big really am, don't usually go for Caucasian women, but there's just something about you! Let me know what you think! 12/01/2021 11:31:25	Outbound	Goddamn it, my thumb hit the delete button on your email really before i got to read it all and now can't get it back...that just irritated me. Well got to read some of what it said... dumped me 2 years ago. I'm current with my male best although he is amazing to me, there is a lack of physical attraction. am with him because he is perfect for me emotionally but just am not really physically attracted to him. feel terrible for feeling this way. Last night even told him sometimes wish was single so could meet new people, it hurt him and sparked a fight. just don't know what to do anymore. love him but the question is am in love and just don't feel like am sometimes. When was loved that man to the end of the earth and then some...its not the same feeling have with ts a soft comfort love, like we've been married for 10 years feeling. like if had to choose sex or cuddle with him, I'd pick cuddle.	page 786
12/01/2021 16:55:18	Inbound	Gypsy, Well as for physical attraction, will have to say that, if there isn't any, it won't work out. I've always been that way, if I'm not physically attracted, wouldn't even pursue it, however do have friends that am and not physically attracted to, it never hurts to make a new friend! It sounds to me like you just didn't want to be alone after even though you're surrounded by people, you can definitely still feel alone in there, that's for sure! have felt like been in love before in the past, but now when think about it, was just in love with the idea of not being alone, not that being alone is a bad thing sometimes, sometimes you just need to focus on yourself, and build yourself up, and take care of yourself before you can worry about someone else. The feeling of love is something can't put into words, you don't necessarily need to even say it to each other, as long as you show it, that's what counts. You know that butterfly feeling you get in your stomach sometimes? It's kind of like that if had to describe it. used to be okay with being treated badly, and stuff like that by past ex's, but I'm at an age in my life, where if you're not going to treat me the same way I treat you, leave me alone. Why? Because know can be happy all my myself Why would want to miserable with someone else? Just some food for thought in relation to what you said about not having a physical attraction. If the spark isn't there now, trust me, it never will be. How was your day? I'm actually making a "Chi-Chi", what they call prison noodles cooked in a bag where from, I'm doing Chili Ramen x3, a few diced pickles, and the seasoning, cook it like that, a little less water so the noodles are fluffy, then in a separate bowl, two tuna pouches, mixed with like 5 packets of mayo, mix that together real good and put on the side, then in one more bowl, mix in 3 spoonfuls of cheese spread, crushed Honey Mustard Pretzles into dust, then mix that into the cheese, then mix in one packet of mustard, and two packets of ranch, mix that all together, when the noodles are done, fill the serving bowl halfway, then layer on top the tuna and mayo, then put more noodles on top to cover that, then put the cheese sauce on top, and finally maybe crunch up some sour cream and onion chips on top, and yeah, it's completely amazing, the pickles you would be surprised how much better it makes the noodles, if you can get your hands on all of this stuff would highly recommend it, it's been a few months since I've made one of these, and I've been craving it lately, my friends all day it looks pretty gross, but tastes delicious, no one that ever tried it, ever said it tasted bad! I'm eating that, then relaxing for the next two days, and getting some rest, because am sore from work. hope you're doing well, and definitely wish you the best no matter what it is you do, or where you decide to go. anand dod	page 786

12/02/2021 11:48:51	Inbound	Gypsy, The way heard about your story was reading about a form of abuse, where the abuser projects and illness onto someone else, commonly referred to as “Munchausen syndrome” and your story popped up within the results, and I just so happened to read it, when said I can relate, can relate to being abused when was younger, not the same situation, but bad enough to where remember it constantly. will tell you the whole story some day if you’re around long enough. also read somewhere that your release date is 2024? Is that wrong...? definitely smiled ear to ear when read you have a parole hearing! Let me know what the deal is, in regards to that! As for traveling, plan on going to the Philippines next year for at least a month, I've been to like 20 different states, all the same honestly, people doing the same things, in the same type of places, just in a different area you know? want to see different countries that aren't like ours. As for doing drugs, used to smoke weed, but now don't have time to be doing things like that, do like wine or champagne with dinner occasionally though, I'm not trying to get wasted like was when was in college though. enjoy the different tastes. You asked me what my dreams are? To be retired by the time I'm 40, and to be able to do whatever want, whenever want, and that just means have a lot of work to do in the present time, honestly would like to find a nice beach to live on, I'm honestly going to the Philippines to maybe find a place can someday call home, I'm exploring my options. will always come back to the states to visit, but honestly I'm sick of the United States, will elaborate more in later conversations why, need to get dressed, and go pick up the pickup truck bought yesterday, that's my mission for the day, and get it registered, and all legal and whatnot. I just did all my Christmas shopping, got my mother a $1,000 Goose coat, bought my daughter (She's 9 a Nintendo Switch) and also bought my two nephews Nintendo Switches, and got all of them games, and on top of all that got myself a few hundred worth of Ralph Lauren underwear and under shirts, and then bought a truck yesterday, so I'm kind of a little in the hole, I'll but some money on your books next week, honestly wasn't even expecting to hear back from you or would have put a few dollars aside, but the truck is something needed to have, as plan to do construction work for myself during the summer and that's a must have, and I'd like a quad for fun and you need a truck to transport it far distances, so yeah there's that. But I'd like to get a contractors license and work for myself in the near future, I'm sick of making other people rich, really need to make myself rich Lol! At the end of the day, these other people work for, don't give a shit about me you know? But I'm going to go get dressed, and go grab this truck, hopefully it's the start of a new chapter in my book, where would you like to travel? Lemme know! The northern lights aren't that unreasonable, that wouldn't be too hard to do! would like to see them in person too! One last thing, was raised catholic, but don't really believe in a certain god, I'm Agnostic, I'm sure you know what that means, basically believe in a greater power, just don't know what it is. Anyways, I'm going to get dressed and going on this little mission! hope to hear back from you soon! Have a good day! totally ended up making those noodles sent you the	page 785

12/02/2021 15:03:07	Inbound	Gypsy, Oh absolutely not, kinda broke it off already though, I've been seeing another woman, around the same age, on and off for the last year, she treats me very well, in fact, probably better than any woman has ever treated me in my life, rubs my feet after work, rubs my back, does my laundry when I'm tired from work so have clean work clothes for the next day, but honestly the spark just isn't there, plus don't think could ever trust her, just because of where met her, she's a stripper, drop dead gorgeous, but because of her line of work, and how she hustles men, don't see it working out for the good, but again, can relate to not wanting to be alone in the meantime, know this all sounds a little crazy, but would be lying if told you wasn't a little wild at the very least, anything you want to know, simply ask, and I'll always tell you the truth, you see, you could tell someone the truth for years, but then get caught telling one lie, and that buries all that trust you built up. What I'm getting at, is every woman SAYS she wants an honest man until she actually meets one, one thing never do is lie, I'm big on that, and even though sometimes feel like should, would rather someone hate me for the truth than love me for you know? I'm standing here freezing my ass off waiting for this tow truck, the truck needs a new transmission cable, and I'm getting it flatbed lifted to my house, so yeah, it's a little project, but at least I'm doing something productive and staying out of trouble, tow truck is here though, oh and PS I'm not worried about any other guy in your life, talk to whoever your heart desires, by all means, live your life to the fullest, just so long as you don't care about the women around me, you know? Who cares though, just friends right? (= am pretty much living like 'm single and probably going to be this way until someone gives me a reason not to! Talk to you soon!	page 786

It was foggy chilly beautiful and we were there for my birthday— my husband, my Air Force son who is a Sergeant now at 22yrs old, wow, and my close friend and her 2 boys wants to write to you. She's your age and as bizarre as it gets; she also has been thru some stuff the 3 of us would have some d'n fine good unbelievable conversations— After she watched the documentary, she had tears in her eyes, that's all say about that for now.... Andddd, that's why there's a big heart with your name on it written in sand with our footprints all around it on the beach in Florida!!!! Everyone helped to do it:)) It was still completely there when we left— You could even see it from the 4th floor balcony of our resort. Maybe it'll still be there for you to see one day, until then.... hope that your name in sand really made you smile big~~ Hopes for you that all is well and fine for you and also for your family, ..and you got 2 big sisters out here that think of you as fam!! So my questions are: what was it like making the film together? What is your life like now? What do you plan for the future? What is the current timeline of you getting out? This is of course completely up to you if like to share your words through an email on the podcast, but would be honored to share them. 12/10/2021 18:43:08	Inbound	Gypsy, Well, as for the guy who helped you commit the crime, after reading a little more about the story, I kind of already figured he didn't know his way around a vagina... No offense, but definitely not the brightest bulb in the bunch, or you probably wouldn't be where you are right now... know he said that you told him to do whatever he did, but at the end of the day, only you know the truth, and honestly, the truth doesn't scare me, because it's something you have to live with for the rest of your life, not me. wanted to ask you about a few parts of your life story in person some day if you ever give me the chance, as it's kind of informal to ask over J-Pay, plus I'd like to see your facial expressions. One thing can tell you though, is that yes, you definitely should explore your options, it's definitely possible to go on many dates without being a hoe. I've been on quite a few where ended up not sleeping with the woman, and just not talking to her anymore, because there was no attraction on my end, sometimes physically, but most of the time mentally. do honestly think you're drop dead gorgeous, and if you did ever give me the chance, not to be a perve, or hom dog, but definitely give you an experience to remember, I'm into BDSM and one of my favorite toys is a Hitachi wand, if you don't know what one is, ask the other women about it, can tell you there is nothing like being forced to orgasm over and over again. will leave that topic alone for now though, but just know, when you do get out, you're free to come see me, I'll gladly arrange for a way for you to come to Pennsylvania, and you can get away from all the insanity there. No one will know you, or anything about you here, and you could have a clean Slate, plus know many places where you can get a job immediately, paying $20+ an hour. You have my phone number, just call and say the word, I'll figure it out, it's not hard. As for your upcoming parole board hearing, highly suggest, that you show some emotion during the hearing, they want to see that you've had plenty of time to think about what occurred, regardless if you feel guilty or not, they want to see you own it, and feel remorseful. Remember, they do have your freedom in your hands, so keep that in mind. hope they let you out as early as possible, don't wish jail or prison on my worst enemy, that shit is the worst. hope to hear from you, please let me know what happens at the hearing, I'll be looking forward to your response, am heading to bed now though work in the best ever night and sweet dreams beautiful (-	page 787

It might be something small to someone else but with my history I think handled it very well. had a conversation tonight and the awkwardness of how things between us aren't the same came up, obviously, however wanted him to be honest with me and just flat out come out and say the reason he doesn't answer the phone to me much is because there is someone new. I knew it in my heart but needed him to tell me himself. I told him that would respect him more if he just told me the truth then let me believe a lie, And he just flat out said it, and I thanked him and felt relieved he openly said it. It makes sense why he didn't want to give me his new address since he moved. He knew that am with bu and have remained semi close to a point since our split and this is the first time HE has openly admitted to being in a new relationship. wished him well and am never going to dial his number again because in a way I'm hurt and in another it gives me back the last piece of my heart that remained so that can give my whole heart to the person who deserves it. feel proud of myself because the old Gypsy would have for him to love her, not this Gypsy...	page 098

12/14/2021 23:52:52	Outbound	I'm starting to realize that though do have a wide variety of men that could be exposed to when am released really is a good man. He is standing by me through a lot. In the last year and a half we have been through me being on quarantine twice! once when my wing was on quarantine and then again when had covid back in July, Me going to the hole for 2 weeks, Him getting fired for being in a relationship with me, and now me being placed on a 6 month visiting suspension. AND in the mix of all that, dealing with my emotional ups and downs of every day life. The hurdles that keep being thrown at us seems to make our relationship stronger because with each time we are faced with a lack of an opportunity to talk we are reminded how much we enjoy our connection and it makes us appreciate each other more. I think that wall that put up for so long is coming down and am allowing myself to love him. On one of the sessions of our recent weekend visits, went to a visit without make up and didn't wear my dentures. let him see my flaws because had finally felt comfortable enough to be that vulnerable with anyone. never even see me without being all done up in make up or let him see me without my teeth which is my biggest insecurity. It was just nice to bring down a barrier of insecurity and be able to show my flaws and be accepted. feel like this last weekend visits with really made me see that we have something I've never had before which is a healthy relationship built with love and trust. And to be honest after this past weekend, I'm really not thinking about wanting to explore other guys at this time. felt conflicted with that a few weeks ago but I'm feeling differently about it now, like have more clarity of what want going forward.	page 099

AND in the mix of all that, dealing with my emotional ups and downs of every day life. The hurdles that keep being thrown at us seems to make our relationship stronger because with each time we are faced with a lack of an opportunity to talk we are reminded how much we enjoy our connection and it makes us appreciate each other more. I think that wall that put up for so long is coming down and am allowing myself to love him. On one of the sessions of our recent weekend visits, went to a visit without any make up hair all in a messy bun and didn't wear my dentures. let him see my flaws because had finally felt comfortable enough to be that vulnerable with anyone. never even let him see me without my teeth which is my biggest insecurity. It was just nice to bring down a barrier of insecurity and be able to show my flaws and be accepted. feel like this last weekend visits really made me see that we have something I've never had before which is a healthy relationship built with love and trust. And to be honest after this past weekend, I'm really not thinking about wanting to explore other guys at this time. felt conflicted with that a few weeks ago but I'm feeling differently about it now, like have more clarity of what want going forward. Just like you the temptation of other people excite me, but a good man or in your case woman, is a rare thing to find. We should just be faithful to who we have because, other people may seem appealing but for real, you know no other woman would put up with half the thing has been through and know that no other guy would put up with my crazy mood swingy, up and down unpredictable life, trust issues and over all difficult road and still be the sweetest teddy bear who only gives love respect and is faithful as the sun rising. want to be faithful not only by my actions but also in my mind as well. This was a very long email to in a nut shell tell you we might be different in age but similar in how we grow as a person. Mom told me a lot on her visit, probably way way WAYYYYYYYYYYYY more then I needed to know but she needed to vent so I listened and realized that temptation is a weakness you and share in common. Since am Gypsy Blanchard the "public figure" can't email any dude without running the risk of it being posted and seeing it, and therefore jeopardize my relationship, so never leave a paper trail, instead get the guys number and call him, chat for 15 minutes and every time hang up, think to myself, this dude is not what want. is better. It isn't that I'm unhappy in my relationship its that other people peak my interest for a brief moment and then I'm over it. have recently deleted every guy that isn't you, on Jpay in an effort to stay faithful and won't be tempted to talk to these new guys who message me literally asking if have a boyfriend. The temptation is there, but its up to me to either ignore it or entertain it.	page 206

12/17/2021 10:29:38	Inbound	Gypsy, Yeah would have to say that's a pretty ridiculous reason to get written up. How did the hearing go? As being in a new relationship, when a man starts to put distance between you, just know he's closing the gap with someone else. Sorry for my late response, I've been doing a lot of Christmas shopping, and I've been busy sending out a lot of presents. As most of my family isn't local. That's crazy how strict your prison is too! never heard of shit like that! hope your parole hearing went well, if you did have it already, let me know what they said! One last thing, kind of just like a small piece of advice, you can't force someone to love you, and when you try to, it's not natural, and not meant to be, the right person will love you regardless of your situation, and won't make excuses, remember that! hope you're having a good week! start my new work schedule tomorrow, 6am-6pm Saturday, Sunday, and Monday, so those three days, I am completely exhausted and going right to bed, just so you know, any other day would be a good day to call, when you do get your permission back. Keep your head up, you'll be out of there soon enough and never have to go back (=	page 783

Like you said. Lesson learned. The emails all came through at different times so I'm replying to all of them now. Im so glad about your feelings for me and the fact that you can be yourself and not hold back. He needs to see you at your weakest and accept you as you are. Because you won't be waking up with makeup everyday. Temptation is my weakness as well and the only way to survive and be faithful is to avoid that temptation. can't set myself up for failure by having social media. Same in your case. Don't allow yourself to talk to anyone who is not in this picture you have now. Stick with that until you feel there is something missing and the voice that tells you. Im not sure about mom and I's future either but am hopeful and doing what it takes to give us the best chance. A real honest truthful effort, no half-ass bullshit no more. She called a few days ago and said she loved me sooo. My actions will speak over time. Thanks for the compliment, hope mom is still attracted to me got accepted into clinicals which is a good big deal though her college degree is doing good to with all the hurricane damage cleanup jobs. I'm doing well and excited about the news that will be released in December of 2023. and have spoken on the phone here lately a few times, but wanted to touch base with you as well. a few changes are happening, after a year I'm starting to feel like Wicca is not specifically for me after all, honestly feel a little lost in terms of religion. Perhaps am simply Agnostic. feel like religion is always been a challenge for me. don't pull any bigger moral lesson from wicca as a religion so... feel need to do some more soul searching, which would not mind putting that in the book. My path to finding myself is what want to be a constant undertone in both the documentary and the book. My father and marriage is still on the rocks and visited me after my parole hearing, she told me quite a bit more about my fathers infidelity then would have liked to learn about. There have been several women he has been involved with one women as young as 19 years old from Tennessee, whom he only ceased communicating with 3 weeks ago. To learn that my father is a very possible sex addict is difficult. The future of their marriage is still unknown but either way love my father and equally. My relationship is going wonderful, he and are evolving and growing together. would consider this to be a serious relationship. He came to visit the week of my parole hearing and it was so nice to just have him there to be the calm after the storm of anxiety was feeling before the hearing. We had a food visit so he could bring in food from the outside. He cooked Gumbo and make a cake with my favorite homemade icing. :-) feel very confident in my relationship. hope you have a lovely holiday and let me know if you need me to call. :-) hugs	page 1007

The exercises are probably another challenge to plan because don't know what you like as a work out. Cardio and weights are complex in how some people exercise but you can purchase a few simple weights at Walmart to start with and the cardio you can get from walking and then jogging for a short period then return to walking at a normal pace. I can get you a daily log for walking if you need it. also completed the marriage paperwork, which plan on turning that into the chaplain on April 1st. :) Now I'm laying in bed but thinking about poses for pictures. It says payment for pictures must be made at the ceremony so what will do is purchase picture tickets on canteen and bring them to the ceremony so you don't have to fiddle with the blocks. :-)	page 932

12/21/2021 07:03:17	Outbound	Hell Thank you for reaching out. am doing very well thank you. :-> I think its important to be careful of what information you believe as truth from these TV shows. Since you watched Killer cases episode, have to make you aware of something about that particular episode. A little unknown fact, the woman who appeared in that show is actually a con artist who claims to be a script writer working in the entertainment industry. These are false claims, she only has access to certain media outlets because of actually my stepmothe When hype about my case ramped up in 2018 and 201 preyed upon my stepmother to gain access to my medical records and court documents, which unfortunately my stepmother was gullible and gave them to her and now and her friend are posting my private medical records on YouTube which is illegal by the way and slandering my name into the dirt. i am in the process of taking legal action against them for it. My point is, be sure the information you read and watch are correct and factual rather then a juicy gossip piece on TV or online. .because you never know everything. I'm am currently writing a book and nothing will be kept in the dark. haven't revealed everything and so my book will be a freedom in itself of all that is still hidden. Most of these shows have a pretty accurate depiction of the true events but not all of everything can fit into a one hour episode so it was always important for me to tell my story from a platform that could give me the time to do so and my book will be that platform.	page 1011

Even if the series is more fictitious than glued to the reality of the facts, essentially understood the psychological dimension of this whole "story". would so much like to do something, am an energetic medium (or magnetizer) and do not know for what reasons the universe pushes me to do it, to exchange with you. 12/22/2021 23:43:05	Outbound	Gypsy, have not just come right out and ask for money except the t-shirts and in October with your new clothes. If people give her money without her asking, that is on them. do wish she would not talk about needing things or problems on pages affiliated with you in any way. She may not even ask outright for money. We all have times in our lives where we need money or are having a hard time. There are people that say they are having a hard time financially but have said it for so long they don't even realize they are doing it anymore. If someone chooses to give her money because of something they read on her own FB page, TikTok or any other social media that is hers alone, again, that is on them. When money is sent because of info on pages with YOUR name in the title, then people can make that something negative about you. That is my concern. Do not trust everything you hear while still in there. People only want to gain your trust and get close to you because of who you are they are not real friends. have talked t about over sharing on social media. told her that the documentary is being done and that is where the new updates will come from and no where else. told her that even have offered to sign an NDA. My main concern, even over the documentary, is YOU. Ido not want to see you in any trouble in there because of something you have no control over out here. and will send you all the money you need. will send some if you can't get in touch with them. There should be no reason you need money and have to have anyone ask strangers for it. Gypsy, that is what DD did for so long using you to get it. That is what some people will automatically go to when anyone asks for money on any social media where your name is mentioned, even though you don't know it is even happening. There is nothing you can do to stop that. That is needs to understand. Love you and sending prayers. you. love you too. :-)	page 584

However did want you to know broke off the relationship with my ex- fiancé, and the woman that's staying in one of my extra bedrooms, is only staying here until she gets her shit together, after being evicted, did tell her was talking to a cute girl in jail, didn't elaborate on who it was, or anything more than that, so just don't understand why you would say my emails to you are unacceptable, as have no one to answer to. I am sorry you feel that way, really am. am definitely not a bad looking guy, am thoughtful, caring, kind, and am also funny in my opinion, so that's why I have all the options have, I'm used to saying no and turning down women's advances, because I'm not the type of guy that's a cheating asshole. just wanted you to know that. do wish you the best with whoever you choose to be with. will be in Missouri regardless if you keep talking to me or not, because just found out my sons mother is moving there in the next few months. So will be going there to pick him up, and to spend time with him in that area, and bring him home. do have a son from a previous relationship, but I felt like should wait a little while to tell you, have a son who's 8, and a daughter who's 9, they have different mothers. My son was living in Virginia Beach, but is now moving to Missouri in the next few months, so will definitely be in your area in the near future, as for my daughter, she lives in Upstate NY, in Rochester, 45 minutes west of Syracuse, NY. understand that you probably be able to bend your brain around everything going on with me, because my life is a little crazy, but who's to say what normal is anyway? I'm sure you want a guy who's not as wild as me, who you can trust more. hope it works out for you, really do, you deserve the best, honestly! But know what it's like to be locked up, and know what it's like to not have anyone while I'm locked up, so you can always talk to me about your day, and about your struggles, always free to call me too, turn my back on you, I never would, hope you have a good night beautiful! Sweet dreams! (=	page 783

Dearest Friend, want you to know that love you. You have had my back on many occasions that people judged me for a crime committed out of a desperate need to be free. Many people will never understand or comprehened the level of abuse went through and have confided in our friendship many of my past experiences. Throughout the years I've had to "grow up" in a environment that consists of "What can you do for me mentality" and had to learn fast who is a true friend and who is a "fair weather friend" or not a friend at all. Many cellies and bunkmates have come and gone who said that they would keep in touch, but never did, and I've had some who looked back just long enough to say the occasional hello, but you have remained a constant in my life ever since we first met in 2016. In January 2021 we had a misunderstanding and almost had a falling out because of people who just wanted to create drama between friends, but we became the winners in that round. :-) You have been a strong voice for me on social media showing people that am just as human as anyone else, make mistakes, grow in character, and I find myself a little each day and my crime doesn't define who am as a person. You have been an appreciated voice for me because could not have my own social media while incarcerated in order to defend myself to these individuals who do judge me or have questions about my life. But now going forward, my time is nearing the end of my imprisonment and must go through a period of silence so that may skillfully use my voice wisely when the right time comes. So my friend must ask you to step back from the front line and let me emerge from the back to use the opportunity to use my own voice. do not need someone to speak for me now. I have a voice, please let me use it when feel it is necessary. People will have Gypsy hate groups and Gypsy support groups, but no one has the right to take my voice not even my best friend. want to share my experiences my way and not through social media. love you. Sorry if my way of writing seems weird, am quite uncomfortable expressing myself in a language that is not my mother tongue. sincerely wish to exchange with you. Yesterday looked at the various reports in which you appear, to be as close as possible to the real story. In Dr Phil, you said you didn't want to look like your mother. admit that was worried, to have suffered my mother but in a less serious dimension, the biggest work that we have to do humanly is not to reproduce what we have been made to live since childhood. As told you in my previous email, am upset by your story and would sincerely like to do something. would really like to support you in this ordeal. And be a shoulder or an ear when you need to clear your heart. embrace you tenderly, and also give you a kiss from my sons Maël and Lyam, as well as my two cats Olive and Océane. (like ocean but feminine ©)). Hope to hear from you, take care. Included a prepayed answer.	page 1012

One that I have plans to have a living arrangement and one where have a living arrangement with my parents. So perhaps the questions that are asked could cover both, so no matter where this relationship goes we have it covered for whichever direction go. feel its best to have both version because we don't know this early on what my life will look like in two years. Majorly slacking on notifications and for some reason when logged in the site; it like didn't have my emails listed up, had to add you back to see them again, thankfully they were still fucking there. But it's list it lost memory.. you suck, booo-Jpay. "I got 30days room restriction and 6 month visiting suspension. :-(" Well, this is what happens when you wanna be a bad girl and break the rules, lol... Hopefully now you're done with the whole ring-thing and will wait to get a legit one... save these rings from going to purgatory! I'm glad to hear that you finally have an out date, it is absolute bullshit that's it's legit 3 days AFTER Christmas though, but it's a date nonetheless. So how is shiz going other-wise? wish they would at-least give you some courtesy calls on Christmas, not that I'd be the recipient of one of them but still, it's fucking Christmas!!! hope you're having the best day you possibly can. is turning on me. She sent me a hateful email, saying how don't appreciate her and that dont need to send my godchild a happy birthday card because don't appreciate that she named after me and all kinds of stuff saying she knows her place, do know mine...wtf don't believe she is the best friend thought all these years. It hurts because all did was politely ask that she keep things more private and to not post on social media because have things going on that requires my privacy. and she responded in a very selfish and unthoughtful manner. This is a copy of what sent to her "If you were a real friend a simple request to quit posting would not have been a big deal, but you are like addicted to posting about me! and you made another group after closing your support group, why? to be like every other gossip page. You never saw a person did you? you only saw the "famous Gypsy" When we met, you came up to me and introduced yourself knowing who was....was it all fake? be gypsies friend so you could maybe get a little money or fame from it. the appropriate response would have been. "oh I'm sorry don't want to interfere with your business, if you need me to post something will, but otherwise will just show my friendship and support offline" But your reaction and response was just inappropriate. DID NOT ask you to make or sell the merchandise t-shirts that was your idea, as was the TicToks, you specifically said to me "we could make lots of money from TicToks." and I, ignoring my better judgment allowed it. maybe asked you to make only a few TicToks. I didn't ask you to post the simple emails that send to you to say hi or just to email my friend thinking its between friends...to you it was new material to use for the group. Why was it more important to keep people updated about me rather than be a support that didn't give you the noterity from other people? That is the big red flag that has been there since day 1. a aon	page 215

12/28/2021 17:11:23	Inbound	Hey forever friend! hope you had a great yule Xmas whatever the fuck lol! people are saying that she's posting too much info about you. The only things she has posted about you lately are your holiday letter and that she was hoping for a good result on your hearing. But she hasn't posted what happened yet and don't think she plans to without your permission. People are asking but she has just said we don't know yet or ignored them. I'll send you a couple screenshots so you can see with your own eyes. Love you know it's hard when you can't see everything with our eyes but I'll do my best	page 865

12/28/2021 18:20:08	Outbound	After reading my emails.... guess should mention that none of my close people was talking shit per say, that they did voice concerns but it was actually some new girl on camp who said she was on your tiktoks who said you was getting money from my supporters. came back to the house and wrote to you and that is where it began. As for! and they just were concerned you will accidentally say too much in these social media pages and that you need to chill. feels an NDA is important so it protects the project and me I'm just at a point don't care about social media or fan mail. leave prison in two years and fans aren't what is important, friends and family are what's important. That's just on the real real ya know, are looking out for my future and how the book is my financial stability, as for everyone else including that girl, can't speak on what their intentions are in why they say you're on some shady shit but know don't like it so I think fading back will help big time in order for everyone to stop the concern.	page 983
12/28/2021 12:37:08	Outbound	Awe I love you too. I'm sorry if came off rude in the email sent last week, but was very annoyed with the things was hearing. Multiple people in my close circle just feel you share too much with other people about me and agree. know you want to keep everyone informed but now is not the time and its about time started sharing what want people to know about me through my documentary not social media, they all feel you need to calm down with the groups and tiktoks about me or rather stop giving updates all together because of how much details you know. People will go to YOU as a main source of information when it needs to be kept private until the documentary release and come from me. the only reason no one has snapped on you is because have intervened first.	page 983

12/29/2021 13:58:41	Inbound	Gypsy, have not just come right out and ask for money except the t-shirts and in October with your new clothes. If people give her money without her asking, that is on them. do wish she would not talk about needing things or problems on pages affiliated with you in any way. She may not even ask outright for money. We all have times in our lives where we need money or are having a hard time. There are people that say they are having a hard time financially but have said it for so long they don't even realize they are doing it anymore. If someone chooses to give her money because of something they read on her own FB page, TikTok or any other social media that is hers alone, again, that is on them. When money is sent because of info on pages with YOUR name in the title, then people can make that something negative about you. That is my concern. Do not trust everything you hear while still in there. People only want to gain your trust and get close to you because of who you are they are not real friends. have talked about over sharing on social media. told her that the documentary is being done and that is where the new updates will come from and no where else. told her that even have offered to sign an NDA. My main concern, even over the documentary, is YOU. I do not want to see you in any trouble in there because of something you have no control over out here. and will send you all the money you need. will send some if you can't get in touch with them. There should be no reason you need money and have to have anyone ask strangers for it. Gypsy, that is what DD did for so long using you to get it. That is what some people will automatically go to when anyone asks for money on any social media where your name is mentioned, even though you don't know it is even happening. There is nothing you can do to stop that. That is needs to understand. Love you and sending prayers. you. love you too. :-)	page 584
12/29/2021 11:44:51	Outbound	:-) admit the name on your jpay account gave me pause lol Hell If you would like to send a picture that would be nice to see who I'm talking to. :-) try using the snap and send button and send just the picture because it won't let you send an email with a picture at the same time. So what are your interests?	page 708
12/29/2021 16:48:42	Outbound	Thank you friend. feel and a lot of others feel, she prioritizes keeping people updated, posting, sharing and interacts in comments more then she respects when tell her that she's being a little much. and that is my friend she can be a little much sometimes and love her, but sometimes its ya don't need to live on social media or prove yourself as my friend to other people. It is simply people think she's up to no good in her intentions because she appears to flaunt her friendship with me and some people like it some people don't and feel she has good intentions but her approach is inappropriate sometimes. and that is what confuses me and anyone who doesn't hide their involvement with me, but don't scream it from the rooftops either. I think boundaries need to be set for this friendship and one of these boundaries is privacy. If she has not posted anything critical then good, saves me from having to be responsible with my book agent. My production team is on my ass to stay	page 865

I've watched it ever since can remember, its a tradition of sorts. Though have mixed emotions when watching it. get a little emotional thinking about the past year and thinking of all the events that happened. This year has been filled with ups and downs. At the beginning of the year was dumped by this guy was talking to for a year who turned out to be a real jerk and then in the summer tested positive for covid even after being vaccinated, but then things started to become more positive, graduated my GED in June and got accepted into a college program, had my first parole hearing this month and was granted parole and will be released on December 28th 2023! :-) that is my earliest out date possible. So its been a crazy year and I'm still evolving as a person, internally feel in a good place now its a matter of keeping balance in my life between how much effort want to put into something and what am being given back from it. I'm 30 years old and get out in just under 2 years. do want children someday. a part of me is curious about the "fin" life and the other half is wanting to settle down and start a family. have people who write in support to me from all over the world, Italy, England, Norway, and various places in the U.S. have many options to live anywhere, once have completed my parole, and have no clue as to where my life will take me 10 years from now. My life has changed so much already in the last 3 years, its already so different then thought it would be. The people who thought would be there at the finish line are no where in sight and the only people who are still standing by me from the beginning to end is my father and I've had relationships come and go. was once engaged and he left me to find "better" got with another man who was 13 years my senior and he was the rebound who rebuilt my heart only for him to break it too. Once upon a time thought these men would be there standing at the finish line of my time in prison and neither one was the man wanted or needed, because stand by the saying "If you can handle me at my worst, you don't deserve me at my best." Now I have a wonderful teddy bear of a guy. He is from Lake Charles LA and I really see this one working out for me. :-) I am currently writing my book and my memoirs will be published when am released. My passion is to be an advocate for children of parents with MBP. These children need a voice from someone who was once in their shoes, and being who am, I can be that voice for them. I am working on this book project to finally share myself with the world as I am today. The Gypsy Blanchard talking to you now is very different then the Gypsy seen in the arrest video. My hope is to become something positive out of a bad circumstance. I'm sorry if this was long was just being very open. hope you have a great 2022! Love Gypsy	page 239

Setting the covid booster? did get mine. was vaccinated when did test positive for covid back in July. guess things are getting bad again out there from what see on CNN. Unfortunately believe this is just the new normal and our government needs to accept that as well as everyone else. It sucks that this virus has nearly bested human kind but saying life will be normal again after the pandemic is over is not looking to be correct. There is no "after" its starting to be just live with it. It has been a difficult last few years with the pandemic. Even in here, we had to deal with shutdowns of all our programs, classes and have limited recreational time. Our visits were suspended for like a year, in person contact visits just started back up this last June to where can actually hug and kiss my loved ones. Other things never started back up yet. Our staff directed us to wear the masks then don't wear the masks then its your choice to mask up, then back to wear the masks or get a write up for not wearing the masks. Our prison did not know what the hell to do. think they have a better handle on things now but in the beginning omg it was a nightmare. As inmates we have to do as directed by the staff so if the warden is giving out conflicting information to his staff and they direct their inmates wrong, it is the inmate that gets in trouble. 12/31/2021 20:44:47	Outbound	So have to tell you something, if we are going to be long term friends, think honesty is very important for any friendship. You need to know do have a current relationship. am with my best he and I have known each other for about 2 years. We didn't start as romantic...I friend zoned him for about a year because was chasing other things. He isn't physically my type, he is a bigger guy and people often say he is the live version of Peter Griffin from the TV cartoon Family Guy, so to say that would have saw him and been off the bat attracted to him, that isn't the case. what brought us together is our connection in how well we mesh with each other. He was THAT guy that when a guy that I did like would reject me I'd cry to him and be very vulnerable to him and little did I know, he felt more. He became my comfort and he fell in love with me and watched me give my heart to these assholes who put me through hell and then eventually realized that though may not be as sexually attracted to him like would be if he was physically my type that I'm drawn to, but he loves me better then anyone have ever met. He would be an amazing father and husband one day and I'd have a good and happy life with him and so am with him. do love him, do feel he feels deeper then I, but we make each other happy. The thing my relationship lacks is sexual excitement on my part, and am expressing that in my emails to you it seems. often confess t I never lie to him, that with how grew up with my mother keeping me from having a normal social life that never had the opportunity to date around (or have a sex life) and experience different people that now sometimes find other people interesting. I find you interesting, but didn't want to continue to send you emails and you not know what is the whole picture. I am trying to figure out my life and learning by experience. You are a charming guy, with a very sexy voice, and I really enjoy talking to you and to say dont get butterflies when i hear from you would be a lie. hope that no matter my relationship status or what is going on in my life hope you will still want to talk to me too. Have a goodnight.	page 995

01/01/2022 22:02:19	Inbound	Gypsy, It was nice to hear from you again, I'm sorry you have to deal with people who are looking to take advantage of you. honestly think you should move away from Missouri for a little while, and let people forget about you. If someone is posting all about you online, and receiving money because of it, I'm sorry but that's definitely not your friend sweetheart, it sounds to me like she's looking at you with dollar signs in her eyes, and if that's what she's doing now, that was her full intention the whole time she was talking to you, was using your name to get money for herself. And if she's continuing to post about you even though you voiced your opinion and don't like it, obviously she doesn't care and just wants to be known and that is apparent clout and money is more important than you and your feelings are. told my best friend was messaging a woman in prison, but never told him who the woman was. could care less if anyone knows we talk, like to be left alone, like peace and quiet, not a bunch of social media drama, rarely go on social media, maybe once every 3-6 months. I'm not the type to post my relationship online either, or even pictures with other people, yeah have plenty of pictures, but just don't feel the need to post them for others to see. get that your ex celly put money on your books, but know damn well that's not all she got from that Cashapp, am willing to bet on it, she's totally taking advantage, you should kindly ask her to delete everything she's ever posted related to you, as it's really not her position to do so. You can do it yourself if you choose to some day. Unless you told her to do so, and in that case, that's on you, and it good idea to trust a convict. Lol don't look at you as a criminal, because really feel like you really didn't do anything wrong, but invite the wrong man into your life. And feel like the other women around you know that not that type of person, and that's why they're taking advantage. Sometimes the truth really hurts, and you sounded like you really didn't want to accept what said, but will always tell you the truth, even if know you don't want to hear it or might not like it, and plus, if everybody else is telling you the same thing, use your brain! Don't be afraid to stand up for yourself and say no, ever! hope you have a happy New Years, and it was nice to hear be out in under two years, that put a smile on my face for you, even if we don't meet, am happy for you, and I'm glad you got the good news, you seem like a genuinely nice person, who just made the mistake of inviting a psycho into your life. It's always nice to hear from you, need to get to sleep though, work in the AM. apologize haven't put any money on your books yet, my trucks repair bill ended up being $2,400, and my dumb ass keeps lending money to people who don't pay me back. But it's like the saying goes, if you never want to see someone again, lend them $100. And regardless of my sons mother moving there, would still come just for you! (= If you ever want to get away from all the people trying to leech from you, you're welcome to come to Pennsylvania, have a house, and everything you would need, and I don't want anything from you, except honesty and your offer will always stand, even if am in a relationship by then, have extra beds here! God is right there with you, Gypsy. Hold onto that. Hold onto God this next year. Pray to God for help, pray for more faith in Him and He will bless you. He really does bless you when you do. When I have had hard times, have prayed for help and really have received the help needed. know God will listen to you too. challenge you to read your Bible this year. going to read it from page 1 to the end this year. If know you, you like a challenge. expect to hear from you that you are reading the Bible and really want to hear from you where you are in reading the Bible and we can email each other about it. When reading it, you will find answers to questions that you have inside you. Hunter reads his Bible every day. LOVE that he does that. It gives me so much comfort and want that for you. I love you, sweet girl. want you to know the comfort you can get from prayers and from reading the Bible. There have been times in my life when it has been difficult and have opened the Bible up for guidance and the page turn to is the exact page need for that guidance. want you to experience that. He broke my heart too...and is the third. I never had the experience of dating before came to prison so I'm learning fast what do and do not like in a partner. My past year has been a little crazy also so this New Year's instead of going to the beach to watch the ball drop decided to stay home and cook and have friends and family over. People just don't act the same since Covid so stayed out of all of the craziness lol have four kids so they had some friends over and we watched the ball drop on television just like you did. can't believe you had Covid so did last December and man it was so bad was so sick my mom well grandma who raised me so to me she was mom passed in May and she made me promise her to get the vaccine so I did and I'm happy made that choice because right now everyone in my house has Covid except me lol poor things feel for them it makes you feel so bad. I'm so happy to hear that you finished school that's amazing and such a great accomplishment for you. Have you thought about a career when you get out? actually went to college for a few different things like accounting and recreational therapy love to help people have always had a huge heart. Now actually work from home doing customer service. sit here working with my little three pound chihuahua Tucker who call my little side kick. He's such a cutie will send you a picture of him. I'm sorry to hear about your relationships not working out since you've been in there know the feeling lol I've been there but now am engaged to an amazing person who am so glad to be with we have known each other since we were little. The right person will come along. As far as people not sticking by you the whole time that's terrible I've had a similar situation you really find out who your friends are when going through hard times have one best friend have had for 16 years everyone else just went on doing their own thing so it's hard. I'm so glad you're dad and step mom are there for you that's amazing. I've seen you're dad and step mom on television and they seem like sweet and supportive people I'm so happy for you. As far as what I've seen about your story I've watched them both I'm so sorry you went through everything you went through don't read much into stories because feel like the real truth and story should come from you when ready if that makes sense people tend to take stories about people and run with them so am so happy you are writing a book can't wait to read it that's really something to be proud of. went through a different type of abuse as a child so speak at support groups and children's group homes to try and help others that have been through what I went through. There are so many places to live lol actually live in North Carolina always have well when was little lived in Germany so that was a big change. don't have a big family or support system so I've tried to live close to what family have left. Well know I've probably written you a novel lol but I love to talk lol thank you so much for writing me back hope we can continue to write a good friend is hard to find lol hope you have a great day and look forward to hearing from you soon!	page 916

01/04/2022 12:32:00	Outbound	is turning on me. She sent me a hateful email, saying how don't appreciate her and that dont need to send my godchild a happy birthday card because don't appreciate that she named after me and all kinds of stuff. saying she knows her place, do know mine...wtf don't believe she is the best friend thought all these years. It hurts because all did was politely ask that she keep things more private and to not post on social media because have things going on that requires my privacy. and she responded in a very selfish and unthoughtful manner. This is a copy of what sent to her "If you were a real friend a simple request to quit posting would not have been a big deal, but you are like addicted to posting about me! and you made another group after closing your support group, why? to be like every other gossip page. You never saw a person did you? you only saw the "famous Gypsy" When we met, you came up to me and introduced yourself knowing who was....was it all fake? be gypsies friend so you could maybe get a little money or fame from it. the appropriate response would have been. "oh I'm sorry don't want to interfere with your business, if you need me to post something will, but otherwise will just show my friendship and support offline" But your reaction and response was just inappropriate. DID NOT ask you to make or sell the merchandise t-shirts that was your idea, as was the TicToks, you specifically said to me "we could make lots of money from TicToks." and I, ignoring my better judgment allowed it. maybe asked you to make only a few TicToks. I didn't ask you to post the simple emails that send to you to say hi or just to email my friend thinking its between friends...to you it was new material to use for the group. Why was it more important to keep people updated about me rather than be a support that didn't give you the noterity from other people? 01/04/2022 22:28:41	Inbound	Lol no offense taken. Wow those are some pretty big compliments though thank you that's like the nicest thing someone has said to me! :D. Never got Jason Momoa. Usually get compared to young Keanu Reeves. Yeah it was a professional picture taken over the summer when was at my cousin's wedding. Got my glow up on haha. Only thing lost my tan over the winter and my hair grew out a bit but that's that. Sent you another couple pics just took from my phone. I think look better in person though lol. Have you seen Magic Mike?? Lmaoo you just motivated me to work out harder so can live up to that. For New Years, like to spend it with friends or a small group, watch the ball drop and drink some wine or champagne. Make some New Years resolutions maybe. used to live in NY for a while, know you'll get to see the ball drop in person someday that'll be exciting! Congrats on the parole! Time to celebrate lol :) I'm proud of you for sticking it out in there and bettering yourself It must've been hard but it only makes it that much sweeter when you succeed. I'll even go so far as to say you're stronger than me. Don't know how would fare. What are you going to study in college? And you'll prob end up living near your dad and stepmom for a little bit assume? love to keep evolving and growing and changing for the better. In my opinion that's how you get the most of life. There are still so many things want to do too. So having children, definitely want that but know there's so much left to do beforehand. I'd want to give my children all the advantages possible and not have to struggle like a lot of the world. So I'd rather make sure I've got my finances in order at least. I've actually moved around in a lot of places in the country because my parents were in the military. So when someone asks me "where I'm from" its hard to know since don't feel like have state". It does make want to settle down somewhere and not move again lol. But it made me well traveled so take the good with the bad. I'm sorry about the relationship stuff actually know kinda how you feel in that regard. 2 years ago was engaged. But it didn't work out. was in the relationship for 6 years. She ended up telling me the ring got her wasn't good enough. Then it fell apart from there. guess when you feel that type of way for a person you don't see the red flags, or rather don't want to see them. Definitely lesson learned. You deserve the best though so don't settle for good enough is what have to say about that I guess. I actually have seen some documentaries and the Act. didn't really care for the Act much since it was too dramatized felt. But it was ok. understand that there's still so much more to you. 01/05/2022 16:11:26	Inbound	Tuesday Jan 5th 2022, Dear Gypsy, Hi how are you doing? I'm someone you used to work with /live in same quarters with, 's cousin ? She is i now still believe- atleast all know is her mail gets to her but mostly write to her in here. heard about your story of course who hasn't? Back at the time when it happened then it slipped my mind what state it all was in cause my cousin is there - Chillicothe Correctional and forgot about it til lately because of the Hulu mini series The Act and looked back into it again, watching whatever could find on it. know at the time asked if she knew you but she never answered me til today! Asking me if never got her letter about it and it was one of those things where didn't so it went forgotten about til now cause after watched the movies asked her again. She's not been getting her jpay mail from me quick like she used to. Are you experiencing the same issue? read where you are trying to get an early parole. signed the petition on line to get it granted. They are also saying you have a new fiancé. do hope all goes well for you and you can get out. can't imagine what you went thru with all the medical procedures. CAN understand the threats, verbal abuse and physical abuse. also had religious abuse. My dad abused me in all these ways and said if ever ran away he'd kill me and my mom just sat back and let it all happen so long as she had her TV all was "normal" to her. My so called big sister was also a religious fanatic and still is but she bounces from this religion to that, whoever will pay her electric bill that month or her rent! Oh forgot to tell you the religion was forced to go by: Jehovah Witnesses! You might know something about those! LOLOL When was a teen lived out here in Los Angeles and so often living back in New Jersey where we're from longed to get back here and finally managed it 7 years ago but it took me 26 YEARS to finally be 100 percent free. And yet not really 100 percent cause while my "mom" is dead my dad isn't but atleast he's in Tennessee and am in Los Angeles. have to continue to "fake it" with him cause he acts like nothing ever happened and we are this "happy family" and most of the relatives don't even know or never even told them a thing cause they wouldn't believe me anyway. For some reason most of them literally WORSHIP him even to this day. Ugh! So it's pointless. no longer talk to my "sister" she's a kook and knows it lolololol we have a laugh every once in a while over it. call in here sometimes LOL She's to get out in about 13 or 14 months. She's going back to Jersey. am out here on the West Coast with my eldest so who has extreme anxiety, and believe symptoms of Aspergers. He is one who doesn't like to take pills but will sometimes take herbal anxiety stuff if it gets too bad. We are both on SSI disability. Mine is mainly from all the times getting beat in the back, but also have had a major car accident in 1991 where was literally flat line dead for several minutes. They signed me right up for SSI when I was in a coma. was only 21 at the time, is 34 now and my youngest is 33. I am 55 by the way (is 54) still lives in New Jersey. He's got Covid but is doing ok, not too many symptoms. He works in a restaurant and the practically the whole staff got Covid and the place is closed down because of it. hope you are staying safe and free from Covid and got your shots and the booster. know it doesn't have much effect (affect?) on this new Omicron variant. God that sounds like a convention! You probably get tons of mail but hope you get in touch being you know my cousin I'll give you a stamp or two just in case you need it to do so. Stay safe and stay optimistic!	page 221

Unfortunately believe this is just the new normal and our government needs to accept that as well as everyone else. It sucks that this virus has nearly bested human kind but saying life will be normal again after the pandemic is over is not looking to be correct. There is no "after" its starting to be just live with it. It has been a difficult last few years with the pandemic. Even in here, we had to deal with shutdowns of all our programs, classes and have limited recreational time. Our visits were suspended for like a year, in person contact visits just started back up this last June to where can actually hug and kiss my loved ones. Other things never started back up yet. Our staff directed us to wear the masks then don't wear the masks then its your choice to mask up, then back to wear the masks or get a write up for not wearing the masks. Our prison did not know what the hell to do. think they have a better handle on things now but in the beginning omg it was a nightmare. As inmates we have to do as directed by the staff so if the warden is giving out conflicting information to his staff and they direct their inmates wrong, it is the inmate that gets in trouble. Anyways my point is it will be nice when don't have to follow orders from a facility and can make my own choices of	page 1014

01/06/2022 14:46:52	Inbound	Baby, I am sorry that all of this is happening I've dropped friendships before because of the other person not being the friend that initially thought they were. It is painful at first but you have so much going on with the book and documentary, stay busy. Start counting down your days till you come home. Start working hard on the book, maybe take a college course or two. You keep busy and moving forward. Life is always going to have challenges but you have learned how to handle those. know you will miss the girls. That is only natural. Who knows, maybe you two can rebuild your friendship when you get out!!! Love ya made a post today on the FB page hope by now you know that only want what is best for YOU and your family. she does for you and wrote statements like "I am not a fan" and saw it and asked to take it down due to those words and statements made during your parole hearing from the parole board. refused to remove it and changed famous to "well known". Baby, and both think you need to stop emailing and until after you are out on parole. do believe at first, had good intentions with the FB page and the updates. Now, i believe it may have gone to her head and she is feeding off of the comments of sympathy and encouragement that SHE gets when she posts things like that. Normally, she does not use the word "famous" but this is getting WAY out of control. understand she is your friend. do believe at this point she can't see past the "Gypsy Rose" that strangers know from TV. so sorry to have to say all of this to you but know you asked me my opinion and that is mine AN opinion. If you email asked that you also send it to either me or her so we know what you have written. Now, onto other stuff. Your dad has Covid. He is doing well. He is at the tail end of it and doing ok. He is home with and she is taking care of him. He feels ok. No worries, baby, no worries. He is getting better. Just from what has told me, he had a light case of it. Please email me and back so we know you got this and understand what we are saying We both We just believe that this social media stuff with her is getting out of control. lik love you, please email soon.	page 584

Sorry everyone is getting sick, had the coronavirus and it lasted about 3 weeks, for three weeks taste or smell anything, but remember for like 1 week, had a nonstop headache, the shits no joke, for three days though, couldn't get out of bed it was bad and my head was fucking pounding, so just slept it off and got up when felt better, hope you don't get too sick, and if you do hope you feel better, if do come to visit you in person, it be for a couple months, as my job is really short handed right now, and they need me here a lot, Maybe sometime around May, if you're still talking to the Tattoo Guy Lol I'm making my noodles in a bag, the way told you before, then watching a documentary about famous assassinations, have a good night beautiful! 01/06/2022 12:24:49	Outbound	also, one last thing, when talking to me about TikTok you specifically said to me, "we can make lots of money" ignored my better judgement and allowed you to make them. was always a sucker for your tears and the words you'd say but how much of what you have said to me was about money and how my "well knownness" could be used to that. I'm well known to everyone yes, but I've always been just Gyps to my friends... think you lost sight of that and started to see me as "your celebrity" rather than your friend. That is how you make me feel when you excessively post about me. There are many groups to keep people talking about me, and there probably always will be, but it is less about my project and opinion of others that are weighing on my mind and more about how much substance and equal balance of responsibility as a friend this friendship has. never asked you for anything even in here, how much did I give and give to you? You've sent me money throughout the years, which I didn't ask you for but it was appreciated, but never made you feel like how you make me feel sometimes. 01/06/2022 16:10:51	Outbound	I'm needing to vent about something because I'm stressed out about it. So my friend who met in prison, we first met on the bus ride together to come to prison in 2016. Anyway she did 6 months for forgery then was released in 2017 now its been 5 years since and she's been clean off drugs, married and has two new girls who are my goddaughters. Anyway' and have always been pretty good friends. We call each other soulsisters, anyhow, she is always on social media and she is getting out of control with it. She ran a Facebook support page about me and it had like 400+ followers plus a TikTok account with 12k followers and many videos about me and she posted updates about how was doing, new pictures and stuff. She was very open about being friends with me, She would introduce herself to people like "Hi I' I'm Gypsy Blanchard's best friend" It was all sweet and nice but lately myself and other friends feel the attention she gets from Gypsy support groups is getting to her head and she doesn't see me as her friend but now as HER celebrity. It is to the point of obsession and love her but when asked her to stop posting about me because I'm writing a book and my life story will be told from my own words, She turned salty on me and told me things like she knows her place, do know mine. She told me that don't need to send my goddaughter a birthday card because don't appreciate them and am letting money influence my perceptions of her posting about me. My book agent is on my ass to keep information private that hasn't been told in other platforms before. talks about me to anyone and has no respect for my privacy or my book project. My agent found out so now I'm having to deal with the fact has become a liability to my book. saying money has changed my perceptions is wrong. Like told in a email, money never changed me because I've never been given money I live off what my father sends me to take care of me in prison, was always a shy person who just wanted to live a normal life. simply have a friend who sees dollar signs when she looks at me, so who was changed by money? feel the attention she gets from social media got to her and she has lost sight of our friendship and now only sees me for only the recognition she gets off of claiming to be my best friend. My parole ends on June 25, 2025 Well it sounds like you have had a very exciting life already and many more things to do in the future as well. :-)) would love to travel, my dream is to see the northern lights. Omg that is awful! Any woman really in love knows it is not the size of the ring that matters its the size of the mans heart that counts! That just disgusted me. Love is wasted on the bimbos. I'm sorry but please don't think all women are like her. My ex fiance used to live in Seattle working as a bartender. He was 24 when we met, he was handsome and loving for 2 years and thought he would never leave me. Then The Act aired on hulu and become kinda famous overnight. He couldn't handle the pressure of being with me and to some degree he felt embarrassed being with Americas most beloved murder. He was always a private person, but when you are dating someone in the public eye there is no such thing as privacy. He became distant and then he finally broke it off. We kept semi in touch, spoke to him a month ago and he admitted after two years of avoiding it, he finally told me he has a girlfriend now. And with that, killed the last piece of my heart that remained his. will never call him again. And that is that. Moving on. It is so fresh that can't bring myself to call her and would not know what to say if we did talk on the phone. For now feel we are getting some emotional distance and maybe its needed. Be aware she asked me to forward the conversation of what all was said and to them and have done so. will say have requested that these emails won't be splashed around on fb. As long as doesn't talk shit on social media about me or my included, don't foresee any public display of drama about all this. Last thing want is a cyber battle and To some degree feel like with the way sees the situation she is more likely to agree with that I'm a bad friend. Which the situation is completely different then In time the dust will settle. anyway enough about that. How are things with you?	page 868

01/10/2022 18:31:41	Inbound	Gypsy, did have a good New Years, however it was a bit different than usual tradition. Every year we too would watch the ball drop on tv and have snacks and finger food. That's been a tradition ever since was little. would always get emotional after saying happy New Years, because I'd reflect on the past year, while anticipating the events to come in the new year. The beginning of the year for me wasn't too bad. went to school, went to work, spent time at the beach, met you, did the absolute best could to make myself proud and those around me proud. It was really in the summer and fall months when things became rocky. As have mentioned before to you, I've not had the best relationship with my mother. I've always been in denial over the things she has said and done to me and my 4 siblings. Everyone kept telling me to get out. Leave. That it's an abusive and very toxic environment and it's destroying your physical and mental health. So before moving back home after the spring semester ended, made the decision to move in with my father. My parents are divorced and knew things would slowly start to get better for me if had left moms house. So left behind an abusive relationship, and it was the best decision I've made. In addition my very good friend moved to FL for work and was crushed because she would no longer be 15 minutes away but 5 hours away. was saddened we get to spend our time together and see each other as often as we once did. The best people are the furthest away but you make what you can of it. want to congratulate you on earning parole. very VERY proud of you Gypsy. You are going to get out and do AMAZING things. You've got a good head on your shoulders. I think with each year we learn and we grow becoming better and better versions of ourselves. If had to offer one piece of advice to you, Life is what you make it Gypsy. enjoy yourself. You learn from experience. was very sheltered growing up, and once got to college, went crazy. may not have made the best decisions but I've learned from my mistakes. You learn and you grow. Listen to your heart, have faith, but also don't let people pressure you into doing things you are not comfortable with. also have had friends come and go. hope you know that don't abandon the people care about, no matter who you are or your past. don't see you as a celebrity or idolize you, rather see you as a human being who was dealt a bad hand. will be there at the finish line and hope you feel the same way. Friends come and go, but the true friends are here to stay. love and care about you. helped me get through some pretty rough times, and I'm grateful of that hope I can only return the favor. I'm just pouring my heart out here lol, but mean everything say from the bottom of my heart. I am excited for your project and can't wait for its release. have seen so much how you have changed and matured over the years. You were lost, but have been found. You are not just "The Gypsy Blanchard Case" (hate when people say that), rather you are Gypsy Blanchard, who know as a friend, a mentor, a loving, fun, go getting, beautiful person inside and out. I've seen your true self and you are going to make it. hope we can meet up one day. This past year has definitely taught me to speak up for myself. Express my feelings, was always told to be quiet that my words help. But am a person too and my feelings and words are valid. allowed to have a voice and don't want to be kept in the dark any longer. I am becoming a better person but also realize have trauma and working around it. Lastly I just wanted to say thank you for everything. Please know how grateful of you and hope we can stay connected. No matter what happens, I love you and I'll always support you.	page 651

01/11/2022 16:22:18	Outbound	have wonderful news, Lifetime just signed to give me a 16 hour documentary. 6 hours will be filmed over the course of 6 months and probably air this fall and the rest of the 10 hours will be filmed post release. They are looking for a showrunner but our next filming is in the next 6 to 8 weeks. I'm nervous. always get nervous filming but have become very comfortable with who am working with to create this is a journalist working with multiple networks. she originally met me after My story was featured on Dr.Oz where she was running his true crime segments. After about a year and a half we reconnected to talk about her helping me write my own book and a possible multi-hour doc series. This will be unlike anything done before because the network normally gives at most a 3 hour spot so to come out with 16 hours is incredible. All this is of course very hush hush until the network makes the official announcement.	page 1013

01/13/2022 11:52:26	Inbound	Gypsy, could only imagine how frustrating that is! The last time got into trouble, for a DUI back in 2019, it was just the start of the pandemic, was pissed the fuck off and decided to fight the SERT team after refusing to cuff up, and ended up being put in the hole for 3 months, then the day after got out of the hole, the captain came on the block and explained everyone was going to be on lockdown, with only being allowed to go get out trays, and 30 minutes each cell for phone calls and showers, so for a whole 6 months was basically locked in my cell 24/7, which was worse than the level 4 security state prison was briefly in, in Connecticut, which got an hour in the gym and went to the chow hall for every meal. I'm considered dangerous, don't know why hehehe! & So if do ever get in trouble again, which don't plan on it, automatically put into maximum security, because beat up staff members who were complete assholes and deserved it! As for the implants, I'm scared to death of the dentist, know that sounds a little ridiculous for a grown man to say, but when was a child, 5-6 maybe even 7 years old, the dentist strapped my hands and legs and body to a bed, and proceeded to drill my teeth, and he forgot to give me any medicine to numb my mouth, screamed bloody murder, and he didn't listen, so for 2 whole hours he worked on my teeth, doing a root canal, and drilling cavities, and filling them, with absolutely nothing to numb the pain, felt completely helpless, and never wanted to go to the dentist again, and refused to for years after that, there's been lawsuits recently over that practice of tying kids down, and not allowed to do it anymore!!! Shits crazy! The dentist that did this to me doesn't practice anymore and see why!! I'm sure I'm not the only kid he terrorized like that! And because of that I'm scared to death! I've been looking into it, and just so you know, they have dentures that are actually implanted into your mouth with like 6 screws, that are much cheaper than the single implants need, maybe in the future we could talk about going together to get it done, I've been building my credit too so even if didn't have the cash to outright pay for it upfront, could help you with it by paying it off slowly, but only if together & sorry but I'm not rich enough to do that for random women Lol actually have to work for everything, you know? :/ Was like like a rebellious poem you sent me? Like a Covid spin-off of the 12 days of Christmas? Like the 12 days of Covid? If you saw my scar, bet you would say otherwise! want to see your scars now! As for the things you said about your sister having the so called "normal perfect life" who's to say what is or isn't normal? The things we go through growing up, teach us right from wrong, even though you know somethings done to you with good intentions, know that you going through that, gave you a first hand outlook on how it feels to be treated badly, and because you've personally felt that hurt and pain, can almost bet my life you would never want to pass any of that hurt and pain onto anyone else, essentially making you a better person, it might sound messed up and completely deranged to say, but there's a reason you went through what you went through, even though you might not see the reason, what said could just be one of the possible reasons, I'm not saying that's exactly why, but was abused when was a kid, and remember that, and I try to not pass that pain on to anyone else, wasn't always this way though, when was a teenager and still in my early twenties, was a bad mean person, and would take out what happened to me on those around me, all the wrong people who had nothing to do with what happened to me, they just so happened to be the closest ones to me at the time, and I took my anger and frustrations out on them, because wasn't happy within, and I've come to learn that true happiness comes from within, you need to learn to let go of the hurtful things that happened to you, because those who hurt you, weren't happy within themselves, and they felt that taking out their anger and frustrations on you, would make them feel better, but it never does. Those that hurt you suffered within and happy with themselves, seeing their	page 784

He was in fact fired, however it was only after the school learned of his relationship with me. The school is a private Christian school who viewed his relationship with me, an inmate as "unGodly" and did not uphold their standards for its teachers. We were thinking of suing the school for discrimination then the school decided to avoid a legal battle, they would continue to pay him and instead of filing the paperwork as a termination, they put it down as he resigned due to person reasons. But I'm pissed off that is mad at me so she is attacking and spreading lies is a big teddy bear with the best heart and the staff and students loved him. It was sad that the school did that, everyone felt it was fucked up of the school to fire him because he is in love with me, but my status as an inmate causes complications for him. know he against me, he honesty ould was a between me or the other. but still =	page 1001
01/27/2022 18:35:04	Inbound	Aw thanks that's sweet of you to say lol. should send you more pics sometime so you have something nice to look at hahaha. You're also really cute and beautiful fyi. I'll treat you to some good Viet food when you get out! Gonna expand your horizons Ohh so people like her is what you meant when you were talking about people trying to take advantage or being shitty to you because of your fame. Never heard of her before but she obviously has nothing better going on in her life but to be a bitch to/about you. Maybe she's salty about being a nobody housewife xD. don't really use social media much anymore at the moment. Besides messaging friends. Purposely starting drama online is, in my opinion, kinda trashy lol. Regarding maybe she went to her to try to get some dirt on you in case she needs it. I've had fake "friends" pull this sort of speaking out of both sides of their mouth a couple times before so know how you're feeling. Of course don't know the whole story so... just my 2 cents. A real friend wouldn't do that ever. Keep your head up, there are more real friends out there than fake so it'll get better:)	page 1010

01/28/2022 15:38:19	Outbound	The one thing want you to remember is love you we are friends and I'm sorry you feel probably very confused by my view and view as they are conflicting. is being very immature trying to stir things up rather than let things calm down. I am going to stop the cycle and let things die down. don't believe a word she says. don't appreciate her talking to I certainly don't like her talking about she pretended to like him but on the phone she would say he is too fat for me and too ugly for me, that could do better blahblahblah. She would send him messages telling him to lose weight. She just didn't feel he was attractive enough for me. told her felt more attracted to him in person because his personality shines. Yes, he is big, yes he knows it and was hurt by those comments from Maybe she needs to take a look at her behavior over the years and see why have made up my own mind about her and having a friendship.	page 865

You have been through something unique and think all of us can only hope to reach out and give our support to hopefully show you that whilst we don't understand it is clear you deserve to have a happy normal life. There is speculation over here that you will release your own documentary or book - is this true? I'm not saying this to be anything but observant, just know how it can be isolating and even a downer on the excitement you feel being in love. Everyone wants to be able to express how happy they are in a relationship and feel you get your fair share of flak from people close to you. Part of me wishes they would watch my documentary and part of me doesn't because don't want them to see the old me but in a way do, because then they can see that I'm not like these other women in here. I'm sorry to put it this way, but I'm not just some junky screw up... I'm actually a really well known and well liked person among those who do know who am. And one day in the not too distant future I'll be on talk shows wearing a nice dress and heels walking across a stage full of people who think i am a somebody. and when that day comes, do not want to hear those certain few in your life say they liked me all along just because am no longer wearing khakis. 02/03/2022 00:28:21	Outbound	My Love, Thank you for understanding that lost control of my emotions in the last few days looking at these old pictures. am sorry if hurt your feelings by will not be calling him again. need to learn to let go of the anger and resentment hold at times. need to learn to acknowledge that you are nor are yOu and the insecurity feel needs to be calmed with knowing that you making that ultimate commitment is showing me your intent to stay with me. love you and feel you let go of a lot for the sake of our relationship but am going to put forth an effort to show more maturity then show at times particularly as it pertains to comments that to me are a joke or teasing or an attempt to cause jealousy. we are 5 months away from starting a marriage and want the both of us to go into it having a healthy understanding of each others boundaries. for example won't accept lies and secrets within our marriage, nor will accept infidelity. want to make you fully aware that if you and ever come to a point we are both unhappy within the marriage that therapy be the first option and then if that doesn't work then we can consider divorce. won't keep you in a marriage that you are not happy in. will never be unfaithful. grow tired of these childish taunts about the men that have written to me. It is not something want to enter into our marriage. 100% committed to you and only you. WE are each others. As July draws nearer, am forming into the wife you deserve and part of that is learning my mistakes and the areas that need to improve in. am sorry for sometimes lacking these things. You say I'm not that bad, you say am overly critical of myself, but we both know that have said or done hurtful or careless things. You may not voice these disappointments but know they are there. My intention is to think of you before do something know that would upset you. I've let myself become bitter inside, you don't know it but I let myself become sarcastic because it is a wall or defence. never used to be sarcastic. That became a part of a way to project my hurt onto others. Sometimes feel numb inside and all feel is pain, But when I'm with you that darkness fades and feel me again, the me before those assholes broke the me that believed in true love. When I'm physically with you it is really strong, but at times things happen like when I saw the old pictures and am brought back to that darkness. Today I cried because realized was being affected by it and made comments that was hurtful projecting my hurt onto you. And that is what am apologizing for. emotions like this are probably going to occur, so what need to do is become better at voicing to you that I'm feeling hurt and allow you to then show me affection. I'm not perfect, far from it actually, but can learn to approach and handle situations and my emotions better. love you and please know you are doing amazing as my partner. xoxoxoxo Love you Snuggles	page 935

That is the point of this documentary, to let everyone have a chance to share their own experience. By doing this, hope to bring a humanity to my mothers memory. No one is all bad and I think in other films their was so much focus on showcasing her as a villain when it isn't so black and white and want the public to understand she struggled with mental illness. 02/16/2022 16:42:42	Inbound	16 February 2022 (1) Hello there Ms Gyps, How are you?! How are the days going by lately?! Wishfully all is right and calm and smooth and peaceful and always good!! I think, think lol that this Securus account has worked all the glitches out. was on the phone with a lady for about 2hrs to get mine up and running. She said wasn't the only one. As of now, it's working and I think it may be better than JPay :) So Ms Gyps, are you still dating someone from Lake Charles?! Is he a hott ass Cajun?! was born in Maryland so them accents do something to me haha Your Dad's got a strong bayou boy accent and so does Mr: lol And Lake Charles is not far from me. My daughter actually lived there years ago. A Hurricane put a hurtin' on that city a couple years ago and she went back to assist in relief efforts. The city gave her a helping hand when she was down and she gave a helping hand to the city when it was down!! There's where she started her nursing degree!)) So Ms Gyps, (I like that), think that's what I'll call ya 'til you get married!);.. get that being young, you want to be in a relationship and have a home and children; that's the natural way. A piece of everyone wants that foundation, stability do believe. This is just me but you girl, you're a late bloomer, a butterfly still in the cocoon, a Warrior waiting to leave her mark on the planet— would play the field, fish the ocean, hike the mountains, kiss a lot of frogs and leave a trail of broken hearts cause every man wants you and every woman wants to be you woohoo lollll But that's just me;) found the love of my life when wasn't even looking. It just happened. We worked together as friends on the money trucks and I didn't even like him lol He's former Military Police and disciplined and I'm so breezy and wild and rebellious. We compliment the best of each other. loved the way he loved me and fell in love.... As usual I'm rambling on, and you do you. If Mr Lake Charles man does it for ya, go for it!! There's no rush just saying. My daughter always had to have a man and I'd tell her it's also cool to be single. About 5yrs ago, she came across and dated and married her high school sweetheart and has happiness overload;) (and she's 36yrs old and pregnant right now) so there's always time.... Ta ha	page 240

So woken up dead out of my sleep by this beeping noise at first we think it's Smoke detector battery but then my boyfriend discovered it's the carbon monoxide detector. So leash up Apollo (my dog) and we all go outside and call 911 and when the fire department gets here they said they were happy we called because it detected 60ppm so we had too wait for them too clear it out and we think the reason it happened was because we had a fire going earlier and think mom thought the fire was out all the way so she shut the fire place flap thing but turns out it was still going a bit and so that's why there was carbon monoxide. But everyone is ok . Funny thing though my dog was so excited everyone was Lal ~	page 868

Would you be open to answering some questions via email? I'd love to get your thoughts on various aspects of your life as we are in the process of organizing your story (in other words, figuring out the structure of how we plan to tell it). Let me know if you'd be okay with that and I'll write you some questions in the next email. Also, if you'd be comfortable talking on the phone, let me know or just ring me up. 02/24/2022 18:30:27	Inbound	question... hey there gypsy! hope you're having an okay week...feeling healthy, etc. i have an idea i wanted to run by you. we are talking to a psychologist named DrJ Matthe who has agreed to participate in your documentary. your attorney wrote to him after your arrest asking if he would do an evaluation on you but since you took the plea the evaluation wasn't needed. he obviously knows about your case, but would welcome the opportunity to talk to you to get a better sense of you, your life and circumstances, and perhaps even come up with a recommendation for a treatment plan when you are released. IF, we could make it happen, would you be open t coming and sitting with you and having us film it? i think it could be helpful for you and would certainly be helpful for him to learn more about you. call me or write me back when you can and we can talk about it more. thanks, gypsy!	page 1030

03/01/2022 11:47:36	Outbound	Hi just wanted to talk to you about a concern regarding the book. want for this to be as honest to reality as possible so being open and real about the way felt and my actions in the past are important. When was going over events witht yesterday, she brought up some of the texts and on that night of the crime. Basically in a nutshell don't want the relationship between he and to be over romanized. Other platforms have done that to where they make he and sound like Bonnie and Clyde. When that is not the case. Very few know that starting in 2011,when I was on my secret fb account, met many men online and confessing my undying love to each and every one of them. saying things like "You are the love of my life" was 18-19 years old and believed was in love with each one would being one of them and the main target of my obsession after the night ran away to be with him. However just because was infatuated didn't stop me from flirting and even enticing other men online. I met someone as old as 50+ years old, his name was Richard Keen from Missouri. My mother found his and my conversations on Facebook when she eventually caught me using facebook on her laptop. she actually called him on the phone to threaten calling the police claiming was underage. He never spoke to me again. My point is, young and maturing beyond Disney fairy tale movies, the concept of true love was blurred to me so any man would have received such claims of love from me and that is what want to showcase rather than and being "in love". was not in love he just was another object ofmy obsession to have someone love me and that idea of a Prince Charming that I placed on so many others before him. When in reality, My relationship was very unhealthy and toxic. It was dark and fucked up. and all ask is to be true to the facts and feelings that occurred. Y'all are doing an amazing job. trust y'all 100%.	page 092

03/02/2022 01:53:37	Outbound	Hey Dad I'm glad you're back home happy Mardi Gras! Lately I've felt don't know which way is up or down. Lots going on. I've felt like I've been on go non stop. have been busy making calls to my book agent going over chapters and details. Then I've been making calls for the new documentary... All while still keeping in touch on a good daily basis. switched my job location to me working in the visiting room during visitation being the photographer for up there instead ofat recreation. so Fri,Sat,Sun work from 10:30am-12pm and then again at 3:30pm-5pm. Mom told me you got her a pole for Valentines Day. wow TMI :-P I'm glad are 21 again. LOL For real though I'm happy for :-> bought me a heart shaped necklace and sent me an adorable card and he bought me this crochet how to guide book had been blabbing about for weeks lol. For V day we rented a movie and watched it together over a phone call because now I can rent movies on my tablet like Redbox, so we sync up the seconds and watch it together. :-> I've picked out some doozys, FYI don't buy the movie Wild Mountain Tyme, it was lame. Dune was movie, it had awesome visuals but the story was slow. The warden will soon be taking the 15min phone timer offand giving us unlimited phone access like it used to be because now can use my tablet to make calls from my room or anywhere use my tablet. am guilty ofpooping and talking at the same time lol in all seriousness love being able to call from my room and it be more comfortable ofa surrounding. And it will be great to talk to people for more then 15 mins once an hour. Mom and used to spend forever on the phone back in the day. and I can will have to stack his phone account with moola because he and will spend a long time talking as well. remember when was he and would talk for 5+ hours at one time. But when the phone is your main way ofcommunicating, it is easy to get lost in a deep conversation talking about just about anything. it becomes the glue that holds a relationship together. My overall mood has been good. think I'm becoming less concerned with the everyday blandness ofprison I'm so over the petty shit these women talk about and find drama to talk about. keep my head high and stay in my own world. IfI'm oblivious to the actions ofothers no one can ask me to take sides. barely associate with anyone in here. Its like know this isn't my lifestyle and I'm never going to see or speak to these people again affer leave. I'm ready just to move on with my life. I miss and love you, I'll call soon. Also, if you don't want to respond for any reason, you don't have to. just figured I'd try to reach out and try to help you pass the time, even if it's just talking about random stuff. know it must get extremely boring there. P.s. If you DO want to become pen pals, what would you want me to address you as? I didn't want to call you by your first name cause didn't know if it'd be weird, but Ms. Blancharde also sounds really formal lol.	page 1040

03/23/2022 12:23:25	Outbound	So guess who just spent a hour talking to?...J -) We were catching up on lost time. was happy he reached out to me. We cried a little talking about things that happened with him, things that happened with me. It is crazy that so much time has passed since he and used to write on a weekly. apologized to him for abandoning him after me in 2017. was always jealous of other guys and knew Bash and I had a short relationship in the beginning of my time so he didn't want me talking with Bash. left me wanted to maybe rekindle something with Bash but remember you letting me know he had a girlfriend at the time so let him be. His fiancé had killed herself a few months later. He started using again after that then finally got clean and sober and now has a 9-5 job new car, a place and is keeping his life together. Now Sabastian is wanting to pick up things with me since he is in a better place and told him that I'm wit now. I'm like, its always this way with each other... we get in touch and one of us is always unavailable or its the wrong time. would love to get out and have the chance to have a moment to give Bash the biggest hug for being someone who even if we fell out of touch was always fond of me and never forgot about me But would be a little uncomfortable with that. It is normal to have love for your ex's? struggle with having feelings for my ex's because each one have good memories of. (except form	page 294

03/23/2022 06:43:14	Outbound	know you are in your head but baby please understand that have loved others before you and Bashy is someone who when had a more innocent heart believed we could have a life together but our paths lead us apart, not together. Reminiscing of our time is harmless to appreciate the beauty of it. have love for anyone who left a mark on my heart, Robert and yes even Sabastian. They all had their time and each is special and unique. Sometimes people come into your life and it is to stay while others are there only to give us the beauty of that small time. Most people think of me with fondness and feel the same towards them. If you call me a hoochie because have love for my friend/ex boyfriend then well...then i guess I'm a hoochie. didn't hide it from you babe. want to keep in touch with Sabastian because care about him. I'm sorry that you may feel jealous or insecure about it but turning my back on someone just because we had a history doesn't make me a good person it makes me an asshole and I've never been one to turn my back on someone love it isn't my character.	page 940

03/24/2022 04:31:46	Inbound	books and thoughts Darling Ms Gyps, Have you decided on a name for your memoirs; a title for your book?! know it must be very therapeutic to write it out, the thoughts and emotions as from your mindset. To see it written, it clarifies "this is who am". Some embrace life; some endure it. Happiness is so close to the touch just over the horizon for you just know it. It's amazing there's so much support out here for you. Couple years back, a small article online about ya and told my husband.. in 3 days there was over 45,000 comments. People from California, Idaho, Columbia, Venezuela, England, Australia.. was so awesome and beyond!! You had mentioned living anywhere when legalities were fulfilled. Always know, my home is open to ya; always welcome here at my place. The fun it must be to travel tho.... fly high in the sky and touch a rainbow.. say that 'cause I'll put you in touch with my	page 238

03/24/2022 12:25:42	Inbound	Hi... Sorry missed you yesterday... got your msges re that you can talk longer and that your phone card was low. wonder if and should pay some of your phone, since we are using lots of your minutes? will mention it to her ... we have a catch-up scheduled. What I need to do is chum out that sample chapter for the book proposal for the agent to send around--and think the chapter should be the night of the murder, stopping just before. What do you think of that? Marilyn, the agent, said that it should read like a true crime story in Vanity Fair... do you ever read that mag? could send you a sub if you like/can get (if so, give me the mailing address I'd use). worked there for years for an editor who did a lot of the true crime coverage, so get what Marilyn means. The previous first chapter was trying to be more like a real first chapter of a book--Marilyn thinks for the proposal it should read more like a stand-alone article. How does that sound to you? I'm finishing up my current part-time editing/writing gig at MarieClaire.com April 1, with some spillover. love working there--the editors/writers are all!!! younger than me and the energy is fun, even tho we've been remote for years! did go in for a going-away for one editor and it was fun to be around people again. get to do things for them such as interviewing CNN's Clarissa Ward from Ukraine the night of the war but also just did a big gif guide based on the show Bridgerton (netflix--do you see it? it's very racy and set in 1800s England). All that to say, as of April 1, will have MORE TIME to focus on this as my first priority. Which I think is what we need right now. So here are two choices--we could continue to talk weekly for about 1/2 hr and I'm learning more about you and stockpiling info for the entire book (and could ask info about that night in case there are holes as write). OR we could take a couple of (2?) weeks off and I'll focus on the sample chapter and get that out and THEN pick back up with our routine talks. Let me know what you think--and I'll run it in our next talk. Hope you're good! Here is it actually turning into spring--lots of crocuses and daffodils are starting to come up. finally! Oh, also, have a wedding in New Orleans the last week or so of April. I'm going there and Baton Rouge, where i went to HS and my mom just moved away from. So--do you thin etc would want to meet me for coffee or something one of the days I'm there?	page 1008

03/24/2022 16:25:16	Inbound	hey It's very nice to meet you to! My Pom is one of those tan colored ones. He is a ball of energy literally. Living in a small town like this there's really not much to do. When was 11 I started going skating when my dad worked there. My dad didn't come into my life until was 11. He got my mom pregnant when she was 16 and he was 20. He always cheated on her through their whole relationship with my brother that's a year younger than me mom. She actually slung a car door into my mom's stomach. My dad ended up choosing her over my mom because he was getting ready to go into the military and didn't want to go alone. saw him the first time when was 11. Then 9 months later he passed away. He got addicted to pain killers from an injury in the military. Then it only progressed from there. forgave him for everything tho. A few years ago was thinking about having my last name to what it's supposed to be which is But the more thought about it decided to leave it since that's the part of my family had growing up. Enough of the sad depressing stuff let's get back to our normal conversation. In this small town all people really do is ride around, go skating, go to the movies that's on the Winchester square or the drive in theater or they go hang out in Walmart parking lot in big groups. When was a teen it was all the rednecks that would meet up at Walmart to hang out. 5th - 9th grade skating was my thing. would go to the movies sometimes. Then 10th grade started being a homebody wanting to keep to myself. That was from having anxiety depression and PTSD. still have both of those but push to live life to the fullest. help a lot with those things. That is actually why had them registered as service My babies: and animals and trained. can take them to stores and everything with me <3 love being able to take them in public. My interests though I'm very into music that seems to be my comfort that and SpongeBob hahaha yeah you heard it right a 28 year old that loves SpongeBob. want a SpongeBob decal to put on my car. As of now all that's on my car is an apple logo sticker. like to go swimming, I'm obsessed with Disney movies, love going to the carnivals when they are in town. My town has one called High on the Hog is always in April or May. Then the county fair is always in August. It's pretty boring living here. love six flags but have only been once and that was 2012 when I was 18 and my e went. Another interest in mine is nursing actually went to nursing school and graduated. never actually went into the field which on my end was a mistake. got real attached to the patients in the nursing home done my clinicals at those few months. When I'm not working I'm in the bed either laying down or watching tv. I'm a stay at home body but do have my days I'm full of energy where want to get out and go places. like to go hiking especially when it leads to something like a waterfall. I'm going through trying to get on my feet and it has not been easy. I'm ready to be on my feet so can have a house to live in hate living in an apartment. The one live in right now is very small the living room and kitchen is one room. Then got my room and the bathroom is in it. It's just so small want a house so the dogs can have more room and want a fenced in yard so they can run all they want. More interest of mine is one day maybe going to college again. I'm just not sure what it would be for this time. Becoming a nurse was what wanted since was 10 and got that wish. was	page 1039

03/26/2022 15:36:10	Inbound	hey More interests left out of mine the other day are pushing to the point own a house, love helping others in any way can, have a friend that had to pay 900$ for her rent she was behind on or her and her 2 kids were being kicked out. That rent had to be paid that day. paid it for her and told her she didn't have to pay me back to not do it and keep going. We have been friends for 22 years since we was 6 years old. More interests when it comes to tv is stuff like forensic files and things like that. like Netflix and Hulu as well. I'm dreaming of having a life don't see happening anytime soon. Then partner in writing and planning. It went really well—they all want to do good by you and have a genuine interest in you and helping you. You will get an offer. Category 6 said they emailed it to them on Feb. 28th and was told the attorneys are talking this week, so that's great news. Just a heads up on Thursday my son is getting a chest reduction surgery (it's a plastic surgery and not serious) and he has a follow up on Friday with doctor. 03/29/2022 11:08:56	Inbound	) Today is March 29th just got your message so hopefully it doesn't take forever to reach you. Is there anyway we can talk on the phone by the way? I just wrote a long message and this logged me out so now have to start over LOL :(I just wanna start by saying thank you so much, this means the absolute world to me, would've never thought you would have responded to me. I'm so happy right now! Thank you for the birthday wishes! can't believe me and your dad share birthdays that means when you get out we are celebrating together lol. Im and Aries what's your zodiac sign? And yes we can try again with the visiting application, forgot to put my unit number and missed her call but I tried calling back and nobody answered so ima go fill it out again. Seeing you would make me so happy. And yes am full Puerto Rican, my first language is Spanish cause my mom only speaks Spanish so that's what was raised around and school is what taught me English but don't know many words that are big lol, but maybe can teach you Spanish and you can teach me some more English? :) So since you got that right can bring you to Disney here in Florida when you get out? ;) And yeah followed her on every social media platform because she posted a lot about you and everyone was saying how got "famous" because of you. And out of no where she just stopped posting you and started being rude to everyone for wanting to be here for you. didn't ask her anything about you because respect you so just did research on my own to get in contact with you. will never disrespect you in any way, will never hurt you. promise you. Fame means nothing to me, already have that, have no friends because everyone is so unfaithful and so mean. just want to be loved if that makes sense. I'm glad you are here. If you need me to update everyone will and will never use you for fame because having you as a friend is more important to me then a fan base. know you want someone you can trust and I'm here. cannot wait to meet you in person <3	page 1042

03/29/2022 00:39:39	Outbound	Oh BTW my former best friend, and are no longer friends. we had a huge falling out so don't speak to her anymore. Social media played a huge part in it because asked her to keep the things talk about with her private rather than post on social media and she selfishly ignored my request and instead chose to make social media her priority rather than our friendship. Many people are still unaware of this so they think she just has not posted in a while when the truth is haven't spoken to her for her to post anything. It was sad because thought she saw me as her friend but what she saw was clouded by the bit of fame have, if you can even call it that, but to my real friends none of that TV crap matters. anyways have lingered on that for too long. read in your letter you said English is your second language, may ask what is your first? am trying to learn Spanish, listen to a podcast that teaches it but probably will never be able to listen to someone speak it fluently and understand easily. briefly was speaking to a man friend Italy and learned a little Italian while speaking with him on the phone. I'm kinda a nerd love movie franchises. Ive been told I'm funny because have no filter say what is on my mind. lol I'm shy until know you then I'm really out there. wear my heart on my sleeve and am open to talking about lots of topics. I just learned to crochet so its a new hobby of mine. do enjoy drawing from time to time. can draw anything as long as can trace a basic shape then from there can free hand it. I'm working as a photographer for visitation here at the facility. work Fri,Sat,Sun and am free the rest of the time. have taken several classes here and learned many things to better myself and establish structure in my every day life. Im a Capricorn and boy does it show. Im one of those that don't have a filter either. wish could figure out a way to get a pic of me to you. That way you can see who your chatting with and what look like. know what you look like of course. Im one of your supporters for many years. wish could draw but completely suck at it haha. The best I can do is stick people can't even draw a straight line love movies to im one of those horror movie fans. Horror and comedy is my thing my favorite comedy is the America Pie series. Not to sound corny but I like poetry try to write poems but suck haha. just never in my life would of thought would get to talk to you. It's pretty awesome have seen a few of your interviews you have done. Im going to figure out how can send you a picture of me. Im just not sure why it won't let me on here. Other things that interest me are hopefully having a house here soon. Thats something have dreamed of for awhile. Having a house not a apartment can't stand living so close to people like do at the apartments. To me it's to many people living in one building so close together. They don't got nothing better to do but look for stuff to run and tell the landlord. always look to see if anyones out before even go out the door to walk the 3 dogs lmao. Gypsy hope when you get out your life is wonderful as you are and wonderful as you deserved all your life. Your a beautiful person inside and out. You will go far in life very far <3 maybe once I'm able to show you a pic of me maybe we could video chat one day if your up for it. Let me see what I can do to help you with that commissary your needing. Im pretty sure could check it periodically. But honestly wouldn't mind at all. Ms Bracy was the manager at the local movie theater and became friends with my mother and I. She often held charity events for American Cancer Society during movie premieres, where she chose me to public speak at these events about my experiences coping with illness. My uplifting talks encouraged many to donate to local or well know charities. Ms Bracy always used to give us unlimited free movie passes and invited us to take part in many events held at the theater. This friendship spanned about 7 years. 04/08/2022 12:49:25	Inbound	awesome!! Awesome cause got so many pictures I'd like to send-- and technology ha, had to text with my son in Florida today just to teach me how to use cash app. was trippin' I'm gonna be giving everyone all my bank lol! I'm so old school-- And music, love music loud. can't tell you how happy everyone around me was, when they introduced me to ear buds hahahaa Do you ever hear good music on the inside?! My youngest boy recently introduced me to Mac Miller tunes. Blown away, that "Yeah" bonus track-- felt that. was laying in bed getting ready to sleep when he sent it. So just played it on my phone and lil teardrops streaming down my cheeks. So powerful of a song!! So c'mon caterpillar, getting closer to getting out that cocoon and shifing 6 gears, windows down, music playing, wind blowing through your hair and maybe a lil street racing out here on my country road wink;) And do you know, I've just thought of you as one of my homies, my girls and not thinking-- have you ever had boiled crawfish?!?! I've written our Cajun way of food to you many times gumbo, crawfish boils, etc ..not even realizing smh my bad!! Soooo what's your favorite food for right now?!?!?! We have your old email addresses, but were hoping you would remember any old common passwords that you might have used (I know i have a few passwords that I've used a lot through the years). We are trying to get into that old box account to retrieve any videos that might be helpful to telling your story. Good news, our team was able to get in touch with Bracy this week and she is interested in participating in the show! We can't wait to find out more from her when we have a longer phone call with her next week. I'll keep you posted. It sounds like the contract negotiations are moving forward, slowly but surely. said she and your dad will be out of town next week, and when they are back hopefully we can get everything signed so we start production and come see you!! can't wait to meet you in person. Let's plan to talk on the phone again Tuesday if that works for you - around 1p/3p works great on my end if that sounds good. Hope work goes well this weekend. Take good care and talk soon, my email to you was censored because sent you an email address. 04/09/2022 00:40:32	Outbound	So did the math and would like to pay back for the help y'all have given me the last 8.5 years, so figured up $200x102 months aka 8.5 years equals up to 20,400 so I'd like to say that 20k is fair. that would leave me around 60k after tax for the 6 episode documentary alone. You can still do the research and find out exact numbers but I'm thinking 20k for y'all and 60k for me which is around what would be left give or take. Now was also thinking so y'all don't get taxed on the 20k how about I give 9,999 one year and the following year the same? so you and mom get every bit of it instead of giving the whole total at once and it being taxed at 37% like my original sum would be.	page 205

Her eyes grew wide and confirmed, "Yes, that Gypsy!" Don't know how you will handle the notoriety when out on your own. Would drive me nuts. When someone acts like they recognize me, shut them up with one line: "How much gay porn do you watch?" then walk away. Might not work for you, though. Keeping your hydrangea alive and bug-free will be a tall order for a year and a half, but I'll do my best. I think her mother has some very nice pictures of her. 04/14/2022 17:08:03	Inbound	hey It'll be ok it gives me a couple days to find a dog sitter. Todd my Pomeranian he would be perfectly fine left alone. All he would do is sleep and lay in the window to soak up the sun. Marley tho my walker coonhound will sit and bark constantly. She will also get in the window and bark then neighbors will complain. have a big cage that used when lived with one of my friends at his moms. She required my dogs be in their cage if no one was home. Same with her 2 dogs she has. Marley would still bark and carry on. The landlord here where live don't allow animals but because of mine being registered service animals and the laws in Tennessee on service dogs he knew he couldn't refuse them to stay here. Neighbors complained at first to me when they say them. They would say "animals are not allowed here the landlord said" always say "sorry but mine are registered service dogs they have cards and registration papers also the landlord knows" hate people in apartment complexes that don't mind their own business and tell on others for every little thing. got a goal to have a house by next year. A rental house or house make payments on would be happy with haha. hope you find you a job you like understand completely about job stress. That's why quit dollar tree after working there since I was 18. It was my first job got it in 2012 not long after graduation. stayed with the company for 10 years and worked at several different stores. didn't make but 9.50$ a hour as full time assistant manager. was one step below store manager. Then there was 3 part time assistant managers under me they only made 8.25$ a hour. Then if your a regular associate just a cashier, stocker or cleaner you only made 7.25$ a hour. My job I'm starting Monday my pay is 15$ a hour I'm going to be a quality inspector at a factory. will literally just be walking around checking peoples parts documenting things and doing stuff on the computer. already done my training just got to wait until my start date to begin working. Honestly the job have now 15$ a hour with 40 hours a week doing what im doing and it being easy easy easy as hell compared to everything was responsible for at dollar tree and only making 9.50$ a hour and 40 hours a week. Tennessee sucks when it comes to paying people job wise. have my registered nurse degree could be making 30$ a hour again right now full time 40 hours a week but that was way to stressful. enjoyed it helping people and people would get attached to. worked in a nursing home as a registered nurse. But he saw me in my dark suit with paisley tie and pocket square and announced, "You look awesome". While the preacher did his thing, Taj went from pew to pew visiting with the folks he knew and many he didn't -- climbing upon their laps and talking with them. He still has no idea he'll never see her again. Her remains were in an urn in a display case at the front of the ceremony with a gorgeous photo of her. He eventually wandered up to that portrait and turned around to the audience and announced, "That's my Momma!" He stole the show. I manage the world's largest dog health care record repository in the world based here in Columbia. We receive Xray images and other dog exam results from owners and veterinarians from all around the world. The website is used by owners to manage their own dogs' health and also breeders and researchers trying to better certain breeds and eliminate some inheritable diseases. I spend most of my hours writing web pages and software, and making additions and improvements to what we provide for the owners, vets. Not too terribly exciting, but like a nice quiet life. also have a small garden that start when it gets warm and grow tomatoes, peppers, onions, cucumbers, corn and beans. tell folk grow ingredients to make salsa. It was around 9:15 or so when my phone rang showing a Missouri number, and instantly knew who it was. But what didn't realize at the time, was about to talk to my future wife and the love of my life... After we talked for 30 minutes, did know that we had a connection. remember feeling extremely excited and ran into room smiling from ear to ear to let him know that I just had a phone call from the sweetest, most prettiest girl. also told him that couldn't wait until the next time you called although didn't truly know when that would be exactly. Luckily and thankfully, must have made a great impression, because the phone calls have never stopped... So say again, Happy Anniversary Baby. 05/14/2022 17:28:59	Inbound	Hi Gypsy Dear Gypsy learned about you and decided to write to you. an older guy so if you are not interested in the friendship or correspondence no problem. can see that you are a very naturally beautiful woman and probably do not have a difficult time getting pen pals or friends. So anyway, here is a little bit about me and maybe we can start something here. :) I try to be as active in life as circumstances will allow. keep physically fit by working out regularly. My current interests and passions include personal development, training in Jiu Jitsu, Mixed Martial Arts, boxing, Tactical Training, outdoors, hunting, fishing, camping, backpacking, and mountaineering. At this time, am training to climb a mountain in June of this year. train 6 days per week. like fine dining and trying new restaurants, concerts, and being with my children. (Much of my time is spent with my younger son and daughter in their competitive gymnastics training and competitions and also do jiu jitsu with them) The remainder of my time is spent completing or actively seeking out new tasks, goals, and whatever new challenge life throws at us. do not sit on the couch very often or in front of the TV or computer. am not the type of man that has to make it home to watch the football games every weekend, would rather be doing something of substance. am 5'6, 185 lb, muscular build, 57 years of age, but before you slam the door shut on me, I'd like to mention that for that age, I'm a totally different beast than you have typically seen or imagine. am physically competitive and more capable than most men much younger than am and train with men half my age. believe that my picture will show that am not just a lazy older guy that sits on the couch watching life pass by. I live a healthy lifestyle and maintain my physical, mental, and spiritual self. am thoughtful, very protective, romantic, a devoted father, and maintain conservative family values. hope to hear back from you. Thank you for taking the time to read my letter.	page 118

05/14/2022 10:53:33	Outbound	I agree, also feel like know you from just talking about every day life in the many and have had. can't wait for the day we can all spend time together as a family. My parents live in CutOff Louisiana and have family spread out all over the state. Even though moved to Missouri with my mother when was 14, I'm still full blooded Cajun. :-) It will be nice to be back in my home state. I know all too well ho loves. His heart is the purest I've ever met. had been in one other serious relationship before him and was once engaged back in 2019, that man left me with a badly broken heart. became closed off to love and scenical to the ideas of what a healthy relationship could be because all knew was disappointment after disappointment. Then when didn't want to let myself become vulnerable enough to grow attached to anyone is when? wrote mea letter, we became friends then he never has left my side and after denied it even to myself that fell in love with him finally allowed myself to trust in the bond we have enough to enter into a committed relationship with an open heart again is a extremely special person for being able to do that. We have our bad days that my or his insecurities creep up on us and we may struggle for a day or two but he and always work it out because we love each other enough to push through it. have many emotional scars from the things that have been through in my life and that is why praise you for raising such a compassionate man because though he has his quirks that I love, (I have many myself) he is the perfect person for me. just want to be everything he wants and needs the same as he has been for me. I am so blessed that y'all have given us the support of love and acceptance throughout our relationship. just like I need a stable support system so does he because the emotions that is felt when your loved one is in prison is hard. He will have times that he might cry a little when he feels the gravity of the reality that he cant hold me at night right now, So when he feels this way please just give him a hug for me so he knows he is loved. He may get frustrated because he can't visit me every weekend or every month, because it is expensive to travel, just remind him that this distance is only temporary. Keeping a positive attitude is essential to the overall mental and emotional needs in any situation but this one especially. I'm glad he has a good family system to have his back. know my father and stepmom have welcomed him in my life. talked to my dad last week and he said texted him wanting to head down to CutOff to meet them and have some one on one time together. My father is a traditional man he will want to have that father future son in law talk. :-) it will be good for them both to talk man to man. Anyways better send this now before write a whole novel hahah I am glad we can connect this way. Sending Hugs and Love	page 960

Whichever way production wants to present it or not even mention it is up to you I appreciate your advice and concern. I'm touched that you care about me that much to voice those things. Our team is beyond amazing and can achieve the best way to tell my story, have full confidence in that. hope you have the best time planning your own special day. :) I can tell you that am a total it comes to You how picky am about certain =	page 093

05/17/2022 10:55:09	Inbound	Checking in on you hey Gypsy, wanted to follow up on our convo from yesterday. No doubt you have lots to think about as you approach a very serious decision of getting married. will support you regardless if you continue with getting married pre release or post. It's your very personal decision. My position is one that is that just as you entered the prison system a version of Gypsy that came abused, afraid, unknowing of what was to come you too will leave the prison unknowing of what life on the outside will hold for you and the new person you will become because of the freedom and new confidence that will continue to grow. You will see how you only further become the higher version of yourself post prison. You will only get happier and stronger. You left one prison of control with your mom and entered another--soon you will be free for the first time. My wish for you is that you get to experience all you want. Marriage naturally influences the choices you will make, as of course you'd have to make choices mutually with your partner. What wish for you is that you give yourself a chance to be out in the world and adjust because getting married is a whole another level of adjustment. know it's exciting and scary that you have this new adventure awaiting you and security is paramount. Again support your choice to mar now or later. My intention is to encourage you to wait to see what life on the outside will feel like for you and see what life together outside of prison is like. So you make the choice to marry with all the knowledge of what you two together outside of prison are. You are a very strong woman who has the world waiting for her..	page 093

05/26/2022 02:53:11	Inbound	Thursday Morning for Hi Gypsy-Rose, will send you a couple more pictures and hope your opinion will remain the same. :) Yes, have quite an adventure and trip coming up quickly. You are very smart to ask me if am nervous. You are the first person that asked me that, you have good insight. Of course, the people that know me understand that am very adventurous, and don't shy away from very many challenges. So, they never thought to ask if I was nervous. But am nervous about some things. Like mentioned am training very hard for this climb 6 - 7 days per week. just hope that am doing everything correctly and training properly to make it to the summit. am nervous about being ready physically for the climb, but I think that am doing pretty good. am getting in very good condition. Here is something about me and hope you are ok with this. like to put everything about me upfront. would rather that you know me and then decide if you want to correspond and/or become friends. think it is best to just start out like that and do our best to be honest with each other. will be straight-forward with you even if it is difficult to do sometimes. definitely do not want to scare you off and of course it is tough sometimes not to be accepted by someone but being honest is the best way. So, will give you some more info about me here. hope I'm not boring you too much. :) have been married twice now and divorced. have older twin daughters from my first marriage and also had a son but he died at the age of 14. was married before at the age of 18 and was the father of twin daughters at the age of 19. That was my first marriage. remarried in 2004 to a Filipina in the Philippines. She came to the USA but things have not worked out for us so we have decided to divorce. That divorce is currently being finalized. have a 14-year-old son and a 17-year-old daughter with her. My ex-wife and are not angry at each other and we try to stay amicable and still help her out with things she needs to do in USA. (I guess have not been very successful at finding true love in my life. Maybe my true love is waiting somewhere that have never been, but am having difficulty finding it.) have other things to tell you about me but we can go over other things as the interest and questions arise. And you can also ask me any questions. Ok, so, about you. thought that heard about you a few years ago. But just recently, watching some TV and going through the channels came across a story about you. can't even remember the show and did not even get to watch the entire show but was interested to find out more about you. researched you online and watched a couple of interviews of you. can't really say precisely the reasons that wanted to learn more about you but you came across to me as a sweet, honest, young, and beautiful woman that was confused about everything that has happened to you. Especially because you are where you are. really do not understand that. But besides all that, was just drawn to write to	page 118

Oh how coincidental!! going to write more this evening before work— just got to know more lol btw— you keep getting more beautiful!! Gyps darling, this of the letter that emailed to the Department of Probation and Parole: ma I've already received an email back from the DOC. Said my letter is in your file now!! Let me know if you received it and I'd like to know your opinion. Dreams and Wishes of Freedom are for you!! Dreams and Wishes for you for Freedom is near!!!!!! Love 8 Dearest Honorable Members of the Parole Board: What story involving abuse and hurt and pain to children ends well?? They are not good stories to tell. They have no good endings. The survivors do have an end; and shattered pieces of themselves to put back together for a beginning after life in an ordeal. How and why, we will never understand. For Gypsy's end is an extraordinary ordeal. Only the how and why are understood if we walked footsteps onto her path. Or a glimpse of life seen through her eyes. Some stories, the perpetrators never see the inside of a court room. Never placed in handcuffs. Live a long to an old age unpunished life. Some stories, the perpetrators are in prison and the child is deceased. Gypsy survived her life. Good or bad, better or worse.. judgement was rendered. writing in respect and compassion with true to the soul feelings of relatability and similarity; yet my story did not end the same. never escaped my predators and no one was ever held accountable in a court of law. I ask with grace and mercy for Gypsy's release. Life has punished Gypsy enough. It's time for her to be free. Really free. I've got an understanding, which can't explain, but know in my heart the regret, the reason and the remorse that is a part of who Gypsy is. I know, if given a chance; this tragic unfathomable ordeal will transform and become a beautiful life. A beautiful person. know if given the chance, I'll be there for Gypsy to hold her steady, catch her if she falls and hand in hand if need be to provide all the support to stand!! Literally. consider Gypsy one of my best friends, part of my family and have become to know and love her. She was the caterpillar, now in her cocoon and I'm anxious and excited for to give her wings and watch this sweet butterfly take flight!! And personally, Gypsy and I, for years have been imagining her going to the ocean and seeing it for the first time and walking on the beach and leaving.... footprints in the sand. As I've never written this kind of letter, want to express my appreciation for your time for reading it. Thank you.	page 238

We are waiting fo to the series. Sounds like your dad is getting home today and we're hoping they can work on that and get it to their lawyer asap. Joel (our associate producer) checked in wit today to make sure she's still on board to shoot with us. She mentioned that she heard you were going to be doing a reality show and she wasn't really interested in participating in that kind of thing. i don't know if she realizes that this series isn't a reality show at all - or who she heard about a possible reality show from?? in any event, i told Joel to let her know that our series is NOT a reality show at all...and that there is nothing set in stone for a reality show at this point; we are all just focusing on our six-part documentary series and that's it. hopefully, she is still on board. okay you, hope all is going great and that we get to talk on the phone soon, AND start filming SOON!! xO	page 1031

And know some days you must get more than 200 a day!! Anyhow, I'll keep writing!! That was nice to see you and 'Mr. Lake Charles' lol! Have y'all been dating for awhile?! Think he's in it for the long run?! And for good for you?! I surely send my best!!!:) But one question, how did Mr. Lake Charles get ahead in the line for visitation?! Isn't it chicks b4 d's (I did not say it lol!!!) I'm just playing and for real tho, if he ever wants or needs a companion or friend to talk to that has a sincere friendship and adoration for you as well, he can call or text and he could send messages from me back and forth to you in real time instead of days later on email;) Lake Charles is a 3hr ride from my place, not too far at all. We could share gas money to travel if he would like. Or even Mr. If there's someone here in the area you would like to see, don't mind driving. looked it up on the map— you are 3hrs and 3 mins from my brothers and my people in Vienna, Missouri. 06/09/2022 02:13:24	Outbound	How to Build a Relationship Over the Phone Here are some of our secrets for building a relationship over the phone: 1. Dont waste time fighting. If you disagree, you can discuss the issue, but do not use your time to fight over anything. Avoid using your precious time talking on the phone as an opportunity to argue. It is the equivalent of using Date Night to argue. Resist the urge to do it. 2. Listen carefully for understanding. Listening is not just hearing the words spoken, but also tuning into the unspoken. Listen for voice inflections, tone, and choice of words. All of those nuances are creating an intimate experience between the two of you that you miss out on in texts, emails and letters. Take advantage of the opportunity to connect verbally. 3. Share your life with her on the phone. Involve her in your decisions, your worries, your joys. Put her on speaker phone to talk with the whole family, to be part of singing happy birthday to your children, to hear exciting news, to share sad news or a challenge. Making her a part of your outside life will make the transition much smoother when she comes home. 4. Use different tones of your voice deliberately. Use your voice inflection to convey more to him than your words alone can. Just as you are listening for those cues when she is speaking, let her hear your heart and soul though your vocal tones. 5. Never criticize over the phone. You need to see each others eyes when you offer constructive criticism. If you try to do so on the phone, it wil not go well. It is too easy to take things personally and dwell on them after the call . Better to avoid this altogether by setting a rule that you will share corrections with each other at a visit when you can look at each other. 6. Always affirm over the phone. Find something that is good about what is happening, or who your partner is and comment on it. Set the tone that you see good in her and you are a witness to her greatness as well as her ability to overcome the challenges she is facing. 7. Share a memory of a time you felt close. You do not have to repeat the entire memory, just simply saying like, remember the time we , wasnt that so much fun? She will know what you are talking about and you wil relive that moment together through your shared memory. 8. Share something you are looking forward to doing together in the future. When you share desires for the future, you reinforce that you see your lives intertwined across a lifetime together. You are creating an expectation of staying together for the rest of your lives. These are some tips to help get you started on building your new legacy of a stronger family together. Remember that practice makes permanent, so whatever you practice now wil become a permanent part	page 941

06/13/2022 08:39:58	Inbound	Netflix documentary Dear Gypsy Rose Blancharde, hope this message finds you well. My name i and am writing to you from a TV production company called Transistor Films based in London, United Kingdom. Transistor Films produce factual TV programmes for networks across Europe and the USA, including Am A Killer for Netflix: the first two series of which have already aired. As an inmate serving 10 years for the second-degree murder of your mother, Dee Dee, I'm writing to you regarding a future season of Am A Killer, which we are in the process of developing. You are amongst a handful of inmates we are writing to, to learn more about your case and ask whether you might be interested in sharing your story with us, for potential inclusion in the series. To give you a sense of the programme itself, each episode of Am A Killer features the story of an individual convicted for taking another person's life; providing a rare opportunity for an inmate to tell his/her story from their own point of view - uninterrupted and in their own words. I appreciate that the title of this series may seem sensationalist, but we wish to assure you that these are responsibly produced documentaries, exploring themes of culpability, personal context, and the justice process. We do not use a narrator or commentator and the films are primarily comprised of interviews conducted with those directly involved in each case. We are particularly interested in your story because in our initial research we read how for years you were the victim of your mother, who made claims about your poor health, resulting in dire diagnosis and medical inventions. We would be very keen to hear your version of events and your reflections on both your case and your incarceration. If you are interested in potentially taking part and talking to us about your story, we would need for you to sign a consent form, so we can approach the Missouri Department of Corrections to seek the necessary permissions to interview you. have sent you a letter with this same message, containing the consent form for you to return to us, should you wish to take part. would also appreciate it if you could answer the questions enclosed below as openly as you feel able to. appreciate that writing about these events may be difficult and would therefore like to thank you in advance. These answers — should you wish to proceed of course - will help us greatly in our research and deciding whether to	page 897

06/16/2022 13:02:39	Inbound	financials Hey I need to talk to you about how we're going to handle the income from the project. We've signed the contract and it said the 1st 20% will be paid within 15 days from the execution of the release. I'm not positive when that is but think the best thing to do is for us to create a separate checking account with you me and mom (because she has your power of attorney). The checks would be payable to me n mom. We deposit the checks into that account and it would be considered my income. When the end of year comes around. I'd have my taxes prepared in 2 scenerios. 1. As if filed normally without the (extra income). would then compare it with the actual total income tax obligations. The difference in tax that I'd owe would come from your / our new checking account funds. This is the fair way of the money being taxed at the lowest percentage rate while protecting your interest. The other option is. We create the same checking but the checks are made payable to you. The money is deposited and you are required to file the taxes on the money as income. Im not sure how that would work after your married. You may be able to file jointly and get an even lower tax rate than if filed it as my income. Creating the trust is a great idea. 1 . To allow a secure transfer of the money that guy is giving you. 2. To have a safe place for any future incomes. The problem with it is the high tax rate. So you need to decide If you want to trust mom and with your money. The Trust fund or just you(which will be you after yall married) if the checks are made can't legally have access to it if he isn't on the account that we create. Yes he can use payable to me and mom thanj your debit card and take the money and that would still be a risk. So there is some decisions we need to make. Its hard to	page 204

06/17/2022 17:06:55	Inbound	A new leaf<3 Hey! really dont know how to start this email. I'm a friend of Meagan's, Ex", if i had an eye roll emoji for saying that then that would be inserted here haha! Honestly the mistakes make in life is unbelievable but so far that has to be my worst mistake ever, dating him. Meagan messaged me not long ago saying that you both spoke and cleared some stuff up regarding me messaging you a while ago. didn't mean anything weird or horrible by it. As he did with you, he had me very trapped and very pulled in with his mind games, which didn't realise were mind games at first. He's a very good manipulator and a huge narcissist. Anyway Meagan said you wanted me to know that you're not mad at me anymore and that you don't hate me. want to say don't blame you 1 bit for being mad at me, guess would have been too if the roles were reversed. just thought I'd reach out to you again but on better terms and in hope that maybe we could get to actually know each other and create a friendship. Anyway for now I'll leave it there and give you a chance to reply if you wish to. Have a good weekend and hope to hear from you soon. My hours Ooh cool!!! I'm so excited to talk to you :) so believe you're 6 hours behind me. So what I'll do is in this email I'll send you what times and days im working or free for the rest of this month, so then you know when I'm free and will be able to talk. absolutely hate missing calls! Friday 8th July- I'm free until 6:30pm my time. Wednesday 13th July- I'm free until 6:30pm my time. Saturday 16th July- I'm working from 12:30pm- 8:30pm my time, but can take my half hour break whenever you can call. Sunday 17th July- same as the 16th. Monday 18th July- I'm free until 6:30pm So hope those help, what times do you get to make calls? Hopefully we get to talk soon! Also thought since you've never seen me before I'll add a photo of myself onto this email. know like to know what people look like too, so thought maybe you would too. Just letting you know am a happier person than look haha don't usually smile in photos because hate my teeth.	page 1051

I called and it looks like possible filming with me is the 18, 19, 20, of July then 21st is wedding ceremony, then Fri,Sat,Sun is a weekend visit wit! that whole week will be so emotionally exhausting. is being cooperative with filming and responds to the team as needed. Im more nervous about filming then getting married in 26 days. do admit called the one person don't owe anything to, to tell him of the news. He at first tried to play mind games and play on my heart strings to get me to change my mind, but then wished me the best. know for damn sure didn't owe him that to tell him myself but with the history and knowing it would be on TV at some point, it was the right thing to do I guess. especially since we have kinda kept in touch even after the split. Walking into this want a clean slate, nothing left unsaid. Anyways, love you. I'm gonna go tell my little sis happy birthday now :) I can't believe she is 21!!!! :) my little sis is all grown up. :~)	page 204

06/27/2022 00:02:39	Outbound	Awe thank you! know you must be feeling the nerves as well, but they are the good kind of nerves. I just had a weekend visit witl and we were just talking about how long you and have been in contact with each other and how you have been a friend to me and my family. have always felt comfortable talking with you about my life where with others close off want you to know that me, and my parents all feel close to you. Back in 2019 when you first told me about your dad had not known anything about his cases. It wasn't until years later that there was more TV movies and documentaries about it and my first thought was "She gets it, to have a parent who is not the best ideal version of a parent" Maybe it was that fact that made me open up or maybe it was you being genuine, or both. just know that if was going to open up to the world it would have to first start with someone can trust. I'm going into my 8th year in prison and there are many things that have changed since was with my mom, many of which didn't know how to do before and now have a lot coming at me at once. I often ask questions most my age would already know, but feel no shame in asking anymore. was who I called 6 times a week the first few years of my sentence, then started learning on my own what was right and wrong for myself was on a phone call with my dad on fathers day and we were talking about the July wedding ceremony and told him that if end up feeling like made a mistake, I'll be ok. because I've made many mistakes while in prison but don't regret any of them. grew from them. know people will have their own vision of what THEY would do if given my circumstances, but they forget I'm just a person making choices as they once did and if its wrong then I'll learn and make better choices in the future. Everyone is guilty of wanting to stir my direction of choices and that is OK. just don't want anyone to have hurt feelings if don't follow what THEY would do. And felt like maybe hurt your feelings when decided not to wait to mari understand that we had a misunderstanding when we talked about filming storylines and such, but neither are upset. had questions and in the heat of the moment chose to talk t about it rather then you and it was to mainly ask would getting married now hurt the project any and she said no, and that was the end of it. I just don't want you to feel like there is any upset feelings between us because there isn't. We love you and enjoy working on this all together. Now on another note what does your wedding dress look like? :) give me all the girly details :~)	page 095

Now know his true colours, know you wasn't the one who manipulated him. Everyone thinks he's this innocent special needs guy but really he's much darker than that and can't be trusted. can't believe the three of us fell for him. I'm quite embarrassed that did. don't blame you in the slightest. Yes! You've done your time, you've held your hands out to the mistake and you're getting out soon. Is it next year you get out? If so I'd love us to stay friends and video call etc, have family in Arizona so maybe one day come over to visit can take a trip to the state you're in and we can spend some time together and maybe also meet up with Meagan too! Yes! I'd be so happy to talk on the phone too. I'll need to get a US phone number so the costs aren't too expensive for us and then each week can give you my work schedule so hopefully we can fit in a call maybe once a week, I'd be happy to cover the cost for the call too, so send you that money for you to put on your securus account. And now for my interests.. I've owned horses most of my life so that's always played a huge part in my life and kept me very busy! Other than that, really enjoy music, going to concerts, singing. 07/07/2022 11:52:18	Inbound	A new leaf<3 Hey! really dont know how to start this email. I'm a friend of Meagan's, Ex", if had an eye roll emoji for saying that then that would be inserted here haha! Honestly the mistakes make in life is unbelievable but so far that has to be my worst mistake ever, dating him. Meagan messaged me not long ago saying that you both spoke and cleared some stuff up regarding me messaging you a while ago. didn't mean anything weird or horrible by it. As he did with you, he had me very trapped and very pulled in with his mind games, which didn't realise were mind games at first. He's a very good manipulator and a huge narcissist. Anyway Meagan said you wanted me to know that you're not mad at me anymore and that you don't hate me. want to say don't blame you 1 bit for being mad at me, guess would have been too if the roles were reverses. just thought I'd reach out to you again but on better terms and in hope that maybe we could get to actually know each other and create a friendship. Anyway for now I'll leave it there and give you a chance to reply if you wish to. Have a good weekend and hope to hear from you soon. My hours Ooh cool!!! I'm so excited to talk to you :) so believe you're 6 hours behind me. So what I'll do is in this email I'll send you what times and days im working or free for the rest of this month, so then you know when I'm free and will be able to talk. absolutely hate missing calls! Friday 8th July- I'm free until 6:30pm my time. Wednesday 13th July- I'm free until 6:30pm my time. Saturday 16th July- I'm working from 12:30pm- 8:30pm my time, but can take my half hour break whenever you can call. Sunday 17th July- same as the 16th. Monday 18th July- I'm free until 6:30pm So hope those help, what times do you get to make calls? Hopefully we get to talk soon! Also thought since you've never seen me before I'll add a photo of myself onto this email. know like to know what people look like too, so thought maybe you would too. 07/13/2022 12:53:40	Inbound	Wedding Hi Gypsy, Congratulations! now can honestly wish that and this is why I've been silent for a few weeks. I've been processing your choice to get married in prison. was scared ofyou enduring more heartache and was sad to think you'd have your first moments of freedom taken by the simple fact that you'd have to share your new choices/decisions with another person. wanted you to have a moment in your life where you were completely free to choose without concern for another. came to peace about your choice when asked myselfifregretted my first marriage. don't. Even though we divorced in 18 years, he was a soft place to fall and a strong place to grow. Eventually outgrew my dependence on another for inner security and started to feel safe alone and trust myselfabove another. That was my own experience. Now my upcoming wedding next week is about pure love beyond what I've ever known—a love where I'm independent and have my own life but adore his presence above anyone else. I'm physically attracted to him and can't think of ever wanting another. He's my world. So ifthis relationship feels right then trust your choice. was first nervous that maybe your relationship was for security and safety and not out of adoration. believe you ifyou say you're in love and know you'll be okay no matter what now since you have the support of family and community that love you.	page 094

07/13/2022 18:07:48	Inbound	Yes, we should do a call soon! Hiya: Sorry, was sick (maybe Covid but tested neg) and really wiped me out!??Have been catching up since. Yes, let's talk! For the first chapter, there are some Qs about some facts that want to get right. The quickest thing would probably be to just go down the list on the phone w/ you... and ifyou can't remember, no problem. I'm just trying for those little details that give a story depth. For example, where did you get your wheelchair-accessible van—was it from a charity? OR, when you'd shoplift w/ mom, where would you put the stolen stuff—in your wheelchair or under your clothing or? I'm free Thurs (tomoro) until about 3 NY time or FRI all day (or next week pretty wide open...). Sorry for dropping offthe map!	page 1008

07/13/2022 04:52:31	Inbound	Hello! Gypsy Rose! Hello! I???m so happy to hear from you! Sorry I???ve been very busy the last week, and didn???t want to respond until had the time and mental energy to sit down and send a proper letter. Just know that had a big smile when saw that you responded! That???s such a shame you can???t visit Australia. It???s also kind of ironic. not sure if you know this, but Australia started as a prison colony for the British. Pretty much every modern Australian is a descendant of criminals (although, in fairness, in those days you could get sent here for stealing a loaf of bread). I???m going to work out how to send you a videogram, in the meantime I???m going to continue to spam you with pictures of my dogs. Today???s dog is Sox, looking all proud from passing his Greyhound training course. Unfortunately, Sox has had a hard life. We got him when he was only 3, and by then he had already had 6 owners. He???s really clingy and I think everytime we leave worried be the last time he sees us :(He was no good as a racing dog, so people would just sell him off when he lost his races. He???s not going anywhere now though! I think starting small with the associates degree is such a great idea. Whatever you hope that you have some positive people in your corner helping guide you through the next stages of your life. find it very exciting to think about all the amazing things that you can and will surely do. I can only imagine how weird it must be for you to have so many people know the intimate details of your life. If you want my advice for how not to go crazy when you get out??? try and avoid social media and reading about your case online. think that social media is bad for EVERYONE (myself included). can only imagine how much worse it would be to know that people are out there talking about me - whether it???s good or bad. Your warehouse job sounds very taxing. What are the hours like? Are you able to listen to music or anything like that to pass the time? worked in a warehouse at the airport for like, three days, was too much of wimp for it. think it???s impressive that you stick to it, even if you???re not the strongest :) Honestly, have no idea what will happen with me and kids. It seems so far off for me. Sydney is one of the most expensive cities in the world, so really imagine raising kids here. also kind of worried about working with kids all day, and then coming home to kids. think need a break hahaha. think have a better idea after been teaching for a year or two. Right now, I'm nerding out reading about the prequel era because of the new Obi-Wan Kenobi show. I'm reading Master and Apprentice, which is about a young Obi-Wan and Qui-Gon and their shakey relationship. The author Gray, is wonderful. She has a few other standalone Star Wars books that people say are fantastic. It just occurred to me that you wouldn't have seen any of the new movies or TV shows? The Mandalorian is definitely my favourite piece of new Star Wars media. The movies (7, 8, 9) were a bit meh I thought, but hopefully you enjoy them. The Obi-Wan series was interesting. didn't like it until the last 2 episodes, but thought that those episodes were amazing. A lot of people have said that the show was initially written as a movie, and think that's probably the case. There's a lot of	page 1052

07/28/2022 23:06:26	Inbound	Thank you GypsyRose Wow, thank you so much for sharing that GypsyRose. I can certainly relate to looking to outside worlds and realms as a means of coping. You have such a hauntingly beautiful way of expressing yourself think it would be so cathartic for you to one day write your story. know that had a few things happen to me as a child that never thought of as abnormal until started to get them down on paper. For example, recently wrote a journal entry about when my parents came to me when was around 5 saying that they were going to get a divorce. My reaction was so extreme - ran out of the room screaming and crying, and they ended up (unhappily) staying together for the next 10 years. When wrote down this whole episode, it really helped reveal how much this sense that was for keeping my parents 'together', and that was therefore responsible for their happiness. took on a lot of emotional responsibility that was totally unequipped to deal with as a child. It sounds like you and I had very similar Star Wars consumption habits as children hahaha. OBSESSED with Wookieepedia. I'm going to attach what think the most hilarious and ridiculous wookieepedia article out there. The book remember obsessing over what The Phantom Menace visual dictionary. My friend Kosta and would go through every page in detail, trying to understand all the internal mechanisms of everything - then we'd go outside and smack the crap out of each other with big sticks having 'lightsaber duels' hahaha. swear was tougher as a 9 year old than am now. Unfortunately, did not receive a missed call. Please keep trying. If it doesn't work a second time I'll look into getting a US number. By the way, realised it was your birthday the other day <3 Happy birthday GypsyRose. Getting to talk to you has brought me a lot of joy. He seemed really nice. asked me would be willing to speak with him and if do want them to talk, and said yes that feel it would be helpful, however you are aware of the terms and concern: has. He has given more than he needed to for this documentary and he deserves even a minor fraction of compensation for his material such as photos (including our wedding photos that are going to be printed soon), video and our audio provided by his own electronic devices. We are having fun making this documentary and the details are just business, hope you understand. would ask that you please insure that business is taken care of before any more material is required or requested I understand that it is a process so that is why wanted to talk to you about it so you have time to speak to the team. Also apologize for canceling out of the call on Friday night, he and spoke late in the evening about it and we are sorry if it caused any issues. Thank you.	page 1034

08/02/2022 13:25:26	Outbound	This is for my IRR. made arrangements with the facility to get married on 7/21/22 and felt that chaplain Murphy did not fulfill his duties with the level of professionalism the institution expects of its employees. Upon seeking information about weddings within the institution learned, by policy, able to select a minister of my choosing. To which selected Michael Benwire. Mr. Benwire has been approved to officiate marriages at Chillicothe Correctional Center even as recently as March 2022. along with two other offenders selected Mr. Benwire to officiate the ceremonies. A month before our wedding date Chaplain Murphy informs all who selected Mr. Benwire, that we all had to find new ministers reason given was that Mr. Benwire was not approved to officiate marriages at CCC and pushed Buster Ropers information to all brides. then obtained Mr. Roper as my minister. followed up with Mr. Benwire about the situation Mr. Benwire contacted Jefferson City headquarters and they told him of no such issue with his approval. On 7/21/22 minutes before my marriage ceremony, walked into the visiting room with my offender was told to have a seat at one of the tables and once sat down a woman who introduced herself in front of me, my guest and my husband as Mr. Ropers wife and proceeded to tell me that she is a big fan of mine and watched all the TV shows and interviews about me. When previously asking her husband who all are the names of the women getting married, my name was mentioned and she when on to chat with me about "How she just had to meet me, so she asked her husband to pull some strings with Chaplain Murphy to allow her to be there for my special day." and went on to visit for several minutes with me. Mrs. Roper is NOT on my visitors list nor did give permission for her to be there or was even informed would be meeting with Mrs. Roper. My husband was told not to even speak to my offender guest due to him not being on her visitors list, but it was allowed for Mrs. Roper to speak to me without being on my visitors list. During my marriage ceremony, fully expected to read the pre-approved written vows my husband and I wrote for each other, however Chaplain Murphy forgot to bring them, so was unable to read these vows to my husband on a moment that was suppose to be special for us. feel it was unprofessional of Chaplain Murphy to deny my selected minister for what appears to be in valid reasons, forget my vows, and arrange visits with what appears be his wife. My name i and am also 4'11 and weigh about 100 lbs. just wanted to reassure you that I'm not one of the weirdos out there with some crazy agenda. Again, am super petite and a unsuspecting female, so get it..lol. am 42 and stay with my cousin, Thomas. He had been my rock and know how cruel life can be. know sometimes in life you just need someone to reach out and say..."Hey, CARE"....which he did for me and now am doing that for you, Gypsy. wanted to congradulate you on getting married, hope you found your other half That, too, is SO important to living your best version of yourself 42 and I literally JUST found mine. also wanted to let you know that if you'd like, will be at your Parole Hearing in December and I'd be more than happy to write a letter to the parole board for you...IF you want. sure you have had your fair share of encounters with the creepy people this world has in it and don't wanna come across like those types at all. just feel very strongly the universe has put you heavy on my mind and my heart and should do what feel like have been called to do. It is just exactly THAT. am not rich by any means but do take care of myself fairly well and my cousin does a lot for me as well. We both have felt like life was very unfair to you and that you will most likely need some help when you get out. We would like to extend a helping hand for you. Just moral support alone is so helpful when you feel like you are down. You and are the same size so have tons of clothes for you and am more than happy to take you shopping when you get out just to get you some girly stuff Anyways, REALLY hope you respond. Take care Gypsy. You have a friend here if you want one. Happy Belated birthday too by the way.	page 1060

At this point think crew messed up so bad that the warden said his peace and he does not need to make it known again that y'all crew is not welcome here. I think it is time to allow Category 6 to come in with the same crew as in December because they know how to conduct an interview within a prison. will be happy to do audio recordings with you but when this error and problem is rectified with my in person interview. I'm in no way refusing to do these audio recordings but don't feel comfortable doing them at this point until this is cleared up. Please ask the executive members to send under the category 6 or another company name because AandE seems to be on the wardens shit list. I appreciate the reimbursement traveling expenses. The $300 is not what personally would consider "fair" at all for my husband considering that the climax of this documentary is our relationship and wedding and the sad thing is he has more material to offer but to put only $300 on such valuable content he has already given is somewhat insulting. And then peek over the cliff and I'm like hey, you still down there? Do you need a rope? kind of miss you. And then I do that again and again and again and again. And to point that he told me he's like Gypsy, no matter how much you throw me off a cliff, no matter how many times that you think that you've pushed me too far. might not answer the phone. might stay a little quiet for a little while. But am never fully gone. He's like, going to grab on to that rope and I'm going to camp out for the night and then I'm going to build my strength and then I'm gonna climb that rope again. As many times as you push me off. That tells me loves me, for me. Producer: Why do you want to Why do you want to marry him now? Gypsy Rose: I want to mar: now because number one, the most important reason because love him and because I can't imagine my life without him. But the, another reason that is beneficial is because can home plan to him. We could live together while I'm on parole. and are doing this because we love each other. get out of prison soon. It's not a means to lock each other down. It's because we feel it in our hearts that we want to make this commitment. want to marry him now because feel ready. like for me, I'm making the right decision. know that can abandon all of the childish, childish ideas of what thought love was before getting arrested and actually having relationships. Being exposed to what relationships are like. And after having gone through a heartbreak of one, can say with an honest and open heart that I'm making this decision with the mindset that know it's going to be difficult and I'm ready to do it any way because love someone enough to make those choices. It is extremely important to build a relationship with anyone but especially your partner with trust and honesty being the key foundations. If you don't have trust, respect, loyalty in your relationship, it's not going to work. It's going to fail. And from what I have learned in my relationship I've told a couple of fibs here and there. I'm not going to lie. Like it's not always been something that can fess up to all the time but it's very important. And he knows this, that might lie initially, but always end up telling him the truth very soon after. I'll call, I'll call him and I'll be like, "I've got a confession." He's like, "What?" I'm like, di di di. And then I'll let him know whatever it was that I fibbed about, and I'll call him and tell him the truth. have so many men that try, try to date me or write to me or try to hit on me. And mean, there's some very attractive looking man, but nothing and no one is going to ever compare to the relationship that have Like that is built out of hard work, dedication, trust, loyalty. It is on my heart to congratulate you because am seeing that you are building a life, in the here and now. You are enduring prison and am sorry for your struggle in that and that it is separating you from your husband. Your wedding is very meaningful and am taking just a little time here to recognize this with just a few words. My name i and am middle aged divorce, and taking care of my mom at her home. Mom has loved me unconditionally and I know feel fortunate to receive the love of an exceptional, wonderful mother, and it is my privilege to be of service to her during her golden years. 08/17/2022 10:24:33	Inbound	So PROUD OF YOU your email about taking a week off-super smart! Your making important decisions and find time to not react in emotion is ALWAYS THE SMARTEST. It also gives them time to figure out another solution. I'm willing—if you want—to provide some of our best recorded conversations if Audio in needed to fill in the holes. Your former conversations were very deep and thoughtful. Money isn't everything, but respect is. When you get out, you're going to make more of these decisions as your career goes and boundaries (what you will accept) is based on the board team of 1—youself. You get to decide if you will accept it or not. And if other people have a problem with it, it's their problem. Took me a long time to figure that one out, but you're already ahead of me on that one. Just know, everyone is going to ask of you what they want. You don't have to give everything they want to them. In filming, you always have the right to say stop, pause, or don't want to talk about that. You never have to answer a question. And if you're unsure about where they are going with their interview, ask for the questions upfront. Give time boundaries. Tell them they have 1 hour, 2 hours and you're done. used to film ALL day because thought had to. No, I just didn't say "stop", You're going to go far. BTW already have media press tour options for you and your book when you get out. My friend Jen at Access Hollywood wants to bring you to the studio in LA. Lots of BIG things are coming your way and you're getting savvy to how to protect your energy and space.	page 093

08/20/2022 19:51:38	Inbound	Hello! Hi Gypsy Rose, First things first, owe you such a massive apology. You have not done anything wrong at all, really value your friendship and have enjoyed corresponding with you so much. Unfortunately, I've had a few things going on that are taking up all my time. Although I'm a teacher, to be fully certified need to complete something called the GTPA, which is an enormous 50-90 page assignment that need to compile whilst teaching and planning. am routinely working on it until 1am, and then going into class the next morning. It's such a ridiculous assignment, because it is negatively impacting my teaching practice, because am so tired and am teaching based on jumping through the silly hoops of the gtpa, rather than working in the best interest of the children. also have one other thing that is going on for me, sadly do suffer from depression and anxiety and the last month or so has been exceptionally bad (the GTPA isn't helping... only 6 weeks to go). Whenever I'm at a time like this, when my anxiety is bad, tend to isolate myself from people and hideaway. think feel a lot of pressure to be 'perfect' and to 'keep up appearances', and when don't think can do that, isolate myself rather than just be honest about where am at. realise that this is not the best way to go about things and it is a habit and a cycle that am trying to break. Thank you for not forgetting about me and for continuing to message me because it helps me get out of myself promise you that was never not going to respond again, really care about you, was just in a mindset where was too hung up on myself to remember my lovely friend who deserves much better. Again, I'm truly sorry if made you worry at all - you deserve much better than that. I am so happy that the Star Wars books came through. have read Master and Apprentice and really loved it. thought the author captured the spirit of Star Wars, so hopefully those two other books are great as well. know that a lot of people recommend lost stars as an introduction to the Star Wars expanded universe. Don't feel any pressure to read them, hopefully it's just nice for you to know that someone on the other side of the world cares about you and knows that you deserve something nice for your birthday. I'll get this US number sorted in the next few days, it will be so nice to connect over the phone :)	page 1056

If you would like to give her some of our best recordings, don't mind. I kno mentioned she suggested a simple camera without a crew but know that my prison won't accommodate that request. So I'll start the recordings she wants and the footage from December is the main source for seeing me on camera.	page 093

08/31/2022 20:06:48	Inbound	Hello! Gypsy Rose, Thank you for one of the sweetest, kindest messages I've ever received. Even though you and I have very different histories, I think I identified with your story so much because we both seem to have the same coping mechanisms. I think that you were probably taught more explicitly than I was to 'keep up but I can see that was conditioned in a similar way. My house was quite volatile. There might be a huge argument one night, and we'd wake up the next day and pretend it never happened. I think I learned to either put on a brave face and smile, or, if I was unable to do that - would hide away. Thank you for not giving up on me. I'm not going to give up on you either. You've got someone on your side over here! Congratulations on your marriage. I hope, from the bottom of my heart, that it helps bring you joy and the life you deserve. BUT - it does sound like you're struggling and second-guessing yourself. I think that is probably common with everyone, but I imagine you must feel really alone in that with your thoughts, like you're the only person who has these concerns. I hope I'm not talking out of turn here, but I get the impression that another similarity between us is the tendency to look to other people to 'save us' (again, could be wrong). I know I have issues with abandonment, and I look to others to fill that hole within myself. I know that I truly need to learn to love and forgive myself before I can let others in to do the same. The future is unwritten, and it is not worth worrying about all the 'what-ifs' in the world. I truly believe that you and I are good and grow old together with a flock of children then, person, and things will work themselves out. If that means you that will be amazing - if the future looks like something else, have faith that you will be doing what you were put on this Earth to do. Sending you love and hugs, =	page 1056

09/01/2022 17:35:51	Outbound	thank you. Gypsy, your email put a smile on my face today. I have certainly not had a great day but know I will get better with each new day. I'm happy I'm getting better. We laugh about him not having any taste. He says it is the best diet he has ever been on. Lol Take care and love you, these kids at the school have been giving him such a hard time. I'm glad he has a job but I value I'm worried his mental state over any job. I don't care if his paycheck is so much better than at Hamilton, know he loves teaching but I'm thinking this school isn't right for him. I asked him to maybe consider looking elsewhere for a job. I don't want him to quit without something else lined up first. It is hard to hear him sound so frustrated with these little gangster kids. What are your thoughts?	page 960
09/01/2022 13:20:40	Outbound	I do struggle with feeling alone with my thoughts. One of the concerns that I have is something everyone warned me about before we got married and that was I will crave being single and living life as a single person first, THEN settle down with someone and sometimes want the single life so I can meet people and have fun, and other times want a family like NOW. is the 2nd longest relationship I've ever had and when you get these pictures sent, you'll see he is a total teddy bear. Yes, I would agree with what you said. I also have a bad habit of pushing my lover away because I have a lot going on inside my head.	page 1056

It's on 11/11 which is a manifestation number . Anyway hope married life is going well know it's different but it will be awesome when you guys will get to be completely unrestricted. bet you can't wait ! What should his next move be? did say that episodes 5 and 6 (which contain the wedding) would not be worked on until later in the year, so maybe we have some time. No word yet on my in person interview, the head of the team will reach back out to the prison for final decision soon. As for now I've done a few hours worth of recordings with has our wedding pics now in his hands and only his hands other than myself so we will see what happens with everything. don't want to steer him in the wrong direction. but know one thing, do not want him to sign that material release. He has his grandfather's funeral to attend tomorrow (Thursday at 2pm) After things kinda calm down I think he should maybe try to call the attorney. I think our 3 photos are nice, think I'll be a much more beautiful bride once can wear a dress but for now the photos are nice for a prison wedding ceremony. to make wedding announcement cards with our photos to send to all our friends and family but. there is still wan the uncertainty of the legal aspects of these photos. 09/13/2022 16:30:23	Inbound	Updates Hey Gypsy! I'm settled now at home and starting to get most of my backlogged work done. Some good news is that Lifetime came back and said they would be interested in your podcast. So, what is next is that they need me to write out what the podcast would be by hour-to-hour. They'll give me a salary to write it out and if they want the podcast they will buy it and you will get a contract for that. Second update, am hiring New York Times editor to rework your book proposal to first person now that we know you are getting out, it only makes sense. So she is expensive--6,000 plus ($200 an hour) and will take it out of my savings to cover as an investment. We set the goal yesterday for Oct. 24th to go to market to sell your book. What do you think of the title being Gypsy Rose Blanchard: My Untold Story? The story arch will be part 1 will be childhood (sexual abuse), doctors, escape attempts. Part 2 courting and sexual manipulation and the murder part 3 the aftermath, jail and recovery, stolen life rights and the future unwritten. My publisher, Random House, wants to make an offer on your book but asked for the book proposal to be rewritten. So no doubt you will have a beautiful book that you can be proud of and it will only be in your words, your story--which makes me feel honored to be apart of it.	page 094

09/13/2022 01:29:39	Inbound	Finally got this account to work; Gypsy, How have you been holding up? have been trying for a while now to make this account, had a problem linking my Jpay to Securus. even tried making a completely new email and just starting fresh but that didn't work either! just got off the phone after talking to a robot for about an hour, and finally got it set up. am sad that Jpay deleted all of our old messages, tried searching for them. Not going to lie, also kind of sad you got married a few months back, it is what it is guess though. did want to meet you some day though, feel like we would get along well. just wanted to reach out and see how you've been doing though, even after saw you got married. Since we've last spoke, I've gotten a new car, an Audi 5 series, it's really nice, and it's for sure the nicest luxury car I've ever owned. am still paying for it, but only owe $9,000 more on it, which is good in my opinion. have been staying out of trouble as well. (I got off of Parole in August!) So that's been nice that can actually smoke now, I'm not into doing other drugs, or drinking, just live me some weed. hope the guy you said you vows to, is taking good care of you in there! hope he's good looking and takes good care of you when you get out! If you're happy, am happy for you for sure! If you ever want to run away for a little while to a different part of the country or world, am always down! (: Oh! That's another thing! have since gotten my Passport too, so am officially a free person now, free to go where ever want. was going to go to a different country on my birthday, but decided to buy the Audi instead, because didn't have anyone felt deserved to enjoy a trip like that with me. Yeah could have brought some random chick with me, but meaningless sex is a waste of time and energy if you ask me, plus I've always wanted a luxury car, so here I am. am saving money though for next year, am going to visit a few countries, hopefully will have a meaningful date then. Did ever tell you about my past relationships? mean can read about yours online, so feel it's only fair tell you mine. So for the last 5 years, I've been dating a woman on and off, she's drop dead gorgeous, but she's really mean to me and treated me badly, so I kind of broke that off, but we're still friends/smoke buddies. still talk to the girl who used to be the stripper, think mentioned her to you, but convinced her to stop degrading herself in front of a bunch of pigs, and get a job that's respectable, she's a CNA, and going to school to be a registered nurse, she is also drop dead gorgeous (Obviously she's a stripper) however she has two kids from previous relationships, but they're cool. So that's where am at. Enjoying the single life guess? hope you're doing well, and you have all of the things you need! hope to hear back from you! really do enjoy talking to you. You're soo sweet and innocent! would give anything to corrupt you the right way! :P Have a nice day Gypsy. Hopefully talk to you soon! Sincerely, (The Tattoo Guy)	page 787

09/14/2022 22:06:09	Outbound	Hey there Tattoo Guy, Its great to hear from you. wondered why you had not sent any emails anymore but its not the first time someone fell off from writing me so just accepted it. Yes got married in July, let me explain further, married my best friend He is 36 lives about 3 hours from my dad and in Louisiana is a big guy (not muscle) but he has a big heart and that is why married him because he is someone who makes me laugh and can see him being a wonderful family man. BUT he has insecurities that is causing problems in our new marriage. We always had these issues but thought they would get better once married and they haven't so today was the first day contemplated getting an annulment. vented to a gal pal of mine and she gave me advice to try and help fix his behavior before resulting to the end all be all option. love him but can't live with the constant insecurities he has about our marriage. I am happy most of the time but other times...god wish I was single again! Only time will tell if this marriage will work or not. He is a really good sweet guy though, he is one of the good ones, just wish he had more confidence and could grow in trust. Anyway enough about me. As for your past relationships, feel like people put up with a lot because of attractiveness. My brother for example is with a beautiful woman, but she is bat shit controlling. My advice to you is first be drawn in by personality and kindness and then look at the physical, And promise it will tell you all you need to know. I'm sorry you haven't had a good sweet girl most of us kinda girls aren't posted up in strip clubs though, hint ..hint. :-p just say'n I wanna send you a recent pic of me, what's your address again? I'll write more tomorrow, have a good night. :-) and I'm so happy you found me again. -GvnsvRose	page 787

I've been trying to find work that fits my degree and surprisingly enough all the positions I've applied for have told me they found a better candidate for the position, so I've been pushed away one after the other. I'm hoping to go back and earn a masters in social work and advocate for children and families. Anyways, how are you doing? hoping everyone is happy and healthy! Love and hugs,	page 651

09/27/2022 21:43:17	Outbound	Hi It was great talking with checked in vith and she gave me a really brief understanding of the layout of all 6 episodes. I think everything looks great, have only one request please try to incorporate most of the footag filmed the day of the wedding because that is the only way I'll be able to see, really see my wedding day. feel like the footage is great and needs to be seen. As understand feels my life will contain more of an unlikely successful marriage and whatnot... get it if people feel like made a mistake in getting married BUT happy with and do not regret my choice like everyone feels will. want the 6th episode to reflect hope for our future together. So what I'm asking is, will the narrative of the 6th episode titled "I Do?" reflect hope, or concern for my life because want to prepare myself and my husband if we are to be portrayed as irresponsible. My father me and feel he is in it for the right reasons, was that put into the episode? or was only the opinion of one expert who had one call with me and the opinions of people who have only ever known the Gypsy from the past going to be shown? I'm will be used to voice her feelings because unlike others she knows me as am today not the little Gypsy from the past. have since our wedding, created a bond mom now calling her "Mamm My relationship and bond with family, now my family, have only became closer creating a strong family unit and only more support for for me and my future gave my heart and soul to this show hoping it helps people see a new side of me as just a woman and not a sob story but a story of hope. Everyone is entitled to their opinion, bu and have given every positive stand on our vision for the the future. And what matters is standing together to make that vision become a reality. She and are ready to settle down and make a family. I see you being the wild and fun type gal...which there is nothing wrong with that, it is this time in your life that you are supposed to be free of hard core commitments. When was 23, got locked up after having spent my whole life with my mom and have been in prison ever since. never could experience the wild and fun life but I'm also 31 and now married. chose the family lifestyle, over the fun life because my life goal is to have a family of my own and just wants someone to share her life with as well. told me she felt hurt by you not responding to her email and then she finds out you emailed me instead of just owning your choice to be over with her. she felt like she meant more then you dipping out on her like that...its y'all biz but	page 1045

How are things wil going? has kept me kind of updated, but I'm curious to find out from you how you're feeling about the whole thing, especially with the phone restriction. Sometimes those kinds of breaks can be really good for reflecting, especially when the only way to communicate is through writing. Writing allows us to think more about what we want to say and how we want it to come across. think when we speak we can sometimes say things ina tone we don't intend or we speak too hastily because we're reacting to something the other person said or did, so I'm really interested to see how you've both handled the break from talking. 10/07/2022 11:50:17	Inbound	That's a lot... Hi Gypsy, I'm so sorry you're being made to feel like your decisions are selfish. Though, let's break that down: at the core, they ARE selfish, right? And there's nothing wrong with that. After a lifetime of playing a certain role and appeasing others, you're finally trying to think about what's going to make you happy and fulfilled. And if that's then so be it. He (and his mom) will have to get it over it. We've all experienced heartbreak and there are few things harder than that kind of hurt; but we all heal. will, too. He's hurting right now and can't understand where you're coming from or why you've made the decision to end (or pause?) the marriage, but hasn't been in your shoes. He doesn't know what it's like to have lived the life you lived with your mother, he doesn't know the weight of your guilt, and he certainly doesn't know what life in prison is like. guess the question is, is he trying to understand all that? Is he making the effort to listen to you, provide you what you need emotionally, and take into consideration your needs, your grievances, your desires, etc. If the answer is no, has a lot of personal introspection and growth to do. Any long term relationship, marriage or not, requires both partners to truly listen to what the other is saying he/ she have a right to feel hurt? Of course. Does he have a right to email your family and friends and say needs. Doe: what he's saying? Absolutely not. Those are boundaries that a mature, emotionally intelligent person wouldn't cross. It's not appropriate, and if his intention is to try and work through these issues you guys are experiencing, it does more harm than good. In my first marriage, would tell my husband how was feeling and what needed from him, and from our relationship as a whole. It seemed like he was hearing me, but the biggest indication of someone hearing you is in their actions. So although the things that I'd complain about would change, the change was temporary. And it was temporary because he wasn't really hearing what was saying about what needed. It took me many, many years, but I finally reached a point where knew that could never be happy forever with him. We had been together twenty years at that point and had two kids, so that was the hardest decision I've ever had to face. With my fiance now, when we run into bumps or issues, we talk about them but the difference is, feel heard and he makes an effort to resolve the issue. Truly resolve it. And that doesn't mean it's all good from one day to the next; it means that it's an ongoing process. Relationships are HARD, girl. And no one's perfect - not even you or me! HAHAHA So it means lots of compromising and seeing things from the point of view of an entirely different person. Please know I'm not saying any of this because I'm trying to influence your decision to stay married Only you can decide whether that's the right decision FOR YOU. I'm telling you this with the hope that you keep it in mind for your future relationships. There are so many things that my fiance does that will trigger me, either something from my childhood or something with my ex, and I've had to be really honest and open about that. The amazing thing is, again, he actually hears me and we work through those triggers. That doesn't mean he won't do something in the future that might trigger me again - it might even be the same thing - but it's an ongoing process.	page 515

Hello Gypsy! My name I've been studying your case for the past few weeks or so and I'm really interested in you. am 17 years old and I'm a junior in high school. would love to have the chance to talk to you and perhaps even be friends. In the future, would love to go into the nursing/medical field. also have a big interest in phycology. Therefore, the case you have really intrigued me. I'm also doing a project in one of my AP classes in school about a research paper, topic of my choice. Currently my topic was on catfishing and the effects it had on people but since seeing your case, would love to talk about mental illnesses that deserve more attention. Depression is mainly talked about but there isn't a lot on what your mother had and the different personalities had either. was hoping to discuss this with you and get your perspective. Maybe could help to spread awareness to those in a similar situation. Growing up, I've also had an overbearing mother. Of course, it wasn't to the extent of your situation but it was a similar experience. She had kept me isolated a lot, homeschooling me and constantly taking me to the emergency room because was always sick (due to medication prescribed by previous doctors). At an early age, was exposed to a lot of what you mentioned on the internet (BDSM and crude content) and understand how that can warp your perspective on things. Especially when you are isolated and have no outside social input to tell you right from wrong. Surprisingly, my mother is now homeless and doesn't care about me nearly as much as she does about her boyfriend (they constantly change). Also, sorry if this is a lot to take in. 10/07/2022 20:59:06	Outbound	So this is a copy of a mass email sent out and it will explain why. was particularly upset to realize one of my friends is not making good decisions and keeping my privacy. Hello Friends, So thank you to all who gave me great advice this weekend. really appreciate it. know that am new into the role of a wife and sometimes do get overwhelmed by things for multiple reasons. The reason why was pondering getting my marriage annulled is and had an argument like all couples do, and during this argument he hit a trauma trigger for me that reminded me of living with my mother and overreacted to it and sent emails to multiple friends within my inner circle contact list on Securus informing them of my thoughts of an annulment. By 3pm this afternoon, was surprised by a visitor that wasn't expecting. It was my husband had been upset with him for a week straight and the moment walked into the room saw him, looking more handsome then think I've ever seen before and couldn't stay mad at him any longer. 10/07/2022 13:27:27	Inbound	your email... hey there...i just read your email - i'm really sorry to hear is reacting to you right now. it sounds like he's lashing out because he and his heart are hurt. life is messy, gypsy, especially when it comes to matters of the heart. i think when one person reacts, it can cause the other to react - and i suspect that's what's happening with you you reacted to his jealousy by saying you wanted an annulment - that was a pretty quick/big reactions - and he reacted to that in a pretty big way of his own by being mad and saying not nice things to your friends. you're both hurt and scared. i have been trying to give people in my own life a lot of grace recently when i'm upset about something and think they are treating me unfairly/not well. open communication and trying to see someone else's perspective is really helpful for me. i think it's really awesome that you are listening to marriage podcasts. i'm all about anything that helps us improve ourselves. ultimately, that is how we will improve our relationships with other people. i've attached another photo from our shoot last week. i'll send another with my next email. miss talking to you. have a good weekend.	page 1037

10/07/2022 12:30:14	Inbound	Hey Hey so my number i'll be keeping you updated on the whole visiting situation and i'll give you an exact date when figure it all out. I'm so sorry that you are going through this..I'm sorry to say but that's what a gaslighter and manipulator does, they do something. flip the whole situation and blame you for it, which isn't right..you should not be told who to speak too, communication is key, and doesn't seem like he understands, what makes it worse is that his mother is tolerating his bad habits. have been in too many controlling relationships and they didn't last, we are adults we should be able to do as we please, ESPECIALLY if there's no disrespect involved. Those are a ton of RED flags, don't you think it would be worse when you get out of prison? understand that he was your best friend for years but you can already see that he's being very controlling, believe that you deserve freedom in every way, he should do things that make you love him more and more everyday, not stress you out, control you, get mad at you over little a$$ shit, he has to be a man, he can be good to you and might've been together for a while but if you are not being treated like a queen and being trusted then it isn't gonna work out, it's gonna get worse over time. stayed in a relationship with my ex that controlled my every move, left Chicago and moved to Florida just for her to hit me and cheat on me, it started all so nice and really thought found my person but I just left. thought it would get better but it didn't, it got worse. know it's hard but you have to be careful with ppl like that they change and it doesn't get better, want what's best for you, and I wanna help you in any way I can, will swim across the ocean for you if I had to. His mom AS A WOMAN, should understand you and be a good mother in law to you, he's in the wrong and don't think you did anything wrong. would rather stay single than to be in a situation like that, it sucks and I'm sorry you are going through this wish can be there with you, will be soon tho promise just have to work on it. Another thing you are the only person speak to in there and won't be speaking to anyone else in there besides you. So you won't get in trouble. I'll be sending some videos your way hope they make you feel better in the mean time. Sending	page 1044

Email me since we can't talk on the phone for a month. Love you I'm on a 30 day phone restriction for using another girls phone pin # to call Mom during the night of the hurricane...my phone pin # glitched so used another girls phone pin account, well since that is against the rules got busted so they gave me phone restriction for 30 days. I'm actually doing just fine not talking t during this 30 day phone restriction. emailed him and his mom yesterday and both seem to not be understanding to my feelings nor receptive to my explanations. Its I'm in the wrong and there is quite a bit of tension. In a nutshell they perceive my actions and reasons as selfish and don't understand how if he...they both love me, then my mental and emotional state and happiness should be a priority to them, But at 7 and his mother see is unhappy...and am to blame. He emailed my friends telling them how his wife is leaving him to go live with her parents and pine away for her ex and just started talking again since our break up 2 years ago.. we had not been in on good terms in years so checked in on him after the storm. have kept my composure emailin mother and told him do not come to visit me tomorrow as just need space. am listening to over 700 episodes of a podcast dedicated to marriage therapy. More and more I'm not sure if the last episode of my documentary is going show us as this happy couple and this storyline of me finding love ready to start our lives together.. now has turned into regret my decision like everyone said would because am getting closer and closer to freedom and instead of wishing to be with my husband I'm craving the single life. feel helpless and hopeless... and worse my new family married into now dislikes me for feeling this way. they do not understand how do but it might not be the same way he loves me. want to feel a spark... a desire for someone... more then just the tenderness feel for him. Maybe do only love him as a friend And know that wae navar anina tn ha tn mala him in my life	page 589

Unfortunately, do believe someone am friends or is in my inner circle has violated my trust and posted an email that was talking about an annulment and it ended up spreading around. called out that person to come forward and answer to me as to why it was posted because whoever did post it, clearly doesn't have honest intentions. He does want to talk with you on the phone to ask some more questions he has about it so when it is convenient for you and it is after 5pm central time he would love to chat Like mentioned in my previous email, remember you explaining to us that for my documentary contract did not include and any further possible episodes we would have to get him his own contract, so with that being said when it comes to the podcast contract want him to be protected and included in these dealings as he would be doing this with me. So between you and i, have been having a slight fear. My parents are retaining my earnings from the documentary and have it in a trust account and honestly I'm starting to wonder IF they will fully allow me to control the account when get out or if they will only add my name to it upon release I'm just feeling anxiety that they will not fully allow me the independence that want. I do find it somewhat rude of them to to shoulder the financial responsibility of two people on one persons paycheck and not even offer to help in some way or buy so much as a gift for our apartment. mn has been so helpful she bought us appliances, towels, dishes, bathroom mats and more. to help me purchase a comforter set for $100 for our bedroom and instructed her to use the money from my l earnings. I had to talk her into it because she didn't want to at first, she made excuses not to buy it right now. Then called her and explained want to buy something for our place, She then agreed. would never spend my money in a way it would be considered unwise or irresponsible. is literally paying for everything and all wanted to do was buy something for our apartment so that hesitant tone had has now sent my mind on a whole trauma trigger episode. anu and if can a call TM it - \ As it stands, I'm not giving up on my marriage. 10/10/2022 00:17:34	Outbound	Hey Mom, so tomorrow is Monday and it also is a holiday so you won't get this until Tuesday or Wednesday, but did have weekend visits wit! and it was very good for us to talk am glad he didn't listen me and came anyway. The Friday visit didn't expect so went to my visit no make up, hair a mess, looked at him and sat down trying to be angry but holding back that was glad to see him. He took my hands and told me he was sorry for yelling, he seemed genuine and sincere. He assured me it would not happen again and told me he found a therapist. He has deep rooted trauma from when he was a little boy. He father wasn't around and was an extremely jealous husband and father. Which am guessing he picked up mild hints of his father in that aspect. apologized as well for jumping the gun on getting a divorce. That should not be something use so easily. own my part for not sitting on my thoughts before called you asking about it. Its just was scared of ending up in a bad situation again, it was a trauma trigger. Unfortunately, someone posted my email that sent to a few friends as an update saying had made the decision to get an annulment. am not sure which person posted it. It upsets me that someone betrayed my trust. sent another email which you will get if not already has gotten kind of calling out whoever posted it. As it stands, I'm not giving up on my marriage. It did make me sad to hear how next to everyone thinks this marriage is a terrible idea...Everyone to Mike. I NEED more positive feedback and advice in this matter. need support from people who can aid us in navigating a marriage and don't throw "I told you, you shouldn't have gotten married" in my face every tim and I have a argument. Well married and that isn't changing because throw a temper tantrum. If am to remain in a happy and need support from our loved ones if no one else, Can you do that for me? Listen to my side and then listen to his side...and then give your advice please. The same can be said for anyone giving their opinion. almost just got a divorce based on everyone egging me on to do so, without giving me any positives to staying in this marriage or advice to weigh out the other options. Please know that I'm glad you were willing to help me with the paperwork but something tells me there is more...do you not lik Is there something you think or feel about him that concerns you maybe with his intentions? just am asking because feel like you would rather see me with someone else and that is how perceive it so maybe you can shed light on your feelings. anyways love you.	page 296

10/11/2022 09:16:55	Inbound	they always will. That's what a good partner does. Stays strong until their spouse can catch up. Sometimes its day weeks and years. You both have extremely difficult challenges ahead J is a sweet guy, like him alot and believe he will do whatever he can not to lose you. don't think he'll intentionally hurt you and that's a great thing. believe he'll be able to provide for you and keep you safe as well. I'm just scared he won't be able to fill you your intimacy needs baby. That's kinda a big deal too. The good thing, well not a good thing but an advantage to this is ya'll have some time before that department needs to be addressed. It's important that you tell him this so he can allow you the space to explore that part of your self and find a way to feel fulfilled while remaining true to your vows. That's a challenge but if he loves you then he'll give you the space. It was missing between your mom n and even though I messed around on her, still couldn't remain true to her in my heart because that intimacy really helps build that strong bond and love that develops in marriage. Left because knew I was cutting myself short and settling just because it was the right thing to do by her. Instead of being honest with her when she told me she was pregnant. was weak and didn't have the courage to think about my happiness and how wouldn't be happy and begin resenting her and stuff. You don't have to settle, you don't owe any friends or family your loyalty just because they've been there for you. They can remain in your circle of trust but you don't have to feel obligated in any way to commit yourself until you want to. You need to feel like you absolutely cannot live without your husband, partner or whatever you commit to. If you don't have that feeling the just shut the shit down and understand that it will come one day. You can't force it, dream it or say its so. You gotta feel it in your soul baby. It's absolutely unmistakable. hope you can dig deep and understand what your heart really desires. will pray for you to find peace baby. 10/12/2022 09:39:44	Inbound	Decisions Ms Miss or Mrs (circle one;) Madame Gypsy, hey girl hey!! don't even know what to say about that. You know me, remember writing to you to be a heartbreaker and not get your heart broken! In one scenario, being single is freedom; being married is not. Marriage is two that have to agree and come together on all things, even what to eat for dinner! Once released, you could play the field, fish the sea, kiss a lot of toads. Go on dates, real dates, movies, candlelight dinners, concerts.... To know real freedom as you begin to learn freedom:)) Au contraire, on the other hand, another scenario is wife and companion to have someone to walk with and talk with along your path of life. It's natural for a woman to want marriage and baby carriages. Netflix and chill. Popeyes and finger licking yummy chicken! Hot chocolate and thigh socks and a cold night cozied up sitting by the fireplace! Those last sentences are TV commercials behind you all the way. support your decision as only you can make this very personal choice. I'm sure is a great guy. The reason why was pondering getting my marriage annulled is and had an argument like all couples do, and during this argument he hit a trauma trigger for me that reminded me of living with my mother and overreacted to it and sent emails to multiple friends within my inner circle contact list on Securus informing them of my thoughts of an annulment. By 3pm this afternoon, was surprised by a visitor that wasn't expecting. It was my had been upset with him for a week straight and the moment walked into the room saw him, looking more handsome then think I've ever seen before and couldn't stay mad at him any longer. We talked and communicated our issues and both agreed not to throw around the word divorce so easily. We have our own unique trauma triggers and its about learning how to adapt and communicate through them. So the end result, we will continue to work on ourselves and our marriage. BUT that is not why i am emailing this, ...As was getting through the search process after the visit, one of the guards asked if it was true, asked what she meant. She to which mentioned seeing a post online that said was contemplating an annulment in addition she said my email was posted where am talking about it... So, one of my friends within my inner circle is posting my business And anyone who knows me well enough knows take my private life serious and only certain few in confidence received that email. will ask whoever posted it, please come forward as send each person whom sent that first email to to come clean to me and explain their reasons for doing this. My marriage is off limits to Post, Tweet, TikTok, Smack chat, and every other form of idle gossip. know and understand that social media is tempting to share your opinions, but unless ask you to share Keep my name and my husbands name OFF social media. Because eventhough do not have internet access, someone somewhere will tell me about it and will be disappointed if it came from someone close to me. Thank You. a =	page 252

10/12/2022 16:19:08	Inbound	Hey Sweetie Hey my girl, Well, i am happy to hear that you came to some agreement to try on your marriage. Marriage is not easy at times; everyone has their ups and downs, and it is not 50/50 like people say its 100/100 all the time. although sometimes just ending it seems like it's a great idea and at times it may be easier to walk away, but if you truly love one another, it is worth the fight. At times you have to know which battles to pick. Dad and know all too well how bad it can get and we also know how great things can be if we put in the effort. i am happy to hear that he went to see you despite the fact that you told him not to go. That shows me that he's not going to just give up too easy on your marriage. He went knowing that you may want to see him or not. that takes a lot of courage and admire him for that. I talked to Mac a little while ago, was on my way to get Aurora from the groomers. She told me about the email that someone in your circle of friends said something on a social media platform. You will have to look back and see who said something. am thinking that it may be one of your new friends. but then again it could be someone you once trusted. Not all friends are in your life for the right reasons, it's sad but true. So, you need to think who has been new in your life and try to figure it out. do not think that the person who posted your email will let you know. do not want the network to come back on you for that email. do not think they will if they do not see it. You have to watch what you say to people because not everyone can be trusted these days, which is sad by any means. You have to realize some of your friends only want to be your friend because of who you are. To others you are considered "famous" and to us you are just Gypsy, someone who lived through hell and did what you did to survive. Understand where am coming from? Even when you will be out of prison you will have to have your guard up. People see dollar signs and will try to find out your deepest secrets for a pay day, which is horrible. But keep your chin up and this too shall pass. You will learn who you can really trust when you get out in the free world. You are so much like me; you want to see the good in people and there is nothing wrong with that, but we learn the hard way. I did get the 5 binders fromy went get them. She is not friends wit any longer. She also told me that she does have ALL of your medical records. So, will go back to her house and bring a hard drive and put them all on that. She did apologize for everything she has said about us as well. She also told me thai got her to pay her bills!!! Can you believe that shit?! can very easily believe that because of the type of person Fbag is. She gets EVERYONE to do her dirty work. Karma will get her eventually all we have to do is sit back and watch it unfold. flying out Sunday with dad. He has to go back to work on the 19th, so am flying with him we rented an AirBnB in New Port, Rhode Island and rented a car. reached out t to see if she would be home since she does not live that far to go see her, but she will be in Minnesota. She said she will try to make it back to see us. If we do, I will send pics of us. will also send you pics from the trip. We are about to head out to Gonzales to go spend the night at your Aunt house, she has to have knee surgery tomorrow morning. will send you an email explaining what happened. will get your things that you have there when we go. But can give you more words of encouragement when needed. You are a grown woman, and you need to make your choices and live and learn from them like we all do in life. protective as a mother should be, and will defend you till take my last breath here on earth, but also need you to grow on your own as well. will always let you know if think something is wrong, just like do with your brother and sister. It was nice not having the students there today. But it was strange also. My coworkers gave me a hard time over my trip. They put their nose in my busy and had to cut their noses off, started speaking on things that didnt concern them. shut that shit down. Mrs. Gaspard got drunk during the lunch break also and she was cray cray. was uncomfortable but nothing to worry about of course. And dont be threatned by Homewrecker Holmes, because she couldnt wreck OUR home even if she had a bulldozer... Kansas City is probably about 2 hours away from the cabin. would be up for a day trip. would be up for anything as long as your beautiful self is in the passenger seat Baby...or we could definitely stay snuggled up in the cabin eating gumbo also... God, miss you. called me today and when heard your ringtone my ears perked up. Imagine my disappointment when realized it wasnt my wife. We did talk for about 25 mins or so. She asked me about our visit, and she even heard from Tony, well sort of. His neice emailed her saying could call him anytime according to his neice, but yet when called there was still no answer. still holds out hope though. Too much hope regarding him, but its her life. I did like your spray tan during our visit. Our pictures with the fireworks background is probably my favorites at the moment, except for our wedding photos. You are drop dead gorgeous. i did that would send her the other wedding photos also... Also, loved your email about keeping your private life private. I just checked my videos and hoped would have a new one from you and did! :-) know my hubby so well. Trust me did ask around and no one wants to help me out with a quick ring ring. How is work? So funny story, tonight get called to the bubble and my roommates are like what did you do? and I'm like nothing like have been so good. and go to the bubble and all they wanted was to know how to make a rack. I'm like why me? they said because we hear you make the best lol I'm like OK well first you get the coffee....and so on. lol walked back into the wing and everyone is like are you in trouble?, I'm like no they wanted to know how we make racks lol. :-P I miss you. keep beating myself up about last week. feel so stupid for overreacting. More stupid for even allowing it to snowball like that. Weare so good together when we communicate. I'm happy when I'm with you. We vibe off each other like I've never had with anyone before. Its a good thing. We are a unit and as such we sometimes have to realize that we may not get support from family or friends, maybe in a way we should turn to God and then once we have prayed then take a deep breath and talk to each other because everyone else is not in this marriage.. Yeah know neither of us is really "preachy" but I'm serious. prayed to help give me guidance when my name was called to visiting, didn't know how was going to react to seeing you. All I'm saying is find a place you feel safe and comfortable to think and talk to God as you would a friend. He won't talk back but believe things will show themselves to you in a way he is talking but not with words, but with signs. Anyways Mr. Handsome. I'll send you this for tonight. love you so much xoxoxoxox -Snuggles Oh sent me more pics from the reenactments and omg they are amazing! Two days after got your email, saw it online. cringed and my blood boiled and got hot flashes (well the hot flashes might be for another old reason ha but for reals, I've told you, my claws come out when it's protection of you). You fan now here girl. My people know we communicate but don't give specific details. Hell, called Machelli a snake in the grass and she blocked me lol and let you in on it to be cautious. Six weeks later - you dropped her like it's hot lollll And my most favorite line you dropped on that dime, "ain't nothing but shit come out your mouth" :hahaaa use that phrase a lot and it's mostly to my husband lmao don't know how much privacy in this lifetime. know you probably never dreamed or thought your life like this-- I think they'll have to 'sneak' you out at release. Fake place, fake time, fake date-- Paparazzi will be everywhere I'm sure. This situation, maybe someone from the other camp, mad about you and so they 'tattled'? 10/13/2022 16:29:11	Inbound	Hi Hello! I just received all your 20 questions and that's cool! use to actually like dogs more as a kid than cats but then after had a cat that we named Mailee come in my life started to become a cat lover lmao. Which Mailee passed away in 2018 we only had her for four years. She was a stray cat we found at the gas station. She was a tuxedo cat so she was black and white. Then a few weeks later on the animal shelter page saw this beautiful white fluffy cat. told my mom and she went and saw him a few hours after she posted it and adopted him. We named him Princeton, my mom has him now since live on my own. Then after thanksgiving last year my roommates parts found a little black kitten running on the side of the road and they convinced my roommate to bring him home. She didn't want any pets at first but she fell in love with the kitten and he ended up becoming our little demon (that's what I call him) right now he's shoving his head into my arm think he wants something lmao. We named him shadow and he's a joy tho he just does bad things for attention. I've never been to Disney world lol guess was never as into Disney as a lot of people and maybe my parents afford it. 'm not forsure but really never had a desire to go there as a kid. The last answer can definitely relate. am extremely trusting and that may be my down fall. I've let people walkover me pretty easily like my mom or an ex had. Sometimes it's hard to let someone in on the inside because of what people have done to you. had an Ex claim that he loved me so he can manipulate me and sometimes it's hard for me to deal with that. But you really learn from what people have done to you and how to be your best self and don't let my past hold me back. don't ever believe my life has ever been hard because those times were lessons and I'm a better person because of it. Soo guess wanna tell you abou and see your opinion. So me have been talking for 3 months and see him in person at the end of the month. think I told you that I'm talking to someone who is incarcerated. But like me and him have this connection that just haven't had except with one other person and it's been the same with him. He doesn't want to date me though because he is afraid that him being incarcerated will ruin our relationship and he will lose our friendship. Like last night he tells me he's always missing me and how much he cares for me and he knows feel exactly the same way. don't think we are like inlove or what not but don't wanna just be his "friend" until he gets out. Which may be in early 2024. So today is my birthday and got my hair done yesterday I have NEVER put red in my hair I've always kept it blonde. I'm going to see if can send you photos! How have you been? your goals? Do you have any goto commissary items? What would be the first thing you dowhen you get out?	page 630

My dad loves to help give you this advice. has been quiet. haven't received an email in response to mine yet... I can't believe how out of hand this got. It's all my fault, had not been so quick to act we would not be facing a media frenzy, you would not be answering prying co workers and this stress would not exist. Unlike when this happened to me I'll ask you before do any kind of media correction. Have you texted with this information? Well tonight I'm in bed missing you so much. a quick taste of you isn't enough. want it to be December 28th 2023 at 10pm. We are in bed. You are laying on your side and am facing you with my leg on yours and we are kissing, our hands exploring each other. and the rest I'll leave for the imagination. I find you most desirable when you don't try to be all pervy. Let your body language speak for you. can I envision a very romantic lover in you. really wanted you last Friday. Had been able to call would say you were right to bring Rosie. When imagine our first night at the cabin see you in a gray T-shirt and navy shorts. idk why but that's what I see. would say I'd let you pick what I'll wear but I'll just try on the different ones and see how want to present myself to you. am sure I'll be tired but, its our first time alone together. I'm sure you'll want to at least look at me, which makes me super nervous. plan on hitting the gym like hard core at the one year mark. need to live up ya know. lol I told my dad that I don't know how "good" I'll be in that area but I think as long as we don't over think it and let the mood flow we will be great. Yeah my dad and had that talk. lol said there is a spark but we need to throw gasoline on that baby and let the night burn. lol wink. wonder if learning to be comfortable in my own skin would help my nerves. I've always been so quick to show off my boobs but everything else like my stomach and ass and legs I'm so shy. I'm scared that your ex's trump my body I guess. Just real talk. So, Switching gears saw me on the sidewalk and said, girl you're in trouble... we (she was playing of course) My heart pounded in my chest I'm like, can explain... She said you have not wrote me one letter...I'm like oh THAT is what your upset about? lol (Wipes forehead) told her about the possible visit. lol oi! F my prison life lol to write her and Lucky notes. My nights are spent crocheting or under my blanket because I'm cold. So I'm all cuddled watching tv. All scary movies all month baby! :) Don't forget Sunday night Interview With a Vamp. At least I know you'll be watching like am. I've watched some Once Upon A Time too I'm on episode 4. 10/14/2022 05:33:54	Outbound	Well 18 more days until I'm off restriction. This is painful. Jeez. Welp I've made quiet a mess of shit. I'm pissed someone posted my email and now its spreading like wildfire. I tried rectifying the situation but.... I'm sure by now its all over and its my fault. should not have been so quick to act and share. and are fine after some much needed visiting time together. This was the biggest argument he and ever had. And went because it was all fresh and was upset and shared my thoughts of annulment. is in the right to have been upset that I talked 'omy for nearly 2 hours. He doesnt have anything to worry about in terms of our marriage being threatened by him but do to be this "forbidden fruit" of sorts. he is a friend but we have this sexual attraction tha knows is there. Ultimately made a commitment and I should not have gone to the extreme of throwing divorce as an option. had a moment of regret and that is it. I snowballed out of control. Everyone is up in a teazy though. The dust needs to settle. My dad some words of advice that supports us both. haven't received an email from mom yet on how she is reacting to us staying together. I'm sure it is confusing but me and my brother are so similar when it comes to relationships she knows we are very indecisive on speed dial ready to get this marriage annulled to the point actually wonder if she like at all... All I'm say'n is no one buy mom had held me to my vows and was like, marriage is hard but breaking someones heart because you wanna go play around is not cool. She didn't say that in so many words but you can tell she wasn't of the same mind a I feel lik should have or vice versa and had a one on one talk. Not the moms text and converse as if we are teenagers and he just got me knocked up. J failed to man up and cally and share his side. acted on impulse and emailed like 5 people in my contact list that I'm getting an annulment, and one of those 5 shared it. Fast forward a few days shows up here after told him don't come for our weekend visit that we had planned but I basically wanted space. And he takes my hand and we talk one on one. Within seconds we are ourselves talking laughing and being our goofy selves together. And that is how that all went down. All can say is not argument, is staying between me him and God because clearly can't voice my brief thoughts because everyone has an opinion they share and need someone unbiased to give advice, like a therapist. anyways How are you? How's things in general?	page 590

10/14/2022 11:57:31	Outbound	OK First happy Late birthday for yesterday. And about OK so know where he is coming from having been in his shoes. And have dated 4 men all who which met through "fan mail" guess. Robert, and my now so My first wa we dated for like 2 months then me' and liked more so to get Well needless to say hasn't talked to me in 5 years and doesn't want to. So friendship lost. Sol for 2 years, we got engaged and then he dumps me to have his freedom to fuck around. took it SUPER hard because he was my best friend like human diary type shit. then turned to a rebound with a friend of my stepmom. and met roughly around the same time but was off and on wit was 41 and was 29 the age difference affected our relationship too much and so he dumped me, it was the most difficult to break from because felt like broke me and here pieces me back together and then WHAM!!!! smashes me down too. another friend lost. And finally my dear sweet tender who had been my friend and friend zoned while was wit! had been falling for me the whole time knew him but because of how bad my experiences had been with dating didn't want to lose him too so friend zoned him for hell a long time. We went round and round with it. didn't even allow myself to like him because didn't want it to get romantic. In July of last year he comes to visit me for the first time and he was cuter and charming and it was around 4th of July so he set fireworks off just off grounds but could see them out my window...just for me. :-) he won the right to at least have a chance. And a year later and we are married! :-) still fight those. insecurities though. We had a big argument because called to check on him after hurricane Ian and it sparked a huge fight to which emailed people saying wanted an annulment but I really don't and now that email is all around the internet... its a total mess but anyways point is may have experienced losing friend because it didn't work out. Or....now here me out, maybe he just wants to be able to keep options open so no commitments but my advice be that ride or die for him. When everyone shuts him out, you let him in and he will be coaxed to do the same. You have to show with your actions that you will be kind even if it doesn't work. Trust me it is hard and just made peace after 2 years of silence. not my choice either. I'm glad took that risk because now have a man who love so much. know that he will never leave me broken because he showed me. Communication is key. What you need to ask yourself is, is he worth the effort? to break these walls of caution down and go for it. Do you see yourself visiting him? Going through the times he may get put in the hole for X amount of days, collect calls, slow ass Securud emails... lol Dating a prisoner is hard because you lack consent physical touch. My husband and I can only share a greeting and departing peck and quick hug on every visit. We have never had sex. but we have our ways of still incorporating that into our life, he has a toy. :-) I'm like almost a year from getting out but he has been on this ride with me for what will be 3 years at the end of it all. But he is in love and so am so we make it work. Take in my advice if love grows then show him he is worth it, if you just like him then feel it out... every day the time ticks away closer to him getting out so time to think is in your favor. :-)	page 634
10/14/2022 18:25:16	Inbound	Continued story So got and run errands with leashea and really felt like she was my angel thag day to get out of the situation. So 30 mins being with her look at my phone and realized had like 4 or 5 missed calls fro! and tons of texts. He was like apologizing asking me when was coming back. He left voicemails of him crying and saying he was sorry. He even sent me a photo of him crying. Like he was going nuts with me being gone. So go back and he apologizes blah blah. At the end of October went to work one day and forgot that his doors in his trailer were broken. So get to work and at 5 am I receive a call fro and he like Kailee why are my doors open ?? My cats are missing and Lucy now going to hate me because of your mistake. He was threatening to throw all my belongings had there outside and had a laptop and a 1200 dollar flute at his house. And was freaking out so was like okay I'll come back. So I'm driving and look at my bank account and noticed that he took my credit card and took money off of it through venmo so call him and was like we are over (he found the cats btw). When get there I'm getting all of my stuff and I'm leaving. So get there and start packing my things and he's like begging me to stay and I'm crying just trying to leave. He follows me out to my car and gets in my car and tells me to drive back to work so he can use my car for the day. decided not to go to work with what happened in that situation. Well the next day go to work at 4am and I let him have my credit card for emergencies well an Uber charge showed up on my acct and it was like 50 dollars and call him and I'm like why is there an Uber charge and he lied to me and said a neighbor needed an Uber. Then he charged a bag on my card for the AIRPORT. He got on a plane and went to California where is family lives and he didn't even tell me!! He called me and said he was going to California to tie some loose ends and that he would be back. He told me he loved me and that was the first time we exchanged I love yous to say the least. The whole time in Cali he kept claiming he would come back and kept asking for money. Every week he would say he'll be back this day or that date. Just lied to me and deceived me. He got mad because cancelled my card off of his Hulu acct and he was going to pretty much not live anymore and it would be all my fault and his death would be all my fault. That hurt and then a few weeks later he called me selfish and too extra. He really did a ringer on me as you can tell. There's a lot more to the story but this is why have a lot of my insecurities with ho' left me and how he used me. took about 3k from me and manipulated me. But it's fine know karma will serve him. It took me over a year and a half to heal from him because did love him but he made me hate myself. This was a long story and get it if you don't want to read it but I think this is why am the way am with my insecurities. Thank you for the advice you are truly the best! Have an amazing weekend and keep in touch!!!!	page 635

She also told me she went to house and got 5 binders of my records and the next trip she makes she will bring a USB hard drive so she can put the rest of has. That is wonderful I'm so glad. even had paying her bills for her. That woman is so fucked up. Her and are one in the same. Anyways. wrote to me she said she talked and she had a great talk with her. The 1st episode rough cut was loved by the network and met their approval. Next week, episode 2 will have the rough cut shown to the network. said she didn't see the email on fox news website, but just on thai website. She said we just keep to ourselves. Let the documentary speak just like you said. She asked who I sent it to I'm like a handful, I'm not sure who posted it originally. She told me you texted her. Baby our relationship will be portrayed how we are. We are passionate and we have our ups and downs but we always come back together. Its a roller coaster with us. But you love it. You love the pleasure and pain. We love intensely. So, our son has gotten into trouble twice.. Have you sat down and had a talk with him about being responsible? If it happens again, show him the rewards and disadvantages of responsibility. This is a great opportunity to teach how to earn a rewards for bringing his books to class. And teach the valuable lesson cheaters never win fairly. (Don't you bring up that cheated on my math test!) I'm not talking about me...I'm talking about our kid.	page 946

10/14/2022 16:39:04	Outbound	Ok then maybe it was not in foxnews am only being told things by other inmates and guards. Many of whom their families saw something online. Tha is whi used to talk to. However don't talk to anymore. That email was sent to like 6 people in my contact list I'm trying to get to the bottom of who posted it and gave it to that your email... hi. i'm really sorry someone betrayed your trust; i can imagine how mad and sad that makes you. people are always going to gossip and spread news they have no business spreading. and a lot of times the news won't be factual. you know the truth knows the truth. that matters. as hard as they are to see/listen to, the lies and the gossip don't matter. focus on you. your relationship with yourself focus on being as healthy - emotionally, spiritually and physically - as you can be. you're strong, gypsy. stronger than all this gossip! sending you a big hug and hope you have a good weekend.	page 1026

10/15/2022 16:36:54	Inbound	hello Gypsy Sorry it's taken me so long to respond. I'm forgetful but do eventually respond. It's good is making a effort to work on your marriage. My hubby Brent & saw a counselor for awhile to help us. Communication is important. How u communicate is too. One of the things that stuck with me was not to say you did this but feel like this. My hubby Brent is very ocd & Sometimes feel like he's nagging on me to much. One day told him I'm not a bone quit chewing on me. He stopped and went out on the deck for awhile then came back and he talked. Our confo started with him saying sorry. He loved the way told him he was nagging and that became our signal when he needs to stop. Our therapist said telling your partner you are doing this puts them on defense mode but stating feel like this is happening puts them in thinking mode. Text me if your need to talk and I will try to respond faster.	page 139

10/15/2022 19:31:37	Inbound	Signs Okay so told you story but there's more to it after having no communication with him. Your gonna be like dang this girl is crazy Imao so about a year after he left started seeing signs. Like would always see 111 or 1111 all the time. But sept last year was hiring at a store and it was the first time have ever seen the nam with my job like looked thru probs 1000 of applications at that point and was at the job for 9 Months already. So called him in for an interview and he never came in but for months he kept calling to come in for an interview and would never show up. (Not the sam btw lol) so a few weeks later my roommate calls AT&T and answers the phone. The next day we go to the grocery store and on the little grocery splinters there was an ad for a guy Next day ordered door dash and my drivers name wa Then the next day we were watching a movie and his last name was mentioned in a movie and it's like a rare last name that you really hear. was like geez this is weird. Then a few days later go and I spy o Twitter and he posted a song called wait for me by big Sean and in the song it says took a plane and told my girl would be back and I took too long and it was too late. It was a really weird song to be posted to be honest. So those signs were strong. Not to mention he would come in my dreams and one dream he told me was his soulmate. It was so weird. So last January go and help at a store and look through the computer systems and see the on our payroll system and an excel sheet and I'm like that's weird than see his name in the name tags. I'm like oh geez. So a few days later my step aunt passed so went and stayed with my family at a hotel. walk into the hotel room and my uncle and mom talk about randy right when I walk in. Then me and my aunt go to get food and the employees are talking about a coworker and his name wa: was like WTF. That night had a dream about that he was sad and lonely. two favorite numbers is 12 and 85. So was like if see 1285 that's a huge sign. So a few days later my roommate ask me to go to the store with her and usually would say no because I'm tired from work but decided to go. So we go and get a few things and so does she. The day before she did something for me so out of her 7 items picked out three to pay for. My total from my items and her items was 12.85 which was crazy asl. She even was like what?!? That's so crazy. So decidEd to and he was extremely nice to me like the month of Janurary 2022 we talked a lot and he apologized for everything he did and how great was to him and if it wasn't for me he wouldn't be alive. The last time I've heard from him has been since March and he stopped using Twitter from March-August and he was on Twitter 5-10 times a day so it was really weird. still see signs of him of hun everyday if it's his birthday or our initials together. I've even seen his last name multiple times. actually hired a lady and her street number is his birthday which i that just crazy? It's weird how life with the last nam works but maybe that's why it took me so long to move on is truly a blessing though. know for a while asked the universe to send me someone that makes me happy andy checks all the boxes. The connection have wit is similar to me and Travis's good times andy is not mentally abusive which is a plus. actually saw signs og about a year before meeting him. would see GTL everywhere for a while and that's the app used to contacigg luse to se is i inmate number and is the first three numbers of the zip code if the place he was at. One of my friends said that's my thing which is signs. just see them everywhere	page 629
10/15/2022 09:58:10	Inbound	a So last night me andy were suppose to have a video visit. So get on the visit and no one comes on to sign me in. Which we have had this issue a few times before. So he decides not to call me because he was mad at me for not getting on the call. He called me this morning and we are talking and he's just in a mood we only talked for like 5 mins and then he said that they were calling him to yard which it didn't sound like it in the background. He wants to file a clemency so he can get out soon and his sister was like why does he want to file a clemency he just got his time split andy got mad and was like she doesn't want me to come home sooner? I'm gonna call her and cuss her out. Now feel like just caused a	page 635

Unfortunately Sydney has really strict laws around tiny houses, so they essentially don't exist here. Maybe one day I'll get my tiny log cabin in the woods. I think it's great that you two are going to get therapy and see if something can be worked out. obviously can't say what think is the right/wrong road in all of this, but maybe this was the situation that 'had' to happen in order for your relationship to blossom into what it needs to be. will check out that podcast tomorrow. think an anxious attachment style. get scared that people will leave me. Sometimes that causes me to selfsabotage. end up pushing people away before they can do the same to me. I think it's so cute you'd like to be a Disney character at Disneyland. Unfortunately, think there may be some limitations on you following that line of work for obvious reasons - but perhaps you could do some acting classes when you get out? I did them for years, and found it the best way to meet new people and push myself out of my comfort zone. Bed time for me. xxx	page 1058

We have our first in person visit next S has a uniform like he has guess sweat shorts and wife beaters he can wear but he can't wear that during our video visits. His uniform is like a light blue shirt and black pants. So to texig and to do video visits it is all through GTL. Every other video visit is 3 dollars and messages is 3 dollars for 20 messages. We only use securus for prepaid calls. So like I'm sept put 20 on the phone and we still haven't went thru it all but he also probably calls me 10-15 times a week. Lol yeah he wants to do a clemency so feaking bad which he's a great candidate for it with getting locked up at 18 and his crime was home invasion. He has done school and certifications to better himself. So he thinks he would get it but the process takes way too long. think he just wants to get out so he can be with me and already asked my pendulum when he would get out and it said in early 2024.	page 630

10/20/2022 13:44:11	Outbound	Baby can you please explain i how to guess get over Liz? She is still kinda hung up on her and don't know what else to say except, just pretend she doesn't exist. Easy for me to say I'm not emotionally invested in her. But Liz doesn't wan because of her time she has left, Liz can't hack it. so don't wanna be mean and tell her that Liz told me that. Maybe Fuzzy Wuzzy has some wise words.	page 945

10/20/2022 16:37:03	Outbound	I'm good. At this can go F himself. He always does this to me let's me think for a second that he cares for me then whom! smashes me down again. I'm glad texted him and was that middle person to say that don't deserve to have my emotions toyed with and I don't wanna see him. thin got to show assertiveness in a way he has not had to before and it makes me feel im will nratect me in all areas response to your email... hey again! i don't know if i'm getting your emails out of order or what, but they keep popping up and i just got/read the one about someone messing with you. that is just awful and i'm so sorry. i can't imagine how difficult that must be for you to deal with. people can really be so spiteful and hurtful. i said to a friend the other day, i wish we could all learn to be kinder (i include myself in that); just be kinder. some days when i'm not feeling kinds, it's a struggle ;) i can imagine that you must feeling so many emotions about the documentary airing. i will tell you this, you really seem to be coming from a heart place in this series so far. you are trying to speak your truth, in your own voice, and if people want to fault you for that, or speak ill of you for that, that's on them. i'm guessing more people will find your honesty and willingness to try and tell your story in a new way, while revealing new things - that are not easy to talk about - really admirable and inspiring. that's my guess... we have the second cut of the first episode going to the network tomorrow and the second ep going monday. so busy, busy, busy... as soon as you're off phone restriction let's get those interviews back up and going asap. be kind to yourself and talk soon...	page 1025

10/20/2022 11:08:57	Outbound	I'm the same way when it comes to attachment. often feel not good for someone because of my past and how didn't grow up in a healthy environment. was taught bad things from a young age and feel like I'm low class because of where am right now. guess just view myself as not worthy of having a good guy or good friendships. When someone pays me a complement, don't know how to accept it I'll say something stupid like "oh well don't think that" lol have a lot of insecurities about who and my body. have scars on my stomach and neck from surgeries, I'm short standing at 4'11 and everyone teases me about my voice. was born like this can't help me having a higher pitch voice than others. Its not nearly as bad as before living with my mom because she often would tell me to talk in that baby voice. People always make remarks that compare me to a celebrity so I'm always getting comments like "oh being your best friend you can buy me a car!" or "can have a picture with you because your famous?!" It gets lonely feeling like everyone just wants a piece for clout. So it makes me very closed off. Well like said. get being closed off and really want to get to know you but feel you push me away too. wait for you to email me and weeks and months will go by and feel like idk you just having more important things going on so just wait... So a tiny house in the woods. any idea of what you'd make it out of? can you just buy a tiny house or do you have to have it made? So question, I'm thinking about changing my name to only be Rose. Dropping Gypsy because want to start fresh. what do you think? Ru thea ic wark? what ic tha waathar lika in Gudnay thic tima nf	page 1058
10/20/2022 16:27:51	Outbound	Yeah don't think I'll ever qualify for Disney. But maybe can volunteer somewhere at like a charity event and can be Tinkerbell or another character. I am small though so it would probably be a fairv LoL.	page 1058

10/21/2022 12:59:32	Outbound	Got chya, Well hope he does get a clemency. In Missouri our governor hates people in prison so he doesn't pardon anyone. Many women faced with huge sentences who should not be in here are getting denied left and right. its just wrong how the system works against people in prisons. Some deserve the time, others got too much for their part, and some are innocent but the system needed to blame and put away someone. our video visits will be through Securus. We don't know anything about them yet though. Yes, really honestly can't believe that sided with my husband and didn't go running back t when wanted to see me. shocked myself. But for treats me like I'm an angel, I'm not, but to him I'm perfect. That is why he gets insecure and it is something he will work on. see my whole life with him, kids, growing old, everything. He is my person I'm suppose to be with. is that person for you, only time will tell and I'm gonna be honest enjoy the simple times now, because as it gets more serious then plans start to be discussed and that can get challenging but hold tight to one another and it will be	page 630
10/21/2022 16:54:08	Inbound	whaaat?? That's crazy think someone might still have some feelings. Maybe possibly? And understand wanting to clear the air but people don't need to know your business 24/7 . Yeah men can be weird sometimes and it gets really annoying and overboard sometimes. Im excited I'm going to an aesthetician specialist so gonna get some cool skin treatments .	page 873
10/21/2022 17:37:09	Outbound	I don't feel he does. If he did he would have just come. instead he just hurt me more because he was never going to tell me he did that. All it did was show me again how little mean. common sense says even if he was still on my list, he just didn't have to come. mean what was it harming even if he was on my visitors list. guess for a second he wanted to, then changed his mind. He literally hurt me for the last time	page 873
